The Lawrenceburg fair grounds present a busy appearance these days. The new grand stand, with a seating capacity of 4,000, is fast nearing completion and will be the largest and finest in this part of the State. It is built on the slope of the levee, higher than the old structure and commands a fine view of the track. The promenade on the top of the levee has been widened until it is now twenty feet and from it every move on the entire race course may be seen. A rail will be placed at the top of the levee for the entire length for the safety of the spectators, and it is expected that many sight seers will view the new concrete work, the only of its kind for this purpose in existence. Before the grand stand will be held the greatest exhibition of speed and show horses ever witnessed in Dearborn county. One will have to go many miles from Lawrenceburg to witness a race for a $400 purse. This association has offered two $400 purses for Friday's racing and ought to attract some of the fastest and best horses in the country. The other purses are for $250 and $300, the highest purse in former years being $200.

The prizes for running races exceed those of any other fair in Southern Indiana. These races will be full of starters owing to the closing of Latonia and other tracks. The Derby on Saturday for $150 ought to be the best running race seen in this part of the State this year. Show horses will be called promptly at 9:30 a. m. each day and speed horses at 1:30. We have more classes to show in three days than was formerly given to four. This will make a continuous show in front of the grand stand all day.

Owing to the liberality of the business men of Lawrenceburg, the Fair Association has been able to double and treble the premiums formerly offered. The show rings ought to be the best ever seen at this fair and contain the same high class show horses seen at the famous Florence and Erlanger fairs. The competition on cattle, sheep and swine has been limited to Dearborn and adjoining counties. This has been done to shut out the same professional herd from carrying away the premiums again and to bring out the best we have at home. Aside from the above classes in which the per cent has been made half of former years no entrance fee will be charged. The premiums on agricultural products, domestic skill, in the woman's and children's departments are net to the winner with no deductions of any kind. The premiums are excessive in these departments. They are unheard of at any other fair. The purpose of them is to advertise the fair. This could not be done so extravagantly on a business basis, and so the generousity of the business men of Lawrenceburg was appealed to with splendid success. The admission on vehicles and horses has been removed, entrance fees dispensed with in most departments and in every way will the public and exhibitor be treated more liberally. The buildings and grounds are being repaired and improved. Everything will be in ship shape for fair week. The management had arranged the best program in the history of the Dearborn county fairs. All that it will now take to make it the biggest fair and rank high among the other fairs in the state is an attendance equal to its merit. There will not be a complimentary printed for this fair. Everybody will be treated alike. It is hoped that the gate receipts will justify the association in their desire to make this fair big and great. The board pledges to spend the profit of this fair upon improvements so that this year will mark the beginning of the growth of the Dearborn County Fair.

In loving remembrance of our darling son, James Howard Conner, who died July 10th, 1908:

His coming brought us gladness, his smile was always bright 'till the day so full of sadness he vanished from our sight. Oh, how we miss our darling boy and wish he still was here, he made our home so full of joy, which now is dark and drear, for God, Who gave, took our darling baby home. The blow was hard to bear, but in the happy days to come, we shall meet our darling baby there.

Sadly missed by his Loving parents and friends.

The Blue Grass Clipper of last week, made the following announcement, the like of which can not be said for this county by any means:

"Within the past few days this community has had all the rain it needed and more too. The rain Friday afternoon was the heaviest in years. It was accompanied by high wind which blew down trees, tore off limbs and played the mischief in general. Considerable rain has fallen since then and the ground is thoroughly saturated. These rains insure a bumper corn crop. Many farmers tell us the crop will be the biggest in many years. If they can get the high prices now prevailing at harvest time it will bring big money to them."

For Sore Feet.

"I have found Bucklen's Arnica Salve to be the proper thing to use for sore feet, as well as for healing burns, sores, cuts, and all manner of abrasions." writes Mr. W. Stone, of East Poland, Maine. It is the proper thing too for piles. Try it! Sold under guarantee at Bentler's drug store, Erlanger. 25c.

Steamboat Excursion.

The steamer Kentucky will leave Rising Sun for Lawrenceburg Fair at 6 a. m. Saturday, August 15th, stopping at all way points. Returning will leave Lawrenceburg at 7 p. m.

The Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Co. made a two per cent assessment, Monday, for the payment of the Cropper and Chambers losses, resulting from Mr. Chambers' barn in North Bend being struck by lightning and burned about ten days ago.

C. C. Sleet, of Beaver Lick has had three big fires by which he has lost two large dwellings and one large barn.

Peoples Deposit Bank,

BURLINGTON, KY.

YOUR MONEY DEPOSITED WITH THIS BANK IS AS SAFE AS WITH ANY BANK IN BOONE COUNTY.

3 PER CENT. INTEREST PAID ON SIX MONTHS TIME DEPOSITS.

We Make no Charge for Cashing Checks on other Banks

And afford you all other accommodations within range of Sound Banking in order to make dealings with us pleasant.

SAFE DEPOSIT BOXES FOR RENT. CALL AND SEE US.

STATEMENT OF THE

Equitable Bank & Trust Co.

WALTON, KY.

Organized for Business Sept. 9th, 1907.

DEPOSITS:

Opening Day Sept. 9th, 1907	$5,383.71
Dec. 31st, 1907, when statement was made to Secretary of State	37,157.67
June 30th, 1908, when statement was made to Secretary of State	56,269.38
July 1st, 1908, one day later	$61,959 90

LOANS AND DISCOUNTS:

July 1st, 1908	$ 76,539.35
Available Cash July 1st, 1908	30,716.80
Resources July 1st, 1908	$115,220.35

Careful, prudent business principles governs the bank. Your business solicited. Interest paid on time deposits. Mail communications given especial attention.

CHAS. L. GRIFFITH, President. D. B. WALLACE, Cashier.

LEW THORN, Pharmacist. A. G. G. RICHARDSON, Veterinary Surgeon.

THORN & RICHARDSON, DRUGGISTS.

We sell Kreso Dip for Lice and Mites on horses, cattle, sheep, hogs and chickens. Headquarters for House Paints, Floor Paints, Roofing Paints, Wagon and Carriage Paints, Carter's Lead and Pure Linseed Oil.

Medicines, Stationery and Sundries in large supply. All new and fresh. Prices are right.

Main Street, - - RISING SUN, INDIANA.

The New Iowa

New in Kentucky,
But a Leader in the West

NOTE WHAT WE CLAIM FOR IT.

The Only Separator

made to day, that will skim to a trace, warm or cold milk.

Easiest Cleaned,
Lightest Running,
Mechanically Right

Farmers and Dairymen wanting to buy Separators should see the Iowa before making a purchase. It is absolutely the best, no other just as good costs no more. Why not have it? Over two car loads sold in Kentucky in two months. Write us for literature, good reading matter and very learning. We have all kinds of Tools, Farming Implements, Contractors Supplies, &c. The best line of Plows, Grain Drills, Feed Cutters and Mills. We have some new and slightly used Sharpless Separators we will sell at bargains.

We will Save You Money. Give us a Call.

The Fischer Bros. Company,

(Incorporated).

1046 Madison Ave. COVINGTON, KY. 729-731 Monmouth St. NEWPORT, KY.

Everything Marked in Plain Figures. One Price to All.

BIG

ERLANGER FAIR AND RACES

ERLANGER, KENTUCKY.

August 19, 20, 21 & 22, 1908.

The Fair Where Everybody Goes.

Grand Display of Everything.

Trotting, Pacing & Running Races

EVERY DAY.

$5.000 in Premiums and Purses

Best of Music. - - Best of Everything.

FOUR - GREAT - DAYS.

General Admission - - -	40 Cents
Children, 8 to 15 Years - - -	25 Cents
Horses and Conveyances, - - -	Free.

Write for Catalog.

B. L. RICE, President. S. W. ADAMS, Secretary.

J. P. RIFFE, Manager.

Are You Behind With Your Crop?

BUY A

Kraus Riding Cultivator

AND CATCH UP.

We will sell you a Six Beam

Kraus Riding Cultivator for

$25.00

You will save the price of the Cultivator in one season.

W. M. Rachal & Co

Union, Kentucky.

PERFECT BIFOCALS AT LAST.

Bifocal lenses have been undergoing constant and rapid improvement for the the last 10 years, until now we have the perfect bifocal.

It is ground in one piece and perfectly smooth; no cement used and no lines visible. Call and see them. They are the finest made.

N. F. Penn, M. D. with Motch, Jeweler,

613 Madison Avenue, - - - COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

Phone, South 912-Y.

SCOTT CHAMBERS,

WALTON, KY.

Embalmer & Funeral Director.

LIVERY, BOARDING & SALE STABLE.

First Class Rigs for Hire at All Times.

Dealer in High Class Harness and Saddle Horses.

Raymond City Coal for sale at all times.

Hay, Grain, Mill Feed,

ALWAYS KEPT ON HAND.

Highest Market Price paid for Grain.

Fancy and Staple GROCERIES.

I also have a nice and complete line of Fancy and Staple Groceries and canned goods.

WIRE AND FENCING, AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS, Buggies, Carriages, all kinds Fertilizer.

Owen S. Watts,

(Successor to R. B. HUEY & CO.)

WALTON, - - KENTUCKY.

H. G. BLANTON,

Funeral Director & Embalmer

LIVERY, BOARDING and FEED STABLE.

First-class Carriages for hire with careful Drivers for Families, Parties, Weddings, Etc.

I Have a Nice White Funeral Car.

Lexington Pike, - - - ERLANGER, KY.

Leave Orders with J. C. REVILL, Burlington, Ky.

Geo. W. Hill & Co.,

Grocers, Commission & SEED Merchants.

Tested Field and Garden Seeds.

Finest Brands and Grades of FERTILIZERS, LIME, CEMENT AND SALT.

Largest and Best Stock of

GROCERIES IN THE CITY.

Sole Agents for the Celebrated

RARUS and GEM Brands of FLOUR

When in the City it will pay you to come and see us.

27 & 29 Pike Street, (Phone South 55) 26 & 28 W. [illegible]

COVINGTON, KENTUCKY

THE RECORDER.

W. L. RIDDELL, Publisher.

BURLINGTON, . . KENTUCKY.

Dangerous Exhibitions.

The time has come for a note of warning regarding certain public exhibitions that are becoming increasingly popular—those where the performer earns his livelihood by deliberately risking his life. The interest to the onlookers in these performances arises from the fact that life for a moment hangs by a hair. Agility, muscularity, beauty of movement have become secondary, whether the feat is "looping the loop," riding the bicycle round and round the sloping sides of a huge basket with no bottom to it, or taking chances in a cage with some wild beast. It is one and the same appeal to something within us that craves unhealthy excitement. It is true that the "gladiator" in these days does generally escape with his life, but the quality of the amusement demanded proves us akin to those far-off ancestors whose one idea of a good holiday was a batch of Christians and plenty of wild beasts. Nothing grows so quickly by what it feeds on as this demand for excitement, and it is well understood by the caterers to the public taste that the "shocker" of to-day is the platitude of to-morrow. For a season we could hardly believe in "looping the loop," but the dish rapidly grew insipid, and tabasco had to be added, so the loop was looped in a motor-car, then in a motor-car with a piece of the track removed, and so on. The "thumbs down" of the ancients is represented to-day by the girl who stops chewing gum long enough to remark indifferently to her escort, "Well, ain't he got the nerve!" as the trainer enters his den of beasts still wearing the bandages left from his last encounter. If these things must be, let us at least spare the little children, urges the Youths' Companion. They need the placid quiet of their childhood, with its simple pleasures, just as they need bread and milk. Bad taste as well as good grows by what it feeds on, and your child does not really need to have Christians butchered for his holiday any more than he needs curried lobster and champagne.

Before Mr. Taft had retired from the head of the war department it was his privilege to direct the quartermaster general of the army to reserve a suitable plot in the National cemetery at Arlington for a monument to negro soldiers who lost their lives in the civil war. This action is taken in compliance with a request from the Colored Soldiers' Monument association, which is raising money for the purpose indicated, an object with which Secretary Taft is in full and cordial sympathy. It is most suitable that a memorial of the kind should be raised at Arlington, in sight of the capital of the nation and the seat of the government which thousands of negroes fought bravely to save.

Since Andrew Jackson, five vice-presidents have become presidents through the death of the incumbents of the White House. Some of them would have never been honored with second place on the ticket had this contingency been seriously considered. Tyler was nominated because of his lamentations over Clay's defeat. Fillmore got the job because Webster wouldn't take it. Johnson was picked by Lincoln, who made the mistake of his life. Arthur was chosen because Morton refused under the conviction that he could not win. Roosevelt was literally forced into the place from which fate led him to exalted preeminence.

If a "pied piper" who would entice away all the rats and leave the children should appear in the coast cities of the world, he would be welcomed by the sanitary authorities. The sanitary department of Cuba is the latest to start a crusade against rats. A quarantine against Venezuelan ports has been declared on account of the bubonic plague, and an appropriation has been made for the extermination of the Cuban rats.

Robert Vernon Harcourt, who was elected to the British parliament to succeed John Morley, elevated to the peerage, is half-American. His mother, the second wife of the late Sir William Harcourt, was the daughter of John Lothrop Motley, the historian of the Netherlands. There are in parliament a number of other Englishmen with American mothers, not the least conspicuous of whom is Winston Churchill, grandson of the late Leonard Jerome of New York.

What will the women say to the assertion recently made by John Burns, president of the British local government board, that the "servant problem" arises not so much from the scarcity of good servants, as from the [illegible] of present-day mistresses to manage their help? Whether this is true or not, a girl without [illegible] the work will find it as hard to run her house and direct [illegible] as her husband would to direct a business

FIVE THOUSAND MADE HOMELESS

NINE TOWNS RAZED BY CONFLAGRATION THAT SPREADS OVER VAST AREA.

MONETARY LOSS RUNS INTO THE MILLIONS

Hundred Lives Known to Have Been Lost—Telegraphic Communication Entirely Interrupted—Other Towns in Danger of Destruction.

Cranbrook, B. C., Aug. 3.—Nine towns on the Crows' Nest branch of the Canadian Pacific railroad have been wiped out, and many others are in danger of destruction by the fiercest bush fires ever known in Eastern Canada.

One hundred lives are kown to have been lost, 74 in Ferine alone; hundreds have been injured, and the monetary loss runs into the millions.

Both the Canadian Pacific and Great Northern railroads have been badly crippled in the territory affected, and as telegraphic communication is almost entirely interrupted it is impossible at this time to obtain definite figures as to loss of life and property.

The fire is raging in the Elko valley, the richest coal and lumber district in British Columbia. It is in the extreme southeastern corner of the province, just north of the Montana state line.

The towns known to have been destroyed, with their population, are: Fernie, 5,000; Michel, 1,500; Coal Creek, 1,500; Sparwood, 200; Elko, 400; Olsen, 130; Morrissey, 320; Hosmer, 400, and McGillivray, 100.

Cranbrook itself has suffered a property loss of $2,000,000 and its inhabitants are dividing their efforts between a brave attempt to have their own town and heroic measures to succor surrounding communities.

Nine hundred square miles already have been swept by the flames and it is feared that scores of homesteaders have met death in the deep woods.

Unless there is a change of winds soon the whole of the Crow's Nest Pass country will be left to the flames.

For the past month forest fires have been raging in the mountains of the Elk river valley country, but they have not been considered serious. Saturday morning a heavy wind sprang up from the west, and early in the afternoon the flames appeared over the crest of the mountains to the west of Fernie. They ran down the mountain side, and before a fire guard could be organized had entered the town.

Within an hour the town was doomed and the inhabitants sought safety in figh, leaving their an behind them. All Saturday night and Sunday the exodus continued.

At present 3,000 people are camped in the open, their only protection being shelters built of brush or blankets, while a constant shower of sparks from the burning area keeps falling through the pall of smoke by which they are surrounded. For a time communication with towns to the east was kept open, but with the burning of the bridges across the Elk river this was closed.

Scattered through the valley are many small prairies, and all of these have their groups of refugees.

The hills in all directions are a seething mass of flames, cutting off every avenue of escape. The fire spread with unprecedented rapidity, and it is feared that several parties who tried to get through the pass have been cut off.

DEATH AND PAIN

Result of a Riot Between Italians and Slavs.

Uniontown, Pa., Aug. 3.—One man dead and 25 others seriously injured, some of them fatally, are the results of a riot early Sunday between Italians and Slavs at Gates, one of the H. C. Frick coke companies' plants near Masontown. All the men are foreigners.

Jacob Furance, leader of the Italian faction, went to the gate of a Slav boarding house and defied its 25 inmates. Immediately Furance and Alex ander Molanski, leader of the Slavs, were engaged in a fight. Attilio Ronco, another Italian, went to the assistance of the former and this was the signal for a general fight. Revolvers began to crack and Ronco fell dead, struck, it is said, by a misdirected shot fired by Furance, in whose assistance he had gone.

The injuries of the 25 men consist of bullet wounds through the body and legs. Nineteen of the rioters were arrested and taken to Masontown. Members of both factions then surrounded the jail demanding that their companions be liberated.

Sunday the men were brought to Uniontown.

Three Men Killed By Explosion.

Fenton, Mich., Aug. 3.—Three workmen are dead and a fourth was severely burned Sunday as the result of an explosion of coal gas and dust in a coal conveyer at the plant of the Acme Portland Cement Co. here.

Panic at Adrianople.

London, Aug. 3.—A correspondent at Sofia, Bulgaria, reports a panic at Adrianople, the most populous town in European Turkey, after Generalissimo Pia owing to the mutiny of a thousand time-expired soldiers.

"HELP! HELP!!"

SANDS DIES AWFUL DEATH

VANDERBILT'S STEPSON DIES IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT.

Smash-up and Explosion of Motor Car Occurs Near Stepfather's Beautiful Country Seat.

Paris.—In one of the most terrible automobile accidents in many years in France G. Winthrop Sands, a stepson of W. K. Vanderbilt, was killed Wednesday morning just outside the grounds of Mr. Vanderbilt's beautiful country seat, the Chateau St. Louis De Poissy, 20 miles from Paris.

Mr. Sands was driving his 50-horse power car along at a terrific clip, in a desire to reach the chateau, where Mrs. Sands and her infant daughter were staying. He had always been known as a reckless driver and, as he had been delayed at railroad crossings, he opened the throttle wide as he approached the chateau grounds.

Almost immediately a tire burst and the machine crashed into a tree, turning turtle and burying Mr. Sands under the forward part and pinning the chauffeur, Pickins, to the ground. An explosion followed and in a moment the car was in flames.

Peasants working in the adjoining fields were the only witnesses to the accident. They rushed to the rescue, but fearing a further explosion of the gasoline tank and deterred by the sweep of flames, they stood idly by, not knowing how to give assistance to the injured men. Finally they managed to raise the rear of the car and release the chauffeur, and a little later, after beating down the fire, they dragged out the torn, bleeding and burned body of Sands.

Help soon arrived from the chateau, which is in the center of Mr. Vanderbilt's great breeding farm. The injured men were carried to the house, where it was found that Sands was beyond the hope of recovery, but that the chauffeur was not seriously injured.

BIG FIRE IN PHILADELPHIA.

Hamburg-America Pier and Quantities of Merchandise Burn.

Philadelphia.—The Hamburg-America line pier of the International Mercantile Marine company, at pier 46 South Delaware avenue, was destroyed by a spectacular fire Friday night, entailing a loss estimated at $400,000. The German steamer Albano, from Hamburg, was anchored at the pier and had to be towed out into the river. The cargo of the boat was on the wharf and was destroyed together with great quantities of merchandise, including 1,000 bales of burlap.

Weds a Japanese Noble.

La Crosse, Wis.—An international romance was consummated here Thursday when Shegetaro Korikubo, member of a noble Japanese family, was married to Miss Marie Louise Harrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Harrison of this city. Mr. Korikubo is a graduate of two American universities. His brother is one of the leaders of the Japanese parliament and his father, now deceased, was governor of one of the Japanese provinces.

Detroit Man Slays His Wife.

Detroit, Mich.—Crazed by the heat, and also somewhat under the influence of liquor, Tim Minahan, a lineman, wound up a quarrel with his wife by shooting her twice through the head and the heart Wednesday, killing the woman instantly. Minahan then turned the revolver upon himself and inflicted a dangerous wound in his forehead.

Wants Mine Sealed as Tomb.

Cheyenne, Wyo.—In a report made to Gov. B. B. Brooks Friday on the Hanna coal mine disaster of last March, costing 59 lives, State Coal Mine Inspector Noah Young declares that certain laws governing the operation of coal mines had been violated by the Union Pacific Coal company in its haste to open up one entry in which there had been a fire, thereby causing an explosion. The inspector suggests that the mine be sealed forever as a [illegible] not recovered.

FARMAN FLIES WELL.

Successful Tests of French Aeroplane Are Made.

New York.—Rising from the ground like a giant bird and darting through the air at express train speed, Henri Farman's aeroplane, the interesting heavier-than-air flying machine he brought here from France to demonstrate his ability to fly, made its initial flight in this country late Friday afternoon at Brighton Beach.

It rose from an especially prepared runway at the will of the inventor and after attaining a height of 35 feet flew straight ahead on a direct line, finally alighting with exquisite grace when the noted air pilot diminished the motive power.

During the brief space of time in which the aeroplane was skimming over the center field of the racetrack, the few hundred spectators, most of whom were friends of the inventor or rival aviators, watched the flight with breathless interest. The instant the trim-looking machine landed cheers rent the air—cheers far more enthusiastic and vociferous than those of a racetrack crowd. Farman was surrounded and literally hugged by the jubilant aeronauts. Members of the Aero Club of America, under whose auspices Farman will conduct his public flights at Brighton Beach, wanted to carry the successful inventor off the field on their shoulders.

TO BUILD G. A. R. BATTLESHIP.

Veterans in Ohio Start Movement for Popular Subscription.

Marion, O.—A movement to raise money by popular subscription to build a mammoth United States battleship was inaugurated Friday by Owen Gray post, G. A. R., at Larue, this county. The only request to be made of the national government, according to the resolutions adopted by the post is that the battleship shall bear the name "Grand Army of the Republic," as a memorial to the veterans of the civil war. It is expected that every Grand Army post in the country will take up the movement. Contributions of one dollar or more are to be received from all citizens.

PECULIAR DEATH OF A GIRL.

Leakage of Heart, Caused Probably by a Needle Point.

Warsaw, Ind.—Within five minutes after she awakened her mother early Friday to tell of a peculiar sensation that had come over her, Violetta Bowen, aged 16, passed away from leakage of the heart. It is one of the most peculiar cases that has ever come to the attention of local physicians. A post-mortem examination developed that a minute sharp instrument, resembling the point of a needle, had entered her heart through the arteries.

Michigan Convention Dates.

Grand Rapids, Mich.—The Republican state central committee at a session here Wednesday afternoon decided to call the state nominating convention for September 29. Detroit, James O. Murfin of Detroit will be temporary chairman. The county conventions were called for September 9. E. E. Alward of Clare was made secretary of the state committee and Charles Moore of Detroit, treasurer.

M. Fallieres at Christiania.

Christiania.—The French battleship Verite, having on board President Fallieres and conveyed by a squadron of French warships, arrived here Friday afternoon. King Haakon boarded the battleship and greeted M. Fallieres.

Killed While Resisting Arrest.

Doniphan, Mo.—W. B. Whitwell, who kept a country store in Ripley county, 20 miles from here, was shot and killed Friday while resisting arrest, by G. W. Smith, who claimed to be a deputy United States marshal.

Girl Killed in Auto Accident.

Mineola, L. I.—As the result of an automobile accident near Roslyn, L. I., Friday, Louise Reinhardt, the 11-year-old daughter of John Reinhardt, a [illegible] was run down by a motor car and died in the hospital here.

PICK HISGEN-GRAVES

INDEPENDENCE PARTY NAMES ITS TICKET.

HEARST'S KEYNOTE TALK

He Rakes Over Old Political Faiths—One Man Nearly Mobbed for Suggesting Bryan as a Candidate.

Chicago.—For President—Thomas L. Hisgen of Massachusetts.

For vice-president—John Temple Graves of Georgia.

The above ticket was nominated Tuesday night by the Independence party at its first national convention.

The friends of Mr. Bryan made an effort during the night session to bring his name before the convention and the man who attempted it nearly produced a riot and narrowly escaped physical violence at the hands of the indignant delegates. The man who sought to place Mr. Bryan in nomination was J. I. Shepard of Fort Scott, Kan. He did not succeed in his mission, for being called to order by the convention and questioned by Chairman Charles A. Walsh, he admitted that it was his intention to name Mr. Bryan. That was the first and last time he mentioned the name of the Democratic leader. He was promptly ruled out of order by the chairman and under the guard of several sergeants-at-arms he was hustled out of the hall while some of the incensed delegates vainly attempted to strike him with fists and one of them swung at him savagely with a cane.

Three Ballots Needed.

The nomination of Mr. Hisgen was made on the third ballot, his chief competitors being Milford W. Howard of Alabama and John Temple Graves of Georgia. Reuben R. Lyon of New York received a complimentary vote on the first ballot and William Randolph Hearst had 49 friends who voted for him on the first two ballots.

The nomination of Mr. Graves was made unanimously, all the other candidates having been withdrawn.

Mr. Hearst's Speech.

In the course of his "keynote" speech, Temporary Chairman Hearst said:

"In 1792 Thomas Jefferson, who had penned the principles of the Declaration of Independence, founded the Democratic-Republican party to perpetuate those principles.

"In 1840 this party, founded to be the party of the people, had become the party of privilege, and the Democratic party came into being and crystallized about the personality and principles of Andrew Jackson. In 1854 the Democratic party had become the property of an arrogant aristocracy which denounced the 'self-evident truths of the Declaration of Independence as 'self-evident lies.' Then the Republican party was born to restore the action of the government to the principles of Washington and Jefferson, and Abraham Lincoln led it to victory.

"Is it not time, is there not need, for a new party which shall take up the work of the parties of Jefferson, of Jackson and of Lincoln and preserve for us and for the citizens of the future the rights and liberties which these parties in their hour of usefulness preserved for the citizens of their time?

Calls Old Party Faithless.

"The old parties, in this day of their decadence, are no longer equal to this work, for they have become unfaithful to the principles which inspired them and unworthy of the patriots who founded them. The Republican party is the open and avowed handmaiden of the trusts. It scorns those who would rescue it, repudiates those who would reform it, and glories brazenly in its profitable infamy. The Democratic party is merely envious of its sordid sister's ill-gotten finery. It upbraids her at one election and imitates her at the next. The Republican leaders are the political attorneys of trusts and monopolies, the representatives in public life of those giant corporations which have superseded the people in this republic as the source of power and the seat of authority."

Lyncher Killed; Negro Hanged.

Pensacola, Fla.—At the cost of one man killed and many wounded, some of whom will die, a mob at 11 o'clock Wednesday night succeeded in taking Lee Shaw, a negro, from the Pensacola jail and lynching him in the public square of the city. The lynching followed a battle at the jail, the building being desperately defended by the sheriff and his deputies.

Woman Killed; Body Burned.

New York.—In the finding of the half-charred body of a young woman early Wednesday morning in an isolated section of Williamsburg, Brooklyn, one of the most atrocious and cunningly-planned murders that has been given to the police to solve in many years was revealed.

Gen. Drain Robbed in London.

London.—Gen. James A. Drain, president of the American Rifle association, informed the Associated Press Thursday that his apartment in a hotel here was recently robbed of jewelry and two medals won at Bisley by the American rifle team.

Democratic Michigan Convention.

Saginaw, Mich.—At a meeting here Thursday the Democratic state central committee decided to hold the state convention for the nomination of a state ticket October 1 at Saginaw

ALL RUN DOWN.

Miss Della Stroebe, who had Completely Lost Her Health, Found Relief from Peruna at Once.

Read What She Says!

MISS DELLA STROEBE, 710 Richmond St., Appleton, Wis., writes: "For several years I was in a run-down condition, and I could find no relief from doctors and medicines. I could not enjoy my meals, and could not sleep at night. I had heavy, dark circles about the eyes.

"My friends were much alarmed. I was advised to give Peruna a trial, and to my joy I began to improve with the first bottle. After taking six bottles I felt completely cured. I cannot say too much for Peruna as a medicine for women in a run-down condition."

Pe-ru-na Did Wonders.

Mrs. Judge J. F. Boyer, 1221 Sherman Ave., Evanston, Ill., says that she became run down, could neither eat nor sleep well, and lost flesh and spirit. Peruna did wonders for her, and she thanks Peruna for new life and strength.

WAS TOO MUCH FOR PAPA.

Childish Questions Were Becoming Entirely Too Personal.

There is a member of the faculty of George Washington university, who, to use the words of a colleague, "is as rotund physically as he is profound metaphysically," says the Philadelphia Ledger.

One day the professor chanced to come upon his children, of which he has a number, all of whom were, to his astonishment, engaged in an earnest discussion of the meaning of the word "absolute."

"Dad," queried one of the youngsters, "can a man be absolutely good?"

"No."

"Dad," put in another youngster, "can a man be absolutely bad?"

"No."

"Papa," ventured the third child, a girl, "can a man be absolutely fat?"

Whereupon the father fled incontinently.

IT SEEMED INCURABLE

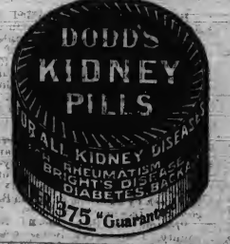
Body Raw with Eczema—Discharged from Hospitals as Hopeless—Cuticura Remedies Cured Him.

"From the age of three months until fifteen years old, my son Owen's life was made intolerable by eczema in its worst form. In spite of treatments the disease gradually spread until nearly every part of his body was quite raw. He used to tear himself dreadfully in his sleep and the agony he went through is quite beyond words. The regimental doctor pronounced the case hopeless. We had him in hospitals four times and he was pronounced one of the worst cases ever admitted. From each he was discharged as incurable. We kept trying remedy after remedy, but had gotten almost past hoping for a cure. Six months ago we purchased a set of Cuticura Remedies. The result was truly marvelous and to-day he is perfectly cured. Mrs. Lily Hedge, Camblewell Green, England, Jan. 12, 1907."

Socialistic.

The Patient—Doc, I can't pay you no money while I ain't gone none, a'ready. Vill you take it out in drade?

The Dentist—Well, I might consider that. What's your business?



The Patient—I lead a leedle Choiman band. Ve'll come around und serenade you efry nighd for a mont', yet!

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.
For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle

A coat of arms doesn't always hide the family skeleton.

If Your Feet Ache or Burn get a 25c package of Allen's Foot-Ease. It gives quick relief. Two million packages sold yearly.

Be careful not to stumble over your own blue.

SICK HEADACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS. Positively cured by these Little Pills.

They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, TORPID LIVER. They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable.

SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRICE.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS. Genuine Must Bear Fac-Simile Signature

Brent Good

REFUSE SUBSTITUTES.

WIDOWS' PENSIONS. Older NEW LAW obtained by JOHN W. MORRIS, Washington, D. C.

A RUINED HOME

A Story of the Prophet Hosea.

BY THE "HIGHWAY AND BYWAY" PREACHER

(Copyright, 1908, by the Author, W. A. Mayo.)

The Prophet Hosea. The name means "salvation," and in the personal history of the prophet—which many of the deepest and most spiritual Bible scholars such as G. Campbell Morgan, of England, and James M. Gray, dean of the Moody Bible institute, consider a literal portrayal of the prophet's life—we find a type or illustration of Jehovah's relations to Israel. Hosea's field of labor was Israel, and he prophesied during the reign of Jeroboam II., about 781 B. C., down to the captivity. An outline of the book is as follows: I. Historico-prophetic, chapters 1 to 3. 2. General discourses, chapters 4 to to 13: 3. Promises, chapter 14. (a) Appeal of God, vs. 1-3; (b) Promised blessing, vs. 4-8; (c) Application to all, v. 9. The personal history of the prophet may be divided into three periods as follows: (1) A Happy Union—The wife of Hosea, a woman who had lived an impure life, but who had reformed. (2) A Ruined Home—Three children came to bless the home, and then the wife, forgetful of obligations of wifehood and motherhood, deserts her home for her former lovers. (3) Love Unfailing—But her true lover's husband never loses sight of her, and at last after she had sunk to the very depths of sin he buys her back so that he may restore her to her old place in the home.

A Ruined Home—This period in the prophet's life is a type of Jehovah forsaken by Israel for other gods. Chapter 2 covers practically the same ground as chapter 1, only more fully, and concludes with the same vision of ultimate restoration and blessing.

Scripture Authority—The Book of Hosea, especially chapter 2.

SERMONETTE.

In this story of the personal life of the prophet Hosea we have a portrayal of what is but too common to-day—the disrupting of the home through the violation of the sacred marriage vows by one or both of those who have entered into the union which none but God should have made, and which nothing but death should have severed.

It is a case where vanity and love of pleasure were permitted to so dominate the life as to obscure everything else.

How much of domestic unhappiness and how many disrupted homes can be traced to these causes? Vanity—self-love and self-exaltation make one an easy victim to the enticements of sin. Love of pleasure is that door through which the soul having passed, finds it but too easy to cast off all restraint and utterly give up the life to the base gratification of the flesh.

There is no more beautiful or sacred relationship in life than that of husband and wife, and there is no more dark or hellish tragedy than that of violated marriage vows and disrupted homes.

But the disrupted home was better than sin condoned and covered up. Love was long-suffering, and we catch the yearning and heart-throb of the prophet in the second verse when he cries to his children to plead with their mother that she turn from her evil ways. But she would not listen. She must drink to the full of her sin and be brought low before he could lift her up. She must be abandoned to her own willful way. And that is just the way God deals with us. He sees our hearts set upon the evil course. He pleads with us and beats our way with hindrances, but when he sees we will not listen nor heed his cry, then it is that he gives us up to our own way. Hosea was merciful in his severity, and so is God as he permits the willful heart to drink to the bitter dregs the cup of sin.

THE STORY.

SHE had gone! That was evident. Hosea sat in the desolate home, anger struggling with the feelings of sorrow and regret over the conduct of the wayward wife.

Gomer was with her lovers. She had chosen them in preference to him and the three children which had come to bless the few brief happy years that had marked their early wedded life. How tenderly he had pleaded with her. How patiently he had striven to turn her paths from sin. She was willful and headstrong. She resented his interference and refused to listen to his words of warning, and at last he had realized that to shelter her in his home longer was only to make the pathway of sin easy. If she was going to violate the vows of wifehood and motherhood he could no longer give her the protection of his name and his home under which to cloak her sin. If she would not turn from her sin he knew only too well that she must be cast adrift and left to drink to the bitter dregs the cup of pleasure which she had chosen for herself.

But the day before he had pleaded with her, and then he had sought to stir her heart with the pleadings of her children, but all to no avail. She seemed fairly intoxicated with the fascinations of the gay life into which she had been drawn, and no word he or the children could speak seemed able to get beneath the surface and touch her heart.

Then it was that he had spoken the words that had forced her to choose between her sinful pleasures and the home which had sheltered her. And she had made the choice! The home was desolate!

As he sat there Hosea struggled with the conflicting emotions that surged through his heart, and at last when he had stilled the turbulent thoughts and had eliminated self in considering the problem that confronted him, as he had long since learned to do, he turned with a relieved sigh toward God, and, lifting his broken heart in prayer, he cried:

"Oh, God, help me to learn still more the lesson of life, and to know what the heart of God is as he yearns toward his people."

Ever since he had been called into the prophetic office he had felt the necessity of trying to understand the feelings of God in his relations and dealings with his chosen people, if he was faithfully to deliver God's message. And this was the great problem which had faced him in the very beginning of his career, as he had met and loved the beautiful Gomer. Then it was that the struggle came over the question whether or not he should cast her off because of her past life of sin, and then had come the consciousness of Israel's waywardness and he had asked himself the question as to what would have become of the nation had God cast them off as they deserved. Then it was that he had felt he had his answer from God and had taken Gomer to his bosom and happy the years had been that had passed since then, until the present sorrow had broken in upon his life, culminating finally in the open rupture with the wife and mother of the home and her fleeing to other parts that she might be unhampered in her pursuit of a gay and pleasurable life.

How like the conduct of his wife was the conduct of Israel. She had forgotten her vows to him as Israel had forgotten her vows to God and had forsaken him. She had placed the pleasure of the moment above the permanent joy and comfort of the home, and Israel had sought for temporary satisfaction and prosperity among the neighboring nations, following strange gods and forgetting the enduring blessing which God alone could confer, and missing the delight of a heart and conscience that was in harmony with the will and purpose of God.

Once more he burst out with the cry:

"Oh, Lord, help me to learn this new lesson of life and to know how God would deal with his children when they forsake him."

With this prayer upon his lips and the bitterness and hate in his heart put away, he gave himself up to the new thought, and was soon planning how he might follow the erring wife, and as often as opportunity offered strive to win her back to the paths of righteousness.

Thus it was that all unknown to Gomer Hosea kept track of her movements. More than once when dangers had threatened her had he shielded her from harm, and even death itself. Repeatedly when her resources were all gone and she was in dire distress had he succored her, she believing that some other hand than his had supplied her urgent need. Times there had been when he had been near her watching the conflicting emotions which were fighting within her sinful heart for mastery, for there were times when her heart loathed its sinfulness and she had yearnings for a better life. And it was for such periods as this that he was watching and waiting, hoping that she would come to herself and be ready to hear the words of comfort and forgiveness which he was ready to speak if she would only turn from her evil way.

Once he had found her when one of her lovers had proved her winkedly false and had deserted her in her dire need, but it was evident she had not drunk her cup of sin to the dregs, for she turned from his pleadings with a mocking laugh and he sought to drown her troubles in a still greater abandon to the life of sin.

"She still had friends," she said; "she was not ready to surrender her will to the will of another. She would do as she pleased."

Thus she had plunged on and on in her downward career until Hosea realized that she must come to the very depths of wickedness and despair before she would be ready to hear his message of love and forgiveness.

"But is it not even so with God's people?" he exclaimed one day, with bleeding heart, for as in tender love he followed the steps of the wayward wife, and felt the heart stabs which her conduct inflicted, he understood as never before how the waywardness and disobedience of God's children must pain the heavenly Father's heart.

"Yes, I do know now something of the love and patience of God. I know how he sorrows over the sins of his people. I know how merciful he has been and is willing to be to his people. Oh, God!" he exclaimed, "help me to know thy patience and thy love so that never while life lasts shall I lose sight of the one who has left me or forget that I am pledged to win her back to her home and to thee."

Clouds Have Queer Forms.

How many people know that the clouds have definite forms, says Arthur W. Clayden of the Royal Albert Memorial college, Exeter, Eng., in an article on "Clouds" in Harper's Magazine. The short curling wisps that lie in bunches or long parallels, extremely beautiful, but delicate, are called cirrus clouds. The clouds are denser, and dim the sun or hide it, brilliant, and solid clouds that are never threatening, but of the most splendid of all in the sky when sunset colors full upon them.

ARE SLIPPING BACK

UNITED STATES SOON WILL HAVE NO MERCHANT MARINE.

Effect of Republican Policy Has Been Practically to Remove the Stars and Stripes from World's Ports.

How completely Republican policies have obliterated the merchant marine of the United States is shown by the record of the ships passing through the Suez canal. Only nine ships of 12,537 net tonnage are reported for 1907, while the only countries below that figure were Belgium, 3; China, 1; Egypt, 3; Siam, 1; Portugal, 1. The number of British ships was 2,651 with 9,495,865 net tonnage.

Uncle Sam's showing for 1907 is very much worse than even his poor record for 1905, with 23 ships of 87,376 aggregate tonnage. Hardly anything could be more humiliating, especially for a country of the prestige, power and resources of the United States.

Why has the merchant marine been swept from the high seas since the Republican party came into power? Under Democratic rule the Stars and Stripes were seen in every port the world over, and the American "clipper ships" were the fastest sailors. But the age of iron and so-called protective tariffs and restrictive navigation laws have so increased the cost of ship building and the expense of navigating American ships that those with capital have sought other and more fa vored fields for its investment. The Republican policy now is to grant direct subsidies for ships to overcome the indirect subsidies to other interests which have so disastrously affected our merchant marine. The ship building trust has been protected by allowing only American-built ships to be registered under the laws of the United States.

If a shipmaster wishes to buy a new ship he must pay the price the ship-building trust demands. He cannot buy an English-built ship, although the price would be 40 per cent. less than one built in the United States. Some shipmasters have evaded the law by buying foreign-built ships and then sailing them under foreign flags and with foreign seamen.

If this policy of so-called protection through high tariffs is continued much longer there will be no American seamen to man American ships, for even on those ships used in the coastwise trade which no foreign ship is allowed to compete in, the majority of the sailors are foreigners.

Free ships would seem to be the main remedy to rehabilitate our merchant marine—that is, allow those who wish to go into the shipping business to buy their ships where they can buy them cheapest. If at the same time the tariff is reformed so that the price of all that enters into the building of ships and the sailing of them is reduced to reasonable rates, ship-building and the repairs to ships would be cheaper and competition would eventually reduce the cost of freight much to the advantage of our farmers, whose products must seek foreign markets, and our merchants who buy and sell in foreign lands.

THE RECORD THAT WON'T COME OFF.

Hot Weather Politics.

Congressman Littlefield, whom the Republican leaders had such great work to elect against the onslaught of the labor leaders, has now determined to resign in September. He does not appear to get along any more comfortably with President Roosevelt and his policies than he did with organized labor. He declares the Republican platform and the boasts of the president on the enforcement of the anti-trust law to be but "proclamation and not performance," for but seven minor convictions have been secured since President Roosevelt succeeded to the presidency, September 14, 1901. With Littlefield and Foraker, the two most forcible Republican speakers, pouring in hot shot on the flanks of the Republicans and the labor legions fighting them in front, neither the president nor Candidate Taft can feel very comfortable this hot weather. There is a fair chance that the Republicans will be disorganized before even the Democrats are ready to attack them.

Circumstances Not the Same.

George Washington signed the first American protective tariff law," says a Dingley organ. But anybody who has read William Maclay's notes on the senate debate which preceded its enactment knows the difference between moderate encouragement of infant industries and the present colossal system of giant robber monopolies.

WASTING THE PEOPLE'S MONEY.

Republican Extravagance Shown in Condition of Treasury.

The fiscal year just closed makes a disastrous showing for Republican policies on financial and political economy. Last fall the secretary of the treasury, in his estimates for congress, said there would be a surplus revenue for the year of $42,000,000, but the fact is there is a deficiency of nearly $60,000,000. The experts of the United States treasury were evidently unable to see, or refused for political reasons to notice, that the tide had turned and the taxpayers were no longer able to pay, as they had been doing. High tariff taxes had killed the goose that had been laying golden eggs for the trusts, and a panic resulted.

In spite of this enormous falling off in the revenue of the government, the Republican party in congress persisted in trying to prove that Republican policies produced prosperity by making even more extravagant appropriations than ever before, so that the amount exceeded $1,000,000,000. That vast sum was appropriated for expenses for one year, namely, from July 1, 1908, to June 30, 1909.

It is only a few years ago that the whole country was startled when it discovered that the taxpayers were burdened by a billion-dollar congress, whereas now when this present congress adjourns on March 4 next it will be called a two billion congress, for the Republicans seem utterly unable to reduce expenses.

How great the deficiency will be for the fiscal year just begun cannot be accurately estimated, but that it will exceed the deficiency for the year just closed is most probable, and may be much greater.

Such great extravagance and such a falling off in revenue may result in the secretary of the treasury refusing to redeem the United States bonds now due drawing three per cent., although the National banks now hold over $150,000,000 of government deposits.

This strange financial policy of paying interest, while at the same time having the money on hand to pay the principal would be regarded as the act of a spendthrift, if a private individual. Yet that seems to be the crazy policy of this strenuous Republican administration.

HANDICAPPED.

Republican Prosperity.

In the last six months 377,664 toilers left the United States because they could not get a living here, and yet the Republican party "declares for the principle that in the development and enjoyment of wealth so great and blessings so benign there shall be an equal opportunity for all," which declaration is evidently all fol de roll. Those workers, on the average, earned $500 a year, so the country loses $188,832,000 which they would have produced by their labor, if Republican policies had not produced panic and the prolonged business depression which even sunshine clubs are unable to dispel the gloom of.

For "equal opportunity for all" the tariff must be reformed so that the few will not be protected in plundering the many; Republican extravagance must be replaced with Democratic frugality in public expenditures, for country cannot continue prosperous that is spending $60,000,000 a year more than it can force the people to pay in tariff and other taxes.

A Republican Accomplishment.

The Republicans of Minnesota have evolved a plan to recover the governorship by nominating a candidate whose greatest accomplishment, according to his sponsor, ex-Congressman Eddy, is that he "eats pie with a knife." As Eddy was defeated for congress a few years ago for a similar achievement, may be Yacob Yacobson will find that his Minnesota constituents are still in a discriminating mood. No wonder Gov. Johnson declined to again be a candidate when he discovered what he was likely to be up against.

Two Points Need Clearing Up.

No corporation in the United States has ever been chartered to control elections by contributions or otherwise, and no corporation has a constitution or by-laws made by its stockholders authorizing the use of their money in elections. When he pronounced corporation money untainted for election purposes the treasurer of the national Republican campaign committee failed to give publicity to his views on either of these points.

Too Dangerous a Move.

It would be a fine thing for the Republican party if it could get up a war scare to divert attention from the issues which have now been set squarely before the people for the presidential campaign. But, on second thought, President Roosevelt will hardly resort to the hazardous expedient of calling a special session of congress to ring the alarm bells and sound the tocsin.

Round About the State

What Is Going On in Different Sections of Kentucky.

RAILROAD SUED

By Revenue Agent to Recover Fines and Forfeiture Penalties.

Frankfort, Ky.—Arthur E. Hopkins, of Louisville, state revenue agent at large, filed suit in the state fiscal court of this city against the Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis Railroad Co. to recover in fines and forfeitures the sum of $96,300. It is alleged that under the revenue and taxation act of 1908, it is provided that the railroad companies doing business in Kentucky must file with the auditor on the first day of July of each year a statement giving the total number of miles of road in the state and the average value per mile. A fine of $1,000 is provided for failure to do this, and a fine of $50 a day for each day thereafter is also provided. Hopkins alleges that the company failed to comply with these provisions for five years until the fines have aggregated almost $100,000.

CRAZY MAN DEFIES CAPTURE.

Eludes Guards and Flees to Mountains —Is Heavily Armed.

Lexington, Ky.—Armed with a loaded gun and defying attempts to capture him, Henry Tharp is at large in the Breathitt county mountains, and it is feared that he will commit a bloody deed before he is caught.

Tharp has been losing his mind for some time, and, becoming suddenly violent, was overpowered and taken before County Judge Taulbee at Jackson, who pronounced him insane and ordered him sent to an asylum here. Before officers from here could go after him, Tharp broke through the guard and fled to the hills.

When last heard from he had secured a rifle and was 20 miles from Jackson, and people were fleeing from him. He is a relative of "Pickey Tom" Tharp, a member of the Hargis feud clan, who was killed by his wife two years ago.

Rodent Attacks Child.

Covington, Ky.—But for its mother entering the room just in time to scare away a rat that was biting the little hand of her 7-month-old infant, the child of Mr. and Mrs. John Metz, night watchman, living at 225 Madison avenue, would probably have been killed. The child's hand was hanging over the edge of the couch, and when the mother heard it cry she rushed into the room to see a large rat gnawing the hand that was hanging down. She chased the rodent away and summoned Dr. Guy Eckman. The child was very weak from loss of blood by the time the physician arrived, and is in a serious condition.

Ex-Senator Prewitt Ill.

Lexington, Ky.—Former State Senator Caswell Prewitt, of Montgomery county, well to do farmer and uncle of Henry R. Prewitt, of Mt. Sterling, chairman of the democratic state central and executive committees, is in a critical condition at the Good Samaritan hospital, following an operation for gallstones performed 10 days ago. Death is momentarily expected.

To Inspect Bridges.

Frankfort, Ky.—Fearing that an accident might result in this county similar to the one on the line of Bullitt and Spencer counties a few days ago, in which an automobile went through a bridge, County Judge Polsgrove has started a personal inspection of all the bridges in Franklin county.

Hold-Up Man Confesses.

Louisville, Ky.—At the behest of his wife, to whom he had been married but three months, Enoch Kraft, charged with a hold-up, confessed to the police his share in the crime. His young wife sat on his lap all during the story and kissed him repeatedly.

Establish Military Camps.

Frankfort, Ky.—Adjt. Gen. Johnston directed that military camps be established at Graney, Cobb and Cerulean Springs, in Western Kentucky. Orders were issued that camping ground be selected with a view to convenience and comfort of the men.

Strange, Isn't It?

Jackson, Ky.—The school election here developed the fact that in the new school law, adopted at the last session of the legislature, there is no provision against negroes taking part in the election of trustees for white school districts.

Warning From Riders.

Mayfield, Ky.—Thos. Holloway, a tobacco grower of this county, found a letter, bunch of switches, some matches and a rope at his mail box. He lives near Lebanon Church, south of town, and does not belong to the tobacco association.

Fell Three and a Half Feet.

Covington, Ky.—Noah Jameson, a carpenter, living at 61 East Front street, fell but a distance of three and one-half feet while working on a house at 19 Howell street, but suffered a fracture of his right leg in two places.

Saddle Mare Purchased.

Lexington, Ky.—C. L. Ralley, of Springhurst farm, has purchased the saddle mare Vanar, by Montgomery Chief, out of a daughter of Fayette Denmark, from B. G. Hedden, of Versailles, for the reported price of $1,500.

MINE OFFICIAL'S

House Dynamited—Wife Injured and Hole Torn in Roof.

Lexington, Ky.—News reached here from Johnson county that an attempt was made to destroy the residence of George C. Perry, superintendent of the coal mines there. A stick of dynamite was thrown onto the roof of his residence, tearing a big hole and badly injuring Perry's wife. He was away from home at the time.

The dynamiting is believed to have been done by miners, between whom and Perry there has been strong feeling because of his stand against the adoption of a union wage scale at the mines.

Perry has officers investigating the outrage and says he will not be driven away.

WARM RECEPTION

Was Accorded Riders Who Called to Make Threat Good.

Paducah, Ky.—A running fight took place between soldiers and night riders in Crittenden county, but nobody was hurt, so far as known.

Forty riders approached the home of Henry Bennett, near Dycusburg, who had been threatened, and eight soldiers who were guarding him opened fire.

The riders returned it with a volley of shots and fled, the soldiers pursuing them. They escaped in the woods.

Quarrel Ends in Murder.

Glasgow, Ky.—At Three Springs, Hart county, Sam Spitger, aged 13, is reported to have been shot and killed by Harley Comer, aged 14. The boys are said to have quarreled at a ball game and the elder got the better of the younger. Later, the Comer boy secured a double-barrel shotgun and emptied both barrels into the head of Spitger.

Special Judge Named.

Frankfort, Ky.—Gov. Willson appointed A. H. Patton, of Jackson, special judge in the trial of the Farmers' bank, of Estill, against the Estill Collegiate Institute; W. S. H. Williams & Sons, bankers, against the Carrollton & Worthville Railroad Co., and other cases. The regular judge is disqualified.

Sergt. Wilson Is Champion Shot.

Frankfort, Ky.—Sergt. Wilson, of the Second regiment, state guards, from Middlesboro, is the champion shot of the state on the skirmish run. At the rifle range Wilson made a score of 85, the previous mark being 80. Private Bailey, of the Second regiment, made 49 out of a possible 50 at 800 yards.

Fulton Gets Next Meet.

Owensboro, Ky.—The annual reunion of the Second Brigade of Confederate Veterans adjourned to meet in Fulton next year. Col. Bennett H. Young, of Louisville, and Capt. Amos Taylor, of St. Louis, were the principal speakers. Capt. W. J. Stone, of Lyon county, was re-elected commander.

Fear For Their Lives.

Louisville, Ky.—Fearful of their lives witnesses against night riders in the Lyon county cases reached Louisville. They are Mr. and Mrs. A. Stephens, S. L. Hall and Mrs. Minnie Dean, and they were accompanied for safety by County Judge Crumbaugh and County Attorney Krone.

Arranging To Entertain Medics.

Louisville, Ky.—Elaborate plans are being made here for the entertainment of the Mississippi Valley Medical association, October 13-15. Dr. Louis Frank is chairman of the committee on arrangements and Mrs. Sidney J. Meyers is arranging entertainments.

Noted Educator Stricken.

Lexington, Ky.—Prof. Alexander R. Milligan, of Transylvania university, suffered a stroke of apoplexy at Detroit, Mich. Prof. Milligan had been spending a portion of his vacation at Mt. Clemens, and was starting on a tour of the lakes when stricken.

Ollie James Returns.

Louisville, Ky.—Representative Ollie M. James has returned to Kentucky after a trip through the west. He will spend two weeks at Atlantic City, and will then offer his services on the stump to the democratic national campaign committee.

Riders Shoot a Child.

Morgantown, Ky.—A band of armed men called on Charles Bates, a farmhand near this place. They fired a number of shots and an 8-year-old child of Bates was wounded slightly. Bates found a watch that one of the party lost in the fight.

McDowell Re-Appointed.

Frankfort, Ky.—Gov. Wilson named Judge C. R. McDowell, of Danville, and John T. Shelby, of Lexington, the election commissioners for Kentucky during the ensuing year. Mr. McDowell is a democrat, who is re-appointed.

Poisoned By Bologna Sausage.

Hopkinsville, Ky.—The [illegible] old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Pike, of this county, died from ptomaine poisoning and five members of the family are critically ill. They ate bologna sausage and became ill.

WALTON DEPARTMENT.

D. B. WALLACE, Manager.

Hand your news items to Mr. D. B. Wallace at the Walton Equitable Bank and Trust Co.'s building. He is also authorized to receive subscriptions and collect other accounts.

Scott Chambers, spent Monday in Cincinnati on business.

Herbert Fisher spent Monday at Burlington on business.

Joseph Florence, of Verona, spent Friday here with friends.

Wayne Byland, who has been quite sick, has about recovered.

For Sale—Thoroughbred Southdown buck. Britt Senlour, Walton.

For Sale—1,000 feet of framing lumber. W. H. Tillman, Walton.

R. F. DeMoisey, who has been sick for several days, is about recovered.

H. C. Diers left Monday to spend a week in Owen county selling nursery stock.

Hon. S. W. Tolin and daughter, Miss Sherley, spent Friday here with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Kennett, of Cincinnati, are here on a visit to friends.

Hon. J. G. Tomlin spent Monday and Tuesday at Burlington, on law business.

Wm. Stephens and Joseph Fisher and son spent last Wednesday in Cincinnati.

Rev. J. I. Wills, of Higginsport, Ohio, visited relatives and friends here last week.

For Sale—Fine sow and five young pigs. Apply to Mrs. Carrie Menke near Walton, Ky.

J. F. Cleek will leave next Sunday for Lexington, where he will exhibit several of his fine sheep.

Geo. M. Fullilove, of Erlanger, spent part of last week here, guest of W. C. Moxley and wife.

Dr. and Mrs. B. K. Menefee and daughter, Miss Cecile, spent last Wednesday in Cincinnati.

W. B. Johnson and little daughter, of Glencoe, spent part of last week here with relatives and friends.

Mrs. George M. Fullilove, of Erlanger, spent part of the week here the guest of Mrs. Allie Moxley.

George L. Miller, of Big Bone, and J. C. Miller, of Landing, spent Friday here with their many friends.

Elmer Stansifer, of Piner, was here Monday on business. He is doing well in the merchandise business.

Presley Adams, the valued clerk in J. G. Tomlin's law office, was quite sick the fore part of the week.

Miss Lula Jones, one of Walton's popular young ladies, who was quite sick last week, has about recovered.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Warren, of Walnut Hills, Ohio, spent Sunday here, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Moxley.

Miss Ida Humphrey, of Huntington, West Virginia, arrived here last week on a visit to Miss Marie Allen.

Mrs. John Fink has been suffering with a severely sprained ankle, sustained by a misstep at her home last week.

If you intend buying a buggy or runabout, see E. K. Stephens, Walton, Ky. He sells for cash or on credit. tf.

Miss Johnnie May Terrill, of Petersburg, is enjoying a visit here to her sister, Mrs. Scott Chambers and family.

Miss Elizabeth Johnson, of Glencoe, spent the past week here with her grandmother, Mrs. Jane E. Johnson.

Mrs. A. E. Chambers, of Petersburg, spent the past week here the guest of her son C. Scott Chambers and family.

Miss Elizabeth Warner and Miss Emily Ranshaw, of Covington, spent the past week here, guests of Miss Ruth Hinds.

For Sale—Fire Brick, Tiling, Sand, Lime, Cement, etc., of best quality at low prices. WALTON BRICK CO, Walton, Ky. 40

Mrs. H. C. Diers and daughters, Miss Clara, and Mrs. Lora Wills, spent part of last week in Cincinnati with friends.

Miss Lucy May Grubbs, of Sugar Creek, who has been here on a visit to her relatives, Mrs. John Fink and others, returned to her home Monday evening.

J. D. Remaker, of Dry Ridge, was here last week arranging with Geo. P. Nicholson to build him a fine residence at Dry Ridge.

W. O. Watts, a clever and pleasant gentleman of Bullittsville, spent part of last week here with his brother, O. S. Watts and wife.

W. T. Black, Superintendent of the Consolidated Telephone Company, spent Thursday in Burlington and Friday in Cincinnati on business.

Mrs. Allie Scott, who has been here with her husband, A. W. Scott, the telephone expert, is enjoying a visit to her home at Frankfort.

Mrs. Omer Johnson and two children, Howard and Arnold, of Covington, spent part of the past week with Mrs. Jane E. Johnson and family.

Mr. and Mrs F. C. Caldwell and five children, of Williamstown, spent Saturday and Sunday here, guests of their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Daubman.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. P. Nicholson and children spent Saturday at Oak Island attending the church exercises at the new church, which Mr. Nicholson recently completed.

Miss Lora Wills, of Lima, Ohio, who has been visiting relatives in Cincinnati and vicinity, arrived here Monday to resume her visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Diers.

Jack Best, who is handling a nice string of horses, was at the Georgetown fair last week and captured several first premiums, Sam Hick's horse being one of the winning cards.

Mrs. Rachel Jones has been quite ill the past week with symptoms of typhoid fever. Her son, Dr. R. M. Jones, of Louisville, was at her bedside Saturday, and the advisability of an operation is being considered.

Wm. H. Sheets, the mail carrier between Walton and Big Bone, has been receiving a fine, big boy, born at his home at Big Bone, July 30th, and Hamilton of Big Bone has taken his place as mail carrier.

Mrs. W. M. Hudson, of Covington, left Sunday for Put-in-Bay, beautiful island in Lake Erie, to spend a couple of weeks and other pleasure resorts.

Mrs. Jacob Freiber, of Walton, and daughter of Mrs. [illegible] H. C. Diers and family, Sunday. Mr. Freiber is a prosperous dealer in smoked meats in the Queen city.

Miss Allie T. Lee, of Owenton, spent Wednesday here the guest of Miss Lizzie Roberts, being enroute to Georgetown to visit friends. Miss Lee is a daughter of the county judge Lee, of Owen county.

Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Allen and two children, B. M. and Mary Frances, of Landing, spent Sunday here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Allen. The children remained here to spend the week with their grandparents.

Richard Staton, of Newport, spent Thursday here the guest of William Houston and family. Mr. Staton formerly resided at Walton and now is watchman on the L. & N. Railroad bridge between Newport and Cincinnati.

Mrs. Mary E. Adams spent the fore part of this week in Covington, consulting Dr. J. G. Tornish for nervous trouble. Mrs. Adams is one of the best christian ladies and her many friends hope for her early and permanent recovery.

The dog poisoner has made his advent in Walton, and the first to meet its fate was Prince Little black dog belonging to Henry Diers. The little dog was a great favorite because of the many attractive tricks he performed.

J. W. Hurt, formerly Station agent on the Cincinnati Southern Railroad at Dry Ridge, and who has been doing some repair work here for some time, has been appointed station agent at Richwood, and went on duty last week.

Work on the Walton and Verona turnpike is going along in fine shape under the efficient management of Joseph Fisher, who has about 75 hands employed on the road and has over a mile completed. The road will be finished in December.

Hon. W. W. Dickerson, of Cincinnati; Judge B. F. Menefee, of Crittenden, and Hon. D. E. Castleman, of Burlington, spent Friday here taking depositions in the Powers-Lipscomb land suit that comes up for trial at the next term of the Boone circuit court.

Mrs. Ruth A. Hind and granddaughter, Miss Mattie Hudson left last Wednesday for Nicholasville, on a visit to their relatives, John Baker and family. Mr. Baker is a wealthy farmer and citizen of Jessamine county, and has been anxious for Mrs. Hind to visit them.

The many people of the Walton Christian church Sunday school will give an ice cream festival and lawn fete on the beautiful lawn of Miss Myrtle Murphy, one of the members, Saturday night, August 8th. All are most cordially invited to attend and enjoy themselves.

Mr. and Mrs. William Stephens entertained the following guests, last Sunday: Mrs. Thomas Lipscomb and Hattie Harter, of Dayton; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Lipscomb, of Richwood; and Wash Lipscomb and son, of Verona. Wash Lipscomb is 83 years of age and is Mrs. Stephens' great uncle.

Mrs. Dick Fossett, of Covington, was the guest of her aunt, Mrs. A. W. Smith and husband, Friday and Saturday, and attended the funeral of little Miss Mary Elizabeth Johnson Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Fossett were former well known citizens here where they have many friends.

Wm. Gaunt, son of Hon. John S. Guant, of Louisville, spent Friday here on business. Mr. Gaunt is a rising young lawyer, a partner of Wm. Marshall Bullitt, and has requested his father to let him take care of part of his practice this quarter, which he promises to do with old time energy and vigor of his illustrious father.

Floyd Young, the 13 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Linden Young, of Branch Station, was operated on for appendicitis, last Wednesday, by Dr. Horace Whittaker and Dr. Langdale, of Cincinnati. Dr. B. K. Menefee and Dr. J. G. Slater, of Walton, assisted in performing the operation, and it is believed the boy will recover.

Miss Nannie Violette, who has been sick, is much improved, and was able to be out this week. Miss Violette is apprehensive of a lung affection, and her brother, Dr. Violette, insists on her coming to his home in Westminister, California, to enjoy the rejuvinating influences of that mild climate.

Earl Rouse was taken to Cincinnati, Monday to have an operation performed on his nose, which was very successfully performed by Dr. Murphy assisted by our own Dr. B. K. Menefee. The young man is rapidly recovering, but will remain there several days. He was accompanied to Cincinnati by his father, A. M. Rouse.

Rev. James W. Rogers has been invited to make an address at the Scott County Sunday School Convention at Sadieville, Sunday, Aug. 16th, and Rev. Rogers has been requested to have the same subject as he had last year at Salem, viz: "How to Make a Sunday School." Rev. Rogers has accepted the invitation and will attend the convention.

Mrs. John T. Boulton chaperoned a party of young folks to Camp Lassing, on Big Bone Island, last Saturday, and all spent a delightful day. The party was composed of Mrs. Boulton and daughter, Miss Ruth, Misses Elizabeth Warner and Emily Ranshaw, of Covington; Ida Humphrey, West Va.; Isabelle Tompkins, Marie Allen, Lee Hind and Warren Lassing.

The kiln of the Walton Brick Company, was a failure, and proved to be almost worthless. The brick have the indication of not being burned sufficiently, as the color and texture indicate that condition. There were about 155,000 in the kiln. A new kiln is being made and an expert in the burning will be employed to demonstrate beyond any question the merits of the clay and machinery to produce a first class pressed brick.

Considerable excitement was caused, Monday, by the grass near the railroad bridge on the Southern railroad catching fire from a passing engine. The flames spread to near a barn on A. W. Smith's premises, but was discovered in time to prevent the structure catching fire. The grass and weeds in numerous places along the railroads have caught fire from sparks from engines and great care is being exercised to prevent buildings and fences from being burned.

Col. Elijah J. Green, who recently resigned as Adjutant General of the State Guards, arrived here from Frankfort, Monday, on a short visit to his mother and other relatives, and left Tuesday for New York City to assume his duties as Immigration Agent for the State of Kentucky, and those whoneed labor of any kind and make application to him, will be supplied with the best of the foreign immigrants. His brother, Robert C. Green, of Walton, will have blank applications on hand.

Duce Dudgeon, while hauling the well driving machinery from Big Bone Springs to Walton, was thrown from his wagon by some of the machinery catching on the telephone wires across the road near town. He was trying to dislodge the wire when it suddenly gave away and threw him off the wagon quite a distance and alighting on his heels he sustained such severe bruises that he could scarcely walk for several days, but he has now about recovered.

The baptismal exercises at the Crittenden Christian church, last Sunday were largely attended by Walton people. The candidates for baptism numbered 25 and were the results of a meeting held at Goshen Christian church near Piner, when 22 accessions to the church were obtained. Rev H. G. Brown, of Lexington, performed the baptismal rites. Among those in attendance were Mrs. Ira Percival and daughter, Miss Tete, of Walton. Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Stansifer and Mr. and Mrs. Eliza Vailandingham, of Piner.

Walton Base Ball Club reorganized last week with a view to increasing the efficiency of the players, the club membership being composed of nearly all the public spirited citizens. Prof. H. C. Wayman was elected manager; Berry N o e l l, captain; Hugh Watson, treasurer; Dr. J. G. Slater, official umpire and Dr. B. W. Stallard, gate keeper; Leslie Jones, official scorer. A contest is being made to bring the Walton club up to the highest state of efficiency, and everybody should lend a helping hand and give a word of encouragement.

Earl Robinson, of Richwood, who was the validictorian of the graduating class of the Walton Graded School in May, won the State College certificate in the competitive examination of county school graduates, which took place at Burlington, July 25th, when there were seven candidates for the honor. Mr. Robinson is a remarkably bright young man, and Walton is more than proud of his record as one of its school graduates, and predicts that he will make a mark in intellectual circles that will be in every way worthy of emulation.

Dr. Robert C. Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. F. Moore, of Beaver Lick, graduated Thursday afternoon from the Louisville Medical College, after a four years' course of study. The exercises took place in Macauley's Theatre, Louisville, a large number being present, including Dr. Moore's father and sister, Miss Corinne. The doctor and his wife returned home with them. He has not fully determined where to locate, but as he is a young man of excellent morals and much promise, there is every reason to believe that he will do well anywhere.

Hon. J. G. Tomlin and John L. Vest returned, Thursday, from Warsaw, where they had been a week attending the fall term of circuit court, trying the case of Geo. Glenn's admr. vs. L. & N. Railroad Company for $10,000 damages alleged to have been sustained by the death of George Glenn in 1904, who was killed on the railroad near Sparta, he being drunk and lying down on the track and the agent of the company being notified of his danger with instruction to inform the engineer which he failed to do. The case was bitterly fought by both sides. A jury rendered a verdict for $6,000 damages in favor of Glenn's administrator.

Prof. H. C. Wayman and wife returned here, Saturday, from Richmond, Ky., where Prof. Wayman has been taking a special course in the teachers' department in the State Normal School, and preparing for his work as principal of the Walton Graded School, which will begin in September, and will probably be a nine months term, though it has been circulated that the period will have to be shortened on account of a lack of money and the necessity of paying an accrued bond on the district indebtedness. One of the trustees states, however, that the term will not be less than 8 months, and considering the increased State per capita, it being $3.60 this year, the term will, in all probability, be nine months.

The angel of death made its sad visit to the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Johnson, Thursday morning, July 30th, and with the incoming of the beautiful day, the spirit of a bright, sweet, lovable child was wafted to its heavenly a b o d e. Little Mary Elizabeth Johnson, their only child, said farewell to all earthly sorrow and pain, after an illness of s o m e time from diabetes. The parting was painful in the extreme for the little girl outside of the natural affections that existed between her and her parents by the tenderness of her disposition and the amiability of her nature entwined herself about the hearts of her parents as well as about those of many others with more than the ordinary relation, and it was like the light going out of their lives that the sunshine of the sweet, little girl's presence was taken away from them forever, and she will be missed by all. The heartfelt sympathy of everybody is tendered the heartbroken parents in their great affliction, though none can realize the anguish in the trying moment. Mary Elizabeth was 3 years, 11 months and 20 days old at the time of her death. The little form was laid to rest in the Baptist cemetery, Saturday afternoon, after appropriate services at the Methodist church, the pastor, J. B. Harris delivering a

[Continued on page one]

Commissioner's Sale.

Boone Circuit Court, Ky.

Boone County Deposit Bank, Plff.
vs. Equity.
H. J. Casey, &c., Defts.

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Boone Circuit Court, rendered at the April term thereof, 1908, in the above cause, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Court-house door in Burlington, Boone county, Ky., to the highest bidder, at public sale on Monday, the 10th day of Aug., 1908, at one o'clock p. m., or thereabouts, being circuit court day, upon a credit of 6 and 12 months, the following described property, to-wit:

Lying and being in Boone County Kentucky, which is bounded and described as follows: On the Bullittsville and Dry Creek Turnpike and adjoining the lands of Harrison Clore, A. W. Corn and J. L. Riley and bounded thus:

Beginning at a point in the Bullittsville and Dry Creek turnpike, a corner of a tract of land conveyed by H. J. Casey and wife to Harriet J. Clore, by Deed recorded in the Boone County Clerk's office, in Deed Book No. 40, pages 196 and 197, thence with the Turnpike n 61 w 87 links, n 49 ¾ w 4.66 chains, n 45 ½ w 10.94 chains to a corner in said Turnpike near the town of Bullittsville, thence leaving the said turnpike n 40 ¾ e 4.72 chains to a stone thence n 46 ¾ w 2.80 chains to a point in a small branch, near the Bullittsville and Francesville road, thence with the line of A. W. Corn n 38 ¾ e 12.81 chains to a stone near a water gap, thence up a small branch n 47 ¼ e 33.100 chains, n 49 e 3 chains to a corner with A. W. Corn, thence with his line s 41 ¾ e 16 10 chains, to a stone, a corner with the Harriet Clore tract of land, thence with a line of said tract s 36 ¾ w 27.33 chains to the beginning, containing 49 acres 2 roods and 16 poles of land. There is excepted out of this boundary, 3 roods and 8 poles of land, conveyed to A. W. Corn, by Deed dated October 2ad, 1893, and of record in Deed Book 40 page 200, Boone County Court records, to which reference is made for a more particular description of said excepted land.

Or sufficient thereof to produce the sums of money so ordered to be made. For the purchase price the purchasers with approved security or securities, must execute bonds, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid, and have the force and effect of a judgment, with a lien retained therein until all the purchase money is paid. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms. Amount to be raised by sale, $1,126 41.

D. D. CASTLEMAN, M. C. B. C.

TAX-PAYERS NOTICE.

The Taxpayers of Boone County are hereby notified that I or my Deputy will be at the places and on the dates named below to collect 1908 taxes:

Florence, July 13th and October 12th.
Verona, July 14th and October 13th.
Walton, July 15th and October 14th.
Petersburg, July 16th and October 15.
Bellevue, July 17th and October 16th.
Beaver, July 20th and October 19th.
Big Bone, July 21st and October 20th.
Union, July 22d and October 21st.
Rabbit Hash, July 24th and Oct. 8th.
Constance, July 27th and Oct. 9th.
Bullittsville, July 28th and Oct. 22d.
Hebron, October 23rd.
Gunpowder, October 26th.
Richwood, October 27th.

RATES—State, 50 cents; County, 15c on the $100, six per cent penalty added December 1st on all unpaid taxes.

Pay your Poll-tax before December 1st and you will not be put on the delinquent list. Interest and cost of collecting will be added on all delinquent taxes

M. F. WINGATE,
Sheriff Boone County.

Good Things to Eat in Hot Weather at Hot Weather Prices

Sunny Side Baked Beans with tomato sauce, 3 lb. can..10c
3 for.....25c
Deep Sea Oysters.....10c
3 for.....25c
Post Toasties.....10c
Quaker Wheat Berries, bx 7c
Zenith Red Salmon 2 for 25c
Hunter Salmon, 3 for....25c
Excelsior Butter or Soda Crackers, lb.....10c
Large Milk Bottle of Mustard.....10c
Fresh Cakes, all sorts—pound.....10 to 20c
Large Sour Pickles, doz.12c
Medium Sweet " ".10c
Syrup, 10 lb. bucket.....35c
Sardines, can....5c, 10c 20c
Full Cream Cheese, lb....18c
Swiss Cheese, lb.....20c
Pure Comb Honey, lb....15c
Deviled Ham,.....5 and 10c
Golden Blend Coffee, lb..20c
Moneyworth Coffee, lb...17c
Three pounds.....50c
Capitol Tea, fine—hot or cold, lb.....60c
Capitol Flour, bbl.....$5.00
Telephone Flour, bbl 5.25
Pure Cream Tartar Baking Powder, lb.....30c

GEO. C. GOODE,
AGENT.
Covington, Kentucky.
Pike & Washington.

Commissioner's Sale.

Boone Circuit Court, Ky.

Walton Perpetual Building and Loan Association, Plff
vs. Equity
Kirtley Finnell, &c., Defts

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Boone Circuit Court, rendered at the April Term, thereof, 1908, in the above cause, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Court-house door in Burlington, Boone county, Ky., to the highest bidder, at public sale on Monday, 10th day of Aug., 1908, at 1 o'clock p. m., or thereabouts, being circuit court day, upon a credit of six and twelve months, the following described property, towit:

In Walton Boone County Kentucky on the south side of High street, and bounded as follows:—Beginning at the north corner of T. B. Northcutt's lot, thence with a line of said lot, in a Southerly direction, 211 feet to the South east corner of said lot, thence Easterly, and parallel with said lot, 100 feet to a corner, thence Northerly, parallel with the first named line, 210 feet to High Street, thence with a south side of same, 100 feet to the beginning, being the same, more or less, 100 feet front, by 211 feet back, and being the same property conveyed to Anna Finnell by Kirtley Finnell, by Deed dated 1906, and recorded in Deed Book page Boone County Court records, and upon which there is situated a one story dwelling house.

There is excepted out of this tract, one half of the 50 feet, being the one half upon which the dwelling is not situated.

Or sufficient thereof to produce the sums of money so ordered to be made. For the purchase price the purchaser, with approved security or securities, must execute pond, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid, and having the force and effect of a judgment, with a lien retained therein until all the purchase money is paid. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms. Amount to be raised by sale, $346 88.

D. E. CASTLEMAN, M. C. B. C.

Fisher's Liniment

wont kill potato bugs

But it will stop that Diarrhoea, Cholera Morbus, Cramps, Headache and Colic. It's worth the money.

SOLD 29½ YEARS.

Fisher's Liniment is sold by druggists and dealers thru Boone and parts of Kenton and Grant counties.

25 and 50 Cents.

FOR SALE.

Brick, second hand lumber, sash, doors and windows. W. H. Buckner, Erlanger, Ky.

PUBLIC SALE.

As administrator of the estate of Sarah Ann Jarrell, deceased, I will sell at her late home on Woolper creek, in Boone county, Ky., on Saturday, August 8th, 1908,

the following property:

3 Cows, 2 150 lb. Hogs, Horse, Road Wagon, Buggy, Harness, lot of Farming Implements, Household and Kitchen Furniture, &c.

Terms—On sums over $5 a credit of six months will be given, purchaser to give note with good security; sums of $5 00 and under, cash.

LYSTRA SMITH, Admr.

Sale to begin at 1 p. m.

Rogers Bros. General Merchants,

BELLEVUE, KY.

Keep on hand a General Stock of MERCHANDISE.

Coal Kept in the Yard.

Country Produce taken in Trade.

Administratrors Notice.

All persons indebted to the estate of Z. T. Baker, deceased, must come forward and settle, and all those having claims against said estate must present them to the undersigned proven according to law.

N. E. RIDDELL, Admr.,
Burlington, Ky.

H. C. BLACK, VETERINARY SURGEON,

WALTON, KENTUCKY.

Treats all diseases pertaining to animals. Prompt attention given to all calls. Telephone connections.

RIDGEVIEW STOCK FARM
Boone County, Ky.
BREEDER OF
Aberdeen-Angus Cattle and Duroc Jersey Swine.
Stock for Sale. Address or call
W. W. COCHRAN, Mgr. - Delhi, Ohio.
(The Chambers Farm.)

DR. L. H. CRISLER, VETERINARY SURGEON.

Residence 1552 Scott St.,
COVINGTON, - - KENTUCKY.
Phone, South 1248.

Take the Recorder.

Take the Recorder.

J. Bullock & Son,

PRACTICAL TAILORS,
HEBRON, - KENTUCKY.

Our Spring and Summer samples are ready for inspection and we invite you to call and see them and learn the prices.

Suits from.....$14.00 up.
Pants from.....$3.00 up.

All work guaranteed and done under my own supervision.

J. Bullock & Son,
HEBRON, KY.

Dr. L. E. ROUSE,

DENTIST,

Will be at Burlington on Monday of each week; Union on Tuesday, balance of time at my office in Masonic Building. LUDLOW, KY.

Watches That Keep Time

A watch that dosen't keep time is worse than no watch at all. We sell only the reliable kind and guarantee you the lowest prices. Ladies' gold-filled case, Elgin or Waltham movement, $10.00 up; gentlemen's gold-filled case, Elgin or Waltham movement, $9.00 up. Solid gold at equally low prices.

Motch,
The Jeweler,
613 MADISON,
Covington, Ky.

"Always Reliable."
W. N. HIND & CO.
Carpets, Furniture, Stoves,
310-12 W. Fifth Street,
Cincinnati, - Ohio.

COMMISSIONER'S NOTICE.

Boone Circuit Court, Ky

Anna Hickey, &c., Plaintiffs, vs. Order of Reference.
Hattie Brown, &c., Defendants.

On motion of the parties, plaintiffs and defendants, this cause is now referred to the Master Commissioner of this court to hear proof on claims presented against the estate of Marietta Murry, deceased, or that may be presented. The Master will also give notice of the time and place of his sittings by notice posted up at the Court House door, in Burlington, Boone county, Ky., and similar notice in the Boone County Recorder, a newspaper published in Boone county, Ky. He may consider proof taken by deposition, before other qualified officers, and filed in this case. He will report to the next term.

In obedience to the foregoing order, I shall, on the 20th day of June, 1908, at my office in Burlington, Ky., begin the taking of proof in said case, and will continue the same from day to day till the 8th day of August, 1908.

D. E CASTLEMAN,
Master Commissioner B. C. C.

Grocery For Sale.

I desire to sell, privately, my entire Stock of Groceries and Fixtures, &c., in Union, Ky.

N. W. BURKETT, Union, Ky.

Administrators Notice.

All persons indebted to the estate of Thos. S. Whitaker, dec'd, will come forward and settle at once, and those having claims against said estate will present them to the undersigned properly proven.

J. M. GRANT, Administrator with will annexed.

POSTED.

Notice is herchy given that my properly knowu as Laughery Island is posted agaihst all kinds of trespass.

JOHN SMITH, Grant, Ky.

R. O. HUGHES,
—SURVEYOR,—
RICHWOOD, - KY.

Am prepared to do, and will answer all calls for surveying in Boone and adoining counties. Over 20 years experience as a practical surveyor

"In the Heart of the Blue Grass."
1798 Transylvania University 1908
Continuing
Kentucky University.

Attend Transylvania University. A standard institution with elective courses, modern equipment, scholarly surroundings, good moral influences. Expenses reasonable. Students from twenty-seven states and seven foreign countries. First term begins Sept. 14, 1908. Write for catalog to-day.
PRESIDENT TRANSLVANIA UNIVERSITY, Lexington, Ky.

It will pay you to advertise your Business in this Paper. Try it.

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER.

ESTABLISHED 1875.
Subsciption $1.50 year.
Try it One Year.

VOL. XXXIII. BURLINGTON, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 12, 1908. NO. 43.

County News Items

Interesting Facts Gathered During the Week by Our Regular Correspondents.

HATHAWAY.

Mrs. Harriet Reib is very low.

A nice shower of rain fell here on Tuesday evening of last week.

Several from around here will attend circuit court at Burlington this week.

Joe Reib, of Covington, came out to make his mother a short visit last week.

Mail route No. 2 had on a double header last Tuesday, Mr. Conley and his neighbor Bert Smith.

Mrs. Lourena Kelly and children left for Indiana, last Saturday, to visit relatives near North Vernon.

Mrs. Sarah White and Florence Smith spent last Wednesday with Mrs. Nan McAtee, of Beech Grove.

Paris B. Akin returned home last week to spend a week with his folks and other friends of Woolper neighborhood.

W. S. White went to Covington last Wednesday after a load of shelled corn for which he paid 83 cents per bushel.

Miss Cora Aylor returned to Speers hospital, Dayton, last Saturday, to resume her duties as nurse, after a two weeks' vacation.

P. P. Neal and wife, E. C. Franks and wife, Mrs. Vina Smith, Cynthia Mason, Mrs. Nan B. McElroy and Mrs. Myrtle Clements, spent last Tuesday with the writer and family.

The annual big fish fry was pulled off at Big Bone church, last Thursday, 212 pounds of river fish being dressed and fried over the huge furnaces by a corps of excellent cooks. A large kettle of fish chowder, also, was prepared by G. L. Smith, who is an adept in that line. It was some time after the noon hour when the fish was all fried, and then with coffee, corn bread and other things too numerous to mention, the feast was spread on a long table in the grove and every one present did ample justice to the spread, and enjoyed the occasion very much. All hope to meet again on a like occasion.

When leaving the fish fry at Big Bone, last Thursday afternoon, the horse that was attached to the buggy that Misses Ida Hodges and Janie Jones drove, became frightened and ran down the road towards R. Lee Huey's. Miss Jones jumped out of the buggy and broke one of the bones in her right lower limb near the ankle. Miss Hodges remained in the buggy, holding to the lines, and checked the horse near the cross roads, near Mr. Huey's. The unfortunate young ladies were taken to Mr. Huey's and Drs. Ryle and Hopkins were called and found Miss Jones' injuries as above stated, while Miss Hodges was badly bruised.

ooo

GASBURG.

Mrs. T. J. Bondurant is getting around after quite a spell of sickness.

There are 17 gasoline launches owned and operated by citizens of Aurora.

Melons are going to market in large numbers. They are large and of good quality.

Tyre Bondurant had a very valuable horse to get badly hurt while running in the pasture.

Henry Terrill, of Burlington, and grandson, Pratt Holloway, of Illinois, are visiting relatives here.

Some person or persons cut considerable wire fence belonging to Ben Berkshire and Joe McWethy.

Lige and Tom Acra came near drowning their horses by driving them in the river at the Aurora ferry.

This section has had three good rains lately, which has greatly revived vegetation, and at least a fair crop ol corn is assured.

Mrs. Ben R. Johnson and children have returned to their home in Mt. Vernon, Ohio, after a month's visit to relatives here and Sparta, Ind.

There was a grand blow out at the Laughery club, Saturday and Sunday. A great many of the leading Republican politicians of Cincinnati, were present.

ooo

UNION.

Miss Hattie Snyder, of Hopeful neighborhood, is visiting Miss Gladys Rouse.

Miss Alva Williams entertained quite a number of her friends at dinner, Saturday.

Mrs. John Williams is entertaining her cousins, Mrs. Fannie Smiser and Miss Kate Fisher, of Cynthiana.

Miss Ruth Griffith has returned to her home in Erlanger after a pleasant visit with her aunt, Mrs. W. H. Smith.

James T. Bristow respectfully requests those who owe him to come and pay their bills, as he is in urgent need of money. He will greatly appreciate promptness in this matter.

Miss Nannie Burkitt gave a party at Big Bone Springs, Saturday after noon, in honor of her cousin, Miss Lottie Fall, of Alexandria, Indiana. Those enjoying the outing were Mesdames Ben S. Houston, Susie Surface, W. M. Rachal, Misses Nannie V. Burkett, Lottie Fall, Virginia and Addie Conner, Dell L. Utz, Opha and Eugenia Riley, and Gladys Carpenter; Messrs. J. T. Bristow and R. W. Burkett.

The farmers between Union and Hathaway deserve great credit for the splendid work done on the road between these places. With a force of 18 men and 9 teams they have graded the road until it is ready for stone, if the stone could be secured; but, as it is, those who travel this highway will bless these good men for the work so thoroughly done. Last winter it was impassable and surely others seeing what has been done will also lend a hand and push the work to completion. This is a much traveled thoroughfare and everyone interested should gladly assist in its improvement.

ooo

RICHWOOD.

Jerry Carpenter is on the sick list.

Excelsior Grange meets next Saturday.

L. D. Jackson has built a new coal storage house.

Florence and Richwood will cross bats next Saturday.

Miss Mary Alda Carpenter is improving very slowly.

Miss Jennie Mardis, of Covington, is visiting friends here.

Mrs. Sallie Waller, of Verona, is visiting relatives here.

Not very much fair stock to show. High feed is partly to blame.

John Ransalaer lost a valuable 3 year old filly from eating rye.

Marion Grubbs fell from his loft and was shaken up considerably.

Mr. and Mrs. John Marshall, of Corinth, are visiting relatives here.

Chas. Wolfe's shop was closed, last week, he being sick with tonsilitis.

Tom Murray and family have returned from a visit to friends at Constance.

We are justly proud of Earl Robinson who captured the state scholarship in Lexington college, and wish him the best ever.

Uncle Jeff Carpenter, aged 76 years, died at his home Sunday morning, last before 6 o'clock, after a lingering illness of three weeks. He was loved, honored and respected by all who knew him. He leaves, besides his wife, aunt Mary, five sons and three daughters. Uncle Jeff was well known all over the county for his jolly, genial and happy disposition, and his witty sayings. Interment at the Carpenter cemetery.

ooo

GUNPOWDER.

Miss Olive Smith united with Hopeful church, last Sunday.

Mrs. Ina House, of Eaton, Ohio, is here visiting her parents, W. R. Tanner and wife.

Ed Clarkson and wife spent Sunday at Crescent Springs, guests of E. Drinkenburg and wife.

Mesdames C. W. Eubanks and Gertrude Drinkenburg spent last Thursday with Mrs. Fannie Clarkson.

Miss Catherine Finks, of Madison, Virginia, is visiting Mrs. R. O. Beemon and other Boone county relatives and friends.

Mrs. Elva and Miss Minnie Drinkenburg returned last week after a two weeks' visit with Mrs. Edward Hawes, of Louisville.

Mrs. Applegate, of Maysville, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Columbus Carpenter and other relatives and friends in this neighborhood.

A large congregation attended church at Hopeful last Sunday. Those present from a distance were Mrs. David Houston and daughter, Miss Susie, Mrs. Julia Craven and Miss Ethel McRander, of Verona neighborhood; Mrs. Applegate, of Maysville, and Miss Finks, of Madison, Virginia.

After a brief illness, Jennie Lee, the little daughter of Erice Rouse and wife, passed to her reward on the 4th inst., at the age of 2 years, 4 months and 7 days. Little Jennie was a bright and cheerful little girl, and we are left to wonder why she was taken away while so young and tender. Why the home was robbed of such a bright jewel? but we have the consolation that she is now safe in the arms of Jesus, for he has said, "suffer the little children to come unto me and forbid them not, for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven." The funeral services were conducted by Pastor Walterick on the 6th inst. at Hopeful church, after which the remains were interred in Hopeful cemetery in the presence of a large concourse of relatives and friends. The family has the sympathy of the entire community in its sad bereavement.

Why James Lee Got Well.

Everybody in Zanesville, O., knows Mrs. Mary Lee, of rural route 8. She writes: "My husband, James Lee, firmly believes he owes his life to the use of Dr. King's New Discovery. His lungs were so severely affected that consumption seemed inevitable, when a friend recommended New Discovery. We tried it, and its use has restored him to perfect health." Dr. King's New Discovery is the King of throat and lung remedies. For coughs and colds it has no equal. The first dose gives relief. Try it. Sold under guarantee at Bentler's drug store, Erlanger. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

LIMABURG.

Frank McMullen, who has been sick is able to be about again.

W. P. Beemon and wife were Sunday guests at A. G. McMullin's.

Miss Fannie Ryle has returned from Lebanon, Ohio, where she was attending school.

Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Adams entertained several of their friends at dinner, last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ryle and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Delph attended church at Burlington, Sunday night.

The members of Gunpowder Baptist church presented their pastor, Rev. Stith, with the neat sum of $26 as a token of their appreciation of him.

J. J. Tanner and wife, W. C. Delph and wife and L. A. Tanner and wife went to Belleview, Monday, to see their friend, Rev. T. L. Utz, who is very low.

Mrs. Lucinda Rouse is on the sick list.

Mr. Tucker and wife are the pleasant guests of Chas. Garnett.

Chas. Aylor and family were the guests of E. I. Rouse and wife, Sunday.

O. E. Aylor and wife had for their guests, Monday Rev. Walterick and family, of Florence.

Miss Nellie Petit from down on Gunpowder, is staying with Mrs. William Kirkpatrick.

Chas. Youell is preparing to build a big dairy barn, and Owen Ross will build a cellar soon.

Miss Mamie Davis and Homer Baker attended the floating opera at Constance one night last week.

Luther Rouse had the misfortune to get his foot severely cut with a post hole digger. The sore is healing nicely.

Last Saturday evening Lloyd Weaver entertained at his home on old Gunpowder, about 100 of his young friends, with a party. Cake and lemonade in abundance were served.

Mrs. Richard Beemon had a narrow escape from being bitten by a snake one night last week. She was reaching in the nest for some eggs and touched the snake which had an egg in its mouth. She called her husband and the snake was killed. It measured over 4 feet long.

Chas. Garnett and wife held a family reunion at their hospitable home Sunday. They also invited all their friends and a large number responded, bringing well filled baskets, the contents of which were spread upon a long table at the noon hour. All had a good time as every one does at that good home.

ooo

WATERLOO.

Asa Cason was shopping in Rising Sun, last Thursday.

Mrs. J. W. Kite has been confined to her bed with rheumatism the past week.

Elijah West, of Aurora, spent several days last week with his brother, Noah, near here.

Lewis Stephens and wife entertained quite a number of relatives and friends Sunday.

Mrs. Rena Presser and Viola Clore made a flying trip to Rising Sun Thursday afternoon.

M. S. Ryle and wife, of East Bend, were here visiting Mrs. Ryle's father Thursday and Friday.

J. D. McNeely had a force of hands out working the road south of town, Monday and Tuesday.

T. B. Aylor and wife, of Florence, have been visiting relatives in this vicinity the past week.

Mrs. Lenora Huey and daughter, of Rising Sun, are visiting relatives in this neighborhood.

Peter Hager, a prominent farmer of East Bend, was calling on friends at this place, Saturday.

One of Merrit Sullivan's boys is making his home with his uncle, Jasper Sullivan, near here.

Miss Berta Ryle, of Rabbit Hash, spent several days last week with her aunt, Mrs. Hubert Clore.

Mrs. Chas. Stephens, of Locust Grove, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Pearl Satchwill, at this place.

Noah West and wife are at the bedside of their little grand-daughter in East Bend. She is very sick.

Lewis Rector and wife entertained the young folks with a music party and ice cream supper Saturday night.

Born, to Wm. Satchwill and wife on the 8th inst., a fine girl; on the 9th, to Henry Wingate and wife, a boy.

Fannie Presser, daughter of Perry Presser and wife, spent last week with relatives and friends in East Bend.

Bob and Sam Wilson, of Rabbit Hash, passed here late Friday evening with a drove of sheep enroute for Florence.

J. E. McAtee, who has been attending college at Liberty, Mo., is spending his summer vacation with his parents here.

J. H. Walton and family entertained the East Bend preachers and quite a number of other friends and relatives, Friday.

August 11th and 12th are—Uncle Harvey Marshall's and Samuel Wingate's birthdays, they being 93 years of age on those days.

Foxes have become so numerous in this neighborhood that they are killing the people's chickens and turkeys by the dozens.

The beef club began its annual killing of beeves here August 1, it being the 18th year of its existence. Lawrence Pope is the butcher.

Work is progressing nicely on the new pike under the direction of contractors Kite and McMullen, and it is furnishing employment for quite a number of hands.

ForSale—2 yearling mules—match nicely; also one suckling mule. Apply to W. H. Drew, Big Bone.

PETERSBURG.

Mrs. Givan, of Lawrenceburg, is the guest of Mrs. Kathryn Roberts.

Mr. Lloyd Carter, of Erlanger, has been visiting his brother, Rev. Carter.

Mrs. E. K. Stephens and daughter, Aileen, are visiting relatives in Missouri.

Mrs. G. M. Terrill, of Lawrenceburg, spent last Thursday here with friends.

Miss Leta Abbot, a charming young lady of Patriot, is the guest of Miss Floss Botts.

Rev. Pilo is engaged in a very interesting meeting at the East Bend Methodist church.

Mr. and Mrs. McCright, of Lawrenceburg, spent Sunday here with Mr. and Mrs. Lou Pappet.

Eugene Berkshire, of Nashville, Tennessee, is here visiting his brother, Ben Berkshire and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Jarrell left, Saturday, for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. J. C. New, of Dublin, Indiana.

Robert H. Bolan, jr., of New Orleans, arrived here last, Wednesday, for a month's visit with relatives.

Dr. Clifford Terrill, of Pueblo, Colorado, is here for a visit with relatives, after an extensive eastern trip.

Joseph Allen, pilot on the Lizzie Bay, is spending his vacation here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Allen.

Miss Agnes Johns, of Aurora, and Misses Mary and Kathryn Burkham, of Lawrenceburg, are the week's end guests of Miss Ione Buchanan.

Mrs. D. C. Alcorn is quite sick at her home. Her son, William Alcorn, of New Orleans, and daughter, Mrs. Minor, of Covington, are attending her bedside.

Mrs. Agnes Carpenter, of near Burlington, has been here the past week, visiting her mother, Mrs. Green, who accompanied her home Sunday, for a visit.

Messrs. Gaines Wingate, Lloyd Norris and James Gaines left, Saturday, for a two weeks' hunting and fishing trip up the Kentucky river, in their new gasoline boat, Kentucky Colonel.

The funeral of Mrs. May Hewitt Warford was conducted here last Tuesday. A large crowd of sympathizing relatives and friends were present. Rev. Carter conducted the services.

Misses Dannetta Downey and Grace Maltby, Dr. E. R. Wallace and Eddie Sommerfield, of Aurora, composed a launch party, who spent last Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Sam C. Buchanan.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Arnold entertained on Sunday last, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Grant, Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Scott, Wm. Arnold and sister, Miss Flora, of Belleview, and Mrs. Susan Clutterbuck, of Burlington.

Miss Lou Alden, our efficient postmistress, and sister, Miss Mae, are spending a few days with their uncle, W. T. Snyder and family near Bullittsville. Mrs. Mae Whiting has charge of the office in Miss Lou's absence.

Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Grant gave quite a delightful dinner, last Thursday, to twenty-five of their relatives and friends, in honor of their daughter, Mrs. George Dunlap, of Peoria, Illinois, and Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Grant, of Louisville.

The new bank building has been completed and is now occupied. It is quite a substantial as well as a pretty building, being of brick laid in black morter. Dr. Hubert Walton, the hustling cashier, took possession, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. McWethy, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Crouch, Miss Lou Allen and Mr. Walter Lancaster and friend, Mr. Griffith, of Ghent, spent the past week visiting Niagara Falls, Buffalo, New York, Toronto, Canada, and Cleveland, Ohio. They arrived at home Saturday night.

ooo

FLICKERTOWN.

Tom Barnett has been sick for several days.

Chas. Sullivan and family spent Sunday at B. F. Akin's.

Mrs. James White visited Mrs. Auther Terrill, Sunday.

Chas. Shinkle and mother visited at Bullittsville, Sunday.

Mrs. Ben Passons, of Illinois, is visiting relatives near here.

Charley Klopp entertained with a play party, last Saturday night.

Mrs. Laura Sebree and family entertained Wm. Wafford and family, several days, last week.

C. L. Yoshell and son Harold, and Wm. Low, of Sparta, Ind., were visitors here Friday and Saturday.

Owen Utz and family, of Newport, and George Fesmire, of Petersburg, visited Ben Hensley and family, Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Pearl Shook and children, of Newport, returned home Sunday after a two weeks' visit with James Minor, of Lower Woolper.

ooo

DEVON.

John Meiman is improving his pond for bathing and boating. John is always making things pleasant for the young people.

Miss May Meiman, of Erlanger, who is entertaining a house party, took two of her pretty cousins, of Walnut Hills, O., to visit her brother and sister, J. Meiman and wife, last Friday.

Miss Gertrude Meiman will exhibit her burnt wood at the Florence Fair. She is only 11 yrs-old, but has marked talent to be an artist some day. Their grand-father, Mr. Merschan, has placed both of our little ladies in boarding school where they have every opportunity.

Henry Osborn, colored, a citizen of Burlington, chastised his wife, last Saturday evening. He was arrested and placed in jail to await the action of the grand jury.

FLORENCE.

Mrs Jno. R. Whitson entertained Rev. Baker, Sunday.

Miss Mary Carpenter, of Covington, is visiting her friend, Miss Stella Baxter.

Lennie and Lester Hedinger were visiting relatives and friends here, last Sunday.

Miss Hull and Mr. Murdock, of Covington, were guests of Miss Carrie Clark, Sunday.

Lloyd Aylor and wife spent a few days last week, with his brother, Everett and wife, at Walton.

Ed Skirvin, of Cincinnati, was visiting his sisters, Mesdames Allie Lail and Julius Corbin, last week.

Joe Myers gave a party at his home in Erlanger, last Wednesday night, and all who attended had a good time.

Lee Lancaster's children, of Covington, are visiting their grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Lancaster.

Mrs. J. R. Whitson has been visiting Mrs. Joe Myers at Union several days and attending protracted meeting in progress at that place.

Florence defeated Hebron in a well contested game, Saturday, by a score of 10 to 9. Florence still retains her excellent record—no defeats.

Mrs. Sadie John had as her guests, Friday, Edward A. Tucker, of Cincinnati, and Miss Lily Wolfe, of New Jersey, and Miss Helen Langtry, of Bond Hill, Ohio.

Citizens from Erlanger, Burlington and surrounding neighborhood met at Florence, last Monday night, where the Florence Improvement Association held a mass meeting to agitate the matter of extending the street car system to this place. D. E. Castleman, S.W. Adams, Geo. Bloss, Dr. J. P. Riffe spoke in favor of the project. It was decided to get up a subscription to back the effort.

Excellent Health Advice.

Mrs. M. M. Davison, of No. 379 Gifford Ave., San Jose, Cal., says: "The worth of Electric Bitters as a general family remedy, for headache, biliousness and torpor of the liver and bowels is so pronounced that I am prompted to say a word in its favor, for the benefit of those seeking relief from such afflictions. There is more health for the digestive organs in a bottle of Electric Bitters than in any other remedy I know of." Sold under guarantee at Bentler's drug store, Erlanger. 50c.

There will be a rousing Democratic celebration at Coney Island, above Cincinnati, on the 15th inst., at which John W. Kern, Democratic nominee for Vice-President; Judge Harmon, Democratic nominee for Governor of Ohio, and Ollie M. James, Democratic Congressman in the First Kentucky District, will be the principal speakers. Boone county people who desire to attend will be provided with tickets upon application to A. B. Rouse, Boone Block, Covington.

An examination will be held at Burlington, August 22, for appointment to K. U., on the following branches: Grammar, Arithmetic, History and Geography. I am authorized to appoint four to the Educational Department, and one for an unexpired term to the University proper. Those desiring appointment to the State Normal at Richmond will please apply the 25th inst.

D. M. SNYDER, Sup't.

At the meeting last Saturday the directors of the North Kentucky Agricultural Association added the following two rings for the approaching fair at Florence:

Best Coach Horse, Mare or Gelding, any age	$10 00	5 00
Best Draft Colt 2 years old and under 3	8 00	4 00

A very large crowd attended the sale of the personal estate of the late Mrs. Sarah Ann Jarrell, on Woolper, last Saturday afternoon, and the exorbitant prices bed clothing brought, indicate a very severe winter just a head.

The young people for miles around enjoyed a lawn party given by W. C. Weaver and wife, at their hospitable home on Gunpowder, last Saturday night.

R. W. Clark has been appointed as Burlington distributee of the famous Lott's Steam Washer. Call and examine it. E. K. STEPHENS.

Election Officers.

The following have been appointed officers of the Congressional Primary election for Boone county:

Burlington—J. M. Craven, Joseph Case, judges; Otto Crisler, clerk; John Cloud, sheriff.

Bullittsville—W. Corn, William Crigler, judges; W. C. Watts, clerk; Geo. E. McGlasson, sheriff.

Petersburg—Stephen Gaines, Ben Crisler, judges; Earl Walton, clerk; Wm. Stephens, sheriff.

Belleview—Henry Clore, R. A. Brady, judges; C. H. Acra, clerk; Robt. Rice, sheriff.

Carlton—Montgomery Williamson, J. E. Hodges, judges; Hubert Clore, clerk; L. L. Stephens, sheriff.

Hamilton—R. L. Huey, Jas. Taylor, judges; Thos. Huff, clerk; W. W. Grimsley, sheriff.

Beaver—J. W. Conley, G. A. Slayback, judges; J. S. Noell, clerk; Omer Cleek, sheriff.

Union—E. Vashell, Wm. H. Smith, judges; J. A. Huey, clerk; Leonard Gibbs, sheriff

Verona—B. S. O'Neal, Lewis Pursiful, judges; R. O. Powers, clerk; C. W. Waller, sheriff.

Walton—Scott Chambers, Harve Nelson, judges; T. F. Curley, clerk; Hugh Roberts, sheriff.

Florence—W. H. Rice, Mike Yealey, judges; E. O. Rouse, clerk; Ben L. Stephens, sheriff.

Constance—Jordon Beall, Sim Tanner, judges; J. H. Walton, clerk; S. W. Aylor, sheriff.

Personal Mention.

Mr. P. D. Shera, of Oxford, Ohio, is the guest of B. W. Gaines.

Mrs. A. W. Smith, of Walton, is the guest of friends in Burlington.

Dr. J. G. Furnish, of Covington, was meeting friends in Burlington, yesterday.

The RECORDER'S Hathaway correspondent, was among those attending court, yesterday.

Clifford Hedges and mother visited relatives in Bullittsville neighborhood, last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Adams attended the fish fry at Big Bone Baptist church, last Thursday.

Miss Mamie Helms, of Petersburg, has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. R. W. Clark, the past week.

Mrs. C. C. Roberts returned home last Sunday after a visit of several weeks with her sisters at Walton.

B. S. Clore, of Ludlow, and several of his Ludlow friends are in camp at J. W. Rouse's pond near Limaburg.

Miss Jennie Campbell, of Carrollton, was the guest of Mrs. Laura Martin and sisters a few days last week.

Walter Adams and family, of Aurora, were guests of his mother, Mrs. Alice Adams, a day or two last week.

Noah Clore came out from Covington, last Saturday, to make a brief visit to relatives in this neighborhood.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde DeCoursey, of Sandford, Florida, are here, guests of the latter's mother, Mrs. Alice Adams.

Misses Nellie Sebree, who has a position in Cincinnati, is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sebree on Woolper.

Mrs. Elmer Beall, of Hamilton, O., was a guest of Mrs. Lucien Clore, last Monday, and called on some of her Burlington friends.

Mr. Stephens and wife, who reside near the Five Mile House on the Lexington pike, were Sunday afternoon callers on Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Castleman. Mr. Stephens took Mr. Castleman and children to Petersburg and back in his auto, in less than an hour and a half.

Rev. T. L. Utz is Dead.

Rev. T. L. Utz, of Belleview, died this morning, after an illness of several days illness.

CIRCUIT OORT.

The August term of the Boone Circuit Court convened promptly at 10 o'clock, Monday morning, Hon. J. W. Cammack presiding, with Commonwealth's Attorney F. C. Greene and the other court officers present to discharge their duties. The court gave the grand jury a plain, comprehensive charge, when it retired to its room to begin investigating the moral condition of the county, while the court began its weeks grind.

The grand jury as organized for this term is composed of the following gentlemen: L. J. Riley, foreman; Chas. Stevens, J. W. Riggs, O. F. Glacken, John T. Aylor, Richard White, Eugene Long, B. B. Grant, James Hind, J. J. Duncan, H. E. Arnold, M. E. Hance.

Jury No. 1—James McAtee, Holt White, James M. Barlow, W. E. Walton, Chas. E. Stephens, Wm. J. Rice, Owen Blankenbeker, Wm. S. White, Hubert White, Boone Williamson, J. F. Blyth, Jas. W. White.

Jury No. 2.—James Taylor, Joe Love, Wm. Arnold, Everett Souther, N. H. Clements, Ben Allen, E. L. Aylor, Wm. Snelling, C. S. Smith, R. O. Beemon, Owen Allen, James D. Acra.

The grand jury indicted Henry Osborn, colored, and he was fined $10 and given 10 days in jail for beating his wife, last Sunday night.

The following attorneys are attending court: Hon. John S. Gaunt, of Louisville; Hon. W. W. Dickerson and J. C. Clore, Cincinnati; Hon. J. G. Tustin and John L. Vest, Walton; Judge B. F. Menefee, of Crittenden.

Harry Menefee, court stenographer is taking the evidence in the Adams case.

The jury was obtained yesterday, and the trial of the damage suit of Mrs. Mary Adams, of Walton, vs. the L. & N. Railroad was begun. Mrs. Adams was injured while riding in one of the defendant's coaches, by a suit case falling from a rack, striking her on the head, inflicting injuries that caused her great suffering. She asks for $10,000 damages.

Attorney J. C. Clore, is using a cane to walk with, having dislocated one of his knees several nights since by stepping off of a platform he supposed to be about 4 inches high, when, in fact, it was 4 feet high.

The County Democratic Committee met last Monday, and by a vote of 9 to 2 ordered that a primary election be held on Tuesday, November 3d, 1908, (Presidential election day), for the nomination of candidates for the several county officers to be voted for at the regular election in November, 1909. The iron-clad order under which the Congressional primary is to be held was adopted by the committee for the county primary election. The cost of holding the primary was estimated at $350, and the candidates will each be required to pay in to the committee on or before October 19, 1908, the following amounts to meet the expense of the primary: Sheriff, $50; Assessor, $40; County Clerk, $40; Circuit Clerk, $25; County Attorney, $25; School Superintendent, $30; County Judge, $30; Representative, $20; Jailer, $5; Coroner, $5; Justice of the Peace, $1; Surveyor, $10. Reports has it that nine of the committeemen present at Monday's meeting are either candidates or prospective candidates.

CHIEF WILKIE AND THE GOLD CERTIFICATES

Most Cunning Counterfeit Coup of History Nipped by Great Secret Service Head.

By GEORGE BARTON

Many Thousands of Dollars' Worth of Spurious Bills Are "Killed" by Clever Detective—Culprit Had Every Track Covered by One Ruse or Another.

"CRAHAN," SAID WILKIE, "YOUR CONVICTION IS AS CERTAIN AS THAT THE SUN IS SHINING THIS MORNING."

Wealthy Engraver Inserts "Ad" in Paper and Then "Finds" Bogus Notes in Depot—That Clew Proves His Downfall and Establishes Case Against Him—Wealthy Friends to His Aid.

(John E. Wilkie, chief of the secret service division of the United States government, has not only upheld the high traditions of that very responsible post, but has won special laurels by his personal success in several big cases. He was born in Elgin, Ill., 47 years ago, and before accepting the headship of the secret service had made an enviable reputation as a working journalist. While connected with the Chicago newspapers he made a specialty of criminal investigation which probably accounts in part for his unusual success as a detective. During the Spanish-American war he organized a special emergency force of men to checkmate Spanish spies in this country. As a consequence he succeeded in arresting their best spies and driving most of the others off the soil of the United States.)

ONE Monday morning, not many years ago, a smartly dressed man strolled down lower Broadway and entered one of the Trust company buildings in the heart of the financial district of New York. He was what is known to the patrons of the turf as a bookmaker, and he had called at the bank for the purpose of securing a roll of bank notes that he had left there on the previous Saturday night for safe-keeping. It was promptly handed to him, a roll as big as both of his fists. He counted it over rapidly to see that the amount was correct, and when he got near the end of the roll he paused long and looked earnestly at a $100 gold certificate that lay there conspicuously among the bills of smaller denominations. He continued his study of the "yellow back" for a considerable period, and finally thrusting the balance of the bills in his pantaloons pocket, walked over to the cashier and handed him the bill.

"What's the matter with this note?" he asked.

The bank official looked at it casually and handed it back with a smile.

"Nothing," he answered, "except that it's counterfeit."

The bookmaker gasped with astonishment. He went over his roll and found three or four more notes of the same kind. That morning he notified his fellow bookmakers, and before 24 hours had passed 30 or 40 of the counterfeit notes had been located in New York city. Samples were immediately secured by the authorities and forwarded to John W. Wilkie, the chief of the secret service division of the United States treasury department.

The chief dropped the business in hand and immediately turned his attention to the new developments in the hundred-dollar counterfeits. Telegrams were sent to the agents of the secret service instructing them to visit the race tracks in their vicinity and look out for bogus bills. These instructions applied particularly to Cincinnati, Louisville, Memphis, New Orleans and St. Louis.

At St. Louis Capt. John Murphy, the secret service agent in charge of that district, went to the Delaware race track and posted the bookmakers to look out for any $100 bills that might be offered them. Agents of the service were posted in various parts of the track, and it was agreed that if any of these certificates were offered by any of the patrons the bookmakers should at once give the secret service a pre-arranged signal. In less than two hours one of the agents received a signal and hurried to the booth occupied by the bookmaker. He made a careful examination of the bill that had been given to the "bookie" and found that it was one of the counterfeits. The agents were then posted at spots where they could see the patrons of the track in the act of "cashing in" their winnings. The man who had put up the $100 bill bet on the favorite, and he came out a winner.

The man "cashed in," and as he did so was taken into custody.

He was marched over to the club house and searched. A white envelope was found in his pocket, containing 28 of the $100 counterfeit bills. He said his name was Marcus Crahan, the proprietor of an extensive photo-engraving establishment at Providence, R. I. He was perfectly candid in his explanations. He said that he had been visiting the fair and was a guest at the Southern hotel, and that he would be very glad to refer the officers to any bank in the city of Providence for the purpose of establishing his moral and financial standing. Nothing, apparently, could be more straightforward. He was placed under arrest, however, and then the secret service men made an examination of his room at the Southern hotel. There they found a suit-case containing $4,700 in genuine money. He was asked then to explain how he came to be possessed of the counterfeit money. He said that on the previous afternoon he had gone to the Union station for the purpose of having the return half of his railroad ticket validated. As he came out of the ticket agent's office, the electric lights were suddenly turned on in the waiting room, and he saw in the corner on the floor a long white envelope. He picked it up and found that it contained $3,000 in $100 bills. He immediately went to the office of one of the local newspapers and inserted an advertisement telling of his discovery, and offering to restore the money to its lawful owner. This part of his story was verified by the little identification check which is given to classified "ad" patrons by the big daily newspapers. In addition to this there was a clipping from the paper containing a copy of the advertisement which read as follows:

"Found: In the Union station late yesterday afternoon a sum of money in bank notes which owner may have after proving property, by applying to X-13, this office."

Then John E. Wilkie, who had been directing the movements of his subordinates by wire, determined to take hold of the case in person.

He immediately took a train for St. Louis, and after a number of interviews with his associates in that city, began to consider how to reach the weakest link in the strong chain of probability with which Mr. Crahan was surrounded. One of the earliest movements made in the investigation was to discover the exact hour at which the electric lights were turned on in the Union station. The engineer of the electric plant was consulted and his records showed that on this particular date the switch which put the lights into operation had been turned on at 5:40. Wilkie next sent to the newspaper office which had printed the found "ad," and requested a report upon the exact time at which the advetisement was accepted. The clerk who received the notice was finally located, and he remembered distinctly that he had stopped work on that afternoon at five o'clock; the ad. which he had received was the fifth or sixth above the last one, and, according to his own calculation, it must have been handed in at half-past four o'clock. This pointed to a discrepancy in Crahan's statement of one hour and ten minutes.

It was important. It was the thin entering wedge which might produce great results.

One of the significant discoveries among Crahan's effects was a number of programmes of races at Gravesend and two or three of the eastern tracks, not to speak of one particular programme which contained the entries of the races where the first bookmaker had received the $100 bill which he deposited with his roll in the Broadway Trust company. Crahan calmly admitted that he had attended all of these races; that he was a lover of horse flesh and that he occasionally made small wagers on the results; but he denied positively having passed any of the other $100 bills, and said that he had never had them in his possession until he found the white envelope at the Union station in St. Louis.

Wilkie did some very severe thinking at this stage of the game, and out of it all came the theory that if Crahan was guilty, he might have used similar subterfuges in passing counterfeit money at the eastern tracks. The chief thereupon telegraphed New York and ordered that a careful search be made of the files of all the New York newspapers for the two months covering the racing season. It was like searching for the needle in the proverbial haystack, but it bore fruit, for in the New York Herald of May 24 the searchers discovered this advertisement:

"Found: At the Grand Central station late yesterday afternoon a sum of money in bank notes which owner may have, after proving property, by applying to B-344, Herald office."

It is hardly necessary to say that by this time Mr. Wilkie had several specimens of Crahan's handwriting. After the "ad." was located in the Herald, the original copy was found in the records of the office and it was in the handwriting of Marcus Crahan.

The government was now in possession of sufficient evidence to convict Crahan, both of passing and having in his possession counterfeit money, but the authorities did not know where the plates were, and how the money had been printed. The big problem was to locate the plant, to pull it up by the roots, and effectually stop the circulation of these spurious notes.

The two men sat down together, and Crahan was given a breakfast that would have delighted the palate, and warmed the heart, of the most confirmed epicure. It was topped off with a fine Havana cigar, and then this formality having been disposed of, Mr. Wilkie proceeded to give Crahan the "third degree." But this "third degree," so called, differed as widely from the popular conception of the operation as the day differs from the night.

"Crahan," said Wilkie, "your conviction is as certain as that the sun is shining this morning."

Wilkie followed this up by plausible argument along the same line, and always pausing long enough to permit his words to sink into the man's consciousness. The argus-eyed representative of the United States government knew by experience that there is nothing in this world more difficult for a man to do than to admit to another man that he has been guilty of wrong. He realized, therefore, the necessity of giving Crahan an opportunity of confessing gracefully. He did this by suggestion, by innuendo, by appealing to the man's pride, by pleading with his patriotic instinct, and, at last, by laying siege to his sense of justice. He said in substance:

"Crahan, these notes are works of art, and it is a great shame that a man of your unusual talent should have, in a moment of weakness, permitted yourself to commit such a flagrant wrong against the public. I am sure, from what I have seen of you, that while you made the counterfeits, you did not originally intend to do so. I feel that, in view of your recognized ability and the fact that you are a student and enthusiast in engraving, you have been seized with a desire to prove how you could reproduce the almost faultless work of the bureau of engraving and printing—a class of work that will always excite the envy and admiration of skilled engravers—that, filled with this desire, you began work in an experimental way, that you put it under the camera, and reproduced it to see if you could bring forth a bit of work that would rival the unrivaled production of the government. Then, when this creation became a fact instead of a vision, you were seized with an overwhelming desire to see if you could actually circulate it as genuine money."

"You certainly brought more than 30 notes to St. Louis," said the detective.

"Oh, yes," responded the counterfeiter.

"Where are they now?"

"At the Union station."

"In what part of the station?"

"In the baggage room."

"Where is the check?"

"I haven't got it. It's downstairs in the post office."

Wilkie looked the astonishment he felt. Before he had time to put his thoughts into words, Crahan said:

"After inserting the advertisement in the paper, I put $26,000 in a hand bag, together with several bottles of chemicals which I use to artificially age the notes. Then I placed the check which I received for the hand bag in an envelope addressed to myself under an assumed name, and directed to the general delivery office of the post office."

It was evident that Crahan had carefully planned even the minutest detail of his great counterfeiting scheme. By this method of concealing the check for the hand-bag he left the counterfeit notes totally disassociated with himself in any way, and still at the same time within a moment's reach. A secret service agent was sent down to the postmaster, obtained the letter containing the check, took that to the Union station, and received the hand-bag which he brought to Chief Wilkie. Its contents verified the statetment made by its owner. The chief took up the question of the plates.

"Where are the plates?" he inquired.

"In a storage warehouse in Providence," was the reply.

He admitted that no one in his business establishment was aware that he knew anything whatever of the mechanical part of the work, but the man, with a cunning almost beyond belief, had perfected himself in the art of etching. After that he purchased a press in New York city and had it delivered in the middle of the night to a private room in his establishment. There he worked and experimented night after night until he was finally able to produce the perfected $100 bill counterfeits. Then the press was dismantled, and with the plates, placed in a warehouse in Providence. It was stored under an assumed name.

"Where is the receipt?" asked Wilkie.

"It is pasted between two sheets of paper that back up a photograph on my desk in my office in Providence."

The chief immediately called up Providence by telegraph. The local agent was instructed to go to Crahan's office and find the receipt for the press. He did so. It was between the two sheets of paper on the photograph on his desk. Immediate action was taken, and after an incredibly short space of time the plates were in St. Louis in possession of Chief Wilkie. On the following day Marcus Crahan was taken into court. He pleaded guilty to manufacturing counterfeit money and passing it on the public. He was given 15 years on each of the two indictments, the sentences to run concurrently. This was subsequently reduced to eight years. Thus ended one of the most important counterfeiting schemes ever discovered and thwarted by the marvelously efficient machinery of the secret service division of the United States government.

(Copyright, 1908, by W. G. Chapman.)

G. G. Hughes,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
BURLINGTON, KY.
Will practice in all the courts. Prompt attention given to all business entrusted to me.

N. E. Riddell,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.
Prompt Attention given to Collections Will practice in all the courts.

S. Gaines,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.
Will practice in all the courts, and prompt attention given collections. Office—Over D. Rouse's Store.

D. E. Castleman,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.
Will practice in the Courts of Boone Kenton, Grant and Gallatin. Collections pushed energetically.

J. C. CLORE, W. W. DICKERSON
E. T. CLAYTON.
Clore, Dickerson & Clayton,
ATTORNEYS-at-LAW
Will practice in the State and U. S. Courts of Northern Ky., and Southwestern Ohio. Cincinnati Office: N. E. Cor. 6th & Vine; Phone, Main 2029. Mr. Dickerson will spend a portion of his time at the Williamstown office.

BOONE CO. DEPOSIT BANK
(Incorporated 1886.)
CAPITAL,.....$30,000
Surplus and undivided profits $7,000
—)o(—
Our facilities enable us to receive on favorable terms accounts of individuals and corporations. Collections promptly remitted for at Lowest Rates.

ERLANGER DEPOSIT BANK.
(INCORPORATED 1893.)
ERLANGER, - - KENTUCKY
Capital Stock paid in.....$50,000
Surplus,.....$8,000
Careful attention given collections, and remittances promptly made. Deposit accounts solicited.

Dr. J. L. Adams,
DENTIST,
208 F. & T. Bank Building,
COVINGTON, - KY.
—will be in office—
AT ERLANGER EVERY THURSDAY.

W. E. VEST,
Real Estate Agent.
Farms Bought, Sold or Exchanged, Money to Loan on Real Estate, Notes bought, sold & Negotiated. All communications addressed to W. E. VEST, Walton, Ky.

CHAS. GARNETT,
AUCTIONEER.
Will be in Burlington every court day. Fees for selling stock reasonable. Public Sales given special attention.

INSURE AT HOME
The Farmers' Mutual Fire
INSURANCE COMPANY,
OF BOONE COUNTY,
Is now completely organized and receiving applications for insurance.
Its RATES are LOWER
Than those of any other Company and gives the farmers of Boone Co.
HITHERTO UNKNOWN ADVANTAGE
in keeping their property insured.
Average cost of insurance on $1,000 for a period of five years is $9 45, less than one per cent per $1,000.
Every Farmer in the County
should take a policy at once.
Edgar Cropper, Pres., Burlington, Ky.
Noah Tanner, V-Pres., Gunpowder,
F. A. Uts, Treas., Florence, Ky.
Malchus Souther, Secy., Ludlow, Ky.
R. F. D.—1,
R. B. Huey, Agent, Burlington, Ky.
J. E. Smith, Assessor, Burlington,
Executive Board—Legrand Gaines, J. W. Conner, Solon Early,

F. W. Kassebaum & Son,
GRANITE & MARBLE
MONUMENTS,
Burial Vaults and Cemetery Work of all Kinds.
Building Stone, Flagging, Settees and Vases.
Office and Wareroom:
70 and 72 Main Street,
AURORA, IND.
(RA POPE Agent, Grant, Ky

C. L. GRIFFITH,
DEALER IN
REAL ESTATE
and Negotiable Notes,
WALTON, KY.
If you want to buy or sell Town Property or Farms, write me.
Write for printed list.

LOVE TRIUMPHANT

A Story of the Prophet Hosea.

BY THE "HIGHWAY AND BYWAY" PREACHER

(Copyright, 1903, by the Author, W. E. Edson.)

The Prophet Hosea.—The name means "salvation," and in the personal history of the prophet—which many of the deepest and most spiritual Bible scholars such as G. Campbell Morgan, of England, and James M. Grey, dean of the Moody Bible institute, consider a literal portrayal of the prophet's life—we find a type or illustration of Jehovah's relations to Israel. Hosea's field of labor was Israel, and he prophesied during the reign of Jeroboam II., about 784 B. C., down to the captivity. An outline of the book is as follows: 1. Historico-prophetic, chapters 1 to 3; 2. General discourses, chapters 4 to to 12; 3. Promises, chapter 14, (a) Appeal of God, vs. 1-3; (b) Promised blessing, vs. 4-8; (c) Application to all, v. 9. The personal history of the prophet may be divided into three periods as follows: (1) A Happy Union—The prophet marries a woman who had lived an impure life, but who had reformed. (2) A Ruined Home—Three children came to bless the home, and then the wife, forgetful of obligations of wifehood and motherhood, deserts her home for her former lovers. (3) Love Unfailing—But her true lover-husband never loses sight of her, and at last after she had sunk to the very depths of sin he buys her back so that he may restore her to her old place in the home.

Love Triumphant.—This period of the prophet's life in which he buys back his wayward wife from slavery into which she had sunk, and holds her in seclusion until such time as she can be restored to her old place in the home, is a type of Jehovah in unfailing love and mercy keeping Israel for the latter days when his chosen people shall be restored to their old place as his peculiar and beloved people.

Scripture Authority—The Book of Hosea, especially chapter 3.

SERMONETTE.

"Love Divine, all love excelling," that God should reach down and seek to redeem sinful man to himself. But just as Hosea saw in that woman something upon which love could center and bring her back to himself, so God sees in his wayward children that upon which his great love can rest and which love will ultimately win the soul from its life of sin to one of holiness.

Surely the wife of Hosea was unworthy of the pure and holy love of her devoted husband, and more surely still is it true that man is unworthy of the unspeakable love of God.

But it is not because of our worthiness that we become the object of God's love and mercy. Rather, it is our great need that calls forth the Divine compassion.

In spite of the disfiguring marks of sin God sees within the heart of man the possibilities of a higher and better life in him, and so he patiently and tenderly woos the soul from its false love and from its evil ways back to himself.

Another wonderful thought in connection with the love of God and the relations of man to God is that man is not complete without union with God, and—we say it reverently—God is not complete without man. The union of the two is necessary, first for the complete manifestation of the power and glory of God and secondly to reveal the high possibilities of a life when it is linked with the life of God.

Wonderful, is it not? The redeemed soul in its union with the Father and the Son is to reveal in the "ages to come the exceeding riches of God's grace in his kindness towards us through Christ Jesus."

THE STORY.

THE scene of the opening of our story is laid in an oriental slave market, where the barter in human flesh is carried on, and it was in that long gone day nearly a thousand years before the coming of Christ when slavery was the rule, and not the exception. It was a noisy place, and it was a strange grouping of human beings of all conditions of physical development, and of race and color. There were the young, and there were those who were in the prime of life, and then there were others upon whom the weight of years and hardships endured were beginning to tell, and for whom there was but little sale, even at the low price for which they were offered.

Among these last was the bent form of what at first glance seemed an old woman, but it was apparent upon closer scrutiny that it was not the years so much that bowed the form as it was the sinful life lived and the grief and fear that clutched the heart in relentless grasp. Sin had left its awful scars upon face and form, but underneath could be traced the old lines of comeliness and beauty. That face before sin had seamed and scarred it had been comely, and those eyes now bleared and dull had sparkled with the bounding life that had surged within. And in that form still could be traced the shapeliness and beauty which it had once possessed, and which would have been the joy of artist or sculptor.

But now in the miserable condition to which the woman had been reduced the goading memories of the past and the dark forebodings of the future came to deepen her anguish and to intensify her abject and forlorn appearance

The happier the past one has to look back upon the deeper cuts the regret over the folly and sin which have robbed one of the blessings which were possessed, and all too lightly held and then lost. And this woman sitting there in the slave market awaiting the buyer was perhaps more miserable than any of the rest because she had fallen farthest.

Memory crowded in upon her with relentless persistency. In the whirl of the gay life which she had led it had been easy to forget, and when visions of the past had come to vex and trouble her she had plunged with greater abandon into the life she was leading, but now, deserted by her former friends and lovers, homeless and friendless and reduced to the condition of a slave, she no longer was free to find relief in deeper excesses. Sh had at last reached the depths, and now while she waited there was nothing for her to do but think, think, think. It seemed as though it would almost drive her to madness. Once she had been a happy wife with children about her. In a mad hour she had yielded to the temptation which had come, and step by step she had been led into the paths of sin, and now she was drinking to the bitter dregs the cup which sin had filled for her.

A shudder shook her form at the contrast between what had once been hers to possess and enjoy and what was now her lot, and the first real pang of repentance which she had known came to her as she sat there and waited for she knew not what.

"Hosea," and she half whispered the name as though she feared to speak it—"Hosea has long since forgotten me, and well he might. I did love him. I know it now. But in my insane folly, my vanity, my love of pleasure, I cast aside all that was worth having in life. And now, now! Who is there to remember me? Who is there to care what becomes of Gomer?" and with a choking sob she ended her soliloquy.

Time was when lover and gay friends had filled her lap to the full with gay pleasures, but when beauty had begun to fade and the spell of her charm had broken, the lovers had left her one by one, and now there was none left to care what became of her. "Not even Hosea," she had cried, with unutterable anguish.

Oh, what penalty does sin exact! When the sin has come to its full fruitage with what crushing weight does it overpower the heart, driving often to madness and self-destruction. And so it was to Gomer that there came the promptings to end her misery in self-inflicted death.

It is but a step from meditation to action. One standing on the brink needs but to lean in the direction rash impulse draws, and crash!—out goes the life upon the jagged rocks below. A voice at the fateful moment might stay the leap. So with Gomer. Unconscious of all about her, save the desperate resolve that she would end her miserable existence, there came a voice from somewhere she knew not where, and it stayed the hand that was at that instant ready to plunge the slender blade into her heart. A voice that carried her back again through the years and brought her in memory to the happy home which once she could call her own. A voice that came to her out of the throng that made her start and look up, while from her lips there burst the one word:

"Hosea!"

But none but strange faces were all about. She saw her owner's form at a distance, but he seemed not to be concerned about her at that moment. But that voice had come to her, and it stayed her murderous hand, she knew not why. And she waited almost eagerly, and scanned the faces all about, but not once again did she hear that voice, and search as she might through the throngs that surged in the market place, she saw not the face that she knew now she loved. And when her master came a little time later, and gave her into the hands of a stranger, indicating with a nod of the head that she had been sold, her head sank in dejection upon her breast and listlessly she arose and followed.

What strange days those were that followed. She never forgot the voice she had heard in the market place, but that voice did not belong to the stranger into whose hands she had come, of that she was sure. But she was conscious that there was something strange about her new condition. The indignities usually shown towards a slave were wanting in her case. In seclusion and quiet she was sheltered, and having little else to do she thought, thought, thought. How the first pang of repentance felt on that day in the slave market developed and grew into the flood of heart sorrow over the ruined and wasted life. If only she could see Hosea and tell him of her repentance and ask his forgiveness she felt that peace would be in her heart.

Overburdened with this thought one evening as she rested in the humble dwelling where her new master had placed her she burst into a flood of weeping, exclaiming over and over again: "Oh, Hosea, Hosea, that I might tell you how good thou art and how wicked I have been. Oh, Hosea, and my children! If I but had thee now I should know how to prize my treasures."

"Thou shalt have thy desire," spoke a voice at her side. With a startled cry she looked up into the face of Hosea, and when the first paroxysm of weeping had passed, she whispered:

"Thy love, Hosea, hath triumphed."

A Flirt.

A flirt is a rose from which every lover plucks a leaf—the thorns being reserved for her husband.—Manchester Union.

USE ANIMALS TO TEST DRUGS.

How Chemists Ascertain the Purity of Ingredients.

A lot of sorry looking chickens, dogs and cats loafed in the black, ill smelling yard of the great chemical plant.

"We use these animals to test our drugs on," said the chemist. "They come in very handy. They more than earn their board.

"Ergotine is a drug we test on chickens. It is a simple test. If a dose of ergotine fails to turn a chicken's comb black we know that the drug is, for some reason or another, worthless.

"Hasheesh we test on dogs. Hasheesh is made of female hemp buds; male hemp buds have no medicinal value, yet some dishonest dealers put male buds on the market, and since they resemble female buds precisely, it is impossible to detect them save by actual test. Dogs given hasheesh get drunk and happy if the stuff is good.

"Digitalis, the heart stimulant, is tested on frogs. We inject a drop of it into a frog's stomach, and in the kymograph, or heart-recording machine, we study the changes that take place in the frog's heart action. Thus we get a very accurate knowledge of what our digitalis can do.

"Do we ever test drugs on ourselves? Oh, yes, indeed; often. Chemists have lost their lives, chemists have gone incurably insane, through too rash bravery in testing drugs on their own persons."—Los Angeles Times.

The Grampus Gourmet.

"Of all the gourmets on land or water," said the captain, "commend me to the grampus."

The ladies at the captain's table looked with inquiring smiles at the handsome sailor.

"The grampus," he went one, "is a kind of overgrown shark or a kind of undersized fighting whale—you can take your choice. At any rate, he is a terrible creature to meet with if you happen to be aquatic.

"He and his mate travel together. Sometimes they have a friend along—big, fine, strong chap, as such friends usually are. And their game is the bowhead whale.

"When they find a whale, they go at him, they stick to him, invincibly. They punch and thump till he is as limp as a rope of seaweed with exhaustion. Then, by means of one horrible deed, they show their unexampled gluttony.

"They take hold of the whale's lower lip, they hang their weight on it, till it drops open. Then in go their heads, disappearing inside that great red mouth, that warm, moist cavern of scarlet, and they eat in there the whale's tongue, a tender tit-bit, very rich and delicate.

"The tongue consumed, they go on their way again, leaving the whale to die slowly."

He Got His Change.

One of the many surprises for eastern visitors at the Democratic convention in Denver was the general use of "iron dollars"—that is, silver—to the exclusion of paper money. It is related that a "well-heeled" Tammany man passed a $1,000 bill over the bar of a leading hotel and waited for his change. "Tom," said the bartender, turning to the colored porter, "take 75 cents out of that and hand the gentleman his change." The negro never turned a hair. He took the bill, walked around to the stockroom and in 40 seconds came trundling in a wheelbarrow load, touched his hat and said: "Yo' change, sah." There was the change—999 silver dollars and a 25-cent piece!

In Germville.

Banknote Germ—There he goes. He thinks he is the sweetest thing on earth.

Doorknob Germ—Who is he?

Banknote Germ—Why, he is a kiss microbe.—Chicago Daily News.

Getting Back at Her.

Mr. Cute (who has been refused)—Won't you sing us something, Miss Brown?

Miss Brown—What shall I sing?

Mr. Cute—Sing "He is gone, but I shall miss him."—Half Holiday.

MARKET REPORTS.

	Cincinnati, Aug. 8.
CATTLE—Extra	$6 10	@	6 25
CALVES—Extra	6 50	@	6 75
HOGS—Choice	6 85	@	6 90
SHEEP—Extra		@	3 85
LAMBS—Spring	6 65	@	6 75
FLOUR—Spring pat.	5 65	@	5 90
WHEAT—No. 2 red..	93½	@	94
CORN—No. 2 mixed.	79	@	79½
OATS—No. 2 mixed.	50	@	51
RYE—No. 2 choice ..	78	@	80
HAY—Ch. timothy ..	11 00	@	11 50
BUTTER—Dairy		@	16½
EGGS—Per doz	15	@	17½
APPLES—Choice	3 00	@	3 50
POTATOES—Per brl.	3 25	@	3 50
TOBACCO—Burley ..	10 75	@	22 50
CHICAGO.
WHEAT—No. 2 red..	94½	@	95
CORN—No. 2 mixed.	78	@	80
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@	51
PORK—Prime mess..		@	13 25
LARD—Prime		@	9 55
NEW YORK.
FLOUR—Win. patent.	5 20	@	5 50
WHEAT—No. 2 red..		@	1 00¾
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@	78½
OATS—No. 2 mixed.	54	@	55
PORK—Prime mess.	17 00	@	17 50
LARD—Steam	9 35	@	9 45
BALTIMORE.
WHEAT—No. 2 red..		@	97½
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@	81
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@	53
LOUISVILLE.
WHEAT—No. 2 red..		@	92
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@	70
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@	51½
HAY—Ch. timothy ..		@	14 00
HOGS—Extra	5 90	@	6 80
LARD—Steam		@	8 00
INDIANAPOLIS.
CATTLE—Prime ...		@	6 50
HOGS—Extra	6 40	@	6 70
SHEEP—Extra	2 50	@	5 00

FIVE MONTHS IN HOSPITAL.

Discharged Because Doctors Could Not Cure.

Levi P. Brockway, S. Second Ave., Anoka, Minn., says: "After lying for five months in a hospital I was discharged as incurable, and given only six months to live. My heart was affected, I had smothering spells and sometimes fell unconscious. I got so I couldn't use my arms, my eyesight was impaired and the kidney secretions were badly disordered. I was completely worn out and discouraged when I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, but they went right to the cause of the trouble and did their work well. I have been feeling well ever since."

Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

HARD TIMES, INDEED.

"Poor man! so you are a victim of the late financial panic?"

"Yes, lady. You see, folks along de route is too poor now ter hand out free grub!"

Mother's Accomplishment.

In the Bohemian set of New York two of the popular members are a well known writer and his wife, who also has written several books. They have a daughter about four years old. Recently the little girl was visiting at the home of a friend and her small playmate asked her: "Can your mamma sew?"

The daughter of the literary pair evidently was a bit chagrined. She could not remember that she had ever seen her mamma sew. She is a truthful child and would not claim any advantages she was not sure of, yet she felt that mamma's honor was at stake.

"I don't know if mamma can sew," she replied, dubiously, "but she can smoke a cigarette."

English Idea of It.

Little things frequently illustrate the English view of American geography very picturesquely. An Englishman had taken the Pacific Express at Philadelphia, and, feeling tired, had retired to his berth. Just before he fell asleep he happened to remember that he had forgotten something, so he put his head out between the curtains and called:

"Portah! Portah!"

The porter came.

"What is it?" he said.

"Please wake me when we get to San Francisco, you know."

Astonished Great Pianist.

A collection of anecdotes of musical celebrities just published at Leipsic contains this one under the head of Anton Rubinstein. When the great pianist was making his tour of the United States he sat one day in a railroad train looking out upon the scenery. Suddenly a man sitting across the aisle spat over Rubinstein's head out of the open window. The master drew back and gazed in astonishment and anger at the vulgar American, who smiled and said, soothingly: "Don't worry; I know my distance."

ALMOST A SHADOW.

Gained 20 lbs. on Grape-Nuts.

There's a wonderful difference between a food which merely tastes good and one which builds up strength and good healthy flesh.

It makes no difference how much we eat unless we can digest it. It is not really food to the system until it is absorbed. A Yorkstate woman says:

"I had been a sufferer for ten years with stomach and liver trouble, and had got so bad that the least bit of food such as I then knew, would give me untold misery for hours after eating.

"I lost flesh until I was almost a shadow of my original self and my friends were quite alarmed about me.

"First I dropped coffee and used Postum, then began to use Grape-Nuts although I had little faith it would do me any good.

"But I continued to use the food and have gained twenty pounds in weight and feel like another person in every way. I feel as if life had truly begun anew for me.

"I can eat anything I like now in moderation, suffer no ill effects, be on my feet from morning until night. Whereas a year ago they had to send me away from home for rest while others cleaned house for me, this spring I have been able to do it myself all alone.

"My breakfast is simply Grape-Nuts with cream and a cup of Postum, with sometimes an egg and a piece of toast, but generally only Grape-Nuts and Postum. And I can work until noon and not feel as tired as one hour's work would have made me a year ago."

"There's a Reason."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

MET ON HIS OWN GROUND.

Dishonest Politician Gets Little Satisfaction from Promise.

Congressman Longworth, at a dinner during the Republican convention in Chicago, talked about honest politics.

"Honest politics alone pays in the end," said he. "Your dishonest politician comes out like Lurgan of Cincinnati. Lurgan was canvassing for votes. He dropped in at a grocer's.

"'Good morning,' he said. 'I may count on your support, I hope?'

"'Why, no, Mr. Lurgan,' said the grocer. 'I've promised my support to your rival.'

"Lurgan laughed easily.

"'Ah, but, in politics,' said he, promising and performing are two different matters.'

"'In that case,' said the grocer, heartily, 'I shall be most happy to give you my promise, Mr. Lurgan.'"

An Eye on the Future.

Tommy's maiden aunt had called attention to some of that young man's misdemeanors, thereby causing him to be punished. Tommy pondered a while, then asked, "Papa, will little sister Gladys be an aunt to my children when I am a man?"

"Yes, Tommy," answered his father, much interested. "Why do you ask?"

"'Cause she might as well get married and have a heme of her own, for I don't intend to 'low any aunts to stay around my house, making trouble for my children."—Woman's Home Companion.

Important to Mothers.

Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA a safe and sure remedy for infants and children, and see that it

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

In Use For Over 30 Years.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

Happy Man.

Mrs. Henpeck—Her husband simply won't listen to her!

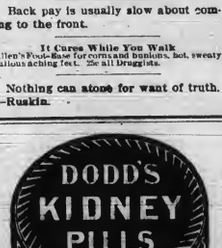
Henpeck—How on earth does the lucky fellow manage it—Stray Stories.

Your Druggist Will Tell You

That Murine Eye Remedy Cures Eyes, Makes Weak Eyes Strong, Doesn't Smart. Soothes Eye Pain and Sells for 50c.

About all you have to do to make a boy hate any particular kind of food is to tell him that it is healthful.

PITS, St. Vitus' Dance and Nervous Diseases permanently cured by Dr. Kline's Great Nerve Restorer. Send for FREE $2.00 trial bottle and treatise. Dr. R. H. Kline, Ld., 931 Arch Street, Philadelphia, Pa.



It is one thing to see your road; another to cut it.—George Eliot.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.
For children, teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

Hack pay is usually slow about coming to the front.

It Cures While You Walk
Allen's Foot-Ease for corns and bunions, hot, sweaty callous aching feet. 25c all Druggists.

Nothing can atone for want of truth.—Ruskin.

SICK HEADACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Positively cured by these Little Pills.

They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, TORPID LIVER. They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable.

SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRICE.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Genuine Must Bear Fac-Simile Signature

Brent Good

REFUSE SUBSTITUTES.

Get Well Do you wish to get well? Send a letter telling about your symptoms and 25c and we will send you the necessary advice and prescriptions to successfully treat your case. These prescriptions can be filled by any druggist. Can you miss this opportunity to get well? Just think of it; only 25c. How can you afford to remain sick?

THE CROSS MEDICAL CO.,
Detroit, Michigan.

Body Builders Build You Up

eyelids or other parts of the body—any decline in Strength and Health—you If your case be considered Incipient, you should take Body Builders Medicine. They are mild, harmless and agreeable to take. No Class' Treatment complete one of our Famous Strengthening Plasters sent post paid anywhere For St. Vitus' treatment FREE. Address BODY BUILDERS CO., Binghamton, N.Y.

THE LANKFORD COLLAR

THE LANKFORD COLLAR is a Pad and Collar combined. Being open at the bottom, it gives back and forth, with the strain of hauling, thus preventing friction. It is made of heavy sail duck, reinforced with leather beatings, stuffed with clean, specially treated cotton. It absorbs sweat, keeps the shoulders from galling, and never packs or hardens. Write for booklet on the "Lankford" humane collar.
COUCH BROS. MANUFACTURING CO., Atlanta, Ga.

The General Demand

of the Well-Informed of the World has always been for a simple, pleasant and efficient liquid laxative remedy of known value; a laxative which physicians could sanction for family use because the component parts are known to them to be wholesome and truly beneficial in effect, acceptable to the system and gentle, yet prompt, in action.

In supplying that demand with the excellent combination of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, the California Fig Syrup Co. proceeds along ethical lines and relies on the merits of the laxative for its remarkable success.

That is one of many reasons why Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is given the preference by the Well-Informed. To get its beneficial effects always buy the genuine—manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., only, and for sale by all leading druggists. Price fifty cents per bottle.

WE WANT ALL THE PIANO TRADE

The only way we can get a big part of it is by offering you more piano for less money than anyone else can. Write us about what you have to spend, and we will tell you what we may be able to do to meet your special want.

TRY OUR SPECIAL OFFERS:

1—$250.00	Piano at	$210.00
2—$300.00	"	"	$235.00
1—$800.00	"	"	$500.00
1—$225.00	"	"	$160.00
1—$200.00	"	"	$120.00

THE JOHN CHURCH COMPANY
CINCINNATI, OHIO

Five cents in stamps will bring you a book of selections, either Piano or Vocal.

This Beautiful Pastel Free

in colors, 9x17 inches, for limited time only, with pound package "20 Mule-Team" Borax. If your dealer hasn't the pictures send top of pound package "20 Mule-Team" Borax and 4c with dealer's name and receive picture FREE. Local agents wanted. Write for money-making plan.

Pacific Coast Borax Co., New York.

Paxtine

TOILET ANTISEPTIC

Keeps the breath, teeth, mouth and body antiseptically clean and free from unhealthy germ-life and disagreeable odors, which water, soap and tooth preparations alone cannot do. A germicidal, disinfecting and deodorizing toilet requisite of exceptional excellence and economy. Invaluable for inflamed eyes, throat and nasal and uterine catarrh. At drug and toilet stores, 50 cents, or by mail postpaid.

Large Trial Sample

WITH "HEALTH AND BEAUTY" BOOK SENT ONCE

THE PAXTON TOILET CO., Boston, Mass.

A DAISY FLY KILLER

LASTS ONE TIME SEASON

It keeps away flies, mosquitoes, etc., during the season. Clean, neat, convenient. Sold by dealers or sent prepaid for 25 cents. Circulars free. Agents wanted.

Mend Your Enameled Ware

and other kitchen utensils with TINOL, new patent solder. Solders rusty tin or iron without a soldering iron. A child can do it. Outfit consisting of an alcohol torch and stand, about fifty patches and enough Tinol to mend a dozen fifty holes. Sent postpaid on receipt of 50c. Agents wanted. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Eastman Distributing Co., 810 West Oakdale Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

WIDOWS under NEW LAW obtained PENSIONS by JOHN W. MORRIS, Washington, D. C.

J. T. HODGE A CANDIDATE.

The entry of Hon. John T. Hodge in the race for the Democratic nomination for Congress, will cause a re-adjustment of political lines and fences in the Sixth District. A man of distinguished ancestry, he has proved himself a worthy son of the late General George B. Hodge, who served with great honor in the Confederate Army from the beginning until the close of the war between the States, and whose services to the Confederacy is familiar to every student of the History of the Civil War. It is not only on the battle field that Gen. Hodge gained great distinction, but also as a member of the Confederate Congress, and the old veterans who were the gray want to see the son realize his ambition and follow his father's foot steps into the halls of Congress, the father under the Stars and Bars and the son under the Stars and Stripes. The Democracy of John T. Hodge has never been in question and his ability is conspicuous all through his life, he serving with great credit to himself and honor to the Campbell Circuit Court as Judge of that tribunal for six years, winning the election through his personal popularity and recognized abilities in a county that is more than 1,000 Republican. No matter in what sphere of life fate has cast Judge Hodge's lines, he has always been honored by those with whom he has been thrown in contact and who have honors to bestow. He was the Exalted Ruler of his home Lodge of Elks, has had many honors bestowed upon him by the Knights of Phythias and the Knight Templars, of which orders he has been an indefatigable worker. In politics his worth has been given recognition, he having been a Presidential Elector and Democratic State Central Committeeman, and the history of his regime shows that the Democracy was ever successful as under his direction. Judge Hodge has been a resident of Campbell county since his boyhood days, though he first saw the light of day near Florence, in this county, March 26th, 1863, and is consequently 45 years of age though he appears much younger. As a matter of sentiment Judge Hodge opened his campaign for Congressional honors that he is seeking in the place of his birth and was most cordially received by the people of old Boone.

Of the Primary election held on the 1st Inst., in Grant county, for the purpose of selecting candidates for the several county offices, the Williamstown Courier, the editor of which was a candidate for county attorney says:

"The Executive Committee having the Democratic primary in charge met Monday and opened the ballot boxes and tabulated the returns. No material changes were made in the table as published in the Courier this week, made up principally from returns sent in Saturday afternoon and evening over the telephone.

"The Committee will meet again next Monday to appoint the election officers for the Congressional primary August 22 and may then decide whether or not they will issue certificates to Saturday's nominees or forfeit many of them for flagrant violations of both the spirit and letter of the Call."

And the Grant County News, published at Dry Ridge says in part:

"While it cannot be claimed that the Democratic primary held last Saturday was absolutely above criticism, it is a fact beyond cavil that it was far ahead of any ever held in the county from the point of fairness. In only a few instances are claims made that candidates violated the call, which prohibited the use of anything of value as a means of securing votes, and even in these claims have not been substantiated. However, there are none so simple as to believe that every candidate went through the campaign without violating that part of the call. Doubtless a part of the candidates did not violate it, but there are undoubtedly some who did. However, those who did violate it were so careful in their violations that they have not been caught, and in most instances it is doubtful if their violations did them any good. The restrictions thrown about the primary and the careful manner in which it was held, made it impossible for a voter to sell or a candidate to buy with any assurance that the goods would be delivered."

The Florence Improvement Association is working hard in the interest of the town, and it has good prospects of accomplishing results that will be of a lasting character. That entire community has taken on a new life in the matter of the upbuilding of the town and everybody is pushing in the same direction, which makes the outlook more promising, especially to those who are taking the lead. The town of Florence is nine miles from Covington, located on high ground and is a healthy place, and would make a delightful dwelling place for people desiring to enjoy a home in the country and do business in the city; but until it is reached by a traction road it cannot expect a very rapid growth from that class, and to induce the building of a traction to Florence is the prime object of the Improvement Association. To accomplish this will require time, but the benefits to be derived in case of success is worthy of every effort that will be put forth.

The Blue-Grass Clipper says: "McKee Brothers are harvesting their 60 acre crop of potatoes and planting second crop in the same ground. They have sold the entire crop to F. F. Clawson, a Columbia, Tenn., commission merchant, at 70 cents a bushel delivered on board cars at Versailles. They shipped two car loads last week. It was the first time a car-load of potatoes was ever shipped from this point. The 12 acres the Messrs. McKee dug last week averaged 130 bushels per acre. It has been a very bad season for potatoes, and had conditions been more favorable the McKees are confident their yield would have been 250 bushels per acre."

There has been no rain in the south end of the county for many weeks.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

A. M. Yealey, of Florence, was a visitor to Burlington, last Friday, and reported the entire population of his town as members of the boosters' club.

Every few days an autoist stops his machine in Burlington to inquire the road to some of the suburban towns. It is a nice run from Covington to Burlington and return by way of Idlewild, Bullittsville, Hebron and Constance.

James Ryle, who lives on Gunpowder about two miles south of Burlington, had a very fine watermelon patch destroyed by a recent hail storm. The vines and melons were literally cut to pieces by the hail stones, some of which were very large.

While riding his bike, one afternoon last week, Grover Snyder struck an old hen, near the first toll gate out on the Belleview pike, and he and the wheel were ditched, and one of Grover's knees was hurt badly. No injuries to the wheel resulted.

Sam Petit, who resides on Gunpowder, brought to Robert Clark for repairs, one day last week, a wooden clock, the age of which is supposed to exceed a century considerably. The wheels were in pretty good shape, and when put in order Mr. Clark is sure it will be an excellent timer again.

Boone county, Ky., is building a good iron bridge over Woolper at Plattsburg. It is on the same pike that some of Lawrenceburg's citizens put money in some thirty years ago. If the pike is made good it will be a great convenience to farmers coming to the Lawrenceburg ferry.—Lawrenceburg Press.

Malchus Souther, of Pt. Pleasant neighborhood, and Secretary of the Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Co., of Boone county, was in Burlington, last Friday on business pertaining to the affairs of the office. He informed the RECORDER that C. C. Sleet's insurance was $600 on his barn—nothing on contents. This was all the insurance Mr. Sleet was carrying.

During the past week the greater portion of 60 per cent. of the graded valuation of the 1906 pooled tobacco in Pendleton county has been paid in cancellation of notes for advances and into the hands of tobacco owners. The sum total is about $80,000. This influx of the coin of the realm has had a tendency to lessen to some extent the financial stringency hereabouts.—Pendletonian.

The following letter from Berkeley, Cala., has been received at this office:

To the Editor of the Recorder:

DEAR SIR:—A copy of your valuable paper was sent me in which was recorded the death of Joel Keudrick Corbin, in which it was erroneously stated that he was the last of twelve children now living. I wish to state Mrs. Jueida Corbin Tucker is still living here in Berkeley. Although seventy-one years old she is hale and hearty. She is the mother of William Corbin, the efficient manager of the Continental Building and Loan Association of San Francisco, and Mrs. Florence Heckman, well known lecturer and writer, and Mrs. George A. Kyle, of Seattle, Washington, whose husband is chief engineer of the St. Paul, Milwaukee and Chicago Railway. Mrs. Tucker would be pleased to hear from old time friends or relatives in Kentucky, and takes this means of letting them know of her place of residence, which is 1617 Oregon street, Berkeley, California.

MRS. Z CORBIN TUCKER.

COPY OF LETTER FROM HON. JO. C. S. BLACKBURN.

ISTHMIAN CANAL COMMISSION,

DEPARTMENT OF CIVIL ADMINISTRATION.—EXECUTIVE OFFICE.

Ancon, July 30, 1908.

Hon. R. H. Elliston, Williamstown, Grant County, Ky.

My Dear Sir:—I am just in receipt of yours of the eighteenth. I know the many criticisms passed upon you with reference to the Senatorial fight between Mr. Debue and myself. I never censured you for your action in that matter, nor held you responsible in any wise for my defeat; that was assured brfore I ever failed to receive your vote. But I wish to state distinctly that your friendship and loyal support and manly conduct in my last race for the Senate I shall always cherish, the sincerest appreciation and gratitude. I am out of politics, and never expect to reenter it, but whilst I live I shall ever be glad to bear testimony to your loyalty, and to avail myself of any opportunity that I may ever have to attest my gratitude for it.

If your district gives you the place you are now seeking, and which you are exceptionally well qualified to fill, I will feel assured of its being represented by a competent, deserving and honest man.

Always Your Friend,
Jo. C. S. BLACKBURN.

The foregoing letter from Hon. Jo. C. S. Blackburn explains itself, and shows how false are the charges made by opposing candidates against the Hon. R. H. Elliston in the race for Congress in the primary, Aug. 22, 1908.

For Sale—Good cow. Apply to Dr. W. O. Rouse, Burlington.

For Sale—2 fresh cows.—Apply to Asa McMullen, Burlington R. R. 2.

For Sale—Good work mare, 4 years old.—Apply to Robert Gaines, Burlington R. R. 1.

This is ideal weather for a fair.

Candidates will get a hustle on immediately.

B. B. Hume will have a starter in each, the 2:36 pace; the county trot and the buggy race at the Lawrenceburg fair this week.

Richard Louden, of Bellevue precinct, was the first to put home grown watermelons on the Burlington market. He brought them in Monday, and they were splendid.

UNTIL ALL

Are Sold We Will Offer

Every Dollars Worth of Summer Goods

In Our Store At

Verily Low Prices.

Not Fairly Good Values,
But Xtra Good Values.

Not a few Bargains Here and There,
But a Whole Store full.
If You See Them You Will Buy;
If-U-Buy You Will be Happy
Every Time At

GREEN'S

CASH DRY GOODS STORE,

Rising Sun, : : Indiana.

FOUR BIG Days

THE THIRTEENTH ANNUAL BOONE COONTY FAIR

FOUR BIG Days

Will Be Held at Florence, Ky., August 26th to 29th, 1908

$2,500 IN PREMIUMS WILL BE GIVEN! $2,500

SOME OF THE BIG PREMIUMS:

Best Sweepstake Saddle Animal - - - - - $125.00
Best Sweepstake Saddle Animal - - - - - $125.00
Best Sweepstake All-Purpose Animal : : : : : $125.00

LIBERAL PREMIUMS IN ALL DEPARTMENTS.

Come and Bring Your Families and Spend One Day with Your Friends on the Grounds and under the Shade Trees in the Cool Grove. Everything Possible will be done for your Amusement and Comfort.

Wanted—To buy a good barn frame. W. J. Rice, Burlington.

For Sale—18 months old Jersey bull. Apply to Geo. Blyth, Burlington.

FOR SALE.

Brick, second hand lumber, sash, doors and windows. W. H. Buckner, Erlanger, Ky.

Boone Co. Deposit Bank,

BURLINGTON, KY.

The Oldest Bank in Boone County,

PAYS 3 PER CENT. INTEREST ON TIME DEPOSITS,

With $100,000 protection to its Depositors as follows:

Capital Stock	$30,000
Surplus and Undivided Profits	40,000
Liability of Stockholders	30,000
Total Security for Depositors	$100,000

COURTESY EXTENDED TO ALL.

Bear In Mind

A Square Deal to Every Man

Is Our Motto.

We give you Honest Clothing at "Honest Prices." We give you the Style, Quality, Fit and Workmanship and we guarantee .....OUR PRICES THE LOWEST.....

We still have a fine line of

Men's & Boys' Spring and Summer SUITS

and it will be to your interest to examine them before buying elsewhere.

Men's Nice Suits.....$5.00, $6.00, $7.50
Men's Fine Suits.....$10.00, $12.50, $15.00, $18.00
Boys' Suits.....$4.00, $5.00, $7.50, $10.00, $12.00
Children's Suits.....$1.50 to $5.00
Fine Line of Men's Pants.....$1.00 to $5.00

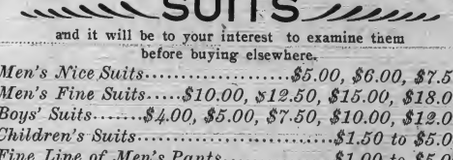
Big Line of Cottonade and Camlet Pants just the thing for hot weather. We have some nice Suits in Odds and Ends which we will sell at much reduced prices.

Rolfes & Wachs,

RELIABLE CLOTHIERS,

No. 1 PIKE STREET,
Cor. Madison Ave., Covington, Ky.

DEERING MACHINERY



.....SUCH AS.....

BINDERS, MOWERS RAKES and OTHER FARM Machinery, and Gasoline Engines see

E. K. STEPHENS

Phone 31-x, PETERSBURG, KY.

Local agents wanted for sale of Lott's Rapid Steam Washer—greatest Washing Machine of the age.

In some cases they last longer. They never need repairs. They're fire-proof, storm-proof. They reduce the cost of insurance, and they're easy to lay. They preserve the building too, by keeping out dampness: so if you want a thoroughly cozy home in winter, and a cool house in summer, you can't do better than see that Cortright Shingles are used for the covering.

RILEY & GAAR, Agents, Bullittsville, Ky.

FINE CUSTOM-MADE HARNESS OF ALL KINDS.

Buggy, Carriage, Draft and Farm Harness of all kinds.

Riding Saddles In All Styles,

Also a full line of

Trunks, Traveling Bags and Suit-Cases,

Phone, S. 957-X.

CHAS. MAHLMAN, Jr., 32 Pike St., Covington, Ky.

If you contemplate buying a Vehicle of any description give us a call. Our line of Buggies, Carriages, Wagons, Runabouts, Etc.,

is most complete. We are prepared to do Repairing and Painting of all kinds in the most modern and improved manner, and our

Rates are as Low as are Consistent with First-Class Work

H. Von Lehmen,

152, 154, 157 Pike Street,

Phone S. 148. Covington, Ky.

Local News.

FOR CONGRESS.

HON. CLIFFORD E. NADAUD, of Kenton county, is a candidate for Congress from the Sixth Kentucky District, subject to the Primary Election Saturday, August 22.

Hon. R. H. ELLISTON, of Grant county, is a candidate for Congress from the Sixth Kentucky District, subject to the Primary Election, Saturday, August 22.

HON. JOSEPH L. RHINOCK, of Kenton county, is a candidate for Congress from the Sixth Kentucky District, subject to the Primary Election, Saturday, August 22.

HON. D. LINN GOOCH, of Covington, is a candidate for Congress from the Sixth Kentucky District, subject to the Primary Election, Saturday, August 22.

HON. W. W. CLEARY, of Covington, is a candidate for Congress from the Sixth Kentucky District, subject to the Primary Election, Saturday, August 22.

HON. JOHN T. HODGE, of Newport, is a candidate for Congress from the Sixth Kentucky District, subject to the Primary Election, August 22.

Watermelons began to be shipped to market from the Petersburg fields, last week.

The south end of the county has not been favored with as much rain as the north end.

Attorney Sidney Gaines and wife were spending their money in Cincinnati, last Thursday.

Pastures have assumed a much better appearance in the last ten days, owing to the showers.

Not much being said about the race for Congress as yet. It will warm up some in the next ten days.

A wagon load of colored people pulled out early last Friday morning for a fish fry over on Gunpowder.

C. A. Riggs and Virge Ware, of Crescent Springs, Kenton county, were guests at L. A. Conner's, last Thursday.

Lawrenceburg opens up the fair season in this locality today. Kentucky people will be there in crowds about Friday and Saturday.

Corn is retailing in this city at 95 cents, wheat 88 cents, potatoes $1.20. Unless it rains soon prices will be higher.—Lawrenceburg Register.

The Georgetown fair was a great success in every particular, especially in the matter of attendance. People had the money and they patronized their fair.

H. W. Smith, of Erlanger, sold to John H. Aylor, of Gunpowder, last Wednesday, Atty. O. M. Rogers, handsome saddle and harness horse for $400.

The rains this month have made great improvements in the looks of the gardens, and the indications are there will be a pretty good crop of late vegetables.

Farmer G. W. Sandford was in town one day last week and took home with him a large load of woven wire fencing, indicating he has work ahead of him.

Rogers Association of Universalists will meet with the church in Burlington, Sept. 4 to 6. The association comprises the churches of southeastern Indiana and this county.

The festive chicken thief has not been working over time in this locality since Earl and Russell Smith made one of them keep time to shot gun music several nights since.

Camp Zimmer out on the Belleview pike has been a lively place for several weeks. No sooner had the blackberry crop been exhausted than the fruit crop was tackled.

Mrs. Mack Aylor has filed suit against the Metropolitan insurance company for the collection of a policy for $75 due on her son, Brack Aylor, deceased.—Lawrenceburg Register.

Rev. J. H. Walterick, of Florence, made the RECORDER a brief call, last Friday afternoon. Rev. Walterick is a very pleasant gentleman to have dealings with, and is quite popular with his parishioners.

The many Boone county friends and relatives of C. C. Adams, of Grant county, will be glad to learn of his nomination for county attorney at the primary election there on the 1st inst. His majority was 389.

Charles Westhay has the distinction of being the oldest native born male resident of the town of Burlington, and he does not consider himself very old either, but he is not boasting of his distinction to any extent.

The Erlanger Fair will claim the patronage of the public next week, and the week following the popular old Boone fair will be on, with its big premiums, fine shows and large attendance. Everybody goes, you know.

Steamboat Excursion.

The steamer Kentucky will leave Rising Sun for Lawrenceburg Fair at 6 a. m. Saturday, August 15th, stopping at all way points. Returning will leave Lawrenceburg at 7 p. m.

Luther Adams, who has been holding down a good job back of Cincinnati for several months, came home last week to be on hand to assist his brother, Sammie, with his duties as jailer during the present term of circuit court. Luther's looks show that he was attending closely to business during his absence from Burlington.

She Likes Good Things.

Mrs. Chas. E. Smith, of West Franklin, Maine, says: "I like good things and have adopted Dr. King's New Life Pills as our family laxative medicine, because they are good and do their work without making a fuss about it." These painless purifiers sold at Bentler's drug store, Erlanger. 25c.

Alberta Walton, aged 10 years, and the oldest daughter of W. S. Walton, of Pt. Pleasant neighborhood, died of appendicitis, on Monday night of last week. The remains were interred at Hebron, last Thursday, after a very feeling funeral sermon by Rev. Carter. The funeral was in charge of H. G. Blanton, the Erlanger funeral director. The little girl had been visiting friends in Cincinnati, where she was stricken. An operation on her was begun on Saturday afternoon at her home, but the surgeon discovered it was too late for favorable results.

Taking the number of butter orders the Union creamery has printed as a basis for a guess it is certainly doing a handsome business, and one good feature about it is it has had a steady growth from the day the creamery was opened. The farmers in that section of Boone county tributary to the Union Creamery are increasing their number of cows, a fact that goes to show they have already realized that a creamery is a good thing to which to have access, and the history of such institutions is, where they are a success, they continue to grow until their full capacity is reached.

In this issue appears the advertisement of the Boone fair, which will be held at Florence, commencing on the 26th inst., and continuing four days. Nothing will be omitted that is calculated to make this fair equal to any of the twelve that have preceded it. The liberal premiums in all the departments insure a spirited contest, and especially will this be true of the horse show in the ring. When you want to visit an ideal country fair, where the best of order prevails, and people travel for miles to meet and mingle with old acquaintances, the Boone fair should not be passed. It is like a big family reunion, where nothing is permitted that is calculated to detract from the comfort and pleasure of those in attendance.

Resolutions of Respect.

Whereas, It has been the will of Almighty God to remove from our midst, Mrs. Alta Willson, the wife of our Bro. H. Jerome Willson, and the sister of our Bros. J. Colon Kelly and Oscie Y. Kelly, she having died July 8th, 1908, Therefore, be it Resolved by East Bend Lodge No. 114, K. of P., That we bow in humble submission to the Divine Will, and tender to the bereaved husband and brothers and their families, our heartfelt sympathy and the prayer that they may be sustained from on high in their hour of bereavement.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this Lodge, a copy sent to each of our bereaved brothers and a copy sent to the Boone County RECORDER for publication.

Committee—S. N. Riggs, R. T. Stephens.

It is seldom that there is more excitement at a threshing yard than prevailed one morning, when Tony Bentler pulled the throttle and put Callie Baldon's separator in operation about ten days ago. But a few revolutions of the ponderous machinery had been made before a man's standing collar was seen sail out of the blower, to be followed in a few seconds by a neck-tie; then came the fragments of a white shirt, chased by one leg of a pair of pants. By this time pandemonium prevailed among the hands, who expected every second to see fragments of a human body expelled by the blower, believing that some unfortunate person had been chewed up and was being spit out by the machine. In response to the loud yells of horror Mr. Bentler stopped the machine, and with chattering teeth and bulging eyes an investigation was begun, when Tony remembered that he had, the evening before, deposited his suit case, containing his Sunday clothes, in the blower. The suit case had been torn to fragments and its contents scattered to the four winds. Thus was explained what at first impressed the threshers that a horrible tragedy had happened, and so soon as the excitement subsided sufficiently the work proceeded as usual, Mr. Bentler being the only loser by the singular event.

It is seldom that an enterprise that is to benefit an entire community is undertaken that the chief promoter does not bump up against discouragement at unexpected points and at unexpected times. Parties from whom valuable assistance is expected often suddenly become negative or open opponents to the enterprise, placing in an embarrassing position those who have been counting on their assistance. It is in this unc mfortable condition that Rev. Edgar Riley finds himself in regard to the school he is working up in Burlington; but being a young man full of determination and well prepared to present the advantages of the school in behalf of which he is laboring, success is sure to follow, and those who believe in good schools, education and the upbuilding to the entire community should give him their hearty cooperation. Mr. Riley is taking all the chances and should anyone sustain a financial loss he is the person that will be hurt. He is not compelled to settle down in Burlington, but the people of Burlington and vicinity can never educate their children without it costing them considerable, and he is now proposing to make it possible for them to give their children a good business education at a minimum cost; but there are persons in the community, whom to accuse of not being public spirited is to insult, who are not lending him any assistance, but, on the other hand, are placing obstacles in his way. With all pulling together a fine school can be secured for Burlington, and it behooves all to give Mr. Riley substantial encouragement. There is no place for the knocker when as important a public matter is up for settlement. In a few years communities without churches, good roads and good schools will have very little standing in anything that goes to make up a prosperous, enlightened and happy people.

For Sore Feet.

"I have found Bucklen's Arnica Salve to be the proper thing to use for sore feet, as well as for healing burns, sores, cuts, and all manner of obnoxious," writes Mr. W. Stone, of East Poland, Maine. It is the proper thing too for piles. Try it! Sold under guarantee at Bentler's drug store, Erlanger. 25c.

Peoples Deposit Bank,
BURLINGTON, KY.
YOUR MONEY DEPOSITED WITH THIS BANK IS AS SAFE AS WITH ANY BANK IN BOONE COUNTY.
3 PER CENT. INTEREST PAID ON SIX MONTHS TIME DEPOSITS.
We Make no Charge for Cashing Checks on other Banks
And afford you all other accommodations within range of Sound Banking in order to make dealings with us pleasant.
SAFE DEPOSIT BOXES FOR RENT. CALL AND SEE US.

STATEMENT OF THE
Equitable Bank & Trust Co.
WALTON, KY.
Organized for Business Sept. 9th, 1907.
DEPOSITS:
Opening Day Sept. 9th, 1907 ..... $5,383.71
Dec. 31st, 1907, when statement was made to Secretary of State 37,157.67
June 30th, 1908, when statement was made to Secretary of State 56,269.38
July 1st, 1908, one day later $61,959 90
LOANS AND DISCOUNTS:
July 1st, 1908 ..... $ 76,530.35
Available Cash July 1st, 1908 ..... 90,716.80
Resources July 1st, 1908 ..... $115,220.35
Careful, prudent business principles governs the bank. Your business solicited. Interest paid on time deposits. Mail communications given especial attention.
CHAS. L. GRIFFITH, President. D. B. WALLACE, Cashier.

LEW THORN, Pharmacist. A. G. G. RICHARDSON, Veterinary Surgeon.
THORN & RICHARDSON, DRUGGISTS.
We sell Kreso Dip for Lice and Mites on horses, cattle, sheep, hogs and chickens. Headquarters for House Paints, Floor Paints, Roofing Paints, Wagon and Carriage Paints, Carter's Lead and Pure Linseed Oil.
Medicines, Stationery and Sundries in large supply. All new and fresh. Prices are right.
Main Street, - - RISING SUN, INDIANA.

The New Iowa
New in Kentucky,
But a Leader in the West
NOTE WHAT WE CLAIM FOR IT.

The Only Separator
made to day, that will skim to a trace, warm or cold milk.
Easiest Cleaned, Lightest Running, Mechanically Right
Farmers and Dairymen wanting to buy Separators should see the Iowa before making a purchase. It is absolutely the best, no other just as good costs no more. Why not have it? Over two car loads sold in Kentucky in two months. Write us for literature, good reading matter and very learning. We have all kinds of Tools, Farming Implements, Contractors Supplies, &c. The best line of Plows, Grain Drills, Feed Cutters and Mills. We have some new and slightly used Sharpless Separators we will sell at bargains.
We will Save You Money. Give us a Call.
The Fischer Bros. Company,
(Incorporated)
1046 Madison Ave. COVINGTON, KY. 729-731 Monmouth St. NEWPORT, KY.
Everything Marked in Plain Figures. One Price to All.

BIG
ERLANGER FAIR AND RACES
ERLANGER, ENTUCKY.
August 19, 20, 21 & 22, 1908.
The Fair Where Everybody Goes.
Grand Display of Everything.
Trotting, Pacing & Runnin' Races
EVERY DAY.
$5.000 in Premiums and Purses
Best of Music. - - Best of Everything.
FOUR - GREAT - DAYS.
General Admission - - 40 Cents
Children, 8 to 15 Years - - - 25 Cents
Horses and Conveyances, - - - Free.
Write for Catalog.
B. L. RICE, President. S. W. ADAMS, Secretary.
J. P. RIFFE, Manager.

Are You Behind With Your Crop?
BUY A
Kraus Riding Cultivator
AND CATCH UP.
We will sell you a Six Beam
Kraus Riding Cultivator for $25.00
You will save the price of the Cultivator in one season.
W. M. Rachal & Co
Union, Kentucky.

PERFECT BIFOCALS AT LAST.

Bifocal lenses have been undergoing constant and rapid improvement for the the last 10 years, until now we have the perfect bifocal.
It is ground in one piece and perfectly smooth; no cement used and no lines visible. Call and see them. They are the finest made.
N. F. Penn, M. D. with Motch, Jeweler,
613 Madison Avenue, - - - COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.
Phone, South 912-Y.

SCOTT CHAMBERS,
WALTON, KY.
Embalmer & Funeral Director,
LIVERY, BOARDING & SALE STABLE.
First Class Rigs for Hire at All Times.
Dealer in High Class Harness and Saddle Horses.
Raymond City Coal for sale at all times.

Hay, Grain, Mill Feed,
ALWAYS KEPT ON HAND.
Highest Market Price paid for Grain.
Fancy and Staple GROCERIES.
I also have a nice and complete line of Fancy and Staple Groceries and canned goods.
WIRE AND FENCING, AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS, Buggies, Carriages, all kinds Fertilizer.
Owen S. Watts,
(Successor to R. B. HUEY & CO.)
WALTON, - - KENTUCKY.

H. G. BLANTON,
Funeral Director and Embalmer

LIVERY, BOARDING and FEED STABLE.
First-class Carriages for hire with careful Drivers for Families, Parties, Weddings, Etc.
I Have a Nice White Funeral Car.
Lexington Pike, - - - ERLANGER, KY.
Leave Orders with J. C. REVILL, Burlington, Ky.

Geo. W. Hill & Co.,
Grocers, Commission & SEED Merchants.
Tested Field and Garden Seeds.
Finest Brands and Grades of FERTILIZERS, LIME, CEMENT AND SALT.
Largest and Best Stock of
GROCERIES IN THE CITY.
Sole Agents for the Celebrated
RARUS and GEM Brands of FLOUR.
When in the City it will pay you to come and see us.
27 & 29 Pike Street, (Phone South 55) 26 & 28 W. Seventh Street
COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

THE RECORDER.

W. L. RIDDELL, Publisher.

BURLINGTON. - - KENTUCKY

Women as Economists.

The idea generally prevails among men that women are densely and incurably ignorant about the value of money. "He knows no more of money than a woman," is almost a proverb. The most absurd stories are perpetually told of woman's total incapacity to learn anything about money, and some of them are doubtless believed. She is, notwithstanding contrary belief, an intelligent economist when she comes to learn what economy means. It is frequently said by the other sex that she can make a dollar go as far as they can make two. Nor is this by any means the language of compliment. Many a husband has discovered that his wife can buy more with a small amount of cash than he can, and he is in the habit of giving it to her for that special purpose. The extravagance of woman has been a stock theme everlastingly. We shall hear of her wild extravagance, of the waste of fortunes by her excess, of her uncontrolled and uncontrollable prodigality. This must be accepted with considerable allowance for exaggeration. Man, not woman, is the great spendthrift; he always has been; always will be. Few men forced into economy by circumstances relish it, unless avaricious; and when their circumstances grow easy they cease generally to be economical. A woman who has once become economical will continue to be so, though there be no need of the habit, even if it be glaringly out of keeping with her condition. Woman's love of small details inclines her to economy. She may not be a financier in any large sense—that may not be within her scope—but careful use of little amounts of money certainly is, and she constantly demonstrates her proficiency therein. There is much more reason for calling woman penurious than prodigal, declares the New York Weekly, and she is really called both, though the adjectives are absolutely incongruous. The plain truth is, if a woman has any common sense and is the least enlightened, she usually restrains her husband's tendency to lavishness and employs all her influence in the direction of economy.

This is an example given us by France as to the proper method in which to celebrate a national holiday. There the undertaker and the surgeon are not worked overtime, nor is a national fetish made of the god of gunpowder. Instead, explains the Brockton (Mass.) Times, the day is made a holiday for all. The national colors are everywhere. The three great government theaters in Paris, with the greatest actors in the country, give three performances free to all the people, and there are countless other attractions provided by the government during the day, winding up with displays of fireworks throughout the country paid for by the government and of such magnificence that no private exhibitions could vie with them. That is the way the various municipalities of America should face the problem of the Fourth of July.

Prof. Walter A. Wyckoff, who died recently, was the author of "The Workers," a book on the laboring man which has remained vital through a decade of increasing literature on social conditions. The reason for the life of the book was that it recorded the author's actual experience for a year and a half as a working man. He lived by the labor of his hands in field, ditch and mining camp; he played the game fairly, and did not help himself out by "money from home" or checks from his publishers. He knew what it was to be out of a job and "on his uppers." That is why his material was fresh and vivid when he returned to the professor's easy chair to write the story of his experience.

Crude men of sincere faith are often more convincing preachers than highly cultivated clergymen. The rough man is near the heart of the multitude he would convert; he understands their sins and temptations, and speaks the language of their life. But good taste is necessary to religious exhortation as to every other dignified human occupation, and plainness and directness are not served by vulgarity and rowdyism. The religious spirit may be roused in some people by the vocabulary of a hoodlum, but religion is sure to suffer in the end if it is associated with an offensive style of speech.

"Talk is cheap," said the old proverb. But that was before these enterprising times when people talk from one end of the country almost to the other, and when inventors and scientists are speaking confidently of telephoning across the ocean.

The city of Vienna is now trying to get control of mines in Moravia. The reasons given for the purchase are the high price of coal and the difficulty of securing a steady supply for the municipal gas and electric plants.

STRIKERS FIRED ON THE PASSING TRAIN

CARRYING SOLDIERS AND NON UNION MINERS, KILLING 3 AND WOUNDING 11.

ASSAILANTS HID BEHIND THE ROCKS

Dogs Were Hurried To the Scene and Took Trail Through Woods Directly To Union Quarters—Eight Negroes Were Arrested.

Birmingham, Ala., Aug. 10.—Three men were instantly killed and 11 injured, two of whom will probably die, when striking miners fired into a passenger train on the Birmingham Mineral railroad at Blocton, about 2 o'clock Sunday morning.

The dead are: Conductor Joe T. Collins, O. Z. Dent, deputy sheriff, and Millard Howell, non-union miner.

The injured: Maj. F. M. Dodge, superintendent of safety, Tennessee Coal Co.; E. E. Cox, superintendent of mines, Tennessee Coal Co.; A. E. Cross, chief clerk in superintendent's office; J. K. Johnson, deputy sheriff; A. C. Bryant, deputy sheriff; J. B. Corneti, deputy sheriff; W. H. McAuly, soldier; M. A. Pearson, soldier; J. C. Martin, A. J. Myer, laborer, and Robert Sigmon.

The train was a special bearing non-union men to the Blocton mines under guard of soldiers and deputies. On the outskirts of the town the engineer suddenly saw a log across the track and at once a fusilade was fired into the train. The engineer did not stop but let the pilot throw the log from the track and put on full speed.

The place where the attack was made was in a cut, the ground being on a level with the lower part of the windows. The assailants behind the rocks above poured down a murderous fire directly into the windows and at the engineer. Practically every window in the cars was broken and shot struck all parts of the engine and cab.

The train proceeded to Blocton and the dead and injured were returned to Birmingham. Dogs were hurried to the scene and took trails through the woods directly to the union quarters. Eight negroes were arrested Sunday afternoon and other arrests are expected.

Gov. Comer held a hurried conference with Lieut. Col. Hubbard, commanding the militia, Sunday morning, and another company was hurried to Blocton. All is reported quiet there Sunday night.

The trouble has caused widespread indignation Sunday and a general demand is being made that more strenuous action be taken looking to the preservation of order. Gov. Comer has not made a statement on the situation Sunday. While no disturbances have been reported in the district Sunday, other than the Blocton affair, the situation is regarded as the most grave since the inauguration of the strike over a month ago.

SUNK BY GERMAN SCHOOLSHIP

Was Fishing Schooner, and Captain and Eight Men Were Drowned.

Halifax, N. S., Aug. 10.—The Gloucester (Mass.) fishing schooner Maggie and May, Capt. Brick McCathran, was sunk by the German schoolship Freya, Capt. Haas, 60 miles southeast of Halifax, and Capt. McCathran and eight of the crew of the schooner were drowned. Four men were rescued. At the time of the collision a dense fog prevailed.

The warship was going about eight knots at the time of the accident. When the schooner was sighted the course of the ship was altered as quickly as possible, but the collision could not be averted. With a crash the steel prow of the Freya crashed into the side of the fishing vessel, cutting her almost in two. It is believed that many of the fishermen were instantly killed in their bunks, as they were not seen struggling in the water. The warship's boats were quickly launched and life lines were thrown to the men in the water. Three of them were picked up, while a fourth clung to the life line and was hauled aboard.

Warship Brings Arms To Islanders.

Willemstadt, Aug. 10.—The Dutch cruiser Gelderland leaves here Monday for the island of Aruba with rifles and ammunition for the population to be used in their defense against a Venezuelan man-of-war now cruising there. Sunday morning the Venezuelan bark Amalia, with 11 passengers, running between Vela de Caro and Puerto Cabello, was driven by the current into this harbor. Permission to enter the port was refused by the local government after a supply of provisions and water had been taken. The steamship Zuna arrived here from Maracaibo with all Curacao passengers embarked for Maracaibo.

Two Killed By Blast.

Knoxville, Tenn., Aug. 10.—Walter Mathis and Will Dorsey met instant death and three were injured in an explosion near Copeland, a little mountain town in Sevier county, Saturday night.

Negro Taken From Jail and Lynched.

Tifton, Ga., Aug. 10.—Because he spoke insultingly to Miss Maude Aiken pretty daughter of a prominent citizen, Charlie Lekie, a negro, 18, was taken from jail Sunday morning and lynched on the outskirts of this city.

UNCLE SAM ON THE WING.

The National Birde—Ah Ha! We Have a Rival.

SENATOR W. B. ALLISON DEAD

AGED IOWAN DIES SUDDENLY AT DUBUQUE, IA.

Long a Big Figure in the Upper Branch of Congress—Cummins Candidate for Toga.

Dubuque, Ia.—Senator William Boyd Allison died in his Locust street home at 1:33 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, aged 79 years. With him at dissolution were members of the household and a physician. In a bulletin announcing the death, Drs. Hancock and Lewis assigned heart failure as the cause.

Announcement of the senator's death came as a shock to his neighbors and the community, as few were aware of his illness. While for the last two years he was in declining health, and while he suffered loss of much vitality during the months of the present summer, there was no news emanating from his home indicating the seriousness of his condition.

Senator Allison passed through a serious illness at Washington last winter. Three weeks ago he consulted a Chicago physician and a fortnight ago went to his country home a few miles from this city to escape the heat and secure the benefits of country air and quietude. He remained there until last Saturday morning, when he was brought back to his city home.

During last week nurses were employed to care for the senator for the first time since his illness, and this was the first intimation anyone had of a change for the worse in his condition. The senator lost consciousness after Saturday and did not fully recover his mental faculties up to time of his death. He had been under the constant surveillance of physicians for the last few days.

Lake Forest, Ill.—Gov. Albert B. Cummins of Iowa Tuesday night announced himself as a candidate to succeed Senator Allison in congress. The governor paid a glowing tribute to his late political adversary's services to Iowa and the country at large, then frankly declared his ambition to be elected to the upper house by the legislature of his state. He also announced that "some one will be appointed at once to occupy Senator Allison's seat for the remaining months of his unexpired term."

Whitecap Outrage in Indiana.

Rushville, Ind.—Beaten to almost insensibility by whitecappers, perforated with small holes caused by a nail-pronged board, covered with tar and feathers, John Tribbey, well-to-do farmer, was found bound to a tree Thursday. Tribbey said he had been taken from his home by 18 masked men, who had tortured him.

Iowa Woman Commits Suicide.

Wapello, Ia. — Mrs. R. R. McWhirter, a resident of Cairo, Ia., was found dead at her home Friday with her head under a pillow and her mouth and nostrils stuffed with cotton. It is thought that she committed suicide because of grief over the sentencing of her son to the penitentiary.

Eight Die in Burning Boat.

Winnipeg, Man. — The steamer Premier, Capt. Stevens, was burned to the water's edge at Warren's Landing, the northern terminus of Lake Winnipeg, Thursday. Six passengers and two of the crew lost their lives.

Taft Attends a Horse Show.

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.—Candidate Taft Friday drove 40 miles over the mountains of Virginia and West Virginia, lent himself as the chief feature of Greenbriar county's first horse show, and in the evening led the German at the Greenbriar hotel.

Wilkie Gets After Stage Money.

Washington.—Chief Wilkie of the secret service proposes to test the law in relation to the right of persons to make "stage" money such as is freely sold in the form of $100 bills.

RELIEF FOR ELK RIVER VICTIMS.

Aid in Form of Provisions and Clothing Sent to Sufferers.

Fernie, B. C.—Relief for the sufferers from the terrible forest fires in the Elk river district, which destroyed a dozen large and small towns, was generously tendered from the northern part of the United States and from all over Canada. Great trainloads of provisions, clothing and everything else which the sufferers most need were sent to the stricken towns.

The latest estimates on the loss of life range in the neighborhood of 200, although the authorities declare that when the final calculations are made the number dead will not exceed 250. The monetary loss was $7,500,000, the insurance on which is estimated at not over $1,500,000. More than 6,000 persons were rendered homeless by the awful conflagration.

At latest reports such towns as Michels and Hosmer were still fighting the fires. Many bodies were recovered in this city as soon as the heat from the smouldering ruins reduced and made it possible for rescue parties to go into the stricken parts of the city. Trains bore the people away in large numbers, but now they are returning in family groups, and it is the intention of authorities to again build up the town. This intention has been expressed also in most of the other villages and towns which suffered by the fire.

PERISH IN ARCTIC.

Danish Explorer Erichsen and Two Companions Lost.

Copenhagen.—Mylius Erichsen, the Danish explorer, met death in the far north. According to information in a telegram to the committee of the Denmark-Greenland expedition Erichsen and two companions who sailed with him from Copenhagen June 24, 1906, to the unexplored regions of the north eastern coast of Greenland, perished in a snowstorm. The three men were on a journey over the ice when disaster overtook them.

A later telegram brings the information that Erichsen and his companions were on an ice floe when they were overtaken by the snowstorm, and that the floe drifted out to sea. They drifted for several days, growing weaker and weaker. When the floe finally was driven back to land the three men did not have sufficient strength to make the effort necessary to return to the station. They must have perished on the shore. The Eskimo who brought the news of the disaster arrived at the station in a dying condition and succumbed immediately after making his report.

Paris Is Dark for Two Hours.

Paris.—Paris was plunged in darkness for two hours Thursday night because of an attempt of electricians to carry out a general strike similar to that of March, 1907. The maneuver, which fortunately proved abortive, is attributed to a desire of the revolutionary laborites for revenge for an order issued by the prefect of the Seine closing the labor exchange to the federated unions of the department of the Seine because of the part the labor exchange played in the recent disturbances.

Lighter Full of Naphtha Blows Up.

Bangkok, Siam.—While the British bark, Lyndhurst was discharging naphtha into lighters in Koh-Si-Chang harbor, one of the lighters, containing 3,000 packages of naphtha, blew up.

Hawaiian Riflemen Coming.

Honolulu.—The crack rifle team of the National Guard of Hawaii sailed Wednesday on the steamer Alameda to participate in the national rifle competition to be held by teams from the regular army and the National Guard at Camp Perry, O.

No Amalgamation of Teamsters.

Detroit, Mich.—The International Brotherhood of teamsters Wednesday rejected the overtures of the United Teamsters of America to amalgamate the two organizations.

THAW IS BANKRUPT

RECEIVER APPOINTED AT PITTSBURG AT HIS REQUEST.

LIABILITIES ARE $453,140

Petition Says Many Creditors Are Seeking to Enforce Unjust Claims—Loans from Mother Not Disputed.

Pittsburg, Pa.—A voluntary petition in bankruptcy was filed after eight o'clock Friday night in the United States court by Attorney Morschauser of New York, representing Harry K. Thaw, who is now confined in the Duchess county (N. Y.) jail.

In the petition Thaw states that his assets are $128,012.38 and his liabilities $453,140.43.

Roger O'Mara, a well-known Pittsburg detective and personal friend of the Thaw family, was appointed as receiver. His bond was placed at $200,000, and John Newell and James W. Platt, two prominent business men of this city, became securities for Mr. O'Mara.

The most interesting information given regarding the proceedings is to be found in the petition asking for the appointment of a receiver in which it is alleged that the action is taken for the purpose of preventing his property being dissipated in litigation over claims, many of which are unjust. The figures in the bankruptcy petition show that this refers to the lawyers and doctors.

Thaw states that he is confined in jail in Duchess county, N. Y., and is likely to be there for some time. He says some of his creditors have commenced suits against him and others are contemplating similar action. He is unable, he says, to give the litigation his attention, owing to the confinement.

Loans amounting to $191,500 from his mother, Mrs. William Thaw, are not disputed.

Among the disputed claims are the following: John B. Gleason, New York, $80,000; Hartridge & Peabody, New York, $60,000; J. J. Graham, Newburg, N. Y., $2,954; Dr. Hammond, New York, $1,000; Dr. Wagner, Binghamton, N. Y., $4,040; Dr. Joliffe, New York, $5,245; Dr. Jones, Morristown, N. J. $6,000; Martin Littleton, New York, $8,055; Dr. Hamilton, New York, $12,000; Dr. Dana, New York, $1,600.

WOMAN FALLS 900 FEET; LIVES.

Balloonist Drops Into Tree and Is Saved from Awful Death.

Abbottsford, Wis.—Dropping through the air, 900 feet, when the rope attached to her parachute snapped, and caught in the branches of a tree 20 feet from the ground where sure death awaited her, had she landed, Mrs. Eva Jones, woman balloonist for a carnival company which is conducting a street fair here, still lives. The branches broke the fall, and the woman was taken from the tree in an unconscious condition. An examination showed that Mrs. Jones was suffering from several broken ribs and was otherwise internally injured. Physicians state that she will recover.

SEVERE STORM IN BOSTON.

Rainfall Is Heavy and Store Basements Are Flooded.

Boston.—From a meteorological standpoint Friday was "black Friday" in Boston, the city being visited in the afternoon by the heaviest electrical disturbance in years.

The storm lasted for nearly an hour, during which time the rain gauge at the United States weather bureau registered a fall of 1.65 inches.

Heavy damages resulted from the flooding of basements in the downtown sections of the city. In some of the newspaper offices on Washington street there was two feet of water in the press rooms.

Close Call for Fifty Passengers.

Springfield, Ill. — Fifty passengers on board a Chicago, Peoria & St. Louis train, bound from Peoria to Springfield Friday afternoon, narrowly escaped death on a burning wooden bridge which spanned a high embankment. The locomotive and the baggage car ran 50 feet on the bridge when the rails spread and the locomotive bumped over the ties until nearly across then it turned over and stopped the passenger coaches clear of the fire. The baggage car caught fire and was consumed.

Minnesota Bank Closes.

Washington.—The First National bank of Belle Plaine, Minn., was closed Thursday by order of the comptroller of the currency upon advice received from National Bank Examiner Frank O. Hicks that the bank was insolvent, followed by the suicide of the president of the bank, J. G. Lund. George C. Ball was appointed receiver.

Head of Texas College Resigns.

Austin, Tex.—President H. H. Harrington of the Agricultural college Friday resigned his office to the board of directors in session in Corpus Christi. The resignation was accepted and R. T. Tilmer, commissioner of agriculture, elected to fill the vacancy.

Anti-Asiatic League Formed.

Washington.—The National Anti-Asiatic Immigration league of the United States was formed Friday night in Washington, and a declaration of principles and constitution adopted.

BEGINNING EARLY.

"I have already promised ten cousins to marry them. I can see I shall never get through all my divorces."

SHE COULD NOT WALK

For Months—Burning Humor on Ankles —Opiates Alone Brought Sleep —Eczema Yielded to Cuticura.

"I had eczema for over two years. I had two physicians, but they only gave me relief for a short time and I cannot enumerate the ointments and lotions I used to no purpose. My ankles were one mass of sores. The itching and burning were so intense that I could not sleep. I could not walk for nearly four months. One day my husband said I had better try the Cuticura Remedies. After using them three times I had the best night's rest in months unless I took an opiate. I used one set of Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills, and my ankles healed in a short time. It is now a year since I used Cuticura, and there has been no return of the eczema. Mrs. David Brown, Locke, Ark., May 18 and July 13, 1907."

Her Reason.

Not long ago there was tried in an Ohio court a suit for damages wherein the principal witness, a woman living near Dayton, was induced to come to court only after several subpoenas had been served upon her.

When the dilatory witness was finally brought before his honor, he said in his severest tone:

"What reason can you assign, madam, for disobeying the summons of the court?"

"I ain't got none, Jedge," answered the woman, meekly, "only we've got small-pox down to our place, an' I thought mebbe you'd be kinder prejudiced agin it."—Illustrated.

He'd Pull Hard.

"Senator Folker, who journeyed to Albany at the risk of his life to cast the vote that doomed racing in New York, had collected a number of instances of race-track trickery," said an Albany legislator.

"Discussing, one day, the way jockeys so often sold races, he said that there was a Gloucester jockey once, the rider of a favorite, who was overheard to say in a saloon, the night before the favorite ran:

"'I shan't win unless the reins break.'"

THE COME AND SEE SIGN

This sign is permanently attached to the front of the main building of the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company, Lynn, Mass.

What Does This Sign Mean?

It means that public inspection of the Laboratory and methods of doing business is honestly desired. It means that there is nothing about the business which is not "open and above-board."

It means that a permanent invitation is extended to anyone to come and verify any and all statements made in the advertisements of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Is it a purely vegetable compound made from roots and herbs — without drugs?

Come and See.

Do the women of America continually use as much of it as we are told?

Come and See.

Was there ever such a person as Lydia E. Pinkham, and is there any Mrs. Pinkham now to whom sick woman are asked to write?

Come and See.

Is the vast private correspondence with sick women conducted by women only, and are the letters kept strictly confidential?

Come and See.

Have they really got letters from over one million, one hundred thousand women correspondents?

Come and See.

Have they proof that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured thousands of these women?

Come and See.

This advertisement is only for doubters. The great army of women who know from their own personal experience that no medicine in the world equals Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for female ills will still go on using and being benefited by it; but the poor doubting, suffering woman must, for her own sake, be taught confidence, for she also might just as well regain her health.

WHEN THE G. O. P. 'ANNOUNCES CAMPAIGN CONTRIBUTIONS'

SHOWS UP "BLUFF"

LITTLEFIELD RECITES FACTS ABOUT TRUST BUSTING.

Republican Congressman in Speech Demonstrates How Little Real Good Has Been Accomplished in the Matter.

It shows the strange vicissitudes of the politics of to-day when Congressman Littlefield of Maine, whom the labor people tried so hard to defeat two years ago, and who Speaker Cannon and Sherman, the present Republican candidate for vice-president, succeeded in electing, should now be caustically criticising President Roosevelt and his administration. Speaking before the Illinois Bar association, he points out that but seven convictions had been secured under the Sherman law since September 14, 1901, when President Roosevelt became president, although Senator Lodge in the Republican national convention declared that President Roosevelt had enforced the laws as he found them on the statute book. The Republican platform congratulates the country on the enforcement of all the laws. But, says Mr. Littlefield:

"In the light of cases I have cited to you it would seem that proclamation and not performance constitutes enforcement of the law."

That hit from the shoulder at President Roosevelt, showing his boasting of performances that have been but feebly accomplished and the greater boast of the Republican platform upon which Taft is straddling, shows how little confidence can be placed in Republican declarations and Republican politicians.

Referring to the amendment promised in the Republican platform to the anti-trust law, Congressman Littlefield further said:

"When it becomes necessary to give force to a law by that process, the act does not commend itself to my good judgment. The amendment is said to have the object of requiring all corporations or individuals, who seek to get the benefit of its provisions, to register themselves with the bureau of corporations that they may have conferred upon them benefits and provisions that do not now exist under the law.

"I am at all times opposed to placing in the hands of any bureau the power to supervise and regulate the business of 87,000,000 people. But the most serious legal objection is the fact that it would invalidate the penal character of the act. If this was invalidated there would not be enough of the act left for any extended discussion."

But the most startling statement of this Republican congressman was the acknowledgment that the trusts and their magnates had escaped justice, for he declared:

"It may be that the predatory rich are lurking in every corner and that malefactors of great wealth abound. If this be true, and they have been going about seeking whom they may devour, the extent to which the wicked have thus far gone unwhipped of justice borders upon the grotesque."

And yet in view of these facts the president and the Republican party audaciously claim to be trust busters, when at the same time the hands of the Republican managers are reeking with the filthy lucre of the trusts and corporations.

Little Cause for Felicitation.

While the congress is felicitated upon the appointment of two commissions to study out a plan of tariff tinkering during the recess, there is no loud boasting over the circumstance that the wood-pulp tariff tax on intelligence in American schools and homes was hedged about with impregnable barriers up to and beyond the day of adjournment.

There is a hurrah for the inland waterways commission and another for the currency commission, but the fact is not dwelt upon that of the $1,000,000,000 appropriated not a dollar goes to the great inland waterway to which western commerce looks for relief from freight congestion and heavy freight charges.

ONLY HOPE FOR TARIFF REFORM.

Voters Must Elect a Democratic President and Congress.

If the Republicans elect their candidate for president, and a majority of congress, their tariff policy will be to revise the tariff higher. If you read the tariff plank of the Republican platform you may be in doubt about what it declares for, but at all events you will find no promise of tariff reduction. Revision of the tariff is promised by a "special session of congress immediately following the inauguration of the next president," but not a word about reducing one schedule. In fact, there is a promise for establishing a maximum or higher tariff, to be administered by the president against such countries as impose a high tariff against the products of the United States. That, as Senator Lodge explains it, is in place of reciprocity treaties. It will be remembered that it is only a few years ago that the Republican party was hot footed for reciprocity; at least the McKinley administration was, but the trust-controlled Republican senate refused to ratify the treaties that had been negotiated.

Tariff revision has lain dormant ever since Mr. Roosevelt became president, and now appears nothing but the promise of a still higher tariff to protect the trusts, if the Republicans are successful.

The same old stand-pat gang are in full command of the Republican party, for even if Candidate Taft has any idea of tariff revision, his hands have been tied by his own indorsement of the platform which the stand-patters prepared for him.

There will be Republican candidates for congress in close districts who will promise, if elected, to vote for tariff reform, but that such promises are worthless to the trust-plundered people is seen by the fact that a majority of the Republicans that will be elected are those who have been renominated and are part of the Cannon-Sherman stand-pat machine. The Republicans, if they again control congress, will hold a caucus, and the stand-pat majority will control that caucus and reelect Cannon for speaker, and he will appoint, as he has always done, a stand-pat ways and means committee, where all tariff legislation must originate.

It does not require any evidence to prove that if the Democrats elect the president and congress there will be a real tariff reform measure passed by the house of representatives, and the only obstacle to abolishing the protection the trusts now enjoy will be the trust-controlled Republican senators. Public opinion, however, which is largely for real tariff reform, undoubtedly will force many Republican senators to vote against their party on the tariff issue.

A Dilemma for Republicans.

Of course, we all know the beef trust was busted and the beef combine has long ago been enjoined from doing business. The administration killed it and made the packers pay fines to deter them from further plundering the American people. Still the price of beef keeps soaring, and inquisitive people are asking, if the beef trust is busted why does not the price of meat come down instead of advancing?

These inquisitive but simple souls should know that the packers combine still exists and is evidently making up for the fines they paid by charging greater profits. For whereas the packers' combine was openly conducted, both as to the control of the market for cattle and the wholesale price of meat, it is now run as a "gentleman's agreement," and Brother Armour or Swift sets the price for cattle and meat from day to day.

There are those unkind enough to say that there is a truce between the administration and the packers, and that in lieu of more prosecutions and fines the packers will be liberal contributors to the Republican campaign fund. Those Republican voters who feel the pinch of hard times and high prices for beef and other trust products will have to put up with such pecuniary troubles "for the sake of the party."

GREAT AIRSHIP WRECKED

ZEPPELIN'S MACHINE BLOWS UP AND IS BURNED.

Disaster Overtakes Dirigible Balloon at Echterdingen After its Remarkable Endurance Flight.

Echterdingen.—A dramatic end came Wednesday to Count Zeppelin's long-awaited endurance flight in his monster dirigible balloon, and the proud airship which Tuesday was cutting rapidly through the air and outdistancing pursuing automobiles, lies in an open field near here, a mass of twisted, useless metal. The count, almost heart-broken and unable longer to endure the sight of his shattered craft, left by train for Friedrichshafen.

The airship had left Nackenheim, and over night had visited Mayence and begun the homeward journey, when misfortune overtook it. Soon after its departure it was found that the front motor was working badly. A landing was made here and repairs were being made when suddenly a violent storm sprang up.

The balloon swayed to and fro, sometimes rising a few feet from the ground. Then a formidable gust of wind struck the airship broadside. At first the craft heeled over and then her bows rose in the air, carrying with them a number of soldiers holding the ropes. After poising a moment at a height of 50 feet, the airship came crashing to the ground. With a thunderous report the forward motor exploded. From the bows of the balloon shot forth a livid flame, while from the rear escaped thick clouds of black smoke which caused the entire structure to disappear from the view of the thousands of spectators.

When the air cleared the balloon was seen lying in an open field on a high plateau with only the ragged, tangled strips of aluminum envelope still remaining. The metal stays and bands and portions of the motors were strewn about in pieces like old iron, and blackened with smoke and scorched.

Officers rushed forward and found that several soldiers had been hurt. The four engineers who were on the forward platform of the airship had escaped death, but were suffering from injuries.

PRESIDENT SAYS HE DID IT.

Assumes Entire Responsibility for Discharging Negro Soldiers.

Oyster Bay, N. Y. — President Roosevelt in a statement issued late Friday night made it clear that the entire responsibility was his for the issuance of the original order discharging the battalion of negro soldiers for alleged participation in the Brownsville (Tex.) rioting and the refusal to permit a suspension of that order.

The president was shown the interview which was had in Washington with Gen. Henry C. Corbin, U. S. A., retired, in which Gen. Corbin stated that no credit or blame in the matter rested with Mr. Taft. After reading the interview the president, through his assistant private secretary, Rudolph Forster, gave out the following:

"Gen. Corbin's statement is absolutely correct, and it was entirely proper that he should make it. The substance of the message from the president which he quoted was made public long ago. In the Brownsville matter the entire responsibility for issuing the original order and for declining to allow its suspension was the president's."

GREAT STRIKE IN CANADA.

Twelve Thousand Canadian Pacific Mechanics Quit Work.

Winnipeg, Man.—Trade unionism in Canada has given defiance to the Canadian Pacific railway. Without any untoward incident and ostentatious show, the mechanics and kindred workmen quit work Wednesday, and all shops, big and little, on this great system are idle.

It is estimated that 12,000 men went out, the largest number being 2,200 in Montreal and 1,500 here. Two thousand men left work between Fort William and Vancouver, all at the dictates of the executive. Even old workmen in line for pensions went home and it seems to be the most complete tie-up in the history of railway shops in Canada.

Turkish Cabinet Resigns.

Constantinople.—Said Pasha, the grand vizier, and the newly-formed ministry have resigned. The sultan has accepted the resignations and invited Jemaleddin Effendi, the Sheik-ul-Islam, and Kiamil Pasha to form a new cabinet. The newspapers assert that Mehmed Ali Bey, minister to the United States, has been relieved of his functions. It was reported that the sultan was stabbed in the breast Monday night by a minor palace official, but that his vest of mail turned the point of the weapon.

London Officials Grafters.

London.—Ten municipal officials of Mile End parish, charged with grafting, were convicted Friday after a trial lasting a month. Although the amounts involved were small the case excited the greatest interest.

Danish-Americans Lunch with King.

Copenhagen.—King Frederick and Queen Louise took luncheon Friday with a party of 400 Danish-Americans, from Listoe of New York, in a speech conveyed President Roosevelt's greeting to the king.

HOW IT FEELS TO BE HANGED.

Man Who Has "Been There" Declares Sensation is Delightful.

I will tell you how it feels to be hanged. At Fort Barrancas, Florida, on April 4, 1868, I was hanged as a confederate spy. I spent four minutes physically and spiritually between earth and heaven. Then a Yankee sergeant believing me to be the wrong man, cut me down.

My first sensation when the barrel was kicked from under my feet was that a steam boiler inside me was about to explode. Every vein and blood vessel to and from my heart seemed charged with an oppressive fullness that must find an avenue of escape. The nervous system throughout its length was tingling with a painful, prickling sensation the like of which I never felt before or since. Then followed the sense of an explosion, as if a volcano had erupted. This seemed to give me relief, and the pain gave way to a pleasurable feeling, one very desirable could it be secured without death. With this sensation a light broke in upon my sight, a light of milky whiteness, yet, strange to say, so transparent that it was easier to pierce with the eye than the light of day. Then came into my mouth a taste of sweetness the like of which I have never since known. And I felt myself moving on, with a consciousness of leaving everything behind. Then I heard the sweetest of music, and it seemed that more than a thousand harps led in each part, accompanied by myriads of voices.

And the sensation of coming back to life after I had been cut down, was just as painful as the first feeling of hanging. It was acute torture. Every nerve seemed to have a pain of its own. My nose and fingers were seats of the most excruciating agony. In half an hour the pain was all gone, but I would not go through the experience again for the wealth of the Indies.—Rev. J. T. Hand, in Spare Moments.

Disagreed with Osler.

Mr. Taft tells of an incident one night at a dinner in Murray Bay, Canada, at which there were among the guests Supreme Court Justice Harlan, who is upward of 80 years old, and Dr. Osler, the Baltimore scientist of "chloroform 'em at 60" fame. It was Dr. Osler's first visit to Murray Bay, and the scenery enchanted him. He was speaking of it with great enthusiasm to Mr. Taft and Justice Harlan. "What a blessing it would be if all men who have made their mark in the world," began Dr. Osler, "and who are growing old, past 50, say, could retire and come to some quiet, beautiful place like this and end their days in peace and tranquility, free from care and from the incessant pressure of work."

The justice had been listening to Dr. Osler with ill concealed impatience. He exploded at the question.

"No, sir," he roared, bringing his fist down on the table, "no, sir, it would not be a grand thing, either for the men themselves or for the world. Why, sir, the world would go to the devil—to the devil, if all the men over 50 were compelled to retire."

Long Flights of Birds.

Birds of passage make their longest flight somewhere near Bering strait. A naturalist says that probably the longest continuous flight made by the feathered travelers in their peregrinations is accomplished by some of the shore and water birds that nest in the islands of Bering sea and spend the winter at Hawaii and Fanning island, 2,200 miles away. As some of the birds live entirely on the shore and are probably unable to rest on the surface of the water, they must accomplish the whole distance in a single flight, yet they make their way to their destination with absolute precision. Among the lost birds of the world it is likely that the Cornish chough before many years will have to be numbered. The bird is becoming scarce. The rook and the jackdaw are ousting it from its habitat. Curiously enough, in Lhassa it has an almost perfect counterpart, so that after its extinction has been complete it will still be in evidence to all intents and purposes.

A Gambler's Father, but Calm.

This is a really true boy story. The boy is the beloved son of an attorney in the Scarritt building. When not engaged in getting other persons out of trouble this attorney puts in his time helping his son out of difficulties. The boy is 12 years old.

The attorney was called to the telephone this morning by his stenographer. A school professor, a friend of the family, was out at the other end of the wire. "Passing along the street," the professor said, "I caught William in a gambling game—dice, 'craps,' I believe it is called. What shall I do about it?"

"Well," the attorney exclaimed, "if I were you I'd bet on William. He'll win."—Kansas City Star.

He Had Proof.

"I tell you, my boy, it pays to be good. I have reason to know it."

"Did you ever get arrested for anything?"

"No; but a lady to whom I furnished an excuse for securing a divorce from me afterward inherited a fortune."

The Problem.

"Do you think it is as easy to make a fortune as it used to be?" asked the ambitious youth.

"Easier," answered Senator Sorghum. "The problem is to do it in such a way that your friends will continue to speak to you."

Round About the State

What Is Going On in Different Sections of Kentucky.

TO PARDON HAZELETT'S SLAYER.

Said That Governor Will Free Man Who Killed a Supposed "Rider."

Frankfort, Ky.—Within the next few days Gov. Willson is expected to grant a pardon to Walter Duncan, of Jacksonville, Shelby county, who is under indictment in the Shelby circuit court for the murder of Newton Hazelett.

In granting the pardon Gov. Willson will be fulfilling his promise to the members of the Law and Order League and other such organizations to pardon them in case they killed riders trespassing upon property. The instructions of the governor to persons who desired to grow tobacco was to defend their homes, and if a killing occurred in doing so a pardon would be granted.

Duncan is ill with Bright's disease, and the chances are that he will not recover to stand trial.

STATE PRINTING.

Plans and Specifications For Letting New Contracts Ordered Prepared.

Frankfort, Ky.—George A. Lewis, of this city, has been directed by the state printing commission to prepare plans and specifications for letting new contracts for state printing.

This action on the part of the commission virtually ignores Superintendent of Printing J. W. Hedden and the question of his authority will be taken into the courts.

John C. Wood, of Mt. Sterling, had been slated for the position, but when he found that he could not accept and conduct his private business at Mt. Sterling, he declined the place.

Hedden claims he is entitled to a term of four years. He refused to state what action he will take.

Hopkins is Released.

Covington, Ky.—S. W. Hopkins, who was admitted to bail by Circuit Judge Shaw, was released from confinement, his bond of $10,000 having been signed by J. T. Leary, Grant Lambert, Wm. Riedlin, John Heidel and A. C. Lichtwadt. Immediately upon his release Hopkins left for Martinsville, Ind., where he expects to regain his health, which has been seriously impaired since his confinement. Hopkins is charged with the murder of Patrolman B. Frank Duncan, of Latonia.

Claims Bolt Caused Fire.

Lexington, Ky.—Chief Deputy H. I. McElroony, of the local revenue office, has returned from Midway, where he instituted an official investigation of the fire which destroyed the Greenbaum distillery warehouses and 2,261,840 gallons of whisky. He expressed the opinion that the fire was caused by lightning. A thorough investigation will be made by deputies from this office. The total damage is about $1,000,000.

Threatens Kentucky Woman.

Lexington, Ky.—Miss Anna Craig, prominent in humane society and church work, was warned in several notes signed "The Gang" that she must leave the city or be driven away. Other threats were made and she was also insulted in the street. She asserts that enemies were made while she was engaged in charitable work. She fears that her life is in danger and will demand protection from the city.

Merger Called Off.

Lexington, Ky.—The executive committee of the Transylvania University decided to continue Transylvania Law College. The negotiations for merger with the law department of the State University terminated with this action. Merger would have meant the demise of Transylvania Law College, and this met with pronounced objection from the alumni.

Goebel Statue Arrives.

Frankfort, Ky.—The bronze statue of the late Gov. William Goebel arrived from New York, where it was executed by Sculptor Charles H. Niehaus, and will be placed on the base of the monument which covers the grave in the state cemetery. After being erected it will remain covered until September, when the monument will be unveiled.

Doyle Acquitted.

Lexington, Ky.—On complaint of Postmaster T. L. Walker, City Assessor J. F. Doyle was indicted on the charge of carrying a concealed weapon at the last election in November. Doyle was tried in the circuit court and acquitted of the charge.

Miner Meets Death.

Mayking, Ky.—John Leonard, aged 30, miner, formerly of Carthage, O., was killed in Lacy Creek mines by falling slate. Leonard leaves a wife and family of three children.

Died of Hydrophobia.

Hopkinsville, Ky.—W. S. Allen, who was bitten by a dog in this city on November 9, 1907, and who went to Chicago to take the Pasteur treatment, died at Wynne, Ark., of hydrophobia. Allen was married the first of the year.

Minister Drowns.

Lexington, Ky.—The Rev. J. B. Darnold, pastor of Hilltop Christian church and a Bible student here, was seized with cramps while bathing near Upper Blue Lick Springs and drowned. His home is at Taylorsville.

DELEGATES NAMED

To National Farmers' Congress to Be Held at Madison, Wis.

Frankfort, Ky.—Commissioner of Agriculture Rankin has recommended to Gov. Willson the names of eleven farmers, one from each congressional district, to appoint to represent Kentucky at the National Farmers' Congress, to be held the week of September 4, at Madison, Wis. The list follows: John N. McGrew, Bayou; T. T. Barrett, Henderson; Senator John T. Smith, Dry Forks; Representative J. P. Haswell, Hardinsburg; John H. S. Waters, Harrods Creek; W. T. S. Blackburn, Dry Ridge; Charles H. Berryman, Lexington; John Thomas, Shelbyville; Shelby Blatterman, Maysalick; John E. Garner, Winchester; Senator Joe Bosworth, Middlesboro.

WOMAN'S ABILITY

Recognized By Fire Underwriters of Two States.

Louisville, Ky.—Miss Lydia Campbell, by a vote of the directors of the Kentucky and Tennessee board of fire underwriters, was named as secretary of that important body until a successor to Claude F. Snyder, resigned, can be chosen in November. This is the first time in Louisville that a woman has ever had charge of affairs so important and large as those of the underwriters' board, but Snyder declared that Miss Campbell is well equipped for the place.

Murder Cases Continued.

Lexington, Ky.—In the circuit court murder charges against Bill Britton, Alex. Hargis, Elbert Hargis, Edward Callahan and Jesse Spicer, growing out of the assassination of James Cockrill at Jackson in 1902, were continued until the next term of court. It is believed these cases will be finally filed away. These are the last cases on the docket and were caused by Breathitt county assassinations, in which James Cockrill, Dr. B. Cox and James B. Marcum were killed.

Fight Over School Election.

Harlan, Ky.—A pitched battle was fought at the Howard store at Layman. John Blanton was killed, Sherman Blanton shot in the arm, Stockley Osborne mortally wounded, Lee Russell seriously wounded and a young man whose name is not known was also shot. He ran into the timber and has not been found. The trouble grew out of the school election, recently held.

Receives Gold Medal For Shooting.

Frankfort, Ky.—Sergt. Wiley Morris, of Jackson county, of the Kentucky team in the national match at Camp Perry, was presented with a gold medal at the state range for making the highest score of any member of the team at the shoot last year. The medal was offered as a prize by Gen. Williams, who has offered a medal to the sharpshooter making the highest average this year.

Charged With Attempt To Murder.

Louisville, Ky.—Attempt to murder Miss Ethel Rayner, of Anchorage, this county, is charged against William Johnson, arrested by a posse. It is declared that the negro fired twice at Miss Rayner, the first bullet passing over her head and the second, being fired point blank at her, barely missing her face.

Burley Growers to Meet.

Lexington, Ky.—The executive board of the Burley Tobacco Society has called a meeting of the growers to be held at the headquarters in Winchester, at which will be decided whether the crop will be raised next year and what price shall be fixed on the 1907 crop yet in pool.

After Convention.

Louisville, Ky.—Determined to secure the 1909 convention of the National Association of Life Underwriters, a local delegation of insurance men left for Los Angeles. Wm. E. Current, H. J. Powell, J. M. Johnson and G. R. McDonald are in the party.

Favors Merit System.

Covington, Ky.—In his annual report, made to the Covington board of education, Superintendent of Schools P. O. Sluss recommended the adoption of the merit system, and asked that teachers be given some assurance of a reasonable tenure of office.

An Old Virginian.

Elizabethtown, Ky.—Miss Ann Elisabeth Sommers, aunt of H. A. and C. E. Sommers, editor and manager of the Elizabethtown News, died here, aged 80 years. The deceased was born at Fairfax, Va.

Jury Fails To Agree.

Burkesville, Ky.—The jury in the case of William and Hunter Short, charged with the murder of Alfred Short, failed to agree. The jury stood eight for conviction and four for acquittal.

Tots Poisoned.

Newport, Ky.—The three little sons of Charles Brown are confined to their home suffering from severely poisoned mouths which are believed to have been caused from eating ice cream cones bought from street venders.

WALTON DEPARTMENT.

D. B. WALLACE, Manager.

Hand your news items to Mr. D. B. Wallace at the Walton Equitable Bank and Trust Co.'s building. He is also authorized to receive subscriptions and collect other accounts.

C. L. McGoldrick spent Friday in Cincinnati.

James R. Wallace spent Friday in Cincinnati on business.

Mrs. Rachel Jones, who has been quite ill, is abont recovered.

Harley Carlisle, of Key West, was here Wednesday on business.

W. Scott Skirvin, of Latonia, was here one day last week on business.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Vest spent Thursday with relatives near Union.

Miss Hattie Taylor spent part of last week at Verona with relatives and friends.

Chas. Best and Miss Clara Diers spent last Wednesday at Richwood with friends.

Rod Perry Hughes, of Richwood, spent the past week at Warsaw with relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Mire, of Williams town, spent part of last week here, guests of her sister, Mrs. W. H. Tillman and family.

Dr. H. C. Black, the veterinary surgeon, spent Tuesday at Erlanger, on professional business.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. John Craddock, a fine daughter, Aug. 8th, Dr. J. G. Slater attending physician.

Dr. A. N. Jones, who has been quite ill for some time, is much improved and able to be about again.

J. O. Griffith, the clever and polished gentleman of Beaver Lick, spent Thursday here with friends.

Weeden W. Dean, of Crittenden, who travels for a wholesale preserves works, spent Friday here on business.

Wesley Murphy, who has been in Cincinnati a couple of weeks, has returned home here until business gets better.

D. B. Wallace, cashier of the Equitable Bank and Trust Co., at Walton, is sick at his home in Warsaw, and his friends fear he has an attack of fever.

Ralph Edwards, the efficient and popular deputy postmaster, spent part of last week in Cincinnati on business

Mrs. Walter Dudley, of Pueblo, Colorado, who is on a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Sleet, of Beaver Lick, spent Friday here with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Northcutt spent part of last week in Cincinnati with friends, and their daughter, Miss Nannie, spent the past week enjoying a visit.

Lystra Taylor, one of our old and esteemed citizens, spent the past week at Indianapolis, Indiana, attending the annual association of the Primitive Baptists.

Hon. J. G. Tomlin, Mrs. S. M. Adams, E. P. Northcutt and A. M. Edwards were visitors to Cincinnati last Thursday on business pertaining to their respective affairs.

Deputy Sheriff B. B. Hume, of Burlington, was here, Friday, serving processes on litigants and witnesses for the August term of the circuit court at Burlington, Aug. 10.

Misses Grace Alexander, Christina Strietelmeier and Mame Waldron, of Cincinnati, who are enjoying a visit to Mrs. John Goodridge near Kensington, spent Friday here with friends

Judge and Mrs. J. M. Lassing and children returned, last week, from their outing on Big Bone Island in the Ohio river. They enjoyed the pleasures of the trip beyond description.

Undertaker Scott Chambers was called to near Petersburg, last week, to take charge of the funeral of Mrs. Edgar Warford, who died last week after a lingering illness of consumption.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Johnson, of Connersville, Indiana, August 5th, a daughter, Helen Louise. This little girl is the first great grandchild of Mrs. Louisa Stephenson, of Walton.

Virgil Holder, who has been in Cincinnati for some time, spent the past week here with home folks, and is preparing to leave for Atlanta, Georgia, where he has been offered a nice position.

Walton has grown to such an extent it has become necessary to extend the corporate limits, and the town council has passed an ordinance adding considerable territory to the present limits.

Elmer Wilson, of Columbus, Ohio, arrived here last week on a visit to his aunts, Mrs. Eliza Frakes and Mrs. Elmer Guile. He is identified with the Institution for the Blind at Columbus, Ohio.

Neumeister Bros., Edward and Carl, sold ten head of very fine cattle to W. Lee Gaines, of Richwood, last Thursday, averaging 1,322 lbs. Three were sold at 4¼ cents and seven at 5 cents per pound.

Misses Helen Kabel, Nettie Tunhorst and Gertrude Gaivin, of Cincinnati, are visiting Mrs. J. G. Goodridge, of Kensington, and accompanied by their hostess, spent Thursday in Walton with friends.

Mrs. Maud Stilley, the night operator of the Walton telephone exchange, has been quite sick with fever, and Clarence McGoldrick has been filling her position together with discharging his other duties.

Omer Sanders, who fell from an elevation at Oak Island church by the scaffold on which he was painting, breaking, several weeks ago, badly injuring his left foot and ankle, is able to get about on crutches, but the injury mends very slowly.

John Sleet, one of the good citizens of Beaver Lick, who has a well deserved and extensive popularity with a large circle of friends, because of his excellent qualities, spent last Friday here with friends.

Prof. Otis Morgan, of Morganville, Kenton county, spent part of the past week here, guest of Prof. H. C. Wayman, and looked over the field with a view to taking up his school work next month as assistant principal of Walton graded school.

Jacob F. Cleek left Sunday for Lexington to attend the Blue Grass Fair, and to exhibit some of his fine Hampshiredown sheep, which he is advertising extensively. Mr. Cleek received a fine imported buck, last week, that he has added to his fine flock of sheep.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Acre, and Mrs. [illegible] McMillan, of Ludlow, and Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Carpenter, of Richwood, were delightfully entertained at the home of Mrs. Mary E. Fields near town Sunday. The Mesdames Acre and Carpenter are daughters of Mrs. Fields.

FOR SALE, SEED WHEAT—850 bushels Rudy Red Wheat, selected for seed, one of the best and most prolific wheats raised. Screened, $1 25 per bushel. Samples can be seen at the flouring mill of A. M. Rouse & Son, Walton, Ky.

NEUMEISTER BROS., Walton, Ky.

In the game of base ball here Saturday between the Walton Stars and a nine made up of players from Crittenden and Piner in Grant county, the Walton club defeated the visitors by a score of 16 to 5. The game was well patronized and greatly enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Rice, of Covington, spent part of last week here, guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Conner and other friends. Mr. Rice is in charge of the cutlery department of the Pickering Hardware Company, of Cincinnati, and is very popular with his firm.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Carroll are entertaining a handsome little daughter at their beautiful home near town, born Wednesday, August 5th. Dr. B. K. Menefee attending physician. Mr. Carroll has just completed a very pretty residence and the little lady is wished many a happy day under its roof.

Edgar Lamkin, of Warsaw, spent Wednesday here in the interest of the great Harrison Bros. paint, the kind that is used to paint the government buildings at Washington, and said to be the best made. He sold a nice bill of paint to Edwards Bros. of Walton, who will be pleased to supply all the public wants.

The lawn fete given by the young people of the Christian church on the beautiful lawn of Miss Myrtle Murphy, Saturday night, was well patronized and a neat sum of money was realized for the benefit of the church. The evening, though quite cool, did not deter the friends of the young people and church assembling in large numbers.

Johnathan Johnson and family, of Erlanger, and Mr. and Mrs. John T. Johnson, of near Crittenden, were guests of Mrs. Jane E. Johnson, last Thursday, coming here to attend the funeral of Mrs. Johnson's nephew, Bert Johnson, who died at Spring Hill, Ohio, from appendicitis, and whose remains were brought here and interred at Richwood.

CARD OF THANKS—We desire to express our heartfelt gratitude to our many kind and sympathetic friends, who so thoughtfully and kindly ministered to us in our deep affliction and sorrow in the death of our dear little daughter, Mary Elizabeth Johnson; for the beautiful flowers—tokens of love and sympathy, and for every kindly act we will ever remember in most grateful appreciation.

MR. AND MRS. A. R. JOHNSON.

Judge John H. Westover, of Owenton, publisher of the Owen County Democrat, was a visitor here last Friday to Judge John M. Lassing. He contracted to print the ballots of the Congressional primary election in this the Sixth Congressional District. Judge Westover has been offered a fine opening at Yuma, Arizona, and may go there this fall if he can make a proper disposition of his newspaper.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Johnson and their granddaughter, Miss Katie, of Ardmore, Oklahoma, arrived here last week on a visit to their old home at Big Bone, and spent part of the week here, guests of Dr. J. G. Slater and wife. Mr. Johnson and Geo. L. Miller, of Big Bone, will attend the Grand Encampment of the G. A. R. at Detroit the latter part of this month, both being old veterans of the civil war.

Hon. Robert H. Elliston, of Williamstown, was here last Tuesday and made a short address at the opera house to a small audience. Everybody in this quarter seems to favor Mr. Elliston in his race for the Democratic nomination for Congress, the primary election occurring Saturday, August 22d. Mr. Elliston was very hoarse from his constant speaking, and his friends here asked him to spare his strength by not making a lengthy speech here that night.

C. Presley Adams, son of the late Dr. Samuel M. Adams, who has been the amanuensis in the law office of J. G. Tomlin, went to Cincinnati last week to have his eyes treated. When a little lad he lost one of his eyes by an accident and lately both have become affected and he concluded it would be best to go under the treatment of a specialist before serious complications arise. Mr. Adams is a fine young man and it is hoped he will soon recover.

MARRIED—Edward Earl Ashcraft and Miss Scouia Washum, a young couple from Verona, were united in the holy bonds of wedlock, Tuesday, August 4th, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Ran Rouse in Walton, Rev. J. B. Harris, pastor of the Methodist church, in his pleasant and impressive manner, performing the ceremony. Six young people from Verona accompanied the happy young couple and gave them hearty congratulations. Mr. and Mrs. Ashcraft will make their home at Verona.

The remains of Bert Johnson, the fourteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel G. Johnson, were brought here Thursday from Clarksville, Ohio, and undertaker Edwards Bros. took charge and the funeral cortege proceeded to Richwood, where the services were held by Rev. Miller, of the Presbyterian church, and [illegible] followed at that place. The deceased was a deaf mute, but was a remarkably bright boy. He was born near Beaver Lick, where his father was a tenant on J. O. Griffith's farm. The boy died at Spring Hill, Ohio, from appendicitis, after an illness of about four days.

Mrs. Mary E. Fields entertained quite a company at her pleasant home near Walton on Friday of last week, in honor of her aunt, Mrs. Hannah Kniffin, of Philadelphia. There were present Rev. Dr. W. W. Evans and wife, Mrs. E. J. Fields, Mrs. Enoch Williams and daughter, Dr Lum Metcalf, wife and two daughters, and Mrs. Wm. Metcalf. Mrs. Fields never does anything by halves, but serves most elegantly and to the delight of her friends. Her aunt, Mrs. Kniffin, is a most charming woman, and was the wife of Dr. J. B. Kniffin, who, as a young physician, once practiced his profession in Boone county, but afterward moved to Philadelphia, where he became eminent as a practioner.

It is strange how a reasonable, sensible man can give away to his temper to a degree to make a public exhibition of himself and bring down on his misguided head the condemnation of the people; but his behavior becomes unbearable when he vents his ill temper on a poor, defenseless dumb brute. Walton witnessed an exhibition of this kind last week when an itinerant vender of teas and coffees from Cincinnati became infuriated at his poor horse and lashed it with whip and kicks until spectators complained to Justice of the Peace, John Watson, who took the man into custody and gave him a plain lecture on what civilized, humane people thought of such brutality, collecting a $2 fine as a reminder to not be guilty of such behavior again.

Friday evening two gentleman and a lady, on their way to Cincinnati in an automobile, were stopped by Justice of the Peace John Watson and Town Marshal Wm. C. Moxley, in response to a telephone message from Williamstown, asking their detention because the automobile scared a horse of a rural mail carrier at that place. The parties admitted the horse showed some fright, and they stopped the machine, and when the horse quieted down they proceeded on their journey, and if they injured the party in any way they were willing to pay. The message then came for them to pay the authorities six dollars for damages to the buggy, or they would have them arrested when they reached Covington. The people declined to pay it, and the authorities did not exact it of them, but turned the "smoke wagon" loose to pursue its journey.

Mrs. Virginia Dickson Sanders, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Dickson, formerly of Walton, died at her home on Walnut Hills, Cincinnati, August 3d, after a lingering illness from consumption. The remains were brought here Wednesday and taken in charge by Edwards Bros., undertakers, the funeral taking place at the Methodist church, Rev. J. B. Harris conducting the services in a feeling and impressive manner. Mrs. Sanders was born at Walton, Feb. 16th, 1886, and was therefore 22 years, 5 month and 17 days old at the time of her death. She united with the Baptist church when 13 years old under the ministry of Rev. G. W. Hill. Sept. 7th 1904, she was united in marriage to Rev. J Russell Sanders, a minister of the Methodist church, and they moved to Oklahoma, where they remained for some time, returning to this country and residing at Walnut Hills, Cincinnati, where she answered the summons to come to her heavenly home. On Friday preceding her death she sent for her schoolmate and companion of early youth, Miss Queen Tillman, who joined the church at the same time and place she did, and Miss Tillman remained at her bedside, ministering to her comfort until her death Monday morning. Mrs. Sanders leaves her parents, five brothers, one sister and a devoted husband to mourn her and early death. The many friends here extend the bereaved ones their heartfelt sympathy.

If you intend buying a buggy or runabout, see E. K. Stephens, Walton, Ky. He sells for cash or on credit. tf.

Rev. Andrews, of Covington, will begin a protracted meeting at Walton Baptist church, at 7:45 this, Wednesday, evening.

BASE BALL.

The strong Belleview base ball team came up last Saturday afternoon, and took the scalps of the Burlington aggregation again for the fourth time out of the six games the two teams have played this season. The game last Saturday afternoon was close and nicely played. The following about tells how it was done. McCarty, Sandford and Stuckey, the first three visitors up fanned. Clore went out to first, Slayback hit to right field, but was thrown out by catcher when trying to steal second; Brady fanned. This was about the way the game proceeded until the fourth inning when Earl Smith made a three bagger, which by the assistance of a bad throw he stretched into a home run. In the fifth inning Rogers made a two bagger to right, Botts went out on a fly to left field, but Clore hit to right field and scored Rogers, tieing the score. Nothing more was done until the eighth when Clore got first on balls, McCarty hit to center field, C. Sandford got first on a fielder's choice as did Stuckey, Perkins hit to right. In this mixup Clore and McCarty had been put down at the plate but Charlie Sandford scored and won the game. Following is the score by innings:

Boones	0	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	—1
Hits	1	0	1	1	0	0	2	1	0	—6
Belleview	0	0	0	0	1	0	0	1	0	—2
Hits	0	1	2	1	2	0	0	2	0	—8

Struck out—By Brady 10; by Sandford 8. Base hits—Slayback, Conner, Walton, Tolin, White; McCarty 1, C. Sandford, Perkins, E. Sandford 2, Clore. Two base hits—McCarty, Rogers. Three base hit—E. Smith. Umpires—Keene Souther and Russell Smith.

The Gunpowders and Allsorts had a slugging match last Saturday that resulted 9 to 5 in favor of the Allsorts.

Burlington and the Second Division of Belleview ball tossers will hook up at Burlington park next Saturday afternoon.

The Hebron and Belleview ball teams will play on the grounds of the former next Saturday afternoon.

IMPORTANT

.....TO.....

Railway Men, Farmers and Workingmen.

In the spring of 1903 the section men of the Cincinnati, New Orleans & Texas Pacific Railway (Cincinnati Southern), on the division from Ludlow, Ky., to Lexington, Ky., retained Clifford E. Nadaud, of Covington, as their attorney to organize a movement for the purpose of securing for them, if possible, either an advance in wages or less hours of labor each day (without a decrease of the then prevailing wages). A letter written to Mr. Nadaud brought him out promptly to interview the section men. After he ascertained their wishes, Mr. Nadaud volunteered to take the entire charge of the matter, without expense to the men, either in case he should succeed or fail.

Mr. Nadaud returned to Covington and immediately started to work. For four months he labored incessantly. During these four months he made six different trips, walking the railroad tracks from Walton to Mason, Ky., a distance of 21 miles, to consult and advise with the men personally. After much work and infinite perseverance, at the end of four months Mr. Nadaud succeeded, and secured for every railroad section man between Ludlow and Lexington, Ky., an increase in wages of 5 per cent, and also, in addition to this, one hour each day less of labor, and today all the men receive the above advantages, entirely and solely due to the work for them by Clifford E. Nadaud.

Mr. Nadaud refused to charge or receive a fee or to allow the men to pay him the expense he had contracted by his numerous trips. The men desired then to make up a purse, but Mr. Nadaud would not permit this.

We, the section men, finding that he (who was in the time of need a true friend of the laboring man) is now a candidate for Congress in the Sixth Kentucky District, do, without his knowledge or consent, arrange this statement.

We do so, moved by the gratitude that fills our hearts for our friend, Cliff Nadaud, whom we know to be a sincere champion of the great common people, able, loyal, honorable and worthy of the confidence and support of every working man, whether he tills the soil, works at the bench or labors on the steel highway.

Signed for us, all section men on Cincinnati Southern Railway between Ludlow and Lexington, Ky.

By TOM O'HERAN,
Section Foreman Cin. S. Ry., Sec. 4, Bracht, Ky., Kenton Co.

JAS. M'GINNIS,
Section Foreman Cin. S. Ry., Sec. 5, Sherman, Ky., Grant Co.

JOS. F. OILTNER,
Section Foreman Cin. S. Ry. Sec 7, Mason, Ky., Grant Co.

YOU NEED A BUGGY

AND I HAVE IT FOR YOU.

CAN SAVE YOU MONEY.

New Buggies, Runabouts

and Harness for Sale or Trade.

Workmanship the Best, and Material Guaranteed.

When in Burlington call and See me.

B. B. HUME, - Burlington, Ky.

It was generally understood that the last legislature passed a law providing for one day's pay for regular grand and petit jurors drawn from the jury wheel, but being discharged without being empaneled, but so far the local officers have been unable to find it among the published acts.

Gasoline engines are becoming almost a necessity on the modern farm. They are doing all the big things which the farmers formerly used the horses and borrowed their neighbors' horses to do as well as all the little things which tired the women and boys.

Republican newspapers made fun of Mr. Bryan for talking into a phonograph for campaign purposes, but as Mr. Taft has followed Mr. Bryan's example they will have no further adverse comments. It seems to have been Mr. Bryan's province for several years to originate ideas for the Republicans to adopt.

NOTICE—Those who owe the Burlington Jack Co. for services for year 1907, will please come forward and settle, and, also, remember that this company gives three premiums for the best mules shown at Burlington on county court day in September, 1908.

B. W. ADAMS,
President.

Good Things to Eat in Hot Weather at Hot Weather Prices

Sunny Side Baked Beans with tomato sauce, 3 lb. can	10c
3 for	25c
Deep Sea Oysters	10c
3 for	25c
Post Toasties	10c
Quaker Wheat Berries, bx	7c
Zenith Red Salmon 2 for	25c
Hunter Salmon, 3 for	25c
Excelsior Butter or Soda Crackers, lb	10c
Large Milk Bottle of Mustard	10c
Fresh Cakes, all sorts—pound	10 to 20c
Large Sour Pickles, doz	12c
Medium Sweet "	10c
Syrup, 10 lb. bucket	35c
Sardines, can	5c, 10c
Full Cream Cheese, lb	18c
Swiss Cheese, lb	20c
Pure Comb Honey, lb	15c
Deviled Ham	5 and 10c
Golden Blend Coffee, lb	20c
Moneyworth Coffee, lb	17c
Three pounds	50c
Capitol Tea, fine—hot or cold, lb	60c
Capitol Flour, bbl	$5.00
Telephone Flour, bbl	5.25
Pure Cream Tartar Baking Powder, lb	30c

GEO. C. GOODE,
AGENT.
Covington, Kentucky.
Pike & Washington.

Subscribe for the Recorder.

TAX-PAYERS NOTICE.

The Taxpayers of Boone County are hereby notified that I or my Deputy will be at the places and on the dates named below to collect 1908 taxes:

Florence, July 13th and October 13th.
Verona, July 14th and October 13th.
Walton, July 15th and October 14th.
Petersburg, July 16th and October 15.
Bellevue, July 17th and October 16th.
Beaver, July 20th and October 19th.
Big Bone, July 21st and October 20th.
Union, July 22d and October 21st.
Rabbit Hash, July 24th and Oct. 8th.
Constance, July 27th and Oct. 9th.
Bullittsville, July 28th and Oct. 22d.
Hebron, October 23rd.
Gunpowder, October 28th.
Richwood, October 27th.

RATES—State, 50 cents; County, 15c on the $100, six per cent penalty added December 1st on all unpaid taxes.

Pay your Poll-tax before December 1st and you will not be put on the delinquent list. Interest and cost of collecting will be added on all delinquent taxes.

M. F. WINGATE,
Sheriff Boone County.

Rogers Bros. General Merchants,

BELLEVUE, KY.

Keep on hand a General Stock of MERCHANDISE.

Coal Kept in the Yard.

Country Produce taken in Trade.

Administratrors Notice.

All persons indebted to the estate of Z. T. Baker, deceased, must come forward and settle, and all those having claims against said estate must present them to the undersigned proven according to law.

N. E. RIDDELL, Admr.,
Burlington, Ky.

H. C. BLACK, VETERINARY + SURGEON,

WALTON, KENTUCKY.

Treats all diseases pertaining to animals. Prompt attention given to all calls. Telephone connections.

RIDGEVIEW STOCK FARM
Boone County, Ky.
BREEDER OF
Aberdeen-Angus Cattle and Duroc Jersey Swine.
Stock for Sale. Address or call
W. W. COCHRAN, Mgr. - Delhi, Ohio.
(The Chambers Farm.)

BOONE HIGH SCHOOL

Do your High School work at home where teachers will take especial interest in you. This School offers the regular four years High School and the eight years Common School Courses.

TUITION:
High School Course...$40.00
Common School Course..$25.00
Per Session.

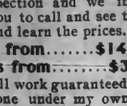
Two well qualified teachers besides the Superintendent.

School Opens Sept. 14th.

For Particulars write to
EDGAR C. RILEY, Supt.,
BURLINGTON, KY.

J. Bullock & Son,

PRACTICAL TAILORS,
HEBRON, - KENTUCKY.



Our Spring and Summer samples are ready for inspection and we invite you to call and see them and learn the prices.

Suits from.....$14.00 up.
Pants from.....$3.00 up.

All work guaranteed and done under my own supervision.

J. Bullock & Son,
HEBRON, KY.

Dr. L. E. ROUSE,

DENTIST,

Will be at Burlington on Monday of each week. Union on Tuesday, balance of time at my office in Masonic Building, LUDLOW, KY.

Watches That Keep Time

A watch that doesn't keep time is worse than no watch at all. We sell only the reliable kind and guarantee you the lowest prices. Ladies' gold-filled case, Elgin or Waltham movement, $10 00 up; gentlemen's gold-filled case, Elgin or Waltham movement, $9 00 up. Solid gold at equally low prices.

Motch,
The Jeweler,
613 MADISON,
Covington, Ky.

"Always Reliable."

W. N. HIND & CO.

Carpets, Furniture, Stoves,

310-12 W. Fifth Street,
Cincinnati, - Ohio.

Grocery For Sale.

I desire to sell, privately, my entire Stock of Groceries and Fixtures, &c., in Union, Ky.

N. W. BURKETT, Union, Ky.

Administrators Notice.

All persons indebted to the estate of Thos. S. Whitaker, dec'd, will come forward and settle at once, and those having claims against said estate will present them to the undersigned properly proven.

J. M. GRANT, Administrator with will annexed.

POSTED.

Notice is hereby given that my property knowu as Laughery Island is posted against all kinds of trespass.

JOHN SMITH, Grant, Ky.

R. O. HUGHES,

—SURVEYOR,—

RICHWOOD, - KY.

Am prepared to do, and will answer all calls for surveying in Boone and adjoining counties Over 20 years experience as a practical surveyor

"In the Heart of the Blue Grass."

1798 Transylvania University 1908

Continuing

Kentucky University.

Attend Transylvania University. A standard institution with elective courses, modern equipment, scholarly surroundings, good moral influences. Expenses reasonable. Students from twenty-seven states and seven foreign countries. First term begins Sept. 14, 1908. Write for catalog to-day.

PRESIDENT TRANSYLVANIA UNIVERSITY, Lexington, Ky.

Fisher's Liniment

wont kill potato bugs or the dog But it will stop that Diarrhoea, Cholera Morbus, Cramps, Headache and Colic. It's worth the money.

SOLD 29½ YEARS.

Fisher's Liniment is sold by druggists and dealers thru Boone and parts of Kenton and Grant counties.

25 and 50 Cents.

DR. L. H. CRISLER, VETERINARY + SURGEON.

Residence 1552 Scott St,
COVINGTON, - - KENTUCKY.
Phone, South 1346.

It will pay you to advertise your Business in this Paper. Try it.

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER.

ESTABLISHED 1875.
Subsciption $1.50 year.
Try it One Year.

VOL. XXXIII. BURLINGTON, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 19, 1908. NO. 44.

County News Items

Interesting Facts Gathered During the Week by Our Regular Correspondents.

BIG BONE.

Corn needs rain badly, and grass is burned up.

Lost, strayed or stolen from G. L. Miller—a buck sheep.

W. R. Miller has a lot of young cattle and hogs for sale.

Mrs. T. A. Huey dined George H. Capital, of Louisville and W. R. and J. J. Miller, a few days ago.

T. B. Johnson and wife and granddaughter are visiting here They are the picture of health and are prospering in Oklahoma.

Hon. R. H. Elliston, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress will speak here Thursday night August 20th, at 8 o'clock. Mr. Elliston is one of the best orators in the sixth district, and never fails to entertain and instruct his audience. Be snre to come out and hear him.

o o o

CONSTANCE.

William Peno was elected school trustee in this district.

The primary election, next Saturday, will be held in Dr. Murats' office.

Constance base ball club defeated the Meadow Larks, of Covington, 11 to 3.

A. Zurilla found $72 in the garbage while at work at the factory, Monday.

Constance people entertained a good many Cincinnati friends, last Sunday.

Someone tried to steal a tent and a lot of bed clothes from the Tuxedo Fishing Club.

Misses Gerdie Brannon and Geneva Edgell, of Cincinnati, are visiting Miss Sophia Murat.

Wm. Tanner and family and Mrs. Sebree and others visited camp Zimmer near Burlingtou, Sunday.

Willis Cox shot several times, a few nights since at parties who were dismantling his gasoline launch.

A string band from the Wooden Shoe String Fishing Club serenaded several Constance people last Saturday night.

Howard Garnett and family, Miss Clara Wernz and Miss Sophia Murat, were Sunday guests of Arthur Garnett and family, of Covington.

Julius Biel paid John Peno $20 for damages for his cows trespassing on his premises. Peno claimed that they horned him when he was trying to get them out of his field.

W. J. Davis and Rev. W. G. Morgan, of Limaburg, were Sunday visitors to Constance. Rev. Morgan will conduct a series of meetings here when the weather gets cooler.

o o o

BELLEVIEW.

Dode C. Pope and Bennie Cook have been cleaning cisterns. They do good work.

Mrs. Elizabeth Snyder is quite poorly. She passed her 80th mile stone in life on the 9th.

A large crowd attended the services of Bro. Utz at the Baptist church Friday morning.

The canning factory made a little run, last Wednesday, canning about 25 or 30 bushels of tomatoes. The crop is quite short here.

I am informed by the trustees that the graded school here will begin in September in the Odd-Fellows' Hall, Misses Katie Craig and Bettie Dolph, teachers.

Glad to know that Chas. Maurer has given us the chance to make him our next county clerk. I think he can fill the position with credit to himself and patrons. We know this much: He is an all wool and a yard wide Democrat.

Miss Minnie Deck, of Cincinnati, is here on a business trip. She sold her Rabbit Hash tract of land containing 36 acres, to F. M. and E. M. Hodges for $600. While here she had the body of her grandfather, John Smith, moved from the old cemetery to the new.

Gloom was cast over this neighborhood by the death of Bro. T. L. Utz, last Wednesday morning. Bro. Utz spent his time while here building a mansion in the beyond instead of building it here, not only for himself but for others. He leaves a son and daughter by his first wife, and a second wife, son and daughter. He had charge of the Belleview Baptist church at the time of his death. Bro. Utz was a man full of faith and of the holy spirit. The interests of the Kingdom of God found the first place in his life. He believed with all his heart that the gospel of Jesus Christ was the only remedy that would ultimately solve the problems of life, and so in his ministry he devoted himself to the proclamating of that gospel with singular self denial and fidelity. Although he suffered greatly for the last few months with tuberculosis of the bowels, his faith in God and in the life everlasting, never faltered. He went to sleep as calmly and peacefully as a tired child ever lay down to rest in its mother's arms. His body rests in Big Bone cemetery, his spirit is with God. Hundreds of those led to Christ greeted him at heaven's gate, giving praise to God that through him they had heard the old, old story. His memory and influence still lives with us, never to die. May each and all be found emulating his footsteps. May God's blessing be showered upon his family is the prayer of the writer.

HATHAWAY.

Thermometers here registered 102, last Sunday.

Robert McNeely will teach the Locust Grove school this winter.

Miss Edna McAtee will begin teaching Beech Grove school next Monday.

The low, bottom corn along Gunpowder is looking fine and promises a fair yield.

The B. Y. P. U. will meet with Misses Jennie and Roxie Aylor Tuesday evening, of this week.

Edward Brady and family, near the lower ford of Gunpowder spent, last Saturday at W. S. White's.

W. T. Ryle and wife, of Commissary, visited their relatives and friends on Gunpowder, last Saturday and Sunday.

W. S. White and wife and daughter, Mrs. Lourena Kelly. Sundayed with Edward Brady and family of lower Gunpowder.

Charles Smith and James Sullivan were over in Indiana, near Lawrenceburg, looking for work last Friday and Saturday.

Prof. Elbert Ryle will have four days more of the normal school this week for the benefit of the applicants for examination on Friday and Saturday.

James Mitchell, of upper Gunpowder, the expert angler, was down near the mouth of the creek, fishing one day last week, and saw some kind of an animal that looked like an otter.

The angel of death has invaded this neighborhood again and removed from our midst an old and esteemed lady and citizen, Mrs. Harriet Reib, wife of Jacob Reib, who preceded her in death some ten years ago. She died August 13th of consumption from which she suffered for some time past. She was seventy years, 6 months and 25 days old. She was married to Jacob Reib, Feb. 29th, 1860. To them four children were born, three sons and one daughter who still survive. She was a member of the Presbyterian church for about 25 years and was a good, christian lady. The remains were taken to Big Bone church by undertakers Allison & Yates. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. William McMillan. The remains were laid to rest in the cemetery by the side of her husband in the presence of a large concourse of sorrowing friends and relatives. The family has the sympathy of many friends and neighbors in the sad bereavement. Their loss is her gain.

o o o

COMMISSARY.

(AND EVERYWHERE.)

Miss Eva Akin, of Woolper, was sick the first of the week.

Ed Burres, of Commissary, bought a nice cow at the Jarrell sale. Price $35.

The blacksmiths at Idlewild are overrun with work. The dry weather is a harvest for them.

There is strong talk of a traction line from Bromley to Petersburg, by way of Hebron and Idlewild.

John Barnes and family, of Idlewild, spent last Sunday with Ed Burres and family, of Commissary.

Miss Grace Louden, of Scrapville, visited his sister Mrs. Omer McGuire, of Idlewild, from Monday until Friday.

Miss Carrie Graves, of Bullittsville, entertained her young friends with a party Tuesday night, at which all had a pleasant time.

Mrs. Harriet Slayback, of Commissary, is in poor health with dropsy, and being advanced in age makes her trouble difficult to treat.

Ye scribe spent last Saturday and night with Ransom Ryle, of route 2 from Burlington, and painted and relettered his mail box while there.

Mrs. Thomas Nettles, of Lawrenceburg and daughter, Mrs. Minnie Day nee Petersburg, visited Geo. Koons, of Rock Branch, Saturday night and Sunday.

We were over in Indiana last week, and painted a few mail boxes on route 3 from Aurora, and will return in the near future and canvass the entire routes of 1, 2 and 3.

Bill Jones was walking up the hill on the pike from the Idlewild toll gate a few days since, and at the steepest part of the hill he caught up with a Jew driving a donkey hitched to a wagon loaded with scrapiron. The donkey was unable to reach the top of the hill. Mr. Jones put his shoulder to the hind end of the wagon, and with his help, the donkey pulled the load to the top of the hill. The Jew thanked him and said, "I never could have got to the top with one donkey."

Health Advice.

Mrs. M. M. Davison, of No. 379 Gifford Ave., San Jose, Cal., says: "The worth of Electric Bitters as a general family remedy, for headache, billiousness and torpor of the liver and bowels is so pronounced that I am prompted to say a word in its favor, for the benefit of those seeking relief from such afflictions. There is more health for the digestive organs in a bottle of Electric Bitters than in any other remedy I know of." Sold under guarantee at Bentler's drug store, Erlanger. 50c.

UNION.

Miss Mary Hedges spent Sunday with friends here.

W. P. Corbin is convalescing after an illness of several days.

Miss Nannie P. Burkett is visiting her cousin, Mrs. Anderson, of Avondale.

Mrs. W. T. Spears, of Vanceburg, is spending this week with her sister, Mrs. W. M. Rachal.

I. S. Asbury, of Maysville, spent Thursday night and Friday with friends and relatives here.

Will Cronell, of Covington, is spending several days with his mother, Mrs. J. P. Dunbar.

Ben Norman and wife, of Covington, are out for a two weeks' stay with their aunt, Mrs. L. H. Voshell.

William Huey, of Cynthiana, came up and joined the house party at his grandmother's, Mrs. J. W. Kennedy.

Miss Bessie Allison, a trained nurse of Ludlow, is nursing Master John Rachal through a light case of typhoid fever.

Coleman Lassing, one of Union's handsome young men, is attending a house party at Crescent Springs, given by Miss Lee.

Mrs. Martin Weaver has returned to her home in Sales Creek, Tenn., after a pleasant visit with her sister, Mrs. R. D. Hedges.

Miss Maryetta Riley is here for a few days before going to work again. She spent a three weeks' vacation with her kinspeople in Missouri.

Miss Clara Stevens has gone to Sherman to visit her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Adams. She will apply for a school in that neighborhood.

Mrs. Mag Tanner lost a pair of gold framed glasses between Lee Cleek's and her home, last Wednesday. Anyone finding them will please notify her or leave them at W. M. Rachal's store.

Dr. John Hurget, pastor of Ninth Street Baptist church, Cincinnati, closed a series of meetings at the Baptist church here, Thursday night. In all seven, thirteen for baptism and two by letter.

M. C. Norman and W. W. Conner have gotten the silos they ordered from the Indiana Silo Co., and will erect themin the near future. The farmers around here were quite indifferent as to ordering a silo, yet all are anxious to see these two completed.

A number of real estate transfers took place here last week. J. T. Bristow purchased the Hook Senour property. P. B. Utz and A. H. Norman are repairing the house. Mr. Senour bought a half acre lot on high street. Miss Lillian Corbin, and Geo. Rouse, to John Thomas lot on the pike.

o o o

PETERSBURG.

Miss Frances Grant, near Belleview, is visiting Mrs. H. E. Arnold.

Mrs. Eliza Crouch, who has been quite sick the past week, is somewhat improved.

Mrs. Micheal Tafferty, of Lawrenceburg, has been visiting her father, Mr. Houze.

Mrs. Fannie Snyder and daughter, Miss Mary, spent Sunday in Burlington with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Milward Cave, of Cincinnati, are visiting Mr. M. V. Cave and daughter.

Miss Lillian McNeely, of New Orleans, is the guest of her grandmother, Mrs. Martha McNeely.

Mr. J. W. Lancaster and son, Walter, of Ghent, have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Crouch.

Mrs. Henry Blitz has been entertaining her mother and two sisters, and Mrs. Cavanaugh, of Aurora.

Mr. and Mrs. Morton Snyder and daughter, of Chattanooga, Tennessee, are here visiting relatives and friends

Wm. Smith, and son, Dliver, of Muncie, Indiana, are visiting Steven Burns and family after an absence of 16 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Mahan and Mrs. Bruce and daughter, of Lawrenceburg, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Mahan.

Mrs. F. A. Hastings and sister, Miss Leona Conner, are the pleasant guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Conner.

Mr. and Mrs. D. M Snyder, of Cincinnati, have been here several days, guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Snyder.

Mrs. Harry Williams, nee Elizabeth Hartman, of Cincinnati, has been the guest of friends in Petersburg and vicinity.

Mrs. Lloyd McGlasson and daughter, of Parlor Grove, are guests of Mrs. McGlasson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Crisler.

Miss Lucille Berkshire, one of our sweetest girls, is the guest of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Ryle, of Florence.

Quite a number of members of the local lodge of Odd-Fellows attended the funeral of Rev. T. L. Utz, last Friday at Belleview.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott Chambers and interesting children, of Walton, visited their parents here, last week, and attended the Lawrenceburg fair.

Capt. and Mrs. R. H. Bolen and daughter, Miss Bernice, and Miss Lillian Courier, of New Orleans, arrived here Monday for a visit with relatives.

Rev. and Mrs. Milo Atkinson, who have been spending a month here with Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Chambers, returned to their home in Covington, Saturday.

Boone county was certainly well represented at the Lawrenceburg fair last week. Nearly everyone in this part of the county attended on Friday and Saturday. Everyone reports it the best in many years.

Go to the fair at Florence next week, witness a fine show, and meet your many friends. No place like the Florence fair to meet old acqualntances.

FLICKERTOWN.

Cage Stephens and family, of Florence, visited near here Sunday.

Charles Clore and wife visited C. J. Hensley and family Sunday.

Mrs. Frank Voshell has been somewhat indisposed for several days.

C. A. Finn and family dined with J. W. White and family, Sunday.

James Huey and Arthur Dean, of Union, called on Ed Botts, Monday.

Mrs. Wm. Setters, of Nashville, Tenn., is visiting her parents near here.

Mrs. Charles Voshell, son and daughter visited friends and relatives here, Saturday until Monday.

A great many of our people attended the Lawrenceburg fair last week and pronounced it the best for years.

o o o

LIMABURG.

J. M. Craven and family were visiting at J. P. Utz's Sunday.

Lloyd Aylor and wife were pleasant guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Beemon, Sunday.

J. B. Conrad is building an addition to his house, which will improve its appearance considerably.

Mr. and Mrs. Legrand Utz and C. L. Tanner and wife and Miss Essie Beemon were Sunday guests of H. L. Tanner and wife.

Several from this neighborhood attended the funeral of Rev. T. L. Utz at Big Bone church. Rev. Utz had been a resident of this vicinity and had won the love and respect of all who knew him. The family have the sympathy of this entire community in their sorrow.

o o o

RICHWOOD.

Mrs. Lanahan, of Lexington, was the guest of relatives here, last week.

Ben Cleek and family were Sunday guests of Cove Carpenter, in Kenton.

Miss Ida Grubbs spent the week with a jolly set of Erlangerites in camp near Constance.

Miss Alma Mahoiland, of Cincinnati, was the guest of Miss Ida Grubbs, last Thursday.

Walter Wolfe was helping Chas. Wolfe in the blacksmith shop, the latter part of last week.

Mrs Jasper Carpenter and daughters, of Latonia, were guests of Mrs. Ivy Carpenter, last week.

Robert Robinson and Miss Cecil Tanner, of Union, will be joined in the bands of holy wedlock ere this reaches the eyes of the reader. Many friends wish them well.

The remains of Uncle Jeff Carpenter were laid to rest in the Carpenter cemetery, Tuesday. Rev. Bly, of the M. E. church, conducted the services at Mt. Zion church.

o o o

WATERLOO.

Wm. Clore remains poorly.

Lonnie Clore spent Sunday with his father here.

Colon Kelly attended lodge at Patriot, Ind., several days last week.

Robert Gulley spent a couple of days with friends in this vicinity, last week.

Dave Williamson and wife, of Beech Grove, were shopping in Rising Sun, Wednesday.

Mrs. Lewis Conner, of Burlington, spent several days last week with Mrs. J. M. Conner and family.

Mrs. Lizzie Rector spent Wednesday afternoon very pleasantly with Mrs. Wm. Satchwill near here.

Mrs. Theresa Conner, of Cincinnati, and sister, of Buffalo, N. Y., are visiting Mrs. J. M. Conner and children of Clore's Ridge.

Etna McAtee will teach the Beech Grove school, Robert McNeely the Locust Grove and Gladys Ryle the East Bend school, the coming term.

Sunday the many friends of Walter Ryle came in with well filled baskets to celebrate his birthday, he knowing nothing of preparations until the guests began to arrive and was given quite a surprise. The day was spent very pleasantly.

o o o

GUNPOWDER.

N. R. Stephens died at his home in Erlanger last Monday.

Mrs. Alice Houston has sufficiently to be up again.

J. C. Hankins and wife, of Hebron, broke bread with ye scribe last Sunday.

L. P. Aylor and wife are rejoicing over the arrival of a little girl. Accept our congratulations, Pete.

Quite a large number from here attended the funeral of Rev. T. L. Utz at Big Bone church, last Friday.

J. H. Tanner and wife entertained last Sunday, W. H. Tanner and wife and Mesdames Cora Blankenbeker and Lizzie Bartell.

At the Joint Council meeting, last Saturday, E. H. Surface was elected delegate to attend the meeting of Miami Synod, and J. B. Dixon, alternate.

J. P. Tanner and family, Harve Tanner and wife, J. M. Utz and wife, Mrs. Frances J. Tanner and Mrs. Fannie Clntterbuck, were Sunday guests of Ezra Blankenbeker and wife.

Harry Wilson and Miss Lutie Rouse were married at LaGrange, last Wednesday. From there they went to Louisville returning last Saturday. This is a worthy young couple and they have a host of friends who wish them a long and happy life.

At the meeting last Saturday the directors of the North Kentucky Agricultural Association added the following two rings for the approaching fair at Florence:

Best Coach Horse, Mare or Gelding, any age...	$10 00	5 00
Best Draft Colt 2 years old and under 3.....	8 00	4 00

For Sale—2 yearling mules—match nicely; also one suckling mule. Apply to W. H. Drew, Big Bone.

Circuit Court.

The attendance upon court was very small.

It required $192 to pay the grand and petit jurors.

The grand jury was in session three days and returned only four indictments, each of which was for a small offense.

W. H. Iliff against A. H. C. Miller—dismissed without prejudice, with leave to withdraw exhibit sued on.

Wait against Cross—mandate and opinion of the court, affirming filed.

Winefrede Coal Co. against Paul Kruger, judgment and order of sale for lot of coal.

Mary Adams against L. & N. Railroad Co.—verdict and judgment for defendant on peremptory instructions.

Edward Huey against Minnie Huey—purchaser allowed to pay last sale bond, and commissioner ordered to pay to parties entitled.

Charles Moore against Lewis R. Terrill—mandate and opinion of court of appeals affirming, filed.

Boone County Deposit Bank against H. J. Casey—judgment and order of sale in favor of Myrtle Conner, on her cross petition.

Nancy Graves against Bullittsville and Dry Creek Turnpike Co.—on motion of plaintiff and defendant, the case was dismissed.

The damage suit of Mrs. Mary Adams, of Walton, against the L. & N. Railroad Co. was stubbornly fought for two days, but upon motion of the defendant upon the conclusion of plaintiff's testimony, the court instructed the jury to return a verdict for the defendant.

When circuit court adjourned, last Friday afternoon until tomorrow, the Powers-Lipscomb suit was on trial.

An immense crowd of sorrowing friends and relatives attended the memorial service held over the remains of Rev. T. L. Utzat Belleview Baptist church at 8 o'clock a. m., last Friday. A pall of gloom pervaded the large crowd in which there was scarcely a dry eye while the ministers in a very feeling manner dwelt upon the innumerable good qualities the noble man displayed in his every day life. Revs. McMillen, Baptist, and Carter and Riley, Christian, ministers, delivered the orations, and in not a word of too much praise did they indulge At the conclusion of the memorial services at Belleview, the Odd-Fellows, of which order the deceased was a member, took charge of the remains, and followed by a long cortege, they proceeded with them to Big Bone Baptist church, where another immense crowd of old neighbors and friends had assembled to pay their last, sad tribute to one they loved so dearly in life. Rev. O. M. Huey, a companion from childhood, delivered the funeral sermon. It was full of pathos and an able sermon. After the beautiful ceremony by the Odd-Fellows, the remains were consigned to their last resting place, while hundreds of sympathising hearts wept in unison with the bereaved widow and children. It can be truthfully said that not a laurel undeserved was laid upon the bier of Rev. T. L. Utz, whom to know was to love, honor and esteem.

Samuel Wingate and Harvey P. Marshall, who reside within a stone's throw of eachother in Waterloo neighborhood, passed the 95 mile post in their earthly journey, last week, Mr. Wingate being one day the older. They have been among the county's best citizens for nearly a century, and it is a pleasure for their friends and neighbors to take part in the annual observance of their birthdays, an event that has been looked forward to from year to year for a long time. Each of these old landmarks are reasonably well preserved, and all join in the wish that they may pass the century mark.

There is very little interest manifested in this county in the Democratic primary election for nominating a candidate for Congress, next Saturday. According to the reports that came in from the country, Rhinock, Elliston, Nadaud and Gooch each have a considerable vote, each being strong in localities. The vote that will be poled will be from 1,000 to 1,200, as no effort beyond an occasional speech by a candidate has been made to interest the voters. The friends of Rhinock, Elliston and Gooch are each claiming the county, which may give a good majority for some one of the three.

Why James Lee Got Well.

Everybody in Zanesville, O., knows Mrs. Mary Lee, of rural route 8. She writes: "My husband, James Lee, firmly believes he owes his life to the use of Dr. King's New Discovery. His lungs were so severely affected that consumption seemed inevitable, when a friend recommended New Discovery. We tried it, and its use has restored him to perfect health." Dr. King's New Discovery is the King of throat and lung remedies. For coughs and colds it has no equal. The first dose gives relief. Try it. Sold under guarantee at Bentler's drug store, Erlanger. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

BASE BALL.

The Allsorts and the Gunpowder ball teams played two games here last Saturday, one before and the other after noon. The score in the first game was 12 to 6 in favor of Gunpowder, while the second was 13 to 6 in favor of the Allsorts.

Belleview defeated Hebron, last Saturday afternoon, on the grounds of the latter 10 to 5. The Belleview boys are playing great ball.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

It is seldom that the showers of rain have been so decidedly local as they have been this season.

Many of the candidates took to the woods, last Monday. Several of them looked in upon the RECORDER that day.

Remember the popular old Boone fair will be held next Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday at Florence.

In its next issue the RECORDER expects to be able to inform its readers who is the winnner in the Congressional derby.

You'd better cut the primary election order out of the RECORDER and paste it in your hat for ready reference during the campaign.

The RECORDER has been requested that there will be a big basket meeting at Woolper school house on the fifth Sunday in this month.

One week from today, (Wednesday) and the fair at Florence, the best in Northern Kentucky, will begin its annual four days exhibition.

In Boone county it appears that wife beating is to be known only as "disturbing the peace." What then is an assault and battery of the most agravated character?

Each of the winning candidates in the recent Grant county primary election was granted his certificate of nomination. No protests were filed with the committee.

J. W. Kennedy, W. W. Grimsley and J. H. Stevens, jury commissioners, met on Wednesday, of last week, and proceeded to supply the jury wheel with names for the year.

Harry Menefee, son of Judge Menefee, of Crittenden, is said to be a very fine court stenographer, and when he submits a record the lawyers do not question its accuracy to any extent.

Dr. Hafer, of Florence, purchased W. C. Weaver's stock of medicines and drugs, last Thursday, while Bradford Bros., of same place, bought his stock of paints and articles in that line.

While attending circuit court here, last week, Judge B. F. Menefee was asked why that rudy complexion, when he replied, "Why, didn't you know I have been farming this year?" Of course this was news to his friends here.

Old citizens in the neighborhood of Big Bone Baptist church say the crowd that attended Rev. T. L. Utz's funeral there, last Friday, was the largest that ever assembled at that church on any occasion. From 1,200 to 1,500 people were in attendance.

Rev. T. L. Utz had quite a number of very great admirers in Burlington, and several of them attended the very beautiful and impressive memorial services conducted at Belleview Baptist church last Friday morning by Revs. McMillen, Carter and Riley.

The Burlington and Belleview Turnpike Company is having many hundreds of perch of stone hauled for the crusher to work on this fall. The road is now in good condition, and having on hand plenty of material with which to make repairs is the way to keep it in proper order.

Auto accidents are growing more numerous and autos multiply. The strangest one occuring recently was that of one, near Liberty, N. Y., that got beyond control and plunged over a precipice of 300 ft. and lodged in a tree, thus saving the lives of the passengers, two of whom were a bridal pair. The account states that the big machine turned three somersaults before it struck the tree.

Jones Schooler instituted suit Tuesday in the Owen Circuit Court against County Judge W. P. Yancy for $5,000.00 damages for false imprisonment. Mr. Schooler was held over to Circuit Court in Judge Yancey's court last week on a charge of selling his pooled tobacco and his bond was placed at $5,000.00. Judge Yancey refused the bail offered by Schooler and sent him to jail. Schooler was only in jail one half an hour and thinks that $5,000.00 would amply repay him for the mortification and the mental strain. Judge J. H. Settle is Schooler's Lawyer. Owen County Democrat.

In this issue will be found the following announcements of candidates, subject to the Democratic primary election to be held on November 8, 1908:

For County Judge—P. E. Cason.

For County Attorney—N. E. Riddell.

For County Clerk—Chas. (Caddie) Maurer, O. S. Watts, B. B. Allphin, J. H. Rogers, D. B. Dobbins.

For Sheriff—W. D. Cropper, B. B. Hume, Malchus Souther, E. K. Stephens.

For Assessor—R. H. Stephens, John W. Williams, Lewis Clore, E. C. Franks, C. P. Robinson.

For Superintendent of Schools—Elmer M. Yealey, Elbert Ryle.

For Surveyor—W. E. Vest.

For Jailer—Samuel Adams.

Each and every one of the above named are good Democrats and will make good officials. What more could the RECORDER say of them?

For Sale—Good family and work gelding, 10 years old, not afraid of automobiles. M. RIDDELL.

THE RECORDER.

W. L. RIDDELL, Publisher.

BURLINGTON. - - KENTUCKY

Real Love Stories.

One of the great daily newspapers has been making a feature of late of the personal history of citizens who, by means of their prominence, are supposed to be known to its readers. In a series of articles entitled, "Real Love Stories," it has told how they won their wives and pictured the life of the family. More than 50 of the stories have been published. Since they are romantic in the best sense, and since they gratify that harmless curiosity which is inspired by admiration and respect, there is no reason to regret their popularity. One might go a little further, indeed, and say that the fact bears opportunely and conclusively on a comment by an English traveler which was recently printed in another newspaper. "There's no home life in this country, you know, among people of my class," he is reported to have said. "Your men are business men and marry for commercial reasons; many of your women do the same; and if the result is not alienation, it is liable to be unpleasantness." The reader will wonder what kind of people the unlucky tourist has met. Men and women who know the United States, because they live in it, seldom find any who answer his description. The couples who figure in the "stories" married for love and reared happy homes upon that uncommercial basis, declares the Youth's Companion, and persons who are not, as they are, in the public eye, are doing the same thing everywhere and every day. Family quarrels and domestic scandals get into the newspapers and are talked about simply because they are exceptional events. Behind most marriages in this country there is a real love story, and it is always "to be continued."

Can anything be more convincing as to the extent to which American ideas are enlightening the earth than the spreading popularity of that distinctively American game, baseball? The New York Times remarks: "'J. Vannatta played third bag for the Kams and showed up well with the stick. H. Chillingworth handled the initial sack for the Jewels.' So runs the report of a baseball game played in Hawaii between the Kamehamehas and the Diamond Heads. The lingo follows the flag." Even Japanese, Filipino, Hindoo and other students from abroad take to the sport as soon as they reach our shores, and discuss the fine points in choice "baseballese." The national game is doing glorious work as an international unifier.

The bread eaters and the corn eaters and the meat eaters and all dealers in farm products and those who sell merchandise are again invited to cheer up about Kansas. As the floods subside and the waters recede it is learned that nothing has been "drowned out" in Kansas but the cut worms and the chinch bugs and the Hessian fly and the weevil and the like. The wheat and the corn and the millet and the alfalfa, says the Kansas City Star, are standing up thick and "sassy" in the fields, and are giving the verdant and golden "ha! ha!" to the croakers who issued, a week or so ago, advance notices of a crop failure in Kansas.

Arrangements are rapidly making to take advantage of the new emergency currency law. The bureau of printing and engraving is busy making the plates for the new currency, and the national banks in the large cities are forming associations to take charge of the new issues in their territory. Plans will be perfected and the currency ready for issue by the time it will be needed for moving the crops in the autumn. As the prospect for unusually large crops is good, the demand for money is likely to be very great. Fortunately, this year there is no danger of a money famine simultaneously with agricultural plenty.

A man in Chicago died of imaginary poisoning, the result of auto suggestion, and it is said by doctors that many people do die from this cause. If auto suggestion is so powerful as to kill a man who has really nothing the matter with him, why can't it act otherwise and allow people to persuade themselves when the atmosphere is sizzling loud enough to compete with a trolley gong that they are enjoying cool and pleasant breezes? It is a poor—a very poor—rule which will not work both ways.

A 20-minute version of "Hamlet" is being advertised in New York. It would be interesting to hear what one William Shakespeare would say if he knew his work was being "boiled down" to suit the demands of the 20-minute vaudeville sketch circuit.

A French traveler says that where Roosevelt is going to hunt in Africa the natives eat white men. A certain party is liable to brand him as a nature faker.

MARTIAL LAW IS DECLARED

SPRINGFIELD IS THE SCENE OF RIOT, RAPINE AND BLOODSHED.

WHITES AND BLACKS CLASH AT ILLINOIS CAPITAL

Many are Killed and Wounded and Thousands of Dollars' Worth of Property Destroyed—State Troops Ordered To Scene.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 16.—State troops, 1,000 in number, armed with ball cartridges, control Springfield. Martial law governs the city. The calling of the troops followed a wild night of riot, arson and slaughter, that held the inhabitants in a state of terror. Three white men have been killed, one negro lynched and his body riddled, 40 houses have been burned and 75 persons have been injured in the riots.

Eugene W. Chafin, Prohibitionist candidate for president, was seriously injured while trying to get the mob to disperse.

W. H. Bowe, young clerk in the county treasurer's office, is dying at St. John's hospital here from shots fired by a gang of negroes who pursued him. After shooting down Bowe the negroes robbed him of a diamond ring, diamond stud and all his money.

Further trouble is feared, although the troops have orders to put down the rioters with an iron hand.

The trouble grew out of an attempt to lynch George Richardson, negro, who had been arrested for assaulting Mrs. Earl Hallam. He was identified by Mrs. Hallam as the man who assaulted her. The negro was rushed to a train in an automobile, owned by Harry T. Loper, and taken to Bloomington. The mob became infuriated at Loper's plan of outwitting them and rushed to the restaurant, where the first work of destruction started.

Gov. Deneen also announced that he had ordered the Seventh regiment, Chicago, to hold itself in readiness for an instant response to a summons from him.

Property losses from fire and looting, $100,000.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 17.—With the arrival here Sunday of the Second and Seventh infantry regiments, I. N. G., and two squadrons of the First cavalry, all from Chicago, the entire National Guard of Illinois, with the exception of the Sixth infantry and the Eighth infantry (colored), was on duty here in the riot-ridden districts Sunday night. In all, 4,200 guardsmen are in the city.

Two deaths, due to the violence of Friday and Saturday, occurred at St. John's hospital. William Donnigan, the aged colored man whose throat was cut Saturday night, expired at 11 a. m. Frank Delmore, who was shot through the lungs Friday night, died an hour later. This brings the list of violent deaths during the race troubles up to five.

A genuine scare was caused at the headquarters in the arsenal Sunday night after a squad had been sent to disperse a crowd at Allen and Spring streets. Five minutes later a report reached Lieut. Col. Eddy that shots had been fired in the threatened district. He immediately sent a full platoon to the place to reinforce the squad. When the additional soldiers appeared the crowds broke and ran. The soldiers pursued them for several blocks, and the district, which is near the scene of Saturday night's lynching was in an uproar for a few minutes.

The arsenal was crowded Sunday night with negro refugees from Springfield and surrounding towns. About 200 men, women and children sought the shelter of the building and slept on the floor or in chairs. Most of these people were old and infirm.

Col. Sanborn and Gen. Wells, commanding two provisional brigades formed Sunday, increased the mobility of their forces—augmented by the arrival of the Second infantry from Chicago—by using farm wagons. The use of automobiles was discontinued and but few patrols were sent out on street cars. Gen. Wells had ten vehicles and Col Sanborn as many. "Just as good as horses," said Col. Sanborn. "When we get the alarm from the city hall I just order my 'Shafter cavalry' into the wagon, and they are off in no time."

A council of war was held at the capitol at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon by Gov. Deneen, Adjt. Gen. Scott and Col. Sanborn. At the meeting a plan was adopted which it is believed will render further demonstrations improbable. Col. Sanborn was given command of a provisional brigade consisting of the First and Second infantry regiments, with instructions to preserve peace in the territory west of Seventh street.

Negro Pursued By Posse and Hounds.

Baton Rouge, La., Aug. 17.—Bloodhounds have been sent from here to Burton, La., where a posse is in pursuit of a negro who tried to assault criminally a 16-year-old white girl. If captured, negro will probably be lynched.

Drowned While Bathing.

Wilmington, Del., Aug. 17.—Clarence Dutton, aged 25, and Nellie Nickers aged 20, both of Chester, Pa., were drowned Sunday at Bowers' beach, a summer resort on Delaware bay, while bathing.

GETTING TIPS FOR TEDDY!

AEROPLANE IS WRECKED

WRIGHT TRIES NEW METHOD OF DESCENT AT LE MANS.

Frame of Machine Torn—Accident Follows Some Remarkable Flights.

Le Mans, France. — The Wright aeroplane suffered an accident Thursday which will require several days and possibly a week to repair.

After two superb flights Wilbur Wright essayed a new and daring method of descent. He stopped the motor at a height of 75 feet and tried to come to earth on a gradual descending glide. The calculations were not absolutely correct and the left wing of the aeroplane came in contact with the ground. This tore the frame of the machine. Mr. Wright was not injured.

Mr. Wright said he did not regard the accident as serious, and explained that these were only incidental experiences devoted to acquiring complete mastery of the difficulties of aviation and the execution of new maneuvers.

Mr. Wright's first flight Thursday eclipsed all his former efforts. He made seven complete tours of the field over the tops of the trees. According to the official time he was in the air eight minutes and 53 seconds. The aeroplanist was incommoded by a 15-mile breeze, but in spite of this he showed greater facility in maneuvering than he did when there was a dead calm. His landing was easy and successful in every way.

Mr. Wright's second flight, which lasted two minutes, was a novel one. The aeroplanist soared and descended at will, executing bewildering turns. Suddenly, as viewed from the grandstand, the machine lost its speed and began curving slowly toward the earth. All appeared to be going well until it was tilted to leeward and the delicate frame-work struck the ground, with the result that it was damaged and torn.

Mr. Wright calmly stepped out and examined the wreck. He was quickly surrounded by anxious friends, to whom he explained that there had been no accident in the air, but that he had merely decided to try a new descent. He shut off the motor at a height of 75 feet and endeavored to float downward.

DISASTER IN FRENCH NAVY.

Six Men Killed on Gunnery School Ship Couronne.

Toulon.—Six persons were killed and 18 injured in a gun explosion aboard the gunnery school ship Couronne Wednesday off Les Salins d'Hyeres.

The accident occurred while a number of recruits were receiving instructions in handling a 164-millimeter gun, the breech of which blew out. Three of those wounded are in a desperate condition.

Acquitted on Fifth Trial.

Roanoke, Va.—The fifth trial at Floyd courthouse of John Richards, the Floyd county school teacher charged with the murder of his rival in love, Maurice K. Francis of Roanoke, ended Friday in acquittal. The first, second and fourth trials resulted in disagreements. The third trial resulted in conviction of murder in the first degree and Richards was sentenced to be hanged. The supreme court granted a new trial.

Army Men Die in Auto Accident.

San Francisco.—Sergt. Maj. A. H. Belyea and Master Electrician Sergt. C. H. Jones, attached to the Presidio military forces were almost instantly killed Thursday night when thrown from a runaway automobile which was crushed between street cars.

Hotel and Twelve Saloons Burn.

Spokane, Wash.—Fire at Taft, Mont., nearly on the Idaho line, early Thursday morning destroyed the Anheuser Busch hotel and 12 saloons.

FLEET LEAVES NEW ZEALAND.

American Battleships Sail from Auckland for Sydney.

Auckland, N. Z. — The American Atlantic fleet departed for Sydney at 8:15 o'clock Saturday morning. The weather was fine and large crowds were ashore and afloat to bid farewell to the Americans. Excursion craft loaded to the rails dotted the harbor.

As anchors were hoisted and the flagship pointed her nose toward the mouth of the harbor, pandemonium reigned. The shore batteries belched forth parting salutes which were answered by the American ships, and the whistles and sirens on the excursion flotilla resounded across the harbor and were re-echoed by the distant hills. The American ships were kept busy dipping their flags in answer to the salutations of the New Zealanders.

Sir Joseph Ward, the premier, and a large number of officials were aboard a government steamer, and as each battleship passed Sir Joseph led the rousing cheers for the Americans. The battleship Kentucky, which was the last in the line, responded lustily with cheers for New Zealand and the hands on both vessels played the British and American national anthems and "Auld Lany Syne."

AUTO DASHES INTO CROWD.

Many Hurt in Accident at Hill Climbing Contest.

Algonquin, Ill.—Two persons were seriously injured and a dozen others were painfully hurt when an automobile that was taking part in a hill climbing contest, swerved and ran wild into a throng of spectators here Friday evening.

The seriously injured are George Rayfield of Chicago and C. S. Paxton, driver of the car.

The machine, which was running 50 miles an hour, had arrived at the brow of the hill and was within 100 feet of the finishing line, when a tire burst, sending the car into the crowd.

Long Branch, N. J.—E. R. Thomas, former banker and racehorse owner, was seriously injured here Friday night, when his automobile struck and wrecked a carriage.

FOUR CHICAGOANS DROWN.

Launch is Capsized in Dells of the Wisconsin River.

Kilhourn, Wis.—By the capsizing of a pleasure launch on the Wisconsin river Thursday afternoon four Chicago people were drowned, as follows: Miss Mabel Ward, Mrs. W. G. Heath and E. G. Pfeiffer and his son Ralph.

The launch containing nine persons, among them Mrs. Pfeiffer and daughter, was returning from a trip through the Dells. When near the dock the boat got into the waves of a passing steamer and capsized, throwing all the occupants into the water.

Enterprise, Kan.—William Q. Hinz, 21 years of age, of Milwaukee, Wis., was drowned here Thursday evening while bathing in the Smoky Hill river. He was an insurance man.

Flanagan Sets a New Record.

Queenstown.—John Flanagan, Irish-American A. C., while giving an exhibition on the quay here threw the 16-pound hammer from a nine-foot circle for a distance of 181 feet 8 inches. This breaks all records.

Cupid Triumphs at Last.

Sacramento, Cal.—When the Overland Limited came to a standstill in the Sacramento depot at five o'clock Friday evening, a pretty girl alighted. She was at once greeted by a young man, Prof. F. P. Fitzgerald of Stanford university. The girl was Edith Ludwig, who was recently kidnaped in Chicago by her mother to prevent her marriage. The professor at once walked to the county clerk's office and took out a marriage license. The wedding ceremonies were performed by Rev. Richard Rodda.

BRYAN IS NOTIFIED OF HIS NOMINATION

REPUBLICANS AND DEMOCRATS ALIKE UNITE IN THE RECEPTION.

GREATEST DAY IN HISTORY OF NEBRASKA CAPITAL

Clayton of Alabama Made Notification Speech—Immediately After the Speeches a Reception To the Two Candidates Was Held.

Lincoln, Aug. 12.—As gently as possible, considering that some 20,000 people were concerned in breaking the news, Wm. J. Bryan was Wednesday informed that he is a candidate for the presidency of the United States. He did not decline to be it.

This is the greatest day in the history of the Nebraska capital. Its foremost citizens—Republicans and Democrats alike—united in the reception to Bryan. Wednesday, in the midst of men and women who sent him to the halls of congress to raise his voice for their interests, William Jennings Bryan was commissioned to lead the hosts of the party of Jefferson, Jackson and Cleveland. All states rejoiced with Nebraska.

There was no mistaking the satisfaction that every citizen of Nebraska, without regard to political affiliations, felt over the honor paid Bryan here.

Grouped on a broad platform beside the capitol building were Republicans and Democrats alike, the Republican state officials brushing elbows with the Democratic chieftains, all wearing smiles of appreciation.

Before the first streaks of dawn there was bustle on the streets. Workmen were busy trying to repair the ravages of the rain of Tuesday night, which had left the bunting in a bedraggled condition.

Bryan remained at his home during the early hours. He was in consultational with National Chairman Norman E. Mack and other party leaders, and had requested that he be permitted to remain at his residence until the latest possible moment.

Every arrangement had been made by Mayor Brown and the committee on arrangements to care for the crowds. There was but little confusion. More than 100 extra police had been sworn in. The men, women and children who blocked the streets were unusually good-natured, and responded readily to the suggestions of the guardians of the peace.

The members of the committee on notification were the guests of Lincoln's Commercial club at breakfast at Lincoln hotel. Shortly afterward Bryan and Kern arrived at the Lincoln hotel and held an impromptu reception. It had been decided that there would be no parade of marching clubs. The candidates and the committee, however, proceeded in a body to the capitol grounds. The entire police force of the city, mounted, led the way. In behind came the Nebraska state band, discoursing patriotic airs, while following them came Marshal E. M. Westervelt and a score of mounted aides, all sporting big purple badges, from which dangled pictures of the "Boy Orator of the Platte."

Then came the candidates. Seated in the third carriage, their heads uncovered for the most time in recognition of the continuous applause with which their appearance was greeted, were the Democratic candidates for president and vice president, W. J. Bryan and John Worth Kern; Chairman of the National Committee Norman E. Mack, of Buffalo, and Congressman Henry D. Clayton, of Alabama.

The delegation proceeded through the principal streets of the city to the capitol grounds. There the procession halted while the members of the committee alighted and passed through the north entrance into the building, the mayor leading the way, with National Chairman Mack and the candidates immediately behind.

National Chairman Norman E. Mack called the meeting to order. He referred to the importance of the occasion, and introduced Rev. Father Nugent, who offered the invocation. Chairman of the Committee Henry D. Clayton was then introduced and made the notification speech.

Bryan listened attentively to the notification speech, and at once began his reply.

Immediately after the speeches a reception to the two candidates was held in the capitol building. They stood side by side and shook hands with thousands of politicians, who were introduced to them by Mayor Brown and the members of the committee on arrangements. When the reception was terminated the members of the committee, Mayor Brown, the governor and a number of invited guests went to the Bryan home, at Fairview, where they were the guests of the Bryans.

Cyclist Hurt.

Paterson, N. J., Aug. 13.—Bob Schultz, the professional motor cyclist, was hurled from his machine and badly injured at the start of a three-mile race Wednesday in the Clifton stadium.

Error Killed Four.

Bonderburg, Germany, Aug. 13.—Four sailors of the German navy were drowned here in a "man overboard" drill through a mistake in the transmission of an order on the cruiser Undine.

This woman says that after months of suffering Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made her as well as ever.

Maude E. Forgie, of Leesburg, Va., writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

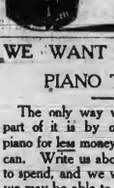
"I want other suffering women to know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. For months I suffered from feminine ills so that I thought I could not live. I wrote you, and after taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and using the treatment you prescribed I felt like a new woman. I am now strong, and well as ever, and thank you for the good you have done me."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

Libby's Food Products



Peerless Dried Beef

Unlike the ordinary dried beef—that sold in bulk—Libby's Peerless Dried Beef comes in a sealed glass jar in which it is packed the moment it is sliced into those delicious thin wafers.

None of the rich natural flavor or goodness escapes or dries out. It reaches you fresh and with all the nutriment retained.

Libby's Peerless Dried Beef is only one of a Great number of high-grade, ready to serve, pure food products that are prepared in Libby's Great White Kitchen.

Just try a package of any of these, such as Ox Tongue, Vienna Sausage, Pickles, Olives, etc., and see how delightfully different they are from others you have eaten.

Libby, McNeill & Libby, Chicago

WE WANT ALL THE PIANO TRADE

The only way we can get a big part of it is by offering you more piano for less money than anyone else can. Write us about what you have to spend, and we will tell you what we may be able to do to meet your special want.

TRY OUR SPECIAL OFFERS:

1—$250.00 Piano at $210.00
2—$300.00 " " $235.00
1—$300.00 " " $300.00
1—$225.00 " " $160.00
1—$200.00 " " $170.00

THE JOHN CHURCH COMPANY
CINCINNATI, OHIO

Five cents in stamps will bring you a book of 3 Actions, either Piano or Vocal.

Live Stock and Miscellaneous

Electrotypes

In great variety for sale at the lowest prices by

A.N. KELLOGG NEWSPAPER CO.
73 W. Adams St., CHICAGO

DEFIANCE Cold Water Starch

Makes laundry work a pleasure. 10 oz. pkg. 10c.

BRYAN IS FORMALLY NOTIFIED

Democratic Leader Accepts Nomination.

PLEASED WITH PLATFORM

PROMISES IN THE FUTURE TO DEAL WITH THE PLANKS IN DETAIL.

Policies of the Republicans Come In for Bitter Criticism in the Speech of Acceptance—Declares Country Needs Change in Ruling Party—Publicity for Campaign Contributions, He Says, Is Democratic Idea—Not a Foe to Wealth Honestly Acquired—If Elected, Promises Justice to All.

Lincoln, Neb.—William Jennings Bryan was formally notified of his nomination by the Democratic party for the presidency of the United States. Henry D. Clayton of Alabama was the spokesman of the notification committee. Mr. Bryan's speech of acceptance follows:

Mr. Clayton and Gentlemen of the Notification Committee: I can not accept the nomination which you officially tender without first acknowledging my deep indebtedness to the Democratic party for the extraordinary honor which it has conferred upon me. Having twice before been a candidate for the presidency, in campaigns which ended in defeat, a third nomination, the result of the free and voluntary act of the voters of the party, can only be explained by a substantial and undisputed growth in the principles and policies for which I, with a multitude of others, have contended. As these principles and policies have given me whatever political strength I possess, the action of the convention not only renews my faith in them, but strengthens my attachment to them.

A Platform Is Binding.

I shall, in the near future, prepare a more formal reply to your notification, and, in that letter of acceptance, will deal with the platform in detail. It is sufficient, at this time, to assure you that I am in hearty accord with both the letter and the spirit of the platform. I indorse it in whole and in part, and shall, if elected, regard its declarations as binding upon me. And, I may add, a platform is binding as to what it omits as well as to what it contains. According to the Democratic idea, the people think for themselves and select officials to carry out their wishes. The voters are the sovereigns, the officials are the servants employed for a fixed time and at a stated salary to do what the sovereigns want done, and to do it in the way the sovereigns want it done. Platforms are entirely in harmony with this Democratic idea. A platform announces the party's position on questions which are at issue, and an official is not at liberty to use the authority vested in him to urge personal views which have not been submitted to the voters for their approval. If one is nominated upon a platform which is not satisfactory to him, he must, if candid, either decline the nomination, or, in accepting it, propose an amended platform in lieu of the one adopted by the convention. No such situation, however, confronts your candidate, for the platform upon which I was nominated not only contains nothing from which I dissent, but it specifically outlines all the remedial legislation which we can hope to secure during the next four years.

Republican Challenge Accepted.

The distinguished statesman who received the Republican nomination for president said, in his notification speech, "The strength of the Republican cause in the campaign at hand is the fact that we represent the policies essential to the reform of known abuses, to the continuance of liberty and true prosperity, and that we are determined, as our platform unsquivocally declares, to maintain them and carry them on."

In the name of the Democratic party, I accept the challenge, and charge that the Republican party is responsible for all the abuses which now exist in the federal government, and that it is impotent to accomplish the reforms which are imperatively needed. Further, I can not concur in the statement that the Republican platform unequivocally declares for the reforms that are necessary; on the contrary, I affirm that it openly and notoriously disappoints the hopes and expectations of reformers, whether those reforms be Republican or Democrats. So far did the Republican convention fall short of its duty that the Republican candidate is forced unwillingly to add his platform in several important particulars, thus rebuking the leaders of the party, upon whose co-operation he must rely for the enactment of remedial legislation.

As I shall, in separate speeches, discuss the leading questions at issue, I shall at this time confine myself to the paramount question, and to the far-reaching purpose of our party, as that purpose is set forth in the platform.

Shall the People Rule?

Our platform declares that the overshadowing issue which manifests itself in all the questions now under discussion, is "Shall the people rule?" No matter which way we turn; no matter to what subject we address ourselves, the same question confronts us: Shall the people control their own government, and use that government for the protection of their rights and for the promotion of their welfare? or shall the representatives of predatory wealth prey upon a defenceless public, while the undersecure immunity from subservient officials whom they raise to power by unscrupulous methods? This is the issue raised by the "known abuses" to which Mr. Taft refers.

The President's Indictment Against the Party.

In a message sent to congress last January, President Roosevelt said: "The attacks by these great corporations on the administration's actions have been given a wide circulation throughout the country, in the newspapers and otherwise, by those writers and speakers who, consciously or unconsciously, act as the representatives of predatory wealth—of the wealth accumulated on a great scale by all forms of iniquity, ranging from the oppression of wage earners to unfair and unwholesome methods of crushing out competition, and to defrauding the public by stock-jobbing and the manipulation of securities. Certain wealthy men of this stamp, whose conduct should be abhorrent to every man of ordinarily decent conscience, and who commit the hideous wrong of teaching our young men that phenomenal business success must ordinarily be based on dishonesty, have, during the last few months, made it apparent that they have banded together to work for a reaction. Their endeavor is to overthrow and discredit all who honestly administer the law, to prevent any additional legislation which would check and restrain them, and to secure, if possible, a freedom from all restraint which will permit every unscrupulous wrongdoer to do what he wishes unchecked, provided he has enough money."—What an arraignment of the predatory interests!

Is the president's indictment true? And if true, against whom was the indictment directed? Not against the Democratic party.

Mr. Taft Indorses the Indictment.

Mr. Taft says that these evils have crept in during the last ten years. He declares that, during this time, some "prominent and influential members of the community, spurred by finahcial success and in their hurry for greater wealth, became unmindful of the common rules of business honesty and fidelity, and of the limitations imposed by law upon their actions"; and that "the revelations of the speches of trusts, the disclosures as to rebates and discriminations by railroads, the accumulating evidence of the violations of the anti-trust law, by a number of corporations, and the over-issue of stocks and bonds of interstate railroads for the unlawful enriching of directors and of the purpose of concentrating the control of the railroads under one menagement,"—all these, he charges, "quickened the conscience of the people and brought on a moral awakening."

During all this time, I beg to remind you, Republican officials presided in the executive department, filled the cabinet, dominated the senate, controlled the house of representatives and occupied most of the federal judgeships. Four years ago the Republican party boastfully declared that since 1860—with the exception of two years—the Republican party had been in control of part or of all the branches of the federal government; that for two years only was the Democratic party in a position to either enact or repeal a law. Having drawn the salaries; having enjoyed the honors; having accured the prestige, let the Republican party accept the responsibility!

Republican Party Responsible.

Why were these "known abuses" permitted to develop? Why have they not been corrected? If existing laws are sufficient, why have they not been enforced? All of the executive machinery of the federal government is in the hands of the Republican party. Are new laws necessary? Why have they not been enacted? With a Republican president to recommend, with a Republican senate and house to carry out his recommendations, why does the Republican candidate plead for further time in which to do what should have been done long ago? Can Mr. Taft promise to be more strenuous in the prosecution of wrongdoers than the present executive? Can he ask for a larger majority in the senate than his party now has? Does he need more Republicans in the house of representatives or a speaker with more unlimited authority?

Why No Tariff Reform?

The president's close friends have been promising for several years that he would attack the iniquities of the tariff. We have had intimation that Mr. Taft was resolve under the demands of the highly protected industries. And yet the influence of the manufacturers, who have for 25 years contributed to the Republican campaign fund, and who in return have framed the tariff schedules, has been sufficient to prevent tariff reform. As the present campaign approached, both the president and Mr. Taft declared in favor of tariff revision, but set the date of revision after the election. But the pressure brought to bear by the protected interests has been great enough to prevent any attempt at revision, even after the election; and the reduction promised after the election is so hedged about with qualifying phrases, that no one can estimate with accuracy the amount total of tariff reform to be expected in case of Republican success. If the past can be taken as a guide, the Republican party will be so obliged to repay campaign contributions from the beneficiaries of protection, as to make that party powerless to bring to the country any material relief from the present tariff burdens.

Why No Anti-Trust Legislation?

A few years ago the Republican leaders in the house of representatives were coerced by public opinion into the support of an anti-trust law which had the indorsement of the president, but the senate refused even to consider the measure, and since that time no effort has been made by the dominant party to secure remedial legislation upon this subject.

Why No Railroad Legislation?

For ten years the Interstate Commerce Commission has been asking for an enlargement of its powers, that it might prevent rebates and discriminations, but a Republican senate and a Republican house of representatives were unmoved by its entreaties. In 1900 the Republican national convention was urged to indorse the demand for an enlargement, but its platform was silent on the subject. Even in 1904, the convention gave no pledge to remedy these abuses. When the president finally urged legislation, he drew his inspiration from three Democratic national platforms and he received more cordial support from the Democrats than from the Republicans. The Republicans in the senate deliberatsly defeated several amendments offered by Senator LaFollette and supported by the Democrats—amendments embodying legislation asked by the Interstate Commerce Commission. One of these amendments authorized the ascertainment of the value of railroads. This amendment was not only defeated by the senate, but it was overwhelmingly rejected by the recent Republican national convention and the Republican candidate has sought to rescue his party from the disastrous results of this act by assuming, himself, in a qualified way, in favor of ascertaining the value of the railroads.

Over-Issue of Stocks and Bonds.

Mr. Taft complains of the over-issue of stocks and bonds of railroads, "for the unlawful enriching of directors and for the purpose of concentrating the control of the railroads under one management," and the complaint is well founded. But, will Mr. Taft apply the cure to the evil, and a Republican congress to correct it, we find nothing done for the protection of stockholders. The only honorable opponent has, by his confession, relieved me of the necessity of furnishing proof; he admits the condition and he can not avoid the logical conclusion that must be drawn from the admission. There is no doubt whatever that a large majority of the voters of the Republican party recognize the deplorable situation which Mr. Taft describes; they recognize that the masses have had but little influence upon legislation or upon the administration of the government, and they are beginning to understand the cause. For a generation, the Republican party has drawn its campaign funds from the beneficiaries of special legislation. Privileges have been pledged and granted in return for money contributed to debauch elections. What can be expected when official authority is turned over to the representatives of those who first furnish the sinews of war and then reimburse themselves out of the pockets of the taxpayers?

Fasting In Wilderness Necessary.

So long as the Republican party remains in power, it is powerless to regenerate itself. It can not attack wrongdoing in high places without disgracing many of its prominent members, and, therefore, uses opiates instead of the surgeon's knife. Its malefactors construe each Republican victory as an indorsement of their conduct and threaten the party with defeat if they are interfered with. Not until that party passes through a period of fasting in the wilderness, will the Republican leaders learn to study public questions from the standpoint of the masses. Just as with individuals, "the cares of this world and the deceitfulness of riches choke the truth," so in politics, when party leaders serve for a while from home and are not in constant contact with the voters, continued party success blinds their eyes to the needs of the people and makes them deaf to the cry of distress.

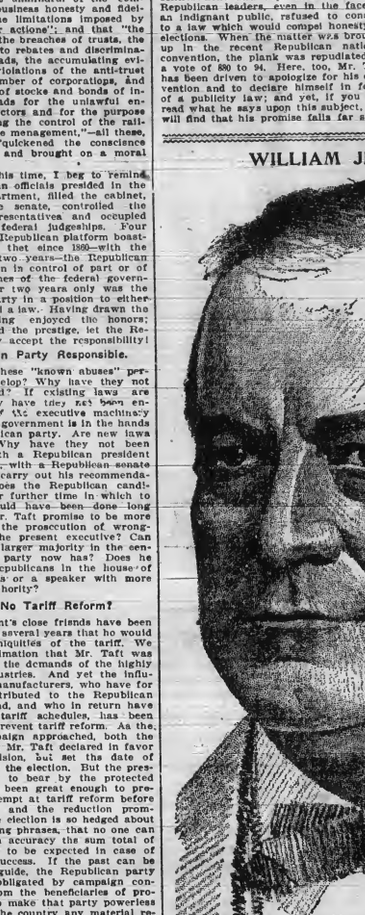
Publicity as to Campaign Contributions.

An effort has been made to secure legislation requiring publicity as to campaign contributions and expenditures; but the Republican leaders, even in the face of an indignant public, refused to consent to a law which would compel honesty in elections. When the matter was brought up in the recent Republican national convention, the plank was repudiated by a vote of 880 to 94. Here, too, Mr. Taft has been driven to apologize for his convention and to declare himself in favor of a publicity law; and yet, if you will read what he says upon this subject, you will find that his promise falls far short of the requirements of the situation. He says:

"If I am elected president, I shall urge upon congress, with every hope of success, that a law be passed requiring the filing, in a federal office, of a statement of the contributions received by committees and candidates in elections for members of congress, and in such other elections as are constitutionally within the control of congress."

I shall not embarrass him by asking him upon what he bases his hope of success; it is certainly not on any encouragement he has received from Republican leaders. It is sufficient to say that if his hopes were realized—if, in spite of the adverse action of his convention, he should succeed in securing the enactment of the very law which he favors, it would give but partial relief. He has read the Democratic platform; not only his language, but his evident desire indicates that he has read it carefully. He even had before him the action of the Democratic national committee in interpreting and applying that platform; and yet, he fails to say that he favors the publication of the contributions before the election. Of course, it affords a natural curiosity to find out how an election has been purchased, even when the knowledge comes too late to be of service, but we should the people be kept in darkness during the election is past? Why should the locking of the door be delayed until the horse is gone?

An Election a Public Affair.



An election is a public affair. The people, exercising the right to select their officials and to decide upon the policies to be pursued, proceed to their several polling places on election day and register their will. What excuse can be given for secrecy as to the influences at work? If a man, pecuniarily interested in "concentrating the control of the railroads in one management," subscribes a large sum to aid in carrying the election, why should his part in the campaign be concealed until he has put the officials under obligation to him? If a trust magnate contributes $100,000 to elect political friends to office, with a view to preventing hostile legislation, why should that fact be concealed until his friends are securely seated in their official positions?

Fasting In Wilderness Necessary.

So long as the Republican party remains in power, it is powerless to regenerate itself. It can not attack wrongdoing in high places without disgracing many of its prominent members, and, therefore, uses opiates instead of the surgeon's knife. Its malefactors construe each Republican victory as an indorsement of their conduct and threaten the party with defeat if they are interfered with. Not until that party passes through a period of fasting in the wilderness, will the Republican leaders learn to study public questions from the standpoint of the masses. Just as with individuals, "the cares of this world and the deceitfulness of riches choke the truth," so in politics, when party leaders serve for a while from home and are not in constant contact with the voters, continued party success blinds their eyes to the needs of the people and makes them deaf to the cry of distress.

Publicity as to Campaign Contributions.

An effort has been made to secure legislation requiring publicity as to campaign contributions and expenditures; but the Republican leaders, even in the face of an indignant public, refused to consent to a law which would compel honesty in elections. When the matter was brought up in the recent Republican national convention, the plank was repudiated by a vote of 880 to 94. Here, too, Mr. Taft has been driven to apologize for his convention and to declare himself in favor of a publicity law; and yet, if you will read what he says upon this subject, you will find that his promise falls far short of the requirements of the situation. He says:

"If I am elected president, I shall urge upon congress, with every hope of success, that a law be passed requiring the filing, in a federal office, of a statement of the contributions received by committees and candidates in elections for members of congress, and in such other elections as are constitutionally within the control of congress."

I shall not embarrass him by asking him upon what he bases his hope of success; it is certainly not on any encouragement he has received from Republican leaders. It is sufficient to say that if his hopes were realized—if, in spite of the adverse action of his convention, he should succeed in securing the enactment of the very law which he favors, it would give but partial relief. He has read the Democratic platform; not only his language, but his evident desire indicates that he has read it carefully. He even had before him the action of the Democratic national committee in interpreting and applying that platform; and yet, he fails to say that he favors the publication of the contributions before the election. Of course, it affords a natural curiosity to find out how an election has been purchased, even when the knowledge comes too late to be of service, but why should the people be kept in darkness during the election is past? Why should the locking of the door be delayed until the horse is gone?

An Election a Public Affair.

An election is a public affair. The people, exercising the right to select their officials and to decide upon the policies to be pursued, proceed to their several polling places on election day and register their will. What excuse can be given for secrecy as to the influences at work? If a man, pecuniarily interested in "concentrating the control of the railroads in one management," subscribes a large sum to aid in carrying the election, why should his part in the campaign be concealed until he has put the officials under obligation to him? If a trust magnate contributes $100,000 to elect political friends to office, with a view to preventing hostile legislation, why should that fact be concealed until his friends are securely seated in their official positions?

Publicity Is a Democratic Idea.

This is not a new question; it is a question which has been agitated—a question which the Republican leaders fully understand—a question which the Republican candidate has studied, and yet he refuses to declare himself in favor of the legislation absolutely necessary, namely, legislation requiring publication before the election.

How can the people hope to rule, if they are not able to learn until after the election what the predatory interests are doing? The Democratic party meets the issue honestly and courageously. It says:

"We pledge the Democratic party to the enactment of a law prohibiting any corporation from contributing to a campaign fund, and any individual from contributing an amount above a reasonable maximum, and providing for the publication, before election, of all such contributions above a reasonable minimum."

The Democratic national committee immediately proceeded to interpret and apply this plank, announcing that no contributions would be received from corporations, that no individual would be allowed to contribute more than $10,000, and that all contributions above $100 would be made public before the election—those received before October 15 to be made public on or before that day, those received afterward to be made public on the day when received, and no such contributions to be accepted within three days of the election. The expenditures are to be published after the election. Here is a plan which is complete and effective.

Popular Election of Senators.

Next to the corrupt use of money, the present method of electing United States senators is most responsible for the obstruction of reforms. For 100 years after the adoption of the constitution, the demand for the popular election of senators, while finding increased expression, did not become a dominant sentiment. A constitutional amendment had from time to time been suggested and the matter had been more or less discussed in a few of the states, but the movement had not reached a point where it manifested itself through congressional action. In the Fifty-second congress, however, a resolution was reported from a house committee proposing the necessary constitutional amendment, and this resolution passed the house of representatives by a vote which was practically unanimous. In the Fifty-third congress a similar resolution was reported to, and adopted by the house of representatives. Both the Fifty-second and Fifty-third congresses were Democratic. The Republicans gained control of the house as a result of the election of 1894 and in the Fifty-fourth congress the proposition died in committee. As time went on, however, the sentiment grew among the people, until it forced a Republican congress to follow the example set by the Democrats, and another and another Republican congress acted favorably. Seventy-state has indorsed this reform, until nearly two-thirds of the states have recorded themselves in its favor. The United States senate, however, impudently and arrogantly obstructs the passage of the resolution, notwithstanding the fact that the voters of the United States, by an overwhelming majority, demand it. And this refusal is the more significant when it is remembered that a number of senators owe their election to great corporate interests. Three Democratic national platforms—the platforms of 1900, 1904 and 1908—specifically call for a change in the constitution which will put the election of senators in the hands of the voters, and the proposition has been indorsed by a number of the smaller parties, but no Republican national convention has been willing to champion the cause of the people on this subject. The subject was ignored by the Republican national convention in 1900; it was ignored in 1904 and the proposition was explicitly repudiated in 1908, for the recent Republican national convention, by a vote of 866 to 114, rejected the plank indorsing the popular election of senators—and this was done in the convention which nominated Mr. Taft, few delegates from his own state voting for the plank.

Personal Inclination Not Sufficient.

In his notification speech, the Republican candidate, speaking of the election of senators by the people, says: "Personally, I am inclined to favor it, but it is hardly a party question." What is necessary to make this a party question? When the Democratic convention vote, and the Republican convention rejects the proposition by a vote of seven to one, does it become an issue between the parties? Mr. Taft can not remove the question from the arena of politics by expressing a personal inclination toward the Democratic position. For several years he has been connected with the administration. What has he ever said or done to bring this question before the public? What enthusiasm has he shown in the reformation of the senate? What influence could he exert in behalf of a reform which his party has openly and notoriously condemned in its convention, and to which he is attached only by a belated expression of personal inclination?

The Gateway to Other Reforms.

"Shall the people rule?" Every remedial measure of a national character must run the gauntlet of the senate. The president may personally incline toward a reform; the house may consent to it; but as long as the senate obstructs the reform, the people must wait. The president may heed a popular demand; the house may yield to public opinion; but as long as the senate is defiant, the rule of the people is defeated. The Democratic platform very properly describes the popular election of senators as "the gateway to other national reforms." Shall we open the gate, or shall we allow the exploiting interests to bar the way by the control of this branch of the federal legislature Through a Democratic victory and through a Democratic victory only, can we hope to secure the popular election of senators. The smaller parties are unable to secure this; the Republican party, under its present leadership, is resolutely opposed to it; the Democratic party stands for it and has boldly demanded it. If I am elected to the presidency, these who are elected upon the ticket with me will be, like myself, pledged to this reform, and I shall convene congress in extraordinary session immediately after inauguration, and ask, among other things, for the fulfillment of this platform pledge.

House Rules Despotic.

The third instrumentality employed to defeat the will of the people is found in the rules of the house of representatives. Our platform points out that "the house of representatives was designed by the fathers of the constitution, to be the popular branch of our government, responsive to the public will," and adds:

"The house of representatives, as controlled in recent years by the Republican party, has ceased to be a deliberative and legislative body, responsive to the will of a majority of the members, but has come under the absolute domination of the speaker, who has entire control of its deliberations, and powers of legislation.

"We have observed with amazement the popular branch of our federal government helpless to obtain either the consideration or enactment of measures desired by a majority of its members."

This arraignment is fully justified. The reform Republicans in the house of representatives, when in the minority in their own party, are as helpless to obtain a hearing or to secure a vote upon a measure as are the Democrats. In the recent session of the present congress, there was a considerable element in the Republican party favorable to remedial legislation; but a few leaders, in control of the organization, despotically suppressed these members, and thus forced a real majority in the house to submit to a well organized minority. The Republican national convention, instead of rebuking this attack upon popular government, eulogized congress and nominated as the Republican candidate for vice-president one of the men who shared in the responsibility for the coercion of the house. Our party demands that "the house of representatives shall again become a deliberative body, controlled by a majority of the people's representatives, and not by the speaker," and is pledged to adopt "such rules and regulations to govern the house of representatives as will enable a majority of its members to direct its deliberations and control legislation."

"Shall the people rule?" They can not do so unless they can control the house of representatives, and through their representatives in the house give expression to their purposes and their desires. The Republican party is committed to the methods now in vogue in the house of representatives; the Democratic party is pledged to such a revision of the rules as will bring the popular branch of the federal government into harmony with the ideas of those who framed our constitution and founded our government.

Other Issues Will Be Discussed Later.

"Shall the people rule?" I repeat, is declared by our platform to be the overshadowing question, and as the campaign progresses, I shall take occasion to discuss that question as it manifests itself in other issues; for whether we consider the tariff question, the trust question, the railroad question, the banking question, the labor question, the question of imperialism, the development of our waterways, or any other of the numerous problems which press for solution, we shall find that the real question involved in each is, whether the government shall remain a mere business asset of favor seeking corporations or be an instrument in the hands of the people for the advancement of the common weal.

Democrats Have Earned Confidence.

If the voters are satisfied with the record of the Republican party and with its management of public affairs we can not reasonably ask for a change in administration. If, however, the voters feel that the people, as a whole, have too little influence in shaping the policies of the government; if they feel that great combinations of capital have encroached upon the rights of the masses, and employed the instrumentalities of government to secure an unfair share of the total wealth produced, then we have a right to expect a verdict against the Republican party and in favor of the Democratic party; for our party has risked defeat—aye, suffered defeat—in its effort to arouse the conscience of the public and to bring about the very awakening to which Mr. Taft has referred.

Only those are worthy to be intrusted with leadership in a great cause who are willing to fight for it, and the Democratic party has proven its worthiness by its record-to purchase victory by delivering the people into the hands of those who have despoiled them. In this contest between Democracy on the one side and plutocracy on the other, the Democratic party has taken its position on the side of equal rights, and invites the opposition of those who use politics to secure special privileges and governmental favoritism. Gauging the progress of the nation, not by the happiness or wealth or refinement of a few, but by the prosperity and advancement of the average man," the Democratic party charges the Republican party with being the promoter of present abuses, the opponent of necessary remedies and the only bulwark of private monopoly. The Democratic party affirms that in this campaign it is the only party, having a prospect of success, which stands for justice in government and for equality in the division of the fruits of industry.

Democratic Party Defends Honest Wealth.

We may expect those who have committed larceny by law and purchased immunity with their political influence, to attempt to raise false issues, and to employ "the livery of heaven" to conceal their evil purposes, but they can no longer deceive. The Democratic party is not the enemy of any legitimate industry or of honest accumulations. It is, on the contrary, a friend of industry and the steadfast protector of that wealth which represents a service to society. The Democratic party does not seek to annihilate all corporations; it simply asserts that as the government creates corporations, it must retain the power to regulate and to control them, and that it should not permit any corporation to convert itself into a monopoly. Finally, we should have the co-operation of all legitimate corporations in our effort to protect business and industry from the odium and the losses combinations of capital will, if unchecked, cast upon them. Only by the separation of the good from the bad can the good be made secure.

Not Revolution But Reformation.

The Democratic party seeks not revolution but reformation, and I need hardly remind the student of history that cures are milded when applied at once; that remedies increase in severity as their application is postponed. Blood poisoning may be stopped by the loss of a finger to-day; it may require a limb to-morrow or a life the next day. So poison in the body politic can not be removed too soon, for the evils produced by it increase with the lapse of time. That there are abuses which need to be remedied, even the Republican candidate admits; that his party is unable to remedy them, has been fully demonstrated during the last ten years. I have such confidence in the intelligence as well as the patriotism of the people that I can not doubt their readiness to accept the reasonable reforms which our party proposes, rather than permit the continued growth of existing abuses in hurry the country on to remedies more radical and more drastic.

Our Party's Ideal.

The platform of our party closes with a brief statement of the party's ideal. It favors "such an administration of the government as will insure, as far as human wisdom can, that each citizen shall draw from society a reward commensurate with his contribution to the welfare of society."

Governments are good in proportion as they assure to each member of society, so far as governments can, a return commensurate with individual merit.

The Divine Law of Rewards.

There is a Divine law of rewards. When the Creator gave us the earth, with its fruitful soil, the sunshine with its warmth, and the rains with their moisture, he proclaimed, as clearly as in his words had thundered from the clouds: "Go work, and according to your industry and your intelligence, so shall be your reward." Only where might has overthrown, cunning undermined or government suspended this law, has a different law prevailed. To conform the government to this law ought to be the ambition of the statesman; and no party can have a higher mission than to make it a reality wherever governmente can legitimately operate.

Justice to All.

Recognizing that I am indebted for my nomination to the rank and file of our party, and that my election must come, if it comes at all, from the unpurchased and unpurchasable suffrages of the American people, I promise, if intrusted with the responsibilities of this high office, to consecrate whatever ability I have to the one purpose of making this, in fact, a government in which the people rule—a government which will do justice to all, and offer to every one the highest possible stimulus to great and persistent effort, by assuring to each the enjoyment of his just share of the proceeds of his toil, no matter in what portion of the vineyard he labors, or to what occupation, profession or calling he devotes himself.

Fears Extermination of Seals.

"The Alaskan fur seal herd is being rapidly exterminated by pelagic sealing vessels, mainly Canadians," said Prof. David Starr Jordan. "These sailing vessels follow the seal herd as it moves along our Pacific coast in the spring, and enters Bering sea at the end of the close season in August, when they are free, under the ineffectual regulations adopted by the Paris tribunal, to use the spear—more deadly than the shotgun—in killing, outside of the 60-mile zone, the seals that frequent these waters in pursuit of food. As these seals are mainly females that have brought forth their young on the Pribilof islands, the killing of the mother seals results in the starvation of the young upon the land, and the inevitable rapid extinction of the fur seal herd. Unless something is done for the protection of the seal herds, within five years not only the Alaskan but also the Russian seal herds will be completely exterminated and deprive this country of a valuable source of revenue and the world of a great boon."—Washington Herald.

Progressive Winnipeg.

Statistics show that Winnipeg is now the fourth largest manufacturing city of Canada, and those who have studied the benevolent economic conditions which must control her future see a repetition of the history of St. Louis or Chicago before the capital city of Manitoba.

In 1902 the city of Winnipeg had a population of 48,411; at the opening of the present year the official figures were 118,000. In that same year five years ago the total assessable property of the city amounted to $28,615,810 and in 1907 had jumped to $106,188,000. In the same space of time the bank clearings increased from $188,370,000 to $599,657,000 in 1907.—Cement Age.

Pronounced Bad.

"I made a bad break to-day."

"How was that?"

"There is a Chicago woman visiting Julia Dean and while I was there this afternoon she insisted upon talking about Gerty. Pretty soon I asked her if Gerty was her daughter. You should have seen her face up. And then I somehow found out she meant Goethe."

"Who?"

"Oh, you know—the great German author."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

FOR COUNTY JUDGE.

P. E. Cason is a candidate for Judge of the County Court of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

FOR COUNTY ATTORNEY.

N E. Riddell is a candidate for County Attorney of Boone County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

FOR CLERK OF COUNTY COURT

Charles (Caddie) Maurer, of Belleview, is a candidated for Clerk of the Boone County Court, subject to the Democratic Primary election, November 3, 1908.

Owen S. Watts, of Walton, is a candidate for Clerk of the Boone County Court, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

B B. Allphin, of Walton, is a candidate for Clerk of the Boone County Court, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary Election November 3, 1908.

J. H. Rogers, of Walton, is a candidate for Clerk of the Boone County Court, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

D. B. Dobbins, of Richwood, is a candidate for Clerk of the Boone County Court, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

FOR SHERIFF.

W. D. Cropper, of Burlington, is a candidate for Sheriff of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

B. B. Hume, of Burlington, is a candidate for Sheriff of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, Novmeber 3, 1908.

Malchus Souther, of Constance, is a candidate for Sher ff of Boone County subject to the Democratic Primary Election November 3, 1908.

E. K. Stephens, of Walton, is a candidate for Sheriff of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

FOR ASSESSOR.

R. H. Stephens, of Rabbit Hash, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1907.

John W. Williams, of Union, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

Lewis Clore, of Rabbit Hash, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election November 3, 1908.

E. C. Franks, of Big Bone, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

C. P. Robinson, of Big Bone, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election November 3, 1908

FOR SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT.

Almer M. Yealey, of Florence, is a candidate for Superintendent of Schools of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

Elbert S. Ryle, of Burlington, is a candidate for Superintendent of Schools of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

FOR JAILOR.

Samuel Adams is a candidate for Jailer of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

FOR SURVEYOR.

W. E Vest is a candidate for Surveyor of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

STRONG REASONS

Why Judge Elliston Cannot Support His Cousin For Congress and Why He Is For Rhinock.

Said Judge J. L. Elliston, of Latonia, Ky., in speaking of the race for Congress in the Sixth Congressional District of Kentucky:

"I have always been a Democrat, because I believe in the principles of Democracy as taught by Jefferson and Jackson and now by William J. Bryan.

"For eight years I served as Chairman of the Kenton County Democratic Committee. Hon. R. H. Elliston, who is a candidate for Congress, is my cousin. I regret to say that I cannot consistently vote for him, because he has not been a Democrat. He refused to vote for Hon. J. C. S. Blackburn, the Democratic caucus nominee for United States Senator, thereby contributing largely to the election of W. J. Deboe, Republican to the United States Senate. In 1896 he voted for Palmer and Buckner against Hon. W J. Bryan for President; he refused to vote for Mr. Bryan in 1900, and also refused to vote for Governor Goebel. He is now trying to justify his disloyalty to the party by a recent letter from Senator J. C. S. Blackburn. This won't go. In order to do this he must exhibit a letter from Bryan explaining his party treachery in voting for Palmer and Buckner in 1897, and in refusing to vote for Bryan in 1900; also, one explaining why he refused to vote for Governor Goebel.

"I do not believe it is right for any Democrat to vote for a bolter over a Democrat who has always voted the ticket and supported its nominee, especially for one of the highest offices in the gift of this congressional district. I have been for and against Mr. Rhinock during the races he has run for different offices, and can truthfully say of him that, either in success or defeat, he has always been a loyal Democrat, and has stood by the nominees of the party. In my judgment there is no doctrin so false as the one which teaches that it is right to do evil in order that good may come from it.

"Mr. Rhinock is in thorough sympathy and accord with W. J. Bryan and his associates, he has served his people and party faithfully and effectually in the Fifty-ninth and Sixtieth Congresses, and I see no good reason why he should not be elected to the Sixty-first Congress."—Enq.

Personal Mention.

Mrs. Sarah Riley has been quite ill for several days.

Miss Sherley Tolin is visiting friends in Harrison county.

Miss Katie Arnold is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Susan Clutterbuck.

Miss Dora Rich, of Danville, Ind. is the guest of her sister, Mrs. S. W. Tolin.

Miss Alice Carver is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. W. B Walton, of the Belleview neighborhood.

Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Ryle, of Big Bone, were pleasant callers on Dr. and Mrs. Peddicord, yesterday.

Waller Campbell, of Latonia, arrived Monday evening for a brief visit with friends in this vicinity.

Mrs. Della Utz, of Limaburg, was in yesterday and ordered bills for a public sale on the afternoon of September 2.

John W. Deer, of Eddingburg, Indiana, arrived last Friday for a visit to his aged mother and other relatives in this county.

Miss Essie Parish, who spent a couple of weeks with friends at Fincastle, Ohio, returned home the latter part of last week.

Mrs. Kirb Foster, of Jacksonville, Florida, and who is visiting her mother near Burlington, was calling on Burlington friends, last Friday.

Miss Virginia Botts, of Belleview neighborhood, entertained a large number of her young friends in a most delightful manner, last Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Kreylich and daughter, Miss Mattie, arrived home last Wednesday afternoon after a delightful trip to Atlantic City and other points of interest in the east.

Dr. and Mrs. W. O. Rouse are at Ft. Wayne, Indiana, for a visit of several days. Mrs. Rouse has been annoyed with a throat trouble for a long time, and while in Ft. Wayne her throat will be operated on by an eminent specialist.

Mrs. Charles Campbell, of DeLand, Florida, was the guest of Burlington friends a few days last week. Mrs. Campbell is a daughter of the late Dr. J. F. Smith, many years ago a prominent physician in this part of Boone county. Her husband is an extensive cultivator of celery in Florida.

Miss Bessie Berkshire entertained most delightfully yesterday evening at her pleasant home two and one-half miles out on the Belleview pike, in honor of Miss Olivette Foster, of Jacksonville, Florida, and her niece, Miss Nellie Berkshire. The numerous guests were more than delighted with the cordial reception they were given, and Miss Bessie fully sustained her well deserved reputation as one of the most accomplished hostesses in the county.

OLLIE JAMES

Declares That He's Very Sanguine as To Bryan's Election.

Ollie James, the big Congressman from the First Kentucky District, was one of the principal speakers, yesterday, at the Bryan-Kern reception at Coney Island. Mr. James is known to be very close, perhaps the closest man in the country, to W. J. Bryan. The big Congressman is very sanguine as to the election of Mr. Bryan. He says the people are clamoring for a change, that it is a land slide, and that Bryan will sweep the Northwest, California, Indiana, Illinois, Nebraska and West Virginia certain, besides the solid South, a good chance for Ohio, New York and all doubtful States.

"I see my friend, Congressman Rhinock," said Mr. James, "has many opponents for renomination. I hope he shall be returned by a large majority. He is an original Bryan man, and has always voted right on all measures, has assisted the Democratic party with his funds, and is a capable and honest member of Congress.—Sunday's Enquirer.

HAMILTON.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Tom Huff, a fine boy.—Uncle Tom Wilson, who has been very sick, is improving.—Mr. and Mrs. Sam French's little daughter, Ethelina, is better.—Mrs. Wm. Stephens, of Cincinnati, has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Thomas Huff.—F. K. Markesbery has his new gasoline boat completed and in good running order.—Miss Wilella Hance took charge of our school last Monday.—Mr. Perry Johnson gave a dinner, one day last week, in honor of his brother, T. B. Johnson, of Oklahoma. The dinner was prepared by his granddaughter, Miss Jennie F. Allen.—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tanner and little daughter, Lourena, spent from Monday until Tuesday, as guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Markesbery. Mr. Tanner brought his camera and took several nice views on the river and had a general good time fishing and boat riding.

WALTON.

Miss Clara Jones, of Henry, Ill., is visiting her uncle, Robt. W. Jones.

Miss Laura Frances Riddell, of Burlington, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. E K. Stephens, has returned home.

PUBLIC SALE—I will offer at public sale at my residence in Walton, Tuesday, September 1st, 1908, all my household effects. Time given on sums over $5. SLEET YARNELL.

Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Hopkins have gone to Marble Hill, Indiana, for a week's visit to Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Dean. They were joined there by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Maxwell, of Meridian, Miss.

Going-Out-Of

Buisness Sale!

On account of ill health I will sell out, and offer the following property for sale—Store House, Frame House, Barn and garden, 1 lot 50 ft. square. Stock of General Merchandise.

HENRY OELSNER,
Florence, Ky

Balloon Ascension

AND

Parachute Leap

Each Day At The

FLORENCE - FAIR

BY

PROF. LOUIS BUSH,

THE WORLD'S MOST

DARING AERONAUT.

FOUR BIG Days THE THIRTEENTH ANNUAL BOONE COONTY FAIR FOUR BIG Days

Will Be Held at Florence, Ky., August 26th to 29th, 1908

$2,500 IN PREMIUMS WILL BE GIVEN $2,500

SOME OF THE BIG PREMIUMS:

Best Sweepstake Saddle Animal - - - - - $125.00
Best Sweepstake Saddle Animal - - - - - $125.00
Best Sweepstake All-Purpose Animal - - - - $125.00

LIBERAL PREMIUMS IN ALL DEPARTMENTS.

Come and Bring Your Families and Spend One Day with Your Friends on the Grounds and under the Shade Trees in the Cool Grove. Everything Possible will be done for your Amusement and Comfort.

For Sale Privately.

My entire Stock of Goods consisting of

GENERAL MERCHANDISE,

Also House and Lot in Belleview, Boone County, Ky. Have a good estabished trade. Any one desiring this location will call on or write me at once.

E. E. KELLY, Grant P. O., Ky.

Boone Co. Deposit Bank,

BURLINGTON, KY.

The Oldest Bank in Boone County,

PAYS 3 PER CENT. INTEREST ON TIME DEPOSITS,

With $100,000 protection to its Depositors as follows:

Capital Stock	$30,000
Surplus and Undivided Profits	40,000
Liability of Stockholders	30,000
Total Security for Depositors	$100,000

COURTESY EXTENDED TO ALL.

Bear In Mind

A Square Deal to Every Man

Is Our Motto.

We give you Honest Clothing at "Honest Prices." We give you the Style, Quality, Fit and Workmanship and we guarantee

.....OUR PRICES THE LOWEST.....

We still have a fine line of

Men's & Boys' Spring and Summer SUITS

and it will be to your interest to examine them before buying elsewhere.

Men's Nice Suits.....$5.00, $6.00, $7.50
Men's Fine Suits.....$10.00, $12.50, $15.00, $18.00
Boys' Suits.....$4.00, $5.00, $7.50, $10.00, $12.00
Children's Suits.....$1.50 to $5.00
Fine Line of Men's Pants.....$1.00 to $5.00

Big Line of Cottonade and Camlet Pants just the thing for hot weather. We have some nice Suits in Odds and Ends which we will sell at much reduced prices.

Rolfes & Wachs,

RELIABLE CLOTHIERS,

No. 1 PIKE STREET, Cor. Madison Ave., Covington, Ky.

DEERING MACHINERY

.....SUCH AS.....

BINDERS, MOWERS RAKES and OTHER FARM Machinery, and Gasoline Engines see

E. K. STEPHENS

Phone 31-x, PETERSBURG, KY.

Local agents wanted for sale of Lott's Rapid Steam Washer—greatest Washing Machine of the age.

The BEST Fire Insurance that any country building can have is a

Cortright Metal Shingle Roof

It cannot burn. It cannot leak. It never needs repairs, and makes the handsomest long lived roof on the market. Insurance Companies recognize its advantages and are glad to quote lower prices where it is used. Drop in and see them.

RILEY & GAAR, Agents, Bullittsville, Ky.

Jewelry Just a Little Better.

We are not satisfied to show Jewelry as good as others show. It is our aim to offer you something better, something different. Excellence of workmanship, beauty and exclusiveness of design and the very best wearing qualities characterize every piece and with our moderate prices you can buy far more economically here than elsewhere.

Motch,

The Jeweler,
613 MADISON,
Covington, Ky.

Rogers Bros. General Merchants,

BELLEVUE, KY.

Keep on hand a General Stock of MERCHANDISE.

Coal Kept in the Yard.

Country Produce taken in Trade.

FOR SALE.

2nd second haud lumber, sash, doors and windows. W. H. Buckner, Erlanger, Ky.

POSTED.

Notice is heroby given that my property knowu as Laughery Island is posted against all kinds of trespass.

JOHN SMITH, Grant, Ky.

Take the Recorder.

Subscribe for the Recorder.

Local News.

FOR CONGRESS.

HON. CLIFFORD E. NADAUD, of Kenton county, is a candidate for Congress from the Sixth Kentucky District, subject to the Primary Election Saturday, August 22.

Hon. R. H. ELLISTON, of Grant county, is a candidate for Congress from the Sixth Kentucky District, subject to the Primary Election, Saturday, August 22.

HON. JOSEPH L. RHINOCK, of Kenton county, is a candidate for Congress from the Sixth Kentucky District, subject to the Primary Election; Saturday, August 22.

HON. D. LINN GOOCH, of Covington, is a candidate for Congress from the Sixth Kentucky District, subject to the Primary Election, Saturday, August 22.

HON. W. W. CLEARY, of Covington, is a candidate for Congress from the Sixth Kentucky District, subject to the Primary Election, Saturday, August 22.

HON. JOHN T. HODGE, of Newport, is a candidate for Congress from the Sixth Kentucky District, subject to the Primary Election, August 22.

The hot weather has past for the present.

Grover Snyder has invested in a handsome new buggy.

All roads lead to Erlanger this week, and next week, to Florence.

The presses in this office have begun turning out cards for candidates.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Hall entertained with a 6 o'clock dinner, yesterday.

Have your watches and clocks repaired at R. W. Clark's, Burlington.

The abutments for the bridge across Botts' gulch are ready for the iron work.

A gay party of Bullittsville hay riders called at C. C. Roberts', one night last week.

Miss Louise Blyth, of Lawrenceburg, Indiana, is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Dudley Rouse.

Rev. Stith attended Crittenden Baptist Association in session at Williamstown, last Week.

A balloon ascension and a daring parachute leap every afternoon next week at Florence fair.

The chicken thieves have not suspended operations entirely, and an occasional raid is reported.

G. W. Sandford, of Twin Oak Fruit Farm, was supplying the local market with peaches, last Saturday.

Next week will be the biggest week of the campaign for the candidates who aspire to the local offices.

There is no better place than the fair at Florence for Boone county people to meet and enjoy a four days outing.

R. W. Clark took in the Lawrenceburg fair, last Friday, and met many of his old friends and acquaintances.

For Rent—Stable and pasture during week of Florence Fair.
M. FINCH.

John Baldon's machine has completed its annual threshing tour. His books show that 10,400 were threshed.

M. T. Garnett found a large, two blade pocket knife on his road home a few days since. He left it at this office.

D. B. Dobbins and Elbert Ryle got to this office just in time yesterday to have their announcements carried this week.

Mrs. B. B. Hume and daughter, Miss Maud, returned, Friday evening, after a visit of three weeks with friends in Erlanger.

None of the faithful of Burlington nor its vicinity attended the big Democratic blow-out at Coney Island, last Saturday.

H. G. Fisk, of Erlanger, took first money with his stallion, Star Wilks, at Carthage, Ohio, fair last week in the 2:24 pace. Time, 2:18½

The Erlanger fair is on this week and the directors are hustling to entertain the large crowds and give them the worth of their money.

Quite a large number of the young people indulged in a delightful hay ride last night. Earl and Russell Smith were in charge of the conveyance.

There has been sufficient rain in the last few weeks to make the pastures in Burlington neighborhood look green and nice, and livestock appears to be doing well.

A hard rain at Lawrenceburg, last Wednesday, put the track at the fair grounds in very bad condition, and several of the horses entered for the races that day did not start.

Pleasant View Baptist church, near Zion Station, Grant county, will be dedicated on the 30th inst. The new building is a handsome structure, and occupies the site of the old one.

No immoral shows, skin games nor gambling allowed at the Florence fair, therefore your children will come in contact with nothing calculated to make undesirable impressions on them.

Notice is hereby given that all persons are forbidden to trespass upon my lands in any manner whatever, unless by my permission. The law against trespass will be rigidly enforced by me.
O. F. GLACKEN.

NOTICE—Those who owe the Burlington Coach Horse Co. for 1907 services, will please come forward and settle. On the first Monday in September, the best horse colt and the best mare colt of Plutarch's 1907 get will each be given a premium. Show to take place in Burlington.
A. B. RENAKER, Secty.

She Likes Good Things.

Mrs. Chas. E. Smith, of West Franklin, Maine, says: "I like good things and have adopted Dr. King's New Life Pills as our family laxative medicine, because they are good and do their work without making a fuss about it." These painless purifiers sold at Bentler's drug store, Erlanger 25c.

Misses Jonette and Pattye Revill are entertaining Miss Prudence Sayers, of Covington; Misses Jean and Corinne Craig, of Ghent, Carroll county; Miss Corinne Conrad, of Dry Ridge, Grant county, and Miss Anna Cleek, of Beaver Lick.

C. W. Jenkins, of Petersburg, while transacting business in Burlington, last Saturday, made this office a brief but pleasant call. His calls at this office are appreciated by the entire force. It is a pleasure to announce that Mr. Jenkins' health has improved very much in the past year.

N. B. Stephens, of Erlanger, son of the late Elder E. Stephens, died of apoplexy, last Monday, after a brief illness. He was an old Confederate soldier and an honorable and upright citizen whose presence will be missed greatly by the community in which he lived. The funeral will be conducted at Hopeful church today.

W. Lee Gaines, of Walton, passed through Burlington last Sunday morning, enroute from the Lawrenceburg fair with his stable of show horses, at the head of which is the noted saddle stallion, High Vine. The display of ribbons showed that Mr. Gaines had captured one first, four seconds and one third.

Base ball umpires and judges at the county fairs are in the same class when it comes to giving satisfaction with their decisions. In the minds of the defeated the first has no conception of the rules for the government of the game, and the second is perfectly ignorant of the merits of the animals or articles he is called upon to decide between.

The Boone county grand jury at its session, last week, indicted James Snyder, jr., and James M. Thompson, both of Petersburg, precinct, the one for selling and the other for buying pooled tobacco. The indictment was found under the law passed by the last legislature to prevent the buying and selling of pooled tobacco other than by pool authorities.

For Sore Feet.

"I have found Bucklen's Arnica Salve to be the proper thing to use for sore feet, as well as for healing burns, sores, cuts, and all manner of abrasions," writes Mr. W. Stone, of East Poland, Maine. It is the proper thing too for piles. Try it! Sold under guarantee at Bentler's drug store, Erlanger. 25c.

The Rabbit Hash Horse Company's colt show will take place at Rabbit Hash on the afternoon of Saturday, September 5, 1908, at which time a premium of $15 will be given to each, the best heavy draft colt, and the best general purpose colt. A premium of $10 will also be given the best mule colt. The colts to be of the 1907 get of the Company's horse and jack.
C. G. RIDDELL, President.

Everything is in readiness for the fair at Florence, next week. The grounds have been put in good condition and the dense shade furnished by the large trees about the amphitheater was never more inviting. There is not a more delightful place in this part of the country at which to spend three or four days every year than at the Florence fair. Everybody feels at home there, and there is no end to the real enjoyment of its thousands of patrons.

B. B. Hume was among the most successful exhibitors at Lawrenceburg fair, last week. His pacer, Lucky K, landed second money in the county pace; his stallion, Grand Ohlet, took first premium over six others in the all-purpose ring, defeated such noted stallions as High Vine, Parke's Denmark, and Cranshaw's fine horse; Grand Chief took first premium on a stallion with two or more of his colts over three other entries; he took second premium on his harness gelding.

In response to a telephone message, Sunday morning, Deputy Sheriff B. B. Hume went to a fishing camp on the river just above Lawrenceburg ferry, and arrested Irvin Bret, who, the evening before, cut and seriously injured Thomas Little over at Lawrenceburg fair grounds. The officer had hold of Bret before he realized what was being done, and lost no time in taking from him his pocket knife, the only weapon he had upon his person. At first Bret refused to return to Lawrenceburg, but when informed that in that case he would be bront to the jail in Burlington, he changed his notion and agreed to return to Lawreceburg. Bret has a reputation of being particularly fond of using his knife, and his assault on Little is said to have been entirely unprovoked, and feeling against him in Lawrenceburg is said to be very strong.

Early Monday morning a jolly crowd of young people passed through town on their way to the picturesque Middle creek cliffs. The party was given by Messrs. Earl and Russell Smith in honor of Misses Jonette and Pattye Revill's guests. Those in the jolly crowd were Misses Corinne Conrad, of Dry Ridge, Grant county; Jean and Corinne Craig, of Ghent, Carroll county; Prudence Sayers, of Covington; Anna Cleek, of Beaver Lick; Estelle Huey, Jonette and Pattye Revill, Therese and Katie Runyan, and Messrs. Earl and Russell Smith, Howard and Garnett Huey and Gordon Gaines. The party reached the cliffs about eleven o'clock, after having enjoyed a very pleasant drive in a large tallyho drawn by four fine horses. The morning was spent in climbing over the large rocks, and in exploring the Devil's cave, etc. At one o'clock a delightful lunch was served to a crowd who enjoyed it greatly. After spending a few more hours in singing, pleasant conversation and further exploration, the party started home. Everyone felt that the day had been one of the most pleasant of [illegible]. A vote of thanks and a hearty yell was given in honor of the young ones, who gave the party, and also of Mrs. Revill, the chaperone.

NOTICE—Those who owe the Burlington Jack Co. for services for year 1907, will please come forward and settle, and, also, remember that this company gives three premiums for the best mules shown at Burlington on county court day in September, 1908. B. W. ADAMS,
President.

Peoples Deposit Bank,

BURLINGTON, KY.

YOUR MONEY DEPOSITED WITH THIS BANK IS AS SAFE AS WITH ANY BANK IN BOONE COUNTY.

3 PER CENT. INTEREST PAID ON SIX MONTHS TIME DEPOSITS.

We Make no Charge for Cashing Checks on other Banks

And afford you all other accommodations within range of Sound Banking in order to make dealings with us pleasant.

SAFE DEPOSIT BOXES FOR RENT. CALL AND SEE US.

STATEMENT OF THE

Equitable Bank & Trust Co.

WALTON, KY.

Organized for Business Sept. 9th, 1907.

DEPOSITS:

Opening Day Sept. 9th, 1907	$5,383.71
Dec. 31st, 1907, when statement was made to Secretary of State	37,157.67
June 30th, 1908, when statement was made to Secretary of State	56,269.38
July 1st, 1908, one day later	$61,959 90

LOANS AND DISCOUNTS:

July 1st, 1908	$ 76,539.35
Available Cash July 1st, 1908	30,716.80
Resources July 1st, 1908	$115,220.35

Careful, prudent business principles governs the bank. Your business solicited. Interest paid on time deposits. Mail communications given especial attention.

CHAS. L. GRIFFITH, President. D. B. WALLACE, Cashier.

LEW THORN, Pharmacist.

A. G. G. RICHARDSON, Veterinary Surgeon.

THORN & RICHARDSON, DRUGGISTS.

We sell Kreso Dip for Lice and Mites on horses, cattle, sheep, hogs and chickens. Headquarters for House Paints, Floor Paints, Roofing Paints, Wagon and Carriage Paints, Carter's Lead and Pure Linseed Oil.

Medicines, Stationery and Sundries in large supply. All new and fresh. Prices are right.

Main Street, - - RISING SUN, INDIANA.

The New Iowa

New in Kentucky,
But a Leader in the West

NOTE WHAT WE CLAIM FOR IT.

The Only Separator

made to day, that will skim to a trace, warm or cold milk.

Easiest Cleaned,
Lightest Running,
Mechanically Right

Farmers and Dairymen wanting to buy Separators should see the Iowa before making a purchase. It is absolutely the best, no other just as good costs no more. Why not have it? Over two car loads sold in Kentucky in two months. Write us for literature, good reading matter and very learning. We have all kinds of Tools, Farming implements, Contractors Supplies, &c. The best line of Plows, Grain Drills, Feed Cutters and Mills. We have some new and slightly used Sharpless Separators, we will sell at bargains.

We will Save You Money. Give us a Call.

The Fischer Bros. Company,

(Incorporated)

1046 Madison Ave. COVINGTON, KY.

729-731 Monmouth St. NEWPORT, KY.

Everything Marked in Plain Figures. One Price to All.

YOU NEED A BUGGY

AND I HAVE IT FOR YOU.

CAN SAVE YOU MONEY.

New Buggies, Runabouts

and Harness for Sale or Trade.

Workmanship the Best, and Material Guaranteed.

When in Burlington call and See me.

B. B. HUME, - Burlington, Ky.

IMPORTANT

.....TO.....

Railway Men, Farmers and Workingmen.

In the spring of 1903 the section men of the Cincinnati, New Orleans & Texas Pacific Railway (Cincinnati Southern), on the division from Ludlow, Ky., to Lexington, Ky., retained Clifford E. Nadaud, of Covington, as their attorney to organize a movement for the purpose of securing for them, if possible, either an advance in wages or less hours of labor each day (without a decrease of the then prevailing wages). A letter written to Mr. Nadaud brought him out promptly to interview the section men. After he ascertained their wishes, Mr. Nadaud volunteered to take the entire charge of the matter, without expense to the men, either in case he should succeed or fail.

Mr. Nadaud returned to Covington and immediately started to work. For four months he labored incessantly. During these four months he made six different trips, walking the rails and tracks from Walton to Mason, Ky., a distance of 21 miles, to consult and advise with the men personally. After much work and infinite perseverance, at the end of four months Mr. Nadaud succeeded, and secured for every railroad section man between Ludlow and Lexington, Ky., an increase in wages of 5 per cent, and also, in addition to this, one hour each day less of labor, and today all the men receive the above advantages, entirely and solely due to the work for them by Clifford E. Nadaud.

Mr. Nadaud refused to charge or receive a fee or to allow the men to pay him the expense he had contracted by his numerous trips. The men desired then to make up a purse, but Mr. Nadaud would not permit this.

We, the section men, finding that he (who was in the time of need a true friend of the laboring man) is now a candidate for Congress in the Sixth Kentucky District, do, without his knowledge or consent, arrange this statement.

We do so, moved by the gratitude that fills our hearts for our friend, Cliff Nadaud, whom we know to be a sincere champion of the great common people, able, loyal, honorable and worthy of the confidence and support of every working man, whether he tills the soil, works at the bench or labors on the steel highway.

Signed for us, all section men on Cincinnati, New Orleans & Texas Pacific Railway between Ludlow and Lexington, Ky.

BY TOM O'HERAN,
Section Foreman Cin. S. Ry., Sec. 4, Bracht, Ky., Kenton Co.

JAS. McGINNIS,
Section Foreman Cin. S. Ry., Sec. 5, Sherman, Ky., Grant Co.

JOS. P. GILTNER,
Section Foreman Cin. S. Ry. Sec. 7 Mason Ky. Grant Co.

Take Your County paper.

Special Shoe Sale.

Our Fall and Winter Stock of Shoes will soon begin to arrive. We must make room for them and therefore will make very

LOW PRICE FOR STOCK ON HAND.

Men's Heavy Shoes at	$2.00	former price	$3.00
Men's Light Shoes at	2.50	former price	3.50
Ladies' Shoes at	1.00	former price	2.00
Children's Shoes at	75c	former price	1.50

We have not room for more prices, but call on us and we will give you some genuine

SHOE BARGAINS.

W. M. Rachal & Co

Union, Kentucky.

PERFECT BIFOCALS AT LAST.

Bifocal lenses have been undergoing constant and rapid improvement for the the last 10 years, until now we have the perfect bifocal.

It is ground in one piece and perfectly smooth; no cement used and no lines visible. Call and see them. They are the finest made.

N. F. Penn, M. D. with Motch, Jeweler,

613 Madison Avenue, - - - COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

Phone, South 912-Y.

SCOTT CHAMBERS,

WALTON, KY.

Embalmer & Funeral Director.

LIVERY, BOARDING & SALE STABLE.

First Class Rigs for Hire at All Times.

Dealer in High Class Harness and Saddle Horses.

Raymond City Coal for sale at all times.

Hay, Grain, Mill Feed,

ALWAYS KEPT ON HAND.

Highest Market Price paid for Grain.

Fancy and Staple

GROCERIES.

I also have a nice and complete line of Fancy and Staple Groceries and canned goods.

WIRE AND FENCING, AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS, Buggies, Carriages, all kinds Fertilizer.

Owen S. Watts,

(Successor to R. B. HUEY & CO.)

WALTON, - - KENTUCKY.

H. G. BLANTON,

Funeral Director & Embalmer

LIVERY, BOARDING and FEED STABLE.

First-class Carriages for hire with careful Drivers for Families, Parties, Weddings, Etc.

I Have a Nice White Funeral Car.

Lexington Pike, - - - ERLANGER, KY.

Leave Orders with J. C. REVILL, Burlington, Ky.

Geo. W. Hill & Co.,

Grocers, Commission & SEED Merchants.

Tested Field and Garden Seeds.

Finest Brands and Grades of FERTILIZERS, LIME, CEMENT AND SALT.

Largest and Best Stock of

GROCERIES IN THE CITY.

Sole Agents for the Celebrated

RARUS and GEM Brands of FLOUR.

When in the City it will pay you to come and see us.

27 & 29 Pike Street, (Phone South 55) 26 & 28 W Seventh Street

COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

Truth and Quality

appeal to the Well-Informed in every walk of life and are essential to permanent success and creditable standing. Accordingly, it is not claimed that Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is the only remedy of known value, but one of many reasons why it is the best of personal and family laxatives is the fact that it cleanses, sweetens and relieves the internal organs on which it acts without any debilitating after effects and without having to increase the quantity from time to time.

It acts pleasantly and naturally and truly as a laxative, and its component parts are known to and approved by physicians, as it is free from all objectionable substances. To get its beneficial effects always purchase the genuine—manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., only, and for sale by all leading druggists.

THE "LESS" AGE.

Cholly—It's wonderful, bah Jove! Riding without hawses, telegraphing without wires, and all these things.

Maude—Yes, and thinking without brains.

THE TIME TEST.

That Is What Proves True Merit.

Doan's Kidney Pills bring the quickest of relief from backache and kidney troubles. Is that relief lasting? Let Mrs. James M. Long, of 113 N. Augusta St., Staunton, Va., tell you. On January 31st, 1903, Mrs. Long wrote: "Doan's Kidney Pills have cured me" (of pain in the back, urinary troubles, bearing down sensations, etc.). On June 20th, 1907, four and one-half years later, she said: "I haven't had kidney trouble since. I repeat my testimony."

Sold by all dealers, 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Warm Welcome Assured.

"And you say you haven't been home all the afternoon?" reprimanded the old lady on the bridge.

"No'm," confessed the small boy with wet hair.

"Well, why don't you go home right away? Your mother will be wearing her soul away for you."

The little boy was thoughtful.

"Yessum, but if I get there before my hair dries she will be wearing a shingle away for me. You see, I've been in swimming."

BABY CRIED AND SCRATCHED

All the Time—Covered with Torturing Eczema—Doctor Said Sores Would Last for Years—Perfect Cure by Cuticura.

"My baby niece was suffering from that terrible torture, eczema. It was all over her body but the worst was on her face and hands. She cried and scratched all the time and could not sleep night or day from the scratching. I had her under the doctor's care for a year and a half and he seemed to do her no good. I took her to the best doctor in the city and he said that she would have the sores until she was six years old. But if I had depended on the doctor my baby would have lost her mind and died from the want of aid. But I used Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment and she was cured in three months. Alice L. Dowell, 4769 Easton Ave., St. Louis, Mo., May 2 and 20, 1907."

Her Idea and His.

Miss Kunning—Every woman should work hard for a husband—

Mr. Marryat—That's what I say, but my wife's so lazy—

Miss Kunning—You misunderstand me. I mean she should work hard to get a husband, but after she gets him she shouldn't work at all.

TRIPP COUNTY, S. D.

Government Land Opening.

The government opening of a million acres of fine agricultural and grazing lands will probably occur about Oct. 1st. The Rosebud extension of The Chicago & North Western Ry. is the only railway reaching these lands, and Dallas, S. D., is the railway terminus and the only town on the reservation border. The U. S. land office will probably be located there. Pamphlets describing this land and how to secure a quarter section homestead, free on application to W. B. Kniskern, P. T. M., C. & N. W. Ry., Chicago, Ill.

Habit has more force in forming our characters than opinions have.—R. Hall.

A VISION AND A CALL

Story of Isaiah the Prophet.

BY THE "HIGHWAY AND BYWAY" PREACHER

(Copyright, 1908, by the Author, W. S. Edson.)

Scripture Authority—The Book of Isaiah, especially chapter 6.

The Prophet Isaiah.—The name means "Salvation of Jehovah." He was the son of Amos, 1:1. He dressed in sackcloth (20:2), a silent preaching of that repentance which he taught. His field of labor was Judah, and the period of service was during the reigns of "Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz and Hezekiah, kings of Judah." (760:1) 760 or 770 B. C. to 698 B. C. He was a contemporary of Jonah, Amos, Hosea in Israel, but younger than they, and of Micah, in Judah. Tradition from the Talmud represents him as having been sawn asunder by Manasseh, the son of Hezekiah, with a wooden saw, for having said that he had seen Jehovah. The vision recorded in the sixth chapter, and which sets forth his call to the prophetic office, came in the last year of Uzziah's reign, the outline of the chapter being as follows: (a) Vision of Glory, 1-4; (b) Conviction of Sin, 5; (c) Cleansing from Sin, 6 and 7; (d) The Call, 8; (e) The Consecration, 8. (f) The Commission, 9 and 10; (g) The Promise, 11-13.

SERMONETTE.

The only safe vision is the one God gives.

Many a person thinks he has had a vision when it is nothing but the vagaries of a disordered brain often superinduced by an abused stomach.

God does give visions, even in this day, but not that the one thus favored may go around bragging aobut it, but that it may prove inspiration and preparation for the Divine service.

How many there are that seek to steep their Christian lives in supernatural manifestations, and ecstatic conditions, and who do not do one practical thing to lift the burdens that rest on other lives or point the way to the Christ.

Isaiah had his vision, and he wisely recorded it among the prophetic messages which God directed him to speak, but we don't find him going about preaching a doctrine of visions and strange tongues and supernatural manifestations. He strikes at sin in the national life and points the way back to God.

Whether or not such vivid and striking vision as came to Isaiah when God called him to service comes to the Christian worker of to-day this one thing is true, that just as Isaiah had driven home upon his heart the realization of the holiness of God and his own sinfulness, followed by the conscious cleansing at God's hands, so everyone who would hear the call of God must travel the road of such experience. Who can become a faithful ambassador for God unless he knows something of the holiness of God, the sinfulness of his own heart and the cleansing power of God to fit for service? Who, indeed?

However great the prophet Isaiah appears from our point of view to-day, let us not forget that neither he nor his message was popular in his day. No doubt he was dubbed peculiar, and his message fell upon ears that were dull with the world's music, but he did not preach because he was the most popular preacher in Judah, neither did he become discouraged and give up the work because he seemed to obtain little if any results. Rather did he preach because he had a message, and his heart was all athrill with heart-to-heart contact with God.

THE STORY.

THE consciousness of a work to be done is the first condition of a call to that work. God never calls a man into his ministry who is not sensitive to the great need of the world for the gospel message. This is the promise upon which we base this story of the great Isaiah, the man who could see visions and dream of the marvelous grace and mercy of God, the man who was richly endowed with the grace of speech and wealth of imagination of the poet and the strength and force of character of one whose sole basis of action was the unchangeable law of God.

Richly endowed of God he early consecrated his abilities to God and came to know the joy of doing right because it was right. In the day in which he lived there were great temptations to impure, unholy living, for the influence of the heathen nations about had crept in upon the kingdom of Judah, leading many astray and lowering sadly the religious and the moral standards of the people.

The kings of Israel worldly ambitious, and desirous of alliances which would strengthen their hands against enemies which rose up against the nation from time to time, set the example which the people were only too willing to follow. The road away from God is broad and smooth, and for the time being seems wonderfully attractive, and so it was in the days in which the events of our story center.

It was popular in that day as it is very often to-day to be so broad-minded as to be ready to be on common terms of intimacy with the worldly prosperous, and to be so liberal as to have no definite standards of ethics, but to be whatever circumstances and conditions seem to require to gain the greatest amount of comfort and pleasure for the time being.

Such was the general status of public and private life in the days when Isaiah was a young man, and because he held himself loyally to the support of God's law, and would not bring the standards which God had established down to the level of man's weaknesses, he found himself counted as peculiar, and of narrow perceptions. But however much he lost of human companionship he more than made it up in the conscious fellowship with the God whom he longed to serve. And because he valued God's laws above everything else, and made a deep study of it, his vision was clarified and he was able to see the evils into which his nation was falling step by step. And he knew that sin meant punishment and that the judgments of God must in time fall upon his nation.

Thus in his early manhood he came to be a student of the political condition of his nation, and to strive to point out the dangers into which the nation was most surely drifting. In this way he labored, conscious of the great evils which existed and the irrewith him. He scarcely recognized the king so changed had his countenance become under the strain of the danger that surrounded him, and his heart was moved towards him.

"Oh," he thought to himself, "if he would only listen to the message which God has sent unto him. If he would only believe the promise which God has given of the coming one, Immanuel, the very God himself who should come to the nation."

But even as he beheld the face of King Ahaz Isaiah knew that he would not receive his message, and his heart sank heavy within him. "Nevertheless, the message must be spoken," he exclaimed as he stepped forward and proclaimed with a loud voice so that all the people that were assembled heard:

"Take heed, and be quiet; fear not, neither be faint-hearted for the two tails of these smoking firebrands, for the fierce anger of Rezin with Syria, and of the son of Remaliah. Because Syria, Ephraim and the son of Remaliah, have taken evil council against thee, saying, 'Let us go up against Judah, and vex it, and let us make a breach therein for us, and set a king in the midst of it, even the son of Tabeal.'"

The prophet paused as he finished the words of the boast of the enemies of Judah, and then with thunderous tones he cried:

"Thus saith the Lord God, 'It shall not stand neither shall it come to pass. For the head of Syria is Damascus, and the head of Damascus is Rezin; and within three score and five years shall Ephraim be broken, that it be not a people. And the head of Ephriam is Samaria, and the head of Samaria is Ramaiah's son. If ye will not believe, sure ye shall not be established."

The effect of the words upon the people was apparent. A gleam of hope shone in their faces where before had rested one of utter despair.

King Ahaz noted the look, but he spoke not a word.

"If you believe not that this shall come to pass, ask of the Lord a sign."

"Nay I will not ask," answered Ahaz supercilliously and with an assumed air of deep reverence, "for why should I tempt the Lord in asking a sign."

This he spake fearing to publicly pledge obedience to the urgent words of the prophet that he trust wholly in God, for he knew that at that very moment his emissaries were on their way to the king of Assyria with presents to win his help in the present peril.

With an imperious gesture the prophet turned from the king and, facing the assembled people, he shouted:

"The Lord himself shall give you a sign; Behold a virgin shall conceive, and bear a son, and shall call his name Immanuel. Butter and honey shall he eat, that he may know to refuse the evil and choose the good."

Days passed, and then came the knowledge to Isaiah that in spite of his message from the Lord, Ahaz had perfected an alliance with the king of Assyria.

"It cannot be helped. Ahaz may forget, but there be those in the nation who will remember God's promise of the King Immanuel, and will remain faithful. It was a timely message though the king would not hear and heed."

Sway of the Typewriter.

The typewriter is playing an important part in civilizing the world. The latest invention in this line is a machine capable of transcribing the Japanese ideogram; but typewriters imprinting Arabic, Syriac, Armenian, Hebrew and other oriental languages have long been used.

In Turkey the printing of anything, from a circular letter to a book, can only be done under a permit from the government. Therefore, typewriters which imprint Turkish or Arabic characters are prohibited from passing through the custom house. Nevertheless, the increasing demand has somehow produced a small supply. Bagdad, a city of 200,000 inhabitants, has 20 machines, all of which write Arabic. In Syria, one of the most polyglot countries in the world, Syriac, Arabic and French writing typewriters are used by many of the business houses. Persia, which uses the Arabic script, is learning to adopt a typewriter. To go further east, a number of Hindustani writing machines are used in Bombay and other cities of India. Chinese seems to be the only language which still resists the typewriter's endearments.—Harper's Weekly.

IRA D. SANKEY DIES

FAMOUS SINGING EVANGELIST HAS PASSED AWAY.

BLIND AND BROKEN DOWN

He Wrote the Gospel Hymns of the World and Traveled with D. L. Moody for Many Years.

New York.—Ira D. Sankey, known as an evangelist throughout the Christian world, died Thursday night at his home in Brooklyn, but the news of his passing did not become generally known until Friday. Mr. Sankey was 68 years old.

For the last five years he had been blind and had suffered from a complications of diseases brought on by overwork. But almost to the very last he worked at hymn writing. His tours throughout this country and Europe with Dwight L. Moody, the evangelist, brought him into wide prominence.

Sankey, it might be said, wrote the gospel hymns of the world. In China, Egypt, India, Japan, in almost every language known to man, Sankey's hymns are sung. He received a large income from his publications and leaves a considerable estate. Among Mr. Sankey's most familiar compositions are "The Ninety and Nine," and "When the Mists Have Rolled Away." His songs are said to have had a circulation of more than 50,000,000 copies.

He was a rapid composer and wrote book after book of gospel hymns. During the last five or six years of his life he was interested in preparing and publishing the story of the gospel hymns. At the same time he saved his wonderful voice for posterity by singing into phonographs. The records were sent all over the world.

Sankey first met Moody at a Y. M. C. A. convention in Indianapolis. Moody was so charmed with the young man's voice that he urged him to accompany him on his evangelistic tours. Sankey explained that he was married and could not give up his position. "You must come," said Moody; "I can't get along without you." Sankey consulted his wife and they cast in their lot with Mr. Moody. They visited Great Britain from 1873 to 1875, and again in 1883, and made many tours throughout the United States.

PITTSBURG MAN DEFRAUDED.

Invests $600 in Faro Game and Has Dealer Arrested.

New York.—A story of a faro game at high stakes in a luxuriously furnished private dwelling in the fashionable section of the upper West side was disclosed Thursday at the hearing of Martin Phillips, who was arrested, charged with larceny. Phillips was arraigned in the West side court and was held in $1,500 for trail.

Neville R. Moxley, formerly of Pittsburg, Pa., who gave his present address as this city, was the complainant, alleging that he lost $600 in a faro game dealt by Phillips. In his story to the court, Moxley said he came to New York to work "a system" with Phillips. Moxley said Phillips wrote to him saying they could make $2,000 out of Phillips' employer. Moxley, it was alleged, was to put the necessary money and to get 60 per cent. of the proceeds, the remaining 40 per cent. to go to Phillips. Moxley said he came to this city with $600, to which Phillips added $300, saying that much was needed to work the "system." When the magistrate asked Moxley if he did not know the arrangement he had entered into was illegal. Moxley hesitated and he was severely lectured by the court for his part in the matter.

BIG BENEFIT FOR CY YOUNG.

Great Crowd, Loving Cups, Traveling Bag and Flowers Presented.

Boston.—Nearly 20,000 persons from all over the New England states, attended Thursday's benefit game for Denton Tecumseh (Cy) Young of Paoli, O., the Boston American league baseball team's veteran pitcher, at the American league grounds. Three silver loving cups, a traveling bag and two big floral pieces were presented to Young.

The main attraction, besides "Cy" himself, was a game between Boston and a team of star players picked from the other American league clubs. The all-stars won by a score of 3 to 2.

Three Killed in Collision.

Piqua, O.—Three persons were killed and probably 25 fatally injured in a collision between two limited traction cars on the Western Ohio Traction line, nine miles north of Piqua, Monday night.

The dead: William Bailey, car inspector, Piqua, O., legs cut off and skull crushed; William C. Quillen, Lockington, O., skull crushed; James Kohl, Detroit, Mich., skull crushed.

Missing Cashier Short $15,000.

Guthrie, Okla.—State Bank Examiner W. E. Gordon has discovered a shortage of approximately $15,000 in the accounts of Thomas M. Reynolds, the missing cashier of the Bank of Afton, Okla. The state banking board has offered a reward of $500 for the arrest and conviction of Reynolds.

Big Fire in Spanish Village.

Madrid.—Fire Friday destroyed 32 houses in the village of Castineira, province of Orense. Many persons suffered burns.

HOW LONG TO SLEEP.

Impossible to Lay Down Any Hard and Fast Rule.

There can be no hard and fast rules set for the length of time one should sleep. All depends on the person and temperament.

We are told that brain workers and those of a nervous nature need more sleep than others, yet some of the greatest thinkers in the world sleep but four or five hours a night with no ill effects.

A good rule to follow is to sleep until one awakes refreshed, whether that is in five hours or ten.

If possible, do not be called. This is particularly important for growing children. Some parents make a fetish of early hours for their children and think so much of getting them out of lazy habits that they do not consider their nervous systems.

Even when you must go to work at an early hour do not train yourself to depend on an alarm, which gives a shock to the nervous system. Go to bed with the fixed idea in your brain to awaken at a certain hour, and it rarely fails that your eyes pop open at that minute.

If it be well to sleep until refreshed it is not well to indulge in the habit of turning over for another nap. Get up as soon as you awake and you will not be sluggish and stupid for several hours of the morning.

Don't be one of those persons who says with an air: "I never sleep in the daytime." If you have any regard for your looks and health you will take a short rest each day, even though you think you cannot possibly sleep. It won't be long before you are saying: "I believe I just dropped off," and will feel better and brighter for it the rest of the day and evening.

Remember there is nothing like sleep to build up and restore nerve power.

About Rats.

"Tom" Speedy, the Liberton naturalist, has "delivered judgment" in "The Scotsmans" on a lot of interesting correspondence concerning rats. The statement that the progeny of a single pair of rats will in three years increase to 658,808 should, he says, be accepted with the proverbial pinch of salt. As the result of observation Mr. Speedy declares that 15 was the largest brood he had ever seen and four the smallest. Seven was the average of those kept in confinement. The young are born blind, and it is 14 days before they can see. A month later they are displaced by another brood and they are driven from the nursery to fend for themselves. Frequently only one female is found in a brood, and this in a large measure must check the geometrical tendency to increase. What becomes of so many young bachelor rats Mr. Speedy does not state. It is asserted that old males, when opportunity offers, destroy young broods, but of this Mr. Speedy has no knowledge. This he does know, that the mother rat keeps the old male away from her brood in confinement.—London Globe.

Valuable Find in Old Coat.

A laborer named Christensen who lives at Copenhagen bought an old overcoat for ten cents two years ago. He recently noticed something hard in the lining at the back, and, on regretfully cutting it open, discovered a savings bank book with £446 credited. He reported the treasure to the police, but they have not been able to find the original owner, and the money has been awarded to the laborer.

Japan's Cotton Imports.

Consul Hunter Sharp of Kobe advises that the value of raw cotton imported into Japan during the first three months of 1908 was $18,249,466, against $18,312,576 during the same period last year. Owing to trade depression there is a congestion in stocks.

Not Suitable for Automobiles.

American-made automobiles are popular in Norway. The character of the roads there, however, makes their use somewhat limited.

MARKET REPORTS.

Cincinnati, Aug. 14.

CATTLE—Extra	$6 10	@	6 25
CALVES—Extra	6 50	@	6 75
HOGS—Choice	6 85	@	6 90
SHEEP—Extra		@	3 85
LAMBS—Spring	6 65	@	6 75
FLOUR—Spring pat.	5 65	@	5 90
WHEAT—No. 2 red	93½	@	94
CORN—No. 2 mixed	79	@	79½
OATS—No. 2 mixed	50	@	51
RYE—No. 2 choice	78	@	80
HAY—Ch. timothy	11 00	@	11 50
BUTTER—Dairy		@	16½
EGGS—Per doz	15	@	17½
APPLES—Choice	2 00	@	2 50
POTATOES—Per brl.	3 25	@	3 50
TOBACCO—Burley	10 75	@	22 50

CHICAGO.

WHEAT—No. 2 red	94½	@	95
CORN—No. 2 mixed	78	@	80
OATS—No. 2 mixed		@	51
PORK—Prime mess		@	15 25
LARD—Prime		@	9 55

NEW YORK.

FLOUR—Win. patent	6 20	@	6 50
WHEAT—No. 2 red		@	1 00¾
CORN—No. 2 mixed		@	73½
OATS—No. 2 mixed	54	@	55
PORK—Prime mess		@	58
LARD—Steam	9 35	@	9 45

BALTIMORE.

WHEAT—No. 2 red		@	93½
CORN—No. 2 mixed		@	81
OATS—No. 2 mixed		@	53

LOUISVILLE.

WHEAT—No. 2 red		@	92
CORN—No. 2 mixed		@	70
OATS—No. 2 mixed		@	53½
HAY—Ch. timothy		@	14 00
HOGS—Extra	5 90	@	6 85
LARD—Steam		@	8 00

INDIANAPOLIS.

CATTLE—Prime		@	6 50
HOGS—Extra	6 40	@	6 70
SHEEP—Extra	2 50	@	5 00

G. G. Hughes,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
BURLINGTON, KY.
Will practice in all the courts. Prompt attention given to all business entrusted to me.

N. E. Riddell,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.
Prompt Attention given to Collections Will practice in all the courts.

S. Gaines,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.
Will practice in all the courts, and prompt attention given collections. Office—Over D. Rouse's Store.

D. E. Castleman,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.
Will practice in the Courts of Boone Kenton, Grant and Gallatin. Collections pushed energetically.

J. C. CLORE, W. W. DICKERSON
E. T. CLAYTON.
Clore, Dickerson & Clayton,
ATTORNEYS-at-LAW
Will practice in the State and U. S. Courts of Northern Ky., and Southwestern Ohio. Cincinnati Office: N. E. Cor. 6th & Vine; Phone, Main 2029.
Mr. Dickerson will spend a portion of his time at the Williamstown office.

BOONE CO. DEPOSIT BANK
(Incorporated 1856.)
CAPITAL,.....$30,000
Surplus and undivided profits $7,000
—)o(—
Our facilities enable us to receive on favorable terms accounts of individuals and corporations. Collections promptly remitted for at Lowest Rates.

ERLANGER DEPOSIT BANK.
(INCORPORATED 1893.)
ERLANGER, - - KENTUCKY
Capital Stock paid in.....$50,000
Surplus,.....$8,000
Careful attention given collections, and remittances promptly made. Deposit accounts solicited.

Dr. J. L. Adams,
DENTIST,
208 F. & T. Bank Building.
COVINGTON, - KY.
—will be in office—
AT ERLANGER EVERY THURSDAY.

W. E. VEST,
Real Estate Agent.
Farms Bought, Sold or Exchanged, Money to Loan on Real Estate, Notes bought, sold & Negotiated. All communications addressed to W. E. VEST, Walton, Ky.

CHAS. GARNETT,
AUCTIONEER.
Will be in Burlington every court day. Fees for selling stock reasonable. Public Sales given special attention.

INSURE AT HOME
The Farmers' Mutual Fire
INSURANCE COMPANY,
OF BOONE COUNTY,
Is now completely organized and receiving applications for insurance.
Its RATES are LOWER Than those of any other Company and gives the farmers of Boone Co. HITHERTO UNKNOWN ADVANTAGE in keeping their property insured.
Average cost of insurance on $1,000 for a period of five years is $9 45, less than one per cent per $1,000.
Every Farmer in the County should take a policy at once.
Edgar Cropper, Pres., Burlington, Ky.
Noah Tanner, V. Pres., Gunpowder, Ky.
F. A. Utz, Treas., Florence, Ky.
Maichus Souther, Secy.,
R. F. D.—1, Ludlow, Ky.
R. B. Huey, Agent, Burlington, Ky.
J. E. Smith, Assessor, Burlington.
Executive Board—Legrand Gaines, J. W. Conner, Solon Early.

F. W. Kassebaum & Son,
GRANITE & MARBLE
MONUMENTS,
Burial Vaults and Cemetery Work of all Kinds.
Building Stone, Flagging, Settees and Vases.
Office and Wareroom:
70 and 72 Main Street,
AURORA, IND.
IRA POPE Agent, [illegible]

C. L. GRIFFITH,
DEALER IN REAL ESTATE
and Negotiable Notes,
WALTON, KY.
If you want to buy or sell Town Property or Farms, write me. Write for printed list.

Is Pe-ru-na Useful for Catarrh?

Should a list of the ingredients of Peruna be submitted to any medical expert, of whatever school or nationality, he would be obliged to admit without reserve that the medicinal herbs composing Peruna are of two kinds. First, standard and well-tried catarrh remedies. Second, well-known and generally acknowledged tonic remedies. That in one or the other of these uses they have stood the test of many years' experience by physicians of different schools. There can be no dispute about this, whatever. Peruna is composed of some of the most efficacious and universally used herbal remedies for catarrhal diseases, and for such conditions of the human system as require a tonic. Each one of the principal ingredients of Peruna has a reputation of its own in the cure of some phase of catarrh or as a tonic medicine.

The fact is, chronic catarrh is a disease which is very prevalent. Many thousand people know they have chronic catarrh. They have visited doctors over and over again, and been told that their case is one of chronic catarrh. It may be of the nose, throat, lungs, stomach or some other internal organ. There is no doubt as to the nature of the disease. The only trouble is the remedy. This doctor has tried to cure them. That doctor has tried to prescribe for them.

No other household remedy so universally advertised carries upon the label the principal active constituents, showing that Peruna invites the full inspection of the critics.

NO SURPLUS FUNDS THERE.

Beggar Satisfied with Evidence of Poverty in Sight.

Two old Hebrew beggars were traveling together through the residence section of Pittsburg not long ago, in quest of contributions toward their joint capital.

Presently they passed a handsome residence, from which sweet sounds of music issued. It was Ike's turn and hopefully he ascended the steps to the front door, eagerly watched by Jake, who expected quite a handsome addition to their funds.

His consternation was great consequently when he beheld Ike returning crestfallen and empty-handed.

Anxiously running to meet him, he said: "Vell, Ikey, how did you make out with the good people?"

"Ach, Jakey," replied Ike, "there was no use asking in there, because they are very poor people themselves. Just think—two lovely ladies playing on one piano!"—Judge's Library.

Absorbing.

Silas—Ha! Ha! Reuben got bunkoed again.

Cyrus—Do tell! What was it this time?

Silas—Why, Reuben saw an ad that stated that for one dollar they would send him some of the most absorbing literature he ever read.

Cyrus—And what did they send him?

Silas—Why, they sent him a pamphlet entitled "How Blotters Are Made" and another entitled "Points on Turkish Towels."

The Old-Time Boy.

The boy of to-day who complains of anything should be made to read the rules and regulations laid down for boys in old colonial days. He had to stand up at the table. He must go to bed at candlelight. He must not sit down in the presence of a visitor. He must not shout. He must not run without cause. He must not throw stones at animals or birds. He must not idle on the street, and if he had been found trying to stand on his head he would have gone to jail for a week.

Contentment is said to be better than riches, but it is only a matter of hearsay with most people.

SELF DELUSION

Many People Deceived by Coffee.

We like to defend our indulgencies and habits even though we may be convinced of their actual harmfulness.

A man can convince himself that whisky is good for him on a cold morning, or beer on a hot summer day—when he wants the whisky or beer.

It's the same with coffee. Thousands of people suffer headaches and nervousness year after year but try to persuade themselves the cause is not coffee—because they like coffee.

"While yet a child I commenced using coffee and continued it," writes a Wis. man, "until I was a regular coffee fiend. I drank it every morning and in consequence had a blinding headache nearly every afternoon.

"My folks thought it was coffee that ailed me, but I liked it and would not admit it was the cause of my trouble, so I stuck to coffee and the headaches stuck to me.

"Finally, the folks stopped buying coffee and brought home some Postum. They made it right (directions on pkg.) and told me to see what difference it would make with my head, and during the first week on Postum my old affliction did not bother me once. From day to day this we have used nothing but Postum in place of coffee—headaches are a thing of the past and the whole family is in fine health."

"Postum looks good, smells good, tastes good, is good, and does good to the whole body." "There's a Reason."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest

Kentucky Gleanings.

Most Important News Gathered From All Parts of the State.

"I'LL SWING," SAYS NEGRO,

Though Guards Bring Him Safely From Scene of Murder.

Louisville, Ky.—Rufus Browder, a negro, who was brought here from Russellville for safekeeping, said he believed he would be hanged. He said the citizens demanded that fate for him, because he slew James Cunningham in Logan.

"I'll swing," he said.

During the trip here from Russellville Browder was uneasy in spite of Sheriff Tom Rhea and the 40 soldiers who came with them. When he saw South Louisville, however, he grinned and said: "Gee, I'm glad to be here."

Rhea took his prisoner to the jail, and said that the trip was uneventful. Crowds gathered at the way stations to see the soldiers and the negro, but no violence was offered.

RIDERS THREATEN FARMER.

Demand Payment of An Old Bill Within 30 Days.

Hopkinsville, Ky.—J. S. Northington, a farmer, living near Garrettsburg, has received a threatening letter, signed "Kentucky and Tennessee Night Riders."

The letter referred to some trouble Mr. Northington had four years ago with a man who thrashed his wheat crop and was docked on the settlement because of alleged wasting of grain.

The letter said that if the balance of the man's bill was not paid within 30 days Mr. Northington would be waited upon and whipped.

The business matter referred to was known to but few persons and had about been forgotten by Mr. Northington.

Fire in Moving Picture Theater.

Louisville, Ky.—Presence of mind on the part of Owen Richie, a little usher, perhaps saved the lives of 100 people, who were gathered in a moving picture theater. Fire was started by the explosion of a film, and the usher, at the time, was in front of the curtain. He dashed the length of the theater to the door, which he flung wide open, letting the smoke out and calling at the top of his shrill voice: "This way out. Be quiet now." The people obeyed, and not even a skirt hem was torn.

Didn't Know it Was Loaded.

Hopkinsville, Ky.—While playing with a supposedly unloaded shotgun, Beela, the 7-year-old daughter of James Maylon, was shot through the head and instantly killed by her 9-year-old brother, Walter. Both parents were away from home, and when Mrs. Maylon returned and saw the terrible disfigured body she collapsed, and is now in a critical condition. The boy is almost crazed, and threatens to kill himself.

Escaped Prisoner Caught.

Sergent, Ky.—Charlie Moore, alias Willie Jones, Willie Cantrel, and Mary Moore, his alleged wife, who, attired in men's clothes pried with an iron bar and effected his release from jail, were located in a cave in the Cumberland mountains near the Kentucky-Virginia border by Policeman Arch Sergent and Deputy Jailer John Polly. After making a fierce resistance they finally gave up to the officers.

Asylum Needs Reported Upon.

Frankfort, Ky.—State Inspector Thatcher has completed examining the state asylums and feeble-minded institute. The Lexington asylum needs larger buildings, the Lakeland asylum pure water, the Hopkinsville institution a heating plant and the feeble-minded institute more space. Thatcher will praise the present bi-partisan system of controlling the institution.

Suit on Fire Policies.

Louisville, Ky.—About the fourth suit of its kind ever in a local court was filed by A. H. Cardin, of View, Crittenden county, against the Globe & Rutgers Fire Insurance Co. of New York. He seeks to collect on policies for $4,000 on his tobacco, warehouse and rehandling plant, which was destroyed by riders.

Strikers Use Dynamite.

Paintsville, Ky.—Strikers at the Big Sandy River Coal Co.'s mine, near this place, dynamited the drum shed and caused damage to other property to the extent of several hundred dollars. The trouble grew out of a strike for recognition of the union, which has been on for several weeks.

Injunction Dissolved.

Newport, Ky.—Word was received here that one of the judges of the court of appeals at Frankfort had dissolved Judge Yungblut's injunction restraining the town council of Bellevue from disposing of a franchise for supplying water to the town and its inhabitants.

Failed To Make a Case.

Lexington, Ky.—W. M. Akol, charged with being accessory to the murder of Rosa Kafes, was dismissed by County Judge Bullock at the examining trial. The commonwealth failed to make a case.

Browder Case Continued.

Russellville, Ky.—The Rufus Browder murder case was refused a change of venue and continued until the September term of court. There was no excitement or demonstration when the prisoner was brought into court.

HAD RIGHT TO SELL,

Says Burley Society, of Holdings of President Lebus.

Lexington, Ky.—Following the charge that President Clarence Lebus, of the Burley Tobacco branch of the American Society of Equity, holds 642 hogsheads of tobacco not in the Equity pool, Secretary Brooks sent out from Winchester copies of a resolution adopted at the session of the district board which recites its knowledge that Lebus had large holdings of 1904 and 1905 tobacco, which he was unable to pool and has never pooled, and though free to sell his tobacco at any time he chose, has, through his loyalty to the society, withheld it from sale to the present time. The board declared its confidence in President Lebus.

CIRCUIT JUDGE COOK

Commands Jury To Probe Report That He Took Riders' Oath.

Paducah, Ky.—Judge Thomas F. Cook, of the Calloway circuit court, at the opening of court, charged the grand jury to investigate the reports being circulated around Maury that he himself and the commonwealth's attorney, Denny B. Smith, of Trigg county, are night riders and have taken their oath.

He said it is bandied about that 50 witnesses could be produced to prove the fact.

He said he wished the county attorney to conduct the investigation, and mentioned the names of Dr. Berry, a dentist, recently of Metropolis, Ill.; J. D. Sexton, a merchant, and W. L. Whitnell, a tobacco man, as witnesses.

Bumper Crops Will Be Realized.

Hopkinsville, Ky.—Notwithstanding unfavorable weather conditions, the indications are that bumper crops will be realized, this being especially true of corn. Owing to the wet spring the farmers were delayed in preparing their land, and did not get it out in anything like the usual time. It was feared that the crop would be very short because of its failure to mature before cold weather. Recent soaking rains, though, have given it a great boost, and it is now growing with such rapidity that it is believed it will prove equal to the records set by any former years. Other crops are looking equally as well.

Reward For Assailant.

Glasgow, Ky.—The La Rue county officials will ask Gov. Wilson to offer a reward for the apprehension and arrest of Edward W. Read, who has left the county following the issuance of a warrant charging him with assault, his victim being the 16-year-old daughter of T. G. Shoffner, a prominent farmer of that county.

A Woman "Bootlegger."

Frankfort, Ky.—A woman "bootlegger," that is the charge that is placed against Mrs. Lola Fields, a pretty 22-year-old grass widow of Jackson county, brought to jail here to await trial in federal court in September for alleged illegal sale of liquor.

Raised Second Crop of Strawberries.

Hopkinsville, Ky.—Strawberries in August is the unusual delicacy which Hopkinsville people are enjoying now in limited quantity. One raiser brought to market nine gallons of a second crop of berries at 60 cents per gallon. The berries are of fine flavor and sweet.

$15,000 Blaze.

Lexington, Ky.—The telephone exchange and J. R. Alexander's general merchandise store at Wilmore, Jessamine county, burned. Loss, $15,000; little insurance. Miss Susan Case, telephone operator, had a narrow escape from death from suffocation.

Goebel Monument Completed.

Frankfort, Ky.—The statue of former Gov. William Goebel was placed on the base of the monument over his grave. It is ten feet in height. The monument is now completed. It will be unveiled in September.

Jury Disagrees.

Murray, Ky.—The jury in the case of Jake Ellis, the alleged night rider, was discharged by Circuit Judge Cook upon a report that it was hopelessly hung. The jury stood eight for acquittal and four for conviction.

Flying Iron Kills Him.

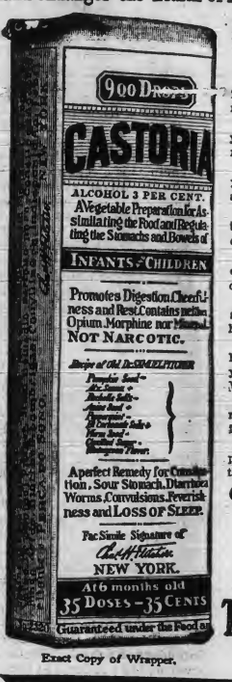
Henderson, Ky.—Thomas Griffin, aged 50 years, a farmer, was instantly killed by a piece of iron from a machine he was using in constructing a fence. A widow and five sons survive him.

Girl's Heart Fails.

Stanford, Ky.—Kittie, the thirteen-year-old daughter of Dink Farmer, of this county, dropped dead after returning from school. Heart failure was the cause.

Ex-Coroner Found Dead.

Owingsville, Ky.—At Weston, Mo., formerly coroner of this county, was found dead in bed in a hotel. There were marks of violence on the body. R. W. D. Hunt, his roommate, was arrested.



Shave Not Necessity on Sunday.

Lexington, Ky.—Judge Parker, in circuit court, held that barbering on Sunday is not a necessity. This decision upholds the special barber's act, which makes it unlawful to keep open on Sunday.

What is Castoria.

CASTORIA is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher, and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

Exact Copy of Wrapper.

Letters from Prominent Physicians addressed to Chas. H. Fletcher.

Dr. F. Gerald Blättner, of Buffalo, N. Y., says: "Your Castoria is good for children and I frequently prescribe it, always obtaining the desired results."

Dr. Gustave A. Eisengraeber, of St. Paul, Minn., says: "I have used your Castoria repeatedly in my practice with good results, and can recommend it as an excellent, mild and harmless remedy for children."

Dr. E. J. Dennis, of St. Louis, Mo., says: "I have used and prescribed your Castoria in my sanitarium and outside practice for a number of years and find it to be an excellent remedy for children."

Dr. S. A. Buchanan, of Philadelphia, Pa., says: "I have used your Castoria in the case of my own baby and find it pleasant to take, and have obtained excellent results from its use."

Dr. J. B. Simpson, of Chicago, Ill., says: "I have used your Castoria in cases of colic in children and have found it the best medicine of its kind on the market."

Dr. R. E. Eskildson, of Omaha, Neb., says: "I find your Castoria to be a standard family remedy. It is the best thing for infants and children I have ever known and I recommend it."

Dr. L. R. Robinson, of Kansas City, Mo., says: "Your Castoria certainly has merit. Is not its age, its continued use by mothers through all these years, and the many attempts to imitate it, sufficient recommendation? What can a physician add? Leave it to the mothers."

Dr. Edwin F. Pardee, of New York City, says: "For several years I have recommended your Castoria and shall always continue to do so, as it has invariably produced beneficial results."

Dr. N. B. Sizer, of Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I object to what are called patent medicines, where maker alone knows what ingredients are put in them, but I know the formula of your Castoria and advise its use."

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS
Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

In Use For Over 30 Years.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

OF COURSE HE WOULDN'T.

"You certainly wouldn't marry a girl for her money, would you, Tom?"

"Of course not; neither would I have the heart to let her become an old maid because she happened to be well off."

The Spider and the Fly.

In the long warfare between the spider and the fly, the latter has had the housewife for its auxiliary and friend. The flies have been tolerated, even fed and nurtured, while the spiders and their webs have been ruthlessly destroyed. This unremitting and unrelenting war against it keeps the spider population down; while the flies increase and multiply by the millions and ten of millions, almost unchecked. The spider is ugly and his web is unsightly in the estimation of most people, but spiders hurt no human creature. They feed on flies, which are the foes of mankind, and do mankind a service.—Philadelphia Press.

"Ladies First."

In this age of leveling up and leveling down, and of attempting to place women on the same plane as men in everything, chivalry is nearly a dead letter. Many wish it were altogether so, regarding it as a bar to the full emancipation of women. There can be no traffic here with such wrong-headed and wrong heart notions. In the healthy atmosphere of [illegible] and fade like exotics in an alien soil. "Ladies first!" is an abiding principle with all who are sportsmen.—Frye's Magazine.

News to Him.

Wife (reading)—A scientist claims that cryptococcus xanthogeniacus causes yellow fever.

Husband—Indeed! I always imagined it was something of that kind that caused lockjaw.—Rehoboth Sunday Herald

In Your Youth.

And then there was the time you took Her to the county fair. You wore that new $9.98 suit; had Dewey Munger's best roadster and rubber-tired rig and a new whip with a red ribbon tied around it. She wore a white dress with a blue sash, and a string of blue glass beads about her neck. Mind those entries in your "daily expense" book—candy, 10 cents; peanuts, 5 cents; merry-go-round tickets, 25 cents; side show, 20 cents; weinerwurst sandwiches, 20 cents; lemonade, 10 cents; ice cream, 20 cents; shooting gallery, 10 cents; tintypes—you've got 'em yet, you sitting and she standing with her hand on your shoulder—50 cents. Gee, but you thought you "blew yourself" that day, didn't you? Los Angeles Express.

His Intelligence Doubted.

"Yes, that dog has almost human intelligence. He came to us four years ago."

"That's funny."

"What's funny?"

"The incongruity of your two statements."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Those Tired, Aching Feet of Yours need Allen's Foot-Ease. 25c at your Druggist's. Write A. S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y., for sample.

Goodness thinks no ill where no ill seems.—Milton.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

It's sometimes easier to catch one than it is to let go.

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS
FOR ALL KIDNEY DISEASES
FOR RHEUMATISM
BRIGHT'S DISEASE
DIABETES, BACKACHE
$75 "Guaranteed"

Thompson's Eye Water

SICK HEADACHE
CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.
Positively cured by these Little Pills.
They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, TORPID LIVER.
They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable.
SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRICE.
CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.
Genuine Must Bear Fac-Simile Signature
Brent Good
REFUSE SUBSTITUTES.

LIVE STOCK AND MISCELLANEOUS
Electrotypes
IN GREAT VARIETY FOR SALE AT THE LOWEST PRICES BY
A. N. KELLOGG NEWSPAPER CO.
73 W. Adams St., Chicago

KNOWN SINCE 1836 AS RELIABLE
PLANTEN'S TRADE MARK
C & C OR BLACK CAPSULES
SUPERIOR REMEDY FOR URINARY DISEASES
DRUGGISTS OR BY MAIL ON RECEIPT OF PRICE
P. PLANTEN & SON 35 HENRY ST. BROOKLYN, N.Y.

Readers of this paper desiring to buy anything advertised in its columns should insist upon having what they ask for, refusing all substitutes or imitations.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp disease & hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists

THE LANKFORD COLLAR
THE LANKFORD COLLAR is a Pad and Collar combined. Being open at the bottom, it gives back and forth with the strain of hauling, thus preventing friction. It is made of heavy sail duck, reinforced with leather bearings, stuffed with sisal, specially treated not to. It absorbs sweat, keeps the shoulders from galling, and never packs or hardens. Write at once for booklet on the "Lankford" hame collar.
COUCH BROS. MANUFACTURING CO., Atlanta, Ga.

WALTON DEPARTMENT.

D. B. WALLACE, Manager.

Hand your news items to Mr. D. B. Wallace at the Walton Equitable Bank and Trust Co.'s building. He is also authorized to receive subscriptions and collect other accounts.

H. C. Diers spent Saturday in Cincinnati on business.

Mrs. J. M. Stallard, of Sparta, visited relatives and friends here last week.

Scott Chambers attended court at Williamstown, last week, looking for some horses to buy.

Miss Anna Hudson spent part of last week and this at Crittenden, the guest of Mrs. Ed Collins.

Miss Ruth Boulton is spending this week at Covington, the guest of her friend Miss Emily Ranshaw.

Mrs. A. B. Tompkins and two bright little daughters spent last Monday in Cincinnati, shopping.

Dr. B. W. Stallard is recovering from an attack of lagrippe but is able to attend to his dental duties.

Miss Cecil Menefee visited her grandmother, Mrs. Henry Claycamp, at Gardnersville, last week.

Miss Katie Johnson spent part of last week at Sparta, visiting her brother, B. W. Records and family.

Will Vest, our wide awake real estate dealer, is on the go all the time and is making a great many deals.

Little Miss Lillian Graham has returned from a delightful visit with her aunt, Mrs. Ed Sechrist, in Covington.

If you intend buying a buggy or runabout, see E. K. Stephens, Walton, Ky. He sells for cash or on credit. tf.

Mrs. A. W. Smith and A. R. Edwards attended court at Burlington, last week, as witnesses and visited friends.

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. DeMoley attended the funeral of her uncle, Jefferson Carpenter, at Richwood, last Tuesday.

Born—To Elzie Carroll and wife, August 5th, a fine daughter; to Chas. Tomlin and wife, August 3d, a fine daughter.

Fred Adams, of East Liverpool, Ohio, arrived here last week, on an extended visit to his cousin, Ralph Edwards.

Harry Caldwell and sister, Miss Verla, of Williamstown, are visiting their aunt, Mrs. J. B. Doubman and husband.

Judge John T. Hodge, of Newport, spent Friday here in the interest of his candidacy for Congress in this, the Sixth District.

Miss Clara Diers and sister, Mrs. Lora Wills, the latter from Lima, Ohio, spent Wednesday in Cincinnati, visiting relatives and friends.

Judge M. L. Downs, of Carrollton, spent a short time here Saturday while enroute to Cincinnati. He is the County Judge of Carroll county.

Scott Chambers' wagonette will carry passengers from Walton to Florence Fair next week and return, for 50 cents each day, leaving at 7 a. m.

Miss Lula Venable, of Cincinnati, was the charming guest of Miss Emma Graham, last week. She has a host of admirers among our young men.

C. D. Hughes, of near Concord, Gallatin county, was here on business one day last week. He is one of Gallatin county's progressive farmers and an excellent gentleman.

Scott Chambers, our hustling undertaker and liverymen, has purchased a handsome $250 embalmer's wagon for his undertaking business. He is now thoroughly equipped to attend all burial calls in an up-to-date manner.

Charles S. Chambers, son of Theo. F. Chambers, of this place, left South Hampton, England, last week on his return home. He has made a very extended tour of England, Scotland and France and has had a most delightful and instructive trip.

FOR SALE, SEED WHEAT—850 bushels Rudy Red Wheat, selected for seed, one of the best and most productive wheats raised. Screened, $1 25 per bushel. Samples can be seen at the flouring mill of A. M. Rouse & Son, Walton, Ky.

NEUMEISTER BROS., Walton, Ky.

CARD OF THANKS—I wish to thank all who so feelingly and tenderly tendered and rendered their services in the long sickness and death of my beloved wife, and assure them that their kindness shall never be forgotten, and I feel that no better people ever lived than are here in Walton.

RICHARD M. JONES.

The many friends of D. B. Wallace cashier of the Walton Bank and Trust Co., will regret to hear of his serious illness at his home in Warsaw. His doctor says he is threatened with typhoid fever. It is to be hoped that he will soon recover and resume his post of duty as he has a host of friends who are interested in his early recovery.

The new arrivals at Mrs. Goodrich's summer resort at Kensington are Misses Edna Hoffman, Mildred Kaetker, Marie Kampf, Goldie Schick, LaBelle Nieman, Clara Paul. Tuesday these young ladies delightfully entertained V. D. Holden and Wesley Murphy, of this place, with a swell chicken dinner. The young ladies made Walton a short visit Wednesday.

U. S. A. Wills, of Lima, O., spent Sunday and Monday here visiting his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Diers. Mrs. Wills has been here on several weeks' visit to her parents. Mr. Wills is a freight train engineer on the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton Railroad. He was formerly an engineer on the Queen and Crescent Route.

Rev. D. T. Buck, of this place, pastor of the Crittenden Christian church, returned home here Friday from Crittenden, where he had just closed a most successful protracted [illegible] church. The church membership was increased by a membership of 15. All the converts were baptized during the meeting. Bro. Buck is one of the best ministers in the State, and by his earnest logic increases the folds of all his flocks.

A protracted meeting or revival was started at the Walton Baptist church Wednesday, August 12th, and will continue until the 26th inst. It is under the management of the pastor, Rev. E. L. Andrews, of Crittenden, formerly of Owensboro. Bro. Andrews is a hard and earnest worker and if good results are not forthcoming it will be no fault of his. The attendance nightly is very large. Saturday afternoon he held services on the street in order to reach those who might not attend the services.

B. B. Allphin returned home last week from a delightful trip to Tucson, Arizona, where he went to visit his son, Dr. James Allphin, who has been in that State since January for the benefit of his health, having an affection of the lungs. Mr. Allphin, Sr., found him in much better health than he expected, in fact he has greatly improved since his arrival in that State, and from present indications will soon be in good health. Mrs. Allphin contemplates going to Arizona about Sept. 1 to visit herson.

Last week the Richwood Deposit Bank lost about $1,000 in checks enroute through the mails from here to their corresponding bank in Cincinnati. Part of the checks were found on the streets in Cincinnati, where it is supposed the thief or thieves threw them. The only deduction is that some rascally mail clerk opened the letter under the impression that the checks were money. The bank will lose nothing by the theft of the checks but it will incur considerable work on the part of the attaches of the bank to straighten the matter out.

Recently, near Verona, some persons unknown, burned a road wagon belonging to J. G. Kennedy. They piled a lot of fence rails under the vehicle and set them afire. The wagon had been used in the construction of the new Walton and Verona turnpike and it is supposed to be the work of some enemies of the turnpike company, as there has been some agitation relative to the wage scale. A labor union was recently organized in Verona and they asked $1.50 per day for labor on the pike, it is stated, but the turnpike company say they are unable to pay more than a dollar per day.

Sunday, August 9th, a most delightful reception was held at the hospitable home of Mrs. Carrie Menke, near Walton. Among those present from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. B. Lamhers, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Shafer and children, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Elsburn, Harry Lambers, Miss Laura Reinhart, Mrs. N. H. Cohen and daughter, Miss Florence, Misses Clara and Mary Menke, Benjamin Lambers and sister, Miss Agnes, Miss Marie Whild, all of Cincinnati and suburbs. All enjoyed a most delightful day. Bountiful refreshments were served and a game of base ball was one of the features. In the evening all left for home after thanking Mrs. Menke for a most delightful day's pleasure. Miss Mary Menke remained over for a longer visit.

Sunday, a decrepit wretch claiming Xenia, Ohio, as his home, made application to some of the Masonic brethren for assistance, claiming he was a member of the order. He wore a pin of the order but on examination it was found he was a rank impositor. He was crippled, or, otherwise, some of the members would have handled him roughly. As it was through charity they gave him enough money to leave the State and told him to never enter it again. There is a heavy fine and imprisonment for wearing a badge of a secret order to which the offending party does not belong, but, owing to the man's decrepit condition he was allowed to go free. The scoundrel had a vast amount of written matter of several other orders all of which was taken away from him and destroyed. Before allowing him to depart a picture was taken of him which will be sent to the orders he so basely represented himself as being a member of. There is no more despicable action a man can be guilty of than this practice and the law can not be too severe in dealing with them. He gave his name as Charles A. Neman, Xenia, Ohio. He promised never to be guilty of so mean an action and never to enter the State again.

Death has again visited our town and taken from our midst one of our best christian ladies, Mrs. Richard M. Jones, who departed this life Tuesday evening, August 11th, after an illness of about nineteen months with heart trouble which was the immediate cause of her death. Mrs. Jones' maiden name was Miss Avarilla Asberry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Asberry, of Bracken county, Kentucky, near Germantown, and with a twin sister, Sallie, was born in 1836, being 72 years, 1 month old at the time of her death. She married Richard M. Jones in Kenton county, Kentucky, in 1866. To this union two children were born, Harry Taylor Jones, who resides near here and Mrs. Elisha Hudson, of near Walton. Mrs. Jones and husband united with the Walton Methodist church during a revival in 1886, since which time she has always lived a consistent christian life. She was a lady of the most jovial disposition, always having something pleasant to say and expressing herself as she thought. To those in distress she was ever ready to lend a helping hand and she will be greatly missed from our midst by a host of admiring and loving friends. In her death the community loses one of its best ladies whose presence will be greatly missed and difficult to replace. Her twin sister, Mrs. Sallie Byars, of Mason county, was here during the illness and death of her dear sister and did everything in her power to relieve her pain. The funeral took place Thursday, the remains being taken to the R. [illegible] cemetery. J. T. Pollitt, of Crittenden, Rev. J. B. Harris, of Walton, and Rev. E. L. Andrews, of Owensboro, delivered appropriate sermons and offered prayers for the peaceful repose of her soul. The interment took place in the Baptist cemetery. A very large crowd of relatives and friends were in attendance to testify to their love and friendship for the dear departed one. The floral offerings of relatives and friends were numerous and beautiful. Another good woman has gone to her last rest and eternal reward.

Primary Election Notice!

Resolutions adopted by the Boone County Democratic Committee at a meeting held in Burlington, Ky., on August 10th, 1908:

Be it resolved that for the purpose of nominating the Democratic Candidates for County Offices in this county to be voted for at the November Election, 1909, a Primary Election to be held at the various voting precincts throughout the county, on between the hours of 6 a. m. and 4 p. m., standard time.

Tuesday, Nov. 3d, 1908,

It is the purpose of this committee to secure the full, fair and free expression of the will of the people in selecting their nominee, and it is therefore ordered that this primary election be held under the rules and regulations fixed by the Statute governing primary elections, and it is further ordered that to prevent even the possibility of fraud, bribery or corruption in said primary, certain additional safeguards are adopted and incorporated in this order and call for a primary.

The additional safeguards herein provided for are as follows:

1st. Before any Democrat can become a candidate to be voted for in this primary in addition to paying his assessed share of expenses for conducting same, he shall subscribe to an oath to the effect that he has not and will not either personally or by his direction or by his friends with his knowledge and consent either directly or indirectly, give, loan or promise to any voter or anyone for any voter, money, property, spirituous, vinous or malt liquors, soft drinks, cigars or anything of value for the purpose of promoting or influencing his election. The vote of said candidate thus offending shall be thrown out and not counted and he shall not be declared the nominee. No candidate will be permitted to hire any person or persons to work for him or hire conveyances of any kind to carry voters to the polls, or to pay for meals, necessaries or luxuries of any kind or to pay a voter for loss of time.

2nd. No voter who has violated any of the provisions of Article 1 shall be permitted to vote in this primary when the officers conducting this primary shall be satisfied by affidavit or personal knowledge that he has done so; and in any event where his vote is challenged he shall not be permitted to vote until he has subscribed to an oath to the effect that he has not violated any of the provisions of Article 1, and said oath shall be preserved by the officers of the primary and returned by them to the County Committee for its preservation and use before the grand jury if necessary. No person shall be allowed to vote unless he pledges himself to support the nominee of this primary.

In this primary all known Democrats of lawful age, and all voters who shall certify that they have voted the regular Democratic ticket at this election, and all voters who will be of lawful age at the regular election held in 1909, provided they pledge themselves to support the nominees of the primary, shall be permitted to vote who have not violated the provisions of Article 1 above.

It is the sense of this committee that it will cost $250 to conduct this primary, and the candidates announcing will be required to deposit with the Chairman of this committee not later than October 19, 1908, their proportionate shares of the same. In order to raise the necessary amount to hold this primary election, it is the sense of the committee that each candidate for the different offices shall be required to pay his prorata of the amount assessed for each different office to be filled, as follows: Sheriff, $50; Assessor, $40; County Clerk, $40; Circuit Clerk, $25; County Attorney, $25; Superintendent of Schools, $30; County Judge, $30; Representative, $20; Surveyor, $10; Jailer, $5; Coroner, $5; Justice of the Peace, $1. If any of the above is left after all the expenses of the election is paid, the said remainder shall be divided prorata among the different offices to be filled.

In case there shall be but one candidate announced and paid his assessment on October 19, 1908, for any office, then he shall be declared the nominee for such office by the Committee, and certificate of nomination issued to him, and that office shall not appear on the ballot.

Each candidate shall be entitled to a challenger at the polls and an inspector at the count.

When the polls are closed the votes shall be counted by the officers of the election in the presence of the inspectors and the ballots, stub books, spoiled, mutilated and questioned ballots and all affidavits taken by said officers of election shall be certified to the County Committee within the time and manner fixed by law regulating the same.

The County Committee shall meet in Burlington on the third day after the election and canvass the result of said election in the county and shall hear and determine same together with all evidence that may be before them of any violation of any of the provisions of this call by any candidate, and issue certificates to the successful candidates.

The candidate receiving the highest number of votes in said primary shall be declared the nominee, and his nomination certified as the law directs, unless such candidate is shown by his oath or other evidence to have violated the provisions of this call, in which event he shall be denied a certificate and this Committee shall thereupon declare the candidate receiving the next highest vote the nominee provided he has complied with this call.

The following shall be the form of the oath above provided for:

OATH FOR CANDIDATE UPON ANNOUNCEMENT:

I.....desire to become a candidate for.....in this County before the primary, and as an evidence of my good faith and desire to co-operate with the County Committee, I hereby bind myself to abide by the rules and regulations adopted by said Committee to govern said primary, and especially do I agree that I have not and will not either personally or through my friends directly or indirectly, give, loan or promise to any voter or anyone for any voter, money, property, spirituous, vinous or malt liquors, soft drinks, cigars or anything of value for the purpose of promoting or influencing my election, nor will I permit the same to be done for me by anyone nor will I reimburse anyone for any money so expended in my behalf if I should afterwards learn that it had been done.

OATH FOR CANDIDATE BEFORE RECEIVING CERTIFICATE.

I.....solemnly swear that I have not violated any of the provisions of the call governing this primary and especially that I have not directly or indirectly used money, liquors, cigars or property of any kind for the purpose of influencing or promoting my election, nor have I knowingly, permitted same to be done nor will I reimburse anyone so offending if it shall hereafter develop that such has been the case.

OATH FOR VOTER:

I.....swear that I am a legal voter in.....precinct in.....county, and that I am filiated with the Democratic party, that I have not used, money, property, liquors, cigars or other things of value either directly or indirectly for the purpose of promoting the interest of any candidate before said primary.

Each of these oaths shall be taken before someone authorized to administer an oath in this Commonwealth.

This shall be published in the Boone County RECORDER four issues.

The position of the names of the candidates on the ballots shall be chosen by lot.

J. B. CLOUD, Secretary. JAS. A. DUNCAN, Chairman.

Good Things to Eat in Hot Weather at Hot Weather Prices

Sunny Side Baked Beans with tomato sauce, 3 lb. can..10c
3 for.....25c
Deep Sea Oysters.....10c
3 for.....25c
Post Toasties.....10c
Quaker Wheat Berries, bx 7c
Zenith Red Salmon 2 for 25c
Hunter Salmon, 3 for....25c
Excelsior Butter or Soda Crackers, lb.....10c
Large Milk Bottle of Mustard.....10c
Fresh Cakes, all sorts—pound.....10 to 20c
Large Sour Pickles, doz.12c
Medium Sweet " ".10c
Syrup, 10 lb. bucket.....35c
Sardines, can....5c, 10c 20c
Full Cream Cheese, lb....18c
Swiss Cheese, lb.....20c
Pure Comb Honey, lb....15c
Deviled Ham,.....5 and 10c
Golden Blend Coffee, lb..20c
Moneyworth Coffee, lb...17c
Three pounds.....50c
Capitol Tea, fine—hot or cold, lb.....60c
Capitol Flour, bbl.....$5.00
T[illegible] 5.25
Pure Cream Tartar Baking Powder, lb.....30c

GEO. C. GOODE,
AGENT.
Covington, Kentucky.
Pike & Washington.

Read your County Paper.

BOONE HIGH SCHOOL

Do your High School work at home where teachers will take especial interest in you. This School offers the regular four years High School and the eight years Common School Courses.

TUITION:
High School Course...$40.00
Common School Course..$25.00
Per Session.
Two well qualified teachers besides the Superintendent.

School Opens Sept. 14th.

For Particulars write to
EDGAR C. RILEY, Supt.,
BURLINGTON, KY.

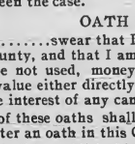
Fisher's Liniment

wont kill potato bugs or the dog

But it will stop that Diarrhoea, Cholera Morbus, Cramps, Headache and Colic. It's worth the money.

SOLD 29½ YEARS.

Fisher's Liniment is sold by druggists and dealers thru Boone and parts of Kenton and Grant counties.



25 and 50 Cents.

DR. L. H. ORISLER,
VETERINARY SURGEON
Residence 1552 Scott St.,
COVINGTON, - KENTUCKY.
Phone, South 1240.

R. O. HUGHES,
—SURVEYOR,—
RICHWOOD, - KY.
Am prepared to do, and will answer all calls for surveying in Boone and adjoining counties. Over 20 years experience as a practical surveyor.

J. Bullock & Son,
PRACTICAL TAILORS,
HEBRON, - KENTUCKY.
Our Spring and Summer samples are ready for inspection and we invite you to call and see them and learn the prices.
Suits from.....$14.00 up.
Pants from.....$3.00 up.
All work guaranteed and done under my own supervision.
J. Bullock & Son,
HEBRON, KY.

Dr. L. E. ROUSE,

DENTIST,
Will be at Burlington on Monday of each week; Union on Tuesday, balance of time at my office in Masonic Building.
LUDLOW, KY.

Administratrors Notice.

All persons indebted to the estate of Z. T. Baker, deceased, must come forward and settle, and all those having claims against said estate must present them to the undersigned proven according to law.
N. E. RIDDELL, Admr.,
Burlington, Ky.

H. C. BLACK,
VETERINARY SURGEON,
WALTON, KENTUCKY.
Treats all diseases pertaining to animals. Prompt attention given to all calls. Telephone connection.

RIDGEVIEW STOCK FARM
Boone County, Ky.
BREEDER OF
Aberdeen-Angus Cattle and Duroc Jersey Swine.
Stock for Sale. Address or call
W. W. COCHRAN, Mgr. - Beloit, Ohio.
(The Chambers Farm.)

"Always Reliable."
W. N. HIND & CO.
Carpets, Furniture, Stoves,
210-12 W. Fifth Street,
Cincinnati, - Ohio.

Grocery For Sale.

I desire to sell, privately, my entire Stock of Groceries and Fixtures, &c., in Union, Ky.
N. W. BURKETT, Union, Ky.

Administrators Notice.

All persons indebted to the estate of Thos. S. Whitaker, dec'd, will come forward and settle at once, and those having claims against said estate will present them to the undersigned properly proven.
J. M. GRANT, Administrator with will annexed.

TAX-PAYERS NOTICE.

The Taxpayers of Boone County are hereby notified that I or my Deputy will be at the places and on the dates named below to collect 1908 taxes:

Florence, July 13th and October 12th.
Verona, July 14th and October 13th.
Walton, July 15th and October 14th.
Petersburg, July 16th and October 15.
Believue, July 17th and October 16th.
Beaver, July 20th and October 19th.
Big Bone, July 21st and October 20th.
Union, July 22d and October 21st.
Rabbit Hash, July 24th and Oct. 8th.
Constance, July 27th and Oct. 9th.
Hebron, October 23rd.
Gunpowder, October 26th.
Richwood, October 27th.

RATES—State, 50 cents; County, 15c on the $100, six per cent penalty added December 1st on all unpaid taxes.

Pay your Poll-tax before December 1st and you will not be put on the delinquent list. Interest and cost of collecting will be added on all delinquent taxes.
M. F. WINGATE,
Sheriff Boone County.

Subscribe for the Recorder.

It will pay you to advertise your Business in this Paper. Try it.

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER.

ESTABLISHED 1875. Subsciption $1.50 year. Try It One Year.

VOL. XXXIII. BURLINGTON, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 26, 1908. NO. 45

County News Items

Interesting Facts Gathered During the Week by Our Regular Correspondents.

COMMISSARY.

Mrs. Susan Tew, of New York, is the guest of Miss Julia Dinsmore.

The Belleview & Burlington turnpike company will soon have 1000 pearch of rock on the pike at Scrapville and Commissary. They were hauled by Koons and Snellling.

o o o

IDLEWILD.

James Feeley spent Sunday with his brother, John, at Weneeda.

R. C. Gaines and wife, were shopping in Cincinnati, Wednesday.

Mrs. R. H. Green and children, of Louisville, are visiting R. C. Gaines and family.

Mrs. J. L. Morris, of Rushville, Indiana, is visiting her parents, Mr. F. Clore and wife near here.

Miss Nannie Kyle, of Covington, who has been visiting Mrs. George Kreylich, has returned home.

Tom Judge and Mrs. Elizabeth Huey, of Union, spent Thursday with R. C. Gaines and family.

Miss Kate Black, near Lawrenceburg ferry, spent last Sunday with the Misses Vinson at Wrights Corner, Ind.

Rev. Jones and wife, of Bloomington, Ill., are visiting Mrs. Jones' father and another, T. G. Willis and wife, near here.

Clarence Wilson, wife and son, of Cincinnati, are spending a few weeks in the country, boarding with Mrs. Anna Gaines, near here.

Tom Howard, of Petersburg, built a foundation for a monument in the Bullittsburg cemetery at the grave of Wash Watts, last Tuesday.

J. C. Clore, of Rushville, Ind., attended the Lawrenceburg fair on Saturday and remained over Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Clore, near here.

Bill Jones thanked us for the compliment of last week. He says "the donkey that can push a load of scrapiron and another donkey up the Idlewild hill is an alright donkey."

o o o

FLORENCE.

Cecil Finch, of Chicago, is the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Finch.

Mrs. Chas. Fulton and Miss Rena Hafer were calling on Hebron friends, Sunday.

Mrs. Sayre has returned from several day's visit to her son, Dr. Frank Sayre, of Hebron.

Dr. and Mrs. Scott Cole, of Columbus, Ohio, are guests of Mrs. Cole's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Rouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Scott and family were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Scott, of Crescent, Sunday.

Miss Iva Carpenter returned, Friday, after a week's stay with her aunt, Mrs. John Tanner, of Richwood.

Mr. and Mrs. James Franklin, of Newport, are guests of Mrs. Franklin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Clutterbuck.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Tanner entertained, Sunday, Geo. Barlow and family, Chas. Tanner and family and Robt. Tanner and wife.

J. Buckner and Lee Eddins will be pleased to see any and all of their Boone county friends at Grant's stable, as they will be prepared to care for horses and buggies.

The Florence fair will surely be a success if stock counts for anything. Show stock was coming all day Sunday and the directors say all the stables have been engaged for a week.

We are more than pleased to see the smiling face of Alonzo Whitson, who, with his wife moved to Georgia several years ago. His looks shows he has fared mighty well since leaving Kentucky.

Ye scribe was more than glad to see his old friend, Dud Gaines, of Texas, and to see him looking hale and hearty. It has been nine years since his last visit. Of course time has whitened his locks somewhat.

Mrs. John Ryle entertained Rev. Baker, Sunday.

Miss Riggor, of New York, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Swyball.

Charles Edward Haun, of Cincinnati, is the guest of his uncle, Dr. Corey.

Mrs. Etta Blakey, of Illinois, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Swim.

Mrs. Robert P. Rice has returned from the hospital where she has been for several weeks.

Miss Lucille Berkshire, of Petersburg, is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Ryle.

Rev. Edgar Riley will preach for the Christian church congregation here next Sunday morning.

Mrs. [illegible] and family and Spencer Rouse and family were Sunday guests of Mrs. Mary Meeks.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Whitson are entertaining their daughter, Mrs. Jessie Cook and children, of Danville, and their son, Alonzo, of Georgia.

When Congressman Rhinock first announced himself a candidate for renomination, it was predicted that he would have a very hard race, but it proved to be easy, and he pranced under the wire an easy winner. His opponents have congratulated him and tendered him their services in his fight against the Republicans.

DEVON.

Miss Julia Rice is improving from a recent illness.

The doctors report much sickness from impure water.

Miss Edna Connely, of Newport, was the guest of Mrs. Ben Bristow recently.

Miss Jane Bristow has returned after a pleasant visit to Miss Callahan, at Verona.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Mersman spent last week with their children, Mr. and Mrs. J. Meiman.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Meiman will entertain, Tuesday, in honor of their children's schoolmates from Notre Dame. Five will remain for the fair.

The funeral of Uncle Jefferson Carpenter was largely attended by relatives and friends at Mt. Zion church. The pastor delivered a very impressive sermon, and spoke many words of comfort to the bereaved family.

Miss Virginia Williams, of Bank Lick, entertained, recently, in honor of her cousin, Miss Bessie Winston, of Lasonia. Those present from this place were Mrs. Ben Bristow and her guests, Miss Eda Connely and Miss Emma Rivard.

One of the recent local events was the celebration of Mrs. Alice Connely's 76th birthday at her home, August 16. The day was rather warm but otherwise an ideal one. The guests present numbered 33, and were the following: Mrs. Alfonzo Groshordt and family, Mr. James Harrington and family, of Covington; Alex Connely and family, of Newport; J. Z. Bristow and wife, of Latonia; Alfred Rivard and family, Ben Bristow and family and W. A. Rice and family, of Devon. Mrs. Connely received quite a number of presents, which showed the great esteem in which she is loved. The dinner, which was served under the shade of a massive Maple tree, consisted of all the delicacies of the season. Mrs. Alice Rice baked and decorated the cake. It was artistically done in wild roses, and had the words, Mother, Rutlandshire, England, Aug. 1832—1908. All expressed themselves as having had one of the pleasantest days of their lives, and wished Mrs. Connely many, many happy returns of the day. Mrs. Connely is never happier than when dispensing hospitality to her friends.

o o o

GRANT.

Pepper Smith is Supt. of the canning factory this year.

Rogers Bros. shipped 120 fat hogs to market Sunday night.

D. E. Castleman and family were in our burg Sunday in his big auto.

Miss Rosa Beemon, of Hoosler, is spending a few days with Miss Clara Rice.

The river is getting very low and the boats are having trouble getting over the bars.

The tomatoes received at the factory so far have been of poorer quality than last year.

Mrs. Wm. Hain, of Connersville, Ind., is the guest of your reporter and wife this week.

Mrs. Dode Pope and Miss Irene Cook spent Thursday with Charles Kelly and wife, of Waterloo.

Mrs. James Smith, of Middle creek, got badly scalded while canning beans by a can exploding.

Chas. Dolph and wife and Pepper Smith and wife returned Sunday from a trip to High Bridge in Chas'. gasoline launch.

Geo. Ward and family, Joe Walton and family and the writer and family, attended the fish dinner at J. P. Ryle's, last Sunday.

Belleview Junior ball club defeated the Live Oaks here, Saturday afternoon 6 to 2. Smith pitched a good game and Ollie McCarty's work at short and Berkshire in the field was fine. The next day this team went to Patriot and played the team there and were defeated 9 to 5 by Patriot umpire.

o o o

RICHWOOD.

Mrs. Choats has gone to Michigan to recuperate.

We'll meet you at the fair, providence permitting.

John Goodridge is having his barn raised and remodeled.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Smith have purchased a new buggy.

Mr. and Mrs. Acra of Ludlow were Sunday guests of Wood Carpenter.

Mrs. Kate Finn, of Covington, was the guest of Mrs. Galnes Robinson, last week.

Cove Carpenter and family, of Kenton, spent Sunday with Mrs. Mary Carpenter.

Abbey Robinson, Jack Robinson and wife, of Cincinnati, were guests of relatives here and took in Erlanger fair.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Grubbs, Mrs. Amanda Carpenter and Mrs. Sallie Waller, spent Wednesday with Walter Grubbs in Kenton.

Thomas Carpenter and Miss Willa Powers, Walter Robinson and Miss Beulah Surface spent Sunday afternoon at Big Bone Springs.

o o o

R. W. Clark visited Cincinnati, Monday, and purchased a stock of watches, clocks, etc. They will be ready for inspection by the end of the week.

VERONA.

The merry-go-round has been in operation here the past week.

Mrs. Frank Callahan, who has been quite sick, is recovering.

Mrs. Dave Fry is visiting her sister, Mrs. Blanch Franks, of Mt. Zion.

Miss Queene Tillman, of Walton, attended the Methodist meeting here, last week.

Mrs. James Stone and two little girls, Hazle and Helen, are visiting relatives at Independence.

Misses Arelda Hind and Ada Roberts have been given the public school here, which will begin Sept. 7th.

A beef club was organized here a few weeks ago. It kills every Friday afternoon, and supplies a great many with that favorite meat.

The protracted meeting that was announced for September, by the members of New Bethel church, has been postponed until some future time.

J. H. Rogers and B. B. Allphin, candidates for county clerk; Lewis Clore, candidate for assessor, and Malchus Souther, candidate for sheriff, were mingling with the voters here last week.

A revival meeting is in progress here at the Methodist church, Rev. J. B. Harris, a very earnest and impressive minister, is doing the preaching. The meeting will continue the coming week.

o o o

WATERLOO.

J. C. Kelly was sojourning in Aurora, Saturday.

Louis Mirick and family were visiting at Noah West's, Sunday.

Bluf Wingate has been breaking his fine stepper to drive the past week.

Mrs. May Clore and Effie Beemon were shopping in Rising Sun, last Friday.

J. W Kite has two relatives from Cincinnati, spending the summer vacation with him.

A Mrs. Hofner, of Rising Sun, is very sick at her sister's, Miss Katie Craig's, near Rabbit Hash.

A fine shower of rain fell here early Saturday morning, much to the delight of the farmers.

Mrs. Leslie Wingate spent several days, last week, with her mother, Mrs. O'Neal, of East Bend.

Miss Blanch Satchwill, of Rising Sun, is assisting her uncle, Dock Clore, operate the switch here.

Owen Presser and wife, of East Bend, were visiting John Smith and wife, of McVille, Saturday and Sunday.

It is reported that another contractor will put in a bid for 2 1-6 miles of the pike from Rabbit Hash here.

Robert Aylor, of East Bend, got kicked just below the knee by one of his horses one day last week, making a painful wound.

We sympathize with Bud Stephens in his bad misfortune of loslug his home and household goods early Saturday morning by fire.

Lewis Clore, of Clore's Ridge, candidate for assessor, was calling on the voters in the eastern and southern part of the county, last week.

Larkin Acra was in this neighborhood, last week, cleaning cisterns with a patent cleaner, not having to take the water out to get the dirt out.

Truman Riggs, of East Bend, was in this neighborhood Friday on the hunt of some weanling mules, he having sold a yearling the day before for $125.

J. H. and George Walton have received a little better than $1400 for 10 hogsheads of 1906 tobacco that was in the pool. Who says it does not pay to belong to Equity?

W. G. Kite has his first quarter of a mile of pike completed, and enough stone hauled for the second quarter. Some of the boys are getting to be pretty good Irishmen, breaking rock.

o o o

GUNPOWDER.

Mrs. Etta Blasker, of Parls, Ill., is visiting her parents, N. J. Swim and wife.

Aunt Line Tanner is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Arry Rivers at Denver, Colorado.

B. W. Adams and wife, of near Burlington, were Sunday guests at aunt Jemima Tanner's.

Pastor Walteick will occupy the pulpit at the First Lutheran Church, Cincinnati, next Sunday.

Alonzo Whitson, of Spring Place, Ga., is visiting his parents, J. R. Whitson and wife, and other relatives in Boone county.

Lloyd Stephens and Miss Mary Barlow were married at the Lutheran Parsonage, Wednesday of last week. We wish them a long, happy and prosperous life.

Napolean B. Stephens whose death occurred on the 17th inst., was born June 28, 1836. He was united in marriage to Martha V. Crigler, Oct. 4th, 1855, and to this union five children were born, three sons and two daughters, the oldest son having preceded him to the grave several years. The wife and four children survive him. He was an earnest believer in the Old School Baptist faith and was an exemplary member of that church for about 35 years. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Walter Rice [illegible] on the 19th, after which the remains were laid to rest in the Hopeful cemetery followed by a large concourse of relatives and friends. Mr. Stephens was formerly a resident of this neighborhood and has a host of friends here who are sorry to lose so good a man and neighbor. The bereaved family have the sympathy of this entire community.

o o o

The Kenton County Farmers' Institute will be held at Independence on September 1st and 2nd. Daily session from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. Several good speakers will be in attendance and everybody is urged to attend.

UNION.

James H. Fail, of Alexandria, Indiana, is here guest of his relatives.

Dr. and Mrs. M. J. Crouch, are entertaining their neice from Warsaw.

Mrs. J. N. Gibson has as her guest, her neice, Miss Edith Frazier, of St. Louis, Mo.

Miss Marygetta Riley left, Monday morning, to resume her work as bookkeeper with the Q. & C. Railroad.

Mrs. Lyda M. Conner returned, Friday, from a three month's visit with her son, Rev. A. S. Rachal, of Montvale, Va.

Rev. Dr. J. M. Spencer, dean of the Sayre Institute at Lexington, preached a powerful sermon at the Presbyterian church, Sunday morning.

o o o

HERE AND THERE.

Charlie Shinkle was quite sick several days last week.

Mrs. Owen Utz, of Newport, spent last week with Ben Hensley and family.

Little Beulah Sebree was quite sick of cholera morbus, several days last week.

Everybody went to the Erlanger fair last week and pronounced it the best ever.

George Hewett visited his brother, Ben and family, at Cleves, several days last week.

Mrs. Agnes Maxwell and sister-in-law, of Covington, spent last week at Jas. Snyder's.

Some people were surprised to discover that a decent election could be held in Boone county.

J. F. Cason and wife, of Covington, spent last Sunday and Monday with L. A. Smith and family.

Fritz Zimmer, of Constance, has bought John Smith's crop of peaches at 60 cents a bushel on the tree.

Hardy Passons will move to Douglas county, Illinois, about the 20th of September, where he expects to make his future home.

All of the members of Boone Camp M. W. of A. are requested to be present at its meeting at Petersburg, next Saturday night Aug. 29th.

Ben Passons and wife, who have been visiting Boone county relatives the past two weeks, returned to their home at Golton, Ill., last Sunday.

We have had a few light showers that revived vegetation considerably, but none of them have been enough to replenish stock water to any great extent.

The abutments for the bridge near Ed Bott's gate have been completed and the flooring has been hauled, but the bridge which was to have been shipped nearly a month ago, has not arrived.

Lost, Strayed or Stolen—One old turkey and ten young ones nearly grown. The young ones are marked by having the hind toe cut off of the right foot. Any information concerning their whereabouts will be thankfully received by Bert Smith. Call over farmers telephone or address Burlington R. F. D. No 1.

While Tom Masters was cleaning out an old spring, Saturday afternoon, a large rock fell off of the wall above him, striking him on the head and shoulders, cutting an ugly hole in his head and breaking one shoulder blade. Dr. Hayes was summoned to dress the unfortunate man's wounds. He is suffering considerably but his injuries are not considered dangerous, unless internal injuries develop.

o o o

BIG BONE.

Lucien Baker has returned to Louisville.

Mrs. Adams has returned to her home near here.

Jamie Jones has about recovered from her broken ankle.

Big Bone bar has become a very popular place for outing parties.

South Fork Sunday school picnicked on Big Bone bar, last Sunday.

Peter Kraus and W. R. Miller sold 14 cattle last week. Lute Baker sold 2 good ones at 4¢ cents a pound.

Wm. Sparks, of Verona, entertained T. B. Johnson and wife, and several Big Bone friends, last Sunday.

Henry Drysdale and wife, of Erlanger, entertained W. R. Miller and wife and two sons while they attended the Erlanger fair, last week.

o o o

RABBIT HASH.

Mrs. Annie Hager has purchased a fine, new carriage.

Willie Hodges, who has been very ill with typhoid fever, is convalescing.

Jesse Holmes, has returned after several months stay in Richmond, Ind.

Hester Ryle left, last Saturday, for Arcola, Illinois, where she will remain this winter.

Prof. E. S. Ryle was the pleasant guest, Sunday, of Miss Minnie Ryle, one of East Beud's charming young ladies.

Miss Blanche Kirtley, who has been spending a three weeks period with friends in Madisonville, O., returned Friday.

The party at Miss Mary Kirtley's, given in honor of her neice, Miss Blanche Kirtley, a pretty and charming lady, Saturday evening, was very much enjoyed by all present. It was her 14th birthday.

The RECORDER being thoroughly neutral in all the races now pending in the county, to be decided by the Democratic primary election on the 3d day of November next, it requests its correspondent to refrain from writing "puffs" for their favorite candidates, because, with the woods full of candidates and the field full of correspondents, to publish all that would be sent in were the bars thrown down, would require the enlargement of the paper to twice or three times its present size.

Board of Control Meet.

At a meeting of the Board of Control of the Burley Tobacco Society on August 18, held at Winchester, Ky., the following resolution was adopted:

The Committee on raising a 1909 crop of tobacco reported as follows:

We, your Committee, desire to offer the following resolution:

That, whereas this Society has so far succeeded that most all its members are well pleased with the present way of managing the business; and whereas, we have sold 39,000 out of 52,000 hogsheads; and whereas, we have applications now filed in our office for at least one half of the 1907 crop, (that is, applications for a chance at it) and whereas, the annual election takes place early in October, we do not feel that we have a right to dictate what should or should not be done with the 1909 crop, at the same time, we feel it our duty in order not to have too much confusion in the Burley District to recommend to each member, or person desiring to become a member, that it would be better for each member in the event he desires to rent his land for the purpose of growing 1909 tobacco to provide in his contract that said tobacco shall be subject to the control, restriction, or any other regulation that the management of the Burley Society after the October election, 1908, shall propose for the best interest of its members.

Another Old Citizen Gone.

Mrs. Sarah Riley, after a protracted illness of diseases incident to old age, passed peacefully away at her home in Burlington, last Saturday evening at 7 o'clock. Mrs. Riley was in her 87th year, a native of Owen county, and a member of the large and influential Gayle family. Her first husband was Absalom Furnish. Of that union two children survive, Dr. J. C. Furnish, a prominent physician in Covington, and Mrs. Susan Parish, of Burlington. They were devoted to their mother, and did all in their power to contribute to her pleasure and comfort in her decling years. Her second husband was a Mr. Riley, who died several years ago. To them no children were born. The funeral services were conducted at the residence Sunday afternoon, by Revs. Stith and Riley in the presence of a very large crowd of persons who assembled to pay their last tribute to the loveable old lady. Monday the remains were taken to New Liberty, Owen county, for interment.

New Candidates.

Mr. Democrat, cast your eyes over the announcement column, this week, and you will discover the names of several more Democrats, good and true, who have announced since last week as candidates subject the November primary election, and more are threatening to take their places in the line-up. The new enlistments this week are as follows:

John W. Berkshire, of Petersburg, for the legislature.

For County Judge—J. H. Walton, of Constance.

For County Clerk—J. C. Hankins, of Hebron.

For Assessor—T. G. Willis, of Bullittsburg; John Kelsay, of Hebron; George Ward, of Rabbit Hash.

For Superintendent of Schools—Edgar C. Riley.

For Circuit Clerk—J. A. Duncan.

Why James Lee Got Well.

Everybody in Zanesville, O., knows Mrs. Mary Lee, of rural route 8. She writes: "My husband, James Lee, firmly believes he owes his life to the use of Dr. King's New Discovery. His lungs were so severely affected that consumption seemed inevitable, when a friend recommended New Discovery. We tried it, and its use has restored him to perfect health." Dr. King's New Discovery is the King of throat and lung remedies. For coughs and colds it has no equal. The first dose gives relief. Try it. Sold under guarantee at Bentler's drug store, Erlanger. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

The organization of the Educational Division Boards in the county will be completed today, and the County Board will be in authority, to which applications for the vacant schools must be made through the trustee of the subdivision. The Division Board will meet, Saturday, Sept. 5th, at 10 a. m., in Burlington. D. M. SNYDER, Sup't.

Erlanger had a good fair last week. The stock show was splendid, while the many special attractions were interesting and of a high class. The gamblers and the thieves who worked the crowd in 1907 to a finish, were not permitted on the grounds this year, be it said to the credit of the management.

The following were applicants for teachers' certificates at the examination, last Friday and Saturday: Sadie Tanner, Lena Rouse, Manly Boyle, Elva Melvin, Ella P. Rich, Ella Craven, Newton Sullivan, Mamie Haley, Eliza Vossbell, Mattie Lows, Wm. S. Smith, Eli[illegible] two first-class certificates.

Mr. and Mrs. William Carpenter entertained in an elegant manner at their beautiful home in Locust Grove neighborhood, last Monday evening, in honor of Miss Oilvette Foster, of Jacksonville, Florida. A large number of young people participated in the pleasures of the occasion.

"Bud" Stephens' residence and nearly its entire contents, in Grange Hall neighborhood, was destroyed by fire, last Friday morning. The fire originated in a closet, where it is supposed a mouse or rat ignited a match.

Personal Mention.

Willie Duncan spent Sunday with his parents here.

C. W. Riley, of Bullittsville, has been improving for several days.

Albert Conner is recovering from a serious illness of three or four days.

R. W. Clark's barber shop will be closed next Friday on account of the fair.

Rev. Stith has been entertaining his father and sister for several days.

David Haley, of Walton, spent a few minutes with the RECORDER last Monday.

Mrs. W. C. Johnson and daughter, Virginia, of Cincinnati, are visiting at Richard White's.

Miss Charlotte Hail spent Saturday night and Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Hail.

Judge John M. Lassing and son, Robert, of Walton, were among the visitors in Burlington yesterday.

Mr. Yelvington, of Brackin county, was the guest of his daughter, Mrs. Peddicord, several days the past week.

Chas. A. Graves, of Texas, is one of the homecomers, who will met many old friends at the fair this week.

Mrs. Chas. Renaker, of Dry Ridge, Grant county, has been the guest of A. B. Renaker and wife for several days.

J. D. Gaines and wife, of Texarkana, Texas, spent a few hours in Burlington, Monday, meeting old friends.

J. R. Case and wife returned home last week, from a visit of several days with relatives near Lawrenceburg, Ind.

Miss Anna Cowen, danghter of the late Joseph Cowen, was married last Sunday to Mr. Geo. S. Brooks, of El Paso, Texas.

Ed Hawes and wife came up from Lakeland, last week, to attend the Boone fair this week and meet old acquaintances.

Miss Emma Adams, principal operator of the Consolidated Telephone switchboard, in Burlington, is suffering with a badly sprained ankle.

John Crisler, the old Confederate, who wages a war of extermination on the musquitoes over on Long Branch, was among the callers at this office yesterday.

J. M. Eddins, who is a guard at the state prison at Frankfort, is at the fair this week, meeting his Boone county friends. He came in last Friday looking fat and hearty.

G. W. Roberts and C. W. Waller, two prominent citizens of Verona, made the RECORDER a pleasant call yesterday. They report the drouth as reaching the distress stage in their neighborhood.

Dudley Gaines and wife, of Texarkana, Tex, have been in the county, several days visiting their old friends. They will be at the fair at Florence, this week, where they hope to meet many old acquaintances.

One of the best county fairs in the State threw open its gates at Florence this morning, and Stringtown-on-the-Pike will be a lively place the remainder of this week.

The experience of John J. Ryan, of Clucinnati, in the killing of a man on the Lexington pike at Highland cemetery, ought to cause a cessation of the rapid driving of autos on that thoroughfare. An occurrence of that kind has been a certainty for some time.

Excellent Health Advice.

Mrs. M. M. Davison, of No. 379 Gifford Ave., San Jose, Cal., says: "The worth of Electric Bitters as a general family remedy, for headache, biliousness and torpor of the liver and bowels is so pronounced that I am prompted to say a word in its favor, for the benefit of those seeking relief from such afflictions. There is more health for the digestive organs in a bottle of Electric Bitters than in any other remedy I know of." Sold under guarantee at Bentler's drug store, Erlanger. 50c.

When the County Democratic Committee met, yesterday, to canvass the vote cast at last Satnrday's primary election, J. A. Duncan, the chairman, being a candidate before the coming county primary election, resigned, and W. W. Grimsley was elected by the members present to fill the vacancy caused by Mr. Duncan's resignation. It was then discovered that there were five other vacancies in the committee resulting from the candidacy of members, and chairman Grimsley then issued a call for elections to be held in these precincts to select committeemen. See the call in another column.

MARRIED—At Crescent Hill, the home of the bride, Aug. 20th 11:30 a. m., by the Rev. W. McMiller, Mr. Stanley D. Stevenson, of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Miss Hattie Bedinger, of Richwood.

MARRIED—At the Manse of Richwood Presbyterian church, Aug. 19, at 2:30 p. m., by the Rev. W. McMiller, Mr. Robt. G. Robinson, of Richwood, and Miss Cecil Lee Tanner, of Union. Quite a party of friends were present on this happy occasion. The handsome and popular young couple are followed by the best wishes of a host of friends.

MEETING OF PRESBYTERY.

Ebenezer Presbytery will meet in the Richwood church, Tuesday, September 8th, and will continue in session the two days following. There will be preaching services, and meetings of popular interest. Dinner will be served on the grounds. All are cordially invited.

THE RECORDER.

W. L. RIDDELL, Publisher.

BURLINGTON - - KENTUCKY.

The Fruit Package.

A great advance has been made in preparing articles for shipment and for exhibition in attractive ways. The old slipshod methods have largely disappeared, as anyone who uses eyes, ears and memory can testify. There is hardly an article, from the notion counter of the department store to the varied array of a modern grocery, or oven in the stalls of a market, which is not arrayed in a manner indicating some desire to make a tempting appearance. Still there is much to learn. The packing of fruit and showing off to good advantage is an art that should be cultivated, and the matter is considered of such significance that official notice is taken of it. The Boston Herald says: "There's nothing that adds more to the attractiveness of a box or crate of fruit than a liberal dressing of green leaves of one kind or another. Our consul at Frankfort contributes some useful information on this subject, telling of the advantages of fern leaves for this purpose, not only for the decoration, but for the preservation of the fruit. The fern leaves, it seems, possess a preservative quality far beyond any other greens, and they are extensively used in the foreign markets, not only to pack fruits, but vegetables and dairy products as well. More green decorations would add much to the attractiveness of our fruit markets and fruit stands, and they would help to preserve the fruit at the same time." Public taste is increasing, and it is the attractive newspaper "ad" and the attractively arranged shop which most surely win customers.

Out-of-Doors Culture.

This is the camp-meeting season. It is also the season for Chautauqua gatherings. It is the season when mountainside and lakeside, seaside and riverside are dotted with culture camps. Even the camp-meeting in its modern form runs as much to culture of the spirit as it does to aggressive attacks upon sin. Thousands of busy persons are availing themselves of recreation and culture in combination. This is a source of agreeable summer employment for college professors who do not want to rust during the summer season, and to whom a little work of a light order and under pleasant conditions is an agreeable change from the set routine of the classroom and the sedentary experiences. How much the summer schools affect the educational standards and cultural quality of the people, says the Baltimore American, may not be gathered. But it is certain that the summer leaven works through a great mass of the population, and its quickening effects must me great.

IN DEATH

The Lad Joined His Two Companions Who Had Been Drowned.

St. Louis, Aug. 24.—"If they're dead, I might as well die. They've made my life worth living. I'm going after them, anyhow."

With these words, George Scheinlich, 18 years old, sprang into the quicksands of Silver creek, near Fayetteville, Ill., and was sucked to his death while trying to drag the bodies of Chris Eisenhauer, 17 years of age, and August Eisenhauer, 20 years old, brothers, from the clinging mud.

The three bodies, with the hands of Scheinlich, entangled in the hair of the other two boys, were not recovered until three hours later.

The Scheinlich boy was an orphan and had lived the greater part of his life with the Eisenhauers. He had gone to school with the boys, shared their pastimes and labors. The three were inseparable, and their tenacious friendship was a byword in Fayetteville.

Angry Posse Pursuing Negro.

Montgomery, Ala., Aug. 24.—Mack Holland, the negro, was taken from Montgomery Sunday to Greenville by Sheriff Watson, of Butler county, and escaped from the sheriff at the Greenville depot. A large posse is said to be in pursuit of the negro, who attempted to assault a little daughter of W. V. Watson, at Avent, last Wednesday morning. Sheriff Watson is an uncle of the girl.

Fire Destroys 1,500 Houses.

Constantinople, Aug. 24.—Fire broke out Sunday afternoon in the Stamboul quarter and within a very brief period a terrible conflagration was raging. A strong wind carried the flames at great speed, and for six hours they swept over the section, destroying 1,500 houses and shops. The fire was still burning late Sunday night, though the wind has decreased somewhat.

Stirs the Dons.

Madrid, Aug. 24.—The Spanish press is of the opinion that the downfall of Abd El-Aziz is now an accomplished fact. Several of the newspapers are urging a new Algeciras conference.

Jordan Shoe Factory Burned.

Belleville, Ill., Aug. 24.—Fire Sunday night destroyed the factory of the Jordan Shoe Co., employing 100 men, entailing a loss of $120,000, which is partially covered by insurance.

FAVORABLE REPORT MADE ON PANAMA

SPECIAL COMMITTEE UPHOLDS ADMINISTRATION OF COL. GOETHALS.

PRESIDENT PLEASED WITH THE WORK ACCOMPLISHED

Fever Has Been Driven From the Canal Zone and Is at Present One of the Healthiest Places on the Globe —Big Ditch Is Rapidly Growing.

Oyster Bay, Aug. 24.—President Roosevelt Monday made public a report made to him on August 6 by a special commission of James Reynolds, Samuel B. Donnelly and Henry Seton Needham, regarding conditions in Panama.

The commission was appointed on April 23 last "to investigate conditions, especially as regards labor and accommodation on the isthmus."

That the president is pleased with the report is shown in a letter which he sent to each member of the commission on Friday. He expresses particular pleasure over the fact that the commission upholds the administration of Col. George W. Goethals, chairman of the isthmian canal commission, and the president has had a copy of the report mailed to Col. Goethals, requesting that the recommendations made by the commission be put into effect immediately, so far as possible. The president will submit the report to congress with appropriate recommendations.

To a great extent the report is devoted to a statistical outline of the work that has been accomplished, the work that remains to be done, the physical possibilities with the equipment now in use and the number of men at present employed.

The commission reports that it inspected the entire line of the canal excavation from La Boca, the southern or Pacific terminus, to Cristobal, the northern or Caribbean terminus, and traveled through the excavation several times, interviewing the men at work.

President Roosevelt says: "The success has literally been astounding. Five years ago, when we undertook the task, no sane man would have dared to hope for the results which have already been achieved. The work itself has been advanced more expeditiously than we had ventured to think, and the rapidity of the rate of progress has steadily increased.

"Meanwhile the treatment of hygienic conditions on the canal has been such as to make it literally the model for all work of the kind in tropical countries. At present the canal zone is one of the healthiest places on the globe."

LOST OPPORTUNITIES OF HISTORY: THE SMUGGLER.

Is the Simple-Minded Old-Timer Had But Known the Ways of Modern Tourists!

CONGO TREATY IS PASSED

BELGIAN DEPUTIES ADOPT THE ANNEXATION MEASURE.

Atrocities in King Leopold's African Realm Now Probably Will Come to an End.

Brussels.—After several months of bitter struggle, the chamber of deputies Thursday adopted the Congo annexation treaty by 83 votes to 65, and although this action probably will insure the solution of the great Congo problem, there still remains open the important question of Belgium's financial responsibility.

This action on the part of the chamber had not been expected and at the last moment nearly caused the collapse of the cabinet. The colonial bill, which also was adopted, was amended so as to relieve Belgium of the responsibility of guaranteeing the payment of interest on the Congo debt, despite the efforts of the government.

At the conclusion of a long meeting of King Leopold and the members of his cabinet it was announced that the ministry would not resign, the government temporarily accepting the chamber's action on the financial question.

The passage of the Congo treaty means that the annexation of the state to Belgium is now practically assured, as the senate and King Leopold are ready to indorse the bill. The personal rule of King Leopold in Africa is now drawing to a close—in the future he will have nothing to do with the state which is to be administered by Belgium—and the hope is widespread that there will now be an end to the atrocities and maladministration in this part of the world which, for years past, has been a subject of investigation and bitter complaint by humanitarians all over the world.

Last year Great Britain and the United States about decided to interfere in the Congo administration unless the situation there improved.

DECAYED MONEY REDEEMED.

Arkansas Man Loses Only $25 of $10,000 He Buried.

SHOE BOX

Washington.—Of $10,000 in decayed greenbacks sent to the treasury department for redemption by O. D. Earl of Morrilton, Ark., all but $25 has been identified and a check for $9,975 was mailed to Mr. Earl Friday.

Fearing the banks were unsafe, Mr. Earl buried his savings in an old pail in 1904. Recently he dug up his treasure only to find that the bills were so decayed that he could not discern their numbers. All that was left of the roll was a bunch of paper resembling a package of dried leaves, with here and there the torn end of a note displaying a figure. Mrs. A. E. Brown, the burnt money expert of the redemption division, was given custody of the unrecognizable mass. After much tedious work she succeeded in identifying most of the money.

John V. Farwell Is Dead.

Chicago.—John V. Farwell, Sr., for years one of Chicago's best known men and head of the J. V. Farwell company, wholesale dry goods, died Thursday night at his home in Lake Forest, aged 83 years. He had been ill a long time, and relatives and friends were at his bedside when the end came.

Mr. Farwell was born at Campbelltown, N. Y., in 1825 and came to Chicago in 1845. Three sons, John V., Frank C. and Arthur S. Farwell, survive him.

Minnesota Man Killed in Mexico.

Washington.—Consul Hanna at Mazatlan, Mexico, has notified the state department of the death of Grant U. Price of Winona, Minn., from a gunshot wound inflicted by a Mexican named Manuel Salinda at Isla de la Cuata, near Acapulco.

Sixth Massachusetts Wins.

Camp Perry.—The regimental championship shoot of the United States was won Friday for the third successive year by the Sixth regiment of Massachusetts.

JOHNSON IS NAMED.

Minnesota Democrats Renominate the Governor.

Minneapolis, Minn.—The Democrat in state convention met Wednesday in Minneapolis and after a scene of indescribable tumult, caused by the mention of his name and which continued for 64 minutes, Gov. Johnson for a second time was nominated for re-election.

This action of the convention was contrary to his wish, since he has repeatedly refused to be a candidate and declared that if nominated the campaign would be carried on "without a general." His secretary, Frank A. Day, said he had no knowledge of the governor's intention and refused to make a prediction as to what his course might be.

In the roll call of counties Aitkin yielded to Ramsey and Mayor Lawler of St. Paul began his eulogistic speech. At the first mention of Gov. Johnson's name the delegates forgot his repeatedly-expressed objection to be considered and went into a frenzy of enthusiasm.

Owing to the unsettled condition of the minds of the delegates at the opening of the convention regarding the entire ticket it was decided that a committee, to be composed of one member from each judicial district, make recommendations for the filling of all places on the ticket except that of governor.

The following recommendations were made by this committee and adopted by the convention:

Lieutenant governor—Julius J. Reiter of Rochester.

Secretary of state—Richard T. Lamb of Clayton.

State treasurer—Henry F. Nelson of Nibbing.

Attorney general—M. E. Matthews of Marshall.

Railway and warehouse commissioner—Hans P. Borge of Ottertail county.

Judge Robert Nee of Rice county.

FLEET ARRIVES AT SYDNEY.

Half a Million Australians Greet the American Battleships.

Sydney, N. S. W., Early Thursday morning a thin veil of smoke on the horizon signaled to the watchers on the coast the approach of the American warships, and at 5:35 official notification was sent out that the fleet had been sighted.

Fully half a million people assembled on the shores of the beautiful harbor to welcome the battleships, which as they passed through the Sydney heads in double column were attended by convoy of steamers and greeted with a roar of salutes from the forts. The American ships boomed forth a salute to the port, and as soon as they were safely moored at their anchorage official visits were exchanged.

Lunatic's Blow Kills.

Peoria, Ill.—William Pinney, from Chicago, the negro insane tuberculosis patient whose skull was fractured by a fellow inmate of the tent colony at the general insane asylum at South Peoria, Thursday morning, died Friday, his brain being so seriously injured from the blow with a hammer, in the hands of his crazed assailant, that fragments of bone were driven deep into it.

Fire Sweeps a Village.

Bellingham, Wash.—A forest fire Thursday night nearly wiped out the little town of Bow, ten miles south of here. The saw and shingle mill and dozing mills owned by Daniel Cain, with half a million shingles were destroyed, as well as five cottages belonging to the mill company.

Admiral Dewey Afloat Again.

Washington.—Admiral Dewey visited his yacht on the Dolphin Saturday and sailed from Washington for Portsmouth, N. H., where he was the first time since 1905 that the admiral of the navy has flown his official flag over a naval vessel on a sea trip.

Louisville Man Is a Suicide.

Lexington, Ky.—D. McCreary, aged 65, a coal merchant of Louisville, committed suicide in a boarding house here Friday by shooting himself behind the temple. It is thought GROSSCUP UNFAIR?

ATTACKED IN PETITION FOR OIL CASE REHEARING.

FILED FOR GOVERNMENT

Document Asserts the Federal Court of Appeals Was Unjust to Judge Landis, and Misstated the Facts.

Chicago.—The government filed Friday its petition for a rehearing of the Standard Oil case. The court of appeals is asked to reconsider the reversal by Judge Grosscup, Baker and Seaman of the $29,240,000 fine imposed on the Indiana corporation by Judge Landis, and to ask the advice of the supreme court of the United States on certain vital questions at issue.

This, it is held, should be done by the court of appeals before that tribunal, in passing final judgment on the case, places an interpretation on the interstate commerce act that practically would nullify the law, making of it "a mere will-o'-the-wisp of legislation, a phantom statute, destitute of strength and substance."

The attorneys for the government fully valiantly to the defense of Judge Landis from the harsh, and as they assert, unjust, criticism which Judge Grosscup and his fellow jurists took occasion to voice in their opinion. They declare that the criticism of Judge Landis by the appellate judges and the reasons for reversing the ruling are based upon misstatements of the records and misinterpretations of his rendering of the law.

"The opinion as it stands," the government's petition concludes, "erroneously states material portions of the record, does injustice to the trial judge, leaves doubtful a new trial the rule of law to be applied, both as to knowledge on the part of the shipper and as to the number of offenses, appears to be in conflict with a decision of this court, and should be reconsidered."

Judge Grosscup.

The language of the supreme court and with the previous language of the presiding judge of this court, and with the great weight of legal authority and, if permitted to remain unmodified, will tend to encourage disobedience to law, to impede the enforcement of salutary statutes and largely to defeat their purpose."

The petition, 5,000 words in length, was filed for the government by Chief Clerk William A. Small of the district attorney's office. Counsel for the oil company have 20 days in which to file an answer, and then the petition may be considered by the appellate judges. They may reconsider their decision or they may ignore the government's petition without hearing any further arguments.

Troops Riot in Atlanta.

Atlanta, Ga.—State Wednesday militia reserves were called to the Terminal station to quell a riot that broke out among two companies of United States regulars en route from Fort Slocum to the Pacific coast.

When the local police officers were unable to curb the soldiers a call was made upon Fort McPherson for troops and Capt. Bankhead with a company of regulars responded and soon suppressed the riot. One soldier was seriously stabbed.

Lusitania Sets a New Record.

New York.—With the best previous record for a trans-Atlantic voyage lowered by more than three hours, the Cunard turbine steamship Lusitania arrived off Sandy Hook lightship at ten o'clock Thursday night, having made the run across the Atlantic over the short course in 4 days, 15 hours and 25 minutes. The Lusitania's former record, which was also the ocean record, was 4 days, 18 hours and 40 minutes.

Drug Dogs and Rob House.

Greenwich, Conn.—After drugging three watch dogs that guarded the summer home of Frederick W. Woerz, a wealthy New York brewer, burglars Thursday morning entered the house at Belle Haven park near here and stole $6,000 worth of jewelry and $100 in money.

Veteran Lake Captain Dead.

Algonac, Mich.—Capt. Charles K. Jackson, 71 years old, a veteran lake sailor for more than half a century died at his home here Thursday.

HIS OPINION OF FIELDING.

At Least, Only Kind Young Broker Knew Anything About.

A young broker in Boston, while visiting a certain household in the Hub a few days ago, encountered a number of young women, each one of whose conversation suddenly turned to a discussion of the development of the Elm Hill property.

The dealer in stocks and bonds speedily found himself "out of it." Presently, during a lull, one young woman asked him:

"What do you think of Fielding, Mr. Brown?"

"Oh, fielding is important, of course," quickly replied the broker, "but it is worth much unless you've got good pitchers and men who can hit the ball."—Harper's Weekly.

Government Land Opening.

The investigation opening of a million acres of fine agricultural and grazing lands will probably occur about Oct. 1st. The Rosebud extension of the Chicago & North Western Ry. is the only railway reaching these lands, and Dallas, S. D., is the railway terminus and the only town on the reservation border. The U. S. land office will probably be located there. Pamphlets describing this land and how to secure a quarter section homestead free on application to W. B. Kniskern, P. P. M., C. & N. W. Ry., Chicago, Ill.

ONE EXCEPTION.

"Easy Edmund, it's one ting I'm tryin' to cure my poor human nature of, no matter how much a man gits he wants more."

Drather Sitdown (thoughtfully)—Ob, I duano 'bout dat. Not in a police court he don't.

What a Poultry Man Says About 20 Mule Team Borax.

As I am in the poultry business I had ten white chicks to wash, and to prepare for a show. I used "20-Mule Team" Soap for washing the birds, and I can say from years of experience washing white birds, never before have I found a soap or Borax that cleaned my birds so nice and easy. I had a great deal of comment on my birds being so white.—J. A. Dinwiddie, New Market, Tenn. All dealers—10 and 5-lb. cartons. Sample and booklet, 5c. Pacific Coast Borax Co., Chicago.

A Double Miss.

Citman—Now that you're living in the country don't you miss the early morning noise and bustle of the city?

Suburbs—I do if I miss the 6:54 train.—New York Press.

PISO'S CURE for Nervous Disorders guaranteed cured by Dr. Miles' Nervine. Sold by druggists under guarantee. Book of testimonials and 7 days' treatment free. Dr. Miles' Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind. 325 Arch Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

A man must stand erect, not be kept erect by others.—Marcus Aurelius.

Mrs. Alice's Food Elixir Cures tired, aching, sweating feet. Sold by druggists, 25c. Trial package free. Address Mrs. Alice's Food Elixir Co., Le Roy, N. Y.

It doesn't pay to borrow trouble even on a friend's account.

Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna

Cleanses the System Effectually, Dispels Colds and Headaches due to Constipation. Acts naturally, acts truly as a Laxative. Best for Men, Women and Children—Young and Old. To get its Beneficial Effects, Always buy the Genuine which has the full name of the Company on the front of every package.

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.

SOLD BY ALL LEADING DRUGGISTS

one size only, regular price 50¢ per bottle.

Paxtine TOILET ANTISEPTIC

Keeps the breath, teeth, mouth and body antiseptically clean; and free from, unhealthy germs. Used and recommended by those who know, soap and tooth powders alone cannot do. As a germicidal, disinfecting and deodorizing toilet requisite it has no equal. For feminine hygiene and sanitary use it is invaluable. Relieves sore, inflamed eyes, throat and nasal inflammation, catarrh, bad breath, sore gums, etc. At druggists or by mail, postpaid. Large Trial Sample 10 cents.

THE PAXTON TOILET CO., BOSTON, MASS.

A TIMELY MESSAGE

Story of Isaiah the Prophet and King Ahaz

BY THE "HIGHWAY AND BYWAY" PREACHER

(Copyright, by the Author, J. Kenyon Mayo.)

Scripture Outline—Isaiah, Chapter 7.

The Family of Isaiah.—The wife of Isaiah (or called, 8:3) prophetess (chapter 8:3 that is, she was a talented woman of God). Of Shear-jashub (7:3), and Maher-shalal-hash-baz (8:3)—were considered by the prophet as not belonging merely to himself (see 8:18 their names, Shear-jashub "the remnant shall return," and Maher-shalal-hash-baz, "speeding to the spoil, he hastes to the prey." The two chief points of his prophecies are intimated to the people, the judgments of the Lord on the people and the world, and yet a blessed future. All this combined to ancient view is that his children were collected by the prophet himself and for the use in his ministry. Plan of study—Summary of book in the Bible, exclusive of the Psalms, consisting as they do, 66 chapters, just as many books as there are in the Bible.

SERMONETTE.

Ahaz-Isaiah—Here is opportunity for study—read at once character. A king, wicked and self-willed, and a prophet, faithful and fearless. One panic-stricken in the face of a great national peril, and the other, calm and confident in spite of the dark outlook. One had his life built on the shifting sands of time, while the other trusted in the Rock which cannot be moved. One dependent upon the things seen and to be seen, and for in spite of the message of the Prophet, Ahaz persisted in seeking of the king of Assyria for aid—by other believed God and knew that the seemingly impossible was always possible with God.

The sixteenth chapter of 2 Kings tells us how futile was the effort of the prophet to restrain the king and keep him from making wicked alliance with Assyria and going farther and farther into the pathway of idolatry. Why, then, did God send his servant to entreat and warn, when he knew that King Ahaz would not heed? Why does God to-day send his messengers to men to plead with them and warn them of the fatal mistake of making alliance with the world when he knows that that ministry will be spurned? Why? Because he is merciful and gracious, slow to anger and plenteous in mercy. Why? Because he would give the wicked heart every chance to hear his voice and to turn before it is too late.

What, just the mistake that multitudes of men are making to-day, the thought the friendship of the world was more dependable than the friendship of God. He could see the army of Assyria, but he could not see the unfailing power and resources of God and he chose the former rather than the latter.

When the prophet, urging the claims of his message upon the king's heart, requested him to ask for a sign that he might know that God had spoken and was able to fulfill His promise, Ahaz made a pretense of great reverence to God in refusing to comply with the request. The heart is deceitful above all things and desperately wicked, and the willful in heart seldom fail to stumble so as discredit God and His messenger and to believe a lie.

THE STORY.

IN the eyes of the wicked King Ahaz, the prophet Isaiah was but a hinderer and meddler in the affairs of State. When he presumed to be let alone to manage the affairs of the nation the prophet would come with some message which he claimed had been given to him by his God. And generally these messages of the prophet were directed against his evil ways, and charged him with leading the nation into idolatry which would end finally in severe punishment upon the nation.

"A troublemaker, and a bearer of evil messages," was the way in which Ahaz had come to speak of the prophet. What did that pompous-bred, ancient-looking individual know about ruling a nation? What business had he coming around telling him what he should and should not do? He knew how he would serve God and he knew how he would seek favor with the nations about by fellowshiping with them in their idolatry. A nation could not be a law unto itself, and if the interests of Judah were to be secured, she must make allies of some of the strong nations.

It seemed utter folly for the prophet to talk about the favor of God being of more value than the favor of kings, and more than once he had reported that victory seemed to be on the side of the strongest army, and pointed with triumph at the increasing power and strength of Assyria.

It would, that the nation had such an ally, he rejoiced to himself more than once. "We would then have nothing to fear from all the other nations."

But he knew that Isaiah would oppose any such alliance and he feared the influence of the prophet upon the nation, for the people believed in him and would have resented any open violence which King Ahaz might have offered against him.

For this reason he always received the prophet when he came to him, and made a pretense of listening to his message, but always beneath the surface there lurked a contempt, nay, almost hatred, for the prophet. And when the prophet had taken his departure he would always willfully follow his own desires.

All this was a source of deep sorrow to the prophet, but he who would walk with God and do the service must learn to patiently labor and then wait, and Isaiah learned early in his relations to King Ahaz that after he had spoken God's message he must leave the matter right there. He knew that God's plans would be carried out and that even the king's willfulness and wickedness could not thwart the glorious promises which God had spoken concerning His chosen people.

And now the nation had come face to face with a grievous peril. The nation of Israel had confederated herself with Rezin, king of Syria, and had come up with a mighty army against Jerusalem, to that there was neither going out nor coming in of the people of the city. Terror filled the place, king and people were panic stricken, knowing not whither to turn. Their plans failed, their efforts were cut for day and night now the king had not had any rest for the water supply was in danger, and the entire force of the city under the direction of the king was being thrown around the works at the end of the conduit of the upper pool in the high way of the fuller's field.

And it was there that Isaiah found the king one day, and sought audience with that prevailed, and yet still unconscious of a vital relationship with God and a commission from him in reporting the true of evil.

And because he did not as yet feel the sanction of the Divine commission resting upon him, and did not know what it was to feel that it was God's battle, and not his, he felt unutterably discouraged at times and almost ready to give up.

In such a frame of mind one day he withdrew to that garden spot outside of Jerusalem on the side of Mt. Olivet, where centuries later the Lord and Christ, concerning whom he was to have so many beautiful visions, was wont to go for rest. The olive trees and the grape vines were there in their luxuriant and fruitful beauty, and as the young man threw himself down beneath the branches of one of the trees he gave a sigh of relief, and the half-formed resolves vaguely took shape in his mind that after all he would let the evils take care of themselves. Why should he worry about them? Why should he carry burdens that were destroying his peace of mind? Why should he not let the nation go its own way while he sought in his own way to keep God's law? And with the thought came a sort of complacent, self-satisfied feeling which is peculiarly dangerous to those who know God's law and strive to keep it. Such feeling places one in that "holier than thou" class which cuts off vital contact with the world about and destroys that tie of sympathy and love, which is absolutely essential to effect work for God. And such we say was the state of mind of Isaiah at that particular moment on that particular day as he sat there under the olive trees in the garden.

But thanks be to God there was too serious a vein in the young man Isaiah to have his career forever blasted by such narrow and superficial view of himself and of the world about him. Goodness was more than mere personal possession, it was outflowing as well as indwelling, just as to must be with God, he thought. And he had despised himself because he had been weak enough to think that he was so good and the world so bad that he would just withdraw into a little world of his own, there to live in complacent enjoyment of the virtues he had acquired.

Impatiently he arose and paced to and fro in deep anguish of spirit. The evening shadows began to fall, but still he paced back and forth. Dark shades settled down and he seemed shut into the little space that just surrounded him save for the gleaming stars overhead, which as he lifted his gaze towards them seemed striving to flash some message to his soul.

"God's handiwork!" he exclaimed reverently. "How great is God. Surely, David hath truly said that the heavens declare the glory of God." And again he relapsed into silence.

How long he sat there in the rapt tures to that heavenly vision which God gave him that night and which the prophet has faithfully recorded for our edification and blessing he never would have known had it not been that as he again became conscious of his surroundings and looked towards the east he saw the sun slowly coming above the line of the horizon.

"So may the Son of Righteousness rise with healing in his wings. I have seen the Lord in his glory this night, have felt the cleansing power of his touch, I have heard his voice calling. He has heard my cry. Here am I, send me. I will be God's messenger. There are no discouragements to the one who walks with God to the accomplishment of his certain will."

Its Cat Was from Sugar Cane.

The West Indian Committee Circular states that application has been made for a grant for by process of extracting wax from the sugar cane. It appears that the fruit of the cane contains a certain proportion of wax which has hitherto been lost with the refuse. By the new process this wax is now recovered from the filter refuse and turned to commercial uses, being very similar in its characteristics to beeswax.—Consular Reports.

Kentucky Gleanings.

Most Important News Gathered From All Parts of the State.

CHEAPER TO SUPPORT.

Health Boards Then, Pay Doctor and Funeral Bills, Says McCormack.

Louisville, Ky.—A report of the 20th year of the state board of health was filed here by Dr. A. S. McCormack, of Bowling Green, secretary. After a lengthy exposition of the causes for organizing the board during the southern yellow fever epidemic in the seventies, the report tells of the work done during the year closed April 3. It relates that many diaries about Louisville were closed because their sanitary condition was hopeless, and that in some of the slaughter houses supplying meat to the smaller towns "hogs and buzzards, the former being fattened for slaughter, were often found in the early morning contending for the offal, decaying heads and other waste."

The report urges an abattoir for such towns with killing conditionals. "It will cost," says the report, "to have these essentials to health, but they are far cheaper than one-third of the sickness and funerals in Kentucky every year, which could and should be prevented."

JUST TIRED OF LIFE.

Wrote Insurance Agents, Who Had No Other Trouble to Cause Suicide.

Louisville, Ky.—"I am neither drunk nor insane. I have no domestic or business trouble. I am simply tired of life."

This is a note left to the public by A. F. Wimberley, who was found dead in his apartments with a bullet in his brain.

He had left word with the maid in the house where he was boarding to call him, and when she knocked on the door and, getting no response, opened it she found the dead man lying across the bed.

Wimberley, who was state agent for the Bankers' Life Association of Des Moines, Ia., was 48 years old and had resided here for some years. His wife is visiting in Evansville, and she, with his daughter, Mrs. Lona McKenzie, of Versailles, Ky., was notified.

Sues Cleaning Company.

Louisville, Ky.—Suit was filed here by William Davine for $25,000, charging the Rogers Carroll Rug Cleaning Co. with the destruction of his health. Davine says that when the company made over rugs for him it failed to guard them against consumption germs in the carpets, with the result that his health was undermined, and that now he is a hopeless sufferer from tuberculosis.

Judges Appointed.

Frankfort, Ky.—Gov. Willson appointed W. H. Mackey special judge of Kenton circuit court to try the case of the commonwealth against J. White, an inquest as to sanity. He appointed W. M. Beckner, of Winchester, special judge of Breathitt circuit court to try murder cases of Clay Watkins, Green Watkins, Elliott Collins and Samuel Watkins.

Murder Mystery Unsolved.

Lexington, Ky.—The body of S. A. Driesbach was buried in Lexington cemetery. The expenses of the interment were paid by H. V. Lambie, and the service was conducted under the auspices of the Order of Red Men. There were no new developments as to the identity or the whereabouts of the person or persons who murdered and robbed Driesbach.

May Come to Louisville.

Paducah, Ky.—State Secretary R. I. Barnett, of the Farmers' Union, says Louisville will be selected as headquarters unless Paducah offers a more attractive propcsition. The directors will meet here again September 8 to settle this matter. The union expects to handle 3,000,000 pounds of tobacco this year.

Postmaster Resigns.

Newport, Ky.—William Hartman, who for the past several years has been postmaster in Alexandria, has sent in his resignation to Washington, to take effect upon the appointment of his successor. The applications of James Gosney and Henry Schlake, jr., have been sent in to succeed Hartman.

Considered a Good Omen.

Frankfort, Ky.—A carrier pigeon, wearing a silver band numbered 918, flew into the cell house at the state penitentiary and was caught between the cells of Henry Yoursey and Curt Jett. Youtsey, Jett and Hanlon are wondering to whom the bird will bring good luck.

Election Commissioners to Meet.

Frankfort, Ky.—Chairman Napier Adams, of the state board of election commissioners, has called a meeting of the board to be held here on August 27, when the commission will appoint the county commissioners.

Dog Was Not Rabid.

Lexington, Ky.—Dr. A. J. Andrews wired from New York that the head of the dog which bit him had been examined at the Pasteur institute and that it was not rabid. He will come home without taking treatment.

RIDER WITNESSES STILL MISSING.

Grand Jury May Adjourn Without Indicting Those Implicated.

Eddyville, Ky.—Waiting to get the two principal witnesses against the night riders, Bradford Hall and Tom Stevens, the grand jury of Lyon county has its hands tied, and it would not be surprising should the body adjourn without indicting any of the 140 men, some of whom are the best citizens of the county, who were implicated by Hall and Stevens, who were members of the band of raiders that operated in the county some time ago.

While the grand jury has examined many witnesses and has endeavored to place the responsibility on some of the accused, no indictments have as yet been returned.

WOULD CALL TAYLOR BACK

But Willson Will Insist That He and Finley Have Bail.

Frankfort, Ky.—Gov. Willson made a statement in response to a number of questions that he would issue requisitions for the return of former Gov. Taylor and former Secretary of State Finley from Indiana to the state for trial for implication in the murder of Gov. William Goebel.

He said, however, he would insist that they have bail, but Commonwealth's Attorney Robert Franklin says he will resist any motion that Taylor and Finley make for bail, as the constitution provides that persons indicted for capital punishment can not be called out on bail.

Whites Wouldn't Accept.

Bowling Green, Ky.—The white voters in school district No. 81, in Allen county, opposed to the operation of the new school law of Kentucky, enacted by the last general assembly, which does away with separate trustees for colored schools, refused to elect a trustee. They notified the county superintendent that no white man could be secured who would accept, and negroes were not permitted to vote.

Pardon Offered By Willson.

Louisville, Ky.—Walker Duncan, a Shelby county farmer, who recently shot and killed Newton Hazlett, an alleged night rider, and who has been confined at the Norton infirmary in this city as a result of an operation, has received a letter from Gov. Willson, in which the governor told him that he would grant him a pardon for the killing of Hazlett if he preferred this to a vindication in court.

Riders Burn Store and Barn.

Elizabethtown, Ky.—A band of riders visited the town of Guston, in Meade county, and did much damage. They burned the millinery store of Miss Jennie Myer and the stock barn of Dan Richardson, a prominent farmer near there. As there is little tobacco grown near there the cause of the raid is unknown.

Slow Collections the Cause.

Paducah, Ky.—A petition in bankruptcy was filed against the Starks-Ullmann Saddlery Co. The firm sold goods on long things in the south, and collections were slow. Assets are over $90,000 and liabilities $75,000. A receiver will be appointed to continue operations.

Death Closes Career.

Louisville, Ky.—Business circles were stirred to learn of the death in Henry county of Major G. E. Downs, aged 94, the oldest retired wholesale merchant in Louisville. He was connected with some of the prominent early interests of Louisville when it was a town of 15,000.

Jim Crow Law Test.

Frankfort, Ky.—Another test of the Jim Crow law is to be given in the Franklin circuit court, as nine young women of this city have filed suit against the C. & O. asking for $2,000 damages each because, they claim, they were forced to ride in the negro coach.

Many Thoroughbreds in Danger.

Lexington, Ky.—Lightning struck Circle Barn No. 7, on J. B. Haggin's Elmendorf farm, and it was totally destroyed by fire. There were 41 thoroughbred yearlings in the barn at the time, but they were all gotten out but one. Loss $6,000; partly insured.

Auto Is Burned.

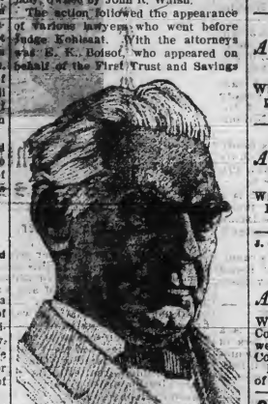
Louisville, Ky.—All Dr. Ray Bizot, of this city, has left of a costly automobile is a front wheel and some iron. Bizot was driving when his lamps went out. He refilled them with gasoline and struck a match. In a jiffy the entire machine was flaming.

He Told the Truth.

Louisville, Ky.—"I'm gone, kid. I'm gone," cried Fred Lou Ge, to Minnie Kremer, his sweetheart, just after midnight. The girl turned hurriedly and saw Bott fire two bullets into his brain. He sank to the street dead.

Morgan Men End Reunion.

Carlisle, Ky.—The sixth annual reunion of the surviving members of Morgan's command closed at Park's Hill, after a well-attended meeting lasting two days. About 150 members were present.



RECEIVER HAS WALSH ROAD

SOUTHERN INDIANA RAILWAY IS INVOLVED IN ACTION.

Myron J. Carpenter Is Selected to Take Charge of Property—Notes Are Owned by Bank.

Chicago. — Judge C. C. Kohlsaat of the United States circuit court appointed Myron J. Carpenter receiver for the Southern Indiana Railway Company, owned by John R. Walsh.

The action followed the appearance of various lawyers who went before Judge Kohlsaat. With the attorneys was E. K. Boisot, who appeared on behalf of the First Trust and Savings bank, the representative of the associated clearing house banks of Chicago, to apply for the receiver.

John R. Walsh.

A statement was given out by James C. Hutchins, one of the lawyers, concerning the new court proceedings follows:

"Attorneys James C. Hutchins, Ovid B. Jameson (Indianapolis) and Lessing Rosenthal, appeared with E. K. Boisot before United States Circuit Judge Christian C. Kohlsaat at a late hour last night on behalf of the First Trust and Savings bank, the representative of the associated clearing house banks of Chicago, to apply for the receiver. Three similar bills were filed by the First Trust and Savings bank, one in the northern district of Illinois at Chicago, one in the eastern district at Danville and one in the district of Indiana at Indianapolis. James Rosenthal appeared on behalf of the railroad companies."

The notes under which this receivership was procured are owned by the First Trust and Savings bank for the account of the associated banks and were acquired at the time these banks took over the assets of the Walsh banks.

CALLS OFF INDIANA STRIKE.

President Lewis Tells All Miners to Return to Work.

Indianapolis, Ind.—Having been defied by the Indiana state executive board of the organization, President T. L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers Friday afternoon issued from headquarters a letter advising all miners now on strike in Indiana to return to work immediately.

It now rests with the miners to obey the terms of President Lewis' letter or suffer the revocation of their charters. The words of the president are not harsh, but they carry an import of determination and authority. In his letter President Lewis intimates that the case at the Hudson mine, which started the strike, is not meritorious.

COAL PRICES MAY ADVANCE.

New Company That Plans to Control St. Louis' Supply.

St. Louis.—Announcement was made Thursday that a corporation is being formed to be known as the Commonwealth Fuel company, embracing 153 Illinois coal mines within a radius of 55 miles of St. Louis, supplying practically all the coal consumed in St. Louis and in East St. Louis.

It is stated the new combination proposes not only to control the output of the mines, but also to control the prices. According to dealers, if the negotiations are consummated an increase of ten to fifteen per cent in the price of coal may be expected, meaning an increase of from $600,000 to $1,000,000 in the coal bill of St. Louis and East St. Louis.

Seventy-Six Dead in Wigan Mine.

Wigan.—It is now known that 76 miners perished in the explosion and the fire that followed it in the Maypole mine. The directors have decided to seal the mine.

Negro Shot from Ambush.

Birmingham, Ala.—Anthony Davis, a negro non-union miner, whose house at Pratt City was destroyed by dynamite Wednesday night, was fired upon from ambush at Pratt City Friday night and fatally injured.

Peru's New President Proclaimed.

Lima, Peru.—Augusto B. Leguia was proclaimed president of the republic of Peru Friday by the Peruvian congress. All the members of congress except two voted in the affirmative.

G. G. Hughes,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
BURLINGTON, KY.
Will practice in all the courts. Prompt attention given to all business entrusted to me.

N. E. Riddell,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.
Prompt Attention given to Collections Will practice in all the courts.

S. Gaines,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.
Will practice in all the courts, and prompt attention given collections. Office—Over D. Rouse's Store.

D. E. Castleman,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.
Will practice in the Courts of Boone Kenton, Grant and Gallatin. Collections pushed energetically.

J. C. CLORE, W. W. DICKERSON
E. T. CLAYTON.
Clore, Dickerson & Clayton,
ATTORNEYS-at-LAW
Will practice in the State and U. S. Courts of Northern Ky., and Southwestern Ohio. Cincinnati Office: N. E. Cor. 6th & Vine; Phone, Main 2029. Mr. Dickerson will spend a portion of his time at the Williamstown office.

BOONE CO. DEPOSIT BANK
(Incorporated 1886.)
CAPITAL,..... $50,000
Surplus and undivided profits $7,000
—)o(—
Our facilities enable us to receive on favorable terms accounts of individuals and corporations. Collections promptly remitted for at Lowest Rates.

ERLANGER DEPOSIT BANK.
(INCORPORATED 1893.)
ERLANGER, - - KENTUCKY
Capital Stock paid in..... $50,000
Surplus,.. $8,000
Careful attention given collections, and remittances promptly made. Deposit accounts solicited.

Dr. J. L. Adams,
DENTIST,
308 F. & T. Bank Building.
COVINGTON. - KY.
—will be in office—
AT ERLANGER EVERY THURSDAY.

W. E. VEST,
Real Estate Agent.
Farms Bought, Sold or Exchanged, Money to Loan on Real Estate, Notes bought, sold & Negotiated. All communications addressed to W. E. Vest, Walton, Ky.

CHAS. GARNETT,
AUCTIONEER.
Will be in Burlington every court day. Fees for selling stock reasonable. Public Sales given special attention.

INSURE AT HOME
The Farmers' Mutual Fire
INSURANCE COMPANY,
OF BOONE COUNTY,
is now completely organized and receiving applications for insurance.
Its RATES are LOWER
Than those of any other Company and gives the farmers of Boone Co.
HITHERTO UNKNOWN ADVANTAGE
in keeping their property insured.
Average cost of insurance on $1,000 for a period of five years is $9 45, less than one per cent per $1,000.
Every Farmer in the County
should take a policy at once.
Edgar Cropper, Pres., Burlington, Ky.
Noah Tanner, V Pres., Gunpowder, "
F. A. Utz, Treas., Florence, Ky.
Malchus Souther, Secy.,
R. F. D.—1, Ludlow, Ky.
R. B. Huey, Agent, Burlington, Ky.
J. E. Smith, Assessor, Burlington, "
Executive Board—Legrand Gaines, J. W. Conner, Solon Early,

F. W. Kassebaum & Son,
GRANITE & MARBLE
MONUMENTS,
Burial Vaults and Cemetery Work of all Kinds.
Building Stone, Flagging, Settees and Vases.
Office and Warerooms:
70 and 72 Main Street,
AURORA, IND.
U&A POPE, Agents, Florence, Ky

C. L. GRIFFITH,
DEALER IN REAL ESTATE
and Negotiable Notes,
WALTON, KY.
If you want to buy or sell Town Property or Farms, write me. Write for printed list.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

FOR COUNTY JUDGE.

P. E. Cason is a candidate for Judge of the County Court of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

J. H. Walton, of Constance, is a candidate for County Judge of Boone county, subject to the Primary Election, November 3 i, 1908.

FOR COUNTY ATIORNEY.

N. E Riddell is a candidate for County Attorney of Boone County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

FOR CLERK OF COUNTY COURT

Charles (Caddie) Maurer, of Belleview, is a candidated for Clerk of the Boone County Court, subject to the Democratic Primary election, November 3 1908.

Owen S. Watts, of Walton, is a candidate for Clerk of the Boone County Court, subject to the Democratic Primary E ection, November 3, 1908.

B. B. Allphin, of Walton, is a candidate for Clerk of the Boone County Court, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary E ection November 3, 1908.

J. H Rogers, of Walton, is a candidate for Clerk of the Boone County Court, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 19 8.

D. B. Dobbins, of Richwood, is a candidate for Clerk of the Boone County Court, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

J. C Hankins, of Hebron, is a candidate for County Court Clerk of Boone county, subject to the Primary Election, November 3 i, 1908.

FOR CIRCUIT CLERK.

J. A. Duncan, of Burlington, is a candidate for Circuit Court Clerk of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary E ection, Nov. 3d, 1908.

FOR SHERIFF.

W. D. Cropper, of Burlington, is a candidate for Sheriff of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

B. B. Hunie, of Burlington, is a candidate for Sheriff of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, Novmeber 3, 1908.

Malchus Souther, of Constance, is a candidate for Sher ff of Boone County subject to the Democratic Primary Election November 3, 1908.

E. K. Stephens, of Walton, is a candidate for Sheriff of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

FOR ASSESSOR.

P. H. Stephens, of Rabbit Hash, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary E ection, November 3, 1907.

John W. Williams, of Union, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary E ection, November 3, 1908.

Lewis Clore, of Rabbit Hash, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election November 3, 1908.

E. C. Franks, of Big Bone, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1808.

C. P. Robinson, of Big Bone, is a canidate for Assessor of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election November 3, 1908

T. G. Willis, of Bullittsville, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3d, 1908.

John Kelsay, of Hebron, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

Geo. W, Ward, of Rabbit Hash, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

FOR SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT.

Aimer M. Yealey, of Florence, is a candidate for Superintendent of Schools of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

Elbert S. Ryle, of Burlington, is a candidate for Superintendent of Schools of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

Edgar C. Riley, of Burlington, is a candidate for Superintendent of Schools of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, Nov. 3d, 1908.

FOR JAILOR.

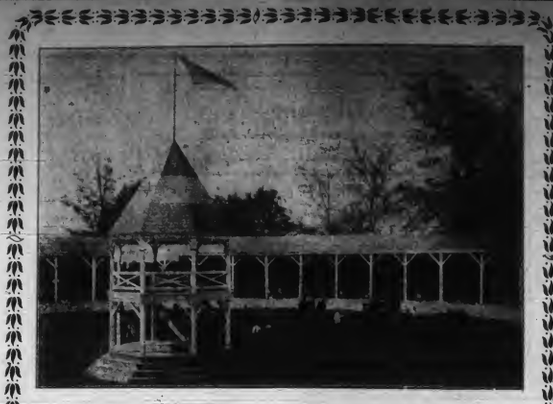
Samuel Adams is a candidate for Jailer of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, Novemter 3, 1908.

FOR SURVEYOR.

W. E Vest is a candidate for Surveyor of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

FOR REHRESENTATIVE.

J. W. Berkshire, of Petersburg, is a candidate for Representative of Boone county in the next Legislature, subject to the Democratic Primary El ction, November 3d, 1908.



There being several vacancies in the Boone County Democratic Committee, caused by the candidacy of the following members: J. A. Duncan, T. G. Willis, Chas. Maurer, John W. Berkshire, Everett Stephens and Lewis Clore, an election is hereby called for 1 o'clock p. m., on Saturday, Sept. 5th, 1908, in the following precincts: Burlington, Bullittsville, Walton, Belleview, Rabbit Hash and Petersburg The Democrats in each precinct will meet and elect a committee to serve until the regular November election, to elect committeemen.

W. W. GRIMSLEY,
Chmn. Democratic Committee.

Several of the candidates were in town yesterday, each apparently well pleased with the manner in which he had been received by the voters.

Claborn Cambell and wife, of Latonia, are visiting on Woolper.

Joseph Wagstaff, of Louisville, was transacting business in Burlington, last Friday. He looks well.

Where we will All Meet this Week.

Rhinock The Winner.

Never was there a quieter primary election than that held in this county last Saturday. If money or whiskey was used in the interest of any candidate it was done in a way that it could not be detected. It was the first trial in this county of the ironclad order which had been tried out in other counties, and the result was so eminently satisfactory that it will be no trouble hereafter to have a primary election order to carry the Bd clause in Boone county. The result of the primary election in this county, last Saturday is given by precincts below:

Burlington—Gooch 59, Rhinock 59, Elliston 23, Cleary 2, Hodge 2, Nadaud 2.

Beaver—Gooch 4, Rhinock 14, Elliston 28, Cleary 0, Nadaud 0, Hodge 0.

Bullittsville—Gooch 38, Rhinock 18, Elliston 21, Cleary 0, Nadaud 8, Hodge 0.

Big Bone—Gooch 10, Rhinock 54, Elliston 14, Cleary 0, Nadaud 2, Hodge 1.

Belleview—Gooch 26, Rhinock 33, Elliston 3, Cleary 0, Nadaud 2, Hodge 0.

Constance—Gooch 8, Rhinock 34, Elliston 0, Cleary 0, Hodge 0, Nadaud 4.

Florence—Gooch 38, Rhinock 62, Elliston 3, Cleary 1, Hodge 3, Nadaud 4.

Petersburg—Gooch 39, Rhinock 45, Elliston 6, Cleary 39, Hodge 2, Nadaud 11.

Rabbit Hash—Gooch 14, Rhinock 35, Elliston 19, Cleary 3, Nadaud 0, Hodge 21.

Union—Gooch 47, Rhinock 26, Elliston 4, Cleary 0, Nadaud 5, Hodge 0.

Verona—Gooch 13, Rhinock 24, Elliston 64, Cleary 0, Nadaud 12, Hodge 1.

Walton—Gooch 18, Rhinock 51, Elliston 75, Cleary 0, Hodge 1, Nadaud 1.

The vote of the respective candidates in the county was as follows: Gooch 314, Rhinock 455, Elliston 260, Cleary 45, Nadaud 79, Hodge 11. Rhinock's plurality over Gooch, 141. Total vote cast in county 1164.

Following is the vote by counties:

Boone—Gooch, 303; Rhinock, 455; Elliston, 260; Cleary, 45; Nadaud, 60; Hodge, 10.

Carroll—Gooch, 295; Rhinock, 498; Elliston, 154; Cleary, 6; Nadaud, 53; Hodges, 29.

Trimble—Gooch, 149. Rhinock, 154; Elliston, 153; Cleary, 8; Nadaud, 157; Hodges, 41.

Kenton—Gooch 996; Rhinock, 1913; Elliston, 900; Cleary, 702: Nadaud, 71; Hodges. 85.

Grant—Gooch, 90; Rhinock, 227; Elliston, 1186; Cleary, 20; Nadaud, 35; Hodges, 15.

Pendleton—Gooch, 85; Rhinock, 355; Elliston, 332; Cleary, 93; Nadaud, 25; Hodges, 18.

Gallatin—Gooch, 204; Rhinock, 83; Elliston, 300; Cleary. 1; Nadaud, 17; Hodges. 1.

Campbell—Gooch, 642; Rhinock, 595; Elliston, 167; Cleary, 50; Nadaud, 25; Hodges, 1649.

Total—Gooch. 2764; Rhinock, 4380; Elliston. 3442; Cleary, 925; Nadaud, 433; Hodges, 1858.

Xen Scott will give a premium at the Harvest Home on Black Badger's colts, 1907 get.

Gordon Gaines' nice buggy animal got its nose caught by a hook, one night last week, and tore its flesh most frightfully.

The Powers-Lipscomb case from Walton was decided in the circuit court, last week, the deed in contest being sustained, and a judgment for $1,000 and cost of suit, was entered against the land.

The Boone County Farmers' Institute will be held at Florence on the fourth and fifth days of September next. It is hoped that the farmers will attend the institute in force as it is intended for their instruction, and they surely will profit by the lectures and talks during the two days.

For Sale—26 hogs, will average 70 pounds. L. L. Stephens, Burlington R. R., No. 1.

Going-Out-Of

Buisness Sale!

On account of ill health I will sell out, and offer the following property for sale—Store House, Frame House, Barn and garden, 1 lot 50 ft. square. Stock of General Merchandise.

HENRY OELSNER,
Florence, Ky

FOUR BIG Days THE THIRTEENTH ANNUAL BOONE COONTY FAIR FOUR BIG Days

$2,500—IN PREMIUMS WILL BE GIVEN!—$2,500

Will Be Held at Florence, Ky., August 26th to 29th, 1908.

SOME OF THE BIG PREMIUMS:

Best Sweepstake Saddle Animal - - - - - $125.00
Best Sweepstake Saddle Animal - - - - - $125.00
Best Sweepstake All-Purpose Animal : : : : $125.00

LIBERAL PREMIUMS IN ALL DEPARTMENTS.

Come and Bring Your Families and Spend One Day with Your Friends on the Grounds and under the Shade Trees in the Cool Grove. Everything Possible will be done for your Amusement and Comfort.

You Can Always Find the

Best and Largest Stock of

Buggie, Carriage, Draft and Farm Harness

AT REASONABLE PRICES

Riding Saddles—all sizes and Styles; Horse Clothing, Flynets and Horse Boots. Also a full line of

Trunks, Traveling Bags and Suit Caser at

Chas. Mahlmann, Jr.

Phone, S. 957 X — 32 Pike Street, COVINGTON, KY.

For Sale Privately.

My entire Stock of Goods consisting of

GENERAL MERCHANDISE.

Also House and Lot in Belleview, Boone County, Ky. Have a good established trade. Any one desiring this location will call on or write me at once.

E. E. KELLY, Grant P. O., Ky.

Boone Co. Deposit Bank,

BURLINGTON, KY.

The Oldest Bank in Boone County,

PAYS 3 PER CENT. INTEREST ON TIME DEPOSITS,

With $100,000 protection to its Depositors as follows:

Capital Stock	$30,000
Surplus and Undivided Profits	40,000
Liability of Stockholders	30,000
Total Security for Depositors	$100,000

COURTESY EXTENDED TO ALL.

Bear In Mind

A Square Deal to Every Man

Is Our Motto.

We give you Honest Clothing at "Honest Prices." We give you the Style, Quality, Fit and Workmanship and we guarantee .....OUR PRICES THE LOWEST.....

We still have a fine line of

Men's & Boys' Spring and Summer SUITS

and it will be to your interest to examine them before buying elsewhere.

Men's Nice Suits.....$5.00, $6.00, $7.50
Men's Fine Suits.....$10.00, $12.50, $15.00, $18.00
Boys' Suits.....$4.00, $5.00, $7.50, $10.00, $12.00
Children's Suits.....$1.50 to $5.00
Fine Line of Men's Pants.....$1.00 to $5.00

Big Line of Cottonade and Camlet Pants just the thing for hot weather. We have some nice Suits in Odds and Ends which we will sell at much reduced prices.

Rolfes & Wachs,

RELIABLE CLOTHIERS,

No. 1 PIKE STREET, Cor. Madison Ave., Covington, Ky.

DEERING MACHINERY

.....SUCH AS.....

BINDERS, MOWERS RAKES and OTHER FARM Machinery, and Gasoline Engines see

E. K. STEPHENS

Phone 31-x, PETERSBURG, KY.

Local agents wanted for sale of Lott's Rapid Steam Washer—greatest Washing Machine of the age.

The BEST Fire Insurance that any country building can have is a

Cortright Metal Shingle Roof

It cannot burn. It cannot leak. It never needs repairs, and makes the handsomest long lived roof on the market. Insurance Companies recognize its advantages and are glad to quote lower prices where it is used. Drop in and see them.

RILEY & GAAR, Agents, Bullittsville, Ky.

Jewelry Just a Little Better.

We are not satisfied to show Jewelry as good as others show. It is our aim to offer you something better, something different. Excellence of workmanship, beauty and exclusiveness of design and the very best wearing qualities characterize every piece—and with our moderate prices you can buy far more economically here than elsewhere.

Motch,

The Jeweler,
613 MADISON,
Covington, Ky.

Rogers Bros. General Merchants,

BELLEVUE, KY.

Keep on hand a General Stock of MERCHANDISE.

Coal Kept in the Yard.

Country Produce taken in Trade.

FOR SALE.

Brick, second hand lumber, sash, doors and windows. W. H. Buckner, Erlanger, Ky.

POSTED.

Notice is hereby given that my property known as Laughery Island is posted against all kinds of trespass.

JOHN SMITH, Grant, Ky.

Take the Recorder.

Subscribe for the Recorder.

Local News.

The weather last week was a little too cool for fair purposes.

The Boone circuit court adjourned, last Friday, until court in course.

Geo. Blyth was engaged several days, last week, building a pond for J. C. Revill.

The hay fever season is at hand again, and its victims are showing up in every direction.

A large number of water melon wagons from Belleview has passed through Burlington in the last ten days.

One night last week thieves swiped 35 chickens Homer Clutterbuck had in his coops on his wagon, ready to take to the city.

Attorney D. E. Castleman bought the large fire and burglar proof safe W. C. Weaver had in his grocery when closed out.

Enough candidate cards were printed at this office, last week, to give each Democratic voter in the county at least fifteen.

Well! Well! Everybody is going to the Florence fair this week and meet all their old acquaintances and make many new ones.

Everybody will eat of Wash Tanner's barbecued meats and drink of his burgoo at the Florence fair, this week. Yum! Yum!!

A candidate entering a campaign without his pockets full of cards is in the same position that a soldier is who enters a battle disarmed.

The public schools should all be in progress in the next ten days. They ought to take advantage of all the good weather the fall will provide.

Some of the winter's supply of coal has been put in the local bins. The coal housed at this season of the year is much cleaner and more satisfactory than that put in later on.

Several whose names do not appear in the announcement column are being spoken of as probable candidates at the primary election in November. The more the merrier, boys.

F. Rich, for many years a prominent citizen of Florence, has moved to 48 Montague St., Covington. Boone county people are sorry to lose so valuable a citizen as Mr. Rich.

Notice is hereby given that all persons are forbidden to trespass upon my lands in any manner whatever, unless by my permission. The law against trespass will be rigidly enforced by me.
O. F. Glacken.

Henry Sullivan, an old citizen of Plattsburg neighborhood, was in Burlington, one day last week, making arrangements to go to a hospital to be operated on for the removal of a growth on his liver.

James Jones, who resides down on Gunpowder, was in Burlington last Saturday, and requested the Recorder to express to his neighbors his gratitude for their continuous attention and assistance during his severe illness.

Several of the Boone county candidates were deadening over the line last week, while attending the fair at Erlanger. They will be on their own soil this week at the Florence fair, where they will fire their cards in volleys at the defenseless voters.

The burial of Napoleon B. Stephens, who died very suddenly on Aug. 17th, from apoplexy at his home in Erlanger, took place from Hopeful Lutheran church on Aug. 19th. Rev. J. H. Walterick conducted the services. He was aged 72 years,1 month and 18 days.

Charles Clore and son, Elbert, captured the following ribbons at the Erlanger fair, last week: Second on a yearling mule and a suckling Wilstar colt, and first on running-walk horse. Charlie has pulled down premiums on old Prince for running-walk until now they amount to $120, and he is good for several others yet.

NOTICE—Those who owe the Burlington Coach Horse Co. for 1907 services, will please come forward and settle. On the first Monday in September, the best horse colt and the best mare colt of Plutarch's 1907 get will each be given a premium. Show to take place in Burlington.
A. B. Renaker, Secty.

NOTICE—Those who owe the Burlington Jack Co. for services for year 1907, will please come forward and settle, and, also, remember that this company gives three premiums for the best mules shown at Burlington on county court day in September, 1908. B. W. Adams, President.

Mrs R. B. Huey and daughter, Miss Estelle, entertained at dinner, last Thursday, Mrs. Kate Martin, of Chicago; Mrs. Laura Carver, Mrs. W. B. Walton, and Misses Jonette and Pattye Reville, of Burlington; Corlune Conrad, of Dry Ridge; Prudence Sayres, of Covington; Anna Cleek, of Beaver Lick; Corlune and Jean Craig, of Ghent, and Virginia Botts and Alice Carver.

She Likes Good Things.

Mrs. Chas. E Smith, of West Franklin, Maine, says: "I like good things and have adopted Dr. Klug's New Life Pills as our family laxative medicine, because they are good and do their work without making a fuss about it." These painless purifiers sold at Bentler's drug store, Erlanger. 25c.

W. W. Grimsley, of Big Bone, has not given up all hopes of a bridge being built across Big Bone creek at or near a point known as the [illegible]. It seems that Gallatin county does not regard the Fish Trap as the proper location, and has declined to assist in the construction of the bridge. It is probable that it will not be long before a location satisfactory to both Boone and Gallatin counties will be agreed upon, when the work on the bridge will begin at once.

[illegible] and Overseer Bert Stilvaa, but he did not use any of the county's money or labor. The work was paid for by private subscription, for which D. E. Castleman is entitled to the credit of raising.

For Sore Feet.

"I have found Bucklen's Arnica Salve to be the proper thing to use for sore feet, as well as for healing burns, sores, cuts, and all manner of abrasions," writes Mr. W. Stone, of East Poland, Maine. It is the proper thing too for piles. Try it! Sold under guarantee at Bentler's drug store, Erlanger. 25c.

The Rogers Association will hold its next annual session with the Burlington Universalist church, beginning on Friday, September 4th, at 2 p. m., and continuing over Sunday. Following is the program—Friday 2 p. m. business meeting. Preaching at night. Saturday—Business meeting at 9. a. m. Occasional sermon 11. Business meeting 2 p. m. Preaching at night. Sunday—Services 11 a. m. Basket dinner. Services at 2 p. m. and at night.

Prof. Nicholas E. Florence will be the teacher of the higher courses in the Boone High School. He comes with a rich experience, having taught for seven years. He holds a State Diploma, a Bachelor of Arts Degree from Kentucky University, and a Diploma in the Classical Course of the Bible. He did special work in English Grammar at the great Normal College of Valparaiso, Indiana. The patrons can feel assured that Prof. Florence will conscientiously do his work.

A good Democrat who lives some distance from Burlington, and whose residence is several hundred yards from the public highway, was in this office the other day, and after watching the press for a few minutes turn out candidates cards at the rate of 1,500 an hour, remarked: "I will save the candidates and myself time by having a basket at my gate on the road, and have a card printed and tacked thereon requesting them to deposit their cards in the basket and pass on."

A postal card bearing date Aug. 19, received from J. B. Tolin, at Delhi, O, says:

"Dear Recorder:—I am all in—down and out—sick with malarial fever and an abscess on my hip. Have been here for three weeks. I can see Boone county hills from my room, which makes me homesick to see folks at home. I am in good hands up here. Warren Montfort, my youngest son, is one of the engineers on the steamer Cincinnati; John Lindenburn, captain; Will Maurer, pilot; Charles Allen, clerk. A Boone county crew."

The most reliable place to buy harness, saddlery and turf goods is at Chas. Mehlman, Jr's, 32 Pike St., Covington, Ky. He guarantees every set of harness or saddle that he sells. If there are any defects in material or workmanship, he is always willing to replace any part with new work. This is one thing you cannot do if you send away to some catalogue house. It is hardly necessary to make any further remarks because the house is too well known in all the counties of Northern Kentucky for reliability. Anyone knows that it is always better to patronize a house where you can go personally and select your goods, and where you can go right back and get goods exchanged in case they are not satisfactory.

A letter received from Prof. W. P. Dickey, who spent the summer most delightfully at Gardiner, Maine, said after spending a few days at Squirrel Island, Bath Bay, &c., he would return to Cambridge, Massachusetts. About September 10th he will go to New York, where he will spend a few days before going to Richmond, Va., where he will hold forth next year as Professor of Latin in Richmond College. He said he would like to attend the Florence fair this week, as there is nothing that beats it on general principles. He thinks the grass crop is short in this Congressional District, it having been worn out by the politicians in the last few weeks. He says the political pot has begun to boil where he is.

Resolutions of Respect.

Hall of Allue Lodge No. 19, I. O. O. F. In memory of our brother T. L. Utz, who was called from this world of care to his reward on high August, 12, 1908.

Resolved, That while we submit to the will of our Heavenly Father and tender to the bereaved family our heartfelt sympathy, we know that this lodge has lost one of its best members, who will be greatly missed by the brotherhood; that his church has lost a faithful pastor, the community at large, an useful man; his family, a faithful husband and kind and just father.

Resolved, That this Lodge wear mourning for thirty days; that these resolutions be spread on the minutes of this Lodge; a copy be sent to the bereaved family, and a copy be sent to the Boone County Recorder for publication.

Committee—E E. Kelly, J. L Kite, R. W. Rice.

Resolutions of Respect from Evergreen Lodge, No. 24, Grant, Ky.

Whereas, It has pleased God the Father of all, who knoweth and doeth all things best, to remove from our midst our beloved brother, T. L. Utz, who passed this life August 12 h, 1908, after a lingering illness; therefore be it

Resolved, That in his death Evergreen Rebekah Lodge No 24 has lost a true and faithful brother, the community a tried and useful citizen, the church a beloved pastor, his family a kind and devoted husband and father.

Resolved, That we tender our sincere sympathy to the bereaved family, and bid them take hope and consolation in the heavenly assurance that they will meet him where there is no sorrow and no death, but eternal happiness and love.

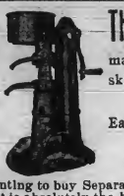
Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be retained in the records of this lodge, a copy be presented to the family of the deceased and another be presented to the Boone County Recorder for publication.

Committee—Etna McAtee, Grace Sutton, Iley Stephens.

Peoples Deposit Bank,
BURLINGTON, KY.
Your Money Deposited with this Bank is as Safe as with any Bank in Boone County.
3 PER CENT. INTEREST PAID ON SIX MONTHS TIME DEPOSITS.
We Make no Charge for Cashing Checks on other Banks
And afford you all other accommodations within range of Sound Banking in order to make dealings with us pleasant.
SAFE DEPOSIT BOXES FOR RENT. CALL AND SEE US.

STATEMENT OF THE
Equitable Bank & Trust Co.
WALTON, KY.
Organized for Business Sept. 9th, 1907.

DEPOSITS:



Opening Day Sept. 9th, 1907	$5,383.71
Dec. 31st, 1907, when statement was made to Secretary of State	37,157.67
June 30th, 1908, when statement was made to Secretary of State	56,269.38
July 1st, 1908, one day later	$61,959 90

LOANS AND DISCOUNTS:

July 1st, 1908	$ 76,539.85
Available Cash July 1st, 1908	30,716.80
Resources July 1st, 1908	$115,220.35

Careful, prudent business principles governs the bank. Your business solicited. Interest paid on time deposits. Mail communications given especial attention.
CHAS. L. GRIFFITH, President. D. B. WALLACE, Cashier.

LEW THORN, Pharmacist. A. G. G. RICHARDSON, Veterinary Surgeon.
THORN & RICHARDSON, DRUGGISTS.
We sell Kreso Dip for Lice and Mites on horses, cattle, sheep, hogs and chickens. Headquarters for House Paints, Floor Paints, Roofing Paints, Wagon and Carriage Paints, Carter's Lead and Pure Linseed Oil.
Medicines, Stationery and Sundries in large supply. All new and fresh. Prices are right.
Main Street, - RISING SUN, INDIANA.

The New Iowa
New in Kentucky,
But a Leader in the West
NOTE WHAT WE CLAIM FOR IT.

The Only Separator
made to day, that will skim to a trace, warm or cold milk.
Easiest Cleaned, Lightest Running, Mechanically Right
Farmers and Dairymen wanting to buy Separators should see the Iowa before making a purchase. It is absolutely the best, no other just as good costs no more. Why not have it? Over two car loads sold in Kentucky in two months. Write us for literature, good reading matter and very learning. We have all kinds of Tools, Farming Implements, Contractors Supplies, &c. The best line of Plows, Grain Drills, Feed Cutters and Mills. We have some new and slightly used Sharpless Separators we will sell at bargains.
We will Save You Money. Give us a Call.
The Fischer Bros. Company,
(Incorporated.)
1046 Madison Ave. COVINGTON, KY. 729-731 Monmouth St. NEWPORT, KY.
Everything Marked in Plain Figures. One Price to All.

YOU NEED A BUGGY
AND I HAVE IT FOR YOU.
CAN SAVE YOU MONEY.
New Buggies, Runabouts
and Harness for Sale or Trade.
Workmanship the Best, and Material Guaranteed.
When in Burlington call and See me.
B. B. HUME, - Burlington, Ky.

The marriage of Mr. Wm. Boyd Stephens and Miss Mary K. Barlow took place at the Parsonage of Boone County Lutheran churches Aug. 19th. The ceremony was performed by the brides pastor, J. H. Walterick, in the presence of a number of relatives. Mr. Shelly Aylor and Miss Etha Barlow were groomsman and bridesmaid.

Last Wednesday evening Miss Laura Porter entertained royally in honor of the guests of the Misses Revill. The evening's entertainment consisted of many unique features. An auction sale where such articles as "Tranquillity," "Lover's Bliss," etc., were sold for beans, caused great merriment. A musical contest for which Miss Elizabeth Hall played a medley of popular airs, tested the ability of the guests to recognize music readily. Miss Mary Roberts and Mr. Raymond Cropper won the prizes in this contest, recognizing 16 of the 17 airs played. A charade was then played by some of Miss Porter's friends. This was acted with great talent, and was one of the most enjoyable features of the evening. Frappe, ice and cake were served. This entertainment was one of the most delightful social events of the year, and the guests were hearty in their praises of the hostess and her aunt, Mrs W. L. Riddell. Those present were Misses Prudence Sayers, Anna Cleek, Jean and Corlune Craig, Corlune Conrad, Mattie Keyelich, Mabel and Lucille Cropper Estelle Huey, Virginia Botts, Nellie Corkwire, Jennie Lou Castleman, Elizabeth Hall, Mary Roberts, Alice Carver, Katherine Rouyan, Jonette and Pattye Revill, Messrs Dudley Byrne, Russell and Earl Smith, Roy Craven, Gordon Gaines, Charles and George Riley, Earl Rouse, Robert Grant, Cleve and Snyder Raymond Cropper, Ira Ryle, Howard and Garnett Huey.

PUBLIC SALE.

I will sell at public sale at my residence at the old Bruce Mill, about three miles west of Burlington, Ky, on Woodpeer creek, on Friday, September 11th, 1908,

the following property:

One bay Horse about 12 years old, one Cow 8 years old, three Hogs will average 200 pounds, Buggy and Harness, Road Wagon, set of Wagon Harness, lot Farming Implements and Household and Kitchen Furniture.

Terms—On sums over $5 a credit of Nine months without interest will be given, purchaser to give note with good security negotiable and payable in the Boone County Deposit Bank; sums of $5.00 and under, cash.

No property to be removed until terms are complied with

HARRY PASSONS.

Sale to begin at 1 p. m.

The Rabbit Hash Horse Company's colt show will take place at Rabbit Hash on the afternoon of Saturday, September 5, 1908, at which time a premium of $15 will be given to each, the best heavy draft colt, and the best general purpose colt. A premium of $10 will also be given the best mule colt. The colts to be of the 1907 get of the Company's horse and Jack.

C. G. RIDDELL, President.

R. W. Clark repaired three clocks for Mrs Jane Fleming Conner, of Richwood, recently, among them being a wall sweep, belonging to her brother, Mr. Fleming, which Mr. Clark pronounces the best made clock he ever repaired, and is a very valuable time piece, being well preserved and has solid gold hands. It has been in the family for nearly a century.

Special Shoe Sale.
Our Fall and Winter Stock of Shoes will soon begin to arrive. We must make room for them and therefore will make very
LOW PRICE FOR STOCK ON HAND.

Men's Heavy Shoes at	$2.00	former price	$3.00
Men's Light Shoes at	2.50	former price	3.50
Ladies' Shoes at	1.00	former price	2.00
Children's Shoes at	75c	former price	1.50

We have not room for more prices, but call on us and we will give you some genuine
SHOE BARGAINS.
W. M. Rachal & Co
Union, Kentucky.

PERFECT BIFOCALS AT LAST.

Bifocal lenses have been undergoing constant and rapid improvement for the last 10 years, until now we have the perfect bifocal.
It is ground in one piece and perfectly smooth; no cement used and no lines visible. Call and see them. They are the finest made.
N. F. Penn, M. D. with Motch, Jeweler,
613 Madison Avenue, - - - COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.
Phone, South 912-Y.

SCOTT CHAMBERS,
WALTON, KY.
Embalmer & Funeral Director,
LIVERY, BOARDING & SALE STABLE.
First Class Rigs for Hire at All Times.
Dealer in High Class Harness and Saddle Horses.
Raymond City Coal for sale at all times.

Hay, Grain, Mill Feed,
ALWAYS KEPT ON HAND.
Highest Market Price paid for Grain.
Fancy and Staple
GROCERIES.
I also have a nice and complete line of Fancy and Staple Groceries and canned goods.
WIRE AND FENCING, AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS, Buggies, Carriages, all kinds Fertilizer.
Owen S. Watts,
(Successor to R. B. HUEY & CO.)
WALTON, - - KENTUCKY.

H. G. BLANTON,
Funeral Director & Embalmer

LIVERY, BOARDING and FEED STABLE.
First-class Carriages for hire with careful Drivers for Families, Parties, Weddings, Etc.
I Have a Nice White Funeral Car.
Lexington Pike, - - - ERLANGER, KY.
Leave Orders with J. C. Revill, Burlington, Ky.

Geo. W. Hill & Co.,
Grocers, Commission & SEED Merchants.
Tested Field and Garden Seeds.
Finest Brands and Grades of FERTILIZERS, LIME, CEMENT AND SALT.
Largest and Best Stock of
GROCERIES IN THE CITY.
Sole Agents for the Celebrated
RARUS and GEM Brands of FLOUR.
When in the City it will pay you to come and see us.
27 & 29 Pike Street, (Phone South 55) 26 & 28 W. Seventh Street
COVINGTON, KENTUCKY

China Struggles to Free Itself from the Curse of Opium

Some New Prohibitory Statutes Are Laid Out and a Responsible Official Is Put in Charge.

By LAI HUNG KUAN
(Chairman Chinese Ministerial Board)

Expert on Results of Terrible Drug Tells How Mother Country Is Attempting by Enforcement of Laws to Rid Itself of Fiends, Created by Inhaling Fumes of the Poppy.

AN OPIUM SMOKING DISTRICT IN THE UNITED STATES

KUAN SHE KAI, CHARGED WITH ENFORCEMENT OF OPIUM LAWS.

GATHERING OPIUM

INTERIOR OF AN OPIUM JOINT

CHINA would rid itself of the curse of opium, and the sway of the drug is threatened. China, the home of the drug, and millions of its devotees, is proving its sincerity by honestly administering laws intended to break the thrall in which the lulling poppy has held the nation for centuries.

The recently enacted prohibitive laws are being enforced against both rich and poor, and as they play a gradual reduction of opium til at the end of ten years it is interdicted altogether, it looks as though one of the world's greatest vices had sustained its fatal blow.

In the battle against opium the whole world has aided China. Queen Alexandra of England served as one of the officials of an international organization, whose representations did much to finally teach the dowager empress of China that it would no longer be wisdom to oppose the world protest against the unlimited production and use of opium.

The United States has sent liberal aid. Thomas Burke of Seattle, Dr. Hamilton Wright of Maine and Dr. Charles D. Tenney, Chinese secretary of the American legation at Peking, are members of an international commission that has made many valuable suggestions as to the best methods by which the curse of opium could be lessened pending final obliteration.

Messrs. Burke and Wright are devoting themselves to the collection of data on the opium traffic in the United States and in the Philippine Islands, and Dr. Tenney is studying the situation in China.

The earthquake in San Francisco helped to solve the opium problem in the United States, for it wiped out an area where more opium was smoked than in any other part of the country. The Chinese dens of San Francisco numbered thousands of smokers, Americans as well as Mongolians, and it is said that in the number of whites who went there were many leading persons of the town who, beginning perhaps merely as an experiment or as a lark, had finally fallen a victim to one of the most insidious vices that has ever enchained mankind.

The earthquake wiped out these dens, and it destroyed an immense quantity of the drug. Chicago, New York, Philadelphia, New Orleans and all the larger cities of the United States with any Chinese population have opium dens, but the number is decreasing, for renewed precautions by state, city and federal authorities have made it increasingly difficult for them to operate.

But the biggest part of the work, the most valuable and the farthest reaching, is that being done in China, for it strikes at the very root of all the trouble, literally at the root.

It is right out on the opium fields themselves, where the poppy leaves grow, that the reformers are doing the most important part of their work.

The laws of China that order the reduction of the crops are being enforced by the mandarins. Many of these mandarins are themselves smokers, slaves to the weed, and they can never hope to overcome their fondness for it, but the government of China has awakened, and the penalty for disobedience is a severed head. Therefore no matter what may be the personal feelings of the mandarin, it is not safe for him to disregard the imperial order.

According to the imperial edict, land under poppy cultivation is to be reduced one-tenth annually, and rewards will be given in districts where the production is totally wiped out before the expiration of that period.

All opium smokers now have to register themselves, stating the ampunt of their consumption, and no opium may be sold to a person not so registered.

Smokers under 60 years of age must decrease their allowance by one-fifth annually.

Equally important has been the compulsory legislation dealing with the public dens for the smoking of the fatal pitch. These had to be closed within six months after the law went into effect. That time has now expired, and investigators in the various districts report that the order has been generally obeyed. Not only that, but in cases where in defiance of the law dens are still open for the public they are little patronized, the fear of official vengeance frightening away the smokers.

The sale of smoking perquisites is no longer permitted, neither may wineshops or any other places of public entertainment permit the sale of opium or smoking of it on the premises.

Shops where opium, or anything connected with it, is sold must be registered, and must show an annual decrease in their business under penalty of confiscation.

Moreover, the new law earnestly calls upon the officials of the nation to set an example to the people, and to oppose wherever possible the spread of the habit. Officials are ordered, in case they be smokers, to give up the habit within six months, and while this may not be practicable, at least the law will have the effect of compelling them to do their smoking in private, and thus prevent the populace from being able to make the excuse that they have only been doing what their officials did.

But proclamations are only of value in so far as they are enforced, and all the laws in the world are useless if they are consigned to oblivion after once having been put on the statute books. It is therefore of interest to know that trained experts in conditions, not only Chinese agents, but Americans, Englishmen and Frenchmen, have been sent throughout the kingdom with the good-will of the throne to find out to what extent the laws are being enforced.

Evasions have been found. In Kwang-Tung, for instance, one ingenious magistrate issued certificates so freely as to indicate that the entire population of the district was more than 60 years of age, and therefore immune from the drastic provisions of the law.

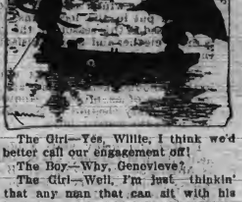
It has also been found that while there are evasions of the law, the attitude of the throne has borne valuable fruit in making the better classes of people regard opium smoking as no longer permissible to persons of education and breeding. No longer are the young men in the tea shops tempted to acquire the habit from the fact that everybody else does and nobody thinks it wrong.

The government has not been so vigorous as might be desired in punishing officials who are themselves opium smokers, but it could hardly be expected to have the whole reform achieved in a day. There have been some punishments. Two imperi[illegible] and two chief officials of the censorate were forced to give up their places because they loved opium more than the royal command.

It is no small loss that the Chinese government faces in yielding to the world's opinion and suppressing the opium trade. The central government will lose annually about $7,500,000, and the outlying provinces will suffer to the extent of about $20,000,000.

It is a curious fact that China, deprived of opium, is turning to smoking tobacco. The government has encouraged this tendency, for tobacco is infinitely less harmful than the poppy, and it is argued that a nation used to smoking for untold centuries can hardly be expected to give over the habit unless some harmless substitute is provided.

With governments all over the world forbidding the sale of opium, save for medical uses, the habit seems to be doomed.



OPEN DEALING IN PAINT.

Buying paint used to be like the proverbial buying of a "pig in a poke." Mixtures in which chalk, ground rock, etc., predominated were marked and sold as "Pure White Lead," the deception not being apparent until the paint and the painting were paid for. This deception is still practiced, but we have learned to expose it easily.

National Lead Company, the largest makers of genuine Pure White Lead, realizing the injustice that was being done to both property owners and honest paint manufacturers, set about to make paint buying safe. They first adopted a trade mark, the now famous "Dutch-Boy Painter," and put this trademark as a guaranty of purity, on every package of their White Lead. They then set about familiarizing the public with the blow-pipe test by which the purity and genuineness of White Lead may be determined, and furnished a blow-pipe free to every one who would write them for it. This action was in itself a guaranty of the purity of National Lead Company's White Lead.

As the result of this open dealing the paint buyer to-day has only himself to blame if he is defrauded. For test, outfit, and valuable booklet on painting, address National Lead Company, Woodbridge Bldg., New York.

LUKEWARM LOVER.

The Girl—Yes, Willie, I think we'd better call our engagement off!

The Boy—Why, Genevieve?

The Girl—Well, I'm just thinkin' that any man that can sit with his back to a girl, fishin' for four hours, ain't very much in love!

Deaths of Presidents.

Washington's death was due to acute laryngitis; Adams, Madison and Monroe, practically to old age; Jefferson, chronic diarrhea; John Quincy Adams, paralysis; Jackson, dropsy; VaVa Buren, catarrhal affections of the throat and lungs; William Henry Harrison, pleurisy; Tyler, cause of death not given by biographers; Polk, cholera; Taylor, cholera morbus, combined with a severe cold; Fillmore, paralysis; Pierce, dropsy; Buchanan, rheumatic gout; Lincoln, Garfield and McKinley, assassinated; Johnson, paralysis; Grant, cancer at the root of the tongue; Hayes, neuralgia of the heart; Arthur, heart trouble, and Benjamin Harrison, pneumonia.

Largest Rock Crusher in Operation.

The largest rock crusher in the world was recently thrown into operation in a cement mill at South Pittsburg, Tenn., and it crushes all the rock used by a 4,000-barrel plant. The machine has an hourly capacity of 800 tons and 80 per cent. of the product is in pieces four inches or less and 20 per cent. in pieces two inches or less. The crusher is 13 feet in height and weighs 425,000 pounds. The hopper is 20 feet in diameter. The operation of this machine alone requires 25 horse power.

Honesty No Bar to Fortune.

It is a mistake to think that vast fortunes cannot be built up by honest methods. They can and often are. There are thousands of men among whose riches there does not mingle one particle of the sweat of unrequited toil, on whose crimson plush there is not one drop of the heart's blood of the needlewoman, whose lofty halls are the marble of industry, not the sinews and bone of the toiling masses.—Dr. Madison C. Peters.

FRIENDLY TIP
Restored Hope and Confidence.

After several years of indigestion and its attendant evil influence on the mind, it is not very surprising that one finally loses faith in things generally.

A N. Y. woman writes an interesting letter. She says:

"Three years ago I suffered from an attack of peritonitis which left me in a most miserable condition. For over two years I suffered from nervousness, weak heart, shortness of breath, could not sleep, etc.

"My appetite was ravenous, but I felt starved all the time. I had plenty of food but it did not nourish me because of intestinal indigestion. Medical treatment did not seem to help. I got discouraged, stopped medicine and did not care much whether I lived or died.

"One day a friend asked me why I didn't try Grape-Nuts, stop drinking coffee, and use Postum. I had lost faith in everything, but to please my friends I began to use both and soon became very fond of them.

"It wasn't long before I got some strength, felt a decided change in my system, hope sprang up in my heart and slowly but surely I got better. I could sleep very well, the constant craving for food ceased and I have better health now than before the attack of peritonitis.

"My husband and I are still using Grape-Nuts and Postum." "There's a Reason."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

NATURE AND A WOMAN'S WORK

LYDIA E. PINKHAM

Nature and a woman's work combined have produced the grandest remedy for woman's ills that the world has ever known.

In the good old-fashioned days of our grandmothers they relied upon the roots and herbs of the field to cure disease and mitigate suffering.

The Indians on our Western Plains to-day can produce roots and herbs for every ailment, and cure diseases that baffle the most skilled physicians who have spent years in the study of drugs.

From the roots and herbs of the field Lydia E. Pinkham more than thirty years ago gave to the women of the world a remedy for their peculiar ills, more potent and efficacious than any combination of drugs.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is now recognized as the standard remedy for woman's ills.

Mrs. Bertha Muff, of 515 N.C. St. Louisiana, Mo., writes:

"Complete restoration to health means so much to me that for the sake of other suffering women I am willing to make my troubles public.

"For twelve years I had been suffering with the worst forms of female ills. During that time I had eleven different physicians without help. No tongue can tell what I suffered, and at times I could hardly walk. About two years ago I wrote Mrs. Pinkham for advice. I followed it, and can truly say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Mrs. Pinkham's advice restored health and strength. It is worth mountains of gold to suffering women."

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Muff, it will do for other suffering women.

A GOOD OLD FRIEND.

The Gumpot—Well, you fellows can say what you like about the editor. For my part, I always stick up for him.

ECZEMA FOR 55 YEARS.

Suffered Torments from Birth—In Frightful Condition—Doctors Could Help Until Cuticura Cured Him.

"I had an itching sensation, somewhat, ever since I came into the world, and I am sure it is quite 55 years old. I tried all kinds of medicines I heard of, but found no relief. It was truly in a frightful condition. At last it broke out in sores and white scales and white boils, which kept growing until they were as big as walnuts, causing great pain and misery, but I kept from scratching as well as I could. I was so run down that I could hardly do my work. I used Cuticura Soap, Ointment, Resolvent, and Pills for about eight months, and I can truthfully say I am entirely cured. [illegible], Ia., Aug. 17, 1907."

"I cheerfully endorse the above testimonial. I did the work. I know Mr. Bordwell and know the condition he was in. Nelson R. Burnett, Tipton, Ia."

A Westernized Proverb.

Out in Nevada it is said that they change the old adage "Death loves a shining mark" to "Death loves a mining shaft."—Western Christian Advocate.

You Druggist Will Tell You

That Murine Eye Remedy Cures Eyes, Makes Weak Eyes Strong, Doesn't Smart. Soothes Eye Pain and Sells for 50c per Bottle.

Integrity of character is more to be esteemed than mere capacity or genius.—Amiel.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.
For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle

A wise man is apt to know when he has enough before he gets it.

FIRST OF REFORMS

IS TO DO AWAY WITH INIQUITOUS SPECIAL PRIVILEGES.

Political Corruption Will Cease When Voters Unite to Uphold the Sound Principles of the Democratic Party.

The Republican politicians are evidently quite anxious that tariff reform shall not be a paramount issue in this campaign. Unfortunately there are so many issues that both sides are pressing that the allied issue of the tariff and the protected trusts is liable to be overlooked in a great measure. The issue of corruption of the voters by the money of the tariff-protected trusts and other corporations is and should be a paramount question, because upon the purity of the ballot and honest elections rest the whole political fabric under our Democratic-Republican form of government. Fortunately the political corruption is nearly all on one side, and with the promise of publicity before election by the Democrats, the Republican party is placed on the defensive, and a very poor defense it can make. The Republican managers are opposed to publicity and many of them openly scoff at it and even the best that Candidate Taft can promise is publicity "after election."

If there were no tariff protected trusts and favored corporations there would be but little corruption at national elections, for it is a fact that but few large contributions to political campaign funds are made unless the contributor is promised some personal advantage or important position.

Men will spend large sums to be elected themselves to office, but are not very free in contributing for the election of others, and the millions that contribute from real patriotic motives are few and far between.

Corporations, however, are more easily plied by the political collector, as we have seen in the case of the large sums paid for Republican campaign funds by the life insurance managers and what Harriman collected in 1904 from the railroads and other sources at the request of President Roosevelt.

In the letter of Mr. Harriman reciting his services to the Republican party he boasted that the large sum he collected was used to corrupt the voters of the state of New York and did change 50,000 votes.

It is more important to know how the campaign funds are expended than who furnished the money, and even that fact would not expose corruption unless the money was followed to its ultimate destination. It is very difficult to prove bribery of the voters, even if the money to do it with can be traced to the hands of the notorious briber.

If there were no protected monopolists and corporations plundering who are interested in perpetuating some special privilege or the secretion of their way of plundering the people, through connivance with officials, there would be but little political corruption. It would, therefore, seem that the most important reform is to abolish all special privileges and especially the present tariff protection to the trusts. It is safe to say that with the tariff reformed to a revenue basis and thus the trusts left helpless to charge more for their products than the reasonable profit that competition would allow, there would be very small contributions from those who now enjoy a virtual monopoly.

Now would the transportation corporations be so eager to contribute to help the Republican politicians in the law to control them was faithfully and impartially executed.

Is it not to the interest, therefore, of the honest and independent Republican voter who is willing to see political corruption abolished to join with the Democrats in such reform of the tariff as will be certain to end the corruption, as will force from them their monopoly that Republican policies have fostered, and by the force of competition prevent it in the future?

There will be little political corruption when special privileges are crushed out.

SURELY TIME TO REFORM.

Cut Down the Amount of Taxes Paid the Tariff-Protected Trusts.

The Republican politicians and the trusts have always, since their unholy partnership began, tried to befog the tariff issue. It must be said they have succeeded in doing so to a great extent and are still working faithfully for the same end. It is useless for Candidate Taft to decide that the money of the trusts and corporations will not be received for Republican campaign funds, for like President Roosevelt, when the exigencies of the campaign may require a large amount of money to "save the day," he too, will probably imitate the Roosevelt policy and call upon a Harriman to make the collection.

There would be but few trusts if they were not protected by the tariff and there would be no Dingley law if the Republican politicians were not receiving, directly and indirectly, part of the swag. The tariff, therefore, is not for protection to the farmers and workmen, but for the legal plundering of all classes. It is useless to demand the enforcement of a criminal statute against the trusts if the primary cause of the organization of trusts—the tariff law that fosters them—is allowed to remain on the statute books.

The workingmen have been deluded into voting the trust ticket, because the trusts have been forced to increase wages to meet the increased cost of living caused by trust high prices. But now the inevitable panic and fluctuating prices have come and wages are falling are the planting men as well as the wage earners likely to be with stable prices and steady wages?

The high price of farm products has not been caused by the tariff protecting the farmer, but by the foreign demand for his surplus crops, or as with the price of oats, by a failure of the crop here. The great fall in the price of wool, which is the only farm product that is really protected by the tariff, shows that the farmers are more at the mercy of the wool trust than benefited by the tariff on wool.

It is estimated by the most eminent statisticians that the average family pays a tax of nearly $100 a year on account of the tariff law, of which about $20 is received by the government and about $80 is received by the trusts in increased profits.

If these two collectors stood at the door of the stores and directly demanded the tax there would be some grumbling at the government tax collector, but what would be done to the trust collector? There would be a riot, and if the government should send troops to enforce the trust collections there would probably be a revolt. But the Republican politicians and the trust managers have arranged the law in a more diplomatic way, so that you pay your tariff and trust tax in the increased price of what you buy, and the storekeeper pays it to the wholesaler, and through them the government receives the tax on the imported goods you buy and the trusts receive the lion's share in high prices for their products. This indirect way of taxing you is quietly submitted to and the Republican politicians and the trust managers smile at your docility and unsuspecting credulity.

It would certainly seem that the time has arrived for retrenchment and reform. The Republican party has got extravagance to reform it as the Democrats propose will cut down the amount of taxes you pay the government, and is the cut is deep enough will entirely obliterate the trusts' tax of which [illegible] pay you.

The manufacturers will still live and become more prosperous, but the trust monopoly will die for lack of special privilege.

"I have committed a sin-sin," the delicate creature said to my friend in a whisper.

"How did you manage to do that?" I asked.

"I had lost faith in doctors to cure me, and a friend told me to consult a spiritualist, and I did."

"Of course you went to the best?" I said, smilingly.

"I went to Mrs. Smithkins. She stands very high," was the serious answer.

"And what did she tell you?"

"She told me a letter [illegible] dreamed she saw [illegible] was very strange to her. You see, I was a total stranger to her. She did not even know my name, and yet almost as soon as she went into a trance she told me that she saw my dear son—the one who is on the other shore, you know."

Her eyes grew luminous and her expression unearthly.

"He had a message for me, she said," she went on.

"And of course you received it as bona fide?"

"How could I help it? She called him by name and he said to her—just think of it—that he had known all along that I was ailing, and had been very anxious to get a message to me. 'Tell mother,' he said, 'that I can see that her health is failing, but that there is a remedy for her trouble. There is a certain kind of wine that will help her.' Here the medium wrote a name on a slip of paper.

"Tell her to take that daily for at least six months,' my son said to her.

"But I do not know where to get it,' I said to her when she handed me the slip.'

"And of course she told you," I ventured as the whisper faded.

The delicate creature's eyes glistened now.

"That was the strangest thing of all," she said, quickly. "While I spoke a card fluttered down to the floor right in front of me. I picked it up, and there was an address written upon it in my son's handwriting. It was No. —— Fulton street, Manhattan, and it told me that there I could find the wine mentioned."

"And you went there and bought the wine?"

"At once. A whole case of it." And she smiled angelically.

The next day I took the trouble to pass the door of No. —— Fulton street. As I had suspected, the name of the wine merchant was —— & Smithkins.

He Had Been There.

Rodrick—Howdy, old man? We are going on a camping trip soon. Did you ever enjoy a camp life where you had to do your own cooking and sleep beneath the stars?

Van Albert—Nope.

Rodrick—What? Do you mean to say you have never been on a camping trip?

Van Albert—No, I mean to say that I never enjoyed one.

Traffic Greatly Increased in Paris.

With the last few years the vehicular traffic of Paris has increased enormously. Horse-drawn and mechanically-propelled, it now totals 101,750 vehicles. There are at the present time 9,000 omnibuses and taxi-cabs against 845 in 1891. In 1900 there were only 12,000 hackney coaches against 18,250 to-day.

Alcohol In Temperance Drinks.

Government analyses of so-called temperance drinks sold in England prove that they contain from 1½ to 2.3.10 per cent. of alcohol. The liquor laws of England take no account, for purposes of taxation, of beverages containing less than 2 per cent., but of 4,347 samples of supposedly innocent drinks examined in the last four years, 3,058 exceeded that proportion. Ginger beers and herb beers were found to have the highest percentage of alcohol, some of them containing as much as claret or Rhine wine.

MARKET REPORTS.

Cincinnati, Aug. 21.

CATTLE—Extra	$6 10	@	6 25
CALVES—Extra	6 50	@	6 75
HOGS—Choice	6 85	@	6 90
SHEEP—Extra		@	3 85
LAMBS—Spring	6 65	@	6 75
FLOUR—Spring pat.	5 65	@	5 90
WHEAT—No. 2 red	93½	@	94
CORN—No. 2 mixed	79	@	79½
OATS—No. 2 mixed	50	@	51
RYE—No. 2	68	@	70
HAY—Ch. timothy	11 00	@	11 50
BUTTER—Dairy		@	16½
EGGS—Per doz	15	@	17½
APPLES—Choice	3 00	@	3 50
POTATOES—Per brl.	3 25	@	3 50
TOBACCO—Burley	10	@	22 50

Chicago.

WHEAT—No. 2 red	84	@	85
CORN—No. 2 mixed	78	@	80
OATS—No. 2 mixed		@	51
PORK—Prime mess	17 00	@	17 50
LARD—Prime		@	9 75

New York.

FLOUR—Win. patent	5 20	@	5 50
WHEAT—No. 2 red		@	1 03½
CORN—No. 2 mixed		@	83½
OATS—No. 2 mixed	54	@	55
PORK—Prime mess	17 00	@	17 50
LARD—Steam	9 35	@	9 45

Baltimore.

WHEAT—No. 2 red		@	87½
CORN—No. 2 mixed		@	81
OATS—No. 2 mixed		@	55

Louisville.

WHEAT—No. 2 red		@	92
CORN—No. 2 mixed		@	70
OATS—No. 2 mixed		@	53½
HAY—Ch. timothy		@	13 50
HOGS—Extra	6 90	@	7 00
LARD—Steam		@	9 00

Indianapolis.

CATTLE—Extra		@	6 90
HOGS—Extra	6 40	@	6 70
SHEEP—Extra	3 60	@	3 90

"Oh, Willie, wot yer goin' ter do?"

"Indians, of course! You didn't suppose I was goin' out to hunt sparrows, did you?"

QUITE SAFE WITH HER.

One Secret "Tootsie" Surely Never Would Pass Along.

"John, love," said the young wife, "you oughtn't to have any secrets from me."

"Well, Tootsie?"

"You go to lodge meetings, and you never tell me anything about them."

"They wouldn't interest you, dear. I don't mind giving you the password, though, if you'll promise never to disclose it to a living soul."

"I'll promise never to tell it to anybody."

"Remember it's to be repeated only once and very rapidly."

"I'll remember. What is it?"

"Aldaborontiphoscophornioticos."

"What? Please say it again, a little slower."

"Have you forgotten the conditions already? I said 'only once and very rapidly.'"

(Tearful pause.)

"O, dear! I wish you hadn't told me!"

Her Reserved Seat.

It was raining and the car was sopping wet. Most of the passengers stood, but there are always exceptions.

One big pink man with a snowy beard defied rheumatism and wet cloth by plumping himself down on one of the drippy seats. His presumable wife, with a laughing explanation that she was tired, seated herself in his lap. And when the conductor came along to collect fares she inquired, with the earnestness of one who seeks knowledge:

"Do I have to pay extra for a reserved seat?"

The conductor spoke no words that could go resounding down the corridors of time. He just grinned, and the passengers grinned with him.

Newspapers of the World.

There are 12,600 newspapers published in the United States; about 1,000 of them are published daily and 120 are managed, edited and published by negroes. In Asia there are 3,000 periodical publications, of which the greater part appear in British India and Japan; the latter country publishes 1,500 newspapers. Africa has only 200 newspapers, of which 30 are published in Egypt and the rest appear in the various European colonies.

The String to It.

"Why did you refuse me just now, dear?" said he.

"I wanted to see how you would act," said she.

"But I might have gone without waiting for an explanation," said he.

"I had locked the door," said she.—Harper's Weekly.

WE WANT ALL THE PIANO TRADE

The only way we can get a big part of it is by offering 50% more piano for less money than anyone else can. Write us about what you have to spend, and we will tell you what we may be able to do to meet your special want.

TRY OUR SPECIAL OFFERS:

1—$250.00 Piano at $210.00
1—$300.00 " " $235.00
1—$600.00 " " $500.00
1—$225.00 " " $160.00
1—$200.00 " " $170.00

THE JOHN CHURCH COMPANY
CINCINNATI, OHIO

Five cents in stamps will bring you a book of education, either Piano or Vocal.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3.00 SHOES $3.50

W. L. Douglas makes and sells more men's $3.50 and $4.00 shoes than any other manufacturer in the world, because they hold their shape, fit better, and wear longer than any other make.

Sheet of All Prices, for Every Member of the Family, Men, Boys, Women, Misses & Children

W. L. Douglas $4.00 and $5.00 Gilt Edge Shoes cannot be equalled at any price. W. L. Douglas $3.50 and $3.00 shoes are the best in the world.

Paint Colors Equalled, Fast Blacks Produced, etc." If you cannot obtain my shoes from dealers in your town, write for mail order catalog. Shoes sent everywhere, prepaid. Name and address plainly written. Postage free. Factory in any part of the world. Catalog free. W. L. DOUGLAS, 163 Spark St., Brockton, Mass.

SICK HEADACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Positively cured by these Little Pills.

They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, TORPID LIVER. They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable.

SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRICE.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Genuine Must Bear Fac-Simile Signature

Brent Good

REFUSE SUBSTITUTES.

DEFIANCE Cold Water Starch

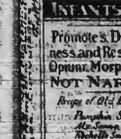
makes laundry work a pleasure. 16 oz. pkg. 10c.

A. N. K.—E (1909—35) 2246.

Guaranteed under the Food and Exact Copy of Wrapper.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.



The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over Thirty Years

CASTORIA

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

Body Builders Build You Up

If you are afflicted with [illegible] write for [illegible] Body Builders Medicine Tablets. They are [illegible] to [illegible] one of our [illegible] Sent [illegible] FREE. Address BODY BUILDERS CO., Binghamton, N.Y.

WALTON DEPARTMENT.

D. B. WALLACE, Manager.

Hand your news items to Mr. D. B. Wallace at the Walton Equitable Bank and Trust Co.'s building. He is also authorized to receive subscriptions and collect other accounts.

H. O. Hughes, of Richwood, has 50 good stock ewes for sale at a bargain

J. L. Adams and C. L. Griffith spent last Tuesday in Cincinnati on business.

S. W. Beverly, the obliging agent of the L. & N. depot, spent one day at Louisville, last week, guest of friends.

F. E. Krutz, of Petersburg, visited friends here last Wednesday. He went from here to Warsaw on a short visit.

Lee Hance and Al Allphin, of Gallatin county, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Allphin, last Tuesday and Wednesday.

Dr. J. W. Baird, of Sadieville, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Beverly, last week, and attended the Erlanger fair one day.

James Baird, the clever telegrapher who was stationed here for some time, has a good position at his profession in East Louisville.

The condition of D. B. Wallace is greatly improved according to his physician's report. It is to be hoped he will soon be able to be among us again.

The protracted meeting in progress at the Baptist church is largely attended nightly. Up to the present time there has been several additions.

Mr. and Mrs. U. S. A. Wills returned to their home at Lima, Ohio, last Tuesday, after a very pleasant visit to her mother Mrs. H. C. Diers and family.

Paul Jones and sister, Miss Clara, of Princeton, Ill., who are here visiting their uncle, Robert W. Jones, spent Friday in Cincinnati and attended the fair at Erlanger.

Two missionaries from Turkey, were here last week, asking aid for some remote christian church and succeeded in collecting a small amount of money. They travel over the country afoot.

H. C. Diers, the hustling representative of the Farmers Nursery Company, spent the past week in Gallatin, Carroll and Owen counties in the interest of his company and did a fine business.

Presley Adams, who has been in Cincinnati undergoing treatment for an afflicted optic, arrived home last Tuesday much improved. He now makes occasional trips to that city for further treatment.

Charles Best, of this place, who handles a fine string of horses for several parties in this locality, has been exhibiting the animals at the several fairs nearby and has captured a number of first premiums.

Work on the Walton and Verona turnpike is progressing rapidly. Those who subscribed money to the pike and have failed to pay their subscription are requested to do so at once as they need the money to push the work.

A large number of our citizens attended the Erlanger fair, last week, and spoke in high praise of the program and entertainment. The attendance at our own fair at Florence will be much larger as our citizens have the requisite county pride.

An automobile containing a party of five persons, three ladies and two gentlemen, passed through here Saturday morning. On the side of the car was a sign which read "New York to Nashville." The party was taking a very long pleasure trip.

The town trustees have appointed Ed Fullilove to watch the town at night in ordor to extinguish any fires that may occur from the dry grass and weeds catching afire from the live cinders coming from the smokestacks of the passing locomotives.

Mrs. J. G. Tomlin, one of Walton's most excellent and pleasant ladies, left last Wednesday for White Sulphur Springs, Virginia, for several weeks' visit. She was accompanied by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Wm. Tomlin, of Indianapolis, Ind., and Miss Sarah Herndon, of Ludlow. Mr. Tomlin left yesterday morning to spend ten days with his wife.

W. E. Yeat, our hustling real estate agent sold two farms last week. He sold the farm of James T. Hind, near Verona, to Ben Wisenberger, of Covington, for $8,600. It consists of 172 acres. Possession March 1, 1909. The other sale was a tract of land of 74 acres, adjoining Burlington, belonging to J. C. Adams which he sold to R. B. Carver for $3,700. Possession at once.

Rev. Jas. W. Rogers returned Friday from Mount Pleasant, Grant county, where he had been conducting a ten days' protracted meeting at the Mount Pleasant Christian church. The meeting was very successful and the membership of the church was increased by seven conversions to the faith. Rev. Rogers was assisted by Rev. J. W. Limbrick, the regular pastor.

The board of directors of the Walton Brick Company met Friday night at the office of J. G. Tomlin. The last kiln of brick was no better than the first and the meeting was called for the purpose of taking such measures as will assure success of the venture. There is no question but with the fine class of business men back of the concern it will undoubtedly prove a success in the long run.

Mr. W. A. Fullilove, of McGuffey, Hardin county, Ohio, has been the guest of his sister, Mrs. W. B. Norman of this place for the past week. Mr. Fullilove came to Cincinnati on business, and having some few days to spare, made a flying trip to the home of his boyhood in order that he might shake the hands of his old friends. He left here for McGuffey on Aug. 20th, after bidding goodbye to his many friends and relatives.

Last week chicken thieves did a land office business in and around Walton. They visited the chicken ery of Mr. A. M. Rouse and stole fifty of her fine frying springers. They then visited the coops of Ran Rouse and got away with 30. The general opinion is that the thieves were strangers as we have none of that class of people in Walton. If the theft had been committed by local talent they would not have been so hoggish, and would have only taken a few at a time.

Richard Jones, who lost his dear wife by death last week, has gone to the country near here to reside with his daughter, Mrs. Elisha Hudson, moving his household effects to his daughter's home. Hayes L. Miller, of Big Bone, has rented the property vacated by Mr. Jones and he and his family and sister have moved into the house. Mr. Miller came to Walton to have the advantage of the fine educational facilities of our excellent school for his children. He is a fine gentleman and our citizens welcome him to our midst.

On Tuesday evening, Aug. 18th, four of our enterprising young men of the Walton elite, were highly entertained by the young ladies at the summer resort at Kensington. The evenings programme consisted of music, both vocal and instrumental. Everyone present enjoyed themselves most hugely, and the hour hand was approaching twelve, when the young gentlemen departed for their homes. Those present from Walton, were: Messrs J. Woodruff Ingram, H. Richardson Watson, G. Wesley Murphy, and V. Delvin Holder.

Miss Emma McElwee, Miss Loretta Lense, Miss Alma Achlwilm, Miss Florence Geiss, Miss Elizabeth Kelly, and sister, Miss May, all charming young ladies of Cincinnati, are the latest arrivals at Mrs. Goodrich's summer resort, at Kensington. The above named young ladies paid our city a visit on Wednesday afternoon, and were shown through the town by Messrs. G. Wesley Murphy and V. Delvin Holder, who pointed out the principal places of interest. The young ladies enjoyed the visit very much, and returned to Kensington on the 5 p. m. Q. & C. train.

Died—Mrs. Frank Highter, at her late home near Goshen, Pendleton county, Tuesday morning, from consumption. She was ill for a long while. She leaves a husband and three small children to mourn the loss of a kind and loving wife and mother. The funeral took place Wednesday from the Goshen Christian church, Rev. J. B. Harris of the Walton Methodist church, preaching an appropriate funeral sermon over the remains, after which interment took place at the Independence cemetery. Edwards Bros. of this place had charge of the funeral cortege.

Last Thursday a very pretty wedding took place at the beautiful country home of Mr and Mrs. B. F. Bedinger, at Richwood. The contracting parties were Miss Hattie Beddinger, the pretty and charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Beddinger, and S. D. Stevenson, an excellent gentleman of New York City. Rev. Miller pastor of the Presbyterian church, in a solemn and impressive manner joined the two young lives together in the holy bonds of wedlock. Among the visitors from a distance was Dr. D. W. Beddinger, of Bellebrook, Ohio. After the ceremony and congratulations of the many relatives and friends assembled, the happy couple left for New York where the groom has a fine position and they will make their future home.

Our townsman, D. T. Buck, was called to Goshen Tuesday of last week to hold funeral service over the remains of Floyd LeRoy Young, son of C. L. and Nellie (Mann) Young. Floyd was only some 13½ years of age, and was a great sufferer, having been operated upon for appendicitis some weeks prior to his death. He was conscious to the end, and died in the faith in which he was being reared. "God is going to take me to heaven," he said, as the light faded from his eyes. "And I'm not afraid" added the little hero. "Now Jesus can come and take me." And it was just 8 o'clock Monday morning when the little sufferer passed to be with Jesus. Many friends and relatives with tear-wet lashes followed the fragile form to its temporary resting place at Independence. The grief-stricken parents have the sympathy and prayers of their friends and neighbors.

John L. Vest, the energetic and affable Vice-President of The Equitable Bank and Trust Company, returned home Saturday from a trip to Lincoln county, where he went to perfect arrangements for the trusteeship by his bank of the estate of James Pepples, deceased, to be held in trust hy the trustee for the benefit of his daughter, Miss Mary Ann Pepples, aged 12 years, who resides in Walton. Mr. Pepples was an honest, industrious farmer, who, by thrift and industry, had accumulated a comfortable competency. He was of a very excentric disposition, as his will demonstrates. All of his real and personal estate he bequeathed to his daughter (his only child.) He directs that $500 or a sufficient sum be used hy the trustee for the education of Miss Pepples; that the money be invested in good interest bearing securities. At the death of his daughter should she marry and bear children the estate is to be held in trust for said children until they reach a legal age, hut in case of no children being born in wedlock or she remains single, at her death the estate is to be equally divided between his brothers and sisters. Mr. Pepples did not marry until late in life, and was 83 years old at the time of his death. As an evidence of his excentricity he wore a locket around his neck, suspended by an old gold chain. In the locket was the picture of his aged parents. Many thought it was a watch but he never carried one. The chain and locket are very old, the gold being of a light yellow color and shows the wear of the many years he carried it on his person. Among other articles of a personal character is some fine old silverware consisting of a silver water pitcher, tray, etc., which are held in trust by the Equitable Bank and Trust Company.

For Sale—9 hogs that will weigh about 70-lbs. each. Apply to G. W. Sandford, near Burlington.

Primary Election Notice!

Resolutions adopted by the Boone County Democratic Committee at a meeting held in Burlington, Ky., on August 10th, 1908:

Be it resolved that for the purpose of nominating the Democratic Candidates for County Offices in this county to be voted for at the November Election, 1909, a Primary Election to be held at the various voting precincts throughout the county, on between the hours of 6 a. m. and 4 p. m., standard time.

Tuesday, Nov. 3d, 1908,

It is the purpose of this committee to secure the full, fair and free expression of the will of the people in selecting their nominee, and it is therefore ordered that this primary election be held under the rules and regulations fixed by the Statute governing primary elections, and it is further ordered that to prevent even the possibility of fraud, bribery or corruption in said primary, certain additional safeguards are adopted and incorporated in this order and call for a primary.

The additional safeguards herein provided for are as follows:

1st. Before any Democrat can become a candidate to be voted for in this primary in addition to paying his assessed share of expenses for conducting same, he shall subscribe to an oath to the effect that he has not and will not either personally or by his direction or by his friends with his knowledge and consent either directly or indirectly, give, loan or promise to any voter or anyone for any voter, money, property, spirituous, vinous or malt liquors, soft drinks, cigars or anything of value for the purpose of promoting or influencing his election. The vote of said candidate thus offending shall be thrown out and not counted and he shall not be declared the nominee. No candidate will be permitted to hire any person or persons to work for him or hire conveyances of any kind to carry voters to the polls, or to pay for meals, necessaries or luxuries of any kind or to pay a voter for loss of time.

2nd. No voter who has violated any of the provisions of Article 1 shall be permitted to vote in this primary when the officers conducting this primary shall be satisfied by affidavit or personal knowledge that he has done so; and in any event where his vote is challenged he shall not be permitted to vote until he has subscribed to an oath to the effect that he has not violated any of the provisions of Article 1, and said oath shall be preserved by the officers of the primary and returned by them to the County Committee for its preservation and use before the grand jury if necessary. No person shall be allowed to vote unless he pledges himself to support the nominee of this primary.

In this primary all known Democrats of lawful age, and all voters who shall certify that they have voted the regular Democratic ticket at this election, and all voters who will be of lawful age at the regular election held in 1909, provided they pledge themselves to support the nominees of the primary, shall be permitted to vote who have not violated the provisions of Article 1 above.

It is the sense of this committee that it will cost $250 to conduct this primary, and the candidates announcing will be required to deposit with the Chairman of this committee not later than October 19, 1908, their proportionate shares of the same. In order to raise the necessary amount to hold this primary election, it is the sense of the committee that each candidate for the different offices shall be required to pay his prorata of the amount assessed for each different office to be filled, as follows: Sheriff, $50; Assessor, $40; County Clerk, $40; Circuit Clerk, $25; County Attorney, $25; Superintendent of Schools, $30; County Judge, $30; Representative, $20; Surveyor, $10; Jailer, $5; Coroner, $5; Justice of the Peace, $1. If any of the above is left after all the expenses of the election is paid, the said remainder shall be divided prorata among the different offices to be filled.

In case there shall be but one candidate announced and paid his assessment on October 19, 1908, for any office, then he shall be declared the nominee for such office by the Committee, and certificate of nomination issued to him, and that office shall not appear on the ballot.

Each candidate shall be entitled to a challenger at the polls and an inspector at the count.

When the polls are closed the votes shall be counted by the officers of the election in the presence of the inspectors and the ballots, stub books, spoiled, mutilated and questioned ballots and all affidavits taken by said officers of election shall be certified to the County Committee within the time and manner fixed by law regulating the same.

The County Committee shall meet in Burlington on the third day after the election and canvass the result of said election in the county and shall hear and determine same together with all evidence that may be before them of any violation of any of the provisions of this call by any candidate, and issue certificates to the successful candidates.

The candidate receiving the highest number of votes in said primary shall be declared the nominee, and his nomination certified as the law directs, unless such candidate is shown by his oath or other evidence to have violated the provisions of this call, in which event he shall be denied a certificate and this Committee shall thereupon declare the candidate receiving the next highest vote the nominee provided he has complied with this call.

The following shall be the form of the oath above provided for:

OATH FOR CANDIDATE UPON ANNOUNCEMENT:

I.....desire to become a candidate for.....in this County before the primary, and as an evidence of my good faith and desire to co-operate with the County Committee, I hereby bind myself to abide by the rules and regulations adopted by said Committee to govern said primary, and especially do I agree that I have not and will not either personally or through my friends directly or indirectly, give, loan or promise to any voter or anyone for any voter, money, property, spirituous, vinous or malt liquors, soft drinks, cigars or anything of value for the purpose of promoting or influencing my election, nor will I permit the same to be done for me by anyone nor will I reimburse anyone for any money so expended in my behalf if I should afterwards learn that it had been done.

OATH FOR CANDIDATE BEFORE RECEIVING CERTIFICATE.

I.....solemnly swear that I have not violated any of the provisions of the call governing this primary and especially that I have not directly or indirectly used money, liquors, cigars or property of any kind for the purpose of influencing or promoting my election, nor have I knowingly, permitted same to be done nor will I reimburse anyone so offending if it shall hereafter develop that such has been the case.

OATH FOR VOTER:

I.....swear that I am a legal voter in.....precinct in.....county, and that I am fiiliated with the Democratic party, that I have not used, money, property, liquors, cigars or other things of value either directly or indirectly for the purpose of promoting the interest of any candidate before said primary.

Each of these oaths shall be taken before someone authorized to administer an oath in this Commonwealth.

This shall be published in the Boone County RECORDER four issues.

The position of the names of the candidates on the ballots shall be chosen by lot.

J. B. CLOUD, Secretary. JAS. A. DUNCAN, Chairman.

Good Things to Eat in Hot Weather at Hot Weather Prices

Sunny Side Baked Beans with tomato sauce, 3 lb. can..10c
3 for.....25c
Deep Sea Oysters.....10c
3 for.....25c
Post Toasties.....10c
Quaker Wheat Berries, bx 7c
Zenith Red Salmon 2 for 25c
Hunter Salmon, 3 for....25c
Excelsior Butter or Soda Crackers, lb.....10c
Large Milk Bottle of Mustard.....10c
Fresh Cakes, all sorts—pound.....10 to 20c
Large Sour Pickles, doz.12c
Medium Sweet " ".10c
Syrup, 10 lb. bucket.....35c
Sardines, can....5c, 10c 20c
Full Cream Cheese, lb....18c
Swiss Cheese, lb.....20c
Pure Comb Honey, lb....15c
Deviled Ham.....5 and 10c
Golden Blend Coffee, lb..20c
Moneyworth Coffee, lb...17c
Three pounds.....50c
Capitol Tea, fine—hot or cold, lb.....60c
Capitol Flour, bbl.....$5.00
Telephone Flour, bbl 5.25
Pure Cream Tartar Baking Powder, lb.....30c

GEO. C. GOODE,
AGENT.
Covington, Kentucky.
Pike & Washington.

Read your County Paper.

BOONE HIGH SCHOOL

Do your High School work at home where teachers will take especial interest in you. This School offers the regular four years High School and the eight years Common School Courses.

TUITION:
High School Course...$40.00
Common School Course $25.00
Per Session.
Two well qualified teachers besides the Superintendent.

School Opens Sept. 14th.

For Particulars write to
EDGAR C. RILEY, Supt.,
BURLINGTON, KY.

Fisher's Liniment

wont kill potato bugs or the dog But it will stop that Diarrhoea, Cholera Morbus, Cramps, Headache and Colic. It's worth the money.
SOLD 29½ YEARS.
Fisher's Liniment is sold by druggists and dealers thru Boone and parts of Kenton and Grant counties.
25 and 50 Cents.

DR. L. H. CRISLER,
VETERINARY SURGEON.
Residence 1552 Scott St.,
COVINGTON, - - KENTUCKY.
Phone, South 1248.

R. O. HUGHES,
—SURVEYOR,—
RICHWOOD, - KY.
And prepared to do, and will answer all calls for surveying in Boone and adjoining counties. Orders left at [illegible] will receive prompt attention.

J. Bullock & Son,
PRACTICAL TAILORS,
HEBRON, - KENTUCKY.
Our Spring and Summer samples are ready for inspection and we invite you to call and see them and learn the prices.
Suits from.....$14.00 up.
Pants from.....$3.00 up.
All work guaranteed and done under my own supervision.
J. Bullock & Son,
HEBRON, KY.

Dr. L. E. ROUSE,

DENTIST,
Will be at Burlington on Monday of each week; Union on Tuesday, balance of time at my office in Masonic Building. LUDLOW, KY.

Administratrors Notice.

All persons indebted to the estate of Z. T. Baker, deceased, must come forward and settle, and all those having claims against said estate must present them to the undersigned proven according to law.
N. E. RIDDELL, Admr.,
Burlington, Ky.

H. C. BLACK,
VETERINARY SURGEON,
WALTON, KENTUCKY.
Treats all diseases pertaining to animals. Prompt attention given to all calls. Telephone connections.

RIDGEVIEW STOCK FARM
Boone County, Ky.
BREEDER OF
Aberdeen-Angus Cattle and Duroc Jersey Swine.
Stock for sale. Address or call [illegible] Belhi, Ohio.

"Always Reliable."
W. N. HIND & CO.
Carpets, Furniture, Stoves,
210-12 W. Fifth Street,
Cincinnati, - Ohio.

Grocery For Sale.

I desire to sell, privately, my entire Stock of Groceries and Fixtures, &c., in Union, Ky.
N. W. BURKETT, Union, Ky.

Administrators Notice.

All persons indebted to the estate of Thos S. Whitaker, dec'd, will come forward and settle at once, and those having claims against said estate will present them to the undersigned properly proven.
J. M. GRANT, Administrator with will annexed.

TAX-PAYERS NOTICE.

The Taxpayers of Boone County are hereby notified that I or my Depnty will be at the places and on the dates named below to collect 1908 taxes:
Florence, July 13th and October 12th.
Verona, July 14th and October 13th.
Walton, July 15th and October 14th.
Petersburg, July 16th and October 15.
Bellevue, July 17th and October 16th.
Beaver, July 20th and October 19th.
Big Bone, July 21st and October 20th.
Union, July 22d and October 21st.
Rabbit Hash, July 24th and Oct. 8th.
Constance, July 27th and Oct. 9th.
Bullittsville, July 28th and Oct. 22d.
Hebron, October 23rd.
Gunpowder, October 26th.
Richwood, October 27th.
RATES—State, 50 cents; County, 15c on the $100, six per cent penalty added December 1st on all unpaid taxes.
Pay your Poll-tax before December 1st and you will not be put on the delinquent list. Interest and cost of collecting will be added on all delinquent taxes.
M. F. WINGATE,
Sheriff Boone County.

Subscribe for the Recorder.

It will pay you to advertise your Business in this Paper. Try it.

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER.

ESTABLISHED 1876. Subscription $1.50 year. Try it One Year.

VOL. XXXIII. BURLINGTON, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 2, 1908. NO. 46.

County News Items

Interesting Facts Gathered During the Week by Our Regular Correspondents.

IDLEWILD.

Some girls who look like peaches are really lemons in disguise—painted.

Tom Delph, of Idlewild, spent Sunday with son-in-law Samuel Barnes.

Mrs. James Feeley was taken suddenly ill, Wednesday morning and has since been very sick.

R. C. Gaines is putting the road from Idlewild to the Bullittsburg church in apple pie order.

Mrs. Robert Green, who has been visiting relatives here, has returned to her home in Louisville.

Harmon Jones, of Limaburg, was a guest of his uncle, Bill Jones, of Idlewild, last Saturday night.

William Jones and wife, of Idlewild, were Sunday guests of John Acra and wife, of Double Lick.

Miss Bessie Gray made a pleasant call on Mrs. James Feeley Monday, as she wished to patronize the mail line.

Enos Mullen and wife, of Bullittsville, spent Sunday with Mrs. Mullen's father, Ennis Nixon, of Petersburg.

As our Commissary informant failed to come to time we will head our items Idlewild, as our items are in this vicinity.

Allen McCool says, "making hay while the sun shines is very tame compared with making love while the moon shines."

Mrs. John Feeley, of Weneeda, and Mrs. Davidson and daughter, of Cincinnati, called on Mrs. James Feeley, Wednesday.

John Feeley and wife, of Weneeda, and Mrs. Frank Davison of Cincinnati, were guests of William Hall and wife, last Sunday.

Mrs. Jasper McGuire and daughters, of Grandview, were visiting Omer McGuire and wife, of Idlewild, Saturday night and Sunday.

Frank Wilson, wife and son, of Cincinnati, who have been boarding with Mrs. Anna Gaines two or three weeks, returned to Cincinnati, Tuesday.

Miss Ermie Gaines, who has been visiting in the vicinity of Idlewild and making her home with her brother, Vess, returned to the city Tuesday.

Samuel Barnes and family went Monday to Harrison, Ohio, to attend a birthday dinner given in honor of his father's 61st birthday, on Tuesday.

Marcus Randall, of Louisville, joined his wife a few days since, who is making her father, Clint Gaines, and other relatives an extended visit.

We are reliably informed that Ezekiel Aylor and Lee Masters will announce themselves candidates, Mr. Aylor for Magistrate and Masters for Coroner.

Jake Fieek, of Limaburg, took his best girl from the Erlanger fair Saturday to her brother's in Idlewild and spent the night with brother-in-law, John Barnes.

O. P. Winters and charming daughter, of Harrison, Ohio, returned home a few days since after an extended visit with his sister, Mrs. Albert Gray, near Idlewild.

Thos. Willis and wife, of Idlewild, entertained a large number of friends and neighbors with a big dinner last Sunday. To give the names of all present and a description of the dinner would take up too much space.

Those that have been laughing at the trio of mail boxes at the Bullittsburg church, Vess W. Gaines' W. L. Cropper's and Fletcher Clore, have no reason to laugh now that they have been touched up by Commissary. They are as nice as any on the route.

o o o

CONSTANCE.

There is a water famine here.

J. J. Rucker returned, last week, from a trip to the gulf.

Thieves are stealing all of William Tanner's corn and beans.

M. Anderson is beautifying his residence by the addition of two new porches.

Mrs. J. Miller and son, Herbert, of Chicago, Ill., are visiting his sister, Mrs. Dr. Murat.

Dr. A. H. McGlasson, wife and children, of Madison, Ind., are up to visit their parents.

Coroner Murat was called to Lawrenceburg, one day last week to hold an inquest on an infant child caught in the river opposite that place.

The contractor has begun the new avenue which runs from Anderson Ferry to Home City. Some of the Constance boys are working there.

Capt. W. H. Bowan of Spanish War fame, to whom Cervilla in surrendering to the American Navy, gave his [illegible] has had a charm made out of the hilt in the shape of an Elk's horn. The Captain who resides in Chicago, spent Sunday here with his friend, Dr. A. A. Murat.

H. G. Gaines, one of the several local horse men, received from M. D. Martin, of Poindexter, Harrison county, last week, Harrison Prince, a suckling colt, sired by Dandy Jim, the greatest saddle horse in Kentucky. This colt is a very handsome individual and cost Mr. Gaines the sum of $500. It took the first premium over ten entries at the Lexington fair, and was first prize winner in a large ring at Florence, last week.

DEVON.

Ambrose Easton is making rapid progress with his new barn.

Mrs. John Glass is the guest of friends in this neighborhood.

Miss Mary Burs has been employed to teach our fall and winter school.

A great many attended the fair from this place, and enjoyed it in the same old way.

The news of the death of Uncle Jefferson Childress was a shock to this entire community, where he has many friends. The family have our deepest sympathy in this their sad bereavement.

o o o

HATHAWAY.

Clark Rouse is very ill.

John D. McNeely, road supervisor, was doing some much needed work on the public roads last week.

Rev. Wm. McMillan went to the Gunpowder church, Sunday night, to assist the pastor there in a series of meetings.

The writer and family attended the fair at Florence last Saturday and met many friends and acquaintances and had a jolly good time.

Several from here will attend the funeral services of Mrs. Milton Beemon at her home tomorrow, Tuesday, at 10 o'clock, near Gunpowder.

Misses Jennie Aylor, Jennie Pearl Allen, Fannie Smith, and Messrs. Chester Stephens, Chas. and Willie Smith, Murrel Allen, Jay McMillan and Earnest McNeely, spent Sunday at Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McNeely's on Gunpowder.

o o o

FLORENCE.

Miss Agnes Carroll, of Bank Lick, is visiting her aunt, Miss Mary Grogan.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Birkle were visiting relatives in Covington, Sunday.

Miss Juliette Crouch, of Warsaw, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. R. P. Rice, of this place.

Mr. Ed Skirvin, of Cincinnati, was the guest of his sister, Mrs. Julius Corbin, Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Magregor, of Cincinnati, were guests of Allie Lail and wife, last week, and attended the Florence fair.

Mrs. J. R. Whitson had as her guest, last week, her sister, Mrs. Mullinnix, of Louisville, and Miss Gennie Sebree, of Woolper.

Lloyd Aylor and wife had as their guests, Sunday, his brother, Everett and wife and sister, Miss Ada Aylor, and Chester Tanner and wife.

HERE AND THERE.

Stock water is getting scarce and crops are drying up rapidly.

Faris and Charlie Akin went to Cincinnati, Monday, to see the ball game.

Clyde Akin's horse got badly hurt, Sunday morning, and he had to borrow one from his father to get home.

Miss Mattie Laws, of Indiana, will teach school at Woolper, the coming term. School will begin Monday, Sept. 7th.

For Sale—A six months old, red poll, male calf—about ready for service. Apply to John Smith, R. F. D. No. 1, Burlington.

Two picked nines played a good game of ball on the Woolper grounds Saturday afternoon. Score 4 to 3. Woolper and Gasburg will cross bats at Woolper next Saturday.

Clyde Akin and his friend, Mr. Cotton, of Sparta, Indiana, spent Saturday night and Sunday at B. F. Akin's, and at the basket meeting at Woolper school house on Sunday.

Charlie Hensley requests us to say that he will be very thankful to the parties who broke into his bee hives and stole his honey, if they will return the boxes when they have them empty.

This writer called on Dr. Geo. F. Smith, at his office in Lawrenceburg, last Friday. His many Boone county friends will be glad to know that his health is better than it has been for some time.

The basket meeting at the Woolper school house, last Sunday, was attended by a large crowd, and Rev. Stith delivered two excellent sermons. Judging from the large amount of provisions that was spread before the crowd at the noon hour, there is no danger of a famine in Boone county this winter.

"How to Get Strong.

P. J. Daly, of 1247 W. Congress St., Chicago, tells of a way to become strong; He says: "My mother, who is old and was very feeble, is deriving so much benefit from Electric Bitters that I feel it's my duty to tell those who need a tonic and strengthening medicine about it. In my mother's case a marked gain in flesh has resulted, insomnia has been overcome, and she is steadily growing stronger." Electric Bitters quickly remedy stomach, liver and Kidney complaints. Sold under guarantee at Bentler's Drug Store, Erlanger. 50c.

The little son of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Bachelor, who lives over on Gunpowder, died Monday morning of spinal meningitis, aged 10 months and one day. The remains were interred in the Odd-Fellows' cemetery at Burlington, yesterday.

GUNPOWDER.

Miss Grace Houston is numbered among the sick.

J. B. Tanner and family broke bread with the writer, last Sunday.

Roy Jacobs, of Fort Worth, Ohio, is the guest of his aunt, Mrs. W. R. Tanner.

John Taylor, and wife, of Beaver, were Sunday guests of W. P. Utz and wife.

Mesdames Cora Blankenbeker and Lizzie Bartell were guests of Mrs. W. H. Barlow, last Monday.

Carrie and Edgar Houston, of Covington, were guests of R. B. Houston and wife, Saturday night and Sunday.

James Tanner, of near Crittenden, was shaking hands with his numerous Boone county friends at the fair, last week.

Owen Rose has a new cellar about completed. The walls are of concrete and will be a first class job when completed.

Those who were interested met at the Tanner burying ground, last Tuesday, and cleaned it off. It is one private graveyard that is well cared for.

Miss Iva Rouse, of Lexington, was among those from a distance, who attended the fair last week. Miss Rouse has a host of friends here who were glad to welcome her.

o o o

PETERSBURG.

Dr. and Mrs. O. P. Ford, of Aurora, spent Sunday here with Dr. and Mrs. Weindel.

Quite a number of our people attended the Florence fair, and all report a good time.

Charles Allen, of the steamer Cincinnati, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm Allen.

Mrs. May Whiting and interesting little son are spending a week with relatives in Indiana.

Max Rodenberg, of the Stein, Gray Drug Co., Cincinnati, spent Saturday and Sunday with Dr. Weindel.

Forest Krutz returned, Friday, from a visit of several days at Walton, Lexington, Sparta and Warsaw.

Miss Lucille Berkshire is spending a few weeks in Florence with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Ryle.

Miss Queen Marshall, a pretty young lady of Warsaw, has been spending a week with Mrs. E. L. Helms.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Jarrell and Mr. and Mrs. Courtney Jarrell and family spent last Sunday at the Cincinnati Zoo

Mrs. Dr. Geiger, of Vevay, and Mrs. Platt, of Carthage, Mo., have been the pleasant guests of Mr and Mrs. E. T. Krutz.

Miss Lillian McNeely, of New Orleans, is the pleasant guest of her grandmother, Mrs. Martha McNeely and other relatives here.

G. C. Graddy spent Thursday in Covington attending the funeral of a nephew, Mr. Kennedy, a prominent young lawyer of that place.

Miss Lillian Cornier, who is visiting friends here, from New Orleans, spent several days the past week in Canton, Ohio, with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Gaines, of Burlington, spent Saturday and Sunday with Mrs. Fannie Snyder and daughter, Miss Mary, below town.

Mr. Wallace McWethy, a popular young man of Memphis, has been here spending his vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. McWethy.

Elmo Gaines, who has been in Western Colorado, the past year, returned home Friday for a visit with relatives and friends in this neighborhood.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Mahan, of Lawrenceburg, and Mr. and Mrs. Cloak, of Cincinnati, spent Sunday here with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Ruth, sr., and family.

Mrs. D. G. Rice and children, of Aurora, and Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Cave, of Cincinnati, have been the guests M. V. Cave, sr., and daughter the past week.

Mr. Claire Jones, of Washington, D. C., who is spending the summer here with his grandmother, Mrs. Norris, entertained the young people royally with a melon party, last Saturday night.

Charles Bolen, of Pittsburg, Pa., and J. C. Bolen, of Wheeling, West Va., returned to their respective homes, Monday, after a short visit here with Capt. R. H. Bolen and family, of New Orleans.

Miss Leona Conner, of Christ's Hospital, Cincinnati, who has been spending her vacation here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Conner, returned to her work, Tuesday. She will complete her course of training in May next.

The young men of the town entertained the young ladies very handsomely with a dance at Krutz's hall, last Friday night. Those present from a distance were Mr. Clare Jones, Washington, D. C.; Cecil Cropper, North Bend; Mr. Dudley Blyth, Burlington; Mr. George Roberts and Mr. Chris Billups, Lawrenceburg; R. H. Bolen, New Orleans; Misses Mary and Susan Roberts, Burlington; Bernice Bolen and Lillian Cornier, New Orleans. Music was furnished by an Aurora orchestra, and an enjoyable time was had by all.

NOTICE—Those who owe the Burlington Jack Co. for services for year 1907, will please come forward and settle, and, also, remember that this company gives three premiums for the best mules shown at Burlington on county court day in September, 1908. B. W. ADAMS,

Secretary.

For several days previous to last Friday it worked this office to its fullest capacity to meet the demands of the candidates for cards to use in their campaign. Such rushes as that just concluded is good for the printer but it would be much nicer were it spread over a little more time.

ERLANGER.

Harry Tavlin's little girl, aged about two years, got hold of some strichnine pills one day last week, and swallowed several, and survived but a short time.

William Wilson, a carpenter and resident, of Union, was found in a thicket, the other day, paralyzed. He was lying across a log and unconscious. He had been missing a day or two.

Rev. Edgar D. Jones, pastor of the First Christian church, Bloomington, Illinois, will give a week of sermons on the Life of Christ, beginning Sunday, Sept. 6th, in the Christian church at Erlanger. Following are the topics of his discourses: Sept. 6th.—The Birth and Childhood of Jesus; Sept. 7th.—The Silent Years at Nazareth; Sept. 8th.—The Baptism of Jesus; Sept. 9th.—The Temptation in the Wilderness; Sept. 10th.—The Transfiguration; Sept. 11th.—The Lynching of Jesus; Sept. 12th.—The Resurrection and Ascension of Jesus.

The sudden death of Esquire T. J. Childress, last Thursday, was a shock to this community. He had been called to hold an inquest on the remains of a negro who was killed the night before by a train, and had just reached the dead body in H. G. Blanton's morgue, when he expired of heart failure. He had been in failing health for some time. The funeral was held at the Baptist church at 10 a. m., last Saturday, and was the largest in the history of the town. He was an old Confederate soldier, and a man who was greatly beloved by all.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Tavlin left, Monday, for a visit with relatives in Columbus, Ohio.—Mrs. W. W. Belew and Mrs. Reba Riggs, of Wyoming, Ohio, have returned home after a pleasant visit with Mrs. Mattie Hoover and attending the Florence fair.—Messrs. Alex and Thos. Buckner, of Covington, have returned home.—Mrs. Fred F. Zinke and sons leave today for a visit with relatives in Newport.—Mrs. Henry Porr and daughter, Miss Elenora, have returned from a week's stay in Ohio.—Mr. and Mrs. Albert Riggs are home from a pleasant trip to Michigan.—Miss Ethel Finnell and Miss Alene Riggs are enjoying a visit with friends near Corinth.—Miss Eva Riggs and Miss Grace Russell have returned from Cheviot, O.

o o o

BELLEVIEW.

I would like through the columns of the RECORDER to express my heartfelt gratitude to all who were so kind to us during the late illness and death of my husband, T. L. Utz. Words fail me when I try to express myself, but I feel deeply. I wish to thank, not only those who so carefully and tenderly watched over our loved one, but all who have shown so much anxiety and sympathy, for the many letters of sympathy received, the many beautiful floral offerings, the two doctors for their devoted and untiring efforts, the ministers for their words of comfort and consolation and to the brethren and sisters of Belleview church and Alline Lodge, I. O. O. F., for their very liberal donation.

CARRIE UTZ.

o o o

BIG BONE.

Big Bone is being overrun by candidates, each of which has some following here.

A great many of the citizens of this part of the county attended the fair, last Saturday.

The dry weather has become a serious matter here. Water for any purpose at all is very scarce.

Mrs. T. A. Huey entertained with a delightful dinner, recently. A large number of friends were present and enjoyed the occasion.

To Teachers and Trustees: As there are some vacancies after the organization of the Division Boards, under the new law, teachers will be required to make application for schools to the Secretary of the Division in which the Sub-Division or district is located. The Division Board alone has the authority to hire teachers. A majority of those present is necessary to elect.

G. E. Powers, Verona, is secretary of Division No. 1, consisting of districts 26, 29, 38, 40, 49 and 48.

Division No. 2, consisting of districts 39, 43, 36, 22, 45 and 35, with T. E. Dixon Richwood, as secretary.

Division No. 3, consisting of districts 6, 7, 10, 19, 20, 24, 23, 25 and 55, with B. C. Allen, Landing, secretary.

Division No. 4, consisting of districts 4, 8, 20, 31 and 52 with William Reeves, Constance, secretary.

Division No. 5, consisting of districts 51, 46, 34, 11, 9, 14, 12 and 1 with Bert Sinith, Burlington, secretary.

Division No. 6, consisting of districts 4, 49, 18, 16, 17 and 33 with W. Lee Cropper, secretary.

The chairman of the different divisions will please call their boards together at no very distant date for the purpose of filling any vacancies that may exist.

The law requires the Board of Education to meet on the first Saturday in September (5th.) The members of the Board will please meet me at Burlington at 10 a. m. on that date.

By a recent decision of the Attorney General, the various districts, shall, through their Treasurers and Trustees, turn over all property and money held under the old law.

The Institute will convene at Walton, October 12th, with R. S. Eubanks as instructor. D. M. SNYDER, Superintendent.

Found, last Sunday, on road between Mrs. Chas. Stephens' and Wm. Carpenters', in Locust Grove neighborhood, some money in a handker chief. Apply to Lewis Clore, and describe property.

Local News.

Lots of dust last week for the fair.

Buy your watches, clocks and spectacles at Clark's.

Next Monday is county court and Labor Day, and you are supposed to not labor on that day.

You can save 50 per cent by buying Kentucky and William's Shaving Soap at J. E. Hall's barber shop.

The sudden death of Esq. T. J. Childress, of Erlanger, was a great shock to his Boone county friends.

The RECORDER'S Here and There correspondent remembered the office with a nice watermelon yestedray.

Burlington is threatened with a water famine. Many of the wells and cisterns have gone out of business.

A strange negro was run over by a train of cars at Erlanger, some time last Thursday night and killed—litterly cut to pieces.

Rogers Association of Universalist will convene with the church at Burlington next Friday. Quite an attendance is anticipated.

The Burlington and Belleview ball teams will play two games at the Burlington park, next Monday, one before and the other after noon.

By reference to the announcement column you will discover that Attorney Sidney Galnes, another Democrat good and true, has entered the race for the nomination for County Judge.

Everybody is satisfied that in the recent Congressional primary election each candidate got a square deal, just what A. B. Ronse, chairman of the committee that conducted it, declared each candidate should have.

Charlie Clore's dun horse, Prince, captured the blue ribbon in the running walk ring at Florence again last week, defeating a large number of worthy competitors. No use to go up against Prince, for he does the stunt "slicker'n" any of them.

We desire to thank the many friends and relatives for the kindness shown us, and for the many gifts they have presented us in money and clothing to replace our great loss by fire.

W. L. STEPHENS AND FAMILY.

The boys in Burlington are making a sham book on the result of the primary election in November. They are having considerable amusement out of it. One day a candidate will be the favorite and the next day odds will be against him.

The RECORDER intends to furnish each of its regular correspondents with a ticket to the Harvest Home, and in case a person entitled to a ticket does not receive it on or before next Tuesday at noon, they will confer a favor by calling the office by telephone.

Capt. John Maurer and Miss Lou Clore, of Belleview, were united in marriage by Rev. Allie Stith at his residence in Burlington, last Thursday. Mr. Maurer is a prominent pilot on the Ohio river, and a most estimable gentleman, who has chosen a worthy help-mate.

A Sure-enough Knocker.

J. C. Goodwin, of Reidsville, N. C., says: "Bucklen's Arnica Salve is a sure-enough knocker for ulcers. A bad one came on my leg last summer, but that wonderful salve knocked it out in a few rounds. Not even a scar remained." Guaranteed for piles, sores, burns, etc. 25c at Bentler's Drug Store, Erlanger.

The typo who put in type, (and he is the writer of this) the account of Miss Laura Porter's recent party, furnished this office, unintentionally omitted from the list of names of those present on that occasion, the name of Miss Maud Hume, one of the most pleasant guests of the evening. Such things will happen in a printing office occasionally.

Several neighborhoods in this county have suffered fearfully from the drought. Gardens have dried up, the grass has disappeared and pastures become dusty, while in many places stock have to be driven a considerable distance to water. The southern part of the county has suffered the most. Many fields of corn in the county wont make two barrels to the acre.

C. G. Riddell, of Rabbit Hash, passed through Burlington, late last Friday afternoon, enroute home from the Florence fair. He was accompanied by his family physician, Dr. A. G. G. Richardson, of Rising Sun, whom he took to Florence to see Castillion, who developed a case of founder soon after taking quarters on the fair grounds for the purpose of competing for several premiums during the week.

The farmers of Boone county should, by all means attend the Farmers' Institute that will be held at Florence next Friday and Saturday. The State has gone to the expense of providing for these meetings of the farmers where they will meet the best informed lecturers on agriculture, horticulture, &c., the country affords. Great benefits are to be derived from these institutes, and the farmer who fails to attend misses a great treat.

Personal Mention.

Cecil Gaines has been sick since last Sunday.

Mrs. J. Q. Elstun, of Hathaway, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. F. A. Hall.

Milton Goodridge, of Oldham county, was one of the RECORDER'S Monday visitors.

Rankin Revill and wife are spending his vacation with his father and mother near town.

Miss Therese Sleet, of Covington, was the guest of Mrs. Susan Clutterbuck, last week, and attended the fair.

E. L. Rouse, of Gunpowder, was a pleasant caller at this office a few days ago. He is a loyal supporter of his county paper.

Willie Ryle, of Latonia, and Stella Davrainville, of Newport, spent Saturday night with their cousin, Besse Hall, at this place.

Archie McGlasson, son of Geo. E. McGlasson, of Bullittsville, is at home from the Annapolis Military Academy for a four weeks' visit.

Mr. E. Fitzgerald, of Fairberry, Illinois, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Blyth. He attended the fair a day or two, last week, and met many of his Boone county friends.

Mrs. Milton Beemon, of Gunpowder neighborhood, died last Sunday morning, of cancer of the stomach and a goitre. The funeral and interment took place yesterday.

R. W. Clark's room has considerably the appearance of a jewelry store since he received his stock of watches and clocks. Give him a call when wanting anything in that line.

Elmo Gaines, who has been in Colorado for several months has returned to his native heath, looking well and hearty. His friends are glad to have him with them again.

Frank McMullen, after spending the summer with relatives here, left yesterday for Denver, Colorado. He had been in California for some time previous to his return to this county. He takes with him the best wishes of many friends.

T. F. Carley and W. C. Moxley, members of the Walton school board, were in Burlington, last Thursday, securing a list of taxable property in that school district for the purpose of making an assessment to sustain the public school, which is the best in the county.

There being several vacancies in the Boone County Democratic Committee, caused by the candidacy of the following members: J. A. Duncan, T. G. Willis, Chas. Maurer, John W. Berkshire, Everett Stephens and Lewis Clore, an election is hereby called for 1 o'clock p. m., on Saturday, Sept. 5th, 1908, in the following precincts: Burlington, Bullittsville, Walton, Belleview, Rabbit Hash and Petersburg The Democrats in each precinct will meet and elect a committee to serve until the regular November election, to elect committeemen.

W. W. GRIMSLEY,
Chmn. Democratic Committee.

A Paying Investment.

Mr. John White, of 38 Highland Ave., Houlton, Maine, says: "Have been troubled with a cough every winter and spring. Last winter I tried many advertised remedies, but the cough continued until I bought a 50c bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery; before that was half gone, the cough was all gone. This winter the same happy result has followed; a few doses once more banished the annual cough. I am now convinced that Dr. King's New Discovery is the best of all cough and lung remedies." Sold under guarantee at Bentler's Drug Store, Erlanger. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Stephens Withdraws.

Please say for me in this week's issue of your paper that on account of sickness and my inability to arrange my business affairs, I will not have the time nor opportunity to make a canvass of the county in the interest of my candidacy for nomination for sheriff. I now withdraw from the race and thank my friends for their encouragement and promise of support that I received.

Very Respectfully,
E. K. STEPHENS.

The Petersburg Graded School opens Sept. 14th. Pupils from other districts will be admitted on the following terms: $1.50 per month for common branches and $2 for high school. Persons desiring to place children in school should consult the principal before the term begins.

E. C. RICE, Principal.

They Take The Kinks Out.

"I have used Dr. King's New Life Pills for many years, with increasing satisfaction. They take the kinks out of stomach, liver and bowels, without fuss or friction," says N. H. Brown, of Pittsfield, Vt. Guaranteed satisfactory at Bentler's Drug Store, Erlanger. 25c.

Lost—At Florence fair, a basket containing 4 white and 1 blue silk jacket, some dishes, napkins and a pocketbook. Finder will please leave at C. W. Myers' store in Florence or address B. L. Cleek, Richwood, Route No. 1.

Strayed or Stolen—From my place near Big Bone church, on the night of the 24th inst., a black, hornless cow. Information leading to her recovery will be rewarded.

B. L. RICE, Union, Ky., R. R. 1.

The official count of the vote cast at the recent Congressional primary election was made at Walton, yesterday, and showed Congressman Rhinock's plurality to be 816.

THE RECORDER.

W. L. RIDDELL, Publisher.

BURLINGTON. - - KENTUCKY

To Prolong Life.

When the vital forces begin to flag, the marks of age show themselves. Some men, being of an amiable, cheerful, and lively temperament, suppress these marks until well advanced in life, and are 20 years younger, both physically and mentally, than other men of the same age. We may take it, therefore, that old age does not begin at any fixed period so far as the divisions of time divide the periods of life, but is influenced by that subtle agent known as vital energy. The indications of old age are closely shown; the weight of years is manifested by the bent figure, the want of elasticity in the walk, the wrinkles in the cheeks and forehead. The typical healthy person who attains old age is spare of body, and old age emphasizes this fact by causing a paucity of adipose tissue. We note that a diminution of the physical energy is accompanied by a corresponding diminution of the power to eliminate waste material from the body, says the New York Weekly. Elasticity and strength give place to hardness and dryness of nearly all the tissues of the body. The general health may be good, because there is a harmonious balance between the action of the nervous system and the circulatory system. Persons who have reached an advanced age may prolong their lives and greatly add to the comfort of their declining years by diminishing the quantity of food by taking it more frequently and in smaller amounts, and by partaking of only easily digested food, thereby avoiding too large a residue of waste matter.

The Danger of Smoke.

The pity of it is that the evils which come from smoke are all preventable. Smoke-consumers exist which have proved their worth. Due care in running fires will do much. No more fuel is required under careful management to produce combustion which shall be practically smokeless. Those statements have been proved over and over again. It is a matter of community supervision, of laws rightly framed, and fearlessly administered. Fortunately inspection is by no means a difficult matter. One city, for example, handles that problem by means of a chart holding six pictures of a chimney above a factory, the first of which shows the chimney with no smoke, the second with a light smoke issuing, the other four showing greater and blacker volumes. The first conditions are passable. The last are dangerous. The inspector takes a photograph of any questionable chimney and compares it with the standard pictures. The comparison tells the story, declares Hollis Godfrey, in Atlantic. The factory is pronounced "passed," or the owner is warned to immediately conform to the regulations under penalty of the law.

Uncle Sam's Bookkeeping.

The suggestion by Secretary of the Treasury Cortelyou that a better and simpler method of keeping accounts be adopted in his department, and his showing that with the matter clearly stated it would be seen that the last fiscal year ended with a surplus rather than a deficit, has attracted attention and approval. The people are not interested in the intricacies of bookkeeping. But they do want to know just how the government stands. The New York Journal of Commerce, indorsing that part of the proposition which would involve reform in accounts, says: "If with this reorganization of the accounting system and daily statement there could be coupled, as seems to be hinted from Washington, some mode of better fiscal control, the present secretary of the treasury would have made a substantial contribution to the public service through his headship of the department." The United States should be up to date in this matter, and congress should provide the necessary legislation.

Curiosities in legislation are by no means confined to American representative bodies. The staid British parliament is soberly considering a bill which proposes to shove the hands of the clock ahead in the spring and summer months of the year, so workers may begin their toil an hour earlier than at present, and so gain an extra hour of daylight for recreation. But why cannot all that, if actually desirable, be accomplished without legislation?

New York is trying to suppress unnecessary noises. This can never be accomplished as long as actors are permitted to stroll up and down the Rialto telling one another about the salaries they received last year and the parts that are now being written for them.

Underfeeding in London has become a fad. There has long been a popular impression with regard to the English metropolis that it was a settled misfortune.

AUGUSTA LOSS BIG

MILLS AND WAREHOUSES ARE RUINED BY FLOOD.

DEAD MAY NUMBER SIXTY

Great Damage and Widespread Distress in North and South Carolina—Fayetteville Is Submerged.

Augusta, Ga. — The flood water at Augusta is receding rapidly, and as the water leaves the streets it is apparent that the loss has been under estimated.

In addition to the disasters already reported, the Riverside mills, in damage to plant and loss of cotton which floated away, sustained a loss of $100,000; the Reid cotton warehouse, the finest in the south, was greatly damaged, but it will require a survey to determine the loss; the Triangular block, where the wholesale houses are assembled, was badly damaged. The Nelson Morris & Co. warehouse has collapsed and is being razed; the Augusta Grocery company's building was damaged to the extent of $6,000; the National Biscuit company building was wrecked. The Central grammar school and the Davidson grammar school were also damaged severely.

In addition to the fires already reported, ten smaller houses were burned in different sections of the city.

Death Rate May Reach Sixty.

Twenty-two bodies have been recovered and corpses are being found every hour or so. The captain of the river steamer Swan, which arrived Friday reported that he saw on the trip up the river at least 25 corpses, all negroes except one. There are reports of many drownings among negro farm hands in the lower valley. The Chronicle estimates the death list at 60.

The citizens in mass meeting and the city council and the board of health in special session have taken measures to relieve the distress. Citizens are subscribing to a fund to help the poorer people in the submerged district, for portions of the town are still under water. There is sure to be the greatest suffering, and relief must be quick to prevent starvation from swelling the death list.

South Carolina's Flood.

Columbus, S. C. — The crest of the great freshet, which, starting in the Piedmont section of the state, has swept through South Carolina, leaving ruined farms and crippled railway lines in its wake, has now passed Columbia and is moving toward the lower part of the state. The railroads are making strenuous efforts to restore lines of communication and have succeeded in some measure.

Kingville, 25 miles south of this city on the Wateree river, is seven feet under water and every house in the town is deserted. The water at that point is still rising and will probably reach its highest point about three o'clock Saturday.

No accurate estimate of damage can be made, but it probably will run well into the millions.

Fayetteville is Submerged.

Fayetteville, N. C.—The Cape Fear river at this point has reached a height of 79 feet, breaking all records of former floods. The river valleys on the east side are covered for miles with a rushing torrent of muddy waters. Houses and bridges are swept away for miles around, and the estimated damage to the cotton and corn crops will go beyond 35 per cent.

The greater portion of Fayetteville is covered with water backed up to the city hall from the river, which is a mile and a half distant.

Three thousand people are homeless and a proclamation was issued by the mayor at noon Friday. The city was in total darkness Friday night, the power plant being submerged.

Many Die in Colorado Flood.

Trinidad, Col. — Citizens of Folsom are dazed over the result of the awful flood which spread death and destruction Thursday night, and anything like accurate details are impossible owing to interruption of wire communication. Casualties are variously estimated at from 15 to 25. Folsom had about 500 population and was built on both sides of the Cimarron, which is dry except on occasions of heavy rainfalls. A 12-foot wall of water came down the canyon while the inhabitants slept.

Japanese Bank Closed.

San Francisco.—The Imperial Japanese bank, at 1542 Laguna street, was closed Friday by the state bank commissioners. It is alleged that the officers of the institution have been making loans to themselves. The bank is capitalized at $27,000 paid up with a reserve fund of $7,000.

Montana Socialists Nominate.

Helena, Mont.—The Socialists of Montana in state convention Thursday adopted a platform and nominated a full state ticket, headed by Harry Hazelton Nissoula, for governor.

Five Young Oarsmen Missing.

San Francisco.—Five young men, members of a racing club, who started out Thursday from their clubhouse for a row in the bay in a racing shell, have not been seen since, and it is feared that all have been drowned.

Kills Father to Protect Mother.

Lexington, Ky.—At Minerva, Marion county, Friday, John Bruce, aged 20 years, shot and killed his father, Lewis Bruce, 45 years old. The elder Bruce had attacked his wife, when the son interfered and shot him.

ONE WORTH WHILE.

Farmer Sam—"Presidential Times or Not, There's a Melon That's Going to Be Worth the Cutting."

COL. VILAS PASSES AWAY

WELL-KNOWN WISCONSIN MAN SUCCUMBS TO PARALYSIS.

Second Stroke of Paralysis the Cause —His Career as a Soldier and Statesman.

Madison, Wis.—Col. William F. Vilas died at 10:45 o'clock Thursday following five weeks of illness.

When Dr. Philip Fox called upon the colonel Thursday he found him unusually cheerful and bright and believed he showed signs of remarkable improvement.

Shortly after ten o'clock, while the nurses were administering a bath to the patient, they noticed that he weakened very quickly. An attempt was made to reach the doctor, but Col. Vilas died before he could be reached.

Dr. Fox believes that the immediate cause of the death was a second stroke of paralysis.

Col. William Freeman Vilas, former United States senator and noted lawyer, was born at Chelsea, Vt., July 9, 1840. He was a pioneer of Madison, his family having settled there in June, 1851. Col. Vilas graduated from the University of Wisconsin law school at the age of 18, in 1858. In 1860 he graduated from the Albany law school and set up his shingle in Madison. In July, 1861, he enlisted in Company A, Twenty-third Wisconsin regiment, and took part in the Vicksburg campaign. After carrying off his share of civil war honors he returned to Madison in 1863 and resumed the practice of law. He was elected a member of the Wisconsin legislature in 1885. He was made permanent chairman of the national Democratic convention in 1884. He was postmaster general of the United States from 1885 to 1888. He was secretary of the interior 1888 and 1889. In 1891 he was elected a member of the United States senate, which office he held until 1897. He held many positions for the civil war veterans.

EARLE IS OUT ON BAIL.

"Affinity" Man Immediately Begins Search for His Wife.

Goshen, N. Y. — After spending two sleepless nights in the jail here on a charge of beating his wife, Ferdinand Pinney Earle, he of "affinity" and "soul-mate" fame, was released Thursday on furnishing $2,000 bail. Immediately upon leaving the jail he began a search for his wife, Mrs. Julia Kuttner Earle, whom he married after inducing his first wife to go to France and get a divorce from him.

Earle was surrounded by newspaper correspondents the moment he stepped from the jail, but he stopped only long enough to say:

"I am going to find my wife no matter where she is. I know that if I can talk with her for ten minutes she will forgive me and everything will be all right again. This whole trouble has been twisted and I have been misrepresented. I must hurry to find my wife."

Burglar's Conscience Hurt Him.

Philadelphia.—Joseph G. Mantell surrendered himself to the police here Friday, declaring that he was wanted for robbing the home of Miss Bertha Brand in City avenue, Brooklyn, on October 28 last, and also the home of William Gluck, fourth assistant examiner in the patent office at Washington. The latter robbery was committed, he said, on November 9, 1907. "I have been tortured by my conscience and can get no rest day or night, so I want to face trial and end it all," Mantell told the detectives.

Kansas Official Guilty of Grafting.

Kansas City, Mo.—C. W. Trickett, special assistant attorney general of Kansas appointed to enforce the prohibitory liquor law in Wyandotte county, was found guilty Thursday in Kansas City, Kan., of using his office to obtain $250 from Wayne and Frank Hurlburt.

Americans Beat the Dutch.

Amsterdam.—A race between Dutch and American crews was held here Thursday and won by the American entry, the Tautog.

SHOT ON THE BOARD WALK.

Mystery in Fatal Attack on Baltimorean at Atlantic City.

Atlantic City, N. J.—A mysterious shooting, the details of which became known Thursday, occurred on the board walk late Wednesday night during a heavy rain, when Charles B. Roberts, president and treasurer of the National Supply company of Baltimore, Md., was probably fatally shot by an unknown man who dashed from a hotel pavilion and, after firing, fled. The bullet penetrated Roberts' side.

Roberts was being pushed along in a rolling chair with Mrs. W. F. G. Williams, also of Baltimore, when the stranger appeared suddenly. He commanded Roberts to get out of the chair and as the latter was about to respond, brandished a revolver and shot. Mrs. Williams fainted and the colored attendant called a policeman who had Roberts removed to his hotel suite.

Mr. Roberts is 38 years old. He is a member of all the leading clubs of Maryland, including the Maryland club, the Baltimore Country club and Elk Ridge Hunt club.

WOMAN MOB CHIEF A SUICIDE.

Mrs. Howard of Springfield Takes Poison When Indicted for Murder.

Springfield, Ill. — Mrs. Kate Howard, leader of the mob in the recent race war in Springfield, Wednesday night killed herself by swallowing poison while being taken to the jail following the return of an indictment against her charging murder. The woman had made threats to commit suicide if indicted for the lynching of Scott Burton and William Donnegan.

Mrs. Howard was arrested following the destruction of Loper's restaurant and was released on $1,000 bail. Then came four indictments charging her with the destruction of property and malicious mischief. A saloonkeeper furnished bond on the indictments while the grand jury prepared to indict her for murder.

Springfield, Ill. — The Seventh Regiment, I. N. G., was ordered to withdraw from the city and left at ten o'clock Wednesday morning. At a conference held between Gov. Deneen, Sheriff Werner and representatives of the military forces in the city, it was decided that the further presence of the armed men was unnecessary.

KERMIT ROOSEVELT IS BRAVE.

Stops Runaway, Saving Woman and Children from Death.

Oyster Bay, N. Y. — It was stated here Thursday night that Kermit Roosevelt, second son of the president, stopped a runaway pair of horses after a wild chase on horseback along the shore road into Bayville, and probably saved the lives of Mrs. Frank Hilton of New York and her two small sons.

Kermit seized the horses' reins while the animals were galloping at full speed and brought them to a standstill. Mrs. Hilton and her two children were in the carriage. They were unhurt. Mr. Hilton was thrown out when the horses took fright but was not injured.

Hains Are Held Without Bail.

New York. — Capt. P. C. Hains, Jr., and his brother, T. Jenkins Hains, were held without bail over the action of a grand jury Friday on a charge of the murder of William E. Annis.

Three witnesses testified for the prosecution. Patrolman Charles W. Baker, who arrested the brothers after the shooting, said that when he arrived on the yacht club float Annis was lying there wounded.

Ex-Gov. Semple is Dead.

San Diego, Cal.—Eugene Semple, former governor of Washington territory, died here Friday of pneumonia. Gov. Semple was a son of the late Justice Semple of Illinois and was born in 1840 at the American legation at Bogota, Colombia, where his father was American minister.

Friends at Winona Lake.

Warsaw, Ind.—At the opening session Friday of the general conference of Friends at Winona lake 500 delegates were in attendance.

MELBOURNE GREETS TARS

AMERICAN BATTLESHIPS REACH AUSTRALIAN CAPITAL.

Seventy Thousand Visitors Arrive in City to Participate in the Entertainments.

Melbourne.—The American battleships steamed into Melbourne harbor Saturday. The warships were in column formation. The warships arrived at Port Philip Head on schedule time Saturday morning.

Melbourne was on the tiptoe of excitement when welcoming the American battleship fleet. The weather cleared and the day was beautiful. The warships were due at the Head at about noon, but arrived earlier. A wireless dispatch from the fleet said that since leaving Sydney the fleet experienced good weather and smooth seas.

The visit of the American fleet to the capital of the Australian commonwealth is the most remarkable military event in the history of Australia. The welcome to the American officers and men by the people of Australasia which began at Auckland and which Sydney continued, reached its climax here.

The federal state and municipal authorities were busily planning to receive the fleet for about three months. Private organizations eagerly co-operated with the authorities to give the Americans a cordial welcome. The Salvation Army chartered a steamer and, accompanied with several of its best brass bands, proceeded to the heads at the mouth of the harbor to welcome the fleet upon its arrival.

There are fully 70,000 visitors in Melbourne during "American week." As this city and its suburbs have a population of above 500,000 the streets of the city were thronged to their fullest capacity. Hotels and boarding houses entertained their overflow guests at private houses.

The public entertainment of the Americans was on a more extensive scale than has ever been known here. The state government expected to spend about $50,000 in entertainments, not to mention the expenses of the federal government and the municipality composing "Greater Melbourne."

PERISH IN BLAZING MINE.

Nearly Thirty Lives Lost in Shaft at Halleyville, Okla.

McAlester, Okla.—Nearly 30 miners are believed to have perished in Halley-Ola coal mine No. 1, at Halleyville, 14 miles east of McAlester, Wednesday morning, when fire destroyed the hoisting shaft and air shaft and cut off air from the men below. Twenty-five bodies had been recovered by Wednesday night.

After the entombed miners had gone down in the cage a fire broke out, occasioned by the ignition of a barrel of oil which a miner was trying to divide. The flames spread at once to the hoisting shaft and the air shaft, and all communication with the top was cut off. Hundreds of miners rushed to the scene and tried to get into the air shaft, but this was impossible, as flames and smoke were coming up with such force as to drive them back. Then an effort was made to operate the cages running up and down the hoisting shaft, but it was found that the cages, the cables and the guides had been burned. There was absolutely no help for the imprisoned miners.

THREATENS ATLANTIC CITY.

Gov. Fort May Send Troops to Enforce Sunday Closing.

Seagirt, N. J.—In a startling proclamation issued Thursday from the summer capital, Gov. Fort declares that unless the excise law is observed in Atlantic City Sunday and all saloons and cafes are closed, he will call an extraordinary session of the legislature and may send the New Jersey troops to the famous resort, declaring the city to be under martial law. This is the most drastic action ever threatened to enforce a general law in New Jersey. The executive refers to Atlantic City conditions as a "saturnalia of vice."

FIVE DIE IN MINE ACCIDENT.

Runaway Car Strikes Train Loaded with Workmen.

Wilkesbarre, Pa.—Five men were killed, another fatally hurt, and five seriously injured in a collision Friday afternoon at the Warrior Run colliery of the Lehigh Valley Coal company, six miles from this city. The men were being hoisted up a slope when a runaway mine car struck a train of cars on which were 20 men who were employed in the mine. Only six of them escaped injury. Those killed were horribly mangled.

Tony Pastor is Dead.

Elmhurst, L. I.—Antonio (Tony) Pastor, the theatrical manager, died Wednesday night after an illness of several weeks. He was 71 years old.

"Fagin" School is Raided.

New York.—In a stuffy little second-story room over a barber shop in Third avenue Central office detectives Friday arrested 12 boys and one woman, and broke up what they believe to be a "Fagin" school.

Killed by Discharged Employe.

Milwaukee.—Louis Kissel, the head of the Kissel Kar company and head of several Hartford business concerns, died Friday of wounds inflicted by an employe who shot him after he had been discharged.

What is Pe-ru-na.

Are we claiming too much for Peruna when we claim it to be an effective remedy for chronic catarrh? Have we abundant proof that Peruna is in reality such a catarrh remedy? Let us see what the United States Dispensatory says of the principal ingredients of Peruna.

Take, for instance, the ingredient hydrastis canadensis, or golden seal. The United States Dispensatory says of this herbal remedy, that it is largely employed in the treatment of depraved mucous membranes lining various organs of the human body.

Another ingredient of Peruna, corydalis formosa, is classed in the United States Dispensatory as a tonic.

Cedron seeds is another ingredient of Peruna. The United States Dispensatory says of the action of cedron that it is used as a bitter tonic and in the treatment of dysentery, and in intermittent diseases as a substitute for quinine.

Send to us for a free book of testimonials of what the people think of Peruna as a catarrh remedy. The best evidence is the testimony of those who have tried it.

All Up.

"And when I saw the mouse," said the girl to her gentleman caller, "I thought it was all up with me!"

"It was all up with her," butted in her little brother; "she grabbed her skirts an—"

And then they reached him and choked him off.—Houston Post.

Important to Mothers.

Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA a safe and sure remedy for infants and children, and see that it

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

In Use For Over 30 Years.
The Kind You Have Always Bought.

Same Old Story.

Mrs. Howells—How much does your husband earn a week?

Mrs. Growells—Oh, anywhere from $15 to $25 more than he gets.

Habitual Constipation

May be permanently overcome by proper personal efforts with the assistance of the one truly beneficial laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna which enables one to form regular habits daily so that assistance to nature may be gradually dispensed with when no longer needed as the best of remedies, when required, are to assist nature and not to supplant the natural functions, which must depend ultimately upon proper nourishment, proper efforts, and right living generally.

To get its beneficial effects, always buy the genuine

Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna manufactured by the
CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.
SOLD BY ALL LEADING DRUGGISTS
one size only, regular price 50¢ per bottle

WE WANT ALL THE PIANO TRADE

The only way we can get a big part of it is by offering you more piano for less money than anyone else can. Write us about what you have to spend, and we will tell you what we may be able to do to meet your special want.

TRY OUR SPECIAL OFFERS:

1—$250.00 Piano at $210.00
2—$300.00 " " $235.00
1—$800.00 " " $500.00
1—$225.00 " " $160.00
1—$200.00 " " $170.00

THE JOHN CHURCH COMPANY
CINCINNATI, OHIO

Five cents in stamps will bring you a book of selections, either Piano or Vocal.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists.

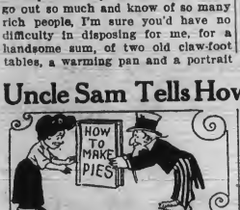
Washington Whisperings

Interesting Bits of News Gathered at the National Capital.

Capital Besieged by Relic Sellers

WASHINGTON.—The 60 and 75 horse-power millionaires that magnificently swell the population of the capital of the country innocently and indirectly make life a burden to their neighbors of a less estate. Money is an awful nuisance, don't you see, when it belongs to somebody else and not to you.

The trouble of it is that one's friends in the provinces ascribe even to the lowliest in Washington some occult power over the pursestrings of the resident plutocrats.



One is always being besieged by the indigent from the home districts to work some graft in their behalf upon the over-he-dollared denizens of the District of Columbia.

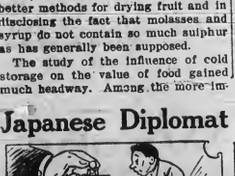
They write to you seductively: "You go out so much and know of so many rich people, I'm sure you'd have no difficulty in disposing for me, for a handsome sum, of two old claw-foot tables, a warming pan and a portrait by Sully of Great Grandfather Thingumbebub. I understand Senator Clark is a connoisseur. He'd likely esteem it a privilege to be allowed to purchase, and the interest on the mortgage is due and we need the money so." The multimillionaire Senator Clark during his incumbency was the prey at large of all the old junk vendors of the nation. The little bewhiskered gentleman was a shrewd and thrifty bargainer, however, and seldom fell a victim unwarily.

There isn't a senator or congressman in the entire catalogue who isn't persecuted by importunate constituents now and then to convert himself, in their interests, into a private rummage sale. There is a halcyon dream prevalent that Washington flows with milk and honey and crisp new paper dollars, and that the beneficiaries are eager to divide, for value received.

Hawkers of old objects, valuable either intrinsically or in only their owners' eyes, are among the afflictions prominent women have to bear. There's scarce a day that some decayed gentlewoman or her emissary isn't out peddling, in a deprecating way, some valued heirloom that it wrings her heart to part with. Family jewels are always on the market, old laces, books and objects d'art.

Uncle Sam Tells How to Make Pure Pies

PROGRESS made in food and drug inspection and legislation during 1907 is explained in detail in the year book of the department of agriculture, just issued. The book shows that methods of manufacture were studied by government experts and whenever possible assistance was given manufacturers in improving their methods. By means of sterilization it was found that various fruit and vegetable products can be preserved without the use of chemical preservatives. The experiments along this line resulted in new methods for the preservation of pie-filling articles and canned goods.



Extensive investigations as to the use of sulphur for drying fruit were made, resulting in the discovery of better methods for drying fruit and in disclosing the fact that molasses and syrup do not contain so much sulphur as has generally been supposed.

The study of the influence of cold storage on the value of food gained much headway. Among the more important studies of the methods of manufacture and preservation of foods and drugs were the bleached flour investigation, the lemon oil investigation, the whisky investigation and the investigation of nonfermented beverages alleged to contain cocaine or other objectionable drugs.

The experimental work of the bureau of chemistry, the enforcement of the federal food and drugs act, numerous investigations and the part played by various states in the enactment of laws regulating the manufacture and sale of foods are some of the subjects treated in the book. During the year, out of 44 legislatures which met, 40 enacted laws relating to the purity of foods.

The bureau of chemisty established ten additional branch laboratories throughout the country, where samples of food and drugs collected by inspectors under the direction of a chief inspector are sent. During last year 7,041 samples of foods and drugs were sent to these laboratories, resulting in 323 hearings and the transmittal of 12 criminal cases to the department of justice for prosecution. One of the greatest difficulties encountered was to secure a sufficient number of inspectors or chemists possessing the requisite training and experience in foods and drugs.

Japanese Diplomat Stops a Runaway

MR. MASANO HANIHARA, second secretary of the Japanese embassy and a social favorite of the diplomatic corps, was so severely injured from the result of his daring rescue of an American woman from a runaway horse that he may suffer the consequences for the remainder of his life. The Japanese diplomat was battered and bruised and had his foot so badly crushed by the horse's hoof that it will be months before it is healed. The rescue occurred some days ago.

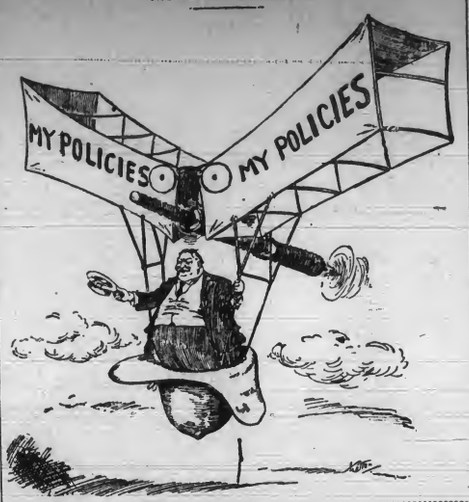
Mr. Hanihara was walking along Rhode Island avenue on his way to the embassy and had started to cross the street when his attention was attracted by cries of "Look out!" by several persons in the vicinity. Turning he saw a horse drawing a light runabout with a young woman and a companion dashing toward him. The horse was plunging wildly from side to side, driving every one pell mell for shelter as it neared the spot where Mr. Hanihara stood. The young Japanese, who stands about five feet and is small in proportion, dodged out of the way, but no sooner had the horse come abreast of him than he made a leap for the bridle. The terrific speed of the enraged animal made him miss his hold and swung him under the horse's hoofs, but before he completely lost his hold he caught a grip on the bridle and swinging clear managed to climb on the horse's back and bring him to his knees. The animal regained his feet however, and by rearing, attempted to throw Mr. Hanihara from his back, but the diplomat tightened his grip gradually until the animal, snorting with pain, confessed itself vanquished.

When Mr. Hanihara reached the embassy he summoned his physician who found that the horse had trampled on his foot and crushed it badly. Treatment afforded little relief, as the bones were so badly bruised that an abcess formed and added considerable trouble. It is now feared that an operation may be necessary.

Social Incident Makes Society Smile

THE refusal of Minister and Mme. Gude to participate in the German led by William H. Taft will not produce a diplomatic incident between Norway and the United States. It cannot, because the United States has no official social functions and the squabbles about precedence never have anything more than an indirect effect upon diplomatic relations.

The minister created a great deal of talk among the many diplomatic officials in Washington, not because he had refused to participate, but because he allowed the hotel management to know why he refused.



The diplomatic view is that Minister Gude made an awful blunder in not recognizing the fact that Mr. Taft has a better chance, probably, of becoming president of the United States than any other man, and that in standing upon his undoubted right to demand first place or none he did the worst thing possible.

"What if it is his right and duty to say he will not walk behind a mere private citizen," said a minor diplomatic society man in discussing the incident. "What good will that do him when Mr. Taft is the president? Will the then president have forgotten that the minister said he would not dance in the German with him?"

It was tactless for M. Gude to even suggest his rights to a "pig of a maitre de hotel," say the diplomats, because he should have known that the hotel man would tell the newspapers about it and in that way his refusal would come to the ears of Mr. Taft.

The only thing at all in favor of the minister is the fact that there is not a great deal of diplomatic business to transact between Norway and the United States and Mr. Taft is likely to be so busy for the first few months after he goes into office that he will forget there was such a man as Gude or that he ever declined to walk through the German behind the massive back of William Howard Taft.

HIS FLYING MACHINE.

A VOTE FOR TRUSTS

IS EVERY BALLOT CAST FOR REPUBLICAN PRESIDENT.

Higher Tariff Rates Assured If Present Party Is Continued in Power, and Protected Monopolies Will Continue to Rob.

Tariff protection has been imposed upon the American people by a set of political charlatans working under the guise of Republicanism. Protectionism has had a fair trial and has at last broken down of its own weight. The Republican party that became obsessed by this devil of greed has gone so far as to declare that protection produces prosperity, and yet the words were hardly out of its mouth before tariff protection was helping to produce the causes that culminated in a panic from which the country is still suffering.

There is no true principle or science in protection, but it stands for that infernal Republican doctrine that the few shall profit at the expense of the many. Under protectionism the manufacturing class is subsidized at the expense of other classics, and very naturally begot monopolies which we call trusts. Foreign competition is warded off by high import duties, so that instead of the government collecting all the tariff taxes most of the tariff taxes are collected by the trusts, for the less imports there are the more the trusts are able to collect by increasing the price of their products to what the price of imported products would be.

Still, some of the trusts are not satisfied and want higher rates of duty, because some people are so unpatriotic that they will buy imported goods. So the Republican platform has declared for a maximum tariff under which the rate will be so high as to be absolutely prohibitive and prevent any importation of manufactured goods.

With such a promise of complete monopoly of the home market, no wonder the trusts' stocks are selling higher in Wall street, although under the present panic conditions they are doing but 75 per cent., or less, of normal business. To deceive the voters and those who speculate in stocks, the trust managers are trying to appear prosperous. Sunshine clubs are busy, through their press bureau, publishing statements of works starting up, more men being hired and goods being sold, but after all these efforts, business still drags, for high trust prices continue. The trusts control the markets and plunder the people at their own will, for competition is dead, protectionism has killed it.

The price for this tariff protection will be paid by the trusts in campaign contributions.

If the Republicans win at the coming election the trusts will receive their reward in greater protection. If the Democrats succeed the tariff will be revised and the trusts will be compelled to reduce prices, which will lead to greater consumption and eventually much more prosperity than ever known before. For it must be remembered that tariff taxes are an embargo on business and by raising prices prevent the people from buying, for a man cannot spend more money than he earns. The cheaper goods are sold for, the more can be bought and consumed.

The Republican idea that high prices of manufactured products produce prosperity to anyone except the trusts or manufacturers, is so absurd that it is a wonder that any voter is deceived by it. For instance, less than one out of a hundred people are able to wear or use woolen goods, because the price is too high. They have to be satisfied with mercerized cotton and shoddy, with just enough wool, in some cases, to deceive the eyes of the buyers. Every one would like to use, when winter comes, clothes made of "all wool and a yard wide," but the tariff-protected woolen trust is protected by the tariff in not only being able to put down the price of wool, so the farmer, but to keep up the price of its products to the consumers.

The beef trust has been reducing the price of cattle and sheep and putting up the price of beef and mutton, because it is protected by the tariff in so doing, and in spite of the so-called trust busting, the trust is still doing business at the old stand and has a virtual monopoly of the buying of cattle and sheep and the sale of beef and mutton.

And these things, and many others like them, are all done under the plundering system called protection, which Republicans declare is the cardinal principle of their party.

PROVES NEED OF REFORM.

Protective Tariff League Provides Argument for Democrats.

The Protective Tariff league has issued a bulletin asking the beneficiaries of the tariff to get to work at once on the "scientific facts" as to the cost of production in foreign countries, compared with the cost of production in the United States. This evidence of cost is to be presented to the committee on ways and means to show that it would be ruination to the trusts and manufacturers to have their tariff protection reduced and be compelled to compete with foreign producers.

The league has given its members a hard nut to crack, for the English, German and French manufacturers are not likely to furnish the secret of the cost of producing their goods to their competitors here. The real object of the league is to show that the foreign manufacturer can produce much cheaper than the American manufacturer can, because labor is cheaper abroad than here. And the argument of the league is embalmed by the stand-patters in the Republican platform, which declares:

"In all tariff legislation the true principle of protection is best maintained by the imposition of such duties as will equal the difference between the cost of production at home and abroad, together with a reasonable profit to American industries."

There is one serious stumbling block to putting this standpat theory of the differences in cost here and abroad into practical operation, and that is the well-known aversion of manufacturers to give away the secrets of their trade and expose their profits. Some of our manufacturers are declaring they must have more protection, for instance the potters' trust, with headquarters at Trenton, N. J., is demanding higher tariff rates on its products, and some Republican congressmen, including Speaker Cannon, have promised it to them. Probably other trusts have been assured of greater tariff protection by the Republican managers, if they aid liberally with contributions to the campaign fund.

But how can the Republicans explain away the fact that many of the protected trusts are selling abroad cheaper than at home? To do that successfully the labor cost here must be even less than the labor cost abroad, brought about by the use of superior machinery and the more agile and competent American workmen.

That is the very best evidence of the necessity of tariff reform, for why should not the American people have a chance at the bargain counter which the trusts and combines offer, as well as foreigners? If the cost of production here is so much greater than abroad that the trusts have to be protected from foreign competition by an average tariff tax of 75 per cent. and more on manufactured products, how can the trusts undersell the foreigners on their own ground?

The Tariff as an Issue.

Bring the tariff to the front, Brother Bryan. It is the root of all our troubles, the main cause of the larger half of our woes. Strike the evil which has the fewest friends and the most enemies. Keep your other issues alive, but make that the dominant and militant one. It is the weakest joint in the armor of the foe and the place where your hammer should strike oftenest and hardest.—Norfolk Virginian-Pilot.

Let Mr. Taft and Mr. Bryan both "hammer on the tariff issue," and the one who convinces the people most deeply of his sincerity and commits his party most strongly to tariff revision will be elected president.

Round About the State

What Is Going On in Different Sections of Kentucky.

LABOR DAY A HOLIDAY,

Governor So Declares, and Urges Citizens to Lay Aside Work.

Frankfort, Ky.—No persons shall be forced to labor on September 7, which Gov. Cox designated as Labor day, according to a proclamation which he gave out. The proclamation is as follows:

The general assembly has provided that the first Monday in September of each year shall be known as Labor day. In accordance with this enactment I hereby proclaim Monday, September 7, 1908, as Labor day.

This day is set apart as a legal holiday, and no person shall be compelled to labor on said day by any person or corporation. It is a day given over to the working class of our citizens as a holiday. On this day let all our people enter into the spirit of the occasion, and put aside for the time their occupations, and pay a fitting tribute to those in whose honor the day is dedicated.

In testimony whereof I have subscribed my name and caused the great seal of the commonwealth to be affixed. Done at Frankfort, this twenty-fourth day of August, one thousand nine hundred and eight, and in the one hundred and seventeenth year of the commonwealth.

WM. H. COX, Acting Governor.
BEN L. BRUNER, Sec'y of State.

FEARING HER LOVER WOULD DIE,

Girl Weds Him, and Now He Is on Road to Recovery.

Louisville, Ky.—Seriously ill of a complication of diseases Dr. B. Dorsey Winchester, aged 23 years, revived from the moment that he was wedded to Miss Ina Brent Moody.

Winchester was in bed, and several doctors had declared his condition critical. Miss Moody came to his bedside and nursed him, and, when Winchester began to sink, the lovers decided to be married at once.

The ceremony was performed in the evening. Physicians said that Winchester was now on the road to recovery.

Mrs. Winchester is a native of Hopkinsville, and would have graduated as a trained nurse in December.

Flood of Applications.

Frankfort, Ky.—Gov. Willson is being flooded with applications for the position on the board of control which, it is rumored, will soon be made vacant through the resignation of Dr. Milton Board. Many of the applicants assure Gov. Willson that, although they are democrats, they voted for him last fall, but on reliable information it was understood that Gov. Willson will appoint an old-line democrat who has never scratched the ticket.

Judge Adams Will Conduct Trial.

Jackson, Ky.—Beech Hargis will be tried in Breathitt county, the scene of his crime, according to the decision of Circuit Judge J. P. Adams, delivered in determining the motion of the commonwealth for a change of venue. Charles Bronston, of Lexington, will appear for the prosecution as soon as the trial proper is gone into.

Rather Frank About It.

Hopkinsville, Ky.—L. R. Teague, candidate for the democratic nomination as county judge in Hopkins county, with a desire perhaps of denoting exactly what he is after, has selected as the device under which his name shall appear on the ballot the picture of a piece of pie.

Wants $10,000 Damages.

Covington, Ky.—Edward Braam, of Batesville, Ind., through Attorney Theodore Horstman, filed a suit for $10,000 damage against Henry Wimmers in the federal court here for personal injuries sustained by having his hand caught in a saw.

One Dead in Picnic Fight.

Lexington, Ky.—In a bloody fight at Graveyard, on Big White Oak creek, Greenup county, John Zornes was killed and James Schaefer was fatally cut and several others badly hurt. A general fight ensued, Zornes and Schaefer being stabbed a dozen times.

The Horse Was Killed.

Lexington, Ky.—Attorney Nathan Elliott and Marie L. Powell were driving on the Versailles road when the horse balked and backed the vehicle over a steep embankment. They jumped in time to avoid injury. The horse broke its neck.

Sues For $1,000 Damages.

Lexington, Ky.—John M. McCormick leased a small farm from Mrs. Emma G. Van Meter last May. August 10 he left the place and mailed the keys to Mrs. Gilbert. Mrs. Gilbert brought suit against McCormick for $1,000 damages.

Restored To Citizenship.

Frankfort, Ky.—Gov. Cox restored to citizenship William Montgomery, a negro of Louisville, who served eight years in the penitentiary for stealing 20 cents' worth of paint brushes. Montgomery will leave the state.

Kentucky Bankers' Meeting.

Louisville, Ky.—Announcement is made here of the program for the annual meeting of the Kentucky Bankers' association in Lexington, September 23 and 24. There are about 400 members in the association.

BANKERS INDICTED

At Owensboro For Embezzlement—Cincinnati Bank in Case.

Owensboro, Ky.—James H. Parrish, president of the defunct Owensboro Savings Bank and Trust Co., was indicted by the grand jury on the charge of embezzlement. It is alleged that he and his brothers made a note for $10,000 to the Fifth National bank, of Cincinnati. About the time this note became due it is alleged that Parrish sent $25,000 worth of notes of the savings bank to the Fifth National bank, with the instructions that the $10,000 due on the Parrish note be held out. This was done.

Cashier J. Otis Parrish was indicted for false swearing.

Trust Officer I. N. Parrish was indicted for making a false entry of $60,000 on the books of the bank.

President T. S. Anderson, of the defunct Daviess County bank, will be indicted, it is said.

The State Bank of Kentucky, of Owensboro, has gone into liquidation, the Mechanics' Bank and Trust Co. taking over all the notes and assuming all liabilities. The depositors will be paid dollar for dollar.

CAUGHT AT BRIDLE OF HORSE,

But Grasped Gun Instead, and Young Clay Is Dead.

Paris, Ky.—C. F. Clay, nephew of Col. E. F. Clay, owner of Runnymede stud and member of the state racing commission, was accidentally shot and killed.

Young Clay had started on horseback for Escondida, where a party of friends were hunting doves, and met the party, consisting of Jim Woodford, Frank Bedford and John Fowler, on the way back to Paris.

As they met Clay reached out to seize the bridle of Woodford's horse, but instead grasped a gun Woodford was carrying. It caught on the reins or saddle and was discharged. The load entered Clay's body under the right arm, and came out under the left arm. He fell dead from his horse.

To Complete Capitol.

Frankfort, Ky.—C. M. Fleenor will superintend the completion of the new capitol. Employes of the General Supply and Construction Co., which had the contract, have been ordered to remain out of the building on penalty of being arrested. The cost of completing the work will be $15,000, and Mr. Fleenor has been instructed to complete it as soon as possible.

Governor Lets 'Em Off.

Frankfort, Ky.—Gov. Cox pardoned the Owensboro City Railway Co. of the indictment found in the Franklin circuit court at the last session of the grand jury for failure to have its officers swear to the report of its value to the auditor. The fine would have amounted to $10,000, but, as the error was purely technical, Gov. Cox issued the pardon.

Owner Killed For Thief.

Lexington, Ky.—Orville Hurn, a farmer, 35, of Greenup county, was killed in his own watermelon patch by Ollie Jenkins. Hurn instructed Jenkins to shoot and kill any one who entered the patch. Late at night Hurn entered the patch, and Jenkins did not recognize him and killed him. Jenkins is exonerated.

Cochran Opens At Jackson.

Covington, Ky.—Federal Judge A. M. J. Cochran will convene the fall term of court at Jackson, Ky., September 21. It will be the first time federal court was held there and is a recent act of congress. He will convene court at Frankfort, Ky., September 28, and in Covington on Monday, October 12.

Ann Rogers Snoddy Dies.

Louisville, Ky.—In Mrs. Ann Rogers Snoddy, 78, who died here, one of the oldest pioneer families of Kentucky was represented. Mrs. Snoddy was a native of Glasgow, Ky., where her father, Dr. George Rogers, who was a descendant of George Rogers Clark, lived for years.

Drought Doing Damage.

Newport, Ky.—Campbell county farmers say the continued dry weather is greatly damaging vegetation and corn in the county, causing thousands of dollars loss. Not in 20 years, the farmers state, has there been as severe a drought in the county.

Struck Oil.

Lexington, Ky.—In drilling for water on J. B. Haggin's Elmendorf farm, the workmen struck oil at a depth of 140 feet. The quality and the flow of the oil have not been determined. It is very black and similar to that used in oiling streets and roads.

T. J. Landrum Drops Dead.

Louisville, Ky.—Tom J. Landrum, 53, of this city, dropped dead at the Chicago Beach hotel, Chicago. He had been there three weeks and was taken ill while there. Heart disease was the cause of death.

Had Fire On Hottest Days.

Danville, Ky.—Mrs. Quintilla Earles is dead at her home in Casey county, at the age of 90. She had been insensible to heat all her life and during hottest days of summer she sat and knitted by a roaring log fire.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

FOR COUNTY JUDGE.

P. E. Cason is a candidate for Judge of the County Court of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

J. H. Walton, of Constance, is a candidate for County Judge of Boone county, subject to the Primary Election, November 3d, 1908.

Sidney Gaines is a candidate for Judge of the County Court of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November, 3, 1908

FOR COUNTY ATTORNEY.

N. E. Riddell is a candidate for County Attorney of Boone County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

FOR CLERK OF COUNTY COURT

Charles (Caddie) Maurer, of Belleview, is a candidated for Clerk of the Boone County Court, subject to the Democratic Primary election, November 3, 1908.

Owen S. Watts, of Walton, is a candidate for Clerk of the Boone County Court, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

B. B. Aliphin, of Walton, is a candidate for Clerk of the Boone County Court, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary Election November 3, 1908.

J. H. Rogers, of Walton, is a candidate for Clerk of the Boone County Court, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

D. B. Dobbins, of Richwood, is a candidate for Clerk of the Boone County Court, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

J. C Hankins, of Hebron, is a candidate for County Court Clerk of Boone county, subject to the Primary Election, November 3 1, 1908.

FOR CIRCUIT CLERK.

J. A. Duncan, of Burlington, is a candidate for Circuit Court Clerk of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, Nov. 3d, 1908.

FOR SHERIFF.

W. D. Cropper, of Burlington, is a candidate for Sheriff of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

B. B. Hume, of Burlington, is a candidate for Sheriff of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, Novmeber 3, 1908.

Malchus Souther, of Constance, is a candidate for Sheriff of Boone County subject to the Democratic Primary Election November 3, 1908.

FOR ASSESSOR.

R. H. Stephens, of Rabbit Hash, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1907.

John W. Williams, of Union, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

Lewis Clore, of Rabbit Hash, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election November 3, 1908.

E. C. Franks, of Big Bone, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1808.

C. P. Robinson, of Big Bone, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election November 3, 1908.

T G. Willis, of Bullittsville, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3d, 1908.

John Keisay, of Hebrou, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

Geo. W. Ward, of Rabbit Hash, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

FOR SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT.

Almer M. Yealey, of Florence, is a candidate for Superintendent of Schools of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

Elbert S. Ryle, of Burlington, is a candidate for Superintendent of Schools of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908

Edgar C. Riley, of Burlington, is a candidate for Superintendent of Schools of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, Nov. 3d, 1908.

FOR JAILOR.

Samuel Adams is a candidate for Jailer of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, Novemter 3, 1908.

FOR SURVEYOR.

W. E Vest is a candidate for Surveyor of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

FOR REHRESENTATIVE.

J. W. Berkshire, of Petersburg, is a candidate for Representative of Boone county in the next Legislature, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3d, 1908.

For Sale—Fine yearling buck.—Apply to O. W. Gaines, Bullittsville.

For Sale—Nice Southdown buck—Apply to B. L. Cleek, Union.

For Sale—No. 1 Jers y cow and calf. Apply to John Hogan, Gunpowder.

For Sale—16 months old Thinrind boar. Apply to Thomas Rouse, near Burlington.

For Sale—2 Jersey heifers and 2 fresh cows. Apply to B. C. Graddy, Bullittsville.

For Sale—25 or 30 sixty-pound shoats. Apply to Edgar Berkshire, near Burlington.

For Sale—Poland China Boar, took premium at Florence fair. Apply to E. H. Blankenbeker & Son, Florence

For Sale—Two extra good Poland China Boars, 5 months old, can be recorded. Apply to Jerry Tanner, r. f. d, Florence, Ky.

Boone County Pomona Grange will meet with Pt. Pleasant Grange at Florence at 10:30 a. m., next Saturday. E. K. TANNER, Master.

THE FAIR.

The Boone County Fair held at Florence, last Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, was one of the best in the history of the North Kentucky Agricultural Association. The weather was ideal, the show in the ring the best ever and the attendance, especially on the last two days far in excess of that anticipated by the directors. The exhibits in every department were numerous and of the very best. Many exhibitors of fine horses were there from a distance, and the animal that succeeded in capturing a string had to be of a very high class. One pleasing feature of the fair was the success of so many Boone county exhibitors of horses who competed with numerous entries of fine animals from Scott county, Harrison county, and other places.

Floral Hall was made a most interesting place by the display of fancy needle work and the pantry and dairy products, the results of the labor of ladies who delight in making fancy articles, and preparing good things for the table.

The stock pens were not slighted, and contained some as fine hogs and sheep as the country produces, and were visited by hundreds of farmers who are interested in that class of stock.

It seemed that everything conspired to increase the already very great popularity of the Old Boone Fair, and to place a nice balance on the right side of the ledger. Taken all in all the fair was a top-notcher. Following is the list of awards:

DAIRY CATTLE.

Bull two and over, J W Scott, Joe Utz.

Bull one and under two, Joe Scott, Chas Youell.

Bull calf, L C Acra, J W Scott.

Aged cow, J W Scott, L Kenny.

Heifer one and under two, J W Scott both premiums.

Heifer, L Kenny, J W Scott.

Herd J W Scott, L Kenny.

Milch and butter cow, J W Scott, L Kenny.

DRAFT HORSES.

Filly colt, Rabbit Hash Horse Co., Kirb Richardson.

Horse colt, Rabbit Hash Horse Co., Simon Oetnel.

Colt one and under two, F. T. White, A D Hunter.

Colt two and under three, Charles Youell, W H Rouse.

Mare three and under four, A D Hunter, Kirb Richardson.

Geelding three and under four, Jos Trapp, Henry Stalls.

Stallion three and under four, W T Stephens.

Aged mare, Joe Trapp both premiums.

Gelding, Joe Trapp.

Aged stallion, Kirb Richardson, Rabbit Hash Horse Co.

Sweepstakes, Kirb Richardson, Joe Trapp.

Farm Team, Joe Trapp both.

Coach Horse, Burlington Horse Co., Hicks & Best.

Model Stallion, J L Carrick, Brock Bros.

Model mare, Brock Bros., W T Atherton.

Model gelding, Hicks & Best, both.

SHEEP—Southdowns.

Ram lamb, J G Tanner.

Ram one and under two, J G Tanner, J H Aylor.

Ram two and over, J G Tanner, J H Aylor.

Ewe lamb, J G Tanner, J H Aylor.

Ewe lamb, one and under two, J G Tanner.

Aged ewe, J G Tanner, B C Tanner

HAMPSHIREDOWNS.

Ram lamb, J F Cleek both premiums.

Ram one and under two, B F Kelly, E Blankenbeker & Son.

Aged ram, E H Blankenbekor & Son, J F Cleek.

Ewe lamb, J F Cleek, B T Kelly.

Ewe one and under two, J F Cleek, W P Beemon.

Aged ewe, J F Cleek both premiums.

SHROPSHIREDOWNS.

Ram under one year old, T A Crigler, B C Tanner.

Ram one and under two, B C Tanner.

Aged ram, Jerry Tanner.

Ewe lamb under one year old, Jerry Tanner, B C Tanner.

Ewe one and under two, B C Tanner, Jerry Tanner.

Aged ewe, B C Tanner, Jerry Tanner.

OXFORDDOWNS.

Ram under one year old, J H Aylor, E H Surface.

Ram one and under two, E H Surface both premiums.

Aged ram, E H Surface. J H Aylor.

Ewe under one year old, ewe one and under two, and aged ewe, E H Surface all the premiums.

FRUIT.

Apples, Clyde Berkshire; Frank Bowers.

Grapes, L C Yager, Frank Bowers.

Pears, Frank Bowers, John H Aylor.

Peaches, Clyde Berkshire, Mary Finnell.

Plums, Clyde Berkshire.

Quinces, W C Delph.

Display Fruit, Clyde Berkshire, Frank Bowers.

Fruit Butter, Mrs Will Bradford.

Sour Pickles, Mrs Jack Baker.

Sweet Pickles, Mrs Martin Aylor.

Can Peaches, Jennie Dixon.

Can Pears, Jennie Dixon.

Can Tomatoes, Kittie Brown.

Can Apples, Willa Aylor.

Can Strawberries, Bessie Talbott.

Can Raspberries, Willa Aylor.

Can Blackberries, Mrs. Wm. Bradford.

Can Cherries, Willa Aylor.

CAKES.

Devil Food, Miss S B Childress.

Angel Food, Mrs Ezra Wilholt.

White Pound, S N Adams.

Yellow Pound, Mary Dixon.

Lady, Mrs C C Bradford.

Layer, Miss Lucy Riggs.

Jelly, Miss Bessie Talbott.

Marble, Mrs Ira Aylor.

Pansy, Mary Finnell.

Sunshine, Mrs J E Smith.

Knickerbocker, Mary Finnell.

Princess, Mrs Chas Whitson.

Chocolate, Mrs Nell Blankenbeker.

Cocoanut, Mrs Mary Fulton.

Marshmellow, Lorena Hafer.

Ginger, Willa Aylor.

Doughnuts, Mrs Nell Blankenbeker.

Fruit, Mrs Mamie Crigler.

Variety, Mary Finnell.

PIES, &c.

Apple, Mrs Artie Aylor.

Cocoanut, Mrs. Ira Walton.

Peach, Lorena Hafer.

Lemon, Mrs Nell Blankenbeker.

Cream, Mrs. Ora Rouse.

Jelly, Eva Clutterbuck.

Chocolate, Mrs. Ollie Rouse.

Transparent, Mrs Ora Ross.

Amber, Mrs. Chas Whitson

Chowchow, Mrs O F Glacken.

Chila Sauce, Mrs Lou Walton.

Tomatoe Catsup, Mrs Bessie Talbott.

Homemade Candy, Mary Finnell.

Corn Bread, Mrs. Lou Walton.

Hop Yeast Bread, Mrs. Ezra Wilhoit.

Salt Rising, Mrs. Artie Hafer.

Maple Molasses, Mrs W P Beemon.

Sorghum, Mrs Chas Garnett.

Apple Vinegar, Mrs. Ora Ross.

Comb Honey, J G Crisler.

Extracted Honey, M L Aylor.

Butter, Mrs Lewis Clegg.

Display Preserves, Mrs W C Delph, Mrs Martin Aylor.

JELLIES.

Quince, Kittle Brown.

Apple, Kittie Brown.

Current, Stella Popham.

Crab Apple, Mrs W C Delph.

Gooseberry, Miss Belle Baker.

Blackberry, Kittie Brown.

Red Raspberry, Stella Popham.

Grape, Ethel Lipp.

Plum, Jennie Dixon.

Display Jellies, Mrs Chas Whitson, Mrs Martin Aylor.

BEEF CATTLE.

Bull two and over, J E Scott, F Gupshover.

Bull one and under two, Joe Geiger, Pat Coyne.

Cow two and over, J E Scott Joe Geiger.

Heifer one and under two, J E Scott, Joe Gieger.

Calf, J E Scott, E C Stephens.

Herd, J E Scott, Joe Gieger.

Fatted cow or bullock, J E Scott, B L Stepheza.

SADDLE HORSES.

Stallion four and over, Parker and Carrick, G G Herrick.

Gelding four and over, J P Evans, M D Martin.

Mare four and over, J P Evans, H T Gaines.

Stallion three and under four, J T Crenshaw.

Gelding three and under four M D Martin, J T Crenshaw.

Mare three and under four, E C Ward, R J Huey.

Colt two and under three, M D Martin, J L Carrick.

Sweepstakes, Parker & Carrick, G G Herriott, Brock Bros.

Colt, C A Fulton, Lee Gaines.

Horse colt, M D Martin, O Baker.

Mare colt, W G Riddell, A G Beemon.

High stepper, E C Franks, W T Atherton.

Boy rider, W A Atherton, H Baker.

HOGS—Thinrind.

Aged boar, J H Aylor; aged sow, W T Davis; boar pig, J H Aylor, J M Craven; sow pig, J M Craven, J H Aylor.

CHESTERWHITE.

Aged boar, Henry Stallo, Charles Youell; aged sow, Henry Stallo, Chas Youell; boar pig, Henry Stallo, Charles Youell; sow pig, A Corbin.

POLANDCHINA.

Aged boar, T Powers, L P Aylor; aged sow, J Tanner, L P Aylor; boar pig, T Powers, E H Blankenbeker & Son; sow pig' E H Blankenbeker & son, J Tanner.

FLOWERS.

Blooming flowers, roses, geraniums, bergenias and hanging basket, Mrs W C Delph; cut flowers and hand bouquet, Mrs W P Beemon; Tube roses, Kittie Brown.

PAINTINGS AND DRAWINGS.

Crayon drawing, Mildred Goldblatt, Fred Rolf; pen and pencil drawing, John Teese; water color, Fannie Manser; oil painting—land scape, C O Wilson; oil painting —figure, Mrs John Souther; oil painting—flowers, Mrs Jno Souther; painting on china, Fannie Manser, Louise Zumkeller; wood carving, Fannie Manser; burnt wood, Violetta Rouse, Nellie Rouse; pastelle drawing, Mrs John Souther.

MULES.

Mare, H L Tanner, C C Hedges.

Horse, C C Clore, H T Richardson.

Two and under three, S Oetzel, J Rednour.

Pair mules, P B Clark, J Rednour.

Aged mule, P B Clark.

Jack, John Hortman.

Running walking horse, C C Clore, Wm Williford.

Gentleman rider, J T Crenshaw.

HARNESS HORSES.

Filly colt, J W Hogan, E C Clore.

Horse colt, J T Stevenson, James Cary.

Colt one and under two, Charles Easton, Wm Huey.

Colt two and under three, Joseph Huey, Huey Bros.

Mare three and under four, H T Gaines, Hicks & Best.

Gelding three and under four, Hicks & Best, M D Martin.

Stallion three and under four, Verge Bell, W G Riddell.

Mare four and over, W T Atherton, Hicks & Best.

Gelding four and over, W T Atherton, Deglow & Thatcher.

Stallion four and over, Deglow & Thatcher. W G Riddell.

Fancy turnout, W T Atherton, Scott Chambers.

Sweepstakes, Hicks & Best, W T Atherton second and third.

Lady rider, Mary Castleman, Willa Aylor.

Single roadster, Deglow & Thatcher both premiums.

NEEDLE WORK.

Display linen with silk embroidery, Mrs Lute Yealy, Mrs Frank Waller; fabric painting on silk, satin, velvet or linen, Fannie Manser; linen embroidery, Mrs J E Smith, Mrs Olive Lee Gray; eyelet embroidery, Mrs R A Hall, Mrs H Chisman; linen center piece, Mrs Lute Yealy, Mrs Agnes Thomas; Italian embroidery, Mrs J E Smith; Bulgarian embroidery, Sadie Herbert, Mrs W T Bradford; cotton embroidery, Mrs Helen Sholl, Inez Gaines; montmelle embroidery, Inez Gaines, Mrs J L Price; bardagan embroidery, Mrs Dudley Rouse, Mrs Cora Stott; embroidered parasol, Mrs J H Hall, Katherln Gaines; wallachian embroidery, Mrs J E Smith; delabo embroidery, Mrs J E Smith, Mrs Dudly Rouse; beaded purse, Mrs J E Smith; battenburg lace, Nellie Rouse, Inez Gaines; drawn thread work, Marguret Anderson; Irish crochet, Katherine Hall, Fannie Manser; lace work, Inez Gaines, Katherine White; honiton lace, Miss Cora Williams; best dressed doll, Master Walter Whitson, Ethel Lipp; artistic sofa pillow, Mrs Lute Yealy, Fannie Manser; machine sewing, Mrs A D Beemon; wool knitting, Mrs Mary Slayback; silk knitting, Mrs Bettie Rouse; rick-rack embroidery, coral embroidery, Mrs J E Smith; woven silk rug, Iva Aylor; rag carpet, Mrs Ora Ross; silk crazy patch work quilt, Mary Dixon, Mrs J E Smith; silk patch work quilt, Jennie Dixon, Mrs J B Lineman; worsted quilt, Mrs Sadie John, Mrs J E Smith; calico quilt, Jennie Dixon, Mary Bannister; knit counterpane, Katherine White, Mrs B F McGlasson.

ALLPURPOSE HORSES.

Filly colt J W Hogan, R W Gaines.

Horse colt, M D Martin, J T Stevenson.

Colt one and under two, Chas Easton, Lee Gaines.

Colt two and under three, J L Carrick, M D Martin.

Colt three and under four, M D Martin, E C Wood.

Stallion, mare or gelding any age, G G Herriott, Lee Gaines.

Mare and two or more of her colts, Chas Kelly, E H Surface.

Sweepstakes, Parker & Carrick, G G Harriott, Brock Bros.

Pair matched horses or mares, Hicks & Best, W T Atherton.

Stallion and two or more colts, J P Tanner, W G Riddell.

Pair harness horses or mares, M D Martin, Hicks & Best.

Lady driver, Mrs H H Myers, Mrs Chester Utz.

Fancy turnout, W T Atherton, Hicks & Best.

Walk-trot, E C Ward, M D Martin.

Consolation harness, W T Atherton, Deglow & Thatcher, J T Crenshaw, M D Martin.

Consolation saddle, Miss Margie Donelson, W T Atherton, J T Crenshaw, J H Aylor.

GRAIN.

Rye, Jerry Tanner; oats, Elmer Surface; wheat, Neumeister Bros.; white corn, D Houston; yellow corn, John Hogan; sweet corn, Ezra Wilholt; largest and best ear of corn, D Houston; Irish potatoes—late Eli Conrad; Irish potatoes—early, A Frich; display Irish potatoes, J S Lodge; sweet potatoes, A Frich; onions, Mrs Addie Aylor; Turnips Jno H Aylor; radishes, Elijah Tanner; peppers, pumpkins, cabbage, squash and cucumbers, Moses Rouse; cantaloups, watermelons, musk melons, John H Aylor; beets, Geo Hafer; tomatoes, Mrs Lon Beemon; cashaws, Fred Gripshober; green beans, Mose Rouse; carrots, Joseph Surface; display vegetables, Moses Rouse, Mrs Martin Aylor.

POULTRY—Old.

Coachins, Barred Plymouth Rocks, White Plymouth Rocks, Black Spanish, Indian Game, Pit Game, Toulouse Geese, Rouen Ducks, A M Acra; Pekin Ducks, Willa Aylor; White Leghorns, Brown Leghorns, Buff Leghorns, Hamburgs, Buff Orpington, Silver Wyandotts, Langshans, Rhode Island Reds, Minorcas, A H Richer; Light Bramahs, Bronze Turkeys, L P Aylor; Bantams, Jennie Aylor; Holand Turkeys, C T Clarkson.

A M Acra and A H Richer took all the premiums on young poultry, except on Minorcas, which was taken by L P Aylor.

Single harness, Chas Mahlman; double harness, Wm Thomann, Chas Mahlman.

PUBLIC SALE.

I will sell at public sale at my residence at the old Bruce Mill, about three miles west of Burlington, Ky., on Woolper creek, on Friday, September 11th, 1908,

the following property:

One bay Horse about 12 years old, one Cow 4 years old, three Hogs will average 200 pounds, Buggy and Harness, Road Wagon, set of Wagon Harness, lot Farming Implements and Household and Kitchen Furniture.

Terms—On sums over $5 a credit of Nine months without interest will be given, purchaser to give note with good security negotiable and payable in the Boone County Deposit Bank; sums of $5.00 and under, cash.

No property to be removed until terms are compiled with

HARRY PASSONS.

Sale to begin at 1 p. m.

Take the Recorder.

Golden Blend Coffee

20c lb

BEST ON EARTH

GEO. C. GOODE,

—AGENT—

Groceries and Medicines,

N. E. Cor. Pike & Washington,

Covington, - - - Kentucky.

Money-Worth Coffee

Lb 17c

3 Lbs. 50c.

Best for the Price in Town.

For Sale Privately.

My entire Stock of Goods consisting of

GENERAL MERCHANDISE,

Also House and Lot in Belleview, Boone County, Ky. Have a good established trade. Any one desiring this location will call on or write me at once.

E. E. KELLY, Grant P. O., Ky.

Boone Co. Deposit Bank,

BURLINGTON, KY.

The Oldest Bank in Boone County,

PAYS 3 PER CENT. INTEREST ON TIME DEPOSITS,

With $100,000 protection to its Depositors as follows:

Capital Stock	$30,000
Surplus and Undivided Profits	40,000
Liability of Stockholders	30,000
Total Security for Depositors	$100,000

COURTESY EXTENDED TO ALL.

Bear In Mind

A Square Deal to Every Man

Is Our Motto.

We give you Honest Clothing at "Honest Prices." We give you the Style, Quality, Fit and Workmanship and we guarantee .....OUR PRICES THE LOWEST.....

We still have a fine line of

Men's & Boys' Spring and Summer SUITS

and it will be to your interest to examine them before buying elsewhere.

Men's Nice Suits.....$5.00, $6.00, $7.50

Men's Fine Suits.....$10.00, $12.50, $15.00, $18.00

Boys' Suits.....$4.00, $5.00, $7.50, $10.00, $12.00

Children's Suits.....$1.50 to $5.00

Fine Line of Men's Pants.....$1.00 to $5.00

Big Line of Cottonade and Camlet Pants just the thing for hot weather. We have some nice Suits in Odds and Ends which we will sell at much reduced prices.

Rolfes & Wachs,

RELIABLE CLOTHIERS,

No. 1 PIKE STREET,

Cor. Madison Ave., Covington, Ky.

EASY TO PUT ON — CORTRIGHT METAL SHINGLES — SAVES COST OF INSURANCE

The BEST Fire Insurance that any country building can have is a

Cortright Metal Shingle Roof

It cannot burn. It cannot leak. It never needs repairs, and makes the handsomest long lived roof on the market. Insurance Companies recognize its advantages and are glad to quote lower prices where it is used. Drop in and see them.

RILEY & GAAR, Agents, Bullittsville, Ky.

You Can Always Find the

Best and Largest Stock of

Buggie, Carriage, Draft and Farm Harness

AT REASONABLE PRICES

Riding Saddles in all sizes and Styles; Horse Clothing, Flynets and Horse Boots. Also a full line of Trunks, Traveling Bags and Suit Caser at

COPYRIGHT

Chas. Mahlmann, Jr.

Phone, S. 957-X — 32 Pike Street, COVINGTON, KY.

FOR SALE.

Brick, second hand lumber, sash, doors and windows. W. H. Buckner, Erlanger, Ky.

Take the Recorder.

POSTED.

Notice is hereby given that my property known as Laughery Island is posted against all kinds of trespass.

JOHN SMITH, Grant, Ky.

Subscribe for the Recorder.

Twenty-Third Annual Meeting

Boone Co Harvest Home Association,

Limaburg, Ky., Saturday, Sept. 12th.

List of Premiums.

GRAIN.

Best peck Wheat, premium by Continental Fertilizer Company 500 pounds of fertilizer	$6 00
" Peck Rye, premium by Cincinnati Grain Company, 280 lbs. Table Meal	3 00
" Peck Oats, Riding Bridle by Wm. Thomann	1 50
" 12 ears yellow Corn, Dixie Plow by Wm. Clore's Sons	3 00
" 12 ears white Corn, Riding Bridle by C. Bradford	2 00
" Display Grain, Barrel of Jackson's Best Flour by The R. Hamilton Grocery Co	5 00

FRUIT.

Best plate Apples	$1 00
" plate Plums	1 00
" plate Peaches	1 00
" plate Pears	1 00
" plate Grapes	1 00
" plate Quinces	1 00
" Display Fruit	2 50

EMBROIDERY AND NEEDLE WORK.

Best Knit or Crochet Counterpane, Rocker by W. N. Hind	2 50
" Calico Quilt	1 00
" Worsted Quilt	1 00
" Silk Quilt, Buggy Spread by Quigley & Beemon	2 00
" Linen Embroidery	1 00
" Display Silk Embroidery, pair Lace Curtains by The John R. Coppin Co., Covington	3 00
" Cotton Embroidery	1 00
" Mt. Mellick Embroidery	1 00
" Eyelet Embroidery	1 00
" Bulgarian Embroidery	1 00
" Kensington Embroidery	1 00
" Battenburg Embroidery	1 00
" French Embroidery	1 00
" Italian Embroidery	1 00
" Fancy Sofa Pillow	1 00
" Crochet Work	1 00
" Lace Work	1 00
" Specimen Knit Lace	1 00
Best Specimen Drawn Thread	1 00
" Fancy Knitting in Silk	1 00
" Plain Woolen Knitting	1 00
" Plain Cotton Knitting	1 00

VEGETABLES.

Best peck Green Beans	1 00
" Three heads Cabbage	1 00
" Six bunches Celery, by Geo. Baker	1 00
" Twelve Ears Sweet Corn	1 00
" peck Irish Potatoes (late)	1 00
" peck Irish Potatoes (early)	1 00
" peck Sweet Potatoes	1 00
" peck Tomatoes	1 00
" Three Pumpkins	1 00
" Three Squashes	1 00
" Three Cashaws	1 00
" Three Watermelons	1 00
" Three Nutmegs	1 00
" peck Onions	1 00
" peck Turnips	1 00
Best Six Radishes	1 00
" Six Beets	1 00
" Six Cucumbers	1 00
" Six Carrots	1 00
" display Peppers	1 00
" Display Vegetables Garden Seed by J. M. McCollough	5 00
Second premium, Garden Seed by Covington Seed Co	2 50

PANTRY AND DAIRY.

Best Display Sour Pickles	1 00
" Display Sweet Pickles	2 00
" Loaf Light Bread	1 00
" Loaf Hop Yeast Bread	1 00
" Loaf Salt Rising Bread	1 00
" Pound Cake	1 00
" Lady Cake, 1 doz. photograps by Kloo	1 00
" Layer Cake by girl under 15 years old	1 00
" Berry Cake	1 00
" Fruit Cake, Spectacles by F. Pieper	4 00
" Display Cakes	1 00
Best Angel Food Cake	1 00
" Devil Food Cake	1 00
" One pound of Butter, Carving Set by Mersman Hwd Co	5 00
" Single Can Peaches	1 00
" Single Can Pears	1 00
" Single Can Tomatoes	1 00
" Quart Sorghum Molasses	1 00
" Quart Maple Molasses	1 00
" Quart Apple Vinegar	1 00
" 2 Pounds Honey	1 00
" Display Fruit Butter	2 00
" Display Preserves, Rotary Washer by J. A. Fisher's Sons	7 50
" Display Jellies, pair Spectacles or Eye Glasses—solid gold by Motch the Jeweler	6 00

FLOWERS.

Best Hand Bouquet	50
" display Cut Flowers	1 00
" display Cactus	1 00
" display Geraniums	1 00
" display Begonias	1 00
" display Flowers, Rocker by H. Dine	5 00

POULTRY.

Best pair Light Brahmas, by G. H. Leobker	1 00
" pair White Plymouth Rocks, by Geo. C. Goode	1 00
" pair Barred Plymouth Rocks	1 00
" pair Leghorns	1 00
" pair White Wyandotts	1 00
" pair Hamburgs	1 00
" pair Pit Games	1 00
" pair Laced Wyandotts	1 00
" pair Minorcas	1 00
" pair Rhode Island Reds	1 00
" pair Bantams	1 00
" pair Toulouse Geese, Boys' Suit by Rolfes & Wachs	2 50
" pair Emden Geese	1 00
" pair Holland Turkeys, by Geo. C. Goode	1 00
" pair Bronze Turkeys, by Geo. C. Goode	1 00
" pair Pekin Ducks	1 00
" pair Rouen Ducks	1 00
" pair Guineas	1 00
" display Poultry, Garden Plow by Wm. Clore's Sons	3 00

HOGS.

Best Poland China Boar under one year old		2 50
" Poland China Sow under one year old		2 50
" Chesterwhite Boar under one year old		2 50
" Chesterwhite Sow under one year old		2 50
" Duroc Jersey Boar under one year old, box of Cigars by Raum & Goegreve		5 00
" Duroc Jersey Sow under one year old		2 50
" Hampshire Boar under one year old		2 50
" Hampshire Sow under one year old		2 50
" Sow and sucking pigs, any breed		5 00

HORSES.

Best Suckling Draft Colt, regardless of sex	5 00	2 50
Best Suckling Harness Colt, regardless of sex	6 00	3 00
Best Suckling General-Purpose Colt. regardless of sex	6 00	3 00
Best Suckling Mule Colt, regardless of sex	5 00
Second premium, Fine English Riding Bridle by Mayer & VonHandorf		3 00
Best Plutarch Colt, regardless of sex, merchandise by Albert Holz		5 00
Special given by Xen Scott—The best colt sired by Black Badger—Return season 1909.

CATTLE.

Best Dairy Bull under 2 years old	5 00
Best DairyHeifer under 2 years old	3 00
Best Milch Cow	5 00
Second premium, Boy's Suit, by G. H. Verkamp		5 00

BABY SHOW.

Best Looking White Baby under two years old, first premium by Charles Youell	5 00	2 50

Admission, 25c. Children under 10 years, Free.

Peoples Deposit Bank,

BURLINGTON, KY.

Your Money Deposited with this Bank is as Safe as with any Bank in Boone County.

3 PER CENT. INTEREST PAID ON SIX MONTHS TIME DEPOSITS.

We Make no Charge for Cashing Checks on other Banks

And afford you all other accommodations within range of Sound Banking in order to make dealings with us pleasant.

SAFE DEPOSIT BOXES FOR RENT. CALL AND SEE US.

STATEMENT OF THE

Equitable Bank & Trust Co.

WALTON, KY.

Organized for Business Sept. 9th, 1907.

DEPOSITS:

Opening Day Sept. 9th, 1907	$5,383.71
Dec. 31st, 1907, when statement was made to Secretary of State	37,157.67
June 30th, 1908, when statement was made to Secretary of State	56,269.38
July 1st, 1908, one day later	$61,959 90

LOANS AND DISCOUNTS:

July 1st, 1908	$ 76,539.85
Available Cash July 1st, 1908	30,716.80
Resources July 1st, 1908	$115,220.35

Careful, prudent business principles governs the bank. Your business solicited. Interest paid on time deposits. Mail communications given especial attention.

CHAS. L. GRIFFITH, President. D. B. WALLACE, Cashier.

LEW THORN, Pharmacist.

A. G. G. RICHARDSON, Veterinary Surgeon.

THORN & RICHARDSON, DRUGGISTS.

We sell Kreso Dip for Lice and Mites on horses, cattle, sheep, hogs and chickens. Headquarters for House Paints, Floor Paints, Roofing Paints, Wagon and Carriage Paints, Carter's Lead and Pure Linseed Oil.

Medicines, Stationery and Sundries in large supply. All new and fresh. Prices are right.

Main Street, - - RISING SUN, INDIANA.

The New Iowa

New in Kentucky, But a Leader in the West

NOTE WHAT WE CLAIM FOR IT.

The Only Separator

made to day, that will skim to a trace, warm or cold milk.

Easiest Cleaned, Lightest Running, Mechanically Right

Farmers and Dairymen wanting to buy Separators should see the Iowa before making a purchase. It is absolutely the best, no other just as good costs no more. Why not have it? Over two car loads sold in Kentucky in two months. Write us for literature, good reading matter and very learning. We have all kinds of Tools, Farming Implements, Contractors Supplies, &c. The best line of Plows, Grain Drills, Feed Cutters and Mills. We have some new and slightly used Sharpless Separators we will sell at bargains.

We will Save You Money. Give us a Call.

The Fischer Bros. Company,

(Incorporated.)

1046 Madison Ave. COVINGTON, KY.

729-731 Monmouth St. NEWPORT, KY.

Everything Marked in Plain Figures. One Price to All.

YOU NEED A BUGGY

AND I HAVE IT FOR YOU.

CAN SAVE YOU MONEY.

New Buggies, Runabouts

and Harness for Sale or Trade.

Workmanship the Best, and Material Guaranteed.

When in Burlington call and See me.

B. B. HUME, - Burlington, Ky.

Special Shoe Sale.

Our Fall and Winter Stock of Shoes will soon begin to arrive. We must make room for them and therefore will make very

LOW PRICE FOR STOCK ON HAND.

Men's Heavy Shoes at	$2.00	former price	$3.00
Men's Light Shoes at	2.50	former price	3.50
Ladies' Shoes at	1.00	former price	2.00
Children's Shoes at	75c	former price	1.50

We have not room for more prices, but call on us and we will give you some genuine

SHOE BARGAINS.

W. M. Rachal & Co

Union, Kentucky.

PERFECT BIFOCALS AT LAST.

Bifocal lenses have been undergoing constant and rapid improvement for the the last 10 years, until now we have the perfect bifocal.

It is ground in one piece and perfectly smooth; no cement used and no lines visible. Call and see them. They are the finest made.

N. F. Penn, M. D. with Motch, Jeweler,

613 Madison Avenue, - - - COVINGTON, KENTUCKY,

Phone, South 912-Y.

SCOTT CHAMBERS,

WALTON, KY.

Embalmer & Funeral Director,

LIVERY, BOARDING & SALE STABLE.

First Class Rigs for Hire at All Times.

Dealer in High Class Harness and Saddle Horses.

Raymond City Coal for sale at all times.

Hay, Grain, Mill Feed,

ALWAYS KEPT ON HAND.

Highest Market Price paid for Grain.

Fancy and Staple

GROCERIES.

I also have a nice and complete line of Fancy and Staple Groceries and canned goods.

WIRE AND FENCING, AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS, Buggies, Carriages, all kinds Fertilizer.

Owen S. Watts,

(Successor to R. B. HUEY & CO.)

WALTON, - - KENTUCKY.

H. G. BLANTON,

Funeral Director & Embalmer

LIVERY, BOARDING and FEED STABLE.

First-class Carriages for hire with careful Drivers for Families, Parties, Weddings, Etc.

I Have a Nice White Funeral Car.

Lexington Pike, - - - ERLANGER, KY.

Leave Orders with J. C. REVILL, Burlington, Ky.

Geo. W. Hill & Co.,

Grocers, Commission & SEED Merchants.

Tested Field and Garden Seeds.

Finest Brands and Grades of FERTILIZERS, LIME, CEMENT AND SALT.

Largest and Best Stock of

GROCERIES IN THE CITY.

Sole Agents for the Celebrated

RARUS and GEM Brands of FLOUR

When in the City it will pay you to come and see us.

27 & 29 Pike Street. (Phone South 55) 26 & 28 W Seventh Street

COVINGTON KENTUCKY.

A GREAT DELIVERANCE

Story of Isaiah the Prophet and Hezekiah the King.

BY THE "HIGHWAY AND BYWAY" PREACHER

(Copyright, 1908, by the Author, W. G. Edson.)

Scripture Authority—The Book of Isaiah, esp. chapters 36 and 37.

Outline of the Book of Isaiah.—Part 1.—General prophecies, 1-35; Part 2.—Historical parenthesis, 36-39; Part 3.—Discourses chiefly Millennial, 40-66. Part 1 comprises six divisions, as follows: 1. Discourses concerning Judah. 1-5; 2. Prophet's call, 6; 3. Discourse concerning Judah and Assyria in Ahaz' reign, 7-9; 4. Discourses concerning the nations, 10-27. 5. Discourses concerning Israel, 28; 6. Discourses concerning Judah and Egypt. Part 2 has for its theme, Comfort (40-1, 2), with the following divisions: 1. Divine care over them while scattered, 40 and 43:1-7. 2. Ultimate triumph over enemies, 41, 51 and 52. 3. Work of Messiah for them, 42-49, 50, 53, 61, 63. 4. Work of Holy Spirit on them, 44, 32; 14-18. 5. Return from Babylon, 44, 45. 6. Punishment of Babylon, 46-48. 7. Ultimate restoration, 49-54, 55-60, 62, 65, 66.

SERMONETTE.

How different the manner of Hezekiah when desperate conditions faced the nation from that of Ahaz. The latter turned farther from God. The other drew nearer to God.

Trouble works curse or blessing to the life. It either drives from God or links up closer to God.

As soon as the evil tidings reached the king he laid aside his kingly robes and "went into the house of the Lord." An excellent thing to do.

He might have called a council of the chief men of his nation and sought by the wisdom of men to solve the problems that faced him. But no. He knew God well enough to want to get near Him in his trouble. Blessed and fortunate indeed is the man who thus meets his troubles.

But not only did he seek to get right with God himself and to lay his cause in His hands, but he sent at once and enlisted the sympathy and help of God's prophet, and in honoring God's prophet by his confidences and his plea for help he was honoring himself.

We fail sometimes in our efforts to meet trying situations because we do not give God a chance to speak to us through His chosen messengers.

Hezekiah's messengers found the prophet prepared to receive them and send them back with a message of encouragement. God had been there before them enlightening the understanding of the prophet so that he was able to return the answer which the king sought.

Is it not wonderful to think how God goes before us to prepare the way? We go perhaps with trembling heart to seek the help we need, and lo, we find God's spirit has been there before us and has prepared the friend to speak the word of which we are so much in need.

Again a little later when Hezekiah received a profane and threatening letter from the hand of the foe which was encamped against Jerusalem he ventured no reply until he had taken it and spread it before the Lord in the tempie and had made the matter a subject of earnest prayer. Oh, that we might manifest the same simple, childlike spirit and spread before the Lord all the knotty problems of life. God would not fail us, but would give us the wisdom which would confound the mighty.

THE STORY.

CONDITIONS in Jerusalem were reaching a desperate state. The words of Rabshakeh, the general of the great Assyrian army which was encamped against the city, had struck terror into the hearts of everyone, and only a few stanch followers of King Hezekiah sustained him in his determination to make no sort of compromise with the enemy. In fact, there was rising throughout the city an undercurrent of sentiment in favor of accepting the offer of Rabshakeh. It were better, they reasoned, to yield while yet they might obtain mercy than to be put to the sword after the hosts of the Assyrians had swept over the city.

It was all well enough to talk about deliverance which God would send, but who was there that could not see that their case was hopeless and that the forces of Rabshakeh were drawing in closer upon the city every day?

Were not the words of this great Assyrian general true? Had not Hamath and Arphad and Sepharvaim been crushed by his mighty arm? Had not Samaria felt the force of his wrath? How then could Jerusalem hope to escape? Rabshakeh had challenged the city to provide warriors for 2,000 horses which he would furnish. Why, there were not half that number able to carry spear and ride upon the back of a charger. There was grim humor in the challenge of Rabshakeh, and it drove home more keenly than ever the hopeless weakness of the city.

It is not at all strange therefore in the presence of that powerful Assyrian army and the known helplessness of the city, that the words of the king and the encouragement of the prophet Isaiah did not carry much weight, and that there sprang up here and there all over the city smouldering fires which threatened to break out in open insurrection, which could have but one end, the throwing open of the gates of the city to the enemy.

In the palace itself the disaffection was strong and it was not long before a conspiracy was on foot to betray the city into the hands of Rabshakeh.

"What good this sackcloth, these vain prostrations and pleadings in the temple, this sending to the Prophet Isaiah?" they impatiently inquired. "Is not every moment in which we stand out against the demands of Rabshakeh, but adding to the weight of penalty which he will exact of the city when at last he shall succeed in breaking down the walls?"

And so they plotted together and sought opportunity to open negotiations with Rabshakeh, and the opportunity came when the messengers came with the final letter from the Assyrian general demanding the surrender of the city. One of their number succeeded in slipping out of the gate unobserved during the excitement and confusion attending the departure of the Assyrian messengers, and returned with them to the camp, a hint of the plan having been given to the messengers while they were at the palace. It was arranged that after making terms with Rabshakeh for the surrender of the city, they should return and at a signal agreed upon the city's gates should be thrown open, and the secreted bands of Rabshakeh's army should rush into the city and take possession.

When Hezekiah had received Rabshakeh's letter, a feeling almost of despair came over him and yet conscious that God alone could help in the desperate extremity which faced the city, Hezekiah took the letter and went alone into the house of the Lord and there gave himself to earnest prayer. Had not Isaiah the prophet sent him a message of encouragement weeks before when the peril first threatened the city, and had he not said that the city should be delivered from the hand of the Assyrian king. But with the coming of this last message and the continued strengthening of the position of the enemy before the city, a shadow of doubt began to creep into the heart of the king. Could God and would God deliver?

He read the letter over again aloud. How blasphemous it sounded. Surely he will not suffer such reproach against his name? And then as though he needed to reassure his own soul of the majesty and power of the God of his nation, he poured out his soul in adoration, exclaiming:

"O, Lord of Hosts, God of Israel, that dwellest between the cherubims, thou art the God, even thou alone, of all the kingdoms of the earth: thou hast made heaven and earth. Incline thine ear, O Lord, and hear; open thine eyes, O Lord, and see: and hear all the words of Sennacherib, which hath sent to reproach the living God."

As he prayed a new assurance came to his heart and when word came to him from Isaiah saying that the Lord would surely hear and deliver he felt more hopeful and cheerful than he had for weeks past.

The men who were in the conspiracy against the city wondered as they looked upon the calm face of the king, and felt not a little disconcerted, but they went ahead with their plans and that night everything was in readiness to carry out the surrender of the city in the morning.

But morning came and no sign came to open the gates. As the watchers on the wall looked toward the Assyrian camp they noted the deathlike stillness. Fear took possession of their hearts, and, forgetful of their plot, they fled to take the king word.

What could it mean? Where the day before all had been activity now all was silent as the grave.

"It is God's hand who would send deliverance according to his word," exclaimed Hezekiah, confidently. "Thou shalt go and see," he added, turning to the group of men who had brought him word.

They had plotted to betray the city and now were they to be driven into the very jaws of death itself? And they wondered what had become of their comrade in the conspiracy who had gone out to the Assyrian camp the night before and who was to have given them the signal that morning.

As though by way of answer as they reached the outskirts of the camp, they almost stumbled over the form of one whose garb told only too plainly that he was a Hebrew.

"It is he," they exclaimed together, a shudder passing over them. And a hasty look about revealed heaps of dead bodies on every hand.

"God has sent deliverance, indeed. And our brother would be alive to-day had we not doubted the king and the word which the Prophet Isaiah spoke."

The Uninvited Guest.

Uninvited guests who manage to "slip in" at dances, dinners and balls may no longer be admitted on "their faces."

This has been one of the hardest things to stop in social affairs. Men and women will walk into an affair dressed for the evening, and not be questioned whether or not they are invited. They even had the "check" to enter the dining hall unsuspected.

At a smart ball abroad the novel custom was adopted of requesting each guest to wear a tiny badge. Even the most prominent guests did this without any feeling of resentment.

Whether or not this will be taken up at the large, smart functions given over here remains to be seen. True it is that Philadelphia hostesses have had some trouble on that score, and they have discussed ways and means to prevent it.

KEEP THE SPARKS FLYING

TRADE UNIONISM

Its Methods and Its Goal.

THE trade union enables the fair employer—who, like the fair unionist, predominates—to estimate his labor on a living basis. This system is a good deal preferable to figuring on what his unfair competitor can procure his cheapest help for. Not only that, but it is a protection for the merchant. It enables the trade unionist to live as becomes an American citizen, and has a powerful influence in procuring fair compensation for the individual whose conscience will not permit him to join any combination in this free (?) competitive age. Again, the union headquarters act as a clearing-house for the employer. It is convenient to send there for additional help.

The trade union is not flawless by any means. It is a good deal easier to tear down than to build up, but the latter course applied with intelligence to the labor movement will overcome many of its deficiencies. The gains are greater than the losses. While the dominant trait of human nature is selfishness, just so long will we find both sides endeavoring to get the best of the industrial situation. The trade union has come to stay. It is a natural outgrowth of present-day conditions.

Aim of the Future

WHAT has been accomplished? The history of the labor movement during the last quarter of a century parallels in action and results the noblest of all permanent organizations, that grandest of human achievements, our republic, the United States of America. It has, by the unselfish, honest, energetic effort of her leaders; the stability and fundamental rightcousness of her cause, destroyed the barriers of ignorance and disdain, the injustice of prejudiced critics, and has made the great mass of the people believers in the sincerity and stability of its principles.

What has the future in store? If the history of the past acts as the guide for the future—and I know of no better guide than the lamp of experience—the results to be accomplished cannot but accord and merit a proper position in the progress and prosperity of our country, and be the factor for the preservation of the rights and ideals of a free and enlightened people. When the future records the achievements of the past; when the impartial verdict of the great events is rendered, the shape of its efforts weighed in the balance will be no mean proportion of the whole.

Determination of public issues in the referendum of public opinion is the aim of the future.—Peter W. Collins, President of the Boston Central Labor Union.

Labor Day

LABOR DAY has become an established institution, distinctly to the advancement of the welfare of one of the most important factors in the American prosperity and progress. It is a wholesome thing thus to set apart a certain day in the name of the workers of the country, as a recognition of their contribution to the advancement of the country and a tribute to them. It arrests national thought and concentrates attention upon the fact that this is a highly complex organization, with all the elements mutually dependent. The day is more than a holiday for the sake of rest. It affords an opportunity and it furnishes an incentive for reckoning up the situation at large from the broadest possible viewpoint. It is calculated, too, to make for a more intelligent appreciation by both sides of the great productive combination, the employer and the unemployed, of the conditions which should in justice and equity govern their relations. Every celebration of the day should score an advance toward practical lasting harmony, and thus toward the ideal state or social organization.

What Has Been Done

WHAT are the reforms that union labor is addressing itself to in its effort to reach the good time coming, and what means are being employed? In the first place it should be noted we have come a long way already. The hours of labor have been reduced from sunrise and sunset to ten and then to eight hours; Chinese immigration has been stopped, as also the importation of contract labor; the sweatshop has been eliminated in large measure and wages have been advanced. That is worth while. We have undertaken to abolish child labor and will not cease until it is accomplished and the child sent to school. These are some of the things we are working to accomplish. We wish to secure the initiative and referendum and we are diligently at work in every state to that end. The work is progressing excellently. The initiative and referendum once secured it will form an effective means toward other reforms.

Its Wisdom Shown

THE growth of organized labor in the United States is shown by the great increase in the membership of the American Federation of Labor, the most powerful body of wage-workers in the country, if not in the world. Organized labor is stronger in America than ever before. The cry for the open shop and the heated denunciations of the opponents of the boycott, the closed shop and the sympathetic strike is met on every hand by examples of the wisdom of collective bargaining on the part of workingmen when dealing with their employers and the continuance of union shops by cooler headed employers.

The Greatest Need

I CANNOT name the greatest achievement of the unions since the first Labor day, but two that I consider the greatest are the measures against child labor and the accomplishment of the eight-hour day.

Unions should in the future strive most for general adoption of the eight-hour day, for it means the advance of other workingmen's questions.—Francis J. Clarke, President of Marssachusetts Branch, American Federation of Labor.

"BAD LANDS" IN MONTANA.

Miles on Miles of Rugged Chasms, Fantastically Carved.

It seems to me that no human being can stand on that spot and view that marvelous labyrinth of wild nature without being thrilled by it. Instantly your thoughts fly to the Grand Canyon of the Colorado, as seen from Point Sublime, only this is in miniature. The fact that you stand on a sharp point, from which the world drops steeply away on three sides, is not the thing that is so profoundly impressive. It is the depth, the breadth and the awful wilderness of the maze of bad lands int which you look. Before you, and on either hand, there stretch miles upon miles of ragged chasms, divided and walled in by a thousand fantastic cliffs, and buttresses, and domes of naked hard pan that stubbornly defy the forces of erosion, and refuse to crumble down. In several places there are masses of earth architecture that remind one of the ruined castles on the Rhine. These bare walls are mostly of gray earth, not rock, and the carving of them has been most strangely done. It is only when you climb among them, and touch them, that the wonders of erosion are fully revealed.

The hard, dry earth has most stubbornly resisted the disintegrating action of the water, wind, heat and cold, and there are hundreds of earth cliffs nearly as smooth and as perpendicular as the brick walls of Harlem.

I dislike to estimate the total drop of these bad lands from the plateau to the waters of Snow creek, but I think it is about 800 feet.

After the first moments of spellbound wonder and amaze, you begin to pick out the geography of what lies before you. You see that the axis of all this wild waste of carved and furrowed earth is the level and very narrow valley of Snow creek, which comes down from the west. You can easily trace its course eastward to the point where it bends abruptly northward and runs into the Missouri, parallel with the last eight miles of Hell creek. In the creek bottom there is a sinuous string of cottonwood trees, aspens and willow brush.—Scribner.

Richest Family in Europe.

It is not generally known that the imperial family of Russia is the richest royal family in Europe, and derives its vast wealth from three sources—the state treasury, the imperial domains (formerly church lands), and the so-called "cabinet properties." A writer in Harper's Weekly gives some interesting facts. The state treasury pays out $7,000,000 per annum for the needs of the imperial house, principally for the maintenance of the palaces and the officials and servants attached to them. The reigning empress, for example, has an allowance of $100,000 per year, and the dowager empress the same. Every child born to the czar receives from birth to the age of 21 nearly $20,000 a year, while the heir to the throne receives annually, in addition to the maintenance of palaces, $50,000. Daughters receive a dowry of one million rubles when they marry.

Another Version.

Smithson—What is Browne's earning capacity?

Jones—It's never been tested. He's always been employed by the government.—Judge.

The Same Old Bore.

"Ah, Miss Wose," he lisped, "there is a time for all things."

"Yes," responded the weary girl with a yawn, "but sometimes don't seem to notice the clock."

And even then he waited until the cuckoo had cuckooed 12 times before he called for his hat and cane.

Where Platinum is Plentiful.

Sixty-five per cent. of America's output of platinum comes from the placer mines of northern California and southern Oregon.

MARKET REPORTS.

Cincinnati, Aug. 29.

CATTLE—Extra	$5 65	@	5 75
CALVES—Extra		@	7 50
HOGS—Choice	6 85	@	6 90
SHEEP—Extra	3 50	@	4 75
LAMBS—Spring	6 65	@	6 75
FLOUR—Spring pat.	5 85	@	6 10
WHEAT—No. 2 red	96½@		97½
CORN—No. 2 mixed	79	@	79½
OATS—No. 2 mixed	49½@		50
RYE—No. 2 choice	78	@	79
HAY—Ch. timothy	11 75	@	12 25
BUTTER—Dairy		@	15½
EGGS—Per doz	18	@	21
APPLES—Choice	3 00	@	3 50
POTATOES—Per bu.		@	1 00
TOBACCO—Burley	10 75	@	22 50

CHICAGO.

CORN—No. 2 mixed	78¾@		79
CORN—No. 2 mixed	87¾@		79
OATS—No. 2 mixed	51¼@		52
PORK—Prime mess	14 40	@	14 50
LARD—Prime		@	9 32½

NEW YORK.

FLOUR—Win. patent	5 20	@	5 50
WHEAT—No. 2 red	1 00½	@	1 01
CORN—No. 2 mixed		@	78½
OATS—No. 2 mixed		@	52
PORK—Prime mess	17 00	@	17 50
LARD—Steam	9 35	@	9 45

BALTIMORE.

WHEAT—No. 2 red		@	99¼
CORN—No. 2 mixed		@	83½
OATS—No. 2 mixed		@	53

LOUISVILLE.

WHEAT—No. 2 red		@	95
CORN—No. 2 mixed		@	82
OATS—No. 2 mixed		@	53½
HAY—Ch. timothy	11 50	@	12 00
HOGS—Extra		@	6 70
LARD—Steam		@	8 00

INDIANAPOLIS.

CATTLE—Prime		@	6 30
HOGS—Extra	6 40	@	6 70
SHEEP—Extra	3 50	@	5 00

G. G. Hughes,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
BURLINGTON, KY.
Will practice in all the courts. Prompt attention given to all business entrusted to me.

N. E. Riddell,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.
Prompt Attention given to Collections Will practice in all the courts.

S. Gaines,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.
Will practice in all the courts, and prompt attention given collections. Office—Over D. Rouse's Store.

D. E. Castleman,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.
Will practice in the Courts of Boone Kenton, Grant and Gallatin. Collections pushed energetically.

J. C. CLORE, W. W. DICKERSON
E. T. CLAYTON.
Clore, Dickerson & Clayton,
ATTORNEYS-at-LAW
Will practice in the State and U. S. Courts of Northern Ky., and Southwestern Ohio. Cincinnati Office: N. E. Cor. 6th & Vine; Phone, Main 2029.
Mr. Dickerson will spend a portion of his time at the Williamstown office.

BOONE CO. DEPOSIT BANK
(Incorporated 1886.)
CAPITAL..... $30,000
Surplus and undivided profits $7,000
—)o(—
Our facilities enable us to receive on favorable terms accounts of individuals and corporations. Collections promptly remitted for at Lowest Rates.

ERLANGER DEPOSIT BANK.
(INCORPORATED 1893.)
ERLANGER, - - KENTUCKY
Capital Stock paid in..... $50,000
Surplus,.. ..... $8,000
Careful attention given collections, and remittances promptly made. Deposit accounts solicited.

Dr. J. L. Adams,
DENTIST,
208 F. & T. Bank Building.
COVINGTON. - KY.
—will be in office—
AT ERLANGER EVERY THURSDAY.

W. E. VEST,
Real Estate Agent.
Farms Bought, Sold or Exchanged, Money to Loan on Real Estate, Notes bought, sold & Negotiated. All communications addressed to W. E. Vest, Walton, Ky.

CHAS. GARNETT,
AUCTIONEER.
Will be in Burlington every court day. Fees for selling stock reasonable. Public Sales given special attention.

INSURE AT HOME
The Farmers' Mutual Fire
INSURANCE COMPANY,
OF BOONE COUNTY,
is now completely organized and receiving applications for insurance.
Its RATES are LOWER
Than those of any other Company and gives the farmers of Boone Co.
HITHERTO UNKNOWN ADVANTAGE
in keeping their property insured.
Average cost of insurance on $1,000 for a period of five years is $9 45, less than one per cent per $1,000.
Every Farmer in the County
should take a policy at once.
Edgar Cropper, Pres., Burlington, Ky.
Noah Tanner, V Pres., Gunpowder, "
F. A. Uts, Treas., Florence, Ky.
Malchus Souther, Secy., "
R. F. D.—1, Ludlow, Ky.
R. B. Huey, Agent, Burlington, Ky.
J. E. Smith, Assessor, Burlington, "
Executive Board—Legrand Gaines, J. W. Conner, Solon Early.

F. W. Kassebaum & Son,
GRANITE & MARBLE
MONUMENTS,
Burial Vaults and Cemetery Work of all Kinds.
Building Stone, Flagging, Settees and Vases.
Office and Warerooms:
70 and 72 Main Street,
AURORA, IND.
(MA POPE Agent, - - Grant, Ky

C. L. GRIFFITH,
DEALER IN REAL ESTATE
and Negotiable Notes,
WALTON, KY.
If you want to buy or sell Town Property or Farms, write me.
Write for printed list.

FIREMEN WERE AT PICNIC

WHEN $2,000,000 BLAZE STARTED IN NEW ORLEANS CENTER.

Flames Gain Great Headway on Account of Water Supply Being Inadequate—Incendiarism Charged.

New Orleans, Aug. 31.—Fire which broke out in the center of the commercial district Sunday afternoon swept over portions of three blocks, destroying a large number of wholesale houses, manufacturing plants and small stores.

Originating at Bienville and Charles streets, the flames worked their way north as far as Conti street, and west toward Royal, bringing a loss of about $2,000,000 before they were finally subdued.

Several circumstances combined to give the fire a headway which proved hard to overcome.

At the time the alarm was turned in, shortly before 3 o'clock, the New Orleans firemen were in the midst of their annual picnic at a suburban park and the engines and patrols responded with a mere handful of men.

It was fully an hour before the department was in position to make any thing like a successful fight against the fire, and even then the handicap against it was added to by an inadequate supply of water.

The fire was one of the most spectacular that has occurred in New Orleans during recent years.

Two warehouses filled with wines and liquors were among the buildings destroyed by the fire.

As they burned the barrels of whisky and brandy exploded with thunderous roars which could be heard for blocks, and which shook the walls of adjoining buildings and endangered the lives of the firemen engaged in fighting the flames.

It was not until several hours had elapsed that the fire was gotten under control, and even then it continued to burn well into the night.

Among the establishments burned were: Central Glass Co.; George D. Scott, lighting and electrical instruments; Heidenheim, Levy & Weiss, shirt manufacturers; Hoehn & Dieth, wholesale millinery; Knost Commission Co.; Paul Gelpi & Sons, wholesale liquor dealers; New Orleans Junk Co.; Isidor Keiffer & Co., boots and shoes, and Thomas L. Harris, wholesale liquor dealer. The origin of the fire is thought to be incendiary.

HAUNTED BY SON'S IMAGE

Rich Farmer Who Had Mistaken Him For Wife's Admirer, Ended Life.

Clay City, Ill., Aug. 31.—Rendered temporarily insane by remorse for his act in killing his wife and wounding his son last June, whom he mistook for her admirer, Julius Turner, a wealthy farmer, committed suicide in his cell in the county jail here by hanging himself. He used his bed clothing as a death rope. Turner was 60 years old, a civil war veteran and reputed to be wealthy.

Mrs. Turner attended a church social and had made arrangements to meet her son there. Turner stood in a grove near the church when the pair arrived. He had a distinct look at his wife as she left the church door, but the face of his son was hidden as he appeared from the roadway. He saw only vaguely the form of a man standing close to his wife.

Drawing a revolver he glided to within a few feet of the couple and opened fire on them. The first bullet struck Mrs. Turner in the back. As she started to run another bullet struck her in the head.

Then the weapon was turned on her companion and two more shots rang out. One of the bullets struck the son in the groin and he fell unconscious beside the bleeding form of his mother. As Turner stooped down to look at the face of the man whom he suspected to be his wife's admirer he recognized his son.

Coal Mines To Be Shut Down.

Butte, Mont., Aug. 31.—After a two days' session in this city, lasting until late Sunday, the committee representing the United Mine Workers of Wyoming failed to reach a wage agreement with the operators, and, according to John J. Hart, spokesman for the mine owners, all the coal mines in Wyoming will be shut down Monday. About 7,000 men will be idle. The contention between the miners and operators is over a proposed reduction in wages amounting from 10 to 15 cents a day.

Drowned in Collision.

Hardin, Ill., Aug. 31.—A skiff containing five persons was cut in two Sunday night in the Illinois river by the yacht Mayflower and Mrs. May Appleman, of Alton, was drowned. She was knocked unconscious and sank immediately. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Combs, of St. Louis, were thrown into the water and Mrs. Combs sank. Her husband rescued her by diving.

Favors Limited Woman Suffrage.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 31.—President Eliot, of Harvard, has announced himself in favor of limited woman suffrage. This announcement is made in an expression of his opinion on form specifications of new charter for Boston.

Tolstoi's Plight.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 31.—Dr. Martinoff, the surgeon in attendance on Count Tolstoi, fears it will be necessary to amputate the writer's left foot, as phlebitis, or swelling of the inner membrane of a vein, has set in.

HER GOOD FORTUNE

After Years Spent in Vain Effort.

Mrs. Mary E. H. Rouse, of Cambridge, N. Y., says: "Five years ago I had a bad fall and it affected my kidneys. Severe pains in my back and hips became constant, and sharp twinges followed any exertion. The kidney secretions were badly disordered. I lost flesh and grew too weak to work. Though constantly using medicine I despaired of being cured until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. Then relief came quickly, and in a short time I was completely cured. I am now in excellent health."

Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

ABSENT-MINDED.

Old Gent—Here, you boy, what are you doing out here, fishing? Don't you know you ought to be at achool?

Small Boy—There now! I knew I'd forgotten something.

CURED HER CHILDREN.

Girls Suffered with Itching Eczema—Baby Had a Tender Skin, Too—Relied on Cuticura Remedies.

"Some years ago my three little girls had a very bad form of eczema. Itching eruptions formed on the backs of their heads which were simply covered. I tried almost everything, but failed. Then my mother recommended the Cuticura Remedies. I washed my children's heads with Cuticura Soap and then applied the wonderful ointment, Cuticura. I did this four or five times and I can say that they have been entirely cured. I have another baby who is so plump that the folds of skin on his neck were broken and even bled. I used Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment and the next morning the trouble had disappeared. Mme. Napoleon Ducceppe, 41 Duluth St., Montreal, Que., May 21, 1907."

A Unanimous Vote.

A German-American who had recently arrived at the estate of riches attended his first banquet. The wine was particularly vile, and so several gentlemen who were seated near the German were quite satisfied to have him empty the bottles that had been set apart for their common use. Neither the quality nor the quantity of the wine in the least disturbed the Teuton, and, after draining the last glass, he looked around jovially and said: "Shentlemen, I haf now drunken all your wine and saved you the trouble of trinking vat you did not like. I tink you ought to vote me a public tank." They did.—Lippincott's.

Too Much Afraid of Dirt.

It is quite true that "cleanliness is next to godliness," but in this day of fads and scientific frills the question is whether we are not getting altogether too afraid of a little dirt. Dirt has been defined as matter in the wrong place, and hygiene is the science of keeping it in the right place. But we are inclined to think that we are all a little bit too much up in the air on the matter of cleanliness; a little too afraid of coming in contact with the clean-smelling, kindly earth, and are in danger of becoming nasty-nice.—Washington Herald.

When the Little Man Scored.

A meek-looking little man with a large pasteboard box climbed on the car. As he did so he bumped slightly into a sleepy, corpulent passenger with a self-satisfied look and two little dabs of sidewhiskers. As the car rounded a curve the box rubbed against him again and he growled: "This is no freight car, is it?" "Nope," returned the meek little chap with the box, "and when you come right down to it, it ain't any cattle car, either, is it?"

REMAINS THE SAME.

Well Brewed Postum Always Palatable

The flavour of Postum, when boiled according to directions, is always the same—mild, distinctive, and palatable. It contains no harmful substance like caffeine, the drug in coffee, and hence may be used with benefit at all times.

"Believing that coffee was the cause of my torpid liver, sick headache and misery in many ways," writes an Ind. lady, "I quit and bought a package of Postum about a year ago.

"My husband and I have been so well pleased that we have continued to drink Postum ever since. We like the taste of Postum better than coffee, as it has always the same pleasant flavour, while coffee changes its taste with about every new combination or blend.

"Since using Postum I have had no more attacks of gall colic, the heaviness has left my chest, and the old, common, every-day headache is a thing unknown." "There's a Reason."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

THE LAND OF GRAIN

—BY—

JAMES OLIVER CURWOOD

Author of "American Farmers Building a New Nation in the North"—"Canada—The Land of Greater Hope"—"The Invasion of Canada by American Farmers"—"A Thousand Miles on Horseback Across the Dominion Provinces," Etc., Etc.

Not so very many years ago the majority of people in the United States laughed at the prediction that the day was coming when Western Canada would far outstrip this country in the raising of grain—when, in other words, it would become the great bread-basket of the world. During the past three or four years the enormous production of grain in the Dominion West has thinned the ranks of those who doubted the destiny of Canada's vast grain growing regions; the crops of this year will dispel the doubts of the remaining few. From Winnipeg westward to the foothills of Alberta, over a country nearly a thousand miles in width, the grain production this year will be something to almost stagger the belief of those hundreds of thousands of American farmers whose average yield is not more than from ten to fifteen bushels of wheat to the acre, and who are finding that their product is also outclassed in quality by that of their northern neighbors.

The enormous grain crop of this year in the Canadian West may truthfully be said to be the production of "a few pioneers." Only a small percentage of the innumbered millions of acres of grain land are under cultivation, notwithstanding the fact that tens of thousands of homesteads were taken up last year. And yet, when all the figures are in, it will be found that the settlers of the western prairies have raised this year more than 125,000,000 bushels of wheat, 100,000,000 bushels of oats and 25,000,000 bushels of barley. It has been a "fortune making year" for thousands of American farmers who two or three years ago owned hardly more than the clothes upon their backs, and whose bumper crops from their homesteads will yield them this season anywhere from $1,500 to $2,500 each, more money than many of them have seen at one time in all their lives.

Very recently I passed through the western provinces from Winnipeg to Calgary, and in the words of a fellow passenger, I was astonished by what he saw from the car windows in Manitoba, we were, metaphorically speaking, in a "land of milk and honey." The country was one great sweep of ripening grain. In fact, so enormous was the crop, that at the time there were grave doubts as to the possibility of GETTING ENOUGH BINDER TWINE TO SUPPLY THE DEMAND. A situation like this has never before been known in the agricultural history of any country.

Before I made my first trip through the Dominion west I doubted very much the stories that I had heard of this so-called "grain wonderland" across the border. I believed, as unnumbered thousands of others believed, that the stories were circulated mostly to induce immigration. I quickly found that I was wrong. As one Alberta farmer said to me a few weeks ago, "If the whole truth were told about this country I don't suppose you could find one American in ten who would believe it."

This year the prospects of the wheat crop of Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Alberta are an average of over TWENTY-FIVE BUSHELS TO THE ACRE, and that this grain is far superior to that raised in the states is proved by our own government statistics, which show that American millers are importing millions of bushels of it "Canadian hard" to mix with the home product in order that THIS HOME PRODUCT MAY BE RAISED TO THE REQUIRED STANDARD. It is a peculiar fact that while the Dominion Government is anxious for its western provinces to fill up with the very best of immigrants, there has been no blatant or sensational advertising of those lands. For this reason it is probable that not one American farmer out of fifty knows that Canada wheat now holds the world's record of value—that, in other words, it is the best wheat on earth, and that more of it is grown to the acre than anywhere else in the world.

A brief study of climatic conditions, and those things which go to make a climate, will show that the farther one travels northward from the Montana border the milder the climate becomes—up to a certain point. In other words, the climate at Edmonton, Alberta, is far better than that of Denver, 1,500 miles south; and while thousands of cattle and sheep are dying because of the severity of the winters in Wyoming, Montana and other western states, the cattle, sheep and horses of Alberta GRAZE ON THE RANGES ALL WINTER WITH ABSOLUTELY NO SHELTER. This is all largely because sea-currents and air-currents have to do with the making of the climate of temperate regions. For instance, why is it that California possesses such a beautiful climate, with no winter at all, while the New England states on a parallel with it have practically six months of winter out of twelve?

It is because of that great sweep of warm water known as the "Japan current," and this same current not only affects the westernmost of the Dominion provinces, but added to its influence are what are known as the "chinook winds"—steady and undeviating air-currents which sweep over the great wheat regions of Western Canada. There are good scientific reasons why these regions are capable of producing better crops than our own western and central states, but best of all are the proofs of it in actual results. This year, for instance, as high as one hundred bushels of oats to the acre will be gathered in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta, and some wheat will go AS HIGH AS FIFTY BUSHELS TO THE ACRE, though of course this is an unusual yield.

Last spring it was widely advertised in American papers that Alberta's winter wheat crop was a failure. In fact, this is Alberta's banner year in grain production, as it is Saskatchewan's and Manitoba's, and from figures already in it is estimated that Alberta's wheat will yield on an average of THIRTY-FIVE BUSHELS TO THE ACRE. In many parts of the province returns will show a yield of as high as FIFTY bushels to the acre and it is freely predicted by many that when the official figures are in a yield of at least forty-five instead of thirty-five bushels to the acre will be shown.

At the time of my last journey through the Canadian West, when my purpose was largely to secure statistical matter for book use, I solicited letters from American settlers in all parts of the three provinces, and most of these make most interesting reading. The letter was written by A. Kaltenbrunner, whose postoffice address is Regina, Saskatchewan.

"A few years ago," he says, "I took up a homestead for myself and also one for my son. The half section which we own is between Rouleau and Drinkwater, adjoining the Moosejaw creek, and is a low, level and heavy land. Last year we put in 100 acres of wheat which went 25 bushels to the acre. Every bushel of it was 'No. 1.' That means the best wheat that can be raised on earth—worth 90 cents a bushel at the nearest elevators. We also threshed 9,000 bushels of first class oats out of 160 acres. Eighty acres was fall plowing AND YIELDED NINETY BUSHELS TO THE ACRE. We got 53 cents a bushel clear. All our grain was cut in the last week of the month of August. We will make more money out of our crops this year than last. For myself, I feel compelled to say that Western Canada crops cannot be checked, even by unusual conditions."

An itemized account shows a single year's earnings of this settler and his son to be as follows:

2,500 bushels of wheat at 90 cents a bushel	$2,250
9,000 bushels of oats at 53 cents a buahel	4,770
Total	$7,020

It will be seen by the above that this man's oat crop was worth twice as much as his wheat crop. While the provinces of western Canada will for all time to come be the world's greatest wheat growing regions, oats are running the former grain a close race for supremacy. The soil and climatic conditions in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta are particularly favorable to the production of oats, and this grain, like the wheat, runs a far greater crop to the acre than in even the best grain producing states of the union. Ninety bushels to the acre is not an unusual yield, whole homesteads frequently running this average. And this is not the only advantage Western Canada oats have over those of the United States, for in weight they run between forty and fifty pounds to the bushel, while No. 1 wheat goes to sixty-two pounds to the buahel. In fact, so heavy is Canadian grain of all kinds, and especially the wheat, that throughout the west one will see cars with great placards upon them, which read:

"This car is not to be filled to capacity with Alberta wheat."

When I made my first trip through the Canadian West a few years ago I found thousands of settlers living in rude shacks, tent sheltera and homes of loga and clay. Today one will find these old "homes" acattered from Manitoba to the Rockies, but they are no longer used by human tenanta. Modern homes have taken their place—for it has come to be a common seying in these great grain regions that, "The first year a settler is in the land he earns a living; the second he has money enough to build himself a modern home and barns; the third he is independent." And as extreme as this atatement may seem to those hundreda of thousands of American farmers who strive for a meager existence, it is absolutely true. I am an American, as patriotic, I believe, as most of our people—but even at that I cannot but wish that these people, whose lives are such an endless and unhappy grind, might know of the new life that is awaiting them in this last great west—this "land of greater hope," where the farmer is king, and where the wealth all rests in his hands. As one American farmer said to me, "It is hard to pull up stakes and move a couple of thousand miles." And so it is—or at least it appears to be. But in a month it can be done. And the first year, when the new settler reaps a greater harvest than he has ever possessed before he will rise with 200,000 others of his people in Western Canada and thank the government that has given him, free of cost, a new life, a new home, and new hopes—which has made of him, in fact, "A man among men, a possessor of wealth among his people."

The superior man, being virtuous, is free from anxieties; wise, he is free from perplexities; bold, he is free from fear.—Confucius.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.
For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25cts. bottle.

Gossips talk about others and bores talk about themselves.

WHAT THE TRADE MARK MEANS TO THE BUYER

Few people realize the importance of the words "Trade Mark" stamped on the goods they buy. If they did it would save them many a dollar spent for worthless gooda and put a lot of unscrupulous manufactnrers out of the business.

When a manufacturer adopts a trade mark he assumes the entire responsibility for the merit of his product. He takes his business reputation in his hands—out in the limelight—"on the square" with the buyer of his goods, with the dealer, and with himself.

The other manufacturer—the one who holds out "inducements," offering to brand all gooda purchased with each local dealer's brand—sidesteps responsibility, and when these inferior gooda "come back" it's the local dealer that must pay the penalty.

A good example of the kind of protection afforded the public by a trade mark is that offered in connection with National Lead Company's advertising of pure White Lead as the best paint material.

That the Dutch Boy Painter trade mark is an absolute guaranty of purity in White Lead is proved to the most skeptical by the offer National Lead Company make to send free to any address a blow-pipe and instructions how to test the white lead for themselves. The testing outfit is being sent ont from the New York office of the company, Woodbridge Building.

FULLY FILLED THE BILL.

Aunt Mandy Was Thoroughly Satisfied with New Husband.

Aunt Mandy is an old colored woman who for years has done washing for several families. She has had several matrimonial experiences, and when her last husband died one of her customers attempted to condole with her.

"I was very sorry to hear of your husband's death, Aunt Mandy," she said.

"Ya'as, ma'am," said Aunt Mandy. "He was a pow'ful good man."

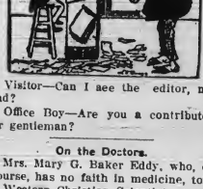
"What did he die of?"

"Ah really don't know, ma'am."

"You don't know- Gracious! Couldn't the doctor tell you?"

"Ah didn't have no doctah, ma'am," said Aunt Mandy. "He jes done died a natch'ral death."

It wasn't long, however, before Aunt Mandy had another husband.



"I hear you are married again," remarked her patron one day.

"Ya'as, ma'am," giggled Aunt Mandy. "I was done married las' Sunday."

"And is your new husband equal to the last?"

"Ya'as, indeedy, ma'am," said Aunt Mandy. "He's jes as equal, if not equalier."

WHICH?

Visitor—Can I see the editor, my lad?

Office Boy—Are you a contributor or gentleman?

On the Doctors.

Mrs. Mary G. Baker Eddy, who, of course, has no faith in medicine, told a Western Christian Scientist, at one of her latest audiences, an anecdote about a friend of hers.

This friend, a thin and nervous woman, could not sleep. She visited her physician and the man said:

"Do you eat anything just before going to bed?"

"Oh, no, doctor," the patient replied.

"Well," said the physician, "just keep a pitcher of milk and some biscuit beside you, and every night, the last thing you do, make a light meal."

"But doctor," cried the lady, "you told me on no account to eat anything before retiring."

"Pooh, pooh," said the doctor, "that was three months ago. Science has made enormous strides since then."

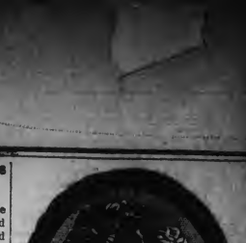
STATE OF OHIO CITY OF TOLEDO, } ss.
LUCAS COUNTY.
FRANK J. CHENEY makes oath that he is senior partner of the firm of F. J. CHENEY & Co., doing business in the City of Toledo, County and State aforesaid, and that said firm will pay the sum of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for each and every case of CATARRH that cannot be cured by the use of HALL'S CATARRH CURE.
FRANK J. CHENEY.
Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence, this 6th day of December, A. D., 188.
{ SEAL } A. W. GLEASON, NOTARY PUBLIC.
Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally and acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for testimonials, free.
F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.
Sold by all Druggists, 75c.

Mentally Sound.

The proud beauty eyed him with scorn.

"What!" she exclaimed. "Do you think I would marry a dried up, insignificant, homely little man like you? You must be crazy!"

"No, Miss Pinkle," he said, looking around for his hat; "my mind is all right, but you have convinced me that it's in the wrong body."



Same Thing.

"Miss Bloomer seems to keep her youth still," remarked Miss Goode.

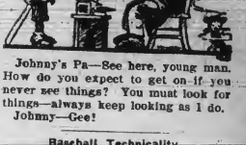
"Well," replied Miss Chellus, "she keeps her age quiet."

Foot Ache—Use Allen's Foot-Ease Over 30,000 testimonials. Refuse imitations. Send for free trial package. A. S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

Being bad all the time is almost as monotonous as being good.

This woman says that sick women should not fail to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as she did.

Mrs. A. Gregory, of 2355 Lawrence St., Denver, Col., writes to Mrs. Pinkham:



"I was practically an invalid for six years, on account of female troubles. I underwent an operation by the doctor's advice, but in a few months I was worse than before. A friend advised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it restored me to perfect health, such as I have not enjoyed in many years. Any woman suffering as I did with backache, bearing-down pains, and periodic pains, should not fail to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

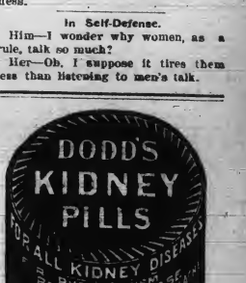
For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

WHAT DID JOHNNY KEAN?

Johnny's Pa—See here, young man. How do you expect to get on if you never see things? You must look for things—always keep looking as I do.

Johnny—Gee!



Baseball Technicality.

A few weeks ago some boys were playing ball in an apartment house yard. A colored waiter came out of the kitchen and in a very cross manner told them to stop right away. One boy, who had gone to get a drink came back and found the others making ready to leave; he asked, wonderingly, "What is the matter?" and another one calmly answered, "the game was called off on account of darkness.

In Self-Defence.

Him—I wonder why women, as a rule, talk so much?

Her—Oh, I suppose it tires them less than listening to men's talk.

SICK HEADACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Positively cured by these Little Pills.

They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, TORPID LIVER. They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable.

SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRICE.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Genuine Must Bear Fac-Simile Signature

Brent Good

REFUSE SUBSTITUTES.

Out They Go

To Eastern Colorado. We have the best and last crop of grain. Irrigable lands suitable for raising all kinds of crops in abundance. Write or call on us if you want a good farm or an investment that will make you some money.

ROWE-BEIDE INVESTMENT COMPANY
15 North 6th Street 1040 17th Street
Minneapolis, Minn. Denver, Colorado

KNOWN AND RELIABLE
PLANTEN'S C & C BLACK CAPSULES
SUPPLY DRUGGISTS
N. PLANTEN & SON, NEW YORK

Inflamed eyes, sore eyes, use Thompson's Eye Water

WALTON DEPARTMENT.

D. B. WALLACE, Manager.

Hand your news items to Mr. D. B. Wallace at the Walton Equitable Bank and Trust Co.'s building. He is also authorized to receive subscriptions and collect other accounts.

Master Dean Richards, of Warsaw, was the guest of friends here last Monday.

For Sale—Fine Jersey cow and calf, registered stock. D. A. Lunsford, Walton, Ky.

Hons. R. B. Brown, of Warsaw, and John S. Gaunt, of Louisville, were here on business Friday.

Dr. W. H. Blanton, of Erlanger, a retired physician, was here last Tuesday mingling with his many old friends.

Mrs. J. T. Blackburn and son, Albert, of Louisville, are the guests of Mrs. J. T. Boulton, arriving here last Sunday.

Misses Nannie and Johnnie May Terrill, of Petersburg, were guests of their sister, Mrs. Scott Chambers and family, last week, and attended the fair.

Monday of last week Mr. and Mrs. R. F. DeMoisey delightfully entertained with a dining the following: Rev. Andrews, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Ratcliff, Wilmott Kinsler and Fred Adams, the latter from Ohio.

D. B. Wallace, who has been very sick at his home in Warsaw, with typhoid fever, is improving slowly but it will be several weeks yet before he can resume his position as cashier of the Equitable Bank and Trust Company.

Miss Anna Johnson, a charming young lady of Glencoe, visited her grandmother, Mrs. Jane E. Johnson, from Friday until Tuesday and attended the Boone county fair at Florence. She visited in Cincinnati before returning home.

Mrs. B. B. Allphin leaves today, Wednesday, for Tuscon, Arizona, to visit her son, Dr. James Allphin, who went to Arizona several months ago for the benefit of his health. Mrs. Aliphin will probably stay there throughout the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Gardt, of Warsaw, was here Thursday, visiting the latter's uncle, J. R. Wallace. They were the guests of Mr. Gardt's brother, Joseph Gardt's, jr., near Verona, several days and attended the Boone county fair at Florence, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. DeKalb Carisle and son Howard, of Carrollton, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Allphin, Saturday. Mr. Carlisle is a fine gentleman and is one of Uncle Sam's employes, being government storekeeper gauger in the Sixth revenue district.

W. E. Sullivan, of Williamstown, was here last Tuesday on business. He is one of Williamstown's best citizens and a sterling business man. He has very extensive connection with banking interests, being a director and stockholder in numerous banks in a number of states.

Mr. R. K. Finnell and family moved from Walton to Lexington, last Thursday, where they will make their future home. Mr. Finnell, who is a freight conductor on the Q. & C. Railway finds Lexington more convenient to his work as he has a run between Georgetown and Lexington.

There will be work in the Entered Apprentice degree by Walton lodge, F. & A. M., next Friday night, Sept. 4th. This lodge has changed its place of meeting from the old hall over Smith's drug store to the beautiful new Odd-Fellows' Hall over Robt. W. Jones' store, having rented the privilege of meeting in this hall from the Odd-Fellows for the current year.

Walton was almost depopulated the latter part of last week—nearly four-fifths of our citizens attended the old beloved Boone county fair at Florence. This fair is one of the events in the lives of the average citizen of this county every year and is looked forward to with great pleasurable anticipation, where they can meet and mingle with old friends and make new ones.

Miss Mary A. Thompson, of Burlington, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Smith, last week. Miss Thompson is one of the oldest teachers in the State, having devoted her whole life to education of her fellow creatures. Some of her pupils whom she has taught have grandchildren, which gives an idea of her long and noble work. Mrs. Smith was one of her pupils, and took great delight in entertaining her old teacher.

Rev. J. W. Rogers and Elder D. T. Buck attended the Grant county Christian church convention at Dry Ridge last Saturday and Sunday. A fine basket dinner was given on each day. It was one of the best conventions in years; more mission and Sunday school work being done than at any other meeting. The next convention will be held with Mt. Pleasant church. There were eleven churches represented with a membership of 1,100.

Rev. J. W. Rogers attended a meeting of the Royal Arch Masons at Covington on the 28th of August, of Covington Chapter No. 85, R. A. M. Three candidates were given the Mark Master's degree. He says it was the most perfect work he ever witnessed. After the work a most elaborate banquet was given the companions and visitors. Eighty-six places were laid for the assemblage. This was also the celebration of the sixtieth anniversary of this chapter.

A very pleasant event occurred at the home of George Sanders on High street, Sunday, when a number of his relatives and friends gathered at his hospitable home to celebrate his 68th anniversary. A fine dinner was served and the day was spent in pleasant social conversation. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. George Sanders, Clifford Sanders, Mr. and Mrs. Omer Sanders, son and daughter, Lee and Miss Louise; Mr and Mrs. David Manuel and son, Russell, and Miss Lillian Graham.

Mr. D. L. McGoldrick and little son, Charles, leave today, Wednesday for Billings, Montana, where they go to make their future home. She will visit her mother Mrs. John Haydon, preparatory to getting a house to go to housekeeping. Mr. McGoldrick will follow in about a month. He has been a valued employe of the Consolidated Telephone Co., and has a host of friends here who regret his departure but wish him and his family a safe journey, and prosperity in their new home.

Following is the standing of those member of the Walton Tennis Club, who have taken an active part in the contest for position: Dr. B. W. Stallard, 1st; Leslie Jones, 2d; Dr. J. G. Slater, 3d; Wayne Byland, 4th; Robert Byland, 5th; Ray Byland, 6th. This contest was inaugurated two weeks ago, and the players are evincing much interest. None of the leaders are at all sure of retaining their position, and almost every day someone falls victim to some aspiring contestant below him.

A. W. Scott and wife left here Thursday for Owenton, where Mr. Scott has a fine position with the Owen County Telephone Company, owned by Judge John M. Lassing. They will make their home at Owenton. Mr. Scott has been general construction manager for the Consolidated Telephone Company here for the past four months, and made many friends while here. The construction work on the Consolidated is about done and this line is now one of the finest in the country.

G. L. Miller, of Big Bone, was here Saturday enroute to Cincinnati where he was joined by his wife and Tom Benny Johnson and wife and granddaughter, Miss Katie Johnson, and left the same evening for Toledo, Ohio, where they will attend the national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic. The session begins Monday and will last three days. After the meeting they will probably take a trip on the lakes, going up as far as Mackinac Island through the chain of lakes—St. Clair, Erie and Huron.

S. E. Hogsett, of Crittenden, Grant county, was here on business Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Hogsett and family consisting of three daughters, Misses Mary, Boyd and Nothy and Mrs. Mattie Hogsett Menefee, leave for Pheonix, Arizona, tomorrow, Thursday, stopping enroute at Rushville, Ind., for several days where they will be joined by Mr. Hogsett's nephew, Richard Hogsett, and then continue their trip. The latter is a resident of Pheonix, where he holds a nice position in a large bank. Mr. Hogsett thinks there is no better country for health and money making than Arizona.

Recently, while H. C. Diers, of this place, general agent for the Farmers Nursery Company, of Tippecanoe, Ohio, was in Carroll county on business, he discovered an apple tree fifty years old. One of the most remarkable features about the tree is that it has never failed to bear fruit since it reached a bearing age. The fruit is a large, red stripped apple, very luscious and keeps until May. It is located on the farm of A. T. Spicer, near Eagle Station. Mr. Diers intends to propogate the species and has made arrangements with his nursery to bud a thousand on two-year-old seedling apple trees, thereby introducing one of the best species of apples ever produced in this State.

The public school at Walton will open Monday, September 14th. Owing to the increase in the enrollment, last year, the board has deemed it necessary to employ an extra teacher, and, by so doing, they can offer non-resident pupils better service. The teachers for this year are, H. C. Wayman, principal; C. O. Morgan, assistant principal; Miss Anna Hudson, intermediate; Miss Nannie Chambers, preparatory; Miss Jean Chambers, intermediate; Miss Mary Rouse, primary; Miss Carrie Smith, music; Miss Madeline Ritter, elocution. Pupils are earnestly requested to come the first day, and bring their parents to chapel Monday, September 14th, 1908.

Chicken thieves paid another visit to the hen houses near Walton, last Tuesday night, and relieved Eli Cotton of the care of about three dozen springers. It is the opinion of our people that there is an organized gang of chicken thieves from the city who make regular onslaughts on the coops of those living in the rural section. One lady has surrounded her hen house with tin cans, barbed wire and a bull dog. The cans are intended to make a racket when the thief comes in contact with them, the wire to trip them up and the bull dog to do the rest. As yet there has been no disturbances in that quarter and we hope there will not be if the thieves are successful as the writer has a table interest in the chickens.

Charles S. Chambers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Chambers, of this place, who has been on a foreign trip through England, Ireland, Scotland, France and skirting the border of a few other countries, arrived home here Monday. He says he had a most delightful trip and the sights he saw and experiences it would take a long while to tell. He says as a rule the Americans are the prey of all foreigners as is well known, with one exception and that is Scotland. He says in that country they do not take advantage of the ignorance of the American as to the exchange value of money; that when one hands a Scotchman a piece of money to buy any article he can put his money in his pocket without counting it and rest assured that he has received the right change. Consequently he enjoyed himself more in Scotland than in any other country he visited.

The Rabbit Hash Horse Company's colt show will take place at Rabbit Hash on the afternoon of Saturday, September 5, 1908, at which time a premium of $15 will be given to each, the best heavy draft colt, and the best general purpose colt. A premium of $10 will also be given the best mule colt. The colts to be of the 1907 get of the Company's horse and jack.

C. G. RIDDELL, President.

We desire to extend our heartfelt thanks to the many friends and neighbors, who were so kind, and assisted us so much, during the fatal illness of our little boy.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Bachelor.

Primary Election Notice!

Resolutions adopted by the Boone County Democratic Committee at a meeting held in Burlington, Ky., on August 10th, 1908:

Be it resolved that for the purpose of nominating the Democratic Candidates for County Offices in this county to be voted for at the November Election, 1909, a Primary Election to be held at the various voting precincts throughout the county, on between the hours of 6 a. m. and 4 p. m., standard time.

Tuesday, Nov. 3d, 1908,

It is the purpose of this committee to secure the full, fair and free expression of the will of the people in selecting their nominee, and it is therefore ordered that this primary election be held under the rules and regulations fixed by the Statute governing primary elections, and it is further ordered that to prevent even the possibility of fraud, bribery or corruption in said primary, certain additional safeguards are adopted and incorporated in this order and call for a primary.

The additional safeguards herein provided for are as follows:

1st. Before any Democrat can become a candidate to be voted for in this primary in addition to paying his assessed share of expenses for conducting same, he shall subscribe to an oath to the effect that he has not and will not either personally or by his direction or by his friends with his knowledge and consent either directly or indirectly, give, loan or promise to any voter or anyone for any voter, money, property, spirituous, vinous or malt liquors, soft drinks, cigars or anything of value for the purpose of promoting or influencing his election. The vote of said candidate thus offending shall be thrown out and not counted and he shall not be declared the nominee. No candidate will be permitted to hire any person or persons to work for him or hire conveyances of any kind to carry voters to the polls, or to pay for meals, necessaries or luxuries of any kind or to pay a voter for loss of time.

2nd. No voter who has violated any of the provisions of Article 1 shall be permitted to vote in this primary when the officers conducting this primary shall be satisfied by affidavit or personal knowledge that he has done so; and in any event where his vote is challenged he shall not be permitted to vote until he has subscribed to an oath to the effect that he has not violated any of the provisions of Article 1, and said oath shall be preserved by the officers of the primary and returned by them to the County Committee for its preservation and use before the grand jury if necessary. No person shall be allowed to vote unless he pledges himself to support the nominee of this primary.

In this primary all known Democrats of lawful age, and all voters who shall certify that they have voted the regular Democratic ticket at this election, and all voters who will be of lawful age at the regular election held in 1909, provided they pledge themselves to support the nominees of the primary, shall be permitted to vote who have not violated the provisions of Article 1 above.

It is the sense of this committee that it will cost $250 to conduct this primary, and the candidates announcing will be required to deposit with the Chairman of this committee not later than October 19, 1908, their proportionate shares of the same. In order to raise the necessary amount to hold this primary election, it is the sense of the committee that each candidate for the different offices shall be required to pay his prorata of the amount assessed for each different office to be filled, as follows: Sheriff, $50; Assessor, $40; County Clerk, $40; Circuit Clerk, $25; County Attorney, $25; Superintendent of Schools, $30; County Judge, $30; Representative, $20; Surveyor, $10; Jailer, $5; Coroner, $5; Justice of the Peace, $1. If any of the above is left after all the expenses of the election is paid, the said remainder shall be divided prorata among the different offices to be filled.

In case there shall be but one candidate announced and paid his assessment on October 19, 1908, for any office, then he shall be declared the nominee for such office by the Committee, and certificate of nomination issued to him, and that office shall not appear on the ballot.

Each candidate shall be entitled to a challenger at the polls and an inspector at the count.

When the polls are closed the votes shall be counted by the officers of the election in the presence of the inspectors and the ballots, stub books, spoiled, mutilated and questioned ballots and all affidavits taken by said officers of election shall be certified to the County Committee within the time and manner fixed by law regulating the same.

The County Committee shall meet in Burlington on the third day after the election and canvass the result of said election in the county and shall hear and determine same together with all evidence that may be before them of any violation of any of the provisions of this call by any candidate, and issue certificates to the successful candidates.

The candidate receiving the highest number of votes in said primary shall be declared the nominee, and his nomination certified as the law directs, unless such candidate is shown by his oath or other evidence to have violated the provisions of this call, in which event he shall be denied a certificate and this Committee shall thereupon declare the candidate receiving the next highest vote the nominee provided he has complied with this call.

The following shall be the form of the oath above provided for:

OATH FOR CANDIDATE UPON ANNOUNCEMENT:

I.....desire to become a candidate for.....in this County before the primary, and as an evidence of my good faith and desire to co-operate with the County Committee, I hereby bind myself to abide by the rules and regulations adopted by said Committee to govern said primary, and especially do I agree that I have not and will not either personally or through my friends directly or indirectly, give, loan or promise to any voter or anyone for any voter, money, property, spirituous, vinous or malt liquors, soft drinks, cigars or anything of value for the purpose of promoting or influencing my election, nor will I permit the same to be done for me by anyone nor will I reimburse anyone for any money so expended in my behalf if I should afterwards learn that it had been done.

OATH FOR CANDIDATE BEFORE RECEIVING CERTIFICATE.

I.....solemnly swear that I have not violated any of the provisions of the call governing this primary and especially that I have not directly or indirectly used money, liquors, cigars or property of any kind for the purpose of influencing or promoting my election, nor have I knowingly, permitted same to be done nor will I reimburse anyone so offending if it shall hereafter develop that such has been the case.

OATH FOR VOTER:

I.....swear that I am a legal voter in.....precinct in.....county, and that I am affiliated with the Democratic party, that I have not used, money, property, liquors, cigars or other things of value either directly or indirectly for the purpose of promoting the interest of any candidate before said primary.

Each of these oaths shall be taken before someone authorized to administer an oath in this Commonwealth.

This shall be published in the Boone County RECORDER four issues.

The position of the names of the candidates on the ballots shall be chosen by lot.

J. B. CLOUD, Secretary. JAS. A. DUNCAN, Chairman.

Jewelry
Just a Little Better.

We are not satisfied to show Jewelry as good as others show. It is our aim to offer you something better, something different. Excellence of workmanship, beauty and exclusiveness of design and the very best wearing qualities characterize every piece—and with our moderate prices you can buy far more economically here than elsewhere.

Motch,
The Jeweler,
613 MADISON,
Covington, Ky.

Going-Out-Of
Buisness Sale!

On account of ill health I will sell out, and offer the following property for sale—Store House, Frame House, Barn and garden, 1 lot 50 ft. square. Stock of General Merchandise.
HENRY OELSNER,
Florence, Ky

Rogers Bros,
General Merchants,
BELLEVUE, KY.
Keep on hand a General Stock of MERCHANDISE.
Coal Kept in the Yard.
Country Produce taken in Trade.

BOONE HIGH SCHOOL

Do your High School work at home where teachers will take especial interest in you. This School offers the regular four years High School and the eight years Common School Courses.

TUITION:
High School Course...$40.00
Common School Course..$25.00
Per Session.
Two well qualified teachers besides the Superintendent.
School Opens Sept. 14th.
For Particulars write to
EDGAR C. RILEY, Supt.,
BURLINGTON, KY.

Fisher's Liniment

wont kill potato bugs or the dog But it will stop that Diarrhoea, Cholera Morbus, Cramps, Headache and Colic. It's worth the money.
SOLD 29½ YEARS.
Fisher's Liniment is sold by druggists and dealers thru Boone and parts of Kenton and Grant counties.
25 and 50 Cents.

DR. L. H. CRISLER,
VETERINARY SURGEON.
Residence 1552 Scott St.,
COVINGTON, - - KENTUCKY.
Phone, South 1248.

R. O. HUGHES,
—SURVEYOR,—
RICHWOOD, - KY.
Am prepared to do, and will answer all calls for surveying in Boone and adjoining counties. Over 20 years experience as a practical surveyor

J. Bullock & Son,
PRACTICAL TAILORS,
HEBRON, - KENTUCKY.
Our Spring and Summer samples are ready for inspection and we invite you to call and see them and learn the prices.
Suits from.....$14.00 up.
Pants from.....$3.00 up.
All work guaranteed and done under my own supervision.
J. Bullock & Son,
HEBRON, KY.

Dr. L. E. ROUSE,

DENTIST,
Will be at Burlington on Monday of each week; Union on Tuesday, balance of time at my office in Masonic Building. LUDLOW, KY.

Administratrors Notice.
All persons indebted to the estate of Z. T. Baker, deceased, must come forward and settle, and all those having claims against said estate must present them to the undersigned proven according to law.
N. E. RIDDELL, Admr.,
Burlington, Ky.

H. C. BLACK,
VETERINARY SURGEON,
WALTON, KENTUCKY.
Treats all diseases pertaining to animals. Prompt attention given to all calls. Telephone connections.

RIDGEVIEW STOCK FARM
Boone County, Ky.
BREEDER OF
Aberdeen-Angus Cattle and Duroc Jersey Swine.
Stock for Sale. Address or call
W. W. COCHRAN, Mgr. - - Delhi, Ohio.
(The Chambers Farm.)

"Always Reliable."
W. N. HIND & CO.
Carpets, Furniture, Stoves,
210-12 W. Fifth Street,
Cincinnati, - Ohio.

Grocery For Sale.

I desire to sell, privately, my entire Stock of Groceries and Fixtures, &c., in Union, Ky
N. W. BURKETT, Union, Ky.

Administrators Notice.

All persons indebted to the estate of Thos B. Whitaker, dec'd, will come forward and settle at once, and those having claims against said estate will present them to the undersigned properly proven.
J. M. GRANT, Administrator
with will annexed.

TAX-PAYERS NOTICE.

The Taxpayers of Boone County are hereby notified that I or my Deputy will be at the places and on the dates named below to collect 1908 taxes:
Florence, July 13th and October 12th.
Verona, July 14th and October 13th.
Walton, July 15th and October 14th.
Petersburg, July 16th and October 15.
Bellevue, July 17th and October 16th.
Beaver, July 20th and October 19th.
Big Bone, July 21st and October 20th.
Union, July 22d and October 21st.
Rabbit Hash, July 24th and Oct. 23d.
Constance, July 27th and Oct. 9th.
Bullittsville, July 28th and Oct. 22d.
Hebron, October 23rd.
Gunpowder, October 26th.
Richwood, October 27th.
RATES—State, 50 cents; County, 15c on the $100, six per cent penalty added December 1st on all unpaid taxes.
Pay your Poll-tax before December 1st and you will not be put on the delinquent list. Interest and cost of collecting will be added on all delinquent taxes
M. F. WINGATE,
Sheriff Boone County.

Subscribe for the Recorder.

It will pay you to advertise your Business in this Paper. Try it.

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER.

ESTABLISHED 1875.
Subsciption $1.50 year.
Try it One Year.

VOL. XXXIII. BURLINGTON, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 9, 1908. NO. 47

County News Items

Interesting Facts Gathered During the Week by Our Regular Correspondents.

UNION.

The Union Blade has opened up shop, hung out its shingle and began a systematic hunt for news of interest to the people and suitable for publication in the RECORDER, &c. The Blade has never existed because of any real need for its services but simply from the fact that it growed like "Topsy," and has lived. The Blade editor came to Covington at 12:09 p. m., too late for dinner, you notice, one day recently, and met Tom Bradford, who don't know what it means to be anything but free and generous, so he said: "I'm going your way and all you've got to do is climb on the wagon." I climbed! Tom was driving a good team, and brought the "flyer" through on time. At Erlanger the people had prepared for Tom's coming with 75 barrels of crude petroleum, and were figuring on greasing the track in case we were going too fast—to keep down friction, you know. But no friction occurred, for we glided through with the ease and comfort of a summer's breeze. Dr. Crouch and Sol Long made connection with our train, having arrived over the Q. & C. from an extended trip on the lower Ohio, fishing. Sol and the Doctor seemed pleased with somebody, everything and themselves, so they were pleased to see us, too. Some of the experiences these gentlemen had on their trip were filled with excitement enough to last a life time if Sol remembers correctly, and its likely he does.

At Gunpowder we met our old friend, Lee Busby, looking happy as possible under the dry weather conditions. He said he and his family were well and just about as well contented as if they had never been to Texas.

At "Stringtown—on—the P i k e," Dave Brown and Col. Whitson apologized for having no crude petroleum to grease our pathway over to Union with, but claimed Charley Myers had ordered a good supply, and would have things slick as a ribbon before long.

Leaving the pleasant company of Bro. Bradford at the hospitable home of Spencer Smith, we were delightfully entertained for several days, and then came on to Blade headquarters. In Union the people were gritting their teeth and trying to look pleasing under the most trying drought conditions they had endured for years. The kind reception tendered us was in perfect harmony with the spirit of kindness so prevalent in Union for years past, that it seemed natural. Thanks to Tom Burkett we were enabled to get office room, corner Main and High streets, where our machinery was put in order and work begun. In looking over the situation we find many changes have taken place, some for good and others not, just as it is the world over. Coming from a part of the country where vegetation was green, and all nature seeming radiant with life and beauty, it was painful to see Union precinct in particular and Boone county in general, looking like a Kansas desert. Yes, it was painful to see! Of course it's perfectly natural for these conditions to exist in all parts of the country, but we will kick all the same.

Mr. Editor, there are many changes that have taken place for better and for worse, but as the good always exceeds the bad, its a cinch the people will prosper, the country flourish, and all will be O. K. finally, so here is hoping the good luck. The Blade will do business on the old time-honored principles, that being Democratic is alright, and no man shall be barred from access to its columns unless he wears store clothes chews Trust tobacco, and spits on our office floor. The stores are busy, blacksmith shops have orders ahead and the creamery looks mighty good. So there will be lots to tell hereafter unless the unexpected happens.

Ben S. Houston and wife spent Sunday with relatives near Verona.

Mrs. Sallie Anderson has as guest, her brother, Joe Corbin, of Kansas City, Mo.

Perry Corbin entertained his friend Mr. Fitzgerald, of Fairberry, Illinois, several days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Utz and daughter, Fannie, were Sunday guests of P. P. Neal and wife near Hathaway.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wilson have returned to their home at Bagdad, after a stay of several days here with relatives and friends.

Geo. Barlow, wife and daughter, Miss Edna; John Taylor and wife; Lloyd Stevens and wife spent Sunday with J. M. Utz and wife.

Lost—Between Union and Harvey Utz's farm, a breastpin of plain gold, made in a half-circle with a leaf in center. Finder will please return to Mrs. Bert Clore.

At the beginning of the campaign now being waged in this county, a candidate would call for a while at this office when he came to order work done, but now the contest has warmed up, and they only open the door as they pass by and shout; "I'm about out of cards, print me some more." They seem to have got very busy in the last few days, and they are keeping the printer on the jump somewhat also.

BELLEVIEW.

Mrs. Josie Riley is very ill.

Mrs. Alice Cook and children are visiting relatives in Newport.

Miss Lizzie Rogers began teaching at the Cason school house, Monday.

Allie Roter and wife, of Beaver Lick, attended the sale in McVille, Saturday.

Several of our citizens attended the Universalist Association at Burlington, Sunday.

E. L. Grant and family were guests at R. B. Huey's, near Commissary, last Sunday.

Geo. Barlow came down from Gunpowder, a few days ago, for a load of watermelons.

Warren Flick and family will occupy the residence of the late Elizabeth Ryle, in McVille.

Mrs. Belle Clore entertained O. N. Scott and wife, and W. B. and Miss Flo Arnold, Sunday.

Will Maurer and wife, of Newport, are guests of J. W. Goodridge and wife, on Middle creek.

Miss Frances Grant has returned to Lonisville, where she will attend school again this winter.

Miss Sophia Weisickle visited her aunt, Jane Ryle, of Locust Grove neighborhood, last Sunday.

Sebern Scott and family, of McVille, were Sunday guests of his brother, Xen, near Commissary.

C. G. Riddell, of Rabbit Hash, was here, Sunday, to see his niece, Mrs. Josie Riley, who is seriously ill of a fever.

A large crowd witnessed the game of ball between Hebron and Bellevue clubs, Saturday afternoon—score 3 to 4 in favor of the latter.

Atty. O. M. Rogers and family, of Erlanger, are visiting his father and brothers here. We are glad to see One able to be out again.

The sale of household goods, last Saturday afternoon, of Elizabeth Ryle, deceased, was very well attended and fair prices prevailed.

Forest Brown and wife left, Sunday, for their home in Owen county, after a two weeks' visit with Mrs. Browns' parents and relatives.

Boys, don't forget when you come to the toll gate to pass out your cards. I am making a collection, and have Byran's and Kern's, to put with them.

The Northcutt brothers and sisters gave the young folks a lawn fete, last Saturday night, at their residence. Ice cream, wafermelon, &c., were served. All those present report a delightful time.

o o o

COMMISSARY.

(AND EVERYWHERE.)

We can do more good by being good than in any other way.

Born, Aug. 27th, to Jesse Louden and wife, near Cherry Hill, a girl.

Richard Louden and wife were shopping in Rising Sun, last Saturday.

John Burres and wife visited Leomer Louden and wife Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Grace Louden, of Scrapville, spent last week with her sister, Mrs. Dora Deiph, of Lick Creek.

Elbert Kelly and wife, of Kelly neighborhood, visited Ed Kelly and wife, of Pleasant View, Ind., Saturday and Sunday.

Asa Delph and family, of Lick Creek, spent Saturday night and Sunday with Richard Louden and wife, of Scrapville.

Mrs. Bessie Koons and children, of Lawrenceburg, returned home Saturday after a few days visit with Joe West, of Belleview.

o o o

PT. PLEASANT.

Mr. George Darby is sick.

Mrs. J. H. Walton has been sick the past week.

Mrs. Sallie Riggs is visiting friends in the neighborhood.

Miss Edna Tanner, who has been very sick with malarial fever, is improving.

Miss Minta Robinson, of Ludlow, spent Thursday and Friday with her aunt, Mrs. C. W. Robinson.

A series of revival meetings began here Aug. 30th to continue some time Mr. Carter is assisted by Mr. G. W. Campbell.

Misses Nora and Lucile Rucker have been entertaining Misses Edna and Bess Berkshire and Lizzie Walton, of Petersburg, the past week.

Miss Ethel Souther entertained a number of friends, Thursday, in honor of Messrs. Carter and Campbell. Friday they were entertained at Mr. J. J. Rucker's. Each guest had been asked to bring their infant picture. A lively contest was the result.

How to Get Strong.

P. J. Daly, of 1247 W. Congress St., Chicago, tells of a way to become strong; He says: "My mother, who is old and was very feeble, is deriving so much benefit from Electric Bitters that I feel it's my duty to tell those who need a tonic and strengthening medicine about it. In my mother's case a marked gain in flesh has resulted, insomnia has been overcome, and she is steadily growing stronger." Electric Bitters quickly remedy stomach, liver and Kidney complaints. Sold under guarantee at Bentler's Drug Store, Erlanger. 50c.

IDLEWILD.

We can not do evil to others without doing evil to ourselves.

Mrs. Eliza McIntosh, of Bullittsville neighborhood, is quite sick.

James T. Gaines sold a cow and calf to Kreitzer, one day last week.

Enos Mullen and wife, of Bullittsville, visited Mrs. James Feely, last Thursday.

W. A. Gaines and Geo. Kreylich sold to Kreitzer, last week, 140 shoats at $3 a head.

John Whitaker, of Lawrenceburg, was the guest of John Barnett, of Garrison, last week.

Born, on Tuesday, September 1st, to W. L. Cropper and wife, of Bullittsburg, a daughter.

Marcus Randall and wife, of Louisville, who were visiting friends and relatives here, returned home last Tuesday.

Geo. Pfalzgraf says "making love while the moon shines is alright but he would prefer a softer seat than McCool's—a rock pile."

Mrs. Ves Gaines, of Bullitsburg, entertained with a dinner, Thursday. Mrs. Gaines is a pleasant entertainer and all had a good time.

Mrs. Jas. Feeley, who was sick, has recovered sufficiently to enable her to attend to her household duties. Miss Ota Mae Barnes was chief cook and bottle washer during Mrs. Feeley's illness.

We are under obligations to Mrs. R. C. Gaines for a basket of nice peaches for our annual peach cobbler, and to the charming Miss Ota Mae Barnes for the making. Many thanks kind ladies.

Dolwick, a Constance coal dealer, landed a barge of coal at the mouth of Garrison creek, one day last week for the accommodation of the public, and many around Idlewild are putting in their coal for the winter.

Geo. Pfalzgraf will go to Battle Creek, Michigan, to visit relatives in a couple of weeks. Courtney Walton will run the shoeing department of the smithshop during his absence and wants eight young mules to shoe the first day.

Miss Mattie Kreylich entertained most delightfully at the pleasant home of her parents near here, last Wednesday. A large number of her young lady associates responded to invitations, and a more charming assemblage of young ladies could not be gotten together, as Miss Mattie is an accomplished hostess.

o o o

CONSTANCE.

The campers hereabouts have returned to the city.

Wm. Tanner and family spent last Sunday with friends in Cincinnati.

Miss Mattie Brannon and sister, of Cincinnati, are guests of Miss Sophia Murat.

H. C. McNeal and wife spent last Sunday with James Osborn, of Madisonville, Ohio.

Gardeners have been handicapped by the dry weather this season, and had very little to take to market.

The repair work on the Dry creek bridge will be finished in about one week, thinks superintendent W. R. Ronse.

H. McNeal has built a large storage pen which contains a good supply of water, notwithstanding the dry weather.

Constance ball club defeated the Meadow Larks, of West Covington, 9 to 4. The feature of the game was Hankins' pitching.

Richard McNeal entertained two of his Cincinnati friends, James and Daniel McCotby, last Sunday. One of them holds a position on the Commercial Tribune.

Dr. Murat had two cases of surgery last week—Walter Cox fell and broke his arm, and Cleve Courtney shot himself accidentally in the palm of the hand.

Rev. H. Wm. Ross, of Chicago, delivered an interesting address to the Sunday school here, last Sunday. The school has improved very much under the management of Rev. L. K. Morgan.

o o o

LIMABURG.

E. C. Farrell has rheumatism.

Ernest Horton is threatened with typhoid fevor.

Mrs. S. D. Petitt spent Thursday with her aunt, Mrs. Harriet Utz.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Baker were Sunday guests of John Tanner and wife, near Gunpowder.

Mrs. Delila Utz's sale, last Wednesday, was well attended and everything brought good prices.

Miss Stella Carpenter will begin teaching the fall and winter term of the public school here next Monday.

Miss Hettie Rouse, of Lexington, who has been visiting relatives in this community, returned Saturday, accompanied by her aunt, Mrs. Delila Utz.

The little son of James Waters and wife, died Saturday night and was buried at Independence Sunday afternoon. His death was caused by a fall. The family has the sympathy of the community in the loss of their little one.

The following were guests of C. J. Craven and family, Saturday night and Sunday, and attended the Universalist Association at Burlington, Sunday: Misses Molly Howery, Inez Mantiff and sister, Myrtie Vaughn and Mr. Alley Lust, of Manchester, Ind., Miss Hazel Thompson, of Florence, and Miss Essie Beemon.

They Take The Kinks Out.

"I have used Dr. King's New Life Pills for many years, with increasing satisfaction. They take the kinks out of stomach, liver and bowels without fuss or friction," says N. H. Brown, of Pittsfield, Vt. Guaranteed satisfactory at Bentler's Drug Store, Erlanger. 25c.

For Sale—18 months old registered Chesterwhite boar. Apply to Fletcher Clore, Idlewild.

PETERSBURG.

Steven McWethy is very ill.

Mrs. Willis Arnold, of Missouri, is visiting relatives here.

Miss Mary Mills, of Covington, is the pleasant guest of friends here.

Floyd Ryle, of Erlanger, is visiting his cousins, Lucille and Frank Berkshire.

Mrs. Lou Hensley is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Egbert Nichols, at Latonia.

Mrs. Micheal Hauck and family, of Cincinnati, have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. P. Keim.

William Alden arrived home, Sunday, for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Alden.

Mrs. Elizabeth Bush, of Nicholasville, is the guest of her many friends in and about Petersburg.

R. A. McWethy and Dr. Hubert Walton spent Thursday in Cincinnati, attending Barlow's ministrels.

Mrs. Henry Blitz is visiting her old home at Brookseville, Indiana, and attending the Brookseville centennial.

Capt. Elihue Alden, of the Pauline, has been confined to his home the past week, being considerably indisposed.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Estes, of Bagdad, have been pleasant guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Crouch, the past week.

Mrs. Elza Couch and little sons are spending a few weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Brown, at Patriot, Ind.

Misses Effie and Ethelyn Hensley spent Friday at Delhi, Ohio, attending the bedside of their uncle, J. B. Tolin, who is seriously ill.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Krutz and Mr. and Mrs. Harry McWethy and son have been taking an extensive trip through Kentucky, and are now visiting Mr. and Mrs. Belden at Xenia, Ohio.

The Canning Co., has had installed in their factory a crimping machine, which will more than double the out put with a great saving of labor. We can boast of an up-to-date factory.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Berkshire have removed from their cottage on Market st., to the beautiful Parker residence at the cor. Second and Park ave., where they are "at home" to their many friends.

Rev. and Mrs. Garriott, of Wilmore, this state, are guests of the former's sister, Mrs. Pilow. Mrs. Garriott was taken very ill and it was necessary to call a specialist from Cincinnati to see her. She is better.

J. B. Tolin, who has been connected with a firm at Delhi, O., for the past two years, and who was at one time the RECORDER's capable correspondent, is very ill in Christ's Hospital, Cincinnati, suffering from typhoid fever, and a severe abscess. His many friends here hope for a speedy recovery.

Married, on Thursday, Sept. 3d, in the parlors of the Grand Hotel, Lawrenceburg, Ind., Miss Mae, the beautiful and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Sebree, of upper Woolper, to Mr. Sherley Howe, a prominent young business man of Newport. After the ceremony the happy young couple repaired to the residence of the bride's parents for a few days, preparatory to leaving for Denver, Col., their future home, where Mr. Howe will become a partner in a large, lucrative business. They have the best wishes of a host of friends for a long, prosperous and happy life.

o o o

RABBIT HASH.

Victor Bailey left, Wednesday, for Richmond, Ind.

S. N. Riggs and family are visiting relatives at Elrod, Ind.

Miss Ida Hodges, one of our sweetest young girls, spent Tuesday with S. N. Riggs and family.

The three Misses French, of Madisonville, O., were guests of Blanche Keily, several days last week.

Doc Ryle, of Lick Creek neighborhood, had a very serious attack of heart trouble, a few days since.

Robert Platt and wife and Miss Nannie Blackburn were guests of John Lee and family, Saturday.

Born, on the 3d inst., to Mode Hodges and wife, a fine girl, and on the 4th to Claud Ryle and wife, a boy.

Miss Dora Lee is spending the week with her grandparents, Geo. Wainscott and wife, of Barkworks, Ind

Miss Blanche Williams, of Rising Sun, Ind., and Miss Inez Ryle, of this place, will give an entertainment at the K. of. P. Hall here, soon.

Fillmore Ryle and sons, Clarence and Kenneth, are working over the river for the American Tobacco Co.

Mrs. Delia Hahn, after a three weeks' visit with relatives here, returned to her home at Connersville, Ind., Thursday.

Mrs. Myra Stephens and daughter, Miss Bettie, will leave Tuesday for Illinois, where they will spend a couple of months visiting relatives.

Miss Stella Stephens, a popular young lady, entertained the young folks, Thursday evening, with an ice-cream supper and play party. Every one present enjoyed the occasion and did every thing they could to make the party a success.

Mike Bailey and wife gave a delightful party, last Monday evening, in honor of their son, Victor, it being his 20th birthday. Sixty-six of his friends from far and near, expressing their high esteem and good wishes, came to help celebrate the occasion. A long table was piled up with watermelons, which was served as refreshments, after which dancing was the principal feature of the evening. Several who were not able to respond to the invitations, missed a most enjoyable evening. At a late hour the guests departed wishing Victor many such happy events.

Conditions are distressing at Walton—water is about played out, gardens have given out and the country is dried and parched.

GUNPOWDER.

L. H. Busby and wife entertained Cincinnati friends, last week.

Julius Bristow, of Buffalo Ridge, passed through our burg, last Sunday.

Will Houston, of Lewisburg, was the guest of his brother, Robt. last Sunday.

School began at Pleasant Ridge, last Monday, with Miss Ransom teacher.

M. L. Tanner and family visited his son, Alpha at Norwood, Ohio, last Sunday.

Robt. Snyder has a pumpkin of last year's crop that is in a perfect state of preservation.

Mrs. Alice Houston and daughter, both of whom are confined to their beds are improving slowly.

Those who attended the Farmers' Institute at Florence feel that they were amply paid for their time.

A protracted meeting is in progress at Ebenzer church, this week, and everybody is invited to attend and participate in the services.

Several from this neighborhood attended Clark Rouse's funeral at Big Bone church, last Friday. Mr. Rouse was formerly a resident of this neighborhood and a host of friends were grieved to hear of his death.

Mrs. Albert Underhill lost her pocketbook at the Florence fair on Saturday. It is immitation of morocco, with a brass clasp and contained a paper dollar and some small change. The finder will confer a great favor by returning it to Mrs. Underhill.

o o o

FLORENCE.

Butler Carpenter and family were guests of Ezra Tanner, Sunday.

Miss Carrie Clark was the guest of Mrs. John Hampton, Sunday.

Charles Scott and wife were Sunday guests of Miss Mary Grogan.

Several from here attended the picnic at Grange Hall, Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Starr, of Erlanger, visited Mr. Yealey and wife, Friday.

Miss Carpenter and wife were visiting friends in Ohio, Saturday and Sunday.

J. R. Whitson is nursing Mr. Wilson, of Erlanger, who has been sick for the past week.

Wm. Miller, of Newport, was visiting his friend, James Meeks, of this place, Sunday.

Mr. McLean and wife had as guests, Sunday, Mr. McLean's mother and his brother and wife, of Covington.

Mrs. Mattie Cook, of Danville, has returned home after spending a few weeks with her mother, Mrs. J. R. Whitson.

Mrs. Swyball and niece, Miss Mary Reggor, were pleasant guests of Mr. Conrad and wife, of Erlanger, Sunday.

Mrs Fannie Clutterbuck entertained Fletcher Clore and wife, of Bullittsville, Mrs. Gene Tanner and Mrs. Clutterbuck, of Kidville, Friday.

Mrs. Etta Blaskey, of Paris, Ill., who has been here for some time, has returned home accompanied by her brother, Geo. Swimm, who has gone there for the winter.

The Florence Improvement Association will hold an important meeting next Monday night, and desires everybody, who can, to be present. It has some important information to give out.

Theodore Birkle, of Bullittsville, and Miss Mollie Humphrey, of Taylorsport, were united in marriage last Wednesday by Rev. J. B. Harris at the home of his brother Fred Birkle, of this place.

o o o

HERE AND THERE.

Leslie Sebree sold his weanling mule to Hugh Pate, of Indiana, for $52.50.

John Cloud bought a nice yearling steer from C. A. Flnn, last Friday for $20.

Miss Mattie Lows commenced teaching school at Woolper, Monday, with 18 pupils enrolled.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Passons spent several days, last week, visiting relatives in Hebron Hash neighborhood.

Charlie Sullivan and wife spent Saturday night and Sunday with Perry Presser and family, near Waterloo.

The Woolper and Gasburg ball teams crossed bats at Woolper, Saturday afternoon—score 10 to 2 in favor of the home team.

Lucien Ryle and wife, of Indiana, spent several days last week visiting his father, W. T. Ryle, and other relatives in the Bellevue neighborhood.

Shirley Howe and bride, nee Miss May Sebree, of Newport, are spending a few days with the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Sebree, on Woolper.

Cabil Beemon killed a white squirrel, one day last week. It and a gray squirrel were on a tree together. They were both young ones and no doubt mates.

Wm. (Buster) Gaines and Holman Hayes spent one day recently on Woolper tempting the finny monsters. From reports they brought down a heavier load than they took home.

Henry Passons and his friend, a Mr. Younger, of Cincinnati, are sojourning at Uncle Andy Passons'. They will remain until after the sale and go to Illinois with Mr. Passons and family.

C. J. Sebree got in a mixup with one of his neighbor's sheep, Sunday morning, in which Charlie got considerably the worst of the encounter, and was pretty badly bruised up, but, luckily no bones were broken.

A. G. Fisk, of Florence, is an applicant for the position of toll-gate keeper at Erlanger, the position T. J. Childress held for many years.

GRANT.

J. P. Ryle, of Rabbit Hash, is sick. The river is lower than it has been for five years.

Wm. Clore, of Clore's Ridge, is reported to be some better.

Mrs. Mary Klopp of Woolper visited at T. W. Cook's Sunday.

Chas. Wilson and wife were visiting friends at McVille, Sunday.

Several from here attended the colt show at Rabbit Hash, last Saturday.

Miss Alma Corbin will leave soon to attend college at Georgetown this winter.

Mr. Oxley is able to be at work again after an illness of typhoid malaria.

Douglas Rice is making some repairs on his house in the Southern Addition.

John Maurer, left Sunday, to take the Greenwood, low water packet, to Louisville.

Chas. Clore and wife were Saturday night and Sunday guests of Miss Grace Sutton.

Every time a stranger is seen in town some one is sure to ask, "what office is he for."

Thieves stole a number of fine melons this week from Will Sutton, just below town.

Mrs. Frank Riley, of Hoosier, visited relatives on this side of the creek, last week.

Miss Bettie Dolph and sister, and Miss Katie Craig, were visitors in our town Saturday.

Miss Blanche Rice, of Illinois, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Robert Rice, of this place.

Mrs. Thomas G. Smith, of Cincinnati, is visiting her mother, Mrs. S. D. Rice, of McVille.

Wm. Maurer and wife are visiting the latter's parents out on the East Bend road, this week.

Geo. Kelly and sister, of Dillsboro, were guests of F. E. Kelly and wife several days last week.

Mrs. Josie Riley, who has been quite sick the doctor says has developed a case of typhoid fever.

Al, John, Will and Ome Rogers their wives and children, and James Rogers spent Sunday with Bernard Rogers and wife north of town.

The dust is getting to be very annoying to our citizens. It is several inches deep in the streets and on the pike. No rain here since July.

Tomatoes have been coming in slowly at the factory, and the growers complain of them ripening on one side while they are sunburnt and green on the other.

The little daughter of Dr. Hopkins of Rabbit Hash was badly shaken up, Saturday, by a fall from a horse which the Doctor was leading. Fortunately no bones were broken.

The market price for watermelons in the bottoms here has remained about the same since the first selling. The season will be shorter than usual on account of the dry weather.

One Rogers of Erlanger is spending a few weeks with his brothers here and to rest and recuperate from the operation he recently underwent for appendicitis at the hospital in Cincinnati.

Henry Gibo e says he has the money all subbed for the pike from here to Rabbit Hash via Waterloo. Walton and Scott have the contract for building the three miles from Rabbit Hash towards Waterloo.

How does this sound? Work will soon be begun on the new bank building here; a bank here, graded school and canning factory—looks like our citizens have cause to rejoice over the new order of things.

On Saturday Aug. 29th, the Belleview and Belleview Jrs., played ball at the park here to settle the question as to which was the strongest club. The experiment was extremely disastrous to the Jrs., who acknowledged after the game that they were outclassed. The score was 8 to 0.

The Disorganized Hebron ball club came down, last Saturday, and played the locals at the park here The game went eight innings without a score for the visitors, but in the last of the ninth several of the Hebron boys connected and scored 3 runs. Score 4 to 0 in favor of the home club. It was a nicely played game throughout and a large crowd witnessed the contest. Our boys play two games at the Hub today.

A Paying Investment.

Mr. John White, of 38 Highland Ave., Biddeford, Maine, says: "I have been troubled with a cough every winter and spring. Last winter I tried many advertised remedies, but the cough continued until I bought a 50c bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery; before that was half gone, the cough was all gone. This winter the same happy result has followed; a few doses once more banished the annual cough. I am now convinced that Dr. King's New Discovery is the best of all cough and lung remedies." Sold under guarantee at Bentler's Drug Store, Erlanger. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

The Farmers' Institute held at Florence, last week, was well attended by the farmers in that vicinity, and great interest was taken, and it is believed that much good will result. Those who attended the Institute last week, will be glad of the opportunity to attend another. Florence did better by the Institute than any town in which it has been held in Boone county, be it said to the praise of the good people there and thereabonts.

Democratic county committeemen to supply the vacancies in that committee were elected as follows, last Saturday:

Petersburg—Ben H. Berkshire.
Walton—Thomas F. Curley.
Rabbit Hash—Robert H. Wilson.
Burlington—No election held.
Belleview—C. H. Acra.
Bullittsville—No election.

Racial Drama In Politics

Foreign Born Run Most Big Cities by Their Votes.

By Ernest McGaffey

American Is as a Rule, a Stay-at-Home on Election Day. His "Foiler", However, Is Long and Loud When Sin Finds Him Out.

EVERY large city of mixed nationality offers a rare opportunity for studying what may be well termed "racial politics." To an outsider, the facts are of course not apparent enough to make it interesting, but to a man on the "inside" the drama is chock-full of interest. As I had, and have, no sort of prejudice against any race or creed, my experience in municipal politics was as good as an extended course of travel in foreign countries. I saw the various outs and ins of politics unfold themselves, viewing matters with a strictly impartial eye. There was nothing in the life of the city that was not in some way, either remote or imminent, connected with the political game. A man might stay at home and abjure politics if he wished to, and most of the native Americans did this, but his ain would find him out. Then, when he made his roar of protest against existing conditions, he had no one but himself to blame.

The ward I lived in was, for one city, singularly free from an admixture of races. There were quite a number of Germans, a large array of Swedes, Norwegians and Danes, some Irish and Irish-Americans, a strong colony of Poles, a few English and Welsh, some Bohemians, and a scattering of Greeks, Arabians, Jews, Armenians, Italians, Spanish, Chinese, Finns, Scotch, Russians and some Americans, with an occasional Patagonian or a native of the Cannibal Islands. But it was not one of those wards of the city where all races under the sun were represented; such a few besides.

By and large the Irish-Americans "ran" the ward. That is, in our party. It was the simplest thing in the world. They were born politicians, taking to politics as a duck does to water, and having a real love for the game. They were ready speakers and sometimes good ones; they were invincible "hustlers;" they always attended the ward meetings, and usually held the offices; they were active in getting acquainted, liberal in their pursuit of their natural prey—the other races—and resourceful. They were not too scrupulous in attaining a desired end, and they never lost heart in defeat. They could and did rejoice in a victory, but they were never cast down when they lost. It's all well enough to talk about the alleged volatility of the Irish race, but they make good soldiers, don't they? Well, there's a deal of discipline and other military ingredients in political life, and while it is true that in the rural districts the American comes out strong for politics, in the majority of the cities, big and little, the Irish-American politicians "run things." If you don't believe this, travel a little and inquire.

But "politics is such disagreeable work, don't you know." Of course "don't you know." But the result of letting politics go hang while one keeps his nose stuck tenaciously to the grindstone of business often results in disaster to the entire community "doncherknow." And if for one had nothing but bitter contempt for the people of my race who lifted protesting hands and gave voice to the "lily-livered" dictum that "politics was something a gentleman couldn't engage in."

But speaking of "Americans," so far as the cities are concerned, where are they?

English and Irish, Dutch and Danish,
German, Italian, French and Spanish,
Crossing their veins until they vanish,
In one conglomeration!
So subtle a tangle of blood indeed
No Heraldry-Hurvey could ever succeed
In finding the citizen pure American.

You can find regulation Americans down in Kentucky, for instance, men who can trace their ancestors clear down to Daniel Boone in an unbroken line. You may find them indulging in such pleasantries as burning tobacco warehouses or shooting at each other from behind rail fences, for they are quite as handy with a rifle as Daniel was.

The Poles were a clannish nation, and no one else could do anything in their wards. Where they represented only a smattering of strength they could be handled fairly well by the "leaders" in the ward, but they were "live members" and wanted some share in the "spoils" of office.

The Bohemians were also a comparatively inclined people, politically, and waged lively campaigns in the wards where they held the balance of the voting power. But they did not have the cohesiveness of the Poles, and candidates of other nationalities could occasionally "squeeze in." The Bohemians and in fact all of the foreign-populated wards, were strong for personal liberty, and as near as possible for the social privileges they had enjoyed in Europe, minus any intrusion of "the king business." The Scandinavian voters were apathetic mostly, only bees in awhile producing an orator or a hustling politician. They were governed in their political judgments partly by party fealty, partly by the question of personal fitness, and somewhat by the question of nationality. But I give them credit for not being carried away entirely by the "claim of race or demand of party." They really wanted good men; and the fact that a man was one of their race did not invariably get him their vote. Occasionally they nominated a man of their race for the express purpose of defeating him, because he had proved himself too small for the position.

The Germans were good, live politicians, and like as in other matters, somewhat Teutonic in their prejudices and tendencies. Clannish was hardly the word for their particular brand of political cohesion. Out of the ruck of many a particular defeat would emerge triumphant the form of some German candidate whose race vote had been plumped solidly for him, no matter what party he belonged to. To nominate a state, county or city ticket without the name of at least one representative German for one of the principal offices, was something that no party convention either cared or dared to do. A good many of the Germans still spoke the language of the Fatherland, and even when there were spies about, seeking to pick up crumbs of information, they were usually baffled by "the vernacular." The Germans had good, solid, and eloquent speakers among them, and they were excellent campaigners.

Their particular wards elected German aldermen as a rule, and as a rule the German office-holders were good men. Occasionally they were amusingly independent when given appointive offices. To go against a mayor's wishes when placed in an appointive position is as much worse than lese majeste as murder is more of a crime than petty larceny. Yet on occasions the sturdy independence of the Teutonic mind boiled over. An alderman called on a German official with a request from a mayor (not in my time) to do something the official disapproved of. The official took the message with an expressive shrug of the shoulders. "I won't do it," was his answer. "But I've got the mayor's orders," replied the surprised and indignant city father. "I don't care what you've got," was the retort. "You ain't got me, Hein. I run this office. I've got my resignation written and in my pocket. The mayor can have this office in ten minutes if he wants it, but he can't have me." So the alderman had to give it up, and the official remained.

The Hebrew wards were inclined to a man of their own race, but they were not massed excepting in about three wards. They are not, strictly speaking, a people who "go in" very strongly for politics, but they make a success of it when they do engage in it deliberately. The scattering vote of this nationality was large, but divided among so many wards that it was a matter of uncertainty as to number. But where they had taken up residence almost solidly, as in certain wards, they ran things themselves. When they engaged actively in politics they developed good speakers. They were, as a rule, rather inclined to one of the ruling parties, but the fetish of party could not compel their votes to be cast irrespective of men and principle.

Now the striking dissimilarity of so many races, and their segregations of one another in different parts of the city, produced a curious state of affairs from a social standpoint. Here was a race from the south of Europe, eager, bustling, emotional, with its own particular customs and mode of life. There, three blocks away, might be a race from northern Europe, totally unlike them, with creeds, schools, ways of living and every conceivable viewpoint, both mental and physical, absolutely separated from their neighbors.

Shooting at Each Other from Behind Rail Fences.

What was the result? Why, it was like a lot of block-houses, each with its hostile or suspicious occupants. Dwellers in the same city? I say no! Dwellers in the same community, I grant, but so carved apart by nationality and environment as to compose foreign settlements.

Why did Rome from her seven hills rule the world? What makes Paris such a great city? What gives the distinctive touch to London, Berlin, Dublin, Edinburgh? It is the sense of homogeneity that makes them as they are; the feeling among their inhabitants of a common interest, a uniformity of racial feeling and instinct, and kindred aims and aspirations. You tell me of a great city that has 40 or 50 different nationalities dragging away in different directions? Not in a thousand years. Yet the reformers and cleaners, seeing no further than beyond their own noses, attempt to weld into a homogeneous mass, in a few years, what time intends to devote centuries into doing.

A slight study of racial politics will convince the most enthusiastic believer in "having things his own way," that it "can't be did" in some cities. Racial prejudice, old-world customs, religion, suspicion, temperament, how many and how impregnable are the barriers which present themselves. To get along without any trouble with the representatives of all these different nationalities was not a hard task, provided you looked at mankind as being all lineal descendants of Adam, and not different in what they wanted but only different in the way they went at it. The sanguine races get ticulated, grew eloquent, rapt, even poetical in asking for some small favor. The taciturn races expressed themselves briefly, and devoid of enthusiasm.

Racial politics concerned itself carefully as to the selection of the various ward halls in which to hold the meetings, the hiring of bands, the em ployment of printers, the distribution of "ward patronage" and all the intricacies of municipal politics. "What's in a name?" Well, you can bet your ultimate sesterce that there was nearly everything in a name when it came to sorting out the petty jobs in a ward. Why, an astute ward superintendent (supposing he were an Irish American) would "turn down" with cold disdain the request to put on another man of his nationality on a job if there already had been sufficient representation of the race on the job. It made a heap of difference what a man's name began or ended with in municipal politics.

Sorting Out Petty Jobs.

Of course everyone cannot be satisfied, but favors must be distributed as near evenly as possible to keep a ward organization or a party "machine" in good running order. And weren't these "handy boys" on the lookout to see that there was no undue favoritism practiced? I should say. And they could tell you just how things stood in the ward, and they were "johnny-on-the-spot" if any "coarse work" was attempted.

When an approaching election was coming on the leaders of the party, of as many races as there were colors in Joseph's coat, would assemble to consider the personnel of the ticket. Not that I ever heard them use the word personnel. These meetings might take place in a hotel, or party headquarters, or if it was a straight ward meeting of leaders in the ward, it might take place in a, say, schoolhouse.

Then and there the various qualifications of the different prospective candidates would be discussed and argued, and "a slate," as it is called, would be agreed upon. Sometimes these "slates" went through on convention day without a slip. Sometimes there were battles in the convention, and compromises effected.

I was present at one of these "caucuses" of leaders, when there was merely talk about the prospective ticket, but no settlement of the ticket. It was an informal gathering, accidental, but an earnest meeting nevertheless. The main office was spoken of. A prominent German-American was suggested. He was approved by all present. Another office was named; it was assigned to a well-known Irish-American. A third office came up. After a little wrangling, a popular Scandinavian was selected. A fourth office was mentioned. An influential Pole was the favorite. A fifth office became the topic of conversation and the name of a Bohemian citizen was proposed and a Hebrew who had been active in the party. Finally during the wrangle an Irish-American politician said heatedly: "Well, what's the matter with me? I'm a good American? I know just the man, and he's a corker." The leader of the group looked at him disgustedly and said: "Do you mean that?" "Sure I mean it," was the reply. The leader laid his heavy hand down with a quiet force that made the glasses tilt as he said: "This is business, see. I want it distinctly understood that I'm in favor of no d——d experiments." That settled it. ERNEST M'GAFFEY.

(Copyright, 1908, by Joseph B. Bowles.)

The farmer who says he is too poor in his crops or harvest to give will never be rich enough to be other than poor in heart.

BRYAN TO WORKMEN

DELIVERS NOTABLE ADDRESS AT CHICAGO CELEBRATION.

Defines the Difference Between Planks in Democratic and Republican Platforms—Justice for the Toilers.

Chicago.—At the Labor day celebration here Hon. W. J. Bryan was the principal speaker, and had for an audience many thousands of workmen. Mr. Bryan said in part:

"Labor day is a legal holiday and it was made so because the legislators thought the wage-earners worthy to have a day specially set apart for the consideration of themes that concern those who toil. I appreciate the compliment paid me by the program committee of this city in inviting me to participate in the ceremonies of this day, and it was gladly accepted, because Chicago is the second city in the nation, and as a labor center is probably second to any city in the world.

"If it were proper to speak from a text, I would select a passage from Proverbs, for I know of no better one than that furnished by the wise King Solomon when he declared that as a man 'thinketh in his heart, so is he.' This is Bible doctrine; it is common sense, and behind it is man experience. We think in our hearts as well as in our heads—out of the heart 'are the issues of life.' It is a good text that cannot find a plausible reason for doing what the heart wants to do, but I begin my speech with this proposition because I want to impress it upon the minds of those who listen to me, and upon those who read what I say to you. The labor question is more a moral than an intellectual one.

"A long step toward the elevation of labor to its proper position in the nation's deliberations is to be found in the establishment of a department of labor, with a cabinet officer at its head. The wage earners deserve this recognition, and the executive is entitled to the assistance which such an official could render him. I regard the creation of this reform as the opening of a new era in which those men will have a voice in the deliberations of the president's council chamber.

"The labor organization has been seriously handicapped by the fact that it has been—and I am not sure that it has not been—forced unwittingly into strife with the industrial combinations known as trusts. The proneness of trust defenders to use the labor organization as an excuse for combinations in restraint of trade has aroused the suspicion that they have been banded together for the purpose of shielding the combinations of capital. As the result of 18 years of anti-trust legislation, only one man has been given a penal sentence for violating the federal law on this subject, and that man was a member of a labor organization rather than a trust magnate. The laboring man is justified in his demand that a distinction shall be drawn between the labor organization and the industrial trust.

"The trust and the labor organization cannot be described in the same language. The trust magnates have used their power to amass swollen fortunes, while no one will say that the labor organization has as yet secured for its members more than their share of the profits arising from their work. But there are fundamental differences. The trust is a combination of dollars; the labor organization is an association of human beings. In a trust a few men endeavor to control the product of others; in a labor organization, the members unite for the protection of that which is their own, namely, their own labor, which, being necessary to their existence, is a part of them. The trust deals with dead matter; the labor organization deals with life and with intellectual and moral forces. No impartial student of the subject will deny the right of the laboring man to exempt from the operation of the existing anti-trust laws.

"If the labor organization needs to be regulated by law, let it be regulated by a law which deals with man as man, and not by a law that was aimed to prevent the cornering of a commodity or the forestalling of the market.

"I shall not speak of the eight-hour day or of the employers' liability act, because both of the leading parties have indorsed these reforms; the only question to be considered is which party can best be trusted to secure these reforms? I need hardly to assure you that I am heartily in favor of both reforms.

"There are two questions, however, intimately connected with the labor problem upon which the Democratic and Republican parties do not agree, and I not only feel at liberty to discuss these, but, under the circumstances, I have no right to ignore them. One relates to the issue of injunctions, and the other to contempt cases arising under injunctions. The Republican convention did not deal candidly with the laboring man on the subject of the writ of injunction. Secretary Taft has endeavored to amend his platform in this respect and to make some promises which are not supported by his platform, but his promises offer nothing substantial in the way of reform, and are not binding on Republican senators and members. The Republican congress has already made a record on labor questions, and the Republican party cannot escape from that record.

"Mr. Taft's speech may be considered as binding upon him, but the convention which selected the Republican candidates indorsed the Republican platform—not Mr. Taft's personal views. The Republican platform, while pretending to pledge some modification of the law, contains an exception clause which reiterates the very language of the law. Whether this exception clause was inserted by accident or design, the effect is the same. It merely provides, in substance, that restraining orders shall not issue without notice except where such order can now issue without notice. The platform was framed for those who have been opposing the laboring man, and they have been boasting of their victory.

"The Democratic platform on this subject copies the language which the labor organizations submitted to the Republican and Democratic conventions. Mr. Taft, in his notification speech, objects to the language. He charges that the anti-injunction plank was loosely drawn, and framed for the especial purpose of rendering it susceptible of one interpretation by one set of men, and a distinctly opposite interpretation by another. As Mr. Taft has had long experience on the bench, and is therefore skilled in the interpretation of language, I seek help to give us, if he can, two opposite interpretations of the language. That plank demands that all parties in all judicial proceedings shall be treated with rigid impartiality. Surely he can find two interpretations to the phrase 'rigid impartiality.'

"Speaking of industrial disputes, the platform declares that 'injunctions shall not be issued in any cases in which injunctions would not issue in like industrial dispute were involved.' How can that language be misconstrued or misinterpreted? If words mean anything, this plank means that an industrial dispute shall not, in itself, be regarded as a sufficient cause for an injunction. If an industrial issue in an industrial dispute, it must be based upon acts which would justify an injunction if there were no industrial dispute involved. There is nothing ambiguous about it; there is nothing that can be misconstrued or misinterpreted, even by one desiring to find a double meaning. Only by the most distant latitude can we read ambiguity into those words. Simply because they cannot meet the proposition presented by one of the great problems to-day, is to secure an equitable distribution of the proceeds of toil. The material progress of the country is largely a joint product, in reckless few people work alone, and only when farm is certain that co-operation is necessary. Where men work together, the army organization applies, and the general declares that some duties others are directed. The difficulty has been to divide the results fairly between the captains of industry and the privates in the ranks. As the dividing is done largely by the captains, it is not unnatural that they should greatly their part and appropriate too large a share; rather is it unnatural that there should be complaint on the part of the toilers who think that their recompense is insufficient.

BEGAN LIKE WORK EARLY.

Harriet Hosmer, Sculptor, Even in Her Childhood Days.

An old school friend of the late Harriet Hosmer, the sculptress, has recently related some interesting anecdotes of her childhood. Her first modeling, it appears, came about through a blue-berrying expedition. "Hattie," as she was always called, had gone to the berry pasture with her foster brother Alfred.

"They had tramped farther than usual, when all of a sudden Hattie stumbled upon a big clay bank. It was just as if she'd been looking for it all her life. Out went all the berries from her nearly full pail, and into the pail went big double handfuls of the soft clay.

"Then she fairly rushed home, sat down on the back doorstep, and there modeled her first figure, a representation of the little, shaggy yellow dog who was at that time her chiefest treasure. After that she never forgot the clay bank.

"Why, when she was at boarding-school with the rest of us, she made casts of all our hands, and they were beautiful. She did one of Mrs. Sedgwick's, I know—she was our head mistress—and I remember that Mrs. Sedgwick said it was 'truly exquisite,' and wound it all over with the soft smooth silver paper she used for her finest laces."

In a day when the athletic, outdoor girl was yet unknown, Harriet Hosmer, against all convention, at the imperative call of a free nature, rode, swam, paddled, hunted, fished, climbed, tramped, and studied nature to the horror and dismay of the excellent housewives of her town.

"You should have seen her collections," said her old friend. "She had bugs and beetles, squirrels, rabbits and birds, and even an old fat woodchuck that she had shot and wounded herself. We girls could never see how she could do it—the things are so—so smelly—and unpleasant."

Even when her study of her art had taken her to Rome, among fellow artists and great folk who praised her and made much of her, she yet kept one relic of these happy days, oddly tucked in amid the clay and tools and glistening marbles of her studio. It was an old, dilapidated crow's nest the prize of a daring climb, reduced to decorous service as a darning basket.—Youth's Companion.

Right and Left-Handeness.

Dr. H. C. Stevens of Seattle reports recent experiments which show that objects seen by indirect vision ordinarily appear larger in the right half of the field of vision than in the left. With a smaller number of persons this is reversed. From these facts he deduces a possible origin of right and left-handedness. Right-handedness, or its reverse, develops at about the age of seven months. Dr. Stevens suggests that they may be due to the phenomena of vision just described. By a reflex effect the infant reaches after the objects best seen with the arm nearest to them.

Profusion of Pictures.

Fifteen thousand pictures are now on exhibition in the two great salons in Paris. These represent about three acres of canvas. The total length of the pictures without their frames would be nearly ten miles. Reckoning one minute to look at every picture, and without taking any rest by day or night, it would take ten days and ten hours to see every picture in the two salons.

New York's Large Import Trade.

Records of the treasury department show that the port of New York during the fiscal year 1907-'08 has a larger balance of trade in its favor than ever before. For the entire United States the balance is $666,457,103, which exceeds by $2,000,000 the largest year before, which was 1900-'01.

Not a Wiser Generation.

Bill—I see the Hatmaker says that heads are increasing in size.

Jill—Getting fatter, that's all!—Yonkers Statesman

MARKET REPORTS.

	Cincinnati, Sept. 4
CATTLE—Extra		@	6 00
CALVES—Extra	7 25	@	7 50
HOGS—Choice	7 00	@	7 05
SHEEP—Extra	3 75	@	3 85
LAMBS—Spring	2 50	@	6 25
FLOUR—Spring pat.	5 55	@	6 10
WHEAT—No. 2 red	99	@	1 00
CORN—No. 2 mixed	52	@	53
OATS—No. 2 mixed	52½	@	53
RYE—No. 2 choice	78	@	80
HAY—Ch. timothy	12 00	@	12 50
BUTTER—Dairy		@	15½
EGGS—Per doz	20	@	22
APPLES—Choice	3 00	@	3 50
POTATOES—Per bu	85	@	90
TOBACCO—Burley	10 75	@22	50
	Chicago.
WHEAT—No. 2 red		@	98½
CORN—No. 2 mixed		@	79¾
OATS—No. 2 mixed		@	49½
PORK—Prime mess		@16	67½
LARD—Prime		@	9 85
	New York.
FLOUR—Win. patents	5 85	@	5 75
WHEAT—No. 2 red	1 05⅞	@	1 06⅛
CORN—No. 2 mixed		@	78½
OATS—No. 2 mixed		@	52
PORK—Prime mess	17 00	@17	00
LARD—Steam	10 00	@10	10
	Baltimore.
WHEAT—No. 2 red		@	87¾
CORN—No. 2 mixed		@	83¾
OATS—No. 2 mixed		@	54
	Louisville.
WHEAT—No. 2 red		@	98
CORN—No. 2 mixed		@	68
OATS—No. 2 mixed		@	52
HAY—Ch. timothy	13 50	@14	00
HOGS—Extra	6 60	@	6 85
LARD—Steam		@	8 00
	Kansas City.
CATTLE—Prime	6 60	@	6 75
HOGS—Extra	6 80	@	7 00
SHEEP—Extra	2 50	@	5 00

G. G. Hughes,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
BURLINGTON, KY.
Will practice in all the courts. Prompt attention given to all business entrusted to me.

N. E. Riddell,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.
Prompt Attention given to Collections
Will practice in all the courts.

S. Gaines,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.
Will practice in all the courts, and prompt attention given collections.
Office—Over D. Rouse's Store.

D. E. Castleman,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.
Will practice in the Courts of Boone Kenton, Grant and Gallatin. Collections pushed energetically.

J. C. CLORE, W. W. DICKERSON
E. T. CLAYTON.
Clore, Dickerson & Clayton,
ATTORNEYS-at-LAW
Will practice in the State and U. S. Courts of Northern Ky., and Southwestern Ohio. Cincinnati Office: N. E. Cor. 6th & Vine; Phone, Main 2020. Mr. Dickerson will spend a portion of his time at the Williamstown office.

BOONE CO. DEPOSIT BANK
(Incorporated 1890.)
CAPITAL, ... $50,000
Surplus and undivided profits $7,000
Our facilities enable us to receive on favorable terms accounts of individuals and corporations. Collections promptly remitted for at Lowest Rates.

ERLANGER DEPOSIT BANK.
INCORPORATED 1890.
ERLANGER, KENTUCKY
Capital Stock paid in $50,000
Surplus, ... $5,000
Careful attention given collections, and remittance promptly made. Deposit accounts solicited.

Dr. J. L. Adams,
DENTIST,
208 F. & T. Bank Building,
COVINGTON, KY.
—will be in office—
AT ERLANGER EVERY THURSDAY.

W. E. VEST,
Real Estate Agent.
Farms Bought, Sold or Exchanged. Money to Loan on Real Estate. Notes Bought, Sold & Negotiated. All communications addressed to W. E. VEST, Walton, Ky.

CHAS. GARNETT,
AUCTIONEER.
Will be in Burlington every court day. Fees for selling stock reasonable. Public Sales given special attention.

INSURE AT HOME
The Farmers' Mutual Fire
INSURANCE COMPANY,
OF BOONE COUNTY,
Is now completely organized and receiving applications for insurance.
Its RATES are LOWER
Than those of any other Company and gives the farmers of Boone Co.
HITHERTO UNKNOWN ADVANTAGES
in keeping their property insured.
Average cost of insurance on $1,000 for a period of five years is $9 65, less than one per cent per $1,000.
Every Farmer in the County should take a policy at once.
Edgar Cropper, Pres., Burlington, Ky.
Noah Tanner, V. Pres., Gunpowder, Ky.
F. A. Utz, Treas., Florence, Ky.
Malchus Souther, Secy., R. F. D.—1, Ludlow, Ky.
R. B. Hoey, Agent, Burlington, Ky.
J. E. Smith, Assessor, Burlington.
Executive Board—Leonard Gaines, J. W. Conner, Solon Early.

F. W. Kassebaum & Son,
GRANITE & MARBLE
MONUMENTS,
Burial Vaults and Cemetery Work of all Kinds.
Building Stone, Flagging, Settees and Vases.
Office and Warerooms
70 and 72 Main Street,
AURORA, IND.
Ben Pope, Agent, Burlington, Ky

C. L. GRIFFITH,
DEALER IN
REAL ESTATE
and Negotiable Notes,
WALTON, KY.
If you want to buy or sell Town Property or Farms, write me.
Write for printed list.

BRYAN SAYS FOES ARE EXTRAVAGANT

COMMONER TALKS AT MINNESOTA STATE FAIR.

ATTACKS G. O. P. PLATFORM

Picks Flaws in Republican Doctrine to Pieces, Bringing Weak Points to Light—Speaks at St. Paul.

St. Paul, Minn.—William Jennings Bryan was Minnesota's guest at the state fair. The feature of the day was an address by Mr. Bryan at the state fair grounds, his theme being governmental extravagance. Mr. Bryan said:

"The Democratic platform makes Republican extravagance one of the issues of the present campaign. The Republican platform is silent on the subject, and naturally so, to have promised economy would have been a mockery, and to have defended the appropriations made by the last congress would have been impossible. The Fifty-first congress was commonly called the billion-dollar congress. The appropriations made by that congress covered two years, amounting for the first time to $1,000,000,000, or $500,000,000 a year. The extravagance of that congress contributed to the overwhelming victory won by the Democrats in the campaign of 1890. The last congress, however, has made a new record in extravagance. In spite of a deficit of more than $60,000,000 in the last fiscal year, the appropriations made during the last session amount to more than $1,000,000,000, or twice as much as the appropriations for a single session of the Fifty-first congress. The increase over the year before was $90,000,000, showing a growth in expenditures far in excess of the growth of the population.

"While this tendency to extravagance manifests itself in nearly all departments, it is especially noticeable in the army department and the navy department. The army is more than twice as large as in 1896 and the appropriations for the army more than three times as great as they were 11 years ago. The expenses of the navy are nearly about three times what they were a decade ago. The increase in the appropriations for army and navy alone are $120,000,000 a year in excess of what they were in 1897. The imperialistic policy, for which the Republican party is responsible, is the only excuse for this enormous and increasing drain upon the taxpayers.

"Our platform also calls attention to the fact that 99,000 new offices have been created at an expense of $70,000,000 a year, as against an increase of 10,000 new offices, with salaries amounting to $6,000,000, in the Cleveland and McKinley administrations.

"While every element of our population suffers to a greater or less extent because of the unnecessary expenditures of the government, the farmers have special reason for complaint, because they pay more than their share of the taxes collected and receive less than their share of the benefits which flow from the expenditure of the corporation. Nearly all of our federal revenues excepting postal receipts are collected from internal revenue taxes and import duties, and these are taxes upon consumption. Taxes upon consumption always overburden those of moderate means and underburden the rich. If the federal taxes could be separated from the price of the article in which they are concealed and each person's per capita tax be shown, it would be found that the federal tax now collected would be, in effect, a graduated income tax, the largest per cent. being collected from the small incomes and the least per cent. upon the large incomes. And to aggravate the case still more, the appropriations which unfairly oppress the farmers are spent in cities, so that the farmer enjoys few in direct benefits from the appropriations and scarcely any direct benefits.

"Why is it that the Republican party is so much more extravagant than the Democratic party in the expenditure of public money? There are two reasons: First, because Republican leaders are more intimately associated with the tax eaters than with the tax payers. They hear the hungry clamor of the men who spend money more than they do the protests of the masses who contribute revenues.

"But there is a second reason. The Republican leaders have taught the doctrine that taxation is an unalloyed good. They have tried to cultivate a public opinion to support the idea that tariff taxes, on the theory that even when not needed for revenue are a direct advantage to this protected interests and an indirect advantage to the whole country. It is not strange that people who consider taxation a blessing would be inclined to make the blessing as large as possible.

"The Democratic party is in a position to reform in the matter of extravagance. It believes that all defensible only when necessary and that it should be reduced to the lowest limits consistent with good government. Our party is pledged to reduction in appropriations and to economy in every department of government and our position ought to appeal with special force to those of our fellow citizens who are paying [illegible] culture."

A TEXAS CLERGYMAN

Speaks Out for the Benefit of Suffering Thousands.

Rev. G. M. Gray, Baptist Clergyman, of Whitesboro, Tex., says: "Four years ago I suffered misery with lumbago. Every movement was one of pain. Doan's Kidney Pills removed the whole difficulty after only a short time. Although I do not like to have my name used publicly, I make an exception in this case, so that other sufferers from kidney trouble may profit by my experience."

Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

AN OPTICAL ILLUSION.

The Professor—How remarkable! I can distinctly see a man in the moon. What an exceedingly plain person.

THREE CURES OF ECZEMA.

Woman Tells of Her Brother's Terrible Suffering—Two Baths Also Cured —Cuticura Invaluable.

"My brother had eczema three different summers. Each summer it came out between his shoulders and down his back, and he said his suffering was terrible. When it came on the third summer, he bought a box of Cuticura Ointment and gave it a faithful trial. Soon he began to feel better and he cured himself entirely of eczema with Cuticura. A lady in Indiana heard of how my daughter, Mrs. Miller, had cured her little son of terrible eczema by the Cuticura Remedies. This lady's little one had the eczema so badly that they thought they would lose it. She used Cuticura Remedies and they cured her child entirely, and the disease never came back. Mrs. Sarah E. Lusk, Coldwater, Mich., Aug. 15 and Sept. 2, 1907."

On Trial.

A Scotchman stood beside the bed of his dying wife, and in tearful accents asked was there anything he could do for her.

"Yes, Sandie," she said; "I'm hoping you'll bury me in Craeburn kirkyard."

"But, my lass," he cried, "only think of the awful expense! Would ye no be comfortable here in Aberdeen?"

"No, Sandie; I'd no rest in my grave unless I were buried in Craeburn."

"It's too much you're askin'," said the loving husband, "and I cannot promise ye ony such thing."

"Then, Sandie, I'll no give you ony peace until my bones are at rest in my native parish."

"Ah, weel, Maggie," said he, "I'll just gie ye a three-month trial in Aberdeen, an' see how ye get along."

How Hammer of Death Struck James.

The old parish church of Plumstead, which has just been reopened, is probably at least 1,000 years old. The picturesque churchyard, a cherished haunt of the poet Bloomfield during his visits to Shooter's Hill, contains a delightfully choice "derangement of epitaphs." One of these, on "Master James Darling, aged ten," teaches a lesson of moderation during the present cherry season to the youth of other places besides Plumstead. Speaking from his tombstone, Master Darling exclaims:

"The hammer of Death was give to me
For eating the cherries off the tree."

MOTHER AND CHILD

Both Fully Nourished on Grape-Nuts.

The value of this famous food is shown in many ways, in addition to what might be expected from its chemical analysis.

Grape-Nuts food is made of whole wheat and barley, is thoroughly baked for many hours and contains all the wholesome ingredients in these cereals.

It contains also the phosphate of potash grown in the grains, which Nature uses to build up brain and nerve cells.

Young children require proportionately more of this element because the brain and nervous system of the child grows so rapidly.

A Va. mother found the value of Grape-Nuts in not only building up her own strength but in nourishing her baby at the same time. She writes:

"After my baby came I did not recover health and strength, and the doctor said I could not nurse the baby as I did not have nourishment for her, besides I was too weak.

"He said I might try a change of diet and see what that would do, and recommended Grape-Nuts food. I bought a pkg. and used it regularly. A marked change came over both baby and me.

"My baby is now four months old, is in fine condition, I am nursing her and doing all my work and never felt better in my life." "There's a Reason."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

POINTER BY THE PICKPOCKET.

Best Scheme for the Protection of a Diamond Stud.

"An acquaintance of mine had a queer experience the other day," said a man who has not much faith in anything. "A short time ago he was introduced to a pickpocket by a friend. The pickpocket is one of the best in the business.

"My friend didn't think anything more about him, but the other night he was in a saloon, after he had been celebrating most of the day. He was pretty happy and the pickpocket came in. My friend had a diamond stud in the tie with a screw attachment. The pickpocket walked up.

"'You may not remember me,' he said, 'but I met you the other night with so and so. Take a bit of advice from me. You may lose that shiner of yours if you're not careful.'

Then the pickpocket looked at the diamond. He said the screw attachment wouldn't stop a good thief from getting the diamond, but he could fix it. He fished around in his pockets and produced a rubber band, which he tied around the screw.

"'Now,' he said, 'they can only get yours on by force.'"

AND SHE LEFT HIM GUESSING.

Woman's Directions of Little Help to Traveling Lawyer.

A New York lawyer was called recently to a hamlet in Berks county, Pennsylvania, in the interest of a large coal corporation, and now he is telling this story on himself:

He was driving along a country road and feared he might have lost his bearings. The village he wanted to reach seemed elusive, so he halted in front of a farmhouse to make inquiries.

"Madam," he called out to a broad German woman, who stood looking at him from beneath a "poke" bonnet, "can you tell me how far it is to the next village?"

"Oh, yust a leedle ways," came the response.

"But, my good woman, how far is it? Is it two, four, six or eight miles? That's what I want to know."

"Yah, I tinks so."

And the Wall street lawyer drove on a wiser man.

ON THE MOVE.

Timid Bard—Does poetry go around here?

Brutal Editor—Some of it does. That last batch you submitted just went out of the window.

Critical Eye for Babies.

The five-year-old daughter of a Brooklyn man has had such a large experience of dolls that she feels herself to be something of a connoisseur in children.

Recently there came a real live baby into the house.

When it was put into her arms the five-year-old surveyed it with a critical eye.

"Isn't it a nice baby?" asked the nurse.

"Yes, it's nice," answered the youngster hesitatingly, "it's utes, but its head's loose."—Lippincott's.

Peonies as a Medicine.

Peonies were originally esteemed less for beauty of bloom than for value as a medicine. In recognition of its curative virtues, the peony was named after Paeon, the physician of the gods. An old writer says: "About an infant's neck hang peonie. It cures Alcydes cruell maladie." Nor did the use of the plant stop there, for peony water was esteemed and drank in hygone times, though whether as medicine or merely as a refreshing temperance beverage is more than modern writers can say.

Catarrh Cannot Be Cured

with LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure is not a quack medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing catarrh. Send for testimonials, free.

F. J. CHENEY & Co., Props., Toledo, O.

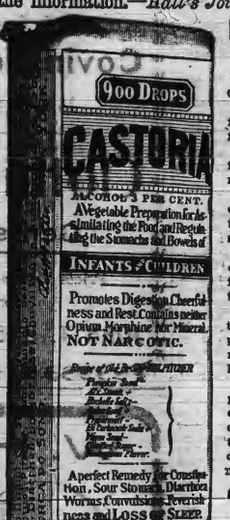
Sold by Druggists, price 75c.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Would Be Cheaper.

A church appointed a committee to get subscriptions for a chime of bells. They had seen nearly all the congregation.

When they went to see a rather poor member they told him they would like a small [illegible] toward it. He promised to give as much as he could, but he said: "Don't you think it would be cheaper to put a whistle in?"



Mud for His.

Yeast—It is said if the real estate of Manhattan island were divided equally among its inhabitants, each individual would own $230 worth, according to the assessed value.

Crimsonbeak—And I suppose it would just be my luck to get my share all in mud!

Physicians Recommend Castoria

CASTORIA has met with pronounced favor on the part of physicians, pharmaceutical societies and medical authorities. It is used by physicians with results most gratifying. The extended use of Castoria is unquestionably the result of three facts: First—The indisputable evidence that it is harmless: Second—That it not only allays stomach pains and quiets the nerves, but assimilates the food: Third—It is an agreeable and perfect substitute for Castor Oil. It is absolutely safe. It does not contain any Opium, Morphine, or other narcotic and does not stupefy. It is unlike Soothing Syrups, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, etc. This is a good deal for a Medical Journal to say. Our duty, however, is to expose danger and record the means of advancing health. The day for poisoning innocent children through greed or ignorance ought to end. To our knowledge, Castoria is a remedy which produces composure and health, by regulating the system—not by stupefying it—and our readers are entitled to the information.—Hall's Journal of Health.

Exact Copy of Wrapper.

Letters from Prominent Physicians addressed to Chas. H. Fletcher.

Dr. B. Halstead Scott, of Chicago, Ills., says: "I have prescribed your Castoria often for infants during my practice, and find it very satisfactory."

Dr. William Belmont, of Cleveland, Ohio, says: "Your Castoria stands first in its class. In my thirty years of practice I can say I never have found anything that so filled the place."

Dr. J. H. Taft, of Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I have used your Castoria and found it an excellent remedy in my household and private practice for many years. The formula is excellent."

Dr. R. J. Hamlen, of Detroit, Mich., says: "I prescribe your Castoria extensively, as I have never found anything to equal it for children's troubles. I am aware that there are imitations in the field, but I always see that my patients get Fletcher's."

Dr. Wm. J McCrann, of Omaha, Neb., says: "As the father of thirteen children I certainly know something about your great medicine, and aside from my own family experience I have in my years of practice found Castoria a popular and efficient remedy in almost every home."

Dr. J. R. Clausen, of Philadelphia, Pa., says: "The name that your Castoria has made for itself in the tens of thousands of homes blessed by the presence of children, scarcely needs to be supplemented by the endorsement of the medical profession, but I, for one, most heartily endorse it and believe it an excellent remedy."

Dr. R. M. Ward, of Kansas City, Mo., says: "Physicians generally do not prescribe proprietary preparations, but in the case of Castoria my experience, like that of many other physicians, has taught me to make an exception. I prescribe your Castoria in my practice because I have found it to be a thoroughly reliable remedy for children's complaints. Any physician who has raised a family, as I have, will join me in heartiest recommendation of Castoria."

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS
Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

In Use For Over 30 Years.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

No Automobiles There.

"There are no automobiles on the golden streets of heaven," says the Whitsett Courier, "but they're giving lots of folks a chance to walk those golden streets. One of the best autions arrived to give ice week and during the first spin the owner took in it it pitched a blind mule on top of the town hall, with the man that was ridin' the mule. The mule was so mad it kicked the town clock to pieces, likewise kickin' a hole in the roof an' fallin' on the mayor, just as he had took his seat an' called council to order. Having landed in the midst of them, the mule walked slow and dignified to the front door an' then took to the woods."

Translated.

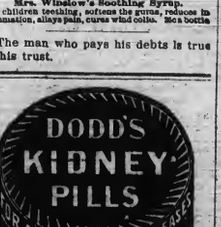
"What are you hunting for in the dictionary, my son?" asked old Kollidge.

"What is the Latin for 'wink?'" asked young Kollidge.

"'Spiritus frumenti,'" replied the old man absent-mindedly.—Philadelphia Press.

Your Druggist Will Tell You

That Murine Eye Remedy Cures Eyes, Makes Weak Eyes Strong. Doesn't Smart. Soothes Eye Pain and Sells for 50c.



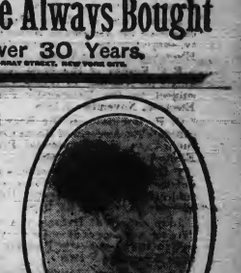
Even boarding house landladies must pay out good money for the privilege of boarding street cars.

Allen's Foot-Ease, a Powder
For swollen, sweating feet. Gives instant relief. The original powder for the feet. 25c at all Druggists.

Telling the truth accidentally is apt to be embarrassing.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.
For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle

The man who pays his debts is true to his trust.



WIDOWS' PENSIONS Under NEW LAW obtained by JOHN W. MORRIS, Washington, D. C.

Readers of this paper desiring to buy anything advertised in its columns should insist upon having what they ask for, refusing all substitutes or imitations.

DEFIANCE STARCH 16 ounces to the package—other starches only 12 ounces—same price and "DEFIANCE" IS SUPERIOR QUALITY.

This Beautiful Pastel Free

In colors, 14x17 inches, for limited time only, with pound package "20-Mule-Team" Borax. If your dealer hasn't the pictures send top of pound package "20-Mule-Team" Borax and 4c with dealer's name and receive picture FREE.

Pacific Coast Borax Co., New York.

A. N. K.—E (1908—37) 2247.

Body Builders
Build You Up

BODY BUILDERS FOR WEAK PEOPLE

If you are afflicted with Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Constipation, Bilious Attacks, Rheumatism, Malaria, Debilitated, Heart, Kidney, Liver, or Neuralgic troubles, Blues or Smallings of the feet, ankles, eyelids or other parts of the body—any decline in Strength and Health—if your case be considered Apoplexy, you should take Body Builders Medicine Tablets. They are mild, harmless and agreeable to take. 30 Days' Treatment Included—one of our Famous Strong Healing Plasters sent post paid anywhere for $1. 30-Day treatment FREE. Address BODY BUILDERS CO., Binghamton, N. Y.

Shortest Line to Rosebud Reservation

The opening of the Rosebud Reservation, October 3 to 17, next, will give over 5000 people each a choice farm in Tripp County, South Dakota, for a small sum per acre. 338,000 acres will be opened. People drawing one of these farms must pay $2.00 an acre: one-fifth down, balance in 5 years. Chamberlain and Presho, South Dakota, are places of registration. Both are located on the shortest line to the reservation from Chicago—the

CHICAGO MILWAUKEE & ST. PAUL RAILWAY

The best of these lands are located in the northern part of Tripp County, easily reached from both Chamberlain and Presho. All persons, except certain soldiers, must [illegible] in one of these towns for registration. Presence at the drawing is not required. Those who draw one of these farms will be notified by mail. Rosebud folder, containing map, and giving full particulars free on request.

F. A. MILLER,
General Passenger Agent,
Chicago.

PUTNAM FADELESS DYES

Color more evenly, brighter and faster and cost less than any other dye. One 10c package colors all fibers. They dye in cold water better than any other dye. Sold by druggists, or by mail for 10c in stamps. Write for free booklet—How to Dye, Bleach and Mix Colors. MONROE DRUG CO., Quincy, Illinois.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

FOR COUNTY JUDGE.

P. E. Cason is a candidate for Judge of the County Court of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

J. H. Walton, of Constance, is a candidate for County Judge of Boone county, subject to the Primary Election, November 3d, 1908.

Sidney Gaines is a candidate for Judge of the County Court of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November, 3, 1908

FOR COUNTY ATTORNEY.

N. E. Riddell is a candidate for County Attorney of Boone County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

FOR CLERK OF COUNTY COURT

Charles (Caddie) Maurer, of Belleview, is a candidated for Clerk of the Boone County Court, subject to the Democratic Primary election, November 3, 1908.

Owen S. Watts, of Walton, is a candidate for Clerk of the Boone County Court, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

B. B. Allphin, of Walton, is a candidate for Clerk of the Boone County Court, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary Election November 3, 1908.

J. H. Rogers, of Walton, is a candidate for Clerk of the Boone County Court, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

D. B. Dobbins, of Richwood, is a candidate for Clerk of the Boone County Court, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

J. C Hankins, of Hebron, is a candidate for County Court Clerk of Boone county, subject to the Primary Election, November 3d, 1908.

FOR CIRCUIT CLERK.

J. A. Duncan, of Burlington, is a candidate for Circuit Court Clerk of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, Nov. 3d, 1908.

FOR SHERIFF.

W. D. Cropper, of Burlington, is a candidate for Sheriff of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

B. B. Hume, of Burlington, is a candidate for Sheriff of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, Novmeber 3, 1908.

Maichus Souther, of Constance, is a candidate for Sheriff of Boone County subject to the Democratic Primary Election November 3, 1908.

FOR ASSESSOR.

R. H. Stephens, of Rabbit Hash, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1907.

John W. Williams, of Union, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

Lewis Clore, of Rabbit Hash, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election November 3, 1908.

E. C. Franks, of Big Bone, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

C. P. Robinson, of Big Bone, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election November 3, 1908.

T G. Willis, of Bullittsville, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3d, 1908.

John Kelsay, of Hebron, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

Geo. W. Ward, of Rabbit Hash, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

FOR SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT.

Almer M. Yesley, of Florence, is a candidate for Superintendent of Schools of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

Elbert S. Ryle, of Burlington, is a candidate for Superintendent of Schools of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

Edgar C. Riley, of Burlington, is a candidate for Superintendent of Schools of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, Nov. 3d, 1908.

FOR JAILOR.

Samuel Adams is a candidate for Jailer of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

FOR SURVEYOR.

W. E. Vest is a candidate for Surveyor of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

FOR REHRESENTATIVE.

J. W. Berkshire, of Petersburg, is a candidate for Representative of Boone county in the next Legislature, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3d, 1908.

FOR JUSTICE OF THE PEACE.

R. H. Tanner, of Florence, is a candidate for Justice of the Peace in the Magisterial District composed of the Constance and Florence voting precincts, subject to the Democratic Primary election November 3 1908.

E. O. Rouse, of Florence is a candidate for Justice of the Peace in the Magisterial District composed of the voting precincts of Constance and Florence, subject to the Democratic Primary election November 3, 1908.

Going Some.

Dr. Otto Crisler has been flying around on Woolper creek somewhat promiscuously for the last two weeks. On the fifth Sunday in last month he made a big hit as a gallant at the basket meeting at the school house near Flickertown, and in a few days thereafter he had a professional call to the same territory, while it is said that his mind wonders in that direction every day since he met several of the handsome young ladies of that neighborhood.

Personal Mention.

Master Wyatt Westbay, of Covington, spent several days last week with friends in Burlington.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Walton, of Petersburg, were visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Hughes, Sunday.

Benjamin Honston, of Covington, was the guest of Lloyd Weaver, on Gunpowder, several days last week.

Wm. Kirkpatrick and family, of Hopeful neighborhood, were guests of Elmer Kirkpatrick and wife, Monday.

James Works and wife, of Erlanger, were the guests of B. B. Hume and wife, Saturday night and Sunday.

Mrs. W. B. Arnold, of Hannibal, Missouri, was the pleasant guest last Wednesday, of Mrs. Susan E. Clutterbuck.

A. B. Rouse and N. E Riddell were calling on their friend C. W. Riley, of Bullittsville, last Friday afternoon.

Master Riggs Dempsey, of Covington, was the guest of his brother, Walton Dempsey, of Burlington, several days the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Maul, of Cincinnati, were guests of relatives in Burlington and vicinity from Saturday until Monday evening.

Uncle Let Nichols, nearly 84 years old received the first pictures of himself, last Saturday. They were taken by a friend who owns a codac.

Kirtley Rice, of Aurora, spent several days last week and the week before, with Boone county friends. He is looking well and is pleased with his Indiana home.

Elmer Conley and family are visiting friends in St. Bernard, Ohio. In his absence Bert Smith, of Piattsburg, will officiate as carrier on Burlington rural mail route No. 2.

Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Scott, of Belleview, and Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Clore, of Idlewild, and Alonzo Uts. of Big Bone, were Monday guests of H. G. and Mrs. Susan E. Clutterbuck.

Misses Alice Revill and Monette and Neil Hallam, of Washington, D. C., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Revill. Miss Alice is Mr. Revill's sister, and Misses Monette and Neil are his nieces, daughters of Judge O. B. Hallam.

Mrs. H. W. Blyth, of Lawrenceburg, was the guest of her Boone county relatives last week. Her daughter, Miss Louise, who had been the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Dudley Rouse, for several days, returned home with her.

Miss Mae Sebree, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sebree, who reside down on Wooiper creek, and Mr. Shirley Howe, a member of the Newport fire department, were married in Lawrenceburg, last Thursday. After spending a few days with the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howe will leave for Denver, Colorado, to spend the winter.

Buy your watches and clocks of R. W. Clark, Burlington.

For Sale—Choice mail Thinrind pigs. Apply to G. W. Sandford, Burlington.

For Sale—24 shoats that will average about 90 pounds. Apply to or address O. N. Scott, Petersburg, R. R. No. 1.

O. O. Dixon, professional nurse, of Richwood, has returned home after nursing C. W. Riley, of Bullittsville, for several weeks.

In this issue will be found the advertisement of B. Gross Clothing Co. of Covington. When in that city call on them and see what they will do for you.

All the members of Burlington K. of P. Lodge are requested to be present at the meeting next Saturday night, when delegates to the grand lodge will be selected.

The mare and colts that took the first premium at Florence, week before last, belonged to Edward Botts, of Piattsburg, instead of Charles Kelly as stated in the premium list last week.

The Belleview, Waterloo and Rabbit Hash Turnpike Co. let to J. H. Walton and Marion Scott, yesterday, the contracts for building the remainder of the road between Waterloo and Rabbit Hash.

In this issue will be found the announcements of R. H. Tanner and E. O. Rouse, candidates for justice of the peace in the magisterial district composed of the Constance and Florence voting precincts.

STOLEN—From the pasture of Joe Graham, Bullittsville, Ky., on Sunday night, September 6th, 1908, one blood bay gelding, 15¾ hands high, about 12 years old, quarter crack inside of left front foot. Carries tail on right side. Will weigh about 1,000 pounds, knot on outside of left hind hock, saddle and harness burn. Liberal reward offered for apprehension of thief and property. All information should be sent to owner or M. F. Wingate, Sheriff Boone County, Petersburg, Ky.

Monday's was the largest court day crowd that has been in town in a long time, and gave the numerous candidates a great opportunity to interview the dear voters, and they made good use of the opportunity. The water in the public cistern was exhausted, but Jailer Sammie Adams provided for the wants of the people in that direction by filling two large tubs, which he replenished at intervals, and keep in a place easy of access. The Plutarch colt show immediately after dinner attracted considerable attention. Hugh Pate, of Rising Sun, was chosen as judge. He had nine very handsome young animals to pass upon, but finally decided that A. W. Gaines' filly colt, and John Moody's horse colt were entitled to wear the blue ribbons. Several very fine mule colts, the get of Jerry H. K. Glass, were exhibited, W. C. Goodridge's horse mule and Harve Tanner's mare mule taking the blue strings. The latter mule took the premium as the best mule, also.

Golden Blend Coffee
20c lb
BEST ON EARTH

GEO. C. GOODE,
—AGENT—
Groceries and Medicines,
N. E. Cor. Pike & Washington,
Covington, - - - Kentucky.

Money-Worth Coffee
Lb 17c
3 Lbs. 50c.
Best for the Price in Town.

NEW STORE
The B. GROSS CLOTHING Co.
S. E. Cor. 7th & Madison Ave.,
Covington, - Kentucky,
Is open with a Complete Line of
—UP-TO-DATE—
Clothing, Hats and Gents' Furnishings.
Prices Lowest and Satisfaction Guaranteed or Money Refunded.
JOHN T. SHEEHAN, Manager.

W. H. CLARK
—SELLS THE—

W. L. Douglas Shoes
FOR MEN.
Coarse and Fine, Plain and Cap Toe, Lace and Blucher
—AT—
$1.50, $2.00, $2.50, $3.00 and $3.50
MANY OTHER GOOD BRANDS OF
Men's and Boys' Shoes
9, 12, 14 and 16 inch Lace.
Ladies! We sell the famous Krippendorf-Dittman, Drew-Selby and many other good brands of Shoes.
Every Pair is Guaranteed to be worth Price Paid.
W. H. CLARK,
Two Doors above National Bank.
Rising Sun, - - Indiana.

For Sale Privately.
My entire Stock of Goods consisting of
GENERAL MERCHANDISE,
Also House and Lot in Belleview, Boone County, Ky.
Have a good established trade. Any one desiring this location will call on or write me at once.
E. E. KELLY, Grant P. O., Ky.

Boone Co. Deposit Bank,
BURLINGTON, KY.
The Oldest Bank in Boone County,
PAYS 3 PER CENT. INTEREST ON TIME DEPOSITS,
With $100,000 protection to its Depositors as follows:

Capital Stock	$30,000
Surplus and Undivided Profits	40,000
Liability of Stockholders	30,000
Total Security for Depositors	$100,000

COURTESY EXTENDED TO ALL.

Bear In Mind
A Square Deal to Every Man
Is Our Motto.
We give you Honest Clothing at "Honest Prices." We give you the Style, Quality, Fit and Workmanship and we guarantee
.....OUR PRICES THE LOWEST.....
We still have a fine line of
Men's & Boys' Spring and Summer SUITS
and it will be to your interest to examine them before buying elsewhere.
Men's Nice Suits.....$5.00, $6.00, $7.50
Men's Fine Suits.....$10.00, $12.50, $15.00, $18.00
Boys' Suits.....$4.00, $5.00, $7.50, $10.00, $12.00
Children's Suits.....$1.50 to $5.00
Fine Line of Men's Pants.....$1.00 to $5.00
Big Line of Cottonade and Camlet Pants just the thing for hot weather. We have some nice Suits in Odds and Ends which we will sell at much reduced prices.
Rolfes & Wachs,
RELIABLE CLOTHIERS,
No. 1 PIKE STREET,
Cor. Madison Ave., Covington, Ky.

You Can Always Find the
Best and Largest Stock of
Buggie, Carriage, Draft and Farm Harness
AT REASONABLE PRICES
Riding Saddles in all sizes and Styles; Horse Clothing, Flynets and Horse Boots. Also a full line of Trunks, Traveling Bags and Suit Caser at
Chas. Mahlmann, Jr.
Phone, S. 957-X 32 Pike Street, COVINGTON, KY.

The New Iowa
New in Kentucky,
But a Leader in the West
NOTE WHAT WE CLAIM FOR IT.

The Only Separator
made to day, that will skim to a trace, warm or cold milk.
Easiest Cleaned,
Lightest Running,
Mechanically Right
Farmers and Dairymen wanting to buy Separators should see the Iowa before making a purchase. It is absolutely the best, no other just as good costs no more. Why not have it? Over two car loads sold in Kentucky in two months. Write us for literature, good reading matter and very learning. We have all kinds of Tools, Farming Implements, Contractors Supplies, &c. The best line of Plows, Grain Drills, Feed Cutters and Mills. We have some new and slightly used Sharpless Separators we will sell at bargains.
We will Save You Money. Give us a Call.
The Fischer Bros. Company,
(Incorporated)
1046 Madison Ave. COVINGTON, KY.
729-731 Monmouth St. NEWPORT, KY.
Everything Marked in Plain Figures. One Price to All.

Take Your County paper.

The Universalist Association.

The Rogers Association of Universalists met with the Burlington church last Friday, with the following churches represented: Milan, Manchester and Rising Sun, Indiana, and Burlington. Rev. S. G. Ayres, of Cincinnati, and Marion Crossley, of Indianapolis, did the preaching, the sermons being heard by a good attendance, especially on Sunday. One member was received into the church, Leonard Hewitt. An elegant basket dinner was served on Sunday.

Notice to Policy Holders.

The policy holders in the Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Company of Boone County, are hereby notified that the annual election of officers will be held at the office in Burlington on Monday, October 5th, 1908. The directors are notified to be at the office on same date, as there is business of importance to attend to. Any person desiring to have his name on the official ballot, must notify the secretary by September 25th, 1908.
MAICHUS SOUTHER, Secretary.

The County Board of Education is composed of the following:
L. H. Thompson, Florence.
Wm. Stephens, Petersburg.
Simeon Craven, Verona.
J. A. Huey, Union.
Chas Kelly, Burlington, R. F. D. No. 2.
L. A. Conner, Burlington.
The board held its first meeting at the office of the County Superintendent in Burlington, last Friday, and organized and elected L. H. Thompson, of Florence, secretary. The chairman called attention to the supervision of property, redistricting, consolidation of districts and the establising of a high school. The board adjourned to meet again on the first Monday in November, 1908.

Read your County Paper.

Church Roll Call.

To the Members of Big Bone Baptist Church:—You are earnestly requested to be present at the Roll Call and Consecration Services on September 20th, 1908. We will have a basket dinner and an all-day service. We want every member of the church present. The church needs your presence, for "We are laborers together with God." We want to spend this day together in the service of God, and rededicate ourselves to His cause. Don't fail to be present. WM. MCMILLAN, Pastor.

DR. L. H. CRISLER,
VETERINARY SURGEON.
Residence 1552 Scott St.,
COVINGTON, - - KENTUCKY.
Phone, South 1248.

PUBLIC SALE.

I will sell at public sale at my residence at the old Bruce Mill, about three miles west of Burlington, Ky., on Woolper creek, on Friday, September 11th, 1908,

the following property:

One bay Horse about 12 years old, one Cow 4 years old, three Hogs will average 200 pounds, Buggy and Harness, Road Wagon, set of Wagon Harness, lot Farming Implements and Household and Kitchen Furniture.

Terms—On sum over $5 a credit of Nine months without interest will be given, purchaser to give note with good security negotiable and payable in the Boone County Deposit Bank; sums of $5.00 and under, cash.

No property to be removed until terms are complied with.
HARRY PASSONS.
Sale to begin at 1 p. m.

Subscribe for the Recorder.

Local News.

Pawpaws are ripening and the 'possums are fatening.

Several of the public schools in the county are in progress again.

Mot Stuckey treated the office to some nice, juicy pawpaws, last Friday.

Hardly the usual acreage of wheat will be sowed in Boone county this season.

This summer has been the driest ever in several neighborhoods of this county.

B. B. Hume has a horse or two entered in the trotting races at Sanders this week.

Cliff Hedges sold to Hugh Pate, of Rising Sun, Monday, a pair of young mules for $150.

There never a better crop of dustch Burlington than that of the past six weeks.

The melon merchants was an active quantity last week, the end of the season being in sight.

Ed Rice, of Idlewild, bought the mules that took the premiums at the mule show in Burlington, Monday.

About all the candidates showed up in Burlington some time during last week, looking weary and worn.

J. E. Smith is preparing to have a large grave stone erected on his family lot in the Odd-Fellows' cemetery.

The cisterns in Burlington are not equal to the emergency in case of prolonged dry spells such as that of this year.

The foliage on the trees begins to show the approach of fall. The dry weather has hastened the decline of the leaves.

Elmo Gaines is attending to the collection of taxes while W. D. Cropper is shaking the bushes in his race for Sheriff.

Next Saturday the popular Boone County Harvest Home Association will give its annual exhibition. To this everybody goes.

Charlie Roberts has discovered a new means of relief for the hay fever, viz: Carrying his nose in a sling. He says it is the thing.

This is the last issue in which will appear the call under which the county primary election will be held. Better preserve this copy of the paper.

The assessor has begun his annual rounds, and will be glad if you are prepared to give him a hearing when he calls on you for your schedule of property.

Erice Rouse, of Hopeful, passed through Burlington, one afternoon last week enroute from the Bellevue melon fields with a large load of nice melons.

The mail got out of whack last week somewhere between Burlington and Cincinnati. The daily papers could not reach their destination on time.

N. E. Riddell was appointed trustee in bankruptcy for E. H. Baker at a meeting of the creditors held at the office of the referee in Covington, last Thursday.

Leslie Sebree, of Plattsburg, is entitled to much credit for the very excellent work he has done on the old Woolper pike. It is of a kind that will last a considerable time.

More of the bar at Rising Sun was exposed about the first of this month than had been at any time for three years. Some of the big boats had to be taken out of the trade last week.

It is now the calculation to pull off a big Democratic barbecue at the fair grounds at Florence some time this fall. Permission has been granted to use the grounds for that purpose.

There are several cases of typhoid fever in the county, and some apprehend many more cases will follow the dry weather, as a result of impure drinking water in many localities.

The building occupied by Charles Bachelor's store in McVille, had a narrow escape from being destroyed by fire, one day last week. It caught in the roof, supposedly from a spark from a flue.

The North Bend Association of Baptists will be held with the church at Walton, this year, beginning today. Preparations have been made to entertain a large crowd of delegates and visitors.

The Harvest Home, the last general meeting of Boone county people this year, will be held on the grounds near Limaburg next Saturday, and an exhibition and attendance equal to any of the past are anticipated.

Earl Smith got two of the fingers on his right hand badly mashed, last Friday. The end of one finger was nearly severed. He was handling a large lump of coal which split and caught his fingers between it and the edge of the wagon bed.

Doc Clore, principal operator of the switch board at Waterloo, was taken suddenly very ill last Thursday, and for a while he was thought to be dead. He vomited large quantities of blood, which is said to have resulted from stomach trouble.

Col. William Philips, of Erlanger, was in town last Friday morning The Colonel was chief cook for an Erlanger party that was enjoying an outing in camp down on Gunpowder. He is said to be a very fine cook and is very popular with outing parties.

Burlington won two games of base ball from Bellevue. The morning game was taken 7 to 4. The feature of this game was Conner's pitching, only four hits being made off of him, while Sandford was hit for 10. Only 15 men faced him in the first five innings. The features of the afternoon's game was Brady's pitching, Earl Smith's home run, and the hitting of Renner at will. Keene South er was the goods at second, while Hughes clumped every thing at short. In the afternoon Charlie Sandford made a good record as a hitter and a run getter, getting two of each. Score, 10 to 8 in favor of Burlington.

A light rain visited the southern part of the county last Sunday afternoon.

When you have an item of news give it to the RECORDER on either the Farmers' or the Consolidated lines. Everybody try this one week and see what a good paper will result. Send in the item as soon as you get it—don't wait a minute. Will you do this?

John Baldon left last Wednesday for Denver, Colorado, where he was given a good position in a large firm that handles all kinds of machinery, making a speciality of threshing machine outfits. He left his sawmill here in the hands of a good sawyer, who will fill all orders to the satisfaction of the patrons of the mill.

Hear that an effort is being made to organize a bank at Belleview with a capital of $15,000. It seems from the number of banks in the country that there is no business in which a person can invest money with more certainty of its earning a good per cent, so why will not an investment in bank stock at Belleview pay?

Prospects for a pike from Waterloo to Rabbit Hash are brightening, and in the next few months several miles will probably be under contract. The work on the road from Belleview to Waterloo has inspired an activity on the part of those interested in the other roads, and it is believed that at last there will be results of a substantial nature.

Next Friday Harry Passons, who resides with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Passons, at the forks of Woolper, will have a public sale of personal property, and in a few days thereafter he and his parents will take their departure for Illinois, where they will make their future home. Harry considers Illinois a much better field than Kentucky for the man who works on a farm.

The residents of Florence along the Lexington pike derived great comfort, during the fair, from having that thoroughfare oiled. They were not annoyed with a particle of dust during fair week, while on other like occasions the very great volume of dust resulting from the travel of the immense crowds going to and returning from the fair made life a burden. The oil will keep the dust down for some time yet, consequently the benefits resulting from it were not limited to the four days of the fair only.

Camping on Gunpowder.

The following constitute the Erlanger party that went into camp down on Gunpowder creek, on Monday of last week: Lane Riggs, Ed Harison, Frank Rohan, Alonzo Victor, Lou Bentler, Ed Terrill, Alex Buckner, E. W. Hawkins, Ralph Skiff, Earl Shearer, H. W. Shearer, Harry Stevens, William Phillipps, Clare Shearer, Thos. Buchanan, Geo. Frost. They will be in camp until next Friday, when they will break camp and return recuperated and refreshed as though they had been to the sea shore.

Following is the program of the annual convention of the churches of Christ of Boone county to be held with the Christian church at Beaver Lick, on the evening of September 18th and the day following:

FRIDAY EVENING.

7:30 Business Meeting of the Representatives of the Churches of Boone and Gallatin counties.

SATURDAY MORNING.

9:30 Bible Study of the Lesson of Next Sunday—A. S. Alphin.
9:45 Kentucky Bible School Centennial Enterprise—R. H. Carter.
10:10 The Living Link for the County—H. W. Elliott.
10:40 Address—Mrs. Henry Feltman.
11:10 Roll-Call of Churches; Appointment of Committees; Business, Etc.
12:00 Noon Intermission.
1:15 Devotions—John Ambrose.
1:30 Business Report of Committees; Minutes of last Convention; Secretary's Report.
2:00 Teacher Training—Jas. Rogers.
2:30 Our Don'ts—R. M. Hopkins.
3:00 Sketch of Mountain Work—Mrs. Bessie D. Ellis.
3:30 Our Watch Word for the Year—W. J. Wright.
4:00 Adjournment.

The annual convention of the Boone County Sunday School Association will be held at Hopeful Lutheran church, Tuesday, September 15th. A strong program has been prepared, and every effort will be made to make this the best convention ever held in the county. Mr. E. A. Fox, General Secretary, Louisville, will represent the State work. He is thoroughly conversant with every detail of Sunday school work and his talks will be practical and helpful. Some of the best local talent will also be utilized. The Secretary is now gathering reports from the Sunday Schools of the county, and every superintendent should send in his report and contribution promptly. Each school in the county should appoint one or two delegates to represent the school officially. In addition to these, as many others as possible should attend. For any information address the county president, R. O. Hughes, Richwood, Ky., or the county secretary, Katie Bentz, Walton, Ky. Following is the program: Some Scripture Reading—Parable of the Talents, Mat. 25, 14-30. Why are we Here?—Dr. W. W. Evans. Five Minutes Written Reports—County Superintendents. What makes a Model Sunday School?—Rev. W. McMillian Conference on these Reports—E. A. Fox. What is that in Thine Hand?—Rev. Edgar Riley. Announcements Appointment of Committees. Hour's Intermission. Song and Prayer. The Organized Adult Bible Class Movement—Rev. W. McMillian. Secretary—Treasurer's Report. The World Wide Sunday School Movement Mr. E. A. Fox. Offering. Report of Committees. The newly elected officers installed. The Joy of Loyal, Loving Service—J. H. Walterick. I am Resolved—Audience—Adjournment.

Peoples Deposit Bank,
BURLINGTON, KY.
YOUR MONEY DEPOSITED WITH THIS BANK IS AS SAFE AS WITH ANY BANK IN BOONE COUNTY.
3 PER CENT. INTEREST PAID ON SIX MONTHS TIME DEPOSITS.
We Make no Charge for Cashing Checks on other Banks
And afford you all other accommodations within range of Sound Banking in order to make dealings with us pleasant.
SAFE DEPOSIT BOXES FOR RENT. CALL AND SEE US.

STATEMETT OF THE
Equitable Bank & Trust Co.
WALTON, KY.
Organized for Business Sept. 9th, 1907.
DEPOSITS:
Opening Day Sept. 9th, 1907.....$5,383.71
Dec. 31st, 1907, when statement was made to Secretary of State.....37,157.67
June 30th, 1908, when statement was made to Secretary of State.....56,269.38
July 1st, 1908, one day later.....$61,959 90
LOANS AND DISCOUNTS:
July 1st, 1908.....$ 76,539 35
Available Cash July 1st, 1908.....30,716.80
Resources July 1st, 1908.....$115,220.35
Careful, prudent business principles governs the bank. Your business solicited. Interest paid on time deposits. Mail communications given especial attention.
CHAS. L. GRIFFITH, President. D. B. WALLACE, Cashier.

LEW THORN, Pharmacist.
A. G. G. RICHARDSON, Veterinary Surgeon.
THORN & RICHARDSON, DRUGGISTS.
We sell Kreso Dip for Lice and Mites on horses, cattle, sheep, hogs and chickens. Headquarters for House Paints, Floor Paints, Roofing Paints, Wagon and Carriage Paints, Carter's Lead and Pure Linseed Oil.
Medicines, Stationery and Sundries in large supply. All new and fresh. Prices are right.
Main Street, - - RISING SUN, INDIANA.

YOU NEED A BUGGY
AND I HAVE IT FOR YOU.
CAN SAVE YOU MONEY.
New Buggies, Runabouts
and Harness for Sale or Trade.
Workmanship the Best, and Material Guaranteed.
When in Burlington call and See me.
B. B. HUME, - Burlington, Ky.

Burlington High School.

Burlington High School will open next Monday. Educationally this will be an important occasion with the people of Burlington and vicinity, and Rev. Riley, who is at the head of the school will be glad to see every pupil, who will be enrolled during the term, present next Monday. Monday will be devoted to the examination and grading of the pupils, and the teachers are very desirous that as many of the parents be present as possible can, that a thorough understanding may be had at the beginning of the term. The indications are that the school will open with a good attendance, which will continue to grow. It is hoped that the patrons and friends of education will cooperate with the faculty and make the school a success from the start. Rev. Riley has worked hard to get the school started, and deserves the good will of every member of this community. Let all push for a good school in Burlington from now on. Don't knock, but boost, and there will soon be in progress here a school to which the entire county can and will point with pride.

Reelected the Old Board.

The stockholders of the North Kentucky Agricultural Association held their annual meeting at their grounds near Florence, last Wednesday, and reelected the old board on the first ballot, there being only a few scattering votes against any of them. B. F. McGlasson, President; F. A. Utz, Vice-President; N. E. Riddell, Secretary, and A. B. Rouse, Treasurer, were elected without opposition. The gate receipts for 1908 were something over $400 more than the receipts of 1907. As the lease on the grounds has only two years to run a committee consisting of F. A. Utz, J. O. Griffith and N. E. Riddell were appointed to confer with W. P. Carpenter, owner of the land, and ascertain upon what terms the lease can be renewed. The committee will report at the next annual meeting, when the stockholders will be called upon to decide what will be done in the premises.

Castillion, the large stallion belonging to the Rabbit Hash Horse Company, which developed a severe case of road founder at the Florence fair, had recovered sufficiently, last Thursday to be started homeward, where he arrived on Friday. For several days while at the fair he was in a very bad condition and many thought he would not recover. Castillon is owned by a company of six and cost $2,400.

The life of a sheet iron roof on a blacksmith shop is only about three years, at least that is the length of time one lasted on Mrs. Anna Kirkpatrick's shop in Burlington There was some chemical in the soot from the forge that destroyed the metal, it being reduced to the condition of a sieve in three years time.

Obituary.

The words of the psalmist, "Thy ways, Oh, God, are not as ours!" were most forcibly impressed upon every heart when the many 'phones in Boone county announced the sudden death, on the morning of August 12th, at his home in Bellevlew, of our beloved minister, Rev. T. L. Utz, a favorite of all. His life and example were a benediction, and his sermons were laden with redeeming love borne from the cross by the way of salvation to his unsaved friends. His death was a loss to the community and the church but a greater loss to his family. With one accord the petition of his people is, may "Thy grace, Oh, God, be sufficient for her sorrow, and thy love for her affliction, and if this heavy chastisement be for the good of his church, let every heart feel it deeply, and renew its vows of consecration to Thee, sincerely feeling that their selfishness and love of money and the world has caused this bereavement; that we all have wandered far away from God, like Saul of old, have rejected thy authority over us, have left us alone, desolate and forsaken, and joined to our idols. Making three times this year our church has been bereaved, Rev. L. Johnson, Rev. S. M. Adams and Rev. T. L. Utz, admonishing us that their labors are ended, yet, wilt Thou, in Thy infinite mercy, fill our vacant pulpits with worthy heralds of the cross, for there are so few, and we need them so badly. He was a great sufferer for years, unable to proclaim the gospel, and we hoped as he was again able to be the shepherd of his beloved flock that he would be blessed with health, and be with us for years. He united with the church at Big Bone, and was baptized by our old pastor, Rev. J. A. Kirtley, and with his colaborers, Adams and Huey, was soon licensed to preach the message of their crucified Savior. Brother Huey alone is left to battle with sin and life. He, like St. Paul, has fought the good fight, kept the faith, henceforth there is laid up for him a crown of righteousness which the Lord has given him. I write not this tribute for myself alone, but for all who knew and loved him. The scriptures assist us to portray his happy entrance to his heavenly home, abiding eternally in the radiance of Christ's glory, and our faith to hear God's welcome voice, "well done, thou good and faithful servant, enter into the joy of thy Lord." Farewell, Brother Utz, for time, but trust not for eternity.

LIZZIE B. WINSTON.

A Sure-enough Knocker.

J. C. Goodwin, of Reidsville, N. C., says: "Bucklen's Arnica Salve is a sure-enough knocker for ulcers. A bad one came on my leg last summer, but that wonderful salve knocked it out in a few rounds. Not even a scar remained." Guaranteed for piles, sores, burns, etc. 25c at Bentler's Drug Store, Erlanger.

Special Shoe Sale.
Our Fall and Winter Stock of Shoes will soon begin to arrive. We must make room for them and therefore will make very
LOW PRICE FOR STOCK ON HAND.

Men's Heavy Shoes at	$2.00	former price	$$3.00
Men's Light Shoes at	2.50	former price	3.50
Ladies' Shoes at	1.00	former price	2.00
Children's Shoes at	75c	former price	1.50

We have not room for more prices, but call on us and we will give you some genuine
SHOE BARGAINS.
W. M. Rachal & Co
Union, Kentucky.

PERFECT BIFOCALS AT LAST.

Bifocal lenses have been undergoing constant and rapid improvement for the last 10 years, until now we have the perfect bifocal.
It is ground in one piece and perfectly smooth; no cement used and no lines visible. Call and see them. They are the finest made.
N. F. Penn, M. D. with Motch, Jeweler,
613 Madison Avenue, - - - COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.
Phone, South 912-Y.

SCOTT CHAMBERS,
WALTON, KY.
Embalmer & Funeral Director,
LIVERY, BOARDING & SALE STABLE.
First Class Rigs for Hire at All Times.
Dealer in High Class Harness and Saddle Horses.
Raymond City Coal for sale at all times.

Hay, Grain, Mill Feed,
ALWAYS KEPT ON HAND.
Highest Market Price paid for Grain.
Fancy and Staple
GROCERIES.
I also have a nice and complete line of Fancy and Staple Groceries and canned goods.
WIRE AND FENCING, AGRICULTURAL IMPLEments, Buggies, Carriages, all kinds Fertilizer.
Owen S. Watts,
(Successor to R. B. HUEY & CO.)
WALTON, - - KENTUCKY.

H. G. BLANTON,
Funeral Director & Embalmer

LIVERY, BOARDING and FEED STABLE.
First-class Carriages for hire with careful Drivers for Families, Parties, Weddings, Etc.
I Have a Nice White Funeral Car.
Lexington Pike, - - - ERLANGER, KY.
Leave Orders with J. C. REVILL, Burlington, Ky.

Geo. W. Hill & Co.,
Grocers, Commission & SEED Merchants.
Tested Field and Garden Seeds.
Finest Brands and Grades of FERTILIZERS, LIME, CEMENT AND SALT.
Largest.
GROCERIES IN THE CITY.
Sole Agents for the Celebrated
RARUS and CEM Brands of FLOUR.
When in the City it will pay you to come and see us.
27 & 29 Pike Street. (Phone South 55) 26 & 28 W Seventh Street
COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

THE RECORDER.

W. L. RIDDELL, Publisher.

BURLINGTON. - - KENTUCKY

Population and Industrial Activity.

Malthus, in his famous treatise upon principles of population, declared that the natural tendency toward increase is checked by inadequacy of means of subsistence; but in our time this statement should be modified; new industries, the development of mines and extension of commerce, directly or indirectly, furnish means of support for increasing numbers and seem to create a demand for human beings—causing what may be termed a population vacuum. The population of England and Wales, for example, in 1701, was 6,121,525; in 1751 the total number of inhabitants had increased but 214,315, or 3.5 per cent. In 50 years. After the middle of the eighteenth century, however, continuous increase occurred, amounting to 3,000,000 in 1801, 9,000,000 in 1851, and 14,500,000 in 1901. This change was coincident with the creation of British industry and trade. But if it be true, declares W. S. Rossiter in Atlantic, that the quickening of industrial life has tended to increase population, the present stationary condition of population in parts of Europe, previously pointed out, and the diminishing increase of population in the United States, suggest the possibility that what may be termed the drawing power of natural and industrial resources upon population has culminated. We are justified at least in asking what influences upon increase of population, if any, are being exerted by the marvelous economic changes now in progress.

The Power of Mind Over Body.

We hear a great deal about the power of the mind over the body. Why, the whole secret of life is wrapped up in it. We do not know the A, B, C of this great, mysterious power, though the civilized world is rapidly awakening to its transforming force. The prophet, the poet, the sage, from earliest times have felt and recognized it. "Be ye transformed by the renewing power of your mind," Paul admonished the Romans. "'Tis the mind that makes the body rich," says Shakespeare. "What we commonly call man," writes Emerson, "the eating, drinking, planting, courting man, does not, as we know him, represent himself. Him we do not respect; but the soul, whose organ he is, would he let it appear through his action, would make our knees bend." To-day even the prize-fighter, the uneducated, as well as the educated, the man who lives on the animal plane even as the man who lives on the spiritual plane, in fact, all sorts of people, are beginning to see that there is some tremendous force back of the flesh which they do not understand. The rapid growth of the so-called new thought movement, declares Orison Swett Marden, in Success Magazine, shows how actively this idea of man's hidden power is working in the minds of all classes.

Those who are sure that the soil of New England is hopelessly barren may be surprised to learn some facts that are brought out in two recent bulletins of the department of agriculture. There were only eight states of the union in 1906 that had a larger acreage planted to potatoes than Maine. Only four produced a larger crop. Not one even approached Maine in the number of bushels to the acre. The average yield was 210 bushels to the acre, and no other state raised more than 175 bushels. The average for the whole country was only 202. Nor was it an exceptional year, for the average crop of Maine has been the largest in every year since 1903. Buckwheat is not a very important crop, but it is raised in 24 of the states. In this, too, Maine stands at the head in average crop per acre; New Hampshire is second, Vermont third, and Massachusetts fourth. Since 1900 the lowest average yield of buckwheat in Maine was 28 bushels to the acre in 1906. The highest yield in those seven years in any state outside of New England was 22½ bushels.

According to a Newport authority, fashionable women have taken to wearing heavy double veils which cross the face just above the bridge of the nose, leaving the eyes and forehead bare. This style is adopted just as Turkish women are giving up veils, but it need hardly be said that Newport women are seeking to hide their beauty from the public gaze; they merely wish to escape freckles.

Because Emperor William changed the fashion of wearing his mustache he was refused admission to one of the forts by a watchful sentinel. The fact that the sentinel was not disciplined for this involuntary insult to imperialism may be classed in the list of hair-breadth escapes.

A keen struggle for the possession of an extremely rare coin between the pope and King Victor Emmanuel of Italy, both numismatists, has just ended in favor of the former.

A VISION OF PEACE

Story of Micah the Prophet.

BY THE "HIGHWAY AND BYWAY" PREACHER

(Copyright, 1908, by the Author, W. E. Eilers.)

Scripture Authority—Book of Micah, especially 4:1-4.

Micah the Prophet.—Full name Micaiah, meaning: "Who is like Jehovah." Parentage and tribe of prophet unknown. He is distinguished from Micaiah, son of Imlah, the contemporary of Elijah, by being designated as the Morasthite, that is, one whose home was at Moresheth, a place west of Jerusalem near the Philistine borderland. As the opening words of the prophecy declare he prophesied during the reigns of Jotham, Ahaz and Hezekiah, so was a contemporary of Hosea and Amos in Israel and Isaiah in Judah. There is a tradition that for rebuking Jehoram for his iniquities Micah was thrown from a precipice and buried at Morasthi. Omitting the superscription, the prophecy falls into three natural divisions, each beginning with the words, "Hear ye," and each beginning with reproaches and threatenings and ending with a promise. The first section—chapters 1 and 2—opens with a magnificent description of Jehovah come to judgment for the idolatry of Israel and Judah. The second section—chapters 3 to 5—is addressed especially to the princes and heads of the people. The predictions of this section form a climax to the book. Ewald arranging them in four strophes as follows: 3:1-8; 3:9-12; 4:1-5, and 5:10-15. The last section—chapters 6 and 7—is a bold poetical figure representing Jehovah as holding a controversy with his people. The dialogue form of chapter 6 renders the picture very dramatic and striking, and the whole concludes with a triumphal song of joy at the great deliverance Jehovah will achieve. The last verse was quoted by Zacharias in his song, Luke 1:72, 73.

SERMONETTE.

Universal peace shall prevail some day. This is God's word.

Micah the prophet believed it in his day nearly 3,000 years ago when God gave him the marvelous vision of a world-wide peace, and how much more ought we to believe it in this day, when there is a rising tide of sentiment in every corner of the globe in favor of universal peace, when great national and international congresses are being held for the sole object of working it out in a practical way by means of arbitration agreements, and the curtailment and even abandonment of national armaments.

But in spite of the waste of billions of dollars' worth of treasure, in spite of the feverish enmity of nation to arm against nation, the time is surely coming when navies and battle airships—if they are perfected before that time—and all the paraphernalia of war, will be put upon the scrap heap.

Then the nations shall not learn war any more. Human skill and learning which are now being turned to the perfection of war equipment will then be diverted into channels through which shall flow rivers of blessing to all the nations.

Just think of the vast energies which are now being expended in the maintenance and perfection of military equipment, and just think what it would mean for world betterment if all this vast energy was turned to the perfecting of the arts of peace.

It is coming, because God hath declared it!

But how? Not by the strength of man's argument. Human reasoning can never subdue the spirit of the nations, and make of one brotherhood all the peoples of the earth.

But God can. And more and more as man comes to let God rule over him and the kingdom of heaven is spread throughout the earth by just so much will the day of universal peace be brought nearer. When "God shall judge among many people, and rebuke strong nations afar off" —that is, when the nations and peoples of the earth learn to hear and obey God's voice—then shall peace roll over the earth like a flood and swords will be beaten into plowshares, and spears into pruning hooks. God hasten the day.

THE STORY.

THE heavenward look is the only cure for pessimism. Hopeless are human conditions, useless are human struggles, when God is counted out of the reckoning. A few years ago a worker in the slums of New York took her own life because the struggle against the conditions of poverty and crime seemed so utterly hopeless and vain. She needed the Heavenward look to dispel the darkness and give her a vision of hope. So do we all.

Micah had passed through Jerusalem that day, and as he had journeyed he had spoken God's message to the people—warning, pleading, threatening. And now in solitude alone with the evening shadows closing in around him he sat without the city's gate deep in thought. And there was much for him to think about, as there is always for the one who observes keenly and feels deeply.

There was the message God had given him for his people. There were the sights and sounds he had witnessed that day and all the days before since he was old enough to remember. There was the disgrace in those days of Jotham, and the sins of Ahaz, and the idolatry of Hezekiah. And through all these things moved through the soul like a flood that night, and drove him to the throne of God in prayer.

Finally he arose fully armed to proclaim his message. It had come to him from God and he had spoken it with the confident assurance that what he said God had said it. He recalled the time when the spirit of God first came upon him and how it seemed as though his heart would burst with its message, and he had gone out in boldness and proclaimed the word from one end of the land to another.

"Hear, all ye people," he had cried; "hearken, O earth, and all that therein is: and let the Lord God be witness against you, the Lord from his holy temple. For, behold, the Lord cometh forth out of his place, and will come down, and tread upon the high places of the earth."

As he had spoken his message of pleading and warning, and threatening, it had seemed to him as though he could even then feel the tread of the Almighty's footsteps as he passed through the land.

"He shall tread upon the high places."

How could the king in his place keep from trembling? Didn't he know that his throne would totter under the tread of that mighty footfall?

But the king had gone on his way of pleasure and sin as before. The people had continued to follow the strange gods of the people about, and were content to live in the conditions into which sin had cast them. So great, in fact, was their need that they knew no need.

And Micah had marveled. It was the first severe testing of the prophet's faith, and in the seclusion of the mountain fastnesses whither he betook himself he had learned his lesson and had come to know that it was for him to speak the word as God gave it to him and not for him to become the time keeper upon the movements of the Almighty.

"But God shall tread upon the high places. The mountains shall be molten under him, and the valleys shall be cleft, as wax before the fire and as the waters that are poured down a steep place," he had exclaimed over and over again to himself, as though he would nerve his fainting heart and strengthen a weakening faith.

And so he had gone on in his lonely mission. How much alone he felt only the servant of the Lord who is faithful in his ministry can understand, for he who walks with God wholly lives a separated life.

And that evening as he sat ther outside of Jerusalem's gate the memory of all this came back to him with peculiar vividness and clearness, so much so, in fact, that he felt utterly disconsolate and wretched.

"What is there to show for all this preaching of the word?" it is as though one had talked to the wind. The people's hearts are as hard as that stone yonder," and with a gesture of menace that startled the prophet himself, he gave it a push that sent it rolling down the rocky hillside into the brook Kedron below. As it touched the bottom there came echoing back to him the reverberating sounds of its impact with the rocky ground.

"Hard! Yea, indeed. But the hearts of this rebellious people shall be broken even as that stone hath crashed to its destruction. And the nations about will be the instruments in God's hands of doing this thing. Ah, how they wax fat on the spoils of battle. Nation lifts up sword against nation, and the one rises upon the decaying heaps of the enemy's dead."

And in vision there passed before him the unholy horrors of battle as even he in his short life had witnessed it. He remembered the coming of the hordes of the Assyrians. He witnessed their devastating work. In the anguish of his soul he cried out at last:

"Oh, God, shall it always be so? Will there be no end to the wars that give one nation power over another? Will the spirit of conquest continue ever to blight the land?"

The voice floated out upon the silence of the evening darkness, and it seemed to the prophet as though his spirit followed the ascending echoes of the sound as they sped up and ever upward. It seemed to him he must seek the very presence of God for answer, for he alone could answer. Suddenly the darkness seemed to flee away, and turning to seek the reason for the change he saw away off in the distance a resplendent city.

"This can be nothing but the city of God," he whispered to himself.

Then as he looked he beheld what seemed all the nations of the earth marching towards the city, while they raised their voices in one mighty chorus, saying:

"Come, and let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, and to the house of the God of Jacob; and he will teach us of his ways."

And from out the resplendent city there came the response:

"Nation shall not lift up a sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more."

The vision faded, the voices ceased; Micah was again alone with his thoughts. "But God hath been here," he exclaimed, fervently, "and the mouth of the Lord of hosts hath spoken."

Species Now to Civilization.

In the wild asses' house at the London zoological gardens the first kiang ever bred there has been born. The kiang is the largest species of wild ass in existence, and is a native of Thibet and Mongolia.

COL. NEVIUS CHOSEN

NEW JERSEY MAN MADE CHIEF OF THE GRAND ARMY.

ONLY ONE BALLOT NEEDED

Other Officers Are Elected, Mrs. Gillman of Roxbury, Mass., New President of Woman's Relief Corps.

Toledo, O.—Col. Henry M. Nevius of Red Bank, N. J., was elected commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic Thursday. The election occurred on the first ballot, which gave Mr. Nevius 464 votes compared with 254 for former Gov. Van Sant of Minnesota, and 36 for L. T. Dickinson of Illinois. On motion of the former Minnesota executive the nomination of the New Jersey man was made unanimous.

Other officers were chosen as follows: Senior vice-commander, J. Kent Hamilton of Ohio; junior vice-commander, C. C. Royce of California; chaplain-in-chief, J. F. Spence of Tennessee; surgeon-in-chief, G. Lane Tanehill of Maryland.

Col. Nevius, a native of New Jersey, was studying law with the late Russell A. Alger of Michigan when the war broke out, and enlisted from the state with the Lincoln cavalry. He rose to a commission with the Seventh Michigan and the Twenty-fifth New York cavalry regiments, and lost an arm in front of Fort Stevens when the union army was engaged with Gen. Early.

The Woman's Relief Corps elected Mrs. W. L. Gillman of Roxbury, Mass., president.

March of the Veterans.

Toledo, O.—For an hour or more Wednesday the great parade of the Grand Army of the Republic, with its attendant throngs, served merely as the background of as dramatic an incident as has enlivened a political campaign in some years, namely the public meeting of William H. Taft and his erstwhile rival, Senator Joseph Benson Foraker.

The Republican leader and his antagonist politically of the pre-convention canvass met in the official reviewing stand, shook hands, smiled and exchanged greetings, while from thousands of throats came cheer after cheer as the significance of the incident dawned upon the beholders.

Mr. Taft, bronzed from much golf and some fishing in Middle Bass island, ignorant of the impending meeting, arrived from the island on Commodore Richardson's power boat Lakeside at 10:30 o'clock in the morning. His progress along the streets in an automobile, accompanied by Gen. Corbin, President Lewis of the Middle Bass Fishing club, and Mayor Whitlock, was a continued ovation. The thousands in the reviewing stand stood when he entered and for some time after he had become seated. Then Senator Foraker appeared and the two shook hands cordially and chatted together.

Parade a Great Success.

The parade was remarkable for the absence of accidents and cases of exhaustion, and for the good order which prevailed, not only among the dense crowds along the line of march, but throughout the city. Mayor Whitlock stated that despite the crowd of 100,000 visitors there had been fewer accidents, fewer misdemeanors and less work for the police generally than on any average day of the year. Aside from a veteran who was slightly bruised by being hit by an ambulance, there were no accidents, and not more than a dozen visited the hospital as the result of fatigue.

Estimates of the number of veterans in line varied from 8,000 to three times that number, but it is doubtful if there were more than 12,000. The various posts marched with half a block between them, and the departments were even further apart. There was a good ten feet separating each row of marchers and it was this liberality of space which made it require four hours to pass the reviewing stand. Fully half the veterans wore the badges of either Michigan or Ohio.

Giant Trees Are Saved.

Sonora, Cal.—The forest fire which threatened the famous big tree grove in this county has been brought under control and the great trees are safe. Considerable damage has been done to the big trees, but it is not thought many of them will die from the scorching, especially if the fall rains begin early. Several of the dead giants of the forest have been badly burned.

Wealthy Woman Kills Herself.

San Francisco.—Miss Helen Cullen, a young woman of wealth who had been ill for some time, swallowed the contents of a bottle of iodine and leaped from a third-story window at the Waldemar apartments to the courtyard below. She died a few hours later.

Champion Pauper Dies.

Utica, N. Y.—The champion pauper is dead, after being a public charge for 55 years. Hezekiah Monk was born in the Herkimer county poorhouse, spent all his days there and died in that institution Thursday.

Reform Leader is Fined.

Kansas City, Mo.—C. W. Trickett, leader of a recent reform campaign to prevent the illegal selling of liquor in Kansas, was fined $500 in the city court at Kansas City, Kan., Thursday for keeping a liquor nuisance.

A SIMPLE SAFEGUARD IN BUYING PAINT.

Everybody should know how simple and easy it is to avoid all uncertainty in buying paint materials. There are many so-called white leads on the market which contain chalk, zinc, barytes, and other cheap adulterants. Unless the property owner takes advantage of the simple means of protection afforded him by reliable white lead manufacturers, he runs great risk of getting an inferior and adulterated white lead.

It is to protect the paint-buyer against fraud and adulteration that National Lead Company, the largest makers of genuine Pure White Lead, place their famous "Dutch Boy Painter" trademark on every keg of their product, an absolute guarantee of its purity and quality. Anyone who wants to make a practical test of white lead, and who wants a valuable free book about painting, should address National Lead Company, Woodbridge Bldg., New York, and ask for test equipment.

Health.

The practice of invariably chewing everything 47 times before swallowing it not only restored the rich man's health, but saved his soul as well.

For, one day, in the course of business, he strained at a gnat and swallowed a camel.

The camel, having been chewed 47 times, was let to pass through the eye of a needle. So the rich man was able to enter the Kingdom of Heaven, after all.—Puck.

HOUSE WORK

Thousands of American women in our homes are daily sacrificing their lives to duty.

In order to keep the home neat and pretty, the children well dressed and tidy, women overdo. A female weakness or displacement is often brought on and they suffer in silence, drifting along from bad to worse, knowing well that they ought to have help to overcome the pains and aches which daily make life a burden.

It is to these faithful women that comes as a boon and a blessing, as it did to Mrs. F. Ellsworth, of Mayville, N. Y., and to Mrs. W. P. Boyd, of Beaver Falls, Pa., who say:

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

"I was not able to do my own work, owing to the female trouble from which I suffered. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped me wonderfully, and I am so well that I can do as big a day's work as I ever did. I wish every sick woman would try it.

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

SICK HEADACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Positively cured by these Little Pills.

They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, TORPID LIVER. They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable.

SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRICE.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Genuine Must Bear Fac-Simile Signature

Brent Good

REFUSE SUBSTITUTES.

Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna acts gently yet promptly on the bowels, cleanses the system effectually, assists one in overcoming habitual constipation permanently. To get its beneficial effects buy the genuine.

Manufactured by the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.

SOLD BY LEADING DRUGGISTS—50¢ BOTTLE

SKIN HEALTH

Promoted by Exercise and Cuticura Soap

In the promotion of Skin Health, Cuticura Soap, assisted by Cuticura, the great Skin Cure, is undoubtedly superior to all other skin soaps because of its influence in allaying irritation, inflammation, and clogging of the pores, the cause of disfiguring eruptions. In antiseptic cleansing, in stimulating sluggish pores, in emollient and other properties, they have no rivals.

Sold throughout the world. Depots: London, 27, Charterhouse Sq.; Paris, 5, Rue de la Paix; Australia, R. Towns & Co., Sydney; India, B. K. Paul, Calcutta; China, Hong Kong Drug Co.; Japan, Maruya, Ltd., Tokio; Russia, Ferrein, Moscow; So. Africa, Lennon, Ltd., Cape Town, etc. 32, S. A. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston. "How to Cure Torturing Skin Humors" Book on Care of the Skin, 64 pages, illustrated, mailed free.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3.00 SHOES $3.50

W. L. Douglas makes and sells more men's $3.00 and $3.50 shoes than any other manufacturer in the world, because they hold their shape, fit better and wear longer than any other make.

Sold at All Prices, for Every Member of the Family, Men, Boys, Women, Misses & Children.

W. L. Douglas $4.00 and $5.00 Gilt Edge Shoes cannot be equaled at any price. W. L. Douglas $6.00 and $7.00 shoes are the best in the world.

Fast Color Eyelets Used Throughout, which will not wear brassy. Name and price is stamped on bottom. Sold everywhere. Shoes mailed from factory to any part of the world. Catalog free.

W. L. DOUGLAS, 147 Spark St., Brockton, Mass.

Paxtine TOILET ANTISEPTIC

Keeps the breath, teeth, mouth and body antiseptically clean and free from unhealthy germ-life and disagreeable odors, while a water, soap and tooth preparations alone cannot do. A germicidal, disinfecting and deodorizing toilet requisite of exceptional excellence and economy. Invaluable for inflamed eyes, throat and nasal and uterine catarrh. At drug and toilet stores, 50 cents, or by mail postpaid.

Large Trial Sample

WITH "HEALTH AND BEAUTY" BOOK SENT FREE

THE PAXTON TOILET CO., Boston, Mass.

LIVE STOCK AND MISCELLANEOUS ELECTROTYPES

DEFIANCE STARCH

FIRE DESTROYS RAWHIDE, NEV.

THREE THOUSAND PEOPLE HOMELESS AND A PROPERTY LOSS OF OVER 750,000.

TWO COMMERCIAL TRAVELERS MISSING

Many Acts of Heroism Reported—All Grocery Stores and Supply Houses Wiped Out and a Famine Is Feared.

Rawhide, Neb., Sept. 5.—Three thousand people homeless, a score or more injured, and property loss of over $750,000 is the result of a disastrous fire which started at 9 o'clock Friday morning in the Rawhide Drug Co.'s building. Fanned by a gale, the fire swept rapidly south and east to Balloon avenue and up Rawhide avenue, to within 50 yards of the People's hospital.

Over a ton and a half of dynamite was used in demolishing buildings, which in a measure stayed the flames' progress. The volunteer fire department of 500 miners worked heroically, but on account of the inflammable construction of the buildings they were swept away like tinder.

At 11 o'clock the business portion of Rawhide was a smoldering mass of ruins, the flames being finally checked south of Balloon avenue.

Among the first buildings to go was Collins' hardware store, which contained two tons of dynamite that exploded with a terrific report, hurling burning planks and boards a great distance, setting fire to numerous buildings. Many people were slightly injured by flying debris, but none is reported seriously hurt.

Many acts of heroism are reported. A famine was feared, as all the supply houses and grocery stores were wiped out. A subscription list was started, and in a few minutes over $5,000 was raised, and a relief train started from Reno at 4 o'clock carrying thousands of pounds of food and bedding.

The fire destroyed the hoisting works of the Bluff Mining Co., Gratt Hill properties and the Gratt business office; the loss on these amounting to $10,000, which is the extent of damage done the mining properties. Plans were well under way for a reconstruction of the town before the ashes were thoroughly cool.

The Press-Times and Rustler news paper office were saved, although the machinery of the news plant was destroyed. The fire was brought under control after destroying the entire business section with the exception of one grocery store, which has sold all its provisions, and unless food is rushed here there will be much suffering.

Two commercial travelers are reported to have lost their lives in the burning of the Ross hotel, but this has not been confirmed.

CATALOGUED WERE CRIMES

Of First Man Tried in Springfield Riot Cases—Pleaded Guilty.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 5.—The first of the alleged rioters who participated in the recent race war to appear for trial was Ray Young, who Friday entered a plea of guilty to the charges of burglary, larceny, arson and riot. He confessed to having set fire to many negro homes. Mougg swore that his age was 15 years, whereupon Judge Creighton sentenced him to the Pontiac reformatory.

A surprise was sprung when the attorney for Abe Raymer, an alleged mob leader, indicted for murder in connection with the lynching of Scott Burton and William Donegan, entered a motion to quash all indictments on the ground that they are faulty.

George Richardson, who was indicted for assault upon Mrs. Hallam, and who was later exonerated, was Friday ordered released. It was his arrest following a false identification of him by Mrs. Hallam, that precipitated the riot.

Killed in Vehicle Collision.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 5.—Mr. and Mrs. Thomas D. Prendergast, society leaders, were thrown from their conveyance Friday night while driving. She was trampled by the horse, had a leg broken and her body badly bruised, but will live. The horse shattered the buggy of Henry J. Lauer, of Armitage & Lauer, piano hangers, crushed his skull, resulting in his death.

Great Laborer Leader Dead.

Washington, Sept. 5.—Frank Pierce Sargent, commissioner general of immigration, died here 16 years grand master of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, one of the most forceful characters in the field of labor, immigration and allied questions in the country, died at his apartments in this city [illegible] 54 years old.

Leaped to Death.

Hot Springs, Ark., Sept. 5.—A. S. Waters, of Tampa, Fla., made a spectacular jump to death from a third story window of the New Bruton hotel here Friday morning. Waters, after up a handful of [illegible] and threw it away. [illegible]

Cremation Is Decided On.

James Millen, who [illegible] Creighton, has decided on cremation. In the event of his death his body will be taken to the Forest Lawn cemetery, where the remains of his wife are interred. Millen has been in poor health for some time, and the act is the result mainly. The act was committed in a spirit of playfulness.

ATHLETES MEET PRESIDENT

OLYMPIAN VICTORS RECEIVED AT SAGAMORE HILL.

Each Is Warmly Praised—Mr. Roosevelt Tells How Proud He Is of Their Achievements.

Oyster Bay, N. Y.—With a gun from the local yacht club booming a rousing welcome, the American Olympian team, victors in the recent events in London, steamed into the waters of Oyster bay Monday for their visit to President Roosevelt.

When they left their boat and reached the top of Sagamore Hill Mr. Roosevelt was on his veranda where he had been scanning them eagerly for several minutes as they approached, two abreast, whistling "A Hot Time in the Old Town To-night."

James E. Sullivan, the American commissioner, was first to be received by the president. He acted as master of ceremonies, presenting each one of his charges in turn. The president grasped each one by the hand and to each he spoke a few words of mingled greeting and commendation.

John J. Hayes, the Marathon hero, had the distinction of being the first to be presented.

"I am proud of you," said the president to him as he gave him a vigorous hand-shake, "your feat was marvelous. You won a great race and I am glad of it."

Tewanima, the Indian, who came in ninth in the Marathon race, pleased the president immensely.

"I am glad, indeed," he said to him, "that a real original American Indian competed for America and represented the country abroad." It was a fine showing that you made."

So it was with each and every one of the team that had made the trip and when the last man had been grasped by the hand and his heart cheered by the president's words and he had passed into the drawing room and partaken of refreshments, Mr. Roosevelt followed in and then had to listen to some cheers for himself.

Some one proposed three cheers for "the greatest president the United States ever had, Theodore Roosevelt," and everybody responded. Mr. Roosevelt then addressed the athletes briefly.

COWARDLY OFFICERS SCORED.

Final Report of Springfield Grand Jury on the Race Riots.

Springfield, Ill.—The special grand jury called to probe the recent race war adjourned Thursday night after returning 17 more indictments. This makes a total of 117 during the session. Among the indictments returned Thursday were those against four Springfield policemen, Oscar Dahlkamp, Joseph Fernades, George H. Ohlman and George W. Dawson. They are indicted for alleged failure to suppress the riot when detailed for that duty.

Sheriff Warner, Chief of Police Wilbur Morris, Capt. Charles Walsh of troop D, Springfield, and other officers are commended by the grand jury. The report condemns alleged "cowards" among the officials.

Springfield, Ill.—At two o'clock Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Earl Hallam signed a statement that George Richardson is not the negro who assaulted her on the night of August 14. A warrant is reported to have been sworn out for the arrest of another negro named Ralph Buston, who may be implicated in the assault.

It was the alleged assault charged against Richardson and his arrest and removal to Bloomington, Ill., that precipitated the recent bloody race riot.

SLOOP UPSETS; SEVEN DROWN.

Disaster Overtakes Sailing Party in Penobscot Bay.

Deer Isle, Me.—Seven summer visitors out of a party of ten were drowned by the capsizing of a 35-foot sloop in Penobscot bay, Tuesday.

The drowned are: Miss Alice Torro, Washington; Miss Eleanor Torro, Washington; Miss Kellogg, Baltimore; Lutie Kellogg, Baltimore; Mrs. Lucy S. Crawley, Philadelphia; Miss Elizabeth G. Evans, Mount Holyoke seminary, Mount Holyoke; Miss Hilda Beth Evans.

New Comet Is Discovered.

Lick Observatory, Will Director Edwin B. Frost of the Yerkes observatory Wednesday night announced the discovery of a new comet through photographic observations made by Prof. D. W. Moorehouse of Drake university of Des Moines. The position of the comet was announced soon afterward. It is about three-quarters of a degree above the horizon and is a tail several degrees long and was found in the constellation Camelopardus, remaining above the horizon throughout the night.

Mark Crusader Is Arrested.

New York.—Edgar A. Wilmarth, a former agent for the Parkhurst society, who was identified with many crusades against police corruption here, was arrested Tuesday on two charges of grand larceny.

Big Gifts for Charitable Aim.

Gerard, N. Y., [illegible] $4,000,000 is left to charitable institutions, the Metropolitan Museum of Art and Yale university by the will of Peter Cooper Hewitt, who died at his home here last Sunday.

WIDOW OF FIELD, JR., WEDS

BECOMES BRIDE OF MALDWIN DRUMMOND AT LONDON.

Simple Ceremony, Performed in Westminster Registry, Witnessed by Few.

London, England.—Mrs. Marshall Field, Jr., of Chicago, was married at the Westminster registry office Thursday morning to Maldwin Drummond, second son of the late Edgar Atheling Drummond and the Honorable Louisa Theodosia Pennington, who was a daughter of the third Lord Muncaster. The wedding, which was extremely quiet, was celebrated in

The wedding was celebrated in the little registry office opposite Buckingham palace. The only persons present to witness the ceremony were the duke of Westminster, who is a great friend of Mr. Drummond; Craig W. Wadsworth, second secretary of the American embassy, and Mrs. Field's two sons. The boys have been living in England with their mother, since the death of their father and they are to enter Eaton in the autumn.

Mrs. Field had known Mr. Drummond for about ten years, having met him during her frequent visits to England. She renewed her acquaintance when she came here after her husband's death to practically take up her residence and educate her sons in an English school.

To the world at large Mrs. Drummond was chiefly known as the guardian and mother of the Field grandchildren, who are to receive a fortune of more than $100,000,000 left by their grandfather.

AERONAUT DASHED TO DEATH.

Falls 500 Feet Before Great Crowd at Waterville, Me.

Waterville, Me.—In full view of 25,000 horrified spectators assembled on the Central Maine fair grounds here late Wednesday, Charles Oliver Jones, a well-known aeronaut of Hammondsport, N. Y., fell 500 feet to his death. Among the witnesses of the frightful plunge were Mrs. Jones and child, and they were almost the first to reach the side of the dying man. The aeronaut died an hour and a half after the accident.

Jones had made an ascension in a dirigible balloon. The gas bag leaked and sparks from the motor set the machine afire.

Spanish War Veterans Meet.

Boston.—Over 3,000 veterans of the Spanish war are gathered in this city for the fifth annual encampment of the United Spanish War Veterans, which opened Tuesday. The Philippines were represented by a delegation that arrived by train from New York.

The chief event preliminary to the opening of the encampment was the banquet tendered by the state branch at the Quincy House Monday night to Walter S. Hale of this city, the commander-in-chief.

Pays Off Immense Loan.

New York.—The Trust Company of America of New York, upon which a sensational run was precipitated during the financial panic of 1907, has managed its business so successfully as to enable it to pay off a loan of $25,000,000 which it then effected.

Council of Women Meets.

Geneva.—The International Council of Women, which was organized by American women at the Chicago world's fair in 1893, and whose membership totals about 7,000,000, representing all parts of the world, held its opening session here Tuesday.

Merchant Slays His Brother.

Philadelphia.—Following a struggle for the possession of a revolver, Harry Spiegle was shot and mortally wounded here Thursday by his brother Charles Spiegle, a well known lumber merchant.

Baron Is Watching Nothing.

Ada, O.—Before a large audience here Thursday [illegible] was announced that the baron was merely settled, [illegible] nation to the candidate for vice president by the National Prohibition party.

HORRIBLE MURDER IN BOSTON.

Man Kills His Actress Wife and Dismembers the Corpse.

Boston.—The most brutal crime in Greater Boston since the death of Susan Geary, a chorus girl, four years ago, was disclosed Thursday night by the discovery of the torso of Mrs. Honorah Jordan, an actress aged 32 years, of Somerville, in a trunk in a boarding house at 7 Hancock street on Beacon hill, this city. Later the head and the bones of the limbs were found in the furnace of the Jordan home at Somerville and the scalp, hair and other gruesome remains were taken from the kitchen range. She boxed Chester Jordan, aged 29 years, an actor of Somerville, is held by the police charged with the murder and, according to the officers, he made a complete confession of the crime.

According to Jordan's confession he accidentally killed his wife Tuesday night in a quarrel at their home and, becoming desperate over what he had done, took a butcher's knife, razor and shears and cut up the body and placed the torso in a trunk. He then planned to take the steamer Harvard Wednesday night for New York and throw the parts of the body overboard. The fact that the Harvard was laid off owing to an accident disarranged his plans and he was obliged to hire a hackman to take the trunk to a Boston boarding house to await a more favorable opportunity.

The discovery of the crime was due to the suspicions of the hackman, who notified the police.

BIG FIRE IN NEW ORLEANS.

Property Loss Is Between One and Two Million Dollars.

New Orleans.—Fire which broke out in the center of the commercial district Sunday afternoon swept over fifteen blocks of three blocks, destroying a large number of wholesale houses, manufacturing plants and retail stores. Originating at Bienville and Chartres streets, the flames worked their way north as far as Conti street, and west towards Royal, bringing about a loss of between one and two million dollars before they were finally subdued.

Several circumstances combined to give the fire a headway which proved hard to overcome. At the time the alarm was turned in, shortly before three o'clock, the New Orleans firemen were in the midst of their annual picnic at a suburban park, and the engines and patrols responded with a mere handful of men. It was fully an hour before the department was in a position to make anything like a successful fight against the fire, and then the handicap against it was added to by an inadequate supply of water.

Ruined by Gifts to a Town.

Bowling Green, O.—C. S. Strong, proprietor of a private bank in Prairie Depot, this county, and benefactor of the town, has made an assignment. Between $30,000 and $90,000 is on deposit in the bank. According to Strong's statement the assets amount to about $70,000. The assignee gave bond in $150,000. Strong's civil benefactions are said to have been the cause of his failure.

Will Head Farm Commission.

Ithaca, N. Y.—Dean Liberty Hyde Bailey of the New York State College of Agriculture at Cornell University, announced Thursday that he had accepted the appointment of President Roosevelt as head of the commission which is to investigate the condition of farmers and report recommendations for the betterment of rural life.

Cruisers and Tows Reach Honolulu.

Honolulu.—The cruisers of the Pacific fleet, commanded by Rear Admiral Swinburne, invaded the first stage of the mimic undertaking to test the practicability of towing torpedo boat destroyers when the flagship West Virginia, the Maryland, Kentucky, Kansas and Tennessee docked at 8 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in the harbor and the assembling vessels including the supply ship Solace, anchored outside. The arrival of the ships was witnessed by many residents of the islands.

Round About the State

What Is Going On in Different Sections of Kentucky.

MORE PARDONS

Are Granted By Kentucky's Acting Governor.

Frankfort, Ky.—Gov. Cox pardoned four men, one serving a term in the State prison, two jail sentences and one who had been indicted and not tried. The untried case is not a night rider case, however, but one in which the evidence of both sides had been brought before the governor.

Garfield Devine, of Mercer county, was the convict pardoned, having been convicted of horse stealing.

H. C. Sullivan, jailer of Russell county, was pardoned of the indictment for wilful neglect of duty, to his prisoners.

James Campbell, a rural route carrier of Mt. Sterling, and Ernest Hornbrook, a policeman at the ball park at Shelbyville, were pardoned for carrying concealed weapons.

W. H. L. McDowell, aged 70, of Daviess county, was pardoned of a one-year jail sentence for shooting, at without wounding. The old man had been whipped by the "night riders," and one of the men, sent to prison for the offence returned home after his term and nagged at the old man until he shot at him. He is a union veteran.

ARMED WITH A SABER

Kentuckian Proclaimed Himself Roosevelt, Warden of the Stars.

Louisville, Ky.—Announcing that he was Theodore Roosevelt, a man who later gave his name as Leil Crenshaw of London, Ky., attempted to stab Watchman Fuqui Jones at the post of fire.

Crenshaw carried a saber, which he brandished as he asked for his mail.

"Who are you?" asked the clerk.

"I am Theodore Roosevelt, warden of the stars," was the modest reply.

Crenshaw was enraged when they told him that his mail had been sent to Oyster Bay. He was arrested.

Hatching Parasites.

Lexington, Ky.—At the Kentucky experiment station Prof. Gorman is exhibiting specimens of the Apanteles Congregatus, the parasite of the tobacco worm. A few days ago a tobacco grower brought to the station a tobacco worm covered with tiny white cocoons. He wanted to know what it all meant. The professor told him to come again and he would explain it to him. He put the worm in a glass jar and the parasites were hatched out to the number of several hundred small, fly-like insects. They will be liberated to prey upon the worms and reproduce themselves.

Ate "Mushrooms"—Three Are Dead.

Owensboro, Ky.—William Baysinger and his two sons, of McLean county, are dead, and his wife is in a critical condition as the result of eating what they thought were mushrooms. Baysinger gathered a quantity of fungus growth on a hickory log, and took it home for his wife to cook. Baysinger and his two boys ate heartily of the dish. Mrs. Baysinger ate very sparingly. All of them became violently ill in a few hours.

More Rain Needed.

Frankfort, Ky.—Kentucky crops, generally, are faring well at this time of the year, especially corn, which was greatly benefited by the summer rains, according to reports made to the state agricultural department, and set forth in the monthly crop bulletin issued. The wheat growers may have trouble with their fall plowing for wheat unless there is more rain and the ground is softened up.

Even Life-Savers Barred.

Frankfort, Ky.—Selling whisky to a sick man without a prescription on Sunday is not sufficient grounds to warrant a killing of the kid, in the opinion of Judge Herndon, who fined John Kinney, a saloonkeeper, $25 and costs in the city court. A witness testified that Thomas Possum was cut in a fight and he went to Kinney's saloon to get whisky, in order to save Possum's life.

Johnston's Body Arrives.

Lexington, Ky.—Adj.-Genl. P. P. Johnston arrived here with the body of his brother, John Pitcher Johnston, who died in Washington. The deceased was a member of the office staff of the Insurance Commerce Commission. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Emma McCarthy Johnston, and one son, Meredith Johnston.

Railroad Resigns.

Louisville, Ky.—Morris Belknap, chairman of the Lincoln pike committees of the Louisville Commercial club, has resigned. His successor will be named. The chairman will deal with the problem of constructing a through pike from Louisville to the Lincoln farm at Hodgenville.

Farmers' Institute Closes.

Covington, Ky.—After one of the most successful sessions in its history the Kenton county Farmers' Institute closed a two days' session held in Independence. Many interesting subjects were discussed and [illegible]

Hotel Guests Jumped.

Paducah, Ky.—An incendiary fire in a restaurant under the Murray hotel at Murray, Ky., set fire to the hotel and panic stricken guests jumped from the windows. Two jumped from the second story. This is the second mysterious blaze within a week.

WIFE RECEIVED BULLET

Intended For Night Prowler, and Was Killed.

Murray, Ky.—Thinking his home besieged by night riders, John F. Dalton, a mill operator, living near the Tennessee river, in this county, fired at a moving object and killed his wife.

Mrs. Dalton was aroused after midnight by some one prowling around. She awakened her husband, who searched the house.

Securing a gun he ventured outside the house, after telling his wife to go back to their bedroom. "She did not do so, and came out a rear door just as he fired upon hearing some one run. The bullet penetrated her head.

ESTILL COUNTY CHOSEN.

Hargis Case Transferred Despite Objection of Defense.

Jackson, Ky.—The trial of Beech Hargis, for the murder of his father, Judge James Hargis, will be held in Estill county, Judge Adams transferring the case to that county.

The commonwealth had objected to the trial taking place in Jackson, claiming that a fair trial could not be had. Its motion for a change of venue was granted, and Estill county was named as the place where the trial should be held.

A motion for bail in behalf of Beech Hargis will be made by his attorneys.

Prominent Society Woman Dead.

Columbus, O.—Mrs. Fred S. Brevogle, wife of a wealthy manufacturer of Louisville, Ky., and prominent in social circles in that city, who came to Columbus six months ago, following a nervous breakdown, was found dead in her room at the sanatorium of Dr. H. A. Rodebaugh, 71 Winner avenue. In the opinion of Coroner Murphy death was due to poison, which was taken with suicidal intent.

Soldiers Shoot 31 Dogs.

Newport, Ky.—Canine howls which have been disturbing the soldiers' sleep in the post at night have now ceased, as the temporary commandant, Capt. Whooley, issued orders to the post ordnance sergeant to dispose of all the dogs in the reservation of Ft. Thomas. Thirty-one dogs were taken to the ravine near the parade ground and shot.

Docket Completed.

Frankfort, Ky.—The docket for the September term of the court of appeals has been completed by Napier Adams, clerk, and is as follows: Appearances (civil), 356; continued (civil), 51; commonwealth cases (appearances), 16; commonwealth cases (continued), 1; argument cases, 17. Total 470. Cases pending on petition for rehearing, 41.

Two of Three Arrested.

Paducah, Ky.—Jasper Garland and Alton Weatherford, charged with subornation of perjury, were arrested in Calloway county and taken to Murray, where they gave bond. They are accused of forcing Will Ingram, a self-confessed rider, to repudiate a confession which he made. Dr. Peter Kirk is wanted on the same charge.

Miscreants in Jefferson.

Louisville, Ky.—According to T. D. Stivers, a city employe, who lives with his family south of the city, some one may set fire to his home while only his 10-year-old son was at home. On the previous night Stivers says he was awakened and saw several masked men in the yard.

Taft and Bryan Attacked.

Louisville, Ky.—Taft and Bryan were attacked when the county W. C. T. U. listened to a speech by Rev. L. L. Picket, state prohibition organizer. He declared, referring to Taft's religious belief, that Unitarianism was equal to infidelity, and that Bryan was the "sum total of candidate evils."

Vote Is Canvassed.

Covington, Ky.—The congressional committee met and canvassed the returns of the congressional primary election, and made no change in the figures. The result is: Rhinock, 4,344; Elliston, 3,498; Gooch, 3,761; Hodge, 1,962; Cleary, 869; Nadaud, 506.

Saw Mill Sold.

Hopkinsville, Ky.—The plant of the Hopkinsville Lumber Co. was sold under an order of court, following bankruptcy proceedings. It was bid in by W. L. Cortelyou, representing R. H. Deweville, of this city, for $7,772.16. Operation will be continued.

Wants $1,800 For Her Injuries.

Lexington, Ky.—Last January Sophia Reaves became so badly frightened when some one suddenly turned on the steam in W. L. Petty's tobacco stemmery that she jumped out of a window. She brought suit against Petty for $1,800, alleging injuries.

Elks' State Convention.

Covington, Ky.—Judge E. C. Williams, Judge M. T. Shine and Richard J. Dibowski have been selected by the local lodge of Elks as delegates to the State Elks' convention, which will be held in Owensboro, October 1 and 2.

Clark Rouse Dead.

Covington, Ky.—Clark Rouse, 56, a prosperous Boone county farmer died of heart failure. Mr. Rouse is related to Arthur B. Rouse, who conducted the democratic congressional primary in the Sixth district of Kentucky.

WALTON DEPARTMENT.

D. B. WALLACE, Manager.

Hand your news items to Mr. D. B. Wallace at the Walton Equitable Bank and Trust Co. building. He is also authorized to receive subscriptions and collect other accounts.

Mrs. Mary E. Adams has been quite sick at her home the past week.

For Sale—One pure bred Poland China boar; one year old. Address R. C. Green, Walton, Ky.

H. C. Redman was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Hogan, near Union last Tuesday and Wednesday.

C. L. Mefoldrick left for Billings, Montana, Saturday. His wife and family preceded him about a week ago.

B. B. Allphin accompanied his wife to Cincinnati, Wednesday, to start on her long western trip to Tuscon, Arizona.

Jacob Kipp, our worthy shoemaker, spent Sunday at Elmwood Place, a suburb of Cincinnati, the guest of relatives and friends.

W. R. Miller, the hustling merchant of Big Bone, was here on business Monday, and shaking hands with his many friends.

Wm. Black, the affable and hustling superintendent of the Consolidated Telephone Co. spent Wednesday in Cincinnati on business.

Rev. J. B. Harris, the worthy pastor of the Walton M. E. church, left Tuesday for Middlesboro, to attend the annual conference of the Methodist church (South) of Kentucky.

Elder D. T. Buck and Rev. J. W. Rogers left, Sunday, for Stringtown, Grant county, where they will hold a protracted meeting in the Christian church at that place for a period of two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schimmelpfenning, of Norwood, Ohio, and Mr. and Mrs. Lance Hamilton, of Panama, and Mrs. Della Williams, of Covington, were the guests of Judge and Mrs. Taylor Crowe, Sunday.

Miss Pauline Tandy, of Milton, Trimble county, spent from Friday until Monday here visiting her aunt Mrs. D. T. Buck and family. Miss Tandy is a teacher in the Campbellsburg Kentucky graded school.

Last Saturday Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Byland and Dr. B. W. Stallard and Miss Pauline Curley attended the tri-State tornament of the Turners at the court of the Cincinnati Tennis Club, Walnut Hills, Cincinnati.

W. W. Dean, of Napoleon, Gallatin county, was here on business last Wednesday. He is traveling for the Heinz Pickle and Preserve Works, of Pitsburg, Penn., and says business is very quiet on the road at present.

The "kids" are supremely happy. A merry-go-round arrived here this week from one of the fairs and the dulcit tones of the hand organ and the merry laughter of the youngsters will enliven things here for the next week or ten days.

Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. John Watson entertained quite a number with an elaborate dinner. Among those present were Dr. Mabel Blackburn and son, of Covington; Mr. Stephens and family, of Kenton county, and Mrs. R. A. Hind, of this place.

Mrs. Annie Blackburn and daughter, Miss Viola, of Covington, arrived here Sunday on a couple of weeks' visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Redman. Her daughter, Miss Lena Blackburn, has been here the guest of her grandparents the greater part of the summer.

D. B. Wallace, cashier of the Equitable Bank and Trust Co., who has been very sick at his home in Warsaw, is improving. Since last week his wife has taken down with fever of a mild type and is able to sit up now. His son, Bruce, is down with the fever but in light form.

The firm of Stamiar & Fullilove, dealers in meats, vegetables, etc., dissolved partnership by mutual consent last Tuesday. John Stamler, one of the firm, retains the business and Geo. W. Fullilove retires. The reason of the dissolution was there was not enough profit in the business for two but good profit for one.

Judge John M. Lassing left, last Saturday night, August 30th, for an extended trip to Toledo, O., New York, Brighton Beech and probably Atlantic City. He is taking a much needed rest from his duties as a member of the Court of Appeals. Mrs. Lassing preferred to remain at home and enjoy the pleasures of the country fairs in this quarter.

There is a proposition afoot to bore for natural gas in Walton. A gentlemen of considerable experience is of the opinion that gas in sufficient quantities can be found here to furnish the town with enough gas to illuminate the streets and probably enough for fuel and lighting purposes in the private residences. If this could be assured there is no question but the public spirited citizens of Walton would finance the venture.

At a meeting of the Epworth League of the Methodist church, Tuesday evening, the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Anna Hind; First Vice-President, Miss Viola Richey; Second Vice-President, Miss Queen Tillman; Third Vice-President, Miss Lucille Hind; Secretary, Miss Katherine Bollington, Treasurer, Miss Lavenia Edwards; Organist, Miss Bessie Heuston.

S. L. Edwards, one of our estimable business men, will leave on an extended trip through the West about the 15th inst, going by the way of the Union Pacific to San Francisco, stopping at the principal cities enroute. After a visit at the Golden Gate he will travel on down through Southern California, to Tuscon, Arizona, where he will visit his daughter, Mrs. Frank Curley, whose husband is a prosperous lawyer in that city. He will then return home by way of the Southern Pacific down through Mexico, Texas, and on to New Orlean, at which place he will stop for a few days, viewing the many attractions of that city, and will then return home.

Two miles of the Walton and Verona turnpike have been completed. It is the hope of the company that they will have the pike completed or nearly so before the bad weather sets in. Some of those who subscribed to the turnpike have not paid their first assessment, while some have paid their second assessment. The pike cannot be built on wind and the company have urgent use for the money, and while the work will continue to be pushed forward, the action of those who have failed to respond to the call for the money they pledged has handicapped the management considerably. Don't let them call on you again, gentlemen, for your subscription, but assist the work by sending in the money you promised. One gentlemen, who lives on the line of the new pike, recently sold his farm for $5 an acre more than he could before the building of the pike was started. These are facts. Good roads always enhance the value of land while poor roads have the opposite effect.

Last Friday the directors of The Equitable Bank and Trust Co. met at the bank pursuant to a call. This institution was just one year old Friday the 9th inst. A dividend of 3 per cent. was declared and a surplus fund of $1,000 created. This is a splendid showing for a bank only a year old and under the most trying financial conditions. The stringency of the money market occurred less than 30 days after this bank's establishment. During all the trying ordeal this bank never refused to cash any check presented and never issued script as some other banks were compelled to do. Its success is due to the indefatigable energy of its officers and it has achieved a signal success. During the close money times it was of great assistance to the business and farming interests of this community as it meant at that time the distribution of $50,000 that otherwise would not have been in circulation. The stock of this bank is far more valuable than many of the new city banks and there is none of it for sale at less than $1.10 and none offering at that price.

Death has again visited our community taking from our midst early Monday morning one of our most beloved ladies, Mrs. Rachel Clark Jones, whose death was incident to old age. Mrs. Rachel Clark was born in Canada, Sept. 18th, 1827. She married Wm. P. Jones in 1847. In 1854 they came to Kentucky and located in Walton where they resided all their life. They raised an excellent family of eight children, seven sons and one daughter. Five sons and one daughter survive. The children are as follows: Mrs. L. H. Wilson, Erlanger; Wm. H., J. L., F. V., A. N., R. W., and R. M. The two children dead are Wm. H. and F. V. Strange to relate all of the sons adopted the medical profession except two. Mr. Jones, her husband, died in 1878. Mrs. Jones was an excellent christian lady and was an ardent member of the Presbyterian church and was loved and respected by all who knew her for her many admirable traits of character. The sympathy of the entire community is extended the bereaved ones. Mrs. Jones made her home with her son Robert W. Jones who was ever devoted to his mother catering to her every wish. The funeral took place from her late residence Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock, Rev. W. W. Evans, of the Presbyterian church preaching a beautiful and appropriate funeral discourse, after which the remains were taken to Independence for interment in the cemetery there. A large number of relatives and friends attended the funeral in token of their love and esteem of this good lady.

RICHWOOD.

John Goodridge's new barn has been raised.

Ben Carpenter attended the Alexdria fair a couple of days.

Albert Robinson is at home from Cincinnati for the winter.

Mrs. John Ransalaer, who has been very sick, is improving slowly.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Robinson are at home at Mr. Gaines Robinson's.

Earl Robinson will start to the Kentucky State College next week.

Cove Carpenter and family, of Kenton county, Sundayed at Ben Cleek's.

Mr. and Mrs. Omer Armstrong, of Nicholson, spent Sunday with J. J. Tanner and wife.

Mrs. Sophia Waizer, of Cincinnati, has returned home after a pleasant visit to friends here.

Will Woodward and family, of Devon, were Sunday guests of Mrs. Amanda Carpenter.

Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Robinson, and Miss Mary Alda Carpenter, visited friends at Lexington, last week.

We beg pardon for not reporting the fact that Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wolf's handsome baby took first premium at the Erlanger fair.

The Jolly Eight gave one of their delightful picnics at Excelsior Grange Hall, last Saturday evening. The music was fine, and all had a nice time.

Claud Robinson, formerly of this place, had his hand badly lacerated, recently, by running his hook through it while at work at the Standard Hay and Grain Co.'s plant.

High Vine captured several premiums at Alexandria, while Sam Hick's three year old is still capturing premiums at upper county fairs. It is pleasing to read in the list of prize winners at Georgetown, Lexington, Cynthiana and other places, the names of Boone and Kenton county people.

The gasoline launch fad, in the town's along the river, rivals the auto. fad in other places. The river town in the harbor of which the gasoline launch is not conspicuous is not up-to-date by considerable. Launching parties are very popular with the people of the river towns.

J. O. Griffith, of Beaver neighborhood, is getting a good deal of pleasure out of that nice automobile he purchased recently. He is very careful with it when on the public highway as all autoists ought to be. He will run over no body nor cause any horses to tear rigs to pieces.

The little 6-year old child of James Waters', of Limaburg neighborhood, died last Saturday and was buried at Independence Sunday.

Primary Election Notice!

Resolutions adopted by the Boone County Democratic Committee at a meeting held in Burlington, Ky., on August 10th, 1908:

Be it resolved that for the purpose of nominating the Democratic Candidates for County Offices in this county to be voted for at the November Election, 1909, a Primary Election to be held at the various voting precincts throughout the county, on

Tuesday, Nov. 3d, 1908,

between the hours of 6 a. m. and 4 p. m., standard time,

It is the purpose of this committee to secure the full, fair and free expression of the will of the people in selecting their nominee, and it is therefore ordered that this primary election be held under the rules and regulations fixed by the Statute governing primary elections, and it is further ordered that to prevent even the possibility of fraud, bribery or corruption in said primary, certain additional safeguards are adopted and incorporated in this order and call for a primary.

The additional safeguards herein provided for are as follows:

1st. Before any Democrat can become a candidate to be voted for in this primary in addition to paying his assessed share of expenses for conducting same, he shall subscribe to an oath to the effect that he has not and will not either personally or by his direction or by his friends with his knowledge and consent either directly or indirectly, give, loan or promise to any voter or anyone for any voter, money, property, spirituous, vinous or malt liquors, soft drinks, cigars or anything of value for the purpose of promoting or influencing his election. The vote of said candidate thus offending shall be thrown out and not counted and he shall not be declared the nominee. No candidate will be permitted to hire any person or persons to work for him or hire conveyances of any kind to carry voters to the polls, or to pay for meals, necessaries or luxuries of any kind or to pay a voter for loss of time.

2nd. No voter who has violated any of the provisions of Article 1 shall be permitted to vote in this primary when the officers conducting this primary shall be satisfied by affidavit or personal knowledge that he has done so; and in any event where his vote is challenged he shall not be permitted to vote until he has subscribed to an oath to the effect that he has not violated any of the provisions of Article 1, and said oath shall be preserved by the officers of the primary and returned by them to the County Committee for its preservation and use before the grand jury if necessary. No person shall be allowed to vote unless he pledges himself to support the nominee of this primary.

In this primary all known Democrats of lawful age, and all voters who shall certify that they have voted the regular Democratic ticket at this election, and all voters who will be of lawful age at the regular election held in 1909, provided they pledge themselves to support the nominees of the primary, shall be permitted to vote who have not violated the provisions of Article 1 above.

It is the sense of this committee that it will cost $250 to conduct this primary, and the candidates announcing will be required to deposit with the Chairman of this committee not later than October 19, 1908, their proportionate shares of the same. In order to raise the necessary amount to hold this primary election, it is the sense of the committee that each candidate for the different offices shall be required to pay his prorata of the amount assessed for each different office to be filled, as follows: Sheriff, $50; Assessor, $40; County Clerk, $40; Circuit Clerk, $25; County Attorney. $25; Superintendent of Schools, $30; County Judge, $30; Representative, $20; Surveyor, $10; Jailer, $5; Coroner, $5; Justice of the Peace, $1. If any of the above is left after all the expenses of the election is paid, the said remainder shall be divided prorata among the different offices to be filled.

In case there shall be but one candidate announced and paid his assessment on October 19, 1908, for any office, then he shall be declared the nominee for such office by the Committee, and certificate of nomination issued to him, and that office shall not appear on the ballot.

Each candidate shall be entitled to a challenger at the polls and an inspector at the count.

When the polls are closed the votes shall be counted by the officers of the election in the presence of the inspectors and the ballots, stub books, spoiled, mutilated and questioned ballots and all affidavits taken by said officers of election shall be certified to the County Committee within the time and manner fixed by law regulating the same.

The County Committee shall meet in Burlington on the third day after the election and canvass the result of said election in the county and shall hear and determine same together with all evidence that may be before them of any violation of any of the provisions of this call by any candidate, and issue certificates to the successful candidates.

The candidate receiving the highest number of votes in said primary shall be declared the nominee, and his nomination certified as the law directs, unless such candidate is shown by his oath or other evidence to have violated the provisions of this call, in which event he shall be denied a certificate and this Committee shall thereupon declare the candidate receiving the next highest vote the nominee provided he has complied with this call.

The following shall be the form of the oath above provided for:

OATH FOR CANDIDATE UPON ANNOUNCEMENT:

I.....desire to become a candidate for.....in this County before the primary, and as an evidence of my good faith and desire to co-operate with the County Committee, I hereby bind myself to abide by the rules and regulations adopted by said Committee to govern said primary, and especially do I agree that I have not and will not either personally or through my friends directly or indirectly, give, loan or promise to any voter or anyone for any voter, money, property, spirituous, vinous or malt liquors, soft drinks, cigars or anything of value for the purpose of promoting or influencing my election, nor will I permit the same to be done for me by anyone nor will I reimburse anyone for any money so expended in my behalf if I should afterwards learn that it had been done.

OATH FOR CANDIDATE BEFORE RECEIVING CERTIFICATE.

I.....solemnly swear that I have not violated any of the provisions of the call governing this primary and especially that I have not directly or indirectly used money, liquors, cigars or property of any kind for the purpose of influencing or promoting my election, nor have I knowingly, permitted same to be done nor will I reimburse anyone so offending if it shall hereafter develop that such has been the case.

OATH FOR VOTER:

I.....swear that I am a legal voter in.....precinct in.....county, and that I am filliated with the Democratic party, that I have not used, money, property, liquors, cigars or other things of value either directly or indirectly for the purpose of promoting the interest of any candidate before said primary.

Each of these oaths shall be taken before someone authorized to administer an oath in this Commonwealth.

This shall be published in the Boone County RECORDER four issues.

The position of the names of the candidates on the ballots shall be chosen by lot.

J. B. CLOUD, Secretary. JAS. A. DUNCAN, Chairman.

MODEL COUNTY FAIR.

Features for Other Managers to Consider.

[Lawrenceburg Press.]

A representative of the Press attended the Florence (Ky.) fair last week and was much impressed with the manner in which it is conducted. There was a good attendance. The fair grounds and the little town of Florence were full of vehicles, automobiles and people. The dust was all prevailing. The management charged 35 cents for a single admission. There was no gambling allowed. No liquor was sold on the grounds. What the management made was in the legitimate business for which fairs are intended. There was no speed ring, no race track. The premiums offered when totaled would be, when compared with fairs where speed rings are given, very small. The shows of stock were all given within the grounds enclosed by the mammoth amphitheater. As a whole it was not up to the fair given here this year, but there were some features of it that might be adopted with profit to the Lawrenceburg association and to the patrons of the fair. A good fair like that held here this year can stand four square to the world and be free from the features which lower the moral tone of the community. The Florence fair was all that without a speed ring. The latter adds to the entertainment, but is expensive. The work of getting up and offering a week's entertainment to the public is arduous and requires much thought and patient endeavor, yet to furnish a satisfactory show there must be improvements that will prove beneficial to each year's effort.

CARD OF THANKS—We take this method of extending our heartfelt thanks, and expressing our gratitude to the many friends who were so kind and rendered us so many favors during the illness of our husband and father, N. B. Stephens.

WIFE AND CHILDREN.

The Petersburg Graded School opens Sept. 14th. Pupils from other districts will be admitted on the following terms: $1.50 per month for common branches and $2 for high school. Persons desiring to place children in school should consult the principal before the term begins.

E. C. RICE, Principal.

For Sale—Graded Southdown buck—Apply to Geo. E. Rouse, near Limaburg.

BOONE HIGH SCHOOL

Do your High School work at home where teachers will take especial interest in you. This School offers the regular four years High School and the eight years Common School Courses.

TUITION:

High School Course...$40.00
Common School Course..$25.00
Per Session.

Two well qualified teachers besides the Superintendent.

School Opens Sept. 14th.

For Particulars write to
EDGAR C. RILEY, Supt.,
BURLINGTON, KY.

Jewelry Just a Little Better.

We are not satisfied to show Jewelry as good as others show. It is our aim to offer you something better, something different. Excellence of workmanship, beauty and exclusiveness of design and the very best wearing qualities characterize every piece—and with our moderate prices you can buy far more economically here than elsewhere.

Motch,
The Jeweler,
618 MADISON,
Covington, Ky.

R. O. HUGHES,
—SURVEYOR,—
RICHWOOD, KY.
Am prepared to do, and will answer all calls for surveying in Boone and adjoining counties. Over 30 years experience. Practicing Engineer.

J. Bullock & Son,
PRACTICAL TAILORS,
HEBRON, - KENTUCKY.
Our Fall and Winter samples are ready for inspection and we invite you to call and see them and learn the prices.
All work guaranteed and done under my own supervision.

J. Bullock & Son,
HEBRON, KY.

H. C. BLACK,
VETERINARY SURGEON,
WALTON, KENTUCKY.
Treats all diseases pertaining to animals. Prompt attention given to all calls. Telephone connections.

RIDGEVIEW STOCK FARM
Boone County, Ky.
BREEDER OF
Aberdeen-Angus Cattle and
Duroc Jersey Swine.
Stock for Sale. Address or call
W. W. COCHRAN, Mgr. - Delhi, Ohio.
(The Chambers Farm.)

POSTED.
Notice is hereby given that my property known as Laughery Island is posted against all kinds of trespass.
JOHN SMITH, Grant, Ky.

Rogers Bros.
General Merchants,
BELLEVUE, KY.
Keep on hand a General Stock of MERCHANDISE.
Coal Kept in the Yard.
Country Produce taken in Trade
Subscribe for the Recorder.

"Always Reliable."
W. N. HIND & CO.
Carpets, Furniture, Stoves,
210-12 W. Fifth Street,
Cincinnati, - Ohio.

TAX-PAYERS NOTICE.

The Taxpayers of Boone County are hereby notified that I or my Deputy will be at the places and on the dates named below to collect 1908 taxes:

Florence, July 13th and October 12th.
Verona, July 14th and October 13th.
Walton, July 15th and October 14th.
Petersburg, July 16th and October 15.
Bellevue, July 17th and October 16th.
Beaver, July 20th and October 19th.
Big Bone, July 21st and October 20th.
Union, July 22d and October 21st.
Rabbit Hash, July 24th and Oct. 8th.
Constance, July 27th and Oct 9th.
Bullittsville, July 28th and Oct. 22d.
Hebron, October 23rd.
Gunpowder, October 26th.
Richwood, October 27th.

RATES—State, 50 cents: County, 15c on the $100, six per cent penalty added December 1st on all unpaid taxes.

Pay your Poll-tax before December 1st and you will not be put on the delinquent list. Interest and cost of collecting will be added on all delinquent taxes. M. F. WINGATE,
Sheriff Boone County.

Dr. L. E. ROUSE,

DENTIST,
Will be at Burlington on Monday of each week; Union on Tuesday, balance of time at my office in Masonic Building. LUDLOW, KY.

Notice is hereby given that all persons are forbidden to trespass upon my lands in any manner whatever, unless by my permission. The law against trespass will be rigidly enforced by me.
O. F. GLACKEN.

It will pay you to advertise your Business in this Paper. Try it.

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER.

ESTABLISHED 1876. Subscription $1.50 year. Try it One Year.

VOL. XXXIII. BURLINGTON, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 16, 1908. NO. 48

County News Items

Interesting Facts Gathered During the Week by Our Regular Correspondents.

ERLANGER.

Edgar D. Jones, of Bloomington, Ill., has just closed a very successful week's meeting at Erlanger Christian church, resulting in 11 additions to the church. Each night the church was crowded. Bro. Jones was the first pastor of the Christian church here, and he is known and loved by the members of all churches alike. His sermons on the Life of Christ were extremely interesting and delivered with his matchless eloquence are calculated to do much good to the community.

o o o

HATHAWAY.

The dry, hot weather stays with us.

The health of the community is good.

Corn cutting will soon be the order as it is ripening fast.

The writer and family attended the Harvest Home, last Saturday.

Geo. L. Smith was sick several days last week on account of the heat.

Joshua Rice and daughter, Miss Blanch, of Illinois, are guests of their many relatives in this county.

This dry weather is making water a scarcity with some, causing them to haul for both stock and family use.

Mrs. Lepia Wood, of Dayton, Ohio, spent several days, last week, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Ryle, of this place.

M. M. Ryle and wife have returned from a trip to Gallatin county, where they visited Mrs. Ryle's mother, who has been quite sick.

We desire to thank the Editor of the RECORDER for the complimentary ticket to the Harvest Home, near Limaburg, last Saturday. We hope the staff of correspondents enjoyed the day as much as we did.

Chas. Portwood is completing a seven room commodious building on his farm at the top of the big hill, known as the Ambros Bradford hill. The house is built on the site of the old Bradford house that burned several years ago. He has several carpenters at work and expects to complete it in a couple of weeks.

A disastrous fire got started, last Tuesday, from some cause in the woods near the line of the Joseph Riddell and John L. Henderson places at the top of the hill, and burned considerable fencing and over a vast area of the timber land. Several of the neighbors were called to help check the fire, which was done after several hours of hard work. It is supposed the fire started from some squirrel hunter's gun wad of paper setting fire to the leaves.

o o o

IDLEWILD.

Samuel Barnes' little baby has been very sick.

Miss Grace Winkle spent the week with her aunt, Mrs. Chas. Slayback, of Erlanger.

Mrs. Courtney Walton and Mrs. Vess Gaines were Friday guests of Mrs. Tom Willis.

C. T. Easton sold and delivered to Bobrink, of Lawrenceburg, 30 shoats at 4 cents a pound.

Robert Beard and wife, of Hamilton, Ohio, are visiting his brother, James of East Bend.

The Bullittsburg school opened Monday with Mrs. F. E. Kirtley, of Carrollton, as teacher.

H. C. Duncan and Andrew Gaines, of Idlewild, were transacting business in Cincinnati, Friday.

Courtney Walton, Holman Hays and ye scribe were transacting business in Lawrenceburg, Monday.

Mrs. Alice Watts and Mrs. John Gaar, of Bullittsville, were guests of Mrs. Anna Gaines, of Idlewild, Wednesday.

Samuel Barnes was the first to cut corn in the Bullittsville neighborhood, and Charles Clore the first in Hebron.

Mrs. Georgia Louden, of Scrapville, visited her daughter, Mrs. Omer McGuire, of Idlewild, from Monday until Thursday.

Geo. Hendley and wife, of Woolper, were Sunday guests of Omer McGuire and wife, of Idlewild, and Robert McGuire and wife near Sullivan Heights, on Monday.

We may name the wild beasts; the fire in the forest will cease when all the wood is burned; but we cannot arrest the progress of the cruel words we spoke yesterday or today.

Herbert Grant, of Idlewild, sold to Kreitzer, of Sedamsville, 14 cattle and 2 calves for a total of $412, and C. W. Riley, of Bullittsville, 33 shoats and 8 pigs for a total of $400.

The horse that Courtney Walton is having broken to harness is showing considerable speed. It trotted a mile in 2:42 on the Lawrenceburg fair ground last Monday without a break.

Mrs. A. L. Gaines, of Idlewild, has joined the happy and intelligent patrons of rural mail route 1, Burlington. This route handles more mail to the number of boxes than any route in the State.

Boys, get your tin pans ready. When a young man receives a letter from his best girl reading: "Roses are red and Violets are blue, candy is sweet and so are you," there is going to be something doing, so hold yourselves in readiness.

UNION.

Weather prophets are as plentiful as candidates.

Richard Smith is building a new road up to his house.

R. N. Head and wife dined with Mrs. Frank Smith, Sunday.

Rev. Miller preached at the Presbyterian church, Sunday morning.

James A. Huey hauled a load of feed from Covington that cost over $50.

M. C. Norman and W. W. Conner have completed their silos, except roofing.

Dr. Senour entertained relatives and friends from Kenton county, Sunday.

Mrs. William H. Smith is entertaining her cousin, Roy Couburn, of Portsmouth, Ohio.

J. M. Uts and wife spent Saturday with their daughter, Mrs. John Taylor, at Beaver Lick.

Prof. Voshell is soliciting stock for a company store at Gunpowder, and is having good success.

Mrs. Sue Smith and daughter, Miss Hattie, of Covington, are here guests of Mrs. Mary Carpenter.

Miss Sadie Crisler, a charming young lady, of Burlington, is teaching the public school here.

The Presbyterian Sunday School will be held at 10 o'clock a. m., instead of 3 p. m., as formerly.

Tom Huey and wife, Jas. W. Huey and wife, and Dr. O. E. Senour and Miss Nannie Burkett, attended the fair at Sanders, last Saturday.

Lloyd Huey, who is attending business college in Cincinnati, is sick and came out Saturday to recuperate at his grandmother's, Mrs. J. W. Kennedy's.

It is so dry here that Tom Judge believes firmly that a barrel of cold water dropped down on Union right suddenly would cause an explosion loud, long and strong enough to blow his corn crop 50 miles.

Mrs. Hubert Rodgers and Mrs. N. S. Bristow and daughter, Louise, were hostesses at a miscellaneous shower, Tuesday, Sept. 15, given in honor of Miss Riley, the bride-elect of Mr. James T. Bristow.

Rev. W. T. Speara and wife, after spending two weeks with Mrs. W. M. Rachal, left Friday for Maysville, where they will be the guests of Mrs. James Asbury for a short time before going on to their home, Lawrenceburg.

James Utz, J. L. Frazier, John J. Garrison, John Elstun, Bristow Bros., C. and J., with many others equally interested in the road from Union to Grange Hall, have turned out in full force, free and of their own accord to give that highway one of the most complete workings possible, and they are certainly making good. J. L. Frazier advocates hauling rock, and proposes to haul 21 loads as his part, every year, until the bad places are piked. This method seems to be a solution to the road working problem, and it is up to the people to fish or dig bait as they see proper.

The local creamery has solved a problem of material interest to the farmers around here, that is that land can be improved and at the same time made profitable by dairy farming. More than a score of farmers have told this writer that they find that keeping cows and patronizing the creamery more profitable and pleasanter than raising tobacco. As an investment the creamery has made good by paying 8 per cent. Looking at the matter from a broader and better point of view, perhaps, than the financial, it benefits the people by bringing them together every day to exchange views on all questions of interest, and to get better acquainted. Another outgrowth of the creamery is a call for better cows, better methods, better roads—more than, this it calls out the public spirit of men. Business has increased in Union, and, as a result, improvements are being made. James Bristow is building a new house, Rachal & Co. have papered their store, the Eagle Hotel is being papered and painted, Dr. Senour is preparing to beautify his home by painting, papering, etc. The bank has already been nicely painted. Mrs. Rachel Rice is having her home painted. J. W. Kennedy expects to have carpenters and painters at work on his house soon. You see the spirit of improvement is running high here. J. L. Frazier's fine country home has been remodeled, repaired and repainted, making it one of the most attractive and desirable country homes in this section of the county.

A Paying Investment.

Mr. John White, of 38 Highland Ave., Houlton, Maine, says: "Have been troubled with a cough every winter and spring. Last winter I tried many advertised remedies, but the cough continued until I bought a 50c bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery; before that was half gone, the cough was all gone. This winter the same happy result has followed; a few doses once more banished the annual cough. I am now convinced that Dr. King's New Discovery is the best of all cough and lung remedies." Sold under guarantee at Bentler's Drug Store, Erlanger. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Henry Phipps is making a canvass of the county in the interest of several newspapers. He will give you a call some of these bright mornings.

DEVON.

People can be seen in all directions hauling water.

Mr. John Meiman and children visited the Zoo, Saturday.

Gertrude and Loreta Meiman have returned to Notre Dame College.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nosthoide are proud parents of a baby boy, Henry Lee.

Mrs. Theo. Groger had for her guest, Sunday, Cove Carpenter and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Meiman entertained quite a number of their Covington friends, Sunday.

Miss Minnie Stephens, a pretty young lady of Rabbit Hash, is teaching Mt. Zion school.

Misses Maud and Mabel Groger had for their guest, last week, little Miss Gertrude Vaughn.

Albert Shadler has returned to Lebanon, Ohio, college, where he was a student last year.

Walter Perry has procured a nice position in Georgetown college, and went there last Wednesday.

Leonard Childress and family, of Erlanger, and Sandford Bristow, of Union, were guests at Ben Bristow's, recently.

Rev. Tole came out Sunday from Florence and filled Bro. Baker's appointment. He is a very pleasant speaker.

Miss Hattie Lee Riley, one of Devon's attractive young women, will open her school Monday morning at Crescent Springs.

Mrs. Alice Connely and Miss Leta Rice were guests of relatives in Newport, last week. They also visited in Covington and Latonia.

Mrs. B. F. Bristow and daughter, Miss Jane, went to Georgetown, last Tuesday, where Miss Jane will resume her studies this year.

The fall session of the Beech Grove school is in progress with Miss Beers, teacher. She gave perfect satisfaction last year and all are much pleased to have her this fall and winter.

Mrs. J. Leon Elsy and children who were guests of Mrs. West have returned to their home in Selma, Alabama. They have many warm friends at this place who regret that they could not have remained for a longer time.

o o o

HERE AND THERE.

Robert Mallory will move to T. W. Campbell's place on upper Woolper, this week.

Steve Gaines and Less Sebree will take in the State fair at Louisville, this week.

Paris Akin left Monday morning for Hathaway, where he will teach the fall and winter term of school.

Harry Passons' sale, last Friday, was well attended. Some things sold cheap while others brought fair prices.

Miss Mae Cutter returned to her home in Cincinnati, last Sunday, after a protracted visit with her cousin, Mrs. Julia Rector.

A. C. Passons and wife and son, Harry, will leave next Thursday for Tuscola, Illinois, where they will make their future home.

Henry Passons and his friend, Harry Younger, left last Saturday, for the wild and wooly west, after, as they expressed it, a two weeks' sojourn in the jungles of Woolper creek.

Miss Edna Hewett, daughter of Mrs. Virginia and the late D. M. Hewett, departed this life Sept. 11th, 1908, aged 17 years and 11 days. She had been a sufferer of that dread disease, consumption, for about eight months, and when God called her she was prepared to go. She leaves a mother, four brothers and three sisters to mourn her early demise. The remains were gently laid to rest beside those of an infant brother in the Petersburg cemetery at noon, Sunday. The bereaved family have the sympathy of all in their hour of need.

o o o

FRANCESVILLE.

The public school began Monday, with Miss Sadie Reiman teacher.

We consider ourselves among the blest in having plenty of vegetables.

Mike Muntz, who moved to Indianapolis some years ago, has returned.

Cutting corn will be the occupation of the farmers for the next few weeks.

Mrs. Marietta Gaines entertained a number of her relatives last Friday week.

Miss Jessie Conner, of Bullittsville, has gone to Dayton, to study for a trained nurse.

Mrs. Sydney Blankenbeker, of Louisville, is spending some weeks with her mother and other relatives near here.

The wife and daughter of Dr. Henry, of near Cythiana, returned to her home on Friday after a few days' visit here with the doctor's father and relatives.

The neighborhood is stirred up over the stealing of Mr. Graham's horse and Mr. Bruce Henry's saddle, bridle and buggy whip. Measures are being taken to recover them.

o o o

GUNPOWDER.

Misses Lottie and Iantha Utz are entertaining friends from Lebanon, Ohio.

W. P. Utz is building an addition to his barn to shelter his herd of fine Jersey cows.

Robt. Snyder is marketing his crop of peaches and receiving $2 per bushel for them.

T. C. Surface sold at public auction a portion of his stock, farming implements, &c., on Thursday of last week.

J. W. Scott exhibited his herd of thoroughbred Jersey cattle at the Alexandria fair and captured 18 ribbons out of 20. Bro. Scott has gone to considerable expense to grade up his herd and has some of the best strains of Jersey blood in this country.

LIMABURG.

Water is very scarce in this community.

Miss Annie Brown spent last Wednesday night with Mrs. M. E. Crigler.

E. I. Rouse and Irvin Clore put a new galvanized roof on the back part of Ed Farrell's house, last week.

Misses Ina and Isabella Rouse were guests of Misses Grace and Clara Anderson, last Wednesday afternoon.

Ira Ryle and sister Stella, of near Commissary, spent Saturday night and Sunday with their grandmother, Mrs. Noah Craven.

Legrand Utz and wife and Mrs. H. L. Tanner, who have been visiting friends and relatives in Georgia, returned home last Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Henry Quick and little daughter, Louise, spent from Friday until Sunday afternoon with her father, J. P. Utz, and attended the Harvest Home, Saturday.

The home and household goods of Samuel Conrad, burned last Saturday afternoon. He was away from home until it was too late to save anything in the house.

o o o

PETERSBURG.

Prof. Rice spent Thursday in Cincinnati.

Stephen McWethy is somewhat improved.

Mrs. Mamie Peck, of Milton, is visiting friends here.

Mrs. Mary Yerkes has been quite sick the past few days.

Thomas Collier, of Patriot, is the guest of Bernard Gordon.

Rev. Pilo is attending conference at Middlesboro, this week.

Miss Mamie Helms, who has been very sick, is able to be up again.

School opened Monday with a good attendance, Prof. and Mrs. Rice in charge.

Forest Krutz, who attended the Sanders fair, last week, arrived home Sunday night.

William Howlett, of Topeka, Kansas, is the pleasant guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Krutz.

R. H. Bolen, jr., will leave today for his home in New Orleans, after a six weeks' visit here.

W. T. Berkshire has bought the Ben Gaines farm 2 miles out on the Burlington and Petersburg pike.

Misses Nellie and Nora McWethy have been guests of their sister, Miss Leola, in Cincinnati, the past week.

Misses Mattie and Fannie Leek entertained several of their friends with a watermelon party, last Saturday night.

Mrs. Eliza Couch and sons, Paul and Edward, have returned home from a two weeks' visit with relatives at Patriot.

Quite a number of Petersburg people attended the annual Harvest Home, last Saturday, and all report a pleasant time.

Stewart Berkshire, one of our promising young men, left, Monday, for Lexington, where he will enter the State College.

Miss Mattie Leek leaves today for Lexington, expecting to enter the University. She has the best wishes of a host of friends.

Arthur (Podge) Alloway arrived home Thursday from Kansas City, where he had been umpiring in the Western Base Ball League.

Clair Jones left Wednesday for Versailles, Indiana, where he will spend a week before leaving for his home in Washington, D. C.

The young people were delightfully entertained last Thursday evening at the pretty home of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Gordon. Dancing was the principal amusement.

Mrs. William Crisler and daughter, and Miss Nell Berkshire, all of Brooklyn, New York, who have been spending the summer here with Mr. and Mrs. Ben Berkshire, returned to their home last week.

The funeral of Miss Edna Hewitt was held here last Sunday. It was largely attended and was conducted by Rev Carter. It will, no doubt, be remembered, that six weeks ago Mrs. May Hewitt Warford, a sister of Miss Edna, was buried here.

Rev. Carter is holding a series of meetings at Mt. Pleasant.

Wm. Alden is home from Middlesboro, but will return to that city in a few days.

Mrs. Edgar Jones and sister, Miss Eunie Willis, were calling on friends here last week.

Miss Janie Hurd is spending a few days with her aunt, Mrs. Robert Green, of Belleview.

Misses Edna and Bess Berkshire and Lizzie Walton have returned home after a two weeks' visit with Miss Lucille Rucker, of Pt. Pleasant.

Miss Mary Mills has returned to her home in Covington after spending two weeks here with her grandmother, Mrs. Kate Roberts.

E. T. Krutz and wife and Harry McWethy and wife have returned from a pleasant vist to Mr. and Mrs. Ben Belden at Xenia, Ohio.

How to Get Strong.

P. J. Daly, of 1247 W. Congress St., Chicago, tells of a way to become strong: He says: "My mother, who is old and was very feeble, is deriving so much benefit from Electric Bitters that I feel it's my duty to tell those who need a tonic and strengthening medicine about it. In my mother's case a marked gain in flesh has resulted, insomnia has been overcome, and she is steadily growing stronger." Electric Bitters quickly remedy stomach, liver and Kidney complaints. Sold under guarantee at Bentler's Drug Store, Erlanger. 50c.

Considerable stone is being broken for spreading on the Burlington and Florence pike, which will eliminate it for a while as a first class automobile thoroughfare.

FLORENCE.

Mrs. Joe Bradford is visiting relatives and friends at Big Bone.

Mrs. Swyball entertained, Thursday, in honor of her 76th birthday.

John Seifs and wife, of Cincinnati, visited his sister, Mrs. John Bucknef, Sunday.

Misses Annie Carrollton and Lillian Lillard, of Covington, visited Ed Senour and wife, the past week.

Mrs. Sadie John, had as her guests Sunday, her brother and sister, Mr. and Miss Tucker.

Mrs. Theodore Myers, of Alexander, was the guest of C. W. Myers and wife, Sunday.

The Florence club will play the Hebron club at the Florence park, next Saturday at 2:30 p. m.

Mrs. J. R. Whitson and Mrs. Lillian Bradford and Mrs Ryle attended the association at Walton, last week.

Misses Addie Lee and Tina J. Norman entertained in honor of Walter Downingsville, of Ludlow, the following at dinner, Sunday: Misses Lizzie Abraham, of Louisville; Mayme, Gertie and Laura Michaels, of Erlanger; Anna Lee Holzworth, of Devon; Messrs. Walter Klappert, of Ludlow; Hayden Young, of Lexington; Lawrence Michaels, of Crescent Springs; J. R. Rice, and Clarence and Cliff Norman.

The Florence and Erlanger boys who enjoyed a ten days' outing on Eagle Creek arrived home, Friday. Among the party were Elmer Cahill, Ben Dulaney and Paul Aydelotte, of Florence; Joe and Bruce Myers, and Charley Braucht, of Erlanger. They picked up three additional ball players on the creek and defeated the Downingsville ball team, last Saturday, 10 to 9. This was the first defeat for Downingsville. The boys report plenty of fish and game.

o o o

CONSTANCE.

Carroll Zimmer's baby died after one day's illness, last week.

John Masters and wife, of Ludlow, visited friends here Sunday.

Capt. Louie Kottmyer and family visited his parents, here, Sunday.

Several lots have been purchased here recently for building purposes.

Miss Hazel Goodridge and Master Harry, visited Sophia Murat, Sunday.

Many Constance people are attending meeting at Point Pleasant church the past week.

Mr. Hoffman and wife, of Petersburg, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Loder, last week.

The Constance base ball club played Anderson Ferry, Sunday, score 6 to 5. [In whose favor?—Ed.]

Miss Anita, daughter of Charles Hemfling, will graduate from Home City High School, next spring.

Al Ingram's bid was the lowest of the several made for the work of building the fill at the Dry creek bridge.

Lon Sprague is building an addition to his store at Taylorsport, also a cellar, which will give him much needed room to carry on his business.

W. H. Bowen and Miss E. Jackson were guests of Dr. Murat and wife, a few days since. The captain has a watch chain made of gold he dug in Alaska. He gave the doctor a stick pin made of an Alaska nugget.

o o o

VERONA.

Public school begun last Monday.

Dr. McCormac has had a cow barn built on his lot.

There will be a picnic near Verona on Saturday the 19th inst.

Mathew Cleek is attending Danville College, preparatory to taking a course in law.

Quite a number from this place attended the North Bend Association at Walton, last week.

A committee has been appointed by New Bethel church to have it paved in the near future.

Miss N. E. Hamilton left, to-day (Monday) for Richmond, where she has a position as teacher in the High School.

Rev. John E. Roberts will start for St. Louis, Mo., about the 24th inst., where he will accept the charge of two churches.

Mrs. William Anderson and granddaughter, Miss Blanche Anderson, of Knox county, Mo., are spending a few weeks here with relatives.

o o o

FLICKERTOWN.

James Gaines sold his Black Badger colt to Elbert Clore. Price, $65.

Mrs. Dan Hoffman and children, of Petersburg, visited at Ben Hensley's several days last week.

Jas. White and mother left, Monday, for Columbus, Ind., to see Mrs. Renah Kelly, who is dangerously ill.

C. L. Voshell, of Sparta, Indiana, Frank Voshell and wife, and Miss Mattie Low visited James White and wife, Sunday.

BASE BALL.

Taylorsport vs. Burlington.

The Burlington and Taylorsport base ball teams will try conclusions at Burlington ball park next Saturday afternoon in two games in which James Houston, the spit-ball artist will work in the box, for the visitors in the first game which will be called at 1:30 p. m. The batteries will be: Taylorsport—Houston and McGlasson, and Myers and McGlasson; for Burlington, Conner and Slayback, and Brady and Slayback. Come out all ye fans and see two good games that afternoon.

They Take The Kinks Out.

"I have used Dr. King's New Life Pills for many years, with increasing satisfaction. They take the kinks out of stomach, liver and bowels, without fuss or friction," says N. H. Brown, of Pittsfield, Vt. Guaranteed satisfactory at Bentler's Drug Store, Erlanger. 25c.

GASSBURG.

The campers have left Split Rock for the season.

Politics is a great game but a mighty poor business.

Melons of excellent quality are still going to market in moderate numbers.

The country is full of wise politicians, who can tell you how the primary will result in every instance.

Nearly all of the tenants have rented for next year, consequently less than the usual moving will be done next spring.

The farmers in the big bottoms across the river set small value on straw. They have burnt about all from a large crop of wheat.

Rev. C. J. Casey, of Ebenezer Ridge, Ind., spent a day last week with your reporter. He is a very bright and entertaining gentleman.

Stock water is about as scarce as it ever gets to be. Peak's branch, which flows through this place, affords an unfailing supply for the surrounding country.

A syndicate wants to rent a large tract of land near Split Rock, next season, and erect a large number of tents and rent them to campers. If they succeed they will call it Camp City.

o o o

BIG BONE.

Next Saturday will be a lively day here. On that day a picnic will be in progress at the grove, while the local ball team will go up against the Belleview team at the ball park at 2:30. Everybody for miles around is expected to be at the springs by 2 p. m. that day to enjoy the unusual good entertainment that will be provided.

Personal Mention.

N. E. Riddell made a business trip to the city yesterday.

Mrs. Nellie Markland, of Cincinnati, was among the Monday callers at this office.

Garner Renaker is a guest of Burlington friends, having arrived here Monday evening.

Edward Passons, of upper Rabbit Hash, was transacting business in Burlington, yesterday.

A. B. Rouse attended the fair last Saturday at Sanders. He says it was a big success again this year.

Circuit Clerk J. A. Duncan made a business trip to Rabbit Hash bailiwick, yesterday. No doubt he adjusted an occasional rail on his political fence.

Bruce Henry, one of the confederates of the north end of the county, transacted business in Burlington last Monday. The older he gets the younger he looks.

Master Wyatt Westbay, of Covington, spent several days last week and the week before with Burlington friends. He entered the Covington High School, last Monday.

B. B. Allphin, candidate for County Clerk, arrived in Burlington about noon, last Monday, dusty and tired, having been shaking the bushes diligently for several days.

Joshua Rice, of Illinois, and W. B. Arnold, of Slater, Missouri, were at the Harvest Home, last Saturday, and met many of their old friends. Time has dealt gently with each of them.

After spending several days recuperating at his grand father's, near Burlington, Joe Revill Furnish returned to his home in Covington to be ready to enter Covington High School, last Monday.

Mrs. Bert Gaines entertained in her usual happy manner, last Saturday night, the following bevy of gay young people: Misses Ruth and Jenette Huey, Carrie Graves, Sarah Gaines and Messrs. Sam McConnell and Howard Huey.

John W. White, the RECORDER'S efficient Hathaway correspondent brought to the office last Saturday, as he went to the Harvest Home, a sack of delicious pawpaws, which were devoured with a relish. Many thanks, brother White.

J. L. Clore, who moved to Covington something over a year ago, has rented the Boone House at this place and will embark in the hotel business. He came out last Monday evening to attend to having some repairs made on the building. His family will be here next week.

Miss Jennie Lee Castleman was one of the guests at the 6 o'clock dinner given last Monday by Mr. Geo. E. McGlasson, of the Bullittsville neighborhood, in honor of his son, Archie's, twenty second birth day. Several of the young man's Covington friends were present.

Otto Crisler returned to Indianapolis, last Monday, to begin his second year at the veterinary colege there. It requires a three years course at that institution to pull down a diploma, and Mr. Crisler entered the college with the determination of having the proper credentials when he bid farewell to the professors.

Misses Bessie Hall, Maud Hume and Laura Porter attended the six o'clock dinner served last Monday in honor of Archie Glasson at the home of his father, Geo. E. McGlasson, of the Bullittsville neighborhood. They were chaperoned by Mrs. C. C. Hughes. Several of youug McGlasson's Covington friends were in attendance.

E. Fitzgerald, of Fairberry, Illinois, after spending two weeks with his Boone county relatives and friends, returned home the first of last week. He is a very pleasant gentleman and his friends at his Old Kentucky Home are always glad to have him among them. Once a Kentuckian always a Kentuckian certainly holds good in Mr. Fitzgerald's case, and the scenes of his boyhood triumps will ever be dear to him.

THE RECORDER.

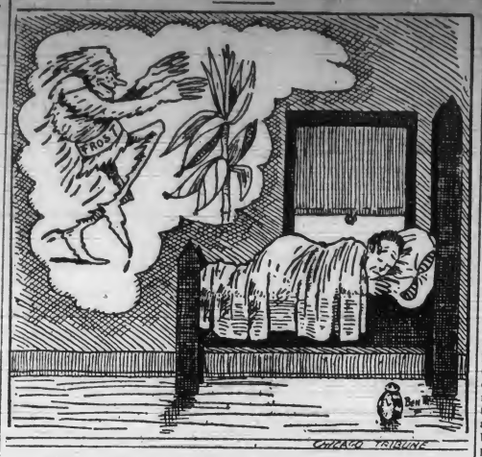
W. L. RIDDELL, Publisher.

BURLINGTON, - - KENTUCKY

How to Deal with Them.

It is easier to prescribe for the evils of modern life than to administer the prescription. Years ago, when Boston was in the midst of a heated controversy as to means of transit, and the merits of elevated railways, subways and surface tracks were vigorously argued, good old Dr. Bartol—whom Phillips Brooks wittily characterized as "a moth-eaten old angel"—proposed a remedy for the municipal disease of congested traffic. It was wonderfully simple, if only the citizens would take it. "Let us hear no more," said the confident doctor, "of the impossible and dangerous crowds, the discomfort of slow, overloaded cars, the impeding of one vehicle by another. There is too much gadding and going. Let people bide at home." But the people heeded not the admonition, and subway and elevated railway and electric traction became accomplished facts. So with a thousand other complications of modern life. Our problem, declares the Youths' Companion, is not to prevent them, for they are already upon us, but to alleviate them. The crowded tenement must be offset by the free, open playground; the dirt and noise of railway trains must be reduced to the minimum; the evil of the slum must be held in check by sanitary regulations and inspection. To the development of these works of alleviation women are especially called. It matters less for the next half-century what new fields they enter than what old fields they make safer and pleasanter, says the Youths' Companion. It is of no use for them to raise the cry of the past, "Let people bide at home." The world will not heed that command. But when women workers for social betterment contrive to lessen noise and dirt and crowds and unproductive toil by methods suited to conditions as they are, the world will accept their service gladly, and will crown it with deserved praise.

Nothing has ever come of the talk of taxing bachelors in America. In Strassburg, Germany, the town council has adopted a system of paying municipal employes, which puts in effect a tax not only on bachelors, but on married men with small families. A standard schedule of salaries has been arranged, adapted to the needs of married men with three children. Single men between the ages of 20 and 25 years receive ten per cent. less than the schedule salary. When a man has more than three children he receives five per cent. more than the standard schedule, ten per cent. more for five children, and 15 per cent. more if he has seven children. A similar system has been in operation in Halberstadt for some time, with the difference that the extra allowances for children are paid directly to the mothers.



I see that a society paper replies to the London Graphic's suggestion that the wedding present custom should be reversed and that bride and bridegroom should celebrate the joyous occasion by giving presents to their friends, by this novel proposition. One great trouble associated with wedding presents lies in their duplication. Now this difficulty might be met by the establishment of a wedding present bureau, where what you do not want can be exchanged for what you do. Here is an excellent opening for an enterprising business genius. For, says the Boston Herald, while American jewelers and art dealers often do exchange wedding presents, it would simplify the difficulty for them if such an exchange bureau was set up independently of their own establishments.

Prof. Roy, the French Esperantist, is urging the establishment of an independent Esperanto state in Europe. The site he has selected for his experiments is on a neutral strip of territory which lies on the frontier between Germany, Belgium and Holland, five miles from Aix-la-Chapelle. This territory is known as Moresnet, is situated in a pleasant valley, and has a population of 3,000 inhabitants. Esperanto is to be the official language of the place. The expenses of the state are to be borne by the subscriptions of Esperantists all the world over. The scheme includes an Esperanto theater, a daily official Esperanto gazette, and a sort of Esperanto parliament, which will meet periodically to discuss the affairs of the little state.

That Indiana court which has ruled that a nightgown is a luxury needs to have a few ounces of common sense poked into it. How does the court know when a fire is to call for an instantaneous rescue, or a burglar to call for what valuables there may be in the upper left-hand bureau drawer?

A Boston paper contains an article informing us that there are no longer any pirates. Of course not! It is safer and more profitable to run a trust or water up a franchise.

THE CORN RAISERS' NIGHTMARE.

TO JOIN IN GENERAL WAR

LABOR MEN TO TAKE PART IN FIGHTING TUBERCULOSIS.

Announcement Made That American Federation Will Join in Fight Against Plague.

Washington. — American workingmen and workingwomen, represented by the American Federation of Labor, will co-operate with the coming world's congress on tuberculosis to prevent the spread of consumption in workshops, homes and public buildings.

This developed at the session of the executive council of the federation, when the council decided to assume charge of a mass meeting to be held in connection with the congress on Sunday, October 4.

John Mitchell will preside and make an address emphasizing the importance to workingmen of the tuberculosis crusade. Samuel Gompers, president of the federation, will make the principal address. The effect of tuberculosis upon the workers will be proved by statistics, which show that 25 per cent. of all deaths between the ages of 15 and 45 are due to consumption.

It was decided that the American Federation of Labor make every effort to aid in furthering the movement among the people of our country to secure legislation for the conservation of our natural resources.

A resolution was adopted to urgently request President Roosevelt to intervene and prevent the surrender of Jan Poureo to the Russian government. Poureo participated in the revolutionary movement of the Baltic provinces to obtain a freer form of government for the people of Russia. When the revolution failed he escaped to the United States and obtained employment which he followed for more than eight months. Russian spies in the United States ferreted him out and now demand his extradition.

KAISER DOESN'T ENTER FRANCE.

William Changes His Mind About Ascending the Hohneck.

Altenberg, Alsace.—Emperor William disappointed the general expectation that he would set foot on French territory Friday in the course of a sight-seeing trip along the Vosges range. The French authorities forwarded his majesty a hearty invitation to do so and had made every preparation to welcome the imperial visitor. He had intended to ascend the Hohneck, the highest point in this vicinity, which is situated in French territory. From it a splendid view may be had of Remiremont and the valley of the Moselle river. Emperor William arrived here late in the afternoon and decided not to proceed across the frontier.

Commodities Clause Hit.

Philadelphia. — The commodities clause of the Hepburn railroad act was Thursday declared to be unconstitutional by the United States circuit court for the eastern district of Pennsylvania. Judges Gray and Dallas agreed in an opinion, covering 75 typewritten pages, that the clause is unconstitutional. Judge Buffington dissented, but did not file an opinion.

Gans Beaten by Nelson.

Colma Arena, San Francisco.—Battling Nelson clinched his claim to the lightweight pugilistic championship by defeating Joe Gans for the second time at Colma arena Wednesday afternoon. The fight ended in the twenty-first round when Gans, beaten down by a succession of blows from his sturdy conqueror, failed to get upon his feet within the count of ten.

Indicted for Arson in New Orleans.

New Orleans.—Julius Lipps, manager; Abe Wolf, secretary and treasurer of the Central Glass company of New Orleans, and John Eckert, an employe of that company, were indicted by the grand jury Wednesday night on the charge of arson in connection with a fire which about ten days ago burned over a portion of three blocks in the business section of New Orleans, causing a loss of $1,500,000. The fire originated in the building that was occupied by the Central Glass company.

DELAY IN BIG LABOR CASE.

Legal Proceedings Against Gompers and Others Are Postponed.

Washington. — The legal proceedings against President Samuel Gompers, Secretary Frank Morrison and John Mitchell of the American Federation of Labor, in which they were charged with contempt of the supreme court of the District of Columbia on account of acts and utterances apropos of the judgment of that court directing them to cease publishing the name of the Bucks Stove & Range company in their "We don't patronize" list, were virtually postponed for two weeks after a brief hearing Wednesday. Justice Gould of the supreme court presided.

The postponement was taken at the instance of counsel for the stove company and in opposition to the expressed wishes of Mr. Gompers and his associates, who complained of the delay as expensive and unnecessary. It was stated on behalf of the company, however, that it would be necessary to examine witnesses as to the issues made by the petition and the answers, and Justice Gould, saying that he saw no necessity for great haste and urging the desirability of affording both sides a full opportunity to be heard, granted the request. He appointed an examiner to take testimony, gave each side 30 days, and announced his own willingness to sit in the case after the facts shall have been ascertained.

BISHOP SPALDING RESIGNS.

Head of Peoria Diocese Retires Because of Ill Health.

Peoria, Ill.—The resignation of Rt. Rev. John Lancaster Spalding, bishop of the diocese of Peoria, was officially announced from his residence Thursday in the following note:

"Bishop Spalding having been ill for

Bishop John L. Spalding.

three years and a half, and foreseeing that some years must elapse before he has hope to resume active duty in the diocese of Peoria, has, after due consideration, resolved to tender his resignation as bishop of Peoria to Pope Pius X." The bishop is now in his sixty-ninth year and still suffers from the paralysis which brought him near to death."

Deposit Guaranty Law Upheld.

Guthrie, Okla.—The supreme court Thursday upheld the validity of the depositors' guaranty law, denying the injunction prayed by the Noble State bank to restrain the state from levying a one per cent. assessment upon the deposits of the bank. It was contended that the law is unconstitutional in that it levies on and takes private property without consideration. On this point Judge Huston in the Logan county district court overruled the bank and denied an injunction, the case then being appealed.

Young Wife Commits Suicide.

Seattle, Wash.—Mrs. John Davis, wife of one of the leading real estate dealers of this city, committed suicide by taking carbolic acid. She was 23 years old, he is 38, and they had been married only since March 15 last.

Paper Mill Men on Strike.

Millinocket, Me.—Responding to a telegram from their union headquarters, the 1,200 men employed in the mills of the Great Northern Paper Company here and at East Millinocket went on strike Friday.

WRIGHT BEATS OWN RECORD

AEROPLANE GOES 65 MINUTES AND 52 SECONDS.

Ten-Mile Wind Causes Machine to Pitch, But Does Not Stop Its Flight.

Washington.—Orville Wright Thursday broke the world's record for time and distance for a heavier-than-air flying machine which he established Wednesday. In a flight requiring great skill on account of a ten-mile wind, he circled around the drill grounds at Fort Myer 58 times in 65 minutes and 52 seconds, exceeding the time of Wednesday's record flight by three minutes and 37 seconds. The flight was witnessed by nearly a thousand people.

At 5:08 Mr. Wright signaled C. E. Taylor, his mechanic, to release the machine. The aeroplane rose from the ground almost immediately after leaving the single starting rail. It continued to climb higher with each successive round of the field, until it reached an altitude of 75 feet. For the first 30 seconds the machine flew as smoothly as on its previous flights, but from that time on it was seen to pitch at the turns, as the breeze from the west struck it.

Whenever the machine pitched, it could be plainly seen from below that it responded promptly to every move of the levers by the operator. One of Mr. Wright's assistants marked the time in large figures at intervals on the roof of a shed, in order that Mr. Wright might see how long he had been in the air.

A gust of wind, unusually strong, struck the aerial flyer during its forty-second round, and it plunged sharply, causing the crowd to exclaim in alarm. Mr. Wright then brought his machine lower, but on the fifty-third round he had reached an altitude of 200 feet. He came down at the northern end of the field at the end of the fifty-eighth round, landing easily.

Washington.—In a flight lasting one hour, ten minutes and 26 seconds, Orville Wright Friday surpassed all his exploits for a time and distance flight for a heavier-than-air machine. Two flights were made at Fort Myer, Va., the first being of ten minutes and 50 seconds' duration. The test demonstrated, according to the aviator's calculation, that the speed of the aeroplane during the record-breaking flights of Wednesday and Thursday was 39.55 miles an hour.—Changes in the aeroplane are to be made.

HURRICANE RUINS GRAND TURK.

Great Storm in West Indies Costs Many Lives.

Grand Turk, Turks Islands, B. W. I., —A hurricane of great fury swept over Turks Islands Thursday night and Friday morning, and at daybreak the town of Grand Turk was devastated. A number of lives have been lost, but just how many cannot be said.

Grave anxiety is felt for the safety of Dr. T. R. Robertson, district commissioner of Caicos, who was making a tour of the islands when the storm broke.

Much damage has been done to property here and the streets of Grand Turk are a mass of wreckage. Trees have been uprooted, portions of buildings blown away and many houses have been partially wrecked.

The Haitien sloop Telegraph, which had taken shelter at Hawks Nest, foundered with all hands. The schooner Dan Leon, belonging to the East Caicos Fiber Company, broke away from her anchorage and has not been seen since. All the salt lighters which were moored at the riding ground and the Hawks Nest are missing.

RECEIVER FOR A. BOOTH & CO.

Trouble of Big Concern Caused by Too Great Expansion.

Chicago. — A. Booth & Co., the $12,000,000 fish, game and sea food corporation, with branches extending, from coast to coast, passed into the hands of a receiver late Thursday afternoon.

On petition of Alfred E. Booth and the Linen Thread Company of New York, Judge S. H. Bethea in the United States circuit court named William J. Chalmers, president of the Commercial National Safe Deposit Company, who took charge of the company's general office.

The general assets are placed at $8,000,000, exclusive of the company's good will, valued at $4,000,000, and the liabilities, according to the bill, approximate $5,500,000. Mr. Chalmers gave bond for $50,000.

Too great an expansion of the company's business and a large amount of outstanding short-time notes are the reasons given for the corporation's predicament.

Ohio Minister Is Jailed.

Richmond, Va.—Rev. Leonard W. Synder of Norwood, O., was arraigned in the police court here Tuesday, fined $15 and sent to jail for six months on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Dreyfus' Assailant Acquitted.

Paris.—With the acquittal Friday night by a jury in the assize court of Louis A. Gregori, who fired upon Maj. Dreyfus during the ceremonies last June incident to the placing of the body of Emile Zola in the Pantheon, the Dreyfus affair, which has divided France into two camps for 12 years, may be said to have been buried beyond all possibility of resurrection. Those present gave vent to their feelings according to their political views and the courtroom resounded with hoots and cheers.

Night Sweats & Cough.

E. W. Walton, Condr. S. P. Ry., 717 Van Ness St., San Antonio, Tex., writes: "During the summer and fall of 1902, my annoyance from catarrh reached that stage where it was actual misery and developed alarming symptoms, such as a very deep-seated cough, night sweats, and pains in the head and chest. I experimented with several so-called remedies before I finally decided to take a thorough course of Peruna.

"Two of my friends had gone so far as to inform me that the thing for me to do was to resign my position and seek a higher, more congenial climate. Everyone thought I had consumption and I was not expected to live very long.

"Having procured some Peruna, I decided to give it a thorough test and applied myself assiduously to the task of taking it, as per instructions, in the meantime.

"The effects were soon apparent, all alarming symptoms disappeared and my general health became fully as good as it had ever been in my life.

"I have resorted to the use of Peruna on two or three occasions since that time to cure myself of bad colds."

More Refined.

Visitor—You say Bill was shot?

Cowboy—Well, we call it "death from lead poisoning."—St. Louis Times.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

WALDING, KINNAN & MARVIN,
Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent free. Price 75 cents per bottle. Sold by all Druggists.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

SOUNDS REASONABLE.

Karl—Papa, I suppose the soldiers have to learn to stand on one leg because they might have one foot shot off in war.

PLANT TRAMP BY INSTINCT.

California Cactus Blows Around the Desert for Months.

Curious among vegetable growths and one which is seldom seen of men is the rootless cactus of the California desert, says the Technical World. This plant, a round, compact growth, rolls about the level floor of the desert for some eight or nine months of the year, tossed hither and yon by the winds which blow with fierceness over all of California's sand plat during those months.

At the coming of the rains, or rather the cloudbursts, which sweep the desert in its springtime, this cactus takes root wherever it happens to have been dropped by the last wind of which it was the plaything and immediately begins to put out all around it small shoots, which in turn become cacti, exactly like the parent plant.

These young growths increase in size rapidly, sucking the moisture both from the parent plant and from the surrounding earth. The roots do not penetrate the soil deeply, but spread often over a circle whose radius is not less than ten feet. These roots, too, are small, but practically innumerable, and they get every bit of moisture and plant food to be had in the territory they cover.

"THE PALE GIRL."

Did Not Know Coffee Was the Cause.

In cold weather some people think a cup of hot coffee good to help keep warm. So it is—for a short time but the drug—caffeine—acts on the heart to weaken the circulation and the reaction is to cause more chilliness.

There is a hot wholesome drink which a Dak. girl found after a time, makes the blood warm and the heart strong.

She says:

"Having lived for five years in N. Dak., I have used considerable coffee owing to the cold climate. As a result I had a dull headache regularly, suffered from indigestion, and had no 'life' in me.

"I was known as 'the pale girl,' and people thought I was just weakly. After a time I had heart trouble and became very nervous, never knew what it was to be real well. Took medicine but it never seemed to do any good.

"Since being married my husband and I both have thought coffee was harming us and we would quit, only to begin again, although we felt it was the same as poison to us.

"Then we got some Postum. Well, the effect was really wonderful. My complexion is clear now, headache gone, and I have a great deal of energy I had never known while drinking coffee.

"I haven't been troubled with indigestion since using Postum, am not nervous, and need no medicine. We have a little girl and boy who both love Postum and thrive on it and Grape-Nuts."

"There's a Reason."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

THE SAFE WAY TO BUY PAINT.

Property owners will save a deal of trouble and expense in keeping their buildings properly painted, if they know how to protect themselves against misrepresentation and adulteration in paint materials. There's one sure and safe guide to a pure and thoroughly dependable White Lead—that's the "Dutch Boy Painter" trade mark which the National Lead Company, the largest makers of genuine White Lead, place on every package of their product. This company sends a simple and sure little outfit for testing white lead, and a valuable paint book, free, to all who write for it. Their address is Woodbridge Bldg., New York City.

An Artist's Generosity.

The famous painter Corot and his sister were joint owners of some house property in the Faubourg Poissonniere. One day one of the tenants—a tailor—came to Corot and said he could not pay his rent.

"What can I do for you?" asked Corot. "I cannot intercede for you with my sister, because I am not on good terms with my family." (As a matter of fact, Corot was regarded as a "failure" by his family.) "However," he added, "here is the money to pay the rent, only don't let anyone know I have given it to you."

The tailor after this used to return periodically when his rent was due and obtain the money from Corot, who remarked on one occasion, "I appear to be very generous, but I am not, because I get half of it back from my sister as my share of the rent."

EYESIGHT WAS IN DANGER

From Terrible Eczema—Baby's Head a Mass of Itching Rash and Sores —Disease Cured by Cuticura.

"Our little girl was two months old when she got a rash on her face and within five days her face and head were all one sore. We used different remedies but it got worse instead of better and we thought she would turn blind and that her ears would fall off. She suffered terribly, and would scratch until the blood came. This went on until she was five months old, then I had her under our family doctor's care, but she continued to grow worse. He said it was eczema. When she was seven months old I started to use the Cuticura Remedies and in two months our baby was a different girl. You could not see a sign of a sore and she was as fair as a newborn baby. She has not had a sign of the eczema since. Mrs. H. F. Budke, LeSueur, Minn., Apr. 15 and May 2, '07."

Lost His Senses at the Last.

Shaver—I hear your uncle is dead. Was he sensible to the last?

Shavee—No, he wasn't. The last thing he did was to cut me out of his will.

More proof that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saves woman from surgical operations.

Mrs. S. A. Williams, of Gardiner, Maine, writes:

"I was a great sufferer from female troubles, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored me to health in three months, after my physician declared that an operation was absolutely necessary."

Mrs. Alvina Sperling, of 154 Cleybourne Ave., Chicago, Ill., writes:

"I suffered from female troubles, a tumor and much inflammation. Two of the best doctors in Chicago decided that an operation was necessary to save my life. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound entirely cured me without an operation."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, faintness, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

SICK HEADACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Positively cured by these Little Pills.

They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, TORPID LIVER. They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable.

SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRICE.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Genuine Must Bear Fac-Simile Signature

Brent Good

REFUSE SUBSTITUTES.

Kentucky Gleanings.

Most Important News Gathered From All Parts of the State.

BIG CEMENT PLANT BURNS.

Blaze Started in Kiln that Spread Rapidly—Loss $200,000.

Louisville, Ky.—The plant of the Kosmosdale Cement Co. at Kosmosdale, 17 miles from this city, suffered a loss of $200,000 by fire. The blaze originated in the coal bin of the kiln, where a constant heat of 1,800 degrees is maintained.

Five new mills, the power house and the kilns were razed.

An Illinois Central engine darted in and out amid the burning buildings and took out to safety thousands of barrels of cement. There were 200 men at work in the plant, which has a working force of 500, when the fire began, and General Manager C. M. Dugan sent the alarm into the city and by the time the department responded the flames were leaping skyward to the southwest and could easily be seen here.

The buildings were constructed of solid concrete. The plant is the largest in the south and is worth many millions of dollars.

FOR LIFE

Widow of Brewer Kellner Gets the Benefit of His Estate.

Louisville, Ky.—Typically the will of a "home man" was the testament of John F. Kellner, the late brewer, probated here. It disposes of about $260,000 worth of estate.

After having appointed his widow, Mary F. Kellner, executrix, with Frank Fehr and Louis Seelbach as her helpers, Kellner decides that it will be too much trouble for her and names Philip Sengel trustee and executor, with full right to act with majority stockholders of the various breweries in which Kellner holds interest.

The widow gets the estate for life, with a few provisions for the children when they come of age. In the event Mrs. Kellner remarries she is to get a dower, while the testator provides that the daughters, at the expense of the estate, may live in the family residence.

Wanted in Mississippi.

Morehead, Ky.—W. J. Rice, arrested in Lexington last week and brought here to answer a charge that he embezzled $17,000 from the bank of Morehead, of which he was once cashier, was arrested here by Deputy Sheriff W. J. Ligon, of Jackson, Miss., on a charge of embezzlement of a big sum from the bank there.

Crops Injured By Drouth.

Paducah, Ky.—Reports from all sections of Western Kentucky indicate that late corn, tobacco and forage crops have been materially injured by the drouth. The corn crop was exceptionally late on account of the wet spring and the general rush of putting the tobacco.

Educational Commission Meets.

Frankfort, Ky.—The Kentucky educational commission created by the last legislature for the purpose of revising the school laws, met here, and Superintendent of Instruction Crabbe submitted a bill that will be recommended to the next general assembly for passage.

To Transform Wharf into Playground.

Louisville, Ky.—Members of the Woman's Outdoor Art League have undertaken to make a park of the local wharf. This is to be repaved with granite blocks by order of the city and the league is to erect summer houses for the river children to play in.

Kentucky Fugitive Taken.

Seattle.—Latimer D. Carter, who is wanted at Louisville, Ky., for the embezzlement of $60,000 from the estate of George L. Douglass, deceased, was arrested at Georgetown. His arrest here was caused by W. Rankin, of Louisville, who traced him here.

Rider Victim Driven From State.

Paducah, Ky.—Henry Bennett, a tobacco buyer and farmer of Dycusburg, Crittenden county, who was unmercifully whipped by night riders a few months ago, has moved to Indiana, and will file suit against his alleged assailant for damages in the U. S. Court.

Paint Lick Threatened By Blaze.

Lexington, Ky.—Paint Lick, in Garrard county, about twelve miles from Lancaster, suffered a disastrous fire. Seven stores, one hotel, one bank, the American tobacco warehouse, telephone exchange and other buildings were burned. Loss $100,000.

McPherson at Head of League.

Louisville, Ky.—Col. Ernest McPherson has been made executive head of the Civil Liberty League here. The organization plans in October to have 20,000 people in line declaring for personal liberty tenets.

Bell County Farmers To Meet.

Middlesboro, Ky.—Bell county farmers will meet here September 25-26, to discuss ways and means for the betterment of farming conditions in the Kentucky mountains, under auspices of the state agricultural department.

Dr. Durham Acquitted.

Danville, Ky.—Dr. Ben W. Durbam, the Junction City druggist who shot and killed John Wright at Junction City, Ky., several days ago, was acquitted of the charge before Judge E. V. Puryear.

KILLS "CROPPER" IN ROW.

Men Quarreled Over Lawsuit and Knife Play Was Indulged In.

Russellville, Ky.—Harmon Whitaker aged 23 years, killed T. F. Carlisle, the father of two sons about Whitaker's age, shooting him twice, from the effects of which he died almost immediately.

The shooting was done in a stable lot on Whitaker's land, three miles west of this town, and no witnesses were present.

It is supposed to have been caused by a recent lawsuit between Whitaker and Carlisle's sons in which some knife play was indulged in, but was considered as satisfactorily settled.

Carlisle and his family were croppers on Whitaker's land.

Whitaker came to town and gave himself up to the sheriff, but would say nothing as to the cause of the shooting.

CHANGE MADE

In the State Board of Charitable Institutions.

Lexington, Ky.—The state board of control of charitable institutions at a meeting here made the following elections for terms of four years: R. F. McMichael, Jr., Lexington, steward of the feeble minded institute, Frankfort, to succeed John G. Evans; Dr. W. E. Rendern, Brownsville, second assistant physician at Eastern asylum. Lexington, transferred to same position in Western asylum, Hopkinsville, Dr. C. A. Nevett, of Mead county, to be first assistant at Eastern asylum; Dr. W. E. Gardner, first assistant physician at Lakeland asylum. George C. Caywood, of Rowan county, was re elected secretary of the board. The appointments are effective October 1.

Revision of School Laws Urged.

Frankfort, Ky.—One of the most important bills that will come before the next Kentucky legislature is that providing for the revision of the school laws. At the meeting of the educational commission held here, at which the organization took place, a bill, containing eight chapters, was recommended by Superintendent Crabbe and was referred to the various committees, who will make some kind of a report on its provisions at the meeting of the commission here on September 28.

Petitions Being Drawn.

Frankfort, Ky.—Petitions are being drawn by Judge Louis McQuown and Gov. Beckham to mandamus Auditor James to issue warrants in favor of the Western Normal schools at Bowling Green for $30,000; warrants in favor of $20,000 of the appropriation and $5,000 due on buildings for the Eastern Kentucky Normal school at Richmond, and warrants for $20,000 of the appropriation and $2,000 for buildings in favor of the State university at Lexington.

Quarreled Over a Hog.

Lexington, Ky.—Harry Gay, colored, went to the home of Isaac Carr, also colored, to demand possession of a hog. In this dispute Gay pulled a revolver and said he would pay with the contents. Carr responded with a load of buckshot, killing Gay instantly.

Some 200 Pastors Will Attend.

Middlesboro, Ky.—Ministers of the M. E. Church South are gathering here for their annual conference. Some 200 pastors will attend. Rev. J. L. Weber, of Mt. Sterling, Ky., examined a large number of candidates for admission.

Camp Named After Governor.

Lexington, Ky.—The Second Regiment, Kentucky National Guards, entered their annual encampment of six days at Fairlawn Farm. The camp has been named Augustus E. Willson. Major J. Embry Allen is the colonel commanding.

Found Dead in a Chair.

Lexington, Ky.—Henry T. Muir, 49, a farmer and wholesale ice cream manufacturer, complaining of being tired, sat in a chair at the colored fair grounds. When an effort was made to rouse him it was found that he was dead.

Will Hold Primary.

Frankfort, Ky.—A primary has been called in Anderson county, to be held November 7, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for senator on the democratic ticket for the 28th district. Representative W. E. Dowling is a candidate.

Governor Thought Him Innocent.

Frankfort, Ky.—Gov. Willson pardoned Adam Damron, of Pike county, sentenced to the penitentiary for one year on the charge of receiving stolen property. Gov. Willson says he thinks Damron is innocent.

Riders Rob Church.

[illegible] Ky.—After using the church for sleeping apartments a band of "night riders" broke out panes of glass and robbed the vault of wine stored for communion purposes, at Arlington, a small village near Mayfield.

Warehouses Burn at Lebanon.

Lebanon, Ky.—The warehouses of the T. M. Eales Mill Co. caught fire and were destroyed. They contained 75,000 pounds of flour, a lot of wheat and other valuables. The loss is about $15,000, fully covered by insurance.

BRYAN ON TRUSTS

DISPELS IDEA THAT HE IS ENEMY OF INDUSTRY.

Democratic Candidate Logically Outlines His Policy for Regulation of Big Corporations—Plan Both Definite and Practical.

In fulfillment of his plan of elaborating and interpreting the various planks of the Democratic platform, Mr. Bryan chose the trust question for his subject at the Kern notification proceedings at Indianapolis. It is one of the most elusive of themes, as it is one of the most vexatious of problems. Mr. Bryan succeeded in dispelling the idea that he is the enemy of industry or the friend of centralization.

As was the case at Des Moines, where he handled the tariff question, Mr. Bryan had again the tremendous advantage of no embarrassing alliances, understandings or connections with the forces for whose control and regulation he argued. He left the Democratic remedies for trust evils more clearly understood and as logically placed as is possible without practical test.

His definition of a trust as a "corporation which controls so large a proportion of the total quantity of any article used in this country as to be able to regulate the price and terms of sale" is probably as good as any of the others, even if made to fit the platform declaration. It was also made clear that the fixing of 25 per cent. of the output of an article as the proportion of control which makes necessary a federal license was an arbitrary proceeding and 50 per cent. as the forbidden point beyond which control may not pass was equally arbitrary. To deny the correctness of these figures is merely one way of avoiding discussion of the correctness of the principle involved. For purposes of illustration, 15 and 40 per cent., or 35 and 60 per cent., would be as good. It is an insignificant matter.

The point is that where the extent of a business passes a certain line it ceases to be a matter of private concern; it becomes a matter of public concern for the very simple reason that the interests of the public are paramount. Beyond this point, whatever it is, there must be federal regulation and supervision. Beyond another point even such regulation and supervision promises no protection against the power and financial strength involved. Government itself may be smaller than the corporation which would control more than 50 per cent. of some commodities.

Mr. Taft's idea of recourse to injunctive process, when necessary, may be in greater harmony with legal theories than the fixing by law of arbitrary lines, but it leaves openings too large. Experience with the efficacy of the injunctive process has not been satisfying, and Mr. Roosevelt's experience in trying to free his party from trust domination is fruitful in indications pointing to failure of the Taft remedy.

With Mr. Bryan's elucidation of these points as the basis of the Democratic program for trust regulation, the remainder is a matter of detail, designed to contribute to the attainment of the one end—namely, the retention of the benefits that come from the perfecting of organization and economics under combination without seriously impairing competition or curtailing those equal opportunities essential to the development of individualism.

Compared to the vague and deceptive demand of the Republicans for "more laws" and the "amendment of existing laws," the Democratic plan has the merit of being definite and apparently both practical and practicable. It certainly would insure uniformity of treatment and admit the playing of no favorites.—St. Louis Republic.

New York World for Bryan.

The New York World has come straight into the Bryan camp. In a leading editorial the other day the World says:

"We are nearing the end of one stage of Rooseveltism. Its fruits are before us. In the name of false patriotism they are jingoism, imperialism, extravagance, plutocracy, centralization. They are violence, usurpation, panic, depression. They are contempt for law, contempt for courts, contempt for congress, contempt for the constitution. All these have been crystallized in the machine-made and corporation financed candidacy of a personally amiable and excellent proxy.

"Independently and firmly, voluntarily and conscientiously, and with a keen appreciation of its own responsibility to the public, the World, confronted on one side by Rooseveltism and Roosevelt's proxy and on the other by Democracy and Mr. Bryan, has no hesitation in saying that, within the limits of true Democracy, the Democratic ticket is entitled to the full Democratic vote."

[illegible] Their Hands.

Gov. Johnson's acceptance of renomination warns the Republicans of Minnesota to get busy if they are deluded enough to think they can overcome his plurality of 76,000 rolled up two years ago.

It is now said that encouraged by the more reasonable attitude of the judiciary, the Standard will increase its capital from $100,000,000 to $600,000,000. Thus the sunshine continues to spread.

TARIFF AND WAGE-EARNERS.

American Workers Sorely Oppressed and Receive No Benefit.

American wage-earners are sorely oppressed by the present high tariff. Even if it be admitted that the tariff enables some of them to obtain better wages than they perhaps could under lower duties, the number of such is relatively small. It embraces only those who are employed in certain industries. To the great majority of workers the high tariff is not only of no benefit, but imposes exactions which to many are cruelly burdensome.

The tariff reaches about everything that the wage-earner must have. There is hardly a necessity that is not included in the schedules of the Dingley law, and on not a few of these the duties are as heavy as those levied on luxuries which can be had only by the rich. This is one of the inequalities of the law which justifies the demand for tariff revision and reform. There can be no defense of a policy that thus discriminates against the great majority of the people.

In the pending campaign the wage-earners of the country are pretty certain to give more earnest consideration to the oppressive exactions of the existing tariff.—Chicago Journal.

"AND THEY BUILT SUCH A HIGH WALL AROUND IT, TOO!"

—Philadelphia Record.

Fallacious Finance.

If you had $250,425,623 to your credit in the banks, and you had notes or bonds coming due, amounting to $63,945,460 on August 1, drawing three per cent. interest, would you pay what you owe, or allow the notes to run for ten years longer? It would seem to be a plain business proposition to pay the notes and thus save two per cent. interest. The above statement of the amount of money on deposit in the banks and the bonds due on August 1, is the exact condition of the United States treasury on July 17, but it is stated that Secretary Cortelyou intends to allow the $63,000,000 of bonds to run and still draw three per cent. interest instead of paying them.

Those outstanding bonds were issued on August 1, 1898, on the three per cent. 10-20 basis, that is the government can redeem the bonds on the expiration of ten years, or can allow them to run ten years longer. Those outstanding bonds can also be refunded with new bonds drawing two per cent. interest, so that instead of the government having to pay annual interest of about $1,920,000 a year this interest charge would be reduced to $1,280,000 a year.

There would be no doubt about what a business man would do under these circumstances. He would undoubtedly pay the bonds and stop paying interest. But the government finances are evidently not run on business principles, but appear to be manipulated, for the benefit of the national banks or some other Wall street favorite who owns the bonds.

Railroads and Politics.

Are railroad rates to be raised on August 1? The railroad managers claim that either rates must be increased or wages reduced to make both ends meet. The Republican politicians say that to reduce wages during the campaign might lead to strikes and the defeat of the Republican ticket. This puts the railroad managers in a dilemma that it is difficult to extricate themselves from, for they have decided it is for their best interests to elect Mr. Taft, and they, therefore, do not wish to embarrass the Republican managers by reducing wages, so it is said they will increase railroad rates about ten per cent. The business interests are much opposed to an increase of rates which would naturally lead to a decrease in traffic. All this shows the necessity of a divorce of railroad policies from Republican politics, or both will suffer. The people are in no mood to indorse the Republican candidates if they are to pay the freight, and the railroad employes will oppose, even to the point of a gigantic strike, a reduction of wages while the cost of living is still so high.

It is difficult to decide the merits of the controversy, but however it is settled it would seem to spell disaster to the Republicans.

The Pestiferous Tariff.

Another reason why the Democrats should keep still about the pestiferous tariff is that they haven't a chance to revise it. Within a week 50 fearful Republican papers have pointed that out, not with viciousness, but in a spirit of kindliness. After they have placed this sage counsel to the Democrats, they always fall to discussing the hopelessness of Democratic preponderance in the United States senate. That is always a happy Republican argument. The senate stands now immutably committed to the crime of Dingleyism, so the Democrats might as well indulge in no [illegible] splays of peevishness over the tariff.

NEW TOWN MODEL

FILIPINO VILLAGE IS RUN IN YANKEE FASHION.

General Bliss' Report of Conditions in Dependencies Tells of Efforts to Give Natives a Clean Municipality.

Within earshot of the bugles of Uncle Sam and on the opposite side of the Agus river from the military post of Camp Keithley, District of Lanao, Moro Province, P. I., has sprung up the town of Dansalan, which Gen. Tasker H. Bliss, U. S. A., in his annual report says is probably "the first and only instance in the Philippine islands of the establishment of an orderly and well-regulated community after the manner followed by the Anglo-Saxon settlers of the United States." His description of its beginning throws an instructive sidelight upon the strange land "laws" of the country, and shows how things often have to be done there outside the pale of the law to obtain results that are demanded by the needs of the people.

The new town grew out of the necessity of removing the settlement of squatters at Marahui on the military reservation of Camp Keithley. After much deliberation they decided to transfer themselves from the northern to the eastern shore of Lake Lanao. They then raised by voluntary subscription the sum of 3,000 pesos, which they placed in the hands of a committee of three Americans of their number, who negotiated with the Moros for an eligible site near enough to the military reservation to be assured of some protection, and purchased it. The site was then carefully laid out, and in accordance with a previous agreement lots were sold at public auction to an amount sufficient to reimburse the subscribers of the original purchase price of the site. The remaining lots were then deeded to the town to be sold to new settlers.

"This well-considered, orderly and sensible procedure is, strange to say, in its entirety without sanction of law," the report admits. "Neither the datto, with whom the settlers negotiated, nor any of his followers had proved nor could prove title under existing laws. Neither the individual settlers nor the town could acquire title through the datto. But the datto and all his followers believed that the land belonged to him under Moro law or customs and that he could dispose of it as he did. If the settlers had not recognized these believed rights of his, if they had camped upon the site as being waste, unoccupied, uncultivated public land and should have proceeded to acquire title under the provisions of the land law whenever the latter should be made to apply, without compensation to the Moros, they would have brought on a war. There can be no doubt that their recognition of the fact that the Moro was there with his gun and his spear, and that his gun and spear (in the absence of a greater number of opposing guns) gave him a valid title for which they had to negotiate, was the only sensible, civilized and just thing for them to do. No doubt the rights they have thus acquired will in due time be confirmed."

A narrow-minded stickler for equity might in this instance, as probably in many others, have brought on hostilities which the tact of an army officer was able to avoid. A novel feature in this case is that the mass of the settlers are not Anglo-Saxon with a long inheritance of the principles of independent and self-governing village life, but are Chinese, Japanese, Filipinos and Moros who, without hesitation, submitted themselves to the domination and guidance of a few Americans. "It is an illustration of what would happen could a sufficient number of American settlers of the old sturdy stock—just such as those who are already here—be induced to settle in the province."

In the country occupied by the Tirurayes south of Cotatato Gen. Bliss finds a territory especially inviting to the investor. The people are teachable, and with kind and just treatment, would become reliable laborers. No white man, however, should invest either his own labor or his capital without assurance of this native labor. The people are kindly disposed toward the white men, which cannot be said of the Moros, who, paradoxically, "like the white man's government, which is just and firm, but have no liking for the white man himself."

Good Enough for Him.

A country lad was invited by a town friend to attend a concert with him. As they were on their way to the concert hall the boy from the country suddenly stopped and asked the price of admission.

"Well," replied his friend, "the front seats are 50 cents each; the back seats 25 cents each and the program ten cents each."

"I'll sit in a program," said the country lad.

Burdened with Wealth.

"Did you try counting sheep for your insomania?"

"Yes, doc, but I made a mess of it. I counted 10,000 sheep, put 'em on cars and shipped 'em to market. The wad of money I got for 'em made me afraid to go to sleep."—Kansas City Journal.

Transient New Yorkers.

The transient hotel population of New York is figured at 250,000 people a day. The hotel properties are valued at over $80,000,000.

G. G. Hughes,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
BURLINGTON, KY.
Will practice in all the courts. Prompt attention given to all business entrusted to me.

N. E. Riddell,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.
Prompt Attention given to Collections Will practice in all the courts.

S. Gaines,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.
Will practice in all the courts, and prompt attention given collections. Office—Over D Rouse's store.

D. E. Castleman,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.
Will practice in the Courts of Boone Kenton, Grant and Gallatin. Collections pushed energetically.

J. C. CLORE, W. W. DICKERSON
E. T. CLAYTON.
Clore, Dickerson & Clayton,
ATTORNEYS-at-LAW
Will practice in the State and U. S. Courts of Northern Ky., and Southwestern Ohio. Cincinnati Office: N. E. Cor 6th & Vine; Phone, Main 2029.
Mr. Dickerson will spend a portion of his time at the Williamstown office.

BOONE CO. DEPOSIT BANK
(Incorporated 1886.)
CAPITAL,..... ....$30,000
Surplus and undivided profits $7,000
—)o(—
Our facilities enable us to receive on favorable terms accounts of individuals and corporations. Collections promptly remitted for at Lowest Rates.

ERLANGER DEPOSIT BANK.
INCORPORATED 1893.)
ERLANGER, - - KENTUCKY
Capital Stock paid in..... ....$50,000
Surplus,.. ..... $8,000
Careful attention given collections, and remittances promptly made. Deposit accounts solicited.

Dr. J. L. Adams,
DENTIST,
208 F. & T. Bank Building.
COVINGTON, - KY.
—will be in office—
AT ERLANGER EVERY THURSDAY.

W. E. VEST,
Real Estate Agent.
Farms Bought, Sold or Exchanged, Money to Loan on Real Estate, Notes bought, sold & Negotiated. All communications addressed to W. E. VEST, Walton, Ky.

CHAS. GARNETT,
AUCTIONEER.
Will be in Burlington every court day. Fees for selling stock reasonable. Public Sales given special attention.

INSURE AT HOME
The Farmers' Mutual Fire
INSURANCE COMPANY,
OF BOONE COUNTY,
Is now completely organized and receiving applications for insurance.
Its RATES are LOWER
Than those of any other Company and gives the farmers of Boone Co.
HITHERTO UNKNOWN ADVANTAGE
in keeping their property insured.
Average cost of insurance on $1,000 for a period of five years is $9 45, less than one per cent per $1,000.
Every Farmer in the County should take a policy at once.
Edgar Cropper, Pres., Burlington, Ky.
Noah Tanner, V Pres., Gunpowder, Ky.
F. A. Utz, Treas., Florence, Ky.
Malchus Souther, Secy., R. F. D.—1, Ludlow, Ky.
R B. Huey, Agent, Burlington, Ky.
J E. Smith, Assessor, Burlington, Ky.
Executive Board—Legrand Gaines, J. W. Conner, Solon Early.

F. W. Kassebaum & Son,
GRANITE & MARBLE
MONUMENTS,
Burial Vaults and Cemetery Work of all Kinds.
Building Stone, Flagging, Settees and Vases.
Office and Warerooms:
70 and 72 [illegible] Street,
AURORA, IND.
IRA POPE Agent, [illegible] erset, Ky

C. L. GRIFFITH,
DEALER IN REAL ESTATE
and egotiable Notes,
WALTON, KY.
If you want to buy or sell Town Property or Farms, write me
Write for printed list.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

FOR COUNTY JUDGE.

P. E. Casou is a candidate for Judge of the County Court of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

J. H. Walton, of Constance, is a candidate for County Judge of Boone county, subject to the Primary Election, November 3d, 1908.

Sidney Gaines is a candidate for Judge of the County Court of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November, 3, 1908

FOR COUNTY ATTORNEY.

N. E. Riddell is a candidate for County Attorney of Boone County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

FOR CLERK OF COUNTY COURT

Charles (Caddie) Maurer, of Belleview, is a candidated for Clerk of the Boone County Court, subject to the Democratic Primary election, November 3, 1908.

Owen S. Watts, of Walton, is a candidate for Clerk of the Boone County Court, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

B. B. Allphin, of Walton, is a candidate for Clerk of the Boone County Court, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary Election November 3, 1908.

J. H. Rogers, of Walton, is a candidate for Clerk of the Boone County Court, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

D. B. Dobbins, of Richwood, is a candidate for Clerk of the Boone County Court, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

J. C Hankins, of Hebron, is a candidate for County Court Clerk of Boone county, subject to the Primary Election, November 31, 1908.

FOR CIRCUIT CLERK.

J. A. Duncan, of Burlington, is a candidate for Circuit Court Clerk of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, Nov. 3d, 1908.

FOR SHERIFF.

W. D. Cropper, of Burlington, is a candidate for Sheriff of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

B. B. Hume, of Burlington, is a candidate for Sheriff of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, Novmeber 3, 1908.

FOR ASSESSOR.

R. H. Stephens, of Rabbit Hash, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1907.

John W. Williams, of Union, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

Lewis Clore, of Rabbit Hash, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election November 3, 1908.

E. C. Franks, of Big Bone, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

C. P. Robinson, of Big Bone, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election November 3, 1908.

T. G. Willis, of Bullittsville, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3d, 1908.

John Kelsay, of Hebron, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

Geo. W, Ward, of Rabbit Hash, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

FOR SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT.

Aimer M. Yesley, of Florence, is a candidate for Superintendent of Schools of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

Elbert S. Ryle, of Burlington, is a candidate for Superintendent of Schools of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

Edgar C. Riley, of Burlington, is a candidate for Superintendent of Schools of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, Nov. 3d, 1908.

FOR JAILOR.

Samuel Adams is a candidate for Jailer of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

FOR SURVEYOR.

W. E Vest is a candidate for Surveyor of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

FOR REHRESENTATIVE.

J. W. Berkshire, of Petersburg, is a candidate for Representative of Boone county in the next Legislature, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3d, 1908.

FOR JUSTICE OF THE PEACE.

R. H. Tanner, of Florence, is a candidate for Justice of the Peace in the Magisterial District composed of the Constance and Florence voting precincts, subject to the Democratic Primary election November 3, 1908

E. O. Rouse, of Florence is a candidate for Justice of the Peace in the Magisterial District composed of the votiug precincts of Constance and Florence, subject to the Democratic Primary election November 3, 1908.

J. H. Watson, of Walton, is a candidate for Justice of the Peace in the Magisterial District composed the Walton and Verona voting precincts, subject to the Democratic Primary Election November 3, 1908.

Ezekiel Aylor, of Hebron, is a candidate for Justice of the Peace in the Magisterial District composed of the voting precincts of Burlington and Bullittsville, subject to the Democratic primary election, November 3, 1908.

It looks like Mr. Bryan will start a great many of the mills this fall.

Republican View of Bryan.

Walter Wellman, the Veteran Republican correspondent of the Chicago Record Herald, an independent Republican paper, says in part of W. J. Bryan:

"This man who is now hard at work reshaping, remaking, recreating the Democratic party, under his own leadership is the marvel of the age. In his personality he is one of the most remarkable men of our day. He is now a strong, a ripe, a full man. He is indeed the new Bryan. He has grown in poise and wisdom and judgment and insight and grasp till he has become almost ideal as a leader, as a doer of the sort of work that now lies in his hand. We who judge him simply as a performer from the artistic side, from the view point of competence and cleverness and adaptability—simply as a player of a great game which interests us because it is great and well played—cannot withhold from him the meed of our praise and admiration. We remember the Bryan of old, eloquent but inexperienced, passionate but poor of judgment, a born preacher and crusader, a little fanatical, somewhat narrow, inclined to harbor personal resentments, bigoted as many strong and earnest men are to the point where they do not much like those who disagree with them, inclined to think that whatever they stand for must be right and that it is their duty to convince all mankind to their way of thinking. The new Bryan is better balanced, more tolerant, nor less sincere, but more adaptable, still the preacher by instinct, but the harmonizer and builder by trade. He has grown and he has learned. A fine type of the race of men we Americans are proud of is he, as he walks along the railway platform or up on the broad veranda of his home with his marvelous memory for faces and names, his winning smile, his cherry "Hello, Jim," or "How are you, John?" Back of the smile and the nice manner and the winsomeness is every inch the man—masterful, intellectual, tenacious, dominant. You like the smile and the handshake. But you never forget the forcefulness behind them."

He Withdraws.

DEAR RECORDER:—Kindly say to the people of Boone that I have withdrawn from the Sheriff's race. I thank my friends for their loyal support and encouragement while in the race. Those that were opposed to me I have not the least unkind feeling towards them. Remember that I am a candidate for reelection as secretary of the Boone County Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Company. As ever your friend,
MALCHUS SOUTHER.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Pt. Pleasant Grange No. 421, P. of H.

FLORENCE, KY., Sept. 7, 1908

Whereas, Since it has pleased the Supreme Architect of the Universe in His infinite wisdom and mercy, to translate our brother, T. L. Utz, from the trials and tribulations of this transitory existence to a state of endless duration, therefore, be it

Resolved, That in his death the brothers and sisters of Point Pleasant Grange have sustained an irreparable loss and the community at large an honorable and upright citizen, and the family a most kind and indulgent husband and father, therefore, be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to his bereaved family, a copy sent to the Boone County RECORDER for publication, and a page be set apart to his memory in the Secretary's book.

Committee:—Ezra K. Tanner, Charles H. Tanner, Stella M. Carpenter.

It is so dry that the feathers on the young chickens will not grow.

The Ohio river is lower at this time than it has been for several years.

Stephen Robbins, one of the prosperous farmers in Pleasant Valley neighborhood, was a visitor to the hub yesterday.

A. B. Rensaker and wife spent last Saturday and Sunday with his relatives in Grant county. He reports vegetatation as completely cooked.

Rev. Stith, the pastor, assisted by Rev. Andrews, of Covington, is conducting a protracted meeting at the Burlington Baptist church. It has been in progress since last Sunday night.

A railroad fire below Erlanger, last Saturday, burnt over considerable territory and destroyed a fine young orchard belonging to R. K Dulaney. A large force of people turned out to fight the fire.

Golden Blend Coffee
20c lb
BEST ON EARTH

GEO. C. GOODE,
—AGENT—
Groceries and Medicines,
N. E. Cor. Pike & Washington,
Covington, - - - Kentucky.

Money-Worth Coffee
Lb 17c
3 Lbs. 50c.
Best for the Price in Town.

NEW STORE
The B. GROSS CLOTHING Co.
S. E. Cor. 7th & Madison Ave.,
Covington, - Kentucky,
Is open with a Complete Line of
—UP-TO-DATE—
Clothing, Hats and Gents' Furnishings.
Prices Lowest and Satisfaction Guaranteed or Money Refunded.
JOHN T. SHEEHAN, Manager.

For Sale Privately.
My entire Stock of Goods consisting of
GENERAL MERCHANDISE,
Also House and Lot in Belleview, Boone County, Ky.
Have a good established trade. Any one desiring this location will call on or write me at once.
E. E. KELLY, Grant P. O., Ky.

Boone Co. Deposit Bank,
BURLINGTON, KY.
The Oldest Bank in Boone County,
PAYS 3 PER CENT. INTEREST ON TIME DEPOSITS,
With $100,000 protection to its Depositors as follows:

Capital Stock	$30,000
Surplus and Undivided Profits	40,000
Liability of Stockholders	30,000
Total Security for Depositors	$100,000

COURTESY EXTENDED TO ALL.

W. H. CLARK
—SELLS THE—
W. L. Douglas Shoes
FOR MEN.
Coarse and Fine, Plain and Cap Toe, Lace and Blucher
—AT—
$1.50, $2.00, $2.50, $3.00 and $3.50

MANY OTHER GOOD BRANDS OF
Men's and Boys' Shoes
9, 12, 14 and 16 Inch Lace.
Ladies! We sell the famous Krippendorf-Dittman, Drew-Selby and many other good brands of Shoes.
Every Pair is Guaranteed to be worth Price Paid.
W. H. CLARK,
Two Doors above National Bank.
Rising Sun, - - Indiana.

Bear In Mind
A Square Deal to Every Man
Is Our Motto.
We give you Honest Clothing at "Honest Prices." We give you the Style, Quality, Fit and Workmanship and we guarantee
.....OUR PRICES THE LOWEST.....
We still have a fine line of
Men's & Boys' Spring and Summer SUITS
and it will be to your interest to examine them before buying elsewhere.
Men's Nice Suits.....$5.00, $6.00, $7.50
Men's Fine Suits.....$10.00, $12.50, $15.00, $18.00
Boys' Suits.....$4.00, $5.00, $7.50, $10.00, $12.00
Children's Suits.....$1.50 to $5.00
Fine Line of Men's Pants.....$1.00 to $5.00
Big Line of Cottonade and Camlet Pants just the thing for hot weather. We have some nice Suits in Odds and Ends which we will sell at much reduced prices.
Rolfes & Wachs,
RELIABLE CLOTHIERS,
No. 1 PIKE STREET,
Cor. Madison Ave., Covington, Ky.

They Broke Camp.

After an outing of several days down on Gupowder creek, the crowd of Erlanger young men broke camp, last Friday, and returned home. The camp was equipped in a very complete manner, and the young men had a great time from start to finish. Earl Shearer, a newspaper and magazine cartoonist, was a member of the party, and a cartoon, illustrative of camp life, he sent a lady friend in Burlington, would lead a stranger to believe that the party was provided with something other than creek water with which to slack thirst, but the known temperance proclivities of the young men banish that thought from the minds of everyone acquainted with them.

Quite a number of persons want the position of carrier on rural mail route No. 3 to be put in operation from Burlington on the first day of next December, and the probability is a large class of applicants will submit to the examination for the position. Go in boys, Uncle Sam is good pay.

Cropper and Hume have put in a couple of days this week shaking the bushes up in Clearmont county, O., not for votes but for an alleged horse thief.

For several days last past the dust and smoke have almost obscured the sun, giving it a very brassy look. This is typical Indian summer.

Don't forget the double header to be pulled off at the Burlington ball park next Saturday afternoon.

Some of the leaves on the trees appear to be just about cooked. Many of them have fallen.

The little girl of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Nichols has been quite ill for several days.

After A Horse Thief.

Deputy Sheriff B. B. Hume received a telephone message from police headquarters in Cincinnati, last Saturday, to come to the city on Sunday; that it was believed that the parties who stole the horse from Joseph Graham's pasture, near Francesville, a few nights before could be captured. At the time the horse was stolen a saddle was taken from Bruce Henry, a neighbor of Mr. Graham. The officer and Mr. Henry responded to the telephone message. Mr. Henry identified the saddle at once. It was known that a man named Markley sold the saddle and that a man named Robinson was connected with the transaction. Markley was captured Sunday night, but Robinson had left the city. Both of these men are well known in the north part of the county, Robinson having lived there many years. Monday morning Mr. Henry and Mrs. Nellie Markland, the latter of Cincinnati, and to whom the stolen horse really belonged, came to Burlington and swore out warrants before County Judge Cason, charging Clifford Markley and Charles Robinson with horsestealing. Deputy Sheriff W. D. Cropper took the warrants and hastened to Cincinnati with them. It having been learned that Robinson had gone to Clearmont county, the deputy sheriffs hastened to that county, hoping to capture Robinson, but up to this morning nothing has been heard as to what they have done.

Thanks to C. H. Acra, Belleview correspondent for a nice watermelon.

The town cow that will pay for her keep the coming winter will be a good one.

Elmo Gaines has been sworn in as deputy sheriff and has charge of the office at the court house.

You Can Always Find the
Best and Largest Stock of
Buggie, Carriage, Draft and Farm Harness
AT REASONABLE PRICES
Riding Saddles in all sizes and Styles; Horse Clothing, Flynets and Horse Boots. Also a full line of Trunks, Traveling Bags and Suit Caser at
Chas. Mahlmann, Jr.
Phone, S. 957-X 32 Pike Street, COVINGTON, KY.

The New Iowa
New in Kentucky,
But a Leader in the West
NOTE WHAT WE CLAIM FOR IT.

The Only Separator
made to day, that will skim to a trace, warm or cold milk.
Easiest Cleaned,
Lightest Running,
Mechanically Right
Farmers and Dairymen wanting to buy Separators should see the Iowa before making a purchase. It is absolutely the best, no other just as good costs no more. Why not have it? Over two car loads sold in Kentucky in two months. Write us for literature, good reading matter and very learning. We have all kinds of Tools, Farming Implements, Contractors Supplies, &c. The best line of Plows, Grain Drills, Feed Cutters and Mills. We have some new and slightly used Sharpless Separators we will sell at bargains.
We will Save You Money. Give us a Call.
The Fischer Bros. Company,
(Incorporated)
1046 Madison Ave. COVINGTON, KY.
729-731 Monmouth St. NEWPORT, KY.
Everything Marked in Plain Figures. One Price to All.

Take Your County paper.

Local News.

Next—Thanksgiving day.

Zimmer has hauled a large lot of fruit through Burlington in the last few weeks.

The Boone County Medical Society will hold its regular meeting to-day in Florence.

Some have taken advantage of the long dry spell to have their wells cleaned out.

There is no telling how high the price of corn will be before another crop is raised.

William Calamese, of Bullittsville, was transacting business in Burlington, last Friday.

James A. Riddell's stallion, D. F. C. won the 2:24 trot in 2:29 at Latonia on Labor Day.

This has been the best year to push the work on the Home City lock and dam since the work began.

Rev. M. C. Frazelr will preach at Sand Run church next Sunday, the 20th inst., at 11 o'clock a. m.

Prof. W. P. Dickey has entered upon his duties as professor of latin in Richmond, Virginia, College.

J. M. Barlow, of Pleasant Valley neighborhood, passed through Burlington, last Friday, with a considerable drove of stock sheep.

NOTICE—Notice is hereby given that travel through my farm via the gateway is positively forbidden.
JOHN J. DUNCAN.

Ezekiel Aylor, of Francesville neighborhood, enters the race for Justice of the Peace in Burlington and Bullittsville voting precincts.

Last Saturday it looked like everybody down on the East Bend road and on all its tributaries, past thru Burlington enroute to the Harvest Home.

Already have those who spend the winter in Florida begun thinking and talking about the pleasures soon to be encountered in the land of flowers.

The candidates were about the busiest people in the county last week. The scarcity of water and the abundance of dust had no effect on their business.

The purchase of the Evans land adjoining Burlington by R. B. Carver has put the old Latimer tract nearly in tract again, D. E. Castleman's home place being out yet.

John W. Rouse, of Gunpowder, made the RECORDER a pleasant call one day last week as he was returning from the Bellevlew melon fields with a load of lusclous melons.

The melon season is closing out. The melons were not large but were of a superior flavor, owing to the dry weather, probably, that has prevailed since they set on the vines.

William Kirkpatrick, the Hopeful dealer in livestock, came from towards Bellevlew, one day last week, with a large drove of pretty nice cattle which he had collected that day.

The RECORDER office was given a general shake-up last week in which a carpenter played a conspicuous part, and to say the room presented the appearance of a first-class wreck is describing it mildly.

John Wilson, son of Robert Wilson, who lives on F. H. Rouse's farm near Burlington, left San Francisco, California, a few days ago, for the Philippine Islands. He enlisted in the navy a few months ago.

Bert Sullivan and Albert Conner are hauling a large quantity of rock to have broken and spread on the public road known as the Union road. This has been a splendid fall for hauling stone out of the creeks.

An effort is being made to raise by subscription sufficient money with which to build a large cistern in the court house yard. The cistern is needed badly and ought to be built by the town, as its citizens are responsible for the cistern in front of the court house being dry.

There appears to be a rivalry between the Owen county papers as to which can put up the longest list of compliments for some of the candidates; but then there is some who do not share in the nice things one paper says while the other goes its length in the way of compliments for them.

Go away from home to hear the news, is an old saying which the RECORDER had verified last Saturday. In its last issue it gave the get of the jack, Jerry H. K. Glass, the credit of taking the premiums at the mule show in Burlington on the first Monday in this month, when, in fact the premium mule colts were the get of Lanky Bob, the jack the Burlington Jack Co. sold to the Bullittsville Jack Co. The RECORDER was not aware of the injustice it had done the Bullittsville Jack Co. until some of its members complained to it about it a few days since.

A week or so before the Florence fair John Baldon reported the loss of a $20 bill. As to how or when it disappeared he could not divine, but about 10 days ago it was discovered, he having paid it to Annie Thomas, colored, who did the washing of his clothing. When he paid the woman he gave her the bill for a $2 bill and she did not know the difference until a few days since when she wanted to use it in paying off a small bill at the postoffice, and her attention was called to its denomination. She at once remarked, "why, that bill belongs to Mr. John Baldon. He gave it to me for his washing, and I put it in that rag and tied it up and never saw it since until now." She at once took steps to return the money to Mr. Baldon, who is in Denver, Colorado.

Water Thieves at Work.

Several persons about town complain of water being stolen from their cisterns. On Sunday night before last county court day, all the water was pumped out of the public cistern at the court house. The water thief is a new brand in this part of the county.

Is Doing Well.

The Union Creamery has been doing exceedingly well this summer considering the dry weather and poor conditions of the pastures. The farmers in that part of the county realize that they have a good thing from both a financial point and for the improvement of their lands.

Considerable Fever in the County.

Some predict that there will be a great deal of sickness this fall, the result of the long dry spell and impure water. There is now considerable fever in the county, some cases of which are quite serious. The weather has been so hot that vegetables in the gardens have not matured as nicely as they should which may have something to do with health conditions.

Another Good Woman Gone.

Margarett A. Ryle (nee Presser) died at the family home in Cass County, Mo., Aug. 26th, 1908. She had been in poor health a long time, was 77 years, 5 months and 6 days old. She was born and raised in this county, and married P. S. Ryle, Sr., October 2, 1849. She leaves five children, six grandchildren and four great-grand-children. She was a sister of Hogan Presser, of Rabbit Hash, and was a true Christian.

Garden Truck very Scarce.

Just at the present there is a great scarcity of garden truck in this community, the dry weather having practically ruined the vegetables of all kinds. The prospects for late roasting ears is not encouraging by any means and where we are going to get something to eat is beginning to be quite a problem with a great many. It will be too bad to have to begin on macaroni, hominy, grits, etc., this time of the year, but if conditions do not improve in a very few days that is just what will have to be resorted to.

The Outlook Not Good.

Taking Boone county in its entirety its oldest citizen never saw crop conditions so deplorable, but for all that the people are in good spirits, and anticipate a change of weather conditions for the better from day to day. The water supply is short in every neighborhood, and many people are hauling water for use at their houses, while cattle are being driven a considerable distance for water. Should a fire break out in a town in Boone county it would have to run its course as there is no water with which to extinguish it. Water was never scarcer than at present in this county, but it is said that there are localities in neighboring counties, where the water famine is very much worse that it is anywhere in Boone.

If You can't Push Don't Knock.

Give Edgar Riley and his school all the encouragement in your power. The knocker is heard further in this world than the booster, but it is hoped the former, if any there be in regard to the school, will hold his peace until the school is given a fair trial. Wait until there is something to knock for. The school began last Monday morning under very favorable conditions, the three instructors, Profs. Riley, Florence and Huey being on had promptly and ready to take up their work. About 50 pupils were enrolled Monday and the day was spent in examinations for the purpose of enabling the proper grading of the pupils. It will require this week to get the school in running order. One thing that was very pleasing to the teachers, Monday, was the great interest the several patrons present manifested in the school.

To All Members of the Burley Tobacco Society :

Your attention is hereby urgently called to the fact that the By-Laws of The Burley Tobacco Society provide that on the first Saturday in September of each year all members of the Society shall meet at 2 p. m., at their respective voting places and shall elect one of their number a delegate to represent his precinct at an election to be held at the County Seat on the first Saturday in October of each year for the purpose of electing a director of this Society.

The precinct delegate not only casts the vote of his constituents in the election of a member of the District Board from his county, but he is also a member of the County Board of Control in his county.

In order that the election shall express the will of the members of the Society, let every member be at the regular precinct voting place at 2. p. m. on the last Saturday in September.

"Look ye out among you men of honest report, full of wisdom, whom ye may appoint over this business," men of integrity, business ability and public spirit.

Do not neglect this important duty and then complain of results. The future of The Burley Tobacco Society depends upon the character and ability of the men elected on the County Board of Control and on the District Board at the ensuing elections.

Remember the day, the hour, the place, and the importance of your doing your duty in this election.

All samples of 1907 to acco should be sent to the central office at Winchester as early as possible. While the days are long and bright the grading can be done much more satisfactorily than when the weather is cold and the skies dark. It is greatly to the interest of the farmers as well as to the interest of the Society that samples be sent as soon as they can be properly prepared. Done by order of the Executive Committee.
CLARENCE LEBUS, Chairman.

For Sale—8 good ewe lambs. Apply to J. J. Duncan, near Burlington.

Peoples Deposit Bank,
BURLINGTON, KY.
YOUR MONEY DEPOSITED WITH THIS BANK IS AS SAFE AS WITH ANY BANK IN BOONE COUNTY.
3 PER CENT. INTEREST PAID ON SIX MONTHS TIME DEPOSITS.
We Make no Charge for Cashing Checks on other Banks
And afford you all other accommodations within range of Sound Banking in order to make dealings with us pleasant.
SAFE DEPOSIT BOXES FOR RENT. CALL AND SEE US.

STATEMENT OF THE
Equitable Bank & Trust Co.
WALTON, KY.
Organized for Business Sept. 9th, 1907.
DEPOSITS:
Opening Day Sept. 9th, 1907.....$5,383.71
Dec. 31st, 1907, when statement was made to Secretary of State.....37,157.67
June 30th, 1908, when statement was made to Secretary of State.....56,269.38
July 1st, 1908, one day later.....$61,959 90
LOANS AND DISCOUNTS:
July 1st, 1908.....$ 76,689.85
Available Cash July 1st, 1908.....30,716.80
Resources July 1st, 1908.....$115,220.35
Careful, prudent business principles governs the bank. Your business solicited. Interest paid on time deposits. Mail communications given especial attention.
CHAS. L. GRIFFITH, President. D. B. WALLACE, Cashier.

LEW THORN, Pharmacist. A. G. G. RICHARDSON, Veterinary Surgeon.
THORN & RICHARDSON, DRUGGISTS.
We sell Kreso Dip for Lice and Mites on horses, cattle, sheep, hogs and chickens. Headquarters for House Paints, Floor Paints, Roofing Paints, Wagon and Carriage Paints, Carter's Lead and Pure Linseed Oil.
Medicines, Stationery and Sundries in large supply. All new and fresh. Prices are right.
Main Street, - - RISING SUN, INDIANA.

YOU NEED A BUGGY
AND I HAVE IT FOR YOU.
CAN SAVE YOU MONEY.
New Buggies, Runabouts
and Harness for Sale or Trade.
Workmanship the Best, and Material Guaranteed.
When in Burlington call and See me.
B. B. HUME, - Burlington, Ky.

Special Shoe Sale.
Our Fall and Winter Stock of Shoes will soon begin to arrive. We must make room for them and therefore will make very
LOW PRICE FOR STOCK ON HAND.

Men's Heavy Shoes at	$2.00	former price	$3.00
Men's Light Shoes at	2.50	former price	3.50
Ladies' Shoes at	1.00	former price	2.00
Children's Shoes at	75c	former price	1.50

We have not room for more prices, but call on us and we will give you some genuine
SHOE BARGAINS.
W. M. Rachal & Co
Union, Kentucky.

PERFECT BIFOCALS AT LAST.

Bifocal lenses have been undergoing constant and rapid improvement for the last 10 years, until now we have the perfect bifocal.
It is ground in one piece and perfectly smooth; no cement used and no lines visible. Call and see them. They are the finest made.
N. F. Penn, M. D. with Motch, Jeweler,
613 Madison Avenue, - - - COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.
Phone, South 912-Y.

SCOTT CHAMBERS,
WALTON, KY.
Embalmer & Funeral Director,
LIVERY, BOARDING & SALE STABLE.
First Class Rigs for Hire at All Times.
Dealer in High Class Harness and Saddle Horses.
Raymond City Coal for sale at all times.

Hay, Grain, Mill Feed,
ALWAYS KEPT ON HAND.
Highest Market Price paid for Grain.
Fancy and Staple GROCERIES.
I also have a nice and complete line of Fancy and Staple Groceries and canned goods.
WIRE AND FENCING, AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS, Buggies, Carriages, all kinds Fertilizer.
Owen S. Watts,
(Successor to R. B. HUEY & CO.)
WALTON, - - KENTUCKY.

H. G. BLANTON,
Funeral Director & Embalmer

LIVERY, BOARDING and FEED STABLE.
First-class Carriages for hire with careful Drivers for Families, Parties, Weddings, Etc.
I Have a Nice White Funeral Car.
Lexington Pike, - - - ERLANGER, KY
Leave Orders with J. C. REVILL, Burlington, Ky.

Geo. W. Hill & Co.,
Grocers, Commission & SEED Merchants.
Tested Field and Garden Seeds.
Finest Brands and Grades of FERTILIZERS, LIME CEMENT AND SALT.
Largest and Best Stock of
GROCERIES IN THE CITY.
Sole Agents for the Celebrated
RARUS and GEM Brands of FLOUR.
When in the City it will pay you to come and see us.
27 & 29 Pike Street, (Phone South 55) 26 & 28 W. Seventh Street
COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

A Note of Warning.

To the Editor of the Recorder :

What is the matter with the Boone County Democratic Executive Committee? With one of the most important presidential elections confronting us there seems to be general apathy all along the Democratic line in Kentucky. Why is this? Are we going to chance success on our generally bright prospect for nominees without any kind of action; or, do the leaders of the party think there is no danger and plenty of time? It seems so. But to my mind we have no time to lose; we have to fight, not only the Republican party, but in addition, we have the independent party, lead by Hearst, a man who edits and publishes a number of papers in different parts of the country, and they have a wide circulation; and the Temperance party and the Socialist and Populist parties and while these four minor parties are weak, yet, in the aggregate, they will poll a large vote, and it will be drawn largely from the Democratic ticket. Kentucky is in the column of doubtful States, and in all probability she will be more seriously affected by the votes of the minor parties than any other State, and only by prompt action and thorough organization can we hope to redeem the State and have her electoral vote cast for the Democratic ticket. Now, why not the county committee get active and organize Democratic clubs and thoroughly organize the Democratic party in the county and get out the full vote? Such action might be contagious and inspire other counties to take similar action. Nothing but eternal vigilance will bring success and secure the old time Democratic majority in Kentucky.
A. W. KENNEDY.

I will be in Burlington on the Tuesday after the first Monday in October to receive the entry fee of each candidate who will enter the Democratic primary election to be held November 3, 1908. Those desiring to pay the entry fee before that time can hand it to J. A. Duncan in Burlington. W. W. GRIMSLEY, Chairman Boone Co. Dem. Ex. Com.

A Fine Horse.

The 3-year-old sorrel colt, Judge Waldren, owned by S. S. Hicks, of Union, has proven to be one of the greatest show horses in the State, having been shown 14 times, winning 14 ties. He has defeated seven of the noted horses such as Kate Hamilton and the Chancelor gelding, which were never beaten before. This colt won the sweepstakes harness tie at Florence, also the sweepstake harness tie at Paris. Mr. Hicks has refused $1,000 for him. The colt will be shown at the State Fair this week.

Xen Scott's Black Badger colt show, at the Harvest Home, last Saturday, consisted of eight very fine young animals that would have been a credit to any sire.

A Sure-enough Knocker.

J. C. Goodwin, of Reidsville, N. C., says: "Bucklen's Arnica Salve is a sure-enough knocker for ulcers. A bad one came on my leg last summer, but that wonderful salve knocked it out in a few rounds. Not even a scar remained." Guaranteed for piles, sores, burns, etc. 25c at Bentler's Drug Store, Erlanger.

The chicken thieves have not been so active for the last few weeks. It is possible that shot guns had much to do with the suspension of business for the present.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

By virtue of Execution No 8597 directed to me, which issued from the Clerk's Office of the Boone Circuit Court, in favor of the National Bank of Rising Sun, Ind., against J. M. Baker and W. L. H. Baker, I or one of my deputies will, on Monday, the 5th day of October, 1908, between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 2 o'clock p. m., at the Court House door in Burlington, Boone county, Kentucky, expose to public sale, to the highest bidder, the following property, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy Plaintiff's debt, interest and cost to wit. The undivided one 1-5 interest jointly owned by the said J. M. Baker and W. L. H. Baker in and to the following described tracts and parcels of land each and all of them lying and being in Boone county, Ky. the first of which is described as follows:—Bounded on the North by the lands of M. E. Hance and Big Bone creek; on the East by the lands of the Murphy heirs and M. E. Hance; on the West and South by the lands of M. E. Hance, containing one hundred (116) and sixteen acres.

The second tract is bounded thus:—On the North by the lands of George Holsclaw; on the East by the lands of James Huffman; on the West by the lands of James Taylor and Big Bone creek, and on the South by the lands of James Turner, containing thirty (30) acres.

The third tract is bounded as follows:—Situated in the village of Big Bone, Boone County, Ky., on the north side of the Beaver and Big Bone Turnpike, the said turnpike being the South boundary thereof, and bounded on the East, West, and North by the lands of J. D. Moore and the McLaughlin heirs, containing one acre or about that. Each of said Defendants (J. M Baker and W. L. H. Baker) own an undivided 1-10 part of and above described lands, they owning jointly the undivided one fifth of the whole, levied upon as the property of J. M. and W. L. H Baker.

Term—Sale will be made on a credit of three months, bonds with approved security required, bearing interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum, from day of sale and having the force and effect of a judgment. Amount to be made by sale, $1 041 00
M. F. WINGATE,
Sheriff of Boone County, Ky.
By W. D. Cropper, D. S.

The Brazilian Milreis Case

By CAPTAIN PATRICK D. TYRELL

How Probably the Most Wonderful Counterfeit Plot of History Was Hatched, Flourished and Was Eventually Uncovered by Sleuths.

THE OFFICERS SEARCHED THE HOUSE AND FOUND THE 900 SHEETS

PRIOR to the year 1884 there was no law of the United States that prohibited anyone from counterfeiting in this country the money of a foreign nation. Out of the lack of legislation on this point had grown many cases of much importance to other governments, for your counterfeiter is a man usually well versed in the laws bearing on his trade and he had not been slow in perceiving the possibilities of large and quick gains in using the United States as a place for manufacturing bogus currency and coin to be circulated in other countries.

One of the most notable of these cases was that of the manufacture in this country of a large amount of the currency of China—a job that was cunningly conceived and cleverly carried to the point where the counterfeit currency was manufactured and ready for shipment to the Orient for circulation. Another plot of great international importance was that conceived by McDonald, Scott and Sheridan, who made and threw into circulation a counterfeit Bank of England note to the amount of about $5,000,000. The criminals in this case were Americans and their daring was shown by the character of the task they set for themselves.

In the late '60s the movement for a Democratic government in the empire of Brazil had taken on great strength. Stories of the marvelous resources of the country and of the unlimited possibilities for achieving power and money were reaching the United States. A political upheaval in a country of great natural wealth is always a tempting bait to soldiers of fortune the world over, and the accounts of Brazilian conditions that reached southern Texas about this time were not to be resisted by the more adventurous. A party was made up for Brazil, and in this party were two brothers, Lucius A. and Joseph A. White. Lucius was a mere lad in his teens, while Joseph was nearly 20 years his senior and more a father to the boy than a brother. Joseph was married. The Whites were the sons of Judge White, who settled in southern Texas in 1839 and who was a noted lawyer and jurist of that section. Judge White was a man who was held in the highest esteem on account of his strict integrity and learning, and his sons grew up respected in their native state. Lucius had studied civil engineering and was an engineer of no meager ability. Joseph was a farmer. But in both the brothers there was a strong spirit of adventure, and after listening to the stories of gold and diamonds to be found and fortunes to be made easily in rubber, coffee and [illegible] agriculture, told by returned Texans, the brothers decided to join the party bound for the South American empire, which finally landed at Rio Janeiro.

While in Rio Janeiro Lucius White met a young woman who was visiting there and whose home was in Florida. He courted and married her, and three children were born to them. In 1884 he decided to return to the states to live, and brought his family to Florida, where he stayed a few months, going from there to Whitney, Tex., where he bought a 90-acre farm for $4,000 and settled down to the life of a Texas farmer.

In the early part of the summer of 1885 the United States district attorney at St. Louis received an anonymous letter stating that a certain engraving house of that city was preparing plates from which were to be engraved a large number of slips which had the appearance of being imitations of the currency of the Empire of Brazil.

The letter in question pointed out that which seemed to be a crime in process of execution, and, anonymous or signed, the letter was not to be ignored. It was turned over to me, and I went to work on the case.

I found the manager and was informed by him that he believed his firm did have a contract to engrave plates for and print some Brazilian matter; but he claimed to be ignorant of the identity of the party with whom the contract was made and of the exact character of the commodity contracted for. I was told to return later and consult with the official of the concern who had made the contract and who was conversant with all the details. This I did. This gentleman, after learning who I was, told me that a man named Lucius A. White had contracted with the firm for a plate of a "cigar label" to be used in the Brazilian trade. The work was under way at that time.

With this information the Brazilian consul was called into consultation. The appearance of the plate was described to him and he pronounced it a duplicate of the front of the Brazilian "Duzentos Milreis" note, or a treasury note of the Empire of Brazil representing 200 milreis. As a milreis of Brazilian money was equal in value to approximately 54.6 cents of United States money each one of the "labels" would be worth in Brazil $109.20.

So far as I could learn the order left in St. Louis by the mysterious Mr. White called for the engraving of but one plate. If a currency note were to be produced there would of necessity be two plates, one for the front and another for the reverse side. The spokesman for the engraving firm claimed to take this as evidence that the plate was to be used for the purpose set forth by the man who had made the contract, and in this claim the engraver may have been honest.

I immediately came to the conclusion that the men who were planning to inflate the Brazilian currency had made a contract with one firm for the front plate and impressions printed from it and with another firm, probably in another city, for the plate and impressions of the reverse side.

From the engraving firm I learned that White had reached St. Louis May 28 and had asked for a price on the work he wanted done. He said he was going to New York and would return in a few weeks. He kept his word and closed the negotiations for the front plate. These negotiations were under way two weeks before they were finally closed, and after the contract had been signed White disappeared.

It would have been an easy matter at this time to have confiscated the plate; but it was always the plan of the service to secure the guilty ones as well as to destroy the product. I had a description of White from the engraver with whom he had made the contract, and, depending on its being correct, I believed I could pick out my man when he returned to the city. From this time a strict watch was maintained on the engraving establishment. This surveillance was rewarded a few weeks later by my seeing a man answering the description of Lucius A. White enter the building of the engravers. Satisfied that he was the man wanted, I called to my assistance a deputy United States marshal and from the time he emerged from the building till his arrest he was never out of our sight, unless in the engraver may have been honest.

I immediately came to the conclusion that the men who were planning to inflate the Brazilian currency had made a contract with one firm for the front plate and impressions printed from it and with another firm, probably in another city, for the plate and impressions of the reverse side.

From the engraving firm I learned that White had reached St. Louis May 28 and had asked for a price on the work he wanted done. He said he was going to New York and would return in a few weeks. He kept his word and closed the negotiations for the front plate. These negotiations were under way two weeks before they were finally closed, and after the contract had been signed White disappeared.

It would have been an easy matter at this time to have confiscated the plate; but it was always the plan of the service to secure the guilty ones as well as to destroy the product. I had a description of White from the engraver with whom he had made the contract, and, depending on its being correct, I believed I could pick out my man when he returned to the city. From this time a strict watch was maintained on the engraving establishment. This surveillance was rewarded a few weeks later by my seeing a man answering the description of Lucius A. White enter the building of the engravers. Satisfied that he was the man wanted, I called to my assistance a deputy United States marshal and from the time he emerged from the building till his arrest he was never out of our sight, unless in the engraver may have been honest.

As the work was now about ready for delivery, I believed the time was at hand to take White into custody. In company with a deputy marshal we went to his hotel and followed him into the dining-room at dinner time. After he had taken his seat the deputy and I sat down at the same table. As soon as he had given his order I slid my chair close to his and said, in a voice that would attract no attention at the next table:

"You may consider yourself my prisoner. It will do you no good to make a scene."

Great beads of perspiration stood on the man's face, but he collected himself almost instantly and said:

"I don't want a scene; what do you want me to do?"

"Come with us," I said.

We all arose quietly and walked out of the dining-room without attracting attention. White was taken to the federal building and subjected to an informal examination. When I searched him I found documents bearing on the milreis transaction and placing the firm that did the work in a peculiar light. One of these papers was the formal bid made by the firm, offering to engrave an exact facsimile of the front of the 200 milreis bill on stone for $230 and a facsimile of the back for $210, or facsimiles of front and back on steel for $810. Another incriminating paper was a receipt from the engraving firm for payment of the "cigar labels" and for a 200-milreis Brazilian bill, to be returned to White. According to the papers found on White, he had increased the size of his order from 3,000 to 3,000 sheets of bills, four bills on a sheet. At first White denied any part in a counterfeiting plot, but later broke down and admitted his guilt. He claimed to have a partner named Lane, but refused to give detailed information concerning him further than to say that he lived in Texas.

I shall always question the propriety of the course followed by the federal attorney in making his case against Joseph White, which was as follows: A package was made of 370 of the sheets I had brought in. Attorney Bliss then wrote out a telegram to the agent at Bloom, Tex., requesting him to deliver a certain package to Joseph White, and had Lucius sign it. Deputy United States Marshal Wheeler and Assistant United States Attorney Drummond were then hastened to Texas by the first train for the purpose of "piping" Joseph White as he took the package from the express office, and, later, of arresting him with the counterfeits in his possession. The package and telegram were sent, giving Wheeler and Drummond sufficient time to reach the destination first. It seems that after all this planning to establish the fact that Joseph White received the package, he was allowed in some way to take the package from the express office without being seen by the men who had been sent to watch him commit this very act. Joseph White took them to his home on his farm near Bloom and placed them in a bureau drawer. Knowing the sheets were in his possession, although they had not seen him receive them, the officers went to White's home, placed him under arrest and searched the house.

In the meantime Lucius A. White, having seen his plan fail miserably and himself a prisoner, gave the authorities a complete confession. While in Brazil he and his brother had conceived the idea of manufacturing in the United States a large issue of Brazilian currency and returning to that country to float it. Lucius admitted that he was the originator of the idea.

Lucius A. White, after pleading guilty, was taken to Texas as a witness against his brother. Lucius was 33 years old at this time and his brother was a man of 50. As I have said, the elder brother also had stood in the relation of a father to the younger man, and the scene in the Waco courtroom when Lucius was placed on the stand and told the story that meant a penitentiary sentence for his brother was a most affecting one. "I would rather suffer than have Lucius suffer; he's only a boy to me."

After the evidence was in and Lucius was being led from the courtroom by the deputies, Joseph grasped him by the hand and with tears in his eyes said:

"Good-by, Lucius. God bless you."

Name Spelled in Many Ways.

No fewer than 372 different ways of spelling Ypsilanti have been copied from envelopes and recorded by a postmaster of that town.

PALL FROM FOREST FIRES

CLOUDS CITIES HUNDREDS OF MILES DISTANT.

Lake Traffic Seriously Impeded By Smoke—Enormous Damage Done In North and West.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 14.—A territory, including 300,000 square miles, or seven times the area of the state of Ohio, is overhung with the most remarkable pall of smoke experienced in the history of this part of the country.

Old residents of Chicago have seen nothing like it since the big fire of 1871, which laid waste $200,000,000 worth of property in this city, and they confess that the smoke of those days covered only a limited territory compared with that affected by the destructive forest fires in Minnesota, Michigan and Wisconsin in the last few days.

In Chicago the pall reached its greatest density Sunday after thickening perceptibly for nearly a week. Similar reports come from Milwaukee, Detroit, Cleveland and other cities located from 500 to 800 miles from the center of the ravishing flames.

Lake navigation has been made dangerous, and the same caution is exercised by navigators as in times of heavy fog.

Added to the haze was the sharp odor Sunday of smoke from burning trees and grass. There was no mistaking the smell. With Chicago several hundred miles from the scene of the advancing fires it may be imagined what must be the discomfort of those in the immediate neighborhood.

Wausau, Wis., Sept. 14.—Reports Sunday night state that the village of Norris, in the eastern part of the county, is in danger from forest fires. A crowd of men has been working like Trojans all day to save the village. A large ditch has been thrown up around the village.

All trains were several hours late Sunday because of the inability of engineers to see the track ahead and run safely on account of the dense smoke. A pall of smoke has covered the city nearly all day. It was so dense Sunday morning that street car traffic was interrupted.

Railroad men say that the woods are all afire between this city and Eland junction. Scores of small towns are in danger.

The loss in the county will be the heaviest in years, not excepting the fires in 1892 and 1893, and the total in this county alone is put at $500,000. The total in Northern Wisconsin is estimated at from $2,000,000 to $5,000,000.

WRECKER DITCHES TRAIN.

Twenty-Seven Persons Injured Near Meadville, Pa.

Meadville, Pa., Sept. 14.—Erie Train No. 4, a fast train from Chicago to New York, Albany and Boston, due to arrive here at 3 a. m., was ditched five miles south of this city Sunday morning. Twenty-seven passengers, the engineer and fireman were severely injured. It is thought they will all recover. The cause of the accident was given by the officials of the road as the turning of the switch by wreckers.

The entire train left the rails, and that the death list does not reach at least 50 seems almost a miracle. The train was 15 minutes late. It had left Amasa, the first station below Meadville, as usual. There is no operator between here and that place at night. After the train left Amasa the dispatchers here were at a loss to account for the nonappearance of the train, and it was some time before word was received that it had been ditched. The officials hurried a special train to the scene of the wreck.

The injured were brought to this city and placed in Spencer hospital. The fireman of the train, was the worst hurt, but he will recover. Bloodhounds have been placed on the trail of the wrecker. The property loss was $25,000.

Excursionists Injured in Collision.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 14.—Scores of lives were imperiled and a bad smashup narrowly averted on the Lake Shore railroad early Monday morning, when an excursion train filled with Indianians was in a rear-end collision at 12:55 o'clock near Chesterton, Ind. The train had left Chicago at 11:30 o'clock, and was overtaken by another train. The engineer of the second train failed to see the excursion train until it was too late to avoid the crash. A number of passengers, supposed to be residents of Laporte, were injured, but no lives were lost.

Fear an Uprising.

Galveston, Tex., Sept. 14.—Rush orders reached here Sunday for more troops to the Mexican border. Mexico also will send troops, fearing an uprising on the Mexican independence anniversary this week.

Nabbed the Banker.

New York, Sept. 14.—Detectives Sunday arrested Pasquale Caponiar, an Italian banker, who is alleged to have absconded from this city a year and a half ago with about $100,000 belonging to depositors.

Burglars Rob British Embassy.

Washington, Sept. 14.—The British embassy was robbed by burglars Thursday, according to police reports Sunday. All that is missing is money and some jewelry, the property of Miss Clara Childs, the housekeeper.

THE MILLS OF GOD

Doom of Nineveh Foretold by Nahum the Prophet.

BY THE "HIGHWAY AND BYWAY" PREACHER

(Copyright, 1908, by the Author, W. S. Edson.)

Scripture Authority—Book of Nahum.

Nahum the Prophet. — Name means "consolation" and "vengeance"—the first for God's people, the second on their enemies. Nothing is known of prophet save that which is indicated by the title which declares him the Elkoshite, that is, a native of Elkosh, probably a place in Galilee. Period of prophet in much doubt, but probably was during latter half of reign of Hezekiah. As poet, Nahum occupies a high place in the first rank of Hebrew literature. This is evidenced by the opening verses 1:2-8, and to the magnificent description of the siege and destruction of Nineveh in chapter 2. The subject of the prophecy, as the superscription in verse 1 indicates, is: "the burden of Nineveh." The three chapters into which the book is divided form a consecutive whole. The first chapter is introductory. The last verse of the first chapter and the second chapter set forth the vision of the prophet as to the campaign against Nineveh and its certain downfall, for: "behold! I am against thee, saith Jehovah of hosts." The vision ended, the prophet in the third chapter, recalled from the scenes of the future to the realities of the present, breaks forth in one final outburst of withering denunciation against the Assyrian city.

SERMONETTE.

"The Lord is slow to anger, and great in power, and will not at all acquit the wicked."—There is no escaping the final reckoning with God. The perplexities and inequalities of time will all disappear and be evened up by the God-directing justice of eternity.

The patience of God in dealing with men too often proves a snare to the feet of the evildoer, permitting his wickedness to come to full fruition.

Jonah preached to the city of Nineveh, and she repented and the judgment of God against the city was stayed, but it was only for a season, for the wickedness of the city, as the prophet Nahum vividly points out, was at last to feel the avenging anger of God.

When God balances the accounts of human life, justice is meted out without fear or favor.

God's greatness of power is not only shown by the execution of his judgment upon sin, but by the manifestation of his mercy in saving from sin.

No sin can escape the power of God's judgment except it take refuge behind the power of God's love as manifested in the crucified Christ.

"The Lord is good, a stronghold in the day of trouble; and he knoweth them that trust in him."—This is the second great fact concerning God which comes to reassure the heart of man. Just as the wicked cannot escape God's judgment, so the one who trusteth God hath nothing to fear, for God's eye is upon him and his protecting arm is about him in the day of trouble.

To the man whose heart is not reconciled to God the thought that God's eye searcheth him and knoweth him brings only distress and disquietude of conscience. To the man who trusteth in God the thought that God knoweth him brings a two-fold joy and satisfaction. First, that God will search out the evil which lurks in his heart and help him get rid of it, and second, that God, who seeth not as man seeth, can understand his failures and mistakes, and loves and sympathizes with him in his troubles.

THE STORY.

IT WAS during the dark period following the threatened invasion and destruction of Jerusalem by the mighty Sennacherib, king of Assyria. For weeks and months the encompassing hosts of the Assyrian army had been closing in around the city. That was an army which had known no defeat under the masterful leadership of the great general, Rabshakeh, and his was no idle boast that the gods of none of the nations against which he had gone with his army had been able to deliver them from his power. And it had seemed when he had blasphemously cried out against Jerusalem and Israel's God that he would be able to execute his threats and raze the proud city to the ground and utterly destroy the inhabitants thereof as he had done with the other cities he had conquered.

Then had fallen upon the camp of the Assyrians that pestilence which had left 185,000 dead men lying where the day before they had been strong men able to do battle, and the remnant of the army had withdrawn. Jerusalem was saved for the present.

"But for how long?" was the anxious query, heard on every hand. "Will not the Assyrian hosts return yet again and consume us? How bitter is their hearth against the city which has defied them. Surely, while Nineveh stands and Assyria rules the world, Jerusalem is not safe."

It was during this period that the spirit of the Lord came mightily upon Nahum. He knew the power of the yoke of the Assyrian king. His home had been in Galilee in his early youth, and there the devastating scourge of the conquering army had been felt. He had seen the cruelty, he had heard the blasphemy of Sennacherib's soldiers, and with home destroyed and the members of his family slain, he had fled for his life and found a refuge in Judea. There he had come under the influence of Isaiah the prophet, and was one of the eager listeners to all his messages. When it had seemed as though Sennacherib's army was about to sweep over the city he had heard and believed Isaiah's message that the enemy should not come nigh the walls of the city to do them hurt. And he had gone everywhere through the city repeating the words which he had heard Isaiah preach.

But he knew the Assyrian army too well to think that the relief was anything but temporary, and when he heard the plaint of the people saying that the Assyrian forces would yet return with redoubled vengeance and utterly destroy Jerusalem, he could but admit to his heart that such was more than likely to be the case.

"It is God who giveth power to the nations, and it is God who hath suffered Assyria to become so great, but will he permit that greatness and power to culminate in the destruction of Jerusalem?" Nahum asked himself one day as he pondered over the question. "Was it not Nineveh that God would destroy, and sent Jonah the prophet to proclaim the judgment upon the great city? And had not Nineveh repented and so escaped the wrath of God? And since that day how arrogant and bold she had grown, how cruel in her conquests, and how lustful in her desire for world power and gain." So reasoned Nahum to himself.

"Can it be that God knows or cares?" he exclaimed, half impatiently. Then ashamed of himself for such expression of doubt, he added, quickly: "Nay, the wicked cannot escape the wrath of God."

With the thought came a startling resolution. He would go to Nineveh. He would see the great city. Perhaps God would clear up the mystery of his providences.

Needless for us to follow Nahum on the long, tedious, painful and perilous journey to Nineveh, the seat of the Assyrian power and glory. Suffice it to say that at last, footsore and weary, the prophet drew near to the city. And what a city it was! Jerusalem could not compare with her in size or the splendor and richness of her possessions. Silently and mournfully the prophet witnessed all that spoke of power invincible and riches inexhaustible. It seemed to his human vision that nothing could ever break Assyria's power and bring the great city of Nineveh low.

"And why do I want it brought low?" he asked himself one night. "Hath God any delight in the death of the wicked? And should I feed my soul upon the thought of vengeance? Why was it that God spared Nineveh once? Was it not that he found some goodness here and a turning of the people to the true God of Israel? Is there any here who knows the true God and desires to serve him?"

The new thought gave a new inspiration in his search of the city, but go where he would he could detect only wickedness and pride such as is found in a heart wholly given up to evil.

"What can God do with such a city and people but bring destruction upon them?" he asked himself at last. "And if God hath no delight in the death of the wicked, surely he must bring judgment upon them that goodness may not be utterly crushed in the earth. God is, indeed, slow to anger, but he will not suffer the wicked to triumph forever."

And with this reassuring thought he started on the long journey home.

"Nineveh in her proud boasting shall be brought low," he kept saying over and over to himself. "And those in Jerusalem who are among the faithful and expect to see the goodness of the Lord in the land of the living will not be disappointed."

In this spirit he drew nigh to the gates of Jerusalem one day and was about to enter, when the thought came: "But where is thy message?"

Obedient to the thought, he turned his footsteps in the direction of a favorite trysting place of his where he had in the past spent many hours in communion with his God.

A few days later the city was stirred to its foundations with the message of the prophet Nahum.

"Woe to Nineveh, the city of blood," he cried. "It is all full of lies and robbery; the prey departeth not. Behold I am against thee, saith the Lord of hosts; And I will discover thy skirts upon thy face, and I will show the nations thy nakedness and the kingdoms thy shame. And because God will not delay his anger forever, but bringeth the wicked at last to judgment, O Judah," the prophet cried, appealingly, "keep thy solemn feasts, perform thy vows: for the wicked shall no more pass through thee; he is utterly cut off."

Working Under Difficulties.

Duties of newspaper correspondents in Russia are not light. In Reval, for instance, a journalist had to get permission from five different police authorities before he could work unmolested—the secret police, the ministry of the interior police, the gendarmes, the palace police, the Reval police. Each police official acts independently, so as to make the confusion as complete as possible. One of the first precautionary measures adopted by the Russian police was to photograph the special correspondent and circulate his portrait among the police authorities. He was then encircled by a cordon of secret police of both sexes, who kept up a vigilant espionage. He was then perfectly free to do his worst.

FLAY JUDGE LANDIS

LAWYERS FOR STANDARD OIL FILE THEIR ANSWER.

DECLARE FINE EXCESSIVE

Jurist Is Charged with Yielding to Outside Influences and the Prosecution Is Called "Malicious."

Chicago.—Judge Kenesaw Landis, who fined the Standard Oil Company $29,000,000, is charged with having permitted outside influences to govern his decision by the attorneys for the company in their answer to the application for a rehearing filed in the United States court of appeals.

The answer refers to the judgment of that court as an "unheard-of fine," and says that the court was "governed by evidence and considerations which were not proper to influence a judicious magistrate."

District Attorney Sims, who conducted the prosecution, was referred to as a "zealous prosecutor."

The answer to the government's appeal for rehearing is submitted by Attorneys John S. Miller, Moritz Rosenthal and Alfred D. Eddy, counsel for the oil company, and cites numerous reasons why Judge Grosscup and his associates in the court of appeals should not grant the government's petition.

The principal argument presented is in regard to excessive fines, and it is declared absolutely that District Attorney Sims could find no authority to support Judge Landis in his action of fixing the "unheard-of fine." Regarding this the answer states:

Judge Kenesaw Landis.

"The provision of the bill of rights in the eighth amendment to the federal constitution forbidding the imposition of excessive fines enacts a cherished principle of Magna Charta, which is the foundation of American and Anglo-Saxon laws and jurisprudence, and which required that fines imposed for faults or crimes should be 'after the manner of the fault,' or 'according to the heinousness of it,' and forbade fines so large as to deprive a defendant of that which was necessary to his vocation or livelihood."

The action of the government in bringing the oil company to trial is referred to as "malicious prosecution," and it is reiterated that no evidence and law has been brought to bear on the case by the federal attorneys.

Freed in Subtreasury Case.

Chicago. — George W. Fitzgerald, accused of having stolen the $173,000 which disappeared from the United States subtreasury, was discharged by Judge Chetlain Thursday after it had been shown on the witness stand that the government had instructed the treasury department heads in Chicago and other government employes to not testify in the case nor make public the evidence which the secret service men have been gathering since the time of the robbery.

Woman Suicide at Niagara.

Niagara Falls, N. Y.—A woman, about 25 years old, of refined appearance, Tuesday afternoon walked into the river about 30 feet above Prospect Point and was swept over the falls. She left nothing to identify her. Seventy-five persons saw the suicide.

Four Die in Denver Fire.

Denver, Col.—Four men lost their lives and a score of persons were injured, several of them seriously, in a fire that ruined the Belmont hotel, a three-story building at 1733 Stout street Tuesday morning. Crazed with fear and almost suffocated by smoke, the guests rushed for the windows, several of them jumping to the pavement below before firemen and policemen could reach them with ladders or spread nets below the windows. The fire is supposed to have been of incendiary origin.

EFFECTS OF TYPE ERRORS.

Were Frequent in Days When Setting Was Done by Hand.

Typographical errors that produced weird or comical effects are described by the St. Louis Republic in an article recalling the days when all of the newspaper's type was set by hand, before the introduction of typesetting machines, when the "copy," instead of being typewritten, was turned over to the printer in an infinite variety of good, bad and indifferent chirography.

Comparatively few of the errors were allowed to contribute to the gayety of the subscribers, as the majority were squelched in the "house of correction," as the proof room was facetiously termed. From a collection made by a proof-reader the following instances of ridiculous misreading of copy was taken:

"His blushing bride" was transformed into "his blustering bride."

A captain is said to have "served with destruction in the confederate army," but the writer thought he wrote "distinction."

Two pictures entitled "The Galley Slave" and "Each in Their Turn" were referred to as "The Galley I Love" and "Enoch in Shin Town."

Having in mind the influence of former citizens of the land of the shamrock upon the political destinies of the town, what more natural than that the printerman should set up an "Irish district court" where it had been the "First district court?"

Prof. Frank Gecks was mentioned as having rendered "violent selections" rather than "violin selections."

Somebody was quoted as saying that "all the singing folks on the vaudeville stage have hundreds of wives," but the copy, when carefully examined, was found to read "husbands and wives" and a sensation in the theatrical world was averted.

"They sailed for three days around the cape and finally slaughtered a small Italian," was corrected to read "sighted a small island."

On one occasion the reporter wrote of certain "dwarfed and hungered children," who were made to appear perhaps more pathetic when the compositor substituted the words "doorfed and haggard."

"He takes delight in talking on his family shame" was a shameful thing to say about him, for "favorite theme" was meant.

"Red Cross Society Will Fight Corbett" was the way the typesetter transformed the copy concerning a crusade against cholera.

Birds with Lamps.

"As we rowed softly in the still, cold night," said a nature student, "we saw a number of faint blurs of light along the shore. They were like fairy lamps that had been swathed in some sort of gauze.

asked.

"'Them's kingfishers,' said my

"'What on earth can they be? I guide. 'Them's kingfishers a-fishin'.'

"'But the lights?'

"'The lights is the phosphorescence on the birds' breasts,' said the old hunter. 'In the soft down on a kingfisher's breast there is a phosphorescence that glows in the dark. The bird is aware of this here natural light o' him, and he uses it. He stands on the edge o' the stream, the same as them fellers there, puttin' his breast to the water, an' the faint light draws the fish to him, consumed with curiosity, an' he has no difficulty in pickin' up a square meal for himself an' family.'"

A Pertinent Query.

Effie, the little daughter of a clergyman, pranced into her father's study one evening while the reverend gentleman was preparing a lengthy sermon for the following Sunday.

She looked curiously at the manuscript for a moment and then turned to her father.

"Papa," she began, seriously, "does God tell you what to write?"

"Certainly, dearie," replied the clergyman.

"Then why do you scratch so much of it out?" asked Effie.

MARKET REPORTS.

Cincinnati, Sept. 12.

CATTLE—Extra	$5 85	@	6 00
CALVES—Extra		@	7 75
HOGS—Choice	7 15	@	7 20
SHEEP—Extra	3 65	@	3 75
LAMBS—Spring	5 85	@	6 00
FLOUR—Spring pat..	5 85	@	6 10
WHEAT—No. 2 red..	99	@	1 00
CORN—No. 2 mixed.	82	@	82½
CORN—No. 2 mixed.	82½	@	83
RYE—No. 2 choice ..	78	@	79
HAY—Ch. timothy ..	12 00	@	12 50
BUTTER—Dairy	16	@	17
EGGS—Per doz		@	23
APPLES—Choice	3 00	@	3 50
POTATOES—Per bu.	80	@	85
TOBACCO—Burley ..	12 00	@	22 50

CHICAGO.

WHEAT—No. 2 red..	98	@	99½
CORN—No. 2 mixed.	80	@	80¾
OATS—No. 2 mixed.	51	@	52
PORK—Prime mess..		@	14 60
LARD—Prime		@	8 2½

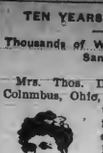
NEW YORK.

FLOUR—Win. patent.	5 35	@	5 75
WHEAT—No. 2 red..		@	1 04
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@	80
OATS—No. 2 mixed.	53	@	54
PORK—Prime mess.	18 00	@	18 50
LARD—Steam	10 05	@	10 15

BALTIMORE.

WHEAT—No. 2 red..		@	97¾
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@	83½
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@	53

LOUISVILLE.



WHEAT—No. 2 red..		@	98
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@	83½
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@	54
HAY—Ch. timothy ..	11 50	@	12 00
HOGS—Extra	6 25	@	7 05
LARD—Steam		@	8 00

INDIANAPOLIS.

CATTLE—Prime ...	5 50	@	7 10
HOGS—Extra	6 85	@	7 15
SHEEP—Extra	4 00	@	4 50

TEN YEARS OF BACKACHE.

Thousands of Women Suffer in the Same Way.

Mrs. Thos. Dunn, 153 Vine St., Columbus, Ohio, says: "For more than ten years I was in misery with backache. The simplest housework completely exhausted me. I had no strength or ambition, was nervous and suffered headache and dizzy spells. After these years of pain I was despairing of ever being cured when Doan's Kidney Pills came to my notice and their use brought quick relief and a permanent cure. I am very grateful."

Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

The Sign of Power.

It is the greatest manifestation of power to be calm. It is easy to be active. Let the reins go, and the horses will drag you down. Anyone can do that; but he who can stop the plunging horses is the strong man. Which requires the greater strength—letting go, or restraining? The calm man is not the man who is dull. You must not mistake calmness for dullness or laziness. . . . Activity is the manifestation of the lower strength, calmness of the superior strength.—Swami Vivekannanda.

Important to Mothers.

Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA a safe and sure remedy for infants and children, and see that it

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

In Use For Over 30 Years.
The Kind You Have Always Bought.

Of Most Benefit.

The fault which humbles us is of more use than a good action which puffs us up with pride.—Bovee.

Good for Sore Eyes,

for 100 years PETTIT'S EYE SALVE has positively cured eye diseases everywhere. All druggists or Howard Bros. Buffalo, N. Y.

Anyway, the man who borrows trouble isn't asked to return it.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.

For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

Don't hand your friends a lemon; treat them to lemonade.

If Your Feet Ache or Burn

get a 25c package of Allen's Foot-Ease. It gives quick relief. Two million packages sold yearly.

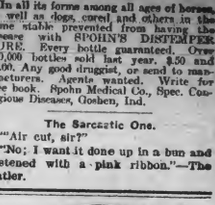
The burglar also has his get-rich-quick scheme.

One of the Essentials

of the happy homes of to-day is a vast fund of information as to the best methods of promoting health and happiness and right living and knowledge of the world's best products.

Products of actual excellence and reasonable claims truthfully presented and which have attained to world-wide acceptance through the approval of the Well-Informed of the World; not of individuals only, but of the many who have the happy faculty of selecting and obtaining the best the world affords.

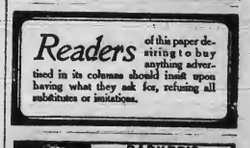
One of the products of that class, of known component parts, an Ethical remedy, approved by physicians and commended by the Well-Informed of the World as a valuable and wholesome family laxative is the well-known Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna. To get its beneficial effects always buy the genuine, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., only, and for sale by all leading druggists.



DISTEMPER

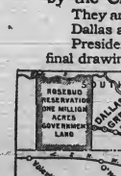
In all its forms among all ages of horses, as well as dogs, cows and others in the same stable prevented from having the disease with SPOHN'S DISTEMPER CURE. Every bottle guaranteed. Over 500,000 bottles sold last year. $.50 and $1.00. Any good druggist, or send to manufacturers. Agents wanted. Write for free book. Spohn Medical Co., Spec. Contagious Diseases, Goshen, Ind.

The Sarcastic One.



"'Air cut, sir?"

"No; I want it done up in a bun and fastened with a pink ribbon."—The Tatler.



Readers of this paper desiring to buy anything advertised in its columns should insist upon having what they ask for, refusing all substitutes or imitations.

If afflicted with sore eyes, use Thompson's Eye Water

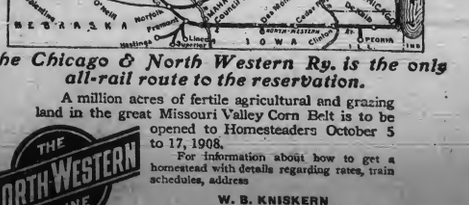
DEFIANCE STARCH cooked to work with and starches clothes nicest. 16 oz. for 10 cents.

A. N. K.—E (1908—38) 2248.

Send For Free Catalogue



"How to Make Money Selling Goldfish." Makes business lively around your store when everything else fails. BIG profits and QUICK returns. Full line of aquarium supplies. Write to-day.

AUBURNDALE GOLDFISH COMPANY
51 North Peoria Street, CHICAGO, ILL.

ROSEBUD GOVERNMENT LANDS

BEST REACHED FROM DALLAS

Dallas and Gregory, S. D., are reached only by the Chicago & North Western Railway. They are the only towns on the reservation border. Dallas and Gregory are the main registering points. President Roosevelt has designated Dallas for the final drawing October 19, 1908.

The Chicago & North Western Ry. is the only all-rail route to the reservation.

A million acres of fertile agricultural and grazing land in the great Missouri Valley Corn Belt is to be opened to Homesteaders October 5 to 17, 1908.

For information about how to get a homestead with details regarding rates, train schedules, address

THE NORTH WESTERN LINE

W. B. KNISKERN
Pass'r Traffic Mgr., C. & N. W. Ry.
Chicago, Ill

NW-31

THE HARVEST HOME.

Large Crowd and Fine Exhibit of Live Stock.

The Display of Agricultural Products Was Excellent.

Notwithstanding hard times, the dust and drought over 2,000 persons passed through the gates at the Harvest Home, last Saturday, and witnessed an exhibition that was first-class in every department, the agricultural products surprising everybody by their excellence, and the number of entries which surpassed those of many more favorable years in the past. The livestock show was very fine, especially the colt rings, each of which contained a large number of very promising young animals. Following is a list of awards:

GRAIN—Wheat and display of grain, Tom Hafer; rye, Jerry Tanner; oats, P Hager; yellow corn, F L McGlasson; white corn, W P Cropper.

FRUIT—Appels, peaches and display of fruit, Clyde Berkshire; pears, W T Snyder; plums, J H Aylor; grapes, Miss Jennie Dixon; quinces, Jake Lodge.

NEEDLE WORK—Counterpane and specimen knit lace, Catharine White; calico quilt, silk quilt and crochet work, Jennie Dixon; worsted quilt, Miss Sadie John; linen embroider, Italian embroidery, Mrs J E Smith; display silk embroidery and kensington embroidery, Miss Nellie Rouse; cotton embroidery, Mt. Mellick embroidery, French embroidery, lace work and drawn thread work, Inez Gaines; eyelet embroidery and Battenburg lace, Miss Sallie Vaughn; Bulgarian embroidery, Mrs W P Bradford; fancy sofa pillow, Miss Bessie Poston; fancy knitting in silk, Mrs Bettie Rouse; plain cotton knitting and woolen knitting, Mrs Anna Smith.

VEGETABLES—Beans, sweet corn, cucumbers and display of vegetables, M F Rouse; Mrs Martin Aylor second on display of vegetables; cabbage, Mrs Albert Beemon; celery, Mrs Kate Highhouse; Irish potatoes, late, Jake Lodge; Irish potatoes, early, Ezra Aylor; sweet potatoes, James Snyder; tomatoes, John Dye; pumpkins, Tom Riddell; squashes, John Conner; cashaws, Lum Carpenter; watermelons, James Snyder; nutmegs, Willie Waters; onions, Henry Aylor; turnips, J H Aylor; radishes and display of peppers, Elijah Tanner; beets and carrots, Hattie Goodridge.

PANTRY AND DAIRY—Display sweet pickles, Mrs Martin Aylor; loaf light corn bread and maple molasses, Mrs W P Beemon; hop yeast bread, Mrs Nan Mannin; salt rising bread, Artie Hafer; pound cake, Lou Walton; lady cake, Mrs J W Williams; layer cake by girl under 15 years old, Sallie Castleman; berry cake, Mrs C C Bradford; fruit cake, Mrs W L Riddell; display of cakes, J W Williams; angel food, Ora Ross; devil food, Mrs E S Gaines; butter, Mrs Hubert Rouse; can peaches, Nettie Kelly; can pears, Miss Jennie Dixon; can tomatoes, Mrs R W Rouse; sorghum molasses, W C C Rouse; vinegar, Robert Stephens; 2 pounds honey, D M Snyder; display fruit butter, Mrs W P Bradford; display preserves, Mrs W C Delph; display jellies, Mrs Martin Aylor.

FLOWERS—Hand bouquet, Miss Anna Brown; display cut flowers, Mrs W P Beemon; display cactus, Miss Grace Anderson; display geraniums, display bergonias and display of flowers in pots, Mrs W C Delph.

POULTRY—Light bramahs, barred Plymouth Rock and Minorcas, L P Aylor; white Plymouth Rocks, pair Leghorns, white Wyandottes, laced Wyandotts and display poultry, C W Anderson; Rhode Island Reds, W G Riddell; bantams, Miss Jennie Aylor; emden geese, J T Aylor.

HOGS—Poland Chinas, boar and sow, P Aylor; Chester white—boar, Harve Tanner; sow, Lon Acra; Durocs—boar and sow, W E Grant; Hampshires—boar and sow, J H Aylor; sow and pigs, Chas Youell.

COLTS.

Draft colt, Elbert Clore, Temp Graves.

Harness colt, E C Clore, second premium.

General purpose colt, J W Hogan.

Best Black Badger colt, Elbert Clore.

Mule colt, Harve Tanner, W W Hedges.

Plutarch colt, Temp Graves.

Joseph Scott, of Florence, took all the premiums on cattle.

Best looking baby, W S Huey, of Belleview, first; E J Aylor, of Francesville, second.

NOTES.

The pumpkin exhibit was the largest ever.

There was never a finer show of colts in the county.

The ladies had a great show of needle work, all of it executed in an artistic style.

The excessive heat had no effect on the lovers of the dance, and they made the band at the pavilion earn its money.

A large number of old people were in attendance and spent the day most pleasantly meeting many of their friends and acquaintances.

The attendance was about as large as any in the history of the Harvest Home, and was an agreeable surprise to the directors who feared a slump.

When John Hogan's colt took the premium in the allpurpose ring, he was the best pleased man that was ever on the Harvest Home grounds. He has the young animal sold to James Clore, of Rushville, Indiana, for $165.

The dust on the grounds began to annoy the people late in the afternoon, but the annoyance was nothing to what it would have been had not the road in front of the ground been thoroughly wet the night before, the water for which was hauled from Gunpowder creek.

C. W. McFee, of Francesville, tied up with Chas. Young, a professional trap shooter, of Youngstown, Ohio, a few days ago in a contest at Chester Park back of Cincinnati, each breaking 94 targets out of a possible 100. Mr. McFee is regaining his old form at shooting.

WALTON DEPARTMENT.

D. B. WALLACE, Manager.

Hand your news items to Mr. D. B. Wallace at the Walton Equitable Bank and Trust Co.'s building. He is also authorized to receive subscriptions and collect other accounts.

Water of all kinds is very scarce here owing to the drought.

Some of our citizens attended the Sanders fair, last week.

Michael Dempsey, of near Verona, was here on business Thursday.

J. G. Tomlin spent Monday at Warsaw attending county court.

J. G. Tomlin spent Thursday in Cincinnati on professional business.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Vest and baby visited relatives at Verona, last Sunday.

Mrs. W. T. Black, who has been quite sick at her home here, is now much improved.

Neither of the Walton banks closed for labor day. They failed to recollect the event.

For Sale—One pure bred Poland China boar; one year old. Address R. C. Green, Walton, Ky.

C. E. Lipscomb has a fine, fresh Jersey cow with calf which he wishes to sell. Address him at Walton, R. F. D. No. 1.

Jesse Franks, the worthy cashier of the Verona bank, spent labor day here with his family, his bank being closed on that day.

Miss Lulu Jones, one of our charming and popular ladies, spent part of last week at Bank Lick, the guest of friends and relatives.

S. L. Edwards left Tuesday on a Western trip, expecting to be gone about six weeks. His wife accompanied him to Cincinnati.

The extreme dry weather has cut down the supply of water in this neighborhood to an alarming extent and some of the citizens have padlocks on their cisterns.

A. H. Smith left Saturday for Owenton where he will be employed on the telephone line. He was a former valued employe of the Consolidated Telephone Co.

Born—To Marion Stephenson and wife, Sept. 8th, a fine 10½ pound boy. To Walker Dnrr and wife, a 7 pound boy. Dr. B. K. Menefee was the attending physician in both cases.

Mrs. W. H. Hays and two daughters, Lulu and Janie and Mrs. Jane Jordan, of Covington, were guests of Mrs. Hays' sister, Mrs. R. I. Ratcliff and husband, last week. Mrs. Jordan is a cousin of Mr. Ratcliff.

J. R. Wallace spent last Sunday at Warsaw visiting his brother, D. B. Wallace, who is rapidly recovering from a severe attack of typhoid fever. His son, Bruce, is recovering, and Mrs. Wallace is able to attend to her household duties. All had the same disease.

Misses Dora and Virgie Mason, two handsome and charming ladies of near Corinth, Grant county, were guests of the Atlas Hotel last Friday morning enroute to the Sanders fair. They were accompanied by Arthur Forner and Robert Stamper, two excellent young gentlemen of the same neighborhood.

The North Bend Association of Baptists was in session with the Baptist church here, last Wednesday and Thursday. There was a good attendance of both ministers and laymen, and the meeting was of great importance to that denomination. The North Bend Association wields considerable influence upon the denomination in the State, and its annual sessions bring together many of the ablest Baptist divines.

Miss Fannie Underhill, the obliging and pretty attendant at the Beaver Lick telephone exchange, and Mrs. Merit Jack, the estimable wife of the manager of the Beaver Lick Mercantile Company's store, were welcome visitors here Thursday, and attended the North Bend Association of Baptists in session here on that day.

W. E. Vest, our hustling real estate dealer and surveyor, has closed a contract with the Pure Oil Company, of West Virginia, to survey a pipe line from Ross, Ky., through Campbell, Kenton and Boone counties, running between Erlanger and Buffington to Florence and then on to Grant (Belleview.) The line will then cross the Ohio river at that point. Mr. Vest was not particular about taking the contract on account of his large real estate and loan business, and made the contract price at a figure that he supposed would be rejected, bnt the company granted him the contract. He is now employed on the work with a force of hands.

The following notice has been sent to the stockholders in the Equitable Bank and Trust Co., at Walton, and is a magnificent showing:

Walton, Ky., September 10th, 1908.

Dear Sir:—At a meeting of the Board of Directors of this bank held Sept. 4th, 1908, a 3 per cent. dividend was declared, which is placed to the credit of each stockholder, subject to check on and after Sept. 15th. The net earnings collected for the year was $1870.90, disposed of as follows:

Dividend No. 1	$1,600 00
Surplus Fund	200 00
Undivided Profits	170 90
	$1,870 90

This does not take into consideration the accrued interest on mortgage loans, which amounts to something over $1,000.

EQUITABLE BANK & TRUST CO.

J. D. Doubman and J. D. Mayhugh spent last Tuesday at Hamilton, Ohio, where they went to inspect the pressed brick plant of the Hamilton Pressed Brick Works. They discovered that the plan of procedure they were pursuing here in the burning of the brick was entirely wrong. In order to make a success of the plant it is necessary to build a down draft kiln on the same principle all brick plants of this kind do. Any other plan will not meet with success. The Walton Brick Company have lost considerable money in their venture by the lack of this knowledge, but now as they have necessary information they will employ an expert pressed brick maker and will have their product on the market at the earliest possible moment. They speak in the highest terms of the courteous treatment they received at the hands of the gentlemen connected with the Hamilton Pressed Brick Works, as they were untiring in their efforts to impart all the information in their possession.

RELIGIOUS NOTES.

MEETING IN UNION PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

Evangelistic services will begin, providence permitting, in this church on next Monday, 21st inst., at 7:30 p. m. Services every day through the week at 10 a. m., and 7:30 p. m. The pastor will be ably assisted by the Rev. Dr. Glass, pastor of the Madison Ave. Presbyterian church, Covington. All are most cordially invited to attend these services.

THE MEETING OF PRESBYTERY.

The meeting last week of the Presbytery of Ebenezer with the Richwood church makes an event in the social religious life of that community that will be long and pleasantly remembered and that will exert a lasting influence for good. The attendance was large and the spirit enthusiastic. The law of love, the principle of christian unity, was beautifully and practically exhibited. People of all churches asked for and entertained members of the Presbytery as their guests, and all brought generous baskets to the daily dinner on the ground. The reputation of this community for hearty and loyal hospitality was fully sustained. The spiritual feast was also rich; the preaching and addresses were of a high order of excellence, and were greatly enjoyed by all. The Pastor and congregation of the Richwood church desire to express their high appreciation of the kind offices of all the friends who contributed to the success of this occasion. They will please accept our cordial thanks.

PROTRACTED MEETING AT RICHWOOD.

Upon the close of the Presbytery the Rev. Dr. W. W. Akees, of Maysville, Ky., began a series of services, which are expected to continue over the third Sunday. The preaching of Dr. Akees is most excellent. The attendance on the services is large, there is deep interest and much good is being accomplished. Two services are held daily, 10 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

People along the railroad have been living in dread of fire for several weeks, and fires that started from sparks from engines have burnt over hundreds of acres of land, but, fortunately, no buildings have been burnt in the county.

Caddie Maurer, of Belleview, was in Burlington, Monday, on business pertaining to the Belleview Graded School. The public school building in that town has but one room, and to conduct the graded school required two rooms, and the trustees are experiencing some trouble in securing the additional room. The schoool is to begin next Monday with Misses Katie Craig and Bettie Dolph as teachers.

For Sale—2 good cows and calves. Apply to F. H. Rouse, Burlington.

Obituary.

Died, August 31st, 1908, Howard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hnbert Batchelor. He died of spinal trouble, aged 10 months and 1 day. He was sick many days. The remains were interred in the cemetery at Burlington at 11 o'clock the following Tuesday. We feel much grieved of the death of the little one, but trust to God, who does all things well, for it is God that giveth, and God that taketh away. He has left a vacant place in that home that can't be filled. He passed quietly from this world of sin to that heavenly Kingdom to dwell with God and his angels. At times we all feel we have nothing to live for, but such sorrow brings us nearer to God.

Sleep on dear Howard,
Take thy rest.
God called thee home,
He thought it best.

G. E. S.

Memorial.

The death angel has again visited our community and took from our midst Mrs. Lucy G. Beemon at the age of 44 years, 11 months, and 24 days. She was a patient sufferer of a most dreaded disease, cancer of the stomach, for several months, and was called to her reward on Sunday, August 30th, at 1 o'clock a. m. She leaves a husband and daughter to mourn her loss. Everything was done by kind hands that could be that she might be restored to health, but it was God's will that she should be removed from this to another and better world. While she would have liked to have remained with her family, she was submissive to God's will and was ready to go when the summons came. She united with Big Bone church early in life, thus giving the few short years of her life to the service of the Lord. The funeral services were conducted by pastor McMillian at the home the following Tuesday, after which the remains were interred in the Florence cemetery in the presence of a large concourse of relatives and friends. The family have the sympathy of the entire community in their sore bereavement

May all those who have known her,
And loved her here below,
Be prepared to meet her,
For in time we all must go

A COUSIN.

Notice to Policy Holders.

The policy holders in the Farmers' Mutual Fire Insnrance Company of Boone County, are hereby notified that the annual election of officers will be held at the office in Burlington on Monday, October 5th, 1908. The directors are notified to be at the office on same date, as there is business of importance to attend to. Any person desiring to have his name on the official ballot, must notify the secretary by September 25th, 1908.

MALCHUS SOUTHER, Secretary.

A very large crowd attended the Sunday school convention at Hopeful Lutheran church yesterday. An interesting program claimed the attention of the people during the day, while at the noon hour an abundant and excellent dinner was discussed.

B. B. Hume's steppers did not land first money at Sanders, last week. One of them was sick.

Administratrors Notice.

All persons indebted to the estate of Susan Ann Jarrell, decd., must come forward and settle, and all those having claims against said estate must present them to the undersigned proven according to law.

LYSTRA SMITH Admr.

Another Good Man Gone.

O. C. Rouse died September 2d, 1908 of organic heart trouble, aged 55 years, 7 months and 19 days. A friend we loved from us has gone, a voice we loved is still, a place is vacant in our midst, that time may never fill. He suffered intensely for several weeks before his death, but was never heard to murmur or complain at his lot, but welcomed his friends with a bright smile to the very last. His faith in God was firm, and strong, and his resignation to God's will complete. Death held no terrors for him, his way seemed bright and clear. Those who witnessed his patience in suffering and the calm, sweet smile that faced death so bravely, could but catch an inspiration of a brighter home beyond, and a new and clearer vision of God as with the loving tenderness of a father he smoothes the pillow of suffering, and removes the shadows in the dark hour of death. Mr. Rouse leaves a wife, two sons and three daughters, an aged mother, two brothers and three sisters, with a host of friends and relatives who mourn his loss. The family have the heartfelt sympathy of the entire community in their sad bereavement.

A FRIEND.

CARD OF THANKS—We wish to express our thanks and gratitude to our friends and neighbors for their kindness shown to us and our loved one in his fatal illness and death. Also for the many floral offerings.

MRS. O. C. ROUSE AND CHILDREN.

The M. E. Conference transferred Rev. Pilo from the Petersburg circuit to New Columbus, and sent Rev. S. J. Bradley to the Petersburg circuit.

If you meet a man riding in a buggy with a saddle carefully stored therein, its a 10 to 1 shot that he is a candidate and will shove a card at you before he gets beyond your reach.

Gideon Kite and lady friend, of Waterloo, had a close call last Saturday as they were going to the Harvest Home. They were driving at a moderate gait, and when their buggy went over one of the several water-breaks in the pike in the vicinity of Limaburg, the jerk that resulted broke both of the shafts off of the axle. Fortunately the horse behaved nicely and they escaped without injury.

Jesse Kirkpatrick is building a vestibule and belfrey at the Burlington colored church building.

CARD OF THANKS—We take this opportunity of extending our heartfelt thanks to all the neighbors and friends for their help and sympathy during the illness and death of our loved ones. We also wish to thank Rev. Carter for his words of comfort and undertaker Chambers for his excellent services.

VIRGINIA HEWETT AND FAMILY.

Old Sore, Cut & Burn Antiseptic

Cures the Old Sores that other remedies won't cure

Relieves the Pain of a Burn instantly

A New Discovery

by Dr. Porter an Old Railroad Surgeon.

25c packages free at your nearest Drug Store

We have made arrangements with the majority of the local Druggists by which they will give away free a limited number of regular 25 cent packages of Dr. Porter's Antiseptic Healing Oil as a means of introducing the remedy to those who have never used it. To be sure of getting a free sample call on your Druggist to-day.

The PARIS MEDICINE COMPANY, 2622-30 Pine St., St. Louis, Mo., manufacturers of LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE and other standard preparations have a new discovery that far surpasses anything ever placed on the market for old sores, cuts, burns and all wounds.

When Marconi stated that he could send messages across the ocean without a wire or cable, the world did not believe it; if we were to tell you that will cure old chronic sores which other remedies have failed to cure, and will absolutely relieve the pain of a burn instantly, you would not believe it; therefore we wish to place the remedy, FREE OF COST, in your hands to convince you that it is the most wonderful remedy ever discovered.

Dr. Porter's Antiseptic Healing Oil

We Mean It

It is needed in every home. When any of the family are severely burned or cut, you haven't time to send for a remedy, bnt you need it at once; therefore do not delay to send to your Druggist for a regular 25c package, FREE OF COST. We give it free, in this way, because we know that when one family tries it they will recommend it to other families, and thus introdnce it. Send for a free package and convince yourself that a wonderful progress along the line of new discoveries has been made in the manufacture of this preparation.

It will cure

Old Sores, Running Sores, Fever Sores,	Burns, Boils, Carbuncles,	Granulated Eyelids, Scald Head, Scalp Diseases,	Chronic Catarrh, Sore Throat, Throat Trouble,	Eczema, Skin Diseases, Bites & Stings,	Bar Ache, Ulcers, Wounds.

The following dealers have these goods in stock for free distribution:

Robt. Littrell, Beaver Lick.
S. C. Buchanan, Petersburg.
L. C. Scothorn & Co., Idlewild.
Quigley & Beemon, Limaburg.
Bedinger Bros., Richwood.
W. B. Norman, Walton.
C. W. Myers, Florence.
T. S. Aylor, Hebron.

BOONE HIGH SCHOOL

Do your High School work at home where teachers will take especial interest in you. This School offers the regular four years High School and the eight years Common School Courses.

TUITION:

High School Course...$40.00
Common School Course..$25.00
Per Session.

Two well qualified teachers besides the Superintendent.

School Opens Sept. 14th.

For Particulars write to

EDGAR C. RILEY, Supt.,
BURLINGTON, KY.

Jewelry Just a Little Better.

We are not satisfied to show Jewelry as good as others show. It is our aim to offer you something better, something different. Excellence of workmanship, beauty and exclusiveness of design and the very best wearing qualities characterize every piece—and with our moderate prices you can buy far more economically here than elsewhere.

Motch,
The Jeweler,
613 MADISON,
Covington, Ky.

R. O. HUGHES,

—SURVEYOR,—
RICHWOOD, - KY.

Am prepared to do, and will answer all calls for surveying in Boone and adjoining counties Over 20 years experience as a practical surveyor

J. Bullock & Son,

PRACTICAL TAILORS,
HEBRON, - KENTUCKY.

Our Fall and Winter samples are ready for inspection and we invite you to call and see them and learn the prices.

All work guaranteed and done under my own supervision.

J. Bullock & Son,
HEBRON, KY.

H. C. BLACK,

VETERINARY + SURGEON,
WALTON, KENTUCKY.

Treats all diseases pertaining to animals. Prompt attention given to all calls. Telephone connections.

Take the Recorder.

DR. L. H. CRISLER,

VETERINARY + SURGEON.
Residence 1552 Scott St.,
COVINGTON, - - KENTUCKY.
Phone, South 1245.

"Always Reliable."

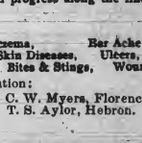
W. N. HIND & CO.

Carpets, Furniture, Stoves,

210-12 W. Fifth Street,
Cincinnati, - Ohio.

TAX-PAYERS NOTICE.

The Taxpayers of Boone County are hereby notified that I or my Deputy will be at the places and on the dates named below to collect 1908 taxes:



Florence, July 13th and October 12th.
Verona, July 14th and October 13th.
Walton, July 15th and October 14th.
Petersburg, July 16th and October 15.
Bellevue, July 17th and October 16th.
Beaver, July 20th and October 19th.
Big Bone, July 21st and October 20th.
Union, July 22d and October 21st.
Rabbit Hash, July 24th and Oct. 8th.
Constance, July 27th and Oct. 9th.
Bullittsville, July 28th and Oct. 22d.
Hebron, October 23rd.
Gunpowder, October 26th.
Richwood, October 27th.

RATES—State, 50 cents; County, 15c on the $100, six per cent penalty added December 1st on all unpaid taxes.

Pay your Poll-tax before December 1st and you will not be put on the delinquent list. Interest and cost of collecting will be added on all delinquent taxes

M. F. WINGATE,
Sheriff Boone County.

Dr. L. E. ROUSE,

DENTIST,

Will be at Burlington on Monday of each week; Union on Tuesday, balance of time at my office in Masonic Building. LUDLOW, KY.

Notice is hereby given that all persons are forbidden to trespass upon my lands in any manner whatever, unless by my permission. The law against trespass will be rigidly enforced by me.

O. F. GLACKEN.

RIDGEVIEW STOCK FARM
Boone County, Ky.
BREEDER OF
Aberdeen-Angus Cattle and Duroc Jersey Swine.
Stock for Sale. Address or call
W. W. COCHRAN, Mgr. - Delhi, Ohio.
(The Chambers Farm.)

POSTED.

Notice is hereby given that my property known as Laughery Island is posted against all kinds of trespass.

JOHN SMITH, Grant, Ky.

Rogers Bros. General Merchants,

BELLEVUE, KY.

Keep on hand a General Stock of MERCHANDISE.
Coal Kept in the Yard.
Country Produce taken in Trade.

Subscribe for the Recorder.

It will pay you to advertise your Business in this Paper. Try It.

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER.

ESTABLISHED 1876.
Subscription $1.50 year.
Try it One Year.

VOL. XXXIII. BURLINGTON, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 16, 1908. NO. 48

County News Items

Interesting Facts Gathered During the Week by Our Regular Correspondents.

ERLANGER.

Edgar D. Jones, of Bloomington, Ill., has just closed a very successful week's meeting at Erlanger Christian church, resulting in 11 additions to the church. Each night the church was crowded. Bro. Jones was the first pastor of the Christian church here, and he is known and loved by the members of all churches alike. His sermons on the Life of Christ were extremely interesting and delivered with his matchless eloquence are calculated to do much good to the community.

o o o

HATHAWAY.

The dry, hot weather stays with us.

The health of the community is good.

Corn cutting will soon be the order as it is ripening fast.

The writer and family attended the Harvest Home, last Saturday.

Geo. L. Smith was sick several days last week on account of the heat.

Joshua Rice and daughter, Miss Blanch, of Illinois, are guests of their many relatives in this county.

This dry weather is making water a scarcity with some, causing them to haul for both stock and family use.

Mrs. Leola Wood, of Dayton, Ohio, spent several days, last week, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Ryle, of this place.

M. M. Ryle and wife have returned from a trip to Gallatin county, where they visited Mrs. Ryle's mother, who has been quite sick.

We desire to thank the Editor of the RECORDER for the complimentary ticket to the Harvest Home, near Limaburg, last Saturday. We hope the staff of correspondents enjoyed the day as much as we did.

Chas. Portwood is completing a seven room commodious building on his farm at the top of the big hill, known as the Ambros Bradford hill. The house is built on the site of the old Bradford house that burned several years ago. He has several carpenters at work and expects to complete it in a couple of weeks.

A disastrous fire got started, last Tuesday, from some cause in the woods near the line of the of Joseph Riddell and John L. Henderson places at the top of the hill, and burned considerable fencing and over a vast area of the timber land. Several of the neighbors were called to help check the fire, which was done after several hours of hard work. It is supposed the fire started from some squirrel hunter's gun wad of paper setting fire to the leaves.

o o o

IDLEWILD.

Samuel Barnes' little baby has been very sick.

Miss Grace Winkle spent the week with her aunt, Mrs. Chas. Slayback, of Erlanger.

Mrs. Courtney Walton and Mrs. Vess Gaines were Friday guests of Mrs. Tom Willis.

C. T. Easton sold and delivered to Bobrink, of Lawrenceburg, 30 shoats at 4 cents a pound.

Robert Beard and wife, of Hamilton, Ohio, are visiting his brother, James of East Bend.

The Bullittsburg school opened Monday with Mrs. F. E. Kirtley, of Carrollton, as teacher.

H. C. Duncan and Andrew Gaines, of Idlewild, were transacting business in Cincinnati, Friday.

Courtney Walton, Holman Hays and ye scribe were transacting business in Lawrenceburg, Monday.

Mrs. Alice Watts and Mrs. John Gaar, of Bullittsville, were guests of Mrs. Anna Gaines, of Idlewild, Wednesday.

Samuel Barnes was the first to cut corn in the Bullittsville neighborhood, and Charles Clore the first in Hebron.

Mrs. Georgia Louden, of Scrapville, visited her daughter, Mrs. Omer McGuire, of Idlewild, from Monday until Thursday.

Geo. Hensley and wife, of Wooper, were Sunday guests of Omer McGuire and wife, of Idlewild, and Robert McGuire and wife near Sullivan Heights, on Monday.

We may name the wild beasts; the fire in the forest will cease when all the wood is burned; but we cannot arrest the progress of the cruel words we spoke yesterday or today.

Herbert Grant, of Idlewild, sold to Kreitzer, of Sedamsville, 14 cattle and 2 calves for a total of $412, and C. W. Riley, of Bullittsville, 33 shoats and 6 sows for a total of $400.

The horse that Courtney Walton is having broken to harness is showing considerable speed. It trotted a mile in 2:42 on the Lawrenceburg fair ground last Monday without a break.

Mrs. A. L. Gaines, of Idlewild, has joined the happy and intelligent patrons of rural mail route 1, Burlington. This route handles more mail to the number of boxes than any route in the State.

Boys, get your tin pans ready. When a young man receives a letter from his best girl reading: "Roses are red and Violets are blue, candy is sweet and so are you," there is going to be something doing, so hold yourselves in readiness.

UNION.

Weather prophets are as plentiful as candidates.

Richard Smith is building a new road up to his house.

R. N. Head and wife dined with Mrs. Frank Smith, Sunday.

Rev. Miller preached at the Presbyterian church, Sunday morning.

James A. Huey hauled a load of feed from Covington that cost over $60.

M. C. Norman and W. W. Conner have completed their silos, except roofing.

Dr. Senour entertained relatives and friends from Kenton county, Sunday.

Mrs. William H. Smith is entertaining her cousin, Roy Couburn, of Portsmouth, Ohio.

J. M. Utz and wife spent Saturday with their daughter, Mrs. John Taylor, at Beaver Lick.

Prof. Voshell is soliciting stock for a company store at Gunpowder, and is having good success.

Mrs. Sue Smith and daughter, Miss Hattie, of Covington, are here guests of Mrs. Mary Carpenter.

Miss Sadie Crisler, a charming young lady, of Burlington, is teaching the public school here.

The Presbyterian Sunday School will be held at 10 o'clock a. m., instead of 3 p. m., as formerly.

Tom Huey and wife, Jas. W. Huey and wife, and Dr. O. E. Senour and Miss Nannie Burkett, attended the fair at Sanders, last Saturday.

Lloyd Huey, who is attending business college in Cincinnati, is sick and came out Saturday to recuperate at his grandmother's, Mrs. J. W. Kennedy's.

It is so dry here that Tom Judge believes firmly that a barrel of cold water dropped down on Union right suddenly would cause an explosion loud, long and strong enough to blow his corn crop 50 miles.

Mrs. Hubert Rodgers and Mrs. N. S. Bristow and daughter, Louise, were hostesses at a miscellaneous shower, Tuesday, Sept. 15, given in honor of Miss Riley, the bride-elect of Mr. James T. Bristow.

Rev. W. T. Spears and wife, after spending two weeks with Mrs. W. M. Rachal, left Friday for Maysville, where they will be the guests of Mrs. James Asbury for a short time before going on to their home at Vanceburg.

James Utz, J. L. Frazier, John J. Garrison, John Elston, Bristow Bros., C. and J., with many others equally interested in the road from Union to Grange Hall, have turned out in full force, free and of their own accord to give that highway one of the most complete workings possible, and they are certainly making good. J. L. Frazier advocates hauling rock, and proposes to haul 21 loads as his part, every year, until the bad places are piked. This method seems to be a solution to the road working problem, and it is up to the people to fish or dig bait as they see proper.

The local creamery has solved a problem of material interest to the farmers around here, that is that land can be improved and at the same time made profitable by dairy farming. More than a score of farmers have told this writer that they find that keeping cows and patronizing the creamery more profitable and pleasanter than raising tobacco. As an investment the creamery has made good by paying 8 per cent. Looking at the matter from a broader and better point of view, perhaps, than the financial, it benefits the people by bringing them together every day to exchange views on all questions of interest, and to get better acquainted. Another outgrowth of the creamery is a call for better cows, better methods, better roads—more than this it calls out the public spirit of men. Business has increased in Union, and, as a result, improvements are being made. James Bristow is building a new house, Rachal & Co. have papered their store, the Eagle Hotel is being papered and painted, Dr. Senour is preparing to beautify his home by painting, papering, etc. The bank has already been nicely painted. Mrs. Rachel Rice is having her home painted. J. W. Kennedy expects to have carpenters and painters at work on his house soon. You see the spirit of improvement is running high here. J. L. Frazier's fine country home has been remodeled, repaired and repainted, making it one of the most attractive and desirable country homes in this section of the county.

A Paying Investment.

Mr. John White, of 38 Highland Ave., Houlton, Maine, says: "Have been troubled with a cough every winter and spring. Last winter I tried many advertised remedies, but the cough continued until I bought a 50c bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery; before that was half gone, the cough was all gone. This winter the same happy result has followed; a few doses once more banished the annual cough. I am now convinced that Dr. King's New Discovery is the best of all cough and lung remedies." Sold under guarantee at Bentler's Drug Store, Erlanger. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Henry Phipps is making a canvass of the county in the interest of several newspapers. He will give you a call some of these bright mornings.

DEVON.

People can be seen in all directions hauling water.

Mr. John Melman and children visited the Zoo, Saturday.

Gertrude and Lorrta Melman have returned to Notre Dame College.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nosthoide are proud parents of a baby boy, Henry Lee.

Mrs. Theo. Groger had for her guest, Sunday, Cove Carpenter and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Melman entertained quite a number of their Covington friends, Sunday.

Miss Minnie Stephens, a pretty young lady of Rabbit Hash, is teaching Mt. Zion school.

Misses Maud and Mabel Groger had for their guest, last week, little Miss Gertrude Vaughn.

Albert Shadler has returned to Lebanon, Ohio, college, where he was a student last year.

Walter Perry has procured a nice position in Georgetown college, and went there last Wednesday.

Leonard Childress and family, of Erlanger, and Sandford Bristow, of Union, were guests at Ben Bristow's, recently.

Rev. Tole came out Sunday from Florence and filled Bro. Baker's appointment. He is a very pleasant speaker.

Miss Hattie Lee Riley, one of Devon's attractive young women, will open her school Monday morning at Crescent Springs.

Mrs. Alice Connely and Miss Leta Rice were guests of relatives in Newport, last week. They also visited in Covington and Latonia.

Mrs. B. F. Bristow and daughter, Miss Jane, went to Georgetown, last Tuesday, where Miss Jane will resume her studies this year.

The fall session of the Beech Grove school is in progress with Miss Beers, teacher. She gave perfect satisfaction last year and all are much pleased to have her this fall and winter.

Mrs. J. Leon Elay and children who were guests of Mrs. West have returned to their home in Selma, Alabama. They have many warm friends at this place who regret that they could not have remained for a longer time.

o o o

HERE AND THERE.

Robert Mallory will move to T. W. Campbell's place on upper Woolper, this week.

Steve Gaines and Less Sebree will take in the State fair at Louisville, this week.

Paris Akin left Monday morning for Hathaway, where he will teach the fall and winter term of school.

Harry Passons' sale, last Friday, was well attended. Some things sold cheap while others brought fair prices.

Miss Mae Cutter returned to her home in Cincinnati, last Sunday, after a protracted visit with her cousin, Mrs. Lulia Rector.

A. C. Passons and wife and son, Harry, will leave next Thursday for Tuscola, Illinois, where they will make their future home.

Henry Passons and his friend, Harry Younger, left last Saturday, for the wild and wooly west, after, as they expressed it, a two weeks' sojourn in the jungles of Woolper creek.

Miss Edna Hewett, daughter of Mrs. Virginia and the late D. M. Hewett, departed this life Sept. 11th, 1908, aged 17 years and 11 days. She had been a sufferer of that dread disease, consumption, for about eight months, and when God called her she was prepared to go. She leaves a mother, four brothers and three sisters to mourn her early demise. The remains were gently laid to rest beside those of an infant brother in the Petersburg cemetery, at noon, Sunday. The bereaved family have the sympathy of all in their hour of need.

o o o

FRANCESVILLE.

The public school began Monday, with Miss Sadie Reiman teacher.

We consider ourselves among the blest in having plenty of vegetables.

Mike Muntz, who moved to Indianapolis some years ago, has returned.

Cutting corn will be the occupation of the farmers for the next few weeks.

Mrs. Marietta Gaines entertained a number of her relatives last Friday week.

Miss Jessie Conner, of Bullittsville, has gone to Dayton, to study for a trained nurse.

Mrs. Sydney Blankenbeker, of Louisville, is spending some weeks with her mother and other relatives near here.

The wife and daughter of Dr. Henry, of near Cythiana, returned to her home on Friday after a few days' visit here with the doctor's father and relatives.

The neighborhood is stirred up over the stealing of Mr. Graham's horse and Mr. Bruce Henry's saddle, bridle and buggy whip. Measures are being taken to recover them.

o o o

GUNPOWDER.

Misses Lottie and Iantha Utz are entertaining friends from Lebanon, Ohio.

W. P. Utz is building an addition to his barn to shelter his herd of fine Jersey cows.

Robt. Snyder is marketing his crop of peaches and receiving $2 per bushel for them.

B. C. Surface sold at public auction a portion of his stock, farming implements, &c., on Thursday of last week.

J. W. Scott exhibited his herd of thoroughbred Jersey cattle at the Alexandria fair and captured 18 ribbons out of 20. Bro. Scott has gone to considerable expense to grade up his herd and has some of the best strains of Jersey blood in this country.

LIMABURG.

Water is very scarce in this community.

Miss Annie Brown spent last Wednesday night with Mrs. M. E. Crigler.

E. I. Rouse and Irvin Clore put a new galvanized roof on the back part of Ed Farrell's house, last week.

Misses Ina and Isabella Rouse were guests of Misses Grace and Clara Anderson, last Wednesday afternoon.

Ira Ryle, and sister Stella, of near Commissary, spent Saturday night and Sunday with their grandmother, Mrs. Noah Craven.

Legrand Utz and wife and Mrs. H. L. Tanner, who have been visiting friends and relatives in Georgia, returned home last Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Henry Quick and little daughter, Louise, spent from Friday until Sunday afternoon with her father, J. P. Utz, and attended the Harvest Home, Saturday.

The home and household goods of Samuel Conrad, burned last Saturday afternoon. He was away from home until it was too late to save anything in the house.

o o o

PETERSBURG.

Prof. Rice spent Thursday in Cincinnati.

Stephen McWethy is somewhat improved.

Mrs. Mamie Peck, of Milton, is visiting friends here.

Mrs. Mary Yerkes has been quite sick the past few days.

Thomas Collier, of Patriot, is the guest of Bernard Gordon.

Rev. Pilo is attending conference at Middlesborro, this week.

Miss Mamie Helms, who has been very sick, is able to be up again.

School opened Monday with a good attendance, Prof. and Mrs. Rice in charge.

Forest Krutz, who attended the Sanders fair, last week, arrived home Sunday night.

William Howiett, of Topeka, Kansas, is the pleasant guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Krutz.

R. H. Bolen, jr., will leave today for his home in New Orleans, after a six weeks' visit here.

W. T. Berkshire has bought the Ben Gaines farm 2 miles out on the Burlington and Petersburg pike.

Misses Nellie and Nora McWethy have been guests of their sister, Miss Leola, in Cincinnati, the past week.

Misses Mattie and Fannie Leek entertained several of their friends with a watermelon party, last Saturday night.

Mrs. Eliza Couch and sons, Paul and Edward, have returned home from a two weeks' visit with relatives at Patriot.

Quite a number of Petersburg people attended the annual Harvest Home, last Saturday, and all report a pleasant time.

Stewart Berkshire, one of our promising young men, left, Monday, for Lexington, where he will enter the State College.

Miss Mattie Leek leaves today for Lexington, expecting to enter the University. She has the best wishes of a host of friends.

Arthur (Podge) Alleway arrived home Thursday from Kansas City, where he had been umpiring in the Western Base Ball League.

Clair Jones left Wednesday for Versailles, Indiana, where he will spend a week before leaving for his home in Washington, D. C.

The young people were delightfully entertained last Thursday evening at the pretty home of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Gordon. Dancing was the principal amusement.

Mrs. William Crisler and daughter, and Miss Nell Berkshire, all of Brooklyn, New York, who have been spending the summer here with Mr. and Mrs. Ben Berkshire, returned to their home last week.

The funeral of Miss Edna Hewitt was held here last Sunday. It was largely attended and was conducted by Rev Carter. It will, no doubt, be remembered, that six weeks ago Mrs. May Hewitt Warford, a sister of Miss Edna, was buried here.

Rev. Carter is holding a series of meetings at Mt. Pleasant.

Wm. Alden is home from Middlesboro, but will return to that city in a few days.

Mrs. Edgar Jones and sister, Miss Eunie Willis, were calling on friends here last week.

Miss Janie Hurd is spending a few days with her aunt, Mrs. Robert Green, of Belleview.

Misses Edna and Bess Berkshire and Lizzie Walton have returned home after a two weeks' visit with Miss Lucille Rucker, of Pt. Pleasant.

Miss Mary Mills has returned to her home in Covington after spending two weeks here with her grandmother, Mrs. Kate Roberts.

E. T. Krutz and wife and Harry McWethy and wife have returned from a pleasant vist to Mr. and Mrs. Ben Belden at Xenia, Ohio.

How to Get Strong.

P. J. Daly, of 1247 W. Congress St., Chicago, tells of a way to become strong; He says: "My mother, who is old and was very feeble, is deriving so much benefit from Electric Bitters that I feel it's my duty to tell those who need a tonic and strengthening medicine about it. In my mother's case a marked gain in flesh has resulted, insomnia has been overcome, and she is steadily growing stronger." Electric Bitters quickly remedy stomach, liver and Kidney complaints. Sold under guarantee at Bentler's Drug Store, Erlanger. 50c.

Considerable stone is being broken for spreading on the Burlington and Florence pike, which will eliminate it for a while as a first class automobile thoroughfare.

FLORENCE.

Mrs. Joe Bradford is visiting relatives and friends at Big Bone.

Mrs. Swope entertained, Thursday, in honor of her 76th birthday.

John Sells and wife, of Cincinnati, visited his sister, Mrs. John Buckner, Sunday.

Misses Annie Carrollton and Lillian Lillard, of Covington, visited Ed Senour and wife, the past week.

Mrs. Sadie John, had as her guests Sunday, her brother and sister, Mr. and Miss Tucker.

Mrs. Theodore Myers, of Alexander, was the guest of C. W. Myers and wife, Sunday.

The Florence club will play the Hebron club at the Florence park, next Saturday at 2:30 p. m.

Mrs. J. R. Whitson and Mrs. Lillian Bradford and Mrs Ryle attended the association at Walton, last week.

Misses Addie Lee and Tina J. Norman entertained in honor of Walter Kiappert, of Ludlow, the following at dinner, Sunday: Misses Lizzie Abraham, of Louisville; Mayme, Gertie and Laura Michaels, of Erlanger; Anna Lee Holzworth, of Devon; Messrs. Walter Klappert, of Ludlow; Haydon Young, of Lexington; Lawrence Michaels, of Crescent Springs; J. R. Rice, and Clarence and Cliff Norman.

The Florence and Erlanger boys who enjoyed a ten days' outing on Eagle Creek arrived home, Friday. Among the party were Elmer Cahill, Ben Dulaney and Paul Aydelotte, of Florence; Joe and Bruce Myers, and Charley Brauchi, of Erlanger. They picked up three additional ball players on the creek and defeated the Downingsville ball team, last Saturday, 10 to 9. This was the first defeat for Downingsville. The boys report plenty of fish and game.

o o o

CONSTANCE.

Carroll Zimmer's baby died after one day's illness, last week.

John Masters and wife, of Ludlow, visited friends here Sunday.

Capt. Louie Kottmyer and family visited his parents, here, Sunday.

Several lots have been purchased here recently for building purposes.

Miss Hazel Goodridge and Master Harry, visited Sophia Murat, Sunday.

Many Constance people are attending meeting at Point Pleasant church the past week.

Mr. Hoffman and wife, of Petersburg, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Lillard, last week.

The Constance base ball club played Anderson Ferry, Sunday, score 6 to 5. [In whose favor?—ED.]

Miss Anita, daughter of Charles Hemfling, will graduate from Home City High School, next spring.

Al Ingram's bid was the lowest of the several made for the work of building the fill at the Dry creek bridge.

Lou Sprague is building an addition to his store at Taylorsport, also a cellar, which will give him much needed room to carry on his business.

W. H. Bowen and Miss E. Jackson were guests of Dr. Murat and wife, a few days since. The captain has a watch chain made of gold he dug in Alaska. He gave the doctor a stick pin made of an Alaska nugget.

o o o

VERONA.

Public school begun last Monday.

Dr. McCormac has had a cow barn built on his lot.

There will be a picnic near Verona on Saturday the 19th inst.

Mathew Cleek is attending Danville College, preparatory to taking a course in law.

Quite a number from this place attended the North Bend Association at Walton, last week.

A committee has been appointed by New Bethel church to have it papered in the near future.

Miss N. E. Hamilton left, to-day (Monday) for Richmond, where she has a position as teacher in the High School.

Rev. John E. Roberts will start for St. Louis, Mo., about the 24th inst., where he will accept the charge of two churches.

Mrs. William Anderson and granddaughter, Miss Blanche Anderson, of Knox county, Mo., are spending a few weeks here with relatives.

o o o

FLICKERTOWN.

James Gaines sold his Black Badger colt to Bob Clore. Price, $65.

Mrs. Dan Hoffman and children, of Petersburg, visited at Ben Hensley's several days last week.

Jas. White and mother left, Monday, for Columbus, Ind., to see Mrs. Renah Kelly, who is dangerously ill.

R. L. Voshell, of Sparta, Indiana, Frank Voshell and wife, and Miss Mattie Low visited James White and wife, Suuday.

BASE BALL.

Taylorsport vs. Burlington.

The Burlington and Taylorsport base ball teams will try conclusions at Burlington ball park next Saturday afternoon in two games in which James Houston, the spit-ball artist will work in the box, for the visitors in the first game which will be called at 1:30 p. m. The batteries will be for Taylorsport—Houston and McGlasson, and Myers and McGlasson; for Burlington, Conner and Slayback, and Brady and Slayback. Come out all ye fans and see two good games that afternoon.

They Take The Kinks Out.

"I have used Dr. King's New Life Pills for many years, with increasing satisfaction. They take the kinks out of stomach, liver and bowels, without fuss or friction," says N. H. Brown, of Pittsfield, Vt. Guaranteed satisfactory at Bentler's Drug Store, Erlanger. 25c.

GASSBURG.

The campers have left Split Rock for the season.

Politics is a great game but a mighty poor business.

Melons of excellent quality are still going to market in moderate numbers.

The country is full of wise politicians, who can tell you how the primary will result in every instance.

Nearly all of the tenants have rented for next year, consequently less than the usual moving will be done next spring.

The farmers in the big bottoms across the river set small value on straw. They have burnt about all from a large crop of wheat.

Rev. C. J. Casey, of Ebenezer Ridge, Ind., spent a day last week with your reporter. He is a very bright and entertaining gentleman.

Stock water is about as scarce as it ever gets to be. Peak's branch, which flows through this place, affords an unfailing supply for the surrounding country.

A syndicate wants to rent a large tract of land near Split Rock, next season, and erect a large number of tents and rent them to campers. If they succeed they will call it Camp City.

o o o

BIG BONE.

Next Saturday will be a lively day here. On that day a picnic will be in progress at the grove, while the local ball team will go up against the Belleview team at the ball park at 2:30. Everybody for miles around is expected to be at the springs by 2 p. m. that day to enjoy the unusual good entertainment that will be provided.

Personal Mention.

N. E. Riddell made a business trip to the city yesterday.

Mrs. Nellie Markland, of Cincinnati, was among the Monday callers at this office.

Garner Renaker is a guest of Burlington friends, having arrived here Monday evening.

Edward Passons, of upper Rabbit Hash, was transacting business in Burlington, yesterday.

A. B. Rouse attended the fair last Saturday at Sanders. He says it was a big success again this year.

Circuit Clerk J. A. Duncan made a business trip to Rabbit Hash ball-wick, yesterday. No doubt he adjusted an occasional rail on his political fence.

Bruce Henry, one of the confederates of the north end of the county, transacted business in Burlington last Monday. The older he gets the younger he looks.

Master Wyatt Westbay, of Covington, spent several days last week and the week before with Burlington friends. He entered the Covington High School, last Monday.

B. B. Aliphin, candidate for County Clerk, arrived in Burlington about noon, last Monday, dusty and tired, having been shaking the bushes diligently for several days.

Joshua Rice, of Illinois, and W. B. Arnold, of Slater, Missouri, were at the Harvest Home, last Saturday, and met many of their old friends. Time has dealt gently with each of them.

After spending several days recuperating at his grand father's, near Burlington, Joe Revil Furnish returned to his home in Covington to be ready to enter Covington High School, last Monday.

Mrs. Bert Gaines entertained in her usual happy manner, last Saturday night, the following bevy of gay young people: Misses Ruth and Jenette Huey, Carrie Graves, Sarah Gaines and Messrs. Sam McConnell and Howard Huey.

John W. White, the RECORDER's efficient Hathaway correspondent brought to the office, last Saturday, as he went to the Harvest Home, a sack of delicious pawpaws, which were devoured with a relish. Many thanks, brother White.

J. L. Clore, who moved to Covington something over a year ago, has rented the Boone House at this place and will embark in the hotel business. He came out last Monday evening to attend to having some repairs made on the building. His family will be here next week.

Miss Jennie Lee Castleman was one of the guests at the 6 o'clock dinner given last Monday by Mr. Geo. E. McGlassou, of the Bullitsville neighborhood, in honor of his son, Archie's, twenty second birth day. Several of the young man's Covington friends were present.

Otto Crisler returned to Indianapolis, last Monday, to begin his second year at the veterinary colege there. It requires a three years course at that institution to pull down a diploma, and Mr. Crisler entered the college with the determination of having the proper credentials when he bid farewell to the professors.

Misses Bessie Hail, Maud Hume and Laura Porter attended the six o'clock dinner served last Monday in honor of Archie McGlasson at the home of his father, Geo. E. McGlasson, of the Bullitsville neighborhood. They were chaperoned by Mrs. C. C. Hughes. Several of young McGlasson's Covington friends were in attendance.

E. Fitzgerald, of Fairberry, Illinois, after spending two weeks with his Boone county relatives and friends, returned home the first of last week. He is a very pleasant gentleman and his friends at his Old Kentucky Home are always glad to have him among them. Once a Kentuckian always a Kentuckian certainly holds good in Mr. Fitzgerald's case, and the scenes of his boyhood triumps will ever be dear to him.

THE RECORDER

W. L. RIDDELL, Publisher.

BURLINGTON, - - KENTUCKY

How to Deal with Them.

It is easier to prescribe for the evils of modern life than to administer the prescription. Years ago, when Boston was in the midst of a heated controversy as to means of transit, and the merits of elevated railways, subways and surface tracks were vigorously argued, good old Dr. Bartol—whom Phillips Brooks wittily characterized as "a moth-eaten old angel"—proposed a remedy for the municipal disease of congested traffic. It was wonderfully simple, if only the citizens would take it. "Let us hear no more," said the confident doctor, "of the impossible and dangerous crowds, the discomfort of slow, overloaded cars, the impeding of one vehicle by another. There is too much gadding and going. Let people bide at home." But the people heeded not the admonition, and subway and elevated railway and electric traction became accomplished facts. So with a thousand other complications of modern life. Our problem, declares the Youths' Companion, is not to prevent them, for they are already upon us, but to alleviate them. The crowded tenement must be offset by the free, open playground; the dirt and noise of railway trains must be reduced to the minimum; the evil of the slum must be held in check by sanitary regulations and inspection. To the development of these works of alleviation women are especially called. It matters less for the next half-century what new fields they enter than what old fields they make safer and pleasanter, says the Youths' Companion. It is of no use for them to raise the cry of the past, "Let people bide at home." The world will not heed that command. But when women workers for social betterment contrive to lessen noise and dirt and crowds and unproductive toil by methods suited to conditions as they are, the world will accept their service gladly, and will crown it with deserved praise.

Nothing has ever come of the talk of taxing bachelors in America. In Strassburg, Germany, the town council has adopted a system of paying municipal employes, which puts in effect a tax not only on bachelors, but on married men with small families. A standard schedule of salaries has been arranged, adapted to the needs of married men with three children. Single men between the ages of 20 and 25 years receive ten per cent. less than the schedule salary. When a man has more than three children he receives five per cent. more than the standard schedule, ten per cent. more for five children, and 15 per cent. more if he has seven children. A similar system has been in operation in Halberstadt for some time, with this difference, that the extra allowances for children are paid directly to the mothers.

I see that a society paper replies to the London Graphic's suggestion that the wedding present custom should be reversed and that bride and bridegroom should celebrate the joyous occasion by giving presents to their friends, by this novel proposition. One great trouble associated with wedding presents lies in their duplication. Now this difficulty might be met by the establishment of a wedding present bureau, where what you do not want can be exchanged for what you do. Here is an excellent opening for an enterprising business genius. For, says the Boston Herald, while American jewelers and art dealers often do exchange wedding presents, it would simplify the difficulty for them if such an exchange bureau was set up independently of their own establishments.

Prof. Roy, the French Esperantist, is urging the establishment of an independent Esperanto state in Europe. The site he has selected for his experiments is on a neutral strip of territory which lies on the frontier between Germany, Belgium and Holland, five miles from Aix-la-Chapelle. This territory is known as Moresnet, is situated in a pleasant valley, and has a population of 3,000 inhabitants. Esperanto is to be the official language of the place. The expenses of the state are to be borne by the subscriptions of Esperantists all the world over. The scheme includes an Esperanto theater, a daily official Esperanto gazette, and a sort of Esperanto parliament, which will meet periodically to discuss the affairs of the little state.

That Indiana court which has ruled that a nightgown is a luxury needs to have a few ounces of common sense poked into it. How does the court know when a fire is to call for an instantaneous rescue, or a burglar to call for what valuables there may be in the upper left-hand bureau drawer?

A Boston paper contains an article informing us that there are no longer any pirates. Of course not! It is safer and more profitable to run a trust or water up a franchise.

THE CORN RAISERS' NIGHTMARE.

TO JOIN IN GENERAL WAR

LABOR MEN TO TAKE PART IN FIGHTING TUBERCULOSIS.

Announcement Made That American Federation Will Join in Fight Against Plague.

Washington. — American workingmen and workingwomen, represented by the American Federation of Labor, will co-operate with the coming world's congress on tuberculosis to prevent the spread of consumption in workshops, homes and public buildings.

This developed at the session of the executive council of the federation, when the council decided to assume charge of a mass meeting to be held in connection with the congress on Sunday, October 4.

John Mitchell will preside and make an address emphasizing the importance to workingmen of the tuberculosis crusade. Samuel Gompers, president of the federation, will make the principal address. The effect of tuberculosis upon the workers will be proved by statistics, which show that 25 per cent. of all deaths between the ages of 15 and 45 are due to consumption.

It was decided that the American Federation of Labor make every effort to aid in furthering the movement among the people of our country to secure legislation for the conservation of our natural resources.

A resolution was adopted to urgently request President Roosevelt to intervene and prevent the surrender of Jan Pouren to the Russian government. Pouren participated in the revolutionary movement of the Baltic provinces to obtain a freer form of government for the people of Russia. When the revolution failed he escaped to the United States and obtained employment which he followed for more than eight months. Russian spies in the United States ferreted him out and now demand his extradition.

KAISER DOESN'T ENTER FRANCE.

William Changes His Mind About Ascending the Hohneck.

Altenberg, Alsace.—Emperor William disappointed the general expectation that he would set foot on French territory Friday in the course of a sight-seeing trip along the Vosges range. The French authorities forwarded his majesty a hearty invitation to do so and had made every preparation to welcome the imperial visitor. He had intended to ascend the Hohneck, the highest point in this vicinity, which is situated in French territory. From it a splendid view may be had of Remiremont and the valley of the Moselle river. Emperor William arrived here late in the afternoon and decided not to proceed across the frontier.

Commodities Clause Hit.

Philadelphia. — The commodities clause of the Hepburn railroad act was Thursday declared to be unconstitutional by the United States circuit court for the eastern district of Pennsylvania. Judges Gray and Dallas agreed in an opinion, covering 75 typewritten pages, that the clause is unconstitutional. Judge Buffington dissented, but did not file an opinion.

Gans Beaten by Nelson.

Colma Arena, San Francisco.—Battling Nelson clinched his claim to the lightweight pugilistic championship by defeating Joe Gans for the second time at Colma arena Wednesday afternoon. The fight ended in the twenty-first round when Gans, beaten down by a succession of blows from his sturdy conqueror, failed to get upon his feet within the count of ten.

Indicted for Arson in New Orleans.

New Orleans.—Julius Lipps, manager; Abe Wolf, secretary and treasurer of the Central Glass company of New Orleans, and John Eckert, an employe of that company, were indicted by the grand jury Wednesday night on the charge of arson in connection with a fire which about ten days ago burned over a portion of three blocks in the business section of New Orleans, causing a loss of $1,500,000. The fire originated in the building that was occupied by the Central Glass company.

DELAY IN BIG LABOR CASE.

Legal Proceedings Against Gompers and Others Are Postponed.

Washington. — The legal proceedings against President Samuel Gompers, Secretary Frank Morrison and John Mitchell of the American Federation of Labor, in which they were charged with contempt of the supreme court of the District of Columbia on account of acts and utterances apropos of the judgment of that court directing them to cease publishing the name of the Bucks Stove & Range company in their "We don't patronize" list, were virtually postponed for two weeks after a brief hearing Wednesday. Justice Gould of the supreme court presided.

The postponement was taken at the instance of counsel for the stove company and in opposition to the expressed wishes of Mr. Gompers and his associates, who complained of the delay as expensive and unnecessary. It was stated on behalf of the company, however, that it would be necessary to examine witnesses as to the issues made by the petition and the answers, and Justice Gould, saying that he saw no necessity for great haste and urging the desirability of affording both sides a full opportunity to be heard, granted the request. He appointed an examiner to take testimony, gave each side 20 days, and announced his own willingness to sit in the case after the facts shall have been ascertained.

BISHOP SPALDING RESIGNS.

Head of Peoria Diocese Retires Because of Ill Health.

Peoria, Ill.—The resignation of Rt. Rev. John Lancaster Spalding, bishop of the diocese of Peoria, was officially announced from his residence Thursday in the following note:

"Bishop Spalding having been ill for

Bishop John L. Spalding.

three years and a half, and foreseeing that some years must elapse before he has hope to resume active duty in the diocese of Peoria, has, after due consideration, resolved to tender his resignation as bishop of Peoria to Pope Pius X." The bishop is now in his sixty-ninth year and still suffers from the paralysis which brought him near to death."

Deposit Guaranty Law Upheld.

Guthrie, Okla.—The supreme court Thursday upheld the validity of the depositors' guaranty law, denying the injunction prayed by the Noble State bank to restrain the state from levying a one per cent. assessment upon the deposits of the bank. It was contended that the law is unconstitutional in that it levies on and takes private property without consideration. On this point Judge Huston in the Logan county district court overruled the bank and denied an injunction, the case then being appealed.

Young Wife Commits Suicide.

Seattle, Wash.—Mrs. John Davis, wife of one of the leading real estate dealers of the city, committed suicide by taking carbolic acid. She was 22 years old, he is 38, and they had been married only since March 15 last.

Paper Mill Men on Strike.

Millinocket, Me.—Responding to a telegram from their union headquarters, the 1,200 men employed in the mills of the Great Northern Paper Company here and at East Millinocket went on strike Friday.

WRIGHT BEATS OWN RECORD

AEROPLANE GOES 65 MINUTES AND 52 SECONDS.

Ten-Mile Wind Causes Machine to Pitch, But Does Not Stop Its Flight.

Washington.—Orville Wright Thursday broke the world's record for time and distance for a heavier-than-air flying machine which he established Wednesday. In a flight requiring great skill on account of a ten-mile wind, he circled around the drill grounds at Fort Myer 58 times in 65 minutes and 52 seconds, exceeding the time of Wednesday's record flight by three minutes and 37 seconds. The flight was witnessed by nearly a thousand people.

At 5:08 Mr. Wright signaled C. E. Taylor, his mechanic, to release the machine. The aeroplane rose from the ground almost immediately after leaving the single starting rail. It continued to climb higher with each successive round of the field, until it reached an altitude of 75 feet. For the first 30 seconds the machine flew as smoothly as on its previous flights, but from that time on it was seen to pitch at the turns, as the breeze from the west struck it.

Whenever the machine pitched, it could be plainly seen from below that it responded promptly to every move of the levers by the operator. One of Mr. Wright's assistants marked the time in large figures at intervals on the roof of a shed, in order that Mr. Wright might see how long he had been in the air.

A gust of wind, unusually strong, struck the aerial flyer during its forty-second round, and it plunged sharply, causing the crowd to exclaim in alarm. Mr. Wright then brought his machine lower, but on the fifty-third round he had reached an altitude of 200 feet. He came down at the northern end of the field at the end of the fifty-eighth round, landing easily.

Washington.—In a flight lasting one hour, ten minutes and 26 seconds, Orville Wright Friday surpassed all his exploits for a time and distance flight for a heavier-than-air machine. Two flights were made at Fort Myer, Va., the first being of ten minutes and 50 seconds' duration. The test demonstrated, according to the aviator's calculation, that the speed of the aeroplane during the record-breaking flights of Wednesday and Thursday was 39.55 miles an hour.—Changes in the aeroplane are to be made.

HURRICANE RUINS GRAND TURK.

Great Storm in West Indies Costs Many Lives.

Grand Turk, Turks Islands, B. W. I., —A hurricane of great fury swept over Turks Islands Thursday night and Friday morning, and at daybreak the town of Grand Turk was devastated. A number of lives have been lost, but just how many cannot be said.

Grave anxiety is felt for the safety of Dr. T. R. Robertson, district commissioner of Caicos, who was making a tour of the islands when the storm broke.

Much damage has been done to property here and the streets of Grand Turk are a mass of wreckage. Trees have been uprooted, portions of buildings blown away and many houses have been partially wrecked.

The Haitien sloop Telegraph, which had taken shelter at Hawks Nest, foundered with all hands. The schooner Dan Leon, belonging to the East Caicos Fiber Company, broke away from her anchorage and has not been seen since. All the salt lighters which were moored at the riding ground and the Hawks Nest are missing.

RECEIVER FOR A. BOOTH & CO.

Trouble of Big Concern Caused by Too Great Expansion.

Chicago. — A. Booth & Co., the $12,000,000 fish, game and sea food corporation, with branches extending from coast to coast, passed into the hands of a receiver late Thursday afternoon.

On petition of Alfred E. Booth and the Linen Thread Company of New York, Judge S. H. Bethea in the United States circuit court named William J. Chalmers, president of the Commercial National Safe Deposit Company, who took charge of the company's general office.

The general assets are placed at $8,000,000, exclusive of the company's good will, valued at $4,000,000, and the liabilities, according to the bill, approximate $5,500,000. Mr. Chalmers gave bond for $50,000.

Too great an expansion of the company's business and a large amount of outstanding short-time notes are the reasons given for the corporation's predicament.

Ohio Minister Is Jailed.

Richmond, Va.—Rev. Leonard W. Synder of Norwood, O., was arraigned in the police court here Tuesday, fined $15 and sent to jail for six months on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Dreyfus' Assailant Acquitted.

Paris.—With the acquittal Friday night by a jury in the assize court of Louis A. Gregori, who fired upon Maj. Dreyfus during the ceremonies last June incident to the placing of the body of Emile Zola in the Pantheon, the Dreyfus affair, which has divided France into two camps for 12 years, may be said to have been buried beyond all possibility of resurrection. Those present gave vent to their feelings according to their political views and the courtroom resounded with hoots and cheers.

Night Sweats & Cough.

E. W. Walton, Comdr. S. F. Ry., 719 Van Ness St., San Antonio, Tex., writes: "During the summer and fall of 1902, my annoyance from catarrh reached that stage where it was actual misery and developed alarming symptoms, such as a very deep-seated cough, night sweats, and pains in the head and chest. I experimented with several so-called remedies before I finally decided to take a thorough course of Peruna.

"Two of my friends had gone so far as to inform me that the thing for me to do was to resign my position and seek a higher, more congenial climate. Everyone thought I had consumption and I was not expected to live very long.

"Having procured some Peruna, I decided to give it a thorough test and applied myself assiduously to the task of taking it, as per instructions, in the meantime.

"The effects were soon apparent, all alarming symptoms disappeared and my general health became fully as good as it had ever been in my life.

"I have resorted to the use of Peruna on two or three occasions since that time to cure myself of bad colds."

More Refined.

Visitor—You say Bill was shot?

Cowboy—Well, we call it "death from lead poisoning."—St. Louis Times.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

WALDING, KINNAN & MARVIN,
Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent free. Price 75 cents per bottle. Sold by all Druggists.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

SOUNDS REASONABLE.

Karl—Papa, I suppose the soldiers have to learn to stand on one leg because they might have one foot shot off in war.

PLANT TRAMP BY INSTINCT.

California Cactus Blows Around the Desert for Months.

Curious among vegetable growths and one which is seldom seen of men is the rootless cactus of the California desert, says the Technical World. This plant, a round, compact growth, rolls about the level floor of the desert for some eight or nine months of the year, tossed hither and yon by the winds which blow with fierceness over all of California's sand plat during those months.

At the coming of the rains, or rather the cloudbursts, which sweep the desert in its springtime, this cactus takes root wherever it happens to have been dropped by the last wind of which it was the plaything and immediately begins to put out all around it small shoots, which in turn become cacti, exactly like the parent plant.

These young growths increase in size rapidly, sucking the moisture both from the parent plant and from the surrounding earth. The roots do not penetrate the soil deeply, but spread often over a circle whose radius is not less than ten feet. These roots, too, are small, but practically innumerable, and they get every bit of moisture and plant food to be had in the territory they cover.

"THE PALE GIRL."

Did Not Know Coffee Was the Cause.

In cold weather some people think a cup of hot coffee good to help keep warm. So it is—for a short time but the drug—caffeine—acts on the heart to weaken the circulation and the reaction is to cause more chilliness.

There is a hot wholesome drink which a Dak. girl found after a time, makes the blood warm and the heart strong.

She says:

"Having lived for five years in N. Dak., I have used considerable coffee owing to the cold climate. As a result I had a dull headache regularly, suffered from indigestion, and had no 'life' in me.

"I was known as 'the pale girl,' and people thought I was just weakly. After a time I had heart trouble and became very nervous, never knew what it was to be real well. Took medicine but it never seemed to do any good.

"Since being married my husband and I both have thought coffee was harming us and we would quit, only to begin again, although we felt it was the same as poison to us.

"Then we got some Postum. Well, the effect was really wonderful. My complexion is clear now, headache gone, and I have a great deal of energy I had never known while drinking coffee.

"I haven't been troubled with indigestion since using Postum, am not nervous, and need no medicine. We have a little girl and boy who both love Postum and thrive on it and Grape-Nuts."

"There's a Reason."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

THE SAFE WAY TO BUY PAINT.

Property owners will save a deal of trouble and expense in keeping their buildings properly painted, if they know how to protect themselves against misrepresentation and adulteration in paint materials. There's one sure and safe guide to a pure and thoroughly dependable White Lead—that's the "Dutch Boy Painter" trade mark which the National Lead Company, the largest makers of genuine White Lead, place on every package of their product. This company sends a simple and sure little outfit for testing white lead, and a valuable paint book, free, to all who write for it. Their address is Woodbridge Bldg., New York City.

An Artist's Generosity.

The famous painter Corot and his sister were joint owners of some house property in the Faubourg Poissonniere. One day one of the tenants—a tailor—came to Corot and said he could not pay his rent.

"What can I do for you?" asked Corot. "I cannot intercede for you with my sister, because I am not on good terms with my family." (As a matter of fact, Corot was regarded as a "failure" by his family.) "However," he added, "here is the money to pay the rent, only don't let anyone know I have given it to you."

The tailor after this used to return periodically when his rent was due and obtain the money from Corot, who remarked on one occasion, "I appear to be very generous, but I am not, because I get half of it back from my sister as my share of the rent."

EYESIGHT WAS IN DANGER

From Terrible Eczema—Baby's Head a Mass of Itching Rash and Sores —Disease Cured by Cuticura.

"Our little girl was two months old when she got a rash on her face and within five days her face and head were all one sore. We used different remedies but it got worse instead of better and we thought she would turn blind and that her ears would fall off. She suffered terribly, and would scratch until the blood came. This went on until she was five months old, then I had her under our family doctor's care, but she continued to grow worse. He said it was eczema. When she was seven months old I started to use the Cuticura Remedies and in two months our baby was a different girl. You could not see a sign of a sore and she was as fair as a newborn baby. She has not had a sign of the eczema since. Mrs. H. F. Budke, LeSueur, Minn., Apr. 15 and May 2, '07."

Lost His Senses at the Last.

Shaver—I hear your uncle is dead. Was he sensible to the last?

Shavee—No, he wasn't. The last thing he did was to cut me out of his will.

More proof that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saves woman from surgical operations.

Mrs. S. A. Williams, of Gardiner, Maine, writes:

"I was a great sufferer from female troubles, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored me to health in three months, after my physician declared that an operation was absolutely necessary."

Mrs. Alvina Sperling, of 154 Cleybourne Ave., Chicago, Ill., writes:

"I suffered from female troubles, a tumor and much inflammation. Two of the best doctors in Chicago decided that an operation was necessary to save my life. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound entirely cured me without an operation."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

SICK HEADACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Positively cured by these Little Pills.

They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, TORPID LIVER. They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable.

SMALL PILL, SMALL DOSE, SMALL PRICE.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Genuine Must Bear Fac-Simile Signature

Brent Good

REFUSE SUBSTITUTES.

Kentucky Gleanings.

Most Important News Gathered From All Parts of the State.

BIG CEMENT PLANT BURNS.

Blaze Started in Kiln that Spread Rapidly—Loss $200,000.

Louisville, Ky.—The plant of the Kosmosdale Cement Co. at Kosmosdale, 17 miles from this city, suffered a loss of $200,000 by fire. The blaze originated in the coal bin of the kiln, where a constant heat of 1,800 degrees is maintained.

Five raw mills, the power house and the kilns were razed.

An Illinois Central engine darted in and out amid the burning buildings and took out to safety thousands of barrels of cement. There were 300 men at work in the plant, which has a working force of 500, when the fire began, and General Manager C. M. Dugan sent the alarm into the city and by the time the department responded the flames were leaping skyward to the southwest and could easily be seen here.

The buildings were constructed of solid concrete. The plant is the largest in the south and is worth many millions of dollars.

FOR LIFE

Widow of Brewer Kellner Gets the Benefit of His Estate.

Louisville, Ky.—Typically the will of a "home man" was the testament of John F. Kellner, the late brewer, probated here. It disposes of about $200,000 worth of estate.

After having appointed his widow, Mary F. Kellner, executrix, with Frank Fehr and Louis Seelbach as her helpers, Kellner decides that it will be too much trouble for her and names Philip Sengel trustee and executor, with full right to act with majority stockholders of the various breweries in which Kellner holds interest.

The widow gets the estate for life, with a few provisions for the children when they come of age. In the event Mrs. Kellner remarries she is to get a dower, while the testator provides that the daughters, at the expense of the estate, may live in the family residence.

Wanted in Mississippi.

Morehead, Ky.—W. J. Rice, arrested in Lexington last week and brought here to answer a charge that he embezzled $17,000 from the bank of Morehead, of which he was once cashier, was arrested here by Depnty Sheriff W. J. Ligon, of Jackson, Miss., on a charge of embezzlement of a big sum from the bank there.

Crops Injured By Drouth.

Paducah, Ky.—Reports from all sections of Western Kentucky indicate that late corn, tobacco and forage crops have been materially injured by the drouth. The corn crop was exceptionally late on account of the wet spring and the general rush of putting in tobacco.

Educational Commission Meets.

Frankfort, Ky.—The Kentucky educational commission created by the last legislature for the purpose of revising the school laws, met here, and Superintendent of Instruction Crabbe submitted a bill that will be recommended to the next general assembly for passage.

To Transform Wharf Into Playground.

Louisville, Ky.—Members of the Woman's Outdoor Art League have undertaken to make a park of the local wharf. This is to be repaved with granite blocks by order of the city and the league is to erect summer houses for the river children to play in.

Kentucky Fugitive Taken.

Seattle.—Latimer D. Carter, who is wanted at Louisville, Ky., for the embezzlement of $60,000 from the estate of George L. Douglass, deceased, was arrested at Georgetown. His arrest here was caused by W. Rankin, of Louisville, who traced him here.

Rider Victim Driven From State.

Paducah, Ky.—Henry Bennett, a tobacco buyer and farmer of Dycusburg, Crittenden county, who was unmercifully whipped by night riders a few months ago, has moved to Indiana, and will file suit against his alleged assailant for damages in the U. S. Court.

Paint Lick Threatened By Blaze.

Lexington, Ky.—Paint Lick, in Garrard county, about twelve miles from Lancaster, suffered a disastrous fire. Seven stores, one hotel, one bank, the American tobacco warehouse, telephone exchange and other buildings were burned. Loss $100,000.

McPherson at Head of League.

Louisville, Ky.—Col. Ernest McPherson has been made executive head of the Civil Liberty League here. The organization plans in October to have 20,000 people in line declaring for personal liberty tenets.

Bell County Farmers To Meet.

Middlesboro, Ky.—Bell county farmers will meet here September 25-26, to discuss ways and means for the betterment of farming conditions in the Kentucky mountains, under auspices of the state agricultural department.

Dr. Durham Acquitted.

Danville, Ky.—Dr. Ben W. Durham, the Junction City druggist who shot and killed John Wright at Junction City, Ky., several days ago, was acquitted of the charge before Judge E. V. Puryear.

KILLS "CROPPER" IN ROW.

Men Quarreled Over Lawsuit and Knife Play Was Indulged In.

Russellville, Ky.—Harmon Whitaker aged 23 years, killed T. F. Carlisle, the father of two sons about Whitaker's age, shooting him twice, from the effects of which he died almost immediately.

The shooting was done in a stable lot on Whitaker's land, three miles west of this town, and no witnesses were present.

It is supposed to have been caused by a recent lawsuit between Whitaker and Carlisle's sons in which some knife play was indulged in, but was considered as satisfactorily settled.

Carlisle and his family were croppers on Whitaker's land.

Whitaker came to town and gave himself up to the sheriff, but would say nothing as to the cause of the shooting.

CHANGE MADE

In the State Board of Charitable Institutions.

Lexington, Ky.—The state board of control of charitable institutions at a meeting here made the following elections for terms of four years: R. F. McMichael, Jr., Lexington, steward of the feeble minded institute, Frankfort, to succeed John G. Evans; Dr. W. E. Renderm, Brownsville, second assistant physician at Eastern asylum Lexington, transferred to same position in Western asylum, Hopkinsville. Dr. C. A. Nevett, of Mead county, to be first assistant at Eastern asylum; Dr. W. E. Gardner, first assistant physician at Lakeland asylum. George C. Caywood, of Rowan county, was re-elected secretary of the board. The appointments are effective October 1.

Revision of School Laws Urged.

Frankfort, Ky.—One of the most important bills that will come before the next Kentucky legislature is that providing for the revision of the school laws. At the meeting of the educational commission held here, at which the organization took place, a bill, containing eight chapters, was recommended by Superintendent Crabbe and was referred to the various committees, who will make some kind of a report on its provisions at the meeting of the commission here on September 28.

Petitions Being Drawn.

Frankfort, Ky.—Petitions are being drawn by Judge Louis McQuown and Gov. Beckham to mandamus Auditor James to issue warrants in favor of the Western Normal schools at Bowling Green for $30,000; warrants in favor of $20,000 of the appropriation and $5,000 due on buildings for the Eastern Kentucky Normal school at Richmond, and warrants for $20,000 of the appropriation and $2,000 for buildings in favor of the State university at Lexington.

Quarreled Over a Hog.

Lexington, Ky.—Harry Gay, colored, went to the home of Isaac Carr, also colored, to demand possession of a hog. In this dispute Gay pulled a revolver and said he would pay with the contents. Carr responded with a load of buckshot, killing Gay instantly.

Some 200 Pastors Will Attend.

Middlesboro, Ky.—Ministers of the M. E. Church South are gathering here for their annual conference. Some 200 pastors will attend. Rev. J. L. Weher, of Mt. Sterling, Ky., examined a large number of candidates for admission.

Camp Named After Governor.

Lexington, Ky.—The Second Regiment, Kentucky National Guards, entered their annual encampment of six days at Fairlawn Farm. The camp has been named Augustus E. Willson. Major J. Embry Allen is the colonel commanding.

Found Dead in a Chair.

Lexington, Ky.—Henry T. Muir, 49, a farmer and wholesale ice cream manufacturer, complaining of being tired, sat in a chair at the colored fair grounds. When an effort was made to rouse him it was found that he was dead.

Will Hold Primary.

Frankfort, Ky.—A primary has been called in Anderson county, to be held November 7, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for senator on the democratic ticket for the 28th district. Representative W. E. Dowling is a candidate.

Governor Thought Him Innocent.

Frankfort, Ky.—Gov. Willson pardoned Adam Damron, of Pike county, sentenced to the penitentiary for one year on the charge of receiving stolen property. Gov. Willson says he thinks Damron is innocent.

Riders Rob Church.

Mayfield, Ky.—After using the church for sleeping apartments a band of "night riders" broke out panes of glass and robbed the vault of wine stored for communion purposes, at Arlington, a small village near Mayfield.

Warehouses Burn at Lebanon.

Lebanon, Ky.—The warehouses of the T. M. Estes Mill Co. caught fire and were destroyed. They contained 75,000 pounds of flour, a lot of wheat and other valuables. The loss is about $15,000, fully covered by insurance.

BRYAN ON TRUSTS

DISPELS IDEA THAT HE IS ENEMY OF INDUSTRY.

Democratic Candidate Logically Outlines His Policy for Regulation of Big Corporations—Plan Both Definite and Practical.

In fulfillment of his plan of elaborating and interpreting the various planks of the Democratic platform, Mr. Bryan chose the trust question for his subject at the Kern notification proceedings at Indianapolis. It is one of the most elusive of themes, as it is one of the most vexatious of problems. Mr. Bryan succeeded in dispelling the idea that he is the enemy of industry or the friend of centralization.

As was the case at Des Moines, where he handled the tariff question, Mr. Bryan had again the tremendous advantage of no embarrassing alliances, understandings or connections with the forces for whose control and regulation he argued. He left the Democratic remedies for trust evils more clearly understood and as logically placed as is possible without practical test.

His definition of a trust as a "corporation which controls so large a proportion of the total quantity of any article used in this country as to be able to regulate the price and terms of sale" is probably as good as any of the others, even if made to fit the platform declaration. It was also made clear that the fixing of 25 per cent. of the output of an article as the proportion of control which makes necessary a federal license was an arbitrary proceeding and 50 per cent. as the forbidden point beyond which control may not pass was equally arbitrary. To deny the correctness of these figures is merely one way of avoiding discussion of the correctness of the principle involved. For purposes of illustration, 15 and 40 per cent., or 35 and 60 per cent., would be as good. It is an insignificant matter.

The point is that where the extent of a business passes a certain line it ceases to be a matter of private concern; it becomes a matter of public concern for the very simple reason that the interests of the public are paramount. Beyond this point, whatever it is, there must be federal regulation and supervision. Beyond another point even such regulation and supervision promises no protection against the power and financial strength involved. Government itself may be smaller than the corporation which would control more than 50 per cent. of some commodities.

Mr. Taft's idea of recourse to injunctive process, when necessary, may be in greater harmony with legal theories than the fixing by law of arbitrary lines, but it leaves openings too large. Experience with the efficacy of the injunctive process has not been satisfying, and Mr. Roosevelt's experience in trying to free his party from trust domination is fruitful in indications pointing to failure of the Taft remedy.

With Mr. Bryan's elucidation of these points as the basis of the Democratic program for trust regulation, the remainder is a matter of detail, designed to contribute to the attainment of the one end—namely, the retention of the benefits that come from the perfecting of organization and economies under combination without seriously impairing competition or curtailing those equal opportunities essential to the development of individualism.

Compared to the vague and deceptive demand of the Republicans for "more laws" and the "amendment of existing laws," the Democratic plan has the merit of being definite and apparently both practical and practicable. It certainly would insure uniformity of treatment and admit the playing of no favorites.—St. Louis Republic.

New York World for Bryan.

The New York World has come straight into the Bryan camp. In a leading editorial the other day the World says:

"We are nearing the end of one stage of Roosevelt-ism. Its fruits are before us. In the name of false patriotism they are jingoism, imperialism, extravagance, plutocracy, centralization. They are violence, usurpation, panic, depression. They are contempt for law, contempt for courts, contempt for congress, contempt for the constitution. All these have been crystallized in the machine-made and corporation financed candidacy of a personally amiable and excellent proxy.

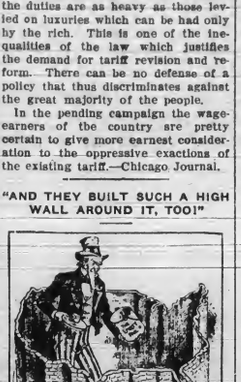
"Independently and firmly, voluntarily and conscientiously, and with a keen appreciation of its own responsibility to the public, the World, confronted on one side by Roosevelt-ism and Roosevelt's proxy and on the other by Democracy and Mr. Bryan, has no hesitation in saying that, within the limits of true Democracy, the Democratic ticket is entitled to the full Democratic vote."

Big Task on Their Hands.

Gov. Johnson's acceptance of renomination warns the Republicans of Minnesota to get busy if they are deluded enough to think they can overcome his plurality of 76,000 rolled up two years ago.

It is now said that encouraged by the more reasonable attitude of the judiciary, the Standard will increase its capital from $100,000,000 to $600,000,000. Thus the sunshine continues to spread.

TARIFF AND WAGE-EARNERS.



American Workers Sorely Oppressed and Receive No Benefit.

American wage-earners are sorely oppressed by the present high tariff. Even if it be admitted that the tariff enables some of them to obtain better wages than they perhaps could under lower duties, the number of such is relatively small. It embraces only those who are employed in certain industries. To the great majority of workers the high tariff is not only of no benefit, but imposes exactions which to many are cruelly burdensome.

The tariff reaches about everything that the wage-earner must have. There is hardly a necessity that is not included in the schedules of the Dingley law, and on not a few of these the duties are as heavy as those levied on luxuries which can be had only by the rich. This is one of the inequalities of the law which justifies the demand for tariff revision and reform. There can be no defense of a policy that thus discriminates against the great majority of the people.

In the pending campaign the wage-earners of the country are pretty certain to give more earnest consideration to the oppressive exactions of the existing tariff.—Chicago Journal.

"AND THEY BUILT SUCH A HIGH WALL AROUND IT, TOO!"

—Philadelphia Record.

Fallacious Finance.

If you had $250,425,623 to your credit in the banks, and you had notes or bonds coming due, amounting to $63,945,460 on August 1, drawing three per cent. interest, would you pay what you owe, or allow the notes to run for ten years longer? It would seem to be a plain business proposition to pay the notes and thus save two per cent. interest. The above statement of the amount of money on deposit in the banks and the bonds due on August 1, is the exact condition of the United States treasury on July 17, but it is stated that Secretary Cortelyou intends to allow the $63,000,000 of bonds to run and still draw three per cent. interest instead of paying them.

Those outstanding bonds were issued on August 1, 1898, on the three per cent. 10-20 basis, that is the government can redeem the bonds on the expiration of ten years, or can allow them to run ten years longer. Those outstanding bonds can also be refunded with new bonds drawing two per cent. interest, so that instead of the government having to pay annual interest of about $1,920,000 a year this interest charge would be reduced to $1,280,000 a year.

There would be no doubt about what a business man would do under these circumstances. He would undoubtedly pay the bonds and stop paying interest. But the government finances are evidently not run on business principles, but appear to be manipulated, for the benefit of the national banks or some other Wall street favorite who owns the bonds.

Railroads and Politics.

Are railroad rates to be raised on August 1? The railroad managers claim that either rates must be increased or wages reduced to make both ends meet. The Republican politicians say that to reduce wages during the campaign might lead to strikes and the defeat of the Republican ticket. This puts the railroad managers in a dilemma that it is difficult to extricate themselves from, for they have decided it is for their best interests to elect Mr. Taft, and they, therefore, do not wish to embarrass the Republican managers by reducing wages, so it is said they will increase railroad rates about ten per cent. The business interests are much opposed to an increase of rates which would naturally lead to a decrease in traffic. All this shows the necessity of a divorce of railroad policies from Republican politics, or both will suffer. The people are in no mood to indorse the Republican candidates if they are to pay the freight, and the railroad employes will oppose, even to the point of a gigantic strike, a reduction of wages while the cost of living is still so high.

It is difficult to decide the merits of the controversy, but however it is settled it would seem to spell disaster to the Republicans.

The Pestiferous Tariff.

Another reason why the Democrats should keep still about the pestiferous tariff is that they haven't a chance to revise it. Within a week 50 fearful Republican papers have pointed that out, not with viciousness, but in a spirit of kindliness. After they have given this sage counsel to the Democrats, they always fall to discussing the hopelessness of Democratic preponderance in the United States senate. That is always a happy Republican argument. The senate stands now immutably committed to the crime of Dingleyism, so the Democrats might as well indulge in no displays of peevishness over the tariff.

NEW TOWN MODEL

FILIPINO VILLAGE IS RUN IN YANKEE FASHION.

General Bliss' Report of Conditions in Dependencies Tells of Efforts to Give Natives a Clean Municipality.

Within earshot of the bugles of Uncle Sam and on the opposite side of the Agus river from the military post of Camp Keithley, District of Lanao, Moro Province, P. I., has sprung up the town of Dansalan, which Gen. Tasker H. Bliss, U. S. A., in his annual report says is probably "the first and only instance in the Philippine islands of the establishment of an orderly and well-regulated community after the manner followed by the Anglo-Saxon settlers of the United States." His description of its beginning throws an instructive sidelight upon the strange land "laws" of the country, and shows how things often have to be done there outside the pale of the law to obtain results that are demanded by the needs of the people.

The new town grew out of the necessity of removing the settlement of squatters at Marahui on the military reservation of Camp Keithley. After much deliberation they decided to transfer themselves from the northern to the eastern shore of Lake Lanao. They then raised by voluntary subscription the sum of 3,000 pesos, which they placed in the hands of a committee of three Americans of their number, who negotiated with the Moros for an eligible site near enough to the military reservation to be assured of some protection, and purchased it. The site was then carefully laid out, and in accordance with a previous agreement lots were sold at public auction to an amount sufficient to reimburse the subscribers of the original purchase price of the site. The remaining lots were then deeded to the town to be sold to new settlers.

"This well-considered, orderly and sensible procedure is, strange to say, in its entirety without sanction of law," the report admits. "Neither the datto, with whom the settlers negotiated, nor any of his followers had proved nor could prove title under existing laws. Neither the individual settlers nor the town could acquire title through the datto. But the datto and all his followers believed that the land belonged to him under Moro law or customs and that he could dispose of it as he did. If the settlers had not recognized these believed rights of his, if they had camped upon the site as being waste, unoccupied, uncultivated public land and should have proceeded to acquire title under the provisions of the land law whenever the latter should be made to apply, without compensation to the Moros, they would have brought on a war. There can be no doubt that their recognition of the fact that the Moro was there with his gun and his spear, and that his gun and spear (in the absence of a greater number of opposing guns) gave him a valid title for which they had to negotiate, was the only sensible, civilized and just thing for them to do. No doubt the rights they have thus acquired will in due time be confirmed."

A narrow-minded stickler for equity might in this instance, as probably in many others, have brought on hostilities which the tact of an army officer was able to avoid. A novel feature in this case is that the mass of the settlers are not Anglo-Saxon with a long inheritance of the principles of independent and self-governing village life, but are Chinese, Japanese, Filipinos and Moros who, without hesitation, submitted themselves to the domination and guidance of a few Americans. "It is an illustration of what would happen could a sufficient number of American settlers of the old sturdy stock—just such as those who are already here—be induced to settle in the province."

In the country occupied by the Tirurayes south of Cotatato Gen. Bliss finds a territory especially inviting to the investor. The people are teachable, and with kind and just treatment, would become reliable laborers. No white man, however, should invest either his own labor or his capital without assurance of this native labor. The people are kindly disposed toward the white men, which cannot be said of the Moros, who, paradoxically, "like the white man's government, which is just and firm, but have no liking for the white man himself."

Good Enough for Him.

A country lad was invited by a town friend to attend a concert with him. As they were on their way to the concert hall the boy from the country suddenly stopped and asked the price of admission.

"Well," replied his friend, "the front seats are 50 cents each; the back seats 25 cents each and the program ten cents each."

"I'll sit in a program," said the country lad.

Burdened with Wealth.

"Did your try cure for Insomnia?"

"Yes, doc, but I made a mess of it. I counted 10,000 sheep, put 'em on cars and shipped 'em to market. The wad of money I got for 'em made me afraid to go to sleep."—Kansas City Journal.

Transient New Yorkers.

The transient hotel population of New York is figured at 250,000 people a day. The hotel properties are valued at over $80,000,000.

G. G. Hughes,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
BURLINGTON, KY.
Will practice in all the courts. Prompt attention given to all business entrusted to me.

N. E. Riddell,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.
Prompt Attention given to Collections Will practice in all the courts.

S. Gaines,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.
Will practice in all the courts, and prompt attention given collections. Office—Over D Rouse's store.

D. E. Castleman,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.
Will practice in the Courts of Boone Kenton, Grant and Gallatin. Collections pushed energetically.

J. C. CLORE, W. W. DICKERSON
E. T. CLAYTON.
Clore, Dickerson & Clayton,
ATTORNEYS-at-LAW
Will practice in the State and U. S. Courts of Northern Ky., and Southwestern Ohio. Cincinnati Office: N. E. Cor 6th & Vine; Phone, Main 2029.
Mr. Dickerson will spend a portion of his time at the Williamstown office.

BOONE CO. DEPOSIT BANK
(Incorporated 1886.)
CAPITAL,..... $50,000
Surplus and undivided profits $7,000
—)o(—
Our facilities enable us to receive on favorable terms accounts of individuals and corporations. Collections promptly remitted for at Lowest Rates.

ERLANGER DEPOSIT BANK.
INCORPORATED 1893.)
ERLANGER, - - KENTUCKY
Capital Stock paid in..... $50,000
Surplus,.. ..... $8,000
Careful attention given collections, and remittances promptly made. Deposit accounts solicited.

Dr. J. L. Adams,
DENTIST,
208 F. & T. Bank Building,
COVINGTON, - KY.
—will be in office—
AT ERLANGER EVERY THURSDAY.

W. E. VEST,
Real Estate Agent.
Farms Bought, Sold or Exchanged, Money to Loan on Real Estate, Notes bought, sold & Negotiated.
All communications addressed to W. E. VEST, Walton, Ky.

CHAS. GARNETT,
AUCTIONEER.
Will be in Burlington every court day. Fees for selling stock reasonable. Public Sales given special attention.

INSURE AT HOME
The Farmers' Mutual Fire
INSURANCE COMPANY,
OF BOONE COUNTY,
Is now completely organized and receiving applications for insurance.
Its RATES are LOWER
Than those of any other Company and gives the farmers of Boone Co.
HITHERTO UNKNOWN ADVANTAGE
in keeping their property insured.
Average cost of insurance on $1,000 for a period of five years is $9 45, less than one per cent per $1,000.
Every Farmer in the County should take a policy at once.
Edgar Cropper, Pres., Burlington, Ky.
Noah Tanner, V Pres., Gunpowder, Ky.
F. A. Utz, Treas., Florence, Ky.
Malchus Souther, Secy., R. F. D.—1, Ludlow, Ky.
R B. Huey, Agent, Burlington, Ky.
J E. Smith, Assessor, Burlington,
Executive Board—Legrand Gaines, J. W. Conner, Solon Early.

F. W. Kassebaum & Son,
GRANITE & MARBLE
MONUMENTS,
Burial Vaults and Cemetery Work of all Kinds.
Building Stone, Flagging, Settees and Vases.
Office and Warerooms:
70 and 82 [illegible] Street,
AURORA, IND.
IRA POPE Agent, [illegible]ant, Ky

C. L. GRIFFITH,
DEALER IN
REAL ESTATE
and negotiable Notes,
WALTON, KY.
If you want to buy or sell Town Property or Farms, write me.
Write for printed list.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

FOR COUNTY JUDGE.

P. E. Cason is a candidate for Judge of the County Court of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

J. B. Walton, of Constance, is a candidate for County Judge of Boone county, subject to the Primary Election, November 3d, 1908.

Sidney Gaines is a candidate for Judge of the County Court of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November, 3, 1908.

FOR COUNTY ATTORNEY.

N. E. Riddell is a candidate for County Attorney of Boone County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

FOR CLERK OF COUNTY COURT

Charles (Caddie) Maurer, of Belleview, is a candidated for Clerk of the Boone County Court, subject to the Democratic Primary election, November 3, 1908.

Owen S. Waits, of Walton, is a candidate for Clerk of the Boone County Court, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

B. B. Allphin, of Walton, is a candidate for Clerk of the Boone County Court, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary Election November 3, 1908.

J. H. Rogers, of Walton, is a candidate for Clerk of the Boone County Court, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

D. B. Dobbins, of Richwood, is a candidate for Clerk of the Boone County Court, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

J. C Hankins, of Hebron, is a candidate for County Court Clerk of Boone county, subject to the Primary Election, November 3d, 1908.

FOR CIRCUIT CLERK.

J. A. Duncan, of Burlington, is a candidate for Circuit Court Clerk of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, Nov. 3d, 1908.

FOR SHERIFF.

W. D. Cropper, of Burlington, is a candidate for Sheriff of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

B. B. Hume, of Burlington, is a candidate for Sheriff of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, Novmeber 3, 1908.

FOR ASSESSOR.

R. H. Stephens, of Rabbit Hash, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1907.

John W. Williams, of Union, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

Lewis Clore, of Rabbit Hash, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election November 3, 1908.

E. C. Franks, of Big Bone, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

C. P. Robinson, of Big Bone, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election November 3, 1908.

T. G. Willis, of Bullittsville, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3d, 1908.

John Kelsey, of Hebron, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

Geo. W. Ward, of Rabbit Hash, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

FOR SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT.

Almer M. Yealey, of Florence, is a candidate for Superintendent of Schools of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

Elbert S. Ryle, of Burlington, is a candidate for Superintendent of Schools of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

Edgar C. Riley, of Burlington, is a candidate for Superintendent of Schools of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, Nov. 3d, 1908.

FOR JAILOR.

Samuel Adams is a candidate for Jailer of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

FOR SURVEYOR.

W. E Vest is a candidate for Surveyor of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

FOR REHRESENTATIVE.

J. W. Berkshire, of Petersburg, is a candidate for Representative of Boone county in the next Legislature, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3d, 1908.

FOR JUSTICE OF THE PEACE.

R. H. Tanner, of Florence, is a candidate for Justice of the Peace in the Magisterial District composed of the Constance and Florence voting precincts, subject to the Democratic Primary election November 3, 1908.

E. O. Rouse, of Florence is a candidate for Justice of the Peace in the Magisterial District composed of the voting precincts of Constance and Florence, subject to the Democratic Primary election November 3, 1908.

J. H. Watson, of Walton, is a candidate for Justice of the Peace in the Magisterial District composed the Walton and Verona voting precincts subject to the Democratic Primary Election November 3, 1908.

Ezekiel Aylor, of Hebron, is a candidate for Justice of the Peace in the Magisterial District composed of the voting precincts of Burlington and Bullittsville, subject to the Democratic primary election, November 3, 1908.

It looks like Mr. Bryan will start a great many of the mills this fall.

Republican View of Bryan.

Walter Wellman, the Veteran Republican correspondent of the Chicago Record Herald, an independent Republican paper, says in part of W. J. Bryan:

"This man who is now hard at work reshaping, remaking, recreating the Democratic party, under his own leadership is the marvel of the age. In his personality he is one of the most remarkable men of our day. He is now a strong, a ripe, a full man. He is indeed the new Bryan. He has grown in poise and wisdom and judgment and insight and grasp till he has become almost ideal as a leader, as a doer of the sort of work that now lies in his hand. We who judge him simply as a performer from the artistic side, from the view point of competence and cleverness and adaptability—simply as a player of a great game which interests us because it is great and well played—cannot withhold from him the meed of our praise and admiration. We remember the Bryan of old, eloquent but inexperienced, passionate but poor of judgment, a born preacher and crusader, a little fanatical, somewhat narrow, inclined to harbor personal resentments, bigoted as many strong and earnest men are to the point where they do not much like those who disagree with them, inclined to think that whatever they stand for must be right and that it is their duty to convince all mankind to their way of thinking. The new Bryan is better balanced, more tolerant, nor less sincere, but more adaptable, still the preacher by instinct, but the harmonizer and builder by trade. He has grown and he has learned. A fine type of the race of men we Americans are proud of is he, as he walks along the railway platform or up on the broad veranda of his home with his marvelous memory for faces and names, his winning smile, his cherry "Hello, Jim," or "How are you, John?" Back of the smile and the nice manner and the winsomeness is every inch the man—masterful, intellectual, tenacious, dominant. You like the smile and the handshake. But you never forget the forcefulness behind them."

He Withdraws.

DEAR RECORDER:—Kindly say to the people of Boone that I have withdrawn from the Sheriff's race. I thank my friends for their loyal support and encouragement while in the race. Those that were opposed to me I have not the least unkind feeling towards them. Remember that I am a candidate for reelection as secretary of the Boone County Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Company. As ever your friend,

MALCHUS SOUTHER.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Pt. Pleasant Grange No. 421, P. of H.

FLORENCE, KY., Sept. 7, 1908

Whereas, Since it has pleased the Supreme Architect of the Universe in His infinite wisdom and mercy, to translate our brother, T. L. Utz, from the trials and tribulations of this transitory existence to a state of endless duration, therefore, be it

Resolved, That in his death the brothers and sisters of Point Pleasant Grange have sustained an irreparable loss and the community at large an honorable and upright citizen, and the family a most kind and indulgent husband and father, therefore, be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to his bereaved family, a copy sent to the Boone County RECORDER for publication, and a page be set apart to his memory in the Secretary's book.

Committee:—Ezra K. Tanner, Charles H. Tanner. Stella M. Carpenter.

It is so dry that the feathers on the young chickens will not grow.

The Ohio river is lower at this time than it has been for several years.

Stephen Robbins, one of the prosperous farmers in Pleasant Valley neighborhood, was a visitor to the hub yesterday.

A. B. Renaker and wife spent last Saturday and Sunday with his relatives in Grant county. He reports vegetation as completely cooked.

Rev. Stith, the pastor, assisted by Rev. Andrews, of Covington, is conducting a protracted meeting at the Burlington Baptist church. It has been in progress since last Sunday night.

A railroad fire below Erlanger, last Saturday, burnt over considerable territory and destroyed a fine young orchard belonging to R. K Dulaney. A large force of people turned out to fight the fire.

Golden Blend Coffee
20c lb
BEST ON EARTH

GEO. C. GOODE,
—AGENT—
Groceries and Medicines,
N. E. Cor. Pike & Washington,
Covington, - - - Kentucky.

Money-Worth Coffee
Lb 17c
3 Lbs. 50c.
Best for the Price in Town.

NEW STORE
The B. GROSS CLOTHING Co.
S. E. Cor. 7th & Madison Ave.,
Covington, - Kentucky,
Is open with a Complete Line of
—UP-TO-DATE—
Clothing, Hats and Gents' Furnishings.
Prices Lowest and Satisfaction Guaranteed or Money Refunded.
JOHN T. SHEEHAN, Manager.

W. H. CLARK

—SELLS THE—
W. L. Douglas Shoes
FOR MEN.
Coarse and Fine, Plain and Cap Toe, Lace and Blucher
—AT—
$1.50, $2.00, $2.50, $3.00 and $3.50
MANY OTHER GOOD BRANDS OF
Men's and Boys' Shoes
9, 12, 14 and 16 Inch Lace.
Ladies! We sell the famous Krippendorf-Dittman, Drew-Selby and many other good brands of Shoes.
Every Pair is Guaranteed to be worth Price Paid.
W. H. CLARK,
Two Doors above National Bank.
Rising Sun, - - Indiana.

For Sale Privately.
My entire Stock of Goods consisting of
GENERAL MERCHANDISE,
Also House and Lot in Belleview, Boone County, Ky.
Have a good established trade. Any one desiring this location will call on or write me at once.
E. E. KELLY, Grant P. O., Ky.

Boone Co. Deposit Bank,
BURLINGTON, KY.
The Oldest Bank in Boone County,
PAYS 3 PER CENT. INTEREST ON TIME DEPOSITS,
With $100,000 protection to its Depositors as follows:

Capital Stock	$30,000
Surplus and Undivided Profits	40,000
Liability of Stockholders	30,000
Total Security for Depositors	$100,000

COURTESY EXTENDED TO ALL.

Bear In Mind
A Square Deal to Every Man
Is Our Motto.
We give you Honest Clothing at "Honest Prices." We give you the Style, Quality, Fit and Workmanship and we guarantee .....OUR PRICES THE LOWEST.....
We still have a fine line of
Men's & Boys' Spring and Summer SUITS
and it will be to your interest to examine them before buying elsewhere.

Men's Nice Suits	$5.00, $6.00, $7.50
Men's Fine Suits	$10.00, $12.50, $15.00, $18.00
Boys' Suits	$4.00, $5.00, $7.50, $10.00, $12.00
Children's Suits	$1.50 to $5.00
Fine Line of Men's Pants	$1.00 to $5.00

Big Line of Cottonade and Camlet Pants just the thing for hot weather. We have some nice Suits in Odds and Ends which we will sell at much reduced prices.
Rolfes & Wachs,
RELIABLE CLOTHIERS,
No. 1 PIKE STREET,
Cor. Madison Ave., Covington, Ky.

You Can Always Find the
Best and Largest Stock of
Buggie, Carriage, Draft and Farm Harness
AT REASONABLE PRICES
Riding Saddles in all sizes and Styles; Horse Clothing, Flynets and Horse Boots. Also a full line of Trunks, Traveling Bags and Suit Caser at
Chas. Mahlmann, Jr.
Phone, S. 957-X 32 Pike Street, COVINGTON, KY.

The New Iowa
New in Kentucky,
But a Leader in the West
NOTE WHAT WE CLAIM FOR IT.

The Only Separator
made to day, that will skim to a trace, warm or cold milk.
Easiest Cleaned, Lightest Running, Mechanically Right
Farmers and Dairymen wanting to buy Separators should see the Iowa before making a purchase. It is absolutely the best, no other just as good costs no more. Why not have it? Over two car loads sold in Kentucky in two months. Write us for literature, good reading matter and very learning. We have all kinds of Tools, Farming Implements, Contractors Supplies, &c. The best line of Plows, Grain Drills, Feed Cutters and Mills. We have some new and slightly used Sharpless Separators we will sell at bargains.
We will Save You Money.
The Fischer Bros. Company,
(Incorporated)
1046 Madison Ave. COVINGTON, KY.
729-731 Monmouth St. NEWPORT, KY.
Everything Marked in Plain Figures. One Price to All.

Take Your County paper.

They Broke Camp.

After an outing of several days down on Gunpowder creek, the crowd of Erlanger young men broke camp, last Friday, and returned home. The camp was equipped in a very complete manner, and the young men had a great time from start to finish. Earl Shearer, a newspaper and magazine cartoonist, was a member of the party, and a cartoon, illustrative of camp life, he sent a lady friend in Burlington, would lead a stranger to believe that the party was provided with something other than creek water with which to slack thirst, but the known temperance proclivities of the young men banish that thought from the minds of everyone acquainted with them.

Quite a number of persons want the position of carrier on rural mail route No. 3 to be put in operation from Burlington on the first day of next December, and the probability is a large class of applicants will submit to the examination for the position. Go in boys, Uncle Sam is good pay.

Cropper and Hume have put in a couple of days this week shaking the bushes up in Clearmont county, O., not for votes but for an alleged horse thief.

For several days last past the dust and smoke has almost obscured the sun, giving it a very brassy look. This is typical Indian summer.

Don't forget the double header to be pulled off at the Burlington ball park next Saturday afternoon.

Some of the leaves on the trees appear to be just about cooked. Many of them have fallen.

The little girl of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Nichols has been quite ill for several days.

After A Horse Thief.

Deputy Sheriff B. B. Hume received a telephone message from police headquarters in Cincinnati, last Saturday, to come to the city on Sunday; that it was believed that the parties who stole the horse from Joseph Graham's pasture, near Francesville, a few nights before could be captured. At the time the horse was stolen a saddle was taken from Bruce Henry, a neighbor of Mr. Graham. The officer and Mr. Henry responded to the telephone message. Mr. Henry identified the saddle at once. It was known that a man named Markley sold the saddle and that a man named Robinson was connected with the transaction. Markley was captured Sunday night, but Robinson had left the city. Both of these men are well known in the north part of the county, Robinson having lived there many years. Monday morning Mr. Henry and Mrs. Nellie Markland, the latter of Cincinnati, and to whom the stolen horse really belonged, came to Burlington and swore out warrants before County Judge Cason, charging Clifford Markley and Charles Robinson with horsestealing. Deputy Sheriff W. D. Cropper took the warrants and hastened to Cincinnati with them. It having been learned that Robinson had gone to Clearmont county, the deputy sheriffs hastened to that county, hoping to capture Robinson, but up to this morning nothing has been heard as to what they have done.

Thanks to C. H. Acra, Belleview correspondent for a nice watermelon.

The town cow that will pay for her keep the coming winter will be a good one.

Elmo Gaines has been sworn in as deputy sheriff and has charge of the office at the court house.

Local News.

Next—Thanksgiving day.

Zimmer has hauled a large lot of fruit through Burlington in the last few weeks.

The Boone County Medical Society will hold its regular meeting to-day in Florence.

Some have taken advantage of the long dry spell to have their wells cleaned out.

There is no telling how high the price of corn will be before another crop is raised.

William Calamese, of Bullittsville, was transacting business in Burlington, last Friday.

James A. Riddell's stallion, D. F. C., won the 2:24 trot in 2:29 at Latonia on Labor Day.

This has been the best year to push the work on the Home City lock and dam since the work began.

Rev. M. C. Frazeir will preach at Sand Run church next Sunday, the 20th inst., at 11 o'clock a. m.

Prof. W. P. Dickey has entered upon his duties as professor of latin in Richmond, Virginia, College.

J. M. Barlow, of Pleasant Valley neighborhood, passed through Burlington, last Friday, with a considerable drove of stock sheep.

NOTICE—Notice is hereby given that travel through my farm via the gateway is positively forbidden.
JOHN J. DUNCAN.

Ezekiel Aylor, of Francesville neighborhood, enters the race for Justice of the Peace in Burlington and Bullittsville voting precincts.

Last Saturday it looked like everybody down on the East Bend road and on all its tributaries, past thru Burlington enroute to the Harvest Home.

Already have those who spend the winter in Florida, begun thinking and talking about the pleasures soon to be encountered in the land of flowers.

The candidates were about the busiest people in the county last week. The scarcity of water and the abundance of dust had no effect on their business.

The purchase of the Evans land adjoining Burlington by R. B. Carver has put the old Latimer tract nearly in tract again, D. E. Castleman's home place being out yet.

John W. Rouse, of Gunpowder, made the RECORDER a pleasant call one day last week as he was returning from the Belleview melon fields with a load of luscious melons.

The melon season is closing out. The melons were not large but were of a superior flavor, owing to the dry weather, probably, that has prevailed since they set on the vines.

William Kirkpatrick, the Hopeful dealer in livestock, came from towards Belleview, one day last week, with a large drove of pretty nice cattle which he had collected that day.

The RECORDER office was given a general shake-up last week in which a carpenter played a cousplcuous part, and to say the room presented the appearance of a first-class wreck is describing it mildly.

John Wilson, son of Robert Wilson, who lives on F. H. Rouse's farm near Burlington, left San Francisco, California, a few days ago, for the Philippine Islands. He enlisted in the navy a few months ago.

Bert Sullivan and Albert Conner are hauling a large quantity of rock to have broken and spread on the public road known as the Union road. This has been a splendid fall for hauling stone out of the creeks.

An effort is being made to raise by subscription sufficient money with which to build a large cistern in the court house yard. The cistern is needed badly and ought to be built by the town, as its citizens are responsible for the cistern in front of the court house being dry.

There appears to be a rivalry between the Owen county papers as to which can put up the longest list of compliments for some of the candidates; but then there is some who do not share in the nice things one paper says while the other goes its length in the way of compliments for them.

Go away from home to hear the news, is an old saying which the RECORDER had verified last Saturday. In its last issue it gave the get of the Jack, Jerry H. K. Glass, the credit of taking the premiums at the mule show in Burlington on the first Monday in this month, when, in fact the premium mule colts were the get of Lanky Bob, the jack the Burlington Jack Co. sold to the Bullittsville Jack Co. The RECORDER was not aware of the injustice it had done the Bullittsville Jack Co. until some of its members complained to it about it a few days since.

A week or so before the Florence fair John Baldon reported the loss of a $20 bill. As to how or when it disappeared he could not divine, but about 10 days ago it was discovered, he having paid it to Annie Thomas, colored, who did the washing of his clothing. When he paid the woman he gave her the bill for a $2 bill and she did not know the difference until a few days since when she wanted to use it in paying off a small bill at the postoffice, and her attention was called to its denomination. She at once remarked, "why, that bill belongs to Mr. John Baldon. He gave it to me for his washing, and I put it in that rag and tied it up and never saw it since until now." She at once took steps to return the money to Mr. Baldon, who is in Denver, Colorado.

Water Thieves at Work.

Several persons about town complain of water being stolen from their cisterns. On Sunday night before last county court day, all the water was pumped out of the public cistern at the court house. The water thief is a new brand in this part of the county.

Is Doing Well.

The Union Creamery has been doing exceedingly well this summer considering the dry weather and poor conditions of the pastures. The farmers in that part of the county realize that they have a good thing from both a financial point and for the improvement of their lands.

Considerable Fever in the County.

Some predict that there will be a great deal of sickness this fall, the result of the long dry spell and impure water. There is now considerable fever in the county, some cases of which are quite serious. The weather has been so hot that vegetables in the gardens have not matured as nicely as they should which may have something to do with health conditions.

Another Good Woman Gone.

Margarett A. Ryle (nee Presser) died at the family home in Cass County, Mo., Aug. 26th, 1908. She had been in poor health a long time, was 77 years, 5 months and 6 days old. She was born and raised in this county, and married P. S. Ryle, Sr., October 2, 1849. She leaves five children, six grandchildren and four great-grand-children. She was a sister of Hogan Presser, of Rabbit Hash, and was a true Christian.

Garden Truck very Scarce.

Just at the present there is a great scarcity of garden truck in this community, the dry weather having practically ruined the vegetables of all kinds. The prospects for late roasting ears is not encouraging by any means and where we are going to get something to eat is beginning to be quite a problem with a great many. It will be too bad to have to begin on macaroni, hominy, grits, etc., this time of the year, but if conditions do not improve in a very few days that is just what will have to be resorted to.

The Outlook Not Good.

Taking Boone county in its entirety its oldest citizen never saw crop conditions so deplorable, but for all that the people are in good spirits, and anticipate a change of weather conditions for the better from day to day. The water supply is short in every neighborhood, and many people are hauling water for use at their houses, while cattle are being driven a considerable distance for water. Should a fire break out in a town in Boone county it would have to run its course as there is no water with which to extinguish it. Water was never scarcer than at present in this county, but it is said that there are localities in neighboring counties, where the water famine is very much worse that it is anywhere in Boone.

If You can't Push Don't Knock.

Give Edgar Riley and his school all the encouragement in your power. The knocker is heard further in this world than the booster, but it is hoped the former, if any there be in regard to the school, will hold his peace until the school is given a fair trial. Wait until there is something to knock for. The school began last Monday morning under very favorable conditions, the three instructors, Profs. Riley, Florence and Huey being on had promptly and ready to take up their work. About 50 pupils were enrolled Monday and the day was spent in examinations for the purpose of enabling the proper grading of the pupils. It will require this week to get the school in running order. One thing that was very pleasing to the teachers, Monday, was the great interest the several patrons present manifested in the school.

To All Members of the Burley Tobacco Society:

Your attention is hereby urgently called to the fact that the By-Laws of The Burley Tobacco Society provide that on the last Saturday in September of each year all members of the Society shall meet at 2 p. m., at their respective voting places and shall elect one of their number a delegate to represent his precinct at an election to be held at the County Seat on the first Saturday in October of each year for the purpose of electing a director of this Society.

The precinct delegate not only casts the vote of his constituents in the election of a member of the District Board from his county, but he is also a member of the County Board of Control in his county.

In order that the election shall express the will of the members of the Society, let every member be at the regular precinct voting place at 2 p. m. on the last Saturday in September.

"Look ye out among you men of honest report, full of wisdom, whom ye may appoint over this business," men of integrity, business ability and public spirit.

Do not neglect this important duty and then complain of results. The future of The Burley Tobacco Society depends upon the character and ability of the men elected on the County Board of Control and on the District Board at the ensuing elections.

Remember the day, the hour, the place, and the importance of your doing your duty in this election.

All samples of 1907 tobacco should be sent to the central office at Winchester as early as possible. While the days are long and bright the grading can be done much more satisfactorily than when the weather is cold and the skies dark. It is greatly to the interest of the farmers as well as to the interest of the Society that samples be sent as soon as they can be properly prepared. Done by order of the Executive Committee.

CLARENCE LEBUS, Chairman.

For Sale—8 good ewe lambs. Apply to J. J. Duncan, near Burlington.

Peoples Deposit Bank,

BURLINGTON, KY.

YOUR MONEY DEPOSITED WITH THIS BANK IS AS SAFE AS WITH ANY BANK IN BOONE COUNTY.

3 PER CENT. INTEREST PAID ON SIX MONTHS TIME DEPOSITS.

We Make no Charge for Cashing Checks on other Banks

And afford you all other accommodations within range of Sound Banking in order to make dealings with us pleasant.

SAFE DEPOSIT BOXES FOR RENT. CALL AND SEE US.

STATEMENT OF THE

Equitable Bank & Trust Co.

WALTON, KY.

Organized for Business Sept. 9th, 1907.

DEPOSITS:

Opening Day Sept. 9th, 1907	$5,383.71
Dec. 31st, 1907, when statement was made to Secretary of State	37,157.67
June 30th, 1908, when statement was made to Secretary of State	56,269.38
July 1st, 1908, one day later	$61,959.90

LOANS AND DISCOUNTS:

July 1st, 1908	$ 76,589.85
Available Cash July 1st, 1908	30,716.80
Resources July 1st, 1908	$118,220.35

Careful, prudent business principles governs the bank. Your business solicited. Interest paid on time deposits. Mail communications given especial attention.

CHAS. L. GRIFFITH, President. D. B. WALLACE, Cashier.

LEW THORN, Pharmacist.

A. G. G. RICHARDSON, Veterinary Surgeon.

THORN & RICHARDSON, DRUGGISTS.

We sell Kreso Dip for Lice and Mites on horses, cattle, sheep, hogs and chickens. Headquarters for House Paints, Floor Paints, Roofing Paints, Wagon and Carriage Paints, Carter's Lead and Pure Linseed Oil.

Medicines, Stationery and Sundries in large supply. All new and fresh. Prices are right.

Main Street, - - RISING SUN, INDIANA.

YOU NEED A BUGGY

AND I HAVE IT FOR YOU.

CAN SAVE YOU MONEY.

New Buggies, Runabouts

and Harness for Sale or Trade.

Workmanship the Best, and Material Guaranteed.

When in Burlington call and See me.

B. B. HUME, - Burlington, Ky.

A Note of Warning.

To the Editor of the Recorder:

What is the matter with the Boone County Democratic Executive Committee? With one of the most important presidential elections confronting us there seems to be general apathy all along the Democratic line in Kentucky. Why is this? Are we going to chance success on our generally bright prospect for nominees without any kind of action; or, do the leaders of the party think there is no danger and plenty of time? It seems so. But to my mind we have no time to lose; we have to fight, not only the Republican party, but in addition, we have the Independent party, lead by Hearst, a man who edits and publishes a number of papers in different parts of the country, and they have a wide circulation; and the Temperance party and the Socialist and Populist parties and while these four minor parties are weak, yet, in the aggregate, they will poll a large vote, and it will be drawn largely from the Democratic ticket. Kentucky is in the column of doubtful States, and in all probability she will be more seriously affected by the votes of the minor parties than any other State, and only by prompt action and thorough organization can we hope to redeem the State and have her electorial vote cast for the Democratic ticket. Now, why not the county committee get active and organize Democratic clubs and thoroughly organize the Democratic party in the county and get out the full vote? Such action might be contagious and inspire other counties to take similar action. Nothing but eternal vigilance will bring success and secure the old time Democratic majority in Kentucky.

J. W. KENNEDY.

I will be in Burlington on the Tuesday after the first Monday in October to receive the entry fee of each candidate who will enter the Democratic primary election to be held November 3, 1908. Those desiring to pay the entry fee before that time can hand it to J. A. Duncan in Burlington. W. W. GRIMSLEY, Chairman Boone Co. Dem. Ex. Com.

A Fine Horse.

The 3-year-old sorrel colt, Judge Waldren, owned by S. S. Hicks, of Union, has proven to be one of the greatest show horses in the State, having been shown 14 times, winning 11 ties. He has defeated some of the noted horses such as Kate Hamilton and the Chancelor gelding, which were never beaten before. This colt won the sweepstakes harness tie at Florence, also the sweepstake harness tie at Paris. Mr. Hicks has refused $1,000 for him. The colt will be shown at the State Fair this week.

Xen Scott's Black Badger colt show, at the Harvest Home, last Saturday, consisted of eight very fine young animals that would have been a credit to any sire.

A Sure-enough Knocker.

J. C. Goodwin, of Reidsville, N. C., says: "Bucklen's Arnica Salve is a sure-enough knocker for sores. A bad one came on my leg last summer, but that wonderful salve knocked it out in a few rounds. Not even a scar remained." Guaranteed for piles, sores, burns, etc. 25c at Bentler's Drug Store, Erlanger.

The chicken thieves have not been so active for the last few weeks. It is possible that shot guns had much to do with the suspension of business for the present.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

By virtue of Execution No 8597 directed to me, which issued from the Clerk's Office of the Boone Circuit Court, in favor of the National Bank of Rising Sun, Ind., against J. M. Baker and W. L. H. Baker, I or one of my deputies will, on Monday, the 5th day of October, 1908, between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 2 o'clock p. m., at the Court House door in Burlington, Boone county, Kentucky, expose to public sale, to the highest bidder, the following property, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy Plaintiff's debt, interest and cost to wit. The undivided one 1-5 interest jointly owned by the said J. M. Baker and W. L. H. Baker in and to the following described tracts and parcels of land each and all of them lying and being in Boone county, Ky. the first of which is described as follows:—Bounded on the North by the lands of M. E. Hance and Big Bone creek; on the East by the lands of the Murphy heirs and M. E. Hance; on the West and South by the lands of M. E. Hance, containing one hundred (100) and sixteen acres.

The second tract is bounded thus:—On the North by the lands of George Holsclaw; on the East by the lands of James Huffman; on the West by the lands of James Taylor and Big Bone creek, and on the South by the lands of J. D Moore and the McLaughlin heirs, containing one acre or about that. Each of said Defendants (J. M Baker and W L H. Baker) own an undivided 1-10 part of said above described lands, they owning jointly the undivided one fifth of the whole, levied upon as the property of J. M. and W. L. H Baker.

Terms—Sale will be made on a credit of three months, bonds with approved security required, bearing interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum, from day of sale and having the force and effect of a judgement. Amount to be made by sale, $1 041 00

M. F. WINGATE,
Sheriff of Boone County, Ky.
By W D. Cropper, D. S.

Special Shoe Sale.

Our Fall and Winter Stock of Shoes will soon begin to arrive. We must make room for them and therefore will make very

LOW PRICE FOR STOCK ON HAND.

Men's Heavy Shoes at	$2.00	former price	$$3.00
Men's Light Shoes at	2.50	former price	3.50
Ladies' Shoes at	1.00	former price	2.00
Children's Shoes at	75c	former price	1.50

We have not room for more prices, but call on us and we will give you some genuine

SHOE BARGAINS.

W. M. Rachal & Co

Union, Kentucky.

PERFECT BIFOCALS AT LAST.

Bifocal lenses have been undergoing constant and rapid improvement for the the last 10 years, until now we have the perfect bifocal.

It is ground in one piece and perfectly smooth; no cement used and no lines visible. Call and see them. They are the finest made.

N. F. Penn, M. D. with Motch, Jeweler,

613 Madison Avenue, - - - COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

Phone, South 912-Y.

SCOTT CHAMBERS,

WALTON, KY.

Embalmer & Funeral Director.

LIVERY, BOARDING & SALE STABLE.

First Class Rigs for Hire at All Times.

Dealer in High Class Harness and Saddle Horses.

Raymond City Coal for sale at all times.

Hay, Grain, Mill Feed,

ALWAYS KEPT ON HAND.

Highest Market Price paid for Grain.

Fancy and Staple

GROCERIES.

I also have a nice and complete line of Fancy and Staple Groceries and canned goods.

WIRE AND FENCING, AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS, Buggies, Carriages, all kinds Fertilizer.

Owen S. Watts,

(Successor to R. B. HUEY & CO.)

WALTON, - - KENTUCKY.

H. G. BLANTON,

Funeral Director & Embalmer

LIVERY, BOARDING and FEED STABLE.

First-class Carriages for hire with careful Drivers for Families, Parties, Weddings, Etc.

I Have a Nice White Funeral Car.

Lexington Pike, - - - ERLANGER, KY

Leave Orders with J. C. REVILL, Burlington Ky.

Geo. W. Hill & Co.,

Grocers, Commission & SEED Merchants.

Tested Field and Garden Seeds.

Finest Brands and Grades of FERTILIZERS, LIME CEMENT AND SALT.

Largest and Best Stock of

GROCERIES IN THE CITY.

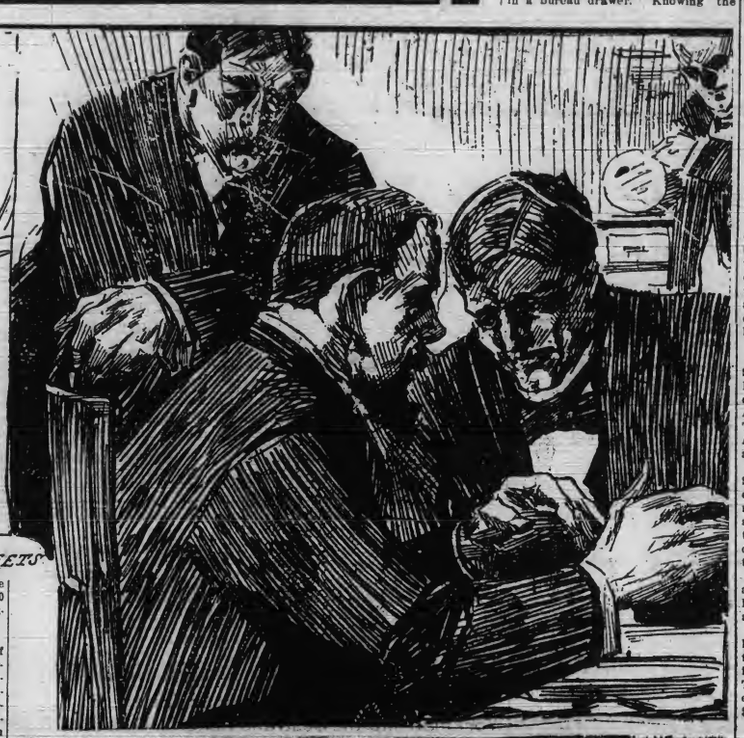
Sole Agents for the Celebrated

RARUS and GEM Brands of FLOUR.

When in the City it will pay you to come and see us.

27 & 29 Pike Street, (Phone South 55) 26 & 28 W Seventh Street

COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.



The Brazilian Milreis Case

By CAPTAIN PATRICK D. TYRELL

How Probably the Most Wonderful Counterfeit Plot of History Was Hatched, Flourished and Was Eventually Uncovered by Sleuths.

THE OFFICERS SEARCHED THE HOUSE AND FOUND THE 900 SHEETS

PRIOR to the year 1884 there was no law of the United States that prohibited anyone from counterfeiting in this country the money of a foreign nation. Out of the lack of legislation on this point had grown many cases of much importance to other governments, for your counterfeiter is a man usually well versed in the laws bearing on his trade and he had not been slow in perceiving the possibilities of large and quick gains in using the United States as a place for manufacturing bogus currency and coin to be circulated in other countries.

One of the most notable of these cases was that of the manufacture in this country of a large amount of the currency of China—a job that was cunningly concoived and cleverly carried to the point where the counterfeit currency was manufactured and ready for shipment to the Orient for circulation. Another plot of great international importance was that conceived by McDonald, Scott and Sheridan, who made and threw into circulation a counterfeit Bank of England note to the amount of about $5,000,000. The criminals in this case were Americans and their daring was shown by the character of the task they set for themselves.

In the late '60s the movement for a Democratic government in the empire of Brazil had taken on great strength. Stories of the marvelous resources of the country and of the unlimited possibilities for achieving power and money were reaching the United States. A political upheaval in a country of great natural wealth is always a tempting bait to soldiers of fortune the world over, and the accounts of Brazilian conditions that reached southern Texas about this time were not to be resisted by the more adventurous. A party was made up for Brazil, and in this party were two brothers, Lucius A. and Joseph A. White. Lucius was a mere lad in his teens, while Joseph was nearly 20 years his senior and more a father to the boy than a brother. Joseph was married. The Whites were the sons of Judge White, who settled in southern Texas in 1839 and who was a noted lawyer and jurist of that section. Judge White was a man who was held in the highest esteem on account of his strict integrity and learning, and his sons grew up respected in their native state. Lucius had studied civil engineering and was an engineer of no meager ability. Joseph was a farmer. But in both the brothers there was a strong spirit of adventure, and after listening to the stories of gold and diamonds to be found and fortunes to be made easily in rubber, coffee and general agriculture, told by returned Texans, the brothers decided to join the party bound for the South American empire, which finally landed at Rio Janeiro.

While in Rio Janeiro Lucius White met a young woman who was visiting there and whose home was in Florida. He courted and married her, and three children were born to them. In 1884 he decided to return to the states to live, and brought his family to Florida, where he stayed a few months, going from there to Whitney, Tex., where he bought a 90-acre farm for $4,000 and settled down to the life of a Texas farmer.

In the early part of the summer of 1885 the United States district attorney at St. Louis received an anonymous letter stating that a certain engraving house of that city was preparing plates from which were to be engraved a large number of slips which had the appearance of being imitations of the currency of the Empire of Brazil.

The letter in question pointed out that which seemed to be a crime in process of execution, and, anonymous or signed, the letter was not to be ignored. It was turned over to me, and I went to work on the case.

I found the manager and was informed by him that he believed his firm did have a contract to engrave plates for and print some Brazilian matter; but he claimed to be ignorant of the identity of the party with whom the contract was made and of the exact character of the commodity contracted for. I was told to return later and consult with the official of the concern who had made the contract and who was conversant with all the details. This I did. This gentleman, after learning who I was, told me that a man named Lucius A. White had contracted with the firm for a plate of a "cigar label" to be used in the Brazilian trade. The work was under way at that time.

With this information the Brazilian consul was called into consultation. The appearance of the plate was described to him and he pronounced it a duplicate of the front of the Brazilian "Duzentos Milreis" note, or a treasury note of the Empire of Brazil representing 200 milreis. As a milreis of Brazilian money was equal in value to approximately 54.6 cents of United States money each one of the "labels" would be worth in Brazil $109.20.

So far as I could learn the order left in St. Louis by the mysterious Mr. White called for the engraving of but one plate. If a currency note were to be produced there would of necessity be two plates, one for the front and another for the reverse side. The spokesman for the engraving firm claimed to take this as evidence that the plate was to be used for the purpose set forth by the man who had made the contract, and in this claim the engraver may have been honest.

I immediately came to the conclusion that the men who were planning to inflate the Brazilian currency had made a contract with one firm for the front plate and impressions printed from it and with another firm, probably in another city, for the plate and impressions of the reverse side.

From the engraving firm I learned that White had reached St. Louis May 28 and had asked for a price on the work he wanted done. He said he was going to New York and would return in a few weeks. He kept his word and closed the negotiations for the front plate. These negotiations were under way two weeks before they were finally closed, and after the contract had been signed White disappeared.

It would have been an easy matter at this time to have confiscated the plate; but it was always the plan of the service to secure the guilty ones as well as to destroy the product. I had a description of White from the engraver with whom he had made the contract, and, depending on its being correct, I believed I could pick out my man when he returned to the city. From this time a strict watch was maintained on the engraving establishment. This surveillance was rewarded a few weeks later by my seeing a man answering the description of Lucius A. White enter the building of the engravers. Satisfied that he was the man wanted, I called to my assistance a deputy United States marshal and from the time he emerged from the building till his arrest he was never out of our sight, unless in his room at the Moser hotel. He made more than one trip to the establishment where the work was being done, and in leaving he would pursue a zig-zag course, as though he feared being followed. He was waiting for the completion of the work, and put in the time sight-seeing.

As the work was now about ready for delivery, I believed the time was at hand to take White into custody. In company with a deputy marshal we went to his hotel and followed him into the dining-room at dinner time. After he had taken his seat the deputy and I sat down at the same table. As soon as he had given his order I slid my chair close to his and said, in a voice that would attract no attention at the next table:

"You may consider yourself my prisoner. It will do you no good to make a scene."

Great beads of perspiration stood on the man's face, but he collected himself almost instantly and said:

"I don't want a scene; what do you want me to do?"

"Come with us," I said.

We all arose quietly and walked out of the dining-room without attracting attention. White was taken to the federal building and subjected to an informal examination. When I searched him I found documents bearing on the milreis transaction and placing the firm that did the work in a peculiar light. One of these papers was the formal bid made by the firm, offering to engrave an exact facsimile of the front of the 200 milreis bill on stone for $230 and a facsimile of the back for $310, or facsimiles of front and back on steel for $810. Another incriminating paper was a receipt from the engraving firm for payment of the "cigar labels" and for a 200-milreis Brazilian bill, to be returned to White. According to the papers found on White, he had increased the size of his order from 2,000 to 3,000 sheets of bills, four bills on a sheet. At first White denied any part in a counterfeiting plot, but later broke down and admitted his guilt. He claimed to have a partner named Lane, but refused to give detailed information concerning him further than to say that he lived in Texas.

I shall always question the propriety of the course followed by the federal attorney in making his case against Joseph White, which was as follows: A package was made of 370 of the sheets I had brought in. Attorney Illes then wrote out a telegram to the agent at Bloom, Tex., requesting him to deliver a certain package to Joseph White, and had Lucius sign it. Deputy United States Marshal Wheeler and Assistant United States Attorney Drummond were then hastened to Texas by the first train for the purpose of "piping" Joseph White as he took the package from the express office, and, later, of arresting him with the counterfeits in his possession. The package and telegram were sent, giving Wheeler and Drummond sufficient time to reach the destination first. It seems that after all this planning to establish the fact that Joseph White received the package, he was allowed in some way to take the package from the express office without being seen by the men who had been sent to watch him commit this very act. Joseph White took them to his home on his farm near Bloom and placed them in a bureau drawer. Knowing the sheets were in his possession, although they had not seen him receive them, the officers went to White's home, placed him under arrest and searched the house.

In the meantime Lucius A. White, having seen his plan fall miserably and himself a prisoner, gave the authorities a complete confession. White in Brazil he and his brother had conceived the idea of manufacturing in the United States a large issue of Brazilian currency and returning to that country to float it. Lucius admitted that he was the originator of the idea.

Lucius A. White, after pleading guilty, was taken to Texas as a witness against his brother. Lucius was 33 years old at this time and his brother was a man of 50. As I have said, the elder brother also had stood in the relation of a father to the younger man, and the scene in the Waco courtroom when Lucius was placed on the stand and told the story that meant a penitentiary sentence for his brother was a most affecting one.

"I would rather suffer than have Lucius suffer; he's only a boy to me."

After the evidence was in and Lucius was being led from the courtroom by the deputies, Joseph grasped him by the hand and with tears in his eyes said:

"Good-by, Lucius. God bless you."

Name Spelled in Many Ways.

No fewer than 373 different ways of spelling Ypsilanti have been copied from envelopes and recorded by a postmaster of that town.

PALL FROM FOREST FIRES

CLOUDS CITIES HUNDREDS OF MILES DISTANT.

Lake Traffic Seriously Impeded By Smoke—Enormous Damage Done in North and West.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 14.—A territory including 300,000 square miles, or seven times the area of the state of Ohio, is overhung with the most remarkable pall of smoke experienced in the history of this part of the country.

Old residents of Chicago have seen nothing like it since the big fire of 1871, which laid waste $200,000,000 worth of property in this city, and they confess that the smoke of those days covered only a limited territory compared with that affected by the destructive forest fires in Minnesota, Michigan and Wisconsin in the last few days.

In Chicago the pall reached its greatest density Sunday after thickening perceptibly for nearly a week. Similar reports come from Milwaukee, Detroit, Cleveland and other cities located from 500 to 800 miles from the center of the ravishing flames.

Lake navigation has been made dangerous, and the same caution is exercised by navigators as in times of heavy fog.

Added to the haze was the sharp odor Sunday of smoke from burning trees and grass. There was no mistaking the smell. With Chicago several hundred miles from the scene of the advancing fires it may be imagined what must be the discomfort of those in the immediate neighborhood.

Wausau, Wis., Sept. 14.—Reports Sunday night state that the village of Norris, in the eastern part of the county, is in danger from forest fires. A crowd of men has been working like Trojans all day to save the village. A large ditch has been thrown up around the village.

All trains were several hours late Sunday because of the inability of engineers to see the track ahead and run safely on account of the dense smoke. A pall of smoke has covered the city nearly all day. It was so dense Sunday morning that street car traffic was interrupted.

Railroad men say that the woods are all afire between this city and Eland junction. Scores of small towns are in danger.

The loss in the county will be the heaviest in years, not excepting the fires in 1892 and 1893, and the total in this county alone is put at $500,000. The total in Northern Wisconsin is estimated at from $2,000,000 to $5,000,000.

WRECKER DITCHES TRAIN.

Twenty-Seven Persons Injured Near Meadville, Pa.

Meadville, Pa., Sept. 14.—Erie Train No. 4, a fast train from Chicago to New York, Albany and Boston, due to arrive here at 2 a. m., was ditched five miles south of this city Sunday morning. Twenty-seven passengers, the engineer and fireman were severely injured. It is thought they will all recover. The cause of the accident was given by the officials of the road as the turning of the switch by wreckers.

The entire train left the rails, and that the death list does not reach at least 50 seems almost a miracle. The train was 15 minutes late. It had left Amasa, the first station below Meadville, as usual. There is no operator between here and that place at night. After the train left Amasa the dispatchers here were at a loss to account for the nonappearance of the train, and it was some time before word was received that it had been ditched. The officials hurried a special train to the scene of the wreck.

The injured were brought to this city and placed in Spencer hospital. The fireman of the train, was the worst hurt, but he will recover. Bloodhounds have been placed on the trail of the wrecker. The property loss was $25,000.

Excursionists Injured in Collision.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 14.—Scores of lives were imperiled and a bad smashup narrowly averted on the Lake Shore railroad early Monday morning, when an excursion train filled with Indianians was in a rear-end collision at 12:55 o'clock near Chesterton, Ind. The train had left Chicago at 11:30 o'clock, and was overtaken by another train. The engineer of the second train failed to see the excursion train until it was too late to avoid the crash. A number of passengers, supposed to be residents of Laporte, were injured, but no lives were lost.

Fear an Uprising.

Galveston, Tex., Sept. 14.—Rush orders reached here Sunday for more troops to the Mexican border. Mexico also will send troops, fearing an uprising on the Mexican independence anniversary this week.

Nabbed the Banker.

New York, Sept. 14.—Detectives Sunday arrested Pasquale Caponiar, an Italian banker, who is alleged to have absconded from this city a year and a half ago with about $100,000 belonging to depositors.

Burglars Rob British Embassy.

Washington, Sept. 14.—The British embassy was robbed by burglars Thursday, according to police reports Sunday. All that is missing is money and some jewelry, the property of Miss Clara Childs, the housekeeper.

THE MILLS OF GOD

Doom of Nineveh Foretold by Nahum the Prophet.

BY THE "HIGHWAY AND BYWAY" PREACHER

(Copyrighted, 1908, by the Author, W. S. Mason.)

Scripture Authority—Book of Nahum.

Nahum the Prophet. — Name means "consolation" and "vengeance"—the first for God's people, the second on their enemies. Nothing is known of prophet save that which is indicated by the title which declares him the Elkoshite, that is, a native of Elkosh, probably a place in Galilee. Period of prophet in much doubt, but probably was during latter half of reign of Hezekiah. As poet, Nahum occupies a high place in the first rank of Hebrew literature. This is evidenced by the opening verses 1:2-6, and to the magnificent description of the siege and destruction of Nineveh in chapter 2. The subject of the prophecy, as the superscription in verse 1 indicates, is: "the burden of Nineveh." The three chapters into which the book is divided form a consecutive whole. The first chapter is introductory. The last verse of the first chapter and the second chapter set forth the vision of the prophet as to the campaign against Nineveh and its certain downfall, for: "behold I am against thee, saith Jehovah of hosts." The vision ended, the prophet in the third chapter, recalled from the scene of the future to the realities of the present, breaks forth in one final outburst of withering denunciation against the Assyrian city.

SERMONETTE.

"The Lord is slow to anger, and great in power, and will not at all acquit the wicked."—There is no escaping the final reckoning with God. The perplexities and inequalities of time will all disappear and be evened up by the God-directing justice of eternity.

The patience of God in dealing with men too often proves a snare to the feet of the evildoer, permitting his wickedness to come to full fruition.

Jonah preached to the city of Nineveh, and she repented and the judgment of God against the city was stayed, but it was only for a season, for the wickedness of the city, as the prophet Nahum vividly points out, was at last to feel the avenging anger of God.

When God balances the accounts of human life, justice is meted out without fear or favor.

God's greatness of power is not only shown by the execution of his judgment upon sin, but by the manifestation of his mercy in saving from sin.

No sin can escape the power of God's judgment except it take refuge behind the power of God's love as manifested in the crucified Christ.

"The Lord is good, a stronghold in the day of trouble; and he knoweth them that trust in him."—This is the second great fact concerning God which comes to reassure the heart of man. Just as the wicked cannot escape God's judgment, so the one who trusteth God hath nothing to fear, for God's eye is upon him and his protecting arm is about him in the day of trouble.

To the man whose heart is not reconciled to God the thought that God's eye searcheth him and knoweth him brings only distress and disquietude of conscience. To the man who trusteth in God the thought that God knoweth him brings a two-fold joy and satisfaction. First, that God will search out the evil which lurks in his heart and help him get rid of it, and second, that God, who seeth not as man seeth, can understand his failures and mistakes, and loves and sympathizes with him in his troubles.

THE STORY.

IT WAS during the dark period following the threatened invasion and destruction of Jerusalem by the mighty Sennacherib, king of Assyria. For weeks and months the encompassing hosts of the Assyrian army had been closing in around the city. That was an army which had known no defeat under the masterful leadership of the great general, Rabshakeh, and his was no idle boast that the gods of none of the nations against which he had gone with his army had been able to deliver them from his power. And it had seemed when he had blasphemously cried out against Jerusalem and Israel's God that he would be able to execute his threats and raze the proud city to the ground and utterly destroy the inhabitants thereof as he had done with the other cities he had conquered.

Then had fallen upon the camp of the Assyrians that pestilence which had left 185,000 dead men lying where the day before they had been strong men able to do battle, and the remnant of the army had withdrawn. Jerusalem was saved for the present.

"But for how long?" was the anxious query heard on every hand. "Will not the Assyrian hosts return yet again and consume us? How bitter is their heart against the city which has defied them. Surely, while Nineveh stands and Assyria rules the world, Jerusalem is not safe."

It was during this period that the spirit of the Lord came mightily upon Nahum. He knew the power of the yoke of the Assyrian king. His home had been in Galilee in his early youth, and there the devastating scourge of the conquering army had been felt. He had seen the cruelty, he had heard the blasphemy of Sennacherib's soldiers, and with home destroyed and the members of his family slain, he had fled for his life and found a refuge in Judea. There he had come under the influence of Isaiah the prophet, and was one of the eager listeners to all his messages. When it had seemed as though Sennacherib's army was about to sweep over the city he had heard and believed Isaiah's message that the enemy should not come nigh the walls of the city to do them hurt. And he had gone everywhere through the city repeating the words which he had heard Isaiah preach.

But he knew the Assyrian army too well to think that the relief was anything but temporary, and when he heard the plaint of the people saying that the Assyrian forces would yet return with redoubled vengeance and utterly destroy Jerusalem, he could but admit to his heart that such was more than likely to be the case.

"It is God who giveth power to the nations, and it is God who hath suffered Assyria to become so great, but will he permit that greatness and power to culminate in the destruction of Jerusalem?" Nahum asked himself one day as he pondered over the question. "Was it not Nineveh that God would destroy, and sent Jonah the prophet to proclaim the judgment upon the great city? And had not Nineveh repented and so escaped the wrath of God? And since that day how arrogant and bold she had grown, how cruel in her conquests, and how lustful in her desire for world power and gain." So reasoned Nahum to himself.

"Can it be that God knows or cares?" he exclaimed, half impatiently. Then ashamed of himself for such expression of doubt, he added, quickly: "Nay, the wicked cannot escape the wrath of God."

With the thought came a startling resolution. He would go to Nineveh. He would see the great city. Perhaps God would clear up the mystery of his providences.

Needless for us to follow Nahum on the long, tedious, painful and perilous journey to Nineveh, the seat of the Assyrian power and glory. Suffice it to say that at last, footsore and weary, the prophet drew near to the city. And what a city it was! Jerusalem could not compare with her in size or the splendor and richness of her possessions. Silently and mournfully the prophet witnessed all that spoke of power invincible and riches inexhaustible. It seemed to his human vision that nothing could ever break Assyria's power and bring the great city of Nineveh low.

"And why do I want it brought low?" he asked himself one night. "Hath God any delight in the death of the wicked? And should I feed my soul upon the thought of vengeance? Why was it that God spared Nineveh once? Was it not that he found some goodness here and a turning of the people to the true God of Israel? Is there any here who knows the true God and desires to serve him?"

The new thought gave a new inspiration in his search of the city, but go where he would he could detect only wickedness and pride such as is found in a heart wholly given up to evil.

"What can God do with such a city and people but bring destruction upon them?" he asked himself at last. "And if God hath no delight in the death of the wicked, surely he must bring judgment upon them that goodness may not be utterly crushed in the earth. God is, indeed, slow to anger, but he will not suffer the wicked to triumph forever."

And with this reassuring thought he started on the long journey home.

"Nineveh in her proud boasting shall be brought low," he kept saying over and over to himself. "And those in Jerusalem who are among the faithful and expect to see the goodness of the Lord in the land of the living will not be disappointed."

In this spirit he drew nigh to the gates of Jerusalem one day and was about to enter, when the thought came: "But where is thy message?"

Obedient to the thought, he turned his footsteps in the direction of a favorite trysting place of his where he had in the past spent many hours in communion with his God.

A few days later the city was stirred to its foundations with the message of the prophet Nahum.

"Woe to Nineveh, the city of blood," he cried. "It is all full of lies and robbery; the prey departeth not. Behold I am against thee, saith the Lord of hosts; And I will discover thy skirts upon thy face, and I will show the nations thy nakedness and the kingdoms thy shame. And because God will not delay his anger forever, but bringeth the wicked at last to judgment, O Judah," the prophet cried, appealingly, "keep thy solemn feasts, perform thy vows: for the wicked shall no more pass through thee; he is utterly cut off."

Working Under Difficulties.

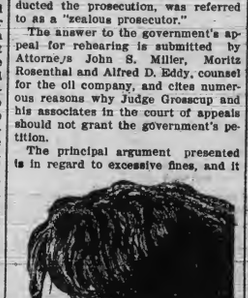
Duties of newspaper correspondents in Russia are not light. In Reval, for instance, a journalist had to get permission from five different police authorities before he could work unmolested—the secret police, the ministry of the interior police, the gendarmes, the palace police, the [illegible]. Each police official acts independently, so as to make the confusion as complete as possible. One of the first precautionary measures adopted by the Russian police was to photograph the special correspondent and circulate his portrait among the police authorities. He was then encircled by a cordon of secret police of both sexes, who kept up a vigilant espionage. He was then perfectly free to do his worst.

FLAY JUDGE LANDIS

LAWYERS FOR STANDARD OIL FILE THEIR ANSWER.

DECLARE FINE EXCESSIVE

Jurist Is Charged with Yielding to Outside Influences and the Prosecution Is Called "Malicious."



Chicago.—Judge Kenesaw Landis, who fined the Standard Oil Company $29,000,000, is charged with having permitted outside influences to govern his decision by the attorneys for the company in their answer to the application for a rehearing filed in the United States court of appeals.

The answer refers to the judgment of that court as an "unheard-of fine," and says that the court was "governed by evidence and considerations which were not proper to influence a judicious magistrate."

District Attorney Sims, who conducted the prosecution, was referred to as a "zealous prosecutor."

The answer to the government's appeal for rehearing is submitted by Attorneys John S. Miller, Moritz Rosenthal and Alfred D. Eddy, counsel for the oil company, and cites numerous reasons why Judge Grosscup and his associates in the court of appeals should not grant the government's petition.

The principal argument presented is in regard to excessive fines, and it is declared absolutely that District Attorney Sims could find no authority to support Judge Landis in his action of fixing the "unheard-of fine." Regarding this the answer states:

Judge Kenesaw Landis.

"The provision of the bill of rights in the eighth amendment to the federal constitution forbidding the imposition of excessive fines enacts a cherished principle of Magna Charta, which is the foundation of American and Anglo-Saxon laws and jurisprudence, and which required that fines imposed for faults or crimes should be 'after the manner of the fault,' or 'according to the heinousness of it,' and forbade fines so large as to deprive a defendant of that which was necessary to his vocation or livelihood."

The action of the government in bringing the oil company to trial is referred to as "malicious prosecution," and it is reiterated that no evidence and law has been brought to bear on the case by the federal attorneys.

Freed in Subtreasury Case.

Chicago. — George W. Fitzgerald, accused of having stolen the $173,000 which disappeared from the United States subtreasury, was discharged by Judge Chetlain Thursday after it had been shown on the witness stand that the government had instructed the treasury department heads in Chicago and other government employes to not testify in the case nor make public the evidence which the secret service men have been gathering since the time of the robbery.

Woman Suicide at Niagara.

Niagara Falls, N. Y.—A woman, about 25 years old, of refined appearance, Tuesday afternoon walked into the river about 30 feet above Prospect Point and was swept over the falls. She left nothing to identify her. Seventy-five persons saw the suicide.

Four Die in Denver Fire.

Denver, Col.—Four men lost their lives and a score of persons were injured, several of them seriously, in a fire that ruined the Belmont hotel, a three-story building at 1723 Stout street Tuesday morning. Crazed with fear and almost suffocated by smoke, the guests rushed for the windows, several of them jumping to the pavement below before firemen and policemen could reach them with ladders or spread nets below the windows. The fire is supposed to have been of incendiary origin.

EFFECTS OF TYPE ERRORS.

Were Frequent in Days When Setting Was Done by Hand.

Typographical errors that produced weird or comical effects are described by the St. Louis Republic in an article recalling the days when all of that newspaper's type was set by hand, before the introduction of typesetting machines, when the "copy," instead of being typewritten, was turned over to the printer in an infinite variety of good, bad and indifferent chirography.

Comparatively few of the errors were allowed to contribute to the gayety of the subscribers, as the majority were squelched in the "house of correction," as the proof room was facetiously termed. From a collection made by a proof-reader the following instances of ridiculous misreading of copy was taken:

"His blushing bride" was transformed into "his blustering bride."

A captain is said to have "served with destruction in the confederate army," but the writer thought he wrote "distinction."

Two pictures entitled "The Galley Slave" and "Each in Their Turn" were referred to as "The Galley I Love" and "Enoch in Shin Town."

Having in mind the influence of former citizens of the land of the shamrock upon the political destinies of the town, what more natural than that the printerman should set up an "Irish district court" where it had been the "First district court?"

Prof. Frank Gecks was mentioned as having rendered "violent selections" rather than "violin selections."

Somebody was quoted as saying that "all the singing folks on the vaudeville stage have a hundreds of wives," but the copy, when carefully examined, was found to read "husbands and wives" and a sensation in the theatrical world was averted.

"They sailed for three days around the cape and finally slaughtered a small Italian," was corrected to read "sighted a small island."

On one occasion the reporter wrote of certain "dwarfed and hungered children," who were made to appear perhaps more pathetic when the compositor substituted the words "doorfed and haggard."

"He takes delight in talking on his family shame" was a shameful thing to say about him, for "favorite theme" was meant.

"Red Cross Society Will Fight Corbett" was the way the typesetter transformed the copy concerning a crusade against cholera.

Birds with Lamps.

"As we rowed softly in the still, cold night," said a nature student, "we saw a number of faint blurs of light along the shore. They were like fairy lamps that had been swathed in some sort of gauze.

asked.

"'Them's kingfishers,' said my

"'What on earth can they be? I guide. 'Them's kingfishers a-fishin'.'

"'But the lights?'

"'The lights is the phosphorescence on the birds' breasts,' said the old hunter. 'In the soft down on a kingfisher's breast there is a phosphorescence that glows in the dark. The bird is aware of this here natural light o' hisn, and he uses it. He stands on the edge o' the stream, the same as them fellers there, puttin' his breast to the water, an' the faint light draws the fish to him, consumed with curiosity, an' he has no difficulty in pickin' up a square meal for himself an' family.'"

A Pertinent Query.

Effie, the little daughter of a clergyman, pranced into her father's study one evening while the reverend gentleman was preparing a lengthy sermon for the following Sunday.

She looked curiously at the manuscript for a moment and then turned to her father.

"Papa," she began, seriously, "does God tell you what to write?"

"Certainly, dearie," replied the clergyman.

"Then why do you scratch so much of it out?" asked Effie.

MARKET REPORTS.

	Cincinnati, Sept. 12.
CATTLE—Extra	$5 85	@	6 00
CALVES—Extra		@	7 75
HOGS—Choice	7 15	@	7 20
SHEEP—Extra	3 65	@	3 75
LAMBS—Spring	5 85	@	6 00
FLOUR—Spring pat..	5 85	@	6 10
WHEAT—No. 2 red..	99	@	1 00
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@	82¼
CORN—No. 2 mixed.	82½	@	83
RYE—No. 2 choice ..	78	@	79
HAY—Ch. timothy ..12	00	@12	50
BUTTER—Dairy	16	@	17
EGGS—Per doz		@	23
APPLES—Choice ...	3 00	@	3 50
POTATOES—Per bu.	80	@	85
TOBACCO—Burley ..12	00	@22	50
	CHICAGO.
WHEAT—No. 2 red..	98	@	99½
CORN—No. 2 mixed.	80	@	80¾
OATS—No. 2 mixed.	51	@	52
PORK—Prime mess.,		@14	60
LARD—Prime		@	82½
	NEW YORK.
FLOUR—Win. patent.	5 35	@	5 75
WHEAT—No. 2 red..		@	1 04
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@	90
OATS—No. 2 mixed.	53	@	54
PORK—Prime mess.18	00	@18	50
LARD—Prime		@	8 50
	BALTIMORE.
WHEAT—No. 2 red..		@	97¾
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@	83½
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@	53
	LOUISVILLE.
WHEAT—No. 2 red..		@	98
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@	83½
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@	54
HAY—Ch. timothy ..11	50	@12	00
HOGS—Extra 6	25	@	7 05
LARD—Steam		@	8 00
	INDIANAPOLIS.
CATTLE—Prime ... 5	50	@	7 10
HOGS—Extra 6	85	@	7 15
SHEEP—Extra 4	00	@	4 60

TEN YEARS OF BACKACHE.

Thousands of Women Suffer in the Same Way.

Mrs. Thos. Dunn, 153 Vine St., Columbus, Ohio, says: "For more than ten years I was in misery with backache. The simplest housework completely exhausted me. I had no strength or ambition, was nervous and suffered headache and dizzy spells. After these years of pain I was despairing of ever being cured when Doan's Kidney Pills came to my notice and their use brought quick relief and a permanent cure. I am very grateful."

Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

The Sign of Power.

It is the greatest manifestation of power to be calm. It is easy to be active. Let the reins go, and the horses will drag you down. Anyone can do that; but he who can stop the plunging horses is the strong man. Which requires the greater strength—letting go, or restraining? The calm man is not the man who is dull. You must not mistake calmness for dullness or laziness. . . . Activity is the manifestation of the lower strength, calmness of the superior strength.—Swami Vivekananda.

Important to Mothers.

Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA a safe and sure remedy for infants and children, and see that it

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

In Use For Over 30 Years.
The Kind You Have Always Bought.

Of Most Benefit.

The fault which humbles us is of more use than a good action which puffs us up with pride.—Bovee.

Good for Sore Eyes,

for 100 years PETTIT'S EYE SALVE has positively cured eye diseases everywhere. All druggists or Howard Bros., Buffalo, N. Y.

Anyway, the man who borrows trouble isn't asked to return it.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.

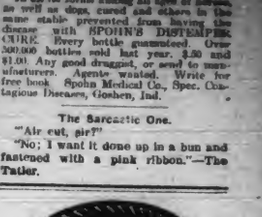
For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

Don't hand your friends a lemon; treat them to lemonade.

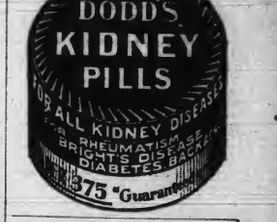
If Your Feet Ache or Burn

get a 25c package of Allen's Foot-Ease. It gives quick relief. Two million packages sold yearly.

The burglar also has his get-rich-quick scheme.



DISTEMPER

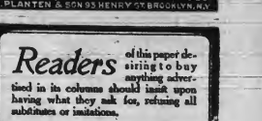


In all its forms among all ages of horses as well as dogs, cured and others in the same stable prevented from having the disease with SPOHN'S DISTEMPER CURE. Every bottle guaranteed. Over 500,000 bottles sold last year. $5.50 and $1.00. Any good druggist, or send to manufacturers. Agents wanted. Write for free book. Spohn Medical Co., Spec. Contagious Diseases, Goshen, Ind.

The Sarcastic One.

"Air cut, sir?"

"No; I want it done up in a bun and fastened with a pink ribbon."—The Tatler.



One of the Essentials

of the happy homes of to-day is a vast fund of information as to the best methods of promoting health and happiness and right living and knowledge of the world's best products.

Products of actual excellence and reasonable claims truthfully presented and which have attained to world-wide acceptance through the approval of the Well-Informed of the World; not of individuals only, but of the many who have the happy faculty of selecting and obtaining the best the world affords.

One of the products of that class, of known component parts, an Ethical remedy, approved by physicians and commended by the Well-Informed of the World as a valuable and wholesome family laxative is the well-known Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna. To get its beneficial effects always buy the genuine, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., only, and for sale by all leading druggists.

If afflicted with sore eyes, use Thompson's Eye Water

DEFIANCE STARCH easiest to work with and starches clothes nicest.

A. N. K.—E (1908—33) 2248.

Send For Free Catalogue

"How to Make Money Selling Goldfish." Makes business lively around your store when everything else fails. BIG profits and QUICK returns. Full line of aquarium supplies. Write to-day.

AUBURNDALE GOLDFISH COMPANY
51 North Peoria Street, CHICAGO, ILL.

ROSEBUD GOVERNMENT LANDS

BEST REACHED FROM DALLAS

Dallas and Gregory, S. D., are reached only by the Chicago & North Western Railway. They are the only towns on the reservation border. Dallas and Gregory are the main registering points. President Roosevelt has designated Dallas for the final drawing October 19, 1908.

The Chicago & North Western Ry. is the only all-rail route to the reservation.

A million acres of fertile agricultural and grazing land in the great Missouri Valley Corn Belt is to be opened to Homesteaders October 5 to 17, 1908.

For information about how to get a homestead with details regarding rates, train schedules, address

THE NORTH-WESTERN LINE

W. B. KNISKERN
Pass'r Traffic Mgr., C. & N. W. Ry.
Chicago, Ill

NW-31

THE HARVEST HOME.

Large Crowd and Fine Exhibit of Live Stock.

The Display of Agricultural Products Was Excellent.

Notwithstanding hard times, the dust and drought over 2,000 persons passed through the gates at the Harvest Home, last Saturday, and witnessed an exhibition that was first-class in every department, the agricultural products surprising everybody by their excellence, and the number of entries which surpassed those of many more favorable years in the past. The livestock show was very fine, especially the colt rings, each of which contained a large number of very promising young animals. Following is a list of awards:

GRAIN—Wheat and display of grain, Tom Hafer; rye, Jerry Tanner; oats, P Hager; yellow corn, F L McGlasson; white corn, W P Cropper.

FRUIT—Appels, peaches and display of fruit, Clyde Berksbire; pears, W T Snyder; plums, J H Aylor; grapes, Miss Jennie Dixon; quinces, Jake Lodge.

NEEDLE WORK—Counterpane and specimen, knit lace, Catharine White; calico quilt, silk quilt and crochet work, Jennie Dixon; worsted quilt, Miss Sadie John; linen embroider, Italian embroidery, Mrs J E Smith; display silk embroidery and kensington embroidery, Miss Nellie Rouse; cotton embroidery, Mt. Meilick embroidery, French embroidery, lace work and drawn thread work, Inez Gaines; eyelet embroidery and Battenburg lace, Miss Sallie Vaubn; Bulgarian embroidery, Mrs W F Bradford; fancy sofa pillow, Miss Bessie Poston; fancy knitting in silk, Mrs Bettie Rouse; plain cotton knitting and woolen knitting, Mrs Anna Smith.

VEGETABLES—Beans, sweet corn, cucumbers and display of vegetables, M F Rouse; Mrs Martin Aylor second on display of vegetables; cabbage, Mrs Albert Beemon; celery, Mrs Kate Highbouse; Irish potatoes, late, Jake Lodge; Irish potatoes, early, Ezra Aylor; sweet potatoes, James Snyder; tomatoes, John Dye; pumpkins, Tom Riddell; squashes, John Conner; cashaws, Lum Carpenter; watermelons, James Snyder; nutmegs, Willie Waters; onions, Henry Aylor; turnips, J H Aylor; radishes and display of peppers, Elijah Tanner; beets and carrots, Hattie Goodridge.

PANTRY AND DAIRY—Display sweet pickles, Mrs Martin Aylor; loaf light corn bread and maple molasses, Mrs W P Beemon; hop yeast bread, Mrs Nan Mannin; salt rising bread, Artie Hafer; pound cake, Lou Walton; lady cake, Mrs J W Williams; layer cake by girl under 15 years old, Sallie Castleman; berry cake, Mrs C C Bradford; fruit cake, Mrs W L Riddell; display of cakes, J W Williams; angel food, Ora Ross; devil food, Mrs E S Gaines; butter, Mrs Hubert Rouse; can peaches, Nettie Kelly; can pears, Miss Jennie Dixon; can tomatoes, Mrs R W Rouse; sorghum molasses, W C C Rouse; vinegar, Robert Stephens; 2 pounds honey, D M Snyder; display fruit butter, Mrs W F Bradford; display preserves, Mrs W C Delph; display jellies, Mrs Martin Aylor.

FLOWERS—Hand bouquet, Miss Anna Brown; display cut flowers, Mrs W P Beemon; display cactus, Miss Grace Anderson; display geraniums, display bergonias and display of flowers in pots, Mrs W C Delph.

POULTRY—Light bramahs, barred Plymouth Rock and Minorcas, J P Aylor; white Plymouth Rocks, pair Leghns, white Wyandotts, laced Wyandotts and display poultry, C W Anderson; Rhode Island Reds, W G Riddell; bantams, Miss Jennie Aylor; emdem geese, J T Aylor.

HOGS—Poland Chinas, boar and sow, L P Aylor; Chesterwhites—boar, Harve Tanner; sow, Lon Akers. Durocs—boar and sow, W E Grant; Hampshires—boar and sow, J H Aylor; sow and pigs, Chas Youell.

COLTS.

Draft colt, Elbert Clore, Temp Graves.

Harness colt, E C Clore, second premium.

General purpose colt, J W Hogan.

Best Black Badger colt, Elbert Clore.

Mule colt, Harve Tanner, W W Hedges.

Plutarch colt, Temp Graves.

Joseph Scott, of Florence, took all the premiums on cattle.

Best looking baby, W S Huey, of Belleview, first; E J Aylor, of Francesville, second.

NOTES.

The pumpkin exbibit was the largest ever.

There was never a finer show of colts in the county.

The ladies had a great show of needle work, all of it executed in an artistic style.

The excessive heat had no effect on the lovers of the dance, and they made the band at the pavilion earn its money.

A large number of old people were in attendance and spent the day most pleasantly meeting many of their friends and acquaintances.

The attendance was about as large as any in the history of the Harvest Home, and was an agreeable surprise to the directors who feared a slump.

When John Hogan's colt took the premiun in the allpurpose ring, he was the best pleased man that was ever on the Harvest Home grounds. He has the young animal sold to James Clore, of Rushville, Indiana, for $165.

The dust on the grounds began to annoy the people late in the afternoon, but the annoyance was nothing to what it would have been had the road in front of the ground been thoroughly wet the night before, the water for which was hauled from Gunpowder creek.

C. W. McFee, of Francesville, tied up with Chas. Young, a professional trap shooter, of Youngstown, Ohio, a few days ago in a contest at Chester Park back of Cincinnati, each breaking 94 targets out of a possible 100. Mr. McFee is regaining his old form at shooting.

WALTON DEPARTMENT.

D. B. WALLACE, Manager.

Hand your news items to Mr. D. B. Wallace at the Walton Equitable Bank and Trust Co.'s building. He is also authorized to receive subscriptions and collect other accounts.

Water of all kinds is very scarce here owing to the drought.

Some of our citizens attended the Sanders fair, last week.

Michael Dempsey, of near Verona, was here on business Thursday.

J. G. Tomlin spent Monday at Warsaw attending county court.

Ed. Tomlin spent Thursday in Cincinnati on professional business.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Vest and baby visited relatives at Verona, last Sunday.

Mrs. W. T. Black, who has been quite sick at her home here, is now much improved.

Neither of the Walton banks closed for labor day. They failed to recollect the event.

For Sale—One pure bred Poland China boar; one year old. Address R. C. Green, Walton, Ky.

C. E. Lipscomb has a fine, fresh Jersey cow with calf which he wishes to sell. Address him at Walton, R. F. D. No. 1.

Jesse Franks, the worthy cashier of the Verona bank, spent labor day here with his family, his bank being closed on that day.

Miss Lulu Jones, one of our charming and popular ladies, spent part of last week at Bank Lick, the guest of friends and relatives.

S. L. Edwards left Tuesday on a Western trip, expecting to be gone about six weeks. His wife accompanied him to Cincinnati.

The extreme dry weather has cut down the supply of water in this neighborhood to an alarming extent and some of the citizens have padlocks on their cisterns.

A. H. Smith left Saturday for Gwenton where he will be employed on the telephone line. He was a former valued employe of the Consolidated Telephone Co.

Born—To Marion Stephenson and wife, Sept. 8th, a fine 10½ pound boy. To Walker Durr and wife, a 7 pound boy. Dr. B. K. Menefee was the attending physician in both cases.

Mrs. W. H. Hays and two daughters, Lulu and Janie and Mrs. Jane Jordan, of Covington, were guests of Mrs. Hays' sister, Mrs. R. I. Ratcliff and husband, last week. Mrs. Jordan is a cousin of Mr. Ratcliff.

J. R. Wallace spent last Sunday at Warsaw visiting his brother, D. B. Wallace, who is rapidly recovering from a severe attack of typhoid fever. His son, Bruce, is recovering, and Mrs. Wallace is able to attend to her household duties. All had the same disease.

Misses Dora and Virgie Mason, two handsome and charming ladies of near Corinth, Grant county, were guests of the Atlas Hotel last Friday morning enroute to the Sanders fair. They were accompanied by Arthur Forner and Robert Stamper, two excellent young gentlemen of the same neighborhood.

The North Bend Association of Baptists was in session with the Baptist church here, last Wednesday and Thursday. There was a good attendance of both ministers and laymen, and the meeting was of great importance to that denomination. The North Bend Association wields considerable influence upon the denomination in the State, and its annual sessions, bring together many of the ablest Baptist divines.

Miss Fannie Underhill, the obliging and pretty attendant at the Beaver Lick telephone exchange, and Mrs. Merit Jack, the estimable wife of the manager of the Beaver Lick Mercantile Company's store, were welcome visitors here Thursday, and attended the North Bend Association of Baptists in session here on that day.

W. E. Vest, our hustling real estate dealer and surveyor, has closed a contract with the Pure Oil Company, of West Virginia, to survey a pipe line from Ross, Ky., through Campbell, Kenton and Boone counties, running between Erlanger and Buffington to Florence and then on to Grant (Belleview.) The line will then cross the Ohio river at that point. Mr. Vest was not particular about taking the contract on account of his large real estate and loan business, and made the contract price at a figure that he supposed would be rejected, but the company granted him the contract. He is now employed on the work with a force of hands.

The following notice has been sent to the stockholders in the Equitable Bank and Trust Co., as Walton, and is a magnificent showing:

Walton, Ky., September 10th, 1908.

Dear Sir:—At a meeting of the Board of Directors of this bank held Sept. 4th, 1908, a 3 per cent. dividend was declared, which is placed to the credit of each stockholder, subject to check on and after Sept. 15th. The net earnings collected for the year was $1870.90, disposed of as follows:

Dividend No. 1....	$1,500 00
Surplus Fund.....	200 00
Undivided Profits...	170 90
	$1,870 90

This does not take into consideration the accrued interest on mortgage loans, which amounts to something over $1,000.

EQUITABLE BANK & TRUST CO.

J. D. Doubman and J. D. Mayhugh spent last Tuesday at Hamilton, Ohio, where they went to inspect the pressed brick plant of the Hamilton Pressed Brick Works. They discovered that the plan of procedure they were pursuing here in the burning of the brick was entirely wrong. In order to make a success of the plant it is necessary to build a down draft kiln on the same principle all brick plants of this kind do. Any other plan will not meet with success. The Walton Brick Company have lost considerable money in their venture by the lack of this knowledge, but now as they have the necessary information they will employ an expert pressed brick maker and will have their product on the market at the earliest possible moment. They speak in the highest terms of the courteous treatment they received at the hands of the gentlemen connected with the Hamilton Pressed Brick Works, as they were untiring in their efforts to impart all the information in their possession.

RELIGIOUS NOTES.

MEETING IN UNION PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

Evangelistic services will begin, providence permitting, in this church on next Monday, 21st inst., at 7:30 p. m. Services every day through the week at 10 a. m., and 7:30 p. m. The pastor will be ably assisted by the Rev. Dr. Glass, pastor of the Madison Ave. Presbyterian church, Covington. All are most cordially invited to attend these services.

THE MEETING OF PRESBYTERY.

The meeting last week of the Presbytery of Ebenezer with the Richwood church makes an event in the social religious life of that community that will be long and pleasantly remembered and that will exert a lasting influence for good. The attendance was large and the spirit enthusiastic. The law of love, the principle of christian unity, was beautifully and practically exhibited. People of all churches asked for and entertained members of the Presbytery as their guests, and all brought generous baskets to the daily dinner on the ground. The reputation of this community for hearty and loyal hospitality was fully sustained. The spiritual feast was also rich; the preaching and addresses were of a high order of excellence, and were greatly enjoyed by all. The Pastor and congregation of the Richwood church desire to express their high appreciation of the kind offices of all the friends who contributed to the success of this occasion. They will please accept our cordial thanks.

PROTRACTED MEETING AT RICHWOOD.

Upon the close of the Presbytery the Rev. Dr. W. W. Akees, of Maysville, Ky., began a series of services, which are expected to continue over the third Sunday. The preaching of Dr. Akees is most excellent. The attendance on the services is large, there is deep interest and much good is being accomplished. Two services are held daily, 10 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

People along the railroad have been living in dread of fire for several weeks, and fires that started from sparks from engines have burnt over hundreds of acres of land, but, fortunately, no buildings have been burnt in the county.

Caddie Maurer, of Belleview, was [illegible] pertaining to the Belleview Graded School. The public school building in that town has but one room, and to conduct the graded school requires two rooms, and the trustees are experiencing some trouble in securing the additional room. The school is to begin next Monday with Misses Katie Craig and Bettie Dolph as teachers.

For Sale—2 good cows and calves. Apply to F. H. Rouse, Burlington.

Another Good Man Gone.

O. C. Rouse died September 2d, 1908 of organic heart trouble, aged 55 years, 7 months and 19 days. A friend we loved from us has gone, a voice we loved is still, a place is vacant in our midst, that time may never fill. He suffered keenly for several weeks before his death, but was never heard to murmur or complain at his lot, but welcomed his friends with a bright smile to the very last. His faith in God was firm, and strong, and his resignation to God's will complete. Death held no terrors for him, his way seemed bright and clear. Those who witnessed his patience in suffering and the calm, sweet smile that faced death so bravely, could but catch an inspiration of a brighter home beyond, and a new and clearer vision of God as with the loving tenderness of a father he smoothes the pillow of suffering, and removes the shadows in the dark hour of death. Mr. Rouse leaves a wife, two sons and three daughters, an aged mother, two brothers and three sisters, with a host of friends and relatives who mourn his loss. The family have the heartfelt sympathy of the entire community in their sad bereavement.

A FRIEND.

CARD OF THANKS—We wish to express our thanks and gratitude to our friends and neighbors for their kindness sbown to us and our loved one in his fatal illness and death. Also for the many floral offerings.

MRS. O. C. ROUSE AND CHILDREN.

The M. E. Conference transferred Rev. Pilo from the Petersburg circuit to New Columbus, and sent Rev. S. J. Bradley to the Petersburg circuit.

If you meet a man riding in a buggy with a saddle carefully stored therein, its a 10 to 1 shot that he is a candidate and will shove a card at you before he gets beyond your reach.

Gideon Kite and lady friend, of Waterloo, had a close call last Saturday as they were going to the Harvest Home. They were driving at a moderate gait, and when their buggy went over one of the several washerouts in the pike in the vicinity of Limaburg, the jerk that resulted broke both of the shafts off of the axle. Fortunately the horse behaved nicely and they escaped without injury.

[illegible] for building a vestibule and belfrey at the Burlington colored church building.

CARD OF THANKS—We take this opportunity of extending our heartfelt thanks to all the neighbors and friends for their help and sympathy during the illness and death of our loved ones. We also wish to thank Rev. Carter for his words of comfort and undertaker Chambers for his excellent services.

VIRGINIA HEWETT AND FAMILY.

Old Sore, Cut & Burn Antiseptic

Cures the Old Sores that other remedies won't cure

Relieves the Pain of a Burn instantly

A New Discovery

by Dr. Porter an Old Railroad Surgeon.

25c packages free at your nearest Drug Store

We have made arrangements with the majority of the local Druggists by which they will give away free a limited number of regular 25 cent packages of Dr. Porter's Antiseptic Healing Oil as a means of introducing this remedy to those who have never used it. To be sure of getting a free sample call on your Druggist to-day.

The PARIS MEDICINE COMPANY, 2622-30 Pine St., St. Louis, Mo., manufacturers of LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE and other standard preparations have a new discovery that far surpasses anything ever placed on the market for old sores, cuts, burns and all wounds.

When Marconi stated that he could send messages across the ocean without a wire or cable, the world did not believe it; if we were to tell you that will cure old chronic sores which other remedies have failed to cure, and will absolutely relieve the pain of a burn instantly, you would not believe it; therefore we wish to place the remedy, FREE OF COST, in your hands to convince you that it is the most wonderful remedy ever discovered.

Dr. Porter's Antiseptic Healing Oil

We Mean It

It is needed in every home. When any of the family are severely burned or cut, you haven't time to send for a remedy, but you need it at once; therefore do not delay to send to your Druggist for a regular 25c package, FREE OF COST. We give it free, in this way, because we know that when one family tries it they will recommend it to other families, and thus introduce it. Send for a free package and convince yourself that a wonderful progress along the line of new discoveries has been made in the manufacture of this preparation.

It will cure

Old Sores, Running Sores, Fever Sores,	Burns, Boils, Carbuncles,	Granulated Eyelids, Scald Head, Scalp Diseases,	Chronic Catarrh, Sore Throat, Throat Trouble,	Eczema, Skin Diseases, Bites & Stings,	Ear Ache, Ulcers, Wounds,

The following dealers have these goods in stock for free distribution:

Robt. Littrell, Beaver Lick. Quigley & Beemon, Limaburg. C. W. Myers, Florence.
S. C. Buchanan, Petersburg. Bedinger Bros., Richwood. T. S. Aylor, Hebron.
L. C. Scothorn & Co., Idlewild. W. B. Norman, Walton.

Obituary.

Died, August 31st, 1908, Howard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Batchelor. He died of spinal trouble, aged 10 months and 1 day. He was sick many days. The remains were interred in the cemetery at Burlington at 11 o'clock the following Tuesday. We feel much grieved of the death of the little one, but trust to God, who does all things well, for it is God that giveth, and God that taketh away. He has left a vacant place in that home that can't be filled. He passed quietly from this world of sin to that heavenly Kingdom to dwell with God and his angels. At times we all feel we have nothing to live for, but such sorrow brings us nearer to God.

Sleep on dear Howard,
Take thy rest.
God called thee home,
He thought it best.

G. E. S.

Memorial.

The death angel has again visited our community and took from our midst Mrs. Lucy G. Beemon at the age of 44 years, 11 months, and 24 days. She was a patient sufferer of a most dreaded disease, cancer of the stomach, for several months, and was called to her reward on Sunday, August 30th, at 1 o'clock a. m. She leaves a husband and daughter to mourn her loss. Everything was done by kind hands that could be that she might be restored to health, but it was God's will that she should be removed from this to another and better world. While she would have liked to have remained with her family, she was submissive to God's will and was ready to go when the summons came. She united with Big Bone church early in life, thus giving the few short years of her life to the service of the Lord. The funeral services were conducted by pastor McMillian at the home the following Tuesday, after which the remains were interred in the Florence cemetery in the presence of a large concourse of relatives and friends. The family have the sympathy of the entire community in their sore bereavement

May all those who have known her,
And loved her here below,
Be prepared to meet her,
For in time we all must go

A COUSIN.

Notice to Policy Holders.

The policy holders in the Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Company of Boone County, are hereby notified that the annual election of officers will be held at the office in Burlington on Monday, October 5th, 1908. The directors are notified to be at the office on same date, as there is business of importance to attend to. Any person desiring to have his name on the official ballot, must notify the secretary by September 25th, 1908.

MALCHUS SOUTHER, Secretary.

A very large crowd attended the Sunday school convention at Hopeful Lutheran church yesterday. An interesting program claimed the attention of the people during the day, while at the noon hour an abundant and excellent dinner was discussed.

B. B. Hume's steppers did not land first money at Sanders, last week. One of them was sick.

Administratrors Notice.

All persons indebted to the estate of Susan Ann Jarrell, decd., must come forward and settle, and all those having claims against [illegible] present them to the undersigned proven according to law.

LYSTRA SMITH Admr.

DR. L. H. CRISLER,
VETERINARY SURGEON.
Residence 1562 Scott St.,
COVINGTON, - - KENTUCKY.
Phone, South 1248.

BOONE HIGH SCHOOL

Do your High School work at home where teachers will take especial interest in you. This School offers the regular four years High School and the eight years Common School Courses.

TUITION:
High School Course...$40.00
Common School Course..$25.00
Per Session.

Two well qualified teachers besides the Superintendent.

School Opens Sept. 14th.

For Particulars write to
EDGAR C. RILEY, Supt.,
BURLINGTON, KY.

Jewelry
Just a Little Better.

We are not satisfied to show Jewelry as good as others show. It is our aim to offer you something better, something different. Excellence of workmanship, beauty and exclusiveness of design and the very best wearing qualities characterize every piece—and with our moderate prices you can buy far more economically here than elsewhere.

Motch,
The Jeweler,
613 MADISON,
Covington, Ky.

R. O. HUGHES,
—SURVEYOR,—
RICHWOOD, - KY.
Am prepared to do, and will answer all calls for surveying in Boone and adjoining counties. Over 20 years experience as a practical surveyor

J. Bullock & Son,
PRACTICAL TAILORS,
HEBRON, - KENTUCKY.
Our Fall and Winter samples are ready for inspection and we invite you to call and see them and learn the prices.
All work guaranteed and done under my own supervision.
J. Bullock & Son,
HEBRON, KY.

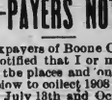
H. C. BLACK,
VETERINARY SURGEON,
WALTON, KENTUCKY.
Treats all diseases pertaining to animals. Prompt attention given to all calls. Telephone connections.

Take the Recorder.

"Always Reliable."
W. N. HIND & CO.
Carpets, Furniture, Stoves,
210-12 W. Fifth Street,
Cincinnati, - Ohio.

TAX-PAYERS NOTICE.

The Taxpayers of Boone County are hereby notified that I or my Deputy will be at the places and on the dates named below to collect 1908 taxes:



Florence, July 13th and October 12th.
Verona, July 14th and October 13th.
Walton, July 15th and October 14th.
Petersburg, July 16th and October 15.
Bellevue, July 17th and October 16th.
Beaver, July 20th and October 19th.
Big Bone, July 21st and October 20th.
Union, July 22d and October 21st.
Rabbit Hash, July 24th and Oct. 8th.
Constance, July 27th and Oct 9th.
Bullittsville, July 28th and Oct. 22d.
Hebron, October 23rd.
Gunpowder, October 26th.
Richwood, October 27th.

RATES—State, 50 cents; County, 15c on the $100, six per cent penalty added December 1st on all unpaid taxes.

Pay your Poll-tax before December 1st and you will not be put on the delinquent list. Interest and cost of collecting will be added on all delinquent taxes

M. F. WINGATE,
Sheriff Boone County.

Dr. L. E. ROUSE,

DENTIST,
Will be at Burlington on Monday of each week; Union on Tuesday, balance of time at my office in Masonic Building. LUDLOW, KY.

Notice is hereby given that all persons are forbidden to trespass upon my lands in any manner whatever, unless by my permission. The law against trespass will be rigidly enforced by me.

O. F. GLACKEN.

RIDGEVIEW STOCK FARM
Boone County, Ky.
BREEDER OF
Aberdeen-Angus Cattle and Duroc Jersey Swine.
Stock for Sale. Address or call
W. W. COCHRAN, Mgr. - Dehl, Ohio.
(The Chambers Farm.)

POSTED.

Notice is hereby given that my property known as Laughery Island is posted against all kinds of trespass.

JOHN SMITH, Grant, Ky.

Rogers Bros.
General Merchants,
BELLEVUE, KY.
Keep on hand a General Stock of MERCHANDISE.
Coal Kept in the Yard.
Country Produce taken in Trade.

Subscribe for the Recorder.

It will pay you to advertise your Business in this Paper. Try it.

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER.

ESTABLISHED 1875.
Subsciption $1.50 year.
Try it one Year.

VOL. XXXIII. BURLINGTON, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 23, 1908. NO. 49

County News Items

Interesting Facts Gathered During the Week by Our Regular Correspondents.

GRANT.

Born, to O. W. Oxley and wife, Sept. 19th, a fine girl.

Al Rogers and Henry Clore are on the sick list this week.

What has become of Mart Williamson, Jack Eyle and Dump Ranes?

Mrs. Josie Riley is still very sick with no change yet for better or worse.

Mrs. Sebern Berkshire, who was quite ill several days ago, is much better.

For Sale—A wood cook stove, good as new. Apply to Mrs. John Deck, Grant, Ky.

John Maurer and wife, and Andy Cook and family spent Sunday at T. W. Cook's.

The corn is getting very dry here and but a small amount of fodder has been cut.

Joshua Rice, of Illinois, is visiting his relatives here and at other places in the county.

Clarence McCarty and Ed Sandford went to Indianapolis on an excursion yesterday.

Some of the local weather prophets predict that we will have snow before we have rain.

John Deck and family spent Sunday with John Welsickle and family, of Petroad, Ind.

Lewis Stephens and wife, of Clore's Ridge, spent Sunday with Mrs. Annie Clore and children.

The writer spent last Sunday with Mrs. Harriet Walton and son, Smith, of Rabbit Hash.

Ed McCright and wife, of Lawrenceburg, Ind., visited the latter's parents here the past week.

Perry Preser and wife of Found Section, spent Sunday with Sebern Berkshire and wife of our town.

Only about one-third of the tomatoes will be handled at the factory here as compared with last year.

The river men are wearing dusters and goggles, as the boats raise an awful dust walking over the bars.

J. P. Ryle's sorghum factory is turning out molasses at a rapid rate. Pep Smith says the quality is fine.

Elbert Clore has been delivering some tomatoes at the factory. They were grown in the creek bottom.

The drought still continues and several of our citizens are supplied with water from the well at the cannery.

Mrs. Rhea Berkshire, of Evergreen Rebecca Lodge, is a delegate to the Grand Lodge at Cincinnati, this week.

The local ball club were highly pleased with the treatment accorded them by the boys at Big Bone, Saturday.

Mrs. Wm. Hahn, who has been visiting relatives here and at Rabbit Hash, has returned to her home at Connersville, Ind.

Messrs. Chas. Rue and Ed Sandford and Misses Kate Berkshire and Irene Cook spent last Sunday at Cincinnati, sight-seeing.

B. W. Nelson, bookkeeper at the cannery, goes back and forth from here to his home at Rabbit Hash, in his boat, the "Sprague."

O. W. Oxley has a large pile of logs on the landing here for a Lawrenceburg firm. They will be taken to that place as soon as the river rises.

A crowd of ladies and gentlemen from Rising Sun came up on a gasoline boat Sunday and attended services here at the Baptist church.

The channel at Rising Sun has filled in badly since last year and has left a very small strip of water and the boats have to hit center or hang up.

Robt. Piatt, of East Bend, has sold his 58 acre bottom farm to E. L. Stephens for $3,000. He had a sale, last Saturday, and will move to Rising Sun soon.

Your reporter and wife had as guests Wednesday, Mrs. Mary Klopp, of Woolper, Mrs. Joseph Maurer, Mrs. T. W. Cook, and John Deck and family, of Belleview.

Our ball club went to Big Bone, Saturday, and were defeated in a nicely played game by a score of 7 to 6. Big Bone plays at the park here next Saturday. A good game is expected.

Miss Geneva Powell and Harry Norton, of Rising Sun, and Miss Ines Thompson, of Elizabethtown, Ind., were guests of W. W. Grant and wife, Thursday. The occasion being Mr. Grant's birthday. He was 64 years old that day.

We were sitting in the swing in Henry Clore's yard Sunday when a crowd of Rising Sun ladies stopped in at Chas. (Caddie) Maurer's for a drink. Charlie had his twin boys on the porch in a basket carriage which he made of willows. Before getting the water some of the ladies spied the twins and from the compliments and excitement they caused some of the ladies went off without a drink. Caddie wears a size larger hat since their visit.

A stranger passed through our town Thursday evening about dark and sold Dr. Perkins a shot gun. He told Doc that he was going to work on the pike out near Waterloo. The next day two young men from a camp up near Laughery Island came here on trail of the fellow, who had stolen two guns from their camp—a rifle and shot gun while they were at Aurora after supplies for their camp. On returning to their camp which was on the Indiana side, they saw the fellow pull away from the camp in a John boat and on reaching camp and missing the guns, they immediately gave chase. The thief came to this side up near Moody's light and took to the woods carrying both guns. It is thought the rifle is hidden between where he got out of his boat and this place as he only had one gun when here. The owner of the shot gun gave Doc the amount he paid for the gun and went on to Rising Sun as they found out that the thief crossed at the ferry there and was in town. Nothing has been heard from pursuers or pursued since they left here. The fugitive is a young fellow about 18 or 20 years old and did not appear as a bad sort of a fellow. He also ransacked Gilly Welsickles house during their absence Friday evening, but beyond a few edibles, he took nothing of value.

o o o

UNION.

Mrs. John W. Williams is visiting relatives in Paris.

Harry Tanner and family were Sunday guests of Mrs. Geo. Rouse.

Miss Ben Norman, of Covington, is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. L. H. Voshell.

Miss Eugenia Riley was the guest of Miss Maggie Clarkson, Saturday night and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Huey spent Saturday night with Judge Lassing's family at Walton.

J. M. Utz and L. H. Voshell attended the State fair at Louisville, last Thursday and Friday.

The schedule time for the mail has been changed. It leaves here now at 5:30 a. m. instead of 6 as formerly.

Mrs. T. A. Huey entertained quite a number of friends, Saturday evening, in honor of the 24th birthday of her son James.

Miss E. Frazier, after a month's visit with her klnspeople here, left Wednesday for her home in St. Louis, Mo.

J. W. Huey shipped several of his string of fine horses, Saturday, to Cynthiana, where he will show them at that fair.

Miss Lottie Utz, of Florence, came down and stayed with her grandmother, Mrs. J. M. Utz, while Mr. Utz was at the State fair.

o o o

Geo. Rouse is figuring on building a new house soon.

Tom Burkitt has the expert blacksmith, Mr. Piatt, with him again.

The mail will start from Union at 5:30 a. m., and 1:15 p. m., after the 23d inst.

Uncle George Barlow is conceded to be the jolliest man who comes to the creamery.

Cal Dean, the expert butter maker and all-round creamery hustler, was on the sick list, last week.

Mrs. B. C. Norman, of Covington, is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. L. H. Voshell, at the Eagle Hotel.

L. H. Voshell, James Utz and D. B. Dobbins were visitors at the State Fair at Louisville, last week.

To see a man going about Union hunting for a drink of water and having trouble to find it, is a sight.

Owen Utz with Geo Stevenson and son are doing the carpenter work and painting on the Bristow residence.

Rev. Stewart preached at the Baptist church, Saturday and Sunday. At the morning service Sunday, Geo. Smith was baptized.

The many friends in Union of Miss Annie Riley regret to hear of her serious illness and hope she may soon be restored to perfect health.

Clarence Norman, the "tall sycamore" of Gunpowder. and all-round political hustler, calls at the Blade office frequently and we are glad to see him.

Jake Youell is remodeling his residence on the Frog Road and it looks fine. A new veranda, new weather boarding, &c., are among the linprovements.

Jerry Carpenter had a couple of rooms repapered and painted in his residence, last week. The hospitality dispensed in Mr. Carpenter's home is calculated to make a fellow feel like staying all summer.

When in the name of Wm. J. Bryan, John W. Kern, John Hickory Jackson or any other saints of democracy, did it become necessary for Democrats in the Union precinct to have a Republican dictate to them on matters political?

Saturday an employe of J. W. Kennedy's became mixed up with a mule hitched to a surrey and one of the most exciting foot races ensued. The mule ran pell-mell from house to front gate, jumped off of the bridge, went up the branch to the warehouse and would have gone under it, but Walter had kept right up and caught him in time. A smashed surrey top covered the damage.

The Scientific editor of the Blade was on Gunpowder Tuesday of last week and reports seeing Col. John Crisler and Maj. S. A. House. They were trying to settle the questions, 1st: When did it rain last? Who's going to be the next President? Will we hurn up or just blow away finally? Will Lee Busby ever ent that bee tree? Can Sol Long collect $1.00 from the county for every hawk scalp he gets? Does Ed Clegg look like a dry weather prophet? Can Owen Utz get the correct measure of a boat?

Does Rob Dickerson ever get lonesome? Can 40 acres of land with 40s worth of grass on 'em keep 40 cattle from starving for 40 days?

o o o

FLORENCE.

Robert Cary, of Lexington pike, has malarial fever.

Susie Buckner, who has been sick for a week, is improving.

Dr. Hafer and wife were entertained by Hebron friends, Sunday.

Mrs. Charles Fulton entertained Mrs. Hubert Baxter, son and daughter, Sunday.

The Erlanger and Florence Business Men's Clubs will hold a joint meeting tonight.

Mrs. F. L. Sayer and several of her Hebron friends were entertained by Mrs. Sayer's mother, Sunday.

Several Florence people attended the Sunday school convention at the Hopeful church, last Tuesday, and report the services fine and the dinner splendid.

Mrs. Price Lillard, aged 39 years, of Covington, departed this life on the 4th inst. Mrs. Lillard was well known here, being a sister of Mrs. Ed Sidnor, of Lexington pike.

Mrs. Sweatman is visiting her sister, Mrs. Anna Crigler.

Mrs. J. R. Whitson is entertaining her father, Mr. Plumket.

Mrs. Joe Clark and children visited Mr. and Mrs. John Clark, the past week.

Miss Minnie Baxter was visiting Bessie and Nannie Lodge, of Hebron, last week.

Mrs. Fannie Clutterbuck and Emma Aylor attended the convention at Beaver, Saturday.

Mrs. Will Souther and children, of Erlanger, were guests of Wm. Bradford and wife, Tuesday.

Mrs. Will Starr gave a dance at her home in Erlanger, last Thursday night. All reported a good time.

The Florence and Hebron teams played a very interesting game of ball Saturday. The score was 17 to 20 in favor of Hebron. It was the first time Florence has been defeated this season.

Dave Brown got badly hurt one day last week. He was working on Charlie Riggs' house at Erlanger, when the scaffold broke and let him fall, breaking one of his lower limbs.

Mrs. Anna Crigler gave a reception Saturday night in honor of Rev. J. B. Harris. Those present were Edith Lancaster, Lucy, Virgie and Russell Clutterbuck, Jessie Hampton, Nannie Corbin, Agnes Carroll, Nellie Crigler, Sallie Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fulton, Mrs. Minnie Hampton, Mrs. Ollie Buckner, Mrs. Cage Stevens, Mrs. Sallie Fulton, Mrs. J. R. Whitson, Miss Kittie Murry, Mrs. Mat Willhoit, Rev. J. B. Harris, Mrs. Frank Souther, Mrs. Albert Souther. Mrs Sayers, Mrs. Sweatman and Mrs. Mollie Fisk. All enjoyed a pleasant evening.

o o o o

LIMABURG.

Ernest Horton is improving slowly.

Several in this vicinity are cutting corn and sowing grain.

Miss Hazel Tompson, of Florence, was the Saturday night guest of Essie Beemon.

J. D. Ayler is completing a small house for Sam Conrad, as the old one burned recently.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Tanner, Miss Hazel Tompson, and Messrs. Carl and Ray Craven, spent Sunday with C. E. Beemon and family.

Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Aylor entertained the following at dinner Sunday: Mr. and Mrs. Albert Beemon, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Rouse and daughter, Nellie, Mr. A. M. Yealey and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Craven and little daughter, Pansy, Mr. Owen Ross and wife, William Kirkpatrick and family, William Bradford and wife and Howard Kelly and wife. The day was spent very pleasantly by all but on the way home Wm. Bradford's horse became a little unruly, going down a steep hill. He jumped out of the buggy to hold it when he had the misfortune of breaking his limb above the ankle. The horse then threw his wife and Miss Nellie out of the buggy, but hurt them very much. Mr. Bradford is suffering very much from the accident.

o o o

PT. PLEASANT.

Miss Edna Tanner is visiting her brother, Roy, in Hebron.

Quite a delegation from here attended the convention at Beaver Lick, Saturday.

Mr. Walter C. Gibbs, who has lately returned from Europe, paid his uncle C. W. Robinson, and family, a call last Tuesday.

Miss Virgie Riggs and Mrs. J. J. Rueker left, Monday, for the convention at Hopkinsville. They will visit Mammoth Cave before returning.

Last Wednesday night closed one of the most successful and beneficial revivals that has been held at the church for a number of years. Good attendance, liberal giving and 22 additions. Our talented young brother, Mr. Campbell, left Thursday, to pursue his studies at Yale College, followed by the prayers of the entire church.

o o o

GUNPOWDER.

Candidates were [illegible] here last week.

Mrs. Houston and daughter are improving slowly.

Charles Tanner subbed for our mail carrier, J. P. Tanner, last Saturday.

Blankenbeker & Barlow shipped their last consignment of lambs, last week.

J. H. Tanner bought a flock of fancy sheep at the Cincinnati Stock Yards, last week.

Corn cutting is on and Ezra Rouse is the first in the neighborhood to complete that job.

CONSTANCE.

August Knoll has purchased a trotter.

Ed Hetzel will build on the lot he purchased recently.

Wm. Tanner has yarded a barge of coal at his lower store.

George Teters, jr., was operated on for appendicitis, Sunday.

Stinson Tanner had a sever attack of cholera morbus, a few days since.

Master Harry Henthorn, of Milan, Indiana, is visiting at John Klassener's.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunkel, of Belleview, were guests of Capt. Kotmyer, recently.

W. R. Rouse has about completed his part of the repairs on Dry Creek bridge.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hemfling were guests of her parents, J. Hankin and wife, a few days since.

Levi Tuning has sold his house and lot to Andy Smith and has purchased property in Petersburg to which he will move.

Last Thursday night a canoe occupied by two men capsized in the river here, and had it not been for prompt action on the part of Capt. Oliver Kotmyer, who witnessed the accident the two men would probable have lost their lives.

Howard Garnett and wife entertained Miss Kerdorf, of Cincinnati; A. Wentz and wife, Adron Wilson, Miss Clara Wentz, Mrs. K. Kroft, John Wens and wife, Miss Mary Hubers, of Crescent Springs; Jno. Wenz jr., and wife, Fred Garnett, Sophia Mura, Bessie Anderson, recently.

o o o

RICHWOOD.

Mrs. Belle Northcutt is a guest at William Dobbins'.

J. W. Carpenter is building a pond on the farm he purchased recently.

Little Miss Sarah Northcutt is staying here with her grandparents and going to school.

The many friends of Mrs. Kate English, of near Verona, will be sorry to hear of her death.

Mrs. McElroy, nee McGlasson, of Covington, was the guest of Mrs. Jane Conner, last week.

Will Glacken and family and O. F. Glacken and family were Sunday guests at Will Dobbins'.

J. J. Tanner and company, seined M. Grubbs' pond, Saturday, and caught a lot of nice fish.

Ed Rice and Walter Grubbs made a flying trip to Covington, last Saturday—not in an air ship, however.

Mr. Duefel, who was murdered back of Cincinnati, recently, was a brother of John Duefel, who lives here.

Wood Carpenter lost one of his horses. It is thought it was shot in one of its legs with a rifle, causing the bone to break.

Theodore Carpenter got his foot badly mashed at the Cincinnati Union Stock Yards, a few days ago. A horse stepped on it.

The protracted dry weather has cut the pastures short, and nearly every farmer is without stock water, or water for domestic purposes.

Candidates should be careful not to carry their cards in their hip pockets, for it is said in Kentucky they draw from their hip pockets to drink and shoot.

o o o

IDLEWILD.

Sept. 14.—Every truly brave man is a man of his word.

Wood McGuire visited Omer McGuire, of Idlewild, Monday and Tuesday.

A new metal roof is being put on the Bullittsburg church, by Rouse and Clore.

James Feeley, of Idlewild, was transacting business in Weneeda, Wednesday.

Mrs. Clay White, of Possom Ridge, Indiana, spent Sunday with her parents in Petersburg.

A Miss Pease, of Lawrenceburg, is spending the week with Mrs. John McCool, of Idlewild.

Master Charles White, son of Clay White, has a broken colar bone, caused by a horse stepping on him.

Mrs. Jane Kinney, of Lawrenceburg, visited her brothers, James, Tom and Mike Corcoran, Friday.

William Jones and betterhalf, of Idlewild, were calling on John Acra and wife, of Double Lick, Sunday evening.

Millard Black, near Lawreneburg ferry, spent Sunday the guest of Miss Lillie Vinson, of Wright's Corner, Indiana.

Miss Bessie Gray, of Idlewild, went, Wednesday, to make her sister, of Osgood, Ind., a visit of three or four months.

C. P. Robinson, of Big Bone, and Judge Cason, of Burlington, were circulating among the voters of Idlewild and Garrison, Wednesday.

Samuel Barnes and wife, of Bullittsville, and Kenneth Clayton and wife, of Idlewild, were Sunday guests of John Barnett, of Garrison.

o o o

HOPEFUL.

After an illness of five days the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Rouse, aged 4 months and 10 days, past away on the 18th inst. After a funeral service by pastor Walterick the remains were inferred in Hopeful cemetery last Saturday at 2 p. m. The parents have the sympathy of the entire community, but in their grief they must remember that God knows best. He put us here and He takes us away.

Card of Thanks—We desire to express our thanks and gratitude to our neighbors and friends for their kindness during the illness and death of our little one.

Ed Rouse and wife.

The front door step campaign will not be indulged in by either of the candidates for the Presidency. Each will take to the woods as it were and shake the bushes.

A BIG SCOOP.

Deputy Sheriff Hume Gets All He Goes After and Then Some.

He Recovers Two Stolen Horses and Saddle, and Captures The Parties Charged With the Theft of The Property.

Both Men In Jail at Burlington, The Result of Good Detective Work.—Horses Returned To The Owners.

Goes After the Buggy To-Day.

Last week mention was made in these columns of Deputy Sheriff B. B. Hume being over in Ohio in pursuit of the thief who stole a horse from the pasture of Joe Graham, of Francesville. Mr. Hume persisted in running down clues until at last he was given a tip that proved the correct one and he soon struck pay dirt. He learned that Chas. Robinson had brought a mule a few days before from about Nicholson, a town about 33 miles east of Cincinnati, near which his brother John lived. Mr. Hume reasoned that he had traded Graham's horse for the mule and that his brother new about the circumstances, and he went to Nicholson and found John Robinson, to whom he talked so positive and plain that he was soon ready to tell the officer where the horse was and drove him several miles to see it. He also told Mr. Hume where the Hubert Graves horse was, he having had it in his possession, and then drove him to Meriton a distance of 33 miles, where the mare was found. John Robinson protested his innocence all the ttme and declared had he known the horses were stolen he would have told it. Having located the two horses Mr. Hume returned to Cincinnati, where he had Joe Graham and W. P. Cropper to meet him, when they returned with him to Nicholson and Meriton, and identified the horses. The horses having been recovered, Mr. Hume was anxious to capture the thief and learned that Charles Robinson had gone to Columbus, Ohio, and he started for that city that afternoon. Shortly after his arrival in Columbus he learned that about an hour before his arrival Robinson bought a ticket and left on a train for Cincinnati. The officers in Cincinnati were notified of Robinson's movements but failed to capture him when he landed in Cincinnati. Mr. Hume returned to Cincinnati as soon as he could, and Sunday he succeeded in locating and arresting Robinson, and Monday night he pulled Howard Hayes near Chester Park, and yesterday by 1:30 p. m. he had them behind the bars in the jail at Burlington. John Robinson implicated Hayes, claiming that he brought the Graves horse, the first one stolen, to him.

Mr. Hume has located the buggy belonging to O. P. Phipps, and was stolen with Hubert Graves' horse, and he and Mr. Phipps will go to Cincinnati today to reclaim the property.

The above is a history in brief of a very clever piece of detective work executed by Mr. Hume, and, will, no doubt make horse thieves think twice hereafter before swiping a horse in Boone county.

Mr. Hume says that the officers of every city and town he visited gave him the must courteous treatment and rendered him every service in their power.

HAMILTON.

Tomatoes are selling at 50c a bu.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Isaac, a daughter.

Mrs. W. B. Wilson is suffering from a fall which she received one evening last week.

Miss Mary Marksbery leaves next Thursday on an extended trip to Mississippi.

Since the river has been so low, the boats are having their troubles making their daily trips.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jones spent last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Moore, near Hathaway.

Miss Pearl Williams, of Rising Sun, spent several days, last week, visiting relatives and friends here.

Mrs. Henry Feldhaus, of Walnut Hills, Ohio, has been visiting in this neighborhood for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Marksbery spent several days, last week, visiting relatives and friends in this vicinity.

Harry Tanner and Noah Zimmerman, of Florence, Sundayed at J. E. Marksbery's. In the afternoon all enjoyed a trip to Big Bone Island in F. K. Marksberry's gasoline boat.

Tom and Russell, sons of A. A. and Jim Chittenden, of Livingston-co., visited this part of the county, last week. Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Chittenden [illegible] from this place 12 years ago. This length of time has made much change in Tom. Both are fine young men and are prospering.

I wish to inform the policy holders of the Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance Company, of Boone county that I am a candidate for the office of Secretary. I regret that I have not had the opportunity to see all but will appreciate your support.

EDGAR L. GRAVES,
Bullittsville, Ky.

Personal Mention.

J. C. Revill is attending the bankers' association in session at Lexington.

Al Rogers and wife, of Belleview, were guests at N. E. Riddell's, Sunday.

Mrs. R. S. Cowen has been quite sick for several days, but is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Pope entertained several of their friends, last Sunday.

Miss Annie Cowen is visiting her brother, Dr. L. C. Cowen and wife, in Rising Sun, Ind.

Misses Olivette Foster and Nellie Berkshire were Saturday night guests of Miss Laura Porter.

Mrs. G. M. Terrill, of Lawrenceburg, was the guest of her aunt, Mrs. W. J. Rice, last week.

Noah Clore and wife, of Covington, were guests of their daughter, Mrs. Les Nichols, last Sunday.

Mr. Beck, wife and daughter, of Cincinnati, were Saturday night and Sunday guests of J. F. Blyth and wife.

Mrs. C. C. Roberts returned home, last Sunday, after a visit of several days with her father and sisters near Walton.

B. A. Floyd, the RECORDER's faithful Gunpowder chronicler of events, was transacting business in Burlington, one day last week.

Miss Emma Hunt, of Walton, came down last Thursday to spend a few days with her sister, Mrs. T. J. Walton, of Commissary.

Mrs. J. A. Moorhead and son, Omer, of Brooksville, Bracken county, are guests of Mrs. Moorehead's daughter, Mrs. T. D. Peddicord.

D. M. Snyder accompanied Rev. Andrews to Walton, last Sunday, where he went to fill his regular appointment at the Baptist church.

Miss Nellie Kirkpatrick has been assisting at the switch-board at the Burlington exchange of the Consolidated Telephone Company, for several days.

Owen S. Watts and wife, of Walton, passed through Burlington, last Thursday afternoon enroute to the Bullittsville neighborhood to spend a few days with his relatives.

Thomas D. Goodridge spent several days last week with his daughter, Mrs. Sidney Gaines. He thought his going away from home to spend a few days might bring a rain.

Earl Smith, Callie Baldon, Elbert Clore, Ben Kelly and Rex Berkshire, members of the local K. of P. Lodge, attended the dedication of the K. of P. Home at Lexington, last Sunday.

N. E. Riddell and B. T. Kelly are attending the K. of P. Grand Lodge in session at Lexington. They are delegates from the local lodge. The Grand Lodge will adjourn today.

Temp Graves, of Bullittsville, has placed his announcement in the RECORDER as a candidate for Justice of the Peace in this district. Everybody knows Temp, hence he needs no introdnction.

Carl Casoh, son of Ben Casoh, who lives down on Middle creek, left last week, for South Dakota, where he will take up a claim. As soon as he gets his claim fastened he will be expected to return for a Kentucky wife to take west to divide the hardships and pleasures of a life in the west.

Ben Crisler, of McVille, was among the visitors to Burlington, last Saturday. He said his land had not been to wet to plow since May 17th, and he does not understand how his corn continued to grow so well in the dry sand. He has become accustomed to the steamboats and they no longer disturb his slumbers at night.

Kirb Foster, who left Burlington eighteen years ago, and has resided in Florida ever since, arrived last Friday at noon, fresh from the South. His wife and daughter have been visiting their relatives in this county for several weeks, but this is Mr. Foster's first appearance here since he left. He has been employed on the Jacksonville police force for many years, and has made a splendid record as an officer. There has not been much change in his appearance, gray hairs only being numerous on his head.

RABBIT HASH.

Prof. Ryle visited relatives here last week.

Miss Inez Ryle visited at H. D. Brady, last week.

Chas. Boddie, Jr., bought a horse at R. L. Piatt's sale for $155.

J. C. Kelly and family visited Mrs. Sutton, of McVille, Sunday.

E. L. Stephens has purchased R. L. Piatt's farm in East Bend.

Marion Scott purchased a mare from S. C. McConnell for $80.

J. H. Walton sold a two year old colt to a man from Indiana for $140.

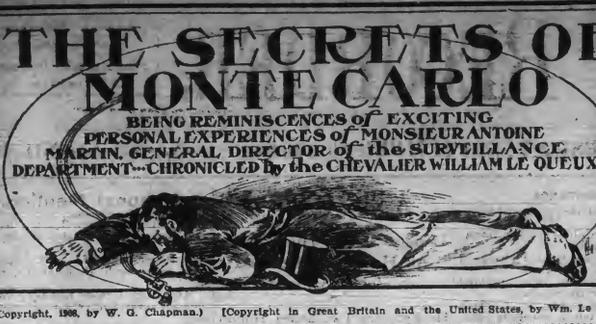
J. H. Walton and family spent last Saturday at the Cincinnati Zoo.

Mrs. Myra Stephens and daughter, Bettie, are visiting relatives in Illinois.

Our school is progressing nicely under the management of William Smith.

Mrs. Sam Calvert and daughter, Leona, have returned from a visit to relatives in Indiana.

Dr. Richardson, of Rising Sun, was over at Walter Ryle's to see a sick colt and Steve Wards to doctor a mule last week.



Jeff O'Neal, formerly of this place, died Saturday at his son-in-law's Irven Beymer's, of Indiana. Buried at Rising Sun, Monday.

Rev. Williams, of Rising Sun, delivered an interesting lecture at the East Bend M. E. church, last Saturday night.

Dr. Hopkins and Will Craig have taken a sub-contract for a mile of pike beginning at Rabbit Hash, and have the work well under way.

THE SECRETS OF MONTE CARLO

BEING REMINISCENCES OF EXCITING PERSONAL EXPERIENCES of MONSIEUR ANTOINE MARTIN, GENERAL DIRECTOR of the SURVEILLANCE DEPARTMENT—CHRONICLED by the CHEVALIER WILLIAM LE QUEUX.

(Copyright, 1908, by W. G. Chapman.) [Copyright in Great Britain and the United States, by Wm. Le Queux.]

THEIR SERENE UGLINESSES

MANY are the strange phenomena in our garish, fevered world, wherein day by day there accumulate all the caprices, all the fantasies, all the eccentricities, all the superstitions, and all the ambitions; a turbulent world, where gold is king, where millions in hard, yellow napoleons dance before the dazzled eyes of the ruined, where millionaires toss away the maximum as though it were a five-sous piece, and princes, barons, grand dukes, titled ladies and ladies of grands marque elbow with the scum of Europe to thoughtfully place down their stakes or eagerly grab their winnings.

Among the professional habitues of the rooms—those men who for a few louis a day will place the money of any timid gambler ignorant of the game—was one who, although wild and reckless, was, nevertheless, a very good fellow. He had been an English officer, and was known to the croupiers as Capt. Drummond, although I have reason to believe that was not his name. We were excellent friends, and on many occasions, when weary, he would slip into my private room and gossip over a cigar.

One evening in late autumn he entered, laughing as usual, and, sinking into the chair opposite me, exclaimed with a laugh:

"I'm in for a real good thing now, Martin. Congratulate me."

"Oh," I exclaimed, interested. "Has somebody died and remembered you?"

"No, not that," he answered, grimly. "I only wish somebody would. I ran through my little bit too quickly, or I shouldn't be here. No. Two girls have engaged me to play for them. They've got half a million francs over at the Credit Lyonnais, and intend putting it on the tables!"

"A slice of luck for you—eh?" I laughed. "Who are they—pretty?"

"No, the reckless damsels are scarcely prepossessing," he answered slowly. "They saw me playing this morning, inquired of Grenat who I was, spoke to me, and the result is that we start to-morrow on a regular big 'bust.' The girls won't tell where they hail from. They're either English or American. They gave me their names as Treherne—Helen and Mabel."

"Well," I observed, after a pause, "it's fortunate for them that they've fallen into your hands, Drummond. Certainly, nobody else who takes commissions could be trusted with a level half million."

"Ah!" he laughed. "You're in a complimentary mood to-day, my dear fellow. One thing is certain, that the bank will get some of the money, and Bornier will rub his hands contentedly."

"What do they intend playing?"

"Roulette, of course," the captain answered, biting at the end of his cigar. "They say there's not enough excitement in trente-et-quarante."

"They'll find both games pretty exciting in about a week, when they begin to lose," I remarked.

"I expect there'll be some fun before we've finished," he laughed as we shook hands. "Just now I'm the gay adviser of a couple of girls, with half a million at my disposal! Last night I had to walk down to La Condamine and get a two-franc dinner. Couldn't afford the table d'hote at the Paris. By Jove! this is a funny world, isn't it?"

I admitted that it was, and, with a merry an revoir, he left me to go to his rooms to dress, for he had promised to dine that night with his fair employers over at the Metropole, and afterwards to instruct them in the intricacies of the game.

Next afternoon I saw them at the first roulette in the center. They had all three obtained chairs at the opening of the play, and were engrossed in the chances of the black and the red. Drummond's estimate that they were not very prepossessing was certainly correct. They were exceptionally ugly. Both were tall and thin, with willowy figures, narrow, bony faces of unhealthy pallor, their dark eyes burning with unnatural excitement as they watched their mentor place their louis in position on the various numbered squares. They were well dressed, in that severe tailor-made style which peculiarly English, for only an Englishwoman can wear a tailor-made gown. All other nationalities look positively hideous in cloth dresses of masculine facture. Their facts were alike and their hats were alike, but the shades of their dresses were different, the elder one, who I learned was Helen, being dressed in green, and Mabel in dark gray.

[illegible] clinking the louis [illegible] considered what [illegible] numbers [illegible] and [illegible] the latter notes [illegible] cing them a cheval and en plein, the croupier's warning voice rose above the chatter, and a few seconds later there came the announcement:

"Onze! Noir, impaire et manque!"

He had a louis en plein, one on the second six and one on the first dozen; therefore, after his losses had been raked in, he received, as his gain, 600 francs.

A look of extreme satisfaction overspread the features of the Misses Treherne, and the elder scribbled something in the little silver-bound book they had brought in which to record their winnings.

Drummond was exceedingly lucky that afternoon. Very soon the pile of gold and notes before him increased, until he deemed it wise to exchange a few hundred louis for notes. Indeed, in one hour the party had won 8,000 francs, Mabel placing the cigar notes in the wallet she had brought with her, for their capital still remained intact.

Ten minutes later zero turned up, and Drummond, with a louis upon it, won 700 francs. With the experience he had bought so dearly in the past, he placed a note for 100 francs on the number nine, and one for 150 francs on 27, thus backing the two numbers which usually follow on zero.

"Rein ne va plus!" cried the monotonous voice.

The sisters Treherne, breathless in expectation, strained their eyes in the direction of the wheel, which slowly slackened until the ball gave a sudden bound and fell.

"Vingt-sept! Rouge impair et passe!"

"We've won!" cried Mabel, excitedly. "Isn't it jolly!"

"Cent-cinquante francs en plein!" exclaimed the croupier, drawing the note towards him with his rake. The 100 francs on nine was lost; but the croupier, opening the little box before him, took out a bundle of 1,000-franc notes, counted them swiftly, folded them together, and pushed them towards Drummond with a smile of recognition.

The captain opened them and ran through them. The sum he had won was over 5,000 francs.

He tossed the higher notes to Mabel, who transferred them to her wallet, which now contained 13,000 francs clear winnings, and this in a little over an hour.

I left, and nearly an hour elapsed ere I returned to the gaming rooms. They had filled, as they always do late in the afternoon, when the trains come in from Nice, and people were standing four deep around. Drummond's good fortune, however, seemed to have taken a turn. He had lost about half the day's capital, and ill luck seemed to persistently follow him.

The look of satisfaction upon the faces of the Misses Treherne had almost disappeared.

"It's really no use to play longer," I heard him remark to his two companions. "We must be content to-day. Shall we go?"

Both expressed willingness to act as he suggested, and all three rose and walked off, the two girls giving vent to the observations which had perforce remained pent up during play.

On the morrow, however, they played again at the same table.

I FOUND DRUMMOND STANDING BEFORE HIM PALE AND AGITATED.

Stacked in little piles before them were about 5,000 francs in louis, and Drummond was testing his chance of playing always on the "transversales" of three numbers, for which the bank pays 11 times the stake.

"Rien ne va plus!" cried the croupier, as I approached.

"Dix! Noir pair et manque!"

Drummond won, having a louis on the numbers 10, 11 and 12.

Eleven louis were pushed towards him, his stake remained where he had placed it. With a good player's foresight, he put another louis upon the one already on the "transversale."

Again the cylinder revolved and the ball dropped.

"Douze! Rouge pair et manque!"

He had won. This time he received 23 louis, or 413 francs. To leave his stake there a third time was too risky, so, taking up one of the coins, he placed the other on the "transversale" of 16, 17 and 18, winning again as the last number came up. That, however, was the last of his good fortune, for afterwards he lost persistently, until the whole of the day's capital had disappeared. Then they rose, and the two bare-faced girls strolled about contentedly.

A week passed, and they lost heavily every time they played. One evening I was dining in the new restaurant of the Cafe de Paris with a friend, a police commissary from Clermont-Ferrand, and soon after the commencement of the meal the Misses Treherne entered and took the table next to ours. Drummond was not with them. He preferred eating with some of his friends down at the Europe to the companionship of this strangely plain pair who had come to fling away their money so recklessly. Both were in decollete. Helen in pale blue and Mabel in rose, both scraggy and bony-necked, while the jewels they wore were noteworthy, even for Monte Carlo. "Manon" was to be performed that evening, and I judged by the fact they carried fans that they were going there.

In an undertone I explained to my friend Estevе who they were and their object in coming to Monte Carlo, whereat he laughed and, turning, glanced at them.

"Mon dieu!" he gasped. "What faces! No wonder they want to conceal their identity. But your friend Drummond and the bank will profit—so what does it matter?"

While eating I kept my ears open to catch their conversation.

"I do hate our table d'hote," I heard Mabel exclaim in a low tone. "We never know but what we may meet somebody we know there, and it's so much quieter here."

"Whatever has come to you?" the elder sister asked. "Of late you're as nervous as a kitten."

"Well, I can't help it," the other replied—then, lowering her voice to a whisper, added: "I think sometimes that his man Drummond has his suspicions. Haven't you noticed the strange way he seems to regard us when we're not looking?"

"Pooh! It's merely your foolish fancy," Helen answered. "How can he know? how can anybody know?"

Her sister was silent for a few moments.

"We've lost to-day. I reckoned up before we came out," she said at last. "We lost to-day 11,000 francs in three-quarters of an hour."

"Well? We can surely afford that. Remember what we won on the first day. We must expect some losses."

"What about our half a million?" Mabel asked.

They both laughed as if enjoying the huge joke of losing such a respectable amount.

The Misses Treherne finished their meal hurriedly, as it was growing late, and went forth to the theater, while we sat idling over our cigars and liqueurs, chatting as men of the same profession are apt to chat. Some half hour later, however, Drummond, smart in his dining jacket and well-tied black bow, strolled in, and, recognizing me, crossed and sat down at our table.

"Well?" I inquired; "and how's the play going?" for the talk at Monte Carlo is ever of the play.

"Going!" he exclaimed, as he helped himself to a Benedictine. "Why, as dead against us as it can. Those girls are bigger fools than I took them to be. They'll fling all they've got away, and then blame me, I expect."

"Lost much?" I inquired.

"Nearly a hundred thousand," he answered, without removing his cigar. "What we've won they've banked in a separate account. Something like 80,000 francs, I think."

"How do you get on with them?" I asked, being aware from observation that he had grown a bit careless of late. Jack Drummond was tired of these perpetual losses.

"The fact is, old fellow," he answered, "their faces have brought me infernally bad fortune, and I'm utterly sick of the whole affair. To-morrow they are going to draw out the remainder of the half a million, and we're going for the tables with the maximum—win or lose."

"You're desperate," I laughed, adding: "Save enough for the viatique."

"Now, that's cruel," he said, with a grim smile. "Well, I'll try, and arrange so that they won't have to give a note of hand to Bornier to enable them to return to London. Good-night," and, rising, he went jauntily out. Care and losses alike sat lightly on the shoulders of that born sportsman.

Next day I saw all three sitting at the center of the first left-hand table—the one where so many huge coups have been made from time to time during the past five or six years. It is a table particularly in favor with the professional gambler, for the wheel seems to run with greater regularity there than at the others, and it is therefore known to the habitues as "the lucky corner." At this table one afternoon zero turned up six times in succession, followed by the number six, which also came six times in succession, the most curious run which has ever been known during the years the rooms have been open. On that afternoon a fortunate gambler won 72,000 francs on those 13 turns of the cylinder.

Play had already opened an hour before I entered. Drummond was sitting between the pair, and, as I stood watching, I saw that Mabel had beneath her hand her stout leather wallet already bulging with notes they had won. Before Drummond was a formidable pile of notes of equal value—each for 1,000 francs, and at every invitation to play he staked six notes, constituting the maximum upon the red or the black, the "pair" on the "impair."

Time after time he won the respectable sum of 6,000 francs, his original stake always remaining on the table, although he changed its position from time to time. After nearly half an hour he bent and consulted Helen's card, whereon she was keeping a register of the game, then placed 150 francs en plein on the number 34, and a similar amount on 17.

"Rein ne va plus!" cried the croupier sharply, a moment later adding: "Dix-sept! Noir, impair et manque!"

Drummond smiled. The girls bent and whispered to each other, and the croupier handed to Mabel a bundle of 500-franc notes, which she tried to push into her already filled wallet but could not.

"Will you remain playing?" I heard Helen say to the captain. "We are going over to the Credit Lyonnais to bank this before they close. We shan't be more than ten minutes."

"How much have we won to-day?" he inquired.

"One hundred and eighty-nine thousand francs," she answered, rising at her book, as her sister and herself rose and left the table.

Their seats were quickly occupied by two men, and Drummond, who still had before him a pile of notes for about 70,000 francs, continued playing with the maximum upon the red or black, losing once or twice, but very often winning. He certainly had unusual luck, for when one is desperate, as the two sisters were, one is seldom able to make a coup.

About an hour had elapsed. I was busy in my room writing a report when an attendant entered breathlessly with scared face summoning me to the office of M. Bornier, the director general, where, to my surprise, I found Drummond standing before him, pale and agitated, together with the chef de partie and two of the croupiers. Upon the director's table lay a pile of 1,000-franc notes.

It appeared that ten minutes before the croupier, in handling one of the notes which Drummond had lost, was attracted by the strange harshness of the paper, and examined it, only to find it spurious, but so well done as almost to defy detection. Play was instantly stopped, and, by the orders of the chef de partie, the captain was conducted to M. Bornier. In reply to his interrogation, he explained that the notes were those given him that morning by the elder Miss Treherne, and it was possible that she had been imposed upon. Such, however, was certainly not the case, for messages sent to the Metropole and to the Credit Lyonnais brought back disappointing information. At the hotel nothing had been seen of them since ten o'clock that morning, and at the bank it was stated that they had never had half a million deposited there. Within the past week they had deposited 160,000 francs, their winnings, but had drawn this out early that morning.

I succeeded in tracing the pair to the Italian frontier at Ventimille, but after that nothing appears to have been seen of them.

From the number of forged 1,000-franc notes found in the bank at the various tables at the end of that day, it was apparent that nearly all the notes which Drummond had been placing for the past week had been spurious, and this accounted for the pair preferring to keep their winnings separate. As far as we could calculate, the Casino lost by the artful ingenuity of these sisters something like 300,000 francs, in addition to their gains of 340,000 francs which they carried away in their pockets.

As for Jack Drummond, he is still among the most habitual of players, and is still my friend.

AVOID RISK IN BUYING PAINT

You take a good deal of risk if you buy white lead without having positive assurance as to its purity and quality. You know white lead is often adulterated, often misrepresented. But there's no need at all to take any chances. The "Dutch Boy Painter" trade-mark of the National Lead Company, the largest manufacturers of white lead, on a package of White Lead, is a positive guarantee of purity and quality. It's as dependable as the Dollar Mark. If you'll write the National Lead Company, Woodbridge Bldg., New York City, they will send you a simple and certain outfit for testing white lead, and a valuable book on paint, free.

Incomplete.

Young Mother—George, I want to show you baby's new carriage. See—it is collapsible."

Bachelor Brother—I see it is, but what good does that do? It's the baby that ought to be collapsible, Alvira.

SPOHN'S DISTEMPER CURE will cure any possible case of DISTEMPER, PINK EYE, and the Flu among horses of all ages, and prevents all others in the same stable from having the disease. Also cures chicken cholera, and dog distemper. Any good druggist can supply you, or send to manufacturers, 50 cents and $1.00 a bottle. Agents wanted. Free book, Spohn Medical Co., Spec. Contagious Diseases, Goshen, Ind.

For the noblest man that lives there still remains a conflict.—Garfield.

HELPFUL ADVICE

You won't tell your family doctor the whole story about your private illness—you are too modest. You need not be afraid to tell Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., the things you could not explain to the doctor. Your letter will be held in the strictest confidence. From her vast correspondence with sick women during the past thirty years she may have gained the very knowledge that will help your case. Such letters as the following, from grateful women, establish beyond a doubt the power of to conquer all female diseases.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

Mrs. Norman R. Barndt, of Allentown, Pa., writes:

"Ever since I was sixteen years of age I had suffered from an organic derangement, and female weakness; in consequence I had dreadful headaches and was extremely nervous. My physician said I must go through an operation to get well. A friend told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I took it and wrote you for advice, following your directions carefully, and thanks to you I am to-day a well woman, and I am telling all my friends of my experience."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration.

SICK HEADACHE

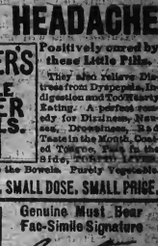
CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Positively cured by these Little Pills.

They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, Torpid Liver. They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable.

SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRICE.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.



Genuine Must Bear Fac-Simile Signature

Brent Good

REFUSE SUBSTITUTES.

OUT OF DOOR WORKERS

Men who cannot stop for a rainy day.—Will find the greatest comfort and freedom of bodily movement in

WATERPROOF OILED CLOTHING

SLICKERS $3.00 SUITS $3.00

Every garment bearing the sign of the fish" guaranteed waterproof. Catalog free.

CANARIES To introduce our Song Birds we will give one pair of Canaries and other birds free to the first one reading this notice. SINGING BIRD CO., Wheeling, W. Va.

A GLORY-FILLED EARTH

Habakkuk 2:14—Habakkuk 3:19

BY THE "HIGHWAY AND BYWAY" PREACHER.

Scripture Authority—Book of Habakkuk, especially, 2:14.

Habakkuk the prophet—Name is from Hebrew root meaning to embrace, to clasp, to wrestle" (of God), and "struggler" (for his country's good). Facts of prophet's life and the date of his ministry are in much obscurity, although some ancient authors represent him as belonging to tribe of Levi, others to that of Simeon. Rabbinic tradition that in the tribe Habakkuk's tomb was shown at Celia in Palestine. From all evidences of the book, the period of the prophecy seems to have been about B. C. 608. Rabbinical traditions agree, however, in placing the prophet with Joel and Nahum in the reign of Manasseh. The style of the prophecy is poetical and sublime, the strophical arrangement of the work in the second chapter being a remarkable feature of the prophecy. The magnificent Psalm of chapter 3 is called by Ewald "Habakkuk's Pindaric Ode," and "a composition unrivaled for boldness of conception, sublimity of thought, and liveliness of diction."

SERMONETTE.

The soul whose eye of faith looks through the telescope of God's promises always beholds Calvary to the ultimate glory of God.

It is hard to believe that the prophet who in 1:2 is crying: "O Lord, how long shall I cry, and thou wilt not hear? even cry out unto thee of violence, and thou wilt not save!" is the same one who in 2:14 is triumphantly shouting: "For the earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea."

What could have lifted Habakkuk from the valley of despondency to the mountain top of glorious vision and expectancy? Just this: In the hour of his discouragement and doubt Habakkuk was wise enough to betake himself to his "tower," the place where he was wont to meet his God, and there to wait until God would answer the questionings of his heart.

God never disappoints a soul that thus seeks him. He never fails to lift the mists of doubt and uncertainty and to give visions of his final glory.

He is a God to triumphant and die the soul but live in the atmosphere of present conditions, nothing could have it from unutterable discouragement, but if it will but climb to the tower of prayer and communion with God it will set above the sensitive of the present and be able to see away over into the promised land of God's triumphant glory.

He who would fight for God must see with God.

The Christian warrior who sees only the strength of the enemy and points the triumphs evil has won is already as good as defeated.

What though his loins be girt about with truth, and he hath buckled on the breastplate of righteousness; what though he hath put on the helmet of salvation and his feet are shod with the preparation of the gospel of peace, while the sword of the Spirit is firmly grasped in his strong right hand, if he have not the shield of faith with which to withstand every attack of the enemy and assure him of final victory?

THE STORY.

GREAT revelations sometimes come during the periods of the greatest darkness. In the decadent days of the Jewish nation who would have thought of singing a song of the coming glory of the Lord? And yet that is what Habakkuk the prophet did, and the story of how it might have been that God lifted the veil and gave him a glimpse of the glories which are still but the dream of the faithful.

Habakkuk had been carrying a heavy burden upon his heart for a good many days, a burden which was not made lighter by his pausing to and fro among the people, for each day as he ministered here and there striving to turn the hearts of the people toward God, he noticed as though he uncovered some new and greater evil which was sapping the life of the nation. He knew the persistent course of the people in their downward course of sin and idolatry could only lead to one inevitable result, the punishment of the nation at God's hands. Israel had had a glorious history, and her rule had extended from the sea on the west to the far east, but now to what depths had she fallen. The northern tribes had been scattered and their land laid desolate and even Judah, Israel reminded, and sin was fast plunging her to destruction. The glory of the nation had departed and she was but the equal now of the heathen nations about.

No wonder Habakkuk was heavy hearted. What minister of God is there who can witness the course of sin in human life, and know that the wages of sin is death, and hear the words of warning and advice, and not be depressed by the lack of results obtained? And to Habakkuk cried in the anguish of his heart:

"O Lord, how long shall I cry, and thou wilt not hear? Even cry out unto thee of violence and thou wilt not save!"

It seemed to him as though the heavens were brass and that God was beyond the reach of his voice. But nevertheless he cried and poured out his heart burden to God.

And then when quiet had come and he was still, there came a voice speaking to him, saying:

"Lo, I will raise up the Chaldeans, that bitter and hasty nation, which shall march through the breadth of the land, to possess the dwelling places that are not theirs."

A cry of deep anguish burst from the lips of Habakkuk, and he fell to the ground in a swoon.

"Could it be?" he asked himself, when he again came back to consciousness, "that it was God who had spoken declaring that he would send the Chaldeans upon the land? It seemed too terrible a thing."

"O Lord my God," he cried, lifting his face to the heavens, "mine Holy One, art not thou from everlasting? O Lord, hast thou ordained them for judgment, and O mighty God, hast thou established them for correction? Thou art of purer eyes than to behold evil and canst not look on iniquity, wherefore lookest thou upon them that deal treacherously, and holdest thy tongue when the wicked devoureth the man that is more righteous than he?"

Habakkuk ceased his plaint, but there was no answering voice, and the prophet arose and paced back and forth in great agitation.

"Why did not God himself punish his people? Why did he give such power into the hands of so wicked an enemy?" he asked himself in great vexation of spirit. All night long he struggled with the question.

"Judah has sinned," he cried, "but oh, the bitterness of the punishment which is to fall upon the chosen people of God. What of the future? Is there then no fulfillment of the promises which God gave to Abraham and to Isaac and to Jacob, and to all the prophets since that day? Shall the Chaldeans be permitted without interruption to enjoy the fruits of their violence, seeing that they attribute all their success to themselves and not to thee? Is the earth to be filled with violence continually?"

These questions troubled Habakkuk, but his sight of vigil found him no answer to them, and wearily he turned his feet toward the city.

It was then that a new fear and perplexity seized upon him. Should he deliver his message as God had given it to him or should he withhold to speak until greater light and revelation should come?

As he passed through the streets he noted the same careless indifference of the multitudes to his presence. Little respect did they have for God's messenger. Scant time did they have to listen to his voice when sinful pleasure on every hand was present to hold their attention. So engrossed were they with the following of their idolatrous practices that there was no room for deeper thoughts of the true God.

Heartsick, the prophet turned and retraced his steps to the secluded nook which had grown precious to him because of the many seasons of delightful communion he had had there with his God.

"I will stand upon my watch, and set me upon the tower, and will watch to see what he will say unto me."

More than half the victory is won when the soul brings itself to that condition of determined vigil, and the blessing which God is always willing to give, do we but wait for it, is almost within the grasp.

And as he waited the prophet felt a deepening consciousness of the power and majesty of God expanding over his soul. Surely he could trust God with it all. All things would work out to his glory.

As though in response to this last thought which flooded his heart there came a voice saying:

"Write the vision, and make it plain upon tables that he may run that readeth it. For the vision is yet for an appointed time, but at the end it shall speak, and not lie: though it tarry, wait for it; because it will surely come, it will not tarry. For the earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea."

"Ah," exclaimed Habakkuk as he let his soul expand with the thought of the vision, "I cannot understand all that means, neither can I know how God will bring it to pass, but I know that it shall be as he hath spoken."

And then reverently he bowed his head and prayed:

"O Lord, I have heard thy speech, and was afraid: O Lord, revive thy work in the midst of the years, in the midst of the years make known; in wrath remember mercy."

And the prayer of Habakkuk uttered in faith so long ago will yet be fulfilled and the glory of the Lord and indeed all the whole earth as the waters cover the sea.

Makes Demand for New Vaults.

The bureau of engraving and printing at Washington is turning out new bankers' notes under the Aldrich-Vreeland law at the rate of about $3,500,000 a day, and new vaults must be built to store them in.

Turn Out Many Bibles.

The Bible press of Oxford produces on an average 9,000 copies of the Bible, not to mention prayer books. Seals are used every year for the corpse of Oxford Bibles.

The General Demand

of the Well-Informed of the World has always been for a simple, pleasant and efficient liquid laxative remedy of known value; a laxative which physicians could sanction for family use because its component parts are known to them to be wholesome and truly beneficial in effect, acceptable to the system and gentle, yet prompt, in action.

In supplying that demand with its excellent combination of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, the California Fig Syrup Co. proceeds along ethical lines and relies on the merits of the laxative for its remarkable success.

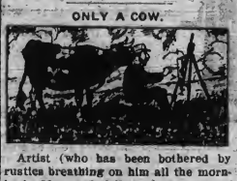
That is one of many reasons why Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is given the preference by the Well-Informed. To get its beneficial effects always buy the genuine—manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, and for sale by all leading druggists. Price fifty cents per bottle.

SHE GOT HER MAN—HAPPY.

Indian Woman Not Likely to Be Left Far Behind in Life's Battle.

Writing of the famous Dean Kaye of Topeka, in Suburban Life, Paul A. Lovewell says:

"Dean Kaye has had interesting experiences during his sojourns in the wilderness. Once an Indian woman came to his cabin.



"'You marry?' she asked.

"'Yes,' said the dean, 'I can marry folks. Have you got a man?'

"Again the woman grunted, and departed. About sundown she returned, dragging with her an apparently abashed and reluctant brave.

"'Got him,' she remarked, laconically, producing her marriage license. The man knew no English, but the woman prompted him when it became necessary for him to give his assent to the dean's questions. When it was over the squaw paid the minister his fee and led her husband away in triumph."

ONLY A COW.

Artist (who has been bothered by rustics breathing on him all the morning)—My good fellow, I assure you that you can see the sketch with more advantage from a little distance!

DEEP CRACKS FROM ECZEMA

Could Lay Slate-Pencil in One—Hands in Dreadful State—Permanent Cure in Cuticura.

"I had eczema on my hands for about seven years and during that time I had used several so-called remedies, together with physicians and druggists' prescriptions. The disease was so bad on my hands that I could lay a slate-pencil in one of the cracks and a rule placed across the hand would not touch the pencil. I kept using remedy after remedy, and while some gave partial relief, none relieved as much as did the first box of Cuticura Ointment. I made a purchase of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and my hands were perfectly cured after two boxes of Cuticura Ointment and one cake of Cuticura Soap were used. W. H. Dean, Newark, Del., Mar. 28, 1907."

Women Fishermen.

On the coast of Holland, Belgium and Northern France the fishermen are a familiar sight, with their great hand nets and quaint costumes. Many of the towns have distinctive costumes by which their women can be recognized anywhere. Those of Mana-Kirke, near Ostend, wear trousers and loose blouses, while their heads and shoulders are covered by shawls. They carry their nets into the sea and scoop up vast quantities of shrimps and prawns, with an occasional crab or lobster and many small fish. They often wade out till the water is up to their necks, and they remain for hours at a time in water above their knees, rarely returning until their baskets are full.

A Believer.

"Do you believe in telepathy?" asked the mystical person.

"What do you mean by telepathy?" asked Mr. Dustin Stax.

"Thought transfer—the faculty that enables one person to know what another person is thinking about."

"Oh, yes. There's my old friend, Mr. Skinboodle. I know what he's thinking about this very minute."

"What is it?"

"Money."

Close Quarters.

The following extract from a letter of thanks is cherished by its recipient:

"The beautiful clock you sent us came in perfect condition, and is now in the parlor on top of the bookshelves, where we hope to see you soon, and your husband, also, if he [illegible] vention."

Neither.

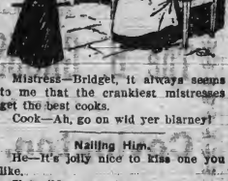
"See here, I'm tired of complaining about those noises. Shall I appeal to the police or leave it to Heaven?"

"Don't say anything to the police," replied the janitor, soothingly. "Leave it to me."

LEST HE FORGET.

No Roseate Postcard Without Its Thorn of Suggestion.

Harold's mother—we'll call him Harold—went abroad a month ago, leaving Harold under the somewhat unsubstantial control of his elder sisters.



In spite of the itemized directions with which even unto the moment of final leave-taking she had not ceased to bombard him, Harold's mother was far from sure that her efforts would have any lasting effect.

Her voyage was more or less disturbed by these doubts, but before she landed on the other side she had determined on a course of action. Like all small boys, Harold is most covetous of picture postcards and had looked forward to a harvest from his mother's trip. He got it.

Every day she sent at least one card. And whatever else it bore in the way of inscription, there was not one which failed of this introduction:

"Just as soon as you get this go and brush your teeth."

EGOISM.

Mistress—Bridget, it always seems to me that the crankiest mistresses get the best cooks.

Cook—Ah, go on wid yer blarney!

Nailing Him.

He—It's jolly nice to kiss one you like.

She—(No answer).

He—That is, of course, if she doesn't mind.

She—(No answer).

He—If she gets mad it's altogether another thing.

She—(No answer).

He—I'd like to steal a kiss now—

She—(No answer).

He—If it would be quite safe.

She—Have you finished?

He—Oh, yes!

She—Then how can you make so many fool remarks when you see that I am alone and entirely at your mercy?—Young's Magazine.

Rest at Last.

"It is only too true," remarked the man who was fond of moralizing, "that we do not appreciate our blessings until they take their flight."

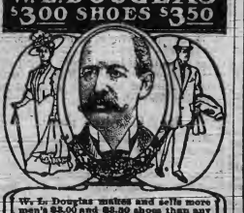
"Of course," replied Popley, "they keep up such a racket during the day that we enjoy them most when the nurse has tucked them in their little beds."—Philadelphia Press.

He has no force with men who has no faith in them.

It Cures While You Walk

Allen's Foot-Ease for corns and bunions, hot, sweaty callous aching feet. 25c all Druggists.

Love does not stop at the boundaries of liking.



DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

FOR ALL KIDNEY DISEASES

FOR RHEUMATISM, BRIGHT'S DISEASE, BACKACHE, DIABETES.

50 in a box 75 "Guaranteed"

W. L. DOUGLAS $3.00 SHOES $3.50

W. L. Douglas makes and sells more men's $3.00 and $3.50 shoes than any other manufacturer in the world, because they hold their shape, fit better, and wear longer than any other make.

Shoes at All Prices, for Every Member of the Family, Men, Boys, Women, Misses & Children

W. L. Douglas $4.00 and $5.00 Gilt Edge shoes cannot be equaled at any price. W. L. Douglas $3.50 shoes are the best in the world.

Fast Color Eyelets Used. Shoes sent anywhere. Catalog free. Take No Substitute. W. L. Douglas name and price is stamped on bottom. Sold everywhere. Shoes mailed from factory to any part of the world. Catalogue free.

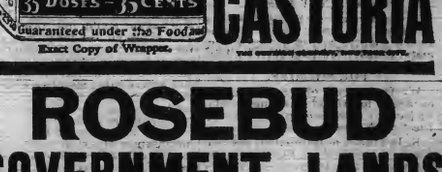
W. L. DOUGLAS, 147 Spark St., Brockton, Mass.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.



In Use For Over Thirty Years

CASTORIA

ROSEBUD GOVERNMENT LANDS

BEST REACHED FROM DALLAS

Dallas and Gregory, S. D., are reached only by the Chicago & North Western Railway. They are the only towns on the reservation border. Dallas and Gregory are the main registering points. President Roosevelt has designated Dallas for the final drawing October 19, 1908.

The Chicago & North Western Ry. is the only all-rail route to the reservation.

A million acres of fertile agricultural and grazing land in the great Missouri Valley Corn Belt is to be opened to Homeseekers October 5 to 17, 1908.

For information about how to get a homestead with details regarding rates, train schedules, address

THE NORTH-WESTERN LINE

NW781

W. B. KNISKERN
Pass'r Traffic Mgr., C. & N. W. Ry.
Chicago, Ill.

Shortest Line to Rosebud Reservation

The opening of the Rosebud Reservation, October 5 to 17, next, will give over 5000 people each a choice farm in Tripp County, South Dakota, for a small sum per acre. 838,000 acres will be opened. People drawing one of these farms must pay $6.00 an acre: one-fifth down, balance in 5 years. Chamberlain and Presho, South Dakota, are places of registration. Both are located on the shortest line to the reservation from Chicago—the

CHICAGO
MILWAUKEE & ST. PAUL RAILWAY

The best of these lands are located in the northern part of Tripp County, easily reached from both Chamberlain and Presho. All persons, except certain soldiers, must be present in one of these towns for registration. Presence at the drawing is not required. Those who draw one of these farms will be notified by mail. Rosebud folder, containing map, and giving full particulars free on request.

F. A. MILLER,
General Passenger Agent,
Chicago.

Send For Free Catalogue

"How to Make Money Selling Goldfish." Makes business lively around your store when everything else fails. BIG profits and QUICK returns. Full line of aquarium supplies. Write to-day.

AUBURNDALE GOLDFISH COMPANY
51 North Peoria Street, CHICAGO, ILL.

Body Builders

Build You Up

BODY BUILDERS FOR WEAK PEOPLE

If you are afflicted with Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Constipation, Dizziness, Sick Headache, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Biliousness, Heart, Kidney, Liver or Stomach Troubles, Blotches on the Skin or Scrofula Sores, Boils, Carbuncles or Ulcers on any part of the body—any decline in Strength and Health—if you have a weak back or any disease or weakness caused by Bad Blood or Weak Nerves, you should take Body Builders Medicinal Treatment. They are mild, harmless and effective to take. 30 Days' Treatment including one of our Famous Strengthening Plasters sent post paid anywhere for $1. 7 Days' treatment FREE. Address BODY BUILDERS CO., Binghamton, N.Y.

We, Wholesalers of California Lands with Scrip in all portions of the U. S. Can you sell the Best land in this Wonderland? Irrigated from United States Government Ditch. We can give you a monthly income on easy terms. Address Salmon & Co., 27 Montgomery St., San Francisco, Cal.

20 Mule Team BORAX

PUTNAM FADELESS DYES

Color more goods brighter and faster colors than any other dye. One 10c package colors all fibers. They dye in cold water better than any other dye. You can dye any garment without ripping apart. Write for free booklet—How to Dye, Bleach and Mix Colors. MONROE DRUG CO., Quincy, Illinois.

A. N. K—E

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

FOR COUNTY JUDGE.

P. E. Lasson is a candidate for Judge of the County Court of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

J. H. Walton, of Constance, is a candidate for County Judge of Boone county, subject to the Primary Election, November 3d, 1908.

Sidney Gaines is a candidate for Judge of the County Court of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November, 3, 1908

FOR COUNTY ATTORNEY.

N. E. Riddell is a candidate for County Attorney of Boone County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

FOR CLERK OF COUNTY COURT

Charles (Caddie) Maurer, of Belleview, is a candidated for Clerk of the Boone County Court, subject to the Democratic Primary election, November 3, 1908.

Owen S. Watts, of Walton, is a candidate for Clerk of the Boone County Court, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

B. B. Allphin, of Walton, is a candidate for Clerk of the Boone County Court, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary Election November 3, 1908.

J. H. Rogers, of Walton, is a candidate for Clerk of the Boone County Court, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

D. B. Dobbins, of Richwood, is a candidate for Clerk of the Boone County Court, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

J. C Hankins, of Hebron, is a candidate for County Court Clerk of Boone county, subject to the Primary Election, November 3 1, 1908.

FOR CIRCUIT CLERK.

J. A. Duncan, of Burlington, is a candidate for Circuit Court Clerk of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, Nov. 3d, 1908.

FOR SHERIFF.

W. D. Cropper, of Burlington, is a candidate for Sheriff of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

B. B. Hume, of Burlington, is a candidate for Sheriff of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

FOR ASSESSOR.

R. H. Stephens, of Rabbit Hash, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1907.

John W. Williams, of Union, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

Lewis Clore, of Rabbit Hash, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election November 3, 1908.

E. C. Franks, of Big Bone, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

C. P. Robinson, of Big Bone, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election November 3, 1908.

T. G. Willis, of Bullittsville, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3d, 1908.

John Kelsay, of Hebron, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

Geo. W, Ward, of Rabbit Hash, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

FOR SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT.

Aimer M. Yealey, of Florence, is a candidate for Superintendent of Schools of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

Elbert S. Ryle, of Burlington, is a candidate for Superintendent of Schools of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

Edgar C. Riley, of Burlington, is a candidate for Superintendent of Schools of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, Nov. 3d, 1908.

FOR JAILOR.

Samuel Adams is a candidate for Jailer of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

FOR SURVEYOR.

W. E Vest is a candidate for Surveyor of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE.

J. W. Berkshire, of Petersburg, is a candidate for Representative of Boone county in the next Legislature, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3d, 1908.

FOR JUSTICE OF THE PEACE.

R. H. Tanner, of Florence, is a candidate for Justice of the Peace in the Magisterial District composed of the Constance and Florence voting precincts, subject to the Democratic Primary election November 3, 1908.

E. O. Rouse, of Florence is a candidate for Justice of the Peace in the Magisterial District composed of the voting precincts of Constance and Florence, subject to the Democratic Primary election November 3, 1908.

J. H. Watson, of Walton, is a candidate for Justice of the Peace in the Magisterial District composed the Walton and Verona voting precincts, subject to the Democratic Primary Election November 3, 1908.

Ezekiel Kelsay, of Hebron, is a candidate for Justice of the Peace in the Magisterial District composed of the voting precincts of Burlington and Bullittsville, subject to the Democratic primary election, November 3, 1908.

Temp Graves, of Bullittsville, is a candidate for Justice of the Peace in the magisterial district composed of the Burlington and Bullittsville voting precincts, subject to the Democratic primary election, Nov. 3 1908.

BASE BALL.

The Taylorsport base ball team came up last Saturday afternoon and attacked the local team twice on its grounds and was repulsed in both instances, the first being a 7 to 1 and the second a 11 to 2 victory.

James Houston, who ranks well among first-class amateur box artists in this part of the country, twirled the first game and was caught nicely by Harvey McGlasson. For three innings Houston held the locals down to two hits, hat in the fourth they found him, and he was not able to stop them thereafter, and at the end of the game they had collected 10 hits and 7 runs, one of them being a homer by Earl Smith in the fourth inning.

While Houston was having his troubles and the members of the Burlington team were fattening their individual batting averages at his expense, Conner and Slayback, the Burlington battery, were working easy, and getting results right along, their support in the field being fast. Up to the fifth Conner had allowed but one hit, but in that inning Taylorsport pinched off two and made one run, their only run during the game. Conner let the visitors down with five hits, while he struck out 15. Following is the score:

Burlington	0	0	0	2	1	0	0	4	*—	7
Hits	0	2	0	3	1	0	1	3	*—	10
Taylorsport	0	0	0	0	1	0	0	0	—	1
Hits	1	0	0	0	2	1	0	1	—	5

Base hits by Burlington—Snyder, Slayback 2, Brady, Smith, Conner, Walton, Tolin 2; by Taylorsport—Fox, J. Houston 2, H. McGlasson, Doc Houston.

Struck out—By Conner 15; Houston 7.

Home run—Earl Smith.

Umpire—Roberts

When the second game began Taylorsport presented a new pitcher—a south-paw, and great things were expected of him, but the only ball he could get to working was a high ball, and it worked so high Harvey McGlasson could not reach many. This expected wonder proved a fearful mistake and was pulled out of the box at the close of the second inning. In the short time Mr. Myers officiated he gave three men bases on balls, and allowed two hits, one of them for two bases. Five runs were made by Burlington in these two innings.

At the beginning of the third inning James Houston went back in the box with Stanley Graves as catcher, but it was no use, all pitchers looked alike to Burlington, and the boys feasted off of his delivery for the seven remaining innings, making 11 hits off of him and adding six runs to the Myers bunch of five.

Brady was in the box for Burlington, with Slayback as his receiver. The old man was in fine condition, and with some nice work on the part of both fields, he held Taylorsport to three hits and two runs. It was generally remarked of him, "Why, he is better than ever." Following is the score:

Burlington	3	2	1	1	0	0	3	1	—11
Hits	2	0	2	2	0	1	1	3	—13
Taylorsport	0	0	0	1	1	0	0	0	— 2
Hits	0	0	0	1	2	0	0	0	— 3

Base hits by Burlington—Slayback Brady 2, Smith, Clore, Conner, Walton, Tolin, White; by Taylorsport—Fox, Steelman, T. Sprague.

Two base hits—Slayback, Smith, Clore, Conner.

Struck out—By Brady 9, by Myers 2, by Houston 5.

Umpire—Foster.

NOTES.

McGlasson put up a good game at first.

Quite a good crowd witnessed the games.

Taylorsport's center fielder was a live wire.

Doc Houston plays ball all the time, and trys to put life in the game.

The Taylorsport line-up is a strong one, but it was out-classed last Saturday.

Slayback tried to stretch a three bagger into a home run in the second game, but was cut down at the plate.

The visitors were accompanied by several loyal rooters and their voices were heard in the land until the last man was out in the last game.

Conner was caught between second and third once, and his escape looked impossible, but he outgeneraled his pursuers and got back to second.

Taylorsport's third baseman collided with the grand stand in an effort to capture a foul fly, and his escape from being badly hurt was wonderful.

A Paying Investment.

Mr. John White, of 38 Highland Ave., Houlton, Maine, says: "Have been troubled with a cough every winter and spring. Last winter I tried many advertised remedies, but the cough continued until I bought a 50c bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery; before that was half gone, the cough was all gone. This winter the same happy result has followed; a few doses once more banished the annual cough. I am now convinced that Dr. King's New Discovery is the best of all cough and lung remedies." Sold under guarantee at Bentler's Drug Store, Erlanger. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Elliston Is Alright.

Hon. Robert H. Elliston, of Williamstown, delivered the first campaign speech of the season at Dry Ridge Saturday night. There was an audience of about 150 in attendance, many of whom were ladies. Mr. Elliston's speech was chiefly along lines of the tariff and he lambasted the trusts in a very thorough manner, claiming that the tariff is responsible for the trusts and the Republican party is responsible for the tariff. Mr. Elliston declared that while he had just been through a campaign and was not altogether satisfied with the out come, nor the way in which the result was accomplished, at the same time he was a Democrat and would do all in his power for the ticket. In closing he expressed his sincere thanks to the people of Grant county for the way in which they had stood by him in his recent campaign for Congress, and declared that he wished it were possible for him to take each one of them by the hand and personally thank them.

Golden Blend Coffee
20c lb
BEST ON EARTH

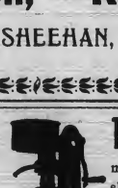
GEO. C. GOODE,
—AGENT—
Groceries and Medicines,
N. E. Cor. Pike & Washington,
Covington, - - - Kentucky.

Money-Worth Coffee
Lb 17c
3 Lbs. 50c,
Best for the Price in Town.

ATTENTION!
Our Line of Fall and Winter
SUITS AND OVERCOATS
—Is Complete.—
All these goods were bought this season and represent the very latest styles, and we guarantee Quality and Price.
The B. GROSS CLOTHING Co.
S. E. Cor. 7th & Madison Ave.,
Covington, - Kentucky,
JOHN T. SHEEHAN, Manager.

Boone Co. Deposit Bank,
BURLINGTON, KY.
The Oldest Bank in Boone County,
PAYS 3 PER CENT. INTEREST ON TIME DEPOSITS,
With $100,000 protection to its Depositors as follows:

Capital Stock	$30,000
Surplus and Undivided Profits	40,000
Liability of Stockholders	30,000
Total Security for Depositors	$100,000



COURTESY EXTENDED TO ALL.

Bear In Mind
A Square Deal to Every Man
Is Our Motto.
We give you Honest Clothing at "Honest Prices." We give you the Style, Quality, Fit and Workmanship and we guarantee
.....OUR PRICES THE LOWEST.....
We still have a fine line of
Men's & Boys' Spring and Summer SUITS
and it will be to your interest to examine them before buying elsewhere.

Men's Nice Suits	$5.00, $6.00, $7.50
Men's Fine Suits	$10.00, $12.50, $15.00, $18.00
Boys' Suits	$4.00, $5.00, $7.50, $10.00, $12.00
Children's Suits	$1.50 to $5.00
Fine Line of Men's Pants	$1.00 to $5.00

Big Line of Cottonade and Camlet Pants just the thing for hot weather. We have some nice Suits in Odds and Ends which we will sell at much reduced prices.
Rolfes & Wachs,
RELIABLE CLOTHIERS,
No. 1 PIKE STREET,
Cor. Madison Ave., Covington, Ky.

The New Iowa
New in Kentucky,
But a Leader in the West
NOTE WHAT WE CLAIM FOR IT.

The Only Separator
made to day, that will skim to a trace, warm or cold milk.
Easiest Cleaned,
Lightest Running,
Mechanically Right

Farmers and Dairymen wanting to buy Separators should see the Iowa before making a purchase. It is absolutely the best, no other just as good costs no more. Why not have it? Over two car loads sold in Kentucky in two months. Write us for literature, good reading matter and very learning. We have all kinds of Tools, Farming Implements, Contractors Supplies, &c. The best line of Plows, Grain Drills, Feed Cutters and Mills. We have some new and slightly used Sharpless Separators we will sell at bargains.
We will Save You Money. Give us a Call.
The Fischer Bros. Company,
(Incorporated)
1046 Madison Ave. COVINGTON, KY.
729-731 Monmouth St. NEWPORT, KY.
Everything Marked in Plain Figures. One Price to All.

A CALL.

We, the undersigned, having confidence in his integrity, and believing him competent for the office would respectfully solicit N. C. Tanner, of Union precinct, to offer himself as a candidate for Justice of the Peace in the Magisterial district of Union and Beaver precincts:

E E Utz, N H Clements P A Weaver, J Q Elstun, P P Neal, Jas K Sebree, J M Stephens G H Garrison, Owen Blankenbeker, J M Beemon, Ealy Conley, J C Love, Lucien S Love, S H Marshall, T F Stephens, N S Bristow, J H Stephens, G H Stevenson, Ezra C Blankenbeker, Wilford Senour, L J Riley, Erastus Stephens, C H Bristow J C Bristow, T J Stephens.

Mrs. Chester Davis Badly Burned.

Mrs. Chester Davis, of Lndlow, was badly burned by the explosion of a coal oil lamp about 11 o'clock last Thursday night. Mrs. Davis is a daughter of James T. Gaines, of Ludlow, but a citizen of Idlewild, this county, until recently. Her husband is the Ludlow city clerk. Dr. R. H. Crisler, who is attending Mrs. Davis, says she will not be disfigured as a result of her burns. Her parents were considerably, but not seriously, burned in their attempt to stifle the flames.

They Like Him Some.

Hon. A. B. Rouse, of Burlington, was the guest of his friend, Forest Butts, Saturday and Sunday Mr. Rouse is one of the most promising young men in Kentucky. He has filled several prominent positions with ability and credit, and has a host of friends who believe his future will be a brilliant one.—Carrollton Democrat.

Hon. Arthur B. Rouse, of Burlington, chairman of this Congressional district by virtue of his office, being the member of the State Committee from this district, was in town Saturday night and Sunday, the guest of J. Forest Butts Mr. Rouse is popular in Carrollton and also over the entire district and well he might be as he is an elegant gentleman and loves his friends.—Carrollton News.

How to Get Strong.

P. J. Daly, of 1247 W. Congress St., Chicago, tells of a way to become strong: He says: "My mother, who is old and was very feeble, is deriving so much benefit from Electric Bitters that I feel it's my duty to tell those who need a tonic and strengthening medicine about it. In my mother's case a marked gain in flesh has resulted, insomnia has been overcome, and she is steadily growing stronger." Electric Bitters quickly remedy stomach, liver and Kidney complaints. Sold under guarantee at Bentler's Drug Store, Erlanger. 50c.

To All Members of the Burley Tobacco Society:

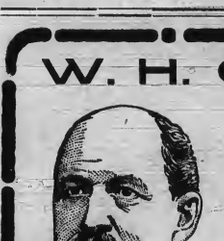
Your attention is hereby urgently called to the fact that the By-Laws of The Burley Tobacco Society provide that on the last Saturday in September of each year all members of the Society shall meet at 2 p. m., at their respective voting places and shall elect one of their number a delegate to represent his precinct at an election to be held at the County Seat on the first Saturday in October of each year for the purpose of electing a director of this Society.

The precinct delegate not only casts the vote of his constituents in the election of a member of the District Board from his county, but he is also a member of the County Board of Control in his county.

In order that the election shall express the will of the members of the Society, let every member be at the regular precinct voting place at 2 p. m. on the last Saturday in September.

"Look ye out among you men of honest report, full of wisdom, whom ye may appoint over this business," men of integrity, business ability and public spirit.

Do not neglect this important duty and then complain of results. The future of The Burley Tobacco Society depends upon the character and ability of the men elected on the County Board of Control and on the District Board at the ensuing elections.



Remember the day, the hour, the place, and the importance of your doing your duty in this election.

All samples of 1907 tobacco should be sent to the central office at Winchester as early as possible. While the days are long and bright the grading can be done much more satisfactorily than when the weather is cold and the skies dark. It is greatly to the interest of the farmers as well as to the interest of the Society that samples be sent as soon as they can be properly prepared. Done by order of the Executive Committee.

CLARENCE LEBUS, Chairman.

The wedding of Dr. Estelle Sederberg to Mr. Edward J. Dillinger, was quietly solemnized on Thursday evening in the study of the Union Methodist church, the Rev. W. W. Hendrick's officiating. The bride, who is a well known physician, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Sederberg, of St. Louis, formerly of Louisville. Mr. Dillinger has been connected with the circulation department of the Courier-Journal for several years.—Louisville Times, September 12th.

The dry weather created a harvest for the country blacksmiths. They have been kept busy for several weeks keeping their customers' vehicles from going to pieces.

You Can Always Find the
Best and Largest Stock of
Buggie, Carriage, Draft and Farm Harness
AT REASONABLE PRICES
Riding Saddles in all sizes and Styles; Horse Clothing, Flynets and Horse Boots. Also a full line of Trunks, Traveling Bags and Suit Caser at
Chas. Mahlmann, Jr.
Phone, S. 957-X 32 Pike Street, COVINGTON, KY.

W. H. CLARK
—SELLS THE—
W. L. Douglas Shoes
FOR MEN.
Coarse and Fine, Plain and Cap Toe, Lace and Blucher
—AT—
$1.50, $2.00, $2.50, $3.00 and $3.50

MANY OTHER GOOD BRANDS OF
Men's and Boys' Shoes
9, 12, 14 and 16 inch Lace.
Ladies! We sell the famous Krippendorf-Dittman, Drew-Selby and many other good brands of Shoes.
Every Pair ... to be worth Price Paid.
W. H. CLARK,
Two Doors above National Bank
Rising Sun, - - Indiana.

Local News.

The equinoctial storm is now due.

The price of coal went up a notch last week.

The water wagon is quite popular in Burlington.

Carrollton is being visited by a plague of very small gnats.

This office is still printing an occasional box of cards for candidates.

T. J. Walton has had a concrete foundation built for a cattle barn 30 x42 feet.

James Clore has changed the looks of things about the Boone House very much.

Some of the hay fever patients have been having quite a serious time for several days.

Joseph Bryson and wife, of Constance, were brought to the county infirmary, last Thursday.

The heat and dust are held responsible by some doctors for the increase of deaths among children.

Grass is so thoroughly dried up in some neighborhoods that it has the appearance of being killed.

C. F. Robinson, of Big Bone, candidate for assessor, did the north and of the county last week.

Stop in and examine Clark's stock of watches, clocks, jewelry and spectacles when in Burlington. tf.

James Snyder, from the vicinity of Flickertown, was transacting business in Burlington, last Thursday.

Mule colts that a year ago would have brought $75 each sold for $30 each at Williamstown last county court day.

G. W. Sandford wants to ascertain the whereabouts of three ewes and four lambs that have been missing from his pasture for about a week.

A revival meeting will begin at Bullittsville Christian church on Monday night of next week. Rev. J. W. Graham, of Louisville, will do the preaching.

W. J. Bryan, Democratic nominee for the Presidency, will speak in the Music Hall, Cincinnati, tomorrow night. Many Kentuckians will be in the audience.

It is said that there are about 25 applicants for the position of toll-gate keeper on the Lexington pike at Erlanger. This gives some idea of the scarcity of work.

The scarcity of corn will cause a thinning out of hogs in the county, while short grass has caused many cattle to be sent to market before they were in proper condition.

There are lots of small potatoes this fall, but those usually rejected for the want of size are being saved as potatoes are going to be potatoes before another crop is produced.

The Belleview and Petersburg canneries are not running on full time this season, yet they will have a considerable stock of canned tomatoes on hand at the close of the season.

Ailphin, Rogers and Watts, Walton's three candidates for county clerk struck Burlington last Thursday, while Maurer, of Belleview, was among the arrivals in town that afternoon.

Stephen McWethy, 84, one of the oldest citizens of Petersburg, died last Thursday morning. Doubtless he had lived in Petersburg longer at the time of his death than any other one of its citizens.

The common schools in the county have made a pretty good start this fall. It is hoped that the new school law will be a great improvement over the one under which the schools have been operated for many years.

In the last few years good springs, wells and cisterns have become very valuable in this part of the country. A poorly watered farm subjects its owner to many inconveniences during a drought like that of this year.

The pupils have to carry water a considerable distance for use at the school house. There is a large quantity of water in the cistern at the school house, but it is not fit to drink, having scoured because of a lack of stirring.

Rev. Carter was the guest of Rev. Edgar Riley, last Friday. Immediately afternoon they left for Beaver Lick to attend the convention of Christian churches which convened with the Christian church at that place Friday evening.

Everything is in readiness to begin the work on the iron bridge at Piatsburg, and there was never a better time for building bridges than that of the last three months. It is a pity the work could not have been begun several weeks ago.

A considerable per cent of the leaves on some of the trees appear to have been burnt and are falling. They do not assume the usual fall hue before dying. No doubt the excessive heat and continued dry weather is the cause of this.

Farmer G. W. Sandford was in town, one afternoon last week, and when asked about politics, remarked, "the National League race is too close to race now. I will wait until that is over and then I will enter the political arena."

The roads of Boone county in many places for the past few weeks have been several inches deep with dust. In the neighborhood of the macadam roads the fine limestone dust over the fields resembles snow in the moonlight. The canning factories in the county are running short on tomatoes on account of lack of rain.

MORGAN ACADEMY.

Some Interesting Facts Concerning That Institution

Gathered From the Records Kept By the Trustees.

A few weeks since several persons were anxious to know in what year the Morgan Academy building that was razed about ten years since, was erected. At the time the RECORDER was not aware that it had in its possession the record book kept by the trustees of that institution, which gives many things of interest concerning that once very popular educational institution, but such is the fact and here are a few notes culled from the old book:

The first entry in this book is as follows:

"At a meeting of the Trustees of the Burlington Seminary on the 11th of Sept., 1829, present Erastus Tousey, James M. Preston, E. S. Armstrong, Willis Calvert, Ch. Gaines, Rich. Collins and N. E. Hawes.

"The trustees were qualified agreeable to law by E. S. Chambers, Esq. J. M. Preston was elected President; N. E. Hawes, clerk and Ch. Gaines, Treasurer."

In the minutes of the above meeting the institution is called the Academy. The next minutes are under the style of Burlington Academy, and bear date, January 23, 1835, over six years intervening between the two meetings.

The institution was known as the Burlington Academy until the meeting of March 7, 1842, when, the word "Morgan" was substituted for the word "Boone," and it was "Morgan Academy during the remainder of its existence. At the meeting March 7, 1842, John Cave was appointed trustee of the Morgan Academy under "the act of assembly made and approved changing the name of the Boone Academy to the Morgan Academy, and other provisions." The trustees adjourned without day.

On April 11, 1842, the trustees of Morgan Academy met at the house of Cave & Foster," and trustees Chiles Coleman, Lewis Webb, Willis Calvert, Jas. C. Foster and John Cave were present. Chiles Coleman was recognized as president. It is inferred from the minutes of this meeting that Allen Morgan died in 1841.

At the meeting of the trustees held August 26th, 1842, Sacket Mead, was continued teacher of the male department for the term of one year. Miss Mary Greenwood was also continued a teacher, they having been originally appointed at a meeting held July 26th, 1841. Mr. Mead's salary was $800 a year—Miss Greenwood was to receive the tuition fees of her department. At this meeting, John Cave, treasurer, presented an inventory of the estate of Allen Morgan, showing that the estate consisted of notes, slaves and land. Some of the largest notes were reported insolvent; 122 acres of land was valued at $10 per acre; 88 acres were valued at $150. Probable value of estate, $9364 61.

By way of explanation it is here stated that Allen Morgan was an old bachelor, who died in Petersburg neighborhood without a legal representative, consequently his estate escheated to the State of Kentucky, and was given to Boone county, by an act of the legislature, for educational purposes, and it was this fund that Morgan Academy acquired

The first appearance of a desire for a new school building was the meeting of the trustees held August 16, 1856, when the following entry was made on the record book:

"On motion L. L. Youell, Jas. A. Graves and B. F. Stevenson were appointed a committee to obtain a plan for a school house, and learn the cost of a suitable building, and with authority to make any necessary repairs on the present building." It seems that the above committee failed to accomplish anything, and on March 5, 1857, L. L. Youell was appointed a committee to procure a plan for a school house not to exceed in cost $3,000. It seems the trustees were getting in a hurry about the matter, and the committee was ordered to report on the first Monday in April. On the 6th day of April, which was probably, the first Monday in the month, without any reference to L. L. Youell's report, Lewis Webb, M. S. Rice and B. F. Stevenson were appointed a committee to obtain a draft for a school house and the probable cost of same. This committee was to report not later than the fourth Thursday in April.

The committee was on time with a verbal report, and was continued with instructions to advertise for proposals for building.

At the meeting of the trustees held May 23, 1857, the building committee reported a proposal from R. J. Rice for building, with specifications and a plan. At this meeting the trustees decided to appropriate an additional thousand dollars for the construction of a new building. The proposal of R. J. Rice was rejected and the proposal of John M. Hoshal to build the house for $4,000 was accepted.

The contract with John M. Hoshal was placed on the record of the meeting of June 1, 1857.

At a meeting of the trustees held August 18, 1858, the following was entered of record:

"On motion the board proceeded to examine the school house, after which the building committee verbally reported the completion of the house by the contractor, J. M. Hoshal, according to the specifications of the contract, together with extra work ordered by the committee to the amount of $350."

An itemized account following the above order, shows that the exact cost of the Morgan Academy building, which was completed in 1858, was $4 350.

The first teachers elected after the completion of the new building were John H. Davidson, principal, and Miss Cocoran, assistant.

For many years after the completion of Morgan Academy it was the best country school building in Northern Kentucky, and the people of Burlington and vicinity took a great pride in their school, which ranked among the best in the State, until about 1889, when a reaction set in, and, for the last several years, educational interests have been at a very low notch in this particular part of the county. It was during this backward stride, that several years ago, the public stood by and saw, without protest, a valuable school property revert to the original owners and put up and sold at public auction, following which a good school building was demolished and the material peddled out. It is hoped that the pendulum has started to swing in a direction opposite from that of the last twenty, or more years in matters educational, and that the people of Burlington and vicinity will never again take the back track for which they have been severely punished financially.

Peoples Deposit Bank,

BURLINGTON, KY.

YOUR MONEY DEPOSITED WITH THIS BANK IS AS SAFE AS WITH ANY BANK IN BOONE COUNTY.

3 PER CENT. INTEREST PAID ON SIX MONTHS TIME DEPOSITS.

We Make no Charge for Cashing Checks on other Banks

And afford you all other accommodations within range of Sound Banking in order to make dealings with us pleasant.

SAFE DEPOSIT BOXES FOR RENT. CALL AND SEE US.

STATEMENT OF THE

Equitable Bank & Trust Co.

WALTON, KY.

Organized for Business Sept. 9th, 1907.

DEPOSITS:

Opening Day Sept. 9th, 1907	$5,383.71
Dec. 31st, 1907, when statement was made to Secretary of State	37,157.67
June 30th, 1908, when statement was made to Secretary of State	56,269.38
July 1st, 1908, one day later	$61,959 90

LOANS AND DISCOUNTS:

July 1st, 1908	$ 76,539.35
Available Cash July 1st. 1908	80.716.80
Resources July 1st, 1908	$115,220.35

Careful, prudent business principles governs the bank. Your business solicited. Interest paid on time deposits. Mail communications given especial attention.

CHAS. L. GRIFFITH, President. D. B. WALLACE, Cashier.

LEW THORN, Pharmacist.

A. G. G. RICHARDSON, Veterinary Surgeon.

THORN & RICHARDSON, DRUGGISTS.

We sell Kreso Dip for Lice and Mites on horses, cattle, sheep, hogs and chickens. Headquarters for House Paints, Floor Paints, Roofing Paints, Wagon and Carriage Paints, Carter's Lead and Pure Linseed Oil.

Medicines, Stationery and Sundries in large supply. All new and fresh. Prices are right.

Main St., RISING SUN, INDIANA.

YOU NEED A BUGGY

AND I HAVE IT FOR YOU.

CAN SAVE YOU MONEY.

New Buggies, Runabouts

and Harness for Sale or Trade.

Workmanship the Best, and Material Guaranteed.

When in Burlington call and See me.

B. B. HUME, - Burlington, Ky.

Drawing to a Close.

The base ball season is drawing to a close. Base ball is a sport that does not lose its popularity, but, on the other hand, grows in favor, notwithstanding the fight that has been made against it. The arguments that there are used against it could be urged with equal force against many other assemblages of people that are considered helpful. It is a national sport and has come to stay.

Caleb Powers' lecture in Lawrenceburg, Ind, proved a frost. It was advertised in at least two of the Lawrenceburg papers two weeks before the lecture, and the Press, which is an admirer of Powers, placed the attendance at 75, but it says all who heard him were convinced of his innocence in the Goebel assassination. Had Bob Franklin been there to follow Powers with his arguments on the testimony adduced at the several trials, all who heard Powers may not have been convinced as to his innocence.

Big Presidential Barbecue.

There is already considerable talk in Boone, Kenton, Grant, Gallatin and other counties about the big presidential barbecue that is expected to be pulled off at Florence fair grounds some time during next month. If the drought breaks up before the time of the big meeting, the date for which has not yet been determined, an immense crowd will be in attendance. Many believe this a Democratic year, and this increases enthusiasm to a great extent, and will cause hundreds to turn out to hear the speeches, who, otherwise, would remain at home.

A Sure-enough Knocker.

J. C. Goodwin, of Reidsville, N. C., says: "Bucklen's Arnica Salve is a sure-enough knocker for ulcers. A bad one came on my leg last summer, but that wonderful salve knocked it out in a few rounds. Not even a scar remained." Guaranteed for piles, sores, burns, etc. 25c at Bentler's Drug Store, Erlanger.

The drouth is becoming a serious matter hereabouts. Many farmers are hauling water from the Ohio river, in defiance of Mr. Laidley.—Rising Sun Recorder.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

By virtue of Execution No 8597 directed to me, which issued from the Clerk's Office of the Boone Circuit Court, in favor of the National Bank of Rising Sun, Ind., against J. M. Baker and W. L. H. Baker, I or one of my deputies will, on Monday, the 5 h day of October, 1908, between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 2 o'clock p. m., at the Court House door in Burlington, Boone county, Kentucky, expose to public sale, to the highest bidder, the following property, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy Plaintiff's debt, interest and cost to wit. The undivided one 1 5 interest jointly owned by the said J. M. Baker and W. L. H. Baker in and to the following described tracts and parcels of land each and all of them lying and being in Boone county, Ky. the first of which is described as follows:—Bounded on the North by the lands of M. E. Hance and Big Bone creek; on the East by the lands of the Murphy heirs and M. E. Hance; on the West and South by the lands of W. E. Hance, containing one hundred (116) and sixteen acres.

The second tract is bounded thus:—On the North by the lands of George Goodelaw; on the East by the lands of James Huffman; on the West by the lands of James Taylor and Big Bone creek, and on the South by the lands of James Turner, containing thirty (30) acres.

The third tract is bounded as follows:—Situated in the village of Big Bone, Boone County, Ky., on the north side of the Beaver and Big Bone Turnpike, the said turnpike being the South boundary thereof, and bounded on the East, West and North by the lands of J. D Moore and the McLaughlin heirs, containing one acre of about that. Each of said Defendants (J. M Baker and W L H. Baker) own an undivided 1-10 part of said above described lands, they owning jointly the undivided one fifth of the whole. levied upon as the property of J. M. and W. L. H Baker.

Terms—Sale will be made on a credit of three months, bonds with approved security required, bearing interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum, from day of sale and having the force and effect of a judgment. Amount to be made by sale, $1 041 00

I. F. WINGATE,
Sheriff of Boone County, Ky.
By W. D. Cropper, D. S.

Special Shoe Sale.

Our Fall and Winter Stock of Shoes will soon begin to arrive. We must make room for them and therefore will make very

LOW PRICE FOR STOCK ON HAND.

Men's Heavy Shoes at	$2.00	former price	$3.00
Men's Light Shoes at	2.50	former price	3.50
Ladies' Shoes at	1.00	former price	2.00
Children's Shoes at	75c	former price	1.50

We have not room for more prices, but call on us and we will give you some genuine

SHOE BARGAINS.

W. M. Rachal & Co

Union, Kentucky.

PERFECT BIFOCALS AT LAST.

Bifocal lenses have been undergoing constant and rapid improvement for the the last 10 years, until now we have the perfect bifocal.

It is ground in one piece and perfectly smooth; no cement used and no lines visible. Call and see them. They are the finest made.

N. F. Penn, M. D. with Motch, Jeweler,

613 Madison Avenue, - - - COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

Phone, South 912-Y.

SCOTT CHAMBERS,

WALTON, KY.

Embalmer & Funeral Director,

LIVERY, BOARDING & SALE STABLE.

First Class Rigs for Hire at All Times.

Dealer in High Class Harness and Saddle Horses.

Raymond City Coal for sale at all times.

Hay, Grain, Mill Feed,

ALWAYS KEPT ON HAND.

Highest Market Price paid for Grain.

Fancy and Staple

GROCERIES.

I also have a nice and complete line of Fancy and Staple Groceries and canned goods.

WIRE AND FENCING, AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS, Buggies, Carriages, all kinds Fertilizer.

Owen S. Watts,

(Successor to R. B. HUEY & CO.)

WALTON, - - KENTUCKY.

H. G. BLANTON,

Funeral Director & Embalmer

LIVERY, BOARDING and FEED STABLE.

First-class Carriages for hire with careful Drivers for Families, Parties, Weddings, Etc.

I Have a Nice White Funeral Car.

Lexington Pike, - - - ERLANGER, KY.

Leave Orders with J. C. REVILL, Burlington, Ky.

Geo. W. Hill & Co.,

Grocers, Commission & SEED Merchants.

Tested Field and Garden Seeds.

Finest Brands and Grades of FERTILIZERS, LIME CEMENT AND SALT.

Largest and Best Stock of

GROCERIES IN THE CITY.

Sole Agents for the Celebrated

RARUS and GEM Brands of FLOUR.

When in the City it will pay you to come and see us

27 & 29 Pike Street, (Phone South 55) 26 & 28 W Seventh Street

COVINGTON KENTUCKY.

THE RECORDER.

W. L. RIDDELL, Publisher.

BURLINGTON, KENTUCKY

Our Big Export Trade.

Analysis of the returns of foreign trade of the United States during the last fiscal year reveals some interesting features. Among other things it is seen that there was a large increase in exports of manufactured American goods, a most desirable tendency, which has been pronounced for years. Thus sales abroad of agricultural implements were $24,300,000, against $16,000,000 in 1900; carriages, cars and other vehicles, $22,000,000, against $9,900,000; chemicals, drugs, dyes and medicines, $30,800,000, against $12,000,000; manufacture of iron and steel, $184,00,000, against $122,000,000; leather and manufactures of, $40,700,000, against $27,300,000, and so on. The average total export of manufactures ready for consumption was, for a five-year term, $329,000,000 for the period ended with 1900 and $480,000,000 for that ended with 1907, and in 1908 was $485,500,000. These figures tell their own story of increase in nearly every line, the only item in which there was little if any gain being the export of cotton goods. As this is the great cotton-producing country of the world, our failure to get a better foothold in the cotton-goods markets is discomfiting. The dispatches alluding to this showing point out that the sales abroad are largely the export of a foreign demand that finds here the most convenient source of supply, and that they do not represent "aggressive commercial activity" on the part of American producers. But, declares the Troy (N. Y.) Times, there is growing appreciation of the desirability of foreign markets, especially to maintain industrial equilibrium at home, and presently, no doubt, there will be an arousing to more aggressiveness.

Airship No Joke.

Only a little while ago it was the fashion to joke about airships which fly like a turtle and swim like a [illegible] few weeks achievements in aviation and ballooning have been chronicled in rapid succession. Count Zeppelin's motor balloon for 12 hours carried 14 men among the hills of Switzerland, and for a day or two drew attention away from aeroplanes. The "human interest" of Count Zeppelin's success lies in the fact that he has given half his life and all his fortune to his experiments. Henry Farman won the Armengaud prize for staying in the air 15 minutes on an aeroplane. Blériot remained in the air eight minutes on an aeroplane, and traveled five miles. Almost the same day the June Bug, an aeroplane made at Hammondsport, N. Y., by the Aerial Experiment association, went a mile and described a complete circle. Before the summer is done the government will have tested the machines of the Wright brothers, Mr. A. M. Herring, and others. Prof. Langley's experiments, which in apparent results came to nothing, may bear fruit after his death, like the work of many a man at whom the Philistines have scoffed. For his aerodrome, which has been locked up in the Smithsonian institution, has become interesting again to the war department since the success of other mechanical birds. Langley's great difficulty was with engines, but the building of light, powerful motors has made much progress since his experiments. All the great governments are interested in airships, and inventors are being supported as never before by public and private money and encouragement.

The old proverb has it that nothing succeeds like success. In view of what is happening to Count Zeppelin perhaps it may become necessary to remodel the saying so as to make it read that nothing succeeds like failure. The destruction of the count's flying machine proved the very best sort of advertisement, and has resulted in the offer of great sums of money to enable him to continue his experiments, while hosts of sympathetic persons have overwhelmed him with gifts of all kinds, including wines, cigars, sweetmeats, groceries, and even neckties and other articles of personal use or adornment. In fact, there is room for some belief that the thing is being overdone. The attention lavished on the count has aroused the jealousy of rivals, and some of them are rather pointedly reminding the German public that in the matter of aeronautics there are others.

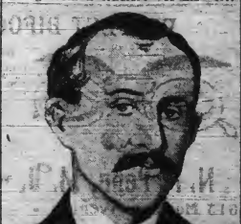
More than 65 per cent. of the 800,000,000 feet of logs cut annually in Maine at the present time is spruce, and much of the rest is hemlock, cedar and other woods than pine, and yet Maine shows no tendency to call herself the Spruce-tree state.

The toadstool is figuring with gruesome frequency in the news of the day. The safest rule in gathering supposed mushrooms is: When in doubt, don't; and even when sure, don't be too sure.

HURLED TO DEATH

LIEUT. SELFRIDGE KILLED BY FALL OF AEROPLANE.

ORVILLE WRIGHT INJURED



Breaking of Propeller Blade Causes Tragic Accident at Fort Myer in the Presence of Thousands.

Washington.—After having drawn the attention of the world to his aeroplane flights at Fort Myer and having established new world's records for heavier-than-air flying machines, Orville Wright Thursday met with a tragical mishap while making a two-man flight. The aeroplanist was accompanied by Lieut. Thomas E. Selfridge of the signal corps of the army. Lieut. Selfridge was fatally injured and died at 8:10 o'clock at night. Mr. Wright was seriously injured, but is expected to recover.

While the machine was encircling the drill grounds a propeller blade snapped off and, hitting some other part of the intricate mechanism, caused the machine to overturn in the air and fall to the ground, enveloping the two occupants in the debris.

Wright Not Dangerously Hurt.

After a hurried surgical examination it was announced that Mr. Wright was not dangerously injured. He is suffering from a fracture of his left thigh and several ribs on the left side are broken. Both men received deep cuts about the head. Mr. Wright regained consciousness at the hospital and dictated a cablegram to his brother at Le Mans, France, and requested that the same message be sent to his sister and father at Dayton, O., assuring them that he was all right.

Orville Wright.

Mr. Wright Wednesday replaced the propellers which he had been using with another pair, the blades of which are six inches longer. They were used for the first time in Thursday's disastrous flight, and many who have witnessed Mr. Wright's flights at Fort Myer believe the change of propellers caused the accident. An examination of the broken blade showed that it had been snapped off at a point one fourth of the distance from the hub. A deep indentation of the broken piece indicated that if had struck some other part of the aeroplane.

Fully 2,000 persons, including many army officers and scientists, were at Fort Myer and witnessed the tragedy.

Selfridge an Enthusiast.

Lieut. Thomas E. Selfridge was one of the most enthusiastic believers in aeronautics among the officers in the military service and through his own efforts succeeded in securing a detail with the aeronautical division of the signal corps. He was born in San Francisco 26 years ago and was appointed to the military academy at West Point from that state. He was appointed a second lieutenant in the artillery corps in 1903 and commissioned a first lieutenant four years later.

Military Funeral for Selfridge.

Lieut. Selfridge's body was removed from the hospital to an undertaker's, where it will remain until the arrival of the young officer's father, who wired from San Francisco that he would like to have his son buried either at Arlington or West Point.

Cause of Disaster Explained.

Speaking for Mr. Wright, Mr. Taylor later said:

"The accident was caused by an extraordinary vibration of one of the wires running from the main planes to the upper steel fitting of the rudder. This vibration was so great that the wire got in range of the propeller and was struck by the blade, cutting a deep gash in the edge of the propeller blade about four inches from the end. This caused the blade to break. The other blade of the propeller flew around and in turn struck the same wire, breaking it. This made Mr. Wright lose control of his rudder entirely, and the loss of both blades of the propeller and the breaking of the wire caused him to lose control of the planes."

International Thief Caught.

Paris.—The police have arrested an alleged thief who went under the name of S. Peliadorf of San Francisco. According to the police Peliadorf is wanted in every capital in Europe. He made a specialty of stealing bank collectors' wallets.

President of Ecuador Recovers.

Quito, Ecuador.—President Alfaro, who has suffered lately from heart trouble, has quite recovered and Thursday he assumed again the duties of chief executive.

Miss Summer—Good By. Now That You Have Had Your Recreation, I'll Take Mine.

SHIP CRUSHED; THREE DIE

STEAMER COLON BATTERED BY FIERCE HURRICANE.

Panama Craft Plying Between New York and Isthmus Arrives in Port, However.

Colon.—The steamship Colon, half-masted and showing other evidences of distress, came limping into port Friday. She had been badly battered by the hurricane encountered Sunday. Three members of her crew lost their lives while engaged in the hold in repairing a water tank.

The Colon belongs to the Panama Railroad Company. She left New York September 10 and was due to arrived here Thursday. She encountered the hurricane at a point 40 miles north of Watling island. The wind blew 100 miles an hour, and tremendous seas were soon sweeping over the vessel. The staterooms and the dining saloon were flooded, one of her smoke stacks was carried away, three boats were washed overboard, and the wireless telegraph apparatus was dismantled. [illegible] were given up to passengers be allowed on deck, and the travelers had to spend Sunday and Sunday night in the dining saloon. The water got to the mail bags, and the registered and ordinary mail was badly damaged. Sunday night passed with the ship laboring through the storm and the passengers huddled below in a state of panic. Early Monday it was discovered that salt water was making its way forward into the fresh water tanks. Fearing that the fresh water would give out the second assistant engineer, William Lilly, and the ship's carpenter, J. Olson, were sent down into the hold Monday afternoon to change the tank connections.

The two men were below for an hour without giving any signs of returning. Anxious for their safety, R. Barth, a water tender, and A. Sands, a junior engineer, volunteered to go below and learn what had happened when the disaster occurred.

PEST GRIPS ST. PETERSBURG.

Asiatic Cholera's Ravages in the Capital of Russia.

St. Petersburg.—Three hundred and five cases and 116 deaths from the Asiatic cholera were reported for the 24 hours ending at noon Thursday.

The municipal administrations are under fire from all sides for their criminal inefficiency in handling the epidemic and for their failure to make adequate preparation for hospital, ambulance and sanitary services. Although they had ample warning of the coming of the disease, no effective steps were taken to stamp out the scourge; even the elementary precautions of disinfecting and cleaning were neglected. A recurrence of the outbreak in the spring in even greater proportions is considered inevitable.

Six Killed in Explosion.

Sedalia, Mo.—Six persons were killed and 30 injured, four of whom are not expected to live, as the result of an explosion of a car of black powder at Windsor, near here, at 10:15 o'clock Tuesday morning.

The explosion was caused by John Wesley, a negro, who threw a lighted match into a pile of powder which had spilled from a broken keg of the explosive. For his prank Wesley paid the penalty with his life, his body being horribly mutilated.

Rain Checks Forest Fires.

Duluth, Minn.—A heavy rain fell at Grand Marais, extending westward from there 15 or 20 miles. While not extinguished, the forest fires were held in check as a result of the storm, and Grand Marais, Chicago Bay, and other north shore settlements that have thus far escaped the flames, are considered safe.

Tries to Cremate Herself.

Mobile, Ala.—Mrs. Margaret Bradford, a widow, suffering from mental derangement, Friday morning saturated her bed with oil, set fire to it and lay down. She was horribly burned and physicians pronounce her recovery impossible.

Joliet Woman Killed by Auto.

Joliet, Ill.—City Treasurer Minnie D. Schuster, while gathering [illegible] day ran [illegible] The [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

FROM ALL OVER THE STATE

THE PUBLIC WON

In Kentucky Court, Involving Access to Sulphur Springs.

Glasgow, Ky.—One of the hardest fought legal battles ever waged in this section closed when Circuit Judge Baker announced his decision in the noted sulphur well case in Metcalfe county, deciding in favor of the public.

Sixty-eight years ago Ezekio Neal, while drilling for salt water, drilled in this sulphur well. For the past 25 years the place has been a popular summer resort.

Neal made a will deeding the sulphur well to the public. Later the courthouse was destroyed by fire and the deed burned. Then the trouble started. C. W. Thompson and G. W. McPherson were conducting rival hotels. McPherson brought suit for the sale of the well. Thompson became the purchaser.

He, in turn, brought suit against McPherson and his agents to enjoin them from using the water. Judge Baker decided the case in favor of McPherson and the public.

RECEIVER ASKED

For Hargis Estate By Daughter—Brother Asks For Bail.

Lexington, Ky.—Suit was filed at Jackson by Mrs. Evelyn Hogg, daughter of the late Judge James Hargis, against her mother, Mrs. Lewellyn Hargis, and brother, Beach Hargis, seeking to have the department store and all other Hargis estate property placed in the hands of a receiver. The property is worth about $150,000.

In circuit court Beach Hargis made a motion for bail through his attorney, D. B. Redwine. Grounds for renewal of the motion were that the health of young Hargis is in such condition that continued confinement will result in his death. In support of this motion, Hargis filed affidavits of several physicians.

Judge Adams, however, declined to grant the petition, but Hargis' family, undersigned, are willing to furnish bail in any amount up to $50,000.

Will File Suits.

Hopkinsville, Ky.—County Attorney Duffy is preparing several tax-delinquent suits which he proposes to file for the approaching term of circuit court for the purpose of gaining possession of lands which have been sold from year to year for taxes and bought in by the county. Suit for $1,750 has been filed against Christian county by Cherry Bros., who allege that the county has violated the terms of a contract.

Bank To Fight.

Frankfort, Ky.—Secretary of State Ben L. Bruner was notified by the Citizens' bank of Shelbyville that suit will be filed in the Franklin circuit court to test his recent ruling on state banks and their branch banks. Dr. Bruner ruled that state banks can not have branches and must incorporate the branch banks with a capital of $15,000.

Clay Monument To Be Repaired.

Frankfort, Ky.—Gov. Willson was notified by the Henry Clay monument commission that work would soon begin toward putting the head back on the monument of the commoner in the Lexington cemetery. The head was knocked from the monument by a stroke of lightning several years ago.

Auditor Named To Settle Estate.

Jackson, Ky.—Attorney A. H. Patton was appointed auditor for the estate of the late James Hargis by Circuit Judge J. P. Adams. This has the effect of settling the litigation between Mrs. Hargis and her daughter, Mrs. Evelyn Hogg, as Patton is a special friend of the family.

Summoned To London.

Covington, Ky.—J. W. Pomfrey, of Covington, who has filed his claim to the Pomfret estate, in England, said to be worth $17,500,000, was served with a writ to appear in the high court of chancery, in London, at its coming fall term, to prove his claim.

Depositors Will Be Paid.

Louisville, Ky.—About 1,800 depositors of the Masonic Savings bank, which failed 20 years ago, will be paid their final dividend by the Columbia Trust Co. Nearly $50,000 will be distributed, making a total of 80 per cent paid off. The depositors are scattered all over the country.

Twenty Per Cent Discount Allowed.

Lexington, Ky.—The Lexington Railway and Electric Lighting Co. announced a discount of 20 per cent on all bills for electric lighting paid within 10 days after the first of each month. Incidentally, a competing plant is to be erected here.

Released From Jail.

Louisville, Ky.—After serving a $30,000 bond Lafayette D. Carter, alleged defaulter of $90,000 from the Dearing estate, was released from jail. Carter's family secured the surety for his release.

Found Dead in Hotel.

Louisville, Ky.—T. E. Shelby, 50, a prominent live stock exhibitor of Springfield, Ky., was found dead in his room at the Fifth Avenue hotel here. Shelby had for years been a sufferer from cardiac rheumatism.

ASSOCIATION FORMED

To Secure Good Roads—Gov. Willson to Offer His Support.

Louisville, Ky.—Movement toward good roads was made at the state fair grounds when the Kentucky Good Roads association was organized, with State Senator J. F. Bosworth, of Bell county, chairman, and Robert E. Hughes, of Louisville, secretary.

Resolutions indorsing the Wyatt-Bosworth amendment to the constitution, providing a tax in each county of 20 cents on the $100 for good roads, were adopted, and a publicity campaign was at once begun to put the proposition before the people. The state press and other organizations pledged support.

As summoner of the convention and one chief in promoting the association, Gov. Willson made a speech to 10,000 people in the live stock pavilion following the meeting. He strongly advocated good roads, and promised to give the state fair next year all that the state could afford.

NEW LAW

Will Direct the Denominational Schools, Says Crabbe.

Frankfort, Ky.—Superintendent of Public Instruction J. G. Crabbe made the first explanation that has been given as the effect of the new school law upon the denominational schools of the state. Superintendent Crabbe makes response to a statement alleged to have emanated from Rev. J. R. Deering, in which it was said that the new school law will have a very injurious effect upon the denominational schools, especially in the eastern part of the state. Superintendent Crabbe declares that such a statement is without foundation, and he points out how the new law will have a beneficial effect upon all of the educational interests of the state.

In Memory of Cholera Hero.

Lexington, Ky.—The monument to William Brown Bean of the cholera plague of 1833, and of James Lane Allen's story, "King Solomon of Kentucky," was unveiled in Lexington cemetery with appropriate ceremonies. The monument was erected by the King Solomon Memorial association, which was organized by the young author. John Wilson Townsend, who inspired the movement. Gen. Samuel W. Price, Judge James H. Mulligan, Mayor John Skain, Gov. Augustus E. Willson, Rev. Charles L. Reynolds and Rev. E. G. B. Mann participated in the ceremonies.

Files Suit For Damages.

Hopkinsville, Ky.—J. M. Renshaw, appointed sheriff of Christian county when David Smith was ousted from office, has filed suit against Smith, M. V. Dulin and Sidney West on an indemnifying bond, and against Smith personally. Damages of $1,000 is asked in each case. The suits are for the recovery of amounts which Renshaw claims he lost and was damaged by being kept out of office by injunction.

Picked By Postmasters.

Louisville, Ky.—The following officers were chosen by the Kentucky fourth-class postmasters in session here: E. C. Stockwell, Trenton, Ky., president; M. H. Webb, Simpsonville, vice president; L. Morrison, West Point, secretary; David Skaggs, Rocky Hill Station, treasurer.

Masons Buy Mansion.

Louisville, Ky.—De Molay Commandery completed arrangements to purchase the George Long residence at Second and Broadway and to have one of the most splendid clubhouses in the south. The Masons will spend over $100,000 in transforming the splendid ante-bellum mansion.

Mistakes Nephew For Turkey.

Barbourville, Ky.—While hunting wild turkeys on the main branch of Stinking creek, Columbus Taylor shot and killed his nephew, Will Taylor, mistaking him for a turkey. The younger Taylor was imitating the call of a wild turkey to attract the attention of the birds.

Noted Negro Minister Dies.

Lexington, Ky.—Rev. J. W. Hawkins, pastor of the Colored First Baptist church and retiring moderator of the Baptist General association (colored), of Kentucky, one of the most noted negroes in the state, died suddenly from heart disease.

Farmer Seeks Missing Daughter.

Lexington, Ky.—M. B. Reynolds, a farmer living on the Jack's Creek road, is seeking information as to the whereabouts of his daughter, who left home the night of September 2. About the same time a farm hand disappeared also.

Ex-County Treasurer Here, Dead.

Newport, Ky.—Peter Hess, ex-county treasurer of Campbell county and one of Campbell county's best-known citizens, died at his home in Claryville after a lingering illness. Death was due to a complication of troubles.

Kentucky Lumber Plant Burns.

Morehead, Ky.—The Licking River Lumber Co. mill, at Farmer, valued at $75,000, was burned. The mill has been idle for several weeks on account of a strike. Several men were accidentally injured.

GIVE IT IF HE COULD

But Mr. Public Needs the Money for More Urgent Demands.

WITH "INTERESTS"

RAILROADS AND CORPORATIONS ARE OUT FOR TAFT.

They Do Not Fear the Ex-War Secretary, as They Seemed to Have Feared Roosevelt—Now Very Complacent.

E. H. Harriman has made his contribution to the Taft campaign fund, according to report. The railroads, through their majority owners, are supposed to be throwing such influence as they have to the Republican candidate. The trusts are for Taft. The "interests" are for Taft. The possessors of "privileges" are for Taft. The last one of those smitten by the militant author of "my policies" in that famous message sent to congress last January has turned the other cheek and fawned on the man chosen by Roosevelt as the nominee of the [illegible]. Do the strange bedfellowships of politics hold any parallel?

"Corrupt business and corrupt politics," wrote the president in that message, "act and react with ever increasing debasement, one on the other." And he continued thus: "The rebate taker, the franchise trafficker, the manipulator of securities, the purveyor and protector of vice, the blackmailing ward boss, the ballot-box stuffer, the demagogue, the mob leader, the hired bully and man-killer—all alike work at the same web of corruption, and all alike should be abhorred by honest men."

That was given out about the time when the fear that Roosevelt would himself be renominated had caused the planning and partial execution of the "hurt business" campaign. The proud wearers of the epithets in the presidential tirade were seeking to capitalize commercial misfortune, and they persisted until the emphasis of repeated denials brought final assurance that Roosevelt was not and would not be a candidate. But the horror and fear of Roosevelt has not been passed along to Taft. He is apparently in the good graces of the rebate takers, franchise traffickers and the manipulators of securities. The "hurt business" campaign has been succeeded by another in which the whole effort is to throw to the party such advantage as may be gained from claiming for it the restoration of the prosperity which it all but destroyed.

Why is it that the particular forces at whom Mr. Roosevelt aimed that awful January broadside are now so complacent? Has the threat to make them honest been withdrawn? Has the fear that their "privileges" will be disturbed been stilled? Why has the dreadful cabal and conspiracy against the White House been dissolved? Has it been found, or has it been promised, that "my policies" were made for public consumption and for political effect, and that Mr. Taft is, after all, not tainted with Rooseveltism? It would be interesting to know.—St. Louis Republic.

Strong Tariff Argument.

It was inevitable that Mr. Bryan should make the most, during the campaign, of the sharp differences within the Republican party; that he would overlook no opportunity to emphasize that Republican leadership includes both the radical Roosevelt and the reactionary Cannon; that if Roosevelt dictated the presidential candidate, Cannon chose the vice-presidential, and the platform was made by the conservatives, and that Mr. Taft was compelled to adopt those orphan issues which Chairman Hopkins advised be "taken to Denver," by declaring his personal indorsement of them, despite that his party had specifically rejected them. But, after all, it is in the development and exposition of these contradictions in the Republican situation that Mr. Bryan's speech of acceptance is mainly devoted.

Mr. Bryan makes a strong statement of the case as to the tariff revision from the Democratic point of view. He makes plain that there will be small chance for real, effective revision under a Republican administration; and he is right assuming that the general outline of the [illegible] will continue.—Wash[illegible] Times.

ROOSEVELT EXTRAVAGANCE.

Appropriation of Present Administration Greater than in Civil War.

Official figures compiled by the clerks of the house and senate committees on appropriations show that expenditures aggregating $1,068,297,543.56 were authorized at the last session of congress. These are the heaviest appropriations ever made in time of peace.

When the country was astonished at the spectacle of a billion dollar congress, Speaker Reed could offer no excuse except a plea that this had become a billion dollar country. But under the Roosevelt regime we have attained the two billion dollar congress, which appropriates a thousand millions at each annual session. The appropriation during the last four years of Rooseveltism have mounted up to $3,428,000,000, or $33,900,000 more than during four years of civil war.

In a recent statement to the World, Representative [illegible] Republican chairman of the house committee on appropriations, asserted that "almost 65 per cent of the government's revenues, exclusive of postal receipts, is today being spent to meet the cost of wars past and anticipated." In an article prepared for the anniversary number of the World, Senator Allison, the venerable Republican chairman of the senate committee on appropriations, showed that since 1883 there had come an annual increase of $51,000,000 in expenditures for the army, an annual increase of $84,000,000 for the navy and an annual increase of $30,000,000 for pensions. These three items alone represent a total of $281,000,000 in the appropriations authorized at the recent session of congress.

This is an annual tax of more than $4.50 on every man, woman and child in the United States for army, navy and pensions alone. It represents an average of $22.50 for each family, or more than half the average month's earnings of the American laborer in the period of highest prosperity.—N. Y. World.

POLITICAL POINTERS.

It is up to the Republican managers in Ohio to begin refilling the dinner buckets if they expect to hold on to Taft's state.

The hardest fight of the Democrats in this campaign is to keep the Republicans off their platform.

But, then, if it was the fear of the Wilson-Gorman tariff law of 1894 that caused the panic of 1893, what was it the fear of that caused the panic of 1907?

Shall the people rule? Eventually Speaker Cannon has already passed the three-score-and-ten mark.

If there is a prosperity parade for campaign purposes this fall Chairman Hitchcock might hire those hundred men who slept in the Morgue chapel, because there was no other refuge for them, to carry his "full dinner pails" with the disused chicken legs visibly sticking out of the excelsior contents.

The federal official whom Roosevelt has just threatened with dismissal for "pernicious activity" is not in the south, but in New York. He has doubtless been operating at cross purposes with some of Roosevelt's plans in the Empire state.

As we look forward to an $8,000,000,000 crop, it occurs to us how calamitous it would have been if the Democrats had had their way and revised the tariff last spring, so insuring a complete failure of the crops this fall. It's funny how wheat is heavy and corn tall according to whether the duty on steel rails is 45 or 28 per cent.

Wouldn't it be a real jar if, when the troops have caught the Yellowstone bandit and stripped him of his booty and thrown him into chains and peeled off his disguise, it should be found that it was Treasurer Sheldon applying the usual methods of collecting Republican campaign funds—say, wouldn't it jar you?

Trouble for Republicans.

Trouble for the Republicans is springing up in all points of the compass. It breaks out violently in Iowa with Gov. Cummin's announcement that he will call a special session of the legislature to provide for the nomination of Allison's successor in the senate by primary election.

VALUE OF RAW APPLES.

Ideal Food for Those Who Would Live Long and Be Vigorous.

Many persons fancy that raw apples are indigestible, and only endurable in the early morning. Doubtless the old adage, that fruit is gold in the morning, silver in the middle of the day, and lead at night, is to some extent answerable for this (to my way of thinking) erroneous impression.

Dieticians tell us that ripe, ray apples contain more phosphates in proportion to their bulk than any other article of food, fish not excepted. A recent writer on this point boldly declares that in this lies the secret of healthful longevity. They correct biliousness and act as a sedative upon the racked nerves and allay insomnia.

"Eat uncooked apples constantly, although, of course, in moderation, and drink distilled water only, and years will be added to your life, while the evidences of age will be long in coming."

This argument is based on the supposition that, as age advances, the deposits of mineral matter in the system increase, and that aging is little more than a gradual process of ossification.

Phosphoric acid contains the least amount of earth salts, and, for that reason, is probably the nearest approach to the elixir of life known to the scientific world.

If you want to live long, to retain your youth at the same time and to increase your brain tissue, eat plenty of apples, drink only distilled water and eat as little bread as possible.

Tart apples are far more wholesome than sweet, and all, like potatoes, should be fully ripe when eaten.

Signs of Royalty in New York.

"The lion and the unicorn on the gable of the old state house in Boston are not the only visible reminders of British rule in an American city," said a lawyer whose office is near Fulton street. "St. Paul's church is a most restful place on a hot day, and during the lunch hour not many days ago I strolled in there. After picking my way through the crowd of stenographers under the shade of the big trees I entered the old church to take a much needed rest and found myself confronted with the feathers and motto of the prince of Wales surmounting the pulpit. Some local historians afterward told me that this is the only sign of royalty which the liberty boys left in New [illegible] city when they carried on their crusade against the royal insignia which ended with the destruction of the statue of George III. in Bowling Green."—New York Sun.

He Was Dipped.

That English and continental bathing beaches are conducted along lines different from those known to this country is proved by the old story of Charles Lamb. Lamb had been advised by his physician to take a course of sea bathing. As he descended the steps of the bathing machine in the shallow water the cold increased his natural stammer, and it took him a long while to inform two stout attendants that he was to be "di-di-di-dipped—"

Impatiently they ducked him and, coming up spluttering in their embrace, he began, "Once more I tell you, I am to be di-di-di—" and down he went again. The third time he stormed, "Is it mum-um-murder you me-me-mean? I tell you I'm to be di-di—"

And then, after the third ducking, "Oh, limbs of Satan! It's now too late: I tell you that I am—no, that I was—to be di-di-di-dipped only once!"

Finds Market for Vegetables.

The syndicate of market gardeners at Paris, France, one of whose principal objects is to further the export trade, has investigated the feasibility of exporting early vegetables to New York. Only the difficulty experienced in obtaining a satisfactory arrangement for the cold storage of its products on the transatlantic liners, and the fact that the growing demand in England offers a sure and profitable market for more vegetables than the growers can supply, has postponed the execution of the project.

MARKET REPORTS.

Cincinnati, Sept. 19.

CATTLE—Extra	$5 35	@	5 50
CALVES—Extra	8 00	@	8 25
HOGS—Choice	7 30	@	7 40
SHEEP—Extra	3 60	@	3 75
LAMBS—Spring	5 85	@	6 00
FLOUR—Spring pat..	5 85	@	6 10
WHEAT—No. 2 red..	1 03	@	1 04
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@	82
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@	51
RYE—No. 2 choice ..	78	@	79
HAY—Ch. timothy ..	12 50	@	13 00
BUTTER—Dairy		@	16
EGGS—Per doz.		@	23
APPLES—Choice ...	2 00	@	3 00
POTATOES—Per bu.	75	@	85
TOBACCO—Burley ..	15 25	@	18 75

CHICAGO.

WHEAT—No. 2 red..	99⅛	@	1 00⅝
CORN—No. 2 mixed.	78	@	78¼
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@	51
PORK—Prime mess..	15 40	@	15 50
LARD—Prime		@	10 17½

NEW YORK.

FLOUR—Win. patent.	5 40	@	5 80
WHEAT—No. 2 red..	1 06⅝	@	1 08¾
CORN—No. 2 mixed.	89	@	89½
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@	52
PORK—Prime mess..	17 00	@	17 50
LARD—Steam	10 50	@	10 60

CALTIMORE.

WHEAT—No. 2 red..		@	1 00
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@	83½
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@	53

LOUISVILLE.

WHEAT—No. 2 red..		@	1 01
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@	84½
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@	54½
HAY—Ch. timothy ..11 50		@	12 00
HOGS—Extra	6 45	@	7 00
LARD—Steam		@	8 90

INDIANAPOLIS.

CATTLE—Prime	5 75	@	7 00
HOGS—Extra	6 85	@	7 20
SHEEP—Extra	4 00	@	4 25

G. G. Hughes,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
BURLINGTON, KY.
Will practice in all the courts. Prompt attention given to all business entrusted to me.

N. E. Riddell,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.
Prompt Attention given to Collections Will practice in all the courts.

S. Gaines,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.
Will practice in all the courts, and prompt attention given collections. Office—Over D. Rouse's Store.

D. E. Castleman,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.
Will practice in the Courts of Boone Kenton, Grant and Gallatin. Collections pushed energetically.

J. G. CLORE, W. W. DICKERSON
E. T. CLAYTON.
Clore, Dickerson & Clayton,
ATTORNEYS-at-LAW
Will practice in the State and U. S. Courts of Northern Ky., and Southwestern Ohio. Cincinnati Office: N. E. Cor. 6th & Vine; Phone, Main 2929. Mr. Dickerson will spend a portion of his time at the Williamstown office.

BOONE CO. DEPOSIT BANK
(Incorporated 1856.)
CAPITAL, ... $50,000
Surplus and undivided profits $7,000
—)o(—
Our facilities enable us to receive on favorable terms accounts of individuals and corporations. Collections promptly remitted for at Lowest Rates.

ERLANGER DEPOSIT BANK.
(INCORPORATED 1893.)
ERLANGER, - - KENTUCKY
Capital Stock paid in..... $50,000
Surplus,.. ..... $8,000
Careful attention given collections, and re[illegible] Deposit accounts solicited.

Dr. J. L. Adams,
DENTIST,
208 F. & T. Bank Building,
COVINGTON, - KY.
—will be in office—
AT ERLANGER EVERY THURSDAY.

W. E. VEST,
Real Estate Agent.
Farms Bought, Sold or Exchanged, Money to Loan on Real Estate, Notes bought, sold & Negotiated.
All communications addressed to W. E. VEST, Walton, Ky.

CHAS. GARNETT,
AUCTIONEER.
Will be in Burlington every court day. Fees for selling stock reasonable. Public Sales given special attention.

INSURE AT HOME
The Farmers' Mutual Fire
INSURANCE COMPANY,
OF BOONE COUNTY,
Is now completely organized and receiving applications for insurance.
It RATES are LOWER
Than those of any other Company and gives the farmers of Boone Co.
HITHERTO UNKNOWN ADVANTAGE
in keeping their property insured.
Average cost of insurance on $1,000 for a period of five years is $9 45, less than one per cent per $1,000.
Every Farmer in the County should take a policy at once.
Edgar Cropper, Pres., Burlington, Ky.
Noah Tanner, V Pres., Gunpowder, Ky.
F. A. Utz, Treas., Florence, Ky.
Malchus Souther, Secy.,
R. F. D.—1, Ludlow, Ky.
R. B. Huey, Agent, Burlington, Ky.
J. E. Smith, Assessor, Burlington, Ky.
Executive Board—Lerrand Gaines, J. W. Conner, Solon Early.

F. W. Kassebaum & Son,
GRANITE & MARBLE
MONUMENTS,
Burial Vaults and Cemetery Work of all Kinds.
Building Stone, Flagging. Settees and Vases.
Office and Wareroom:
70 and 72 Main Street,
AURORA, IND.
IRA POPE Agent, [illegible]

C. L. GRIFFITH,
DEALER IN
REAL ESTATE
and Negotiable Notes,
WALTON, KY.
If you want to buy or sell Town Property or Farms, write me. Write for printed list.

The Warsaw Independent says: "The drouth has been protracted beyond any known in recent years. Every day farmers living six miles from town may be seen hauling barrels of water from the river here, and a great number are driving their cattle here to water.

Barton Napier, who resides one mile south of Bankliek Station, Kenton county, has advertised a public sale of livestock, farm produce, harness and farm implements, for Friday, October 9th, 1908. Terms—$5 and under cash; on sums over $5 a credit of six months will be given.

They Take The Kinks Out.

"I have used Dr. King's New Life Pills for many years, with increasing satisfaction. They take the kinks out of stomach, liver and bowels, without fuss or friction," says N. H. Brown, of Pittsfield, Vt. Guaranteed satisfactory at Bentler's Drug Store, Erlanger. 25c.

The Democrats are claiming to be very much encouraged by the result of the recent State election in Maine, while the Republicans are accounting for the heavy slump from their usual majority on the grounds that it was caused solely by State issues. Be that as it may the Pine Tree State has thrown a bomb.

The Dry Ridge News advises the farmers thus: "Sow wheat this fall. All signs point to a hard winter with plenty of snow. This will almost insure a good wheat crop. The ground, too is in fine condition or will be when it rains, and a wheat crop harvested next June will bring quicker money than any other crop. Our advice is to sow a good wheat crop this fall."

Senator Foraker, of Ohio, has the finger prints of the Standard Oil Company all over him. He admits that a few years ago he wanted to get a certain Ohio paper in the hands of a friend, and he called on the Standard Oil Company to assist him by putting up $50,000, and it responded promptly. The Senator, who had befriended the Standard Oil Company on every opportunity, naturally turned to it when he wanted a favor.

The drouth in 1854 has since that time been referred to as the worst in the history of this country, but in many localities this year's drouth is said to have been very much more destructive than that of '54. In 1854 there was more forest than cleared land in this part of the country, which contributed largely to keeping up the supply of water in the branches, and when once well supplied the effects of a long dry spell are not so apparent.

Burlington Masonic Lodge had quite an interesting meeting, last Saturday night, at which the Master Mason's degree was conferred on Geo. Riley, son of C. W. Riley, of Bullittsville. Among those present were Bros. Wm. Batterson and Robert McGlasson, of Hebron Lodge, Owen Watts, of Walton, and W. M. Baisly, of Francesville. The last two are members of Burlington Lodge, but so far from Burlington that their appearance in the lodge is not as frequent as they and the other members would like.

The will of the late T. J. Childress, tollgate keeper and Justice of the Peace of Erlanger, was probated in the Kenton County Court, last Friday. It directs that three lots in Woodside, Ky., and one in North Erlanger, as well as $1,000, go to his daughter, Sarah B. Childress, and that his sons, Leonard and Henry, each receive $500. The personalty is to be divided equally among the three children. All three were named by the testator as executors, but Henry was appointed as sole executor, the other children waiving their rights in the premises.

It Looks Like Business.

It begins to look like business along the road from McVille to Rabbit Hash by way of Waterloo, since the entire road has been let to contractors for piking. It is late in the season to begin work building a turnpike, but the fall and winter may be such that considerable work can be done. Those who have the contracts will lose no time in completing the pike, as it is to the interest of all that the work be pushed to an early completion. The pike will be a great help to the country through which it passes, and the land owners will not be long in discovering that they could not have made a better investment of their money.

Seed Corn will be Scarce.

Some of the farmers have completed the work of cutting and putting their corn in the shock, and while none of them boast of a good crop, some have found their corn better than they expected. It is contended by some that the dry weather and excessive heat have deprived the stalk and blades of some of their nourishing properties, consequently fodder will not make as good provender as usual, this winter. Good seed corn, it is claimed will be scarce, next spring, and farmers who are authority on that subject, advise a close attention to that matter, and that every time an ear that appears perfect and well matured, is found, that it be put away for seed.

It Was Not The Moon—Full.

Elmer Kirkpatrick, driver of the Burlington and Erlanger 'bus, tells this good one on a preacher passenger he hauled one afternoon last week. That particular afternoon it was very smoky, making atmospheric conditions such that the sun looked like a large ball of red flannel. From Florence to Burlington the bus travels toward the west, and but a short distance had been gone over when the preacher discovered the sun, and remarked, "Why, the moon is coming up full." The driver paid no attention to this remark, had not the passenger continued to talk about the moon. He finally asked him a question, the answer to which showed that he had mistaken the sun for the moon. The reader is left to imagine the driver's appearance when informed that he was gazing upon the red visaged face of the moon.

WALTON DEPARTMENT.

D. B. WALLACE, Manager.

Hand your news items to Mr. D. B. Wallace at the Walton Equitable Bank and Trust Co.'s building. He is also authorized to receive subscriptions and collect other accounts.

Sleet Yarnell and family, who left for Ord, Neb., arrived at their destination safely.

Ben Stansifer of Piner, was the guest of Harry Dahling, Saturday night and Sunday.

For Sale—One pure bred Poland China boar; one year old. Address R. C. Green, Walton, Ky.

Clifford Tompkins, of Cincinnati, spent Sunday here the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Tompkins.

Thomas Griffin is visiting relatives and friends at Glencoe, and Latonia, during his two weeks' vacation.

The merry-go-round that has been here for the past two weeks, left Saturday evening for Independence.

Messrs Joe and Robert Green of Big Bone, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Hudson, of Beaver.

George B. Powers is improving nicely, and is able to be out again. Mr. Powers has had a very serious time of it, being confined to his bed for several weeks.

The protracted meeting held by Revs. J. W. Rogers and D. T. Buck of this place at Stringtown, Grant county, resulted in 19 additions—16 by baptism and 3 by statement.

Miss Mary Plunkett, who has a nice position with the Oskamp Jewelery Company, of Cincinnati, spent Sunday here, the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Plunkett.

The annual reunion of the old Confederate veterans will be held at Worthville on the 26th inst. The Walton Military Band has been engaged to discourse sweet music for the occasion.

The Walton Graded School opened Sept. 14th, with the largest enrollment of pupils that it has ever had. The roll being enlarged to a great extent by so many pupils coming here from all over the county.

The game of ball between the Walton Stars and the Erlanger team, last Saturday afternoon, resulted in favor of the Stars by a score of 11 to 3. The feature of the game was the uniform pitching of Holder, for the Stars, who let Erlanger down with 3 hits, while he had 14 strike-outs to his credit.

H. C. Menefee and V. D. Holden, two young gentlemen of the Walton elite, met with the misfortune of having their horse get sick while enroute to Nicholson, last Thursday evening. Dr. C. G. Menefee, an eminent veterinary had to be called before the boys could return. The veterinary pronounced it a case of colic. The boys got home at 3:40 next morning.

The convention of the Christian churches of Boone county which was held at Beaver Lick on the 19th inst. was a grand success, there being about 600 people present, more work was reported than at any previous meeting ever held. A sumptuous repast was partaken by all present. Everyone present enjoyed themselves and the convention adjourned to meet at Walton, Ky. next year, September 18th.

Miss Gertrude Helm, who, for the the past year has been acting as purchasing agent for the house of Madame McKean, of Cincinnati, is the charming guest of Miss Nina McKean, who has been spending the summer with her grand-parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theo. F. Chambers. Miss Helm is a very sweet and charming young lady and the young people here will be sorry to see her leave.

Last Saturday eve Miss Mayme Norman entertained a party of young friends in honor of Miss Gertrude Heim, of Covington. The program consisted of piano selections by Mr. Holder, and recitations of a classical nature by Messrs. Presley C. Adams and Wesley Munehy. Messrs. Harry Dahling and Harry Houston also distinguished themselves by a vaudeville stunt, in which Miss McKeen figured as the Ghost of Sharon. Everyone present had a most delightful time.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Equitable Bank and Trust Company, Sept. 18th, 1908, John C. Miller, of Big Bone, was elected assistant cashier. He will move to Walton at once to begin his duties. Mr. D. B. Wallace, Cashier, continues to improve, but it will be some weeks before he can begin active work. Mr. Miller is one of the substantial and successful business men of Boone county and his friends predict for him a splendid success in his new position.

It is reported that there has been, but recently, a move on foot to call a [illegible] ing Democratic candidates for circuit judge and commonwealth's attorney in this judicial district, but those who make and unmake candidates not being in accord on the subject, the calling of the primary was deferred. Latter day committeemen have lost sight of the fact that they ought to be servants of their party instead of the office seeker, and that they should turn their attention to the advancement of the party's interest instead of officially boosting friends who seek an election to office. As the result of an utter disregard of party interest on the part of committees Kentucky has a Republican administration and is in the doubtful column at the approaching Presidential election. The candidate who stands in with the committee is the successful one in the matter of nomination but not always so at the polls.

There are 15,000,000 bushels of coal in the harbors at Pittsburg waiting for a rise in the Ohio to enable them to reach markets on the Ohio and on the Mississippi. There is a vast amount of coal in the Kanawha also denied a market because of low water in the Ohio, but enabled to reach the Ohio because of the canalization of the Kanawha, just as the fleet at Pittsburg was enabled to reach that city because of the canalization of the Monongahela.

Badly Bitten by Two Dogs.

Nellie Petit, aged about 14, daughter of Samuel Petit, who lives over on Gunpowder creek, was badly bitten by two shepherd dogs belonging to Albert Beemon, a few days ago. The dogs attacked her in the public road. Fortunately there were some persons near, who beat the savage animals off of their victims.

Senator Foraker does not deny the charge that he got from the Standard Oil Company fees to the amount of $29,600, but says that his employment as the company's attorney ceased before he became a member of the United States Senate. Neither does he deny that this handsome amount creates in him a very friendly feeling for John D. and his associates.

Gov. Hanley's special session of the Indiana legislature has put the politicians to guessing. The Democrats claim it is sure to swing the State into the Democratic column at the Presidential election in November, while the Republicans will not concede such a result but are apprehensive of it injuring them very considerably at the polls this fall.

Ben Cason, who resides down on Middle creek, was in town, one day last week, and reported what in the spring appeared to be a fine prospect for a crop of apples, had proven a failure, and that he will have very few apples, not enough for his own use. He says there are no apples to amount to anything in his neighborhood.

Revs. Stith and Andrews are engaged in an interesting protracted meeting at the Burlington Baptist church. The congregations, especially at night, are large. They had a basket meeting yesterday. There have been three additions.

In his speeches William Randolph Hearst, father of the Independent party, spares neither Mr. Taft nor Mr. Bryan. Some things he is saying calls for their attention at an early date.

C. W. Jenkins, of Petersburg, has been a guest at the Cowen House, a couple of days this week.

Old Sore, Cut & Burn Antiseptic

Cures the Old Sores that other remedies won't cure

Relieves the Pain of a Burn instantly

A New Discovery

by Dr. Porter an Old Railroad Surgeon.

25c packages free at your nearest Drug Store

We have made arrangements with the majority of the local Druggists by which they will give away free a limited number of regular 25 cent packages of Dr. Porter's Antiseptic Healing Oil as a means of introducing the remedy to those who have never used it. To be sure of getting a free sample call on your Druggist to-day.

The PARIS MEDICINE COMPANY, 2622-30 Pine St., St. Louis, Mo., manufacturers of LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE and other standard preparations have a new discovery that far surpasses anything ever placed on the market for old sores, cuts, burns and all wounds.

When Marconi stated that he could send messages across the ocean without a wire or cable, the world did not believe it; if we were to tell you that will cure old chronic sores which other remedies have failed to cure, and will absolutely relieve the pain of a burn instantly, you would not believe it; therefore we wish to place the remedy, FREE OF COST, in your hands to convince you that it is the most wonderful remedy ever discovered.

Dr. Porter's Antiseptic Healing Oil

We Mean It

It is needed in every home. When any of the family are severely burned or cut, you haven't time to send for a remedy, but you need it at once; therefore do not delay to send to your Druggist for a regular 25c package, FREE OF COST. We give it free, in this way, because we know that when one family tries it they will recommend it to other families, and thus introduce it. Send for a free package and convince yourself that a wonderful progress along the line of new discoveries has been made in the manufacture of this preparation.

It will cure

Old Sores, Running Sores, Fever Sores, Burns, Boils, Carbuncles, Granulated Eyelids, Scald Head, Scalp Diseases, Chronic Catarrh, Sore Throat, Throat Trouble, Eczema, Skin Diseases, Bites & Stings, Ear Ache, Ulcers, Wounds

The following dealers have these goods in stock for free distribution:

Robt. Littrell, Beaver Lick. S. C. Buchanan, Petersburg. L. C. Scothorn & Co., Idlewild. Quigley & Beemon, Limaburg. Bedinger Bros., Richwood. W. B. Norman, Walton. C. W. Myers, Florence. T. S. Aylor, Hebron.

PETERSBURG.

Mrs. Maude Rosenbaum, of Ohio, is the guest of friends here.

R. A. McWethy is real sick at his home here with neuralgia of the heart.

J. B. Tolin, who is ill of [illegible] ver at Christ Hospital, Cincinnati, is improving.

Wm. Shotwell returned Sunday from a visit in Gallatin county with his daughter, Mrs. Jake Cox.

Mrs. Frank Berkshire and children of El Paso, Texas, arrived here last Saturday for visit with relatives.

S. C. Buchanan and Walter Gordon are in Lexington, as delegates, attending the K. of P. Grand Lodge.

Mr. John Botts and G. M. Ruth, sr., attended the dedication of the new K. of P. Orphans' Home at Lexington, Sunday.

Capt. Hyatt was called, last Tuesday, to Peoria, Ill., because of the illness of a member of the family of his son, Alex.

Mrs. J. Albert Dawson, who formerly lived here, and was a member of the Dawson Dramatic Company, was a visitor here last week.

A horse belonging to Courtney Jarrell, who lives on Harry Walton's farm, got tangled up in the stable in some way and broke its shoulder.

Mrs. H. C. Fisher, of Lawrenceburg, who has been quite sick here at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Berkshire, is some better.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McWethy, of Greencastle, Indiana, were here several days last week, having been called here by the death of his father, Stephen McWethy.

Rev. J. S. Bradley, of Winchester, who is the new Methodist minister sent from Conference to Petersburg circuit, arrived here and held services Sunday night to a very appreciative audience. We welcome Bro. Bradley to our midst and sincerely hope he likes his new charge.

Rev. C. P. Pilow and wife, who have been with us the past two years, the former as pastor on the Petersburg Circuit, will leave Thursday for their new home at Columbia, where Bro. Pilow will have charge of two churches. These young people made a host of friends here, and as the other appointments, and it is with regret that we part with them, and we wish them unbounded success in their new field of labor.

The Petersburg ball team will play the Burlington team at the park here next Saturday afternoon. This will be one of the best games of the season. Come out and see it. Game called at 2:30.

This office is under obligation to Xen Scott, for a peck of peaches.

For Sale—2 cows with or without calves; also 3 yearling steers.
T. D. GOODRIDGE.

Day after day passes without bringing any signs of rain, and some have predicted that it will snow before it rains again.

Administratrors Notice.

All persons indebted to the estate of Susan Ann Jarrell, decd., must come forward and settle, and all those having claims against said estate must present them to the undersigned proven according to law.
LYSTRA SMITH Admr.

DR. L. H. CRISLER, VETERINARY ++ SURGEON.

Residence 1652 Scott St.,
COVINGTON, - KENTUCKY.
Phone, South 1240.

Administratrix's Notice.

All persons indebted to the estate of T. L. Utz, deceased, will come forward and settle at once, and those having claims against said estate will present them to the undersigned properly proven.
CARRIE P. UTZ, Admx.,
with will annexed.

BOONE HIGH SCHOOL

Do your High School work at home. We will take especial interest in you. This School offers the regular four years High School and the eight years Common School Courses.

TUITION:
High School Course...$40.00
Common School Course..$25.00
Per Session.
Two well qualified teachers besides the Superintendent.

School Opens Sept. 14th.

For Particulars write to
EDGAR C. RILEY, Supt.,
BURLINGTON, KY.

Jewelry Just a Little Better.

We are not satisfied to show Jewelry as good as others show. It is our aim to offer you something better, something different. Excellence of workmanship, beauty and exclusiveness of design and the very best wearing qualities characterize every piece—and with our moderate prices you can buy far more economically here than elsewhere.

Motch,
The Jeweler,
615 MADISON,
Covington, Ky.

R. O. HUGHES,
—SURVEYOR,—
RICHWOOD, - KY.

Am prepared to do, and will answer all calls for surveying in Boone and adjoining counties Over 20 years experience as a practical surveyor

J. Bullock & Son,
PRACTICAL TAILORS,
HEBRON, - KENTUCKY.

Our Fall and Winter samples are ready for inspection and we invite you to call and see them and learn the prices.

All work guaranteed and done under my own supervision.

J. Bullock & Son,
HEBRON, KY.

H. C. BLACK,
VETERINARY + SURGEON,
WALTON, KENTUCKY.
Treats all diseases pertaining to animals. Prompt attention given to all calls. Telephone connections.

Take the Recorder.

"Always Reliable."
W. N. HINDS & CO.
Carpets, Furniture, Stoves,
210-12 W. Fifth Street,
Cincinnati, - Ohio.

TAX-PAYERS NOTICE.

The Taxpayers of Boone County are hereby notified that I or my Deputy will be at the places and on the dates named below to collect 1908 taxes:
Florence, July 13th and October 12th.
Verona, July 14th and October 13th.
Walton, July 15th and October 14th.
Petersburg, July 16th and October 15.
Bellevue, July 17th and October 16th.
Beaver, July 20th and October 19th.
Big Bone, July 21st and October 20th.
Union, July 22d and October 21st.
Rabbit Hash, July 24th and Oct. 8th.
Constance, July 27th and Oct 9th.
Bullittsville, July 28th and Oct. 22d.
Hebron, October 23rd.
Gunpowder, October 26th.
Richwood, October 27th.
RATES—State, 50 cents; County, 15c on the $100, six per cent penalty added December 1st on all unpaid taxes.

Pay your Poll-tax before December 1st and you will not be put on the delinquent list. Interest and cost of collecting will be added on all delinquent taxes
M. F. WINGATE,
Sheriff Boone County.

Dr. L. E. ROUSE,

DENTIST,

Will be at Burlington on Monday of each week; Union on Tuesday, balance of time at my office in Masonic Building.
LUDLOW, KY.

Notice is hereby given that all persons are forbidden to trespass upon my lands in any manner whatever, unless by my permission. The law against trespass will be rigidly enforced by me.
C. F. GLACKEN.

RIDGEVIEW STOCK FARM
Boone County, Ky.
BREEDER OF
Aberdeen-Angus Cattle and Duroc Jersey Swine.
Stock for Sale. Address or call
W. W. COCHRAN, Mgr. - Delhi, Ohio.
(The Chambers Farm.)

POSTED.

Notice is hereby given that my property known as Laughery Island is posted against all kinds of trespass.
JOHN SMITH, Grant, Ky.

Rogers Bros.
General Merchants,
BELLEVUE, KY.
Keep on hand a General Stock of MERCHANDISE.
Coal Kept in the Yard.
Country Produce taken in Trade.

Subscribe for the Recorder.

It will pay you to advertise your Business in this Paper. Try it.

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER.

ESTABLISHED 1875.
Subsciption $1.50 year.
Try it One Year.

VOL. XXXIII. BURLINGTON, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 1908. NO. 50

County News Items

Interesting Facts Gathered During the Week by Our Regular Correspondents.

CONSTANCE.

The school house has been painted.

Harry Leslie is Happy—it's a 10 pound boy.

School commenced Monday with Misses Flora Youell and Ida Hodges as teachers.

Al England's bid was the lowest bid for the fill work on the Dry creek bridge, and he got the job.

Daniel Mahony's house burnt last Saturday afternoon, the result of the explosion of a gasoline stove.

Quite a Constance delegation heard Bryan's speech at Music Hall, Cincinnati, last Thursday night.

The river is so low that it takes only a few revolutions of its wheels to drive the Boone across the stream.

Quite a number of farmers and gardeners are hauling hay from the city, buying last year's crop at $5, $6 and $8 a ton.

Clarance Cox severed an artery in his foot, and fainted several times from the loss of blood. Dr. Murat dressed the wound.

Arthur Herbstrap gave a dance, Saturday night, which was attended by the elite of Constance and Stringtown. All had a good time.

Joel Clore, president of the Bullittsville and Dry Creek Turnpike Company, has had a substantial wire fence put along the dangerous part of the Constance hill.

o o o

IDLEWILD.

If we take pleasure in our work its play.

School opened at Bullittsville, last Monday, with Newton Sullivan, Jr., teacher.

Mrs. Pease, of Indianapolis, mother of Mrs. John McCool, of Idlewild, is visiting relatives here.

Miss Mullen, of Bullittsville, is spending the week with her father, Ennis Nixon, of Petersburg.

Kreitzer, of Sedamsville, has bought considerable stock in this neighborhood the past week.

Mr. James Brown and wife, of Idlewild, spent Sunday with their son Lawson and wife, of Bullittsburg.

Robert Barnes and family, of Mt. Nebo, Ohio, are visiting Mrs. Barnes father, Mr. Samuel Houston, of Bullittsville.

Mrs. Ben Jones and daughter, Mrs. Geo. Keaton, of Bullittsville, were Friday guests of Farmer Bill Jones, of Idlewild. We were breaking rock near the house, and by the music and laughter we judge they had a pleasant time.

Thomas Delph and daughter Mrs. James Feeley, of Idlewild, were Sunday guests of Samuel Barnes and wife, of Bullittsville. Judging by the samples of pies and cakes and other goodies sent us a splendid dinner was served.

o o o

PETERSBURG.

Miss Lou Allen is visiting friends in Cincinnati.

H. D Abbot, of Dillsboro, Indiana, spent Sunday here.

Born, on the 24th inst., to Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Cox, a ten pound boy.

Sheriff Wingate made a business trip to Burlington the latter part of last week.

Robt. W. Clark and wife, of Burlington, were here, Sunday, guests of her parents.

Miss Maud Belden and friend, Miss Hoover, of Xenia, Ohio, are guests of friends here.

Mr. Clare Jones left, Tuesday, for Washington, D. C., after spending the summer here.

Charles Jenkins returned, last Wednesday, from Burlington, where he spent a few days.

Mrs. C. M. Ruth and daughter, Miss Beulah, visited Mrs. D. G. Rice in Aurora, last Saturday.

Adam Kaufenbery, a very pleasant young man, of Lawrenceburg, is visiting his relatives here.

Mrs. W. J. Weindel and little daughter, Helen, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. Newbold in Glenn Park, Newport.

Mr. and Mrs John Wells, of Lawrenceburg, spent Saturday and Sunday with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wells.

Mrs. Kothe, of Walnut Hills, Cincinnati, has been visiting Mrs. Geo. Berkshire and family, and delivering the goods she sold here.

Mr. El Cox, who was injured in Lawrenceburg when his wagon was demolished by a car, almost killing him, is improving rapidly.

The Pauline has been compelled to tie up here on account of low water, and a skiff is being used to carry the mail and passengers to and from Lawrenceburg.

The Misses Gorden gave the young people a jolly dance at their beautiful home, last Friday evening, in honor of Misses Belden and Hoover, of Xenia, Ohio.

Harry Lyons met with quite a painful accident, Saturday, while at work for the Bauer Cooper shops in Lawrenceburg, by having the nail jerked off his left thumb.

Mr. and Mrs. "Jack" Berkshire entertained at a six o'clock dinner, last Friday evening, in honor of Mrs. Rosenbaum, of Chillicothe, Ohio, and Mrs. Frank Berkshire, of El Paso, Texas. Covers were laid for twelve.

The national campaign has advanced to the lythograph stage.

UNION.

A new pond has been built by the creamery company.

Mrs. Voshell and Mrs. Wm. Smith were guests of Mrs. Dave Hicks, Saturday evening.

Messrs. Eubanks and Conner filled the silo of M. C. Norman and W. W. Conner, last week.

Our friend, Lee Cleek, has been sick for some time, but is ok now and looking after his official duties.

Kirby Smith has the credit for raising a 89-lb. watermelon. Considering the dry weather it is a buster.

Master Harry Hicks got a piece of soap in his ear, Saturday, and kept Dr. Senour busy for quite awhile to relieve him.

The residence of Mrs. Allen was discovered to be on fire Sunday about noon, but was soon put out with no damage of consequence.

Ye scribe was pleased to spend a day with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Weaver, recently, and was also glad to meet Mrs. Weaver's mother, Mrs. Hampton Adams and her daughter, Miss Rose.

Rev. Miller, assisted by the Rev. Glass, of Covington, is conducting quite an interesting meeting at the Presbyterian church. Rev. Glass speaks with power and holds his audiences well.

Dr. Elbert Rouse has been very busy, of late, refilling and repairing teeth generally, and the conclusion is that dry weather makes what folks eat tough, so they have to get their teeth sharpened up in order to meet the conditions.

The silo problem is next on hand for the people to solve. The silo seems to be most necessary and more profitable in connection with creameries than otherwise, and yet they pay a good profit to any farmer if figures don't mislead. W. W. Conner and M. C. Norman have gained a lot of information since they embarked in the silo industry.

How perfectly in order it seems for Mr. Taft to say the will "break into the Solid South." He leads the party that has broken into every thing that is sacred to the masses of American people; except the Solid South. They have broken the constitution, busted the Monroe doctrine and now figure on having another Sherman make another march through Georgia, but it won't ever be. Think of a southern man voting a ticket with the name of Sherman on it.

Wednesday evening at 2 o'clock, Sept. 23d, James Bristow and Miss Ophelia Riley were united in marriage by Rev. Sam Wilson at the bride's home. The wedding was quiet, yet very attractive and pretty. Rev. Wilson performed the ceremony in the most impressive and solemn manner. Mr. Bristow is one of Union's industrious and progressive business men, and the bride is esteemed by a host of friends as exceedingly pretty and accomplished. After congratulations were offered, refreshments served, and nice little speeches made, the happy couple left for French Lick Springs. The presents were numerous and handsome.

The lovely country home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hughes was invaded, one evening recently, by a large number of pretty and fun loving young ladies who were bent on having a "Doll Party." No young men were present, so the pretty Misses went back to the days of their youth and arrayed themselves in short dresses, school day ribbons and other touchy features of childhood days. Any person may guess what a grand time they had, for life has no greater joy than comes of "Doll Days," school days, &c. After the feasting upon childhood's fondest recollections and doing just as they did when they were children, refreshments were served and all went away, believing they had lived at least 16 sweet years in one evening.

o o o

GUNPOWDER.

J. H. Corbin is sick.

Otis Rouse and family visited in the city, last Sunday.

Les Barlow and wife are rejoicing over the arrival of a little boy.

M. R. Tanner and wife were guests of R. E. Tanner and wife, last Sunday.

B. C. Surface has several dozen thoroughbred white Brahma chickens for sale.

Bob Snyder has finished marketing his crop of peaches. He received the round sum of $230 for his crop.

There will be a meeting of the Florence and Union telephone company on Tuesday, Oct. 6th, at one o'clock p. m.

Mrs. Ben Riley, of Covington, is here to assist Mrs. J. H. Corbin during the illness of her husband and Miss Anna Riley.

Mrs. Emma V. Rouse was elected delegate to represent Hopeful Sunday school at the State convention to be held at Newport Oct. 8th to 11.

Misses Willa and Jennie Aylor entertained at their beautiful home from Thursday until Saturday. Messrs. Charles Williams, of Aurora, Ind., and Earl McAdams, of Rising Sun, Ind. They are two very interesting young men.

Gideon Kite, of Waterloo, was in town Saturday, and reported the completion of one mile of the turnpike he had contracted to build.

BELLEVIEW.

Mrs. Josie Riley is quite poorly yet.

Farmers are busy cutting and putting up fodder.

Many of the tomato patches are about played out.

Warren Flick and family are residents of McVille.

James Rogers and sons are feeding about 180 hogs for market.

James Rogers was the guest of W. T. Ryle and family, Sunday.

Dode C. Pope and wife visited W. H. Pope and wife at Huntsville, Sunday.

Kirb Ryle and family were visiting relatives up on Woolper, Sun day.

Mrs. Mary Ann Berkshire is quite poorly with heart trouble and other ailments.

Mrs. J. H. Williamson, of McVille, is not expected to survive many days longer.

People are hustling in their winter coal. Rogers' coal yard will soon be clear of coal.

James C. Smith and wife, of Middle creek, were the guest of the latter's parents, Sunday.

Dr. Hopkin passed through Saturday afternoon driving his one minute stepper, to visit Garnett Huey.

Most families are out of water, and are hauling from the wells and river for both house and stock use.

Mrs. Belle Clore has had her artisian well put in working order. It furnishes very fine water. It is 156 feet deep.

Saturday we had with us A. M. Yealey, B. B. Hume and Caddie Maurer. They all seemed to be in good spirits.

The Big Bone base ball team came up last Saturday and played the boys here. Score 6 to 7 in favor of the home team.

Charlie Rue was over, Sunday, from Rising Sun to visit his parents and best girl. He is engaged at the canning factory there.

Mrs. Belle Clore, Mrs. Pearl Huey and Miss Mary Huey visited Dr. Hopkins and wife, last Friday, at their home in Rabbit ridge.

John Maurer, who was married to Miss Lou Clore a few weeks ago, has purchased the house and lot of Mrs. John Deed on the heirs near the Belleview landing. They will go to housekeeping soon.

Pink Smith was found guilty of kidnapping, last Saturday evening. He was seen going towards Aurora ferry, carrying a baby. We don't know what prompted him to do so, whether it was his love for the child or for a reansom.

It is reported that Forest Brown, of Owen county, has purchased Miss Permelia Corbin's house and six acres of ground, being the homestead. We are glad to have Mr. Brown for a neighbor. He is a son-in law of B. F. Rogers.

G. T. Rue and wife entertained the following guests at dinner on the 22d inst: Mrs. James Love and son, James, and granddaughter, Margaret Brochriede, of Evansville, Ind.; Mrs. J. F Love and daughter, Josie, of Aurora; Misses Pavy, Eunice and Mabel Gary, of Sugar Branch, Indiana; Mrs. Malissa Gary, of Indianapolis; Miss Lulu Jackson, of Coronadi, Cala.; Mrs. Ben Martin, Mrs. C. H. Gary, son and daughter, Hallie and Della, of Rising Sun. It was a delightful occasion.

o o o

PT. PLEASANT.

Mrs. Joe Grimsley and daughter, Violet, spent Sunday with her father, W. C. C. Rouse.

Mr. and Mrs Harry Robinson entertained Miss Mary Hey and Blain Robinson, of Ludlow, Saturday night and Sunday.

Mrs. J. J. Rucker and Miss Virgie Riggs returned Saturday from Hopkinsville, having enjoyed a great convention and a trip through Kentucky's wonder, the Mammoth Cave.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Tanner was an interesting sight Sunday—a gathering of young ladies from Cincinnati and Covington, who came to enjoy the day hay-riding and having a general good time.

Our Pastor, R. H. Carter, had a call meeting of the new members of the church, Friday night, at the residence of Mr. F. Russell. They enjoyed a social evening and a beneficial talk from Mr. Carter. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. George Bradford, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Walton, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Walton, Misses Alice Tupman, Clara Anderson, Edna Tanner, and Lucy Russell, Messrs. Claud Rouse, Emery Smith, Otto and Henry Souther, Elza Posten, Harvey Souther, Elwood Tanner, Elvin Walton, Elmer Williams, Ray Popham and Chas. Darby.

o o o

VERONA.

A good rain fell here Monday.

Farmers are cutting corn and seeding.

Hermon Craven is studying telegraphy.

The picnic, Saturday was a pleasant affair.

Miss Arelda Roberts is teaching the Craven school.

The public school opened here with a large attendance.

Rev. J. B. Harris has been returned to the Methodist church here for another year, by Conference.

Rev. John E. Roberts has been called to a pastoral charge near St. Louis, to which he will start Tuesday.

On account of the scarcity of corn a great many hogs have been shipped to market, which will eventually make meat high.

Large congregations attended the protracted meeting at the Baptist church every evening last week to hear the interesting and instructive sermons delivered by Rev. Andrews.

DEVON.

Miss Youngblutt, of Dayton, was the guest of Miss Carmilla Perry recendly.

Miss Maggie Conner is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Conner.

Mrs. Ben Bristow will have for her guest this week, her sister, Mrs. Williams, of Covington.

Clarence Rector and family, of Burlington, were guests of Price Conner and family, Sunday.

Price Conner and wife have the sympathy of the community in the illness of their little son Howard.

Misses Leta and Julia Rice returned Friday from the city, where they were guests of the Misses Connely's.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Shaw, of Schoolcraft, Mich., left for Newport, Sunday, after a fortnight with friends at this place.

We are delighted to know that Walter Perry, now Professor in English in Georgetown College, won third honors in the athletic race at Louisville, making the mile in five minutes and 8 seconds. Hurrah for Walter!

o o o

COMMISSARY.

Moral courage characterizes the highest order of manhood.

John Slayback and wife of Mt. Nebo, were shopping in Aurora, Saturday.

Richard Lacy and family, of Botts Landing, spent Sunday with Mrs. Rose Louden, near Cherry Hill.

George Ranes and wife, of Lost Section, were Sunday guests of Richard Louden and wife, of Scrapville.

Miss Grace Louden, of Scrapville, and Miss Lutie Slayback, of Mt. Nebo, were shopping in Aurora, Thursday.

Mrs. James Beard, of East Bend, visited Noan West and wife, of Clore's Ridge, Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Leomer Louden, near Botts Road, returned home Thursday after a two weeks visit with relatives in Indiana.

Henry Ranes, of Lost Section, spent Saturday and Sunday with relatives and friends on Tabor Ridge, Indiana.

Jesse Louden and son, Elbert, near Cherry Hill, visited Eddie Kelly and wife, of Pleasant View, Ind., Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Dora Delph and children spent from Saturday until Tuesday with her parents Richard Louden and wife, of Scrapville.

The Rogers firm, of Belleview, has sold considerable stock cattle, hogs and lambs within the last six or eight weeks, amounting to near $8,000.

o o o

RICHWOOD.

Our schools are doing nicely.

Mrs. Price Conner's baby has been seriously ill.

Wood Carpenter was visiting in Lexington, last week.

Major Conner's old family horse, Charley, died last week.

D. B. Dobbins reports Louisville State fair a grand sight.

Ben Carpenter had a yearling colt killed by the train, the other day.

Will Wolfe and Eli Rice will finish Walter Robinson's barn, this week.

Miss Mary Alda Carpenter has returned from a three weeks' trip to Lexington.

Hicks & Garrison shipped two carloads of heavy weight cattle from here, last week.

Politics from morn till night. You meet a man and he starts I'm running—then we run.

Major Conner and family, and Walter Grubbs and family were Sunday guests at Thomas Rice's.

Price Conner took his engine over to Babe Conner's, to furnish power to run a feed cutter to fill the silo.

A man from down on the river was here Sunday to get Price Conner's threshing outfit to thresh out a crop of grain.

Mr. Chambers had a bad railroad fire Saturday night, and the Richwood fire department was telephoned for help.

Night Riders did away with the only crop of tobacco in Boone near here. They pulled it up and placed a sign "Let the sun shine on the roots."

D. B. Dobbins and Miss Gladys Carpenter will go to Cynthiana as Excelsior Grange delegates, and Miss Lillie B. Hammond as one of the Pomona delegates, to the State Grange.

o o o

FLORENCE.

Miss Irene Cahill is sick.

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Goodridge is very ill.

Mrs. Ed Sidnor was the guest of Mrs. Lee Clutterbuck, Sunday.

Miss Mary Grogan is spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. Katie Carroll, of Bank Lick.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. church met with Mrs. Anna Carpenter, Wednesday afternoon.

Harry Brown and wife united with the Baptist church here Sunday morning, Mr. Brown by baptism and Mrs. Brown by letter.

The people of Florence were much delighted last Thursday evening when the Erlanger Epworth League came on a hay-ride to hold their usual exercises in the M. E. church here. About 30 members of the League were present and they were indeed a merry crowd. The services were conducted by one of their most accomplished members, Mrs. John Souther, who delivered quite an interesting address entitled "Intellect and the Bible." The novelty of the affair was much enjoyed by all, and we trust that our Erlanger friends will meet with us again.

The watermelon no more smileth on the vine.

GRANT.

The pickle crop will be short here.

A nice shower fell here Sunday night.

Douglas Rice is having his house painted.

Jas. E. Botts and family visited at Sebe Scott's, Sunday.

John Maurer and wife visited at Willie Clore's, Sunday.

A gasoline boat is in the trade between Rising Sun and Aurora.

Mrs. Ernest Ryle spent the past week with relatives on Woolper.

James G. Smith, wife and son visited the latter's parents her Sunday.

John P. Ryle sells his sorgum molasses at 40 cents a gallon at the camp.

Miss Myrtle Corbin visited Miss Edna McAtee, of Waterloo, Saturday night and Sunday.

Ed Maurer is spending a forced vacation at his home here. This weather no good for pilots.

Our school begins today (Monday) in the old school house, until larger quarters can be obtained.

Mrs. T. L. Utz and children visited Mrs. Jeff Utz, of near Grange Hall, Saturday night and Sunday.

John White, of Hathaway, has been here for several days, working up a Camp of Modern Woodmen. He has been quite successful.

The drought though serious, has its amusing side. We saw Epraim Clore digging his potatoes with a crowbar, and he informed us that the tubers were a size too large for bird shot, but not quite large enough for rabbit shot.

The Big Bone ball club played the Run-Away-and-Hide club of this place, Saturday evening at the park. The game was called in the 9th inning on account of E. E. Kelly running out of pop. Score, 7 to 6 in favor of Buck Mounts.

Pep Smith brought to town, one day last week, a curiosity in the shape of an apple that weighed just three-fourths of a pound, and was as near perfect as that fruit can be. On the tree from which this apple was taken were [illegible]

A daring hold-up took place in our peaceful little hamlet, last Saturday about dark, our friend and base ball magnate, E. E. Kelly, being the subject. He was passing through an alley with a pail of water, when he was hailed by an unknown Italian, who demanded the water or Gene's life. Gene gave up his life and took the water on home, where the members of his family were panting from thirst.

o o o

FLICKERTOWN.

Work on the bridge at Plattsburg has begun.

Charles Beemon and wife Sundayed at Lewis Sullivan's.

Joe Bowers and family visited at Robert Mallory's, Sunday.

Charles Shinkle and mother dined with E. E. Ogden, Sunday.

Sid Gaines and Ed Stott were in this neighborhood, Sunday.

Bud Moreland and family, Kirb Ryle and family visited at George Hensley's, Sunday.

For sale—48 good stock sheep and one yearling mule. Apply to Jas. W. White, Burlington, r. f. d.

Mrs. Lulu Hoffman and children, of Petersburg, were visiting at Ben Hensley's, several days last week.

Frank Voshell and wife, Miss Mattie Lowe, J. W. White and family dined with C. A. Finn and family, Sunday.

Mrs. Fannie Randall moved some of her household goods to Idlewild, Saturday, where she expects to make her home this winter.

o o o

LIMABURG.

Samuel Conrad is sick.

James Petitt is suffering very much with sciatic rheumatism.

Our school is progressing very nicely, Miss Stella Carpenter, teacher.

J. P. Utz was the Sunday guest of hissister, Mrs. Jemima Tanner, of Gunpowder.

Mrs. C. E. Beemon and daughter, Essie, Misses Ethel and Mittie Tanner spent Saturday very pleasantly with C. L. Tanner and wife, of near Grange Hall.

There will be a meeting of the Hebron Democratic Club, at Hebron on Wednesday night for the purpose of reorganizing for the campaign. All Democrats, whether members of the club or not, and all persons who desire to join the club, are requested to be present. MALCHUS SOUTHER, President.

H. C. McKim sends the RECORDER a souvenir postal from Long Beach, California, on which he says: "Dear Friend:—I just noticed in the RECORDER where there is a scarcity of vegetables, etc., in Burlington. Wish my friends could share some of this nice fruit and these nice vegetables with me." The card was dated Sept. 22.

A Sure-enough Knocker.

J. C. Goodwin, of Reidsville, N. C., says: "Bucklen's Arnica Salve is a sure-enough knocker for ulcers. A bad one came on my leg last summer, but this wonderful salve knocked it out in a few rounds. Not even a scar remained." Guaranteed for piles, sores, burns, etc. 25c at Bentler's Drug Store, Erlanger.

The residence of an old bachelor gentleman named Mahoney, in the Pt. Pleasant neighborhood, together with its entire contents, was destroyed by fire last Saturday afternoon. The fire was the result of an explosion of a gasoline stove, and how the old man, who is comparatively blind, escaped with his life is a mystery. The explosion threw gasoline all over the room. Mr. Mahoney was alone and unable to save anything. He had $60 in money and this was burned. His eyebrows were burned off.

Personal Mention.

Mr. and Mrs. R W. Clark were in Petersburg, Sunday, guest of her parents.

Mrs. Susie Parish is visiting her brother, Dr. J. G. Furnish and family in Covington.

Caddie Maurer, Belleview's candidate for county clerk, called on the RECORDER force, yesterday.

John Popham, of Pt. Pleasant neighborhood, was transacting business in Burlington, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs Jackson Barnett are now citizens of Burlington, having moved in last Monday from Limaburg.

Benjamin Egleston and family, of Bullittsville, were Sunday guests of Walter Sweeny and wife on Middle creek.

B. W. Adams has a Spanish silver coin that is 117 years old. It was plowed up in the neighborhood of Big Bone Springs.

J. H. Rogers, of Walton, candidate for county clerk, was a guest of his sister, Mrs. C. C. Roberts, last Saturday and Sunday.

R. H. Stephens, of Rabbit Hash, and John Kelsay, of Hebron, both candidates for Assessor, made this office a brief call yesterday. Each had his overcoat with him.

Grover and Cleveland Sdyder, sons of D. M. Snyder and wife, passed into their 22d year with the close of last Monday. Their anniversary was duly observed by the folks at home.

Farmer G. W. Sandford was in town, Monday, laboring under a virulent attack of western fever, and advertised for sale his farm out on the East Bend road, as the first step towards his departure.

Garnett Huey, one of the teachers in Burlington High School, was stricken with appendicitis, last Saturday, and was quite ill for several days. Mrs. Rouse will teach in his room until he recovers.

Rudard Underhill, who lives out on the breezy hights of Gunpowder, was transacting business in Burlington, yesterday, and discussing some foreign enterprises in which he is considerably interested.

Irvin Rue, one of the gate keepers at the ball park, announces that this has been a reasonably good season at the park, especially when the hard times are considered. He anticipates an extra good season in 1909.

Hayes Miller, manager of Big Bone base ball club, was in Burlington, last Saturday, trying to arrange for a game with Manager Kirk's aggregation. He went on to Belleview, where his club put up a good game that afternoon.

N. E. Riddell is having cleaned out on his land southeast of town, a well that has not been in use for nearly forty years. It appears perfectly willing to resume business as soon as the dirt and rubbish is removed to give it an opportunity.

George Gordon, of Hebron, and Malchus Souther, of Pt. Pleasant, were among the out-of-towners who called on the RECORDER yesterday. Mr. Souther ordered the ballots printed for the annual election which will be held by the Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Company next Monday.

Ransome Ryle, of Locust Grove neighborhood, was in town, yesterday, and reported that the water in the well at his house went down to the depth of about eighteen inches, and then soured. What caused the water to sour is a mystery to Mr. Ryle; as the adjustment of the concrete cover and the pump is such as to make it impossible for anything to get into the well. He said he was going to try to correct the trouble by throwing some salt in the well. Other persons have been heard of who make the same complaint of their wells.

Some people have their winter appearance on already.

It is said that the Ohio river can be waded at many points.

The sudden change in the weather has given the coal haulers an extra hustle this week.

This part of the country longs for weather that will bring out umbrellas and rubber goods.

This would be ideal fall weather had it not been preceded by such a long period of dry weather.

Don't begin to think winter is here and get blue, for there will be several days yet on which summer clothing can be worn.

When people started home from church, Monday night, Sam Hall found one wheel on his carriage had gone down, and Ab Gaines' horse had laid down and broken a buggy shaft.

The closeness of the contest for the penants in the American and National base ball leagues is making them equal to the national campaign in the matter of interest on the part of the public.

It would be distressing indeed were the feeding of stock have to be taken up now and continued until grass comes again. Unless it warms up and fall pastures come on the farmers will have to economize on food this winter as never before in the history of this county.

The protracted meeting at the Baptist church is still in progress. Rev. Andrews could remain no longer than last Sunday night. There have been the following additions: Mr. John Jackson and two daughters, Shermer and Elizabeth, Mrs. Leslie Williams, Ruth and Marshall Hall, Wilber Kelly, Mrs. Susan Clutterbuck by letter, Carrie Porter, Robt. Gaines, Alice Carver and Richard White.

A GREAT GRIEF

Jeremiah, the Prophet, Heareth the Death of King Josiah.

BY THE "HIGHWAY AND BYWAY" PREACHER

(Copyrighted, 1898, by the Advance W. G. Nelson.)

Scripture Authority—2 Chron. 35:25 and Lam. 4.20.

SERMONETTE.

"Jeremiah lamented for Josiah."—It takes great love to know great grief.

When we read the splendid record of Josiah we do not wonder at the tender esteem in which he was held by Jeremiah, and as we contemplate the great-hearted prophet—tender, sympathetic and hopeful—we do not wonder that Josiah, coming under his influence, should have been encouraged to faithfulness in his reforms and to increasing devotions to the God of Israel.

Grief may come as an ennobling, dignifying factor in a life, or it may narrow one's sympathies and cast over the soul the blight of disappointment and rebelliousness.

Grief that shuts out God is character deforming. Grief that reveals God is performing a ministry that not only enriches but enlarges the life.

Death is dark and mysterious. It breaks up human associations, it shatters human plans, it blasts fond hopes and fills the future with uncertainties, and it is because of this that grief like a flood o'erwhelms the soul.

How is it that grief can be sanctified and become an uplifting and outflowing force for good?

First of all, it may become such in so far as God is given his rightful place in that grief.

In the second place, it may become such in so far as the grief is permitted to clarify the vision and to reveal the life that is gone and the life that remains in the truer aspects of the eternal purposes of God. "For no man liveth unto himself alone," neither does the dying terminate the ministry of that life.

In the third place it may become such in so far as the deep stirrings of the heart grief tap new fountains of sympathy which flow out into an ever widening ministry to others.

He who knows no heart grief is but a half-formed character. Blessed, indeed, is the faithful ministry of grief.

THE STORY.

FOR 18 years now Jeremiah the prophet had been a keen observer of the reforms which the good King Josiah had been carrying on. The latter had vigorously purged Judah and Jerusalem of the high places and the groves and the carved images and the molten images. He had broken down the altars of Baalism and had made dust of the graven images over the altars and had scattered it upon the graves of those who had sacrificed unto them. He had burnt the bones of the priests of Baalim. And when he had removed from the city and the nation all traces of the idolatrous practices, he had caused the temple of Jehovah to be repaired and had restored the priestly services there, and then later he had caused a great celebration of the Passover feast to be held, so that it seemed that a great revival was going to change the current of the life of the nation and bring them back in loyalty to God.

Jeremiah the prophet, as we have said, followed with keen interest all those splendid reforms, and at their beginning had been eager to throw himself into the work until an incident had occurred which had revealed to him that both king and people were building up a false hope of a restoration of the nation to its old-time power and greatness. Then in the seclusion of his retreat Jeremiah sought out the testimony of the Lord, and there it had been revealed to him that as Israel had gone into captivity, so Judah must ultimately be scattered as a nation.

And with such a message as this he had gone to King Josiah. Strange, indeed, would it have been had his message been a welcome one. Strange would it have been if the enthusiastic young reformer had been willing to accept the view that the work he was performing for the nation must necessarily be only of a temporary character, and that ultimately the nation must suffer for the centuries of evil which it had wrought.

So it was that King Josiah clung to his false hopes, and so it was that Jeremiah, really in sympathy with the great work the king was doing, found himself a student of the reform movement, rather than an active participant therein. Thus the years had come and gone, and through those years he had labored to bring the king to see the truth as to the fate of the nation as God had revealed it to him. But until the finding of the book of the law during the repairing of the temple the king would in no wise listen to Jeremiah's words. However, when he had heard the words of the book he had been sore troubled and had sent to Huldah, the prophetess, to interpret the meaning thereof, and she had sent back word, saying:

"Thus saith the Lord: Behold, I will bring evil upon this place and upon the inhabitants thereof, even all the curses that are written in the book which they have read before the king of Judah. And as for the king of Judah, who sent you to inquire of the Lord, so shall ye say unto him, Because thine heart was tender, and thou didst humble thyself before God, Behold, I will gather thee to thy fathers, and thou shalt be gathered to thy grave in peace neither shall thine eyes see all the evil that I will bring upon this place, and upon the inhabitants of the same."

"It is even as Jeremiah has said," exclaimed King Josiah, when the words of Huldah had been brought to him, and he had sent for Jeremiah, and then had begun a closer intimacy between the two than had existed before.

"But," exclaimed the king one day, "if the judgment of God against the nation cannot be stayed, what is there that can be done to make the blow lighter?"

"It is the plain word of prophecy," explained Jeremiah, "that God has chosen the Chaldeans as his rod to punish Judah, and that they shall yet come into possession of the land and shall stand in the gates of Jerusalem Were it not well, therefore, to strive to win their favor?"

This word of Jeremiah had opened up a new train of thought to King Josiah, and as bitter as was the thought that some day the Chaldeans were to conquer the country and occupy Jerusalem, he knew that God's judgments were true and just, and in humbleness of spirit he sought how he might lighten the blow.

Not very long after this word came to the city of Jerusalem that the king of Egypt had started on an expedition against the king of the Chaldeans.

"If Necho and his Egyptian army pass through the land on their way to Babylon, and we make not his way hard and give him battle, how else can the Chaldeans view it than that we are in league with their enemies? And will they not later come against us and trouble us?"

Thus Josiah reasoned, and knowing that his plan would meet the approval of Jeremiah the prophet, he prepared him his chariots and his horses, and putting his men of war in battle array in the valley of Megiddo sought to bar the way of the Egyptian army

It had been a tender and affectionate farewell which Jeremiah had spoken to King Josiah as the latter had marched forth from Jerusalem, and anxiously the prophet waited for tidings of the battle. From the tower over the gate he watched, and during those days of anxious waiting there swept over him a floodtide of memory of the splendid life and deeds of the good king.

"We cannot spare him. He must come back safe," he exclaimed over and over to himself.

He lifted his eyes as he spoke and looked far out over the plain below. What was that in the distance? Did it not look like the king's chariot? But why did it seem to be moving so slowly? Fear seized upon his heart as he hastened out to meet the approaching procession.

"Is the king dead?" he cried, as he noted the sad looks of the king's retinue.

By way of answer he heard his name called feebly from the king's chariot and was soon bending over the prostrate form and listening to his story of the battle and the wound which had come to him all so unexpectedly.

"And I had hoped to stay the march of the king of Egypt."

"Yea, thou hast been faithful and brave, and the Lord will reward thee good for thy service."

The dying king was cheered by those words of the prophet, and when his spirit had taken flight, Jeremiah made great lamentation for the king, and caused all the singing men and the singing women to recount the good and glorious deeds of the great king throughout the nation.

He Knew His Business.

A story is told of a well-known amateur yachtsman, who was one night anchored near a rocky and dangerous shore. Suddenly, just before dinner, a stiff, inshore wind started up. The anchor began to drag. Another was rapidly thrown overboard, but in the increasing squall that, too, failed to hold. The schooner seemed in imminent danger of drifting on the rocks, but at last another anchor gripped, and the danger was past.

The yachtsman, nearly exhausted from his efforts, dropped on the deck to recover his breath and rest. In the quiet that followed there came to his ears the click-click-clack-click-clack of a busily manipulated spoon against a bowl.

He listened for a moment and then went below. The cook was preparing salad-dressing.

"Why, Sam," he exclaimed, in astonishment, "didn't you know that we nearly went ashore?"

"Oh, yassir, yassir," came the undisturbed reply, "I thought she was goin' on de rocks, suah."

"Well, in a case like that, don't you ever go up on deck? We had a mighty close call."

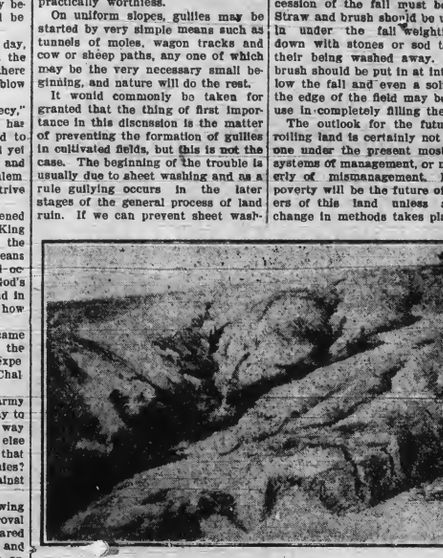
"Well, you see it's like this. You can't leave mayonnaise a minute, 'cause it'll turn right back."—Youth's Companion.

Nonchristians In Majority.

Asia and Africa have about 8,000,000 Christians and 642,000,000 non-Christians.

Gold Chiefly Coin.

Of all the gold in the possession of man 70 per cent is in the shape of coin.



SOIL-WASHING RUINING MANY SPLENDID FARMS

Methods by Which the Process Can Be Prevented—By J. G. Mosier, Assistant Chief of Soil Physics, Illinois University.

Nothing will completely ruin land more quickly than washing, especially gullying. A single season or even a single rain, may produce gullies that cannot be crossed with ordinary farm implements. Unless these are promptly looked after, the land soon becomes practically worthless.

On uniform slopes, gullies may be started by very simple means such as tunnels of moles, wagon tracks and cow or sheep paths, any one of which may be the very necessary small beginning, and nature will do the rest.

It would commonly be taken for granted that the thing of first importance in this discussion is the matter of preventing the formation of gullies in cultivated fields, but this is not the case. The beginning of the trouble is usually due to sheet washing and as a rule gullying occurs in the later stages of the general process of land ruin. If we can prevent sheet washing we will lessen very largely, the possibilities of gullying in cultivated fields.

An Abandoned Field.

Four general methods are employed for the prevention of sheet washing: First, the growing of cover crops to decrease the movement of water and soil; second, increasing the organic matter content to bind the soil particles together; third, using methods of tillage to check the velocity of the run off and to cause greater absorption, and fourth, by terraces and hillside ditches, thus modifying the steepness of the slope, and conducting the surplus water off at such slope as will produce little or no washing.

No form of washing will utterly ruin land more quickly than gullying. The owner of very rolling or hilly land must be on the lookout constantly for incipient gullies and must use every means for preventing their enlargement. The fact that slopes are not uniform allows the water to accumulate in draws, thus increasing its volume and velocity and multiplying its washing power many times. Unless some means are taken to prevent it, the water soon grinds out a formidable gully.

It is a somewhat common practice to scatter straw in these draws in the fall or to build straw dams across them at frequent intervals. These serve to check the velocity of the water and catch the sediment, but frequently the run-off is so great that the straw is carried down the draw and lodges at the base. These dams are sometimes held in place by rows of driven stakes across the draw. In general, straw is too fine to be used alone very satisfactorily. The water cannot get through it rapidly enough and so is very apt to wash the dams away or wash around the ends. A coarser material used with the straw gives better results. These means are not always satisfactory.

A better plan, used a great deal in some parts of the state, is to keep these draws in grass sod, at least until they are so well filled that there is little danger. A sod of this kind binds the soil particles together while the top growth checks the velocity of the water, causing the sediment in suspension to be deposited. In time the draw will be filled so that it may be cropped, but it should be seeded down again if there is danger of a gully forming. This method is practiced very successfully, the grass being mowed for hay. Some farmers in renting their land have a clause in the contract forbidding the plowing up of the draws. Almost any grass that forms a tough sod will answer the purpose, timothy and redtop being quite satisfactory.

Dams of earth or stone are sometimes built across draws to catch the sediment and in many cases, depending upon conditions, this method may be very satisfactory. This plan will work better in rather broad, shallow draws possessing little fall.

If it is desirable to break the field up soon and the gullies are not too deep, they may be filled with plow and scraper in a comparatively short time and with little expense. If, however, there is no immediate need for these to be filled, a different plan may be followed and while nature made the gully she can also be induced to fill it with a little help from man.

The gully produced by a waterfall is one of the hardest to fill since the fall of the water gives it great power, making it very difficult to stop its undermining action. As these generally occur where the field is in grass there is a comparatively small amount of sediment carried and consequently the filling will go on but slowly. The recession of the fall must be stopped. Straw and brush should be used to fill in under the fall weighting them down with stones or sod to prevent their being washed away. Dams of brush should be put in at intervals below the fall and even a solid dam at the edge of the field may be of much use in completely filling the gully.

The outlook for the future of the rolling land is certainly not a hopeful one under the present most common systems of management, or more properly of mismanagement. Increasing poverty will be the future of the owners of this land unless a radical change in methods takes place. It is not an expensive process to protect and improve these soils, but it becomes relatively more expensive as time goes on, because the people will be less able to do it. Sad, indeed is the prospect before the boys and girls of these lands when their only inheritance is a ruined hillside farm.

RECEIVING MILK AT THE CREAMERY

By C. A. Larson, Iowa Agricultural College.

To many dairymen the term receiving of milk is limited to simply pouring the milk out of the patron's can into the weighing tank, recording the number of pounds of milk, and then lifting the valve so that it can escape into the receiving vat. Such a conception of receiving milk is easily satisfied. Any boy or man without nature judgment or special training can do this. But when we give the term "receiving of milk" its broad and comprehensive interpretation we must include first the selection of milk. This can be properly done only when a man's senses of smell, taste and sight have been cultivated and are made use of, together with the power of observation.

How to select milk depends upon the acuteness of the senses, but how to dispose of these different qualities of milk in the most economical way depends upon the knowledge the receiver has of the effect of these different defects of milk upon the ultimate product, and also upon the amount of common sense and judgment he is able to consult. Because a can full of milk is sour, if otherwise clean, does not necessarily indicate that it is unfit for the production of a first-class quality of butter; of course it should not be mixed with the sweet milk, as it might coagulate it all or clog up the separators, but if retained until after the sweet milk has been skimmed it might be run through the separator successfully.

However, it is more safe to class it as defective milk and keep it together with the rest of the poor milk in a small vat by itself. Dirty, putrid and bitter milk is the kind of milk that is specially conducive to a poor quality of butter. One can full of such milk if mixed with the rest of the milk may lower the grade of all of the butter made during that day one or even two cents per pound.

To keep this poor quality of milk by itself in the receiving vat is of utmost importance, but it is equally important to keep the weight of it by itself on the milk sheet. When a patron delivers a can of poor milk to the creamery he should not receive as much for it as does the man who delivers a first-class quality of milk, for it is an established fact that as good butter cannot be made from the poorer milk.

The quality of milk delivered can be designated on the milk sheet by marking the good milk "A" and the poor quality "B" milk. Thus, at the end of the month each patron can be paid according to the quality of the milk he delivered without much trouble to the creamery operator and with justice to the patrons. This is one of the best means of bringing about a reform in the methods of caring for milk or cream on the farm.

MOUNTAIN FORESTS ABLAZE

FIRES FANNED BY STRONG WINDS ARE BEYOND CONTROL.

Ohio and Pennsylvania Suffering From Disease Epidemic as the Result of the Drought.

Utica, N. Y., Sept. 27.—The forest fires in the Adirondacks, fanned by a strong wind, are now beyond the control of the hundreds of men who have been fighting them. According to reports received here, large areas are being swept by the flames and several small villages and camps are being wiped out.

Long Lake West, a village of about 100 inhabitants, was burned and the damage resulting amounts to many thousand dollars.

The village contained about a dozen buildings, the railroad station and a large storehouse, which supplied the camps for miles around.

The preserve of Dr. Webb, at Nehasane, was threatened Saturday and this city was appealed to for assistance.

Fire Chief Sullivan and a force from the Utica department are now at Nehasane.

Communication was entirely cut off Sunday afternoon and the last message said several camps and hamlets were seriously threatened, and that the fires were raging beyond all control, not alone along the ground brush, but high up in the trees.

Pittsburg, Sept. 28.—With losses aggregating several million dollars from forest fires and heavy damages to crops and live stocks, the reported loss of a number of lives due to fighting timber conflagrations, the enforced idleness of thousands of workmen owing to the suspension of manufacturing establishments because of lack of water, the health authorities anticipating a serious epidemic of contagious diseases, and many small streams dried up and practically obliterated the drought of 1908, which has held Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio and West Virginia in its grasp for more than two months, remains unbroken, each day gradually increasing the seriousness of the unprecedented situation.

Three times during the excessive dry spell there have been very slight rains. Aside from the millions of feet of timber destroyed and the daily loss to manufacturers and farmers, probably the most serious phase of the situation is the threatened epidemic.

A majority of the population of Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio and West Virginia are even now suffering from throat affections caused by the great accumulation of dust and the heavy clouds of smoke.

The health authorities have sounded warnings to the public to boil all water used for internal purposes, and say by doing this only can many deaths and much sickness be prevented.

DRUNKEN MOB

Fires Into Church Folk and Three Men Are Killed—Pastor Is Shot.

Jellico, Tenn., Sept. 28.—One of the bloodiest affairs in the history of East Tennessee occurred near the Tennessee-Kentucky line, north of Anthras Postoffice, Sunday. The scene was the little Baptist church within 50 yards of which a blind tiger has been operated for months.

Just as the services had closed Sunday morning and nearly all the congregation had emerged from the church, a crowd of drunken men, who had visited the blind tiger, began firing into the church people with pistols. John Bennett, J .W. McKinney and Edward Thomas were shot down near the church steps and died almost instantly, streams of blood from the wounded bodies flowing down the steps of the little church.

The preacher, a Rev. King, was shot and mortally wounded in the church yard. Another worshiper, named Gibson, was also shot down in front of the church, but he is not dangerously wounded.

The tragedy was nothing more than a drunken mob's work. Anthras is five miles off a railroad and has no telephone connection. Jellico officers could not learn the names of any of the men implicated in the shooting. All of the dead and wounded men were men of families except Bennett.

Launch Struck Bridge Support.

Chicago, Sept. 28.—Seven men out of a party of eight were drowned in the Calumet river, at One Hundred and Twenty-sixth street, South Chicago, Sunday night, when the pleasure launch Lemon struck one of the supports of a railroad bridge and sank with all on board. The owner of the boat succeeded in swimming to the shore. Albert Westgren, the only man saved, was taken in custody by the police. He said the only one of the drowned men he knew was John Frick, his brother-in-law. The launch had been plying up and down the river in the storm.

Five Killed—Blown To Pieces.

Scranton, Pa., Sept. 28.—Three Americans and two Italians were blown to pieces in an explosion of dynamite while working at Cross Keys cut, along the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railroad, near Tobyhanna.

Stopped the "Shows."

Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 28.—Sunday amusements received a jolt Sunday night when the managers of the Orpheum and Casino theaters, while attempting to give performances, were arrested and posted forfeits.

TESTING PAINT.

Property owners should know how to prove the purity and quality of white lead, the most important paint ingredient, before paying for it. To all who write, National Lead Co., the largest manufacturers of pure white lead, send a free outfit with which to make a simple and sure test of white lead, and also a free book about paint. Their address is Woodbridge Bldg., New York City.

Too Rough for the Cows.

Mrs. Rorer, of cook-book fame, tells of seeing a maid drop and break a beautiful platter at a dinner recently, says Everybody's Magazine. The host did not permit a trifle like this to ruffle him in the least.

"These little accidents happen 'most every day," he said, apologetically. "You see, she isn't a trained waitress. She was a dairymaid originally, but she had to abandon that occupation on account of her inability to handle the cows without breaking their horns."

STATE OF OHIO CITY OF TOLEDO, } ss.
LUCAS COUNTY.

FRANK J. CHENEY makes oath that he is senior partner of the firm of F. J. CHENEY & Co., doing business in the City of Toledo, County and State aforesaid, and that said firm will pay the sum of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for each and every case of CATARRH that cannot be cured by the use of HALL'S CATARRH CURE.

FRANK J. CHENEY.

Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence, this 6th day of December, A. D., 1886.

SEAL } A. W. GLEASON, Notary Public.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally and acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for testimonials, free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Sold by all Druggists, 75c.
Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

In the Museum.

Englishman (in British museum)—This book, sir, was once owned by Cicero.

American Tourist—Pahaw! that's nothing. Why, in one of our American museums we have the lead pencil which Noah used to check off the animals as they came out of the ark.

BUD DOBLE

The greatest of all horsemen, says: "In my 40 years' experience with horses I have found SPOHN'S DISTEMPER CURE the most successful of all remedies for the horses. It is the greatest blood purifier." Bottle 50c and $1.00. Druggists can supply you, or manufacturers, agents wanted. Send for free Book. Spohn Medical Co., Spec. Contagious Diseases, Goshen, Ind.

Not at All Cheeky.

Ethel—Suppose a pretty girl were to grant you the privilege of kissing her either on the right cheek or the left, which would you choose?

Jack—Neither, I'd make a choice between the two.

Really practical men live in a world of ideals. They realize that it is not practical to conduct a business successfully unless that business is kept alive and growing by a constant outreaching after ideals yet unattained.

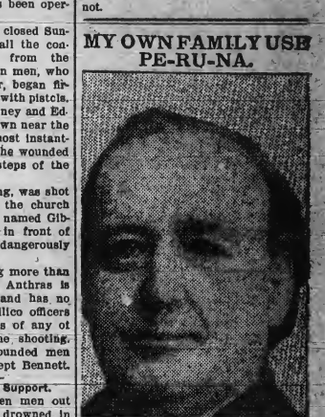
If Your Eyes Bother You get a box of PETTIT'S EYE SALVE, old reliable, most successful eye remedy made. All druggists or Howard Bros., Buffalo, N.Y.

If you would not cease to love mankind, you must not cease to do them good.—Maclaren.



Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

Talk not of a good life, but let thy good life talk.—Schiller.

Those Tired, Aching Feet of Yours need Allen's Foot-Ease. 25c at your Druggist's. Write A. S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y., for sample.

One cannot quarrel if the other will not.

MY OWN FAMILY USE PE-RU-NA.

HON. GEORGE W. HONEY.

Hon. George W. Honey, National Chaplain U. V. U., ex-Chaplain Fourth Wisconsin Cavalry, ex-Treasurer State of Wisconsin, and ex-Quartermaster General State of Texas G. A. R., writes from 1700 First St., N. E., Washington, D. C., as follows:

"I cannot too highly recommend your preparation for the relief of catarrhal troubles in their various forms. Some members of my own family have used it with most gratifying results. When other remedies failed, Peruna proved most efficacious and I cheerfully certify to its curative excellence."

Mr. Fred L. Hobard, for nine years a leading photographer of Kansas City, Mo., located at the northeast corner of 12th and Grand Aves., cheerfully gives the following testimony: "It is a proven fact that Peruna will cure catarrh and la grippe, and as a tonic it has no equal. Druggists have tried to make me take something else 'just as good,' but Peruna is good enough for me."

Pe-ru-na in Tablet Form.

For two years Dr. Hartman and his assistants have incessantly labored to create Peruna in tablet form, and their strenuous labors have just been crowned with success. People who object to liquid medicines can now secure Peruna tablets, which represent the solid medicinal ingredients of Peruna.

Kentucky Gleanings.

Most Important News Gathered From All Parts of the State.

LICENSE FOR BUT ONE SALOON.

Court of Appeals Upholds Lower Tribunal in Campbell County Case.

Frankfort, Ky.—Judge Hobson wrote an opinion of the court of appeals in a case of George L. Huber against the commonwealth, appealed from the Campbell circuit court. The judgment of the lower court is affirmed, holding that two barrooms in different buildings can not be conducted on one license.

Huber had secured license to conduct a saloon in Newport in the house in which he lived, and he rented a building across from his place of business and residence and used it for a bar and pool room. He was indicted for conducting a saloon without license and fined. The indictment was brought under Section 4198, and the court of appeals upholds the fine.

POSTAL SAVINGS BANKS

Are Favored By the Kentucky Presidential Postmasters' Association.

Lexington, Ky.—The convention of Kentucky Presidential Postmasters' association closed with the election of the following officers: President, F. M. Fisher, Paducah; first vice president, A. M. Hughes, Louisa; second vice president, L. F. Petty, Shelbyville; secretary, George L. Barnes, Frankfort; treasurer, George Hutchinson, Lawrenceburg. The convention recommended the enactment of proposed laws providing for the establishment of postal savings banks and rural parcel post delivery.

Action Dismissed.

Louisville, Ky.—Because of lack of proof, action against the Louisville, Henderson & St. Louis railroad for alleged violation of the 28-hour stock law was dismissed in federal court. United States District Attorney George Du Relle, who made the motion to dismiss, declared that the charges had been brought under a misapprehension.

City Council Indicted.

Frankfort, Ky.—The city council was indicted for permitting water to stagnate in the gullies of the streets. The condition of the feeble-minded institute under the management of the new bipartisan board of control, and the new superintendent, were harshly criticised. The place is so filthy, the grand jury says, that the children's health is in danger.

Parcels Law Rapped.

Louisville, Ky.—A rap was taken here by the executive committee of the Southern Supply and Machinery Dealers' association at the parcels post law. The committee was of opinion that it was inimical to their interests. At a meeting of the committee in New Orleans this fall the place for the 1909 convention will be determined. Louisville is favored.

Political Battle Being Waged.

Big Creek, Ky.—A warm political battle is being waged in the 27th judicial district for circuit judge. Faulkner, the present judge, and Lewis, commonwealth's attorney, are the candidates. The primary is set for December 5, and it is generally conceded that Faulkner will be defeated.

Lexington Gets Next Meeting.

Hopkinsville, Ky.—The 68th annual convention of the Kentucky Christian Missionary association adjourned after a four days' session, which for many reasons is the most notable in the history of the organization. The next meeting will be held in Lexington.

No Water at Lakeland.

Frankfort, Ky.—The drought has become so severe at the Lakeland asylum for the insane that inmates have been put on an allowance. The reservoir is so low that the management of the institution fears it will go dry. An artesian well has been begun.

Six Mountaineers Arrested.

Covington, Ky.—Deputy United States Marshal A. B. Patrick established a record when he arrested six mountaineers single-handed. The arrests were made at West Liberty, Morgan county, Ky., on charges of selling liquor illegally.

Mismanagement Charged.

Mt. Sterling, Ky.—The affairs of the Eastern Kentucky Telephone Co., with headquarters in this city, were placed in the hands of Special Receiver Henry Watson, of Mt. Sterling, by Circuit Judge Young. Mismanagement is charged.

Big Crop Destroyed.

Mayfield, Ky.—The big tobacco barn of Joe Boaz, south of this town, was burned with 3,000 sticks of tobacco. There was no insurance. The blaze started while the crop was being fired.

Capt. King To Direct Tournament.

Louisville, Ky.—Capt. E. L. King, U. S. A., will take charge of the plans for the first regiment military tournament next week. He will perfect the local regiment so that it will be in fine trim for the maneuvers.

Decide on Mahogany Furniture.

Frankfort, Ky.—Mahogany desks for the legislative halls, and the same kind of furnishings for the court of appeals room, in the new capitol, were decided upon at a meeting of the capitol commission.

BLACK DOLLS

Will Be Manufactured For the Colored Children.

Lexington, Ky.—At a meeting of the Colored National Baptist association, composed of negro leaders from all parts of the world, in session here, the following resolutions were passed:

"Whereas, Our publishing board, at Nashville, Tenn., under the management of Dr. R. H. Boyd, is prepared to supply a long-felt need in a factory for negro dolls, and

"Whereas, Our people for nearly half a century, because of the uncomely and deformed features of negro dolls, have spent thousands of dollars on white dolls, therefore be it

"Resolved, That we do here and now give our indorsement and hearty approval of the negro doll factory, and not only urge the patronage of the people of our churches as Baptists, but of the race at large throughout the United States.

LIQUOR LAW VALID.

Act Prohibiting Shipping Whisky Into Dry Territory Upheld.

Frankfort, Ky.—The court of appeals sustained the state law prohibiting express companies from transporting liquor from a local option or dry county to another.

The court sustained a fine against the Adams Express Co. of $75, which was convicted of transporting whisky from Mercer to Washington county.

The decision was written by Chief Justice O'Rear, and is one of the most vigorous ever delivered by this state's highest tribunal.

End of Drought In Sight.

Lexington, Ky.—Barring a drizzle on August 21, there has been no rainfall in Lexington since August 13. G. Harold Noyes, forecaster at the local weather bureau, says there will be rain in a few days and that this will end the longest drought in the records of the weather bureau. In addition to the absence of rain the past 33 days, the temperature has been abnormally high and the country for miles around Lexington is literally burned up.

Col. Haldeman Ill.

Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Ind.—Col. W. B. Haldeman, of the First Kentucky regiment, now in camp here, left for Martinsville to enter a sanitarium on account of an acute attack of sciatica. Lieut. Col. James P. Gregory, of the same regiment, sustained an injury to his shoulder by a fall from a horse. The regiment is commanded by Senior Major Lindsey.

Hazers Didn't Get Him.

Lexington, Ky.—The hunt for W. E. Smith, the missing State university student, continues, with no clew to his whereabouts. Believing that Smith might have been secreted by fellow students, Prof. James G. White asked that if such be the case the period of durance cease. The students say they have not been hazing young Smith.

Indicted For Murder.

Louisa, Ky.—Indictments having been returned by the Lawrence county grand jury against Sprouse and Kelly, for first degree murder, in the burning of the Cooper home and three persons, the men were taken back to Louisa, from Catlettsburg and Mt. Sterling jails, respectively, for trial.

Policeman Accidentally Shot.

Stanford, Ky.—At the performance of a Wild West show Bruce Arnold, of Garrard county, was placed under arrest by Chief of Police Carter for being drunk. Arnold resisted arrest, and while trying to subdue him the chief's pistol was discharged, the ball penetrating Special Policeman J. T. Embry's left side.

Mutilated Herself.

Louisville, Ky.—"The Lord made me do it," said Mrs. Susie Tabler, 45, when physicians forced open the bathroom of her home and found that she had tried to kill herself. She mutilated herself in a horrible manner, but may recover. She is the widow of Gen. Tabler, of Harrodsburg, Ky.

Bowling Green Man Tipped.

Frankfort, Ky.—Dr. A. T. McCormack, of Bowling Green, is being boosted by members of the medical fraternity to take the place of Dr. Milton Board on the board of control when Board's term expires January 1. The appointment will be made by Gov. Willson.

Residents Buy Water.

Newport, Ky.—The residents in South Bellevue are experiencing a water famine and are compelled to pay for their water at the rate of 25 cents a barrel. Men have taken advantage of the scarcity of water and have been peddling to residents on the hill.

New Light Company.

Louisville, Ky.—Under the leadership of Charles Albus, a local druggist, the East End Electric Lighting Co. was formed here. It will supply light and power to the eastern portion of the city.

Suits For Back Taxes.

Frankfort, Ky.—Arguments in the suits against the Southern railroad for back taxes amounting to nearly $250,000, on $60,000,000 back assessment, were made before Judge R. L. Stout and the case submitted.

JENNY LIND'S FLAG SALUTE.

Tribute by the Greatest Singer of Her Day to the "Star Spangled Banner."

Fifty years ago, when Jenny Lind was singing in New York, the American frigate, St. Lawrence, returning from a cruise abroad, came into the harbor. The young midshipmen, on the first night of their shore leave, went to hear the famous singer.

The next day the boys, to express the emotions that her wonderful voice had stirred in them, called on her in a body. They hardly expected that she would receive them, but she did; and she was so charmed by their youthfulness and ingenuousness that when they timorously asked her if she would like to see their ship, she accepted the invitation. Then, growing bolder, they asked her to luncheon, and she accepted that invitation, too.

When, on the appointed day, she came on board with her companion, the captain saw her from his cabin and recognized her.

There is nothing more strict than the courtesy observed in ship etiquette among officers of all ranks. Of the three messes—the captain's table, the wardroom and the steerage mess, where the midshipmen ate—no officer, from captain down, would make himself one of a company at another mess unless especially bidden.

In this case the captain rang the bell for the orderly.

"Tell the gentlemen of the steerage mess," he said, "that the captain is going ashore, and that his cabin is at their disposal if they care to use it."

The luncheon, however, was eaten in the steerage. But after the pleasant meal was over the boys proudly invited their guest into the captain's cabin, where they took their coffee.

"Ask her to sing something," whispered the paymaster's clerk.

"I'll thrash you if you dare!" returned one of the midshipmen, under his breath.

The wardroom officers had guests, too. They brought up guitars and sat on the poop deck above, singing "The Suwanee River," and other popular songs.

"How pretty!" cried Jenny Lind, with enthusiasm, clapping.

When at last she was leaving, she paused on the step between the carved sides of the gangway. Looking up at the floating Stars and Stripes, she said:

"I wish to salute her flag."

Uncovering her head and holding her hat in her hand, she began to sing "The Star Spangled Banner."

As she sang the first verse every officer and every man came silently on deck. When she had sung the song to the end, deafening cheers rang out from the St. Lawrence and were taken up by every ship near by, for all had been listening.

Steamers blew their whistles; and every man within reach of that thrilling voice knew that he had heard one of the most inspiring songs in the world sung as he would probably over hear it sung again.

Thrifty Parisians.

August is a busy month at the mont de piete, as the French government pawnbroking establishment is called. Its coffers are crowded with jewelry, silver plate and all sorts of valuables. This is not due to a wave of impecuniosity, but merely to the fact that Parisians leave for the seaside or the mountains, and they have found that it costs less to have their valuables under the protection of the state pawnbroker in return for a small loan than to place them in a safety deposit vault.

Immense Lobster Captured.

One of the largest lobsters taken in Maine waters in recent years was caught near Biddeford pool a short time ago. It weighed 11¼ pounds. As compared with the lobsters usually seen this was a giant. Harry B. Ayer, register of probate in York county, drew the prize while hauling traps. Mr. Ayer will have the specimen set up. Various estimates as to the probable age of this veteran were given by fishermen and others around the pool. One gave it as his opinion that the lobster was from 40 to 50 years old.

MARKET REPORTS.

	Cincinnati, Sept. 26.
CATTLE—Extra	$4 75	@	4 85
CALVES—Extra		@	8 00
HOGS—Choice	7 35	@	7 50
SHEEP—Extra		@	3 75
LAMBS—Spring	5 85	@	6 00
FLOUR—Spring pat.	5 85	@	6 10
WHEAT—No. 2 red..	1 04½	@	1 05½
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@	81½
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@	51
RYE—No. 2 choice ..	78	@	79
HAY—Ch. timothy ..	13 00	@	13 50
BUTTER—Dairy		@	16
EGGS—Per doz.		@	23
APPLES—Choice ...	2 00	@	3 00
POTATOES—Per bu.	75	@	85
TOBACCO—Burley ..	9 80	@	19 25
	CHICAGO.
WHEAT—No. 2 red..		@	99¾
CORN—No. 2 mixed.	73	@	78¾
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@	48¾
PORK—Prime mess..		@	16 27½
LARD—Prime		@	10 17½
	NEW YORK.
FLOUR—Win. patent	4 25	@	4 40
WHEAT—No. 2 red..	1 07¼	@	1 08¾
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@	87
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@	52
PORK—Prime mess..	17 25	@	17 75
LARD	10 50	@	10 60
	BALTIMORE.
WHEAT—No. 2 red..		@	1 02¾
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@	83½
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@	53
	LOUISVILLE.
WHEAT—No. 2 red..		@	1 02
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@	84½
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@	54½
HAY—Ch. timothy ..	12 00	@	12 50
HOGS—Extra	6 15	@	7 15
LARD—Steam		@	8 00
	INDIANAPOLIS.
CATTLE—Prime	5 75	@	7 00
HOGS—Extra	7 00	@	7 60
SHEEP—Extra	4 00	@	4 25

REASON FOR EXERCISING.

"Are you trainin' for a race, Jimmie?"

"Naw, we're goin' to have meat for dinner to-day an' I'm gettin' up an appetite."

LEFT IT TO MRS. BROWN.

Reverend Gentleman Very Willing to Evade Responsibility.

The trust and dependence which characterized Rev. Mr. Brown's attitude toward his wife's judgment in all practical affairs were sometimes touching, but occasionally they were amusing.

"I'm sorry you've been troubled with the toothache," said the family dentist, when Mr. Brown appeared in his office one day. "I gave you the first minute I had free after receiving your wife's telephone message. Let's see, which tooth is it that's troubling you?"

"M-m, it's not aching just at present," said Mr. Brown, after a moment's hesitation, during which he made a cautious investigation with his tongue. "Didn't Mrs. Brown mention to you which tooth it was? I always rely on her in such matters."—Youth's Companion.

His Mind Was Made Up.

It was during a trial in an Alabama city more than 20 years ago that one of the jurors suddenly rose from his seat and precipitately fled from the courtroom. He was arrested in his flight before he had left the building, and brought back.

"What do you mean by running off in that way?" asked the judge, who knew the man to be a simple, honest farmer.

"It's like this, your honor," said the man, earnestly. "When Mr. Hobbs finished talking my mind was all clear, but when Mr. Clayton began I was all confused again, and I said to myself: 'I'd better leave at once, and stay away till he's done,' for to tell the truth, I didn't like the way the argument was going, your honor."—Youth's Companion.

He Could Not Read It.

While visiting in a small town in Connecticut, seven miles from the railroad station, I received occasionally a postal card from my fiance, written in a kind of shorthand of our own. One day when a cousin was going to the post office I asked her to inquire if there was anything for me. She returned, saying there was nothing. The next day she made the same inquiry. When the postmaster showed her a postal card addressed to me and said: "Em, can you read this?" She said "No." The cupon he said: "Neither can I, and I have been trying ever since yesterday." This illustrates the fact that curiosity is not confined to the fair sex.

The Three Grades of Milk.

A city man took a house in the country for the summer. He sought out a farmer at once, looked over the cows on the farm, found them to his liking, and said:

"My servant will come to you every morning for a quart of milk."

"All right," said the farmer; "it will be eight cents."

"But it must be pure milk, mind," said the city man, "absolutely pure."

"In that case it will cost you ten cents."

"Very good. And you will milk the quart from the cow in my servant's presence?"

"Yes—for 15 cents."—Washington Star.

Why Didn't She?

A little boy of five years, playing with his sister one day, leaned too far out of the second story window, lost his balance and fell into the yard below. Very miraculously he escaped being injured, and his parents and friends were so delighted that they gave him quite a number of pennies, nickels and dimes.

The next day, after he recovered from the shock of the fall, he was counting his money, and on seeing his little sister enter the room, exclaimed: "Gee, Gladys, look at all the money I got for falling out of the window! Why don't you try it?"—The Delineator.

A Good Witness.

Bystander—Did you see 'ow it 'appened, lady?

Fair Motorist—Oh, dear no! I was asleep just then.

Bystander—Ah, then you'll be able to prove a lullaby!—Punch.

SICK HEADACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Positively cured by these Little Pills.

They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, TORPID LIVER. They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable.

SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRICE.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Genuine Must Bear Fac-Simile Signature

Brent Good

REFUSE SUBSTITUTES.

CANARIES To introduce our goods here we will give away canaries and cages. Write To-day. The Pioneer Supply & Seed Co. Wheeling, W. Va.

YOUNGSTER AN APT PUPIL.

Every Indication That Tommy would Be Successful Politician.

The children, especially Tommy, were very much interested in the game of politics, and father was delighted with their precocity. The other day there was more than the usual whooping in the playroom, and their mother found the two smaller children assailing Tommy vigorously.

"What's the matter?" she asked.

"Tommy, what have you been doing?"

"Nawthin: Only playing politics."

"Well, but what did you do to the children?"

"Just playing convention. We adopted the unit rule and I was chairman of the delegation. Then we introduced a resolution to decide whether they should take my apple or I should take theirs."

"Well?"

"I cast the vote of the delegation."

GOOD ADVICE.

She—When you are gone I shall pine away.

He—O, spruce up.

Important to Mothers.

Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA a safe and sure remedy for Infants and children, and see that it

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

In Use For Over 30 Years.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

A Different Young Man.

Gerald—There is a good deal of power in my arm.

Geraldine—I have never had occasion to notice it.

Every woman knows she is shrewd enough to manage successfully any kind of business she cares to engage in.

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

FOR ALL KIDNEY DISEASES

RHEUMATISM BRIGHT'S DISEASE DIABETES BACKACHE

$75 "Guaranteed"

TOWER'S FISH BRAND WATERPROOF OILED CLOTHING

looks better—wears longer—and gives more bodily comfort because cut on large patterns, yet costs no more than the just as good kinds

SUITS $3.00 SLICKERS $3.00

SOLD EVERYWHERE

Every garment bearing the sign of the fish guaranteed waterproof

TOWER'S FISH BRAND

CATALOG FREE

A. J. TOWER CO. BOSTON, U.S.A. TOWER CANADIAN CO. LIMITED TORONTO, CAN.

A. N. K.—E (1908—40) 2250.

This woman says Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved her life. Read her letter.

Mrs. T. C. Willadsen, of Manning, Iowa, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I can truly say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved my life, and I cannot express my gratitude to you in words. For years I suffered with the worst forms of female complaints, continually doctoring and spending lots of money for medicine without help. I wrote you for advice, followed it as directed, and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has restored me to perfect health. Had it not been for you I should have been in my grave to-day. I wish every suffering woman would try it."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

HYGIENIC TOWEL

Sanitary and a Marvelously Quick Dryer

A towel which is sure to receive immediate and most hearty welcome by the user. From every point of view economical as well as sanitary, it is by long odds the finest thing that never has been put before the public. The "Hygienic" possesses every good quality that is possible to be put in a towel. It is of strong, massive rough texture, assuring good wear. Its porous, soft absorbs moisture quickly, drying the body with hardly any effort. Its rapid absorption of water and it remains entirely odorless. It is made in four sizes:

18x30 10c apiece. 18x40 12c apiece.
20x44 20c apiece. 21x50 35c apiece.

Send for one or a pair for sample. If not returned it not satisfactory. Write direct to HIRN, as we are the manufacturers. THE HIRN MFG. CO. MILLS, York and Howard Streets, Philadelphia, Pa.

KNOWN SINCE 1836 AS RELIABLE TRADE MARK

PLANTEN'S C & C OR BLACK CAPSULES

SUPERIOR REMEDY for URINARY DISEASES DRUGGISTS OR BY MAIL ON RECEIPT OF $1.00

H. PLANTEN & SON'S HENRY'S BRUSH

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Restores Color and Beauty to the Hair. Prevents Hair from Falling. Cures Scalp Diseases. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists. Hiscox Chem. Works, Patchogue, N. Y.

If afflicted with sore eyes, use Thompson's Eye Water

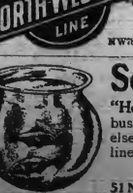
ROSEBUD GOVERNMENT LANDS

BEST REACHED FROM DALLAS

Dallas and Gregory, S. D., are reached only by the Chicago & North Western Railway.

They are the only towns on the reservation border. Dallas and Gregory are the main registering points. President Roosevelt has designated Dallas for the final drawing October 19, 1908.

The Chicago & North Western Ry. is the only all-rail route to the reservation.



A million acres of fertile agricultural and grazing land in the great Missouri Valley Corn Belt is to be opened to Homesteaders October 5 to 17, 1908.

For information about how to get a homestead with details regarding rates, train service address

THE NORTH-WESTERN LINE

NW781

W. B. KNISKERN
Pass'r Traffic Mgr., C. & N. W. Ry.
Chicago, Ill.

Send For Free Catalogue

"How to Make Money Selling Goldfish." Makes business lively around your store when everything else fails. BIG profits and QUICK returns. Full line of aquarium supplies. Write to-day.

AUBURNDALE GOLDFISH COMPANY
51 North Peoria Street, CHICAGO, ILL.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

FOR COUNTY JUDGE.

P. E. Cason is a candidate for Judge of the County Court of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

J. H. Walton, of Constance, is a candidate for County Judge of Boone county, subject to the Primary Election, November 3d, 1908.

Sidney Gaines is a candidate for Judge of the County Court of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November, 3, 1908.

FOR COUNTY ATTORNEY.

N. E. Riddell is a candidate for County Attorney of Boone County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

FOR CLERK OF COUNTY COURT

Charles (Caddie) Maurer, of Belleview, is a candidated for Clerk of the Boone County Court, subject to the Democratic Primary election, November 3, 1908.

Owen S. Watts, of Walton, is a candidate for Clerk of the Boone County Court, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

B. B. Allphin, of Walton, is a candidate for Clerk of the Boone County Court, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary Election November 3, 1908.

J. H. Rogers, of Walton, is a candidate for Clerk of the Boone County Court, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

D. B. Dobbins, of Richwood, is a candidate for Clerk of the Boone County Court, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

J. C Hankins, of Hebron, is a candidate for County Court Clerk of Boone county, subject to the Primary Election, November 3d, 1908.

FOR CIRCUIT CLERK.

J. A. Duncan, of Burlington, is a candidate for Circuit Court Clerk of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, Nov. 3d, 1908.

FOR SHERIFF.

W. D. Cropper, of Burlington, is a candidate for Sheriff of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

R. B. Hume, of Burlington, is a candidate for Sheriff of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

FOR ASSESSOR.

R. H. Stephens, of Rabbit Hash, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1907.

John W. Williams, of Union, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

Lewis Clore, of Rabbit Hash, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election November 3, 1908.

E. C. Franks, of Big Bone, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

C. P. Robinson, of Big Bone, is a canidate for Assessor of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election November 3, 1908.

T G. Willis, of Bullittsville, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3d, 1908.

John Kelsay, of Hebron, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

Geo. W. Ward, of Rabbit Hash, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

FOR SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT.

Almer M. Yeatley, of Florence, is a candidate for Superintendent of Schools of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

Elbert S. Ryle, of Burlington, is a candidate for Superintendent of Schools of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908

Edgar C. Riley, of Burlington, is a candidate for Superintendent of Schools of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, Nov. 3d, 1908.

FOR JAILOR

Samuel Adams is a candidate for Jailer of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

FOR SURVEYOR.

W. E. Vest is a candidate for Surveyor of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE

J. W. Berkshire, of Petersburg, is a candidate for Representative of Boone county in the next Legislature, subject to the Democratic Primary Election November 3d, 1908.

FOR JUSTICE OF THE PEACE.

R. H. Tanner, of Florence, is a candidate for Justice of the Peace in the Magisterial District composed of the Constance and Florence voting precincts, subject to the Democratic Primary election November 3 1908

E. O. Rouse, of Florence is a candidate for Justice of the Peace in the Magisterial District composed of the voting precincts of Constance and Florence, subject to the Democratic Primary election November 3, 1908.

J. H. Watson, of Walton, is a candidate for Justice of the Peace in the Magisterial District composed the Walton and Verona voting precincts, subject to the Democratic Primary Election November 3, 1908.

Ezekiel Aylor, of Hebron, is a candidate for Justice of the Peace in the Magisterial District composed of the voting precincts of Burlington and Bullittsville, subject to the Democratic primary election, November 3, 1908.

Temp Graves, of Bullittsville, is a candidate for Justice of the Peace in the magisterial district composed of the Burlington and Bullittsville voting precincts, subject to the Democratic primary election, Nov. 3 1908.

The Taft development is the hardest knock the Democrats have received in this campaign.

The drys have had things pretty much their way in this part of the country for some time.

The hot sun did not burn much tobacco in the patch this season and the per cent of house burn will be the smallest ever.

It begins to look very much like President Roosevelt, who named for his party its nominee for president, will have to take the stump for his proxy.

A campaign in Ohio without Senator Foraker on the stump is a new departure in the Buckeye State. It will be like the play of Hamlet with Hamlet left out.

The greatest ovation ever given a man in Cincinnati was that given Hon. W. J. Bryan, last Thursday night. The next day Republicans were busy asking eachother what it means.

Bankers from all over the country attended the meeting held at Lexington, last week. A banquet was served by the Lexington Clearing House at the Country Club on Wednesday evening.

The jury acquitted the leader of a mob that lynched an old negro in the State of Illinois, a few weeks ago. What a howl that verdict would have created had it been rendered in one of the southern States.

Ohio and Indiana are both badly demoralized politically, and either one or both may oust, in November the political party that has been in control of State affairs so long. The Republicans in each State are on the run at present.

It looks as though Mr. Bryan is inclined to waste considerable of his time in sections that are overwhelmingly Republican, while Mr. Taft's first dash with his gorgeously equipped outfit, was for a territory in which it was claimed he is invincible.

These are very strenuous times with the big fish in the political swim in this county. They are lifting the cover and showing how many of the reputed great men of the nation have profited by corrupt practices. To the list of Baileys, Forakers and Haskill are being added to daily.

So far the candidates in this county for the Democratic nominations to be bestowed in November have conducted their campaign in a manner becoming the gentlemen which they are, and the RECORDER does not believe they will depart from the course they have so far pursued.

It develops that Mr. Haskill once of Ohio, now Governor of Oklahoma and Treasurer of the Democratic National Campaign Committee, has been in the oil business, somewhat, himself, befriending the Standard Oil Co.—in other words the Democrats have their Foraker in Mr. Haskill. In these latter days politicians big or little, large or small need watching. They are nearly all in politics for what they expect to make out of it.

That the Republicans changed their plan of campaign and put Mr. Taft on the stump is evidence that they do not like the political tread in the northwest, but the splendor in which he traveled was more after the style of a monarch than that to the liking of a people who claim to make and to unmake their rulers, consequently his itinery may not be much to his advantage after all. The train in which he made his tour was the most gorgeous affair ever on wheels in the United States, which is an indication of a departure from the simplicity of the government instituted by the fathers of the country.

It does seem that Mr. Bryan is not the only person who believes that the depositor in banks should have the safety of his money guaranteed The federal government requires of national banks a guarantee for the return of government funds. County and municipal governments, as a rule, require a similar guarantee. But the individual depositor has no guarantee And freedmon from bank runs and panics depends upon the confidence which individual depositors have in the safety of their bank accounts. Speaking on this subject Chas. Davees, President McKinley's comptroller of the currency said: "National bank statistics show that a fund of the necessary amount would soon be created by a comparatively small tax on each national bank.

Golden Blend Coffee
20c lb
BEST ON EARTH

GEO. C. GOODE,
—AGENT—
Groceries and Medicines,
N. E. Cor. Pike & Washington,
Covington, - - - Kentucky.

Money-Worth Coffee
Lb 17c
3 Lbs. 50c.
Best for the Price in Town.

ATTENTION!
Our Line of Fall and Winter
SUITS AND OVERCOATS
—Is Complete.—
All these goods were bought this season and represent the very latest styles, and we guarantee Quality and Price.
The B. GROSS CLOTHING Co.
S. E. Cor. 7th & Madison Ave.,
Covington, - Kentucky,
JOHN T. SHEEHAN, Manager.

Boone Co. Deposit Bank,
BURLINGTON, KY.
The Oldest Bank in Boone County,
PAYS 3 PER CENT. INTEREST ON TIME DEPOSITS,
With $100,000 protection to its Depositors as follows:

Capital Stock	$30,000
Surplus and Undivided Profits	40,000
Liability of Stockholders	30,000
Total Security for Depositors	$100,000

COURTESY EXTENDED TO ALL.

Bear In Mind
A Square Deal to Every Man
Is Our Motto.
We give you Honest Clothing at "Honest Prices." We give you the Style, Quality, Fit and Workmanship and we guarantee
.....OUR PRICES THE LOWEST.....
We still have a fine line of
Men's & Boys' Spring and Summer SUITS
and it will be to your interest to examine them before buying elsewhere.
Men's Nice Suits.....$5.00, $6.00, $7.50
Men's Fine Suits.....$10.00, $12.50, $15.00, $18.00
Boys' Suits.....$4.00, $5.00, $7.50, $10.00, $12.00
Children's Suits.....$1.50 to $5.00
Fine Line of Men's Pants.....$1.00 to $5.00
Big Line of Cottonade and Camlet Pants just the thing for hot weather. We have some nice Suits in Odds and Ends which we will sell at much reduced prices.
Rolfes & Wachs,
RELIABLE CLOTHIERS,
No. 1 PIKE STREET,
Cor. Madison Ave., Covington, Ky.

You Can Always Find the
Best and Largest Stock of
Buggie, Carriage, Draft and Farm Harness
AT REASONABLE PRICES
Riding Saddles in all sizes and Styles; Horse Clothing, Flynets and Horse Boots. Also a full line of Trunks, Traveling Bags and Suit Caser at
Chas. Mahlmann, Jr.
Phone, S. 957-X 32 Pike Street, COVINGTON, KY.

W. H. CLARK

—SELLS THE—
W. L. Douglas Shoes
FOR MEN.
Coarse and Fine, Plain and Cap Toe, Lace and Blucher
—AT—
$1.50, $2.00, $2.50, $3.00 and $3.50
GOOD BRANDS OF
Men's and Boys' Shoes
9, 12, 14 and 16 Inch Lace.
Ladies! We sell the famous Krippendorf-Dittman, Drew-Selby and many other good brands of Shoes.
Every Pair is Guaranteed to be worth Price Paid.
W. H. CLARK,
Two Doors above National Bank.
Rising Sun - - Indiana.

If the seeming spasm of political virtue that has both the old political parties in its grasp should prove genuine, the days of the political fat-fryer is numbered in this country, and that which, until recently, was considered the principal qualification for the manager of a national campaign, will no longer be taken into consideration when the chairman of a campaign committee is sought. His ability to fry fat for political purposes was the only accomplishment possessed by the late Mark Hanna, and that accomplishment alone gave him a place among the great men of his party. There were others but none so successful as the professional Hanna. Raising immense corruption funds for use in national or state elections has been given much attention in the past, and each party has developed its stand-and-deliver men in considerable numbers, who have feasted upon the wealth of the corrupt corporations, which in one breath they would condemn and in the next demand of them a large sum to assist them in their political enterprises. The extermination of the political fat-fryers would be a blessing to this country, but it would put out of business a very considerable number of prominent politicians, but the people would never miss their services.

When Florence becomes the terminous of the traction road extended from Highland cemetery, it will soon thereafter be the metropolis of the county, and the point at which the larger part of the travel from Boone county to Covington and Cincinnati will concentrate, giving Stringtown-on-the-Pike a boom the like of which has not been anticipated. A traction road is worth much to any rural community, and Florence people should persist in going after it.

The talk of constructing a traction road from Aurora to Rising Sun, Indiana, has been revived, and for that reason the price of property in Aurora has taken an upward flight, but the Rising Sunners have been disappointed so often in the not coming of a proposed steam or electric road, that they refuse to become excited.

Before Kentucky can be counted certain for Bryan it will be necessary to do considerable political missionary work in some quarters. Harmony does not exist in all parts of the State in neither the Republican nor the Democratic party.

With a handsome graded school, bank, four stores, three coal yards, basket factory and two tobacco warehouses, why has Belleview not the right to lay aside knee pants?

The force of men engaged surveying for a West Virginia pipe line, struck Gunpowder creek at Frank Mullen's, yesterday.

The extra session of the Indiana legislature has stirred up the Hoosier state from eend to eend, as it has not been since the civil war, and there are all kinds of predictions as to what effect the special session will have at the election in November. With the Democrats they have nothing to lose and all to gain by it and are jubilant over the prospects of their ability to swing the State into the Democratic column.

The shortage in beef cattle now begins to assume definite shape to the packers, no doubt growing in a measure out of the constantly diminishing area of free range on western public lands. This is bound to be felt more and more each year. As we have said before, the supply must come larger and larger from the corn belt of the great agricultural states. Prices of beef cattle are steadily advancing having gone up about two cents in the past week. The packers are now considering whether they shall not order the canned meats sent to Europe last winter returned here to supply the demand. The report of beef has practically ceased on account of the home demand. Good beef cattle are now selling at $6 50 and $7.50 per hundred pounds. The turn in the road seems to have come and as there will never again be cheap corn, so the end of cheap beef has also come.

Quick Work In Hay Making.

All practical farmers know that it is always impossible to put up two stacks of hay which will feed out with the same results. There is just one best time for cutting timothy hay, hence the neater you can put up your entire crop to this stage, so much better will be the quality of your hay. Timothy cut when the head is in full blossom makes the best quality of hay and produces the greatest amount. At this stage the leaves have attained their full size, and they have not advanced far enough to weaken and fall readily from the stalk. Also at this stage the nutritive matter which has been elaborated in the plant to form seeds, remains pretty evenly distributed throughout the stalks and leaves. So at this particular stage of growth no one part of the plant has been developed to the detriment of any other part. While it may not be practicable to mow any considerable sized field at just this stage, it would be unwise to wait until the flower has fallen before you start the machine, but many prefer later cutting, claiming they get more hay, also that the crop is more easily secured, and that it will keep better.—Ex.

Those who joined the Burlington Baptist church during the revival, will be baptized at Belleview this afternoon. The meeting has been attended by a large and appreciative congregation every night.

Local News.

The watermelon wagon is a thing of the past.

The equinoctial storm was dried up before it could get here.

Wheat sowed in the dust, it is said, is sure to make a good crop.

The dry condition of the ground has caused cracks to open in some brick buildings.

R. A. McWethy, a prominent citizen of Petersburg, dropped dead in his yard at 7 o'clock this morning.

R. W. Clark has put another chair in his barber shop, and Clyde Barker is taking lessons in the tonsorial art.

Dr. Peddicord, B. B. Hume and D. E. Castleman attended the big Bryan meeting in Cincinnati, last Thursday night.

Who is entitled to the reward for the capture of Charles Robinson, is being made a question. The State has a standing reward of $50 for the capture of a horse thief.

The citizens of Erlanger and Florence are satisfied that oiling the streets is the cheaper way to get rid of the dust. One application of oil is all that is necessary during the dust season.

James L. Clore is completely installed as host at the Boone House, where he will be pleased to serve the wants of the public. He will make court day service a special feature of his business.

There has been considerable progress made on the turnpike roads that are being built in the Walton and Verona precincts, and the people up there are realizing the dawning of a new day in the matter of good roads.

Those who subscribed money for the benefit of the school now in progress in Burlington are requested to pay the same to Rev. Edgar Riley, as he provided maps, charts, &c., for the use of the school, requiring the outlay of considerable money.

Several springs that were never known to dry up before this year, have been put out of business by the drought. This is the case during every drought, and the number of reliable springs and wells are decreasing.

When the free gravel roads that are now under way are all completed this county will have issued nearly $100,000 in free gravel road bonds. If the roads are all well made they will be worth all they will cost.—Lawrenceburg Press.

County Judge Cason fixed the bond of each Charles Robinson and Howard Hayes, charged with horse stealing, at $1,000. Hayes gave the bond last Thursday morning and was released from custody. Robinson has not been able to secure a bondsman.

The vestibule which is about completed at the colored church adds much to the appearance of the building, shaping it up as a house of worship. When this improvement is completed the local colored people will have quite a good, roomy church building for which they deserve much credit.

The iron work for the bridges, one to be erected at Plattsburg and the other in the same neighborhood, arrived at Erlanger, last week, and the workman, who is to superintend the construction of the concrete abutments put in his appearance, but the work was not begun until this week, when things began to get lively.

Joseph W. Scott, the noted Jersey cattle breeder, who resides near Florence, this county, exhibited 10 fine Jersey cattle at the Eaton, O., fair, week before last, and captured 10 ribbons. Mr. Scott has spent a large amount of money in perfecting his breed of cattle, and has brought them to a point where they cannot be beaten.

Mr. and Mrs. Kirb Foster and daughter, Miss Olivette, left last Monday, for their home, Jacksonville, Florida. Mrs. Foster and daughter had spent several weeks here with relatives and friends, Mr. Foster being with them the last ten days of their stay. They had a delightful sojourn with the people at their old Kentucky home, where they are always received with open arms.

Samuel Petit's little girl, who was so badly bitten by [illegible] Beemon's dogs about two weeks ago, was taken to Owen Tanner's where the mad stone was applied. The stone adhered to the wound for about three hours. In a day or two after the stone was applied a bond time and stuck for half an hr. No evil results from the bites are anticipated. Mr. Beemon had the dogs killed promptly.

Fish in larger pools of water along the creeks were in distress last week, and schools of them, in many instances, were seen coming to the surface of the water as if in search of air. The water had become stagnant and some of its life-giving properties for fish were about exhausted.

Deputy Sheriff B. B. Hume closed out his detective work in Ohio, one day last week, when he recovered and turned over to O. P. Phipps his buggy and harness that were stolen some time since with Hubert Graves' horse. Everything that was stolen with the horses of Graves and Graham has been discovered and returned to the owners except the breast strap that was taken with Mr. Phipps' harness. Mr. Hume made a complete clean-up of the job.

Picturesque Big Bone Springs ought to be one of the popular resorts in Kentucky, Being within 16 miles of three cities which are so closely connected in every interest as to be one, and having a population of nearly 500,000, ought to give Big Bone a tremendous advantage as a watering place, but until there is a great improvement in its transportation facilities, and the equipment for the accommodation of patrons, it will remain in obscurity. It does look like a company could be organized for the improvement of the springs and the operation of a good hotel, that would be a success. A good automobile to meet trains at Walton could accommodate a very large travel, and would put the guests in such close touch with the city that as to make a sojourn at Big Bone a pleasure to be sought by those of means.

T. J. Cochran sold to Jeff Dunn this week the beautiful Beech Grove Farm, containing 350 acres, for $12,000. The farm is situated on the Prestonville & English pike and aside from being fertile and a fine stock farm, is certainly one of the most delightful homes in this section. Mr. Cochran will remove to Florida so soon as he can settle his business affairs here. He lived in Florida a number of years and during his residence there he served three terms in the Legislature, and was one of the ablest and most energetic members of that august body. Since his return to Kentucky, some 12 years ago he had never sought political preferment, but the offices of county committeeman and magistrate have been forced upon him. Mr. Cochran has 1,000 acres of land in Florida on which he expects to reside with his family.—Carrollton News.

Split Rock will ere long become a popular summer resort. A syndicate wants to lease the grounds and erect a large number of tents to rent to campers. It will always be Split Rock, no matter into whose hands it falls. The story told in "The Navigator," an early river guide, on old Captain Kirby will stick to the place. The captain was a pioneer river captain of the most ancient brand. When Congress passed the first navigation laws, which was about the time when the first steamboats were run on the Ohio, among the regulations was one compelling all river craft to show a light. The captain was in command one dark night just below Aurora, when the pilot sung out that there was a boat ahead without a light right in the channel. "Run right into her and split her to h—l and gone!" ordered the veteran captain. The pilot went head on into her, but it proved to be one of the big rocks that always show up when the stage of water is not too high. Since that day the rocks there have been called Split Rock.—Lawrenceburg Press.

To the Editor of the Recorder:

We wish to thank through the columns of the good old Boone County RECORDER, all those who so well assisted us in the search and recovery of the horse stolen from Mr Joseph Graham on the night of Sept. 6 Everyone who stands for right seemed to take hold with an earnestness that brought the desired result. The officials and prominent business men, Detectives Bell and Schafler, of Cincinnati; Mr. W. P. Cropper, of North Bend; and our worthy candidates, Deputies B. B. Hume and W. D. Cropper, who seemed untiring in their effort. We are proud of the fact that Boone county produces such brave men. We need more just such to fill every office the county offers. Our only regret is that Messrs. Hume and Cropper seek the same

Mr. Hume severed himself from his field of electioneering, business and family, took up the trail and worked incessantly, [illegible] and night until he delivered the horses into the hands of the owners. and captured the thieves. No man could have done more. Again we thank everybody.

We are also glad to know that in searching for our horse Mr. Hume was able to find and bring back the horse stolen from Hubert Graves some months ago. N. M. M.

BASE BALL.

Burlington and Petersburg Play an Exciting Game at the Park, Last Saturday.

The Burlington and Petersburg base ball teams put up an intensely interesting game at the local park last Saturday afternoon, each team fighting hard for the victory until the close of the contest. The foxy old player, "Poggy" Alloway, the only professional base ball player Boone county has ever produced, did the slab work for the visitors, and was in good form. He was caught by Dick McWethy, a very promising young player, while the remainder of the line-up rank with the best amateurs. Conner pitched for the home team, and while his wing was not in condition, yet his work was effective, his only indication of weakening being in the seventh inning. He was caught by Slayback, and the clamps on his receiving apparatus seemed to be some what out of adjustment. In the nine innings Conner pitched 36 men faced him, while 37 men faced Alloway in eight innings. Following are the plays:

Inning 1—Aylor out pitcher to first, Arnold's fly captured in right field, and Alden gave short a pop up. Alloway presented his spitter, and the boys began doing business at once. Snyder waited and got four bad ones, Souther struck out, Slayback made nice hit to left on which Snyder scored, Brady fanned and Slayback stole second, Smith fanned but got first on error of the catcher, and Slayback scored, Clore landed one safe in right field, Conner out on grounder to first. Two runs for Burlington.

Inning 2—Pappet out short to first, Vessenmier fanned but got first on passed ball, Mahan's liner was taken by pitcher, who threw Vessenmier out returning to first. Walton grounded to first, Tolin hit to pitcher, Souther flew to first.

Inning 3—McWethey out second to first, Ruth out third to first, and Alloway pitcher to first. Slayback fanned, Brady second to first, and Smith's fly was captured in leftfield.

Inning 4—Alloway and Arnold beat the air, Alden landed a safe one in right field but was thrown out at second from third by a ball that past the pitcher from first. Clore gave short an easy grounder, Conner's fly to center field was n. g. and Walton fanned.

Inning 5—Pappet hit safe to left. Vessenmier's drive to second resulted in a double play, Mahan base on balls, McWethy to center. Snyder fanned, Souther base on balls, Slayback's fly was captured in center, as was Brady's in right.

Inning 6—Ruth out pitcher to first, Alloway couldn't connect, Aylor sent one to third that beat him to first. Smith gave pitcher easy one to send to first, Clore couldn't light in the right, Conner out third to first.

Inning 7—Here is where the visitors thought they saw victory coming their way, but it was only flirting with them Arnold, the first man up, smashed out a three bagger to center, Alden followed with a single to right, Pappet got grounder past first, Vessenmirer and Mahan couldn't find it, McWethy got first on error at third, Ruth stuck out. This rally gave the visitors three runs, putting them one to the good, and Alloway still keeping the clamps on his opponents. Walton out on fly to second, Tolin out to right fielder, Snyder struck out but pitcher let ball pass and he got first. Souther three strikes. The home team seeming helpless in the grasp of Alloway, people began to leave the park.

Inning 8—The visitors got busy again with their sticks and increased their lead one run. It now looked like a 100 to 1 shot in favor of Petersburg. Alloway chopped, Aylor made a nice drive past second, Arnold's fly to right field was captured, Alden hit to right field for three sacks, but Pappet ended the agony by a fly to left field. This gave the visitors a lead of two runs. Burlington had made but one hit in the last six innings, but was full of pepper and determined not to desert the ship, and what they did to Alloway's delivery was amazing. Slayback sent a scorcher past short, Brady acrificed Smith found safe territory in right field, Clore out second to first, Conner safe at first on error at short. Two men were out, two had crossed the plate, and two occupied the sacks, when Tolin strode to the plate and Alloway smiled, believing he would prove an easy out, but Tolin set the crowd wild by making a two base drive to center field, scoring the two men ahead of him, Snyder's fly was taken at third. The four runs made by Burlington in this inning put her score even again.

Inning 9—The visitors threatened to get troublesome again Vessenmire made an error drive past first, Mahan go first on error at third, McWethy fanned, Alloway sent a fly to left center, resulting in a highly sensational fielding stunt on the part of Allie Walton, that finished the game. Walton caught the fly on a dead run and without stopping made a beautiful throw to second, catching Mahan in an effort to return. And the fire was out.

Burlington	2	0	0	0	0	0	0	4	*	—6
Hits	2	0	0	0	1	0	0	4	*	—7
Petersburg	0	0	0	0	0	3	1	0	—	4
Hits	0	0	0	1	1	0	3	2	2	—9

Base hits—Slayback 2, Smith, Clore, Walton; Aylor, Alden 2, Pappet 2, Vessenmire, Ruth, Two base hit—Tolin. Three base hits—Arnold, Alden. Struck out—By Conner 9; by Alloway 7. Umpires—Pink and Smith. The Burlington team plays at Petersburg next Saturday afternoon.

The following handed the RECORDER by Elmer Conley, carrier on rural mail route No. 2 from Burlington shows what business the route did its first year, which was completed on the 16th inst. Pieces of mail collected were as follows: Registered 49, letters 5,627, cards 2,625, papers 65, circulars 2, packages 96. Total collections 8,464 pieces.

Money orders written 108, value of stamps on mail collected $148.91, value of stamps sold $150.30.

Pieces of mail delivered first year: Registered packages 27, letters 6,612, cards 3,668, papers 26,315, circulars 2,838, packages 893. Total number of pieces delivered 40,353.

Total number of pieces of mail handled during the year 48,817.

The above is quite a good showing for the first year of the route, and demonstrates that the people served by it are reading people and are keeping in touch with the doings of the world.

To Teachers:—I am mailing you supplies today. If anyone fails to receive the same, please to notify me by postal. Institute will convene at Walton on October 12th, with Prof. R. S. Eubank, of Lexington, as Instructor. We will use the syllabus, which I am mailing you. The percapita for the county is $3 27. Please to make your monthly reports with certificate for payment on that basis. Under the new law the teacher must report or send certificate to chairman of division in which his school is located. Please to conform to course of study as best you can. We must systemize our work if we would have it successful and satisfactory work. I am informed by the State Superintendent that your first month's pay will be paid promptly October 10th. Will be at my office on that day. D. M. SNYDER, Supt.

Sept. 25th, '08.

John F. Green, a prominent citizen of Big Bone neighborhood, died Monday morning, aged 64 years, after a long illness of lung trouble. Mr. Green was a native of Switzerland county, Indiana. He had lived many years on the farm where he died, and was held in the very highest esteem by all who knew him. He was a member of the Big Bone Methodist church, and a member of the Masonic lodge at that place. The funeral services were held at the church yesterday morning at 9:30 o'clock, after which the remains, in charge of members of the Masonic Order, were taken to Patriot, Indiana, for interment. The following were the pall-bearers: W. C. Johnson, Dr. R. E. Ryle, James Taylor, J. L. Jones, M. E. Hance, W. W. Grimsley.

To the Editor of the Recorder:

I desire to call your attention to the fact that the score in the ball game between Erlanger and Walton at the latter place on Saturday, Sept. 19th, was incorrectly reported by your Walton correspondent, as Erlanger won by the score of 10 to 4. Will you kindly correct this in your next issue, and oblige?

Yours Truly, H. W. SHEARER.

The error was made at this office. —ED.

If the effort to get the traction road extended from Highland cemetery to Florence, is successful, in a few years after the extension is completed all the best building lots along the pike between the two towns will be occupied by buildings for residences or business purposes.

County Election Commissioners, Sheriff M. F. Wingate, J. H. Stephens and T. G. Willis, all of Petersburg voting precinct, met in Burlington, last Saturday, and appointed election officers for the county for the ensuing year.

Dr. C. G. Skillman will preach at Bullittsburg Baptist church next Sunday morning. He will lecture there during the week following on the "Coming Kingdom." Everybody is invited.

For Sale.

120 acre farm, good house and all necessary out buildings, one mile from Burlington, and ½ mile from pike. On this farm are 1,500 nice fruit trees just coming into bearing. 70 acres of timber, never failing water, and rural mail route passes by door. One share in a farmers' telephone line goes with farm. Call on or address

3sep4t G. W. SANDFORD.
Burlington, Ky, R. R. 2.

Special Shoe Sale.

Our Fall and Winter Stock of Shoes will soon begin to arrive. We must make room for them and therefore will make very

LOW PRICE FOR STOCK ON HAND.

Men's Heavy Shoes at	$2.00	former price	$3.00
Men's Light Shoes at	2.50	former price	3.50
Ladies' Shoes at	1.00	former price	2.00
Children's Shoes at	75c	former price	1.50

We have not room for more prices, but call on us and we will give you some genuine

SHOE BARGAINS.

W. M. Rachal & Co
Union, Kentucky.

PERFECT BIFOCALS AT LAST.

Bifocal lenses have been undergoing constant and rapid improvement for the the last 10 years, until now we have the perfect bifocal.

It is ground in one piece and perfectly smooth; no cement used and no lines visible. Call and see them. They are the finest made.

N. F. Penn, M. D. with Motch, Jeweler,
613 Madison Avenue, - - - COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.
Phone, South 912-Y.

SCOTT CHAMBERS,
WALTON, KY.
Embalmer & Funeral Director,
LIVERY, BOARDING & SALE STABLE.
First Class Rigs for Hire at All Times.
Dealer in High Class Harness and Saddle Horses.
Raymond City Coal for sale at all times.

Hay, Grain, Mill Feed,
ALWAYS KEPT ON HAND.
Highest Market Price paid for Grain.
Fancy and Staple
GROCERIES.
I also have a nice and complete line of Fancy and Staple Groceries and canned goods.
WIRE AND FENCING, AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS, Buggies, Carriages, all kinds Fertilizer.
Owen S. Watts,
(Successor to R. B. HUEY & CO.)
WALTON, - - KENTUCKY.

H. G. BLANTON,
Funeral Director & Embalmer
LIVERY, BOARDING and FEED STABLE.

First-class Carriages for hire with careful Drivers for Families, Parties, Weddings, Etc
I Have a Nice White Funeral Car.
Lexington Pike, - - - ERLANGER, KY.
Leave Orders with J. C. REVILL, Burlington, Ky.

Geo. W. Hill & Co.,
Grocers, Commission & SEED Merchants,
Tested Field and Garden Seeds.
Finest Brand and Grades of FERTILIZERS, LIME, CEMENT AND SALT.
Largest and Best Stock of
GROCERIES IN THE CITY
Sole Agents for the Celebrated
RARUS and GEM Brands of FLOUR.
When in the City it will pay you to come and see us.
27 & 29 Pike Street (Phone South 55) 28 & 28½ Seventh Street
COVINGTON, KENTUCKY

THE RECORDER.

W. L. RIDDELL, Publisher.

BURLINGTON. - - KENTUCKY

Snakes Diagnosed Editorially.

Ever since Adam was a bridegroom, and a certain celebrated, but not beloved, snake made trouble in the family and caused him to lose his farm and gardens, snakes have been unpopular in Adam's family. If the snake had never been in the Garden of Eden zoo, probably we could be roaming aronnd yet on a perpetual vacation, with nothing to do but eat fruit and pick flowers. We folks who have to work and dig around eight or ten hours a day can never quite forgive the snake for putting us out of the paradise palm garden, says the Baltimore Sun. It was worse than the civil war. Never since that little snake incident at Eden have we been rich enough to quit work. You can't say the snake is a beautiful animal. He looks like a long streak of devilment, with fangs in front and little spots and streaks of unrighteousness all the way down. He is as unsociable as a cross-eyed hermit, and slippery as a gumshoe politician. As Mr. Roosevelt would say, the snake is unmoral, a malefactor of great stealth, an unrighteous unregenerate, almost as depraved as a reactionary or a conservative. Being jealous and spiteful, it is no wonder that the reptile has so few close friends. His low, retreating forehead shows that he has no taste for music or the arts, and would as soon bite Elbert Hubbard or Paderewski as he would Joe Gans. He never shows true affection or constancy, and cannot be trusted with ladies and children.

Potential Wheat Acreage.

With the many means which are at hand to the future farmers of the United States to meet the ever-growing demand for the "staff of life," it is hard to imagine a real wheat famine for our population in the immediate future. He is a most unwise prophet who would attempt to estimate the potential wheat acreage of the United States 10, 20, or 50 years from now. While it is true that the most available and most productive wheat lands have already been tapped, the future acreage of desert-and-swamp lands that may be made productive through engineering skill, says Century, is an absolutely unknown factor. That many of these regions will sometime be extremely productive no one can doubt, and if high prices for wheat become persistent, an extensive wheat acreage may be developed in old agricultural regions that have abandoned wheat for more profitable forms of agriculture.

Rubber Plays a Part.

The increasing demand for rubber makes the Congo State a center of interest to the world. But no one wants rubber extorted by the lash and by mutilation. No one believes that any such system is necessary. It is a mistake to think that the African negroes are lazy, says the Philadelphia Inquirer. After their fashion they are energetic, but most of their labor is wasted in vain efforts. It seems reasonable that a mild and intelligent administration will produce much more rubber and will not only benefit the natives, but cheapen the article. The American concessions stand, and these are vast, but they will be under the supervision of the Belgian government and we shall have no more brutality by wholesale. The Belgians are an intelligent race, fully competent to solve this great problem.

The British house of lords amended the old-age pension bill, but when the commons rejected the amendments, the lords passed the bill in the form in which it was sent to them. The aged British poor over 70 years of age will soon receive pensions of varying amounts, according to their income. The sums are fixed by a sliding scale which forms a part of the bill. Now the statesmen will devote themselves to finding money to pay the pensions. It will require $30,000,000 a year to start with, and is likely to need from $50,000,000 to $100,000,000 within a decade.

The heaviest hitter in the American Baseball league has married the richest girl in Atlanta. She probably took him because the sporting editors have referred to him as "the prince of swatters."

A Chicago man plans to have all our machinery run by the force of gravitation. That will be all right if he can persuade gravitation to work both ways.

There is a town in New York which has been made famous by its millionaire fire department. In its ranks are plenty of brokers and bankers, so it may be that they are satisfied any time the town supply of water runs short they can get enough squeezed out of their stocks to answer.

Only a monomaniac, says a scientist, can think of one subject continuously for five minutes. Oh, say not so. Haven't you ever hungry for an hour at a time?

MANY DIE IN WRECK

HORRIBLE COLLISION OCCURS ON NORTHERN PACIFIC.

SMOKING CAR TELESCOPED

Between Thirty and Forty Passengers Killed and Injured—Bodies of the Victims Shockingly Mangled.

Butte, Mont. — Nineteen persons were killed, 11 seriously injured, several fatally, and about 30 more or less hurt in a collision between passenger train No. 16, known as the east-bound Burlington flyer, and a west-bound freight train at 8:10 o'clock Friday morning at a siding known as Young's Point, about 30 miles west of Billings, on the Northern Pacific railroad.

The passenger, running about 50 miles an hour, crashed into the freight just entering on the siding during a blinding snowstorm, the engineer of the passenger failing to see the signal flag of the brakeman of the freight train in time to avert the collision.

Smoker is Telescoped.

The express car telescoped with the smoker and a majority of the fatalities and injuries were in this car. The express car was raised over the platform of the smoker, the superstructure sweeping the seats and not a passenger in this car escaped death or injury. The other passengers escaped with cuts and bruises.

On the train was the Spokane delegation to the National Irrigation congress at Albuquerque. None of these was injured.

Fireman Ora Babcock jumped and was killed, striking on his head. Milo Halloway, a brakeman of the Billings train, was killed. The scenes around the smoker were horrible, heads, bodies, legs and arms being interwoven with broken seats and equipment. In one place seven bodies were so tightly wedged together that they were only separated with difficulty. It was almost impossible to succor the injured without trampling on the dead.

Partial List of the Dead.

A partial list of the dead follows: Col. Bonson of Utah, John Cawlan, Billings, Mont.; Lon Anderson, Hardy, Mont.; Lorrenz A. Stewart, Dean, Mont.; H. C. Gomble, Minister, Ia.; E. L. Eymock, Denver, Col.; D. H. Barnes, Seattle, Wash.; G. M. Konsick, Anaconda, Mont.; Ora Babcock, Billings, Mont.; S. Chingdon, Chico Springs, Mont.; Charles E. Johnson, Denver, Col., district passenger agent, Nickel Plate railway; George Battlerock, Anaconda, Mont.; John Ryan, Cushing, Okla.; Milo Halloway, Billings, Mont.; —— Slchemram, address unknown; two unidentified coal miners, en route from Anaconda, Mont., to Kirby, Wyo.

ABE RAYMER IS ACQUITTED.

Verdict of Not Guilty in First Springfield Riot Case.

Springfield, Ill.—The case of Abe Raymer was given to the jury at 5:40 p. m. Wednesday and court took a recess. At nine o'clock the jury returned a verdict of not guilty. Raymer was as white as a sheet when the jury filed into court. As soon as the verdict was announced, he grasped the hand of each juror and made a speech thanking them.

As this is the first of the riot cases, involving a total of 117 indictments returned by the grand jury, it is considered quite significant. It was proved that Raymer was a member of the mob and the court held that any member of the mob was guilty in the eyes of the law, but the jury acted on the lack of evidence to prove that Raymer actually had a hand in the lynching.

WASHINGTON LIFE IS SOLD.

Pittsburg Syndicate Gets Morton's Old Insurance Company.

New York.—The control of the Washington Life Insurance Company Thursday passed from the hands of Levi P. Morton, Thomas F. Ryan and Harry Payne Whitney, to a Pittsburg syndicate headed by William C. Baldwin, president of the Pittsburg Life and Trust Company.

The deal was completed late Thursday afternoon, and Mr. Baldwin was elected president of the Washington Life Insurance Company to succeed John Tatlock. In retiring from the Washington Life former Gov. Morton severs a connection with the company which has continued for almost 50 years, he having been one of the charter members of the company, one of the oldest in the country.

Steamer Erik Hits Iceberg.

St. Johns, N. F.—With her hull damaged by collision with an iceberg, the steamer Erik, which accompanied the Peary expedition to the north, is reported on her way to this port. The damage to the vessel is said to be all above the waterline.

Funeral of Lieut. Selfridge.

Washington.—The funeral of Lieut. Selfridge, who was killed in the fall of the Wright aeroplane at Fort Myer a few days ago, was held at Arlington National cemetery Friday. The Episcopal burial rite was observed at the grave and troopers from the fort fired a salute.

Widow of Gen. Bragg Dies.

New Orleans.—Mrs. Eliza Bragg, widow of Maj. Gen. Braxton Bragg, of the confederate army, died in this city late Friday afternoon.

FALL STYLES IN COLLEGE STUDENTS.

There will be wide variety in the styles in college boys this fall, says the current issue of a fashion journal. The prevailing college student style, however, will show coats worn to the knees, with five or six vents, and cuffs to the elbows. Cuffs will also be worn on the trousers, the object being to expose the calf of the leg from the knee down, affording a cunning little peek at the garter. Stripes, wriggles and spots will constitute the modest patterns. Green and pale lavender hats, with trimming in the back and floppy brims, turning up and down, back and sideways, will be popular to cover the collegiate cranium.

TWO TOWNS IN DISTRESS

COUDERAY, WIS., AND RUSH CITY, MINN., MAY BURN UP.

Both Places Ask Help in Fighting the Flames—California Forest Fire Under Control.

Couderay, Wis.—A terrible forest fire is raging on the outskirts of the town. The frantic people are packing their household goods and preparing to move out.

Minneapolis has been asked to send an engine and appeals will be made to other towns. Unless the wind dies down the town will be burned.

St. Paul, Minn.—Rush City, Minn., is reported burning. The St. Paul fire department has been appealed to for aid and Friday night sent an engine company and seven men to the burning city. Rush City is 54 miles north of here on the Northern Pacific railroad.

Eureka, Cal. — The forest fire which has been raging in the northeastern part of Humboldt county is reported to be under control. A rough estimate places the burned area at 20,000 acres. It is impossible to give any exact estimate of the loss, but it is believed that it will exceed $200,000. Two men are known to have perished in the flames.

Washington.—A telegram was received Thursday from Raymond W. Pullman of the forest service, who is in Minnesota investigating forest fire conditions for the government. He estimates the loss in that state at $5,000,000 to $10,000,000, with the fires still burning. He reports a heavy rain fall lasting five hours, but says 36 hours of rain are necessary to put out all fires.

MANILA SADLY DISAPPOINTED.

Preparations for Entertaining Fleet All Are Wasted.

Manila. — The effect of Secretary of the Navy Metcalf's order that in view of the presence of cholera in Manila no shore leave was to be granted or visitors from shore allowed on the battleships when the Atlantic fleet arrived, has been largely discounted by the realization Thursday that it would be impossible to cleanse the city before the arrival of the fleet about October 1. People fully realize the necessity of the situation but they are bitterly disappointed at the outcome.

Thousands of dollars have been spent in preparation for the reception and entertainment of the officers and men. The decorations have been practically completed. A program elaborate and novel which represents four months' work by 250 active committeemen had been arranged.

Drowned at Military Camp.

St. Joseph, Mo.—The first accidental death at Camp Everett Peabody, where 5,000 regulars are encamped, occurred Thursday when Private John H. McCawl of Baltimore, Md., Troop M, Fifth cavalry, was drowned in Lake Contrary. He drove his horse into the lake, slipped from its back and started to swim. The horse kicked him on the head and he sank.

Bubonic Plague May Enter Country.

Washington.—That the gulf and Atlantic coasts of the United States are in danger of an infection of the bubonic plague was the note of warning sounded Friday by Dr. W. K. Foster of California before the delegates in attendance upon the twenty-third annual meeting of the conference of state and provincial boards of health of North America. He expressed the belief that such an infection already may have taken place. The address of Dr. Foster, who is president of the organization, startled the delegates.

FRENCH NAVAL DISASTER.

Thirteen Men Killed by Explosion of Big Gun.

Toulon, France.—During gunnery drill Tuesday one of the big turret guns on the French armored cruiser Latouche Treville exploded with terrific violence, completely wrecking the after turret and killing outright the entire gun crew of 13 men. A number of men were seriously injured, some of them probably fatally.

The accident was similar to that aboard the gunnery schoolship Couronne off Les Salins d'Hyeres, August 12 last, when by the bursting of the breech of one of the guns six men were killed and 18 injured.

The drill Tuesday had been proceeding for a considerable time when, without warning, the whole turret seemed to blow out. Dismembered bodies were thrown in all directions and several of them were hurled into the sea through the great breach caused by the explosion.

The spectacle was horrible, the dead and wounded, together with shattered arms and legs, littering the decks. A call to quarters was sounded and as speedily as possible the wounded were cared for. The gun that exploded was 7.6 inches bore, of which the cruiser carried two. Happening so soon after the accident on the Couronne, the explosion has caused a sensation in naval circles and doubtless will lead to a most rigid investigation. The Latouche Treville carries a complement of 270 men.

YANKEE IS AGROUND.

Cruiser Caught on Spindle Rock Near Buzzards Bay.

Newport, R. I.—The United States cruiser Yankee struck on Spindle Rock, near the western entrance to Buzzards bay, during a fog Wednesday, breaking several holes in her hull on the port side. She was still hard and fast Wednesday night.

Several tugs attempted to release the cruiser in the afternoon, but without success, and additional help was sent for. The naval collier Lebanon, a wrecking outfit and two tugs, have been started from the New York navy yard to the Yankee's assistance, and the naval collier Nero, which is on her way to Boston, will also be asked to come to the aid of the Yankee.

The fog was still very thick in Buzzards bay at night, but the sea was smooth and the Yankee was apparently in no immediate danger.

Frank Robinson is Dead.

Cleveland, O.—Frank De Haas Robinson, owner of the St. Louis National League baseball team, street car promoter and capitalist, died suddenly at his home Friday night.

Mr. Robinson was born in Pittsburg but went to Dubuque, Ia., at an early age. A widow and daughter survive him.

Vanderbilt Divorce Made Absolute.

New York.—Justice Gerard in the supreme court Thursday signed the final decree of absolute divorce in favor of Elsie French Vanderbilt from Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt on the recommendation of Referee David McClure. The interlocutory decree was granted on May 26.

Well-Known Banker Dead.

Philadelphia.—The death of James [illegible], banker and financier of the firm of Drexel & Co., Philadelphia; J. P. Morgan & Co., New York, and Morgan, Harjes Company of Paris, was reported here Friday night from Hot Springs, Va. Mr. Paul, it was stated, died of apoplexy.

Shah Orders New Elections.

Teheran.—The shah Friday issued a manifesto ordering new elections and calling for the convening of the [illegible] by and senate November 15.

HIT IN $30,800 SWINDLE

FIVE ARE INDICTED IN THE PATTEN CASE.

True Bills Prepared—J. M. McFarland is One of the Accused Men.

Chicago. — Two indictments naming five persons involved in the operations by which Mrs. James A. Patten was induced to pay out $30,800 for editions de luxe, were prepared Thursday in the office of the state's attorney. The indictments were based on true bills voted by the grand jury, were submitted again to the jurors and the investigating body returned them in court.

J. M. McFarland, who testified as a state's witness before the grand jury in the Patten case, was named in the indictments as a codefendant. The other four persons against whom the indictments are named are said to have been McFarland's associates in his book deals.

Two separate transactions are taken cognizance of by the indictments. The first of these was the one of December 4, 1907, by which Mrs. Patten was induced to pay out $8,800. The second transaction is the one of April 30, 1908, by which she was induced to part with $22,000. In each of the indictments the charge was conspiracy to operate a confidence game.

McFarland appeared before the grand jury and there told the story of his own part in the alleged fleecing of rich people by means of the book scheme. At the same time he exposed the persons who, he says, worked the plot with him, and whom he accuses of having pocketed most of the profits.

Mrs. Patten was also a witness. She told of the large sums of money that she turned over to the alleged ring of book swindlers with whom, at the introduction of McFarland, she did business. She told of the notes she signed and furnished documents in support of her testimony.

Since the discovery that McFarland has turned state's evidence and that his own testimony as a co-conspirator will be used to prosecute former associates, the men caught in the net are reported to have been making overtures of their readiness to return some of the notes and money which they secured.

ARREST BROWN AND PARTNERS.

New York Detectives Nab Members of Failed Brokerage Firm.

New York.—Detectives from police headquarters appeared in the A. O. Brown & Co. case Friday giving it a sensational turn when they arrested five members of the failed stock exchange firm as they emerged from the federal building, where a hearing into the affairs of the firm has been going on for some days before United States Commissioner Gilchrist. A sixth arrest would have been made if sickness had not detained still another member of the firm in a New Jersey hospital, beyond the jurisdiction.

The charge against them was that of grand larceny and it was preferred by a former client of the firm. Miss Helen S. Abernethy of this city, who alleges the loss at their hands of 20 shares of Missouri, Kansas & Texas railway common stock valued at about $600, and 25 shares of United States Steel preferred stock valued at $1,184, on or about August 21 last.

BURIED IN RED-HOT BRICKS.

Tragic Fate of Two Men at Kenmare, North Dakota.

Minot, N. D.—Slowly roasting to death under tons of red-hot bricks, in plain view of their comrades, who were unable to assist them, E. W. Drake, Sr., and Clarence Bailey met a tragic death at Kenmare Wednesday. The big kiln of the Kenmare Brick & Coal Company burst when but ten hours from completion. Drake, who was the manager of the plant, was buried up to his arms in the red-hot pile, and it was not for over 30 minutes that he could be reached by the rescuers. Bailey, the 17-year-old son of a prominent farmer, was completely entombed and was not found for an hour. His body was roasted to a crisp.

Bad Band is Broken Up.

Winnipeg, Man. — The arrest and conviction Friday at Moose Jaw of Joseph Convery, for horse stealing, of Kid Royal and George Birch in Montana and the sentencing of a fourth, named Hofferson, to the North Dakota penitentiary, breaks up a bad band of horse rustlers who have been operating in southern Saskatchewan and adjoining states for some time. They stole hundreds of horses. These were the leaders.

Federation of Labor Convention.

Washington.—The call for the twenty-eighth annual convention of the American Federation of Labor has been issued. The convention will assemble in Denver, Monday, November 9.

Denver Coliseum Burns.

Denver, Col.—The Coliseum, on Champa street between Eighteenth and Nineteenth streets, this city, was completely destroyed by fire of unknown origin Thursday. The Coliseum was one of the city's landmarks.

Insane Mother Slays Babe.

Elkhart, Tex.—Mrs. John Dalton, living three miles south of here, became insane and choked her baby to death. There was no one at the house at the time except Mrs. Dalton and the child.

Truth and Quality

appeal to the Well-Informed in every walk of life and are essential to permanent success and creditable standing. Accordingly, it is not claimed that Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is the only remedy of known value, but one of many reasons why it is the best of personal and family laxatives is the fact that it cleanses, sweetens and relieves the internal organs on which it acts without any debilitating after effects and without having to increase the quantity from time to time.

It acts pleasantly and naturally and truly as a laxative, and its component parts are known to and approved by physicians, as it is free from all objectionable substances. To get its beneficial effects always purchase the genuine, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., only, and for sale by all leading druggists.

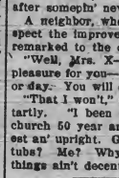
NO BATHTUB FOR HER.

"New-Fangled Contrivance" Emphatically Failed to Win Approval.

The French abhorrence of the bath a la nature is shared by many people, particularly one old woman up in an east Tennessee town. The town had just had a water system installed and the natives were "pinting with pride" at their bathrooms and equipment where one could perform his ablutions at will without waiting and longing for Saturday night.

This old woman was an exception to the rule. She made her home with her son, and his wife, according to the mother-in-law, was "alius a-hankerin' after someph'n' newfangled."

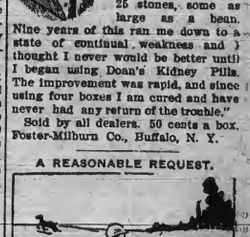
A neighbor, who had been in to inspect the improvements in the house, remarked to the old woman:



"Well, Mrs. X——, this will be a pleasure for you—bath any time, night or day. You will certainly enjoy it—"

"That I won't," said the old woman, tartly. "I been a member of the church 50 year an' always lived honest an' upright. Git inter one er them tubs? Me? Why, Sary Ellen, them things ain't decent!"

AWFUL GRAVEL ATTACKS.



Cured by Doan's Kidney Pills After Years of Suffering.

F. A. Rippy, Depot Ave., Gallatin, Tenn., says: "Fifteen years ago kidney disease attacked me. The pain in my back was so agonizing I finally had to give up work. Then came terrible attacks of gravel with acute pain and passages of blood. In all I passed 25 stones, some as large as a bean. Nine years of this ran me down to a state of continual weakness and I thought I never would be better until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. The improvement was rapid, and since using four boxes I am cured and have never had any return of the trouble."

Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

A REASONABLE REQUEST.

Small Urchin (to major, who has been thrown from horse into pond)—Hi, mister, as you 'appens to be in the water, would you mind looking for Willie's whistle?

PRESCRIBED CUTICURA

After Other Treatment Failed—Raw Eczema on Baby's Face Had Lasted Three Months—At Last Doctor Found Cure.

"Our baby boy broke out with eczema on his face when one month old. One place on the side of his face the size of a nickel was raw like beefsteak for three months, and he would cry out when I bathed the parts that were sore and broken out. I gave him three months' treatment from a good doctor, but at the end of that time the child was no better. Then my doctor recommended Cuticura. After using a cake of Cuticura Soap, a third of a box of Cuticura Ointment, and half a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent he was well and his face was as smooth as any baby's. He is now two years and a half old and no eczema has reappeared. Mrs. M. L. Harris, Alton, Kan., May 14 and June 12, 1907."

Decorations for Women.

There are few decorations for women in Europe, the most ancient order coming from the Austrian throne. It is the decoration of the Star and Crucifix, and is given to women of high rank. Another is the Luisen, founded in memory of the beautiful queen of Prussia, whom Napoleon insulted. This order is given to all classes of women who commit any great self-sacrifice.

Almost any man can marry money if he is willing to take a widow older than he is along with it.

GOV. HASKELL RESIGNS AS BRYAN'S TREASURER

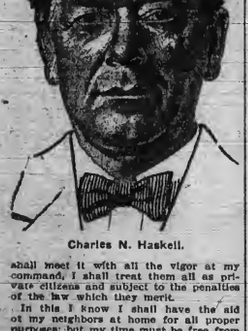
Outcome of Charges That He Was Connected with Standard Oil--Foraker, Replying to Like Accusations, Attacks Taft, Roosevelt and Hearst.

Chicago.—Charles N. Haskell, governor of Oklahoma, has resigned the treasurership of the Democratic national committee.

He announced his retirement from active participation in the Bryan campaign and his withdrawal from charge of its money chests at 12 o'clock Friday night, after he had been three hours in Chicago.

The resignation was forced, Haskell's colleagues on the committee as well as Candidate Bryan himself giving the orders after seeing the Oklahoma governor's plight in the avalanche of oil, anti-labor, "promotion," and other charges.

When he had handed out his resignation letter the governor, with flashing eyes, declared:



"All those who have attacked me shall pay for it, from President Roosevelt down. He has by his acts placed himself in the position of a private citizen."

Haskell's Letter of Resignation.

Gov. Haskell's letter of resignation follows:

Hon. Norman E. Mack, Chairman Democratic National Committee, New York City—My Dear Sir: In pursuance of information as to your date for return here, when I went home before, I assumed I would find you here upon my return today. I now learn that you will be detained in the east until Tuesday, and as I must be home on Monday I leave tomorrow.

Since the president and his cabinet have joined forces with Mr. Hearst and three Wall street brokers to make a personal fight against me, notwithstanding the president in his answer to Mr. Bryan abandoned his charge about Ohio Standard Oil cases, yet by all the means at the command of the government and the millions of Hearst and his Wall street allies, they persist in vicious, unwarranted, and untruthful attack on me. Personally, I welcome their attack, and shall meet it with all the vigor at my command, I shall treat them all as private citizens and subject to the penalties of the law which they merit.

Charles N. Haskell.

In this I know I shall have the aid of my neighbors at home for all proper purposes; but my time must be free from other demands here. Again, my heart is full of hope for the election of Bryan and Kern. Honest government and rule by the people is at stake.

Important beyond any battle at the polls in the last generation is the pending contest.

I would not for one moment consider remaining in any way connected with the committee, therefore hereby tender my resignation as treasurer of the Democratic national committee, that not the slightest contest of my own could in any way be used by the president to cloud the sky and shield our opponents from discussing the real issues and laying bare the Republican duplicity to the people.

Sincerely yours,

CHARLES N. HASKELL.

"President a Four-Flusher."—Haskell.

Kansas City, Mo.—"President Roosevelt is the biggest four-flusher in the political business to-day. You ought to hear what they think of the rascal down in Oklahoma."

These were the closing words of an interview given out here by Gov. Haskell of Oklahoma, as he stepped aboard a train on his way to Chicago. The governor's talk was called out by the charges made against him by President Roosevelt and William R. Hearst.

Statement by Monnett.

Columbus, O.—"If I charged Gov. Charles N. Haskell wrongfully, it was because Charles B. Squire gave me his name," said Frank S. Monnett, former attorney general of Ohio. Mr. Monnett declared, however, that he could not exonerate Gov. Haskell from the charges that had been made that he was a party to the $500,000 bribe fund of the Standard Oil Company, nor could he condemn him.

"All that I have against Gov. Haskell," he said, "is hearsay evidence, and I have suggested that if the case were presented to a grand jury it would be shown whether Gov. Haskell has been wrongfully accused."

Bryan Reproves President.

Detroit, Mich.—The remarkable spectacle of a presidential candidate rebuking the chief executive of the nation for making statements deemed to be unjustified, was witnessed here when William J. Bryan in a letter to President Roosevelt defended Gov. Haskell of Oklahoma, treasurer of the Democratic national committee, against the charge that he had unlawful connections with the Standard Oil Company. Mr. Bryan serves notice on the president that as the candidate of the Democratic party "I shall not permit any responsible member of the Republican organization to misrepresent the Democratic party in the present campaign."

The letter concludes with the statement that the Democratic party is making "an honest and honorable" fight in defense of its principles and policies, and expects and will demand honorable treatment from those who are in charge of the Republican campaign."

Roosevelt's Hot Reply.

Washington.—President Roosevelt, following upon a prolonged conference with members of the cabinet at the White House, prepared and gave out his reply to William J. Bryan, the Democratic candidate, relative to W. R. Hearst's charges that Gov. Haskell, treasurer of the Democratic campaign committee, had represented Standard Oil interests both in Ohio and Oklahoma.

Mr. Bryan had demanded proof of the charges, promising that in the event of their substantiation Gov. Haskell would be eliminated from the campaign.

Dismissing the Ohio case, which involved an allegation of attempted bribery, with the explanation that he had made no direct charge against Gov. Haskell as regards that particular instance, President Roosevelt takes up the matter of the Prairie State Oil & Gas Company, and argues that Gov. Haskell's action in stopping legal proceedings begun by the attorney general of Oklahoma demonstrates conclusively that he was controlled by the great corporation to which the Oklahoma company was subsidiary.

Declares Haskell Unworthy.

After contrasting Mr. Bryan's defense of Gov. Haskell with Judge Taft's repudiation of Foraker in connection with the Hearst charges against the Ohio senator, the president proceeds to declare that Gov. Haskell's "utter unfitness for association with any man anxious to appeal to the American people on a moral issue, has been abundantly shown by other acts of his as governor of Oklahoma."

The president condemns Gov. Haskell's conduct in connection with various matters as disgraceful and scandalous, and calls special attention to what he describes as "prostituting to base purposes the state university."

Haskell Makes Reply.

Guthrie, Okla.—Gov. C. N. Haskell issued a statement in reply to President Roosevelt's letter to William J. Bryan, dealing with four specific charges against Mr. Haskell, namely, that he is subservient to Standard Oil, that he vetoed a child labor bill; that he dealt extensively in Creek Indian lands, and that he had allowed politics to dominate him in the removal of members of the faculty of the state university and the appointment of others to succeed him.

Gov. Haskell took up the four charges as dwelt upon by President Roosevelt in turn, dealing with each in a characteristic manner.

Foraker's Hot Reply.

Cincinnati.—Senator Foraker prepared a statement which was made public Friday, replying to the recent charges made by William R. Hearst and President Roosevelt. In addition he bitterly assails Hearst, Taft and the president, charging Taft with consorting with Standard Oil magnates himself and declaring that President Roosevelt's actions indicate a guilty conscience. In the opening paragraph Mr. Foraker declared that the president showed bias in accepting as true all the charges. He denied that he acted improperly in accepting employment from the Standard Oil Company, said that there was no secret about it and produced letters to prove that after the government began its attack upon the Standard Oil, he declined to accept a retainer from them. He charged that Mr. Hearst had other letters in addition to those which he gave out, and that these other letters, if made public at the same time, would have shown how harmless was his connection with the Standard people.

Hearst Hits Foraker.

Columbus, O.—Senator J. B. Foraker of Ohio was openly charged here by W. R. Hearst with being an agent of the Standard Oil Company. Mr. Hearst said that after the oil octopus had been driven from the Republican party by President Roosevelt the Democratic party had welcomed the Standard with open arms and adopted it.

Mr. Hearst read a series of letters from John D. Archbold, the Standard Oil man, to Senator Foraker. In these communications Archbold gave instructions to the senator in regard to what should be done in pending legislative matters, particularly as to bills affecting corporations, and in two of the letters referred to inclosures of certificates of deposit, one for $15,000 and another for $14,500.

Mr. Hearst also read affidavits from Monnett, connecting the name of Gov. Haskell of Oklahoma with the alleged effort to bribe him by Standard Oil men to drop his proceedings against the company.

Further Charges by Hearst.

St. Louis.—William Randolph Hearst went after Senator J. B. Foraker here stronger than in his Columbus speech.

Mr. Hearst first read a letter in which it was said that a certificate of deposit for $50,000 was inclosed. The letter purported to have been sent to Mr. Foraker and to have been signed by John D. Archbold.

Following this, Mr. Hearst read another letter said to have been signed by Mr. Archbold, in which the Standard Oil man suggested to Mr. Foraker action regarding a bill introduced in the United States senate by the late Senator Jones of Arkansas.

The letters are as follows:

26 Broadway, New York, Jan. 27, 1902.—Dear Senator: Responding to your favor of the 25th, it gives me pleasure to hand you herewith certificate of deposit for $50,000 in accordance with our understanding. Your letter states the conditions correctly and I trust the transaction will be successfully consummated.

J. D. ARCHBOLD.

J. B. Foraker, Washington, D. C.

Letter Regarding Legislation.

The second letter as read by Mr. Hearst was as follows:

26 Broadway, New York, Feb. 25, 1902.—My Dear Senator: I venture to write you a word re the bill introduced by Senator Jones of Arkansas, known as S866, intended to amend the act "to protect trade and commerce against unlawful restraints and monopolies, etc.," introduced by him December 4, ——.

It really seems as if this bill is unnecessarily severe and even vicious. Is it not much better to test the application of the Sherman act before resorting to a measure of this kind? I hope you will feel so about it and I will be greatly pleased to have a word from you on the subject. The bill is, I believe, still in committee.

J. D. ARCHBOLD.

J. B. Foraker, Washington, D. C.

At Columbus Mr. Hearst read letters showing that Mr. Foraker received checks from John D. Archbold for about $30,000. Mr. Foraker said he got the money, that he had worked for the Standard Oil Company, but that his labors were not in the nature of influencing legislation.

Comes Back Again at Haskell.

Not only did Mr. Hearst reply to Senator Foraker, but he devoted a portion of his speech to Gov. C. N. Haskell of Oklahoma, treasurer of the Democratic national committee, whom he again charged with having served the Standard Oil Company.

To the defense of Mr. Haskell that another man of the same surname was involved, Mr. Hearst replied with affidavits alleged to have been made by former Attorney General Monnett of Ohio and Assistant Attorney General Bennett of that state, in which the name C. N. Haskell distinctly appears.

Foraker Not Attorney of Record.

Columbus, O.—United States Senator J. B. Foraker was not an attorney of record in any of the Standard Oil cases tried in the Ohio courts, according to the Associated Press, which conducted an investigation.

The first cases were filed in the attorney general's office in 1892 and were carried along through various courts for more than 20 years. According to the records in the attorney general's office, the attorneys of record in 1899 and 1900, the dates of the cases against the Standard and its subsidiary companies, the attorneys who took part in the legal battles were M. R. Keith, S. C. T. Dodd and Joseph H. Choate of New York and Virgil P. Kline of Cleveland, O. In a number of the earlier cases only Keith and Kline were the attorneys of record, but later on, when the fight became the thickest, Choate and Dodd entered the case and their services were given to the company until after the case was carried to the highest courts.

Gen. DuPont Resigns.

New York.—Following many rumors on the subject which were afloat here and in Washington, Chairman Hitchcock of the Republican national committee Friday night announced that Gen. T. Coleman DuPont of Delaware, head of the bureau of campaign speakers of the national committee, had resigned as head of that bureau and also as a member of the executive committee of the national committee and that his resignation had been accepted.

Mr. DuPont's letter of resignation is as follows:

Hon. Frank H. Hitchcock, Chairman Republican National Committee, New York City.—My Dear Mr. Hitchcock: Recently I have noticed various criticisms of my being the director of the speakers' bureau and a member of the executive committee, on account of my relation to the E. I. DuPont de Nemours Powder Company, which is being sued by the government. The merits of that suit will be determined in the due course of judicial procedure. I have always been a loyal supporter of the Republican party, both in state and nation, and I am not willing to be in any wise the means of bringing criticism upon the party organization, however unfounded I may deem such criticism to be. I therefore respectfully tender my resignation as a member of the executive committee and as director of the speakers' bureau, fully appreciating the great courtesy which I have uniformly received at the hands of yourself and my other associates. Yours very truly, T. C. DUPONT.

From Sword to Plowshare.

Many of us make a great "to do" about too much armament, etc., and yet the truth of the matter is that we are literally beating our weapons of war into plowshares and other useful instruments to help the farmer, the builder and the housewife. The government always uses the best steel in making cannon, so that as soon as these weapons are out of date it can sell them to foundries. At the foundries the old cannon are broken up and remelted, after which they are made into plows, structural iron, roofing, household ware and a dozen other things of a peaceful nature.—Philadelphia Record

LET US NOT FORGET

REPUBLICAN USE OF BOODLE IN NATIONAL CAMPAIGN.

Present Party Leaders and Drillers Are of the Same Type as Those in Charge of Last Presidential Election.

For the time being Republican boodlers are remarkably still and inactive. The course of the campaign has not been marked by a single money scandal. We do not believe the Grand Old Party is any more angelic than it was in years past, but it is either more cautious in its methods or it has not recovered from its Parker scare and is afraid of the consequences of any more scandals of the kind which almost cost Cortelyou his reputation—in fact, would certainly have cost him that valuable asset if he had been a member of the minority party. Judge Alton B. Parker is one of the most responsible, high-spirited, conscientious and clean citizens of the United States. He is working like a Trojan for the cause of Democracy, and is the champion of a great principle, the principle of clean campaigns.

Judge Parker, it may be remembered, and it should be remembered—it is high time we were remembering a few things, this among others—positively, absolutely, undeniably, incontrovertibly "caught Cortelyou with the goods." He made direct charges against Cortelyou, based on the lavish collection of money by that Republican party manager and his adroit use of the sums thus collected. Let us burnish up our memories, and recall the fact that the charges against Cortelyou were proved to be true, but that was the end of them. The Republicans did not care to vitiate their party success and imperil the results of the campaign by acknowledging the truth had been told concerning their methods and the methods of Cortelyou.

Let us refresh those treacherous memories of ours. We forget too much. Let us remember that Thomas C. Platt took the witness stand and confessed that corporations had bought immunity from the Republicans. Let us remember that sworn testimony on the witness stand revealed the fact that insurance companies had taken money which belonged to their policy holders, and had given to the Republican party's funds many sums ranging from $10,000 to $50,000 at a time. In fact, when George Cortelyou roared, "Come through," they came through, early and often.

Next let us remember the revelation of the Harriman fund. We should not forget that it was shown that a Harriman railroad pipe drained into the Republican boodle barrel.

Disgusting! Outrageous! Un-American!

Remember, no matter what the personal character of Roosevelt may be, and it is excellent; no matter what the personal character of Taft may be, and its chief feature is a phenomenal amiability which causes him to smile on almost any playful prank on the part of his political "boys;" no matter what the personal habits and characters of the bigger Republican chiefs may be, the party leaders and drillers, the bosses of the Republican rank and file are the same old crew who shook down the insurance companies and flashed the order to Harriman to attend to the drain pipe.

Sharman Scintillation.

"I am a protectionist," said Mr. Sherman to the notification committee. At this statement no one will cavil; for it is not to be expected that a party owned so many years, body and soul, by the protected interests would nominate a free trader for vice-president. As soon expect the devil to sprinkle himself with holy water.—N. Y. Evening Post.

"My only political asset is the confidence the people have in my sincerity," said Mr. Bryan to the Chicago Jefferson club on September 4, 1906.—Omaha Bee.

REAL TARIFF REFORM.

The Entire American People Now "Want to Be Shown."

Mr. Bryan asks: "How will Mr. Taft explain to the average man the benefits of protection?" and adds: "He can easily convince a trust that it profits by the tariff, but what about the victim of the trust?"

On this entire tariff question the great American nation is now all "from Missouri, and must be shown." High tariffs were placed by the Republicans upon a large number of manufactured articles with two declared objects, first, to protect the American manufacturer, that is to say, to keep him from being undersold in the domestic markets by foreign manufacturers who use cheap labor or slave labor; second, to deprive the American manufacturer of the slightest shadow of an excuse for using cheap labor or slave labor, and to put him in a position to employ steadily high-class American workmen, and pay them wages which would enable them to live in comfort, feed and clothe their families, and send their children to school.

Profit sharing, not profit hogging, was the first fundamental idea of high tariff, and it was because the people of this country were assured solemnly they would share in the profits that they voted into power the party of the high tariff, or as the Republicans cleverly called it, with considerable effect before they were found out, "the protective tariff." As soon as high tariff made them secure, the beneficiaries began to loot the American people by charging artificial prices in the domestic markets, that is to say, prices not regulated by actual conditions of supply and demand, but by the undisputed nature of the vantage ground held by the manufacturers. At the same time they began to "regulate" wage scales in order to increase their profits still more, with the result that strikes, riots and other manifestations of great discontent make the history of protection read like a war record. The protected manufacturers protested that their employes were much better paid than people engaged in similar occupations in Europe, but omitted to state that by market manipulation, control of output and formation of trusts they had so regulated various great American industries that prices of living rose out of all proportion to wages, which both in skilled and unskilled labor showed a constant tendency to diminish.

It was the tendency of the wage to diminish which gave organized labor its strength. Many men who under ordinary circumstances would never have thought of joining any kind of society or lodge, formed or joined labor organizations, in order to secure for themselves and their families that real protection which political "protection" utterly failed to give. And in their course of conduct they were right; for the American home and the American school must be protected.

The whole aim of the Democratic party is to protect the American home and the American school by securing justice in taxation, and in order to secure justice in taxation there must be Democratic tariff reform.

Grave Causes for Suspicion.

Mr. Taft and Mr. Sheldon, treasurer of the Republican committee, assure the country that there will be the fullest publicity regarding campaign contributions. It is insisted by both that the New York law on the subject covers the case, and that it will be observed to the letter. We are informed further that even were there no law there would still be genuine publicity. We trust that these promises may be kept. But the country would feel [illegible] convention that nominated Mr. Taft had not rejected a plank demanding publicity by an overwhelming vote. On the other hand, the Democratic convention declared for a law compelling publicity, and making it a criminal offense for any corporation to contribute to party funds. Another bad sign is that Mr. Sheldon, himself a trust man, was the nominee of William Nelson Cromwell, one of the greatest trust lawyers in the country.

G. G. Hughes,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
BURLINGTON, KY.
Will practice in all the courts. Prompt attention given to all business entrusted to me.

N. E. Riddell,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.
Prompt Attention given to Collections Will practice in all the courts.

S. Gaines,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.
Will practice in all the courts, and prompt attention given collections. Office—Over D house's store.

D. E. Castleman,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.
Will practice in the Courts of Boone Kenton, Grant and Gallatin. Collections pushed energetically.

J. C. CLORE, W. W. DICKERSON
E. T. CLAYTON.
Clore, Dickerson & Clayton,
ATTORNEYS-at-LAW
Will practice in the State and U. S. Courts of Northern Ky., and Southwestern Ohio. Cincinnati Office: N. E. Cor 6th & Vine; Ph[illegible]
Mr. Dickerson will spend a portion of his time at the Williamstown office.

BOONE CO. DEPOSIT BANK
(Incorporated 1886.)
CAPITAL, ... $30,000
Surplus and undivided profits $7,000
—)o(—
Our facilities enable us to receive on favorable terms accounts of individuals and corporations. Collections promptly remitted for at Lowest Rates.

ERLANGER DEPOSIT BANK.
INCORPORATED 1895.)
ERLANGER, - - KENTUCKY
Capital Stock paid in..... $50,000
Surplus,.. ..... $8,000
Careful attention given collections, and remittances promptly made. Deposit accounts solicited.

Dr. J. L. Adams,
DENTIST,
208 F. & T. Bank Building,
COVINGTON, - KY.
—will be in office—
AT ERLANGER EVERY THURSDAY.

W. E. VEST,
Real Estate Agent.
Farms Bought, Sold or Exchanged. Money to Loan on Real Estate. Notes bought, sold & Negotiated. All communications addressed to W. E. VEST, Walton, Ky.

CHAS. GARNETT,
AUCTIONEER.
Will be in Burlington every court day. Fees for selling stock reasonable. Public Sales given special attention.

INSURE AT HOME
The Farmers' Mutual Fire
INSURANCE COMPANY,
OF BOONE COUNTY,
Is now completely organized and receiving applications for insurance.
Its RATES are LOWER
Than those of any other Company and gives the farmers of Boone Co.
HITHERTO UNKNOWN ADVANTAGE
in keeping their property insured.
Average cost of insurance on $1,000 for a period of five years is $9 45, less than one per cent per $1,000
Every Farmer in the County
should take a policy at once.
Edgar Cropper, Pres., Burlington, Ky.
Noah Tanner, V Pres., Gunpowder, Ky.
F. A. Utz, Treas., Florence, Ky.
Malchus Souther, Secy.,
R. F. D.—1, Ludlow, Ky.
R B Huey, Agent, Burlington, Ky.
J E. Smith, Assessor, Burlington, Ky.
Executive Board—Leonard Gaines, J. W. Conner, Solon Early.

F. W. Kassebaum & Son,
GRANITE & MARBLE
MONUMENTS,
Burial Vaults and Cemetery Work of all Kinds.
Building Stone, Flagging, Settees and Vases.
Office and Warerooms:
70 and 72 Main Street,
AURORA, IND.
[illegible] POPE Agent, [illegible]

C. L. GRIFFITH,
DEALER IN REAL ESTATE
and negotiable Notes,
WALTON, KY.
If you want to buy or sell Town Property or Farms, write me.
Write for printed list.

WALTON DEPARTMENT.

D. B. WALLACE, Manager.

Hand your news items to Mr. D. B. Wallace at the Walton Equitable Bank and Trust Co.'s building. He is also authorized to receive subscriptions and collect other accounts.

B. B. Hume was the guest of B. B. Allphin, Sunday.

Mr. William S. Menefee was the guest of his uncle, Dr. C. G. Menefee, Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Seehrest, of Covington, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elisha Graham, of Main street.

Mr. Albert Foster, of the firm of A. E. Foster & Co., Real Estate Agents, was in Walton on business, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Shinkle and little son, Dalham, of Covington, are guests of Mrs. Alice Boothe, of South Walton, this week.

Mrs. Clifford Hight and little daughter, Doris Edward, of California, O., are the guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Grubbs, of High street.

Mrs. Collier, Miss Mattie Finn, Miss Nellie Hayden and sister, Miss Kathryn, all of Covington, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Griffith, of South Walton, Sunday.

Miss Lula Jones, who has been spending the last two weeks with her aunt, Mrs. Sallie Percival, of Independence pike, has returned home and reports a delightful visit.

John L. Vest sold his residence in North Walton to Mrs. T. J. Hughes, of Beaver Lick, last week. Mrs. Hughes will take possession immediately as she wishes to put her children in school here.

News was received here Monday morning of the death of John F. Green, of Big Bone. Mr. Green was well known through this part of the country, and will be missed greatly by his many friends.

Messrs. H. C. Menefee, Prof. H. C. Morgan and V. D. Hoider, were highly entertained, Sunday afternoon, at the residence of C. L. Griffith, of South Walton, by three young ladies of Covington, viz: Misses Mattie Finn, Nell Hayden, and sister Kathryn. Every one present enjoyed the afternoon, and long for the time when another such gathering will take place.

The game of base ball between Crittenden and Walton resulted in a score of 9 to 4 in favor of Walton. The features of the game were the pitching by Coffman for Walton, and a great running catch of Williams' fly by Dyas, of the Waltons. Also the sensational fielding by Morgan, who covered the second sack for the Walton boys. Next Saturday afternoon the Bracht Imperials and the Walton Stars will cross bats at Walton ball park. Come out ye fans and give the boys your support.

Hundreds of bosoms of the old Civil War heroes were filled with emotion when the Walton Military Band stepped upon the balcony of the Eilis House, in Worthville, Saturday, September 26th, and played that old familiar war song, "Dixie." Amid bursts of applause our boys lead the line of March to the camping grounds near Worthville, where speaking by eminent orators and a grand spread was enjoyed by all present. The Walton Military Baud is composed of a class of young men that is a credit to any occasion.

A serious cutting scrape occurred just north of here, Friday night, in which James Carr, of Cincinnati, was stabbed several times. He died at the City Hospital, Sunday morning at 6 o'clock. Charles Cramer and Tona Bradford, of Covington, were so seriously stabbed that no hope is entertained for their recovery. Emil Cramer and Charles Miller, of Cincinnati, were dismissed from the Hospital Sunday, their wounds not being serious. The above men were hoboing their way to Louisville, and state that a crazy man entered the car near Walton and commenced cutting with a large dirk knife. They state that there was no argument of any kind. The man who did the cutting left the train near Walton, and no trace of him has as yet been found.

It took but a few hours to put up the iron bridge at Bott's gulch after the material arrived.

Geo. Walton and other contractors on the Waterloo and Rabbit Hash Turnpike are making the dirt fly, giving everybody work who wants it.

The RECORDER is under obligations to the Falmouth Fair for a complimentary ticket to its exhibition which begins today. The Falmouth fair is one of the best country fairs in Kentucky.

The metal part of the piers for the Plattsburg bridge, were hauled thru town yesterday. They are immense tubes which will be filled with concrete, making, it is said the best pier it is possible to build.

Manager Kirkpatrick is arranging to give the fans a good game of base ball next Monday afternoon, (county court.) This will be the last court day game of the season, and he wants to give the patrons of the game a good contest on that occasion. Come out and see the fun.

John Sam Mason sends the following to the RECORDER, and asks, "how is this for a widow and a dry year?" the widow referred to being Mrs. Annie Hager, of East Bend. She threshed 550 bushels of wheat, cut 35 tons clover hay off of 35 acres of land, threshed 54 bushels No. 1 clover seed off the 35 acres, and expects to have 2,500 bushels of corn.

A Paying Investment.

Mr. John White, of 38 Highland Ave., Houlton, Maine, says: "Have been troubled with a cough every winter and spring. Last winter I tried many advertised remedies, but the cough continued until I bought a 50c bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery; before that was half gone, the cough was all gone. This winter the same happy result has followed; a few doses once more banished the annual cough. I am now convinced that Dr. King's New Discovery is the best cough and lung remedies." Guaranteed as Bentler's Drug Store, Erlanger. 50c and $1.00.

Howard Cleek passed through here Friday enroute to Cincinnati on business.

Mr. H. L. Miller, of Big Bone, spent the latter part of the week here on business.

K. D. Adams, of Covington, was here Friday, the guest of his mother, Mrs. S. M. Adams.

Mr. S. W. Beverly, agent for the L. & N. R. R. Company, spent Thursday in Cincinnati on business.

Mrs. Howard Smith and little son, Allen, were guests of Mrs. A. W. Dohrman, of Covington, Friday.

Mrs. Fleming and daughter, Leola, of Independence, Kenton county, spent Wednesday here on business.

B. B. Aliphin has sold his residence in North Walton to Samuel Hicks, who will take possession immediately.

Miss Margaret Franks, of South Walton, is the guest this week of her sister, Mrs. T. F. Blackwell, of Covington.

Miss Sheba Roberts, of Burlington, is spending the week here, the guest of her cousin, Miss Della Roberts, of Main street.

Miss Katie Bolington has been employed by the Consolidated Telephone Company as assistant operator for Walton exchange.

David Hailey, who is engaged in the picture business in Owenton, returned home last week, to spend a few days with his family.

Mrs. Melia Reib, of Covington, spent the day here Saturday. Mrs. Reib was on her way to Landing, to visit her cousin, Lutie Miller.

Mrs. Joseph Wight and son, of this place, are making an extended visit to relatives at Elizabethtown, and expect to return home the latter part of this week.

William Brittenhelm, of the firm of Brittenhelm Bros., of this place, is anticipating a visit to Atlantic City, and intends to leave the latter part of this week.

R. D. Stamler, who is employed by the Western Union Telegraph Company, in Cincinnati, is here on his vacation, the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Stamler.

The Philomathean Society, of Walton High School, held its regular meeting Friday, Sept. 25th. This was one of the most successful meetings the society has ever held, twenty new members joining.

Miss Nina McKean, who has been spending the summer here with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Theo. F. Chambers, of High street, has returned to Cincinnati to attend school this winter. Miss McKean has a host of friends here, and we all regret to see her leave.

Mr. K. Watson Dyas, son of the late C Y. Dyas, formerly city attorney of this place, is here spending his vacation with his aunt, Mrs. John Watson, of High street. Mr. Dyas is employed by the Indian Refining Company in Cincinnati, and is a favorite among the officials of that company.

Mr. Charles W. Rensier, one of our most prominent young men, received a letter from Mr. Sleet Yarnell, of Ord, Nebraska, in which Mr. Yarnell states he and his family are getting along nicely, and he has purchased a barber shop in that city, and will locate there permanently. Mr. Yarnell is a Boone county boy and has the hearty wishes of his many friends here for a successful future.

C. Spencer Chambers, Superintendent of Penmanship in the Covington public schools, has arranged to take an advanced course in penmanship under Mr. Francis B. Courtney, champion penman of the world. Mr. Chambers has been anticipating this step for some months, but has been so busy arranging matters connected with his schools, that no opportunity has presented itself. We wish Mr. Chambers a successful future.

How to Get Strong.

P. J. Daly, of 1247 W. Congress St., Chicago, tells of a way to become strong; He says: "My mother, who is old and was very feeble, is deriving so much benefit from Electric Bitters that I feel it's my duty to tell those who need a tonic and strengthening medicine about it. In my mother's case a marked gain in flesh has resulted, insomnia has been overcome, and she is steadily growing stronger." Electric Bitters quickly remedy stomach, liver and Kidney complaints. Sold under guarantee at Bentler's Drug Store, Erlanger. 50c.

I hereby call the members of the Democratic county committee to meet in Burlington at 1 p. m., next Monday, as there is important business to attend to. I desire all the candidates to meet me in Burlington on Monday and Tuesday to pay in entrance fees in the primary election. No money will be received from any candidate who does not accompany it with the affidavits required by the order calling the primary election.

W. W. GRIMSLEY, Chairman.

They Take The Kinks Out.

"I have used Dr. King's New Life Pills for many years, with increasing satisfaction. They take the kinks out of stomach, liver and bowels, without fuss or friction," says N. H. Brown, of Pittsfield, Vt. Guaranteed satisfactory at Bentler's Drug Store, Erlanger. 25c.

A horse belonging to Wesley Underhill, who lives two and one-half miles south of Burlington, walked on to the top of a cistern, Monday, and it gave way, droping the animal into the cistern, in which it was. There were about two feet of water. It took considerable work to extricate the horse.

Lost—Between the farm of Doll Allen and Aurora Ferry, a blue steel gray coat, with some small blue running stripes, size 39. Finder will please leave at Doll Allen's, Petersburg, and get reward.

LOST—Between Burlington and Petersburg via Woolper, neck tie and pin set with pearls. Reward to R. W. Clark's jewelry store, Burlington.

LOOK!-EVERYBODY!-LOOK!!

DEMOCRATIC

BARBECUE

There will be a big

DEMOCRATIC BARBECUE

—AT THE—

Florence Fair Grounds,

Saturday, Oct. 17,

SPEAKERS:

HON. CHAMP CLARK,

of Missouri.

HON. OLLIE M. JAMES,

of Kentucky.

Excepting Mr. Bryan, Messrs. Clark and James are two of the greatest campaign orators in the Democratic party.

This barbecue is destined to be the greatest political gathering in Northern Kentucky, in 1908, and the Fair Grounds at Florence is an ideal place for such a meeting.

Nothing will be omitted that is calculated to contribute to the comfort of the thousands who will attend.

GOOD MUSIC!

SPLENDID SPEECHES!!

PLENTY TO EAT!!!

LOCAL HAPPENINGS-

Candidates a hustlin'.

Breaking land for wheat is in order.

The change in the weather ought to bring relief for those who suffer of hay fever.

Last week those with time to rest hunted the shade, but this week they hunt the sunshine.

Stock is being rushed to market because of the scarcity of water and the short supply of food.

The wind jerked a large limb off of one of the maple trees in the court house yard, Sunday night.

It will be only a few days until the dust will be annoying again unless there is another shower of rain.

It was nothing uncommon, last Monday, to see men going about wearing overcoats and straw hats.

Stop in and examine Clark's stock of watches, clocks, jewelry and spectacles when in Burlington. tf.

For Sale—Barred Plymouth Rock cockerels; 75 cents and $1. Address Mrs. B. C. Graddy, Bullittsville. 4t

Some of the early risers report seeing frost Tuesday morning. Why not? They have had snow in Kansas.

John S. Mason, of Big Bone, claims to have the tallest stalk of corn in the county. It measures 13½ feet to the tassel, and had one ear 12 inches long.

Now remember that a big democratic barbecue will be pulled off at Florence fair grounds on Saturday, October 17th. That will be Democrat day in this part of Kentucky.

Reward—$50 reward for the arrest and conviction of person or persons that distributed the poison about my farm.

WM. A. MURRAY,
Devon, Ky.

Next Monday is county court day, but the crowd is not likely to be as large as it was on the first Monday in September, there not being so many attractions.

Those who have much stock to drive to water, have not much time for anyother work. The experience this year ought to result in the construction of many ponds and cisterns.

The light rain that fell last Sunday night did not lay by the fall in the temperature, but cleared up the atmosphere nicely, but that does not get any grass for fall pastures. That requires plenty of rain and warm weather.

There was a tremendous fall in the temperature during Sunday night, and Monday morning overcoats were very popular wearing apparel, while fires felt very comfortable. Just enough rain fell during the night to lay the dust, which was some relief.

Peoples Deposit Bank,

BURLINGTON, KY.

YOUR MONEY DEPOSITED WITH THIS BANK IS AS SAFE AS WITH ANY BANK IN BOONE COUNTY.

3 PER CENT. INTEREST PAID ON SIX MONTHS TIME DEPOSITS.

We Make no Charge for Cashing Checks on other Banks

And afford you all other accommodations within range of Sound Banking in order to make dealings with us pleasant.

SAFE DEPOSIT BOXES FOR RENT. CALL AND SEE US.

STATEMENT OF THE

Equitable Bank & Trust Co.

WALTON, KY.

Organized for Business Sept. 9th, 1907.

DEPOSITS:

Opening Day Sept. 9th, 1907	$5,383.71
Dec. 31st, 1907, when statement was made to Secretary of State	37,157.67
June 30th, 1908, when statement was made to Secretary of State	56,269.38
July 1st, 1908, one day later	$61,959.90

LOANS AND DISCOUNTS:

July 1st, 1908	$ 76,589.35
Available Cash July 1st, 1908	30,716.80
Resources July 1st, 1908	$115,220.35

Careful, prudent business principles governs the bank. Your business solicited. Interest paid on time deposits. Mail communications given especial attention.

CHAS. L. GRIFFITH, President. D. B. WALLACE, Cashier.

LEW THORN, Pharmacist.

A. G. G. RICHARDSON, Veterinary Surgeon.

THORN & RICHARDSON,

DRUGGISTS.

We sell Kreso Dip for Lice and Mites on horses, cattle, sheep, hogs and chickens. Headquarters for House Paints, Floor Paints, Roofing Paints, Wagon and Carriage Paints, Carter's Lead and Pure Linseed Oil.

Medicines, Stationery and Sundries in large supply. All new and fresh. Prices are right.

Main Street, - - RISING SUN, INDIANA.

YOU NEED A BUGGY

AND I HAVE IT FOR YOU.

CAN SAVE YOU MONEY.

New Buggies, Runabouts

and Harness for Sale or Trade.

Workmanship the Best, and Material Guaranteed.

When in Burlington call and See me.

B. B. HUME, - Burlington, Ky.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

By virtue of Execution No 8597 directed to me, which issued from the Clerk's Office of the Boone Circuit Court, in favor of the National Bank of Rising Sun, Ind., against J. M. Baker and W. L. H. Baker, I or one of my deputies will, on Monday, the 5th day of October, 1908, between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 2 o'clock p. m., at the Court House door in Burlington, Boone county, Kentucky, expose to public sale, to the highest bidder, the following property, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy Plaintiff's debt, interest and cost to-wit. The undivided one 1-5 interest jointly owned by the said J. M. Baker and W. L. H. Baker in and to the following described tracts and parcels of land each and all of them lying and being in Boone county, Ky. the first of which is described as follows:—Bounded on the North by the lands of M. E. Hance and Big Bone creek; on the East by the lands of the Murphy heirs and M. E. Hance; on the West and South by the lands of M. E. Hance, containing one hundred (116) and sixteen acres.

The second tract is bounded thus:—On the North by the lands of George Holsclaw; on the East by the lands of James Huffman; on the West by the lands of James Taylor and Big Bone creek, and on the South by the lands of James Turner, containing thirty (30) acres.

The third tract is bounded as follows:—Situated in the village of Big Bone, Boone County, Ky., on the north side of the Beaver and Big Bone Turnpike, the said turnpike being the South boundary thereof, and bounded on the East, West and North by the lands of J. D. Moore and the McLaughlin heirs, containing one acre or about that. Each of said Defendants (J. M. Baker and W. L. H. Baker) own an undivided 1-10 part of said above described lands, they owning jointly the undivided one fifth of the whole. levied upon as the property of J. M. and W. L. H. Baker.

Terms—Sale will be made on a credit of three months, bonds with approved security required, bearing interest at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum, from day of sale and having the force and effect of a judgment. Amount to be made by sale, $1 041 00

M. F. WINGATE,
Sheriff of Boone County, Ky.
By W. D. Cropper, D. S.

Farm for Sale.

On Big Bone and Hamilton turnpike, 7 acres good, fertile land, a new 4-room, up-to-date house with front and side veranda, all necessary out buildings, a nice young orchard of about 75 fruit trees consisting of apples, peaches, pears and cherries; also a splendid grape arbor. Will sell reasonable or trade for farm. For further particulars apply to J. E. MARKSBERY, Hamilton, Ky

Take the Recorder.

R. O. HUGHES,

—SURVEYOR,—

RICHWOOD, - KY.

Am prepared to do, and will answer all calls for surveying in Boone and adjoining counties Over 20 years experience as a practical surveyor

Administratrors Notice.

All persons indebted to the estate of Susan Ann Jarrell, decd., must come forward and settle, and all those having claims against said estate must present them to the undersigned proven according to law.

LYSTRA SMITH Admr.

DR. L. H. CRISLER,

VETERINARY SURGEON.

Residence 1552 Scott St,

COVINGTON, - - KENTUCKY.

Phone, South 1348.

Administratrix's Notice.

All persons indebted to the estate of T. L. Utz, deceased, will come forward and settle at once, and those having claims against said estate will present them to the undersigned properly proven.

CARRIE P. UTZ, Adm'x.,
with will annexed.

Triple-Plated Knives and Forks

$2.25 Per Set

Regular price $3.50. Here is your opportunity to buy silver-plated knives and forks at the price of good quality of steel ones. If you can't use them now you will have a wedding present to buy this fall; it will pay you to buy them and lay them away. Only a limited quantity.

Motch,

The Jeweler,
533 MADISON,
Covington, Ky.

Administrators Notice.

All persons indebted to the estate of N. B. Stephens, deceased must come forward and settle, and all those having claims against said estate must present them to the undersigned, proven according to law. E. STEPHENS, Exr, R. R. 1. Florence, Ky.

"Always Reliable."

W. N. HIND & CO.

Carpets, Furniture, Stoves,

310-12 W. Fifth Street,

Cincinnati, - Ohio.

TAX-PAYERS NOTICE.

The Taxpayers of Boone County are hereby notified that I or my Deputy will be at the places and on the dates named below to collect 1908 taxes:

Florence, July 13th and October 12th.
Verona, July 14th and October 13th.
Walton, July 15th and October 14th.
Petersburg, July 16th and October 15.
Bellevue, July 17th and October 16th.
Beaver, July 20th and October 19th.
Big Bone, July 21st and October 20th.
Union, July 22d and October 21st.
Rabbit Hash, July 24th and Oct. 8th.
Constance, July 27th and Oct 9th.
Bullittsville, July 28th and Oct. 22d.
Hebron, October 23rd.
Gunpowder, October 26th.
Richwood, October 27th.

RATES—State, 50 cents; County, 15c on the $100, six per cent penalty added December 1st on all unpaid taxes.

Pay your Poll-tax before December 1st and you will not be put on the delinquent list. Interest and cost of collecting will be added on all delinquent taxes

M. F. WINGATE,
Sheriff Boone County.

Dr. L. E. ROUSE,

DENTIST,

Will be at Burlington on Monday of each week; Union on Tuesday, balance of time at my office in Masonic Building. LUDLOW, KY.

Rogers Bros.

General Merchants,

BELLEVUE, KY.

Keep on hand a General Stock of MERCHANDISE.

Coal Kept in the Yard.

Country Produce taken in Trade.

BOONE HIGH SCHOOL

Do your High School work at home where teachers will take especial interest in you. This School offers the regular four years High School and the eight years Common School Courses.

TUITION:

High School Course...$40.00
Common School Course, $25.00
Per Session.

Two well qualified teachers besides the Superintendent.

School Opens Sept. 14th.

For Particulars write to

EDGAR C. RILEY, Supt.,
BURLINGTON, KY.

J. Bullock & Son,

PRACTICAL TAILORS,

HEBRON, - KENTUCKY.

Our Fall and Winter samples are ready for inspection and we invite you to call and see them and learn the prices.

All work guaranteed and done under my own supervision.

J. Bullock & Son,

HEBRON, KY.

H. C. BLACK,

VETERINARY SURGEON,

WALTON, KENTUCKY.

Treats all diseases pertaining to animals Prompt attention given to all calls. Telephone connections.

Notice is hereby given that all persons are forbidden to treepass upon my lands in any manner whatever, unless by my permission. The law against trespass will be rigidly enforced by me.

O. F. GLACKEN.

RIDGEVIEW STOCK FARM

OWNED AND BREEDER BY

Aberdeen-Angus Cattle and Duroc Jersey Swine.

Stock For Sale. Address or call W. W. COCHRAN, Mgr. - - Bethel, Ohio. (The Chambers Farm.)

POSTED.

Notice is hereby given that my property known as Laughery Island is posted against all kinds of trespass.

JOHN SMITH, Grant, Ky.

It will pay you to advertise your Business in this Paper. Try it.

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER.

ESTABLISHED 1875.
Subscription $1.50 year.
Try it One Year.

VOL XXXIII. BURLINGTON, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 7, 1908. NO. 51

County News Items

Interesting Facts Gathered During the Week by Our Regular Correspondents.

RABBIT HASH.

Mrs. Emma Ward is sick.

Dr. Hopkins and wife spent Monday in Cincinnati.

Chas. Craig, jr., who has been quite sick, is better.

The dance at Sid Stephens' was well attended Saturday night.

Mrs. Oscie Kelly spent several days visiting her sister near Aurora, Ind., last week.

Mrs. Martena Craig has gone to a Cincinnati hospital for treatment for throat trouble.

Mrs. Fannie Walton has returned after spending several months with relatives in Missouri.

Rev. Bradley filled his first appointment at the East Bend M. E. church, last Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Ines Ryle, who has spent the summer with relatives here, returned to her home in Kansas City, last week.

Miss Gladys Ryle may have to close her school at East Bend for a few days because of a badly sprained knee.

Mrs. J. H. Walton and sister, Gladys Ryle, spent Saturday shopping in Cincinnati. They witnessed the police parade.

Miss Harriet VanNess has returned after spending the summer with her sister Mrs. Bessie Gaut, of Martinsville, Illinois.

Craig & Hopkins are rushing their pike making. They have rock for 5-12 of a mile already hauled, and some of it is broken.

In a letter recently received from Mrs. Morris Rice, of Brazil, N. D., she states that they have had a fine season for crops and her husband raised 1,000 bushels of wheat. They will not come home for the winter.

o o o

GRANT.

Mrs. James Setters is sick.

Mrs. Fred Richards is very ill.

Mrs. Sebe Berkshire is quite ill again.

Four frosts and no rain—all signs fall in dry weather.

The recent heavy frosts have closed the cannery tight as a jug.

Duke Rice and wife, of Lawrenceburg, have moved to Rising Sun.

Nick Bender the basketmaker left here Sunday for parts unknown.

Chas. Clore and wife are spending several weeks with relatives in Cincinnati.

Chas' Dolph took an excursion from here to Split Rock on his launch Sunday.

Jeffries Bros. have finished plastering Flick's new house and left here Saturday.

Earl Leek and wife, of Woolper, were visiting the latter's parents at McVille, Sunday.

Mrs. Jesse Louden and children of Pikeville, were Sunday guests of Joe West and family.

A crowd of the local base ball fans witnessed the Boone—Petersburg ball game Saturday.

There is talk of some of the boys having a ball on the Lizzie Bay during her forced stay here.

Ray Cook, Pink Smith and Israel Flick attended the Aurora—Lawrenceburg ball game Sunday.

Work on the Belleview, Waterloo and Rabbit Hash turnpike is progressing rapidly this ideal weather.

The crop of tramps along the Ohio this fall is larger than ever before, caused by lack of work in the cities.

Chas. Dolph took a crowd of Odd-Fellows from here to Petersburg, Friday, to attend the funeral of Richard McWethy.

Your reporter visited the Rising Sun cannery, one day last week. It was running in full blast and is an up-to-date plant.

The Lizzie Bay has been aground at the landing here since last Tuesday. A rise in the river will move her and nothing else.

The Burlington Baptist church, which recently had a protracted meeting, had their baptizing at the river here last Wednesday.

John Maurer took the Swan on her trip to Aurora, Saturday. Captain Aikin was off attending the funeral of his aunt, Mrs. James Williamson.

Only once before in the memory of man was the Ohio river as low as it is at present. Should it fall one foot more river craft of all kinds would have to tie up.

A burglar tried to enter Len Stewart's house at McVille, Saturday night about 12 o'clock. He was scared away by Len's wife before he had gained an entrance.

Tom Rice and wife, Kirb Clore and wife, Eph Clore and wife, Jas. Smith, wife and son and Caddie Maurer and family, were guests of John Maurer and wife at Joseph Maurer's, last Sunday.

The citizens of McVille have rigged up a contrivance for getting water from the river without walking after it. It consists of a wire which runs from the top of the bank out into the river, a bucket on a pulley, a long string and a windless and their waterworks are complete.

"Old Buck," Dr. Williamson's buggy horse that has served him so faithfully for the past 15 years, is down and out. He got water foundered several weeks ago and now his hoofs are coming off. "Old Buck" was one of the best and smartest horses in this neck of the woods, and

LIMABURG.

J. W. Quigley and wife visited his sister and family, of Hebron, Sunday.

Lewis Clore, of Waterloo, spent Thursday night with C. E. Beemon and family.

Mrs. O. E. Aylor was the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Howard Kelly, last Friday.

Mrs. Albert Beemon, who was taken suddenly ill, last Thursday has improved.

Ed Tanner and family, of Tennare visiting his father, Mr. Ephriam Tanner. Their little child is very sick.

C. L. Tanner and wife, of near Grange Hall, spent Saturday with his parents near Hopeful, and Sunday with her parents, C. E. Beemon.

Misses Hazel Tompson, of Florence, and Essie Beemon, and Messrs. Carl and Ray Craven, spent Saturday night and Sunday with Huey Aylor, of Hebron.

W. L. Kirkpatrick and family, Will Craven and James Brown, Misses Ettie Beemon, Jessie Finks and Laura Aylor, were entertained by James Kelly and family, Sunday.

o o o

RICHWOOD.

Candidates are at the i pole.

Mrs. John Ransler is improving.

Corn cutting and seeding are now in order.

Our blacksmiths have been very busy the past month.

A train of cars killed a yearling calf belonging to Ben Carpenter.

Our ball team closed a very successful season, only losing one game.

Major Conner and family were guests of Thos. Rice, Wednesday last.

The days of pumpkin pies are at hand but the pies are not always on hand.

The entire tobacco crop was harvested in good condition and only one crop ground burned.

Bery Northcutt and family were Sunday guests at Gaines Robinson's.

James Carpenter, formerly of this place, is now stable boss for the Standard Hay & Grain Co. in Cincinnati.

M. Grubbs, assistant claim agent for the Q. & C., is kept busy adjusing fire claims.

Wiley Grubbs spent the past week with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Grubbs, and uncle, M. L. Tanner and wife, of Union.

Howard, the first born of Mr. and Mrs Price Conner, departed this life last Wednesday. Services were held at Bank Lick church, and interment at Independence cemetery, Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Conner have the sympathy of the entire community.

o o o

BELLEVIEW.

Dry with heavy frosts.

Elbert Clore has a rubber-tire buggy.

E. E. Kelly made a business trip to Burlington, last Saturday.

Mrs. Maud Riley and son, of Indiana, are visiting relatives here.

E. L. Grant and wife were guests of Miss Julia Dinsmore, Sunday.

Forest Brown, of Owen county, is here in the interest of the new bank.

The Lizzie Bay and Kentucky were aground here several days last week.

Miss Minnie Deck, of Cincinnati, was down a few days this week on a business trip.

Dr. Hopkins and wife, of Rabbit Hash, were guests of W S. Huey and wife, last Sunday.

Many farmers are sowing their corn ground in rye this fall to hog-down and improve their land.

Charlie Kelly and family, of Waterloo, visited Ezra Aylor and wife, near Petersburg, Sunday.

Mrs. Lou Kelly and children, of near Cochran, Ind., were visiting her parents here several days last week.

The advertisement in behalf of Gilly Weisickle, which appeared in the RECORDER a few months since, is about to materalize.

Misses Lucy and Amie Botts moved their household goods to Petersburg, last Saturday, where they will make their future home.

W. J. Rice passed his 61st mile stone through the journey of life on 30th ult.; James Rogers will reach his 61st on the 8th inst., and the writer will be of that age on the 14th inst. Boys, can we say that we have done more good than harm?

Where Bullets Flew.

Mrs. Ada L. Croom, the widely known proprietor of the Croom Hotel, Vaughn, Miss., says: "For several months I suffered with a severe cough, and consumption seemed to have its grip on me, when a friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery. I began taking it, and three bottles affected a complete cure." The fame of this life saving cough and cold remedy, and lung and throat healer is world wide. Sold at Bentler's drug store, Erlanger. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Lost—Between Thomas F. Grant's and Bullittsburg church, last Sunday night, pair gold eye glasses. Finder will please return to Mrs. W. P. Cropper.

For sale—Top spring wagon, pole and shafts. Will sell cheap or trade.

McVILLE.

S. B. Scott is building a barn.

Mrs. Lucy Aiken has returned from a visit to Lexington.

Very little wheat will be sown in this neighborhood this fall.

Mrs. Ida Ryle, who has been sick for some time, is improving.

Capt. Mart Staley was a visitor in our town, last Friday, looking politically bad.

J. C. Kelly and wife, of Rabbit Hash, were guests of Mrs. Jane Sutton, last Sunday.

Several from here attended the funeral of R. A. McWethy, at Petersburg, last Friday.

The river is so low it is almost impossible to receive or ship freight to and from this place.

Mrs. Susan Williamson died at her home in McVille, Friday morning, October 2d, at 7 o'clock. It is with sorrow that we have to chronicle the death of this good and noble woman. Susan Aiken was born near Belleview, November 20th, 1835, and was married to James H. Williamson, April 3d, 1857, who preceded her to the grave, May 1st, 1907; she joined the Baptist church in 1855, and ever since has lived a true christian life. Her funeral was preached last Saturday morning by Rev. Aille Stith at 10 o'clock and her remains were laid to rest beside those of her husband in the Belleview cemetery. She was a person that had one of the best memories of any one we ever met. She could remember very distinctly dates and incidents for years back as if it was only a few days ago. She leaves three sons, one daughter, seven grand-children and one brother to mourn her death. To the afflicted children we offer our consolation and though sad to know that mother is gone, they can console themselves that she has only left this world of sorrow and trouble to a happier one above. She leaves a large circle of relatives and friends to mourn her death. Every one will greatly miss Aunt Susan, as she was familiarly called, for, truly, she was a good woman.

Card of Thanks—We hereby thank our neighbors and friends for the kindness extended us in our affliction also to Rev. Stith for his consoling words.

The Children.

o o o

IDLEWILD.

Mrs. James Riley, of Ludlow, is visiting at Geo. Kreylichs'.

Thos. Delph visited his brother, Allen, at Petersburg, Saturday night and Sunday.

Samuel Barnes and wife, of Bullittsville, were Sunday guests of Henry Winter, of Ft. Hill, Ohio.

Ernest Brown and wife spent Sunday with father and mother, James Brown and wife at this place.

Mrs. Oscar Kipping, of Carrollton, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Fanny Kirtley, at Mrs. A. L. Gaines'.

Lawson Brown will move in November from T. G. Willis' farm to B. E. Aylor's farm on Woolper.

For sale—A two sow and five pigs two weeks old. Inquire of Jas. Feeley at the toll-gate above Idlewild.

Miss Julia Louden, of Scrapville, who was visiting her sister, Mrs. Omer McGuire, here, returned home Sunday.

Mrs. Leomer Louden, of near Botts road, is spending the week with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Omer McGuire, of this place.

R. C. Gaines is hauling saw logs. Pink Rice never felt prouder when driving four horses than Mr. Gaines appears to be.

Mrs. R. A. Brady, of Middle creek, Mrs. Legrand Gaines and Miss Hattie Kirtley were guests of Mrs. Vess Gaines, last Thursday.

Luther Scothorn was taken suddenly sick Thursday morning, and telephoned his father to come and take charge of his store.

Chas. Vest, of Battle Creek, Mich., formerly of Lawrenceburg, Indiana, nephew of Fred Phalzgraf, of this place, is visiting relatives here.

Luther Scothorn, the jovial and prosperous merchant, of this place, and wife spent Sunday with Mrs. Scothorn's parents at Taylorsport.

Kreitzer has taken two droves of hogs, sheep and cattle from this neighborhood the past week, and will have the third ready to start soon.

The news of the sudden death of R. A. McWethy, of Petersburg, was a great shock to the people here. The deceased has a host of friends here.

D. B. Dobbins, of Richwood, candidate for County Court Clerk, passed through here, last Thursday. Candidates are keeping the roads warm.

Before ripping us up the back about the correctness of items stop and think a little. Our items are written on Saturday previous to date of publication and are what has taken place before they are written.

o o o

GUNPOWDER.

J. S. Surface and wife dined several of their friends, last Sunday.

The sick in the neighborhood have not improved much since our last report.

L. H. Busby and wife entertained several of their Walton friends, last Sunday.

John Swim and wife broke bread with Charles Clarkson and wife, last Sunday.

M. R. Tanner and wife were Sunday guests of P. O. Griffin and wife, at Erlanger.

J. H. Tanner and family visited at Limaburg last Sunday, guests of G. W. Baker and wife.

Wallace Rouse is a resident of our ridge. He is occupying the B. C. Surface farm. We are glad to welcome him to our midst.

B. C. Surface moved to his place of business at Devon, last week. We are sorry to lose so good neighbors and citizens as Mr. and Mrs. Surface. They have a host of friends here who wish them success in their

DEVON.

Mr. and Mrs. John Meiman and guest, Minnie Stevens, were visiting friends in Covington and Cincinnati, last week.

We extend to Ben Surface and wife a hearty welcome, and feel sure he will do well with his store at this place.

Miss Mary Conrad left Monday for Indianapolis, Ind., where she will resume her studies the coming year at The Notre Dame Academy.

Hiram Rilverd and Taylor Davis attended Falmouth fair, Saturday, and report having had a fine time and enjoyed seeing some fine stock.

Perry Dixon and family are pleasantly located at the Roache farm. We are glad they succeeded in getting a place in this neighborhood as they are excellent neighbors.

Miss Georgie Walton, of Hamilton, Ohio, Miss Nellie Conely, father and brother, of Newport, Miss Emily Conely, Messrs. Arthur Conely and Emile Rivard were pleasantly entertained by W. A. Price and family, Sunday.

Misses Leta Rice and Julia Maher, two bright young girls of this neighborhood, were part of the graduating class at Independence, Thursday evening. The graduates acquitted themselves with much credit to themselves and their teachers. There were seventeen in all.

Died, Sept. 30th, Howard Edward Conner, aged two years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Price Conner. He was one of those sweet, loveable children that, when one saw him, they were drawn to him. God has said "suffer little children to come unto me for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven." Mr. and Mrs. Conner have our sincere sympathy in this hour of affliction.

Children, grandchildren relatives and friends assembled at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Will Scott in honor of Mrs. Scott's birthday. Miss Lucy Scott, looking very pretty in a handsome white dress, was assisted in dispensing hospitalities by her three sisters, Mrs Harry Hartman, who wore her bridal robe, Mrs. Stuntebeck and Mrs. Charles Scott wore white also. Fine supper was served. Handsome presents were received. Some fine music was rendered by our noted pianists, Mrs. Geo. Scott and Mrs. J. Meiman. It was a late hour when the guests departed, wishing Mrs. Scott many more happy birthdays. Out of town guests were Mrs. Stundebeck, Newport; Mrs. Odenwahl, of Ludlow; Mrs. Will Scott, of Latonia and Miss Mimie Stevens, Mrs. John Meiman's guest.

o o o

WATERLOO.

Last week brought some genuine fall weather.

The frosts last week ripened the rabbits and fresh pork.

Will Satchwell and family were visiting on Gunpowder, Sunday.

Lucien Clore, of Burlington, was here visiting his father, Wednesday.

Herman Wingate has been working in the canning factory at Belleview.

Mrs. J. H. Walton, of Constance, candidate for County Judge, was calling on the voters here, last week.

Misses Etna McAtee and Josie Stephens, of Beech Grove, were shopping in Rising Sun, Saturday.

L. T. Clore has improved the looks of his house by giving it a fresh coat of paint. H. M. Clore did the work.

Uncle Henry Sullivan, who lives with his daughter, Mrs. Perry Presser, has been indisposed for sometime.

J. M. Hodges, of near Fernbank, O. came to Rabbit Hash, Saturday, to vlsit relatives. He says he likes the country up there.

Ray Conner and wife gave the young folks a musical party, and Syd Stephens and wife, a dance, last Saturday night.

W. G. Kite has completed his mile of pike, and J. H. Walton, who took a contract for two miles is pushing the work as fast as possible.

J. C. Kelly spent several days last week at his brother Bennie's, while he (Bennie) attended the meeting of the Grand Lodge K. of P. at Lexington.

E. E. Passons, who has been working for W. G. Kite the past three years, has gone to Rabbit Hash to live with his brother-in-law, Capt. Ben Merrick.

The parties who are surveying the oil line through this part of the country passed just north of here and struck the Ohio river at John Smith's farm near Belleview. They said a pumping station would be erected at that place. They paid $100 to each man whose farm they crossed, and will pay 25c per lineal rod for each rod when the line is laid.

Had a Close Call.

David Parker, of Fayette, N. Y., a veteran of the civil war, who lost a foot at Gettysburg, says: "The good Electric Bitters have done is worth more than five hundred dollars to me. I spent much money doctoring for a bad case of stomach trouble, to little purpose. I then tried Electric Bitters, and they cured me. I now take them as a tonic, and they keep me strong and well." 50c at Bentler's drug store, Erlanger.

Rev. C. G. Skillman will preach at Krutz's Hall, Petersburg, next Sunday at 3 o'clock p. m., and on that account Sunday School will meet at

UNION.

Mrs. Susan Utz was reported quite sick last week.

It is billed to rain again October 14th. Look out!

The Creamery Co., is figuring on building a fine ice house.

James Huey has been on the sick list for two or three days.

Mrs. Harvey Hicks and daughter, Mrs. Elzie Garrison, were visiting at the hotel Eagle, Thursday.

James Utz is improving the walks about the house that he may have smooth walking this winter.

Magie Conner, of Richwood, was sight seeing in our city Saturday and seemed glad to see so many improvments.

B. L. Norman, of Covington, was shaking hands with his friends here Sunday and Monday. He had some new stories.

Owen Utz has purchased the lumber for Mrs. Allen's new house on High street. Another sign of the Union boom.

Harry Cromwell and several other parties have received checks for their 1908 tobacco handled through the pool by Mr. Kennedy.

Mrs. Emily Presser and son, Lafe, of Mathaway, were in town Saturday. We regret that Mrs. Presser's health has been bad for sometime.

Samuel Hicks and family will move to Walton soon, where Mr. Hicks has purchased property. Walton will gain some more good citizens by this move.

George Burkett has decided that a feint heart beats many a fellow out of a fair lady, so he proposes to be brave and hustle himself up to one to the fairest of the fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Afterkirk don't propose to let the dry weather interfere with supply of winter canned goods, for they 350 cans have stored in the cellar already.

Ed Utz, of Buffalo Heights, was toasting his shins by a stove, one day recently, and told the writer confidentially that W. J. Bryan will be the next President. Hope so.

Dr. Crouch and J. L. Frazier are doubtful as to the wisdom of a law that would make careful bankers responsible for the acts of the reckless ones, as they claim the proposed law to secure bank deposits would do.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Houston, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Smith, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Frazier and Mrs. W. M. Rachal spent several pleasant hours at Big Bone Springs, one day last week, looking over the low water situation about Hamilton.

Mr. Jack Gibson met with a serious accident, Saturday. While pulling his buggy out of the shed he backed against a yearling colt that let go with both heels, striking the shafts which struck Mr. Gibson's leg and came near breaking it.

Tom Judge has an eye to his own interest and also that of the community at large, so he has introduced what he calls "dryless corn." He expects to prove that this corn will do what some men can do—grow and prosper on a dry rock.

The prolonged drought has done a great deal of damage in this precinct. Water has become so scarce that stock suffers, and people are put to a great inconvenience for drinking water. The situation is serious from many standpoints.

A jolly crowd of young folks from Constance and vicinity, chaperoned by George Bradford, passed through our town enroute to Big Bone, Sunday morning. On their return in the afteruoon they stopped here and fed and rested their horses, when then they took their departure, singing: "God be with you till we meet again."

Noah Tanner was in Covington Friday, and while looking around among his old butter and potato customers found many of them has been out of employment since June, and in some cases they are mortgaging their homes to live. How is this for your "full dinner bucket," and universal prosperity doctrine? Echo and answers "rans mit 'em." Whai say ye, Noah?

Rev. Glass proved himself a very competent preacher and also efficient fireman, for when Mrs. Allen's house was about to be consumed and delay meant danger, Mr. Glass pulled off his Sunday coat, wrapped it around the gasoline stove and put the fire out. Miss Edith Feldhaus also proved herself brave by standing her ground and keeping cool. Miss Edith thinks that milk is ok to fight fire with.

A package containing a white mohair skirt, white shirt waist, embroidered collar, under shirt, long, black silk gloves, 3 handkerchiefs—one with my name on it, and a white lace veil with blue border, was taken from the ferry boat at Constance on Saturday after the Harvest Home. Finder will please return to me.

KATIE TANNER.

To the Democratic Voters of Boone county:—As a rule I do not pay any attention to reports started during a campaign; but my friends tell me that it is being circulated that if elected to the office of clerk, to which I aspire, that I will go on the farm and have C. C. Roberts look after the office. Such a report is absolutely false and without foundation. If honored with your support and elected, I will be found there every day attending to it. I am making this race in order to quit farming if possible.

J. H. ROGERS.

To the Teachers:—The law respecting the attendance at the Institute has not been changed, requiring all who hold certificates for Boone county, whether teaching or not, to attend the entire session, unless prevented by sickness or some other disability. The law says that the county superintendent shall revoke certificates of those who fail to at-

PETERSBURG.

Ben Jarrell is quite sick.

H. G. Mathews is visiting home folks at this place.

Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Smith, of Aurora, spent Friday here.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Kite spent last Wednesday in Cincinnati.

Joe Allen is home off the steamer, Lizzie Bay, during the low water.

Dr. Perkins, of Belleview, spent a few hours here Sunday with friends.

Mrs. J. M. Grant and Miss Edith Acra were shopping in Cincinnati, Wednesday.

Supt. D. M. Snyder and wife, of Burlington, were guests of relatives here a few days last week.

Raymond Weindel, of Frankfort, attended the funeral of his uncle, R. A. McWethy, last Friday.

Mrs. Joe Hulick and children, of Ivorydale, Cincinnati, are pleasant guests of Mrs. Charles Jenkins.

Miss Nettie Cave returned Saturday, from a visit in Covington, where she attended the Sryes-Durant nuptials.

Owen Allen was taken suddenly ill in Aurora, Saturday. He was brought home Sunday and is somewhat improved.

Miss Leola McWethy, of Lawrenceburg, spent a few days the past week at home and attended the funeral of her uncle.

Levi Tuning and wife, of Constance, purchased the Fauss property here, and have become residents of our burg.

Mr. and Mrs Arthur Alloway spent Tuesday in Lawrenceburg visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fauss.

Chas. McWethy and wife, of Green Castle, Ind., were called here by the sudden death of his brother, R. A. McWethy, last Wednesday.

Miss Carrie Dunn, of Watson, Ind., daughter of Dr. W. H. Dunn, a former physian of this place, has been the guest of friends here the past week.

Rev. Milo Atkinson, of Covington, returned, Saturday, to his home after a couple of days visit here. His little son, Chambers, accompanied him home.

The concrete firm of Howard and Gordon has been awarded a large contract for cement side walks in Rising Sun, which will keep them busy until freezing weather.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Weindel and daughter, of Covington; Ed Runk and Miss Margaret Schramm and Mr. and Mrs. McCright, of Cincinnati, attended Mr. R. A. McWethy's funeral, last Friday.

Miss Maud Belden and Miss Hower who have been here the past ten days left Saturday for a few days visit with Dr. and Mrs. Terrill, of Lawrenceburg, after which they will return to her home in Xenia, Ohio.

o o o

CONSTANCE.

Mr. H. Kottmyer, who has been very ill, is improving.

Oliver Kesterayer was out, Friday, behind his fine trotter.

Miss Carrie Collier, has been visiting A. L. Loder and wife.

Mrs. E. Wernz and daughters, Clara, Josie and Madie, called on Mrs. Murat, Saturday.

W. R. Rouse completed his work on the bridge. It is a master job, and he deserves great praise.

Water is so scarce in the wells at Constance the school children have to take water with them to school.

J. J. Rucker and Dr. Murat are giving their houses a coat of paint. Andy Smith is painting J. J. Rucker G. W. Cox, Dr. Murat's.

Wm. Tanner was presented with a fine hull for a gasoline launch by a friend. He will put an 18-horse power engine in it, and will have one of the finest on the river.

A street car struck a wagon Bruce Anderson was driving in the city, a few days since, throwing Bruce against the bed of the wagon and on to a gasoline engine he had in the wagon. The small bone in his left arm and two ribs were fractured.

o o o

ERLANGER.

Mrs. Oscar Huey is visiting relatives in Cincinnati.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Gebhart spent Sunday in Covington.

Miss Jennie Geiger was visiting friends in Latonia, last week.

Miss Ida Zinn leaves next week for a two weeks visit at Frankfort.

Miss Bessie Cleek has returned from a week's visit with friends at Union.

Owing to a promotion in business L. L. Tanner and family will not remove to Erlanger.

Charles Stevens and family had a very pleasant outing at the Zoological Garden, Sunday.

Miss Minerva Collins, of Crescent Springs, was the Sunday guest of Miss Maytie Tanner.

Mrs. J. D. Cobb and niece, Miss Ella Baker, are spending a few days with relatives at Corinth.

Miss Lucy Hoover and Miss Dixie Hill will be guests of Miss Nannie Cason, of Ludlow, Saturday and Sunday.

There will be special Missionary Services at the Baptist church Thursday evening, for Rev. J. P. Stuart, former pastor, who leaves Oct. 15th, for Rome, Italy.

Prof. Whitaley will give a musical at the Erlanger town hall, Saturday evening, Oct. 10th. It will be of very fine talent and strictly high class. The proceeds will go for the benefit of the Erlanger band.

The stock for the bank at Belleview was made easily, and the stockholders will meet in Belleview this afternoon, and organize by the election of officers and the appointment of such committees as are necessary to get the bank in operation. The name of the bank will be The Citi-

Shall the People Rule?

TRUSTS FAVOR TAFT

"INTERESTS" ARE STRONGLY REPRESENTED ON THE REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE.

SHELDON OFFICIAL FAT FRYER

LIST OF THOSE FROM WHOM HE GOT CONTRIBUTIONS.

Republican Treasurer Is Director in Twenty-One Corporations—Raised Big Fund in 1908—Recommended by Standard Oil Attorney.

Chicago, September (Special).—In connection with the controversy which the president has raised as to whether the trusts and financial concerns are most interested in the election of Mr. Taft or Mr. Bryan, the Democratic national committee calls attention to a few of the controlling spirits in the Republican committee who are actively interested in trusts and monopolies.

At the head of the list stands George R. Sheldon, treasurer of the Republican national committee. Mr. Sheldon's selection for this important post of official "fat fryer" was made upon recommendation of William Nelson Cromwell, the great corporation lawyer of Wall street, attorney for the Panama Canal Company, E. H. Harriman, the Standard Oil Company, the sugar trust, Kuhn, Loeb & Co., bankers and brokers, and other favored interests. Almost immediately after his appointment Mr. Sheldon is reported to have received a contribution from Mr. Cromwell, amounting to $50,000.

Mr. Sheldon is a multi-millionaire, the active head of the banking firm of W. C. Sheldon & Co., 2 Wall street. According to the "Directory of Directors" for the present year, Mr. Sheldon's name appears as a director in the following corporations:

American Locomotive Company,
American Locomotive Automobile Company,
Bethlehem Steel Corporation,
Cincinnati Northern Railroad Company,
Detroit Edison Company,
Electrical Securities Corporation,
Laclede Gaslight Company,
Locomotive and Machine Company of Montreal (limited),
Locomotive Security Company,
Metropolitan Trust Company,
Milwaukee Electric Railway and Light Company,
Milwaukee Light, Heat and Traction Company,
National Copper bank,
New Jersey Terminal Dock and Improvement Company,
North American Company,
Republic Steel and Iron Company of New Jersey,
Rogers Locomotive works,
St. Louis Traction Company,
Union Bag and Paper Company of New Jersey,
Union Electric Light and Power Company,
Union Electric Light and Power Company of St. Louis.

Mr. Sheldon's connection with the locomotive trust places him in connection with the railroads of the country where he is able to procure their campaign contributions. He is also a confidential agent of J. Pierpont Morgan in his Wall street deals, and assisted in the formation of the Shipbuilding trust. His North American Company controls the traction interests of St. Paul and Minneapolis. He is president of the Union League club, which binds Rockefeller, Morgan, Carnegie and other powers in Wall street are also members. He is also said to be a member of 20 other clubs, whose membership includes practically all of the operators in Wall street.

In 1906 Mr. Sheldon was treasurer of the New York state Republican committee, and succeeded so well in frying the fat from the interests that Mr. Cromwell recommended him for a similar job with the national committee. According to the sworn statement of Mr. Sheldon, published after the campaign, he raised $333,923.60, chiefly from these interests.

The following is a partial list of the contributors as shown in Mr. Sheldon's statement:

J. Pierpont Morgan, Wall street banker and promoter	$20,000
Levi P. Morton, banker, Wall street	20,000
John D. Rockefeller of Standard Oil	5,000
Andrew Carnegie	5,000
Chauncey M. Depew, railroad and Standard Oil senator	5,000
H. R. Hollins, financier	5,000
Jacob H. Schiff, favored banker	2,500
Harvey Fisk & Sons, bankers and brokers	2,500
Kuhn, Loeb & Co., bankers and fiscal agents	2,500
J. & W. Seligman & Co., bankers and fiscal agents	2,500
Charles W. Schwab, steel trust and other trust corporations	2,000
C. R. Mackey, Postal Telegraph Company	2,000
John W. Gates, stock gambler and trust operator	2,000
W. E. Corey, President U. S. Steel Corporation	2,000
W. C. Sheldon & Co., bankers and fiscal agents	2,000
John Jacob Astor, tenement house owner	1,000
William Nelson Cromwell, trust lawyer	1,000
Cornelius Vanderbilt, railroad tenets	1,000
W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., railroad interests	1,000
Edwin Gould, railroad interests	1,000
W. F. Havemeyer, sugar trust	800
B. N. Duke, tobacco trust	500
D. O. Mills	500
H. M. Flagler, Standard Oil	500
Arbuckle Bros., coffee trust	500
Henry Clews, Wall street banker	250

This is only a partial list of the trust magnates and financiers who contributed to Mr. Sheldon's fund. An index as to how much more Mr. Sheldon may be able to raise from these interests for the national campaign the fact may be cited that Mr. Cromwell gave $1,000 to the state fund, and increased the amount to $50,000 for the national campaign.

Fred W. Upham of Chicago is assistant treasurer of the Republican national committee. He is a millionaire several times over, and a member of the state board of review of Illinois, which passes upon the amount of taxes which corporations and large estates shall pay in that state. He is a director in several corporations, and is in charge of the collection of campaign funds in the west.

On August 21, 1908, after his appointment as assistant treasurer of the Republican committee Mr. Upham sent out thousands of letters to corporation officials whose taxes he passes upon as a member of the board of review, urging them to contribute to the Republican fund as "individuals," and requesting them to "bring this matter to the attention of your business associates." The suggestion implied is regarded as significant.

Five of the nine members of the Republican committee are:

Charles F. Brooker, Connecticut millionaire, member of New York Chamber of Commerce and vice-president New York-New Haven Railroad Company, against which a government suit is now pending, and one of the leading spirits in the brass trust.

Frank O. Lowden, multi-millionaire, vice-president Pullman Palace Car Company, which is a monopoly.

E. C. Duncan, director Atlantic & North Carolina Railway, and other corporations, receiver Seaboard Air Line and official dispenser of patronage in North Carolina.

T. Coleman Du Pont, controlling factor in powder trust, against which the government has a suit now pending for dissolution.

Boise Penrose, political boss of Pennsylvania, head of the corrupt Republican organization in Philadelphia, and conspicuous in many corporations.

Roy O. West, chairman of the Republican state committee of Illinois, is also chairman of the board of review, which passes upon corporation taxes.

Fred A. Sims, acting chairman of the Republican state committee of Indiana, is also chairman of the state tax board, which passes upon the taxes levied against corporations.

Mr. Du Pont has been forced to resign from the executive committee because of his trust connections, but Mr. Brooker, against whose company the government has a suit, is still a member of the committee.

WHO ARE YOU FOR?

Republicans who contemplate voting for Mr. Taft may be interested in knowing some of the company they will be in by so doing.

John D. Rockefeller, head of the Standard Oil Company, and the richest man in the world, is FOR Taft and AGAINST Bryan.

H. H. Rogers, of the Standard Oil Company, and the organizer of the "System" is FOR Taft and AGAINST Bryan.

John D. Archbold, vice-president Standard Oil Company, author of the Foraker and Sibley letters, is FOR Taft and AGAINST Bryan.

John W. Gates, "Bet-You-a-Million-Gates," stock gambler and trust magnate is FOR Taft and AGAINST Bryan.

J. Pierpont Morgan, promoter of high finance, the greatest power in Wall street, is FOR Taft and AGAINST Bryan.

James A. Stillman, president of the National City bank, the Standard's bank, is FOR Taft and AGAINST Bryan.

Andrew Carnegie, who made $150,000,000 through a high protective tariff, is FOR Taft and AGAINST Bryan.

Charles R. Sheldon, treasurer of the Republican National Committee and director in 20 Wall street corporations, is FOR Taft and AGAINST Bryan.

E. E. Harriman, great railroad magnate, who raised $260,000 for Roosevelt's campaign in 24 hours, in 1904 is FOR Taft and AGAINST Bryan.

J. J. Hill, second greatest railroad magnate in the country, is FOR Taft and AGAINST Bryan.

William Nelson Cromwell, chief counsel for Harriman and gigantic trusts, who gave $50,000 to Taft's campaign, is FOR Taft and AGAINST Bryan.

Every Wall street gambler and stock manipulator is FOR Taft and AGAINST Bryan.

Every trust, every monopoly, every high protected industry is FOR Taft and AGAINST Bryan.

With these men and these interests FOR Taft and AGAINST Bryan, who are you for, Mr. Farmer, Mr. Laboring Man, Mr. Small Dealer, Mr. Merchant, Mr. Average Voter?

Are these men and these interests FOR Taft and AGAINST Bryan because they love YOU or because they love THEMSELVES?

Are they looking after your benefit or their own? Do they expect that the election of Mr. Taft would inure to your advantage or their advantage?

If they are for Taft, and they are, who are You for?

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

The New York Journal has a cartoon showing a Standard Oil can taking the place of the dome in a picture of the capitol at Washington. Good. It is another evidence that the people do not rule at Washington, but that the trusts rule through the agency of the Republican party. As to legislation, Mr. Sherman, candidate for vice-president, said: "The Republican party is willing and ready to accept full responsibility." Exactly, and the Standard oil and other trusts rule through that party. The only way to prevent such rule is to elect Bryan.

The Methodist conferences continue to denounce Speaker Cannon because he refuses to let proposed laws have a hearing. It is all right to vote against Cannon for his dictation as to what legislation shall or shall not be considered, but it is essential also to vote out the Republican party that makes Cannon's boss-ship possible. Defeat of Cannon is good, but would not remedy the situation unless the Republicans are turned out. If Republicans win, and Cannon is defeated, the same iron rules will be carried out by a Sherman or a Dalzell, or some other Republican pupil of Cannon.

The Republican National Committees denies it has received this year, a dollar from the Standard Oil Company, or any subsidiary corporation. Having said who is NOT putting up the money, now let them tell us who is putting it up under oath. Will they do it?

The letters from Standard Oil magnate prove that the people do not rule. They may have bought some Democrats, but the party they own is the party that gives them tariff bounty and has let them defy the laws—the party that controls the federal government.

Mr. Roosevelt, says Mr. Woodruff, thinks the alleged finding of $300,000 in the Democratic treasury "queer." But the good E. H. Harriman's gift of $264,000 to the Republican campaign fund four years ago looked to the same eyes perfectly straight and normal.—New York Evening Post. It has been shown that the Democratic committee got not a cent and that Mr. Roosevelt gave currency to a false charge. He admitted that Harriman raised $240,000 for the Republican campaign fund in 1904. Then they were both "practical men" and were "in" together.

A telegram received at Democratic headquarters recently stated that the Democrats of Idaho had agreed upon one set of presidential electors, and are now confident of carrying that state. It will be remembered that the Democrats divided in the state convention and nominated two sets of electors for Bryan and Kern. This fact has given the Democratic authorities much concern, and they were much gratified to learn that all differences have been settled and one set of presidential electors decided upon.

FOUNDING OF QUAKER CITY

TWO HUNDRED AND TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO BEING CELEBRATED.

Not Since Centennial of 1876 Have Philadelphians Attempted Spectacle So Elaborate.

Philadelphia, Oct. 5.—From out the historical belfry of Independence hall, where once the liberty of a new-born nation was proclaimed, there came Sunday the peals of a bell to signal the opening of the most unique and significant civic celebration the country has ever witnessed.

Bells and chimes in all the city churches joined in the bronze-tongued chorus and Philadelphia was aroused at dawn to a realization of the advent of Founders' week, the 225th anniversary of the founding of the city.

Profound services of praise and thanksgiving held in the churches Sunday will be followed Monday and throughout all of the coming week by a succession of pageants which promise to eclipse anything of the kind heretofore attempted.

Not since the famous centennial celebration of 1876 have the citizens of Philadelphia been aroused to such a pitch of enthusiasm. The history of the city, too, is so closely allied with the history of the American people as to give national scope to the commemorative features of the celebration.

The downtown streets Sunday night are thronged with thousands of visitors and the buildings, which by day had been a mass of waving colors, are Sunday night brilliantly outlined in the fire of countless electric bulbs.

The Founders' week celebration as a whole is the most pretentious undertaking this city has ever attempted. The program, which will not be concluded until next Saturday midnight, is crowded with interesting and spectacular events.

The attractions are of the widest possible scope, but all have been arranged with the central idea of showing the progress of the city from its foundling nearly a hundred years before the signing of the Declaration of Independence down to the present day.

Thursday has been set apart as naval day, and there are now anchored in the harbor practically every naval vessel in commission on this side of the world.

RACING WHEN A TIRE EXPLODED,

Wrecking the Machine—One Dead and Two Fatally Injured.

New York, Oct. 5.—An impromptu race on the river road near Ft. Lee, N. J., between a 35-horse-power Panhard car, owned by Charles Weisbecker, "the provision king of Harlem," and a fast machine which it chanced to encounter, resulted Sunday afternoon in death for Mr. Weisbecker and probable fatal injuries for his wife and friend, Louis Ungrich.

Mr. Weisbecker died from a fractured skull three hours after the accident. His wife and Mr. Ungrich, injured in identically the same manner, were still alive in the Englewood hospital Sunday night, but there was little hope for their recovery. Ungrich's wife, suffering from scalp wounds and shock, and a French chauffeur, known only as Felix, who had four ribs broken and was injured internally, are also in a critical condition.

The accident occurred because a rear tire on the Panhard car exploded while it was running at the rate of 45 miles an hour behind the other machine. The loss of the tire caused the car to skid. It shot across the road into the curb, plunged forward until it struck an electric pole, and even then was going so fast that it turned a head-on somersault, the tonneau rising and striking the pole after the front of the machine had struck it, forcing the forward wheels back and underneath.

Mother and Daughter Killed.

Ashland, Pa., Oct. 5.—A terrific automobile accident occurred to a merry chestnut party, residents of Ashland, Sunday morning near Gordon, two miles south of here. A 40-horse-power Rambler, driven by Peter Young, who was accompanied by his wife, a son and a daughter and a nephew, got beyond control, and the machine plunged over an embankment into a cut 30 feet below, turning turtle. Mrs. Young and her 10-year-old daughter were instantly killed. Young, the driver, and his son Peter and the nephew, Charles Clark, are at the Miners' hospital. The injuries of all are considered serious. Young says the steering apparatus failed to work.

Father Killed in Pistol Duel.

Adrian, Ga., Oct. 5.—While eloping with Miss Sallie Beasley, aged 18, Jordan Swain was overtaken by the girl's father and in the duel that resulted the latter was killed. Swain had been forbidden by Beasley to visit the latter's daughter. An elopement was then planned by him. After the tragedy the girl and her lover continued their flight and it is supposed that they have been married.

Aged Attorney Dies.

Minton, N. D., Oct. 5.—Col. J. C. Marcy, aged 77 years, at one time one of the most prominent attorneys in the northwest, was burned to death at his home here. The fire was caused by the upsetting of a lamp.

Fatal Gotham Blaze.

New York, Oct. 5.—Fire persons are believed to have been burned to death and several were injured, one fatally, in a fire in a crowded tenement house on Mulberry street, between 1 and 2 o'clock Monday morning.

LONDON INVADED BY NEGROES.

Absence of Race Prejudice Makes Life Pleasant There.

England is being invaded by American negroes, who suddenly have realized that they suffer in that country from none of the disabilities attaching to their race and color in the United States. Thousands of them have gone there in the last year or two and thousands more are going. The invasion began in force about a year ago. The first negroes to go were variety artists and athletes, who found that they were well treated there.

It is hard to obtain any estimate of the actual numbers of American negroes now in England. An official of the American embassy declares that last winter the embassy had hundreds of applications from negro citizens of the United States, who were stranded in England, to be sent home. The embassy, of course, has no funds for this purpose, but the officials did what they could to help and many who went over to capture the variety stage in England worked their way home in the stokeholds of tramp steamers sailing to Baltimore or New Orleans.

This year, the same official declares, there are at least 5,000 American negroes in England, and 4,000 of them arrived this year. A trip to some of the leading watering places on the English coast will lead one to think that the estimate is much smaller than the actual number. The "busker" is an institution at Margate, Ramsgate, Southend and other watering places where the Londoners of the middle and working classes run down for the week-end or for a few days' holiday. The "busker" usually is a broken-down actor or music hall man who makes his living singing and dancing on the sands, depending on the generosity of the holiday makers for his reward. The native "busker" has been almost driven off the sands by the American negro.

The "black face" comedian act long has been a favorite with the "buskers," but the "comedians" were white men made black by liberal applications of burnt cork. This year the black men are the real thing and the "entertainment" which they offer has changed. Instead of the sentimental ditties of the London music halls the "buskers" are rendering the "coon songs" of New York and Chicago, and the "nigger melodies" of the plantation days. The sentimental semi-military songs, so popular in America about the time of the Spanish-American war, are also great favorites at present on the Margate sands.

There is no prejudice among the lower class home-staying Englishmen and women against the negro. The colonial Englishman regards him much as the American does, but to the cockney or his prototype of the provincial cities every man whose skin is not white is a "native." He draws no distinction between the negro and the high class Hindoo, and receives them both on terms of perfect equality. He will eat with the negro, drink with him, and the women will go even further, they will marry him.

A negro quarter, although not very well defined, is already springing up in London. It lies in Soho among the tangle of narrow streets inhabited by men of every nationality under the sun, except English, and there are one or two restaurants where fried chicken, sweet corn and other delicacies dear to the negro's heart can be obtained. Another center is in the maze of courts and alleys behind Fleet street.

Had to Be Cautious.

The Artist—So you can't use my sketches, then. Would you mind telling me what you think of them?

The Editor—I can't now; there are some ladies in the next room.—Half-Holiday.

At Last.

He—Do you think a young man has as good a chance now as he had 20 or 30 years ago?

She—Better; this is so sudden; but I know papa will be delighted.—N. Y. Sun.

MARKET REPORTS.

	Cincinnati, Oct. 5.
CATTLE—Extra	$4 75	@ 4 85
CALVES—Extra	8 25	@ 8 75
HOGS—Choice	6 50	@ 6 85
SHEEP—Extra	3 50	@ 3 60
LAMBS—Spring	5 35	@ 5 50
FLOUR—Spring pat.	5 85	@ 6 10
WHEAT—No. 2 red.	1 04	@ 1 05
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@ 79
OATS—No. 2 mixed.	50	@ 50½
RYE—No. 2 choice	78	@ 80
HAY—Ch. timothy	13 00	@13 35
BUTTER—Dairy		@ 16
EGGS—Per doz.		@ 23
APPLES—Choice	2 75	@ 3 25
POTATOES—Per bu.	75	@ 85
TOBACCO—Burley	11 75	@20 50
CHICAGO.
WHEAT—No. 2 red.	99¼	@ 1 00½
CORN—No. 2 mixed.	78¼	@ 78½
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@ 49¾
PORK—Prime mess.		@14 65
LARD—Prime		@10 30
NEW YORK.
FLOUR—Win. patent	4 25	@ 4 40
WHEAT—No 2 red.		@ 1 07½
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@ 87¼
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@ 53
PORK—Prime mess.	17 25	@17 75
LARD—Steam	10 70	@10 80
BALTIMORE.
WHEAT—No. 2 red.		@ 1 02½
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@ 83½
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@ 53
LOUISVILLE.
WHEAT—No. 2 red.		@ 1 02
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@ 84½
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@ 54½
HAY—Ch. timothy	12 00	@12 50
HOGS—Extra	5 20	@ 6 60
LARD—Steam		@ 8 00
INDIANAPOLIS.
CATTLE—Prime	5 75	@ 7 00
HOGS—Extra	6 30	@ 7 10
SHEEP—Extra	4 00	@ 4 25

G. G. Hughes,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
BURLINGTON, KY.
Will practice in all the courts. Prompt attention given to all business entrusted to me.

N. E. Riddell,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.
Prompt Attention given to Collections
Will practice in all the courts.

S. Gaines,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.
Will practice in all the courts, and prompt attention given collections. Office—Over D. Rouse's Store.

D. E. Castleman,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Burlington, Ky.
Will practice in the Courts of Boone Kenton, Grant and Gallatin. Collections pushed energetically.

J. C. CLORE, W. W. DICKERSON
E. T. CLAYTON.
Clore, Dickerson & Clayton,
ATTORNEYS-at-LAW
Will practice in the State and U. S. Courts of Northern Ky., and Southwestern Ohio. Cincinnati Office: N. E. Cor. 6th & Vine; Phone, Main 2029.
Mr. Dickerson will spend a portion of his time at the Williamstown office.

BOONE CO. DEPOSIT BANK
(Incorporated 1856.)
CAPITAL..... $50,000
Surplus and undivided profits $7,000
—)o(—
Our facilities enable us to receive on favorable terms accounts of individuals and corporations. Collections promptly remitted for at Lowest Rates.

ERLANGER DEPOSIT BANK.
INCORPORATED 1893.)
ERLANGER, - - KENTUCKY
Capital Stock paid in..... $50,000
Surplus,..... $5,000
Careful attention given collections, and remittances promptly made. Deposit accounts solicited.

Dr. J. L. Adams,
DENTIST,
208 F. & T. Bank Building,
COVINGTON, - KY.
—will be in office—
AT ERLANGER EVERY THURSDAY.

W. E. VEST,
Real Estate Agent.
Farms Bought, Sold or Exchanged, Money to Loan on Real Estate, Notes bought, sold & Negotiated.
All communications addressed to W. E. VEST, Walton, Ky.

CHAS. GARNETT,
AUCTIONEER.
Will be in Burlington every court day. Fees for selling stock reasonable. Public Sales given special attention.

INSURE AT HOME
The Farmers' Mutual Fire
INSURANCE COMPANY,
OF BOONE COUNTY,
Is now completely organized and receiving applications for insurance.
Its RATES are LOWER
Than those of any other Company and gives the farmers of Boone Co.
HITHERTO UNKNOWN ADVANTAGE
in keeping their property insured.
Average cost of insurance on $1,000 for a period of five years is $9 45, less than one per cent per $1,000.
Every Farmer in the County should take a policy at once.
Edgar Cropper, Pres., Burlington, Ky.
Noah Tanner, V Pres., Gunpowder, "
F. A. Uts, Treas., Florence, Ky.
Malohus Souther, Secy.,
R. F. D. 1, Ludlow, Ky.
R. B. Huey, Agent, Burlington, Ky. R. 3
J. E. Smith, Assessor, Burlington, "
Executive Board—Legrand Gaines, J. W. Conner, Solon Early.

F. W. Kassebaum & Son,
GRANITE & MARBLE
MONUMENTS,
Burial Vaults and Cemetery Work of all Kinds.
Building Stone, Flagging. Settees and Vases.
Office and Warerooms:
70 and 72 Main Street,
AURORA, IND.
IRA POPE Agent, - - Grant, Ky

C. L. GRIFFITH,
DEALER IN
REAL ESTATE
and Negotiable Notes,
WALTON, KY.
If you want to buy or sell Town Property or Farms, write me.
Write for printed list.

JOHN HENRY ON RAPID TRANSIT

BY GEO. V. HOBART, ("HUGH M'HUGH.")

Dear Bunch: Every time I hop into one of those roomy, comfortable street cars in a city of the second, third or even fourth class, I immediately contrast it with the wood boxes we use in New York, and I find myself growing red in the face and biting my nails.

Those squeezer cars that prowl the streets of New York are surely the breathless limit, aren't they?"

The squeezer car is the best genteel imitation of a rough-house that has ever been invented.

The are called squeezers because the conductor has to let the passengers out with a can-opener.

Brave and strong men climb into a street car, and they are full of health and life and vigor, but a few blocks up the road they fall out backward and inquire feebly for a sanitarium.

To ride on a Broadway street car, for instance, about eight o'clock of an evening, brings out all that is in a man, including a lot of loud words he didn't know he had.

Leaves the Rebellious Standing on a Corner.

The last census shows us that the street cars of New York have more ways of producing nervous prostration and palpitation of the brain to the square inch than the combined population of Amsterdam, Rotterdam, Tinkersdam and Gotterdammerung.

To get in some of the street cars about six o'clock is a problem, and to get out again is an assassination.

One evening I rode from Forty-second street to Fifty-ninth without once touching the floor with my feet.

Part of the time I used the outposts of a stout gentleman to come between me and the ground, and during the rest of the occasion I hung from a strap and swung out wild and free, like a Japanese flag on a windy day.

Some of the New York street cars lead a double life, because they are used all winter to act the part of a refrigerator.

It is a cold day when we cannot find it colder in the street cars.

In Germany we find Germans in the cars, but in America we find germs.

That is because this country is young and impulsive.

The germs in the street cars are extremely sociable, and will follow a stranger all the way home.

Often while riding in the New York street cars I have felt a germ rubbing against my ankle like a kitten, but, being a gentleman, I did not reach down and kick it away because the law says we must not be disrespectful to the dumb brutes of the field.

Many of those street cars are built on the same general plan as a can of condensed milk.

The only difference is that the street cars have a sour taste, like a lemon-squeezer.

When you get out you cannot get in, and when you get in you cannot get out, because you hate to disturb the strange gentleman that is using your knee to lean over.

The Germs Will Follow a Stranger All the Way Home.

Between the seats there is a space of two feet, but in that space you will always find four feet, and their owners, unless one of them happens to have a wooden leg.

Under ordinary circumstances four into two won't go, but the squeezer cars defy the laws of gravitation.

A squeezer conductor can put 26 into nine and still have four to carry.

The ladies of New York have started a rebellion against the squeezer cars, but every time they start it the conductor pulls the bell, and leaves the rebellious standing on the corner.

We are very nervous and careless people in New York. To prove how careless we are, I will cite the fact that Manhattan island is called after a cocktail.

This nervousness is our undoing because we are always in such a hurry to get somewhere that we would rather take the first car and get squeezed into breathlessness than wait for the next, which would likely squeeze us into insensibility.

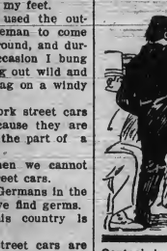
Breathlessness can be cured, but insensibility is dangerous without an alarm-clock.

For a man with a small dining-room, the squeezer car has its advantage, but when a stout man rides in them, he finds himself supporting a lot of strangers he never met before.

One evening I jumped on one of those squeezers feeling just like a two-year-old, full of health and happiness.

The thought of it makes me feel quite Tennysonsque!

From Cortland street he proudly strode at suppertime that day to take the elevated road which goes up Harlem way. He shook and shivered like the deuce, and then he sadly sighed, because the path was long and loose which led to Morningside.



He kissed the down-town girl he rushed, and said: "I know you'll miss me! but don't start weeping if I'm crushed; just kiss me, sweetheart; kiss me! 'Tis miles to go, long miles to go to where I do reside, and boogie men are in the cars that run to Morningside!"

Her eyes were like two stars that shine and sparkle through the rain; she sobbed: "Good-by, sweetheart of mine!"—he kissed his love again. "And should I not return some day to claim my blushing bride, you'll find me on the right of way twixt here and Morningside!

"Oh, Phyllis, I must pull up stakes this awful trip to make—hark! do you hear the broken brakes refuse to make a brake? Good-by, my love; good-by, my dove! on this I do decide; when airships come in use I'll take you up to Morningside."

He found a car well loaded down with 50 souls or more to take the pathway through the town he'd taken oft before. The guard unto his voice gave vent: "Ooftgooftenooftenside!" then closed the gates and off they went, bound for Morningside.

Fat men sat down in ladies' laps they'd never met before; and sad and solemn-looking chaps exploded some and swore. Some used the air to stand upon, the floor was occupied by 27,000 feet bound out for Morningside.

Genteel Imitation of a Rough-House.

"I want my bat!" a small man cried in accents full of heat; and when to reach for it he tried, somebody swiped his seat. Ten thousand souls hung onto straps and did the slide-the-slide; the human laundry which at night hangs out for Morningside.

Beneath the car the third rail snaps and barks and tries to bite while those who hang around on straps turn over then turn white. It sigbs for those and cries for those who in the coaches ride, and makes them wish they did not live far out at Morningside.

Where does the fat director ride who owns the iron road? With human sardines does he hide while homeward he is towed? Not on your life! a squeeze like that would surely hurt his pride; he takes the benzine buggy when he goes to Morningside.

The cars will crowded be to-night; there'll be another crush; for hunger waits on appetite and all must homeward rush, and stand like men to pay the debt monopolies provide on any road, on every road—including Morningside!

How about it!

(Copyright, 1908, by G. W. Dillingham Co.)

It Is "O. K."

"O. K." was not long ago passed upon by a court in Illinois, and has received judicial sanction.

Two prominent manufacturing concerns had become involved in a disagreement which threatened legal complications. Their lawyers induced them to compromise their differences, and to append their signature to an agreement that was made mutually satisfactory and legally binding. In attestation of the facts in the case, the attorneys merely used the letters O. K., thinking the matter happily settled. Suddenly, however, one of the contestants brought suit to have the agreement annulled, on the ground that O. K. was a mere slang phrase, and hence not legally binding. But the court ruled that it undoubtedly gave that which is the universal conception and understanding, and was therefore correct, valid and legally binding upon the parties concerned. In brief, it was O. K.—Illustrated Sunday Magazine.

RAISED FROM SICK BED.

After All Hope Had Vanished.

Mrs. J. H. Bennett, 59 Fountain St., Gardiner, Me., says: "My back used to trouble me so severely that at last I had to give up. I took to my bed and stayed there four months, suffering intense pain, dizziness, headache and inflammation of the bladder. Though without hope, I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, and in three months was completely cured. The trouble has never returned."

Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

NAME WAS A COMPROMISE.

Explanation of Remarkable Cognomen of Nevada Town.

A Nevada man having extensive mining claims in the goldfield region tells of a lucky strike that was made last year near Carson City, a strike that proved to be of such promise that a goodly sized camp immediately sprang up around it.

The two principal mine owners were, respectively, an Irishman and a Jew, and as a compliment to these leading citizens the camp decided to leave to them the bestowal of a suitable name upon the new community.

There followed many conferences between the two, none of which resulted in an agreement. The Irishman stood out for a name that would suggest his native isle, while the Jew was just as insistent, on his part, for a name that should be suggestive of the chosen people. This deadlock continued so long that the rest of the camp grew restless, and finally insisted that there should be a compromise. So the new camp was called "Tipperusalem."—Lippincott's.

Temporarily Indisposed.

One of the workers in a Chinese mission in Philadelphia became interested in two Chinamen who, she found, owned a flourishing laundry business in her own home neighborhood. She looked in once in awhile to see how things were going with them, and one morning found Sam smiling and cheerful, as usual, but John was missing.

"Where is John this morning?" she asked.

"Oh," answered Sam amiably, "Chilistian gen'leman hit him in the head with a brick, and he all same in bospital."

Gave It to Them Straight.

At a heavy transfer point on Sixth avenue, says a letter to the New York Times, few seats being vacant on a Twenty-third street car, a youth darted under the arm of a stout woman and plumped himself down in the seat she was about to occupy. Glaring, she hurled at him: "If I wasn't a perfect lady I'd swat you one on the mouth." Another young man arose, raised his hat, and begged her to sit down. When seated she beamed upon him and said: "Sir, you're a gentleman; them others is hogs."

Where Great Writer Lived.

Craigenputtock, where Carlyle's "Sartor Resartus" was written, has just been the scene of a notable wedding. The bride was Miss Mary Carlyle of Craigenputtock, a grand-niece of Thomas Carlyle, and the bridegroom James Carlyle, a farmer of Pingle, Dumfriesshire, a son of Thomas Carlyle's favorite nephew. Pingle is about four miles from Ecclefechan, Carlyle's birthplace, and this village is the original of the Entupbl of "Sartor Resartus."

Youthful Criminals.

Two bad little boys were standing on the street corner, when another well-dressed little boy passed on his way to the drug store to buy candy.

"Let's take his penny away from him," one bad boy suggested to the other.

"No," replied his wicked companion, "it's best to wait until he goes in and buys chocolate with it, and then we'll steal the chocolate. Wot's the use of doin' extra work?"

NO GUSHER

But Tells Facts About Postum.

"We have used Postum for the past eight years," writes a Wis. lady, "and drink it three times a day. We never tire of it.

"For several years I could scarcely eat anything on account of dyspepsia, bloating after meals, palpitation, sick headache—in fact was in such misery and distress I tried living on hot water and toast for nearly a year.

"I had quit coffee, the cause of my trouble, and was using hot water, but this was not nourishing.

"Hearing of Postum I began drinking it and my ailments disappeared, and now I can eat anything I want without trouble.

"My parents and husband had about the same experience. Mother would often suffer after eating, while yet drinking coffee. My husband was a great coffee drinker and suffered from indigestion and headache.

"After he stopped coffee and began Postum both ailments left him. He will not drink anything else now and we have it three times a day. I could write more but am no gusher—only state plain facts."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

LICE IN POULTRY

Borax Spray a Safe Preventive—Simple, Cheap, Harmless to Fowls.

"20 Mule Team" Borax was a good thing to rid poultry of lice. I had used so much inflammable Lice killers that my Poultry Houses were regular fire traps. I gave my S. C. W. Leghorn house a good spraying just two months ago. Since I have caught several hens and I found no lice. I am rid of lice and shall continue to use "20 Mule Team" Borax as a spray, also as a wash.

(Signed) MRS. B. R. BUFFHAM, Roswell, New Mexico.

MINISTER A TRIFLE MIXED UP.

Consequently There Was an Awkward Perhaps in Funeral Oration.

It was at the funeral of a man who had left his young and attractive helpmeet a widow for the third time. At the time of his death their clergyman was away on a European trip, and in this emergency the Rev. Dr. Blank was called upon.

A neighbor instructed him hastily as to the admirable qualities of the deceased, his benevolence, piety and kind disposition, and gave him various points as to his family relations. During the funeral discourse no outsider would have suspected that the clergyman had not been a lifelong friend of the dead man. When, however, he came to mention the widow in his prayer, it was evident that his data in regard to her had become a trifle confused. He said:

"And now we commend to thy care this widowed handmaid, who has been bereaved again and again and again." Then hesitating an instant, he added: "And perhaps again."

SKIN TROUBLES CURED.

First Had Itching Rash—Threatened Later With Blood-Poison in Leg—Relied on Cuticura Remedies.

"About twelve or fifteen years ago I had a breaking-out, and it itched, and stung so badly that I could not have any peace because of it. Three doctors did not help me. Then I used some Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Resolvent and began to get better right away. They cured me and I have not been bothered with the itching since, to amount to anything. About two years ago I had la grippe and pneumonia which left me with a pain in my side. Treatment ran it into my leg, which then swelled and began to break out. The doctor was afraid it would turn to blood-poison. I used his medicine but it did no good, then I used the Cuticura Remedies three times and cured the breaking-out on my leg." J. F. Hennen, Milan, Mo., May 13, 1907.

NOT DOLLARS, BUT EGGS.

First Thespian—When I was playing in Kansas City and getting my 200 a night—

Second Ditto—Hold on, there, Monty; make that five!

First Thespian—No, Jack; upon my honor—200 a night regular. Eggs are cheap there.

How It Felt.

An Irish maid in the service of a Washington family recently sought permission of her mistress to take an afternoon off for the purpose of consulting a dentist.

Upon her return, the mistress said: "Well, Rosalie, did you have the tooth filled?"

"I did, mum."

"And what did the dentist fill it with—gold or amaigam?"

"I don't know just what it was, mum; but from the way I feel, I should think it was with thunder and lightning, mum."

Nobody Else Loved Her.

In her new autumn gown she regarded her complexion complacently in the long glass.

"I must confess," she said, "that I am in love with myself."

"Then you should be happy," said her chum, tartly, "for you haven't a rival."

How often do smart clothes excite shabby remarks!

"SPOHN'S."

This is the name of the greatest of all remedies for Distemper, Pink Eye, Heaves, and the like among all ages of horses. Sold by Druggists, Harness Makers, or send to the manufacturers, $.50 and $1.00 a bottle. Agents wanted. Send for free book. Spohn Medical Co., Spec. Contagious Diseases, Goshen, Ind.

Life's Most Important Factor.

I have come to see that cleverness, success, attainment, count for little; that goodness, or character, is the important factor in life.—Romanes.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

Whether life shall be desert depends on the springs in your heart.

Use Allen's Foot-Ease Cures tired, aching, sweating feet, 25c. Trial package free. A. S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

Self-realization comes through service for social redemption.

HE REMEMBERED.

"And did your uncle remember you in his will?"

"Well, he remembered me, all right, but that was why he didn't mention me in it."

Arrange for Pure Milk.

Chicago has a medical cow. She was bought by a woman health department inspector, Dr. Caroline Hedger, to produce pure milk for desperately sick babies in a crowded tenement district, and, according to reports, this latest Chicago experiment in municipal ownership has been a great success. "I purchased the cow for the department," said Dr. Hedger. "I told Commissioner Evans I needed a cow to save the lives of the sick babies out my way, and he told me to buy one; so I did. Some friends of mine are taking care of her, milking her and taking the milk direct to the sick infants. It doesn't go through a dozen hands before it reaches the babies. We get enough milk to supply the babies of 14 families."

Immunity.

Satan had just ordered more coal thrown on the fire.

"By Tuminous!" he cussed, "but that last arrival is a tough proposition. The more I try to roast him the more he smiles."

He called the chief stoker.

"Well, what luck?" asked Satan.

The stoker shook his head.

"He's still smiling," he answered.

"Where's he from?" cried old Nick, out of patience.

"New York. He used to be a baseball umpire in—"

"Sulphurous serpents! Why didn't you say so before? Take him down; we can't fease him."—Bohemian Magazine.

A Kind Heart.

Head of Firm (to old bookkeeper)—Henry, you've worked for us for 30 years, and during that time you have been faithful and your work has been satisfactory. But you are now so old that we must replace you with a younger man. We are very grateful to you, Henry, and, of course, will do the right thing. Have you saved?

Henry—I couldn't, sir, with my large family.

"As I thought! Then I want to say to you that we shall be only too glad to keep you on for a month or so at a reduced salary until you can place yourself elsewhere."—Judge.

Filial Devotion.

A southern congressman tells of a darky in a Georgia town whose best quality is his devotion to his aged parent.

Once the congressman asked Pete why he had never married.

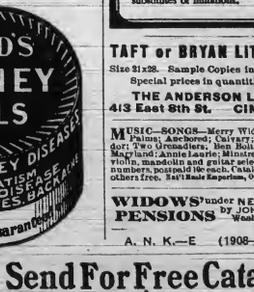
"Why, hoss," explained Pete, "Ise got an ole mudder. I had to do for her, suh. Ef I doan' buy her shoes an' stockings she doan't git none. Now, hoss, you see ef I was t' git married I'd have t' buy 'em f' mah wife, an' dat'd be takin' de shoes an' stockings right outer my ole mudder's mouf."—Harper's Weekly.

Was Used to It.

On a very hot Sunday morning James was required to accompany his father to church.

That was contrary to his inclination.

"Father," said he, "why need people go to church when it is so hot?"



"My son," his father replied, "Satan is around as much in hot weather as at any time."

"Oh," said the boy, "but Satan does not mind hot weather!"

Just That Kind.

Hewitt—What kind of a fellow is Gruet?

Jewett—Oh, if you were running for a train, he would stop you to ask if you thought Mars was inhabited.

Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna

Cleanses the System Effectually, Dispels Colds and Headaches due to Constipation; Acts naturally, acts truly as a Laxative.

Best for Men, Women and Children—Young and Old.

To get its Beneficial Effects Always buy the Genuine which has the full name of the Company

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.

by whom it is manufactured, printed on the front of every package.

SOLD BY ALL LEADING DRUGGISTS.

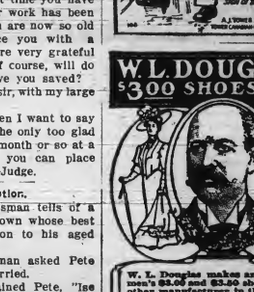
one size only, regular price 50¢ per bottle.

SICK HEADACHE

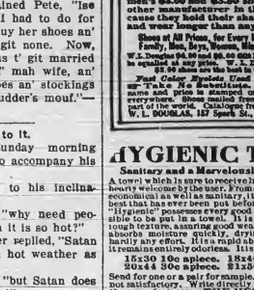
CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Positively cured by these Little Pills.

They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, TORPID LIVER. They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable.



SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRICE.



CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Genuine Must Bear Fac-Simile Signature

Brent Good

REFUSE SUBSTITUTES.

W. L. Douglas makes and sells more $3.00 and $3.50 shoes than any other manufacturer in the world, because they hold their shape, fit better, and wear longer than other shoes.

Shoes at All Prices, for Every Member of the Family, Men, Boys, Women, Misses & Children

W. L. Douglas $4.00 & $5.00 shoes cannot be equalled at any price. W. L. Douglas $2.50 and $2.25 shoes are the best in the world.

Fast Color Eyelets Used. Name and price is stamped on bottom. Sold everywhere. Shoes mailed free. Catalog to any part of the world. Catalogue free. W. L. DOUGLAS, 127 Spark St., Brockton, Mass.

HYGIENIC TOWEL

Sanitary and a Marvelously Quick Dryer

A towel which is sure to receive immediate and most hearty welcome by the user, from every point of view, economical as well as sanitary, (like by long odds the best that has ever been put before the public. The "Hygienic" possesses every good quality that is possible to be put in a towel. It is of strong, massive tough texture, assuring good wear. It is porous, and absorbs moisture quickly, drying the body with hardly any effort. It is a rapid absorber of water and it remains entirely odorless. It is made in four sizes:

15x30 10c apiece. 18x40 15c apiece.
20x44 20c apiece. 21x50 25c apiece.

Send for one or a pair for sample. Money returned if not satisfactory. Write directly to Mills, as we are the manufacturers. THE HYGIENIC MILLS, York and Howard Streets, Philadelphia, Pa.

Readers of this paper desiring to buy anything advertised in its columns should insist upon having what they ask for, refusing all substitutes or imitations.

TAFT or BRYAN LITHOGRAPHS

Size 21x28. Sample Copies in tubes, 10 cts. Special prices in quantities to Agents.

THE ANDERSON LITHO CO.
413 East 8th St. CINCINNATI, O.

MUSIC—SONGS—Merry Widow Waltz; Rosary; Palms; Anchored; Calvary; Lost Chord; Turedor; Two Grenadiers; Ben Bolt; Daddy; Leonora; Maryland; Annie Laurie; Minstrel Boy; Lullaby. Also violin, mandolin and guitar selections. Regular 30c numbers, postpaid 10c each. Catalogue containing 1000 others free. Nat'l Music Emporium, Orange St., Albany, N. Y.

WIDOWS' under NEW LAW obtained PENSIONS by JOHN W. MORRIS, Washington, D. C.

A. N. K.—E (1908—41) 2251.

Send For Free Catalogue

"How to Make Money Selling Goldfish." Makes business lively around your store when everything else fails. BIG profits and QUICK returns. Full line of aquarium supplies. Write to-day.

AUBURNDALE GOLDFISH COMPANY
51 North Peoria Street, CHICAGO, ILL.

PUTNAM FADELESS DYES

Color more goods brighter and faster colors than any other dye. One 10c package colors all fibers. They dye in cold water better than any other dye. You can dye any garment without ripping apart. Write for free booklet—How to dye, Bleach and Mix Colors. MONROE DRUG CO., Quincy, Illinois.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

FOR COUNTY JUDGE.

P. E. Cason is a candidate for Judge of the County Court of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

J. H. Walton, of Constance, is a candidate for County Judge of Boone county, subject to the Primary Election, November 3d, 1908.

Sidney Gaines is a candidate for Judge of the County Court of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November, 3, 1908.

FOR COUNTY ATTORNEY.

N E. Riddell is a candidate for County Attorney of Boone County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

FOR CLERK OF COUNTY COURT

Charles (Caddie) Maurer, of Belleview, is a candidiated for Clerk of the Boone County Court, subject to the Democratic Primary election, November 3, 1908.

Owen S. Watts, of Walton, is a candidate for Clerk of the Boone County Court, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

B. B. Allphin, of Walton, is a candidate for Clerk of the Boone County Court, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary Election November 3, 1908.

J. H Rogers, of Walton, is a candidate for Clerk of the Boone County Court, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

D. B Dobbins, of Richwood, is a candidate for Clerk of the Boone County Court, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

J. C Hankins, of Hebron, is a candidate for County Court Clerk of Boone county, subject to the Primary Election, November 3d, 1908.

FOR CIRCUIT CLERK.

J. A. Duncan, of Burlington, is a candidate for Circuit Court Clerk of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, Nov. 3d, 1908.

FOR SHERIFF.

W. D. Cropper, of Burlington, is a candidate for Sheriff of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

B. B. Hume, of Burlington, is a candidate for Sheriff of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, Novmeber 3. 1908.

FOR ASSESSOR.

R. H. Stephens, of Rabbit Hash, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1907.

John W. Williams, of Union, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

Lewis Clore, of Rabbit Hash, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election November 3, 1908.

E. C. Franks, of Big Bone, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

C. P. Robinson, of Big Bone, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election November 3, 1908.

T. G. Willis, of Bullittsville, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone county, Subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3d, 1908.

John Kelsay, of Hebron, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

Geo. W, Ward, of Rabbit Hash, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

FOR SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT.

Aimer M. Yealey, of Florence, is a candidate for superintendent of Schools of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

Elbert S. Ryle, of Burlington, is a candidate for Superintendent of Schools of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

Edgar C. Riley, of Burlington, is a candidate for Superintendent of Schools of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, Nov. 3d, 1908.

FOR JAILOR

Samuel Adams is a candidate for Jailer of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

FOR SURVEYOR.

W. E. Vest is a candidate for Surveyor of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

FOR REHRESENTATIVE.

J. W. Berkshire, of Petersburg, is a candidate for Representative of Boone county in the next Legislature, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3d. 1908.

FOR JUSTICE OF THE PEACE.

R. H. Tanner, of Florence, is a candidate for Justice of the Peace in the Magisterial District composed of the Constance and Florence voting precincts, subject to the Democratic Primary election November 3 1908.

E. O. Rouse, of Florence is a candidate for Justice of the Peace in the Magisterial District composed of the voting precincts of Constance and Florence, subject to the Democratic Primary election November 3, 1908.

J. H. Watson, of Walton, is a candidate for Justice of the Peace in the Magisterial District composed the Walton and Verona voting precincts, subject to the Democratic Primary Election November 3, 1908.

Ezekiel Ayler, of Hebron, is a candidate for Justice of the Peace in the Magisterial District composed of the voting precincts of Burlington and Bullittsville, subject to the Democratic primary election, November 3, 1908.

Temp Graves, of Bullittsville, is a candidate for Justice of the Peace in the magisterial district composed of the Burlington and Bullittsville voting precincts, subject to the Democratic primary election, Nov. 3 1908.

Clinton Gaines, of Bullittsville, is a candidate for the office of Justice of the Peace in the magisterial district composed of the voting precincts of Burlington and Bullittsville, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, Novem ber 3d 1908

Resolutions of Respect.

On September 28th, 1908, Hamilton Lodge No. 354, F. & A. M., was called by the imperious mandate of the dread messenger, Death, against whose free entrance within the circle of our fraternity neither the barred doors nor the Tyler's sword offer any impediment, who claimed for its victim our beloved brother of the mystic tie, John F. Green. Therefore be it,

Resolved, That in the death of Bro. Green, Hamilton Lodge has lost a true Mason, one that labored strenuously to help his order effect its great purposes.

That our Lodge has lost a faithful brother, and the family a devoted husband and kind father, the church a consistent member and Boone county a respected and patriotic citizen.

That while we bow in humble submission to the Divine will, we are deeply sensible of the irreparable loss sustained by our lodge, of which he was a faithful and learned member, yet we are confronted by the fact that his life work was done on the "square," that his daily walk was by the "plumb" and that he met his brother members and friends on the "level."

That we extend to the bereaved widow, family and friends, our heartfelt sympathy and realize their bereaved condition.

That a page be set apart in the record book of this lodge as a memorial to our departed brother, and these resolutions be spread thereon; that a copy be furnished the bereaved family, and the same be published in the Masonic Home Journal and the Boone County RECORDER.

Committee—J S. Noell, W. C. Johnson, R. E. Ryle.

For several weeks policy holders in the Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Company of this county, have been a much sought people by those who wanted to handle their votes by way of proxies at the annual election held last Monday. It was norated about that an effort was being made to defeat several of the old officers of the company, but when the day for the election arrived all the contests, for some reason, were off except that for Secretary, the candidates for that office being Edgar Graves, of Bullittsville, and Malchus Souther, the incumbent. Each of these came to town Monday morning with a suit case full of proxies, and the voting was begun about ten o'clock and kept up for twelve hours, which time it required to receive all the ballots. The ballots all being in the officers of the election adjourned until Tuesday morning, when the count was begun and completed about the middle of the afternoon and the following was the result:

Souther	1,494
Graves	735
Souther's majority	759

The officers elected for the ensuing year are as follows:

President, Edgar Cropper; Vice President, N. C. Tanner; Secretary, Malchus Souther; Treasurer, F. A. Utz; Assessor, James E. Smith; Directors—J. W. Conner, G. O. Cleek, L. Gaines, T. E. Garrison, Jasper Sullivan, Joe H. Walton, Chas. H. Youell.

Esq. Moses Scott, of Rabbit Hash, says that the report that he does not desire a nomination and reelection as Justice of the Peace in his district is false, that he is a candidate to be voted for at the primary election November 3.

The contests for the penants in the National League and American Association are so close that base ball fans the country over have gone crazy, while the fight for the presidency has been sidetracked for the time being.

The contest over the Democratic committeeship in Walton precinct, was settled Monday by seating T. F. Curley, who was elected committeeman, who was elected at the meeting held by the voters of his precinct.

Yesterday was a busy day with the fiscal court, a large number of the road overseers being present to make their reports and settlements, and draw the money due them on account of work done.

Mr. Ingles, Republican candidate for Congress in this district, and Hon John T. Bashaw, Republican elector, addressed a small crowd at the court house, last Monday afternoon.

Golden Blend Coffee
20c lb
BEST ON EARTH

GEO. C. GOODE,
—AGENT—
Groceries and Medicines,
N. E. Cor. Pike & Washington,
Covington, - - - Kentucky.

Money-Worth Coffee
Lb 17c
3 Lbs. 50c.
Best for the Price in Town.

FREE -:- FREE

We wish to call the attention of the public and to our patrons that we have received from the largest manufacturers in the United States an exclusfve line of

Fall and Winter Clothing

We invite the public to call and examine our Styles and Fabrics and see to their own satisfaction. Our prices are marked in plain figures and strictly ONE PRICE TO ALL. We guarantee perfect satisfaction or money refunded. We also offer to our patrons

A FINE UMBRELLA FREE

with every Man's or Young Man's Suit or Overcoat purchased at our store for the next thirty days.

The B. GROSS CLOTHING Co.
S. E. Cor. 7th & Madison Ave.,
Covington, - Kentucky,
JOHN T. SHEEHAN, Manager.

This Table taken from the Minutes of the last Session of the North Bend Association of Baptists, Contains Some Interesting Information.

STATISTICAL TABLE

CHURCHES	When Organized	Baptism	Increase Letter	Increase Restoration & Experience	Decrease Letter	Deaths	Present Membership	Pastor's Salary and Church Expenses	Value of Church Property	Missions	Orphans' Home	Ministerial Aid	Miscellaneous	Printing Minutes
Bullittsburg	1794	7				3	147	$ 150 00	$ 2,000	$ 30 00		$ 10 00		$ 50
Beelerview	1803	2				3	247	150 00	2,000	30 00		10 00		50
Sand Run	1819	10	28	4	4	6	729	8,000	60,000	800 00		50 00		2 50
Covington, First	1838					3	614	8,195 00	30,000	891 70		8 00		2 50
Burlington	1842	2	4	1	1	4	92	100 00	3,000	10 00		10 00		2 50
Big Bone Grove	1843	14	4	2	2	14	246	4,750	3,000	294 00		4 50		2 50
East Bend	1845	4	15	2	1	2	149	1,042 00	3,000	53 15		5 00		2 50
Calvary	1857	53			6	2	269	1,800 00	3,000	401 05	20 00	18 00	78 00	2 50
Walton	1860	22	4	2	1	2	288	600 00	20,000	145 57	20 00	10 00		2 50
Oak Ridge	1844	10	2	2	4	1	70	184 46	2,000	37 10	6 00	10 00	15 00	2 50
Beaver Lick	1885		2	1	1	2	122	200 00	1,000	80 00	22 35	18 25		2 50
Ludlow	1888	15	2	2	2	1	121	667 00	12,000	80 00	10 00	19 00		2 50
Immanuel	1847	25	2	2	1	2	188	1,000 00	8,500	146 98	10 00	10 00		2 50
Erlanger	1891	28	21	2	2	2	425	1,410 45	6,500	383 25	17 11	10 00		2 50
Latonia	1891	10	20	6	8	3	327	1,295 04	5,000	154 22	10 00	5 00		2 50
New Bank Lick	1891	4	1		1	3	188	1,000 00	1,000	80 00		5 00		2 50
Florence	1891	6	2	2	2	4	257	1,000 00	2,500	80 00	9 50	2 50		2 50
Union	1896	7	1		1	1	101	200 00	1,000	58 65	19 50	15 00	101 30	2 50
Gunpowder	1896	54	48	2	2	1	68	290 00	1,000	58 65				2 50
Visalia	1896	7	1		1	1	68	290 00	1,000	58 65				2 50
South Side	1906	1	2				94	290 00	1,000	58 65				2 50
Florence	1855	1					94	290 00	1,000	58 65				2 50
		281	228	40	166	88	5128	$128,650	$14,592	2,856 00	$304 60	$182 05	1,035 45	44 00

Your Town and My Town.

The advantages of one town over another are the result of the people rather than natural conditions. In any event, it was the people who first saw the natural advantages—frequently some one individual saw them first.

There is no reason why Cleveland should have been the oil center of the world. There are no oil wells there, and shipping facilities are no better than a dozen others so far as oil is concerned. It was simply John D. Rockefeller. He wanted to live there, and his personality, his individuality brought the oil to him in pipe lines.

There is no reason why Boston should be the shoe manufacturing center of the world. No hides are there—they are shipped from the west. Simply some man who knew how to make shoes on a large scale wanted to live there, and his success started others along the same line.

There is no physical reason why Chicago should have been the beef packing center. It might as well have been St. Louis. Simply old Phil Armour wanted to live there.

In nearly every town one visits you hear a resident say: "Aw, this ain't nothin' but an overgrown country town." The resident of any town who makes such a statement wears whiskers and boots in his own heart. Of course, if your town isn't sporty enough for you, why you can move—that isn't the town's fault. If you get too sporty you'll have to move anyway.

You hear people of the west in mercantile, industrial, artistic and scientific pursuits, saying: "If we were only in Chicago we could get this or do that." In Chicago you hear people say: "If we were only in New York." When you are in New York you hear them say: "If only we were in Paris."

Don't knock. Don't whine. Be a Rockefeller or an Armour to your community—help build up, and never pull down.

Several of those who will be candidates before the primary election on November, paid their entrance fees Monday.

PUBLIC SALE—I will sell for cash at public sale at 2 o'clock p. m. on Wednesday, October 14th, 1908, at my residence near Hebron, the following property: 5 wheelbarrows, 12 shovels, 14 picks, lot one and two inch lumber, lot scantling.

R. W. ROUSE.

Boone Co. Deposit Bank,
BURLINGTON, KY.
The Oldest Bank in Boone County,
PAYS 3 PER CENT. INTEREST ON TIME DEPOSITS,
With $100,000 protection to its Depositors as follows:

Capital Stock	$30,000
Surplus and Undivided Profits	40,000
Liability of Stockholders	30,000
Total Security for Depositors	$100,000

COURTESY EXTENDED TO ALL.

Bear In Mind
A Square Deal to Every Man
Is Our Motto.
We give you Honest Clothing at "Honest Prices." We give you the Style, Quality, Fit and Workmanship and we guarantee
.....OUR PRICES THE LOWEST.....
We still have a fine line of
Men's & Boys' Spring and Summer
SUITS
and it will be to your interest to examine them before buying elsewhere.

Men's Nice Suits.....$5.00, $6.00, $7.50
Men's Fine Suits.....$10.00, $12.50, $15.00, $18.00
Boys' Suits.....$4.00, $5.00, $7.50, $10.00, $12.00
Children's Suits.....$1.50 to $5.00
Fine Line of Men's Pants.....$1.00 to $5.00

Big Line of Cottonade and Camlet Pants just the thing for hot weather. We have some nice Suits in Odds and Ends which we will sell at much reduced prices.

Rolfes & Wachs,
RELIABLE CLOTHIERS,
No. 1 PIKE STREET,
Cor. Madison Ave., Covington, Ky.

You Can Always Find the
Best and Largest Stock of
Buggie, Carriage, Draft and Farm Harness
AT REASONABLE PRICES
Riding Saddles in all sizes and Styles; Horse Clothing, Flynets and Horse Boots. Also a full line of Trunks, Traveling Bags and Suit Caser at
Chas. Mahlmann, Jr.
Phone, S. 957-X
32 Pike Street, COVINGTON, KY.

W. H. CLARK
—SELLS THE—

W. L. Douglas Shoes
FOR MEN.
Coarse and Fine, Plain and Cap Toe, Lace and Blucher
—AT—
$1.50, $2.00, $2.50,
$3.00 and $3.50
—
MANY OTHER GOOD BRANDS OF
Men's and Boys' Shoes
9, 12, 14 and 16 inch Lace.
Ladies! We sell the famous Krippendorf-Dittman, Drewelby and many other good brands of Shoes.
Every Pair is Guaranteed to be worth Price Paid.
W. H. CLARK,
Two Doors above National Bank.
Rising Sun, - - Indiana.

Local News.

The leaf burning season is at hand.

The demand for stove pipe increased considerably last week.

Millions of bushels of coal at Pittsburg await a coal rise in the river.

A great many people had a severe attack of the shivers, last week.

People who came to town last week were clad in their winter apparel.

The big barbecue at Florence on the 17th inst. is all the talk the county over.

The frost has been on the pumpkin vines several mornings during the past week.

It is contended by some that the long dry period has killed much of the grass in the pastures.

Every day or so a farmer or two appears in town with the carcass of a nice, juicy shoat to sell.

The fox hunters will be in their glory again soon, and reynard will have to get up and go some.

The News says it costs less than $2 per hundred to handle the tobacco pooled in Grant county.

Mrs. Chatman, of Dayton, Ohio, a friend of Charles Robinson, called on him at the jail, last Friday.

Everybody is in search of election dope, of which there is a great variety, and a person can get any kind he desires.

James E. Smith, assessor for the Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Company, received notice of two fires in one day last week.

There was frost every morning last week, but it had very little to work on, dry weather having previously killed off vegetation.

The smallest boats have been having troubles at the bars in the river, especially at Big Bone, Belleview and Lawrenceburg.

The hunters are anticipating great sport later on this fall on account of the very large number of coveys of quails in the fields.

A large acreage of corn has been put in the shock this fall. More than common because the farmers anticipate a long season of feeding stock.

Deputy Assessor John Cloud, of Hebron, was in Burlington, last Thursday, having been out only a few days in the discharge of his official duties.

Hon. Champ Clark, the silver tongued orator of Missouri, will make an address at the Opera House, at Lawrenceburg, Saturday night, Oct. 10th at 7:30 o'clock.

When the lock and dam is completed at Home City, coal drifters from that point to Rising Sun will lose their job, while above the dam for several miles the business will not be so good as now.

Hubert and Bert Rouse hauled the iron material for the Plattsburg bridge, being the lowest bidders for the job. It is said that their bid was about 10 cents on the 100 pounds less than some of the others.

W. W. Mills, of Covington, who has the contract for constructing the iron bridge across Woolper creek at Plattsburg, came down one day last week to see how the work was progressing, and found everything going along nicely.

On an inside page of last week's RECORDER was a good article on "receiving milk at the creamery." How many read it? The inside pages of this paper contain good reading matter every week.

The Hebron Democratic Club met and reorganized, last Wednesday night, by electing Malchus Souther, president; Jake Crigler and Zeke Aylor, vice presidents, and J. D. Cloud, treasurer. The club will meet every Wednesday night.

H Healthy Family.

"Our whole family has enjoyed good health since we began using Dr. King's New Life Pills, three years ago," says L. A. Bartlet, of Rural Route, 1, Guilford, Maine. They cleanse and tone the system in a gentle way that does you good. 25c at Bentler's drug store, Erlanger.

"You seem to need rain very badly." "Yes," answered Farmer Corntossel, in a tone of patient resignation. We've done our best, but it doesn't do any good. We've given one Sunday school picnic after another, left the rockin' chairs an' hammock's an' buggies out over night an' painted all the buildings fresh. But none of the things that used to bring rain seem to work any more!"

RICHARD A. McWETHY,

Dies Suddenly at his Home in Petersburg of Heart Trouble.

Richard A. McWethy, whose sudden death at his home in Petersburg, this county, startled the citizens of his native town, was a son of Stephen McWethy who departed this life on the 17th ult. at the advanced age of 84 years.

Richard A. McWethy was born in Petersburg on March 15th, 1855, consequently his last anniversary was his 53d. He received his education in the schools at Petersburg, and when yet but a boy he was so handy about the local stores that he soon acquired a good position in one of them, where he developed into a fine business man. Merchandising being so congenial to him that he followed that branch of business until within the last few years, when he retired after a long and honorable career. He was for many years a member of the firm of Berkshire & McWethy, Hon. J. W. Berkshire being his partner and the purchaser of his interest in the business when he retired.

Richard McWethy was married twice, his first wife being Miss Mattie Lyons, who died in 1883. To them was born one child, a daughter, who survives.

In 1890 he was married to Miss Katie Weindel, who survives. To them no children were born. He was a member of Morning Star Lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, and was a faithful and loveable brother, whose counsel was always for the good of the order. The Odd Fellows had charge of the funeral, and after a short religious service at the house by Rev. Carter, a long procession of the brethren bore the remains of the one they loved in life and mourned in death, to the vault in Petersburg cemetery, where after the funeral ceremony of the order, they were deposited in the vault to await final interment.

In the death of R. A. McWethy a loving and devoted father and husband, and a worthy member of society has been taken away, a void created that will not soon be supplied. He was an honest, courageous and obliging man, whose memory will be cherished by all who knew him.

The weather boss has certainly discovered this year how little he knows about weather conditions, and how much easier it is to make a wrong than a correct prediction. The drought would have been broken up several weeks ago had the weather forecasts been fulfilled by a higher power than he who made them.

The frosts last week ruined hundreds of bushels of tomatoes that would have been ready for the canneries in a few days. The drought and the frost made the tomato crop very short in this part of the country, and the local canneries output will not be half so large as that of last year.

The enormous ricks of stone the Belleview and Burlington turnpike company has at three or four points along its road attracts the attention of all who go over the road. When crushed and spread the present nice condition of the highway will be marred for some time.

Mrs. Nancy Rouse, widow of the late Thomas Rouse, of Crittenden, died last week in Philadelphia, where she was visiting her sister. The remains were brought back to Crittenden, Grant county, where they were interred last Sunday.

The high price of coal oil and gasoline is explainable when it is understood what immense sums the Standard Oil Company has been paying for United States Senators. They come high but the Standard must have them in its business.

Over 27,000 hogs were handled in the Louisville market during last week, an increase of 1,000 over the receipts for the week previous, which was the heaviest week's receipts in the past two years.

Jailer Sammie Adams was out early Monday morning providing water for the court day crowd.

Mrs. G. C. Hughes visited her daughter, Mrs. Earl Walton, at Petersburg, last Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Babe Riddell, after a three months' visit with her sister, Mrs. Latimer, in Missouri, returned home last Saturday.

Fred Bentler, a member of the drug firm of Bentler Bros., Erlanger, will locate in Denver, Colorado, in the next few weeks.

Lost—Between my gate and J. E. Smith's, brakeblock and casting off road wagon. Finder please notify L. T. Clore, Burlington.

For Sale—Buggy and surrey and good, safe family horse. Both vehicles in good condition. Apply to John Stephens, Bullittsville.

Several of the candidates were in town at an early hour, Monday morning; to give the people the glad hand upon their arrival.

To acquire an idea of the magnitude of the work the government is doing in the Ohio river at Fern Bank, it is necessary to visit it.

Nobody is bragging about what fine potatoes they are digging this fall. They may bring $2 or $2.50 a bushel before another crop is produced.

Several of R. A. McWethy's Burlington friends attended the funeral last Friday. He was admired by everybody in Burlington who knew him.

Some people are badly mistaken as to what will be the final result in the national election or there is a great deal of monumental lying going on.

For Sale—Between 400 and 500 bushels Maggie Murphy potatoes. Apply to Henry Afterkirk, 3 miles south of Union. Phone 207, Consolidated.

Falmouth fair struck unpropitious weather, last week, but not so bad as it would have been had it rained all the time the fair was in progress.

Rising Sun people are talking railroad again, but many of them are from Missouri on that question, they having experienced so many disappointments.

A couple of Burlingtonites struck Taylorsport about 7 p. m., last Sunday, and the fanning bee that was in progress made them think they had landed in Burlington.

Esquire Clinton Gaines announces this week for a nomination and reelection to the office of Justice of the peace in the Burlington and Bullittsville district.

So far there has been no complaints of any of the candidates showing an inclination to violate the iron clad order under which they are making the canvass.

There seems to be no prospect for winter apples, or nuts, but kershaws, pumpkins and sweet potatoes are extra fine, the dry weather causing them to retain their sweetness.

The latter part of last week the foliage on the maple trees in Petersburg, was green and healthy, and only an occasional leaf had fallen, while many maple trees in the hills had cast off a large per cent of their leaves.

E. T. Krutz, of Petersburg, is thoroughly established in his cozy business block, while Berkshire & Sons, with Edward Stott as assistant, have things about their mercantile departments looking neat as a new pin.

Thomas Rouse, who lives near town, has built a silo, which he will fill in a few weeks. It is the first silo in this part of the county, and Mr. Rouse's experience will determine what other farmers hereabouts will do along that line.

Mr. E. B. Porter, son of the late Gov. A. G. Porter, of Indiana, was a guest at the Boone House, last Sunday night. Mr. Porter was here once before several years ago, seeking information in regard to his family, with a view to the preparation of a family history.

Mr. John Stephens and daughter, Miss Lizzie, after a few months' residence in Erlanger, moved back to Bullittsville neighborhood, last week. In about two weeks they will leave for Missouri, where they will spend the winter with Mr. Stephens' sons and daughters there. They expect to extend their visit to Colorado Springs, to visit Mr. and Mrs John Gaines.

There has been considerable coal gathered in the last few weeks off the bars along the river. Horses and plows have been used in many instances for bringing the fuel to the vertex. Many claim that "drowned" coal is superior in quality to anyother, but why a lump of interior coal should be improved by a sojurn at the bottom of the river has not been explained. It may be that the best coal is the only kind that figures in wrecks.

BASE BALL.

The Burlington base ball team visited Petersburg, last Saturday afternoon, where it was given a decisive drubbing. Alloway had the boys guessing all the way through the game, the features of which were Alloway's pitching, Slayback's home run and Conner's running catch with one hand.

In the first inning Burlington went out in one, two, three order, but in its half Petersburg got in some stick work, Arnold, Vessemyer and Aylor each making a hit, which, assisted by an error gave the home team three runs. In the second inning Clore landed a single and Conner a two bagger, and Sandford scored. Petersburg failed, as did both teams in the third inning. In the fourth inning Slayback made a home run, and Petersburg nothing. It was now even Stephen. In the fifth inning Petersburg landed on Brady for three singles and a double, which, with a passed ball and an error, netted four runs, which cinched the victory for the home team. In the next four innings Burlington got a base on balls and made three hits but they were distributed one to an inning yielded nothing. After the fifth inning Petersburg made only one hit off of Brady.

Petersburg	2	0	0	0	4	0	0	0	*	—6
Hits	3	0	0	1	4	1	0	0	*	—9
Burlington	0	1	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	—2
Hits	0	2	0	1	0	0	1	1	1	—6

Base hits by Burlington—Slayback, Clore, Sandford 2; by Petersburg—L. Aylor, Arnold, Vessenmyer 2, F. Aylor 2, Alloway 2; two base hits—Conner, Arnold; home run—Slayback; struck out by Alloway 8, by Brady 3. Umpires—Pink and Smith.

Burlington defeated a picked nine 16 to 0, Monday.

Petersburg and Burlington will play the rub game at Burlington park next Saturday afternoon.

Following are the officers of election for this county the present year. They were appointed by the county election commissioners at their recent meeting:

Burlington—George Blyth, John Cloud, judges; C. C. Craven, clerk; Otto Crisler, sheriff.

Bullittsville—Fred Pfalzgraf, Wm Battersom, judges; Charles McFee, clerk; Julius Utzinger, sheriff.

Belleview—John Rogers, John Smith, judges; G. W. Kite, Clerk; W. B. Arnold, sheriff.

Beaver—Joe Cleek, John Lockhart, judges; Geo. Oesman, clerk; Henry Underbill, sheriff.

Constance—J. A. Riddell, B. F. Hood, judges; W. E. Walton, clerk; F. Zimmer, jr., sheriff.

Carlton—R. T. Stephens, Ben C. Stephens, judges; J. Colon Kelly, clerk; Joe Walton, sheriff.

Florence—J. G. Allen, W. H. Rice, judges; L. E. Tompson, clerk; W. P. Carpenter, sheriff.

Hamilton—F. M. Moore, George Black, judges; Hays Miller, clerk; John L. Jones, sheriff.

Petersburg—James Loder, John Botts, judges; W. T. Stott, clerk; Morton Christy, sheriff.

Union—James A. Huey, John Q. Elstun, judges; L. H. Voshell, clerk; Sam Hicks, sheriff.

Verona—Charles Waller, John Williford, judges, J. C. Hume, clerk; Geo. Roberts, sheriff.

Walton—E. K. Stephens, A. M. Edwards, judges; Moseby Allen, clerk; W. H. Tillman, sheriff.

There was considerable excitement at Constance, last Sunday, when it was supposed they had a colored horse thief in custody there. Some one had telephoned there to look out for a negro who had stolen a horse. The negro had been seen to cross the river, and the police headquarters in Cincinnati was notified and it was not long before the supposed thief was brought back to Constance, but as the parties who had caused the arrest failed to put in their appearance to identify the property, the negro, who protested that he was innocent, was released and went on his way with the animal.

Our telephone people are greatly annoyed by continual complaints of the conduct of persons who go to their 'phones and deliberately take down the receiver and "rubber in" on other peoples affairs—listening to private conversations uninvited, the speakers not knowing at the time that they are being eavedropped. Don't do this. It is very indelicate and unrefined.—Ex.

Would Mortgage the Farm.

A farmer on Rural Route 2, Empire, Ga., W. A. Floyd by name, says: "Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured the two worst sores I ever saw; one on my hand and one on my leg. It is worth more than its weight in gold. I would not be without it if I had to mortgage the farm to get it." Only 25c at Bentler's drug store, Erlanger.

Messrs. Harry Stephens, of Latonia, and Macoln Newkirk, of Butler, cousin and brother respectively of Mrs. Allie Stith, are her guests.

Two Mormons held a street meeting in Burlington last evening. They spoke about an hour.

Special Shoe Sale.

Our Fall and Winter Stock of Shoes will soon begin to arrive. We must make room for them and therefore will make very

LOW PRICE FOR STOCK ON HAND.

Men's Heavy Shoes at	$2.00	former price	$3.00
Men's Light Shoes at	2.50	former price	3.50
Ladies' Shoes at	1.00	former price	2.00
Children's Shoes at	75c	former price	1.50

We have not room for more prices, but call on us and we will give you some genuine

SHOE BARGAINS.

W. M. Rachal & Co

Union, Kentucky.

PERFECT BIFOCALS AT LAST.

Bifocal lenses have been undergoing constant and rapid improvement for the last 10 years, until now we have the perfect bifocal.

It is ground in one piece and perfectly smooth; no cement used and no lines visible Call and see them. They are the finest made.

N. F. Penn, M. D. with Motch, Jeweler,

613 Madison Avenue, - - - COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

Phone, South 912-Y.

SCOTT CHAMBERS,

WALTON, KY.

Embalmer & Funeral Director.

LIVERY, BOARDING & SALE STABLE.

First Class Rigs for Hire at All Times.

Dealer in High Class Harness and Saddle Horses.

Raymond City Coal for sale at all times.

Hay, Grain, Mill Feed,

ALWAYS KEPT ON HAND.

Highest Market Price paid for Grain.

Fancy and Staple

GROCERIES.

I also have a nice and complete line of Fancy and Staple Groceries and canned goods.

WIRE AND FENCING, AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS, Buggies, Carriages all kinds Fertilizer

Owen S. Watts,

(Successor to R. B. HUEY & CO.)

WALTON, - - KENTUCKY.

H. G. BLANTON,

Funeral Director & Embalmer

LIVERY, BOARDING and FEED STABLE.

First-class Carriages for hire with careful Drivers for Families, Parties, Weddings, Etc.

I Have a Nice White Funeral Car.

Lexington Pike, - - - ERLANGER, KY

Dealers with J. C. REVILL, Burlington, Ky.

Geo. W. Hill & Co.,

Grocers, Commission & SEED Merchants.

Tested Field and Garden Seeds.

Finest Brands and Grades of FERTILIZERS, LIME CEMENT AND SALT.

Largest and Best Stock of

GROCERIES IN THE CITY.

Sole Agents for the Celebrated

RARUS and GEM Brands of FLOUR.

When in the City it will pay you to come and see us

27 & 29 Pike Street. (Phone South 55) 26 & 28 W. Seventh Street

COVINGTON, KENTUCKY.

THE RECORDER.

W. L. RIDDELL, Publisher.

BURLINGTON. - KENTUCKY

Competition and Justice.

The day seems to have come for consideration of the question whether the present organization of the stock exchanges is such as to insure public confidence, fair play and absolute security to honest clients, or whether some degree of intervention by the government to secure these results is required, writes Charles A. Conant in Atlantic. Speculation is legitimate, and will go on increasing in volume with the growth in the wealth of the country and in the quantity of negotiable securities. To interfere with it without warrant is to tie a ball and chain to the limbs of national economic progress. But more and more, with the growing complication of the mechanism of finance, is growing up a sentiment for such supervision of this mechanism as shall insure its safe and honest working. From the smoke and dust of battle between vested interests seeking economic freedom, and the state seeking to protect the individual against errors of judgment and false statemens, emerges the principle so well stated by the eminent capitalist, Thomas F. Ryan, in an article in the Independent, that "it is right that competition between men should be brought within constantly narrower and narrower rules of justice."

Bishop Brent's Decision.

Bishop Brent has raised himself greatly in popular estimation by his announcement of his determination to refuse the Washington offer of the bishopric, and to return to his hard and important labors in the Philippines, says the Boston Advertiser. This may be said without implying that a different decision would have lowered him in popular estimation. Had he decided that under the conditions of his health or for other reasons he should accept the call to Washington, there could be questioning of his sincerity or his courage. His record stands proof against unworthy insinuations. He has done great work in the islands. He would do valuable work at Washington. This because he is a forceful, honest, energetic man. His determination to go back to his work, to build a firmer structure on the sound foundation he has laid in the Philippines, will, however, endear him to the hearts of all who admire courage and thoroughness. Bishop Brent, never in danger of losing his position before the world, has now achieved one that will stand long in history as an example of personal unselfishness.

The World's Wheat Supply.

The possibilities in increasing the world's supply of wheat, as well as that of the United States, are manifold and impossible of estimation, declares the Century Magazine. Vast regions of land in South America, North Africa and Asia are awaiting the demand for "still more wheat" which shall bring to them the steel plow and the self-binder, and cause them to yield a food-product sufficient to feed a new population of untold millions. And were modern agricultural implements and agricultural knowledge in the hands of the Russian and European peasants, another addition, the extent of which can hardly be guessed, could be made to the world's wheat supply.

Some time ago a thoughtful correspondent wrote to a leading newspaper that if a man on rising and on going to bed each day would repeat the words "I will be rich," with an emphasis on the "will," he would be rich in time; but now a man writes to say he has tried the advice punctiliously, but is not one cent the richer. Ah, there's the rub, "punctiliously!" He was not fervent enough, says the Boston Herald, he did not implore, beseech, insist on becoming rich, and he did not even add "good" or "honest," to his "punctilious" demand of fortune. Had he done so the powers might have been placated.

Reports of a great decrease in the death-rate among the babies this year come from New York city; yet it has been a trying summer. The lives saved are the fruits of the labors of the tenement-house commission, the city health department and the warfare of the Merchants' association committee against the house-fly. We are learning slowly that the protection of life, which government regards as its business, means protection against the murderous armies of germs that live in the predaceous empire of dirt.

Physiognomists—and common people should be interested to compare the portraits of Admiral Lord Charles Beresford, commander-in-chief of the Channel fleet, Admiral Sir John [illegible] first sea lord, and Admiral [illegible] Evans of the American [illegible] faces are all of the same [illegible] keen, corners of the [illegible] eyes dead ahead—the [illegible] action, as somebody [illegible] of a portrait of Ad[illegible]

EVANS' SON ACCUSED

HE WILL BE TRIED BY COURT MARTIAL AT MANILA.

CHARGES VERY SERIOUS

Philippine Capital Greets the Atlantic Fleet—Great Water Parade Is Followed by Formal Calls.

Manila.—Lieut. Frank Taylor Evans of the battleship Louisiana and Lieut. Charles Burt of the battleship Georgia, will be tried before a special court-martial board which will assemble on the battleship Wisconsin Monday.

The charges against Lieut. Evans are for being absent from his station while acting as chief of the deck, using profane and disrespectful language to a superior officer and intoxication. The charges against Lieut. Burt are for "conduct unbecoming an officer and gentleman."

Lieut. Evans denies the charge of intoxication and says that he will offer the testimony of a number of witnesses to prove that he has been sober and quite fit for duty.

Rear Admiral as Chairman.

Rear Admiral Seton Schroeder of the battleship Wisconsin will act as president of the court.

Lieut. Frank Taylor Evans, is the son of Admiral Robley Evans, who took the battleship fleet from Hampton Roads to the Pacific coast.

Midshipman Richard Bernard of the battleship Louisiana was tried before a court-martial board at Albany, Australia, and the sentence was dismissal from the service. Bernard was found guilty of being under the influence of liquor while on parade in Melbourne.

Midshipman Edward H. Connor of the battleship Minnesota will be tried on the charge of being under the influence of liquor while at Albany, Australia. Capt. Hugo Osterhause of the battleship Connecticut acted as president of the court which sentenced Midshipman Bernard.

Fleet in Double Column.

Fresh from a triumphant reception in Australian ports, and with their cruise around the world two-thirds accomplished, the 16 battleships of the American fleet, which started from Hampton Roads last December, were anchored in double column Saturday off the breakwater close to the Luneta, whence a splendid view of the warships was obtainable Friday night.

After the fleet had come to anchor, thousands of residents of the islands crowded every available spot commanding a view of the anchorage and the general air of expectancy and excitement added to the eager interest that has attended the fleet's coming.

Noisy Welcome for Fleet.

Thousands of persons Saturday thronged the Luneta, or public square, which was brilliantly illuminated. A band concert with a spirited program and selections by the bugle corps of the Ninth cavalry were features of the entertainment provided for the crowds. From the harbor the long line of lights, marking the berths of the warships, twinkled in response to the blaze of electric illumination on shore, and as it grew later the buzz and hum of clattering crowds settled into the stillness of the tropical night.

There were no exchanges of formal calls with the shore until Saturday. After the water parade in the morning, in which all Manila participated, Gov. Smith called upon Admiral Sperry, who later landed and returned the call, also paying his respects to Maj. Gen. Weston, commanding the troops stationed in Manila.

Rear Admiral Sperry has finally decided not to land any men here and to maintain a practical quarantine of the ships during their stay. The officers will be allowed brief shore liberty under close restrictions.

Lively Day in Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, Pa.—Over a score of men, women and children were injured, some of them so painfully that treatment at the various hospitals was necessary, during the great historical and industrial pageant Thursday in celebration of Pittsburg's sesqui-centennial anniversary. It is estimated that over 300,000 persons lined the route of the parade. At night the streets of the city were crowded with gay masqueraders.

Minnesota Town Burned.

St. Cloud, Minn.—Foley, the county seat of Benson county, Minn., a village of 1,000 people, was practically destroyed by fire. The place has little fire protection, only a gasoline engine. Owing to strong winds, the fire spread rapidly. St. Cloud was appealed to for aid, but could do nothing. The loss is estimated at $75,000.

Cloudburst Drowns Eight.

Manila.—A belated official telegram has just been received here which reports that a cloudburst struck the penal colony at Iwahig and that eight persons were drowned, including Harold MacKnight, the superintendent of the farm.

Boat Sunk to Extinguish Fire.

Mobile, Ala.—Fire broke out at two o'clock Friday afternoon in the after hold of the Mallory line steamer Rio Grande, loading at her docks, and it was necessary to flood the after hold to extinguish the flames. The Rio Grande sank soon down.

Commander Bernadou Dies.

Washington.—Commander John G. Bernadou, American naval attache of the embassies at Rome and Vienna, died of typhoid fever in a New York hospital Friday.

THE PARAMOUNT PROBLEM.

MORE GOULD CASE BRIBERY

HOTEL EMPLOYE TOLD PRIEST OF BEING OFFERED $2,000.

Wife Submits Affidavit Defending Herself Against Charge of Drunkenness Made by Husband.

New York. — That $2,000 had been offered an employe of the Hotel St. Regis to give false testimony against Mrs. Howard Gould was the substance of an affidavit, purporting to have been made by Rev. Father Joseph J. Murray, which was presented to Justice Giegerich in the supreme court Friday.

The case came up before the justice on a motion to strike out certain allegations in Mrs. Gould's complaint in her suit for a separation from her husband, as scandalous and irrelevant. Mrs. Gould's counsel opposed the motion and presented several affidavits in which it was charged that certain witnesses had been hired to testify in favor of Mr. Gould. The affidavit of Father Murray was one of the papers presented. It declares that Michael H. Doody had told the priest that while he was employed at the Hotel St. Regis where Mrs. Gould lived, a detective went to him with the proposition that he "give a proper report of Mrs. Gould's comings and goings at the hotel, the amount of wine she drank and the names of her visitors, notably those of them that were men."

Another affidavit, made by Maurice Molloy, alleges that Molloy was under contract, while custodian of Castle Gould at Port Washington, to treat Mrs. Gould in a contemptuous fashion. The lawyer for Mrs. Gould recited how it was alleged that Molloy had gone into the house, sat on divans and puffed cigarette smoke in Mrs. Gould's face when she ordered him out of the house.

An affidavit submitted by Mrs. Gould in reply to allegations of her husband that she is addicted to the use of intoxicating liquors, says:

"When living in the country and spending most of my time in the open air, I have drunk a cocktail on sitting down to luncheon, and generally a glass of white wine with luncheon. At dinner, whenever I felt like it, I drank a cocktail and a glass of champagne. We were always accustomed to have wine served at these meals, but that was the extent of my drinking."

Bulgaria Prepares for War.

London.—A news agency dispatch from Sofia says it is officially announced there that M. Malinoff, president of the council, has telegraphed Prince Ferdinand, who is making a tour of Europe, requesting him to return to Sofia. The message is said to indicate the urgency of the situation. It is stated that Prince Ferdinand received the telegram and that his immediate return is expected. All the factories capable of supplying war material, the dispatch adds, are working day and night and preparations for mobilization are being openly pushed forward.

Mine Workers' Secretary Resigns.

Pittsburg, Pa.—Announcement was made here Thursday that W. D. Ryan, national secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers of America, had tendered his resignation and will accept the position of commissioner of arbitration of the Southwestern Coal Operators' association.

Gen. J. E. Summers Dies.

Washington.—Word has been received here of the death Thursday at Atlantic City, N. J., of Brig. Gen. J. E. Summers of the Army Medical corps.

Six Men Killed in Collision.

Portland, Ore.—A logging train belonging to the Chapman Logging Company at Scappoose, 20 miles north of Portland, was in collision with a Northern Pacific train Thursday. Six of the crew of the logging train were killed and eight injured.

Dr. Mann Is Elected Bishop.

Washington.—Dr. Alexander Mann of Plymouth Episcopal church, Boston, was Thursday night elected bishop of the Protestant diocese of Washington on the seventh ballot.

OPPOSE DR. KOCH'S THEORY.

Experts Dislike His Human-Bovine Ideas.

Washington. — Pronounced opposition to the theory advanced by Dr. Robert Koch, the eminent German scientist, who minimizes the danger of human infection from bovine tuberculosis, and who declares that the tubercle bacilli of bovine tuberculosis are different from those of human tuberculosis, developed itself at Friday's session of the International Congress on Tuberculosis. The controversy occurred in the section on "The Prevalence and Economics on Tuberculosis of Animals," and the German scientist's theories were combated by some of the most prominent veterinary physicians in the United States. Leaders in the opposition to the Koch theory were Dr. Otto G. Noack of Reading, Pa.; D. Arthur Hughes of Cornell university; C. J. Marshall of Philadelphia; H. Reno Reynolds of the University of Minnesota, and Veranus A. Moore of Ithaca, N. Y.

LORD ROSSLYN IS DEFEATED.

His Roulette System Proved Fallacious by Sir Hiram Maxim.

London.—The unique gambling contest between Sir Hiram Maxim and Lord Rosslyn came to an end Tuesday afternoon and shows defeat for the system advanced by the latter.

Lord Rosslyn claimed that by his system of playing it was possible to win at roulette against the Monte Carlo bank. Sir Hiram said this was impossible, and in order to settle the controversy the two men began playing roulette in a Picadilly club, Sir Hiram conducting the game in the same way it is played at Monte Carlo. Lord Rosslyn started to play with $50,000 in "dummy" money and the bank had an equal amount. Lord Rosslyn's system has been proved to be utterly fallacious.

DAVIS HELD FOR MURDER.

Suspect in Rustin Case Released on $10,000 Bail.

Omaha, Neb.——Following a five-days' legal battle before Police Judge Crawford, Charles Edward Davis was bound over to the district court Tuesday to answer the charge of murder in the first degree for the killing of Dr. Frederick Rustin on the morning of September 2. Bail was fixed at $10,000, which was promptly furnished by two brothers of the defendant, and the accused man was permitted to go, although he will remain in charge of a guard which has been retained by the Davis family.

Carload of Abandoned Children.

St. Paul, Minn.—A carload of 60 bright-looking boys and girls from New York reached St. Paul Wednesday. The unusual consignment was made up of children who had been deserted by their parents and had been sheltered in the foundling hospital of the metropolis. They are being taken to the Dakotas, where homes have been found for them among the farmers. On their arrival here about 35 of the children were transferred to a Soo line coach to be taken to point along that road in North Dakota.

Nebraska Bank Robbed.

Fairfield, Neb.—The State bank at Deweese was dynamited and robbed early Friday. All the cash, about $2,500, was taken. Tools were taken from a railroad tool-house to make an opening through the brick walls of the vault, after which the steel safe was blown open. The number of the bandits and their way of coming and going is entirely unknown.

Big Blaze at Winthrop Beach.

Boston.—A brisk fire broke out in the summer colony at Winthrop Beach at 11:30 o'clock Friday night. Crest Hall, a summer hotel accommodating 75 guests, and the Ocean house were soon in flames, and a large number of cottages near by were threatened.

Illinois Banker Is Indicted.

Peoria, Ill.—James W. Potter, cashier of a private bank at [illegible] Ill., indicted Friday on [illegible] charges of receiving deposits after he knew [illegible] was insolvent.

REYNOLDS ELECTED HEAD

CHICAGOAN MADE PRESIDENT BY BANKERS AT DENVER.

Proposition to Establish Postal Savings Banks Condemned in Resolutions Adopted by Financiers.

Denver, Col.—The thirty-fourth annual convention of the American Bankers' association came to an end Thursday afternoon with the election of George M. Reynolds of Chicago, president, and Lewis E. Pierson of New York, first vice-president.

Thirty-eight new members were announced and a vice-president representing each of the states having representatives in the association was named.

The convention also placed itself squarely on record as against both the proposition to guarantee bank deposits and that to establish postal savings banks.

A lively discussion occurred over the report of the federal legislative committee opposing these plans. The resolution offered by the committee, however, contained a condemnation of the guarantee law only, making no mention of the postal savings banks. A fight led by Clifton R. Breckenridge of Arkansas was made to include condemnation of postal savings banks in the same resolutions.

An amendment to the resolution was offered substituting the words "it is a delusion that the tax upon the strong will prevent the failure of the weak," for section 8 as reported, which read: "It unjustly weakens the strong and unfairly strengthens the weak banks." The amendment was adopted and the report of the committee with its resolution was then carried without a dissenting voice.

Mr. Breckenridge then offered the following resolution, which was also adopted with only two or three dissenting votes:

"That the American Banking association condemns as unwise and hurtful all proposals to establish postal savings banks."

Nearly two hours were consumed with the reports of vice-presidents from the several states, the consensus of which was that the effects of the recent panic are rapidly passing away throughout the country.

FUTILE ATTEMPT TO ROB BANK.

Yeggmen Use Dynamite in Cogswell, N. D., and Then Flee.

Cogswell, N. D.—Citizens, aroused at 1:15 a. m. Wednesday by three distinct explosions, poured out from their homes to find that yeggmen had blown off the front door of the safe in the Sargent County State bank, but had fled before they secured any loot. The robbers stole a handcar at Nicholson on the Soo road and came here upon it. They transferred the car to the Milwaukee line and used it to make their escape. They abandoned the car near Newark, S. D., and attempted to conceal it in a cornfield. The authorities have sent to Bismarck for hounds to track the fugitives and posses are out after them.

MICHIGAN OFFICIALS OUSTED.

Collector and Special Agent at Port Huron Removed.

Washington.—As the result of a report made by the civil service commission, President Roosevelt late Friday removed Lincoln Avery, collector of the port at Port Huron, Mich., and also directed the removal of Charles H. Dailey, special agent of the treasury at that place. The civil service committee found proof of charges of serious violations of the rules and regulations in regard to campaign assessments, which also involved, on the part of Special Agent Dailey, "pernicious activity in politics."

Big Strike Has Collapsed.

Winnipeg, Man.—Indications are that the Canadian Pacific railroad mechanics' strike has collapsed. Bell Hardy, who has been conducting the strike from Montreal, arrived in this city Tuesday to confer with Vice-President Whyte, and if possible arrange for the men to be taken back. It is understood that a message was received from the International Labor Federation at Washington advising the men to approach the company immediately with a view to going back.

Can't Take Liquor from Depot.

Lawton, Okla. — It is a violation of the prohibition law for a transfer man or any other person to convey liquor from the railroad depot. Liquor shipped from without the state ceases to be interstate commerce after it leaves the carrier's hands. This is the opinion of Judge J. H. Wolverton of the county court, announced in a liquor case here Wednesday.

Powder House Blows Up.

Spencer, N. C.—Two lives were lost and 20 or more persons were injured in Spencer Thursday night by the explosion of a powder storage house on the yards of the Southern Railway Company, and most of the buildings near by were damaged by the shock and the fire which followed.

Georgian Dies on Shipboard.

Tokio.—H. P. Smart of Savannah, Ga., died September 24 on board the steamer Mongolian, while en route to this city to visit his daughter, the wife of Dr. Fuehr, secretary of the German embassy. Mr. Smart's death was due to double pneumonia.

Fatal Runaway Accident.

St. Louis.—Mrs. C. H. Shea of Hamilton, Ont., and her husband were injured, the former probably fatally, in a runaway accident near Florrissant [illegible]

CALLED FOR SOME PUNISHMENT.

Prisoner Altogether Too Deliberate for Life in Arizona.

Arizona Judge (to defendant in an assault-and-battery case)—You say the complainant called you a liar and horse thief at least a dozen times before you knocked him down, eh?

Defendant—Yes, sir.

Judge—He said you were a coward and quitter?

Defendant—He did.

Judge—All right. I'll let you off on the assault charge; but—don't be in a hurry, mister—I reckon I'll have to fine you just about $50 for not knocking him down sooner! The sheriff will take you in tow and see that you cough up the dust before you pass out.—Illustrated Sunday Magazine.

Push-and-Pull Exercise.

One of the fat-inclined men of New York has a novel method of keeping himself in fine fettle. It is a push-and-pull exercise. In the basement of his home, which has a level concrete floor, he has installed several wheeled objects. One is a safe weighing two tons. Another is a box of chains that used to belong on a Staten Island ferry boat as a balance; it weighs 9,000 pounds. Still another is a cast-off bullion cart that used to do duty in the assay office; it weighs 1,000 pounds, but may be loaded with pig iron up to 15,000 pounds. The exercise consists in pulling and pushing these vehicles over the floor, and, judging by the development of our friend, it is effective. His general strength is prodigious, and there is no muscle-binding.—New York Press.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury, as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists, Price, 75c. per bottle.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

A Warning.

Handsome Percy Hasbrooke, the young chauffeur, drew the girl more closely to him.

"All the world loves a lover, dearest," he whispered.

But Lotta Golde's red lip curled somewhat skeptically.

"You haven't interviewed papa yet, Percy," she warned him.

With an ominous moaning sound the great car sped on.

Important to Mothers.

Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA a safe and sure remedy for infants and children, and see that it

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

In Use For Over 30 Years.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Reason.

He that will not reason is a bigot; he that cannot reason is a fool; and he that dares not reason is a slave.—Henry Drummond.

WOMAN'S BACKACHE

The back is the mainspring of woman's organism. It quickly calls attention to trouble by aching. It tells, with other symptoms, such as nervousness, headache, pains in the loins, weight in the lower part of the body, that a woman's feminine organism needs immediate attention.

In such cases the one sure remedy which speedily removes the cause, and restores the feminine organism to a healthy, normal condition is

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

Mrs. Will Young, of 6 Columbia Ave., Rockland, Me., says:

"I was troubled for a long time with dreadful backaches and a pain in my side, and was miserable in every way. I doctored until I was discouraged and thought I would never get well. I read what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for others and decided to try it; after taking three bottles I can truly say that I never felt so well in my life."

Mrs. Augustus Lyon, of East Earl, Pa., writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I had very severe backaches, and pressing-down pains. I could not sleep, and had no appe[illegible]ham's Vegetable Compound cured me and made me feel like a new woman."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration.

R SEVENTY YEARS

...rophet. Talleth of ...

...AND BYWAY"

...Author, W. B. Edens.)

...ority—Jeremiah 29, 10-14; and chapter ...

SERMONETTE.

...time of the return of the ... from their captivity at ...abylon was definitely fixed and ...ade known by God to his prophet Jersmiah, and through him to the people.

When God so graciously reveals his "times and seasons" to man, it is that they may get into step with the Divine program and falter not in faith until promise becomes reality.

How wonderful and reassuring is the thought that after all that man can say or do the fact remains that this old world is in the control of the infinite and is being run according to the schedule set by God away back in the beginning of time.

Man's iniquity may confuse and obscure. His disobedience to the Divine will and law may hinder and delay, but they cannot stay for one moment the unfolding of the larger purposes of God for the world.

"Seventy years," God said, and 70 years it was.

But God does not always reveal the definite time of his movements, and it were folly for man to try to penetrate the veil of the unknown and learn the secret schedule.

Christ is coming again, but "of that day and that hour knoweth no man, no, not the angels which are in heaven, neither the Son, but the Father."

Therefore watch!

The "thus saith the Lord," which declares the promise of the return and fixes the date on which the wonderful explanation: "For I know the thoughts that I think toward you, thoughts of peace and not of evil, to give you an end and an expectation."

And the unfolding of God's plan for the world since then has gloriously confirmed and established this declaration.

"Thoughts of peace and not of evil." God extends to the world thorugh his Son the olive branch of peace. Whose fault will it be if that olive branch refused becomes at last the avenging sword of God's judgment against evil?

THE STORY.

"LAST off but not forever. Surely, thy love is toward thy wayward people of Israel, O God."

The words were spoken in an ecstasy of religious fervor, and the prophet Jeremiah arose as he spoke, and going to the open door, he looked out across the landscape towards the east. But as he stood there he did not seem to be studying the scene which stretched in all its beauty before him. His eyes seemed only to be looking into space, as though striving to penetrate to regions beyond the range of his vision.

"Ah," he broke out at last, "my brethren over there shall find comfort in this message, and the mouths of the false prophets will be stopped. The captivity is hard, and those whom Nebuchadnezzar has carried to Babylon yearn for Jerusalem, but there can be no return until God opens the way. God has revealed his purpose and has fixed the date," and again the prophet relapsed into silence.

It was before the complete destruction of Jerusalem and after Nebuchadnezzar had visited the city and had carried off many of the elders of the people, the priests and the best of the people. Jeremiah had been suffered to remain behind in Jerusalem, and he had striven to bring the people of the city into the spirit of submission to the judgments which were falling upon the nation.

Word had come to him not many days before that certain Jews had passed from Jerusalem to their brethren in captivity saying that they brought a message from the Lord that the captive Jews were soon to return and help strengthen the hands of their brethren in preventing their beloved city of Jerusalem from falling into the hands of their enemies. And to back up their testimony and maintain that they were true prophets sent by God they quoted passages from the book of the law which declared that God had promised to restore the captivity of Judah. This had created a spirit of unrest among the captive Jews, and, utterly heipless as seemed the chance of successful sedition, the purpose began to form in the minds of the boldest of them to make the attempt.

And when word of these things had reached Jeremiah he had been greatly troubled, knowing that such false teaching could only end disastrously, not only for the Jews in captivity, but those that still remained in Jerusalem.

What could he do, Jeremiah asked himself, as he paced to and fro in his solitary retreat outside the wall of Jerusalem, to meet this new difficulty and stop the mischief which had begun? He knew that false hopes aroused could only plunge into greater depths of suffering. He knew that the time had not come when the Jews should be restored to their land. And yet what word was there which he could speak which would refute the words of the false prophets, spoken so plausibly and based so clearly upon the declaration of God that he would bring back the captive Jews?

"Oh, God," he prayed, "reveal thyself and bring to naught the counsel of those who would lead the suffering people into fatal error."

After that prayer he felt better, and sat quiet. Whether it was vision or dream he knew not, but he knew that when he again became conscious of his surroundings hours had passed, and he knew that God had spoken to his heart and had revealed to him his wondrous plans. It had seemed to him as though he had been lifted up until he had stood beside one whom he knew was God. He looked not at him because of the great reverential fear which held him, but only at the place where a moving finger seemed to be tracing a writing on the parchment that lay before him.

Instinctively, now, Jeremiah looked on the table before him to see if the parchment lay there. There was a parchment lying there, but it was one he had brought and placed there when he had contemplated writing a message to his brethren in Babylon. And it was blank.

"But I know God's message," he exclaimed, and then burst out in the words of ecstasy with which our story opens.

"But why sit here in idleness?" he exclaimed, after he had returned from the door and had again dropped into the chair that stood before the rude table. "No time must be lost."

"Thus saith the Lord of hosts," he wrote, as he had seen the words stand out upon the parchment upon which the finger of God had moved, "unto all that are carried away captives, whom I have caused to be carried away from Jerusalem unto Babylon: Build ye houses and dwell in them; and plant gardens and eat the fruit of them; take ye wives, and beget sons and daughters, and take wives for your sons and give your daughters to husbands, that they may bear sons and daughters; that ye may increase there and not diminish. And seek the peace of the city whither I have caused you to be carried away captives, and pray unto the Lord for it; for in the peace thereof shall ye have peace. For thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel; Let not your prophets and your diviners, that be in the midst of you, deceive you, neither harken to your dreams which ye cause to be dreamed. For they prophesy falsely unto you in my name: I have not sent them, saith the Lord. For thus saith the Lord, That after 70 years be accomplished at Babylon I will visit you and perform my good word toward you, in causing you to return to this place. For I know the thoughts that I think toward you, saith the Lord, thoughts of peace and not of evil to give you an end and expectation."

With this message Jeremiah has tened to the king, and, having won his consent, placed it in the keeping of two messengers, Elasah and Gemariah, and started them on the journey to Babylon.

Little more remains to be told. The words of the Lord spoken by Jeremiah the prophet quickly quieted the captive Jews and caused them to bow in humble submission to the punishment of God. But word of the treachery of the false prophets reached the ears of King Nebuchadnezzar, and he caused Ahab, the son of Kolaiah, and Zedekiah, the son of Maaseiah, to be apprehended and to be slain before the eyes of their brethren.

Origin of Courts-Martial.

The custom of holding courts-martial in our navy after every case of shipwreck has a curious origin. In 1741 the Wager, one of Commodore Anson's vessels, was wrecked off the coast of Chile, most of the crew being saved.

The men and some of the junior officers held that they were no longer amenable to discipline, because their pay ceased with the wreck, but the captain, whose name was Davy Cheap, differed, treated them as mutineers, and shot one of the midshipmen. He was then deposed and most of the crew made off in the boats.

Later, when it was proposed to proceed against the so-called mutineers, the law officers of the crown decided that the men had been correct in their view. This discovery led to the framing of section 91 of the articles of war, which provides that in case of shipwreck, destruction or capture by the enemy a ship has to be deemed to remain in commission pending inquiry into the circumstances by a court-martial.—Tit-Bits.

Tulip Soup.

"What makes this vegetable soup taste so different?" asked the young husband.

"Only the leeks you sent home," replied the bride. "You remember you said you were going to order leeks."

"I didn't order any leeks," growled the husband, but he finished his bowl of soup rather than disappoint her.

That afternoo he stopped at the grocery store.

"How did you come to send leeks up to my house this morning?" he demanded. "I didn't order them."

"Great Scott! Did you eat them?" exclaimed the grocer.

"Sure, we ate them."

"O, for land's sake! They were Mrs. Jackson's tulip bulbs. She left them on the counter and they got into your basket by mistake."—Detroit Free Press.

"A LITTLE BROTHER OF THE RICH."

ROBBERY TO GO ON

REPUBLICANS HAVE NO IDEA OF REDUCING TARIFF RATES.

That Plank in Platform Was Intended to Deceive Voters is Proved by Exultation of the American Economist.

All that was needed to prove that the Republican tariff plank is a delusion and a snare, as far as the tariff reformers are concerned, was the commendation of the American Economist, the high tariff organ. This it now has. The Economist is fairly jubilant over the victory won in behalf of extreme protection. "The Republican party," it says, "in national convention assembled, has declared anew for the policy of protection—protection that shall be adequate—and has rejected the demands of the tariff agitators for a revision of the tariff downwards." Which, of course, means that the party has declared, either in favor of leaving the tariff as it is, or of revising it upward. We quote from the Economist, which, be it remembered, is the uncompromising champion of Dingleyism:

"The free traders and advocates of tariff revision downward will not find a word or syllable in this tariff plank that tends to furnish them the slightest crumb of comfort. There is no promise in the platform of tariff revision downward. . . . After full consideration of the whole subject the Republican party in convention assembled did not declare for revision of the tariff downward, nor did it give the slightest intimation that the belief is entertained by the great body of Republicans throughout the land that the tariff rates of the Dingley law are too high."

Even the maximum and minimum tariff plan which is advocated contemplates, according to the Economist, making the present rates—or other "adequately protective rates"—the minimum, and the imposition of still higher rates to force fair treatment from other nations. We do not often find ourselves in agreement with the Economist. But it seems to us that what it says about the amazing plank adopted at Chicago is true. Every one knows that there are hundreds of thousands of Republicans all over the country demanding tariff revision in the direction of lower rates. When the convention met it knew just what this demand was, just what it meant. It knew that it could not be silent on the tariff question, knew that it could not refuse to pretend to promise a real revision.

And yet this convention put itself on record as favoring sufficient protection to put our manufacturers absolutely on a level with those of other lands, and then to give them "a reasonable profit" besides. This can mean nothing else than what the Economist says it means. It is no promise of revision downward. The proposition is not to equalise conditions here and abroad, not to make up to our manufacturers the excess of the wages they are supposed to pay over those abroad, not to help them out in the matter of raw material, but after having done all these things, after having removed every obstacle, and taken off every handicap, we are to tax ourselves to give the manufacturers—such as the steel trust—"a reasonable profit." So it is a great victory for the standpatters. The Economist is quite right. For once it is absolutely right. The party has thrown itself into the arms of the standpatters. Taking this plank in connection with the refusal of the convention to demand publicity for campaign contributions, and also in connection with the great activity of the agents of the steel trust at Chicago, it is hard to see how any tariff reformer can get much hope from the tariff plank of the Republican platform. There is less comfort than ever to be got from it now that the American Economist has greeted high tariff orators who commended it with such ringing enthusiasm.

ARGUMENTS THAT HAVE WEIGHT.

Nine Cogent Reasons Why Taft Should Not Be Elected.

Mr. Taft is pledged to carry out the financial policy of Theodore Roosevelt.

Roosevelt favors the currency policy which brought on the panics of 1873, 1893 and 1907.

Ever since the close of the civil war in 1865 the Republican party has been striving to drive out of circulation the United States legal-tender notes, and has put in their place the notes of national banks, which are not money, but a promise to pay money.

Mr. Taft is pledged to carry out the Roosevelt policy with regard to an elastic currency.

An elastic currency is one that expands and contracts at the will of those who control it. When it expands prices of stocks and commodities go up; when it contracts prices go down. This is the kind of currency that enables stock-gamblers to control the price of stocks.

No farmer, mechanic, laboring man, merchant or business man has ever asked for an elastic currency.

Roosevelt in his message to congress has asked for it. Although he said "we must not have inflation," he has inflated bank notes to the extent of $400,000,000, making the total at the time of the panic nearly $700,000,000. Yet he urged the passage of the Aldrich bill and finally signed the Vreeland bill, thus inflating the currency $500,000,000 more.

He has practically turned the United States treasury over to the stock gamblers—for before the late panic began Comptroller Ridgely reported that there was $210,000,000 of United States treasury funds in different national banks.

Shall we keep up this policy by voting for Taft?

The Taft Campaign.

The press bureau of the Republican campaign committee started in upon its work promptly, vigorously and, we are bound to say, artistically. The "literature" which it supplies is attractive, anecdotal, intimate and readable. But on the more serious lines it is hardly convincing even when it is entertaining.

Take, for instance, the matter of the southern vote. It is gravely predicted that Taft will break up the "solid south," and business men there are quoted as favoring Taft "because the south owes its prosperity to a Republican regime."

This is probably intended for encouragement here at the north. But the imagination of the Taft boomers does not go so far as to point out a single southern state that will give Taft an electoral vote. The solidity of the south will not be shaken.

The battle for the presidency is not to be fought in that section, but in the great and middle west, where the Bryan sentiment is surging over the land.

East Against the West.

The high tariff is the special privilege of the east against the west. It forces the west and the middle west to pay unduly high prices to the big factories, mills and foundries of the east. By guaranteeing exorbitant profits in the home market it enables the manufacturer to slaughter goods abroad. The foreign consumer reaps the benefits of low prices, and the American consumer is taxed for the foreign consumer's benefit.

The people demand a change and are ready to vote for whichever party will guarantee it. Remember the tariff, candidates, for on it hangs the issue.

Duty of Democratic Voters.

Democratic voters who earnestly desire the success of their party, because they believe its policies best for the country, should remember that much money is needed for the conduct of a great campaign, and should make it a part of their party duty to contribute to its expenses according to their means. There will be a great purification of politics when this course is adopted by the voters of all parties.

Round About the State

What Is Going On in Different Sections of Kentucky.

DEATH RIDES WITH AUTO PARTY

When Machine Hits Street Car—Four Were Injured.

Louisville, Ky.—Miss Katherine Horde, member of a prominent family, was almost instantly killed; Robert Payne, a young society man, was crippled, perhaps permanently, and four other persons were more or less severely bruised when an automobile collided with a street car at 28th street and Broadway.

The automobile was the property of Dr. Raymond Minor, who was out for a spin with a party of friends.

Besides the host and Miss Horde and Mr. Payne, the other guests were Miss Edna Harris and Miss Ida Edelman. They and the chauffeur also were severely bruised.

NOT LEGALLY CITIZENS

Are Many in Kentucky Who Have Naturalization Papers.

Louisville, Ky.—Many residents of Kentucky bearing naturalization papers are not legally accredited citizens of the United States, according to a decision of Federal Judge Walter Evans. He was passing on the application for naturalization of J. A. Habeck, of Paducah. These papers were not signed by the applicant, but by the lawyer in the case. Judge Evans remarked that since 1906 by an act of congress county judges had no more right to naturalize foreigners than any other citizens. He said that Kentucky judges seemed never to have heard of that act.

Vicious Jack Attacks Farmer.

Mt. Sterling, Ky.—J. Ernest Henry, a farmer of the Aarons Run neighborhood, is in a serious condition at his home as a result of an attack on him by a vicious jack which he was handling. Without warning the jack grabbed Mr. Henry's arm in his teeth and tore the flesh from the bone between the elbow and hand, badly lacerating the arm. Henry's condition is serious as blood poison is feared. The jack had always been considerd harmless.

Forest Survey Completed.

Frankfort, Ky.—With the exception of three counties the government experts who have been making a survey of timber and forest lands have completed their work. Commissioner Rankin received their report and they left for Western Kentucky to make a survey of the coal fields in three counties. The report will cover the forest survey of Fleming, Robertson, Rowan, Bath, Menifee, Wolfe, Powell, Estill and Jackson counties.

Jury Sustains Will.

New Castle, Ky.—After a contest of nearly three days in Henry circuit court a jury brought in a verdict sustaining the will of Frank J. Buttimer, who had bequeathed an estate of several thousand dollars to his wife, formerly Miss Kate O'Connell, who survives without children. The contestants were Clarence Demaree and wife, the latter a sister of the testator.

Big Blaze at Paducah.

Paducah, Ky.—Fire which started in the Model store at Benton destroyed $50,000 worth of property. The heaviest losers were the Model Store Co., $35,000; S. L. Palmer, buildings, $10,000; J. W. McKinney, undertaking establishment, $1,500; Vaughan Bros., livery stable, $2,000. There was two-thirds insurance. The fire was caused by the explosion of a gasoline lamp.

Willson Appoints Shearer.

Covington, Ky.—Gov. Augustus E. Willson appointed P. H. Shearer, of Erlanger, as a justice of the peace, to succeed T. J. Childress, who died suddenly about six weeks ago. Mr. Shearer was formerly a letter carrier of Covington, and is the father of Capt. Shearer, now in the Philippine Islands.

Famous Spring Goes Dry.

Lexington, Ky.—As a result of the drought the famous Bryan Station spring has gone dry for the first time in history. It was from this spring that the courageous women, headed by Jemima Suggett Johnson, brought water to their besieged husbands in the Bryan Station fort 126 years ago.

Blind Man's Goods Attached.

London, Ky.—A Baltimore clothing concern attached a quantity of goods of the stock of the People's Store Co., an incorporated concern doing general merchandising business here. The attached concern is operated by a blind man giving his name as M. Tharp Davis.

Tobacco Barn Burns.

Frankfort, Ky.—The large tobacco and hay barn on the farm of Mrs. Ellen Moore, in Woodford county, was burned, and it is strongly suspected that the fire was of incendiary origin. The barn contained about 150 tons of hay and a small amount of tobacco.

Falls Nearly 300 feet.

Lexington, Ky.—An unknown passenger on the Louisville Southern railway train from Lawreneeburg to Lexington jumped from the train while it was passing over a high bridge. He fell 286 feet to the water.

Dr. G. W. Whitney Succumbs.

Lexington, Ky.—Dr. John W. Whitney, 79, died in St. Joseph's hospital of [illegible]. Dr. Whitney was a graduate [illegible] Medical college, Philadelphia, [illegible] practiced in Lexington 64 [illegible] was known.

WORK FOR CANNON'S DEFEAT.

Bitter Attack on Speaker Met With Applause by Temperance Workers.

Owensboro, Ky.—That the speaker of the house of representatives shall no longer rule this nation as a czar was the declaration of Rev. J. W. West, of Louisville, who spoke at the temperance session of the Louisville conference of the Methodist Episcopal church south. When the speaker declared that the power of Christian citizenship will be used to defeat Joe Cannon, there was applause in different parts of the large auditorium.

"A man like Cannon is a disgrace to the American people and unfit to preside over any decent body," declared Mr. West. "But the war is on against him. It is made certain by the determination of honest citizenship that he shall no longer rule as the czar of the house of representatives."

Mr. West is superintendent of the Kentucky anti-saloon league.

WARRANTS OF PUBLIC TREASURY

Unpaid in State Because of Expense of Fighting Night Riding.

Frankfort, Ky.—Although Gov. Willson has been in office but 10 months, he has spent more money for troops than former Gov. Beckham did the eight years preceding.

The pay rolls of the soldiers during Gov. Willson's term so far have amounted to $106,000, while Beckham spent in eight years $91,387. This sum includes the expense the state was put to during the Hargis trials.

The state is borrowing heavily from the school fund to keep up the general expense fund. There will be enough money in the treasury to pay off the county teachers, but that call will deplete the treasury. Outstanding warrants amount to $125,000.

Must Pay Pro Rata.

Louisville, Ky.—An order was entered in the federal court here by Judge Walter Evans that T. A. Peddley, receiver of the Owensboro Savings Bank and Trust Co., collect the amount of liability of the bank pro rata from each stockholder. Suit had been brought asking that the stockholders be held liable personally and a demurrer on their part was overruled by Judge Evans.

Adjudged Solvent.

Louisville, Ky.—Federal Judge Walter Evans declared the Kentucky Coal Mining Co., incorporated in Oklahoma and with offices in Union county, solvent, and he refused to appoint a receiver. Suit for one had been brought by H. J. Muehlhauser, of Cleveland, on the ground of irregularity and fraud. Judge Evans held that there was nothing to connect the present officers with irregularity.

Veterans Elect State Officers.

Louisville, Ky.—Officers for the ensuing year were elected by the State Veterans of the Confederacy. T. P Johnson, of Lexington; Col. James Rogers, of Bourbon county, and Capt W. J. Stone, of Lyon county, were elected brigadier commanders, and Col. Bennett H. Young, of this city was elected brigadier division commander for the state.

Postmaster Ends His Life.

Covington, Ky.—Charged with embezzlement, Postmaster James H. Ford, 50, blew out his brains with a pistol in the corridor of the post office in Benton, Ky. He leaves a widow and children. The shortage in the office is placed at about $300.

Prominent Attorney Dies.

Louisville, Ky.—Leander Cobb Woolfolk, 65, former county attorney of Jefferson, died suddenly at the home of his brother-in-law, Rev. John Rule, at Goshen, Ky., 12 miles from Louisville. Woolfolk was one of the most prominent members of the Kentucky bar.

To Meet in November.

Frankfort, Ky.—State Librarian Frank K. Kavanaugh received notice from President William F. Yust, of the Kentucky Library Association, that the association will hold its annual meeting in Frankfort on November 12 and 13 next.

Escaped in His Night Gown.

Paducah, Ky.—Twenty night riders called at the home of Clifton Osburn, a farmer, in Lyon county, in the night, supposedly to whip him, but Osburn escaped in his underclothes through a rear window and went to the camp of the soldiers six miles away.

Minister and Wife Drowned.

Springfield, Ky.—Rev. F. M. Hill, of Perryville, a Methodist minister, and his wife were drowned in Chaplin river. They started to ford the stream, when the horse became unmanageable, overturning the buggy. The couple had been married a week.

Church and Hall Burn.

Winchester, Ky.—The church and hall of the Elkin Masonic lodge, at Elkin, this county, were burned with all their contents. Loss $1,200, with $500 insurance. The origin of the blaze is not known.

Bank Takes New Name.

Louisville, Ky.—The Continental National bank, succeeding the Western National bank, opened here with a [illegible] and a surplus of [illegible] Sutherland, president, [illegible] remain.

WALTON DEPARTMENT.

D. B. WALLACE, Manager.

Hand your news items to Mr. D. B. Wallace at the Walton Equitable Bank and Trust Co.'s building. He is also authorized to receive subscriptions and collect other accounts.

John Lane, of Ludlow, spent Sunday at the Phoenix Hotel.

Dr. J. G. Slater and R. C. Green, spent Wednesday in Cincinnati.

Miss Pauline Curley spent Wednesday in Cincinnati, shopping.

Prof. H. C. Wayman attended the Institute at Independence, Thursday.

Mrs. David Manuel, who has been sick for sometime is able to be out again.

A. R. Edwards, our popular postmaster, is suffering from a sprained ankle.

Miss Bessie Houston spent the past week at Worthville, the guest of Mrs. Rolly Stafford.

James Metcalfe, of Covington, was the guest of his brother, Dr. C. C. Metcalfe, Sunday.

Mrs. J. G. Tomlin spent the day with her sister, Miss Sallie Herndon, of Ludlow, Friday.

Miss Willeve Tillman has been the guest of her aunt, Jesse D. Marris, of Bank Lick, the past week.

William Northcutt and family, of Covington, spent Sunday here, guests of Squire and Mrs. T. F. Curley.

Mrs. Jesse Franks is spending the week in Covington, the guest of her daughter, Mrs. T. F. Blackwell.

Miss Nellie Staten, of Newport, was the guest of Misses Bessie and Mary Houston, Saturday and Sunday.

George Elliott and Mart Clemons, two prosperous farmers of Kenton county, were in Walton on business, Friday.

Omer Sanders, who had the misfortune of falling from a scaffold and breaking his ankle, is able to be out again.

Edward Moore, of Beaver Lick, has rented Mrs. S. M. Adams' house, and has moved here to put his children in school.

Mrs. B. K. Menefee was called to the bedside of her mother, Mrs. Henry Claycamp, of Gardnersville, who is seriously ill.

Miss Katie Ratcliff, of Crittenden, and Miss Mary Boyle, of Dayton, Tenn., were guests of Mrs. Jacob Doubman, the past week.

Messrs. Wilmot Kensler, Lustre Adams and Henry Percival attended the commencement exercises at Independence, Thursday night.

E. L. Geer and sons, Harry and Arthur, arrived home Saturday morning, after completing their contract with the Ave Illinois Oil Company.

John C. Miller, assistant cashier of the Equitable Bank and Trust Co., has rented the Yarnell residence on Main street, and will move here this week.

J. C. Hughes, pressdent, has ordered a special election of members of the Board of Control to be held in Bellevue and Union precincts on the 15th, inst.

Robert M. Byland, private Secretary to Judge J. M. Lassing, arrived home Friday to attend the Masonic Lodge, and visit his friends and relatives here.

J. G. Tomlin was at Frankfort, last Thursday, attending to business in the court of appeals, and on Friday night he attended the Bradley meeting in Louisville.

Snyder Watts, of Bullittsville, arrived in town Saturday, and is looking well after spending the summer on the farm, and will be the guest of his uncle, O. S. Watts.

Mr and Mrs. Richard Shinkle and son, Dallam, have returned to their home in Covington after a pleasant visit here, guests of Mrs. Alice Boothe, of South Walton.

Mrs. Louise Lermond expects to move into her new cottage in South Walton within the next week. Mrs. Lermond's cottage is one of the nicest in that end of town.

Miss Queen Tillman spent the past week in Covington, the guest of Mrs. Reis, and also attended the Sunday School Convention in Newport, being a delegate from Walton.

G. Wesley Murphy was called to Cincinnati, to accept a position as chief clerk in the office of W. W. Alexander, who is general freight agent for the L. & N. R. R. Co.

Four miles of the Walton & Verona Turnpike has been completed, and two of the bridge abutments have been put in, and it is expected to have this pike completed before bad weather sets in.

Saturday evening Miss Luia Jones entertained a number of her young friends at a Carrom Social in which Mr. Harry Dahlig displayed great skill, winning 9 out of the 12 sets that were played.

C. T. Best arrived home from Falmouth fair, Monday, and reported a fine fair. He took first premium in one fancy turnout driving, and second in another, also first premium on his fine pair of sorrel horses.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Tomlin, of North Walton, entertained J. O. Griffith Sunday. Mr. Griffith is a prosperous farmer of Beaver Lick, and has the honor of being the first one in Boone county to own an automobile.

Mr. J. M. Crow, son of Judge T. J. Crowe, of this place, spent Sunday here with his parents. Mr. Crowe was formerly chief clerk to the Chief Engineer of the Q. & C. Railroad Co., and is now Vice-President and Secretary of the Ritter Folding Door Company, of Cincinnati.

Mess John and George Kipp spent Sunday here guests of their father, J. Kipp. John is a traveling salesman for the Electric Railway and Power Company. George has a position with the William T. [illegible] Company, a supply house of Cincinnati.

Walton Stars defeated the [illegible] by a score of 18 to [illegible] runs of the game were [illegible] Coleman and Holder [illegible] also [illegible] runs by [illegible] Saturday's contest ought to be an interesting [illegible]

GRANGE HALL.

Miss Louise Bristow has returned from a pleasant visit to relatives in the city.

J. C. Bristow will build himself a nice new residence on his farm in the near future.

There is a general scarcity of water in this neighborhood. Nearly all the ponds are dry.

Sandford Bristow contemplates taking a business course in a Cincinnati business college.

Wyly Grubbs from near Independence spent the week's end with his aunt, Mrs. Lute Tanner.

Miss Dean Smith, of Gallatin county, will stay with her sister this winter and attend school at the Hall.

The September examination placed the following pupils upon the honor roll: First grade—Nannie Bristow, and Elijah Horton. Second grade—Jane Bristow. Fourth grade—Lee Norris Utz. Fifth grade—Alma Bristow, Mattie Bristow and Thos. Garrison. Seventh grade—Alma Blankenbeker, Eva Sebree, Lillian Bristow, Nellie Rouse, Dean Smith, Warren Utz and Lewis Beemon.

FLORENCE.

Will Starr and wife were guests of Mike Cahill and family, Sunday.

There was preaching at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning.

Mr. Fred Birkle and wife spent Sunday with relatives in Erlanger.

Mrs. John Hampton entertained Lloyd Aylor and wife, Saturday evening.

Ed Skirvin was the guest of his sister, Mrs. Julius Corbin, Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Bessie Tucker was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Sadie John, Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. Lang and wife from the city were guests of her sister Mrs. John Clarkson, Sunday.

We are sorry to lose such good citizens as Lloyd Aylor and wife, who moved to Ludlow, Monday.

Mrs. Mollie Clarkson, Mrs. Judge, of Union, and Mrs. John Swim, were guests of Mrs. Lillie Bradford, Wednesday.

The young men of Florence will give a dance and speaking at the town hall October 8th. Speaking begins at 4 o'clock, dancing at 8.

There was a good sized crowd in town, Monday.

Born on the 5th inst., to L. T. Clore and wife, a fine girl.

Miss Charlotte Hall spent Saturday night and Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Hall.

J. L. Clore, mine host of the Boone House, says the public gave him a generous patronage, last Monday.

Stop in and examine Clark's stock of watches, clocks, jewelry and spectacles when in Burlington. tf.

Geo. Pfalzgraf, of Idlewild, arrived home, last Sunday from a very pleasant visit with relatives at Grand Rapids, Michigan.

Miss Annie Cowen returned home the latter part of last week from a visit of several days with her brother, Dr. Cowen, in Rising Sun, Ind.

A great many pesons are under the impression that the State pays a bounty on hawk scalps. It does not the bill failed to pass the legislature.

DON'T READ THIS

A splendid spelling Hallowe'en party will be given at the Orange Hall, Burlington, Friday and supper 25 cts a head.

Remember the rub game to be played by the Burlington and Petersburg ball teams next Saturday afternoon at Burlington park next Saturday afternoon. Each club has won one game of the series, and next Saturday's contest ought to be an interesting one.

There are now in operation in this country 39,239 rural free delivery routes and petitions are pending for 1,500 more. It is expected by the postal authorities that before fall 40,000 routes will be in operation. Rural free delivery has proved a most gratifying success. It has placed the country resident on nearly equal plane with the city dweller in the matter of mail facilities. It has brought the country into close touch with the rest of the world, cutting off most of its isolation, giving it the news of the rest of the globe on time and greatly increased the circulation of newspapers and all kinds of publications. It has thus been the means of keeping the country population as well posted on current affairs as the man who resides in the city. It is one of the great factors which is winning the people back from the congested life in the cities to the wholesome life on the farm, and its work in that direction will become increasingly beneficial as time goes on and its field is extended.

State Treasurer Farley, says in his opinion there will be enough money in the State Treasury by the middle of this week to pay all the country school teachers the first installment of their salaries, amounting to about $375,000. It is expected that checks aggregating that amount will be sent to the various county school commissioners as early as possible this week. The money due the city school teachers amounting to about $70,000 will be sent out later in the month, as there will not be quite enough to pay the whole of the first installment at the same time. Capt. Farley believes that by the middle of November there will be enough money received from the sheriffs to pay off every warrant issued by the Auditor and the State's creditors will have no trouble in getting their money after that time.

October is called the dream month of the year. The promise of seed time and harvest has been fulfilled, the fruits of field, garden and forest gathered and garnered, and the husbandman feels that nature has repaid him for the long, hard months of toil that lie behind. Then come the still days, the golden sunshine, the hazy, smoke-tinged atmosphere, the balmy airs scented with the pungent fragrance of ripened fruits and foliage. Falling leaves strew the pathways and choke the streams, while tree and shrub and vine are clothed with brilliancy of coloring no painter's brush can rival. The gorgeousness and glory of the sun-rises and sunsets are wonderful, and neither brush, pen nor word can imprison their subtleties of tint and shade. Woods parties are now at their best, and the patter of the ripened nuts, the purple of the wild grapes and the late fruits that invite the frost touches for ripening, all invite the family to outings, the pleasures of which no other season of the year can rival.

For Sale.

120 acre farm, good house and all necessary out-buildings, one mile from Burlington, and ½ mile from pike. On this farm are 1,500 nice fruit trees just coming into bearing. 70 acres of timber, never failing water, and rural mail route passes by door. One share in a farmers' telephone line goes with farm. Call on or address

30sep4t G. W. SANDFORD.
Burlington, Ky, R. R. 2.

PUBLIC SALE.

I will offer for sale at public auction at the Baptist parsonage in Belleview, Ky., on WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 14, 1908,

The following personal property of the late T. L. Utz, consisting of 1 Surrey, 1 open Buggy, 1 Thirlind Sow, Plows, lot Household and Kitchen Furniture, and other articles too numerous to mention.

Terms made known on day of sale. Sale to begin at 1 o'clock p. m.

CARRIE P. UTZ, Admr'x with the will annexed of T. L. Utz.

Wanted—Horse to board for its light use. Geo. W. Ranson, Richwood.

For Sale—Good work mare, sound, safe for lady to drive. Apply to Leslie Goodridge, Burlington R. R. 1.

For Sale—Barred Plymouth Rock cockerels; 75 cents and $1. Address Mrs. B. C. Graddy, Bullittsville, 4t

Be sure and take a pint tin cup to the barbecue with you on the 18th if you want to be sure to get some of the burgoo.

Farm for Sale.

On Big Bone and Hamilton turnpike, 7 acres good, fertile land, a [illegible] room, up-to-date house with [illegible] veranda, all necessary [illegible] barn, a nice young orchard [illegible] 75 fruit trees consisting of [illegible] apples, peaches, pears and cherries [illegible] a beautiful lawn [illegible] Will [illegible] trade for [illegible] and [illegible] grounds [illegible]

Peoples Deposit Bank,

BURLINGTON, KY.

YOUR MONEY DEPOSITED WITH THIS BANK IS AS SAFE AS WITH ANY BANK IN BOONE COUNTY.

3 PER CENT. INTEREST PAID ON SIX MONTHS TIME DEPOSITS.

We Make no Charge for Cashing Checks on other Banks

And afford you all other accommodations within range of Sound Banking in order to make dealings with us pleasant.

SAFE DEPOSIT BOXES FOR RENT. CALL AND SEE US.

STATEMENT OF THE

Equitable Bank & Trust Co.

WALTON, KY.

Organized for Business Sept. 9th, 1907.

DEPOSITS:

Opening Day Sept. 9th, 1907	$5,383.71
Dec. 31st, 1907, when statement was made to Secretary of State	37,157.67
June 30th, 1908, when statement was made to Secretary of State	56,269.38
July 1st, 1908, one day later	$61,959 90

LOANS AND DISCOUNTS:

July 1st, 1908	$ 76,589.35
Available Cash July 1st, 1908	30,716.80
Resources July 1st, 1908	$115,220.35

Careful, prudent business principles governs the bank. Your business solicited. Interest paid on time deposits. Mail communications given especial attention.

CHAS. L. GRIFFITH, President. D. B. WALLACE, Cashier.

LEW THORN, Pharmacist.

A. G. G. RICHARDSON, Veterinary Surgeon.

THORN & RICHARDSON, DRUGGISTS.

We sell Kreso Dip for Lice and Mites on horses, cattle, sheep, hogs and chickens. Headquarters for House Paints, Floor Paints, Roofing Paints, Wagon and Carriage Paints, Carter's Lead and Pure Linseed Oil.

Medicines, Stationery and Sundries in large supply. All new and fresh. Prices are right.

Main Street, - - RISING SUN, INDIANA.

YOU NEED A BUGGY

AND I HAVE IT FOR YOU.

CAN SAVE YOU MONEY.

New Buggies, Runabouts

and Harness for Sale or Trade.

Workmanship the Best, and Material Guaranteed.

When in Burlington call and See me.

B. B. HUME, - Burlington, Ky.

LOOK!-EVERYBODY!-LOOK!!

DEMOCRATIC

BARBECUE

There will be a big

DEMOCRATIC BARBECUE

—AT THE—

Florence Fair Grounds,

Saturday, Oct. 17,

SPEAKERS:

HON. CHAMP CLARK, of Missouri.

HON. OLLIE M. JAMES, of Kentucky.

Excepting Mr. Bryan, Messrs. Clark and James are two of the greatest campaign orators in the Democratic party.

This barbecue is destined to be the greatest political gathering in Northern Kentucky, as it is and the Fair Grounds at Florence is an ideal place for such a meeting.

Nothing will be [illegible] is calculated to [illegible] of the [illegible]

R. O. HUGHES,

—SURVEYOR,—

RICHWOOD, - KY.

Am prepared to do, and will answer all calls for surveying in Boone and adjoining counties Over 20 years experience as a practical surveyor

Administratrors Notice.

All persons indebted to the estate of Susan Ann Jarrell, decd., must come forward and settle, and all those having claims against said estate must present them to the undersigned proven according to law.

LYSTRA SMITH Admr.

DR. L. H. CRISLER,

VETERINARY ++ SURGEON.

Residence 1552 Scott St.,

COVINGTON, - - KENTUCKY.

Phone, South 1248.

Administratrix's Notice.

All persons indebted to the estate of T. L. Utz, deceased, will come forward and settle at once, and those having claims against said estate will present them to the undersigned properly proven.

CARRIE P. UTZ, Adm'x.,
with will annexed.

Triple-Plated Knives and Forks

$2.25 Per Set

Regular price $3.50. Here is your opportunity to buy silver-plated knives and forks at the price of good quality of steel ones. If you can't use them now you will have a wedding present to buy this fall; it will pay you to buy them and lay them away. Only a limited quantity.

Motch,

The Jeweler,
612 MADISON,
Covington, Ky.

Administrators Notice.

[illegible] indebted to the estate of [illegible] deceased must come [illegible] and all those having [illegible] said estate must present [illegible] proven [illegible]

"Always [illegible] you a liar and [illegible] at a dozen times before him down, eh?

W. N. HIR[illegible] Sir, you were a coward

Carpets, Fur[illegible] let you off on Stoves, [illegible] don't be in a [illegible] I'll have to

210-12 W. Fifth Street, not knock-down sheriff

Cincinnati, - - Ohio. [illegible] that you [illegible] you pass [illegible]

TAX-PAYERS NOTICE.

The Taxpayers of Boone County are hereby notified that I or my Deputy will be at the places and on the dates named below to collect 1908 taxes:

Florence, July 13th and October 12th.
Verona, July 14th and October 13th.
Walton, July 15th and October 14th.
Petersburg, July 16th and October 15.
Bellevue, July 17th and October 16th.
Beaver, July 20th and October 19th.
Big Bone, July 21st and October 20th
Union, July 22d and October 21st.
Rabbit Hash, July 24th and Oct. 8th.
Constance, July 27th and Oct 9th.
Bullittsville, July 28th and Oct. 22d.
Hebron, October 23rd.
Gunpowder, October 26th.
Richwood, October 27th.

RATES—State, 50 cents; County, 15c on the $100, six per cent penalty added December 1st on all unpaid taxes.

Pay your Poll-tax before December 1st and you will not be put on the delinquent list. Interest and cost of collecting will be added on all delinquent taxes

M. F. WINGATE,
Sheriff Boone County.

Dr. L. E. ROUSE,

DENTIST,

Will be at Burlington on Monday of each week; Union on Tuesday, balance of time at my office in Masonic Building. LUDLOW, KY.

Rogers Bros.

General Merchants,

BELLEVUE, KY.

Keep on hand a General Stock of MERCHANDISE.

Coal Kept in the Yard.

Country Produce taken in Trade.

BOONE HIGH SCHOOL

Do your High School work at home where teachers will take especial interest in you. This School offers the regular four years High School and the eight years Common School Courses.

TUITION:

High School Course...$40.00
Common School Course..$25.00

Per Session.

Two well qualified teachers besides the Superintendent.

School Opens Sept. 14th.

For Particulars write to

EDGAR C. RILEY, Supt.,
BURLINGTON, KY.

J. Bullock & Son,

PRACTICAL TAILORS,

HEBRON, - KENTUCKY.

Our Fall and Winter samples are ready for inspection and we invite you to call and see them and learn the prices.

All work guaranteed and done under my own supervision.

J. Bullock & Son,
HEBRON, KY.

H. C. BLACK,

VETERINARY + SURGEON,

WALTON, KENTUCKY.

Treats all diseases pertaining to animals. Prompt attention given to all calls. Telephone connections.

Notice is hereby given that all persons are forbidden to trespass upon my lands in any manner whatever, unless [illegible] permission. The law against trespass will be rigidly enforced by me.

O. F. GLACKEN.

RIDGEVIEW STOCK FARM
Boone County, Ky.
Breeder of
Aberdeen-Angus Cattle and Duroc Jersey Swine.
Stock for Sale. Address or call
W. W. COCHRAN, Mgr. - Delhi, Ohio.
(The Chambers Farm.)

POSTED.

Notice is hereby given that my property known as Laughery Island is posted against all kinds of trespass.

[illegible] SMITH, Grant, Ky.

It will pay you to advertise your Business in this Paper. Try it.

BOONE COUNTY RECORDER.

ESTABLISHED 1875.
Subsciption $1.50 year.
Try it One Year.

VOL. XXXIV. BURLINGTON, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 21, 1908. NO. 1

County News Items

Interesting Facts Gathered During the Week by Our Regular Correspondents.

DEVON.

Miss Gertrude, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Meiman, who tripped and fell, breaking her left arm and dislocating her shoulder, has been placed under the X ray to locate the boken bone and also the dislocation. She is doing well and will be brought home as soon as possible.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Mersman celebrated their birthday, Sunday. He is 77 and she is 8 years younger. They are hale and hearty. Their children, grandchildren and friends gathered around them, wishing them much happiness and a long life. A fine dinner was served and all present enjoyed the feast.

GUNPOWDER.

J. H. Tanner and family spent last Sunday with P. J. Allen and wife.

George Swim, who went to Illinois a few weeks ago to spend the winter, returned last week. While he is highly pleased with that country, there are attractions and interests here he did not care to trust to others.

J. W. Scott exhibited his herd of Jersey cattle at the Eaton Fair and succeeded in capturing nine premiums. Bro. Scott generally gets what he goes after, especially when it means a show of Jersey cattle. He had to go up against 93 head, but came out victorious. He also was awarded first prize in the best test for butter-fat.

HATHAWAY.

Dry and warm yet.

Hauling coal is the order now.

Farmers will soon begin gathering their corn.

C. S. Smith made a visit to Walton the early part of last week.

J. D. McNeely finished working the public roads, last week.

Mrs. G. A. Ryle, who was quite sick, last week, has about recovered.

Dolpha Sebree and sister, Miss Jennie, were shopping in Rising Sun, one day last week.

Miss Lizzie Neal, of Belleview, is spending a few days with P. P. Neal and family, of Buffalo.

J. P. Johnson, P. P. Neal and wife and Miss Lizzie Neal, dined with G. L. Smith and family, Sunday.

George Moore, while examining a revolver in the store at this place, last Saturday morning, accidentally shot Lillian Kelly through the fleshy part of the arm. She is getting along nicely.

Quite a large crowd attended the funeral of William Clore, of Clore's Ridge. Rev. Wm. McMillan, of Big Bone, held a brief religious service at his home Sunday at 10 o'clock, after which the remains were taken to Belleview and interred in the cemetery at that place in the presence of sorrowing relatives and friends, who mourn the death of a good neighbor and friend.

RICHWOOD.

Mrs. Mary Carpenter lost a horse, last week.

Ollie Dixon was called to nurse Noah Tanner, of Gunpowder.

The boys went into D. B. Dobbins' corn field and cut up his corn.

The new pastor of Mt. Zion M. E. Church held services, Sunday.

A family from Covington have moved to John Duefel's farm.

The railroad will complete by Tuesday the bridge that was burned.

Ollie James and Champ Clark captivated the crowd at the barbecue.

Many friends here wish Mr. and Mrs. Cal Dean the very best of luck.

Jasper Carpenter, of Latonia, was the guest of Mrs. Mary Carpenter, Sunday.

Ed Acra and Will Wolfe have the contract of digging the ice-house for the creamery.

Edward Stephens and family were the guest of John Watson, above Independence, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George English, of Mud Lick, were Sunday guests of Mrs. Mary Carpenter.

Keep the hunters off of your farm this dry weather or you will be burnt out of house and home.

Mr. and Mrs. Daughters and Miss Daughters were guests of William Dobbins, several days, last week.

Bridge No. 4 at Mrs. Mary Carpenter's over the railroad was completely destroyed by fire Thursday. Loss about $500. It was started by sparks from the local freight.

A hunter near Williamstown was fined $75 and cost for violating the hunting laws. The people thereabouts have had enough of railroad fires and do not care to run the risk of hunter's fire.

A careless hunter set fire to Thos. Rice's meadow destroying five acres of meadow and one 4-ton stack of hay, Sunday morning. Loss, $100. It kept 25 men busy for three hours to keep it from spreading.

Sixteen names were signed to a paper for the protection of our farms from invasion by town hunters and other undesirable hunters, at the Rice fire. The paper will be at Richwood, this week, for signers.

Those who subscribed money to build the Rabbit Hash-Waterloo Belleview pike will please meet Henry Clore at Rabbit Hash on the 24th October and pay 50 per cent of same.
R. O. BYLES, President.

UNION.

Miss Marletta Riley was at home from Covington, Sunday.

Noah Tanner has been seriously ill for several days with pneumonia.

Locally speaking, a statement that no person can or will believe is not a lie.

Rev. Frazer preached at the Baptist church last Sunday morning and evening.

Miss Nannie Burkett and Miss Marletta Riley were visiting at Alexandria, Ind., last week.

Lucien Dickerson and Sam Hicks were in an argument, and like the two Irishmen (le) both as stubborn as the other.

To see Irish potatoes cooked in the ground gives some idea how dry the weather is. Billy Adams, who crops with James A. Huey, has the goods to show any one from Missouri.

As winter comes on it stands a fellow in hand to look up his old coat. The owner of one left at the Hotel Eagle can have same by giving No. 1 evidence that he is the real owner.

George Clarkson made a nice lot of sorghum, last week, and in conclusion made a feast for quite a number of his friends—the kettles of soup and other refreshments were served.

The writer is looking for a rise of temper-a-ture, a rise in the buttermarket and a rise in the price of board, considering that the Professor got his pocket picked. It's indeed an ill wind that blows no one harm.

Joseph Huey and wife will soon occupy their new home, "Oak Hill," which has been repapered and painted throughout, under Mrs. Huey's personal supervision which means that everything is in perfect taste.

Dr. Senour's residence has gone through a regular course of renovation. The walls of the interior have been decorated in lovely shades and designs of wall paper; the wood work has been grained in quartered oak and with the addition of new shades, rugs, &c., his home is a beauty. The Doctor expects to paper his Opera House, paint outside and make other needed improvements this year.

As the shades of evening gathered about the Hotel Eagle, Friday, all was quiet on the Potomac and no evidence of cyclonic-hurricanes and tornadoes were in sight. Later on mutterings of deep toned horns could be heard (sounded much like thunder) and soon a whirlwind of discord came that put the inferno of Dante the mis-a-rabbles of Hugo, the battle of Manassas and all the infernals clear in the back ground. The situation was so threatening for a time that death and destruction seemed to be hanging around in great chunks. Finally the storm ceased, peace was restored and it was shown that the boys were on a mission of love and mercy rather than one of war. To make a long story short the bride and groom had registered at the hotel and by this grand opera combine of discord the boys notified them that they were expected to appear on the veranda, after some pursuasion, some coersion and a lot of hustling they did appear, when congratulations were offered. As Mr. Dean could not make a speech, sing a song or dance, he had nothing to do but "set 'em up" and he did. The boys then sang a song and went ont.

CONSTANCE.

John Cox has moved to Fairview.

Mrs. Henry Kotnyer is impoving.

Andy Smith is painting C. W. Robinson's house.

Frank Kiesener is delivering water at ten cents a barrel.

John Dye has built a cement walk from his residence to the road.

Miss Lillie Brink celebrated her 14th birth day, Monday, with a big party which was attended by a large number of her young friends.

Master Fred Klaessner was called to Louisville, last Sunday, to inspect some Pullman cars, at which work he is one of the company's experts.

John Wentz and wife entertained, last Sunday, in honor of the birthday of John Wentz, jr., and daughter, Gladys. A large number of guests was present.

A rat ran up Walter Klassners' trouser leg, the other day, and Walter was cutting all styles of pigeon wings and yelling like a Comanche Indian, when Chas. England went to his rescue, extracted the rodent and killed it. Some young ladies who saw Walter's performance remarked they had seen men who had snakes, but he was the first man they ever saw who had rats.

To whom it may concern:

A number of people wonder and ask me why I did not have more than 735 votes for Sec'y of the F. M. F. I. Co., and why I [illegible] by saying that I did not get the number of votes that each policy holder was entitled to. I had nearly 800 names, many of them being the largest policy holders in the company, and they did not average but two votes and a fraction besides the names that were promised and voted the day of the election. I had several names that the present Sec'y claims were not insured, but they say they pay their assessment for every fire. I want to say this is not mere talk but can prove it by a vast number of policy holders whom I have seen since the election. EDGAR S. GRAVES.

FLORENCE.

A. M. Yealy and wife spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Rouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Ryle, of Hathaway, visited Mrs. J. R. Whitson, last Sunday.

Joseph Laile and wife, of Erlanger, spent Sunday with their son, Allie and wife.

Mrs. Ed Sidnor's nephew, Mr. Lillard, was visiting her last Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Mabel Morris, of Pt. Pleasant, was the guest of Miss Shirley Eddins, Sunday.

Miss Nellie Roberts, of Burlington, was the guest of Mrs. Anna Carpenter, Saturday.

Mrs. Eva Franklin, of Dayton, O., is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Clutterbuck.

Miss Nellie Crigler was the guest of her mother, Mrs. Anna Crigler, Saturday, and attended the barbecue.

Mrs Florence McClain, of Covington; Mrs. Smith, of Covington; Mr. Reneburg, Miss Hilda Smith and brothers, of Cincinnati, were guests of Mrs. McClain, Sunday.

Mrs. Fannie Clutterbuck entertained Lloyd Aylor and wife and Hal Highhouse and wife, of Ludlow, and Ed Osborn, Miss Eva Clutterbuck, Carl Clutterbuck and wife, last Sunday.

Misses Addie and Tina Norman gave a social, on Tuesday night of last week, in honor of their friend, Miss Jennie Pearl Aylor. Among those present were Charles E. Williams, Miss Willfia Aylor, and Wm. Moore, of Aurora; Miss Annie Holsworth and Haden Young, of Lexington, and Henry and Charles Hoisworth and Clarence and Cliff Norman. There was sweet music, both vocal and instrumental, and a delightful lunch was served, and at a late hour the guests took their departure, hoping to be entertained againsoon by Misses Addie and Tina

PETERSBURG.

Chas. McWethy, of Greencastle, Indiana, is a visitor here.

Maurice McCright, of Cincinnati, spent a few days here with friends the past week.

Prof. E. S. Rice spent Saturday and Sunday in Carrolton with relatives and friends.

Mrs. Jas. Thompson and Mrs Mae Whiting were shopping in Cincinnati, Wednesday.

Mrs. Elijah Sait and little son, of Covington, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Berkshire.

Chas. Gordon and John Sweazy, who are employed in Cincinnati, spent Sunday with home folks.

Wm. Jones, of Cincinnati, spent Saturday and Sunday here the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Berkshire.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hensley have been entertaining Mesdames Egbert Nichols and Claborn Campbell, of Latonia.

Lloyd Norris represented the local lodge of Odd-Fellows at the Grand Lodge at Bowling Green and Mammoth Cave.

We welcome to our town Misses Lucy and Anna Botts, who moved into the Berkshire cottage on Market street, recently.

Quite a number of our people attended the game of ball at Lawreneburg, last Wednesday, between the Lawrenceburg team and the Cincinnati Reds.

Miss Mary Burkham, a charming young lady of Lawrenceburg, Mr. Maltby and daughter, Grace, and Miss Agnes John, of Aurora, have been pleasant guests of Misses Ione and Ethel Buchanan.

Mrs. W. R. Reynolds, who has been the guest of Mrs. S. C. Buchanan the past few weeks, has returned to her home in Alpena, Michigan. Mrs. Reynolds and Mrs. Buchanan spent a few days in Rising Sun, with relatives.

About 45 of our people tendered Rev. Bradley and wife an old fashioned pound party, last Wednesday evening. All kinds of pounds were in evidence from the pound of rice to the good, old fashioned pumpkin. The crowd remained until about ten o'clock, enjoying conversation and music, when refreshments were served, proclaiming Rev. and Mrs. Bradley ideal entertainers.

BELLEVIEW.

We are still expecting rain, but our faith is getting very weak.

Miss Rose Beemon, of Indiana, is here visiting relatives this week.

Mrs. Rose Louden and children are visiting Eddie Kelly and family, near Aurora.

Mr. and Mrs. Richardson and wife, of Rising Sun, dined with Mrs. Belle Clore and family, Sunday.

Very few from here attended the barbecue at Florence, Saturday. All report a good time.

W. S. Huey and wife visited Jas. Sebree and wife, Saturday and Sunday, on Gunpowder.

Mrs. T. L. Utz will move her household effects to her father's near Florence this week and will make it her home for the present.

Why is everybody going to vote for Bryan? Because they believe in lating the people rule and in equal rights to all. Boys, fight for your freedom.

The Swan arrived at the wharf early Sunday morning to take a lot of base ball players from here, Petersburg and Burlington to play the Vevay team Sunday and Monday.

A large crowd attended the funeral of Willie Clore, last Sunday. His remains were consigned to mother earth in the new cemetery here. All loved and respected him. We knew him from boyhood's school days. He was always pleasant and genial. We sympathize with the family in its great loss.

Stop in and examine Clark's stock of watches, clocks, jewelry and specialties when in Burlington. tf.

BEAVER.

A quiet wedding took place at Mr. John Cleek's residence, near Richwood last Wednesday, at half past two. The contracting parties were his daughter, Miss Maud, and Mr. Arthur Dean. The house was beautifully decorated in autumn leaves. The bride looked lovely in her blue bridal attire, carrying a large bouquet of bridal roses and fern, while the groom was very handsome, wearing a suit of the conventional black.

After a very impressive ceremony the guests were invited to the dining room, where a delicious and bountiful supper was served. The table was artistically decorated in carnations and ferns.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. John Cleek, Mrs. Lucien Dickerson, Mr. Archibald Dickerson, Mr. and Mrs. John Rice and daughter, Laura Kathryn, Mr. Willie and Mr. Harry Dean, both of Indiana, Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Sleet and oldest son, John Harold.

Bro. Frazier, of Erlanger, was officiating minister. Many presents both beautiful and useful were received.

Mr. Will E. Cook, of Newport News, Va., was the guest of Barnett Sleet from Monday till Wednesday of last week

RABBIT HASH.

Dr. Richardson and wife, of Rising Sun, attended Wm. Clore's funeral, Sunday.

Master Joe Brady made a five mile walk to his grandmother Walton's, last Saturday.

Several young people from here attended the dance at Everett Clore's last Thursday night.

Mrs. Johns and granddaughter, Hazel Hopkins, have returned from a visit to Gardnersville.

Moses Scott, Esq., accompanied by his wife, will leave today to attend the Masonic Grand Lodge at Louisville.

The pike is progressing nicely and 1½ miles will soon be completed Every few days a rock breaker drops in, hunting a job.

Mrs. Martena Craig's friends are glad to know she is improving rapidly from a severe operation, and will soon be able to return home.

Mrs. Ada Wilson attended the 55th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Hasting, of Rising Sun, Sunday. Dr. and Mrs. L. C. Cowen celebrated their 31st anniversary at the same time.

Mr. Wm Clore an esteemed citizen of this neighborhood, died at noon Friday Oct. 16. He had been suffering for some time with heart trouble, but his death though not unexpected, was a shock to his family and friends.

IDLEWILD.

If it were not for the changing things life would be indeed a bore.

Vess Gaines, of Bullittsburg, sold to Kreitzer, Thursday, 9 hogs for $45.

Mrs. Geo. Wencke, of Lawrenceburg, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Fred Pfalzgraf, of Idlewild.

Albert Price and wife, of Erlanger, visited their son, Carl and wife, of Oak Knoll, Saturday night and Sunday.

Corcoran Bros. have had a new metal roof put on their barn. John Feeley and Rufus Fogel, of Weneeda, did the work.

Farmers Jones of this place and John Acra of Double Lick, attended the I. O. O. F. lodge at Hebron, last Saturday night.

Ben Egleston, wife, two daughters, and their husbands, of Bullittsville, picnicked, at Rock Spring, near Commissary, last Sunday.

Dr. Peddicord and wife and Prof. Florence, of Burlington, united with the Bullittsville Christian church by letter of recommendation last Sunday.

The vault at Bullittsburg cemetery is being repaired by digging about 8 inches deeper and making the floor concrete. It is built on a side hill, underground.

Samuel Barnes and wife, of Bullittsville, returned from their visit to Mr. Barnes' father, at Harrison, Ohio, last Sunday evening and report a pleasant visit.

The lectures at the Bullittsburg church by Dr. C. G Skillman, and the protracted meeting at the Christian church in Bullittsville, conducted by Rev. J. W. Graham, closed last Sunday night.

William Hill, of Covington, Ohio, was canvassing this neighborhood Wednesday for cows, and bought one of Will Stephens, of Valleyview farm, for $40, and one of Ed Loniaker, price not known.

Wm. Barnes and wife, of Mt. Carmel, Ohio, James Feeley and wife, of Idlewild, and Corcoran Bros. of Bullittsville neighborhood, spent last Sunday with Mrs. William Hall, it being her 30th birthday. A pleasant time was had by all.

Mr. James C. Clore, of Rushville, Ind., son of Fletcher Clore, of Bullitsburg, was the guest of his father Saturday and Sunday, and while here received of John Hogan, of Union, the fine colt he bought at the fair. He shipped it home on Monday the 12th.

Quite an excitement was caused, Thursday evening, by a fire in a field of the farm of J. A. Gaines just above the Bullittsburg school house, but no damage was done further than the scare it gave some of the women. It took a hard fight to stop it. About 10 acres was burned over. It is not known how the fire was started.

A negro who worked for Johnnie Powers, of Richwood, was lodged in jail here, last Sunday night. While Mr. Powers and family were absent at the barbecue on Saturday, the negro entered their house and stole a watch and fled. He was captured near Crittenden, Grant county.

THE INSTITUTE.

The annual session of the Boone County Teachers' Institute convened at the Walton public school building, October 12, 1908.

Devotional exercises were led by Rev. Harris.

The teachers present enrolled and the instructor, R. S. Eubank, made an opening talk.

AFTERNOON.

The instructor explained the recent educational legislation. He advocates the combining of districts. After recess he gave an excellent schedule for school use.

TUESDAY.

After the song service Mr. Eubank conducted the devotional exercises and enrollment was completed.

There was a short discussion of spelling. After recess Prof. Wayman handled the subject in a clear and concise manner.

Mr. Morgan and Miss Katie Craig were assigned the subject of Psychology. Mr. Morgan made an interesting talk on perception, and Miss Craig commanded rapt attention as she designated between seeing and observing.

AFTERNOON.

Prof. Eubank took up the subjects of Penmanship and Attention.

After recess the vocal solo by Miss May Sandford and piano solo by Miss Ruth Boulton were greatly enjoyed.

Mr. Eubank discussed the State Orphans' Home and their request that each teacher ask their pupils for a penny each to be sent to the orphans before Thanksgiving Day.

WEDNESDAY.

After singing, devotional exercises and roll call, the piano solo by Miss Myrtle Murphy was highly appreciated.

Rev. Harris spoke fluently on moral Instruction. He pied with the teachers not to teach merely for compensation and to teach rather by example than precept.

After recess Miss Scena Byland rendered a piano solo.

Reading was introduced before adjournment for dinner.

AFTERNOON.

After a song Mr. Eubank told the teachers how much more they would appreciate the stars and stripes if they were on a distant shore, and gave an account of his trip to Alaska.

Miss Nannie Chambers made a splendid talk on reading.

After recess Miss Arreida Roberts favored the Institute with "Meditation" on the piano.

Prof. Wayman made a pointed speech on advanced reading and Mr. Eubank introduced the subject of Physiology.

THURSDAY.

Institute opened by singing "When the Roll is called up Yonder."

After devotional exercises ex-Supt. Bourne, of Owen county, held the attention of the teachers and visitors for some time very pleasantly after a few complimentary remarks on the attendance and ready responses to roll call. He told the teachers not to notice the smile in school so particularly for the smile would prevent wrinkles.

Supt. Snyder discussed Moral Instruction very instructively.

After recess the subject of Physiology was resumed and completed and history was discussed. Prof. Eubank insists on greater interest in Ky. History.

AFTERNOON.

After singing Mr. Eubank warned the teachers that vocal music in the public school was inevitable and advised them to prepare for it. He then gave an interesting description of his climb up Mt Shasta and Mt. Rainier and desired that the teachers would not permit their history recitatlous to be mere repetition of facts but moments of interest.

Recess—Instrumental duet by Misses Sarah and Rachal Conner and solo by Miss Mary Allen were highly enjoyed.

Rev. J. M. Rogers made an instructive discourse on History and Hon. J. G. Tomlin addressed the lustitute body.

FRIDAY.

Song—Rock of Ages

Devotional exercises conducted by Rev. Harris.

The Institute proceeded to organize the Boone County Self Improvement League and officers were elected as follows:

Supt. M. Snyder, chairman; Misses Katie Craig and Sadie Crisler were nominated as Secretary. Miss Craig was elected but declined; a compromise was effected under which the nominees agreed to work together. Mr. Cecil Gaines, cashier of Burlington Deposit Bank, Treasurer.

District officers:—Vice Chairman of District No. 1, Mrs. Booth.

Vice Chairman of District No. 2, Mrs. John Garrison. Of District No. 3, Miss Rose Adams. Of District No. 4, Miss Flora Yonell. Of District No. 5, Mrs. Susan Clutterbuck. Of District No. 6, Miss Mary Corn.

After the organization Rev. Rogers made an excellent talk on its importance and [illegible] derived from it.

After recess there was a short discussion of Arithmetic and ex-Supt. Stephens, of Kenton county, made splendid points on Mental Arithmetic in a brief talk.

AFTERNOON.

Mr. Eubank discussed Geography.

After recess Miss Maggie Johnson rendered impressively.

A few remarks were made by instructor and Supt. Song—"God be with you till we meet Again," and the Institute adjourned.

The teachers enrolled were: H. C. Wayman, C. O. Morgan, Paris B. Akin, Newton Sullivan, Garnett Huey, Mary Rouse, Anna Hudson, Gladys Ryle, Flora Yonell, Elza Melvin, Ada Roberts, Jennie Aylor, Minnie Stephens, Robert McNeely, Sadie Tanner, Katherine Burkam, Bettie Dolph, Willie Smith, Elijah Stephens, May D. Sandford, Katie Craig, Wilella Hance, Mattie May, Arreida Roberts, Arrelda Hind, Martha Myers, Rosa Rich, Josie Maddin, Jeannette Chambers, Nannie Chambers, D. M. Bondurant, Mrs. Bondurant, Mamie Haley, A. M. Yealey, Olivia Ranson, Anna Hearn, Emil Regenbogen, Mabel Regenbogen, Lizzie Rogers, Stella Carpenter, Lena Rouse, Anna Miller, Mattie Lows, Katie Weindel, Sadie Rleman, Etna McAtee, H. L. Harrison, Sadie R. Crisler, Lucy Russell, Lizzie Yost.

LUCY RUSSELL, Secretary.

PT. PLEASANT.

Misses Holda Darby and Edna Tanner spent Sunday at Delhi.

Hazel Walton is spending a part of the week with relatives at Hebron.

Sherman Hedges, of Los Angeles, Cala., was visiting friends here last week.

Mrs. Lilly Cloud, of Louisville, spent the past week with Mrs. Henry Darby.

Mrs. Geo. Darby has returned from visiting Mrs. May Mayhew, of South Bend, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Rucker are attending the New Orleans convention now in session.

Misses Anna and Kittie Brown spent Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Everett Souther.

Miss Edna Tanner and mother were guests of Miss Bessie Helm, of Taylorport, Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Bradford spent Saturday and Sunday with Mr. Bradford's mother near Big Bone.

Mrs. H. V. Tanner, Mr. J. W. Riggs and daughter, Virgie, Lucy Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Will Kenyon, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Russell, Mrs. Jeff Cloud and daughter, Jessie, and Mrs. Will McGlasson and daughter, Georgia, attended the Newport convention, Sunday.

LIMABURG.

The sick are improving.

Mrs. Delila Utz, of Lexington, is visiting relatives in this community.

J. W. Quigley and wife visited Wm. McGlasson and family, last Friday.

Henry Clore is having a nice cistern dug, preparing for another drought.

Several from this community had some experience with pickpockets at the barbecue at Florence.

Mr. and Mrs. David Davis, of Van Wert, Ohio, spent from Thursday until Friday with J. W. Quigley and wife.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Davis spent Saturday night and Sunday with her brother, Tony Rue, near Belleview.

We are very sorry to hear of the death of Wm. Clore, of Waterloo, and extend our sympathy to the bereaved family.

Miss Essie Beemon and Messrs. Carl and Ray Craven were Saturday night and Sunday guests of Miss Hazel Tompson, of near Florence.

Thos. Portwood and Miss Bessie Weldon, daughter of Milton Weldon, were united in marriage last Wednesday afternoon. Rev. Stith officiated. We wish the young couple a long and happy journey through life.

Where Bullets Flew.

David Parker, of Fayette, N. Y., a veteran of the civil war, who lost a foot at Gettysburg, says: "The good Electric Bitters have done is worth more than five hundred dollars to me. I spent much money doctoring for a bad case of stomach trouble, to little purpose. I then tried Electric Bitters, and they cured me. I now take them as a tonic, and they keep me strong and well." 50c at Hentler's drug store, Erlanger.

PUBLIC SPEAKING.

Hon. E. E. Winn, of Gallatin county, will speak at the following places; Verona, Tuesday, October 27th at 7:30 p. m.

Rabbit Hash, Wednesday, October 28th at 2 p. m.;

Petersburg, Wednesday, October 28th at 7:30 p. m.

Hon. M. J. Bourn, of Owen county, will speak at Burlington, Monday, Nov. 2d at 1:30 p. m.

William Clore, of Waterloo neighborhood, died about noon, last Friday, after an illness of several months of dropsy. He was an especially fine man—kind, accommodating, upright and scrupulously honest. He was a prosperous farmer and owned the best farm on the East Bend road between Burlington and East Bend. After services at the residence by the Rev. Wm. McMillan, the remains followed by a large crowd, were taken to Belleview where they were laid to rest in the cemetery at that place, last Sunday.

Had a Close Call.

Mrs. Ada L. Croon, the widely known proprietor of the Croon Hotel, Vaughn, Miss., says: "For several months I suffered with a severe cough, and consumption seemed to have its grip on me, when a friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery. I began taking it, and three bottles effected a complete cure." The issue of this life saving cough and cold remedy, and lung and throat healer is world wide. Sold at Hentler's drug store, Erlanger. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

See Green's big ad on 8 page.

GOD'S ANOINTED

Jeremiah, the Prophet Dealt Kindly with by Chaldeans.

BY THE "HIGHWAY AND BYWAY" PREACHER

(Copyright, 1903, by the Author, W. S. Elson.)

Jeremiah, the Prophet.—Name means: "Whom Jehovah has appointed." He was son of Hilkiah, a priest of Anatoth, of Benjamin, not far from Jerusalem. He began to prophesy in the thirteenth year of Josiah's reign, about 70 years after the death of Isaiah the prophet, and continued to do so all through the troubled times of the Babylonian invasion. His utterances were regarded as of evil omen by the rulers of Jerusalem, because he counseled submission to their Chaldean foes. Other prophets, such as for instance, Samuel, Elisha, Isaiah, had been sent to arouse the people to resistance and preservation of the national autonomy, but he, under Divine revelation, was brought to see that the only safety lay in submission to the Babylonian king, and the advocacy of such a policy brought upon him the charge of treachery and desertion of his nation's cause. As a result of all this there fell to the lot of Jeremiah sharper suffering than any previous prophet had experienced. The ultimate fate of Jeremiah is uncertain, but according to Jerome he met death in Egypt at the hands of the Jews who had fled thither, and who had compelled him to go with them.

Scripture Authority.—Jeremiah, chapter 40.

SERMONETTE.

"Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard (of the Chaldean army) let him (Jeremiah) go from Ramah, when he had taken him being bound in chains among all that were carried away captive."—There is no more comforting thought nor one which is a greater source of strength to the child of God than to know that "the Lord knoweth them that are his," and that he "will guard and keep."

The one who walks with God never has to worry about what man may do to him, knowing that God will not suffer anything to happen to the one who is doing his will but such as shall be to the ultimate blessing of the individual and the advancement of his kingdom among men.

It was this which made Jesus so calm and peaceful in the face of his enemies and led him to say in the face of Pilate's threat: "Thou couldest have no power at all against me, except it were given thee from above."

It is this point which we wish to make concerning the prophet Jeremiah at this crucial period in his life.

He had been seized with other Jews, put in chains and dragged part way on the long journey from Jerusalem to Babylon. Might he not have well felt that God had forgotten him and that he was being unjustly dealt with by the Chaldean army, for had he not for years been counseling submission to the yoke of Babylon's king? Here he was being dragged off in chains just as though he were of the number of the rebellious and ungodly Jews. And no doubt such treatment was a source of grim satisfaction to the Jewish enemies of Jeremiah, who perhaps even chided him with the fact that his friendliness to the Chaldeans had not seemed to help his cause any.

But see how Jeremiah proved a double source of blessing and service. It afforded Nebuzar-adan the chance to give before all the other Jews that splendid testimony that Jeremiah had spoken the very words of God and it again offered Jeremiah the opportunity of proving his love for Jerusalem and devotion to the spiritual interests of those who remained behind. It would have been more comfortable and safe to have gone on to Babylon under the personal patronage and protection of Nebuzar-adan than to go back to ruined and poverty-stricken Jerusalem, but Jeremiah chose the latter course of self-abnegation. And God knew and understood and cared for him, as he ever will him who serveth him faithfully.

THE STORY.

THE clank of the heavy chains sounded with each step of the fettered captives as they plodded slowly over the dusty highway. Jerusalem had fallen before the mighty prowess of the army of the king of Babylon, and now the captives and the treasure which had been gathered in the city were being carried back to Babylon. Nebuzar-adan, the captain of the guard, had taken good pains to see that the choicest of the people and the best of the treasure of the city were secured to take back as trophies of war for his king. First came a detachment of the Chaldean army, then followed the long line of camels and horses bearing their burden of the spoil of the city. Behind these slowly and painfully plodded the men in chains, and with them the women and children.

Among the number was the prophet Jeremiah. Fettered like the rest, he plodded on over the road, groaning within himself, and saying:

"O, if the men of the city had only listened to the word of the Lord as I spake unto them and had surrendered peaceably to the king of Babylon, we should have all been spared this suffering. And I fear now that the people who still remain in Jerusalem will not have learned the lesson but will still further offend and will yet receive even worse punishment.

"And they counted me as an enemy of the city," Jeremiah continued to muse to himself, "because I counseled submission to the one whom God had chosen to punish the nation for its sins. And now these mine enemies have caused me to be taken. Ah, well, God knows, and he will help. But I would be back in Jerusalem, for they need me there."

It was true as Jeremiah had said. His enemies had delivered him into the hands of the conquering army, for when the invading hosts had swarmed through the city and the captains were engaged in picking those who should be taken as captives back to Jerusalem he had been pointed out as one whom they could not safely leave behind in the city, and so fetters had been placed upon his limbs, and he had been marched out with the rest, and after a long, weary tramp, they were nearing Ramah, the place where they were to rest for the night.

Nebuzar-adan, the captain in command of the company, was riding in his chariot, well satisfied with the result of the expedition and planning for the days ahead when he should triumphantly enter the city of Babylon with the splendid treasure and the long line of captives.

"Who is there in yon column," he asked of his servant as he waved his hand in the direction of the captive Jews. "They tell me they are the choicest of the men of Judah, princes of the royal family."

"Quite true," responded his servant, with an obeisance, and he began to name over those whom he knew to be among the number of the captives. "And I learned to-day that Jeremiah is also there," he added.

"Jeremiah? Jeremiah?" repeated Nebuzar-adan, thoughtfully. "The name sounds familiar. Is he of the princes royal?"

"No," replied the servant, with evident surprise. "Surely thou dost remember the prophet of Jerusalem who hath spoken so favorably to his people concerning our King Nebuchadnezzar?"

"Indeed, I do remember now," was the eager response. "I knew of his prophecies and his message, but I had for the moment forgotten his name. And you tell me that he is among the captives?"

"He is."

"How came he there? Knowest not the army of Babylon them which are the friends of Nebuchadnezzar?"

"But at first it was not known. Some of Jeremiah's enemies caused him to be apprehended among the first, declaring that it were dangerous to leave him behind in the city."

"And they took him and put him in fetters?" asked Nebuzar-adan, impatiently.

"Such is my understanding. I have not looked upon the man, but I am told that he wears chains like the rest."

"By the gods of the Chaldeans and the God whom Jeremiah serves, we shall not proceed further until his fetters have been removed," and quickly giving the necessary orders, the long line was halted, and the great captain waited until they should bring Jeremiah to him.

"Come up and ride with me in my chariot," he exclaimed, as he reached forth and grasped the hand of the prophet as he was led forward. "I have heard of thee. The Lord thy God hath through thee pronounced this evil upon Jerusalem. Now the Lord hath brought it to pass, and done according as he hath said. Surely, your God must he a great God to thus make known his ways to his servant. Tell me more of him."

"That I shall be glad to do," was the ready response, and he began at once to tell of the God of Israel and how he had raised up of the seed of Abraham a great nation and that because of sin and the forgetting of God God had brought punishment upon them. "Yea, the king of Babylon has been raised up to execute the judgments of our God," concluded Jeremiah, confidently.

"And it is because ye have sinned against the Lord and have not obeyed his voice that this thing hath come upon thee?" wonderingly questioned the Chaldean captain.

Jeremiah nodded his head, sadly.

"Well, thou at least shouldest not be in bondage," exclaimed Nebuzar-adan. "Thou art the anointed of thy God and hast been faithful to thy people and hath shown kindness towards the king of Babylon in that thou didst counsel thy people to submit to the yoke of my king. Therefore I have this day loosed thee from the chains which were upon thee. If it seem good unto thee to come with me to Babylon, come! And I will look well unto thee. But if it seem ill unto thee to come with me into Babylon, then forbear. Whither it seemeth good and convenient unto thee to go, thither go."

A great joy filled the heart of Jeremiah and he bowed low before Nebuzar-adan.

"I will go back," he said, simply. "They will need me."

And Nebuzar-adan gave Jeremiah victuals and a reward and let him go, saying, heartily, as he did so:

"Go back unto Gedaliah, the son of Ahikam, whom the king of Babylon hath made governor over the cities of Judah, and dwell with him among the people."

Misfortunes Come to All.

No one is fortunate all his life.

ROCKING THE BOAT

TAFT TARIFF PLANK

MEANS CONTINUANCE OF MONOPOLISTIC ROBBERY.

That Is Why "Standpatter" Joe Cannon Is So Satisfied with It—Embodies Worst Defects of Dingley Bill.

While other Republicans may not yet understand the meaning of the Taft tariff plank in the Chicago platform, Speaker Cannon, as the leading representative of the "standpatters," unquestionably understands his own reasons for being satisfied with it.

He knew when he offered to begin "bucking the line" in support of the Taft tariff policy that it was a condensation and reaffirmation of section 11 of the Dingley bill, the section which made it sure that the bill would become the mother of monopolies and giant corporations, creating artificial scarcity to support monopoly prices.

Under the Taft policy, with taxation on foreign business to be adjusted on a sliding scale, so that the taxation will be added to the prices of foreign goods competing in this market, it is said that the consideration in fixing prices thus is to be the difference in the cost of production with a "reasonable profit" added above this by the tax for the benefit of corporations dependent on tariff taxation to shield them from competition. This is an exact outline of the section which clinches the Dingley law for monopoly by providing a method for making political prices at the custom house.

Under this section of the Dingley law as it was rewritten for the Taft platform, the custom house appraisers are charged with estimating the cost of production abroad, of adding all general expenses and, after making further additions to prevent the possibility of lowering the tax as based on values outside the Dingley lines, they are to make the final decision by "taking into consideration in determining the dutiable value of such merchandise" prices inside the Dingley lines, making the final estimate against competition on the basis of monopoly prices, when competition is excluded.

As this made prices against the American consumer political and monopolistic under the Dingley bill, it is the sum and substance of the Taft program of perpetuating political prices. As it is only thus that political monopoly can be supported, Taft and Cannon stand pat together on the worst in the Dingley system as the mother of monopoly when they stand together on the Chicago platform, demanding the assessment of taxes on American consumers not only to support increasing burdens of government, but to give political monopolies assurance that taxes shall be so assessed on trade as to assure them unearned profits.—St. Louis Republic.

Republican Hypocrisy.

"The sins of Foraker can only emphasize the virtues of Taft.

"The sins of Haskell must become the sins of Bryan unless there is a radical change in the situation."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Of course, of course, if a Republican senator, who, charged with accepting fees from a monopoly to influence national legislation, is taken to the bosom of the Republican national presidential candidate, in public reconciliation, that can only show how convenient unto thee to go, thither white the candidate is by the black mark that is left on his manly form as the result of the embrace. But if a Democrat, mixed in the same mess, though not in national public life, is employed in a personal capacity in the private organization of the Democratic party, why, his sin at once becomes the sin of the Democratic national candidate! Of course, of course! There are two standards of morals—one for the Republicans and another for the Democrats. And if you don't believe it, why, even a shorter word will describe what you are. In the name of the prophet, figs!—Indianapolis News.

DUE TO REPUBLICAN MISRULE.

Enormous Decrease in the Nation's Savings Is Reported.

As a result of Republican policies there has been an enormous decrease in the nation's savings. The money put aside for a rainy day has disappeared. Careful citizens who had refrained from spending all they made had enough for an ordinary rainy day, but not for a deluge. Reports of savings banks in the great industrial and commercial centers of the country tell a woeful story of distress and deprivation. In New York alone the number of accounts opened for the year ending July 1 was nearly 75,000 less than in the year before, while the number of accounts closed was nearly 50,000 more.

The net loss of savings deposits in New York was about $65,000,000. This big sum represents the industry and frugality of the "average citizen." Apart altogether from other considerations think of the moral effect of Republican misrule! It stands to reason that many of these New Yorkers who after years of hard work and scraping and saving were reduced to penury by the collapse of fictitious Republican "prosperity" are now asking: "What's the use? Why be saving? Why be frugal and why be industrious when the country—the government—does not back us in our efforts and refuses to give real protection to American industrial workers?"

The greatest lesson that thousands of impoverished voters all over the country have learned and one that should be iterated and reiterated from every platform and in every honest newspaper during this campaign is "High tariff is not social protection."

EXPOSURE OF CLUMSY FAKE.

Forged Cleveland Letter Will Do Injury to Republicans.

The mischief of lying is that it too often takes the truth a long time to run down and strangle a lie. It is fortunate for the people of the United States that in the white heat of such a presidential campaign as we have this year such a lie upon Grover Cleveland as the Republican national committee has given the widest circulation cannot for many days survive exposure.

This particular lie, dishonestly invented and dishonestly sold to an honest publisher, said that Grover Cleveland was to the last hour of his life, a political enemy of William Jennings Bryan, and that if Cleveland lived he would have voted for Taft, or words to that effect.

The repudiation of this story by Grover Cleveland's widow and the executor of his estate, and their identification of it as a forgery, of course, destroys its effect. Its purpose could have been nothing else than to turn Cleveland's political friends from Bryan to Taft.

The exposure of the fake will cause it to come back like a boomerang upon the Republican managers who circulated it broadcast without verification. The affair was conducted in ignorance of the fine art of political lying. The effective roorback is sprung only when it is too late to expose it until after its purpose has been accomplished. This one was exploded prematurely. We may look out for more of them.

Democratic Pledges Straight.

If the people elect a Democratic house of representatives they will know what to expect. There will be no dispute over the meaning of a phrase like "a reasonable profit to American industries," which vitiates the whole Republican pledge for immediate revision of the tariff.

Democrats say that "articles entering into competition with articles controlled by trusts should be placed on the free list." That means that whenever monopoly has fastened upon the production of any article and has the power arbitrarily to raise its price, then similar articles manufactured abroad shall be given free entry into the country, in order that the American people may have the benefit of competition.

ELEPHANTS TRAINED TO WORK.

Experiment Declared to Have Been Attended with Success.

African elephants, hitherto regarded as valuable only for their ivory, are now being domesticated at Api, in the Kongo. A small herd of young elephants has been kept in captivity there for several years and finally, after much effort in training them, satisfactory results have been obtained. Already the oldest members of the elephant farm do the porterage and traction work of the station. They carry drivers on their backs and pack-saddles with loads. Some draw wagonettes and others are trained to draw the plow. None of the animals is more than seven years old and since the Indian elephants are most efficient at the adult age, 15 years, it is believed even better results may be looked for. Mortality among the elephants newly captured has been great, and as yet it has not been possible to attempt to breed them in captivity, but experience is solving the problems of domestication; the deaths are now few and fresh recruits are being constantly added. Eventually, it is expected, elephant caravans will be established.

Success in the undertaking means a great deal for the future of the country. Despite railroads and steamboat lines, the Kongo will always be a country of forests and of savannas intersected with swamps, for the traversing of which elephants may prove indispensable. In the region of vast plains cut by rivers and swampy streams of the Uele district the elephants thrive. They live especially in the marshy regions, feeding on the grass of the plains in the early morning and returning to the shelter of near-by forests when the sun's rays grow warm. Rarely are the solitary "rogue" elephants met in the Kongo. The African species are found generally in families of three to six individuals, but troops of 20, 30 or 100 are not rare, and witnesses even affirm that troops of several hundred exist.

Shunning man, and as a rule fleeing at his approach, the African elephant when attacked often shows fight, and is dangerous prey. Kongo specimens have very large ears, that even stretch back beyond the neck and cover part of the flank. In color the Kongo elephants are of a grayish blue, almost slate-like tint. No one has ever reported seeing specimens of the sacred white elephant of India there. In size Kongo elephants have been killed more than 14 feet high at the withers and reckoned at more than eight tons in weight. Tusks obtained are sometimes more than 200 pounds in weight and 6½ feet in length.

The Underlying Principle.

"My friend, Judge Kohlsaat," said a Cleveland lawyer, "must be credited with numerous splendid and entirely successful efforts to lighten the tedium of commonplace trials.

"During the early days of his career there was tried before him a case of assault wherein it was held that the plaintiff had been knocked down by the defendant and severely handled, while he, the plaintiff, was prostrate. One of the witnesses was reluctant to answer the questions put to him, and in this the court upheld him.

"'May it please your honor,' expostulated counsel for the plaintiff, 'it would not appear that the court has taken into consideration the underlying principle in this case.'

"'It seems to the court,' responded his honor with gravity, 'that the underlying principal in this case is your client.'"

Women Would Vote on Bond Issue.

The Woman's Civic league of Atlanta has passed a resolution asking the city council to allow women to vote on a proposed bond issue of $1,500,000. The league points out that Atlanta has many women property holders who have the good of their city at heart; that in many instances their property is the result of their own efforts, and that if women know how to make money and how to take care of it they certainly should have the right to say for what purpose and by whom their taxes should be expended.

MARKET REPORTS.

	Cincinnati,	Oct. 17.
CATTLE—Extra	$5 25	@ 5 50
CALVES—Extra		@ 7 25
HOGS—Choice	5 90	@ 6 00
SHEEP—Extra	3 65	@ 3 75
LAMBS—Spring	5 65	@ 5 75
FLOUR—Spring pat..	5 75	@ 6 00
WHEAT—No. 2 red..	1 02	@ 1 04
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@ 78
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@ 51
RYE—No. 2 choice ..	78	@ 80
HAY—Ch. timothy ..	12 75	@13 00
BUTTER—Dairy		@ 16½
EGGS—Per doz.		@ 23
APPLES—Choice	3 75	@ 4 00
POTATOES—Per bu.	80	@ 85
TOBACCO—Burley ..	8 50	@18 00
CHICAGO.
WHEAT—No. 2 red..	97½	@ 99
CORN—No. 2 mixed.	78¼	@ 78½
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@ 43¾
PORK—Prime mess..		@13 80
LARD—Prime		@ 9 10
NEW YORK.
FLOUR—Win. patent	4 25	@ 4 40
WHEAT—No 2 red..		@ 1 07½
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@ 87¼
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@ 53
PORK—Prime mess.	17 25	@17 75
LARD—Steam	10 70	@10 80
BALTIMORE.
WHEAT—No. 2 red..		@ 1 02½
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@ 67¾
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@ 52
LOUISVILLE.
WHEAT—No. 2 red..		@ 1 02
CORN—No. 2 mixed.		@ 84½
OATS—No. 2 mixed.		@ 54½
HAY—Ch. timothy ..	12 00	@12 50
HOGS—Extra	5 00	@ 6 00
LARD—Steam		@ 8 00
INDIANAPOLIS.
CATTLE—Prime ...	5 75	@ 7 00
HOGS—Extra	5 00	@ 6 40
SHEEP—Extra	4 00	@ 4 25

CORNET BROUGHT ABOUT PEACE.

Spite Controversy Happily Ended Without Legal Warfare.

"Fellow was raising bees back in the foothill country," remarked Frank H. Short of Fresno. "Plenty of sagebrush; sage makes clear, delicious honey. Got in a row with a neighbor; shot his dog; said its barking annoyed his queen bees. Neighbor waited a whole year to get even, plowed up a big patch, planted wild mustard; grew fine. Bees thick on mustard flowers. Mustard makes bitter honey. Like to ruin the bee man's sales. Bee farmer came to me, wanted to sue for damages. 'What can I do?' he asked.

"'Nothing,' I said. 'He has a right to grow mustard on his own land.'

"'Well,' he said, 'I'll get some scheme to annoy him.'

"So he got a cornet; used to sit up from midnight till four o'clock in the morning practicing 'Wearing of the Green.' Fellow with the mustard was an Englishman; stood it for three weeks; went out with a scythe and cut down all the mustard. They've been good friends ever since."—San Francisco Chronicle.

A Discomfiting Witness.

The following colloquy took place between Councilor Sealingwax and a witness who "would talk back:" "You say, sir, the prisoner is a thief?" "Yes, sir. 'Cause why, she has confessed she was." "And you also swear she worked for you after this confession?" "Yes, sir." "Then we are to understand that you employ dishonest people to work for you, even after their rascalities are known?" "Of course. How else would I get assistance from a lawyer?"—Argonaut.

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN

LYDIA E. PINKHAM

No other medicine has been so successful in relieving the suffering of women or received so many genuine testimonials as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

In every community you will find women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Almost every one you meet has either been benefited by it, or has friends who have.

In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., any woman any day may see the files containing over one million one hundred thousand letters from women seeking health, and here are the letters in which they openly state over their own signatures that they were cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has saved many women from surgical operations.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is made from roots and herbs, without drugs, and is wholesome and harmless.

The reason why Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so successful is because it contains ingredients which act directly upon the feminine organism, restoring it to a healthy normal condition.

Women who are suffering from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

PISO'S CURE

AN UNSURPASSED REMEDY FOR

Piso's Cure is an unsurpassed remedy for coughs, colds, bronchitis, asthma, hoarseness and throat and lung affections. It goes direct to the seat of the trouble and speedily restores healthy conditions. Mothers can give their children Piso's Cure with perfect confidence in its curative powers and freedom from opiates. Famous for half a century.

At all druggists', 25 cts.

TURKEY FEARS WAR

DISTURBED BY THE MILITARY ACTIVITY OF BULGARIA.

THREAT FOR MONTENEGRO

Austrian Fleet Anchors Close to Its Seaport — Powers Agree on Program for the Conference.

Constantinople.—Disturbed by the news of Bulgaria's military activity, the Porte has instructed the Turkish representatives abroad to call this matter to the attention of the powers and to state also that Turkey will decline to take the responsibility should Bulgaria's persistence in her present attitude result in hostilities.

Austria Threatens Montenegro.

Cettinje, Montenegro.—Six Austrian warships were anchored Thursday off Spinza, in Dalmatia, a crown land of Austria-Hungary. They are no more than ten miles from Antivari, the sole seaport of Montenegro.

Agreement Between Powers.

London.—Great Britain, Russia and France have reached an agreement on a program to be submitted to the other powers as a basis for discussion by the proposed European conference to settle the Balkan situation. The proposals to be laid before the powers are eight in number. The first is to the effect that articles 1 to 22 of the treaty of Berlin, which relate to Bulgaria and eastern Roumelia, should be replaced by stipulations recognizing the independence of Bulgaria as at present constituted and determining the financial obligations of Bulgaria toward Turkey. New clauses probably will settle also the question of the Oriental railway.

The second and third proposals are that the powers shall take note of the annexation by Austria-Hungary of Bosnia and Herzegovina and the return of the sanjak of Novipazar to Turkey.

Provision Regarding Crete.

Article 4 relates to Crete. It replaces article 23 of the treaty of Berlin by clauses recognizing the annexation of Crete to Greece, and determining the financial obligations of Greece in respect to Crete, toward Turkey. It is understood that the four powers charged with the protection of Crete, Russia, Great Britain, France and Italy will settle the Cretan question in concert with Turkey before referring it to the conference. It is proposed that the second part of article 23 of the Berlin treaty, which provides special regulations for the government of other parts of European Turkey, shall cease to have force when the powers are assured that a satisfactory settlement has been effected.

The fifth proposal is to the effect that arrangements similar to the above shall apply to the Armenian provinces of Turkey.

Article 6 deals with Montenegro. The Montenegrin rights of sovereignty are limited by article 29 of the treaty of Berlin. It is proposed that articles 26 to 33, inclusive, of the Berlin treaty, shall be condensed to a single article, abrogating all the restrictions imposed by the treaty under the original article 29, which it is proposed to sweep away.

Plan Compensation to Servia.

The seventh point in the program is the statement that it is desirable to seek and give compensation to Servia and Montenegro by a rectification of the Bosnian and Herzegovinian frontiers, adjoining Novipazar. This is taken to imply that a strip will be taken from the territory annexed by Austria-Hungary.

Proposal 8 concerns the river Danube and declares it is desirable to revise the regulations governing Danube traffic so as to give larger rights to the states bordering on the river.

Will Move Hindus to Honduras.

Vancouver, B. C.—J. B. Harkin of the department of the interior of the Dominion government has solved the Hindu question so far as the province of British Columbia is concerned. The entire Hindu colony, consisting of more than 2,000 persons, is to be moved from British Columbia to British Honduras. The Hindus are anxious to move and the imperial government will assist in the cost of transporting them to their new home. Many of the Hindu colony here are not only out of work but actually starving.

Carriers Head a Thief.

Chicago.—Robert F. Palmer, president of the City Letter Carriers' association of Illinois, was arrested Thursday on a charge of robbing the mail.

He made a written confession to Postmaster Inspectors Elston and Llewellyn that he has been pilfering letters for 16 years, and that the amount of money stolen is large although he kept no account of it. Palmer is a letter carrier of Joliet.

J. O. Curwood Alive and Well.

Winnipeg, Man.—The story being published in the press that James Oliver Curwood, the well-known magazine writer of Detroit, had been murdered by Indians in the Hudson Bay district, is untrue. Curwood is alive and well.

Murderer Kills Self in Jail.

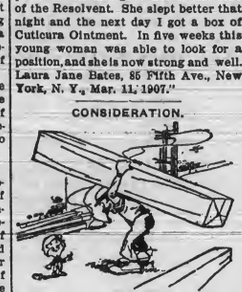
Champaign, Ill.—John Cook, aged 78 years, committed suicide in the county jail Thursday by hanging himself. One month ago he murdered Mrs. Edna McLennan.

WANTED IT OVER WITH.

Game Youngster Preferred Drastic Action in Punishment.

"Youngsters are pretty philosophical," observed Wallace Knight, and then he went ahead to set forth the point of view of a small daughter at his house.

The child was sent to bed early the other evening as punishment for some act contrary to rules and regulations.



After she had been tucked in bed for some time and was supposedly asleep, the youngster called her father and told him she wished he would go ahead and spank her and have it over with, instead of sending her off to bed that way. "This lying in bed never's going to make me any better," she said, "and a good spanking would. Besides it makes me so mad I can't sleep and so what's the use of it?"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

CURE AT CITY MISSION.

Awful Case of Scabies—Body a Mass of Sores from Scratching—Her Tortures Yield to Cuticura.

"A young woman came to our city mission in a most awful condition physically. Our doctor examined her and told us that she had scabies (the itch), incipient paresis, rheumatism, etc., brought on from exposure. Her poor body was a mass of sores from scratching and she was not able to retain solid food. We worked hard over her for seven weeks but we could see little improvement. One day I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap and a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent, and we bathed our patient well and gave her a full dose of the Resolvent. She slept better that night and the next day I got a box of Cuticura Ointment. In five weeks this young woman was able to look for a position, and she is now strong and well. Laura Jane Bates, 85 Fifth Ave., New York, N. Y., Mar. 11, 1907."

CONSIDERATION.

The Workman—Hey, what's that?

The Kid—I sez, any time you gits tired I'll take de job for two cents a hour.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Legend of Magpie and Robin.

The peasants of France, in accordance with a tradition, pierce the head of a magpie with a thorn whenever they catch one. According to the French legend, after Jesus had been nailed to the cross two birds alighted on the extended arms of the instrument of death. One was a magpie with a beautiful aigrette on its head and a long waving tail, then the handsomest of birds but the wickedest, chirping insult at the suffering Jesus. The other bird was a modest little bird with gray plumage, which approached the cross timidly, uttering cries of grief. With its beak it tried to pluck away one of the thorns. A single drop of the blood fell on the pitying little gray bird and gave the robin redbreast.

Insanity.

"You admit having received a $50,000 fee from the trust?" said the lawyer for the state.

"I do," replied the senator, calmly. Besides, I sent it back."

"Sent it back!"

"I did."

"Your honor," said the lawyer, turning to the court, "I cannot prosecute an insane man."

Adjournment was had until some alienists could be rounded up.

Important to Mothers.

Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA a safe and sure remedy for infants and children, and see that it

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

In Use For Over 30 Years.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

They Did.

Uncle Henry—Nellie, I hope they observe the Sabbath at that lake resort where you spent your vacation.

Pretty Niece—Indeed they do, uncle. On Sundays they always serve a regular four course dinner.

FLY YOUTH.

The Boss—Where did you work last?

Boy—On a fly paper.

The Boss—A fly paper! What's a fly paper?

Boy—Wot! Don't you read the Daily Balloon?

The Square Deal.

A stout and opulent man dwelling in a suburban town had borne the expense of the annual Sunday school picnic, and the superintendent of the school, out of gratitude, asked the benefactor to address the children. The philanthropist was not much of a speaker, but he was a master hand at poker. When he found himself gazing into the expectant faces of a hundred and fifty children his embarrassment almost overcame him, but he managed to stammer out: "My dear children, what I want to impress upon you is that—er—er—it pays to be good. That er—er—er—a man who deals from the bottom of the pack is generally buried at the public expense."

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

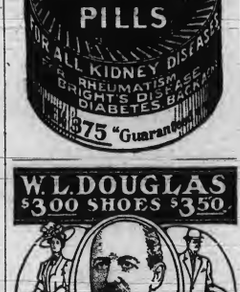
Making Sure.

Our Freddy is fully endowed with the inquiring mind of youth. Recently he said: "Mamma, who puts the bottle of milk on our front porch every night when we are all asleep?"

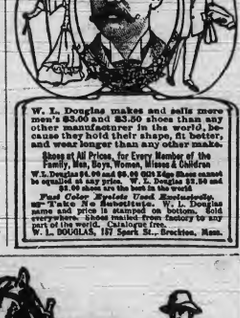
"Isn't that a rather foolish question?" his mother answered. "Whom do you suppose?"

"Well," said the small investigator, thoughtfully, "I suppose God does, but I'd like to know for sure!"—A. M. A.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.



For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.



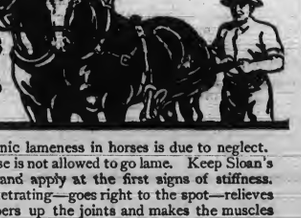
A man isn't necessarily a fisherman just because he is a liar.

Allen's Foot-Ease, a Powder

For swollen, sweating feet. Gives instant relief. The original powder for the feet. 25c at all Druggists.

Debtors usually have better memories than creditors.

W. L. Douglas makes and sells more men's $3.50 shoes than any other manufacturer in the world, because they hold their shape, fit better, and wear longer than any other make.



Shoes at All Prices, for Every Member of the Family, Men, Women, Misses & Children

W. L. Douglas $4.00 and $5.00 Gilt Edge Shoes cannot be equalled at any price. W. L. Douglas $3.50 and $3.00 shoes are the best in the world.

Fast Color Eyelets Used. Manufacturing Plant the Largest Exclusive Shoe Factory in the World.

Name and price is stamped on bottom. Sold everywhere. Shoes mailed from factory to any part of the world. Catalogue free.

W. L. DOUGLAS, 167 Spark St., Brockton, Mass.

For Lameness in Horses

Much of the chronic lameness in horses is due to neglect. See that your horse is not allowed to go lame. Keep Sloan's Liniment on hand and apply at the first signs of stiffness. It's wonderfully penetrating—goes right to the spot—relieves the soreness—limbers up the joints and makes the muscles elastic and pliant.

Sloan's Liniment

will kill a spavin, curb or splint, reduce wind puffs and swollen joints, and is a sure and speedy remedy for fistula, sweeney, founder and thrush. Price, 50c. and $1.00

Dr. Earl S. Sloan, - - Boston, Mass.

Sloan's book on horses, cattle, sheep and poultry sent free.

SICK MAN WANTED CHANGE.

More Than Willing to Make Transfer with Physician.

A Syracuse business man who, besides being extremely active and ambitious, has much sense of humor, was taken sick with a slight attack of pneumonia. His physician, aware that it would be a task to keep his high-strung patient in bed, sought to impress on him the seriousness of the ailment and the necessity of absolute rest; all of which the sick man listened to in a bored manner. Nevertheless he consented to obey the doctor.

But this enforced inactivity rankled in him; and each succeeding day found the patient importuning the medical man attendant to allow him to get out to business. Then, disgusted, he would lie back to cast imprecations at the inexorable physician.

One morning the physician, after having been up all night on an important case, appeared at his patient's house at the usual hour. He had hardly stuck his haggard face inside the door, however, before the man in the bed gave him a quick glance and sat up.

"Eh? ejaculated the patient. Then shoving out his hand to grasp the doctor's satchel, he added: "Doc, I guess you'd better get into bed here and let me go out with the medicine bag."

"The Law."

Parents of Wayne, a suburb of Philadelphia, are required to report promptly any case of contagious disease, in compliance with the regulations of the local board of health.

In accordance with this order, Health Officer Lowry received this post card recently:

"Dear Sir: This is to notify you that my boy Ephraim is down bad with the measles as required by the new law."—Harper's Weekly.

Poor, Patient Man.

Mr. Henpeck—My dear, please don't call me "Leo" any more.

Mrs. Henpeck—What foolishness are you thinking about now? Why shouldn't I call you "Leo." That's your name.

Mr. Henpeck—I know, but it makes my friends laugh when you call me that; I was thinking you might call me "Job" just for a pet name.

Ethics of Friendship.

In the progress of each man's character, he will have learned the lesson of life who is skillful in the ethics of friendship.—Emerson.

SEASIDE SILHOUETTE.

A young couple who are very much taken with each other.

Congratulations Wanted.

On entering his club one evening not long ago a young Philadelphian was accosted by a friend, who exclaimed:

"Why, Charley, you are positively beaming! What's up?"

"I'm in the greatest luck imaginable," responded the other. "You know, I've been hanging about a pretty Yonkers girl for almost a year. During all this time she would never admit that she loved me; she would only say that she respected me. But now, old chap, congratulate me, for last night she confessed that she respected me no longer—that she loved me!"—Lippincott's.

Ready, Whatever Happens.

"Work as though you were to live forever; live as though you were to die to-night," says an old writer. It is counsel that fits many, though the man whose life is well insured may claim some exemption. He has no need of working as though death were ready to come, for he has already anticipated and guarded his dependents against the monetary distress that so often trails in the grim visitor's wake. As for the rest of the advice, his policies are tangible evidence of his noble forethought and readiness to die, if need be, to-night.

Crack or Break.

Edwin and his mother went for a walk Sunday afternoon. Coming to a tree of cherries, the mother bent a low limb so that the little fellow could pick some. Seeing some fine ones higher up, he begged to be allowed to climb the tree. "Oh, no," said his mother, "that would be breaking the Sabbath."

"And we are only cracking the Sabbath now, are we, mamma?" inquired Edwin.—Delineator.

Jap Immigrants for Brazil.

Brazil has received its first batch of Japanese immigrants—781—under the arrangement concluded about nine months ago between the Japanese and Brazilian governments. Within two days all were at work on the coffee plantations. Other shiploads will arrive regularly.

Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna acts gently yet promptly on the bowels, cleanses the system effectually, assists one in overcoming habitual constipation, permanently. To get its beneficial effects buy the genuine.

Manufactured by the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.

SOLD BY LEADING DRUGGISTS—50¢ PER BOTTLE.

SICK HEADACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS. Positively cured by these Little Pills.

They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, TORPID LIVER. They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable.

SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRICE.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS. Genuine Must Bear Fac-Simile Signature

Brent Good

REFUSE SUBSTITUTES.

HYGIENIC TOWEL

Sanitary and a Marvel in Quick Dryer

A towel which is sure to receive immediate and most hearty welcome by the user. From every point of view, economical as well as sanitary, it is by long odds the best that has ever been put before the public. The Hygienic possesses every desirable quality that is possible to be put in a towel. It is of strong, massive texture, is handsome, soft, pliable, yet very absorbent, absorbs moisture quickly, drying the body with handy any effort. It is a rapid driver of perspiration, a means of healthy exercise. It is made in four sizes

15x30 10c apiece. 19x60 15c apiece.
20x40 20c apiece. 21x50 25c apiece.

Send for one or a pair for sample. Money returned if not satisfactory. Write direct to Maker, as we are the only makers of the HYGIENIC TOWEL in the United States. THE PATENT MILLS, York and Howard Streets, Philadelphia, Pa.

DEFIANCE STARCH — 16 ounces to the package—other starches only 12 ounces—same price as "DEFIANCE" 16 SUPERIOR QUALITY.

A. N. K.—E (1908—43) 2253.

Round Trip to Florida Free

I will pay your round trip railroad fare to Hilliard, Florida, from any point in Ohio, Indiana, Tennessee, or Kentucky, if you buy a 10 acre truck farm for $210 in the North Florida Fruit and Truck Farm District, 30 miles from Jacksonville, which will earn $3,000 to $5,000 a year.

READ EVERY LINE OF THIS ADVERTISEMENT

I will send you full details of this offer, plat of the truck farms, portfolio of pictures of the farms, the new improvements and the town of Hilliard and a book about the wonderful development of truck farming in Northern Florida. I will reserve for you, the moment I get your postal or letter stating that you want particulars and may go to Hilliard, the nearest farm to the town of Hilliard then unsold and hold it until you make your trip.

My proposition to pay your railroad fare is good only on the following dates: Oct. 27 and Nov. 3, 17 and 24. I will arrange so you can secure 10 acres of this land in the heart of the North Florida Fruit and Truck Farm District near Jacksonville at $10 a month, and besides I will give you a building lot 25x125 feet absolutely free in the town of Hilliard adjoining these farms. Many fruit and truck farms in the Jacksonville district net $250 to $1,500 per acre every year.

This is the kind you buy at $10 per month. Do you know that the great Atlantic Coast cities and cities as far west as Omaha depend absolutely on the Florida Fruit and Truck farms for early January, February and March strawberries, celery, Irish potatoes, cabbage, lettuce and radishes? With one of these 10-acre farms as near right as can be depended on year after year and you can get it if you save just $10 a month. Only a few years ago the only way to get rich was to pound it in the earth, money-producing Fruit and Truck Farming District was to pay all cash for it. Now you need not hesitate about that, for the easiest sum we require you to pay at any time is $10 a month. No more.

No interest and no taxes till payments are completed. You don't have to pioneer—these Fruit and Truck Farms are in the heart of civilization—near Jacksonville and less than a half mile from the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, which has a big twenty-car switch track at Hilliard, a thrifty little city with telegraph, long distance telephone, two schools, churches, three general stores, and these North Florida Fruit and Truck Farms join on to and are a part of this growing town.

What 10 acres means to you: First—a money making investment and a home in the finest all year 'round climate in the world. Northern Florida is warm in winter and there are no extremes of heat in summer.

Second—you can make a good living, eat June vegetables and fruits in January and sell your crops for cash, and earn from $3,000 to $5,000 each year.

Third—These North Florida Fruit and Truck Farms are all upland, no swamps, rich sand loam and will grow the finest fruits and vegetables anser, better and more to the acre than in any other section of the South. Every acre in every 10-acre farm is tillable land.

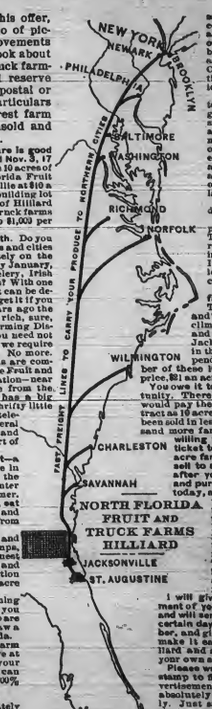
Fourth—You don't have to know farming to make one of these 10-acre farms pay you big money. I can prove this by many who are getting rich there now and who never saw a farm worked before they went to Florida.

Fifth—You can arrange to have your farm put under cultivation or you can move at once and make the first year's crop pay your living and a good profit besides, or you can hold it as an investment and sell at 100% advance by the end of the first year.

Here is what my company offers you:

I will have delivered to you immediately upon receipt of your application for one of these 10-acre North Florida Fruit and Truck farms a certificate of purchase which is issued by the Chicago Title & Trust Co., Capital $5,000,000.

The title to the entire tract is held in trust for the benefit of purchasers by the Chicago Title & Trust Company, one of the strongest, safest and best guarantee title and trust companies in the United States. You should ask your banker or lawyer about the safety of title to land issued under its guarantee by the Chicago Title & Trust Company, and satisfy yourself. The Chicago Title & Trust Company will issue a deed and guarantee title to the 10-acre tract and to the residence lot which we give you free.



For all men who work. Not in the history of investments have I ever heard of so good and sure an opportunity for men of small means. This is an investment without an element of speculation because the moment you purchase a 10-acre tract the value of the land you buy will jump because others are after the particular piece you get and they will keep coming and all around you and you know individual ownership, development and close cultivation always makes land values rise by leaps and bounds.

The land is there for all time and will produce two to four crops every year for all time.

You don't have to irrigate. Aphi crop pests, nor watch the heavens for rain. There is no chance for failure of crop. The rainfall in Northern Florida averages 50 inches and comes every month in the year. It always has rained 50 inches or more and as long as any farmer, now living in Florida, can remember, and always will.

Think of it this means to you and your family. Remember, you get a Fruit and Truck Farm in the heart of the richest Fruit and Truck Farm District in America, where the climate and healthfulness and city and school and church advantages are as good as in Jacksonville and Hilliard district as anywhere in the country, and you can be financially independent in a few years. There are a limited number of these 10-acre farms. They are exactly the same price, $21 an acre. I want you to go and see them.

You owe it to yourself to take advantage of this opportunity. There never was a time when a land company would pay the railroad fare from your home to a tract as 10 acres at $21 an acre. More than 400 farms have been sold in less than 6 months, and we want to sell a thousand more farms during the next 60 days, and are willing to apply the amount of your round-trip ticket to your monthly payments if you buy a 10-acre farm from us because I know you can help me sell to a half dozen others in your neighborhood after you return from your trip of investigation and purchase. Write a letter or postal and mail it today, and just as quick as the mails can carry I will send the plat of the land and plat of the town of Hilliard, and the book with pictures of the land, pictures of the town of Hilliard, and pictures of growing truck farms. I will do everything to give you the fullest assurance that you can make more in the North Florida Fruit and Truck Farm District than anywhere else in the United States; but space in this advertisement will not permit me to go further into detail.

The above shows part of the great market for North Florida fruits and vegetables. I will send you a more complete railroad map.

I will give you full particulars regarding the payment of your railroad fare, how and why we do this, and will send you a schedule of the railroad rates on certain days, the last of October and during November, and give you the fullest possible information to make it easy for you to plan to make the trip to Hilliard and see this wonderful truck farm section for your own satisfaction.

Please write at once—now. It will cost you but a 2c stamp to find out and satisfy yourself that this advertisement is true, every word of it, and that you can absolutely earn on this land from $3,000 to $5,000 yearly. Just say in your letter or postal, "Send me particulars about the North Florida Fruit and Truck Farms." Address me personally,

F. W. CORNWALL
President Cornwall Farm Land Company
815 Great Northern Bldg., CHICAGO

PUTNAM FADELESS DYES

Color more goods brighter and faster colors than any other dye. One 10c package colors all fibers. They dye in cold water better than any other dye. You can tell what you are doing. Each 10c package colors 4 to 5 pounds of goods. Write for free booklet—How to Dye, Bleach and Mix Colors. MONROE DRUG CO., Quincy, Illinois

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

FOR COUNTY JUDGE.

P. E. Cason is a candidate for Judge of the County Court of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

J. H. Walton, of Constance, is a candidate for County Judge of Boone county, subject to the Primary Election, November 3d, 1908.

Sidney Gaines is a candidate for Judge of the County Court of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November, 3, 1908.

FOR CLERK OF COUNTY COURT

Charles (Caddie) Maurer, of Belleview, is a candidated for Clerk of the Boone County Court, subject to the Democratic Primary election, November 3, 1908.

O. ee S. Watts of Walton, is a candidate for Clerk of the Boone County Court, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

B. B. Aliphin, of Walton, is a candidate for Clerk of the Boone County Court, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary Election November 3, 1908.

J. H. Rogers, of Walton, is a candidate for Clerk of the Boone County Court, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

D. B. Dobbins, of Richwood, is a candidate for Clerk of the Boone County Court, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

J. C. Hankins, of Hebron. is a candidate for County Court Clerk of Boone county, subject to the Primary Election, November 3d, 1908.

FOR SHERIFF.

W. D. Cropper, of Burlington, is a candidate for Sheriff of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

B. B. Hume, of Burlington, is a candidate for Sheriff of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, Novmeber 3, 1908.

FOR ASSESSOR.

R. H. Stephens, of Rabbit Hash, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1907.

John W. Williams, of Union, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

Lewis Clore, of Rabbit Hash, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election November 3, 1908.

E. C. Franks, of Big Bone, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1808.

C. P. Robinson, of Big Bone, is a canidate for Assessor of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election November 3, 1908.

T G. Wills, of Bnilittsville, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3d, 1908.

John Kelsay, of Hebron, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

Geo. W. Ward, of Rabbit Hash, is a candidate for Assessor of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

FOR SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT.

Almer M. Yeley, of Florence, is a candidate for Superintendent of Schools of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908.

Elbert S. Ryle, of Burlington, is a candidate for Superintendent of Schools of Boone County, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3, 1908

Edgar C. Riley, of Burlington, is a candidate for Superintendent of Schools of Boone county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, Nov. 3d, 1908.

FOR REHRESENTATIVE.

J. W. Berkshire, of Petersburg, is a candidate for Representative of Boone county in the next Legislature, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3d, 1908.

Joe W. Cleek, of Beaver Lick, is a candidate for Representative of Boone county in the next Legislature, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3d, 1908.

FOR JUSTICE OF THE PEACE.

R. H. Tanner, of Florence, is a candidate for Justice of the Peace in the Magisterial District composed of the Constance and Florence voting precincts, subject to the Democratic Primary election November 3, 1908.

E. O. Rouse, of Florence is a candidate for Justice of the Peace in the Magisterial District composed of the voting precincts of Constance and Florence, subject to the Democratic Primary election November 3, 1908.

J. S. Noell, of Beaver, is a candidate for Justice of the Peace in the magisterial district composed of the Union and Beaver voting precincts, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election Nov. 3rd, 1908.

Ezekiel Aylor, of Hebron, is a candidate for Justice of the Peace in the Magisterial District composed of the voting precincts of Burlington and Bullittsville, subject to the Democratic primary election, November 3, 1908.

Temp Graves, of Bullittsville, is a candidate for Justice of the Peace in the magisterial district composed of the Burlington and Bullittsville voting precincts, subject to the Democratic primary election, Nov. 3 1908.

Clinton Gaines, of Bullittsville, is a candidate for the office of Justice of the Peace in the magisterial district composed of the voting precincts of Burlington and Bullittsville, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, November 3d, 1908.

Lost—At the barbecue, last Saturday, pair long kid gloves. Finder will please return to Cammilla Perry at Devon.

John Kelsay and John W. Williams, candidates for assessor, attended the sub-committee's meeting yesterday.

THE BARBECUE.

About 3,000 people attended the barbecue at Florence, last Saturday, about half the number that was anticipated. Ample arrangements had been made for feeding just about that number on barbecued beef and burgoo. Congressman Rhinock was chairman of the meeting and introduced the orators of the day, Hons. Ollie M. James, of Kentucky, and Champ Clark, of Missouri, in very happy speeches. Mr. James spoke before noon, and made one of those rousing Democratic speeches which has made him famous throughout the nation. Mr. Clark spoke immediately after dinner. He was very hoarse and could be heard only a short distance, but made a fine speech which consumed about two hours.

The day was all that could have been desired for an occasion of the kind, but the Democrats did not turn out as they should have, especially when two of the biggest guns in the party were the speakers.

The Walton and Erlanger brass bands made music for the occasion.

Just before speaking was resumed after dinner Congressman Rhinock warned the people that pickpockets were at work in the crowd and to be careful of their money. In a short time the following persons reported having been touched for their pocketbooks and contents: J. W. Rouse, Limasburg, 25 cents; Leonard Rouse, $6; Gus Freeman, Gunpowder, $9; L. H. Voshell, Union, $15; J. S. Mason, Hathaway, $30; John Hogan, Gunpowder, $3 or $4; Nicholas Carpenter, Burlington, $70; Joshua Masters, Bullittsville, $60; Peter Hager, East Bend, $4; Walter Marshall, Locust Grove, small amount; W. S. Walton, Pt. Pleasant, $3 or $4 and two gold rings which he prised very highly, they having belonged to his wife; Frank Respess, of Richwoood, $15. No doubt but what there were several others who have not report their losses.

Barring the work of the festive pickpockets, it was a pleasant day to all, and the Democratic voters who heard the speeches considered the day well spent.

COMMITTEE MEETS.

Declares Nominees and Arranges Names of Candidates for the Ballots.

The sub committee of the county Democratic committee met at the office of circuit clerk J. A. Duncan, yesterday, and completed the arrangements for holding the primary election on November 3d. The members present were W. W. Grimsley, of Big Bone, chairman of the county committee; T. F. Curley, of Walton; F. A. Utz, of Florence, and J. B. Cloud, of Hebron.

The first thing the committee did was to declare the following candidates the nominees, they having no opposition:

N. E. Riddell for county attorney.
J. A. Duncan for circuit clerk.
Sam Adams for jailer.
W. E. Vest for surveyor.
Dr. A. A. Murat for coroner.
Wm. Stephens for justice of the peace in district No. 2.
Moses Scott for justice of the peace in district No. 3.
J. H. Watson for justice of the peace in district No. 5.

The committee having disposed of the above business it proceeded to determine by lot the position of the names of the other candidates on the ballot for the primary election. The drawing arranged the ballots as follows as regards the names:

For Representative—
J. W. Berkshire.
Joe W. Cleek.

For County Judge—
P. E. Cason.
J. H. Walton.
S. Gaines.

For County Clerk—
O. S. Watts.
Charles Mauer.
Ben Aliphin.
J. H. Rogers.
J. C. Hankins.
D. B. Dobbins.

For Sheriff—
W. D. Cropper.
B. B. Hume.

For Assessor—
E. C. Franks.
Chas. Robinson.
Jno. W. Williams.
Lewis Clore.
T. G. Willis.
Jno. Kelsay.
Geo. W. Ward.
R. H. Stephens.

For Superintendent of Schools—
Edgar C. Riley.
Albert M. Yaley.
Elbert S. Ryle.

For Justice of the Peace—
District No. 1.
Wilson Conner.
Clinton Gaines.
Temp Graves.
E. J. Aylor.
District No. 4.
J. S. Noell.
Meredith Norman.
District No. 6.
R. H. McNeal.
R. H. Tanner.
E. O. Rouse.

For Constable—
District No. 5.
Thomas Johnson.
Frank Hamilton.
District No. 6.
N. J. Swim.
Ben Clutterbuck.

On motion Geo. Ossman was appointed to fill the vacancy in Beaver precinct.

On motion Geo. McGlasson was appointed to fill the vacancy in Bullittsville precinct.

If any of the above names are not correct notify the RECORDER immediately.

In the proper column, this week, will be found the announcement of Joe W. Cleek, of Beaver Lick, as a candidate for the legislature. He is one of the county's most excellent gentlemen and a good Democrat.

Owing to serious illness Noah C. Tanner has withdrawn from the race for justice of the peace in the Union and Beaver precincts.

FREE :- FREE

We wish to call the attention of the public and to our patrons that we have received from the largest manufacturers in the United States an exclusive line of

Fall and Winter Clothing

We invite the public to call and examine our Styles and Fabrics and see to their own satisfaction. Our prices are marked in plain figures and strictly ONE PRICE TO ALL. We guarantee perfect satisfaction or money refunded. We also offer to our patrons with every Man's or Young Man's Suit or Overcoat purchased at our store for the next thirty days.

A FINE UMBRELLA FREE

The B. GROSS CLOTHING Co.

S. E. Cor. 7th & Madison Ave.,

Covington, - Kentucky,

JOHN T. SHEEHAN, Manager.

UNAPPROACHABLE

SHOE BARGAINS

AT DAVIS'

In Every Department You'll Find 'Em.

HERE'S A FEW PRICES:

.....We can't enumerate—it would fill this paper.....

Mens' High Top Lace Boots, black and tan, $5.00 worth $7.00
Others at $3.50, $3.75 and $4.00—absolutely solid leather.
Women's Solid Leather every day Shoes $1.40, $1.50. $1.65, $1.75.
Women's Heavy Kid Shoes—look well, wear well, $1.65 and $1.75.
These are in a class by themselves.

Solid Leather—whole vamp Shoes for Boys, Girls and the Little Ones that will convince you of their value when you See and Price them.

Rubber Boots and Shoes.

We carry the biggest stock of first quality Rubber. You may get cheaper goods, but what do you get?—the wrong end. See our goods. Let us explain to you their good qualities. We have confidence in 'em and make good if they go wrong.

LET ME SHOW YOU.

DAVIS, THE SHOE MAN,

RISING SUN, INDIANA.

UNION, KY., Oct. 17, 1908.

To the Editor of the Recorder:

The recent meeting of I. O. O. F. Grand Lodge at Bowling Green, of which I had the honor to be a part as delegate from Union Lodge, was such a complete success in every particular I am anxious to say a few words through your most excellent paper in praise of the town, the people and all concerned. A grand reception was tendered the brethren by the city, whose Mayor delivered up the keys and went fishing, feeling perfectly safe to have its destinies in our hands. In his address of welcome the Mayor led off with the broad statement that Odd-Fellowship stood at the head and was first in the procession of fraternalism, and he was glad to welcome us as the best folks on earth, which made us feel mighty good. Each delegate sought out his own particular line of enjoyment when off the "firing line" of duty, and as to my own personal experience, it lay along lines most pleasing and congenial, as the home of Dr. D. C. Campbell afforded all modern conveniences, while the doctor and his most estimable wife were tireless in their efforts to make our stay one never to be forgotten. Long drives over the city and out into the country were taken with the doctor most every day in his carriage, and many other courtesies too numerous to mention. When time came to say good-bye every delegate went away with impressions of Bowling Green's kindness and hospitality so firmly rooted in their minds that they will never forget them.

GEORGE BURKETT.

Personal Mention.

Mrs. Everett Walton is visiting her daughter in St. Louis, Missouri.

Mrs. Conyers, of Crittenden, is the guest of her uncle Jos. R. Case and wife, near town.

C. A. Slater, of Big Bone neighborhood, was transacting business in Burlington, Monday.

B. F. McGlasson, of Pt. Pleasant neighborhood, was transacting business in Burlington, Monday.

Hon. J. W. Berkshire, of Petersbutg, passed through Burlington, yesterday on a bush-shaking tour.

James Hogan, of Riveside, was here Saturday night and Sunday, the guest of his son, John, and family.

W. H. Rice, president of Florence Deposit Bank; Perry Dixon and wife, of Richwood, were among the visitors to the county seat, Monday.

NOTICE—Three miles of the Landing and Big Bone turnpike are ready for construction. Those desiring to bid on the work can leave sealed bids with the undersigned.

R. LEE HUEY, President.

PUBLIC SALE.

I will sell at the J. M. Setters place, one mile from Belleview, Boone county, Ky., on Saturday, Oct. 31st, 1908,

The following property:

Lot Household and Kitchen Furniture, few Farming Implements, 1 gray Work Horse, 1 8-year old Mare, 1 Suckling Mule, 1 set of Work Harness, 1 set of Buggy Harness, 1 open-top Buggy.

Terms made known day of sale. Sale to begin at 1 p. m.

FOREST C. RICE.

Public Sale!

As Administrator of the estate of W. N. Surface, I will at Gunpowder, Ky., beginning

Weduesday, Nov. 10th, 1908,

at 10 o'clock a. m.,

